REVOLT IN MOSCOW NOW AT AN END

Russian Political Strike Called Off
By Workmen's Council.

LAST FIGHT AT OLD CAPITAL

Moscow, Jan. 1.—White flags flying from a dozen factories in the tenement houses of Pragma district, where the revolutionaries made their last stand, now bear mute witness to the end of the "December uprising in Moscow." The entire district is now occupied by troops.

During the night the vast majority of the members of the "fighting legions" either surrendered or, after throwing away their arms, endeavored to escape in the guise of peaceful citizens. Only the members who acted as a guard to the revolutionary committee stuck to their colors and the surrender of this handful furnished the last act of the sanguinary drama.

The staging of this last act was admirable—a snow-covered landscape, the small black residence with a tiny red flag fluttering from its gable, the one of red fire from the mouth of one of the guns and a solid shot ploughed through the walls of the house. A few spluttering shots replied from a window. The cannon spoke again and again until a dozen shots had been fired.

It looked like murder to the spectators on a hill, and so evidently thought the officer in command of the battery, which ceased fire. A reserve company of the Semenovskiy regiment then advanced and fired volleys at the upper windows. At the third volley a white handkerchief attached to a bayonet was pushed through a shattered pane. It waved frantically and all was over.

The little garrison of 30 marched out and laid down their arms, a strange collection of rifles and repeating shot-guns. All had red sashes.

Strange to say, not one of the men had even been wounded, and when they found that they would not be immediately executed they appeared to be rather relieved that the end of the struggle had come. They gathered around the soldiers' bivouac, stretched their hands eagerly over the cheerful fires and begged cigarettes from the guards.

Considering the intensity of the bombardment, when as many as five shots a minute were fired, besides the steady volleys of the infantry, the losses are surprisingly small, not more than 40 of the revolutionaries or the inhabitants being killed, and only about 200 being wounded in the district.

RUSCIA CURETS DOWN

Witte May Yet Be Able to Steer Way
Through Empire's Troubles.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 2.—The Russian government is breathing freer, with a fighting chance that Count Witte will yet be able to steer a way through the rocks which beset his path. The Svet, which is often well informed on court news, declares the emperor favors the creation of an advisory council of moderate zemstovists, such as Gutchkov, Shipov and others of their class to act in conjunction with the cabinet.

A close friend of the premier predicted that the struggle at court would end in the granting of a constitution or Witte's resignation.

The threat of a general strike in the near future has disappeared, and the telegraph strike, being without support, is fast going to pieces, in spite of the mild appeals of the union to stand firm.

The members of Count Witte's cabinet distinctly deny that the government has entered on the path of reaction, but they say that the present anarchy cannot continue and that persons amenable to the law will be tried in the courts. There can be no question of arbitrary methods, they say, and they add that if the path of reaction is really entered on, the path of reaction it must end in a dictatorship, the first evidence of which will be that the premier will step down and out.

The special commission which is considering the matter of legislation for the peasants has reached an exceedingly important direction, involving the right of the communes to assign lands in severalty, the holders of which can sell at will. Action in accordance with this decision would virtually sound the knell of the communal system. Where the peasants desire to retain the communal system, however, they may mortgage their lands to obtain money for the purchase of additional lands, to make improvements, to buy agricultural implements, etc. The decision of the commission, as based on the fact that the emperor's remission of further payments ended the necessity for further communal ownership, which was really a device of the government to hold the entire community responsible for the redemption of the lands granted when serfdom was abolished.

Received Poisoned Candy by Mail. Clinton, Ia., Jan. 1.—With the words, "Merry Christmas," written on the wrapping, a box of poisoned candy was received by mail by Miss Melia Carstenson. The box contained a dozen bon-bons, the insides of which had been mixed with carbolic acid. Miss Carstenson was warned by the odor, and did not eat the candy. The case has been turned over to the postal authorities.

LOST IN AN OLD MINE

Rescued After Having Been For Three Days Without Food.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 30.—After being entombed in a mine for eight days, Joseph Davis, a Pole, was rescued. Davis entered the mine Wednesday, December 20, and got lost in the underground workings. At first he was not missed, as it was thought he had gone to a nearby town to visit relatives. When he did not return in three days, a search was made for him in the mine. No trace of him could be found. Friday he was found in an exhausted condition near the bottom of the shaft. He was slowly making his way out of the mine.

He said he wandered around from one working to another, but all the time got further away from the opening. He had a well-filled dinner pail with him. For the first four days he ate sparingly of the contents, when the food was all gone he drank tea for two days. The next two days he ate scraps of food that had been thrown away by miners. Thursday he had given up all hope of getting out alive, but coming on night he saw a light carried by an employe in the distance. He knew then he was on a roadway which was traversed, and he crawled along in his weakened condition until he finally reached the bottom of the shaft.

INSURANCE PROBE ENDS

Companies Present Statements at Last Day's Session.

New York, Dec. 30.—With the adjournment of the legislative committee on insurance investigation Friday night, the investigation of the last of the old-line companies was completed. Today, the last day of the committee's session, was given over to the presentation of exhibits that have not heretofore been prepared by several companies, and these are so numerous that they will not be read for the record, but after introduction by the witnesses will be marked for identification.

The last old-line company taken up was the Life Insurance Club of New York. This appeared to be a system of securing insurance without agents by means of advertising. In the examination of its president, Robert Wightman, it was brought out that the system is antagonistic to the larger companies.

MRS. BUSCH NOT ENGAGED

Millionaire Brewer's Daughter Not to Marry German Army Officer.

St. Louis, Jan. 2.—The announcement last Friday, following the frustrated elopement of Miss Wilhelmina Dargh, daughter of Adolphus Busch, the millionaire brewer, with Lieutenant Edward Scharrer of Stuttgart, Germany, that they would be married at the Busch mansion on New Year's Day, was not carried out. Instead Miss Busch has gone to her brother's farm to spend some time and her father has asserted that there is no engagement between his daughter and the lieutenant. Scharrer when seen at his hotel apartments declined to discuss the matter.

Adolphus Busch said he had nothing to make public. All that he would say was: "Lieutenant Scharrer and I are still very good friends."

MCCALL HAS NOT RESIGNED

Rumor That President of New York Life Retired Denied.

New York, Jan. 2.—A report that John A. McCall resigned as president of the New York Life Insurance company at a meeting of the trustees of the company last Saturday, was denied by Augustus G. Payne, a member of the committee recently appointed to go over the company's affairs. Mr. Payne stated that the report was absolutely untrue and added that the trustees did not meet Saturday. It had been said that the meeting was a secret one and that the trustees had pledged themselves to keep the matter of the resignation secret until the annual report of the company was made public.

Hagerstown, Md., Jan. 2.—Fire destroyed the large four-story brick plant of the Hagerstown Storage and Transfer company, entailing a loss of about $125,000 and $150,000. Among the largest losses were $50,000 on yarn and underwear belonging to the Roulette Knitting Co. and a like amount on yarn and hosiery belonging to the Blue Ridge Knitting Co., of Hagerstown, and the Block Rock Knitting Co., of Mechanicsburg, Pa. The origin of the fire, which started in the office, is not known.

The arrivals at New York for the past year show an increase of 120 vessels over the year 1904. There was an increase of 175 in the number of steamers which entered the port, but the arrivals of sailing vessels decreased by 55 as compared with the arrivals in 1904.

DYNAMITE BOMB KILLS EX-GOVERNOR

Frank Steunenberg, of Idaho, Victim of a Dastardly Outrage.

SIX SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST

Boise, Idaho, Jan. 1.—It has developed that the assassination Saturday night of former Governor Frank Steunenberg with a dynamite bomb was perpetrated by some one in person by pulling a wire that exploded the dynamite as the former governor was closing the rear gate of his home. It was at first thought that the bomb was arranged to explode automatically when the gate was opened. It also developed that two bombs were used, both being exploded simultaneously by means of wire and waxed fish line, remnants of which were found later on the lawn.

The conviction grows that Steunenberg was murdered as a result of his activity in crushing the miners' strike riots in Coeur d'Alene in 1899. On this theory, one man was arrested, but his name is kept secret by the police, who say evidence against the prisoner is strong. Five other men have been detained on suspicion.

When daylight dawned on the scene of the tragedy, it was found that the dynamite had been exploded by pulling a wire. The explosive was placed against the latch post and on the inside of the fence. That post was to the victim's left as he entered, but the force of the explosion caught him on the right side, showing that he turned partly around in closing the gate before the bombs exploded. This fact, with the finding of the wire and fish line, make the police certain that the mine was fired by a wire. The assassin, it is thought, knew Steunenberg's habit of stopping to close the gate, and waited until the assassin knew Steunenberg's habits, since a stranger would have supposed that he would go in the front gate. Steunenberg was terribly wounded, the right arm being nearly torn off. All his right side was fearfully torn, the right leg being mangled and shattered. The features of the victim were not disfigured. Portions of clothing were scattered for fifty yards. The victim himself was thrown 10 feet from the gate, where a small hole, 10 inches in depth, shows the spot where the bombs lay. The gate is gone, not a splinter being found. All the windows in the rear side of the house were broken, and much glass was broken in other houses almost a block away.

Shoshone county has offered a reward of $10,000 for the apprehension of the murderers, and has sent its sheriff to assist in the search. It was reported that in the northern end of the state, that in Coeur d'Alene riots occurred in 1899. It is probable the funeral will be held in Boise, the body lying in state in the capitol building. Steunenberg was governor of Idaho from 1897 to 1901, having been twice elected. He was born in Iowa 44 years ago, and had been in Idaho since 1887. He leaves a widow and three children.

PATIENT LEAPED TO DEATH

Jumped Out of Second-story Window of Private Hospital.

Philadelphia, Jan. 2.—James Kitzridge, a patient in the private hospital of Dr. William Pickett, at 124 South 13th street, jumped from a second-story window on the side of the house into Moravian street. His head struck the curb, and he was instantly killed.

No one seems to know just how Kitzridge happened to make the leap. He had been in the hospital for two weeks past, and was under treatment for melancholia. Although only 19 years old, he seemed to be tired of life. No one suspected, though, that he intended to kill himself.

The young man had risen and partially dressed himself. Then he had gone to the bathroom. The window was locked. He plunged through the glass in his desperate purpose to end his life. A moment later he struck on the curb and his brains were literally dashed out.

Kitzridge's home was in Tunkhannock, Pa., a town near Scranton. His father is a wealthy business man of that place.

Double Tragedy on Lonely Farm.

Eric, Pa., Jan. 2.—A murder and suicide at a lonely farm house near East Springfield, 15 miles west of here, was reported to the county officials. After an investigation County Detective Frank Watson believes that Elizabeth Maursler, aged 75, shot and killed her sister Deborah, a couple of years younger than herself, and then turned the gun upon herself, blowing out her brains. The bodies were discovered by a brother who had just come on a visit from his home in Michigan. The impoverished condition of the women and their old age is believed to have mentally unbalanced Elizabeth, who apparently executed the terrible affair.

Bryan Disappoints Filipinos.

Manila, Dec. 30.—Filipinos who spoke at the banquet given to W. J. Bryan demanded the immediate independence of the islands and said they were looking to him to champion their cause with the American people. Mr. Bryan in his response made no promises, and the natives were disappointed. Aguinaldo was among those present. The menu displayed an American flag, supported by an insurgent banner. Americans here are pleased with Mr. Bryan's conservatism.

NEW YEAR AT THE WHITE HOUSE

President Gave Reception to Diplomats, Officials and Public.

GREAT CROWD WAS PRESENT

Washington, Jan. 2.—New Year's Day at the nation's capital was observed with all the traditional brilliancy which time and custom have decreed shall characterize the official greeting of the new year, and another was added to the long line of receptions at the White House, where the President and Mrs. Roosevelt received the people of the world, whatever their race or creed, of station high and low, who filed past till their numbers reached up into the thousands, each of them bringing a "Happy New Year."

By actual count 6023 people shook hands with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt until the end of the reception. A feature of the public reception was the large number of children who passed the receiving line.

Mrs. Roosevelt wore a gown of pale blue chiffon built over white silk. The bell skirt was trimmed with rows of ribbons, which fell from a shirred drape. The waist was trimmed with white lace, and her only ornaments were a few diamonds. She carried a bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Roosevelt and Mr. Longworth mingled with the guests in the east room. Miss Roosevelt wore a gown of slate blue chiffon over pink silk, cut low. She also wore a diamond necklace and pendant and a huge bunch of orchids.

When the hour for the reception arrived the column of waiting citizens stretched along the front of the state, war and navy building, and gave promise of one of the largest receptions in the history of the White House.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt, preceded by the military and naval aides to the president and the several White House aides, all in special full dress, descended the marble stairway leading from the second floor. Entering the blue room they took up their position to the right of the door leading from the red room. The first to wish them a Happy New Year were Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks, who passed behind the receiving line and stood to the right of Mrs. Roosevelt. Next came Secretary and Mrs. Root. In the order named there followed the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Shaw, the Secretary of War and Mrs. Taft, Attorney General Moody, the Postmaster General and Mrs. Cortelyou, the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Bonaparte; also newcomers at the White House on New Year's, the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Hitchcock, the secretary of agriculture and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Mrs. Metcalf.

All took up their position in the receiving line to the right of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. At the president's left was his military aide, Colonel Charles S. Brownell, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, who made the presentations to the president. Then came the ambassadors, the supreme court justices, senators, representatives and delegates in congress and the public.

New York, Dec. 30.—The fact that Cecilia A. Wolsey, who was formerly a performer on the vaudeville stage under the name of Lillian Weston, bequeathed $15,000 for the care of her dog, parrot and a cage of live birds, became known when her will was filed. Miss Wolsey died a week ago. Harriet E. Gates, a friend of the dead woman, is charged with the care of the animals, and Miss Wolsey's will provided that she shall have the use of the $15,000 for that purpose. After the death of Mrs. Gates the will stipulated that the remainder of the money shall go to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to care for Miss Wolsey's pets if they outlive Mrs. Gates, and if not, to care for other homeless animals.

Soluble Glass.

Soluble glass, or water glass, as it is sometimes called, is an artificial silicate of sodium or potassium or a double silicate of both of these alkalis, and thus in its essential ingredients the same as ordinary glass. But ordinary glass is to a slight extent soluble in water, owing to the alkali which it contains, and by varying the proportion of the alkaline constituents the compound becomes readily soluble to any desired degree. Attention was first directed to it by Fuchs, a German chemist, about 1824. It has been used to some extent, and quite successfully, in preventing the decay of stone walls and edifices under the action of the weather. The surface is covered with a coating of a suitable solution, and, the water soon evaporating, a thin, transparent glaze is left over the stone, effectually protecting it from the disintegrating action of the atmosphere. Several public buildings in various parts of the world have been successfully treated in this way.

Wonderful Indian Runners.

An Indian has been known to carry a letter from Guazapares to Chihuahua and back again in five days, the distance being nearly 800 miles. In some parts where the Tarahumaris serve the Mexicans they are used to run in the wild horses, driving them into the corral. It may take them two or three days to do it, sleeping at night and living on a little pinole. They bring in the horses thoroughly exhausted, while they themselves are still fresh. They will outrun any horse if you give them time enough. They will pursue deer in the snow or with dogs, in the rain, for days and days, until at last the animal is cornered and shot with arrows or falls an easy prey from sheer exhaustion, its horns dropping off.

Sincere by Nature.

The physician has methods by which he determines whether or not a patient is shamming. Other people have different methods, which may sometimes be as successful as the doctor's. "Do you believe that was a real faint of Sally Ann's, or do you think she just shammed so's to look interesting to Willy Lane and make him offer to take her home in his buggy?" asked one of the participants in a recent picnic.

"It wasn't any sham on Sally Ann's part," said Mrs. Ricketts, to whom the appeal was made. "I should think when you know Sally Ann wears sixgones and that she lay there with her feet sticking right straight up for everybody to see for nearly fifteen minutes you'd realize that 'twasn't any make believe faint."

Killed Trying to Save Her Doll. New York, Jan. 2.—Police reserves were called out to disperse a mob that was threatening Charles Krupp, a mortician, whose car had killed 7-year-old Anna Owens in Brooklyn. The child was crossing the street with her Christmas doll, when she dropped the plaything. In turning to pick it up she stepped in front of the car. In a few minutes several scores of people had gathered, and when they learned that the girl was dead they tried to drag Krupp from the front of the car. He took refuge inside, locking front and back doors. Stones and sticks were hurled through the windows at him. Finally the police reserves were called out, but it was only after using their clubs that they succeeded in dispersing the angry mob.

CHINESE PHILOSOPHY.

Some of the Clever Epigrams of the Flowery Kingdom.

Their proverbial philosophy shows that the Chinese are very thoughtful. Here are a few specimens: "The best and strongest man in the world finds that he cannot escape the two words 'No continuance.'" "Happiness consists in a medium station."

"When you are sitting quietly and alone, think of your faults; when conversing with others, do not talk of the faults of others." "Correct yourself on the same principle that you correct others, and excuse others on the same principle that you excuse yourself."

The Chinese call a harmless blusterer "a paper tiger," and compare a man overestimating himself to a rat falling into a scale and weighing itself. Overdoing a thing is a hunchback making a boy.

You have only to watch their story and fortune tellers in the streets to see that the Chinese are natural orators. You can see that by their gestures, even if you do not understand what they say. They use very apt illustrations.

From "John Chinaman at Home," by E. J. Hardy.

MEMORY OF TURTLES. Lay Their Eggs Almost in the Same Place Year After Year.

During the summer months from May to August the big sea turtles lay their eggs on the beach. They come possibly hundreds of miles, and if undisturbed will land within a few yards of the same place year after year. They crawl up the beach in the night and make their nest in the sand just above high water mark.

They dig the hole with their hind flippers, and after covering it over, first filling it with eggs, they will go a few feet and make another place. I always thought as a child, for one looks just like the other. They lay each month, usually during the high tides of that month, beginning in May and ending in August, from 90 to 185 eggs.

A Wonderful Bird. A very costly bird was built in Bombay for a native ruler some years ago. At the four corners were full sized figures of Grecian maidens, the ones at the top holding stringed instruments, while these at the foot bore in their hands huge fans.

Charcoal. Charcoal is one of the greatest purifiers of water that we have. Water or any substance allowed to percolate through it will be freed of all animal organisms or foreign particles. It is one of the best sweeteners of the breath. After a hearty meal it is a splendid thing for the stomach if added to it is a little ginger. It is excellent with which to cleanse the teeth.

Indigestion is easily overcome by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, because this remedy digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest—allows it to recuperate and grow strong again. Kodol relieves Indigestion, Belching of Gas, Sour Stomach, Heart-Burn, etc., and enables the digestive organs to transform all foods into the kind of rich red blood that makes health and strength. ABOUT PUSH BALL.

How This Very Interesting Game Is Played.

Push ball is played on a gridiron field of floor 120 yards long by fifty wide, with goal posts at either end twenty feet apart and connected by a cross-bar seven feet from the ground. The mammoth ball, almost globular in shape, should measure six feet in diameter and weigh between forty-eight and fifty pounds. It is usually inflated with compressed air.

The ball is placed in the middle of the field, and the teams line up as follows: Five forwards on the forty yard line, two left and two right wings on the twenty yard line and two goal keepers on the goal line, eleven men each. At the sound of the referee's whistle both sides plunge at full speed upon the ball, and then the fun begins.

It does not take long, however, for the entire twenty-two men to get around the sphere, but their shoulders to the wheel, so to speak, and push for every ounce of energy in them. The heavier, stronger team will, of course, have the advantage, but some trick plays have been invented which tend to level the playing field.

It is a game of strategy and cunning, and the players are constantly on the move. The game is played in a very different manner from the football game, and is a most interesting and exciting contest.

When You Are Sick. An English Literary Prescription to Be Taken During Convalescence.

For reading during convalescence the British Medical Journal prescribes literature that cheers but does not enervate, and various persons recovering from illness against writers "whose style, like that of George Meredith, puts a constant strain on the understanding of the reader, or like that of Maurice Hewlett, irritates by its artificial glitter, or like that of Marie Corelli, annoys by its frothy impertinence."

"Smiles' Self Help" is quite innocuous," says the learned journal, "but we should be cautious in recommending it in order that the patient may not thereby be led to meditate over a misspent career and to have suggested to him all the opportunities in life he might have grasped, but did not. A despondent might thus be induced to brood over a restoration to health, and which might even prove fatal. Thackeray, except 'Vanity Fair,' which is a pessimistic book, should go very well; 'Pendennis' and 'Barry Lyndon' will certainly entertain."

In the days when the Saxons dominated England prior to the coming of William of Normandy the people were formed into divisions of hundreds. This was done mainly for military purposes and the convenience of assembly upon the summons of the powerful lords and barons to whom the people owed allegiance.

Sudden and Almost Tragic Death From Heart Disease.

On Friday evening last Eugene Pickett, a widely known young farmer, fell dead in his home, near the village of Winfield, Carroll county. With his wife and children about him he was sitting in the living room of the farmhouse conversing with them and apparently in good health. A vessel of water was standing on the table, and he quickly rose from his seat, walked to it and picked up a cup as if about to take a drink, but suddenly turned and fell to the floor a corpse. His death was instantaneous, and he did not utter a word or make a sound. It is supposed that he died from heart disease. He was 34 years old and leaves a widow and six children.

A Terror In A Flit.

A most remarkable story concerning a dog and a cat is told by William M. Boucher and two friends, who Monday saw the incident upon which it is based. The party were taking a walk over Mr. Boucher's property on the other side of Spa Creek, when their attention was attracted by loud and excited barking from the top of a medium-sized pine tree. On looking up they saw a cat on the end of a limb, about 15 feet above the ground, and a terrier dog caught in the crotch of the same limb and the trunk of the tree. The dog was caught in such a way that it could not pull itself loose and was barking furiously. The cat seemed terrified.

The dog had evidently climbed the tree to the point 15 feet above the ground and there been caught and held firmly. The trunk of the tree was very straight, but there were many small limbs from the ground up and the dog had made use of them.

In order to release the dog Mr. Boucher had to climb the tree and pull the animal out of the crotch by the neck. The dog was trying to get at the cat the whole time. The soothing and comforting effects of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to Piles, Sores, Cuts, Boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly. This Salve draws out the inflammation, reduces swelling and acts as a rubefacient, thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts, permitting or aiding Nature to permanently remove the trouble entirely. Sherry's Vain Chase After Negro.

A cross-country chase, in which William Brown, a young negro, and Deputy Sheriff Frank Green and George Mulligan participated, created considerable excitement in the vicinity of Laytonsville, Montgomery county, Monday morning. For some days the officers have been on the lookout for Brown, who is wanted to answer a charge of brutally assaulting a young colored woman. They finally located him near Laytonsville, and Monday morning went there to make the arrest. Brown, however, saw the officers approaching and he started across the country at a lively pace. The officers immediately gave chase and kept plugging away with their revolvers at the fleeing negro until their supply of ammunition was exhausted. The fugitive kept moving, however, and, outfooting his pursuers, entered a dense swamp and made his escape. It is not thought that any shots fired by the officers struck Brown.

Burned To Death.

Thomas Wickham, 59 years of age, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed a small tenement house on the farm of Mr. Thomas Magner, near Glendale, Prince George's county, Saturday evening. Mr. T. Howard Duckett, who resides near Glendale, and his brother-in-law, Mr. Lewis Dent, saw flames leaping from the roof of the house and went to the scene of the fire. The roof fell as they came upon the scene. They saw the body of Wickham enveloped in flames, but owing to the intense heat were compelled to witness it without being able to render any service. A colored boy testified before the coroner's jury of inquest that he drove Wickham to the building some time before the fire broke out and that he was under the influence of liquor. He further testified that Wickham had a quart bottle of liquor with him when he entered the building. The theory is that Wickham must have upset a lighted lamp, which set fire to the building. A demolished lamp was found near the spot where Wickham's remains were discovered.

How To Avoid Pneumonia.

We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in pneumonia or other lung trouble when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough, but heals and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J. Bishop of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." W. Tyson Lansing.

Dropped Dead.

Henry Kephart dropped dead at Smoke-town, Washington county, early Monday morning, aged about 72 years. He arose from bed in apparently the best of health and started to take a walk. He fell 20 yards from his home. He was found by his son-in-law, John W. Renner. Death was due to a sudden paralytic stroke. Mr. Kephart was a retired farmer. He leaves the following children: Mrs. John W. Renner, of Smoke-town; Clarence Renner, of near Boonsboro; Carl Renner, of Ohio; Luther Renner and Mrs. Jonas Grors, of Bolivar, Md.; Mrs. Lafayette Main, of Littlestown; John Renner, of Frederick county.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Good.

A. H. Thurnes, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel and stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1000 worth of good." W. Tyson Lansing.

AT MERCY OF ROAMING DOGS

SHEEP AND GAME DESTROYED IN HOWARD COUNTY.

Farmers in different sections of Howard county are somewhat concerned in the matter of providing means to check, if possible, the destruction of sheep and for the preservation of game from the ravages of worthless dogs which roam at will over the fields and game-producing places of the county.

With this end in view, it is stated the present legislature will be asked to enact a law to remedy the evil. It is not generally known, it seems, that a dog tax exists at the present time in Howard county. It was passed by an act of the legislature over 25 years ago, and its provisions are that a tax of $1 per head shall be required on every dog, and the sum paid into the county treasury. The enforcement of the law, however, met with such opposition that the officers refused to exact it from the dogowners, and so the matter stands today. The law has never been, it is stated, repealed, and the thousands of brass tags to be placed on the collars of the taxed canines were stored in a vault of the courthouse to rust away or to be used as poker chips in a friendly game. It is said that the enforcement of the proposed law, while meeting the approval of the general stockraisers and sportsmen, would not suit a large percentage of the taxpayers, and would, doubtless suffer the fate of the old law.

HYATTSVILLE AFFAIRS.

At a meeting of the mayor and common council, of Hyattsville held Saturday evening, the resignation of Councilman W. W. Maloney, of the first ward, was received and accepted, and Charles N. Darnall was appointed to fill out the term of Mr. Maloney, which expires in May, 1907. It is understood that Mr. Maloney resigned as a result of dissatisfaction with certain features of the road management of the town, he having previously submitted his resignation as chairman of the road committee. Mr. Maloney was serving his second term as a member of the council.

The council also appointed a committee to draft a bill for presentation to the legislature involving a bond issue for the installation of an electric lighting plant for public and commercial lighting, the system to be owned and controlled by the municipality. Hyattsville already has a public water system and a sewerage plant and a bonded indebtedness of practically $60,000. The water works system is practically self-sustaining.

County Clerk B. D. Stephen, of Riverdale, is pushing a bill through Congress for the widening of the Washington and Baltimore turepike, between the district line and Rives Station and Fifteenth and H streets northeast. The bill has already passed the Senate, and Mr. Stephen states that he has assurances that it will be passed by the House.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken—dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by T. Firebugs At Work.

What is believed to have been an attempt by firebugs to burn the large barn on the farm of Dr. J. M. Gaines, along the Sharpshurg and Boonsboro Turnpike, about one mile from Sharpshurg, was made early Tuesday morning, when the straw stack only a short distance from the barn was set afire. The stack was destroyed, and the barn, which caught several times, was only saved after a hard fight on the part of a bucket brigade composed of farmers living in the neighborhood. In his efforts to make his work sure the incendiary scattered straw from the stack to the barn. The fire was discovered by John Hammond, tollgatekeeper along the pike, not far from the Gaines farm. He notified William Easterday, tenant on the farm, and an alarm was given by ringing the dinner bell.

Although there is a standing reward for the arrest and conviction of firebugs in Washington county, the number of incendiary fires is steadily on the increase.

For Coughs and Colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by T. E. Zimmerman.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE MEETS

J. B. Seth, President of Senate, and C. D. Benson, Speaker of the House, Some Points From Gov. Warfield's Message.

The General assembly of Maryland met in biennial session in Annapolis, in October last, was, on Saturday last, again brought before the court on a writ of habeas corpus by his counsel, Messrs. Kolb & Eichelberger. Testimony as to Marshal's previous good character and as to his movements and acts for some time previous were offered in evidence, and upon their conclusion the court released the accused, Marshal, who comes of a well to do family, living in the State of New York, at once left for home. The State's evidence at no time was strong enough to warrant a conviction, and Hardy's murderer will probably never be brought to justice.

The Queen Anne's county Independent Democrats voted for one of their own members for Speaker, so that Mr. Benson received 51 votes, a bare majority, the House containing 101 members, all of whom were present.

Governor Warfield's message, the first he has sent to a General Assembly, was read in both Houses. It vigorously denounced lobbying, public extravagance, and all forms of graft. Both houses adjourned Wednesday afternoon to meet again on Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Points in Governor's Message.

Denounces lobbying, especially by political lobbyists, who combine to sell and control legislation for their personal benefit. "Lobbying is an evil and corrupting influence. You should take prompt steps to suppress it."

Strongly recommends corrupt practices act. "The cure for vote buying is complete publicity for the financial transactions of the national and State committees of political parties. This is a question which should not be viewed from a party standpoint."

Calls attention to the "scandalous and reckless squandering of the people's money" through the employment by the Legislature of unnecessary clerks and laborers and the granting of extra pay to employes and gratuities to other persons. At the last session the total pay of 318 officers and employes was $118,460.50.

"Postponement of final action on bills until the last days of the Legislative session has resulted in much hasty and bad legislation."

Recommends amending election law to permit intention of voter to count, but opposes return to emblem voting.

Would abolish special tax for free school books.

Points to failing oyster industry and urges planting law. "The barren portions of the bottoms of the waters of the State should be made productive. The State should profit thereby through the annual rentals from such bottoms, leaving the natural beds to oystermen, as at present."

Advocates passage of the new code of corporation laws.

Recommends creation of office of assistant superintendent of education. Suggests establishing a State museum of agriculture and manufactures in Baltimore city in connection with proposed Home Products Show.

Urges extension of the laws regulating child labor.

Commends work of state Bureau of Statistics and Information, especially as to sweat-shop investigations. "Clothing is manufactured in Baltimore today under better sanitary conditions than in any other city in the United States."

Indorses recommendations of directors of Maryland Penitentiary, who want to build additional quarters.

Asks to be relieved in whole or in part of duty of hearing pardon cases, although believes sole power to grant pardons should still rest with executive.

Advices generous appropriation for Maryland exhibit at Jamestown Exposition.

Advocates widening of scope of State Library at Annapolis.

Strongly indorses present good-roads law. "There is nothing which the State can do which will be of more lasting value than the construction of a modern system of public highways."
