JOSEPH D. BAKER THE MAN WHO WON BY LOSING.

Appreciations of The Frederick County Candidate for Governor on The Democratic Ticket. - The One From a Paper Which Stood by Him From First to Last; The Other From a Paper Which Opposed Him on The Ground of Expediency.

One man emerges from the smoke of the Democratic "love feast" with more honor and credit than when he went in. That man is Joseph D. Baker of Frederick county. Mr. Baker did not get the nomination; in fact, he did not get votes enough to make him an important factor in the balloting, but despite all this there is not a bigger Democrat in the State of Maryland to-day than the same Joseph D. Baker of Frederick county.

And the impress of Joseph D. Baker on the Democracy of Maryland will linger long. There will be many a Democrat to say during the next four years: "Oh if Baker had only been named."—Baltimore News.

Knowing that Mr. Baker was a man of irreproachable character, a man of highest business integrity, a man of exceptional administrative ability, a man who would not countenance "dickers or deals" but who would stand or fall from the effect cided by the familiar methods of the of a principle which he conscientiously believed to be right, and knowing Mr. Baker to be a high-toned gentleman who would do credit to the dignity of the gubernatorial office, the News was his willing champion. ### BOSSISM IN MARYLAND.

Will Smith be The New Boss?-Mary. land Democratic Platform Rings True-Bryan and Presidency. -Democracy's One Chance-Southern Candidate.

In considering the situation in Maryland the Baltimore News says: The question of bossism is not yet disposed of in Maryland. After thirty years of intolerable despotism we cannot quite make up our minds that all danger has suddenly passed away. Boss rule is not a matter of one, two or three men. It is a product of fundamental conditions. Popular apathy, the delegation of powers by the many to the few, will create the opportunity which there will be no the opportunity which there will be lack of men to make the most of. happens that the menace closest to us and apparently most to be feared—the setting up of a machine in succession to the Gorman-Rasin machine by Talbott. Arthur A. Gorman, Jr., and others friendly to them-has received a check through the unexpected result on Thursday. But the same result that unhorsed those men put in the saddle the shrewdest, ablest and most active political general of the Eastern Shore. It is a matter for grave consideration as to whether the election of Mr. Crothers would bring to the front as a State boss the resourceful and ambitious John Walter Smith. And those who admire the many good qualities of this gentleman must not forget that the better the man the worse he is, if as is undoubtly true of Mr. Smith, he is a believer in and a practicer of the methods which for so many years made Maryland an enslaved State. We do not say that a new bossism on the old lines is probable in the conditions that independence in voting has brought about in this State. But it is something to think about in making up one's mind as between the parties in the

The Washington Herald thinks the "Mayland Democratic platform rings"

The following plank contains good enough doctrine for everybody:

The Annapolis Evening Capital upholds the State ticket and says of the platform that it "is one of broadness and Democracy. The straight-forward statement in regard to the Constitutional Amendment will win the support a united party. All Democrats and many Republicans agree that the illiterate colored voter must not be a factor in the politics of this State. Common self-interest dictates that and public safety requires it. With a Constitutional Amendment that will have in letter the spirit of that provision in the platform, the amendment will be adopted and Maryland made

The Star (Washington) comments on the complicated situation in national polititics, the condition of uncertainty and confusion which seems to prevail and the anomalous situation of the leaders, especially Bryan, who, by "a sudden turn of the wheel," may lose his supremacy in the Democratic party. Concerning this uneasiness this journal says: "It is this feeling which occasions invites him immediately to come over and dine and make a speech. Listen, and I will give you some statistics. I quote from Dr. Gladden: "What is the chief reason why drunkenness destroys thousands of homes and tens of thousands of lives in Chicago every year? What is the great reason why armies of young girls are lived to min every year in Chicago. are lured to ruin every year in Chicago? Many who are burning with a desire to have it never get it. Their idolatry is not a whit less real than those who may have obtained it by a similar devotion. There are men who will tell a lie for five dollars any day. They know that God commands them not to, but God is of less value to many men than five dollars.
