DR. ROOSEVELT AT OXFORD

MEMORABLE OCCASION

Degree of Doctor of Civil Law Conferred

FORMER PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Introduced as "A Ruler of Men—The Most Conspicuous Figure in America Since Abraham Lincoln."—Strong to Rule Weak.

Theodore Roosevelt was given the honorary degree of doctor of civil law by Oxford University on Tuesday. The reception given Mr. Roosevelt surpassed in enthusiasm anything within the memory of the oldest Oxonian.

Lord Curzon of Kedleston, chancellor of Oxford University, in introducing the newly created D. C. L., who appeared for the first time in the red robes of the doctorate, spoke of Mr. Roosevelt as "a ruler of men—the most conspicuous figure in America since Abraham Lincoln."

After touching on the former President's many achievements the Chancellor said:

"Although he is now taking a holiday, it is undreamable that such a man will long remain out of public life."

Dr. Roosevelt in his address said among other things the following:

"Rome fell by attack from without only because the ills within her own borders had grown incurable. What is true of your country, my hearers, is true of my own; while we should be vigilant against foes from without, yet we need never really fear them so long as we safeguard ourselves against the enemies within our own households, and these enemies are our own passions and follies. Free peoples can escape being mastered by others only by being able to master themselves."

"You, my hosts, and I may not agree in all our views; some of you would think me a very radical democrat—as, for the matter of that, I am; and my theory of imperialism would probably suit the anti-imperialists as little as it would suit a certain type of forcible-feeble imperialist."

"There are questions that we of the great civilized nations are ever tempted to ask of the future. Is our time of growth drawing to an end? Are we as nations soon to come under the rule of that great law of death, which is itself but part of the great law of life? None can tell. Forces that we can see and other forces that are hidden or that can but dimly be apprehended are at work all around us, both for good and for evil. The growth in luxury, in love of ease, in taste for rapid and frivolous excitement, is both evident and unhealthy. The most ominous sign is the diminution in the birth rate."

"There is much that should give us concern for the future. But there is much also which should give us hope. No man is more apt to be mistaken than the prophet of evil."

"While freely admitting all of our follies and weaknesses of today, it is yet mere perversity to refuse to realize the incredible advance that has been made in ethical standards. I do not believe that there is the slightest necessary connection between any weakening of virile force and this advance in

BREWERS INTERESTED IN

TEMPERANCE REFORMS

Believe Prohibition Wave Is Receding.—Promoters of True Temperance So Styled In Address.

An attack on prohibition by Representative Henry Sherman Boutell, of Illinois, and a prediction by President Carl J. Hoster, of the United Brewers Association, that the time would come when the brewer would be found working with the "real and practical reformers" in the interest of temperance were the salient features of the fiftieth annual convention of the brewers at the opening session Wednesday in Washington. Representative Boutell advocated temperance in all things, characterizing it as closely allied and almost akin to strength. President Hoster, in his annual address to the 500 delegates, said he had no apology to make for being a brewer and that he recognized every brewer as a promoter of true temperance.

Mr. Hoster predicted a speedy return to license of those States which had adopted prohibition or local option.

"The pendulum is slowly but surely swinging the other way," declared President Hoster, "and it is becoming more clearly and generally recognized that the license system, which simply spells regulation, can be made to bring about better results than anything else that has been tried."

RECENT ACHIEVEMENTS IN AERIAL NAVIGATION

Hamilton To Attempt To Exceed Curtiss' Record.—Wrights In Big Race From New York to Chicago.

The last week has seen much activity in the fields of aerial navigation. Charles K. Hamilton, almost unknown before, has stepped into the lime light. His control of his machine was shown in the darts and evolution made in a recent flight when he did almost everything a bird does. To-morrow he will attempt to go from New York to Philadelphia and back in the same day for the prize offered by the New York Times. This flight will exceed in length that of Curtiss. He has gone to Philadelphia to look over the course for the best landing places.

There is under serious consideration a race from New York to Chicago for a prize of $25,000 concerning which Orville Wright said—"Fights from New York to Chicago and to St. Louis are entirely feasible. I have but little acquaintance with the topography of the country between the cities named, but my impression is that the flight should be made along the Hudson to Albany, thence to Buffalo, through the Mohawk and Genesee valleys' to Cleveland. I would follow this route thus far in a flight to either city. At Cleveland the routes divide. For St. Louis I would bear to the southwest. I would not consider it wise to attempt to cross the Allegheny Mountains in an aeroplane. Great height reduces the efficiency of the motor and emergency landings would be dangerous. If conditions are satisfactory our machine probably will make the proposed flights."

A LINCOLN MEMORIAL ROAD SOCIETY FORMED

To Push Movement For National Highway Between Washington and Battlefield of Gettysburg.

The Lincoln Memorial Road Association formed to promote the construction by the federal government of a memorial road to Abraham Lincoln from Washington to Gettysburg, Pa., was organized in New York Sunday. These officers were elected: President, Truman Newberry, of Detroit, former secretary of the navy; vice president, Samuel Hill, of Seattle; secretary, James T. McCleary, of Mankato, Minn.; treasurer, Robert A. C. Smith, of New York city.

A bill to carry out the plan was introduced in the House of Representatives by Representative Lefean, of Penn., but no action on it has been taken.

Those forming the association believe that the national memorial to Lincoln should be paid for entirely by the national government. The road as planned is to be about seventy-two miles long and about 200 feet wide. The estimated cost is $2,500,000.

SCIENCE UP IN THE AIR WITH 150-FOOT ICE WATER GEYSERS

Puzzling Phenomenon That Explodes Hypothesis of Science in Yellowstone National Park.

Now that the comet has left us and science has quit guessing on that subject, and gained enough courage to face an inquisitive world, another phenomenon is reported from the Yellowstone National Park that jolts an oft explained theory.

Winter Keeper Bunsen, of Norris station, in the Park, recently discovered a geyser which plays regularly every twenty-four hours throwing a stream 150 feet high of ice cold water instead of boiling hot. It has been an accepted hypothesis of geyser formation that subterranean streams coming in contact with lime and certain chemicals generate heat and pressure steam, which, seeking vent, causes the eruption. This theory, however, fails utterly to account for the new geyser's peculiar action.

Open Air Cells Good Reformers.

Burlington, New Jersey is trying open air cells for law breakers and they have proved such a detriment to minor crimes that the city may order the installation of an outside cell or two in the new City Hall. Contractors are now remodeling the old municipal structure and have removed the roof, leaving the steel-barred cages exposed to the elements and the offenders who have had the experience of spending a showery night in such confinement have been willing to sign any number of pledges to gain their freedom. Two tramps, who had the experience of sitting up all night under umbrellas loaned by the police, expressed their preference for the ball and chain.

POLITICAL TALK OF THE STATE

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES BADLY NEEDED

The Next Governor and the Present Executive and Various Other Pertinent Matters

THE PEOPLE WOULD LIKE TO VOTE FOR SENATOR BLAIR LEE

Pearre Takes Role of Dog In Manger.—Dissatisfaction With Congressman and His Insistency Thought By Many to Spell Democratic Victory.—Boss Crothers and Governor Crothers, Several Views.—Other Political Gossip From Over State and Some Criticism.

Now-a-days wherever there are two or three gathered together in this district there you may be reasonably sure politics will be the subject of part of their conversation. In Frederick the coming municipal election divides the attention with the congressional fight; in other parts of the district there is nothing to share the conversation with the all-important subject of our next representative in Congress.

Outside of the district various political subjects are uppermost in the minds of the people: The next governor, the present governor and various other matters pertinent and important.

Coming closer home, some of the wise ones predict a Democratic congressman. If Pearre is nominated, they say, Republicans disgusted with their wooden congressional image will hike after a Democratic idol and worship there until the powers that be can furnish them something worthy of their adoration. If Pearre is not nominated the Allegheny Promiser, sweet-tempered George A., will throw his influence to the other side. Heads I win, tails you lose.

According to an article in the Baltimore News George A. is not worried about his political fences. "While some of them may need attention," the article says, "the Colonel seems to feel a reasonable assurance that he has everything secure. When asked if he is in fight this fall, he replied: 'You can say that I am, unequivocally and without question, a candidate for the re-nomination for Congress from the Sixth district, and, furthermore, I believe that I will be nominated.'"

"While the attitude of the representatives from Washington and Frederick counties at the meeting of the Republican State Central Committee held in Baltimore is not giving Colonel Pearre any special concern, he is not altogether pleased with the stand they have taken in the light of past events. Neither does he particularly fear what they contemplate doing. He said he believed that the Congressional primary plan will be a great benefit to him, as it will give the voters an opportunity to select the next nominee for Congress by direct vote. Colonel Pearre said he has always favored the primary plan and introduced the system in Allegany county, where its workings have been found satisfactory and beneficial. He thinks, speaking as a lawyer, that Attorney General Straus' construction of the law may have been stretched a little in covering Congressional primaries, but as both parties have adopted the plan, Colonel Pearre said he is perfectly willing to abide by the result and is satisfied that the people shall settle the question as to whom they want to nominate for Congress."

"Colonel Pearre's friends in Washington county figure that by the convention plan he would have a safe majority and his nomination would be a certainty. They claim that he can swing Garret and Allegheny counties without question, and that Montgomery could be counted for him notwithstanding the candidacy of Gist Blair and B. H. Warner, Jr."

The suggestion of Judge John C. Motter in connection with the Republican Congressional nomination in this district to succeed Representative Pearre has aroused much favorable comment. It is believed that should Judge Motter agree to stand for the

"O. HENRY" FAMOUS STORY WRITER DIED IN HOSPITAL

Native Of North Carolina And Great Traveller.—Stories Very Popular And Almost Always Good.

William Sidney Porter, better known as O. Henry, the famous writer of short stories, died in New York on Sunday from the effects of an operation performed on the previous Friday.

Mr. Porter was born in Greensboro, N. C., in 1867. For several years he lived on a Texas ranch. While in Texas he secured a position on the Houston Post. He travelled extensively and was a serious reader. His stories were exceedingly ingenious and full of unexpected little strokes. In his serious moments he attained to a mastery of genuine pathos, without which no humour can be quite complete.

NORFOLK LANDMARK NOW UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Mr. Abel of Baltimore Sun Has Purchased Southern Journal.—To Assume Personal Control of Paper.

The Norfolk Landmark has been purchased by Charles S. Abel, formerly in charge of the Baltimore Sun. Mr. Abel, who is now the president of the Norfolk Landmark Publishing Company, will assume personal management of the paper.

Mr. Charles S. Abel is a son of the late George W. Abel, and grandson of A. S. Abel, the founder of the Baltimore Sun. When his cousin, Walter Abel, went to Europe, Charles Abel became the publisher of the Sun, and remained in charge until Mr. Grasty became the publisher several months ago.

WORLD'S FAIR IN NEW YORK IN THREE YEARS

Mayor Gaynor Names Committee of One Hundred to Consider Matter.—Prominent Men Chosen.

Mayor Gaynor of New York, has named a committee of 100 to consider the advisability of holding a world's fair in New York in 1913. In his letter to Henry Clews, who had requested the Mayor to name such a committee, the Mayor said, in part:

"I am naming Theodore P. Shonts, of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, one of the committee. May I ask you to remind him that whether we shall have sufficient transit facilities here in 1913 to make this city a fit place for a world's fair depends on him and his board of directors? His company should fully realize that it is not a private, but a public, corporation, highly favored and endowed by the community, and under corresponding duties to the community."

Among those named by the Mayor are the following:

Theodore P. Shonts, Henry Clews, Cornelius Bliss, Robert C. Ogden, Nathan Straus, George B. Cortelyou, Elbert H. Gary, Clarence H. Mackay, J. P. Morgan, Jr., Louis Nixon, James Speyer, Paul Morton, Otto H. Kahn, W. C. Brown, Peter Cooper Hewitt, Otto T. Bannard, Frank Munsey, Frank A. Vanderlip, George Westinghouse, John Hays Hammond, Alton B. Parker and Rudolph Block.

The Young Egyptian committee at Geneva, Switzerland, issued a violent protest Saturday against the sentiment, expressed by Mr. Roosevelt in his speech in London.

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS USE 20,000 BALLS ANNUALLY

Cincinnati Team Takes More Than Others.—It Costs About Thousand Dollars for Each Club.

Twenty thousand balls are used annually by the major league clubs during the training trips and championship campaigns.

John A. Heydler, secretary-treasurer of the National League, reports that last year the teams in his organization called on the manufacturers to furnish them with 800 dozen spheres. The Cincinnati Reds used the most balls; then came the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Chicago Cubs, the New York Giants, the Phillies, the Boston Doves, the Brooklyn Superbas, and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The watchdog of the National League treasury will not tell what price the clubs pay for the official balls, but Charles D. White, one of A. G. Spalding & Brothers' ambassadors, insinuates that persons who guess that a major league club spends about $1,000 a year for spheres are not far out of the way. Each ball, therefore, cost probably 80 cents. The price of the spheres varies from year to year.

TERROR EXISTS WHERE NIGHT RIDERS ARE ACTIVE

Kentucky Outrages Continue and Courts are Apparently Powerless.—Man Shot In His Own Door.

From information sent out from Kentucky it appears that citizens of Lyon county, Kentucky, in which most of the recent Night Riding has been done, or from which the Riders made their raids into other counties are in a state of terror from the outrages of the lawless hands, and that their numerous depredations have completely overawed everyone in that section.

It is stated also that the courts are apparently overawed by Night Riders, and that there is no prospect whatever for relief to come to the terror ridden citizens who are not members of the bands.

Lamasco, the little town where Milton Oliver was shot while standing at his own door, is named as the hotbed and rallying point of the bands of outlaws.

Ancient English Ceremony.

The death of King Edward renders the adoption of a new great seal imperative. When on a new reign or on a change of royal arms or style, or owing to the mechanical parts of the great seal being worn out and the fillings and ornaments becoming defaced, an order is made by the sovereign in council for using a new great seal, the old one is publicly broken, and the fragments become the fee of the chancellor. The ceremony of breaking or "damasking" the great seal consists in the sovereign giving it a gentle blow with a hammer, after which it is supposed to be broken and has lost all its virtue.

RAILROAD BILL PASSED

TWELVE OPPOSED IT

Maryland's Vote of Both Senators On Minority

SALIENT FEATURES OF THE BILL

Provides For Court of Commerce for Appeals from Interstate Commerce Commission With Offices in Washington.

The Railroad Bill has passed the Senate. Maryland's two representatives in that body, Senators Smith and Rayner, voted against it. It has been under consideration for twelve weeks and only twelve votes were recorded against it.

The salient features of the bill as it passed the Senate may be described as follows: The bill provides for the creation of a new "court of commerce" for the consideration exclusively of appeals from orders of the interstate commerce commission. The court is to consist of five judges, to sit in Washington; their powers are to be co-ordinate with the judges of the federal circuit court, to receive the same pay and emoluments, and are to be appointed in the first instance by the President for terms respectively of one, two, three, four and five years. Each as he retired to take up the work of a circuit bench, these and other vacancies to be filled by appointment by the chief justice of the supreme court.

While the offices of the court are to be in Washington and regular sessions are to be held there, provision is made for sitting anywhere in the United States. The government rather than the defendant in all cases coming before the court; but the commission is permitted to intervene, as are other interested parties. The defense is placed under the direction of the attorney-general, but the commission and interested parties are permitted to have counsel and to carry on the suit in case of the failure of the attorney-general to do so. Appeal may be taken to the supreme court.

The long-and-short-haul provision of the present interstate commerce law would be amended so as to permit a greater charge for a short haul than for a long haul, only with the consent of the interstate commerce commission. Especial provision is made against a lower rate being fixed for the purpose of destroying water competition. Railroad companies are required to furnish written statements of rates from one place to another upon the written application of a shipper under a penalty of $250 for misstatement or for failure to comply with such application. In addition the shippers could bring suit for additional damages.

Either upon complaint or upon its own initiative, the commission is authorized to determine the reasonableness of individual or joint rates or classification, and if such rates are found to be unreasonably discriminatory, preferential or prejudicial, the commission is authorized to determine and prescribe a proper maximum rate. Rates reduced to meet water competition must not be restored until after a hearing by

MR. ELY PRINCIPAL OF SCHOOL OF DEAF HONORED

Presented With Gold Watch by Board of Visitors In Recognition of Long and Faithful Service.

Last Thursday Prof. Charles W. Ely, attained his fortieth year as principal of the Maryland School for the Deaf at Frederick. The Frederick News, commenting editorially on this fact says: "Professor Ely has had a long and honorable service in this city—a service fraught with good not only to the community, but to the State at large. He is not only a man of the highest honor and integrity, but a distinguished educator. The institution, so ably presided over by him for so long a period, is one to be proud of. It is one of the finest schools for the deaf in the United States, and its high degree of efficiency is due to the efforts of Professor Ely. As a fitting testimonial of their esteem the Board of Visitors presented the Professor with a handsome gold watch Thursday. The citizens of Frederick cannot too highly honor men of the stamp of Professor Ely."

Professor Ely has been principal of the school since its establishment by the State. He is recognized as one of the leading educators of the deaf in the United States, and under his direction the Maryland School has won a high reputation as a well-managed institution.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Every Christian's life should every day be a fresh, new song.—Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh, Reformed, Pittsburg.

The Life We Lead.

The thing that is most admired in a man is not his taste for dress nor his ability to make money, but the kind of life he leads.—Rev. W. W. Bustard, Baptist, Boston.

Man of God.

To be a man of God is to have a title of nobility worn by the prophets of old—the highest expression that a man is capable of becoming.—Rev. C. R. Hemphill, Presbyterian, Louisville.

Life's Final Results.

Many of the final results of your life and teaching will report themselves to you long years after you come before the judgment seat of God.—Rev. Dr. N. Dwight Hillis, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

Mind and Religion.

The more highly developed the mental life is, the more correctly one thinks, the more complete and perfect his knowledge, other things being equal, the better will be his type of religion.—Rev. John W. Rowlett, Unitarian, Atlanta, Ga.

Heaven on Earth.

If there is anything that is heaven on earth it is for the provider of the family when there is real need of provision to come back with the day's wages or the day's provision for the loved ones.—Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, Presbyterian, Brooklyn.

Consecrated Backbone.

Men must possess consecrated backbone in morals. Man is not expected to be a jellyfish morally, but an imperial, majestic vertebrate who stands up to give and receive blows in defense and in behalf of the God who gave him his soul and his lofty estate.—Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Locke, Methodist Episcopal, Los Angeles, Cal.

True Discipleship.

Immortality stands already and sufficiently condemned, but a shallow life must also be contemptible. It is for this that the church must stand in modern life if it would win not only those who are weak, but those who are morally strong. To sacrifice not only the evil, but also the good, this is true discipleship.—Rev. Clayton J. Potter, Congregationalist, Simsbury, Conn.

Growing Like God.

When one's heart throbs go out in kindness, good will and sympathy and in all the gracious sentiments of brotherhood toward his fellows, then is he growing in likeness to his Father in heaven. And this conduces to the common happiness. Trusting others, they will trust us. Caring for others, they will care for us. Self sacrifice brings life's sweetest reward.—Rev. Junius B. Remensnyder, Lutheran, New York.

Disease Result of Thought.

There are a vast deal of suffering and disease in the world which are the product of men's thoughts. But if a disease is caused by the mind it is certainly reasonable to believe that it can be cured by the mind. To give the sufferer a new outlook upon life, to inspire courage and hope and faith, to renew the forces of the will, to turn away the mind from conditions which have caused nervous overwork, will bring physical cure.—Rev. C. Waldo Cherry, Presbyterian, Troy, N. Y.

Manifestation of Deity in Nature.

The messages conveyed to us by nature do not need to be translated from the original Greek, and there is nowhere that we can learn a better idea of the majesty of God and his illimitable might. By limiting ourselves to the gospel alone we develop a Christianity that lacks strength and robustness. It is outside the Bible and in nature that we find what may be called the brute energy of God. The laws of nature are the forms in which God has crystallized his will.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, Presbyterian, New York.

Value of a Clean Heart.

The man who does not live on good terms with himself, whose mind is not clean within, has very little to hope for in the way of moral and spiritual cleanness. This is the first thing that the perception of religion as an inner reality does for us. It guarantees our tranquillity, our serenity, our undisturbable calmness here and hereafter. It introduces us to our own selves and says to man, woman and child, "Here you will find God or nowhere." Make clean first the inside of the cup, and the outside shall become clean to you. Ethics, pure social life, must flow from the heart that is fed with divine love.—Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, Unitarian, Washington.

World's Greatest Treasure.

Man's life comes from within. It rises superior to circumstance and situation. It enables him to have happiness even in trial and sorrow. The martyr burning at the stake may be happy even amid suffering. Such strength is not obtained; it is attained—not an acquisition, but a growth. You can buy pleasure, but not happiness. The heart rich toward God solves life's paradox. Peace within the soul and the abiding conviction that the kingdom of heaven is within you give the knowledge and possession of the world's greatest treasure. A man may possess the world and not be happy, but with the soul enriched with eternal things he will be satisfied. This is the secret of the happy life. Happiness is a byproduct of an unselfish life. It is a wayside flower growing along the path of duty. A purpose consecrated to lofty ideals makes worthy the efforts of every one who strives to improve his own character and to uplift mankind.—Rev. Dr. George H. Bickley, Methodist Episcopal, Philadelphia.

NAPOLEON'S HEADGEAR AS MODEL

It is recorded of Napoleon in some of the innumerable books of memoirs about the great emperor that he liked the women of his court to be tastefully and prettily dressed according to the modes of the time. It is even said that he made suggestions to some of the ladies, which helps to prove, if proof were needed, that he was a very brave man. But probably "the Little Corporal" never dreamed that his old three cornered chapeau would serve as a model for women's hats. But it has, and here are two of them.

THE NAPOLEON AND THE LITTLE CORPORAL.

One of them takes its name bodily from him. It is called "the Napoleon." The other hides itself behind his nickname and is called "the Little Corporal." The latter is made of rough straw and is turned up, like Bonaparte's headgear, both back and front. In addition to its knot of ribbon it bears as adornment a smart brush. These hats are becoming to many faces.

FRANCES WARD.

ONE OF THE "LITTLE THINGS" THAT HELP TO MAKE A WOMAN STYLISH

THIS is not intended for the women who have "to make ends meet," as the saying goes.

Its interest is exclusively for the woman who wants to be swagger and is determined to keep up with all the latest kinks of fashion, no matter what the cost may be. If the reader is one of the latter class, why, let her get one of the very, very latest "vanity sets," as shown in the accompanying picture. It consists of a number of toilet accessories, made of solid gold or silver, dangling from a bracelet. In the set pictured the pieces are as follows, reading from left to right: Lip salve holder, coin purse, powder box and eyebrow pencil. To these is sometimes added a cigarette case, with, of course, a tiny receptacle for matches. Other little things such as men generally carry in their pockets have been added by the ingenious jewelers, who are always on the lookout for new schemes to coax the dollars from women or their husbands and fathers. These sets won't do for the nervous woman, for their jangling and tinkling are very pronounced as the bearer walks.

VANITY SET.

HELPS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

WHEN milk must be boiled before using, instead of leaving it to cool slowly, thus allowing a thick creamy "top" to form on the milk, plunge the pot up to the rim in a basin of cold water whenever it is taken from the fire. The milk will cool in a very few minutes without any top forming and will taste very much nicer; one could hardly tell it had been boiled at all. This is important if the milk is for a baby's use, as a great deal of the cream is wasted in skimming off the top before pouring the milk into the baby's feeder.

Here is a good method for cleaning coppers, pans, molds or brass utensils or steel of kitchen ranges: Take two or three large handfuls of silver sand, one of kitchen salt, one of flour and moisten with vinegar. First wash the articles well with hot soda water, then with a woolen cloth or rubber scour vigorously inside and outside with the above mixture. Plunge into very hot water to which have been added a little soap and soda and wipe with a nice dry cloth. The same mixture can be used for the steel of a kitchen range, finishing off with a piece of emery cloth or powdered bath brick.

Jet Jewelry a New-Old Fad.

The use of jet jewelry, generally in sets, is one of the latest fads of the women who wish to appear smart and up to date, although, of course, they know that they are simply reviving an old fashion. The jet that was used by our grandmothers and was then thought very impressive is much in demand now, and the woman who has inherited some of it is considered very lucky. Much of the jet jewelry that is seen comes in sets of necklace, bracelets, brooches, rings, earrings, etc. In some cases the somberness of the jet jewelry is lightened by the use of the material in connection with pearls, the contrast of the two being very effective. The jewelry looks especially well when worn with light gowns, but it is also being worn with darker costumes.

A Shampoo Board.

Visits to hairdressers are a bother, especially to the busy women, and the work of those of the visiting variety is seldom satisfactory owing to the lack of the necessary appliances. One thing that can be provided is the shampoo board. It adds greatly to the comfort of the shampoo taken at home. There are various kinds of shampoo boards, most of them being of metal. The one most in favor has a curved space for the back of the neck and grooves on which the hair is laid and through which the water runs into the stationary basin. With the use of one of these boards the fatigue of leaning over a washstand for a half hour while the hair is washed and rinsed is done away with. One can sit comfortably in a chair with the neck resting on the board and the hair spread over it.

Women Aviators.

Miss Lillian Bland is a young woman whose ambition is to build as well as to fly a biplane. She works day and night at her model of a machine, which has many original features. Miss Bland is a skilled mechanic and demands perfection and the best finish in every detail of her machinery. Women are making great progress in aviation.

Got Another Copy.

A well dressed man was standing outside a bookseller's shop in Charing Cross road closely examining one of Balzac's works illustrated by Gustave Dore. "How much is this Balzac?" he asked an assistant outside.

"Twenty-five shillings," was the reply.

"Oh, that's far too much. I must see the manager about a reduction," continued the prospective customer, and, suiting the action to the word, he took up the book and went into the shop.

Approaching the bookseller, he took the book from under his arm and asked what he would give for it. "Seven shillings highest offer," he was told.

The offer was accepted, the man took his money and left.

"Well," queried the assistant later, after the man had gone, "were you able to hit it off with the gentleman, sir?"

"Oh, yes. I managed to get another copy of that edition of Balzac for 7 shillings."

Then the bookseller went out to lodge a complaint with the police.—London Telegraph.

A Victim of Leprosy.

"On my travels in Venezuela," said a New York man, "I stayed in a hotel with a young man in whose family there was the taint of leprosy, though he apparently did not have it. One night sitting at dinner he became angry at a waiter and brought his hand down on the table with full force. He instantly realized that he did not feel the blow and sat looking at his hand, his face whitening with horror. 'Give me your knife, Bob,' he said to his chum. He grabbed the pocketknife in a frenzy and stabbed the side of his hand with vicious cuts from finger tip to wrist. You may not know that leprosy appears in the side of the hand, numbness being a sign. The man did not feel the cuts. He arose from the table, knocking over his chair, rushed out into the courtyard of the hotel, and we heard the quick tang of a revolver shot, telling us how he had conquered the leper's curse by ending his life."—New York Times.

He Could Wield an Ax.

The skill of the old Maine shipbuilders in the use of the adz and broadax was wonderful. One old time yarn is of a carpenter who applied very drunk at a shipyard for employment. In order to have a little fun with him the foreman set him to give a proof of his skill by heaving out a wooden bolt with no chopping block but a stone. The carpenter accomplished his difficult task without marring the keen edge of the broadax and showed the foreman a neatly made bolt. Then he brought the ax down with a terrific blow that shattered its edge upon the stone. "I can hew fast rate on your chopping block," he blubbered, "but I'll be blamed if I can make the ax stick in it when I get through." The story runs that the foreman lost no time in employing such a workman.

Easy.

"How shall I break my husband of playing poker?" "Just break him and keep him that way."—Cleveland Leader.

GETTYSBURG

On last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the Walter Theatre was crowded to hear the entertainments by local talent, directed and assisted by Mr. Jay Wellington. "The Open Gate" was presented, followed by a musical program. A number of young folks of town rendered solos, and the chorus work was exceptionally good, the stage setting and costumes being in excellent taste. "Surprises" by the company closed the program. The receipts were for the Citizens' Band and a nucleus for a hospital fund.

On June first, at high noon, Miss Mary Sheads, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Sheads, was quietly married to Rev. William K. Fleck, of Huntingdon. The ceremony took place at the Sheads home in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends and was performed by Rev. Daniel E. Weigle, a classmate of the groom. The bride graduated from the Gettysburg High School with the class of '01, while the groom is a graduate of both college and seminary, graduating from the latter institution with the class of '10. They went to their newly furnished home in Fairfield the same evening, where Rev. Fleck was recently elected pastor of the Lutheran church.

The annual commencement of St. Francis Xavier school was held in Xavier Hall on Tuesday evening, June 7, when a most interesting program was rendered. Drills, choruses, addresses, music—vocal and instrumental—were among the numbers. The Citizens' Band rendered a number of selections. A cantata—"Cinderella in Flowerland,"—in five scenes, was in itself a tribute to the training imparted at the institution. The graduating class numbered seven. Rt. Rev. Shanahan made an able address and presented the diplomas.

After considerable dispute over the extension of an alley across East Confederate Avenue in rear of East Middle street, between the Town Council and the National Park Commission, Hon. D. F. Lafean, Representative from the 20th Congressional District, has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives, which if passed, will settle all arguments and the alley will be extended across said avenue.

The seventy-eighth annual commencement of Pennsylvania College will be held next week, beginning Sunday, when the baccalaureate sermon will be preached at 10.30 in College Church by President Hefelbower. The address to the Y. M. C. A. will take place at 7.30 by Rev. A. B. Van Ormer. The annual athletic sports will be held at 1.30 P. M., Monday, with the Musical Clubs' concert at 8 P. M.

Tuesday at 8 A. M. the Board of Trustees will meet; Junior class oratorical contest will take place at 10; Senior class day exercises will be held at 2 and President's reception at 8.

Orations by ten members of the graduating class will be delivered at 9 A. M., Wednesday, followed by the annual Alumni luncheon at 12. The festivities will close with a baseball game between the 'Varsity and a team of Alumni at 2.30.

SMOKERS NOT CAPABLE TO BATTLE WITH SMOKE

New York's Famous Fire Department Only Forty Per Cent. Efficient.—Brains Not Chief Requisite.

Two firemen were smothered to death by smoke in a fire in New York last Monday. Commenting on this fact Chief Croker had a word to say on cigarette smoking, civil service fire fighters. Declaring his wonderful fire department as only 40 per cent. efficient he said:

In many fires, of late, I have seen these civil service firemen drop their hose and run. When one of them weakens, the whole bunch goes down like a row of dominoes.

"I want some men with brains, yes; but I want all of them with lungs. The cigarette smoking, weak lunged, under sized, civil service firemen have been demoralizing the department for the last twenty-six years—ever since the civil service commission began to pass on applicants. If we continue to make scholarship the prime requisite for admission it is only a question of time when the department will fall to pieces."

Memorial to Prisoners of 1812.

The window placed in the village church at Prince Town, Eng., as a memorial for American prisoners of the war of 1812, was unveiled Saturday. The church stands on Dartmoor and near the historic Dartmoor prison, where the American sailors were confined. It was recently restored by Americans who also bought the memorial window. The original stone chapel of Prince Town was erected by the forced labor of the men the memory of whom is preserved in the newer structure.

A wealthy Chicago business man was robbed of $50,000 in cash and papers while on a train from Chicago to New York.

Note the important feature in this week's advertisement of The Emmitsburg Savings Bank.

EARTHQUAKE AND CYCLONE DEVASTATES SOUTHERN ITALY

Loss of Lives and $2,000,000 in Property in Districts Around Extinct Volcano.—Storm in Sardinia.

Seismic disturbances practically throughout the whole of Southern Italy and parts of Tuscany and Venetia in the north caused the loss of many lives on Tuesday. The island of Sicily was also shaken. Towns were tumbled down and fires consumed the ruins. The zone of the earthquake extends about 50 miles around Mount Vulture, an extinct volcano in Avellino.

The whole island of Sardinia at the same time was ravaged by a violent cyclone. The districts of Lanusei, Tortoli, Ilbono, Elini and Jerzu have been devastated, and the crops, vineyards and cattle destroyed. It is believed that many sheep herders have followed the fate of their flocks. The damage in Sardinia is estimated at $2,000,000.

Frederick City Hotel Sold.

Frank L. Stoner and H. Dorsey Etchison, trustees, sold the new City Hotel equipment Wednesday afternoon to W. A. Reist, of York, Pa. The new proprietor took charge at once. WESLEYAN STUDENTS RIOT IN CEMETERY AND CHURCH

Fraternity Initiation Exceeds the Limit for Disorderliness.—Bathed Novices in Beer.

Fraternity life at Wesleyan University, an institution maintained by the Methodist Church, Middletown, Conn., is threatened with extinction on account of the mad conduct of members of the Theta Nu Epsilon fraternity, during an initiation of new members. The initiates were taken to a small town, bathed in beer and ice water. The proceedings were then continued in a cemetery and gravestones were overturned and graves disturbed. A Methodist church was despoiled of its pulpit furniture and a judge assaulted.

President W. A. Shanklin, of Wesleyan, has personally investigated the affair, and that of the freshmen who had a similar celebration in Lyme the night previous. Theta Nu Epsilon has been barred from Yale and other colleges, and it is probable that this revel will end its existence at Wesleyan.

GREAT HOTEL TRUST BEING FORMED IN NEW YORK

Combine To Control $50,000,000 and Maintain Chain of Houses in Leading Cities Here And In Canada.

The recently incorporated United Hotels Company, organized several months ago for the purpose of acquiring control of a chain of great hotels in the leading cities of this country and Canada and which, is to eventually have a capital stock of $50,000,000.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt and other men of vast financial resources are interested in the project. The hotel syndicate it is said, has already concluded negotiations for the control of large hotels in San Francisco, Denver, Chicago, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newport, Albany, Rochester, Syracuse Boston and Montreal, Can.

Plans for the consolidation of the interests of Vanderbilt and the Ritz Carlton Hotel Company, of London, in this country, are said to have failed. The Ritz Carlton interests will be represented in this country, it is said, by the Carlton Investing Company.

Big Flight Prize Offered.

The Wright brothers and Glenn H. Curtiss will be invited to enter a competitive airship flight between New York and the national capital, for which a prize of $200,000 will be given. This decision was reached at a meeting of representatives of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Aero Clubs and two commercial bodies of Washington.

DR. ELIOT AND HIS COW.

Dr. Eliot, of Harvard, is going to buy a cow. This is right and proper, and then there is a precedent for it.

Coming back to Dr. Eliot, we sincerely hope that he will profit by Mr. Taft's experience. We hope that he will procure a cow that will exert a good influence not only on its owner but on Harvard University as well.

ACCORDING to statistics out of 751,786 immigrants entering the United States in nineteen hundred and nine, 191,049 could neither read nor write.

state prisons of New York to-day is an alien, and the latest census shows that in the penal institutions of the United States in nineteen hundred and eight 15,323 criminals were not naturalized.

Does this not suggest the imperative need of a thorough revision of our laws and requirements applicable to immigration?

It is drawing it mildly to say that for a good many years Maryland, which, owing to its situation, ought to be a real power in Washington, has amounted to very little, in the lower house at least.

Situated as Maryland is, it should have weight and authority at the Capitol, and it would have it if we followed the example of States which send good men there and keep them there.

Col. George Alexander Pearre is Maryland's Congressman from the Sixth District.

THE Topeka (Kan.) State Journal must be preparing a fond farewell to Senator Hale, calling attention as it does to the fact that the cost of running the government thirty years ago was less than the expense of the Navy alone for this year.

It is now being figured in Washington that if Congress quits work now and does nothing more it will be possible to adjourn by the first of July.

It time, no doubt, to celebrate one of those "safe and sane" things the people have been talking so much about. But on second thought can anything safe and sane be expected of the majority of congressmen?

THE owner of a big private picture gallery in New York has had its walls lined with a rag carpet of natural colors and says that he never saw a better background for pictures.

But according to our sense of appropriateness he didn't go far enough. He ought to have finished off with a frieze of ragtime music to create a greater contrast with some of his "old masters."

COL. PEARRE seems to have them guessing just now. It appears to be a case of dog in the manger with odds in favor of the dog, as far as the nomination is concerned.

DR. HERING may be "a young old man," but in playing politics he is a "wise old guy" just the same.

EDITORIAL COMMENT FROM PRESS ASSOCIATION

Some people are a little surprised that Milwaukee's Socialist mayor did not appear at his desk with a red flag in his teeth and a bomb under each arm.

The longer the session lasts the shorter the congressional campaign. Either way the country has congress on its hands.

President Taft, with his big heart, is one of the best friends that unworthy subordinates ever had.

A few weeks hence we'll be wishing May would "come back," standing pat on its weather.

It's up to somebody to pull the rip cord and make the price of living come down.

Strawberries, Smothered and Plain. This is the season when expert and amateur hand out fifty-seven varieties of the "best way to eat strawberries."

People who don't know the delights of strawberries in cream are all but universally pitied, and yet half of the gourmands in the strawberry belt, taking the world over, prefer theirs any way but that.

Statement is made that the return from Uncle Sam's new tax on corporations will be $22,000,000 instead of the estimated $30,000,000, which is just $22,000,000 more than the corporations ever contributed to the government before.

Drain the little pools and pockets of water or coat them with oil to keep down the mosquito crop. Fish will do the business even better where the water is deep enough for them to have fullowing.

The demand for a safe and sane Fourth is spreading generally, but there are a few cities content at the mere prospect of one less crazy and deadly than usual.

At the last King Edward had but a few words to speak, and they referred to duty performed, beyond which it was needless to say more.

Thunder and lightning, rain, cool sunshine and frost, weather marks of four seasons, all in the month of May.

Maybe high prices are coming down solely to dodge a short lived comet.

If the census didn't find you, find yourself and let the census know.

Morals of the Undersized. Because a bunch of "cribbing" college students were all found to be wanting in physical proportions the conclusion has been jumped at that defective physique has something to do with dishonest propensities.

History records many little men who were good as well as great and brilliant. There seems to be a rule that persons physically defective as dwarfs, born cripples and those of very small stature have been generously endowed with ambition and push.

It seems that King Edward VII. had no surname. His male ancestors probably never felt the need of one. The persons of democratic tendencies who have called him "Mr. A. E. Guelph" or "Mr. Wettin" have exhibited sparkling humor, but have lacked sound historical information.

Sir George Nares, seventy-nine years old, presiding over the Peary meeting in London fifty-eight years after his first polar service with a Franklin search expedition, suggests that the arctic regions may not be a bad health resort.

None of the European rulers has asked Colonel Roosevelt to take a walk with him. Evidently all are afraid that the test would put them in the mollycoddle class.

Having advanced the wages of their employees, the railroads now propose to boost their carrying rates. Another reminder that the people always pay the freight.

Dr. Max Baff of Clark college likens woman to a savage because she paints her face. But the savage paints for war, woman for social conquest.

It is assuring to be told that King George is not a great talker, but can make an impressive speech when occasion requires.

Yes, every day is "mother's day" to work.

Stories of Today. A prominent British publisher predicts that the forthcoming fifty cent novels are likely to drive the new author to the wall. Standard novels—in fact, masterpieces of classic fiction—can be retailed in these days of cheap printing for 50 cents, provided they are produced in large quantities.

Weston has once more made it incumbent on Dr. Osler to explain exactly what he meant when he expressed the views on superannuation which attracted so much popular attention a few years ago.

A number of people have mistaken the morning star for the comet. And as a rule they were so well satisfied that there seems to be little real need of the genuine article.

Uncle Joe Cannon is not saying much at present, for the simple reason, no doubt, that he has nothing to add to opinions already forcefully expressed.

The way the "man from Elba" snubs American millionaires over there he must be counting on dollar contributions to finance his third term spree.

Of course sensible Europe knows very well that Citizen Roosevelt cannot be honored without honoring the institutions which produced him.

Increased sales of telescopes are reported on account of the comet. After the comet disappears they can be turned on political rainbows.

F. Augustus Heinze bumped against as many trials in Wall street as Harry K. Thaw did on the Great White Way.

At last real mountain climbers are going to do Mount McKinley.

Even the weather has caught the insurging fever.

Employers' Liability.

The legislatures of New York and Wisconsin have made definite progress in efforts to reach an adjustment of the problem of compensation for victims of industrial accidents.

Uncle Sam assumes a sort of fatherly interest in the Latin American nations. Central Americans are sometimes disposed to be a bit suspicious of our intentions.

An expedition to Mount McKinley to find the foot tracks of the men who say they could not find the foot tracks of Dr. Cook further indicates that exploration is fast becoming a joke.

Some census enumerators are complaining of the proposed payment of 2 cents for each name turned in. But 2 cents a name for 90,000,000 odd names seems a huge sum of money.

According to the new government cookbook, there are forty ways to bake bread. The ways not to bake it would alone make a book.

The $100,000 appropriated to raise the Maine wreck is at least a substantial installment on a work that must be performed whatever the final cost.

It is certainly an odd freak of chance that the so called "return from Elba" should culminate on the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo.

The record of George V. is almost too goody-goody to make a nine days' topic.

Free Finland. Finland recently rejected the meat by which Russia proposed to extend her authority over the grand duchy. More than once of late—that is, since troubles began to accumulate for the czar—the Finns have asserted their traditional independence, and on every occasion the czar ended by trying to coerce them.

Finland is more progressive than Russia and more highly civilized. Its inhabitants are not Russians and are not of the same religious faith. Its aspiration for liberty is not a mere political sentiment, but is based on rights which every czar of the last hundred years has sworn to respect.

The probability is that George will imitate Edward and content himself with the role of the constitutional king. Not otherwise can he hope to save the throne from the dangers which menaced it in the reign of the last George.

Some day it will come to be recognized that it is as great a disgrace to a community to acquiesce in the prevalence of consumption as it would be to accept the mediaeval plague as an unavoidable visitation of Providence.

In order to lessen the danger of rabies Chicago will place 1,000 drinking vessels for dogs in different parts of the city, a scheme worth imitating by every town, village and hamlet in the land.

In view of the awful fate of the miners at Palos, the work of educating mine operatives in the handling of explosives should be rushed with all speed.

An annual visitant who arouses the same enthusiasm year after year, the sweet girl graduate, is now about to don her best "bib and tucker."

Civilization in South America.

We are so accustomed to taking the newsman's point of view on South America that we look upon it as a land of revolution, assassination and oppression and not much else. We are in the plight of many Europeans regarding America, thinking that Indians run amuck with tomahawk and scalping knife in our principal cities.

Of course South America had neither railroads nor steamboats in 1810. Now her railways and her foreign commerce are among the marvelous achievements of the past hundred years. Immigration has poured in, notably in the more southerly republics, and the German and Italian population now runs into millions.

Nord Alexis, deposed president of Haiti, who died recently in exile, was a remarkable negro. He was rich and honest, but had retained the instincts of the savage and was driven from Haiti because of a cold blooded massacre of political enemies.

Genius and Thrift. Mark Twain died well off for a septuagenarian of expensive tastes who raised a family of girls. His known assets are about $200,000. Copyright values and unpublished manuscripts may yield much or little. It's all a lottery.

Many masterpieces on canvas and in print have been created in an attic—even in a debtors' jail. Horace Greeley once said in contempt that he held the note of Edgar Allan Poe for a small sum and would like to have that paid before he added to Poe's meed of fame as an author.

The higher wages of railroad men will doubtless be raked off higher fares for summer tourists.

MEN'S FIXINGS

It was Kipling who said "The more I see of my Dogs—the less I think of Men." Kipling unquestionably referred to the men who did not have the privilege of buying ADVANCED HABERDASHERY—for it is an established fact that few things in life—save good food and the gentle sex—contribute so largely to keep man in a complacent frame of mind, as satisfactory Furnishings. Our fellow feeling prompts us to unusual endeavor in contributing an humble part to make man comfortable. A closer acquaintance will show that we are strong on Dress Accessories that men like—Quality, Correctness and Price being the first thought.

SHIRTS

Every man appreciates a well-fitting Shirt—correct in Neckband, Sleeve Length and Body. To secure these essentials BUY OF US the Eclipse and Monarch Shirts—made in almost every way. Full Dress Shirts, Pleated Shirts, Short Bosoms, Attached and Detached Cuffs, Negligee Shirts, Pleated Colored Shirts, Large Men's Shirts. Some effects, especially in better grades not generally carried—a wide range—Look us over.

UNDERWEAR

Time was when choice in man's underwear was limited—not so now. In a comprehensive stock of reliable makes we believe we can satisfy your individual notions. An unusually good Garment—Shirts and Drawers, 25c. A Superior Garment, Balbriggan and Lisle, 50c. The King of Comfort—strong gauzy Lisle, $1.00. B. V. D. Athletic, in different grades, Sleeveless Shirts, Knee Drawers, 50c up. And for those who prefer them, Drawers made of Jeans and the Scrivener idea at 50c. Also Fish Net and Poros Nit.

SOCKS

We begin with 2 pair for a quarter for a well-wearing sock. Next comes the best ever for 25c—well-made, comfortable and dependable. Better grades in Lisle and Silk, 37c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

NECKWEAR

You can be very individual and we will please you, a wide range in the newest ideas—solid colors and fancies in many weaves, 4-in-Hand Ties and Wash Ties.

SUSPENDERS

The sort you want for now—Narrow Webbs, in dainty colors. The Genuine Guiot, The Common Sense, The Invisible and others for the comfort seekers.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

(Copyright 1909 by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)

June 12th, 1910.

The Canaanitish Woman.—Matt. xv: 21-28.

Golden Text—Great is thy faith; be it unto thee even as thou wilt. Matt. xv: 28.

Verse 21—Why had Jesus come to the coasts of Tyre and Sidon? (See Mark vii:24.)

Why is proper rest as important a duty as necessary work?

Verse 22—Can you give any evidence that God has always loved all nations alike, and that to-day, all men, white and black, rich and poor, are equally dear to him?

Why did this woman ask Jesus to have mercy on her, when the trouble was with her daughter?

To what extent is prayer for a needy one effectual, unless we really feel the need as if it were our own?

Which as a rule, are the greater sufferers, persons who have the actual troubles or those who love them?

Verse 23—Jesus at first did not answer, or pay any attention to this woman's prayer. Why did he so act? and why is it that God often acts in a similar manner with earnest prayer?

Why did the disciples beseech him to answer this woman?

Did they do well, or ill, in interfering with Jesus' plans?

Verse 24—Is there any reason to believe that God ever appoints a man to a specific work, so that it is wrong for him to step aside and help in some other good work?

If what Jesus here states is to be taken literally, that he was sent in person exclusively to the house of Israel, does that narrow, or limit, his great mission to the whole world?

Which helps the general cause of God most, one who attends strictly to his own particular work, and leaves the rest to others, or the one who tries to spread himself over all the work?

Verses 25-27—When a person comes to God with great and pressing needs, and with a soul filled with worshipful feeling, what reason is there to believe that God always inclines to such a person?

Why is it that God often seems so severe to those whom he loves best?

Why was not this woman discouraged with the apparent severity of Jesus?

"When God hides himself for a time from the faithful soul, what is its purpose, and what should be the attitude of such soul during the darkness? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

When God seems to act severely as in the case of this woman, does he like to have us debate the matter with him, as she did, giving expression to our honest views? Give your reasons.

Verse 28—Give a reasoned opinion as to whether Jesus' method helped this woman much more than if he had received her kindly, and granted her request, at the first?

What is your view as to whether such faith, as this woman had, is possible for everybody, and, if so, how may it be acquired?

Lesson for Sunday, June 19th, 1910.—The Parable of the Sower. Matt. xiii: 1-9, 18-23.

*This is the question to be answered in writing by members of the club in competition for the prizes. Every subscriber and members of subscribers' families belong to this club.

Unique Power Plant Finished.

A FAIR EXCHANGE

MANY people have things that they no longer have use for, but keep them in the house, taking up room and doing no one any good.

Better sell or trade off things you don't want. Advertise them and you will find that there are people ready to take them and pay cash, or trade for them. You will find it easy through the Columns of

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of persons furnishing items will be withheld.

Mr. Donald Forbes, of Baltimore, is here for the Summer.

Mr. Charles J. Reilly, who has spent frequent vacation here, is now traveling in Europe.

Dr. D. E. Stone, of Mt. Pleasant, is visiting his son, Dr. D. E. Stone, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Meade Patterson and daughter, Ethel, are spending sometime in Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson attended the commencement exercises of the State Normal School, their daughter, Miss Hazel Patterson, being among this year's graduates of that institution.

Miss Sara Miller spent a few days with Miss Nellie Eyster.

Mr. R. S. Knode visited in Baltimore.

Splendid Address By Prof. White.

One of the pleasantest features of the High School commencement last week was the finished and scholarly address of Prof. John T. White, county superintendent. Mr. White impresses one as being a man who has carefully thought out what he intends to say and then says it in polished and forceful language. His admonition to the graduating class was splendid. The only regret of the audience was that he did not continue for a longer time. There was another regret in connection with the exercises and that was the determination on the part of Mr. White not to again address an Emmitsburg audience at a similar occasion. Mr. White said that the people had been so very kind and indulgent to him that he could not again run the risk of wearing out his welcome.

At the close of the exercise the County Superintendent said that the people of this town should not worry over the future of the High School for it would continue to exist and exert its good influence in this community.

BOYS ENTERTAINED ON TRIP

St. Aloysius Society Given Outing at Battlefield of Gettysburg.

The St. Aloysius Society of St. Joseph's Catholic Church enjoyed an outing at Gettysburg and the National Cemetery on Saturday last. Forty-eight boys accompanied by Rev. Father McNelis, the director of the society, and Rev. Father Eckles, were in the three large wagons when the start was made from St. Euphemia's School at 9 o'clock. The party stopped at the Hotel Gettysburg, where arrangements had been made with Mr. Carroll, the proprietor, for dinner for the boys. The long ride proved a good appetizer and the good fare provided by Mr. Carroll was taken care of by the boys. In the afternoon a tour of the National Cemetery and the Battlefield was made, with visits to Little and Big Round Tops, at which latter place a delightful luncheon was served, after which the trip was resumed homeward.

Every member of the Society was present, and all declared the day to have been the most eventful one in the history of the sodality and voted their thanks both to Father McNelis and Sister Bernard of St. Joseph's Academy, through whose good management and generosity the occasion was made such an enjoyable one.

BASEBALL AT FREDERICK

Y. M. C. A. No Longer Manages Team.—Two Victories and a Defeat in Last Games.

On Saturday the Young Men's Christian Association, discontinued the management to the Frederick baseball team and the club was taken over by what is to be known as the Frederick Baseball Club. Col. E. Austin Baughman will have full control of the management. Games will be played at Athletic Park in the future.

All of the present players will remain in addition to which he has signed Stump, of the Baltimore All-Stars and Strikers. A game has been arranged with the Washington American League team for this month, and manager Baughman is after two other big league teams.

On Saturday the team defeated the United States Marines 6 to 0. On Monday for the first time the team was shut out. St. John's College did the trick. Pearce and Merchant pitched for Frederick. The score was 4 to 0. The next game played with the Washington All Stars was handily won. The score was Frederick 6, All Stars 4.

Columbatz, Their Habits, Etc.

The State Health Officers Bulletin for April, 1910, which has just been issued, says that the Columbatz Midge is a species of Simulium. We have often wondered what a Columbatz Midge was and the information was gratifying. Simulium we know. They are related to the already famous mulmians indigenous to Missouri. Several of these batz were seen in town last week and one of them was fined $2.50. The difference between a Columbatz and a common jag is one of condition rather than kind. Being related to mulmians they are not so easily convinced as other batz. We once saw a Columbatz that suffered with the conviction that our cooler was his home and remained there over night. And such cases are not rare.

Columbatz are night birds—extremely nocturnal in their habits—except on rare occasions such as circus day and Fourth of July. Printers are never Columbatz, when they get batty they are called Fullpagebatz.

A FRANCHISE

GRANTING NECESSARY RIGHTS FOR FURNISHING AN ELECTRIC LIGHT, HEAT AND POWER SERVICE FOR EMMITSBURG, MARYLAND.

TITLE.

An Ordinance of the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg, Maryland, granting to B. M. Kershner and his heirs, or assigns, the necessary rights and franchise to construct, maintain and operate an electric power plant and distribution system for furnishing an electric light, heat and power service in Emmitsburg and its vicinity.

SECT. I. Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgess and Commissioners of the town of Emmitsburg, Maryland, that B. M. Kershner and his heirs, or assigns, be, and are, hereby authorized and empowered to construct, maintain, operate and keep in repair an electric light, heat and power plant and distribution system, and to have and enjoy, during the time that this franchise is in force, the exclusive use of the streets, alleys and public highways of said town for the placing under, upon and over the same such pole lines, wires, cables and other fixtures and appliances of said distribution system as may be necessary to enable the said B. M. Kershner and his heirs, or assigns, to provide and maintain an electric light, heat and power service in and throughout the said town and its vicinity; and that the said B. M. Kershner and his heirs, or assigns, be, and are, hereby authorized and empowered to place and install the necessary pole lines, wires, cables and other fixtures and appliances for the furnishing of an electric light, heat and power service under, upon and over the streets, alleys and public highways of said town, and to sell electric light, heat and power to the residents thereof.

SECT. II. Be it enacted and ordained that the right to control and determine the location of any, or all poles that may be placed in the streets, alleys and public highways of Emmitsburg for the use of the electric light, heat and power service, is hereby reserved to the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg.

SECT. III. Be it enacted and ordained that while the power house property and plant to be used for the furnishing of the electric light, heat and power service shall be subject to taxation on the same basis as other properties of its class in the town, the franchise and distribution system, including all poles, wires, cables and other fixtures and appliances for the furnishing of the electric light, heat and power service, outside the limits of the power house property, shall be and remain exempt from taxation by the Town.

SECT. IV. Be it enacted and ordained that the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg, acting on the part of the Town, shall have the right and option to purchase, upon due notice, the entire franchise, property and business of the said B. M. Kershner and his heirs, or assigns, at a fair valuation, any time after three years from the date of the commencement of the electric light, heat and power service; said valuation of the franchise, property and business to be made by the State Public Service Commission.

SECT. V. Be it enacted and ordained that this franchise, and all the rights and privileges included therein, shall be and remain in force for the period of twenty-five (25) years, counting from the date of its going into effect; and that the said franchise and all the rights and privileges included therein, shall be forfeited, and the franchise rendered null and void if the said electric light, heat and power service after being put in force, shall, through any fault, negligence or failure of the said B. M. Kershner and his heirs, or assigns, be suspended for the period of sixty (60) consecutive days; and if the said electric light, heat and power service fail to be put in force within the period of two (2) years, counting from the date of the going into effect of this ordinance.

SECT. VI. Be it enacted and ordained that this franchise be, and hereby is placed in force, and becomes effective, on the first day of July, Nineteen Hundred and Ten.

HAVE your Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired by George T. Eyster who warrants the same and has always on hand a large stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and silverware.

PUBLIC SALE

By virtue of a power of sale contained in the last will and testament of Lewis M. Motter deceased, and also by virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Frederick County, Maryland, the undersigned executors, will sell at public sale on the premises described below.

On Tuesday, June 28, at 11 o'clock, A. M. the following described real estate of which said Lewis M. Motter died, seized and possessed:

THE DWELLING HOUSE AND LOT of the late Lewis M. Motter, situated on the South side of Main street, opposite the Lutheran parsonage, in the town of Emmitsburg, Md., also about 300 feet of ground fronting on the West side of the Emmitsburg and Frederick Pike, commencing at the alley, next South of Main street, and running South, bounding on said pike, with a depth of about 240 feet, more or less. There is a large barn 60x42 feet on part of this ground, and also a large frame and stone building 100x30 feet. Also a valuable Mountain Lot set in young chestnut trees, situated near the Hampton Valley road in Frederick county, Md., 3 miles west of Emmitsburg, adjoining lands of Martha Eyer and others containing 17 acres of land, more or less.

The terms of said sale shall be one-half cash on day of sale or ratification thereof by the Orphans' Court, the balance in six months, the purchaser or purchasers giving his, her or their notes, bearing interest from day of sale, with good and sufficient security, to be approved by the executors for the deferred payment, or all cash at the option of the purchaser or purchasers. All expenses of conveying to be borne by the purchaser or purchasers.

Will also sell the household furniture, contained in the dwelling house, also a phaeton, jagger wagon, etc. Terms of sale for the goods and chattels shall be cash upon all sums under ten dollars and upon all sums over ten a credit of six months will be given, the purchaser or purchasers giving his, her or their notes bearing interest from day of sale, with good and sufficient security to be approved by the said executors.

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES
WHEN Cortright Metal Shingles were first introduced (24 years ago) you had some excuse for being sceptical: But now— If you are sceptical it can only be because you do not know the facts in the case. They are used today from the Atlantic to the Pacific for all kinds of buildings, under all conditions. They are fireproof, stormproof; never leak and last as long as the building itself without needing repairs. For further detailed information apply to “Governor Crothers is playing the role of the big boss and playing it so openly as to attract the attention of everybody familiar with political affairs. He is attempting to build up a Crothers machine by the skillful use of patronage and he is credited with having a case of swelled head to such proportions as to turn his back upon his old political friends like Senator Smith, Chairman Vandiver et al. His latest move is appointing Comptroller Hering to the new Public Utilities Commission and naming Claggett of Prince George's county for Comptroller. This move gives him control of the Board of Public Works and leaves Mr. Vandiver in the minority on that Board. * * * Putting an old man of 75 on the Public Service Commission, in furtherance of his personal political fortunes has brought down on the Governor a storm of criticism. The old guard are taking notice of their old confederate and ally setting up shop for himself with Straus as his chief of staff, and there are indications that there will be some interesting doings in the Democratic camp. Since his election the Governor sports a shiny silk hat which he wears morning, noon and night. Then, too, he has been mentioned for President; but he and Straus are so modest that each urges the other to accept the nomination for Taft's job. The latest news is, however, that Boss Crothers has been so much interested in the big time Teddy is having abroad that he intends to refuse the Presidency and other lesser political honors and upon the conclusion of his term, set sail for South Africa where he will hunt big game and afterward be received by the nobility.”

The next Governor! Who will they hail? Frank Brown, Austin Crothers, Buck Schley or yet others not named? Former Governor Frank Brown says he is going to make the campaign with and before the people not the politicians. “I will make it in the press, in halls and in the streets. If the people want me, I will win, and if they don't want me an ‘organization’ would not accomplish anything. Whatever way it turns out, I am going to give them the best that is in the shop.”

“I never cared anything about this ‘leadership business’ anyway, and anybody that thinks I am going to concern myself about a ward or precinct organization is wrong. I have been talking with a lot of people and expect to talk with a whole lot more. They can be with Brown or against him, which ever way they please.”

“My position is that I aspire to no boss-ship or leadership and am not running after politicians. When I am in a fight I fight, and I would rather have ‘regulars’ than ‘irregulars,’ because it is less trouble. Everybody will know what I stand for in my candidacy, and I will be glad to have those who want to come along with me. Those who are not with me will be against me, and I never ran away from a fight.”

Whether Mr. Brown or Mr. Crothers or both or neither, there is one man who has the respect of the people to such a degree that if he wants the nomination for governor and the Democrats desire an easy election, the other two would cut little figure. This man is the Senator who represented the people at Annapolis last session. The gentleman who is so manifestly interested in the welfare of the State that he finds little time to talk for himself. It is hardly necessary to say that this is Senator Blair Lee.

the moral standard, this growth of the sense of obligation to one's neighbor and of reluctance to do that neighbor wrong. We need have scant patience with that silly cynicism which insists that kindness of character only accompanies weakness of character.

“The only effective way to help any man is to help him to help himself; and the worst lesson to teach him is that he can be permanently helped at the expense of some one else. Privilege should not be tolerated because it is to the advantage of a minority, nor yet because it is to the advantage of a majority. No doctrinaire theories of vested rights or freedom of contract can stand in the way of our cutting out abuses from the body politic.”

“Just as little can we afford to follow the doctrinaires of an impossible—and incidentally of a highly undesirable—social revolution which, in destroying individual rights (including property rights) and the family, would destroy the two chief agents in the advance of mankind, and the two chief reasons why either the advance or the preservation of mankind is worth while. It is an evil and a dreadful thing to be callous to sorrow and suffering, and blind to our duty to do all things possible for the betterment of social conditions. But it is an unspeakably foolish thing to strive for this betterment by means so destructive that they would leave no social conditions to better. In dealing with all these social problems the one prime necessity is to remember that, though hardness of heart is a great evil, it is no greater an evil than softness of head.”

the commission to determine whether conditions have changed otherwise than by the elimination of the water competition.

Unless set aside by a competent court, orders of the commission are to continue in force for two years. The commission also is given authority to investigate the propriety of any new rate regulation or classification, individual or joint, of any common carrier, and pending such hearing a suspension for 10 months of the rate, classification or regulation is provided for. The carrier is required to refund all charges found to be excessive.

Authority is also given the commission to establish through rates and joint classification or to prescribe maximum rates over the same, whenever the carriers themselves neglect to do so. This regulation also covers water lines which are connecting carriers.

Shippers are given the right to designate a through route or part of a route over which their property shall be carried. A penalty of $5000 is imposed upon carriers for disclosing any information concerning shipments. A like penalty is provided for violation of orders under section 15 of the existing interstate commerce law, and in this case each day that the violation continues is to be construed as a separate offense.

At intervals of six months, the commission is required to make an analysis of tariffs and classifications and to investigate the advisability of a uniform classification. Telegraph and telephone lines are placed under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission. The commission is authorized to determine the reasonableness of rates and a penalty is imposed of from $100 to $200 against granting franks or passes for the transmission of messages. Special night and press rates are authorized.

The only provision in the bill applicable to other than railroad corporations is one regulating injunctions by the federal court which suspends the operation of state laws. It is provided that such action should be taken only when presented to a justice of the supreme court or a circuit judge and heard by three judges, one of whom shall be a supreme court justice or a circuit court judge.

When Theodore Comes Home.

When Col. Roosevelt comes sailing home on June 18, Collector of the Port William Loeb, Jr., and several hundred loyal friends will meet him down the bay in government vessels and escort him to New York.

Collector Loeb has completed arrangements with the Treasury Department for the loan of three revenue cutters for June 18.

Members of the Roosevelt family will occupy one tug, while Mr. Loeb and others on the reception committee and a certain number of newspaper men will be among those to greet the other two.

Die Fliederblumen.

Guten Morgen! Fliederblumen!
Lady of the spring;
How my heart is dancing with you
In a fairy ring!
Take my thanks and take my blessing
For the gifts you bring;—
In your arms the red-breast robbins
Flutter, preen and sing.
But from you float songs of perfume,—
Ever on the wing.
Guten Morgen, Fliederblumen!
Daughter of the spring.

Gott sei Dank! lieb' Fliederblumen!
That you've come once more,
The bright world seems swiftly sailing
Toward a golden shore,—
Silver seas behind us dancing,
Rosy seas before—
Gayly sailing toward the treasures
Summer holds in store,
'Neath fair skies were white-winged islands
Float and swing and soar,
Gott sei Dank! lieb' Fliederblumen,
That you've come once more.

Wie ich lieb' die Fliederblumen!
Memory's mystic key—
Memory of a little cottage
Nestling by the sea,
Painted fair with merry sunbeams,
Filled by songs of glee
From the prattling lips of childhood.—
Ah, the years may flee!
But small Hans and blue-eyed Gretchen
Stand close, close, by me,
Brought here by lieb' Fliederblumen,
Over land and sea.

FOR THE PEACE OF EARTH.

[Addition to S. F. Smith's National Hymn, offered by Vandelia V. Turner.]
My country: now to thee
Rings the new liberty
Of love and peace!
Speak of the flag unfurled,
Speak to the marshaled world
Through stormy passion hurled,
That wars may cease.

O God, to thee we pray!
Haste thou the glorious day,
Of princely birth,
When swords shall lie in sheaths,
When love her message breathes,
When peace her garland wreathes
O'er all the earth.

INDIANS DON'T SWEAR

Don't Abuse Their Children, Says Guardian of 300 Red Men.

The father-in-law of three hundred Indian children! This is the remarkable task which Dave Guyette, a former Iowan, but now a resident of Muskogee, Okla., has faced.

Prior to the granting of Statehood to the combined territories of Oklahoma and Indian Territory under the name of Oklahoma it was necessary under the law for all minor Indians to have a guardian who could give bond, make contracts, leases, etc.

Mr. Guyette, after failing to obtain a farm at the opening of the Cherokee Outlet, settled at Tahlequah, the capital of the Cherokee Nation, in 1893. Acting as the fiduciary officer of a trust company Mr. Guyette was appointed by the Federal Court the guardian of more than three hundred Cherokee children.

Speaking of his experiences in his parental capacity Mr. Guyette, who is visiting in Des Moines, said: “Until the advent of Statehood I was about the busiest individual in these United States. A family of three hundred children with their mothers can lead a person a rather strenuous life. I was necessarily often in the homes of these people and must commend one feature of the life of the Indian woman to her white sister, and that is the fact that children are never given corporal punishment.

“I never saw a Cherokee mother strike her child, scold or punish it in any way. She might neglect the child, but abuse it never. She couldn't possibly swear at the child, whatever the provocation, as there are no swear words in the Indian language. Even when they learn English, Indians don't swear.”—Des Moines Register and Leader.

Mary Ann is gone to rest,
With her head on Abraham's breast.
'Tis a very good thing for Mary Ann,
But kinder hard on Abraham.

And be she dead? and am she gone?
And is I left here all alone?
Oh, cruel Fate, thou be'est unkind
To take she 'fore and leave I 'hind!

Reader, pass on, nor waste your time
In bad biography or bitter rime;
For what I am, this cumbrous clay in-

And what I was is no affair of yours.

Beneath this sod and under these

Lieth the body of Mary Jones.
Her name was Lloyd, it was not Jones;
But Jones was used to rime with stones.

Here lies the body of Betsy Binn,
Who was so very pure within
She bust this outer shell of sin,
And hatched herself a cherubim.

The sixty-fourth annual commencement exercises of the Academy of the Visitation at Frederick took place on Monday morning. In connection with the commencement the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Order of the Visitation which had been in progress several days concluded.

The Department of Maryland, Grand Army of the Republic; the Woman's Relief Corps and the Army and Navy Union have arranged for the distribution of 72,000 small flags among the public school children on Flag Day, Thursday, June 14, which will mark the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the national emblem.

The effort of the citizens of Brunswick to form a volunteer fire company have met with success. The company has been organized with 100 members and the following have been elected; President, E. C. Shafer; vice-presidents William Schnauffer and W. L. Richards, secretaries, G. T. Starnier and Frank Spitzer; treasurer, J. P. Karn; chaplain, Christian Smith; sergeant-at-arms, John R. Green; chief engineer, Dr. W. B. Watson.

The Hagerstown School board and the Washington county commissions are having trouble over the school appropriation for 1910. The school board asked for $106,927 and the county commissioners levied only $85,000, contending that if the school board would sell the old Male High School building enough money would be available to erect a new school in the West End, as contemplated.

Saturday was get-away day at Annapolis. Immediately after the last exercises of the commencement 500 midshipmen, comprising the first, second and third classes embarked on the squadron of three battleships that will convey them on a practice cruise to foreign waters and hardly had they settled themselves than there was a great rush of the throng of visitors who were there to get a car and start on the homeward journey, many of them bound for the States on the Pacific Coast.

Ex-State Senator David E. Dick has issued a challenge to Congressman George A. Pearre to a joint debate. He wants meetings at the five county seats. The challenge cites as the issues to be discussed that Colonel Pearre, from the standpoint of usefulness to his constituency, has been a “distinct disappointment and an abject failure” that Colonel Pearre's activity in defense of Collector W. F. Stone when charges were preferred against him was prompted by a desire to court the favor of the party boss, and whether Pearre expects to be elected if nominated.

A magnificent portrait of Mrs. Donald McLean has been hung in her home, Frederick, through the kindness of the John Adams Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The portrait was painted by Jean Paleologue and represents Mrs. McLean standing in the attitude of a presiding officer, one hand resting on a table and holding a roll of papers meant to indicate the architectural plans of Continental Hall, the other hand clasping a scarf of blue thrown over a gown of white, with a classic trimming of gold; laurel wreath encircles the head. The insignia of the Daughters of the American Revolution is the only jewel worn. The figure stands upon a marble terrace and in the distance is faintly suggested a classic building representing Continental Hall, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Confederate Memorial Day was observed last Saturday at Mount Olivet Cemetery, Frederick, under the auspices of Alexander Young Camp of Confederate Veterans and Fitzhugh Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. The old soldiers and the daughters went to the cemetery in a body and assembled at the Confederate monument, where the exercises were begun with a cornet solo by Mayor George E. Smith. Mr. Adolphus Fearhake was master of ceremonies. After singing by the Daughter's choir Mrs. A. R. Yeakle, of Washington, formerly of this city, sang “Face to Face.” Miss Sallie Conrad Faunteroy read a paper on the battle of the Monocacy, which was followed by singing “Let Us Pass Over the River.” After taps the graves of the Confederate dead were strewn with flowers. The Daughters and old soldiers continued the service in St. John's Catholic Cemetery, where the graves of Col. L. V. Baughman and Chief Judge James McSherry were covered with flowers.

Eisenberg's "Underselling" Store of Baltimore

There are many reasons why the Eisenberg Store can undersell, that is, sell "the same goods at lower prices." Among these reasons are: 1--Selling strictly for cash; 2--Giving no discounts to a favored class--but treating all alike; 3--Buying for cash from wholesalers and getting the benefit of discounted bills; 4--Having no burden of expense for what are known as "trading stamps;" 5--Keeping in close touch with wholesale markets and taking immediate advantage of every trade condition that forces prices down; 6--Dealing with manufactures and saving middlemen's profit; 7 Employing the shrewdest merchandise experts, who know how to negotiate the lowest wholesale prices; 8--Scientific merchandising that lessens the cost of store operation; 9--Small Profits. And there are still other reasons. Sometime we'll tell you more about them.

Button making is a fad. Wooden molds are bought and covered in all sorts of fanciful ways. The latest idea is to work the initials or monogram on the button in self toned floss or bullion.

sleeve as prim as a coat sleeve. It is trimmed from shoulder to wrist with loops of soutache in figure eights horizontally placed with a silk covered button in each loop.

brilliant have been supplanted by those of turquoise and coral. Horse-shoes, however, are not as fashionable as long bar pins.

Hats grow larger and larger. They say in Paris that America has not seen really large hats as yet.

The princess frock seen in the cut is a dressy model for a girl's best dress. Carried out in any of the attractive new colors, with a touch of a thinner fabric in guimpe and tucked sleeves, it is indeed charming.

Clyde Fitch's Joke.

"Clyde Fitch was an indefatigable worker," said an actor who has played in many of the Fitch comedies. "When he had a play on the stocks he would labor over it day and night, often scarcely pausing for his meals and getting very little sleep; consequently his health suffered. He would work until on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and then his physician would step in and force him to knock off."

"During one of these periods of enforced idleness he was lounging in the Players club one day when Harry B. Smith, the prolific comic opera librettist, strolled in.

"What are you doing now?" asked Smith.

"I am in my doctor's hands," replied Fitch. "He tells me I'm in a bad way and has absolutely forbidden me to do any brain work."

"That's tough," said Smith. "How do you manage to put in the time?"

"Oh, I'm writing the libretto of a musical comedy," replied Fitch, with one of his cynical smiles.—New York Times.

Hair Monstrosities.

French theater managers in the eighteenth century had worse evils than picture hats to contend against. Marie Antoinette, who was short even according to French standards, set the fashion of high coiffures, and ultra-fashionable women prided themselves on measuring four feet from their chins to the tops of their heads. These structures took about six hours to erect, the hairdresser mounting a ladder in the process. Some coiffures were almost as broad as they were long, with wings sticking out about eight inches on each side of the head. For the "frigate" coiffure the hair was rippled in a huge pile to represent the waves of an angry sea and surmounted by a fully rigged ship. As a consequence of these monstrosities disturbances in theaters occurred almost daily until an ordinance was issued against the admission of women with high coiffures to the floor of the house.—Chicago News.

Sealskin Coats Again in First Style. New Girdles.

The woman whom fortune smiles upon this winter will wear a sealskin coat trimmed with broadtail collar and cuffs.

A feature of the new girdle is the side fastening. The front fastening is taboored, and even the side closing is well covered.

Have your winter coat as long as your figure will permit. Stand before a mirror and see just what length best suits you. A long coat is never extravagant, as it can be made over to better advantage than a short model.

The coat suit illustrated is a particularly smart one and is easy to make. The coat is gored to the shoulders both back and front. The skirt is an eleven gored model, which gives the figure long, sweeping lines that are always becoming. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Yet He Meant Well.

Just as the train was leaving the Fifty-eighth street elevated station a man who had got off there hurried along the platform and spoke to a passenger sitting by an open window in the smoking car.

"Quick!" he cried. "Please hand me that package. I left it on the seat when I got out just now."

"Sure," said the passenger, picking up the bundle and tossing it out of the window.

"Thanks!"

"Hey, there! What are you doing that for?" demanded the wrathful, red faced man sitting next to him.

"Why, he—"

"You double dyed idiot, that package belonged to me! It was $15 worth of laces and ribbons I was taking home to my wife!"

Over the scene that followed let us draw a veil.—Chicago Tribune.

"All Things Come."

The magnate looked up impatiently from his work.

"Well, my good man," he snapped at the diffident rural person who stood twirling his rusty hat, "what can I do for you?"

"I guess ye don't remember me, Hank," faltered the caller. "But you an' me use ter go swimmin' together in th' ol' town. Then you got a job in th' bank, an' I got a job in th' grocery store."

"This is all very interesting, and I seem to remember your face. But come to the point—my time is valuable."

"Yes, Hank. You got a better offer and left the old village. I stayed plugging along in th' grocery store."

"Well, well?"

"Well, Hank, when you left you owed $73.62 on a grocery bill. Here's where you pay up!"—Cleveland Leader.
