AN IMPENDING CIVIL WAR

AND A LINCOLN READY

Present Period Likened to Time Before Civil War

PRES. TAFT IS LIKE BUCHANAN

Roosevelt by Some Considered the Lincoln and La Follette the Sumner of the Desperate Situation Confronting People.

Upton Sinclair a few days ago sent a communication to a Northern newspaper declaring that the Taft regime is like that of Buchanan, that Taft is only a figurehead like Buchanan, and that his (Sinclair's) prediction of a revolution in 1912 or 1913 is about to be borne out unless there is a radical application of desperate remedies to a desperate situation. Sinclair likened Roosevelt to Lincoln and La Follette to Sumner.

Before the ink was dry on this communication Senator Bristow was at Winfield, Kan., declaring that "the conflict in American politics is based on the same fundamental principles as was that which preceded the Civil War," and that the corporate interests of the country have dominated the affairs of the country "as did the slave interest in the days of its greatest strength." He compared Roosevelt to Lincoln and considered him the one best man to drive plutocrats from power.

To Mr. Ballinger Taft is the Lincoln. "Throughout the trying months that always follow a new administration I have watched his patience, his forbearance and his clearheadedness through it all, and can see no comparison in any other man who has been at the head of this Government, except with the characteristics of Abraham Lincoln."

COL. MOSBY FIGHTING MAD AT ACTION OF GOV. OFFICIALS

Victim of Wirepullers.—Officials Saved Indicted Men.—Confederate Commander Warns Things Up.

It is not fully established that there are any of Cole's cavalry men in the Department of the Interior, but nevertheless Col Mosby, noted Southern cavalry leader, and once special attorney for the department is fighting mad. He has been dropped from his position on the ground of his age and inefficiency. This is the alleged reason, others claim that the cause of his dismissal was his attitude toward certain dealings between Government officials and the firm of attorneys, Mansfield, McMurray & Cornish, who formerly represented the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian nations. It is this firm that figured in the charges recently made in the Senate by Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, in which he charged an attempt at bribery.

WANT MONUMENTS FOR YORKTOWN BATTLEFIELD

Endeavor is Being Made to Have The Scene of the Surrender of Cornwallis Appropriately Marked.

Former Governor Claude A. Swanson, John Stewart Bryan, and Judge Walter A. Watson have been appointed by Gov. William Hodges Mann as a commission to visit the War Department and ask that engineers be sent to the Yorktown battlefield, with the view to erecting monuments and memorials at places of historic interest on and about the scene of the surrender of Cornwallis.

David J. Lewis For Congress.

Hon. David J. Lewis, of Cumberland, has complied with the new primary law by sending certified checks for $25 each to the boards of election supervisors of Allegany, Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Montgomery counties, comprising the Sixth congressional district, to have his name placed on the ballots for the primary election to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress from this district. So far Mr. Lewis is the only candidate in this county who has complied with the new primary law.

Montgomery County For Lewis.

The political aspirations of Hon. David J. Lewis, of Cumberland, are taken to kindly by the Democrats of Montgomery county. Present indications are that he will have little or no opposition in Montgomery county for the Democratic Congressional nomination. The game fight put up by him two years ago, when Colonel George A. Pearre beat him by only 546 votes, makes him the logical candidate at this time.

Postmaster General Hitchcock sailed from New York for Europe.

GOVERNMENT OF EVIL

Garfield To "Progressive Republicans" of Ohio

MANHOOD FIRST THEN PROPERTY

Nation In Critical Situation but There Is Time for Salvation.—Likens Us to Prodigal Youth.

James R. Garfield opened his campaign for governor of Ohio in a two-hour speech at Cleveland. The meeting was the christening of the Ohio "Progressive Republicans" and its slogan as announced by the speaker is "Manhood first and property second."

Mr. Garfield insisted that the control of corporations was the most important problem confronting the people at present. He also said that public officials who accepted corporation funds for election purposes should be subject to loss of office and permanent disqualification from ever again holding office.

"Like the prodigal youth, we as a nation have wasted our resources, sold our inheritance, acquired evil habits; but, fortunately, we have realized the need of radical changes in time to save ourselves."

The funeral of King Edward cost the English government $202,500.

JOHNSON-JEFFRIES FIGHT PICTURES RULED OUT

Hysteria of People and Press Continues.—Negro Welcomed by Thousands of His Color in Cities.

The newspapers and people continue their hysterics over the moving pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight. After giving the match column after column of free advertisement, and engaging high-priced writers to describe the battle, probably more vividly than the camera could, and certainly with as evil results to the reader as the pictures would have been for the beholder, the journals with almost unanimity demand the fight films be barred and in answer to this cry mayors and governors have taken action against the show, very frequently exceeding their authority when they did so. The latest victim of the craze, the Municipal Board of Manila, have prohibited any exhibition of the fight pictures in that city. London, England, could not prohibit the show, but there seems little disposition to exhibit them, and few who desire to see them.

While the press inveighs against the picture show Johnson has been exhibiting himself to thousands of his color in Chicago and New York. The police in two cities have done everything in their power to prevent any race troubles and parades and bands have been wanting in the welcome accorded the big Negro.

FIGHT STAKEHOLDER FACES PROSECUTION IN NEW YORK

Timothy D. Sullivan, Interested in Big Reno Battle May Have Trouble With Acting Prosecutor.

Charles C. Nott, Assistant District Attorney, who is acting prosecutor of New York county in Mr. Whitman's absence, has decided to attempt proceedings against State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan for holding the stakes in connection with the recent prize-fight at Reno.

While the money was supposed to have been collected in Hoboken, Mr. Nott has been informed that actual depositing of cash took place in New York. It was announced unofficially Mr. Nott would call the matter to the attention of the Grand Jury.

Knox Still After Zelaya.

Zelaya, former president of Nicaragua, accused by Secretary of State Knox of the murder of two Americans, Groce and Cannon, is not to be forgotten. Mr. Knox is determined to bring him to punishment. The Secretary's instruction to our delegates to the Pan-American Congress are very explicit. In them he says "there are now no diplomatic relations between the United States and Nicaragua for the reason that this government has not yet seen its way clear to recognize any government as in the possession and exercise of the government machinery of the whole country with the consent of the governed, as able and willing to discharge its international obligations, as capable of responding to a demand for indemnity for the murder of American citizens last winter, as determined to bend every effort to bring those guilty to justice wherever they may be, and as prepared to strengthen for its part and to abide by the Washington convention."

Premier Katsura, of Japan, denied that the Russo-Japanese convention was influenced by Secretary Knox's proposition for neutralization of the Manchuria railways.

PEARRE ARGUES WITH A CLUB

WAR TO DEATH WITH WARNER OF MONTGOMERY

They Shall Never Represent in Congress the Republicans of the Sixth District

HOPE OF THE PARTY RESTS IN MR. GIST BLAIR'S CANDIDACY

Voters Taking to Cellar Until Wind From Cumberland Blows Out to Sea.—In One Sense the Republican Outlook is Bright.—Warner's Eligibility Attacked.—Claimed as Resident of District of Columbia, and Montgomery County Will Hear of It.

If you want to get a job, write Pearre. He'll give it to you sure, will Pearre. And there are evidences that he's mending up his fences, so get in, now's the time, don't you see? But never mention Frederick to Pearre. He'll blow up in a minute, will Pearre; for they've got him going there, they are tearing out his hair, and it's fatal to make reference to it, see? He wants the nomination, does Pearre, and he'll promise gold mines to you, will Pearre; but you'd better have a care for his memory needs repair, and he'll overlook you sure, will Pearre. He is going for Warner, this Pearre. Warner's slated from the District by Pearre, but he's full of snap and bustle and he's making George A. hustle, and THAT'S why George is fuming, don't you see? If he gets the nomination, this Pearre—and the chances are even for Pearre—there's bound to be a slump, and old George will get a bump that will land him in the soup—adieu, Pearre.

Promising Pearre is at it again but he is not pledging himself to drain swamp lands, build postoffices and the like. It is blood and death he is dealing out. Listen, gentle reader, to the raucous voice that comes from Cumberland way: "No Warner of the Montgomery county generation shall ever represent the Sixth Maryland district in Congress as a Republican."

Ever is a long time but who are we of the Sixth district, in eternal bondage, that dare doubt that he, forever promising, holds the Republicans and the district in his clinched fist, and even now seals our fate for the ages of ages. We are not to be anesthetized by gentle promises; it is the spiked club that awaits our feeblest movement of opposition. Voters! get ye to the cellar until this wind from Cumberland blows out to sea.

All this noise is the outcome of the bitterness that exists between His Majesty Pearre and the Warners of Montgomery county. For the peace of mind of the Republicans and the betterment of politics in the district the name of Gist Blair, also of Montgomery, is mentioned as the man who can be depended upon to lead his party in November with a show of success. Mr. Blair is a constructive politician, a gentleman, nonvituperative, and able to represent adequately this important district in the Halls of Congress. Maybe the Republicans will see this.

Pearre is not wanted either by Congress or for Congress. Warner's candidacy means Pearre's opposition, and no matter how weak a representative he may be, his stand against a candidate weakens that man's chances at the polls. So it looks like a Democratic victory if either of these two are selected as leader. The opportunity is at hand for the Republicans to select a real representative, something they have needed ever since Pearre has been injected into public office. Looking at it from this standpoint the outlook is bright.

But to go back to the Warner-Pearre fight: Warner's eligibility as a candidate is being attacked. Pearre is prepared to show that Warner was not a legal resident of the Sixth district and would not be able to take his seat if elected to Congress.

Furthermore, he produced an opinion of the Maryland Court of Appeals to the effect that Warner's own father was not a legal resident of Maryland, but was a resident of the city of Washington. B. H. Warner, Jr., said Colonel Pearre, lives with his father, and their status as Maryland citizens is exactly the same, he added.

Should Colonel Pearre be able to prove his claims, Warner would be absolutely eliminated from the race. Just when this charge will be formally presented Colonel Pearre did not say, but he intimated that he would go directly into Montgomery to expose his antagonist.

DALZELL GAINS THREE MORE VOTES BY RECOUNT

Congressman's Majority Over R. J. Black is Now 207.—Many Mistakes Found in Votes in 63 Precincts.

Congressman John Dalzell's majority in the primary election of June 4, which was contested by his opponent, Dr. R. J. Black, is now 207, according to the returns found by the County Commissioners of Allegheny county, Pa., in their recount of the district, which was finished tonight. The returning board of elections had found a majority of 204 for Dalzell, and in the recount made upon petition of Black, Dalzell gained three votes over the petitioner, Mr. Black.

Mistakes were found in 63 precincts, but in no instance was the result in a precinct changed over five votes. The gain of one candidate in one precinct was offset by his loss in another, and the extent of the entire recount made a net change of only three votes, which were in Dalzell's favor. The total vote is: Dalzell, 11,045; Black, 10,838.

FRENCH AND AMERICANS LEAD IN AERIAL NAVIGATION

Too Much Enthusiasm Delays Advancement in Aviation.—Germans Losing Time Over Dirigibles.

The recent exploits in Aerial navigation have led to a comparison of the achievements of different nations which narrows itself to a contrast between French and American aviators. The French inventors have the best of it but their enthusiasm stands against their progress. One Frenchman says there is great danger in the recklessness of French aviators. It is certain to delay the development of the flying machine. Here the conservative methods of Americans make them more successful to the cool and deliberate business man, whose eye is open for profit. The experiments made by the Germans with dirigibles is considered lost time as well as hazardous to life.

Spanish troops are being concentrated in the province of Valencia in preparation to move into Catalonia because of the reported intention of the Spanish refugees to cross the French frontier with arms.

SELF-CONFESSED MURDERER MAY SHORTLY BE LIBERATED

Charlton, Wife Slayer, By Reason of Diplomatic Disagreement May Escape Punishment For Crime.

Porter Charlton, confessed slayer of his wife, and now held subject to the governments of Italy and United States, may be released on account of extradition troubles between this country and Italy where the murder was committed.

"If the United States Government sends word to me to the effect that it will not honor the extradition papers from the Italian Government I will not hold the prisoner any longer," said Mr. Garven, the prosecutor. "An application will be made to the court for Charlton's release as soon as such word, in event it should come, arrives."

"I am simply holding him now to await the action of the Government in the case. If the Government fails to act within the 60 days that we have a legal right to hold him, and which expires on August 22, he will be liberated anyway."

ANOTHER EXPERIMENTER VICTIM OF FLYING MACHINE

Son of English Lord Killed by Fall in Machine at Height of One Hundred Feet.—Other Victims.

Charles S. Rolls, son of Lord Llanthony, a popular British aviator, flying in a Wright biplane, fell from a height of 100 feet at Bournemouth, England, and was instantly killed. Captain Roll was thirty-three years old.

So far the experiments in aerial navigation have cost the lives of a score of persons prominent among which are Lieut. Selfridge, U. S. A., Signor Posi, at Milan; E. Lefebvre, Leon Delagrangé, at Bordeaux; Hubert Le Blon, at San Sebastian; Capt. Louis F. Ferber. The accident to H. M. Gill of Baltimore, at St. Louis on Tuesday, when he fell 100 feet, may add another name to those killed. Mr. Gill is in a precarious condition now.

William K. Vanderbilt Jr., will be appointed assistant to the president of the Vanderbilt railroads.

An earthquake cracked several buildings in Munich, Bavaria, and terrified the citizens.

HOME OF BANK NOTES

Building of Bureau of Engraving and Printing

WILL COST COMPLETED $1,750,000

Largest Building In The Country To Have Front of 850 Feet.—Arranged In Shape of Gridiron.

Approval has been given by the new Commission of Fine Arts to the plans for the new building for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The plans were made in the office of the supervising architect of the Treasury Department.

The new building will be 850 feet long—the longest building in the country, it is believed. It will have its main entrance on Fifteenth street, and will occupy property adjoining the old building of the bureau and also the site of the old building.

The building will be classic. The front will be of granite. It is arranged in the shape of a gridiron. The cost will be $1,750,000.

The commission is composed of seven well-known architects, artists and landscape gardeners and is headed by D. H. Burnham, architect, of Chicago, who was the designer of the new Union Station.

STATE FORESTER BUSY IN FREDERICK COUNTY

Survey of Woodlands to Ascertain Resources and Help In Conservation and Productiveness.

The Maryland State Forester, Mr. F. W. Besley, with an assistant, is now in Frederick county mapping the woodlands and classifying them as to their stand of timber and general condition. This forest survey of the State by counties has been in progress for the last three years and will be nearly completed this summer. The purpose of the survey is to determine as accurately as possible the forest resources of the county, the condition of the woodlands, and information in regard to the amount of lumber and timber of the various kinds that is being cut and its uses. It is hoped by this study to be able to offer practicable methods of forest management that will improve the woodlands and increase their productiveness. When this work is completed a forest map of the county will be published accompanied by a report dealing with forest conditions and suggested methods of woodlot improvement.

Mayor White, of Salem, Mass., was sentenced to three years in the house of correction and fined $1,000 for conspiring to secure confirmation of his appointment for chief of a fire department.

MOONSHINING IN THE SOUTH ON THE INCREASE

"Mountain Dew," Manufactured at a Cost of 30 Per Gallon, Sells at $2.50 Many Engaged at the Business.

According to the revenue office at Washington, moonshining in the South is on the increase, especially in the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Oklahoma. In these states within the past two weeks five revenue officers have lost their lives. The making of illicit corn whiskey is on the increase. It sells for $2.50 a gallon, and as it cost about 30 cents a gallon to produce the profit of $2.20 looks good enough to draw many into the desperate trade.

William Loeb Jr., was a guest at Beverly on Sunday.

Pan-American Congress Meets.

The fourth Pan-American Congress is in session at Buenos Ayres. The representatives from the United States are Henry T. White, former ambassador to France; Lewis Nixon, the shipbuilder; John Bassett Moore, professor of international law at Columbia University; David Kinley, dean of the University of Illinois; Bernard Moses, professor of political science at the University of California; Col. Enoch Crowds, assistant to the judge advocate general, U. S. A.; Paul S. Reinsch, of the University of Wisconsin, and Lamar C. Quintero, an editor at New Orleans. Professor Shepherd, of Columbia University, accompanies the delegation as official secretary. Among the special representatives of the government is Edward B. Moore, commissioner of patents, who will act as expert attache.

Eighty-five per cent. of the employees in train and yard service on the Columbia division of the Pennsylvania Railroad have voted to strike for shorter hours and more pay.

The gunboat Castine, rammed by the submarine Bonita, during maneuvers off Provincetown, Mass., has been floated.

TAFT WANTED LOEB TO RUN

COLLECTOR BACKS OUT

New York's Executive Gets $10,000, Loeb $12,000

PRESIDENT URGED; LOEB BALKED

Shrewd Politician Won't Consider the Honor.—Gaynor's Hold on People Hard to Break.—Loeb Started Out With Roosevelt.

At a conference at Beverly on Monday President Taft urged Mr. Loeb, collector of the port of New York, to try to be Governor of the Empire State and Mr. Loeb balked and backed away from the honor. Being Governor of New York pays a salary of $10,000 a year, while that of collector of the port of New York pays $12,000. There are many other expenses attached to being Governor, and Collector Loeb is very well satisfied with the office he now holds, at least for the present.

If he is drafted as the Republican candidate he will accept it and do the best he can to win. If somebody is to be the goat, Mr. Loeb does not care to be brought into the contest.

Mayor Gaynor loomed large in the discussion over the New York Governorship. He is regarded as the probable Democratic candidate and his strength is such as to make candidates to be put up in opposition to him hesitate to undertake the struggle.

Collector Loeb has the reputation of being one of the shrewdest politicians in the country. He started out at Albany with Theodore Roosevelt when the latter was Governor. The political shrewdness of President Roosevelt greatly developed his private secretary, but the political acumen of his private secretary was also frequently beneficial to the President.

DEMONSTRATION OF USE OF AEROPLANE IN WARFARE

Curtiss Shells Vessels With Oranges and Shows That From 200 Feet Ships Would be at His Mercy.

Glenn H. Curtiss, at Atlantic City, gave a practical demonstration of the possibilities in warfare of aeroplanes destroying whole fleets of vessels. Curtiss in his airship sailed up 200 feet and pelted the boats beneath him with oranges.

It entailed no effort on his part to throw the "bombs," and while he hovered over the sloop yacht John E. Mehner II, crowded with 50 excited passengers eager for the fray, some of them armed with cameras to "snap-shot" the aeroplane, he dropped the golden spheres at will and sent them where he wanted them to fall.

The retrenchment policy of the Pennsylvania Railroad made necessary the laying off of 800 employers in Altoona.

WORLD'S LARGEST SPAN OF CONCRETE BRIDGE

Part of High Bridge, Spokane, Wash.—Central Arch Stretches 281 Feet.

What is said to be the longest span of concrete bridge in the world is that now in construction at Spokane, Washington. The central arch has a span of 281 feet, the highest point being 115 feet above the foot of the falls. The total length of the structure is about 1,200 feet. The Wissahickon River concrete bridge, Philadelphia, has a span of 233 feet.

Italy Demands Charlton.

The formal demand of the Italian government for the extradition of Porter Charlton has been forwarded by the Foreign Office to the Italian Embassy at Washington. Charlton is the young American who murdered his wife in Italy and was arrested a fortnight ago in Hoboken. The writ sent forward is accompanied by documentary evidence that has been authenticated by the American Embassy in Rome.

Anti-clerical meetings were held in many Spanish cities this week.

Aeroplane Goes Up Over a Mile.

Walter Brookins, driving a Wright biplane, reached an altitude of exactly 6,175 feet over the ocean at Atlantic City on Saturday and broke all existing world's records for aeroplane altitude. The exact official figures were worked out by engineers who took observations for triangulation. Brookins went up until at the highest point his gasoline gave out and his engine stopped, when he had to come down to 5,800 feet, compelling him to glide to the ground.

More than 4,500,000 ice cream cones were seized in New York City by the United States marshal under the Pure Food law. The cones were being shipped to Galveston.

GETTYSBURG

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council, held July 5th, was very interesting. Market Master Miller was present and charged a member of the august body with violating the market ordinances by buying goods on market and reselling same in camp. The charges brought forth a heated argument.

The Regulars and Militia continue to create excitement for our town. However, much has been done to relieve the situation. A provost of regular cavalry is stationed at the fire engine house each evening to quell any unusual disturbance that might arise. Burgess Holtzworth has requested that all barrooms be closed, which request has been complied with, as these seem to be the cause of all trouble.

Only one instance of bad conduct has been noted, it being evidently a case of homesickness on the part of four Maryland militiamen, who appropriated the team of P. H. Raffensberger, which was tied in Centre Square, and started toward the Maryland line. The action was reported to County Detective Wilson, who secured a team and overtook them. They were escorted to camp by the provost guard.

A Virginian started to ride toward camp on a bicycle belonging to John J. Ohler, but was soon overtaken and the wheel restored to its rightful owner.

A colored trooper accidentally rode his horse against the horse of a Virginia orderly, who whipped out his revolver and struck the colored man a blow in the face, knocking him from his horse.

Tuesday's mail was the heaviest ever handled in one day at the Gettysburg postoffice. Money orders to the extent of $3,000 were issued.

On Wednesday evening the First Maryland Regiment Band of Westminster, gave a delightful concert in Centre Square, under the directorship of Mr. Bailey Morelock, who led the Citizens Band of Gettysburg at their two-days' visit to Emmitsburg during Old Home Week last July. Mr. Pierce Snyder, clarionetist, well known here, is also with the band.

Thursday morning Governor Mann, of Virginia, accompanied by Adjutant General W. W. Scale and Inspector General Joseph Lane Stearns, of that State, arrived. The troops were out on field duty when the party arrived, but on their return a Governor's salute was fired in honor of the executive.

Friday morning the troops were divided into two armies, the Reds and Blues, and started out before sunrise. General Vaughn, of the Virginia militia, commanded the Blues, and Colonel Mansfield, of the Second U. S. Infantry, the Reds. Positions were selected and emergency hospitals erected. Skirmishes were kept up all day, the hardest fight taking place near Granite Hill. After maneuvering until nearly evening, recall was sounded, the umpires declaring the Reds the victors.

Saturday morning the Maryland and Virginia militia broke camp and left for home.

On Sunday twenty-three trainloads of Pennsylvania and New Jersey militiamen arrived and went into camp. The Second City Troop, of Philadelphia, made the record time in unloading, being in their saddles in fourteen minutes after reaching camp.

Religious services were held in the Y. M. C. A. tent on Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. B. Baker was prevented from holding services in the evening by a thunder storm.

The damage done to crops and property in the maneuvers is readily adjusted by the officers, all claims thus far having been settled within twenty-four hours.

Governor Fort, of New Jersey, arrived in camp at 4 P. M., Tuesday, his arrival being heralded by a Governor's salute.

Samuel Haugh, an aged resident of East Middle street, disappeared from his home Saturday morning, and at this time no trace of him has been found.

Rev. Henry B. Spangler, of York county, who graduated from the Seminary in May, has been elected a Missionary to India. He will go to that country in October.

A pretty wedding occurred in this place at seven o'clock Wednesday evening when Miss Carrie Marie Schroder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Schroder, was married to Mr. Charles T. Zeigler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Zeigler. The ceremony was performed by Dr. T. J. Barkley, of the Reformed church, at the home of the bride. The color scheme was pink, green and white. Miss Regia Butler, of Parker's Landing was maid of honor and John S. Ziegler was best man. The flower girls were Miss Grace Schroder and Miss Mary Fleming, of Hanover. Music for the wedding and reception was furnished by Moul's Orchestra, of Hanover. They will spend ten days at Mount Holly Springs, after which they will take a trip to California.

About 6:30 Tuesday evening the dead body of Roy Stroup, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stroup, of East Middle street, was found at what is known as the "Second Bridge," on East Confederate avenue.

The lad had been out with a number of boys in the afternoon, and returned to town with a bicycle, saying that he would go out to hunt relics before supper time. While on his way out a storm arose from which he sought shelter under a large tree, which was struck by lightning, the bolt hitting him, killing him instantly. The hair was singed from the back of his head and his body considerably burned. As the storm passed over about 5 o'clock and he was not found until 6:30, it was evident that he had been killed at the time stated, as his face was discolored by a rush of blood to his head.

He was lying face downward, with his right hand in the pocket of his trousers. As soon as the sad news became known crowds of people hurried to the scene. An army officer who was in the party who discovered the body, guarded the body and would allow no one to touch it until viewed by the coroner, who, upon his arrival, and a hasty examination, said an inquest was unnecessary. Undertaker H. B. Bender was summoned and the body removed to the home of his parents about 8:30.

Should the weather be inclement the Zora Picnics will be held on the Saturday evening following. 6-17-tf

Celebrated Ninetieth Birthday.

On Saturday, July 9, a congenial party of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Rebecca Grimes, at Fairfield, Pa., to celebrate her 90th birthday.

At 12:30 P. M. a bountiful dinner was served by her daughter, Mrs. Shepherd, who had provided lots of good things for the delectation of her guests. Although the day was intensely warm, the time passed rapidly. Mrs. Grimes was enabled through the thoughtfulness of her daughter, Mrs. John A. Wright, to converse easily with her friends by means of a speaking tube, and this fact added much to her pleasure for she has long been extremely hard of hearing. She could hear and enjoy the voice of her little great-niece, Mary Benson Koontz, aged 21 months, who would put her lips to the mouth-piece and jabber away to the dear old lady. Mrs. Grimes retains a vigor of mind and a keen interest in affairs which is remarkable in one of her age, and by her sweetness of manner constantly makes new friends as well as holds those of the long ago.

At 5:30 P. M., a delicious supper with refreshments was served, after which the party separated wishing their hostess health and happiness. Those present were: her daughters, Mrs. Sarah J. Shepherd, of Fairfield, Pa., and Mrs. John A. Wright, of Jacksonville, Fla.; her sister, Mrs. W. A. Koontz, of Baltimore, Md.; her nephews, Rev. R. G. Koontz, of Thurmont, and Mr. Basil C. Gilson, of Emmitsburg, Md.; her nieces, Mrs. R. G. Koontz, Miss Mary Benson Koontz, of Thurmont, and Miss Mary Koontz, of Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Stansbury, Mrs. Emma Nunemaker, and Miss Maria Helman, of Emmitsburg, Md.; Dr. and Mrs. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Neely, Mrs. Lynn, Mrs. Moore of Fairfield, Pa., and Mrs. Snyder of Hedgesville, W. Va.

JOHN WANAMAKER'S PLAN.

"I never in my life," says John Wanamaker, used such a thing as a poster, a dodger, or a handbill. My plan for twenty-five years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up with what I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper of four hundred circulation for five thousand and posters and dodgers. If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a lottery scheme I might use posters, but I wouldn't insult a decent reading public with handbills."

Hagerstown Police Must Work.

Because of the alleged inefficiency on the part of some of the members of the police force of Hagerstown a shakeup is looked for any day. Commissioner W. L. Middlekauff stated that unless some of the police officers attended more strictly to their duties some of them would soon be looking for other jobs. While Mr. Middlekauff is one of the Democratic members of the board, he is thoroughly in accord with the fight being made by Mayor Scott for greater efficiency on the part of the police force.

COLONEL, THEY HAVE GOT YOU GOING.

Well, Colonel Pearre, how does the political situation in the Sixth district please you just at present? We understand that you want everything split up into factions (or is it fractions?) and that after this is accomplished you will step in and bag the nomination. Do you think you can do it this time? Maybe you can, but they'll make you work for it as you never worked before. It was an easy game in years past, wasn't it Colonel? All you had to do then was to snap your finger and crack the whip and everyone in your party got into line and did your bidding. But it's somewhat different today, isn't it? You've struck a few snags, don't you think?

You see, Colonel, you've had those cussing and arbitrary act attachments to your mental machine working overtime and you've been handing out a few gross too many of those dares and expletives of yours. Some of them stung, and the result is that the people they stung are going for your scalp. Their knives are out and they've got their war paint on and—well, the going is a little rough for you. At this juncture there are factions. Things are split up. Several others beside you want that job which you have been on for many years—far too many years—and it looks now as though Montgomery had you guessing.

We realize that you are a politician, all right, Colonel, and that you are quick to make capital out of every false move or error that is made by your opponents, but, to repeat, the going is a little rough for you, and even if you should, in spite of everything, succeed in winning the nomination you will lose the election as sure as your name is Pearre.

"A DECIVILIZING FORCE."

Prize fighting from time immemorial has had its adherents and its opponents and doubtless will continue to have them for many years to come. After each notable fight both elements have brought forth arguments, more or less convincing, and pulpit and press have as usual taken a free hand in the discussion of every feature of these events.

It is interesting to note some of the "reasons" why prize fighting ("boxing shows") should be encouraged or stopped altogether, and quite amusing to observe the terms employed by those who advance these reasons. "Commercialism" and the professionalizing of the "manly art of self-defense" seems to be the basis for the stand taken by the opposition, but this position appears very weak, indeed, when all the circumstances are properly considered.

To our mind the best and sanest plea for placing the ban on prize-fighting comes from the Springfield Republican and is thus set forth:

As for prize fighting, it ought to be opposed with the utmost energy, not because it tends to commercialize America, nor because it has been degraded by money-making, nor because it is inherently criminal, which it is not, nor necessarily because it is in itself a very bad thing, a point on which good men differ. The sound and very cogent reason for opposing it, and a reason which even some of those who confess to an interest in the sport ought to be able to accept, is that it exerts an unwholesome influence. To check the growth of the mob spirit is to be one of the great tasks of government and education in America. But in prize fighting we have a force working in precisely the opposite direction. There is no need to exaggerate the heinousness of fisticuffs; if a bout caused no more excitement than a chess tournament it would not be worth while to stir the police powers of the state in the matter. But when so huge a population, excessively and increasingly excitable over sport, is aroused by such a match to almost hysterical agitation, it ought to be plain enough that the influence of pugilism is bad, suggesting unpleasantly the bull ring of Spain and the amphitheater of Rome. It is not necessary to argue that prize fighting is a wicked thing, an insistence which always turns some people to the other side. It is enough that it is demoralizing to the country. If it were simply a question of a brisk "scrap" between featherweights, the effects, as The Republican has already said, would be negligible. The tempest of morbid excitement which the fight for the championship evokes is another matter; it is a decivilizing force which America, of all nations, cannot afford to tolerate.

Certainly as conducted at the present time prize-fighting is most demoralizing—most truly "a decivilizing force which America, of all nations, cannot afford to tolerate."

JUST A WORD ABOUT GIST BLAIR.

If the Republicans are really in search of a strong, clean, constructive candidate to represent the Sixth District as it ought to be represented, they need not go very far. Mr. Gist Blair, of Montgomery county, is the man who fills the bill in every particular. Mr. Blair is unalloyed with any faction and, notwithstanding what some are pleased to say, he is positively not a pace-maker for Col. Pearre. Furthermore Mr. Blair is not a job seeker; he does not look upon public office as a "private snap." His entrance into the campaign for the nomination is inspired by a desire to serve the people—as all who know him will attest—and is warranted by faithful and efficient efforts in behalf of his party. If some of the Republican leaders of this district would throw over factional feeling and give Mr. Blair half a chance he could land the nomination and win out.

As usual, Frederick county comes last. Colonel Buchanan Schley hasn't supplied our assessment blanks yet. Maybe he's printing them with that rubber stamp of his. If so there is no wonder that he is absent from Annapolis so frequently.

THIS may be an "off year" in politics, but it is bringing on great activity not only among candidates themselves, but among some of the biggest political ducks in the puddle. The President, the ex-President, half the Cabinet, six or seven Governors and a score or more Senators and Congressmen are already prepared to take the stump for their friends.

A DISPATCH gives the information that the man who invented pink lemonade is dead. Nothing is said, however, about the number of victims who succumbed to the effects of the lamented inventor's decoction.

"ROOSEVELT is silent" according to a head line in a Baltimore paper. This must have been a bedside report issued about two A. M.

CORN CROP TO BE BIGGEST YET

Largest Acreage Ever Known.—Favorable Conditions Means Big Yield.—Spring Wheat Crop Short.

Government reports show a falling off of 100,000,000 bushels in the Spring wheat estimate, but Winter wheat is turning out better than expected, especially in Texas and Oklahoma where yields are bigger than for years. Kansas is credited with 70,000,000 bushels and other Winter wheat states report improving conditions. The present total indicated wheat crop is about 625,000,000 bushels.

The more important corn crop, says the Springfield Republican, shows the largest acreage ever known and a condition above the average for the season. Barring hot winds this month, the largest corn yield ever known should result.

New York Depends on Teddy.

It is apparent that Roosevelt has only begun his political mixing in. The defeat at Albany was but an incentive to greater effort on his part and he will try to turn victory into defeat for his opponents. When this happens he will be big gun in New York and that means something in the politics of the United States. He is fighting now for his political existence and he is almost sure to win. Beside this the Republican party in the Empire State depends on Roosevelt's victory for their own power.

Vacancies in Supreme Court.

President Taft has announced again that he would not give serious consideration to filling vacancies in the United States Supreme Court until the fall. As to calling an extra session of the Senate in October to confirm appointees to the Supreme Court and thus to facilitate the rehearing of important Standard Oil and tobacco and corporation taxes cases, the President has not definitely made up his mind.

Town Wiped Out By Fire.

Campbellton, N. B., was almost entirely destroyed by fire on Monday and 3000 persons are homeless. The property loss will amount to $2,000,000. Large lumber interests were destroyed. The town was the largest cedar shingle center in Eastern America. The fire started in one of the lumber mills.

Forest Fires in Northwest.

Again the Northwest is lit up by raging forest fires and villages are threatened by the consuming flames. In Wisconsin the town of Holcomb was only saved from entire destruction by the almost superhuman efforts of its inhabitants. The extent of the damage can only be approximately estimated.

The Language of Aquatics.

A French woman, proud of her limited knowledge of English, and an American woman, proud of her limited knowledge of French, were introduced at an uptown evening company. The French woman insisted on expressing herself in bad English, and the American would talk nothing but bad French.

When the guests began to depart they were still at it. At last they arose to go. Here is their watery farewell:

"Reservoir," said the fair American. "Tanks," responded her new friend. —Philadelphia Times.

Mamma Had Mentioned It.

There was one man whose life was perfect," said the Sunday school teacher. "What one of you can tell me who he was?"

Little Mary Jane's hand went up and the teacher nodded to her.

"He was my mamma's first husband," she said. —Everybody's.

Not What She Meant.

"My husband never gets what he should for his poetry," said the poet's wife with a tinge of sadness.

"Oh, don't be too hard on him," replied the girl, absent-mindedly. —Yonkers Statesman.

Ira Ruthrauff, freight brakeman on the Western Maryland railroad, was struck with a stone thrown at his train near Oldtown, west of Hancock, Friday, and his right arm was broken near the shoulder.

The Business Men's Association of Frederick has adopted a new constitution and by-laws and also changed its name to Frederick Board of Trade. The new constitution is designed to meet the larger requirements of the business and financial interest of Frederick.

Mr. H. Dorsey Etchison, of the Frederick bar, a candidate for the Democratic Congressional nomination to succeed Col. G. A. Pearre, began his campaign in the Sixth district in Allegany county. Washington and Montgomery counties are to be toured later.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bailey, of Funkstown, was smothered to death in bed. The mother placed the baby, which was about a week old, in bed and went about her housework. Two hours later she entered the bedroom and found the child dead, his head buried in the bedclothes. Dr. C. Z. Wingerd was summoned.

The mayor and council of Hagerstown have refused to pay a bill of $2,755 presented by the water company of that city for rental of fireplugs for the year and for water furnished for extinguishing fires. This is part of the controversy between the city and the water company.

Joseph Flanigan, forty years old, of Brunswick, is supposed to have hydrophobia. A short time ago, walking with his wife, he was seized with an attack having the symptoms of this disease. He suddenly started to run and going a short distance fell in a spasm, frothing at the mouth. He is now in Montevue where he will be closely watched.

The first of the 1910 crop of wheat in Frederick county to be sold in Frederick was delivered by James E. Summers, of near Urbanna, to the Mountaintop City Mills. The lot, about 500 bushels, was of good quality and sold for 92 cents a bushel. Threshing is now in progress throughout the county, and the yield is reported to be good in quantity and of fine quality.

William H. Henry, aged 70 years, died Sunday of paralysis at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Zachariah Smith, of Woodsboro. He was a veteran of the Civil War, and had of late years been living a retired life. He is survived by five children, Elmer and George Keeny, of York, Pa.; Mrs. Zachariah Smith, of Woodsboro; Mrs. George Beard and Mrs. Solomon Beard, near Woodsboro.

Arlington Haller, 12 years old, son of Amos Haller, an engineman on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, living at Brunswick, met with a horrible death at the B. P. Campton Milling Co's plant there. The boy was fishing in the canal, and in trying to untangle his line from a carrier on the outside of the mill, his clothing became caught and his body was literally torn to pieces in the machinery.

Holding that the exhibition of pictures showing the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight is demoralizing and dangerous, the Frederick Ministerial Association, at a special meeting Monday instructed the secretary to ask the city officials not to permit the pictures to be shown in the corporate limits. The meeting was held in the Young Men's Christian Association Building and the ministers were unanimous against the pictures. Protests were also made against opening of cigar and grocery stores on Sunday. The matter was placed before the Mayor and Aldermen to be acted upon.

Mr. James Legore claims that it is the duty of the County Commissioners of this county to pay him $197,000 for his bridge across the Monocacy. He is willing to wait for awhile but says "I do not want to go into court and run the cost up on the county, but I am not afraid to go into court if forced to do so. I would prefer to have an amicable settlement with the county, and have offered to submit the matter to competent and disinterested engineers to fix the price that should be paid."

If the county pays him the money, he will invest it in the construction of a dam near the bridge and an electric generating plant, the current for which will be conveyed to Frederick for sale for general use and for the operation of a trolley line which he has been promoting. The erection of the dam, he claims, would create a reservoir which would settle Frederick's water supply problem for years to come.

LAGARDE KING OF TOASTMASTERS

Son of Mount St. Mary's Professor Does Honors at Press Banquet in New Orleans.

"At a 'feast' given the newspaper men of Louisiana attending the sessions of Legislature, by members of that body, Mr. Lewis D. Lagarde acted as toastmaster. Mr. Lagarde is a son of Prof. Lagarde of Mount St. Mary's College. The Daily Picayune says—Louis D. Lagarde, representative of the Seventh District, of Orleans, was the toastmaster, and he not only made the feast a success, but he made it famous in the history of banquets in the state. Around the board were men who had attended brilliant banquets in all parts of the nation, but none could remember a toastmaster who in anywise approached Mr. Lagarde. He was 'king of the carnival.' It was probably known to very few members of the banquet company that Mr. Lagarde is the son of one of the school newspaper men of New Orleans. His father is Prof. Ernest Lagarde, of Maryland, who was prominent in newspaper circles in New Orleans more than a quarter of a century ago. Prof. Lagarde was the last editor of the English side of the Bee, which paper in the early 70s printed one side in French and one side in English.

STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Summer Meeting and Outing at Berlin and Ocean City.—Plans for Fall Meeting in November.

The summer meeting and outing of the Maryland State Horticultural Society will be held at Berlin, July 28, and Ocean City, July 29. The programme at Berlin will include an address of welcome by Mr. Orlando Harrison of the firm of J. G. Harrison and Sons, who will entertain the members. This address will be responded to by Mr. George Morrison, president of the Baltimore Gardener's Club. Hon. J. Harry Covington will also address the society. In the afternoon the members will inspect orchards and nurseries.

At Ocean City the executive committee will hold its meeting at 10 A. M. Special rates have been issued by the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company. The ticket from Baltimore to Ocean City and return will cost $3.25, and will be good for return until August 1. Stop over privileges are also granted. The trip will be made by water from Baltimore to Claiborne, and by rail to Berlin.

The use of the Fifth Regiment Armory has been granted for the annual meeting and exhibition, November 28 to December 3. The Baltimore Refrigerating and Heating Company will again extend the usual courtesy of storing exhibition fruit free of charge. There is at present a good prospect of taking an exhibit of apples to two or three of the big western apple shows this fall, and every member is urged to do his best in contributing fruit to help win honors for the Society and State.

The following instructions must be followed in selecting fruits for exhibition purposes:

Slightly above medium size for the variety.

Fruits of absolute uniformity in size and shape.

Fruits of typical shape for the variety.

Five fruits for an exhibition plate of apples.

Color uniform and the higher and richer the better.

A whole stem in every apple.

Entire freedom from blemishes of all kinds.

Enough fruit for from five to ten plates of each variety should be sent to storage.

Handle apples carefully and wrap each one in paper; pack securely in boxes and send by express prepaid to cold storage. The Secretary will refund express charges.

TRI-STATE LEAGUE ODD FELLOWS

Big Reunion at Pen Mar on August 4.—Forty Lodges and 8,000 to 10,000 Will Attend.

On August 4, the Tri-State League of Odd Fellows will hold a reunion with the Waynesboro Lodge at Pen Mar. Speakers have been engaged for the occasion. The music will be furnished by the celebrated Wayne Band. Watson R. Davison, Esq., of Waynesboro, well known in Emmitsburg, may preside over the exercises.

After the formal program in the auditorium there will be competitive drills by a number of cantons (the uniformed rank) and drills by the Rebekahs, the women's auxiliary of the order.

All arrangements now look to a very large crowd and preparations are being made by railroads for carrying great numbers of people to Pen Mar on that day.

ANCIENT TEMPLE WITH ITS VALUABLES DUG UP

Rich Assortment of Etruscan Relics and Sepulchral Furniture Found at Fiesole, near Florence.

An excavation at Fiesole, a town near Florence, Italy, resulted in the unearthing of the unique Etruscan temple of the Goddess Ancharia. Many valuable vases, medieval pottery and coins were discovered in four pits around the ruins. Tombs of warriors of the barbarian invasion were also found containing weapons, domestic utensils and jewelry, and fragments of Alabaster urns were also uncovered.

To Kill Flies.

The London "Lancet," the leading medical journal of the world, says that the best and simplest fly-killer is a weak solution of formaldehyde in water (two teaspoonfuls to the pint.) Place in plates or saucers throughout the house. Ten cents' worth of formaldehyde will last an ordinary family all summer. It has no offensive smell, is fatal to disease organisms, and is practically nonpoisonous except to insects.

Pyrethrum powder, which may be bought at any drug store, burned in the house will also kill the flies.

Balloon Burst Five Killed.

Another fatality in connection with German experiments with dirigible balloons occurred Wednesday. The balloon burst at an altitude of 2,600 feet and the five occupants were killed in the fall.

Peter's Confession. Matt. xvi:13-28.

What did Jesus mean when he called himself "the son of man?"

Verse 14—What is the view of those who teach the transmigration of the soul, and did these people probably hold to that or some similar view?

Where is there any record in the Bible of people appearing after they were dead?

In what respects did Jesus resemble either John or Jeremiah, or one of the prophets, to make the people think as they did?

Verses 15, 16—What was Peter's opinion as to who Jesus was?

What reason is there to believe that
Peter did or did not, at this time, recognize Jesus as God himself?

Verse 17—How did Peter know that Jesus was the Christ?

Is there enough evidence to prove beyond doubt, that Jesus is the Christ, apart from such a personal revelation as Peter had? (See I Cor. xii:3.) Give your reasons.

If the knowledge that Jesus is the Christ comes by personal revelation, then is there any evidence that the devout heathen, who have never heard the gospel story, ever get such a revelation, or anything like it?

Would, or could, God have revealed the Christ to Peter, if Peter had not the evidence that the life and work of Jesus afforded?

Verses 18, 19—What, according to Jesus, is the rock upon which God builds his church?

What is the chief or central thought,
or foundation stone of Christianity?

Suppose we did not know, or were to lose everything else, but the fact of God, by his Spirit, revealing unto us

Rapids, Iowa, have agreed in the future to submit all labor disputes to a board of arbitration.

Christ as the Son of the living God, how much vital truth should we lack?

* What are the evidences that the Christian Church is the mightiest force on the earth, and that it will finally conquer the world? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

What is the purpose of a key, and what did the key of the kingdom of heaven mean?

Jesus gave Peter the keys of the kingdom of heaven, but what reason is there to believe that every person, with like spiritual insight as Peter, also possesses these keys?

Verse 20—Why did Jesus forbid them to tell the people that he was the Christ?

What is the difference, in the degree of merit, between those who refrain from preaching Christ, when God forbids, and those who preach him when God bids them?

Verse 21—When did Jesus first realize that the Jews would reject him and put him to death?

Did Jesus offer himself to the Jews, in good faith, hoping they would receive him, and could they have done so, had they been so minded? Give your reasons.

Verses 22, 23—Was Peter's reasoning in harmony with common sense, and was his rebuke of Jesus prompted by pure motives?

What was Peter's real error?

What reason is there to believe that a good man may get divine guidance on some things, and then, unwittingly, project his own reasoning into other things?

Verses 24-28—Which brings the greater good even in good things, and why, self-denial, or self-gratification?

What is the sum total of all things,
in which are all good things, for time and eternity?

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. WHY I SEEK THE NOMINATION.

To the Democratic Voters of the Sixth Congressional District.
Gentlemen:—
I desire to be your candidate for Congress this fall. Two years ago, through the kindness of the Democratic Party, I was given the Congressional nomination. Your strong efforts in my behalf, and the earnest canvas I made, resulted in reducing former majorities of 4000 and 5000 against our candidates in this District to about five hundred votes. I feel safe in saying that if you will give me the same earnest support I received two years ago, we will be successful at the coming election.

Inviting your support in this matter, I am,
Very Respectfully,
DAVID J. LEWIS.

MODISH MATTERS.

A Smart Short Fur Coat—What Is Worn in String Ties.

Among the ultra smart fur pieces is the short coat worn to accentuate the empire gown beneath. It does not come to the waist line, but to the top of the high girdle. This little jacket is made, when of mink, with the markings running in semicircles across the back, with the lower edge following the same line. The fronts are wide enough to fasten double breasted, but they are more often worn rolled back. The neck is collarless, and the sleeves are three-quarter leg of mutton affairs.

In considering the adjuncts of the stiff collar, ties must not be overlooked. These are of every possible description, from the smart string tie to use a masculine term, to the most elaborate lace tie. Many of these cravat ties are shown in two colors and with double ends. Most attractive are those of plain silk, with the extra of rancy feathers.

The waist illustrated is one of the new designs, with the broad shoulder effect given by the plaits that conceal the armhole seams. It has the convenient and smart patch pocket on the left side. The sleeves are either long or three-quarter length.

IN FASHION'S REALM.

Stunning Sleeve Effects—Coiffure Ornaments—To Remodel Fur Scarf.

Slashed sleeves are pretty when a well made undersleeve is shown. The cut should extend halfway to the shoulder. Soutache is liberally employed either on the material or worked over a coarse net foundation for the adornment of tailor made coats as well as bodices, and dressy wraps and braided panels are being combined with broadtail and other furs for both pelerines and muffs.

Clusters of flowers made of satin ribbon are worn in the hair. Several of the flower petals are tiny sachet bags exquisitely perfumed, so that the whole effect is that of a real blossom.

The Talkative Barber.

"The talkativeness of barbers long has been the subject for puns and jokes," said a barber. "I had always fancied the matter one of recent origin until the other day. You know in my profession we have a great deal of spare time. Well, the other day I was sitting on the bench waiting for the shaves and hair cuts to come in and to while away the time was glancing through a copy of Plutarch's 'Archelaus.' Imagine my consternation when I happened on a line reading:

"A prating barber asked Archelaus how he would be trimmed. He answered, 'In silence.'"

"Well, that got me. I never knew they even had barbers that long ago. I always supposed the ancients let their whiskers grow and that they wore curly locks as long as their togas, but it seems that the barber is an ancient relic and that his talking proclivities are a matter of history. I'll have to give it to the humorists there.

"But, say," he whispered, "that manure girl over there has got us beat to a frazzle. I wonder if there's anything in Plutarch about her."—Kansas City Star.

The Sunny Side of Superstition.

That there is anything genial, cheering or therapeutically valuable about superstition may seem a tall statement. The adjective generally associated with it is "dark." On the contrary, there is something very brightening about a four leaf clover. Who is not a little more of an optimist for picking up a horseshoe? What lonely farmer's wife, stormbound on a winter afternoon, with unwelcome leisure on her hands, but feels a little quickening of the pulse as she drops her scissors and beholds them sticking up in the carpet or discovers that she has laid an extra place at the table? Company signs are the commonest and welcomed of all superstitions. The scissors, the needle, the dishcloth, the fork, the Saturday sneeze, all inculcate hospitality and reward it by an unexpected visitor. If the needle slants as it stands up in the crack of the floor it foretells a gentleman. Run, young daughters of the house, and put a blue bow in your hair!—Atlantic Monthly.

Working It Out.

The following note was delivered to a schoolmistress recently:

"Dear Mamma—I am sorry that Johnny won't be able to come to school today. He has gone with his father to act as timekeeper. The sum you gave Johnny last night was, 'If the road is one and a quarter miles long how long will it take a man to walk that distance twenty-six and a half times, his average rate of progress being three and three-quarter miles per hour?' Johnny ain't a man yet, so as dad's the only man in this house he had to go. They started at 4 o'clock this morning, and dad said he'd finish the sum in one day if he could manage it, though it would mean hard going. Dear mum, next time you want any information please make it 'woman,' then I can do the sum and dad can go to his work."—London Scraps.

A Custom of the Balkans.

He or she who enters a house for the first time is supposed in the Balkan countries to bring it good or bad luck for the whole twelvemonth. This belief gives rise to a curious observance. The visitor before crossing the threshold picks up a stone (token of strength) or a green twig (emblem of health and fruitfulness) and lays it on the hearth. He also brings with him some grains of salt, which he casts into the flames, and then, squatting by the fireside, wishes his hosts "a prosperous year, a plentiful crop and many blessings." Then as the grains of salt burst and crackle in the fire he utters the following quaint formula: "As I am sitting, even so may sit the hen and warm the eggs. As this salt splits, even so may split the eggs of the clucking hen and the chickens come forth."

His Question.

Edgar, aged six, was recently sent to school for the first time, and upon his return home he asked, "Papa, who taught Adam the alphabet?"

Out of Her Reach.

"Does your heart ever reach out for the unattainable?"

"No, but my hands do when my husband is not at home. There are three buttons at the back of my gown that I can't reach."

More Appropriate.

"I teach my parrot only short words."

"Do you? Now, I should think that parrots were better adapted to learning polysyllables."
