Governor Goldsborough sent to the Senate on Monday night the local appointments for Baltimore, Frederick, Caroline and Harford counties and for several State boards. They were all referred to the committee on Legislative Nominations without debate, except that of John Hubner, who is named as a manager of Springfield State Hospital. Mr. Hubner is a former Senator, and his appointment was immediately confirmed.

The Governor, upon the recommendations of the Democratic members of the Legislature, has renamed some Democrats for minor offices in several of the counties, including Frederick.

Dr. Wachter takes the place of Mr. J. Henry Stokes on the Board of School Commissioners. While the Governor's appointment may be and possibly is an excellent one the people of Emmitsburg cannot but regret the loss of the services of Mr. Stokes. During the years he has been on the Board the efficiency of our local schools has been increased wonderfully and the properties under his supervision have been developed to a marked degree. This community owes much to Mr. Stokes and we assure him that his services have been Concerned as we are at the retirement of Mr. Stokes we can nevertheless welcome Dr. Wachter to the Board and assure him our hearty cooperation in all that he does for the good of the schools under his care.

smoke a pipe with him, and found him "What! Tim Donahue dying!" exclaimed the senator.

"And poor Tim had something on his mind to confess. It seems that he was connected with some senatorial graft a year or two ago, and he felt it his dying duty to expose it. He made a written confession, and Mr. Rayburn has it in his pocket. I think

Three or four days passed, with the senator trying hard to appear indifferent, but really anxious, and then he

"I am sorry to tell you, daddy, that there is still worse news. "Dang Mr. Rayburn!" "So I say, but you see he has got another death-bed confession. He drove out the other day to see Farmer Bramble. It seems that the farmer owned land where the aqueduct is to run, and by the aid of a certain politician and state senator he was enabled to get $12,000 for land worth "I think he is thinking of calling on about $2,000. Of course, there was a divvy in it."

"They can't prove it," shouted the senator.

"Perhaps not, but you see the far-mer had been kicked by a mule and lay dying. He couldn't die in peace until he had confessed that the senator got two-thirds of the graft. Mr. Rayburn has the document.'

"And it says I'm the senator, does

"I think it does, daddy-I think so. Is there such an expression as deadto-rights?"

"I believe so." "Well, I think that Mr. Rayburn

"And there is something about a man's goose being cooked?" "And with the three death-bed confessions in Mr. Rayburn's pocket, and with the suffragettes investigating, and with the "Examiner" hot on the trail, I think, daddy, dear—I think that you will be snowed under ten feet deep at the coming election!"

But he wasn't. What does a poor, innocent girl know about the tricks of snow-white politicians? The senator fixed that thing in a day. When Mr. Rayburn came calling again he seemed to feel perfectly at home, but he did sigh as he observed:

"You are worth it ten times over, but really I almost hated to do it." And Dorothy's answer was:

"But if you were a suffragette you would understand that graft must be met with graft. Daddy grafts the public and we graft him!

NO MORE BURNED FINGERS

Massachusetts Man Invents Cooking Utensil That Will Be Hailed With Delight.

An ingenious little cooking utensil that will save the cook a burned finger or two has been designed by a Massachusetts man. It consists of a baking pan with a lifting attachment by which it can be carried about without touching the hot pan, even under the protection of a cloth. The opposite sides of the pan are turned down to form grooves. A piece of strong wire is bent into a handle and the two for dolls measuring from 14 to 26 ends form long prongs that can be nches from crown to sole. To make thrust through the groves on the sides the set for a 26 inch doll will require of the pan. The prongs are bent 1 yard of 40 inch material for coat, 1 slightly downward at the points so they will not slip out too easily, but will afford a purchase on the groves when the pan is to be drawn out of the oven. Even with a cloth for protection it is sometimes difficult to get hold of the pan when the bread or cake has risen to the edge.

HOW TO MAKE JAMBOLYA

Mexican Style of Seasoning and Flavoring Makes This Dish Most Appetizing.

Take a young chicken and cut it into small pieces, saving heart and liver. Stew all slowly until tender, having the meat covered with soup when done. Take the meat out of the soup, drain, and fry a good brown. Slice two onions thin and fry brown. Put the browned chicken, onions, and a small can of oysters in the chicken soup. Season highly with salt and red pepper; a couple of green peppers, chopped fine, are a great improvement. Put over the fire and let come to a boil. Have washed and dried two cupfuls of rice. Put the rice in the boiling soup, let cook until done and moderately dry; 25 minutes should be long enough. Can be eaten plain or with tomato sauce, made by boiling half an hour a can of tomatoes, strained and seasoned with one-half teaspoonful of mace; season to taste with one teaspoonful of sugar and a little cayenne pepper. If mushrooms are liked, a few in the sauce are very nice. If the chicken is allowed to cook till the bones can be taken out, it is nicer. Sometimes I use mushrooms in place of oysters, and they are splendid .- R. W. in Woman's Home Companion.

Peanuts and Rice.

Two cupfuls of cooked rice, one cup ful of peanut butter, one cupful of cracker crumbs, one-half cupful of milk, two eggs. Have the rice well cooked and salted, and while hot stir in the peanut butter, stirring until all is well mixed. Then add the milk, the eggs, well beaten, and lastly nearly all the cracker crumbs, leaving some to spread over the top. Shape into a rounding loaf, place in a buttered pan and spread the remainder of the cracker crumbs over the top. Bake till a nice brown, and serve on a hot plate garnished with parsley. This is delicious when made right.-Ladies Home Journal.

Lemon Sauce. Squeeze and strain the juice from a large lemon into a saucepan, then add to it one large tablespoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of pepper. Beat over the fire until thick and hot, but do not let it boil. When done, mix with the beat en yolks of two eggs and serve at once, either over the fish or in a separate sauce boat.

Ginger Drops.

One cup of light brown sugar, one egg, two-thirds cup of butter, twothirds cup of molasses, one-half cup of cold water, large tablespoon gin ger, one large teaspoon soda, flour to make thick batter. Drop by teaspoon fuls on a well-greased pan, bake in moderate oven. These are very nice if properly made.

Steamed Batter Pudding. One cup of sugar, one egg, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half cup seeded raisins, one-half cup sweet milk. Pour into a greased dish, place over boiling water and steam one Immerse Onions.

Onions may be prepared for slicing or cooking without the slightest discomfort to the one peeling them by immersing them in water and occa sionally redipping during process of peeling.

Paint----Drouth

The longer the drouth the more rain is required to water the earth. The longer a building goes without painting the dryer it gets and more paint is required to keep water out.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and 'productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the production of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scoth-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Linganore Hills and the Catoctin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.-Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

BLUE RIBBONS WON BY GOOD FEEDING.

"Those blue ribbons hanging there over the door are the result of diet," said Miss Long, winner of many prizes at the Royal Live Stock Show, as re-"The horse is just like the human being in respect to diet," said Miss Long, "and it is admitted that the races of humanity that have made the greatest progress in civilization and the arts are those that have been fed the best. However well fed a horse may be, however good his heredity may be, he can win no firsts if he is ill treated and worried. CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A HUNGARIAN HERO.

By A. W. MACY. Hungary boasts of several national heroes, but none of them has a finer record for bravery than Miklos Zrinyi. He fought many a battle in behalf of his country, but the supreme hour of his life came at the close. On August 5, 1566, with 3,000 gallant followers, he took refuge in the little fortress of Sziget, and defended it against a great Turkish host, led by Suleiman, the Magnificent in person. For four weeks the siege went on, the Tucks furiously assaulting the little fortress again and again. Finally, on September 7, the little Hungarian band, or what was left of it, led by Zrinyi, rushed out upon the Turkish host, determined to cut their way through or die in the attempt. They died, every man of them, Zrinyi the first of all. But it was an expensive victory to the Turks, for it cost them twenty thousand lives.

COOKING DRIED STUFF

FIRELESS METHOD BEST FOR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Home-Made Cooker Is Easily Constructed and Answers All Practical Purposes-Important Points to Be Remembered.

The fireless method is the best way to cook dried fruit and vegetables. You need not buy a fireless cooker for the purpose unless you wish to. Make one yourself. Simply get a small dry goods or soap box or large pail. Line with asbestos paper and then stuff tightly all around the top, bottom and sides with layers of newspapers to the depth of three or four inches. What you must remember is that it must be absolutely air-tight. Another thing linoleum. Inlaid floor covering costs to remember is that your receptacle must be nearly full. If you cook a small quantity you must have a small receptacle, as the fruit is not as likely to cool off before thoroughly done, as it would if placed in a half filled pail. Wash your fruit thoroughly first, and to one pound of same add pound of sugar; put water enough in to cover by about one inch Boil seven minutes over a flame and then as quickly as possible place in thinks he has come in contact your fireless cooker and allow to remain in there about eight hours. Place a cushion on top of the cooker and weight that down with something that is heavy. When taken out one will find the fruit will rival the best preserves in appearance and flavor, in no respect suggesting that usually served or the insipid canned products. Each shriveled piece will swell to its original size, unbroken, distended with a juicy aromatic liquor, and charged with the flavors which characterize the fruit in its prime state. Tapioca and sage are delicious with these fruit juices in making tempting desserts. Dried vegetables, such as lima beans, peas, etc., should be treated in the same way and given about the same length of time to cook. Canned vegetables which have been bought in the stores are also much improved by this additional process. These fireless cookers are also excellent for doing home canning of vegetables and fruits. By canning them in this way the house is kept cool, fuel is saved yourselves, and in a greater de- boy'll be sitting on the bank with and the housewife is free from the fear of water boiling away. Clean and prepare the same as for any canning process. Dip the jars in boiling water, fill with yegetables or fruit, pour in cold water until it overflows the jar, dip the caps in boiling water, Washington some good ripe fruit place them on the jars, but do not seal tightly; allow for expansion. Put a perforated rest in the bottom of your kettle, place the prepared jars on the rest, fill the kettle with cold water up to the necks of the jars.

Beef Tea With Noodles.

Place the cover on the kettle, put on the stove and boil 15 minutes. At the end of that time place at once into the cooker and cover tightly. Allow the jars to remain in the cooker from two to three hours, then remove and tighten the caps.

Three pounds of lean beef, two nions, two turnips, two carrots, two cloves, two and half quarts water, a good handful of noodles. Mince ne vegetables. Put on in the wate and boil down to two quarts. Drain off and pour upon the beef, minced very fine. Simmer one hour, strain, season and put in the noodles. Cook gently 20 minutes.

Noodles-Work in two eggs, a sufficient amount of flour to make a stiff dough, salt to season, then roll out into sheets as thin as possible; let dry before cutting. Then roll up as you would jelly cake and cut very fine. Noodles added ten minutes before serving the soup.

Minced Meat on Toast.

On our platter there was quite a little meat, potato and carrot, onion and gravy; in removing it from the platter put the meat separate. The next morning when it is cold put it through the meat chopper: also the vegetables, taking just what you think you will need for breakfast. Mix it with a little of the gravy, heat through and serve on toast. To the rest, if only a cupful in all, add two tablespoonfuls dried breadcrumbs, mix well, put into a small deep pan, and bake while you are getting your din-

Spider Corn Cake.

Take three-quarters cup cornmeal and flour enough to fill the cup, one tablespoon of sugar, half teaspoon salt, half teaspoon soda. Mix flour, meal, sugar, salt and soda together. Beat one egg and add half cup sweet milk and half cup sour milk and stir nto the dry mixture. Melt one tablespeon butter in a hot spider and pour in the mixture, pour over the top half cup sweet milk, but do not stir it in. Bake in a hot oven 20 minutes and serve at once.

Good Supper Dish.

Cut remnants of roast beef in small pieces, place in a baking dish in alternate layers with cold boiled cabbage and moisten with a tomato sauce well seasoned. Sprinkle some buttered bread or cracker crumbs over the top and bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Potato Cakes.

Take cold mashed potatoes, moisten with a little milk and make into

IMPORTANCE OF THE KITCHEN

Place Where Food Is Prepared, Above Everything, Should Be Kept Scrupulously Clean.

No part of our home is more important than the kitchen, whether we occupy it ourselves or relegate it to a maid. It does not do to imagine when furnishing that "any old thing" is good enough for kitchen use. Faded oil cloth and soiled rag carpet should not be seen in a part of the house that from the hygienic point of view should be all freshness and brightness. Our kitchens should be kept scrupulously clean, and they should be furnished with this end in view. No unnecessary articles should be there to get in the way of the occupants. The walls should be painted, or, if there is paper, it should be light and easily washed, and the floor ought to be covered with light inlaid in the beginning more, but it is the only satisfactory wear, and it has been found that light colors are really more economical than dark. A bright table cover and a basket chair are details of kitchen furnishing that will be much appreciated by the occupants.

PRIZE GRAND DUKE CAKE

Two cups sugar, one cup of butter, one cup sweet milk, white of eight eggs well beaten, three cups of flour after sifted, three teaspoonfuls baking powder, one teaspoonful vanilla.

Bake in three layers. Filling-One cup sugar, half cup water, cook until syrup strings; stir in the white of one egg beaten well: add half pound of chopped blanched almonds, half pound of seeded raisins chopped, half pound of figs chopped teaspoon of vanilla, ice the top of cake with boiled icing-one cup of sugar, half cup of water; cook until syrup strings; stir in the white of one egg beaten well, one teaspoonful vanilla and a pinch of cream tartar, and blanched almonds, and cut in two and put on top of cake and all sides .-National Food Magazine.

Maple Moose.

Cook this in a double boiler. One cup maple syrup, cook until it strings; add one dessertspoon powdered gela tine, soaked in a little cold water; heat this all together; beat four yolks of eggs, very light; pour the syrup over the yolks and stir, then put on the stove just for two to three minutes. Take it from the boiler and stir until it begins to thicken and when cool add a pinch of salt, beat whites of five eggs very light, and add it to the rest, and whip one pint of sweet double cream very stiff. Add this all together and flavor with what you Mold this and pack in snow or ice. Delicious when made as rule calls for.

Sugar Racks.

Some of the autumn brides have been receiving little silver wedding presents, the use of which it was hard to determine. These small silver racks are seven or eight inches long and a tall handle curves up over the middle, the rack standing on tiny carved legs. These racks are intend ed for the oblong slabs of sugar which are now preferred to the old-fashioned lumps. About 30 bits of sugar will fit on a rack and one may lift one off daintily without touching any of the Cocoanut Buns.

One pint of flour, one-half cupful of butter, one-half cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one egg, one-half cupful of finely chopped cocoanut, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, milk to make a stiff batter.

Rub the butter finely into the flour; add the baking powder, salt, sugar, cocoanut, the egg well beaten and the milk. Place in small pieces on a greased baking tin, brush over with milk, sprinkle with chopped cocoanut, and bake in a hot oven for 15 min-

Peanut Kisses.

Shell a half pint of peanuts, removing the brown skins, and chop or roll rather fine. Beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, but not dry. Add carefully two cups of granulated sugar, stir in the nuts and drop by teaspoonfuls on oiled paper. Bake in moderate oven until a golden brown.

Small Oyster Pies.

Take one quart oysters and chop fine. Make one-half pint rich drawn butter seasoned with salt and cayenne. Stir in the oysters and allow to boil five minutes. Pour into pastry shapes baked in small pie dishes. Put in the oven and cook two minutes. Serve immediately.

Pan Roast.

Melt a tablespoon of butter and add a dozen large oysters with a cup of the oyster liquor. Season with salt and pepper and cook two minutes. Put slices of toast on hot plates, a few oysters on each and pour on enough of the liquor to moisten.

Plain Waffles.

Two cups milk, two well-beaten eggs, three cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one saltspoon salt, one cakes. Fry in butter until a delicate tablespoon melted butter. Bake in well-heated waffle irons.

TO CUT OUT DRUDGERY

SIMPLIFIED HOUSEKEEPING WILL LIGHTEN THE WORK.

Solution of Domestic Service Problem Lies in Retrenching Requirements to the Limit of Our Simplest Needs.

We all of us know that the solution to the great domestic service problem lies through the straight road of simplification. When we retrench our requirements according to the limit of our simplest needs we shall begin to see a solution to much that perplexes us in the present aspect of things. Abolish the dozen superfluous dishes and depend upon the essential one, and one point of domestic service is lightened 50 per cent. It is a half day's work to wash the dishes after a pretentious modern dinner. Too many courses, too many fancy pieces, too much style has made of what should be an off-hand "chore," an ordeal of skilled labor. Dinners used to taste better in the old days when everything was served in one course and there were no dainty bread and butter bric-a-brac, bone plates and individual pieces for everything served, than it does now when too much style hampers the fun and crazes the serving maid. Throw out the non-essentials everywhere and retain only essentials. Lighten the work and make household duties what they ought to be, an easy task rather than an unending drudgery.

I do not mean to be understood even as saying that pretty things are non-essential. The more attractive one makes life the easier it runs, but prettiness and pretension are two different things. I can make my table as pretty with a bunch of boxwood and pinks in a 50-cent vase, or a plume of ferns in a bowl, as my neighbor can with jack roses at $5 or more a dozen in a cut-glass vase, the cost of which would keep two little hungry proteges of mine in bread for a month. I can serve as palatable a company lunch of creamy biscuits and honey and foamy milk, with a bit of fruit and a toss-up feathery cake or cream and have fewer dishes for the maid to wash and fewer bills for myself to pay, than the harrassed hostess does who employs a caterer and uses a dozen plates and spoons and glasses where one-quarter the number would

What rich woman is going to start this business of simplifying? It needs some one with wealth and prominent social standing to pioneer the good work. Somebody told me not long ago of a wealthy leader in society who kept up a distinct establishment for her servants. She gave them a parlor, a piano and a library. There s a good place to begin to simplify. Go back to the old-fashioned methods of servant hire and give some of the rest of us who have to work hard to keep a "parlor" and a piano for ourselves a chance to keep help. Simplify all along the line, from the kitchen to the great chamber, and usher in a new day.

Hot Ham Balls.

One cup sifted bread crumbs, two cups chicken stock or milk, one small slice of onion finely chopped, one level teaspoon finely chopped parsley, one-fourth level teaspoon paprika, one-fourth level teaspoon mustard, one egg, two cups finely chopped boiled ham.

Cook the crumbs, stock, onion and parsley in a double boiler until a smooth paste is formed. Remove from the fire, add the paprika, mustard, egg beaten slightly and ham. Mix well and cool. Shape into balls, dip in beaten egg, then in crumbs and fry in deep fat. Drain on brown paper. Serve with cabbage salad.

Resting While Working.

Many housewives tire themselves almost to exhaustion, when if they had a rocking chair in the kitchen a multitude of small matters, which do not require standing on the feet, could be done. Of course, the rocker need not be of an expensive kind so long as it gives comfort. Where the kitchen allows of it a couch could be placed there for the comfort of the housewife. She can rest on this while she waits for the roast to get done or for the slow fire to bring the soup pot to a Chop tomatoes; then salt. Let stand over night, drain through colander, put all together in granite kettle, chopped. Allow it to come to the boiling point. Stir and heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Bottle and seal.

Breakfast Muffins.

One cup flour, one-half cup sugar, one heaping teaspoonful baking pewder, one tablespoonful lard, pinch of salt and enough sweet milk or water to make a batter stiff enough to drop from a spoon. This quantity makes eight muffins. Bake until a light

MARYLAND.

GREEN ST., EMMITSBURG.

"At breakfast he asked the landlady for another plate of cakes. Honest! And when she asked him if he wouldn't like anything more—sarcastic, you know-he says, 'I believe I'll have another piece of steak, please.' Just that way. And he'd jabbed two pieces when the dish went around. He's looking for a job. I think we ought to make room for him here."

he got bitten up quite badly."

"Did the old lady throw the coffee pot at his head?" asked the cashier. "She ought to have," replied the bill clerk, with a grin. "It's a wonder

"She didn't then?" "Of course, she didn't," said the bill

"You don't mean to say that he got his plate of cakes and his steak?" de-manded the cashier. "Surely not?" "Of course, he did," answered the bill clerk. "Did you suppose she'd tell him he'd had all she could afford to give him? What kind of a joint do you think it is?" "Well, well," said the cashier. "No doubt it would be rather remarkable if the good woman objected to supply ing more food than this rustic per-

"Oh, I guess he didn't get any more than he paid for, if you come to that," said the bill clerk.

"The strange thing was that the young man should ask for what he wanted then?" queried the cashier "Is that it, Johnny?" "If you knew the old lady, you'd think it was," said the bill clerk. "And he got the cakes-and the steak," said the cashier. "He certainly must be a blockhead. If he'd kept still he'd have had the pleasure of leaving the table hungry, in all probability.

"It's to be hoped he will learn; if he doesn't, it's hard to predict what will become of him.

"To begin with, he'll go around ask ing for a job, I suppose, and he'll keep on asking until he gets it, instead of politely waiting for the job to come to him. It's quite evident that he hasn't any delicacy whatever. Think of a young man-with freckles on his nose, too!—asking busy people to give him work, just because he happens to want it. Shameful!"

"Well, if you think it's all right to put your feet in the trough, you can,' muttered the bill clerk.

"I'm not sure that it isn't all right, if you happen to be a hog and your associates are hoggish," said the cash-

"I'm not casting any reflections on your boarding house," he continued. "I merely want to call your attention to the fact that this is a cold, cruel world. It isn't enough to look hungry; you've got to holler for grub, and that in no uncertain tone. If you do that it's a hundred to one that you'll get it."

"Your friend, Mr. Timothy Hayseed, does not believe in wasting words." is making a pretty good beginning, if you ask me. When he gets his job, he'll ask about anything he wants to know and then he'll ask for a raise of salary.' "That's all the good it would do him if he worked here," remarked the bill clerk.

"You can't ever until you try," said the cashier. "After he's got most of the knowledge regarding the business," he continued, "he'll ask for a partnership, and he'll naturally get that.

"In course of time he'll ask the other members of the firm to retire, and they will gracefully skidoo. If they don't, he'll scoop in a majority of the stock and kick 'em out.

"Having accomplished this, he'll ask the principal firms in the same line of business to consolidate with him and allow him to direct their destinies, and they will do so.

"Then he will consider that his industry is entitled to a little special legislation of the fostering order, and he will ask for it. If he can put up the right kind of an argument to the commission, he'll get what he asks

"'Put up' is good," commented the bill clerk. "So all you've got to do to be the head of a trust is to ask for another plate of buckwheat cakes when you are a young man. Is that

"You're putting it the wrong way, Johnny," answered the cashier. "Not every young man who asks for a second helping will arrive at the eminence that I speak of, but if you take notice you will find that there is no trust magnate who is congenitally bashful about asking for anything that he thinks he wants."

"I was under the impression that they took what they wanted without asking," said the bill clerk.

WILLING TO KEEP HER.

Edgar, who had in his orisons been making nightly appeals for a little brother, was sent a few evenings ago to visit his grandparents. When he returned home on the following morning he was informed that the stork had brought him a sister. Edgar was sadly disappointed and disposed to hastily conclude that prayer was futile. After some delay, however, he consented to permit the nurse to lead him to the basket in which his little sister lay. He looked at her long and earnestly, and then, as if a great weight had been lifted from his mind, said:

"Well, she looks intelligent, anythere, but the cows were always mis-

WHY ADVERTISING IS READ

Saves the Public an Immense Amount of Time in These Days of Hustle. One great reason for the tremendous modern vogue of advertising, is the amount of time it saves the public in these days of hustle.

When a person starts out to find a certain article without any previous notion of where it can be bought to best advantage, a wearisome round of shopping usually becomes necessary. Mellie Magwell. Shopping usually becomes necessary. With all the calls upon one's time. people are little inclined to start out in this aimless way.

The merchant that gives the public a good idea of his stock through the newspaper catches a crowd of people who dislike to waste their time on indefinite shopping expeditions.

Furthermore, many people dislike to go into a store and take the time clerks or the proprietor to look over a stock unless they are fairly sure of buying. If they can satisfy ALL not that man wretched themselves in advance they can probably get what they want at a certain place, they feel that by going there they have saved their own time and energy, and have escaped the embarassment of looking over a stock without buying anything.

SUITABLE FOR STOUT WOMEN.

The skirt with many gores is the easiest of all to fit. The model which we illustrate has 11 gores and there fore can be adapted to almost any figure. It gives a slenderness of line which is very desirable. It is a model which makes an excellent foundation skirt for the silk drop of voile or other transparent fabric and it also provides a suitable style for rather thick materials which are in use for strictly tailored models.

The pattern (4871) is cut in sizes 22 to 34 inches waist measure. Medium size requires 61/2 yards of 36 inch material.

Ancient Ideas of Africa. In medieval times Africa was an unknown continent as well as Asia. Until a few years after the discovery of Columbus no one had sailed around it, and it was quite generally thought, Do not advertise for the sake of as it had previously been thought in tinent extended on and on indefinitely. It was supposed that far to the south was the zone of heat, in which no human being could live. This was by no means an unreasonable inference to the ancients. They knew that the farther they sailed to the north the colder it grew and that in the extreme north was a region of perpetual snow. They also knew that the farther they sailed to the south the warmer it grew, and what was more natural for them to suppose that if they went far enough in that direction they would come upon lands that were parched and baked and upon seas that boiled, where nothing could live but salamanders?

AUXILIARY PLANTER IS NEW

Implement May Be Used in Conjunction With Any Other Piece of Farm Machinery.

An auxiliary planter, the invention of A. R. Baldwin of Springfield, Mo. is described by the Scientific American as follows:

vious, as it enables the planter to be used in conjunction with any other suitable farm implement. As an instance, it will be conceived that to attach a planter thus constructed to follow gang plows or harrows would serve to shorten the operation of preparing the field by just so much time, cost and labor as would be needed to plant the field after the bed has been prepared, as is the present custom.

FERTILITY RETURNED TO SOIL

Professor Hopkins Contends Phosphorus Should Be Applied in Live. Stock Farming as in Grain.

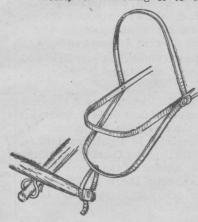

Of course in this computation it is assumed that there is practically no loss of fertility in the farmyard manure, though it is well known that practically this amount of care is never used by the average or even by the most careful farmer. Even if the nitrogen and humus of the soil were maintained Professor Hopkins says that unless some supplementary foodstuffs are used, or manure purchased, "it is necessary to purchase and apply some phosphorus in order to replace that sold in the animals and animal products, butter and milk being the only important farm products that do not contain appreciable amounts of phosphorus.

It is contended by Professor Hopkins that phosphorus should be applied in livestock farming the same as in grain farming, because even under a system of feeding all the crops there is a loss of 20 pounds per acre in four years with livestock farming when grain crops yield 50 bushels per acre and hay one and one-half tons per acre and these are fed and the manure returned to the land

DEVICE FOR DOUBLE HARNESS

Attachment Shown in Illustration Will Be Found Convenient and Tells Its Own Story.

It is often desirable to hitch up a double team with single harness where a regular double harness is not at hand, or if at hand is perhaps too heavy. The special objection to using a breast plate in a double rig has been the difficulty of attaching it to the yoke so the horse might easily hold back the load. The device shown in the sketch tells its own story. The extra front attachment passes back and connects with the breeching giving the same power to the horse in holding back the load as he has in single harness.

Impassable Roads.

Where weeds are left to flourish along the roadsides the snow will be quite liable to drift in and make the roads impassable. This will call for a few good resolutions on the part of those who must travel these roads that next year these roadsides will be cleared, but like other good resolutions they will be forgotten when another year rolls around. "'Twas ever Ideal Barnyard.

Of course the ideal barnyard is one made of crushed rock and cement, but this is quite expensive and is hardly necessary. With a clean dry yard surrounding the dairy barn the milk can be kept in perfect condition as it is not a difficult matter to remove every particle of manure or mud from the yard every day.
