In Connection With Knights Templar Conclave

GOVERNOR TO BE THERE ONE DAY

Hundreds of Delegate in Big Parade.-Aerial Flights Start at the Fair Grounds May 7 and 8.—City is Prepared for Large Crowd.

An opportunity will be given the people of this county to see an aeroplane sailing in our own blue skies. Frederick is getting ready for the 42nd conclave of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Maryland to be held May 6--8 at which time, by way of amusement, arrangements have been made for several aeroplane flights. This exhibition, under auspices of the Frederick News, will be given at the Fair Grounds on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 7 and 8. The big building will contain machinery from the start with a capacity of 3,000 kilowatts and space will be reserved for the addition of as much more doubling the capacity of the plant with but little additional expenses beyond the cost of the machinery. When completed this will be next to the largest power plant in the State, and the largest in the State outside of Baltimore

Everything as far as possible will be automatic and the entire plant will be operated by but a few men. The construction will permit of the erection of additional units whenever they are needed, and manual labor will be eliminated by the use of machinery in every detail of the operation. The labor-saving devices and the installation of only s believed the stock and honds will quickly disposed of.

On Saturday the power company received from the Antietam Paper Co., the deed for the land on which the plant will be erected at Security. The land is from a portion which the Paper Company owns at that point, where it owns and operates a paper mill.

Work has already been started upon the grounds where the plant will be erected. Harry E. Bester, of Hagerstown, a contractor, has started a force of men at work grading for a switch from the Western Maryland Railroad into the building site. All of the material will be hauled to the site aboard

This project when completed will afford Emmitsburg electrical facilities that otherwise could not be enjoyed and at a rate probably considerably lower than would be possible from a small plant located here.

Word from those directly interested in the lighting project in Emmitsburg will be anxiously awaited.

Hagerstown Wage Dispute Settled.

After several days' conference in Hagerstown the officials of the Western Maryland Railway Company and the machinists and apprentices have reached an amicable settlement of the wage

Under the new agreement the machinist will receive, dating from April 1, 33 and 35 cents an hour, and after July 1 from 34 to 36 cents an hour. The apprentices have also received a slight increase.

The increase affects shop workmen all over the Western Maryland system, and the schedule is for a year.

ESTABLISHMENT OF PLANT MARKETS

cities is insensible to the fact that more flowers and fruit and jelly are needed, and one so willing to do work herself surely wishes she might interest others to do the same. How can this wish be fulfilled?

By spreading a knowledge of the work.

By making it attractive.

By making it seem worth while. The Plant Market accomplishes this. "But it seems such an enormous undertaking!" I hear over my wireless from some reader. No: you remember the old story or fable of Columbus' Egg. It is easy enough when you know how. My purpose, as I write to you this morning, is to tell you just how. All the "equipment" you require is:

Six or eight empty barrels or carpenter's "horses" and some rough boards.

Some old newspapers. Posters and postal cards.

The Flower Guild office will furnish you ready made posters and postal cards, on which you write the hour and date of the Market. You probably can supply the old newspapers. Our experience is that any mason or carpenter will gladly loan and deliver on the grounds the boards and barrels.

These last are, of course, to make your tables, which should be the width of two or three boards. This requires no nailing; the boards are only laid on these supports. The best form is a hollow square. The newspapers spread on the boards give a tidy and uniform appearance, but their main purpose is to furnish a moist foundation and so keep the plants fresh.

"But where do I get the plants?" Every one in making over a garden in the Spring finds that the plants for the sake of health must be divided. Take this surplus growth to the Plant Market and get other varieties of lovely

To grieve their mother's breast. My mother, I know, Would sorrow so Should I be stolen away; So I'll speak to the birds In my softest words, Nor hurt them in my play. And when they can fly, In the bright blue sky They'll warble a song to me; And then if I'm sad, It will make me so glad, To think they are happy and free.

THE STORE WHERE EVERY PURCHASE Must BE SATISFACTORY

One of the foundation principles of the Hochschild, Kohn & Co. Store, laid down nearly fifteen years ago, was this: "Every article sold in this store must give satisfaction; if it does not, the purchaser is to receive a new article, or the purchase money."

This principle has been practised every business day since November 15, 1897 and it has helped to make this business grow as no retail business in Baltimore ever grew.

Added to this security, every purchaser has the knowledge, born of experience, that Hochschild, Kohn & Co. merchandise is the best possible value for the money. And added to this, is the knowledge that Hochschild, Kohn & Co. stocks offer wider variety, and are selected with the best of taste and judgment.

When you come to Baltimore for your spring shopping, there's just one logical place to visit—the Hochschild, Kohn & Co. Store.

The mean annual rainfall in the city of Manila is about 76 inches. This is nearly the same as that in several localities in northern California and Oregon. The coolest months in all the islands are December, January and Feb. 8th, 1912 February; the hottest, March, April and May. During the height of the rainy season large sections are more or less exposed to typhoons. FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the production of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scoth-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Linganore Hills and the Catoctin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.-Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

ATTEND THE FESTIVAL.

The efforts of the Vigilant Hose Company to center public interest on an important project for the public good should receive the support of all liberal minded citizens. This will undoubtedly be the case, and the festival held to-night and tomorrow in Emerald Hall will net a handsome sum toward the fund the firemen are raising.

In recounting the benefits the town has derived from these gentlemen it must not be forgotten that Firemen's Park, while in the name of the Vigilant Hose Company, is nevertheless public property just as the town hall will be when they have acquired ed the Payne-Aldrich law is cited as of funds sufficient to make such a in this project has nothing of selfishness in it however much it may benefit them when constructed. Such being the case all should make it a matter of personal and town pride that this festival be successful.

Reactionary Leaders Now Admit He Gould Not Be Elected if Nominated.

NEW YORK SUN TELLS TRUTH

In a Carefully Prepared Article This Representative of the Interests That duced. Are Supporting Taft Frankly Declares That His Renomination Means Defeat In the November Election. The Secret Scheme Uncovered.

That President Taft cannot be elect ed if nominated is conceded by the New York Sun in a carefully prepared article published Sunday, March 31 and sent by the Sun for simultaneous publication in all the newspapers throughout the country which sub

The undeniable importance of this statement by the Sun is due to the Sun's attitude of opposition to all progressives and to Theodore Roosevelt in particular, as well as to the recognition given it as a representative and spokesman of the great business in terests which center in New York and of the political organization in New York which recently manipulated the fraudulent and farcical primaries held in the state. It adds to the significance of the Sun's statement that its article, although ostensibly the result of careful investigation, was withheld until aft er the organization bosses had put through the fraudulent primary elec tion of delegates, in which they carefully refrained from instructing a single one of the men they claim to have elected for Taft.

The investigation upon which the article is based had been completed and the article actually prepared before the primaries were held, showing apparently that at the time the New York bosses were engaged in stifling public sentiment in order to prevent the election of Roosevelt delegates there was what the Sun declares to be a general agreement among the reac tionary political leaders that Mr. Taft's candidacy had become a virtual

It is now apparent that the sole purpose of the machine bosses and the special privilege interests, to whom Mr. Taft is looking for a renomination, have abandoned all idea of supporting him and that their only purpose is to prevent the nomination of Roosevelt, so that a compromise candidate favorable to the special privilege interests and in harmony with machine pur-Although still friendly to Taft, the

These Republicans declare that they will take any reasonable step which would seem to insure their party's victory at the polls in November next.

"The Republicans who expressed these views," the Sun says, "are be lievers in season and out of season in the policies of their party. Among this class of Republicans are merchants, importers, business men gen erally and professional men and the rank and file of small Republican shopkeepers and workingmen. The Sun then says:

"Several months ago influential Republicans, some of them very close to President Taft, declared beneath their breath that the president if renominated could not be re-elected. While expressing this opinion they hadn't the remotest shadow of a doubt that the president, through the power of federal patronage, could force his own renomination.'

Among the reasons given by the Sun why President Taft cannot be re-elect- contrary to a widely established precegreatest importance. Respecting this of judges and the recall of judicial dethe Sun says:

1908 called for an immediate extraordinary session of congress in the event of Taft's election to revise the tariff In obedience to his party's platform President Taft called the extraordinar; session of congress, which produced the Aldrich-Payne law, and the pres dent's troubles and his party's compli cations have grown and become mor entangled from the day he signed that law. That law gave the progressive substantial footing for their opposition to the Taft administration and afford ed them grounds to go before the per ple on the question. In addition ther have been a myriad other troublesom complications, all intended to weak the president and to bring about bitte discord in the ranks of his party.

"It has been this discord, these cor plications, that have led Republicar entirely friendly to the president to de clare that, while he could force his o. renomination, it was exceeding doubtful if he could be re-elected."

The Sun adds: "With the assembling of congress Washington in December last the larations that the president could ' a elected if renominated took on nore emphatic tone."

The Sun declares that leading Republicans, by which the Sun obviously means leading reactionaries, frankly admit that they do not know and have no means of knowing the full extent of the Roosevelt strength in the different states. The same leaders, the Sun says, express doubt if Mr. Roosevelt himself could persuade his folowers to support Taft.

It is known that what the Sun points out with such clearness is the real belief of all the reactionary leaders both in Washington and those throughout the country.

The fight has ceased to be one for the renomination of President Taft and has become one solely to prevent the voters of the nation from controlling the convention and forcing the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt.

This is a concession to the rapidly increasing strength of the Roosevelt movement, which indicates the desperation to which the machine bosses and the special privilege interests are re-

Tries False Pretenses to Secure Contributions to the Campaign Fund of Its Candidate.

CIRCULAR TO WALL STREET OUT

One of the means adopted by the Total representatives of big business behind President Taft to notify other representatives of big business that more money is required to carry on the Taft campaign is described by competent lawyers as a violation of section 1290 of the penal code of New York.

A few days ago a confidential circu lar letter was sent out from Wall street to a number of the most wealthy people in New York and perhaps elsewhere asking for immediate financial assistance for the Taft campaign. The language of the letter was plainly in tended to convey the warning that Colonel Roosevelt seeks to establish the popular recall of the justices of the Director M. and M. National supreme court of the United States and of their decisions, thereby nullifying the constitution of the United States and menacing the fundamenta principles of the government. Having used his falsehood as a scare, the letter then asks for a contribution to "bring these facts before the electorate and to insure the renomination of Pres ayable to Robert F. Huse, care Red mond & Co., 33 Pine street."

Inasmuch as Colonel Roosevelt has never advocated the recall of the justices of the supreme court of the United States nor the decisions thereof. Director Union Electric L. On Flossie's Advice

"Yes," said. young Mrs. Tomlinson as she poured a glassful of water into a shallow bewl filled with blooming bulbs, "they did bloom at last and they are pretty. But don't you ever let any one tell you what Flossie told me about them, for it isn't true."

"Chinese lilies or narcissus?" asked her visitor, as she slipped off her pinless hat and warmed her blue tipped fingers against the tea cozy, all set for gentle brewing.

"I'm sure I don't know. I bought both kinds of bulbs and they got mixed, and now every bowl has some flowers with yellow centers and some that are white and everybody tells me a different story about which is which. But that doesn't matter nearly so much as the rest of it." Young Mrs. Tomlinson sank into her wicker chair and began to arrange the delicate tea cups, and after that she uncovered a pile of cheese sandwiches.

"It is all lovely," exclaimed her friend. "All—tea, cheese, sandwiches and flowers. I am cold and hungry, ence, even if the other boarders do so hurry the tea, and do tell me what laugh at the way you handle your Flossie said that wasn't true."

> "None of it was true-about the bulbs," declared young Mrs. Tomlinson, sternly. "And she started me on them, you know. She was here last summer when we gave our rubber plant to Aunt Sophie because Harry said it was too big to live with and fussed so about it. I was sorry to see it go, for it was the only thing I ever made grow, and I have spent a fortune on ferns and various kinds of plants. They die the minute I touch them. So Flossie suggested bulbs. They were quite cheap, she told me.

"'Just get some cheap, plain glass bowls,' said Flossie, 'and you can gather enough pebbles this summer to fill them. Then get the bulbs—at 25 cents a dozen-and you have flowers for the entire winter. Plant them two weeks apart and then keep them in the dark for two weeks. In six weeks they bloom and you can keep taking out your bowls as the old flowers die." It sounded delightful, so I decided to

"That was in July. We were going north for the rest of the summer, so I just made a note of it and watched for pebbles. Whenever we were in swimming or were walking by the lake I made everybody pick up pebbles for me. Harry said his pockets were full of stones all summer long, and he got awfully mad once because I emptied the cigars out of a new cigar box to put stones in, though I covered up the cigars and they weren't

"I brought back four boxes of stones -perfect beauties, blue and white and yellow and pink. Then I began to look up bowls. Flossie said the bowls would cost almost nothing at all, and I began to look for plain glass bowls. The cheap ones were dreadful pressed glass things and the only pretty ones were $1 each, so I got two of those and then looked at nottery Harry says that there's where I lost my head, but I looked on the bowls as an investment. And I got some beauties. They cost more than the others, but I thought they were worth the money, and the Japanese clerk was such a dear about choosing them.

"Then I got the bulbs. And instead of costing 25 cents a dozen they were three for a quarter. Flossie said 1 went to the wrong place, but I didn't know that, and I had bought six bowls, so I had to have plenty of "About October 1 I began to set them out so they would begin blooming about November 15. I never have got over this part of it. Harry has always given his cigar boxes to a neighbor boy and he came over to play in our basement one day and found my pebbles in those boxes and threw them all into the alley!

"Harry wasn't at all sympathetic. He simply refused to go and gather more pebbles by the lake, which he Miss Gaddie-Enemies, are you? might have done to save expense, and so I had to go back to the bulb store and buy little ugly, commonplace stones for ten cents a quart.

"I finally got one bowl started in the dark in the coat closet. There Harry found it before it was a week old and spilled it all over the silk lapels of his new tuxedo. Of course, Old Hen-Now, don't that beat all! his tailor could fix that, but he insists on counting it in as part of the expense. He never seemed to care for my bulb ambitions.

"That bowl was broken, and of course it was the nicest, and the little tender sprouts were harmed, so I had to begin again. I took all the things out of the closet and had the janitor put up some shelves, and it didn't cost much and was a splendid place for the

"But all winter Harry has said that he hasn't been able to find a thing in its proper place. He quieted down a bit after the bulbs got to blooming -until he got his newspaper in a bowl one night, and then you really should have heard him rave, though it was just his own carelessness.

"Of course, I have learned a lot about bulbs. I tell Harry that next year, since I have my equipment, everything will go much better. It is an investment, you see, so I must go Watt Smatter-Why do you keep on on, for there are only the bulbs to gathered on Easter Monday evening an assemply with one purpose in view and to state that the operation was a successful one and that the brave patient those who participated in the pleasures and benefits of the gathering will ever remember it with pleasure and satisfac-

Cards of invitation were sent to every man, woman and child connected with the Church asking them to attend bringing with them a silk bag, each Wednesday Prayer Meeting 7:30 p.m. containing a number of pennies corresponding to the number of their years. The response was commendable, all, even those not able to attend, turning in their contribution.

At an appointed time a child representing each month of the year, commencing with January, came to the front having a basket and repeated a verse appropriate to the month represented. Those of the assembly born in that month then came forward and deposited their silk bag. This was done until the year was covered.

When the contents were counted it was found that a sum of $109 was realized. This unexpectedly large sum put all in a good humor. Music and singing helped to make the programme more varied and pleasant. Social intermingling was one of the pleasant events of the occasion. It was

TAFT INSISTS ON AID TO FARMERS

Says Department of Agriculture Work Must Go On.

LABORS FOR CONSERVATION

Farreaching Legislation Administered by Scientists of Rank Brings Good Results to Tillers of Soil-Food and Drugs Act Upheld to the Letter.

In his inaugural address President Taft called attention to the deficit then existing in the revenues and the con sequent necessity for rigid economy in expenditures. However, the president singled out the department of agriculture as an exception. He said, to quote his exact words, "In the department of agriculture the use of scientific experiments on a large scale, and the spread of information derived from them for the improvement of general agriculture must go on." This view the president has steadily maintained. and repeatedly has urged appropriations for the work of the department.

In his omprehensive message on conservation President Taft said, "The feature that transcends all others, in eluding woods, waters, minerals, is the soil of the country," and that all means at the government's disposal should be used to conserve the soils, adding, "a work of the utmost importance to inform and instruct the public on this chief branch of the conservation of our resources is being carried on success fully in the department of agriculture.'

Reports made recently to Secretary Wilson of the department of agricul ture by the heads of his bureaus justi fy this solicitude on the part of the president for the department. In calling for these reports the secretary asked that they be brief and that they mention notable achievements of the last five years only, inasmuch as that period is really the period of fruition in the department, the period during which, owing to the broad foundations previously laid by the training and grouping of many corps of scientific men, by securing farreaching legislation, by gathering together masses of statistics and other information, by providing scientific and other equipment, it has been possible to produce most marvelous results for the common good of the people.

Taft For Conservation.

In his conservation message Presi dent Taft emphasized the importance of the maintenance of the forests and urged their scientific treatment "se that they shall be made to yield-a large return in timber without really reducing the supply," and in other message he pointed out the necessity of refor estation. In accordance with thes views much available work has been done in protecting the national forests and by researches in the laboratory of the department at Madison, Wis., and in the past five years the work of reforesting burned over areas has p ceeded at the rate of 15,000 to 30.000 acres a year. The department takes justifiable pride in its forest work, considering the administration of 100,000. 000 acres of land protected and man aged for the public benefit a great achievement.

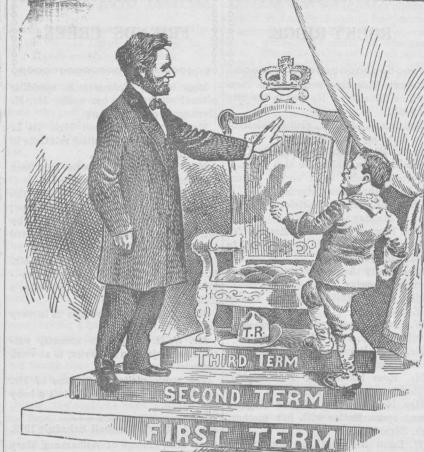

Since Jan. 1, 1907, when the food and drugs act went into effect, more has been done to provide a good, clear food supply than in all the preceding life of the nation. A wonderful chang has also been effected in the characte of the drugs on sale. The department has a trained force of inspectors and chemists doing excellent work in a parts of the country in behalf of pure foods and pure drugs. This salutar, law, however, needs amendment, the supreme court held in May, 1911 that its provisions, to quote Presiden Taft's words in his vigorous messas to congress a month later, "do no cover the knowingly false labeling of nostrums as to curative effect." The president added: "An evil which me aces the general health of the peop strikes at the life of the nation. I my opinion the sale of dangerous adulterated drugs * * * constitute such an evil and warrants me in call ing the matter to the attention of the Work of Soil Mapping.

Of importance to the farmer has been the work carried on in the pas five years of soil mapping and classif cation, so that now the area include is 407,009 square miles, or nearly 41 000,000 acres. The value of this worl is incalculable.

Disseminating the valuable inform. tion acquired by the department has proved a wonderful work. Practically 200,000,000 publications have been dis tributed since Secretary Wilson as sumed control of the department, an more than half (103,598,100) of that number have been distributed within the past five years

Other work accomplished by the department includes a comprehensive system of weather warnings and fore easts, the meat inspection service i which 2,500 experts are employed, wh see that every pound of meat sent in terstate is fit for human food, protection of live stock, the checking of ro dent pests, the destruction of noxious insects, the conservation of water sup plies, the building and care of publi roads and the policy for better farm houses, so that every dollar expended in the prosecution of this work in its numerous phases has brought back a hundred fold to the people.

"It thirsts and burns for distinction; and, if possible, it will have it. Is it unreasonable, then, to expect that some men, possessed of the loftiest genius, coupled with ambition sufficient to push it to the utmost stretch, will at sometime spring up among us? And when such a one does, it will require the people to be united with each other, attached to the government and laws, and generally intelligent, to successfully Distinction will be his paramount object, and although he would as willingly acquire it by doing good as harm, yet nothing left in the way of building up he would sit down boldly to the task of pulling down. Here then is a probable case, highly dangerous."

-From the Omaha Daily Bee, March 19, 1912.

Administration's Record Squares With Its Promises.

MANY NEW LAWS ENACTED

Postal Savings Banks, Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability Laws Passed-Eight Hour Law Upheld-Labor Recognized on Commissions.

From the day three years ago when it placed its interests in the keeping o. William Howard Taft to this hour la bor has critically scanned his every act, and with discriminating mind it is judging him as one who, without clamor or demonstration, has kept the faith On Sept. 9, 1908, Theodore Roosevelt. then president of the United States. nimself to the laboring men, said:

"If there is one body of men more than another whose support I feel 1 have a right to challenge on behalf of Secretary Taft it is the body of wage workers of the country. A stancher friend, a fairer and truer represent everything in his power for them ex will do wrong for no man and therefore can be trusted by all men."

Mr. Taft Labor's Friend.

The workingmen of the country judged Mr. Taft in 1908 by a record of twenty-seven years as a statesman ad ministrator of national affairs and pres idential adviser, and they helped to give him the magnificent majority During the three years he has been president his excellent record has been maintained so splendidly that the la boring men have been confirmed in the belief that they never had a better friend in the White House.

The establishment of the postal sav ings banks, which was recommended by President Taft, was one of the things that organized labor favored, The $16,000,000 now on deposit in these depositories represents the savings of the wage earners.

Taft's Personal Interest.

President Taft approved a law on May 30, 1908, to compensate workmen for injuries received while in the em ploy of the United States. After th passage of this act a number of work men in the employ of the federal gov ernment were killed, and their fam ilies, not being familiar with the pro visions of the law, failed to file affida vits within the specified time. The sea retary of commerce and labor had no power to set aside the provision of the law and was therefore obliged to dis approve the claims

The matter was taken up by the pres ident, and he satisfied himself that just tice was not being done to the familie of the men who had been killed. He sent a special message to congress rec ommending that a general act be pass ed allowing all such claimants compen sation if their claims were otherwise meritorious. This was an instance that proved the president to be broadmind ed and anxious to aid the workingme in any way that he could. An employers' liability act approve June 11, 1906, was on January 8, 1908, held to be unconstitutional. Another of this sort was passed on April 22, 1908, which as yet has not been tested in the courts. Through the efforts of the president a commission was appointed to make an investigation of the subject of "employers' liability and workmen's compensation."

Labor Men Appointed.

The report of the commission, the evidence taken before it and the draft of the bill prepared as a result of the findings of said commission have been transmitted to congress, accompanied by a special message by President Taft, in which he recommends the passage of the proposed measure. In their deliberations the members of the commission had the benefit of frequent consultations with the president. It is believed the act will stand the test of constitutionality.

In order that the commission might have the benefit of the experience of a practical man President Taft appointed as one of its members Daniel L. Cease, the editor of the Railroad Trainmen's Journal, the official organ of the railroad trainmen. Mr. Cease has devoted the best years of his use ful life to the cause of labor. The president also appointed experienced labor men as inspectors under the lowrote a letter to Conrad Kohrs on the comotive boiler inspection law. They issues of the campaign and, addressing were John F. Ensign of Colorado and Frank McManamy of Oregon for chief inspector and assistant chief inspector respectively

The defects in the present eight hour law have not escaped the attention of President Taft. He has recommended to congress amendments which will make it really effective by "providing ative they cannot find within the bor that public works shall be construed ders of the United States. He will do to include not only buildings and works upon public grounds, but also cept to do that which is wrong. He ships' armor and large guns when manufactured in private yards or fac-

Thirty Years' Service.

With regard to the high cost of liv ing, which increases the burden of the wage earners, President Taft has already taken the initiative that will result in a worldwide inquiry into this problem. He has advocated the assembling of a world's congress to diswhich put him in the White House cuss its varied phases and to suggest remedies This unparalleled record of thirty years' service to the cause of all the people is deserving of consideration. No charge of broken faith or of broken promises can be made, no hint of de parture from the plain path of duty can be laid at the door of William Howard Taft, who without ostentatious display has wisely and fearless ly administered the trust imposed upon him in 1908, when he was elected to his high office by the votes of laboring men.

BUILD TILE POULTRY HOUSE

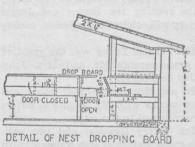

Careful Thought Should Be Given to Location in Construction as it Cannot be Moved.

(By D. J. JANE, Minnesota Experiment,

When constructing a tile poultry house, careful thought should be given to the location, because such a house must be permanent and cannot be

The house shown is 14 x 20 feet in size, and of the open front style. It is 8 feet high in front, 4 feet in the rear, and has the shed roof. The shed roof is the easiest to construct, drains all water to one side, and admits more sunlight, but cannot be used economically on wide buildings. The tile is laid on a 3-inch foundation about 18 inches deep, 8 inches above and 10 inches below the surface of the ground. This foundation is made of a mixture of one part of cement to six parts of sand. floor of cement is not constructed until the roof and walls are finished.

The door is located in the front or south side, and is 3 x 6 feet in size; allowing plenty of room for an attendant to work easily. The window and door frames are made of 2x6 inch lumber, and cemented in. The muslin window is hung on hinges, and swings open to the ceiling.

The dropping-board is on the north side, is three feet wide, and extends the length of the building. The roosts are made in two sections, of 2 in. by 2 in. stuff. They are nailed on 2 inmf by 4 in. The sections can easily be removed from the dropping boards on which they rest.

Below the dropping boards are 15 nests, 12 x 14 inches in size. These are made in blocks of five and pull out like a drawer. The hens enter from the rear.

GIVE HENS CHANCE TO WORK

They Will Take All Necessary Exercise If Given Opportunity-Must Have Something to Scratch.

It is not necessary to compel fowls to exercise—they will do it themselves if they are given the opportunity. All they need is a good run or a scratching shed, and a litter into which has been scattered some small grains, and they will work without being forced to do so.

It is absolutely necessary, however, to give them something in which to work, and something for which to work. Fowls will not, as a rule, work industriously and scratch in nothing and be rewarded with nothing. If they are on a range they can secure work for themselves, but when penned up they must be given a good scratch. ing shed and plenty of litter to scratch in.

The seeds which they find will not take the place of their regular meals, but act as a portion of the food, and also assist them to take the proper exercise.

Egg Laying.
The first egg laid by a pullet is the smallest and the size increases gradually until about a dozen have been laid when they begin to decrease.

Attend the poultry shows in your neighborhood and if you have any ex tra fine birds take them along. They may not win but your interest in them will prompt you to learn what a really good bird is.
