POLITICS AND THE CHURCH

THE "CATHOLIC VOTE"

Prominent Priest Corrects Wrong Impressions

CANDIDATES ARE BROAD MEN

Religion Should Not Enter Politics, and With the Catholic Does Not.—No Bishop or Priest Looks To Religious Affiliation.

Which will the "Catholic Vote" go?

Since the nomination of Taft and of Wilson much has been said and written purporting to show why Catholics would vote for Taft and against Wilson. To those who attempt to essay such statements or who have been influenced by them, the following by Rev. John F. Noll, an eminent Catholic priest and editor of The Sunday Visitor, should prove of interest, showing as it does that the Catholic Church does not tell its members how to cast their ballot, and that their is no such thing as a Catholic vote:

"Despite a quite general impression to the contrary, neither Catholic bishop, priest, or layman, takes any cognizance of the religious affiliation of any nominee for an office, if his other qualifications be satisfactory.

"During the last half year several despicable sheets have been born, ostensibly to fight the Catholic Church, but really to defeat President Taft. During every National Campaign one of the political parties strives to win votes from that element which is prejudiced against the Catholic Church, by representing that Catholics are all for the other fellow, either because of favors shown or favors hoped for.

"However, several papers, such as 'Watson's Magazine' in the South, and the 'Menace' in the West, have been, from political motives, appealing to prejudice against the Catholic Church. They have been warning their benighted readers against the Roman Catholic Political Machine, and telling how President Taft is under Catholic control, and therefore he must be defeated in November.

"How many of our readers are ready to believe the silly charges I do not know, but I am willing to take a solemn oath and stake my whole reputation on it to the effect that there is no Catholic Political Machine, that there is no such thing as a 'Catholic Vote.'

"No Catholic, neither pope, bishop or priest had any care, whether one or more of those selected to head the National tickets were Catholic, and now that the nominations have been made, there is no 'Catholic disappointment.' If men in high office are brought in contact with Catholic affairs more than with those of other denominations, it is because of our greater number in the country. Very few Catholics knew Governor Burke to be a Catholic.

"Taft and Sherman, Wilson and Marshall, are all broad minded men, and hold no silly prejudice against the Catholic Church. Only recently each has committed himself unwittingly:

"President Taft on January 26, of this year said: 'Non-Catholics may properly express a high appreciation of the good influence of the Catholic Church in our community.'

"Last summer Vice-President Sherman, at Kalamazoo, Michigan, spoke along the same lines.

"Governor Wilson: 'Here is a group of men who illustrate in their lives and conduct not only public morality, but the teachings of the great (Catholic) Church of which they are members.' (Trenton, 1910.)

"Governor Marshall: 'I like many things about the Catholic Church, and I am not coward enough to conceal it in the State of Indiana.' (Rensselaer, Indiana, 1910)'

"Religion should not enter politics—they are things apart," says The Monitor the official Catholic Weekly of New Jersey. "And with the Catholic, it does not enter. We never think of enquiring what is a candidate's religion or discriminating against him for it."

Gov. Wilson confesses to grave anxiety as to the state of health of National Chairman W. F. McCombs, who is suffering from intestinal poisoning, but expresses the hope that he will recover in time to resume charge of his campaign, which Vice Chairman McAdoo is now conducting. Gov. Wilson indicates that he will not make an extended speaking tour.

John M. Slaton, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Georgia, was accorded a landslide in the primaries, polling a popular vote of nearly 100,000 out of about 150,000 cast.

OLYMPIC CHAMPIONS GIVEN AN OVATION IN NEW YORK

Immense Crowds See Triumphant Parade of Athletic Heroes and Give Them Warm Welcome.

New York outdid herself in giving a wonderful welcome and ovation to the members of the victorious Olympic team. It seemed fitting that the greatest American city should officially honor the greatest American team that ever left these shores to match skill and brawn against the best that the rest of the world could produce. All roads apparently led toward the route of the parade which was held in honor of the champions. In the evening a dinner was held in Terrace Garden at which the athletes were the guests of honor.

Each man's record was seemingly known by the assembled crowds along the route, and as he rode by he was loudly cheered. Opinion was divided as to whether Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian School lad, who won the world's all-round championship, or big Pat McDonald, the Times Square traffic policeman, got the greater acclaim.

Seldom, if ever, has such a demonstration been given to American athletes, and at its end James E. Sullivan, the United States Commissioner to the sports at Stockholm, said that the outpouring spoke for a continuance of the unexcelled superiority of the athletes of this country.

Along the route were many decorations, and the National colors were shown in profusion on the establishments of business houses along the line of March. The route led from Forty-first Street and Fifth Avenue down the avenue to Waverly place, where a turn was made to Broadway and thence down that thoroughfare to City Hall, where the marchers were reviewed by Mayor Gaynor and the Citizens' Committee.

Unquestionably the most picturesque portion of the long parade was the Swedish delegations, made up of the Stockholm Club of New York, the Swedish-American Athletic Club, the Swedish Society, and the Swedish Hundred Men. The latter were attired in the national costume of the period of Gustavus Adolphus. Another section portrayed the Saxon type of that period. Interspersed with the organizations were numerous Swedish women in costumes which lent a variety of color to the whole scheme. Dr. Hoving is said to have been the moving spirit in arranging for this part of the demonstration, being assisted by Emil F. Johnson, who led the column.

After the procession had been halted at the City Hall plaza Mayor Gaynor gave the assembled athletes an address of welcome, in which he said:

"The prowess you have displayed has been the medium of comment for the people of the world, and particularly Europe. You have shown that you possessed American stomachs, hearts, muscles, and heads. You notice that I have placed the stomach first, for, remembering the old adage, the heart to be of use must be helped by a good stomach, and upon the strength of the heart rests the man's ability in athletics. Your accomplishments excited the greatest admiration here and in Europe, and I am pleased to be able to greet you. You remember that before you went away I visited the ball park and said a few words to you. Now it affords me a greater pleasure to speak to you upon your return from conquests abroad, and I welcome you."

The combined team then gave the Mayor the cheer which became famous abroad. Thorpe, McGrath, and McDonald were introduced to the Mayor.

The different organizations for the parade were in charge of Brig. Gen. George R. Dyer as chief marshal, and Major F. L. V. Hoppin, chief of staff. In the line of march the New York Athletic Club led the amateur athletic organizations, and made a particularly brave showing. This contingent was led by Ernest F. Haubold, Vice President of the Winged Foot forces, and numbered in all about 400 men, many of whom were champions of bygone days. In the ranks were Harry Buermeier, America's oldest athletic champion; Bob Kammerer, Alfred H. Curtis, Col. Van Wyck, John J. O'Brien, and other well-known men.

GOVERNOR THOMAS R. MARSHALL SPEAKS ON TRUSTS

Two Solutions Offered by Democrats.—Forfeit Charter of Illegal Corporation or Hold Lawyers Liable.

Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, Democratic nominee for the vice presidency, addressed a democratic rally Tuesday. The Governor said in part: "If a man honestly believes in this theory of taxation and his judgment and conscience approve, it is easy for him to take the next step towards monopoly. If the government can righteously give a man the right to tax the people, what is wrong in a close corporation of tax gatherers. He thinks nothing. And so we have the trust. The Democratic platform says a private monopoly is indefensible.

"The Progressives say let not the people be dismayed. We have the man who can make the trusts come up and eat out of his hand. And they surely have. If his record is any index of results, we may be assured that the provender will be not only good but nutritious. He will suspend the operation of the criminal laws at any time rather than endanger the liberty of a campaign contributor who wants to make money unlawfully. He did this for the Harvester and Steel trusts. When he began his career as a trust buster there were only 149 trusts with four billions of capital. At the end of his career there were more than ten thousand with more than thirty-one billions of capital.

"How reach the question? Forfeit the charter of every corporation which marries another or by gentlemen's agreement lives in open and notorious adultery with another. Can this be done? Why not? The states can revoke these charters. A few revocations and a few shaved heads will take the swelling out of some fortunes and warn others not to swell.

"There is another solution. Make the lawyer who counsels, aids, abets or advises the formation of a trust criminally liable. What right has he because he is a lawyer to draw vicious contracts which will enable his client to loot the public? He should be held responsible. He would not buy a jimmy for a prospective burglar. Yet he knows if he will but stop to think that many a contract which he draws is more burglarious than a jimmy. If he will not quit make him particeps criminal.

Lewis Appointed to Commission.

Unusual honor has come to the State of Maryland through the announcement by Speaker Champ Clark of his appointment of Representative David J. Lewis, of the Sixth Congressional district of Maryland, as one of three House members of the new Federal Commission on Parcels Post. The experimental parcels post provision adopted as part of the new Postoffice Appropriation Bill, besides providing for a limited parcels post, on a zone system basis, authorized the creation of a joint Congressional Parcels Post Commission of six members, to make further inquiry into the subject of a general parcels post.

Three members of this commission will be senators to be appointed by Vice President Sherman and the three members of the House appointed by Speaker Clark has already appointed the House members of the commission. Besides Representative Lewis, of Maryland, the House members of the Parcels Post Commission will be Representative Finley, of South Carolina, and Representative Gardiner, of New Jersey.

This commission will meet immediately after the appointment of the Senate members for organization. The appointment of Representative Lewis was the natural outgrowth of his interest in the allied subjects of the parcels post and the postal express. Mr. Lewis has concentrated his attention in Congress upon these subjects, and so thoroughly has he studied the subjects that he has come to be considered by House members, and even by the officials of the Postoffice Department, as the leading authority on the subject of parcels post in Congress.

Mr. Lewis offered the so-called Lewis compromise which the House favored in lieu of the original Bourne plan, and the parcels post plan to be inaugurated on January 1, 1913, under authority of the postoffice appropriation act, is very largely the result of the suggestions made by Representative Lewis. It was because of his known interest in and grasp of the subject that Mr. Lewis was made a member of the Parcels Post Commission.

As a result of what is said to be overwork and loss of sleep, Assistant Prosecutor C. T. Wilkins, while trying the case of Alderman Louis Brozo, of Detroit, charged with bribery, collapsed and became unconscious in his chair.

SITUATIONS PUZZLING

ACTIONS OF THE WEEK

Conditions in Mexico and Nicaragua

ARE GIVING DIPLOMATS TROUBLE

Five Hundred Marines in Nicaragua Supported By Battleships.—Taft Orders Troops Out But Has Recalled Them.

The situations in Mexico and Nicaragua have taken a rather serious aspect and are giving President Taft, diplomats and officials no little worry. In addition to the five hundred marines already stationed in Nicaragua to protect American life and property, President Taft on the request of the State Department ordered the Tenth Infantry, on Wednesday to go to the scene of trouble at once. This order was rescinded the same day the reason being given that a sufficient force of marines would be in Managua and Corinto to insure the safety of American lives and property.

A long telegram from the commander of the United States gunboat in Nicaraguan waters declared that the insurgent leaders had given assurance that they will open the lines of communication from Corinto to Managua. The Nicaraguan Government itself asked for assistance from the United States and stands ready to aid in opening the railway line to the coast from the capital.

The President did not conceal his anxiety over conditions in the Central American Republic. In Managua, Corinto and other towns the situation is not now especially dangerous to Americans, but in other parts of the country the revolution is not in hand and pillaging of all sorts has been going on. The people of Nicaragua, the President was informed, are suffering untold horrors and Americans are suffering in many instances with them.

Neither the State nor Navy Department wished to see United States troops sent into Nicaragua. The custom in similar cases has been to land marines.

The President said that while the sending of a regiment of infantry would not be an act of war, he would prefer to use marines, if an available force could be found quickly.

While General Mena and his friends are making things warm for the Diaz faction in Nicaragua, and incidentally causing the American naval forces there a lot of worry, Mena's sympathizers have come to Washington, and with a press agent and a mimeograph are unloading broadsides at the American press.

The first appeared Wednesday, being statements from Dr. Angel Ugarte, former Minister from Nicaragua, and Gen. Francisco Altschul, former Nicaraguan Counsel-General at New Orleans. Dr. Ugarte says:

"It is improper that the American army and navy should be used to defend the illegitimate interests of Wall street in Nicaragua, that such large sums of money taken from the pockets of honest American taxpayers should be expended to defray the cost of American intervention, and that the lives of American citizens in the army and navy should be jeopardized."

Coming down to the Mexican situation, as it really stands, it can best be given by a resident of Texas at the very Mexican border, who says:

"Nobody down in my part of the country has any idea that the disturbances across the border in Mexico will come to a speedy end."

"On the other hand, our people, because of their thorough understanding of Mexican conditions, are satisfied that the marauding, revolutionary element will keep up its guerrilla warfare against the Madero government indefinitely."

"It is a melancholy conclusion to reach, but there is nothing to justify a more optimistic opinion. Madero had the respect and sympathy of his Texas neighbors when he first assumed control."

A rate war which might involve all maritime nations, and which would revolve about the Suez and Panama Canals, was predicted in Washington by officials when notice was received at the State Department that the directorate of the Suez Canal had decided to reduce rates through that canal.

On the eve of adjournment by the House, Speaker Clark felicitated the Democratic majority on the work done by it, and predicted an indorsement by the country at the November election.

Nathan Behrin, a New York court reporter, broke the world's record in shorthand both in speed and accuracy.

STATE MISCELLANY

Bits of News About People and Events Throughout The State.

Hagerstown.—With a view of enlarging the fruit exhibit and combining with the display an exhibition of commercial packing ready for shipment, directors of the Hagerstown Fair Association have decided to wage an active campaign from now until the fair is held in October. Dr. J. McP. Scott, president of the board, has addressed letters to the general managers of the railroads entering Hagerstown, asking for their co-operation in the matter. It is believed the plans under consideration will not only present the fruit under the most favorable conditions, but also instruct the grower how best to prepare his product for the market and shipment.

Mr. William Harper, father of ex-Mayor Charles E. Harper, of this city, and one of the best-known residents of this country, died at his home Sunday morning at the advanced age of 86 years. Mr. Harper was a leading member of the Methodist Church and a class leader for 40 years.

Frederick.—After visiting Grafton and Elkins, W. Va., and Cumberland and Hagerstown, Md., representatives of the Gilman Extension Company located their factory for the manufacture of furniture, refrigerators and ladders of all kinds in Frederick. Va., to this city as soon as possible.

Cumberland.—Lawrence Macklin, 15 years old, son of P. J. Macklin, 68 Seymour street, confessed to the charge of attacking and robbing Miss Elizabeth Rephorn, near the Evitts Creek Bridge. His father is a Baltimore and Ohio passenger conductor. Miss Rephorn was driving home from Cumberland when the lad who wears knee trousers, jumped in the back of the vehicle, and seized her pocketbook. When she resisted he beat her on the head with a fishing rod until she was unconscious. The pocketbook, which contained $10, was found under the porch at the boy's home, where he said he hid it.

Princess Anne.—An enthusiastic audience gathered at the Wilson and Marshall Democratic Club meeting in the Auditorium Saturday afternoon. Henry J. Waters presided and Charles B. Morris was secretary. Senator Blair Lee, of Montgomery county, and Mr. Starr, of Westover, Md., made addresses. Mr. Waters referred to Governor Wilson as a fearless and invincible leader and a man who possesses the confidence of the people of this country. Mr. Starr made a ringing speech in advocacy of the election of Wilson and Marshall. Senator Lee made one of the ablest political addresses heard here for some time. He frequently referred to the recent disclosures before the Senatorial investigation committee on campaign contributions by the Standard Oil Company. He illustrated how the high tariff adopted by a Republican Congress contributed to the high cost of living.

Denton.—The colored campmeetings at Mount Zion, near Maryland, and Trinity, near Ridgely, which have just closed, had the usual accompaniments of drunken rows and evident local option violations, and there is a general sentiment among residents of the sections that these meetings should be suppressed as public nuisances and as placing a needless burden on the county in Criminal Court costs.

She was one of the oldest residents of Boonsboro district. Mrs. Diggs was a member of the United Brethren Church and is survived by the son with whom she made her home.

While his condition was seen to be grave from the first, there was some hope of recovery, and his death is a surprise to many of his friends who failed to realize the seriousness of his condition.

Havre de Grace.—A serious automobile accident occurred on Governor's Hill, near this city, Sunday afternoon in which several persons were badly injured, a horse crippled and a buggy demolished. The machine, which belongs to C. H. Zimmerman, of Alexandria, Va., was being driven by his chauffeur, Lawrence Toombs, at a 40-mile-an-hour clip and was rounding a short steep curve when the buggy was sighted. Brakes were quickly applied, but failed to work and the crash ensued. The automobile turned turtle, the buggy was smashed to splinters and the horse's leg broken. Mrs. Samuel F. Elliott, 202 South Pitt street, of Alexandria, was pinioned beneath the car and seriously injured. Mr. Elliott, her husband, had his foot hurt, and the chauffeur and Mr. Zimmerman were badly shaken up, but not seriously hurt. In the buggy were John Fahey, 12 years old, son of John Fahey, a farmer living near this city, who had his left arm broken near the elbow; Elizabeth Fahey, who had her hand hurt, and Cecelia Fahey, who was badly scratched and bruised. Persons living along the road quickly righted the machine, which was not badly damaged, and the injured were quickly rushed to the Havre de Grace Hospital, where it was found Mrs. Elliott's injuries were internal and serious. The horse was shot. Chief of Police Walter H. Smith placed Zimmerman under arrest, but he was released upon his own recognizance for a hearing.

Hendrix, of Baltimore, were present to represent the Maryland Grand Lodge. The local Pythian lodge escorted the Masonic lodges to the new castle, with Reno S. Harp as master of ceremonies. A banquet followed. Hagerstown, Cumberland, Thurmont, Brunswick and other towns were represented. The new castle will cost $25,000.

Rockville.—The committee in charge of the erection at Rockville of a monument to the Confederate dead of Montgomery county has awarded the contract to M. J. Falvey, of Washington. It will stand in front of the Courthouse and will cost about $4,000. The monument will be a bronze figure of a cavalier upon a marble base. It is planned to unveil it next June.

Frederick.—Harry Garfield Johnson, colored, aged about 12 years, was knocked down at the corner of Market and Fifth streets by the automobile of County Commissioner J. Stewart Annan. The machine was coming down Market street at a moderate gait and the boy was blown to warn the boy, who had started to cross the street. Instead of continuing across the street, the boy turned back, when he was struck and knocked down. He suffered a bad cut across his face and was considerably bruised. He was picked up and placed in the machine and taken to the office of Dr. Charles F. Goodell, where his wounds were dressed. He was later taken to his home on Five and A Half street.

Cumberland.—The automobile in which Rev. and Mrs. T. D. Richards and son, John, were returning from Mountain Lake Park to their home in Germantown, Md., became unmanageable by reason of a defective steering gear, turned turtle and hurled the occupants violently upon the stone-covered roadside on a steep grade four miles west of Frostburg Monday afternoon. Mrs. Richards alone was seriously injured, her collar bone being fractured and her back severely bruised. Rev. Mr. Richards and his son escaped with minor cuts and bruises, and they were able to go promptly to the assistance of Mrs. Richards, who was taken to the Gladstone Hotel, where she was given surgical attention.

Frederick.—The number and value of transfers of farm lands in Frederick county last week broke all former records and established a mark that will probably remain as the high water mark in real estate transactions of this kind for some time to come. Eight farms aggregating 695 acres of land were sold at a total price of $69,000. According to real estate men in Frederick this is an unprecedented record. Many of the sales have been made to strangers who, having heard of the wonderful fertility of Frederick county, have chosen to buy and live here.

Keedysville.—Fire about midnight Monday night destroyed the warehouse of W. C. Geeting, of Keedysville, Washington county, and also the Baltimore and Ohio station at that place. Both were frame buildings and situated directly across the railroad tracks from each other. The Geeting warehouse, which was for years the business stand of C. M. Keedy, contained some wheat and a large amount of corn, which had been hauled into the building within the last few days.

Frederick.—With the death of S. Noah Young, for about 16 years the assistant superintendent of the schools of Frederick county, there has been much speculation concerning his successor. It is pretty generally conceded that the place will go to a Republican, the present Board being Republican, although in the appointments the Board has not held to politics. It is likely that the place will go to a teacher of the county. While there are probably several who would desire the place, yet there has only been one so far who has come forward, and it is understood that he stands a good chance of securing the place. He is G. Lloyd Palmer, of Lewistown, this county. Mr. Palmer has been a teacher in the county schools for years and is widely known throughout the county. He is a graduate of the State Normal School and was for years principal of the Emmitsburg, High School. He was at one time a candidate upon the Republican ticket for Register of Wills, but was defeated by 15 votes.

Frederick.—James R. Raw, of Harper's Ferry, and Miss Bessie Lee Lamar, of Shepherdstown, W. Va., eloped to this city and were married by the Rev. E. W. Halleck, an Episcopal minister. Bent on keeping the runaway a secret the groom went to the Courthouse in person after his license, only to discover that the official who issued the license was well acquainted with the bride's family. The elopement, however, was discovered on Tuesday.

Frederick.—The following transfers of real estate are recorded. J. Thomas Gelwicks to Emma K. Gelwicks, real estate in county, $175. Isaac M. Motter et al., executor, to John Thomas Gelwicks, real estate in county, $264. John T. Long to John Thomas Gelwicks real estate in county, $1,400.

Easton.—Misses Emma and Mary E. Shillinger met with an accident Tuesday morning, when the young horse they were driving became frightened at a train, ran away, throwing them out of their carriage. Miss Emma Shillinger's head struck a section of terra cotta drain lying on the side of the road. Her condition is critical. Miss Mary Shillinger was only slightly hurt. The carriage was carried several blocks by the frantic horse and demolished.

Gov. Hiram Johnson, of California, vice presidential candidate on the Progressive ticket with Roosevelt, started out on a thirty-five day's stumping tour of the East.

The Louisiana Legislature concluded its session of twelve days at Baton Rouge, after having made sweeping changes in the taxation system of the State.

Louisville and Richmond, Va., appear to be the chief competitors for the 1913 meeting of the American Institute of Banking in session at Salt Lake.

trol, but the universal belief now is that he is too weak a man to suppress the disorder and bring tranquility to the sorely troubled republic. He lacks the iron will and indomitable purpose of Diaz and no man who is not the counterpart of Diaz can cope with the rebellious spirit that has brought Mexico to a condition of anarchy.

"The desperate situation existing there cannot be remedied by the capture and punishment of Orozco and other rebel chiefs. If all the revolutionary leaders now in the field were caught and shot a new crop would be active at once and the same old game of pillage and murder would continue.

"El Paso is being hurt very materially by the unsettled condition on the other side of the Rio Grande. One of my neighbors in the wholesale provision trade told me recently that the business of his house had fallen off a third. Because the troubles the firm had a Mexican patronage amounting to a huge sum annually, but all that has been destroyed.

"Gloomy as the outlook is, there is no prospect that American intervention would help things. It would simply involve our government in difficulties and keep our people in hot water for perhaps a generation. It would be grand if we could take the country without the people; to own Mexico with the Mexicans left out would indeed be a blessing, for it is absolutely unsurpassed in virgin wealth and if it had a decent population would be a Paradise."

PUSSY'S ADVENTURE.

(Published By Request.)

One Summer day some boys at play
Espied a tabby-cat
Which from its home had chanced to roam
In search of mouse or rat.

The boys were rude and would intrude
On Tabby's liberty—
The day was hot and puss had got Beneath a shady tree.

Said Tom to John, "Let's set Tray on
And hunt the cat away."
"Aye, that we will," said naughty Bill,
And called aloud for Tray.

The dog he ran and soon began
To worry the poor cat,
When Ann and Jane came down the lane
And saw what they were at.

Jane called aloud unto the crowd
And begged they would forbear;
While poor Ann said they should be paid
If they the cat would spare.

They all ran fast and puss at last Climbed up into a tree—
The boys looked sad—the girls were glad
That puss from them was free.

"Let's pelt her down," said little Brown,
And took up a great stone—
Jane begged and prayed, Ann cried and said,
"Do let poor puss alone."

Their tears prevailed, Brown's courage failed,
The stone he did not throw;
The boys called Tray to come away,
That puss in peace might go.

Frostburg Celebrating Centennial.

On Sunday of this week Frostburg started to celebrate its one hundredth birthday. Appropriate sermons were preached in all the churches and the great week was ushered in with the tolling of bells.

Tuesday was the day of the big industrial parade. A trades display, a company of soldiers representing Braddock's army, and a monster all-day picnic were among the features of the programme. Wednesday was set apart for Fireman's Day, with a great parade in which the fire companies of the county and vicinity took part. The Normal School graduates held a reunion also.

Yesterday was Governor's Day. A civic parade with historical pageants and floats was a great success. Governor Goldsborough delivered an address and a concert was given by the Centennial Chorus of 400 voices. Today is Mardi Gras Day. Festivities and athletic sports and races at the Mechanic's Park will be held, with a Mardi Gras and fantastic parade in the evening.

Tomorrow, the closing day, grand automobile parade and baseball games. For the parade the automobiles will be gayly decked with flowers.

McCleary Confesses to the Murder.

Norman Bruce McCleary, who is held on the charge of murdering Mrs. Nanette B. Henry, made a voluntary confession Tuesday confirming in every detail the State's theory of the case and McCleary's connection with it.

The confession was offered as evidence at the preliminary hearing Thursday. The confession is in the possession of State's Attorney Wolfinger, is in writing, signed by McCleary and attested by six witnesses.

McCleary's admission, in brief, is to the effect that he went to the little slate colored house with the green shutters at 36 North Locust street early on the evening of August 15.

Mrs. Henry refused to inform him whether the letter from Washington giving the address of his sweetheart, Miss Lupah Henry, had arrived. She told him instead that he had better forget her daughter as soon as possible, as she would never consent to their marriage.

McCleary left the house, according to his confession, mad with rage. About midnight he climbed over the back yard fence of the Henry home and opening the kitchen window let himself into the house. He tiptoed up stairs to Mrs. Henry's bedroom, but she had heard the creaking of the stairs and opened the door to find him standing directly outside.

There were harsh words on both sides, and McCleary, thinking that Mrs. Henry had the letter concealed within the folds of her dress, sprang at her, throwing her on the bed on her back.

In the struggle that ensued McCleary first choked and then strangled the woman to death.

After making sure that life was extinct he made a vain search of the room for the letter. He was about to leave when he decided to look around for any valuables he might carry away.

McCleary searched the clothes of the dead woman, and, finding forty dollars in cash, decided to pocket it. He then left the house.

The following day he returned shortly after midnight and again searched for the letter. On Friday night he went again to the house and found the letter in the hallway, where it had been left by the mail carrier.

He was about to leave the house when an irresistible impulse drove him to steal up stairs and take a last look at the corpse of the murdered woman.

He remained in town until Sunday making purchases of clothes and other necessities. On Sunday he left for Baltimore, where, after remaining a few hours, he went to Washington.

Every Prisoner to Make a Statement.

On Sunday afternoon three members of the commission investigating the Maryland Penitentiary addressed the convicts while they were all assembled in the chapel. The object is to get every prisoner to give a statement as to conditions existing in the prison, giving their opinions freely. At the meeting a copy of a printed letter was given to each prisoner with a number of questions to be answered by each man.

In this letter the prisoners are requested to tell what they have to say about the punishment, food, medical treatment, dealings with the commissary, condition of the cells, laundry work, and anything they want to say about the condition of the Penitentiary and their experiences.

The prisoners were told that no officer of the Penitentiary would be permitted to read the letters and that Warden Weyler had given assurance to that effect. It was also made plain to them that nothing they wrote would bring either punishment or reward. The commission wants nothing but the truth.

The reports of the prisoners, blanks for which are attached to the printed letter, are not to be mailed, but are to be collected by the members of the commission in person when they visit the prison on Sunday next.

The commission thus hopes to get in one week a fair view of the prison as seen from the inside by the prisoners themselves. With these reports in hand they will have a basis for further pursuit of the inquiry they are making at the request of Governor Goldsborough.

Letters To The Editor.

[The Editor would have it understood that he is not responsible for the views expressed in communications addressed to him and published in THE CHRONICLE.]

No attention will be paid to anonymous communications.

To the Editor of the Emmitsburg Chronicle.

Sir:—

If your knowledge of "Monument Specifications" is as limited as your knowledge (?) of what Mayor Preston is doing for the people of Baltimore, I do not wonder you confess yourself "a little shy."

As a reader of your valuable paper, who believes your purpose is to do justice, I feel that the editorial appearing in your issue under date of the 16th instant was prompted not by a desire to belittle Mayor Preston in the estimation of your readers but, because you, like many others, are compelled to rely on a not too friendly press for information as to what he has and is doing for the people of that dearly beloved city. As one who does not rely wholly on this not too friendly press for information and who is willing to concede the truth even if it does hurt, permit me to cite a few of Mayor Preston's achievements since he was inducted into office just a little over a year ago.

1. Settlement of the public school question. To many his action appeared drastic but drastic or not peace and harmony now prevail and the public school children get the benefit of it.

2. Secured the annulment by the Court of the "Warren Deal," thus saving the taxpayers from purchasing at $750,000 property which a Council Committee, after careful investigation, reported to be worth not over $350,000.

3. Started the erection of the new water dam at Loch Raven. This dam, when completed (June 1913), will not only be adequate but the quality of water will be the best.

4. Secured from the bonding companies $55,000 in settlement of the so-called "Downs defalcation."

5. By rejecting the original bid for pumps at Mt. Royal Pumping Station and re-advertising for bids saved the taxpayers over $50,000 or more than 1-3 of contract price.

6. Placed certain city employees on salary basis in lieu of fee system thereby saving to the taxpayers the sum of $14,000 annually.

I could, if necessary, cite many other incidents such as the much needed legislation he secured from the legislature of 1912, his open handed hospitality during the recent Democratic National Convention, etc., etc., to prove that in James H. Preston the people of Baltimore have an executive who stands in the front ranks of public administrators. The only fault, if fault it be, that can be charged to Mayor Preston is that he is a Democrat and believes in rewarding party loyalty.

I predict that if he continues to give to Baltimore for the remainder of his term the same honest, capable and business-like administration he is now giving an appreciative electorate will demand his retention in office. If instead he should prefer the peace of private life his friends need not lay "couchant" but they can strut forth boldly confident that an unprejudiced posterity will appreciate his work and refer to him as Preston, the man who succeeded.

No greater monument could be desired.

Yours very truly,
C. CHAS. FRIEDEL.
Rocky Ridge, Md.
August 24, 1912.

Watson and Chilton Bribery Charge.

A demand for a Senatorial investigation of the charges of bribery and corruption made in connection with the election of the new Democratic Senators from West Virginia, Clarence W. Watson and William E. Chilton, was made in a memorial filed with the Senate by Gov. W. E. Glasscock, of that State. Gov. Glasscock has been a Republican, but is now a follower of the Bull Moose movement.

The memorial was laid before the Senate by President (pro tem.) Gallinger, to whom it had been sent direct from Gov. Glasscock.

Senator La Follette had risen to call up the Penrose resolution to broaden the inquisitorial powers of the Clapp Special Committee, and Mr. Gallinger asked him to suspend. Then the presiding officer handed the memorial to the Clerk, with directions that it be read.

Senator Penrose urged that the entire document be read, and the Clerk was within six lines of the end, when Senator McCumber objected to further reading and Senators Bailey and Bacon objected to placing it in the Congressional Record.

The memorial was expunged from the record, but was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, which investigated the Lorimer and Stephenson cases.

"This is a slanderous attack," exclaimed Senator Martin of Virginia, floor leader of the State Democrats, "and this paper is sent here for muckraking campaign purposes. I object to spreading it on the Senate records."

Senator La Follette defended the memorial as containing more real basis for investigation than did the original charges against Lorimer.

The first day he turned out 1,000 bushels in ten hours, the next day 526 bushels and moved to two different farms. Farmers seem to be pleased with the work done.

FIRST ANNUAL PICNIC OF Farmers' Association of Frederick County AT BRADDOCK HEIGHTS SEPTEMBER 5TH, 1912

All day picnic, where all the farmers and their families and their city friends will spend and enjoy a day on the mountain, with full baskets of good things, where dinner and supper will be eaten in farmer like cheer. Come one, come all, and hear beautiful music, and hear the best speakers the country affords, on subjects that all our people are interested in.

HON. JAMES WILSON, Secretary of Agriculture, of President Taft's Cabinet, will be present and speak to the farmers.

HON. WILLET M. HAYES, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, will speak on seed corn.

PROFESSOR F. M. WEBSTER, United States Entomologist, will speak on the Hessian fly and seed wheat.

CONGRESSMAN DAVID J. LEWIS will speak on postal express.

The wives of the officers including the wives of the 52 vice-presidents of the association are requested to act as the patronesses of the dance during the evening.

All railroads entering Frederick will run special trains on that day and give special rates, and the electric cars will leave Frederick, Middletown, Jefferson, Myersville and Thurmont for Braddock Heights every thirty minutes.

Come one, come all and come early and stay all day as music and speaking are both morning and afternoon. Dancing during evening and night.

BY ORDER OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Standing Upon the Threshold Of the New Fall Season

We invite the consideration of every man who is at all interested in the sort of clothing he wears or the prices he pays for them.

Our New Fall Suits and Overcoats

are full of good breeding, progressiveness and animation. It seems almost impossible to get such good quality of clothing at the prices we are selling ours. But nothing is impossible when you know how. Come let us show how the beautiful fabrics and good tailoring tell their own story, and how the prices attached to these values shine out our brightest ideas of the

PAY LESS AND DRESS BETTER POLICY.

Will you call and allow our suits and overcoats to speak for themselves.

ANNOUNCEMENT

"I NEVER in my life," says John Wanamaker, used such a thing as a poster, a dodger, or a handbill. My plan for twenty-five years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up with what I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper of four hundred dred circulation for five thousand posters and dodgers. If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a lottery scheme I might use posters, but I wouldn't insult a decent reading public with handbills."

—Handbills, it might be said, are very effective for sales, shows, festivals and the like, but only when they supplement regular newspaper advertising.

What Is Happening Abroad

CURRENT EVENTS FROM ACROSS THE SEA

London

The all-night bank will soon make its appearance in London. The first of the banks will be opened in Piccadilly, and will be followed by other branches in different parts of the West End.

The new concern will have the title of the Day and Night Bank and will be run on lines like similar institutions in New York and other places in America.
An English syndicate has already registered for the purpose, and large premises have been obtained on the south side of Piccadilly, at the Leicester Square end. The promoters of the venture believe that such a bank will appeal especially to theatrical proprietors, restaurant keepers, and managers of picture shows, and that the facilities offered by their strong room will be taken advantage of at night by society
women, who will thus be relieved of the anxiety connected with the safe custody
of their jewels until they can be returned to their bankers on the following day.

Within a week or so a wireless station
will be equipped on the roof of Marconi House, in the Strand, and it will then be possible to establish communication with vessels proceeding up and down
the Channel.

The installation is an adjunct to the school of instruction which the Marconi Company has started for finishing the training of men with a knowledge of telegraphy who wish to become proficient as wireless operators. There will be three separate equipments at the new station. One will have a range of 250 miles under normal conditions—similar to that on ocean-going liners. The second will be used by cargo boats with a range of 100 miles. The third is to be similar to that used by sea men desiring a range of 500 or 600 miles.

With the revival of a 300-year-old ceremony, the Fair at Mitcham, near London, was declared open recently.

The ceremony in question was the opening of the fair with a golden key,
which measured over four feet in length
and was tied with red and yellow ribbons. A procession of members of the London Committee of the Showmen's Guild marched around the fair boundary with the golden key held aloft. It was then handed to the Rev. T. Horne, the showmen's chaplain, who from the steps
of a roundabout declared the fair open.

The ceremony which closed with the National anthem, attracted one of the largest crowds ever seen at Mitcham
on the opening day.

The return to the fashions for men of the early Victorian period, which was at first confined to a few ultra-exquisites in London, has now become a well-marked development, and before long
we may expect to see West End throngs looking like the pictures of their great-grandfathers. Pointed beards, moustaches, and possibly whiskers are once again coming into favor.

Thousands of mourners, bent on paying homage to General William Booth,
were turned away Sunday from Congress Hall in Clapton, being unable to view the body of the late evangelist,
which has been lying in state for two days. It has been decided, therefore, to continue the lying in state on Monday. The body will be transferred to another room when the hall will be used for the Salvation Army services.

A wreath sent by Queen Mother Alexandra was laid at Gen. Booth's bier.
The inscription read:

To the Memory of Gen. Booth, to Whom This Whole Nation Owes an Eternal Debt of Gratitude for the Services He Rendered to Suffering Humanity.

(Signed) ALEXANDRA.
Olympia, where the funeral service
for Gen. Booth is to be held, is so vast that it has been decided to throw on a screen the words of the prayers and hymns used during the ceremony.

Representatives are expected at the funeral from many parts of the world.
The delegates from the United States
and Canada will probably arrive in time.
More than 6,600 representatives of provincial corps in the United Kingdom
have been selected to attend.

Fire which started soon after 7 o'clock
in the test box of the instrument gallery of the General Post Office caused the collapse of the entire telegraphy
system, and for nearly three hours London was completely cut off from telegraphic communication with not only the Continent but practically the whole world, inasmuch as all the cable companies operating from London are forced to use the General Post Office
as a clearing house, owing to the Government ownership of the telegraph
system.

At one time it seemed impossible for communication with America to be restored in time to handle the large amount of press matter, which is nightly sent from London, and hurried arrangements were made to send dispatches by automobiles to outlying offices on the direct line of the route to various coast points to which cables are laid, but just before 10 o'clock the welcome word came that the postal authorities had been able to make temporary repairs and that cable business
so far as America was concerned, would be resumed.

This said to be the first fire in the history of this Government department.

Tributes were paid to Gen. Booth in all the Non-Conformist pulpits and in most of the pulpits of the Established Church Sunday. Eulogies also were read in the Catholic churches. At Nottingham, Gen. Booth's birthplace, a special service was held in the Wesleyan Chapel which the Salvationist attended
in his youth.

Three services were held by the Salvation Army in Congress Hall, the leader's body having been removed to his private room. The building was filled to its capacity of 2,000 persons at each service. Of the floral tributes
massed on the platform, those of Queen Mother Alexandra and Emperor William
were the most notable. Commissioners Whitmore, Railton, and Lawley conducted the services, and the silver band
from the staff college played the hymns.

One hundred and fifty thousand persons visited Congress Hall on Friday and Saturday, the two days on which the body was lying in state.

Berlin.

Grand Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, who left Berlin this week for Japan via the Trans-Siberian Railway to represent the Kaiser at the funeral of the Mikado, launched an interesting
new sporting and military project just before his departure.

He advocates the building of a great
motor highway from Camp Doberitz,
near Berlin, straightway cross-country
to the French frontier at the fortress of Metz. He declares that the highway in time of peace would be a motorist's paradise and of inestimable value for the quick transfer of troops, ammunition, and artillery in time of war.

A fearful accident which brought death by drowning to at least 14 persons and placed the lives of 100 others in imminent peril took place at Binz, a bathing resort on the Island of Rugen, Sunday evening. The disaster was due to the sudden collapse of an overcrowded landing stage known as the Prince Henry Bridge.

Germany will be strongly represented at the fifth international congress of Chambers of Commerce at Boston in the third week in September. No fewer than sixty-five delegates are going to the congress, including representatives of leading Chambers of Commerce
members of Parliament, and captains
of industry.

The City of Berlin will be officially represented by Herr Rosenot, Chairman of the Aldermanic Commission of Transportation, who intends to investigate the traffic conditions in the big cities of the United States. The American Chamber of Commerce in Berlin
will send its Secretary, Prof. George H. Atwood, to represent it at Boston.

Niels Gron, the well-known Danish-American politician, writer, and traveler, who has been campaigning in Denmark against the transfer of the harbor of St. Thomas, in the Danish West Indies, to a powerful Copenhagen syndicate, will arrive in New York on board
the Scandinavian-American steamer
Christiana in the middle of next week.

He will take up his headquarters at the Harvard Club. Mr. Gron will do his utmost while in the United States
to draw public attention to the peril of the concession, now owned by Danish
financiers, but which will at no distant day, he says suddenly be found in the hands of some great European power.

Berlin has a new toy in the first big apartment hotel built on what the owners conceive to be American lines. It is situated on the Kurfurstendamm, a location corresponding to Central Park West in New York. The Boarding Palace, which is entirely a new departure
in German hotel life, will cater particularly for the patronage of German families and bachelors who do not want to keep house or live in a pension, also Americans who come to Berlin for protracted periods.

It is a gigantic structure, covering a full city block, and although only the statutory five stories high, contains 600
rooms with baths. People are flocking to its gigantic restaurants, cafe American bars, and grillrooms these days and nights to see the town's newest sensation.

Florence.

The old Verdi Opera House at Florence
has added a new and American chapter to its famous story of song. Contessa Cornelia Roosevelt Scovel Fabricotti, cousin of Col. Roosevelt, and connected by marriage with Gen. Grant, the wife of a Florentine noble, made her appearance in "Madam Butterfly," in the presence of all the aristocracy of Florence, and won a notable success.

Tarbes, France

Ex-President Reyes of Colombia and his daughter were seriously injured and Reyes's secretary suffered painful hurts
in an automobile accident near Lourdes Sunday. Reyes was injured internally and his condition is so serious that grave fears are felt for his recovery. His daughter's arm was fractured and she received other minor injuries. The secretary escaped with superficial hurts.

The car in which the ex-President was driving collided with another automobile
in a cross-roads "cut," and Reyes and his daughter were flung violently to the roadway.

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. A REQUEST.

Subscribers for THE CHRONICLE having heretofore always courteously responded to every notice relative to the order of the Post Office Department, affecting subscription in arrears, it would hardly seem necessary to again remind them of this Government ruling were it not for the fact that, being only human, they are prone either to overlook the notice or to forget its purport after they have read it.

Subscribers will greatly aid THE CHRONICLE in its endeavor to fully comply with the mandatory order of the Department if they will promptly pay their overdue subscriptions.

It will be remembered that subscriptions for half-year will be received, and this suggestion is made to those to whom this plan would prove more convenient.

Emmitsburg was defeated at baseball on Saturday by Union Bridge. The score was 13 to 2. Owing to adverse circumstances the team representing Emmitsburg did not have its regular line-up and several new men appeared in the batting list. Sellers and Sebold were the battery for Emmitsburg.

A concrete sidewalk and approach in front of Emeralds' Hall is being put down by Charles M. Rider.

During the storm on Monday night a bolt of lightning struck a locust tree about 10 feet from the barn of Mr. Daniel Roddy. The barn itself escaped as if by a miracle.

Several persons paid for the privilege of disturbing the peace of Emmitsburg by depositing fines with Burgess Rowe this week.

Mr. Joshua T. Gillelan has been making some extensive improvement at his farm on the Taneytown road. The house has been repainted and new fences erected.

Mr. David H. Guise has had a concrete walk laid at his farm property on the Tract Road.

Dr. D. E. Stone, Jr., is having his property improved by the addition of a large window on the east side of the house.

Burbank will have to hustle for his laurels if the growers in the vicinity of Emmitsburg keep up the good work they have started. Mr. Dan Shorb left a large double squash, at this office, that was a beauty. Anything but the double and triple variety is beneath his efforts.

The Lutheran church steeple and parsonage is to be painted and the organ repaired.

A cement pavement is being put down on the Ehrhart property on Gettysburg street by Charles M. Rider.

Miss Mary Mondorff was awarded the studio prize at Pen-Mar yesterday evening for being the prettiest girl in the Art Studio.

DENTAL OFFICE CLOSED.

Owing to Dr. J. McC. Foreman's absence, in attendance at the Dental Clinics and Demonstrations at Philadelphia, his office will be closed until September 20th.

The blame for a lack of constructive legislation by the Sixty-second Congress has been placed on President Taft, due to his having vetoed several bills, which Democratic leaders claim, had they become law, would have relieved the burden of the people.

MARRIED.

ADELSBERGER—TOPPER.—On Tuesday morning, August 27, 1912, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, Mr. James N. Adelsberger and Miss Estelle G. Topper, both of this place, Rev. J. O. Hayden officiating.

SPERRY—HOLLINGER.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, August 21, at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, when Miss Ada Keren Hollinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hollinger was married to Mr. Ralph Samuel Sperry son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Sperry of Clarinda, Iowa and San Diego, California.

The ceremony was performed in the parlors beneath an arch of ferns and pink flowers, Rev. George Rupley of Hoboken, N. J., cousin of the bride, officiating. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk marquisette and messaline, with a long tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

In the absence of the groom's University of Illinois chum, F. D. Preston, of Chicago, Mr. Charles Rowe of Emmitsburg acted as best man. Miss Mary Hollinger, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore white silk marquisette over green. Miss Adelaide Stamp of Baltimore was first bridesmaid and wore white voile over pale green. Miss Harriet Brashears of Baltimore was second bridesmaid and wore pink. The attendants of the bride carried bouquets of white and green. Miss Hanna Fahnestock, of Harrisburg, presided at the piano and rendered the wedding march from Lohengrin as a precessional and Mendelssohn's as a recessional.

Misses Eva Rowe, Margaret Rupley, Grace Rowe, Mrs. R. M. Zacharias and Miss Anna Rowe, attired in white and carrying chains of ferns entered the parlor preceding the wedding party and formed an aisle through which the party passed.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the hall, the receiving line being composed of the entire bridal party.

The bride was a former student at Goucher College and the groom at the University of Illinois. The wedding is the culmination of a romance begun four years ago when the bride visited in the groom's western home town. The young couple will reside near Emmitsburg for the present.

ADELSBERGER—TOPPER.

Mr. James N. Adelsberger and Miss Estelle Topper were married at Mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Tuesday morning, August 27th, Rev. J. O. Hayden pastor, officiating. Mr. J. Dwen Adelsberger, brother of the groom, was best man and Miss Jeanette Topper, a sister of the bride, was bride's maid. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of blue broadcloth and wore a bouquet of roses. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride on East Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Adelsberger left on the 7 o'clock train for their future home in Philadelphia.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Topper, of this place. Mr. Adelsberger is the son of Mrs. J. M. Adelsberger. He holds a very responsible position with the Philadelphia Press.

The evening before the nuptials an elaborate dinner was served at the home of Mrs. J. M. Adelsberger.

Now Paint

Strike when the iron is hot and paint when the property needs it.

They paint ships a dozen times a year; yes, some of them, every voyage. What for, do you think? To look nice and get business.

A lively keeps its carriages painted and varnished and washed, to look nice and get business.

A man, with a house for sale or to let, "does it up," and Devoe is the paint.

"There's more in paint than to keep-out water. Paint for looks and you needn't think about water. A fresh coat of paint once a year is about as good for his credit as paying his debts. But the man whose buildings and fences look new, very likely, has no debts.

DEVOE

J. THOS. GELWICKS sells it.

NOTICE SUBSCRIBERS.

THE CHRONICLE respectfully

requests all subscribers who are in arrears to pay for their subscriptions before September 1.

This notice is published in order that this paper may conform to the requirement of the Postoffice, which requirement is mandatory.

This is not a dun—not a demand, but a request made necessary by the Government authorities and one which THE CHRONICLE feels assured will meet with a prompt and appreciative response.

POST YOUR LAND.

The hunting season is close at hand and trespassers will soon be breaking down your fences and your cattle will likely be injured by stray shots. Trespass notices, ready to tack up, may be had at THE CHRONICLE OFFICE.

PUBLIC SALE.

On Saturday, August 31, 1912, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

I will offer my farm at public sale on the premises, situated about 12 miles East of Emmitsburg, Frederick county, Md., near Taneytown road, adjoining lands of P. C. Eyer, Meade Fuss, Mrs. Horner and others, and contains 260 acres, more or less, of well improved red land. About 60 acres are in bottom land of highest quality, 35 acres in young growing timber, the balance good farm land. It is watered with running water and two wells, one with wind wheel, hard and soft water or the porch.

The buildings consist of a two-story brick and frame 8-room house with two porches, summer kitchen, new bank barn 50x30 feet, wagon shed, hog pen 50 feet long; carriage house blacksmith shop, ice house and cold storage, 2 chicken houses and other small necessary buildings. There are two orchards, one old and one young, and other small fruit trees. Two excellent gardens. Hunting and fishing grounds on place. This is one of the best stock farms in Frederick county, as the farm is ample in size to produce the stock and the grain to finish it for the market. Would make an ideal farm for the city man.

Terms and details of possession will be made known on day of sale.

Japan Plans for Royal Funeral.

The official program for the funeral of Emperor Mutsuhito, who died on July 30, was issued recently. The services are to begin at 6 o'clock in the morning
on Sept. 13, when the Emperor Yoshihito and the Empress Dowager will be present. At 7 o'clock in the evening of the same day the Elder Statesmen,
the Peers, all the high officials, and the foreign representatives are to assemble
at the Palace, from which the procession will start at 8 P. M.

Emperor Yoshihito will not join the procession, but will meet it on the Aoyama Parade Ground.

The line of the procession, which will be very long, is to be interspersed with musicians, torchbearers, and officials
carrying emblems, while many priests
will also participate.

The coffin containing the body of Emperor Mutsuhito is to be drawn by a team of oxen. The entire route is to be lined by soldiers of the regular army.

Immediately after the arrival of the procession at the Aoyama field the funeral service will begin, and will comprise the full and imposing Shinto ritual.
After the service the Emperor will personally read a tribute to the dead monarch, and this will be followed by another read by the Empress Dowager,
who will be succeeded by the Ministers
of State and others, the musicians
meanwhile continuing to play funeral airs.

At the conclusion of this service the imperial train is to start for Kyoto, but Emperor Yoshihito and the Empress Dowager will not travel by it. The train is scheduled to arrive at the station especially built at Momoyama at 5.10 P. M. on Sept. 14, and a similar procession to that arranged from the
the Palace to the Aoyama Parade Ground will follow. Various tributes to the late Emperor's memory will be read beside the tomb.

Further services are to be held on Sept. 15, and these will conclude the funeral ceremonies. Prince Henry of Prussia, the brother of the Emperor,
has been selected to proceed to Tokio
to represent Emperor William at the funeral of the late Emperor of Japan.

Who the Lawyer Clarence Darrow Is.

Clarence Darrow is 55 years of age.
Much of his legal experience of latter
years has been in the interest of Union
labor.

He was born at Kinsman, Ohio, April 8, 1857. He was educated in the public schools of Ohio, and after reading law
for several years, was admitted to the bar in 1875.

His home is in Chicago, where he was assistant city attorney for several years. He formerly was attorney for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

In 1892 he was elected to the Illinois
Legislature from a Chicago district.
In many municipal campaigns in Chicago he took a prominent part, and at
at one time was prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Mayorality. In politics he is Democratic.

Among his first appearances as a champion of labor was his service as chief counsel for the striking coal miners, on a commission appointed by Theodore Roosevelt, when an attempt at arbitration was made in 1902.

His most notable labor cases were recorded when he defended the McNamara brothers in Los Angeles, when they were charged with destroying the Los Angeles Times Building by dynamite, and his defense of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, in Idaho, when they were charged with causing the death of former Governor Stuenenberg of that State. It was out of the Los Angeles trial that complications resulting in his own indictment on bribery
charges cropped out.

Heavy Damage Done in England.

With more than $100,000 crop damage done, miles of railway lines under water and traffic halted and many towns isolated England is facing one of the most serious flood situations in its history.

Rains verging on cloudburst have been general for some time. Norwich has been swept by a rainfall of unparalleled violence. Within a few hours 3,750,000 tons of water fell in the city. Rivers are swollen out of their banks and crops are rotting beneath the inundations which have covered the fields.

The records show this to be the wettest August in England in 31 years.
Forecasts are for continued rain
throughout September, and it is feared that the damage may run close to $300,- 000,000. The military maneuvers set for September 14 at Anglica will have to be abandoned unless the weather
clears.

Maneuvers are technically in progress
now on Salisbury Plain, but little real work has been done. An epidemic
of influenza has broken out in camp,
caused by soldiers sleeping in pools of water.

Got His Extra Cutlet.

The Brazilian nabob Baron Fereau
was as miserly in trifles as he was extravagant in other directions. It was one of his peculiarities never to fee
servants, and the waiters of the various hotels at which he sojourned were for that reason not partial to him. One morning while staying at the magnificent Maux hotel, in Rio de Janeiro, he came down to breakfast and ordered a cutlet. After he had eaten it he ordered a second. "Baron," said the head waiter maliciously, "it's a custom with us never to serve the same course
twice at a meal." "Is that so?" said Fereau, and, rising from his seat, he left the room. In ten minutes he came back into the dining room. "Waiter,"
said he, "I have just bought this hotel and am master here now. As you will not be able to get accustomed to my plan of serving guests according to their wishes, you are dismissed at once." Thereupon he took up his napkin again and called to another waiter
"Now bring me another cutlet!"—Argonaut.

Society of Poisoners.

Arsenic has perhaps been more frequently used than any other poison for criminal purposes. It has been proved identical with the "wonderful elixir"
of the seventeenth century, when secret poisoning became so frequent in Italy. Then young widows were abundant in Rome, and most of the unhappy marriages were speedily resolved by the death of the husband.
secret society of young matrons was discovered, which met at the house of La Spara, a reputed witch, who supplied them with a slow, tasteless, colorless poison, carefully calculated to kill a husband in just the time that suited the purchaser. La Spara and thirteen of her companions were hanged, a large number of the culprits
were whipped half naked through the streets of Rome, while others of the highest rank escaped with heavy fines
and banishment.

Coal and the Arts.

An intimate connection between coal
and the arts is seen in the career of Thomas Britton, the celebrated "musical small coal man." Over his coal shop in Jerusalem passage, Clerken-
well, he established in 1678 a musica club, where every Thursday for nearly forty years was held a concert, at which Handel and all the greatest musicians of the day performed. To a love of music Britton joined a knowledge of bibliography, which brought him into contact with Harley, earl of Oxford, and other collectors. But he continued until his death in 1714 to sell coal in the streets of London and would frequently join his noble patrons on a book hunting expedition at tired in his blue smock and with the coal sack he had been carrying all day
over his arm.—London Chronicle.

Balzac's Passwords.

It was not easy to make one's way into Balzac's house at Chailiot, Rue des Batilles, for it was guarded like the garden of the Hesperides. Two or three passwords were necessary, which were changed frequently for fear they should become known. I remember a few. To the porter we said, "The plum season has come," on which he allowed us to cross the threshold. To the servant who rushed to the staircase when the bell rang it was necessary to murmur, "I bring some brussels lace," and if you assured him that "Mme. Bertrand was quite well" you were admitted forthwith. This nonsense amused Balzac immensely, and it was perhaps necessary to keep out bores and other visitors still more disagreeable.—Miss Wormley's "Memoir of Balzac."

Oddly Expressed.

In one of his letters William Brookfield tells how as school inspector he had to give an examination on physical science. "What was I to do? I knew nothing about hydrogen or oxygen or any other 'gen.' So I set them a paper which I called 'applied science.' One of my questions was, 'What would you do to cure a cold in the head?' A young lady answered, 'I should put my feet
into hot water till you were in a profuse perspiration.'"

The Needle's Eye.

Kathryn, aged five, was vainly trying to thread a needle. "Mamma,"
she asked, "don't they call a hole in a needle an eye?"
"Yes, dear," answered her mother.
"Well," continued the little miss
"I'll bet this old needle is cross eyed."
—Chicago News.

Again Our Queer Language.

"Queer language, isn't it?"
"Why so?"
"Because of sickness I had to send my shorthand writer home yesterday."
"Well?"
"That left me shorthanded."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Make It Help.

Let every dissatisfaction with the present be made not a discouragement, but an inspiration, by the continual consciousness of the great law
of eternal growth.—Phillips Brooks.

The Life Line.

Amateur Palmist—The life line indicates how long you will live. Skeptical Friend—Yes? Isn't it a wonder the life insurance companies pay no attention to it?

An Excuse.

Patience—What reason had she for marrying him? Patrice—Why, he had money. Patience—That is not a reason; that's an excuse.

The way of the world is to praise
dead saints and persecute living ones
