HARMONY GESPEAKS SUCCESS

Plans for a Strenuous Campaign in Behalf of County Ticket.—Colonel Baughman Son of Noted Leader in Politics.

Col. E. Austin Baughman, son of the late General L. Victor Baughman, was unanimously elected chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee which met in Masonic Temple, in Frederick last Saturday morning.

Not for years had there been a meeting so well attended nor one in which harmony reigned so supreme. Dr. Charles H. Conley, the former chairman, presided, and in calling the meeting to order stated that six years ago, when he became chairman, his one desire was that the Democracy of Frederick county should triumph; that when this victory was achieved he would retire in favor of another. Dr. Conley recounted the Democratic victories in the county in recent years and the signal victory of last year and cordially thanked the members of the committee for their support and co-operation in a speech ringing with optimism and the prediction of victory in November.

Alban M. Wood, Esq., placed Colonel Baughman in nomination, paying high tribute to the new chairman as an organizer and leader. Although many rose to their feet to sanction the nomination, it fell to the lot of Harry L. Bennett, of Frederick, and J. McC. Foreman, of Emmitsburg, to formally second the nomination.

Upon taking the chair, Col. Baughman heartily thanked the committee for the honor it bestowed upon him. He said that he was a man of few words and that he could not more forcibly show his appreciation if he talked for one hour and a half on the subject. He stated he also deeply appreciated the beautiful tribute paid his father.

Referring to the chairmanship he said: "I am going to do my best; I am going to give it the best there is in me." He asked the co-operation of all and stated that he desired registration work to be looked after very closely and said: "We have had our little scrap and it is over and we now want to win." He asked for the appointment of an advisory committee of five to be named for the purpose of the chairman consulting with them.

Joseph F. Eisenhauer was nominated for secretary by George Wallace and Jacob Schmidt, was nominated by G. S. Rodock. Lloyd T. MacGill nominated Edward J. Smith as treasurer.

Christian Eckstein then introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of an advisory committee of five. The resolution passed unanimously.

Secretary Eisenhauer, as the minority member of the Board of Election Supervisors, urged a most thorough registration this year.

William J. Grove, of Buckeystown District, who said that he had been classified, as a Progressive, but is a pure Democrat, urged the support of the ticket from top to bottom.

The following were named upon the advisory committee authorized by the resolution introduced by Christian H. Eckstein: R. Frank Sappington, Liberty; William J. Grove, Buckeystown; William L. Haver, Jackson; Leonard Barriek, Woodsboro; Harry Wood, New Market.

Following the discussion of plans for an active campaign in this county, refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, salads, etc., were served.

Enormous Income of Salvation Army.

While going over the financial situation in connection with the tremendous order to which he belongs, Colonel George Mitchell said the total revenue of the Salvation Army was now about $30,000,000 a year. He said the movement was growing financially far more rapidly in the United States and Canada than in Great Britain.

"This revenue may not be regarded as colossal, but it more than equals what sufficed for the needs of the United States Government before the Mexican war, and our disbursements are greater than the total annual disbursements of the British Government during the reign of the first George."

The official invitation extended by the Huerta government to Gen. Porfirio Diaz to return to Mexico is regarded in Washington by those most familiar with Mexican politics as largely a matter of sentiment, rather than of definite political program.

COMPARES THE ATTITUDE OF WASHINGTON AND SEC'Y BRYAN

A Contrast Between the Two In Their Interpretation of Expenses Incurred By Those Holding Public Office.

And the criticism of Secretary Bryan and his lectures a contributor to the New York Times makes a comparison between the first President and the Secretary of State.

The discussion regarding the personal finances of the Secretary of State, says the correspondent, may be illuminated by the example of George Washington. The following quotation is from Fiske's "Critical Period of American History":

At Fraunce's Tavern, near the ferry, he [Washington] took leave of his officers who so long had shared his labors. One after another they embraced their beloved commander, while there were few dry eyes in the company. They followed him to the ferry and watched the departing boat with hearts too full for words, and then in solemn silence returned up the street. At Philadelphia he handed to the Controller of the Treasury a neatly written manuscript containing an accurate statement of his expenses in the public service since the day when he took command of the army. The sums which Washington had thus spent out of his private fortune amounted to $64,315. For his personal services he declined to take any pay.

In 1775 Washington became President of a company for extending the navigation of the Potomac and James Rivers, and the Legislature of Virginia passed an act vesting him with 150 shares in the stock of the company, in order to testify their "sense of his unexampled merits." But Washington refused the testimonial, and declined to take any pay for his services, because he wished to arouse the people to the political importance of the undertaking and felt that his words would have more weight if he were known to have no selfish interest in it. His sole purpose, as he repeatedly said was to strengthen the spirit of union by cementing the eastern and western regions together. At this time he could ill afford to give his services without pay, for his long absence in war time had sadly impaired his estate. But such was Washington.

CONNIE MACK DOES NOT SAY MUCH, JUST LOOKS IT FROM HIS GUARDED WORDS ANY ONE CAN SEE THAT HE RISKS HIS BUNDLES OF YOUNGSTERS TO WIN BIG SERIES.

Crafty Connie Mack does not like to predict very loudly and is quite guarded in his utterances concerning next week's star event. Here is a little interview with him on the subject:

"You are depending on Bender and Plank to win the series for the Athletics, are you?" Mr. Mack was asked.

"Most assuredly," was the reply.

"They say Plank cannot stand the gaff; he is too old?" was the next question.

"Yes; they say that, I know; but Plank has pitched fine ball for me this summer. The games he lost were for the most part tossed away because he did not get the breaks. Any time Plank is right he is a hard man to beat, and unless he tells me he is right you can be assured I will not start him against the Giants. As for Bender, his work speaks for himself, and I am not worrying about him."

"Will you be likely to use any of your young pitchers in the big series?" Mr. Mack was asked.

"I probably will."

"Which ones?"

"That I cannot say; possibly Shawkey, Bush or Brown; they are all good men."

Manager Mack refused absolutely to predict the outcome of the world's series. He did not state that he thought the series would be close, but underneath it all was seen that the taciturn leader was supremely confident his young men would grab the world's championship title.

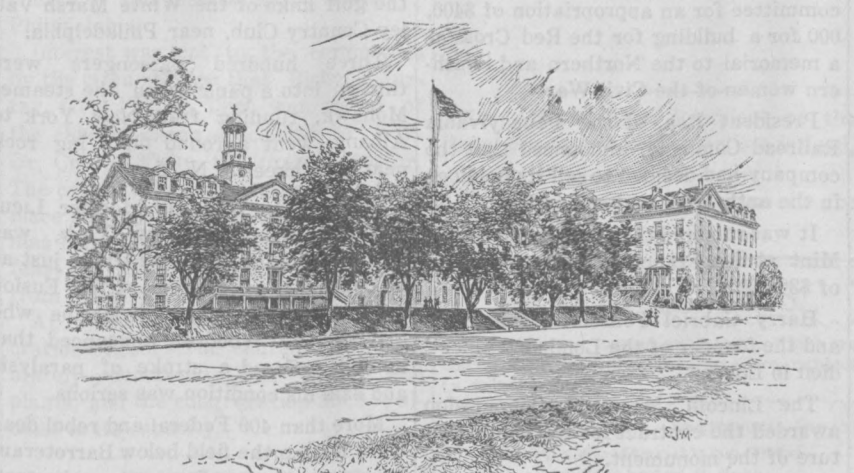

"Neither Mathewson nor Marquard can beat us. We don't know anything about Demaree or Tesreau, but they are no better than many of the American League flingers we have licked this year, and I don't think they will bother us much," one of the youngsters made bold to say.

They Caught an 800-Year-Old Turtle.

They pick up anything and everything, those New Yorkers. The other day Captain Tapper and his crew of the schooner Glener picked up a turtle on a sand bar off Fire Island, and it was "some" turtle. It was eight hundred years old, it weighed fifteen hundred pounds and was sold at Fulton market for $150.

A robbery involving only a small amount occurred in the Frisco mint.

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Terrace Talk

An additional training table has been formed for the football squad.

Rev. Joseph V. McMorris, '12, spent the week-end at the College.

The upper classes are enjoying the pleasure of their walking privileges.

There was a record number of automobile parties at the College on Sunday.

The largest squad in years is working on the gridiron. Forty-seven men are out.

A committee is working on arrangements for a track meet to be held in the near future.

The College register now numbers 292 and by the end of next week it is expected to reach the 300 mark.

The squad has had a week of strenuous work in preparation for the St. John's game at Annapolis to-morrow.

The sporting goods firm of A. G. Spalding & Bros., has donated a cup which will be awarded in athletics.

Arrangements have been made for a game between the second string of men and Gettysburg's second team at Echo field next Wednesday.

Louis Long and Breslin, substituting, displayed real varsity form. Maher Gogan was "there" too and made his presence felt.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association, Joseph A. McManus, '15, of Philadelphia, was elected Captain of Track for the ensuing year.

Among the students from Central America are Ernest Ulloa, Stephen Ulloa Morazan and Garcia Prieto, all from Santa Tecla, Salvador.

Everyone was delighted with the showing made by the locals last Wednesday. In the refectory after the game a great ovation was given Coach Day.

If the mid-season form displayed by the Mountaineers in the first game is to be taken as a criterion, the Mountaineers' season looks fair to be a most successful one.

The student body is very much interested in the world series, which commences next week. Both the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics have their "rooters" in the College.

The time-honored Mountain custom of singing on the "Alley" after supper has been revived this year. A quartet composed of Messrs. McMorris, Moran, John D. Kelly and Hogan render a

She was Mrs. Lizzie Gion, and according to her husband, tips the beam at 750 pounds.

The Gions came from Cleveland, Ohio. They declared they had covered 9,000 miles in a vain search for a home-stead through Canada and the West. Gion weighs less than 130 pounds.

At the time of their marriage Mrs. Gion, who now is fifty-seven years old, weighed 400 pounds, he said.

Hop growers in Oregon are enjoying the high price of big crops and high rates this year.

medley of musical strains that turn many a youthful heart homeward.

At a recent meeting of the Senior Class plans were suggested for the coming Barbecue and a committee was appointed to decide upon some form of entertainment for the gala day. At the same meeting President Cestello appointed a committee which will comprise the editorial staff of the proposed "1914 Year Book."

Among the new students are Ernesto Madero, Jr., and Luis, his brother. They are the sons of Ernesto Madero who graduated in 1887. The latter was the Secretary of the Treasury under his nephew, the murdered President of Mexico, Francisco I. Madero. Mr. Everisto Madero, brother of the deceased President, brought his young cousins to the College.

The Mountain's gridiron warriors defeated their old rivals, Western Maryland, in a fast game last Saturday afternoon on Echo field by the decisive score of 37 to 0.

The visitors were hopelessly outclassed from the start and could not withstand the onslaught of the Mountaineers. The home team played splendid offensive ball and Mahoney tore through Western Maryland's line at will. Sheridan and Captain McManus circled the visitors' ends for long gains. Rice and Haltigan did great defensive work, particularly Rice who broke through the line several times, once blocking the opponents' punt which Haltigan recovered for a touchdown.

Mount St. Mary's line played like a machine and the accuracy of their formations and tackling evinced the systematic training they have been put through by Coach Day. Every play was clear, fast and snappy.

For the Westminster team Bennett and Pfeffer played good ball. Only twice during the game did the Western Maryland boys secure first down.

Prohibitionists Have Legislative Ticket.

The prohibitionists of Frederick county last Saturday nominated the legislative ticket, this portion of the ticket having been left uncompleted two weeks ago at the time of the convention. The result was that three of the members of the Progressive legislative ticket were endorsed—Emory C. Remsburg, Lewis F. Kefauver and Dr. C. E. Foster. Fearing to endorse any of the others nominated by the Democrats, Republicans or Progressives, the party nominated two Prohibitionists—Jesse R. Wilson, of Woodville, and William L. Purden, of Monrovia.

SOUTH AMERICAN GERMS WILL BE STUDIED OVER HERE

Eighty Billion of them of the Most Malignant Kind Captured in Ecuador and Peru by Doctor Sellards.

Dr. Andrew Watson Sellards, of Johns Hopkins University was one of a party that recently invaded the wilds of Ecuador and Peru in search of malignant germs. That the invasion was successful is proved by the capture of 80,000,000,000 germs of disease such as pellagra, oroya, fever, yellow fever, bubonic plague, typhoid fever, a collection known as uta, which is really South American leprosy, and the dreaded blackwater fever. The germs, all carefully crated, were admitted to the United States as "South American curiosities," and were shipped on an automobile truck to Harvard College.

The purpose of the investigation that is to follow is to determine the ways and means of successfully combating the numerous deadly diseases that afflict the lands to the south of the United States, and which now and again appear in isolated cases in this country, occasionally threatening to obtain a foothold and decimating the population.

It is possible that a few billions of the 80,000,000,000 germs will be brought to Baltimore for the observation of medical scientists here, although this is not yet definitely known.

Dr. Sellards' companions on the trip were Richard P. Strong, Dr. E. E. Tyzzer and Dr. Charles Brues, all of Harvard University, and Miss Nora Dwyer. Miss Dwyer was a non-combatant and, it is said, did not participate in the actual warfare on the germs. She was the secretary of the expedition and later on was intrusted with the guarding of the captives.

The germs have been landed at Boston by Miss Dwyer, who was carefully questioned by the immigration officials.

JOE JACSON SAYS GIANTS WILL WIN FOUR STRAIGHT

The Cleveland Naps' Great Slugger Sizes Up the Situation and Gives His Reasons for This Opinion.

The Athletics will lose the world's series this year because of a weak pitching staff. I look for the Giants to win four straight games.

Gonnie Mack's two best pitchers are Ed Plank and Chief Bender. Of the two, the Chief looks the better. He will be effective as he always is.

Plank is tired from overwork, and unless the few days rest he will get before the series gives his arm the needed strength he will go into the series stale. Joe Bush, one of Mack's youngsters, won't last over three innings if the Giants wait him out and don't hit until they have to. Bush strains every nerve and muscle in his body at every throw. He can't stand nine innings.

Carroll Brown doesn't use his best ball enough. He has a spitter as good as any I ever looked at when it is working right, and the spit ball is hard to hit. But Brown doesn't mix it enough with his other stuff. His curves and fast ball aren't enough.

Shawkey, Mack's third youngster, won't last any longer than Brown. Shawkey's pitching might hold out, but the crowd in New York will get his nerve.

Coombs, world series veteran and a real pitcher when he is right, can't help Connie this fall. A man just recovering from a serious illness such as Coombs had can't possibly build up his strength in such a short time to last him through a game under the strain world series pitchers work under.

I'm pulling for the Athletics because they're in the American League, but it sure looks like the Giants to me.

Beginning at the Very Bottom.

Beginning in the mechanical department, Dan R. Hanna, Jr., grandson of the late United States Senator Mark Hanna and heir to millions, has started to learn the newspaper business. Below the street level in the pressroom of the Leader-News building, Cleveland, young Dan has begun his career. Wearing overalls he works the same every day as others in the pressroom. Twelve floors above, his father, Dan R. Hanna, transacts his business in an office.

Can't Stay Away from Aviation.

Some time ago Lincoln Beachey gave up aviation. He said he had enough of it, but he is back in the game again and has commissioned the Curtiss people to build him a strong, fast-flying ship with a motor of one hundred horsepower.

Beachey signaled his re-entry to aviation by flying around Hammondsport, N. Y., in one of the new Curtiss flying boats. He sailed around as handily as ever, twists, loops and spirals with his hands off the controls.

THE CAMPAIGN STARTS OFF

ALL PARTIES READY

Platforms Adopted and Candidates Notified

THREE TICKETS IN THE FIELD

Democrats, Republicans and Progressives Have Men for Every Place on State Ticket.—Campaign to be a Short One.

The Democratic campaign is on. Senator Blair Lee and the other State candidates of the Democracy were formally notified of their nominations; the State Central Committee was organized and local chairmen selected, and the dates of meetings in the counties selected, at a large and enthusiastic meeting in the Hotel Remont on Tuesday.

Sticking firmly to his principle that when a primary election is held he, as a Democrat, should support every nominee on the ticket, Senator Lee enthused the gathering with the declaration that he was for the ticket from top to bottom, in cities and counties.

On the other hand, General Vandiver praised Senator Lee for his record, declared that the platform of the party was truly progressive and asked for united support.

The State ticket nominated by the Democrats is as follows:

For United States Senator—Hon. Blair Lee, of Montgomery county.

For State Comptroller—Emerson C. Harrington, of Dorchester county.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals—Caleb C. Magruder, of Prince Georges county.

After former State Senator John Hubner had notified Senator Lee of his nomination the Montgomery man responded with a speech.

He said, in part:

"This notification has a new significance, for it marks a Democratic nomination for the United States Senate, made for the first time in this State under the general primary election law, and also that under the Seventeenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States the people of the State are for the first time to fill the office by their votes at the general election in November.

"I thank you for your action and kindly assurance as the agents and representatives on this occasion of the Democratic voters as expressed in the Democratic convention, and wish to convey to them through you a profound sense of gratitude and obligation for the great honor which they have bestowed."

The Progressive State Convention which also held its meeting in Baltimore, nominated the following candidates:

United States Senator—George L. Wellington, of Allegany county.

State Comptroller—Col. Joseph R. Balwin, of Harford county.

Clerk of Court of Appeals—William C. Smith, of Baltimore city.

A resolution was adopted giving the State Central Committee the power to fill all vacancies.

Roosevelian ideas dominated the convention. Every mention of the name of the leader of the Progressive party was greeted with applause. A letter from him addressed to Mr. Bonaparte was cheered to the echo.

Bonaparte made a brief speech after reading Colonel Roosevelt's letter. He said that the Progressive party would not permit the Democratic or Republican parties to wear the liveries of the Progressive party.

Mr. Ferguson, Progressive candidate for Congress in the Third district, also made a brief speech.

Immigration from Ireland Decreased.

To lose four million two hundred thousand natives by immigration, and this number within sixty years, is discouraging to any country. Yet this is what has happened to Ireland. Now however the tide is changing and for the first time the population of Erin shows an increase.

The population of Ireland was at high-water mark in 1841. The official figures for that year were 8,175,124. Between 1841 and 1851 the loss by death and immigration amounted to over 1,600,000. Census statistics for the ten years ended in 1861 showed a decrease of over 11 per cent.; in 1871, the returns showed a 6½ per cent. decrease; in 1881 about 4½ per cent.; in 191, 9 per cent., and in 1901, 5 per cent. For the decade ended 1911, it was only about 1½ per cent., and now for a single year there is shown an increase instead of the customary decrease.

Italy proportionately is the greatest wine producing country in the world.

Power of the Country Press

The country press does not need any defense from us, says the American Press. It stands on its own merits as the greatest power in the United States. It could, if organized, make or unmake a president of the United States. It is the most effective molder of public opinion in existence.

THE COUNTRY PAPERS AS A WHOLE REACH A VASTLY GREATER PROPORTION OF THE POPULATION OF THE UNITED STATES THAN DO THE METROPOLITAN DAILIES AS A WHOLE.

The country papers reach upward of 65,000,000 people, and the entire population, exclusive of the Philippines and Hawaii, is 91,000,000.

The papers reaching more than two-thirds of our population are, collectively, certainly more important than papers reaching only one-third of the population.

The National advertisers are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars in space in the country papers. They are increasing their volume each year. They have learned that the metropolitan dailies and magazines do not reach an immense mass of people of purchasing power.

CONSECRATES CHURCH OF ST. MICHAEL AND ALL ANGELS

Was Rector of Church from 1903 to 1909. —Elaborate Decorations and Large Congregation Present.

Bishop John Gardner Murray and 62 clergy of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Maryland took part Sunday morning in the services consecrating the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, St. Paul and Twentieth streets, Baltimore, which, in its remarkable growth since it was established 36 years ago, has attained the distinction of having the largest congregation of any church of this denomination south of Philadelphia.

Interest was lent to the ceremonies by the circumstance that Bishop Murray, from 1903 to 1909, was rector of the church, being succeeded by Rev. Dr. Charles Fiske, the present rector. The consecration was arranged to take place Sunday, because it was Michaelmas Day, the anniversary marking the feast of St. Michael and All Angels, from which the church takes its name.

At 10.30 o'clock the service of consecration began. The church was elaborately decorated with palms and plants, and the congregation filled it almost to its capacity.

"HOUSE THAT KELLY BUILT," OWNER IS RELATED HERE

The Builder Literally Rears Structure Over His Own Head.—Worked on House During His Spare Time.

"There is much odd history connected with what men have done with houses. There was the house that Jack built and there was the feat Samson performed with a house; likewise famous. But the house that Kelly built—over his head—rivals in a modest way many of the famous structural stunts. Kelley bought a lot, moved onto it, and built his home over the head of himself and Mrs. Kelley," says the Kansas City Star.

This Mr. Kelley, by the way, is a son of Lewis Kelley, a native of Emmitsburg and a nephew of Mrs. F. Lambert of this place.

"Mr. Kelley," continues the Star, "began work on his home about three years ago. He worked on the house only in his spare time. As a result, Mr. Kelley now has a nine-room house with sleeping porch, parlor, billiard room, another for burning china and a stone wall surrounding his place.

Mr. Kelley believes he will have his home finished about the time the new Union Station is completed. He is now changing the temporary interior finishing of pine to mahogany and oak."

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

THE YOUNG AND THE COMMUNITY.

The future welfare of a community, from the moral side, depends upon the development of the youth of that community.

This preparation should begin in the home, but too often it does not. The school, therefore, must either supplement or assume the initiative.

Take merely the simple phases of the matter and see what headway may be made by development under them.

The whole structure of government—church, home and civil—is founded on authority.

As for department in public, cannot the teacher reason its desirability into the scholar? And civic pride—is it not worth inculcating in the minds of the young?

Obedience on the part of the young is a beautiful thing to see; so is deference to age, consideration for others, and so is ordinary politeness.

The appreciation of cleanliness and orderliness within the corporate family, the town, and the cooperation of the young in helping to bring it about is most commendable.

None of these is hard to teach. A few minutes each day or a half hour each week devoted to this subject by teachers in our schools would go a long way toward accomplishing the very desirable and laudable end.

COMMERCIALIZED EDUCATION AND ONE FOR HIGHER AIMS.

There is a movement throughout the educational world which tends to check the mere commercial value of education.

If in mind development there were practical tests by which the aptitudes of students could be best promoted, this would prove the acme of education, but unfortunately neither students nor parents and not always mind trainers unerringly discover the aptitudes to be trained.

FREDERICK'S HOME WEEK.

The suggestion of the Middletown Valley Register that Frederick county have an Old Home Week during the centenary celebration of the Star Spangled Banner, has met with hearty approval everywhere.

Emmitsburg has the honor of being the first town in this county to adopt the idea of welcoming back her scattered sons and daughters, and that Emmitsburg's Old Home Week was a tremendous success is a matter of history.

Frederick knows how to do things on a big scale; Frederick business men are live wires, and if they undertake an Old Home Week it will be a 'go.'

All success to the undertaking.

ONLY sapheads, lightweights and the very commonest types of persons harbor up imagined injuries and live in the hope of 'getting square.'

rang and more often injures the one behind it than it does the one it is aimed at.

Not an officially reported wreck on the W. M. (Worst Managed) Railway this week. That "Safety First" arrangement must have taken hold.

ADVENTURES OF A CHECK

A man out South made a bet with his wife—which was indiscreet. The wife won—which was foreordained.

The man wrote the wife a check for $5 in payment of the bet—which was sad.

The wife cashed the check at the grocery, but forgot to indorse it—which was natural.

The grocery, despite the lack of indorsement, paid it to a packing house collector—which was careless.

The packing house collector turned it in—which was all in a day's work.

A packing house office man discovered the lack of indorsement—which was good work.

He handed it back to the driver and docked the driver's salary—which was system.

The driver placed the check in his white duck coat and sent it to the laundry—which was unwise.

The laundry mutilated the check beyond recognition—which was usual.

Which is why the driver asked the cashier to ask the grocer to ask the man's wife to ask her husband to write a duplicate check.

Measure Framed in the Public Interest. The administration currency bill involves three fundamental principles.

First: The notes issued must be issued by the government and not by the banks.

Second: The issue must be controlled by public servants and not by private institutions or individuals.

Third: The emergency currency issued must be issued through state banks as well as national banks.

The bill as prepared observes these three requirements. The right of the government to issue money is not surrendered to the banks; the control over the money so issued is not relinquished by the government, and national banks are not given a monopoly of the benefits flowing from the issue of these emergency notes.

The regional reserve banks will prove of great advantage to business. Each reserve bank will be a commercial center and this center will be much nearer to the extremes than the few large cities are to the banks which have been compelled to reach the public through them.

THE LOST SPARK.

Break, break, break, At the top of the hill, oh, car, And what availeth a frantic clutch On lever and and brake and bar?

Break, break, break, Where the jeering mob can see; I'd be pinched if my tongue should utter The thoughts that arise in me.

Break, break, break, Until I am also broke, For you with your million ailing parts Have made of us both a joke.

Break, break, break, My heart as I think of the bill And long for the sound of a vanished spark And the sound of a chug that is still. —Florence Jones Hadley.

Speed Mania.

When he first got his motor car Two months ago He daily said to his chauffeur: "We'll travel slow."

He watched the others whizz away, Heard motors hum. Then murmured to his man one day: "Unloose her some."

And now he takes nobody's breeze When on a trip. The only words evoked are these: "Just let 'er rip." —Washington Herald.

Startling Announcement.

Some of the good citizens of a small town upstate were horrified recently to find in the Saturday evening paper a notice similar to the following:

The Rev. C. C. Perkins will preach tomorrow morning at the Blank Church on "Hell," and Percy Hawkins will sing "Tell Mother I'll Be There." —Indianapolis News.

The Burning Question.

Oh, of course we read of Sulzer, And we read of Harry Thaw, But with not that close attention That we gave to John McGraw. When the Giants meet the Quakers, Which will lay the others low? Who will win the big world's series? That is what we want to know. —Tom W. Jackson.

Editorials From Maryland Exchanges.

Your Duty.

Fortunately or unfortunately, but no matter which, every man over twenty-one years of age, native born or naturalized, who has been a resident of the State of Maryland for one year is under the moral obligation to assist in the administration of public affairs in the State and in the county or city in which he resides, and in recognition of this moral obligation and duty, the Constitutions of the State and of the United States secure unto each and every man of proper qualifications the inalienable right to perform such obligation.

The average citizen thinks that the doctrine of a man's duty to register and to vote is a mere abstract, uncertain proposition, propounded chiefly by campaign orators and political editorial writers to stir up interest and promote enthusiasm in elections.

It is just as great a duty for a man to take a lively interest in politics and to do what lay in his power to promote good government and economical and business-like administration of public affairs as it is for him to give close attention to his private interests.

Ready to Wield Ax.

According to information from Washington President Wilson is sharpening his ax and is preparing to chop off the official heads of those Republican postmasters in Maryland whose terms have expired. It is also reported that he will keep on chopping off heads as soon as laid on the block by term expirations.

A newspaper may boom a town through its editorial and news columns, but a critical investor looks to the advertising columns for substantial evidence of push and life.

Some of our farmers might take a lesson from the "good old times" and alleviate the scarcity of labor by having a corn cutting or a corn husking. These affairs were common forty years ago and were much enjoyed.

Abraham Lincoln never said "Hello, Central," never dodged an automobile, never held a strap in a trolley car, never pushed a button for light, never heard a phonograph, and never posed for a moving picture.

The violence of labor troubles all over the world makes it seem almost as if private property were in danger of being abolished; mankind appears to be divided into two classes, the few capitalists with millions, and an undistinguished herd which toils for these capitalists at a scanty wage.

Clothed as the Democracy is with the responsibility for all practical progress in this State, the potential meaning of its declarations and promises naturally engenders a corresponding duty of conservatism in statement.

Two weeks of the new school year has passed. Is the boy or girl interested? Is there a system of study at the home, or is the evening spent on the street.

Have you ever thought how thoroughly representative a newspaper is of its home town? If you want your town to cut a good figure before the world, subscribe to the home paper, and advertise as your business will fairly warrant.

By a new process just discovered gasoline expressly refined for automobiles will be sold much cheaper than the gasoline on the market today.

CURRENT COMMENT FROM LEADING JOURNALS.

Finding the Cost of Postal Operation.

Commenting upon a statement issued by Postmaster-General Hitchcock toward the close of the Taft administration, to the effect that the customary deficit in his department had been wiped out, and that the United States post-office, practically for the first time in its history, was now upon a paying basis, this newspaper took occasion to point to certain discrepancies in the method of arriving at this exhibit.

Before public ownership could be fairly compared to or contrasted with private ownership, and this was our contention, the former should be placed in exactly the same economic situation as the latter.

The point at issue still remains to be settled, however. If public ownership is to be generally adopted, and if, when adopted, it is to become a permanent policy, it must stand upon its merits rather than lean upon the support of the public treasury.

The Ulster "Uprising."

Suppose, the Ulster army having been equipped and officered, and put in the field to defy the will of the British people as expressed by their representatives in Parliament, all the rest of Ireland should arm itself and prepare for war.

Mr. Massingham, the renowned British Radical who edits The Nation, makes a strong point against the seriousness of purpose in the Ulster demonstration when he argues that if rebellion were really intended there would be some attempt to conceal the preparations.

The Currency Bill.

The currency bill does three things. It provides for panic-preventing, elastic currency such as the intelligent opinion of the country has long asked for. It provides machinery for linking together now separated financial institutions, and a system of rediscounting under which credit supplies will automatically flow to the parts of the country where most needed.

or any Congress we are likely to have, is one that reserves control to the government. —New York Globe.

Progress of Nation's Business.

Really, the achievements of the present Congress and administration are wonderful. Six months seems a long time for debates and consideration as we read the reports and the piecemeal action day by day.

A British View of Tammany.

Our esteemed namesake, The Times, of London, wonders why, with a majority of the people of this city opposed to Tammany Hall, that survival of the spoils system continues to flourish.

They need not always thrive, however. Slowly the good-natured American republic is learning how to combat the bosses. It members can not give time individually to strive against them, but they can appoint deputies.

"United States of Central America."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is considering a plan submitted to it for the amalgamation of the five republics of Central America.

The people of the five states, we are told, favor the union. Local differences have been amicably adjusted, and there is a better understanding among all of them, especially since the downfall of that perennial disturber, Zelaya.

"Sunshine Studio" deserves its name more than ever since occupying the new apartments and is still much in favor.

The newly appointed gymnasium is affording pleasant pastime during the cool Fall evenings and adds much to the enjoyment of the pupils.

Sunday 7 P. M., the Senior Class welcomed and entertained the students in the spacious Hall. Clad in cap and gown they presented a pretty picture and impressed the newcomers very favorably.

The Hall was beautifully lighted and the stage decorated with large potted ferns while the music both vocal and instrumental was well executed.

DWINDLING RACE OF YAHGANS IMPRESSES SEA CAPTAIN

He is Impressed With the Fact That Little Clothing is Necessary as Will Appear from His Story.

Are the women of the present day really about to adopt the dress of the Yahgans? This question is seriously being considered by Captain James Leshe of the British Steamship Earl of Elgin which just arrived at San Francisco.

The race of Yahgans, which has dwindled to a bare two hundred, hangs out around the Straits of Magellan and is noted for its paucity of apparel. Captain Leshe reports that his ship was recently in the midst of icebergs when two natives, father and son, paddled out in a canoe. The father wore a simple belt and the son was attired in the remains of a coat.

Feeling certain the lad was freezing, the captain had him wrapped in a blanket and sent to the gallery to get warm. The boy speedily became weak and fainted. The father, seeing his son's plight, rushed forward, seized him and threw him overboard into the icy waters. The boy immediately revived and climbed into the canoe, where he laughed merrily as he caught ships biscuits tossed by members of the crew.

THE SPREADING OF SCARLET FEVER CAN BE PREVENTED

Dr. J. B. Murphy, of Chicago, a Noted Physician, Brings the News and States the Remedy.

Scarlet fever is a somewhat mysterious, as well as a most terrible, malady, for though there is every reason to believe that it is of bacterial origin, its germ has never been isolated. Not only are its victims in great danger of death from its direct consequences, but if they survive these, only too often they suffer through life from grave physical or mental incapacities. It numbers among the most contagious of the fevers, and every case of it is therefore a public danger.

Every mother and father of young children will hear with something more than interest the statement made by Dr. J. B. Murphy, of Chicago, that he brings back from Europe the news that scarlet fever can be freed of contagiousness. So high is Dr. Murphy's rank among physicians that his announcement will be accepted throughout the medical profession as one made after sufficient investigation to warrant confidence little less than certainty that he is not mistaken.

The spreading of the disease is what Dr. Murphy says can be stopped, and by the very simple expedient of daily inunctions with oil of eucalyptus. This is a well-known germicide of the milder sort, and would hardly be expected to be efficient for the purpose, but the question is one of fact, not of expectation. If it meets the pragmatic test—if it works, that is—scarlet fever ought soon to be conquered, not by cure, but by prevention, which is vastly better.

While potatoes will not glut the market this year consumers need not fear that there will not be enough to meet demands.

Became "Convict" to Study Conditions.

Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the State Prison Reform Commission, has entered Auburn Prison as an ordinary convict. It is his intention to be confined for a short term and undergo every experience that he would have to undergo as a felon, even to a taste of life in the prison dungeon.

Later he will report on his study of prison influences in their psychological and sociological aspects, and also as to sanitation.

Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY FIRES SHOTGUN AT SISTER Little Girl's Arm Had to be Amputated at Once.—Taken Afterwards to Montevue Hospital.

Katherine, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Mitch, colored, had her arm nearly shot off Monday evening by her young brother, Bob.

It seems that the little fellow had requested his sister to bring him some candy when she returned from school. When she returned he asked: "Did you bring me any candy home?" The girl replied that she had not because she had no money, and Robert said: "Then I am going to shoot you."

Katherine did not think her brother was in earnest, but a few minutes afterwards she was startled on seeing the boy approach her with a shot-gun which he had procured in the house. She screamed and ran, but the boy pulled the trigger and the load of shot lodged in her arm and a few pieces of lead entered her shoulder.

The parents were soon at the side of their little daughter, whom they found lying upon the floor with the blood streaming from her arm. When they asked what was the matter the little boy said: "I told her I was going to shoot her and I did it."

The wound was very extensive, the right arm being completely shattered just below the shoulder, and only a few ligaments holding it. The child was immediately taken to the office of Dr. B. I. Jamison who, assisted by Drs. Brauner and Stone, amputated the arm.

On Tuesday morning Dr. Jamison took the child to Montevue Hospital.

HEAVY RAINS ACCOMPANIED BY HAIL DO MUCH DAMAGE

Frederick County Suffers Loss.—Rocky Ridge, Creagerstown, Loys and Graceham Visited by a Big Downpour.

Creagerstown, Graceham, Loys and Rocky Ridge felt the effects of the hail storm which visited this section Tuesday night. Barns were unroofed, buildings upset and window glass in many houses broken. In addition to this standing crops were injured, fences were destroyed and telephones were put out of commission. The barn on the farm of Allen G. Fisher, near Creagerstown, was unroofed and a corn-crib on the property of Byron T. Free turned turtle, demolishing a spring wagon.

Throughout the county standing corn and garden produce was severely damaged by hail and in the vicinity of Loys fences were broken down and a considerable number of trees uprooted.

H. B. Ogle had the misfortune of losing seventy panes of glass in his house. In the neighborhood of Rocky Ridge and farther north hail as large as guinea eggs fell. The number of panes blown from the windows of property owners is as follows: Milton Eby, 42; James Shearer, 38; W. P. Smith, five large ones; James Wantz, 20. Near Loys 11 telegraph and three telephone poles were blown down.

Dies from Stroke.

On Monday evening Mr. Marshall H. Michael was stricken with paralysis while unhitching his horse at his home at Maxwell's Mill, near Emmitsburg. Mr. Michael lay in front of the barn helpless and unassisted until his unconscious form was discovered by a searching party, early Tuesday morning. He died about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, never regaining consciousness.

Several months ago Mr. Michael's home was burned and lately he has been engaged in erecting a new dwelling. Monday evening he drove alone to beyond Emmitsburg in order to secure a plasterer. He returned home and went to the barn to unhitch the horse. Mrs. Michael was alone in the house which had been occupied since the fire, as the children which are at home have been staying with the neighbors. It is not known exactly what time Mr. Michael returned, but later in the night Mrs. Michael became worried that her husband had not returned.

Fearing that possibly something had happened she went to a neighbor's and asked that they help to search for Mr. Michael. That was about 2:30 o'clock. An hour or so afterward Mr. Michael was found lying in the road near the stable with the horse standing nearby only partly unhitched. He was unconscious and his condition appeared to be serious. He was carried to the house and medical assistance summoned.

He is survived by a widow and nine children and five sisters—Mrs. Ida Wiles, Mrs. Ada Wachter, Mrs. Jennie Bentz, of Frederick; Mrs. Emma Sell, of Taneytown; Mrs. Annie Herman, of Ohio. Funeral services were held this morning at Thurmont. Interment in Citizen Cemetery, Thurmont.

An Enjoyable Surprise.

A very enjoyable surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Toole on September 28th, it being the anniversary of their wedding. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Toole, Mr. and Mrs. V. R. O'Toole, Dr. M. F. O'Toole and wife, of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. O'Toole and two children, of Waynesboro; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keepers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Toole and little son, Leon, of Waynesboro; Miss Mary O'Toole, Misses Colletta, Aveta and Kathrine O'Toole, Dr. J. A. O'Toole, Mr. John, Lewis and Bernard O'Toole, Master Claude O'Toole.

At an early hour all were invited to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served, after which, having wished Mr. and Mrs. O'Toole many happy returns of the day, all departed for their homes.

DEATH OF MRS. THOMAS BARRY
Native of Ireland Who Came to This Country in the Forties.—Esteemed Citizen of Community.

On the evening of September 28th Mrs. Margaret Barry, widow of the late Thomas Barry passed away at her home, "The Cedars," on the State Road, near Emmitsburg, aged about 77 years. On August 9th, Mrs. Barry fell and broke her right hip. She lingered almost two months, at times suffering intense pain which she bore with Christian fortitude and resignation. Mrs. Barry was the second daughter and fifth child of the late William Jordan and Ellen Comers. She was born December 25th 1836 at "The Acres," Castle Hyde, Barony of Fermory, County Cork, Ireland. Mr. Jordan and family came to America during the early forties, and settled in East Chester, then a very small village, now incorporated in Greater New York. In 1853 Mrs. Barry then a young girl in her teens, came to "Clairvaux" for her health, under the guardianship of Mr. William Seton, son of Mother Seton, after remaining here two months she was recalled home by the passing away of her father. She remained home in New York for three years, then her health again failing her, she returned back to the Mountain where she joined her brother, the late John Jourdan.

On February 8th 1859 she was united in marriage to Thomas Barry in the "College Chapel," by the late Bishop Wm. McCloskey, and with the exception of several visits to her former home has resided during her entire life in this vicinity ever since. Mrs. Barry was a member of an old Scotch family, who removed to Ireland after the fall of "Bonnie Prince Charley," her paternal ancestors being loyal adherents of the Stuarts. They were staunch Roman Catholics, and suffered imprisonment and fines under the penal laws for practicing their faith. But the more they suffered, the more firmly they adhered to their religion. Mrs. Barry was the last member of the old Jordan family having outlived all her brothers and sisters. Her parents are interred in the Cemetery of St. Gabriel's, West Chester, N. Y. She is survived by a son, Mr. John Barry, and a daughter, Miss Mary Barry at home, by an adopted nephew, Mr. William J. Jordan of Mt. Vernon, New York, and two grand nieces, Misses Marcella Jordan and Catherine Seltzer, at home who were taken on the deaths of their respective mothers and raised by Mrs. Barry as her own children.

Mrs. Barry was essentially a home person, a devoted wife, a loving mother, and a faithful loyal friend.

She was buried from St. Anthony's Church, Wednesday morning at nine o'clock. Rev. George H. Tragesser, celebrant, who preached a most edifying oration. Dr. B. J. Bradley, of the College, was in the Sanctuary. The pall bearers were her four grand nephews John Jordan, Edward Seltzer, William Seltzer and Ernest Seltzer; besides, Mr. Henry Scott, and Mr. James R. Seltzer.

MIDDLEBURG.

The 15-months-old child of a colored girl by the name of Willis, fell into a spring at the home of Luther Sharratts where the girl is employed. Last Saturday, in the absence of the family, the girl went to feed the stock. The child is supposed to have followed the mother, wandered to the spring and fell in. Hearing the water splash, the mother ran to the spring to find the child in the water. Hastily summoning help the child was taken out, but too late to save its life.

James H. Seabrook has sold his property here, just vacated by Ed. Kugell, to E. O. Weant, of Westminster.

Ed. Kugell moved on Monday from J. H. Seabrook's house to that of John Bowman, vacated by Mrs. Mollie Miller, who will leave for Baltimore next Sunday.

Mrs. David Mackley is spending a week with friends in Frederick and Thurmont.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Irvin Mackley, of Thurmont, were visitors at David Mackley's last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Humbert and daughter Madeline, spent last Sunday in Gettysburg.

A very heavy rain storm visited this place Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, badly washing the plowed fields and delaying seeding.

Very Fitting He Should be There.

President Wilson thinks it fitting that he should take part in the centennial celebration of the "Star Spangled Banner," to be held in Baltimore next year for, as he said, "it was in Baltimore that I won my reputation as a tenor while singing the 'Star Spangled Banner' as a member of the Johns Hopkins Glee Club. I would be false to the traditions of my school days in Baltimore if I did not accept your invitation. Only the exigencies of official business will prevent my being present."

The people of Maryland think it doubly appropriate as it was in Baltimore that he was nominated for the high office which he now holds.

THE CAMPAIGN
STARTS OFF

Mr. Wellington in accepting the nomination said:

"I wish to thank you for the unani-mity with which you have bestowed upon me the nomination for the United States Senate. It is too late to-night to make an extended speech. It is my sincere wish and hope that the torch of agitation of our cause, lighted in Garrett county, will be carried all the way to Worcester county."

Colonel Baldwin accepted the nomination for Comptroller, thanking the convention for the honor.

William C. Smith, of Baltimore, in accepting the nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, also expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred.

Mr. Gaither, after a eloquent speech moyed the indorsement of the nominations.

The ticket of the Republicans is as
 as follows:

For United States Senator—Thomas
 Parran, of Calvert county.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals—

The Great Frederick Fair.

With the return of October days comes the time for the Great Frederick Fair, which will be held at Frederick, Md., this year on October 21, 22, 23, and 24. No fair in Maryland affords its patrons a better or more varied program of amusements, and the management have this year added many new features that will prove interesting and instructive. The free attractions in front of the grand stand will include the Famous Adas Troup of seven people who are world-renowned gymnasts;
 Harry Miller and his celebrated outdoor vocalists, who will sing all the latest up-to-date songs with band accompaniment; the Sensational Smithson, in a twirl of cycling the chasm;
 the Iron-Jawed Anglotti, in his astounding herculean performance of lifting an automobile with his teeth; the Three Cyclonians, in a whirlwind of mirth on whizzing wheels. The famous aeronaut King Kelly, will make daily balloon as-censions with four parachute drops by two men from the same balloon. There will be much else to amuse and entertain—a crowded midway, fine exhibits, splendid poultry show with a duck pond as a new feature and both harness and running races by some of the best horses in the country. The railroads will run special trains and sell excusion tickets at reduced rates.

Is Hardly Adequately Appreciated.

Some idea of what a great producer the common hen is may be gleaned from the following taken from the C.
 S. Monitor.

"W. R. F. Priebe, executive committeeman of the National Poultry, Butter and Eggs Association, estimates that $75,000,000 worth of eggs are broken annually in transit. However, according to the same authority, $1,- 000,000,000 worth reach the consumer.

DECISIONS OF SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES AS TO NEWSPAPER SUB-SCRIPTIONS.

Few readers of newspapers fully and clearly understand the laws governing subscriptions. Following are the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the subject:

Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

If subscribers order a discontinuance of their periodicals the publisher may continue to send them until all dues are paid.

If the subscriber refuses to take the periodical from the postoffice to which they are directed, he is responsible until he has settled his bill and ordered the paper discontinued.

If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, the subscriber is held responsible.

The courts have held that refusing to take periodicals from the postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until express notice with payment of all arrearages is sent to the publisher.
