MODERN FARMERS ADVERTISE AND GET GOOD PRICES

Pursue Business Methods, Cut Out the Middleman and Get Better Prices for Produce by Parcel Post.

The parcels post has made it possible for the farmer to get into quick communication with the city householder, without the intervention of the middleman.

"Farmers all over the United States are beginning to see the advantages of newspaper advertising," said H. P. Small, of St. Louis, Mo. "The farmer who advertises his eggs, chickens and farm products gets better prices than the one who simply tries to sell his products through the middleman."

"The day of the business farmer is close at hand. Good farmers have private offices in their homes or farms, equipped with roll-top desks, typewriters and printed stationery. Many of them have given their estate some attractive name, which looks well on a letter head and helps to get business. Then the modern man keeps a complete set of books, setting down his income and expenditures, and when the end of the year comes he will know to the cent what each crop has netted him, and which crops have been a loss."

Farm life is growing more and more attractive as improved methods are coming into use, and as the work is being more systematized. It appeals to the intelligent boy as it never did before, because he sees that by proper application he can make $10 on the farm where he could make $1 clerking in the store. And on the farm he is largely his own boss. As he shows his capacity he is allowed to take charge of things. That means responsibility, a thing that brightens up the real man."

August T. Brust a Candidate.

By the death of Christian Smith, Democratic nominee for the House of Delegates, an eleventh hour candidate enters the field. He is August T. Brust a young lawyer, of Frederick, who made a splendid run during the campaign. Mr. Brust, although he did not tour the county, received a most complimentary vote. Receiving in fact the next highest vote on the ticket, Mr. Brust is a man of character, and he possesses all those qualifications which go to make an ideal candidate.

Kindness Remembered By Candidate

Twenty-five years ago Mrs. J. E. Meadows, of Brunswick, used to carry flowers, newspaper and little delicacies to Christian Smith, who was a Democratic candidate for the Legislature, died last Friday and in his will was found a provision that Mrs. Meadows should receive from his estate the sum of $25,000. At the death of Mrs. Meadows her three children are to inherit the property left by Mr. Smith.

Promotions on Western Maryland.

President J. H. Fitzgerald, of the Western Maryland Railway, Company announced the appointment of his chief clerk, Mr. W. T. Stringer, as Assistant to President. This is a new position with the Western Maryland, the post just having been created.

Mr. Clarence H. Porter, who has been connected with the office of the chief executive of the railway company, has been made chief clerk to the president, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. Stringer. The appointments become effective at once, and both men have already assumed the duties of their new positions.

Mr. Stringer, who is the first Western Maryland man to become Assistant to the President, has a record of fifteen years of service with the railway company.

The advancement of these two well-known railroad men further emphasizes the fact that the Western Maryland does not hesitate to reward capable service rendered in any capacity by those who render it to higher positions. It has been President Fitzgerald's policy to select for advancement men who have earned such promotions by efficient work and fidelity to company's interests.

Mightiest Factor in Business.

"Speaking of advertising generally, I want to say that it is the mightiest factor in the business world," says the President of the New York State Press Association. "It is the mainspring, the motive power in our modern industrial competition. It is the one great business builder of the civilized world. It makes two flowers grow and bloom in the business world where only one grew and bloomed before. It hypnotizes the intelligent man and woman into a liberal and progressive mental attitude and prompts them to surround themselves with modern conveniences and comforts. It puts vacuum cleaners in the house, books in the library and pictures on the wall. It is the civilizer and the beautifier of the home, the schoolmaster of culture and the mother of civilization."

The Ballot to be Voted.

The ballot this year is the largest ever used in this county. The candidates for United States Senator have first place upon the ballot. Then comes the State Comptroller, the clerk of the Court of Appeals, which concludes the State ticket. The candidate for Sheriff comes next, then the candidates for County Commissioner, House of Delegates, County Treasurer and Surveyor. The candidates for the House of Delegates heads the second column. The third column is given over to the six amendment to the State Constitution, and these have been abbreviated.

The hulk of the burned steamship Volturno is at the bottom of the sea.

AMENDMENTS TO BE VOTED ON NEXT TUESDAY.

In brief, the six proposed amendments to the State Constitution which are to be voted on at the coming election are as follows:

(a) To allow the State of Maryland or the city of Baltimore to condemn property in the city for public purposes and to take it at the valuation of appraisers, subject to a later verdict by a jury.

(b) To authorize the Legislature to have bills printed instead of engrossed by hand.

(c) To provide another associate judge in the Third judicial circuit, composed of Baltimore and Harford counties.

(d) To authorize legislation putting the entire penalty for vote-buying on the buyer.

(e) To increase the salary of the State's Attorney of Baltimore city and those of his deputy and assistants.

(f) To authorize the Legislature to provide assistants to the Attorney General, whose duties shall be to advise the various State departments, instead of the separate counsel now employed for each.

HALLOWE'EN, ALL SAINTS AND ALL SOULS DAY

Hallowe'en or Hallow Even, the 31st of October, is the eve of the festival of All Saints. People of this day are beginning to wonder why a festival so fraught with religious meaning and so full of tender memories should be ushered in by customs that are essentially pagan in their origin. In the north of England Hallowe'en is known as Nut-crack Night. In Scotland the ceremonies of the eve were formerly regarded in a highly superstitious light and Burns thus gives a presentment of the usual ceremonies as practiced in Scotland rural districts in his day.

"The 'Hallowe'en' is a happy mixture of the dramatic and the descriptive and bears the impress of the manners, customs, and superstitions of the people. We see the scene, and are made familiar with the actors; we not only see them busied in the mysteries of the night, but we hear their remarks; nor can we refrain from accompanying them on their solitary and perilous errands to 'winnow whechts of naething, sow hemp seed, pull kale-stacks, eat apples at the glass' or more romantic still, 'wet the left sleeve of the shirt where three lairds lands meet at a burn.'"

All saints is a feast instituted by Pope Boniface IV, early in the seventh century on the occasion of his transforming the Roman heathen Pantheon into a Christian temple or church and consecrating it to the Blessed Virgin Mary and all the Martyrs.

It is designed, as its name implies, to honor all saints, and especially those for whom no special day has been appointed. It is also called All Hallows, and in French La Toussaint."

The following day as is well known is All Souls Day, the day on which the Catholic Church commemorates all the faithful deceased. It was first joined in the 11th century by Odele Abbot, of Cluny, on the monastic order of which he was the head and soon afterward came to be adopted by the Church generally.

Federal League For Baltimore.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in Baltimore for a Federal League Baseball Club for that city. The directors are: Carroll W. Rasin, John S. Wilson, Jr., Gustav L. Stewart, Walter Katzenstein, Stuart S. Janney, L. Edwin Goldman, Harry Goldman and George Schleures.

The plan of incorporation provides for the issue of $150,000 of preferred stock, and the same amount of common stock. This stock is rapidly being subscribed for.

Cardinal Does Not Believe Accusation.

In a letter to Edward Menkin Esq., Cardinal Gibbons said:

"In regard to the charge that the Jews are using blood for ritual purposes, I beg to assure you that I have never for an instant believed in any such accusation, and I regret that such a false accusation should form the basis for such persecution."

The new world's record for typewriting speed is one hundred and twenty-five words a minute.

Hawthorne Wants an Apology.

Julian Hawthorne, son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, released from the Atlanta Federal Prison after serving a little more than six months for violation of the postal laws in mining promotions declared:

"I do not want a pardon." I want an apology. I will show the public what was the real inside motive behind our conviction and imprisonment. I will not state that now, but will write my story in full later. It has been urged that I should be pardoned, to obviate the disgrace on the name of Hawthorne. I want to say that my imprisonment was not a disgrace on me and upon my name, but upon the people who imprisoned me."

Marbury and "Grandfather Clause."

William L. Marbury filed in the Supreme Court of the United States, on Monday, a brief in connection with the "grandfather clause" case, which the Supreme Court is now hearing on appeal from Oklahoma. The Oklahoma law practically disfranchising negro voters brings the "grandfather clause" question squarely before the Supreme Court for decision. In nearly every Southern State the negroes have been disfranchised by 'grandfather' clauses, but the direct issue has never been brought to Washington. On the decision of the Oklahoma case will depend the future status of the negroes of the South on election day.

The State Gets Turnpike.

The State Roads Commission has just concluded a deal for the purchase of the Union turnpike in Montgomery county. Under the terms of the agreement reached the State is to pay the lump sum of $20,000 for about 16 miles of road, running from District of Columbia line to Olney and Ashton, while the remainder of the pike is to be taken over by the County Commissioners of Montgomery county for $5,000. As soon as the money is paid over, the tollgates will be removed and next year the State will begin the improvement of the section it is to buy.

In September, a total of 169 deaths from infectious diseases occurred in the counties of Maryland.

RESEARCH LABORATORY FOR STUDY OF CIVIC AFFAIRS

New Course Introduced By New York University to Analyze Political Sociological and Economic Problems.

"The courses at Government House, says Prof. Jenks, "will result in students getting a thorough idea as to their rights and duties as citizens, and will make them interested in their work as citizens."

The Government House referred to is the New York University's Research Laboratory for Public Affairs, said to be the first of its kind in American college annals.

Students taking this course are to engage in all the activities of life in the Districts of the west side.

By analysis of the conditions of the governed, and of the part which the citizens play in governing, they expect to learn something of the ends which government should seek, as well as to see clearly the ends now actually sought.

The work on the west side will include careful study of the City Magistrates' Courts and of the Night Court; study of white slavery, child welfare, public recreation grounds, methods of Tammany Hall and other political organizations, with the reasons for their power; the minimum wage, sanitation, street cleaning, pawnshops, police administration, and the working of laws applying to tenements, factories, fire prevention, and public health.

On the government side of the courses it is proposed that the students shall consider closely the work of the Board of Aldermen, the Water Department, the Controller's office and the making of the budget. Ellis Island and the immigration question, with the various difficult political problems arising from New York's mixed population will be carefully looked into.

The object of the Research Laboratory is to give the students an opportunity to analyze political sociological and economic problems and to make of them keener citizens.

Sulzer's Bust In Corcoran Gallery.

William Sulzer may have been kicked out of the Governorship of New York State, but he still occupies his niche in Washington's well-known Corcoran Gallery of Art. The Sulzer bust of bronze has long been a curiosity to visitors at the National Capital, but never has it attracted so much attention as in the last few weeks.

American Export Trade Increasing.

The Department of Congress gives figures to show that during the past ten years the growth of United States exports to Latin-America countries in that period there has been a gain of $212,000,000 or 183 per cent.

Montgomery's ballot will be the largest ever used in that county.

STATEMENT FROM SECRETARY BRYAN.

Secretary Bryan sent the following statement to The Sun:

Blair Lee is in sympathy with the President on national issues and every Democrat ought to vote for him.

No Democrat ought to allow himself to be deceived into giving paramount importance to a local issue.

It is a scheme on the part of the Republicans to mislead the Democrats in the hope of electing a Republican Senator who will try to tie the hands of the President and obstruct his policies. There are great issues at stake just now in national politics and Democrats cannot afford to allow their attention to be diverted from them.

Blair Lee ought to have the earnest and enthusiastic support of all who approve of the President's administration and desire to uphold his hands.

MR. BRYAN, BLAIR LEE AND LOCAL OPTION.

The Lee managers brought William Jennings Bryan into the State of Maryland to speak for Blair Lee. They have made him their witness and cannot go back on what he says.

On July 26th, 1910, at Grand Island, Nebraska, before the Democratic State Convention, Mr. Bryan, in support of his Minority Report from the Committee on Resolutions in favor of putting county option plank into the platform, said, among other things:—

LISTEN TO MR. BRYAN IN NEBRASKA:

"More than that, there is now only one way to get this question (the local option question) out of politics and fight our campaign on national issues. The Republican party has acted; if we act against them, county option is an issue; if we act with them it is not an issue. You can no longer insist that you want to make this fight on national issues if you refuse to remove this question from the campaign. You have a chance to make it on national issues. If instead of that you prefer to make it on the liquor question, THEN CEASE TALKING ABOUT NATIONAL ISSUES."

But it is more than expedient—it is right. The Democratic party can afford to do right; the Democratic party can afford to take the moral side of a moral question. Which side will you take? Will you put the Democratic party on the moral side, or will you put it on the immoral side

I am interested in the Democratic party; I owe to the Democratic party all that I am, or have or hope to be. I expect to live many years to fight its battles; I want to strengthen the party; and to be strong it must keep time with the marching spirit of our times. You must remember that temperance is growing in this country and in the world. * * *

We must appeal to the young men with their ideals, their hopes and their aspirations. We cannot hope to win them if we take the liquor side of this question. * * *

I am not willing to trade men who think so much of the home that they are not willing to march under the standard of the liquor interests for men who come simply for a drink and will leave us when the barrel is empty. If we drive out good Democrats and secure in return men drawn merely by appetite—men who put the love of liquor above principles of government, we shall be weaker when the next moral issue is to be met. * * *

We never espoused a more righteous cause than that which now appeals to us; we never faced an enemy more deserving of attack than that which is attempting to corrupt our party and control our State. If a retreat is to be sounded, IT MUST BE SOUNDED BY ANOTHER, I shall not do it, never, never, NEVER!

Nobody can believe after reading what Mr. Bryan said when he KNEW CONDITIONS, that he would make an appeal to the people of Maryland to turn their back on a state issue of FUNDAMENTAL MORALITY in favor of national issues of mere POLICY AND EXPEDIENCY if he fully understood the situation or realized how the liquor politicians were trying to use him.

The situation in Maryland is exactly similar to this Nebraska proposition except that in Maryland it is CANDIDATES instead of parties. In Maryland the Republican candidate, MR. PARRAN, has a good record, has declared publicly for local option and has nominated men from his own county who are pledged to the local option bill. The Democratic candidate MR. LEE, went wrong on the liquor question in the last legislature, refuses to make any statement and has renominated men who violated their pledge in order to serve the liquor interests last time.

It is not the Anti-Saloon League that made local option an issue in the senatorial campaign this year. IT WAS BLAIR LEE. It is not the Anti-Saloon League which is keeping it an issue. IT IS BLAIR LEE, by refusing to make the statement that would take this question out of the campaign at once.

Read Mr. Bryan's words above and ask why, if Blair Lee is not under contract to the liquor interests, he does not make a statement.

Ponder carefully what Mr. Bryan says and then vote for the PRINCIPLES which Mr. Bryan lays down in his own state where he KNEW the local conditions.

Republicans in Whirlwind Campaign.

Last night the Republicans held a big mass meeting in the Opera House, Frederick, at which Senator Borah, of Idaho, regarded as one of the most famous speakers in the upper house of Congress was the orator. Hon. Milton G. Urner, a leading Republican of the county, and others made brief speeches.

To-day the Republicans are touring the whole county and have every local candidate on the ticket along. The party left Frederick in a number of automobiles, the first stop being made at Buckeystown to-morrow.

A one hour mass meeting has been planned for Emmitsburg, at which Hon. Thomas Parran, candidate for United States Senator, and other state candidates will speak. The candidates are scheduled to arrive here at 11.30 A. M.

Latest of Mexican Situation.

Preparation of the note in which President Wilson will outline for the benefit of the powers his Mexican policy has progressed as far as it will until the final results of the Mexican election are known. The note will be made public this week.

The best guess in Washington is that the President will invite European cooperation no further than suggesting that other powers withhold recognition from Huerta or any administration set up by him.

A Sweep of the Democratic Party.

From all parts of Maryland come flattering reports of the coming sweep for the Democratic party. The Lee men, the Gorman men, the Smith men, the Marbury men and all other Democrats are all working in harmony and with enthusiasm.—Annapolis Capital.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the production of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Lingular Hills and the Catoclin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.—Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

LEE AND THE WILSON POLICIES.

Those who admire President Wilson, those who approve of the excellent record he has made and is making will have but one purpose in view next Tuesday—to uphold him and his administration. He asks this much, and reasonable, indeed, is the appeal.

The President, the president of all the people, who, with the entire administration, is deeply interested in the verdict of Maryland, asks this State, by its ballot, to sanction his course and further his efforts in the people's behalf. He, through his Secretary of State, tells how this may be accomplished: by voting for Hon. Blair Lee and the entire Democratic ticket.

Lee "stands squarely on the platform of the national and State Democracy and is needed in the United States Senate to support the measures that will be enacted by the national Democracy."

"Send Blair Lee to the Senate," says Mr. Bryan. "He looks at political questions from the same standpoint as President Wilson."

That standpoint is all-important. It means that in the election of Senator Lee the President will have from this State a man thoroughly in accord with Wilson policies, completely in sympathy with the Wilson spirit, and neither the President nor Secretary Bryan would ask the support of the people of Maryland for a man of whose course in public life they did not approve.

THE DUTY OF THE DEMOCRATS.

There is no excuse for any Democrat not voting for every man on the Democratic ticket. This is a Democratic year; the Administration is Democratic, backed up by a safe working majority in the House and a narrow margin in the Senate, is proceeding to carry into effect the benefits of Democratic principles.

The candidates on the Democratic ticket represent the majority of the rank and file of the party as expressed in the open primary, and each and every one is fully qualified for the place to which he aspires.

If the Democrats lose in Maryland it will be an open rebuke to the Administration, which is receiving commendation the country over.

To do his full duty next Tuesday let every Democrat put a cross mark opposite the name of each Democrat on the ballot.

THE BEILIS CASE AN OUTRAGE. THE JEWISH RACE NEEDS NO DEFENCE.

The most despicable trait in human nature is that which renders a man capable of lending his abilities, his God-given faculties, to such an end as that of imposing upon his fellow man. It is bad enough in individuals, acting as such, worse in a nation of any calibre whatever; but contemptible and inconceivable in a nation claiming to be, and in reality being, one of the "powers of the earth."

What could be more truly despicable than the case of Russia, seeking as she is to almost literally exterminate the Jews under the flimsy, unwarranted and unprovable charge that this magnificently endowed and pre-eminently superior race is in this day sacrificing Christian children in blood-ritual?

The Beilis case calls for condemnation from every man who has a drop of manly blood in his veins, and for disapprobation from every other "power" that calls itself Christian. Not primarily because this action on the part of Russia is directed against the Jewish race—that would be sufficient reason in itself—but for the sake of simple justice.

The Jewish race needs no defence. It is the peer of any race extant. Nor does it crave apology for its existence. By every right the Jewish people are the proudest of the proud that their lineage is nobler than that of any monarch, that their heritage is of the best.

Aside from this, in addition to this, no people, as a people, on the face of the earth have contributed more to the world's sum total of efficiency. In every profession, in literature, in statesmanship, in every science, in every vocation, in short, in every field of human endeavor, the Jewish race has been and is in the forefront—at the very top. Coming back to the ritual murder case, a leading Catholic churchman of Washington, said:

"The leading accusation against Beilis of murdering a Christian boy for blood-ritual purposes is an ancient calumny, dating further back than the middle ages."

The whole trial, if trial it can be called, is an ill-conceived and badly concealed attempt on the part of Russia to inflict unjust punishment upon the innocent. Here is what Very Rev. Father Callaghan, C. S. P., one of the most prominent priests in the United States, and a friend of Pope Pius X., had to say on the subject:

"I do not think the evil we are protesting against in Russia is an outgrowth of Christianity in religion, but an outgrowth of an evil that has been nurtured despite religion in the hearts of men. The growth has been here as well as in Russia."

"The greatest glory of the Catholic Church is that it is Jewish, and the greatest honor any man may have is that he may say in some sense that he is of the House of Israel. The greatest work we can do is to stamp out the hatred of the Jews by men who call themselves Christians."

"Teach them that the Master was a Jew, that the Apostles were Jews, and that the Virgin Mother of Christ was a daughter of Judea. There never was a race that has given so much of precious things, nor a race that has given so much mysticism, that blessed mysticism of brotherly love."

"In this particular case we can all learn the lesson that the highest, noblest, and best thing in life is to learn to love one another."

It might be well for those who have a feeling of antipathy toward the Hebrew race—a feeling that we assume is engendered by a lack of knowledge concerning its splendid history—to keep in mind even these few facts bearing on the development of America:

That Jews accompanied Columbus on his voyage of discovery; that the very astronomical chart and tables used by Columbus were invented by Jews, also the sea-quadrant employed by the discoverer; that the pioneers in the settlement of America were Jews; that in early colonial days Jews were the prime promoters of intercolonial and foreign commerce in America, a commerce that was actually indispensable for the maintenance of the colonies; that prior to the American Revolution there were Jews serving in the militia and the colonial wars; that during the Revolutionary War, their numbers on the army rolls far exceeded their ratio to the total population; that in the Civil War the number of Jewish soldiers in the field also far exceeded their ratio to the population, and they held military positions from brigadier-general down; that both in the army and navy they have won marked distinction; that as statesmen, senators, congressmen and ambassadors they have achieved honor for their race and for this, their country, and that their charities in the United States are unequalled in magnitude and efficiency, compared with the Jewish population.

THE MEXICAN ELECTIONS AND HUERTA'S WARNING.

The result of the election held in Mexico on the 26th presents to the United States the other end of the dilemma in the Mexican problem.

If, under the provocations which the bandit who misrules in Mexico to-day, President Wilson had been led to meet the difficulty with armed intervention, there is no doubt that the crafty Mexican would have rallied around him, under "the scoundrel's plea of patriotism," if not all, at least a great number of the independents, even of the rebels, who would have made with them a common cause for the sake of their native land. The failure of the recent election to fix the choice of a constitutional President, presents the other end of the dilemma for, by its quasi legal effect Huerta maintains the power of dictator which he had secured by revolting acts of outrage. His imprisonment of the 110 deputies that were opposed to him, his proroguing of the Chamber of Deputies on account of their threat that unless the imprisoned members were held free from violence the chamber would adjourn to meet elsewhere than in the capital, and finally his absorbing all the powers of government, recall the stroke of tyranny by which Napoleon on the 18th Brumaire, in 1799, drove the Directory under Gohier out of the assembly under the pretence that the republic was in danger.

Huerta is playing Napoleon, with the difference that Napoleon is—well, Napoleon—while Huerta, the infinitesimally small though cruel braggart of a soldier, is only what the swiftly moving changes in Mexico have made him.

Across the Gulf of Mexico there is one, however, with whom Huerta must reckon. When President Wilson sent the Dictator the warning that his Napoleonic act of expulsion of the Deputies was "a violation of constitutional liberties" and that the presidential elections "must be free and fair," the warning must be heeded. Huerta's methods are exciting feelings of horror throughout the civilized world. The gruesome murder of Francisco Madero and of his brother, Gustavo, palmed off as a result of an effort at rescue, has unmasked the traitor tyrant, and his recent acts go to show that his way to power is through violence and the disregard of law.

He has issued a call for 150,000 men, though the Chamber of Deputies limited him to 80,000; but to make that call effective he will have to overcome the antipathies of powerful political opponents, while he will find some difficulty, we opine, in quelling the legal scruples of such men as Generals Manuel M. Velasquez, Manuel Monsagon, the friend of Felix Diaz, Gregorio Ruiz, and the fallen favorite, but still potent as a Revolutionist, Rodolfo Reyes, the true friend of Diaz.

The game may soon be on, but Huerta's hand will be called by him who sits unbudgeably at Washington, who is determined to keep the peace, if possible, and thus help Mexico in an honest effort to establish a constitutional government based not only on the American Doctrine, but also on the political creed of Woodrow Wilson, "the rights of the governors are derived from the consent of the governed."

THERE is one fool that this country could easily dispense with, and that is the one who points a supposedly empty gun at another, and pulls the trigger. Such exhibitions—of mere puerility—ought to be legally classed as criminal in themselves, and their perpetrators treated accordingly.—Carroll Record.

And in the same class should be included the person who starts the fire with kerosene, the man who rocks the boat, and the funny (?) guy who pulls the chair from under the one who is about to sit upon it.

More than one-fifth of the men who served in the army and navy of the United States during the civil war were still on the Government's pension roll at the beginning of the present fiscal year.

Editorials From Maryland Exchanges.

Blair Lee Needed in the Senate.

The Democratic Congress, under the able leadership of President Wilson, has in accordance with the promises laid down in the Baltimore platform adopted a new tariff law. It is too early as yet to appreciate in full the advantages that will accrue from this measure, but we believe before the end of the Wilson administration all fair-minded men will concede that it a great step forward in the way of tariff reform. The income tax feature of the bill will place upon the wealthy class its just proportion of the Federal taxes and thus tend to lighten the burdens of the poor, who under the Payne-Aldrich law were taxed so heavily on the necessities of life. But another important measure is pending before Congress, the passage of which, in our judgment, is very necessary for the successful working out of our new tariff law, and that is the President's Currency bill. Because this bill takes away from the great financiers the control of the nation's money and places it in the hands of representatives to be elected by the people, great pressure is being brought to bear upon Congress for its defeat, and a Senator of Blair Lee's type is needed in Washington at this time to hurry the adoption of currency reform. No aid in that direction can be expected from either Senator Jackson, or would-be Senator Parran who are "stand-pat" Republicans of the deepest dye. Let every good citizen who wants to see the finances of the country placed under the control of the government, and other legislation enacted in the interest of the people, work for and vote for the Honorable Blair Lee, on November 4.—The Jeffersonian.

American Influences.

There has never been a time in our history as a nation when we seemed to touch the activities of the world at so many points. Last month the peace palace at the Hague was dedicated by the representatives of all nations. Not only is the palace the gift of an American, but the court of arbitration, to which it is dedicated, has been vitalized by American Presidents and the cause for which it stands is looking to us for world leadership. This month the last of the barriers between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans at Panama were removed, and while the canal will not be ready for service for some time to come, yet it is complete in all its main physical features and we have witnessed the most gigantic effort yet made by man to improve nature. This canal will unquestionably exert not only a great influence on American commerce but world commerce as well.—Baltimore Times.

Not since the early days of the young republic has there been anything like the present widely diffused interest in roadways to bind together sections and States as well as cities and towns. In some cases the projects have back of them sentimental as well as economic and recreational motives. They are to be monuments, as it were, of popular regard for a great national hero or for a band of pioneers. But oftener they reflect the effect upon an influential section of the electorate of tours in Europe where road building has long been a fine art, and of realization by another and larger element of the population that the newer forms of vehicle for roadway traffic spell a vastly increased area of touring territory for either pleasure or business. Hence the demand for better roads in regions where, until recently, public opinion has not sanctioned plans that involved any considerable taxation or any conformity of method and volume of construction to a definitely wrought out scheme of roadways.—Cumberland Evening Times.

Republican leaders are very well satisfied with the progress of the campaign. In all sections of the State there is an awakening as is evidenced by the responsiveness of the large audiences that have greeted the party standard-bearers. Everywhere the situation shows a decided improvement over that of last year. Thousands of the Republicans who left the party during the Presidential campaign have returned and are again in line for the Republican ticket.—Westminster Times.

With the Democratic party united throughout the State, it is predicted by political observers that it will win a most sanguinary victory at the November election. Seldom in the history of the party has it on the whole presented to the voters of the State a stronger or more efficient list of candidates and because of the ability and qualifications of the nominees the people will rally to their support. Although the primaries for different nominations were hotly contested in Baltimore city and several counties, the contests have not left any sore spots or discontent.—Catonsville Argus.

It seems very proper that an annual statement should be published by the Board of County School Commissioners; and we believe that the time will come when such a step will be deemed just as important as the detailed report of other expenses of the county.—Frederick News.

Out at Service.

A young housekeeper, if her cook is stupid, her nurse idle, her maid more given to flirtation than to household duties, sighs for the model servants of the good old times. But did "the good old times" ever exist historically, or do they only live in dreams and ballads?

Charles Dickens tells of the appalling stupidity of London kitchens. Sir Walter Scott mentions a genius who, fearing that all his master's bees would desert the hive, plastered the openings and suffocated all the inmates. Samuel Breck has gruesome accounts of burglars, highwaymen, pirates and murderers among the convicts sent over from England before the Revolution. Daniel Defoe's pictures of extravagance, carelessness, rascality and all that is undesirable among servants is a classic. Jonathan Swift's "Directions to Servants" seems to forestall every story of negligence, or wastefulness, or dirtiness the present generation has heard.—Living Church.

The Top Hat.

Although the beginning of the "cylinder of civilization," as it has been called, can be traced back to the Elizabethan era, it is only about seventy or eighty years ago that the top hat of the present day reached its final shape. Since then it has altered slightly in the dimensions of the crown and the curl of the brim, but the hat itself has remained essentially unchanged. The top hat seems to have had its beginning in the habit of gallants in the Elizabethan period of cocking up one side of their broad brimmed, high crowned felt or beaver hats and securing them with a jewel. The French court later developed this into cocking up three sides of the hat and fastening one with a loop of ribbon. From this fashion came the cockade, now used only by grooms and footmen. The silk hat of today was born in France and supplanted the now nearly extinct beaver hat of practically the same shape, though considerably larger.—London Standard.

Blind Swimmers.

The man who is unfortunate enough to lose his sight or to be born blind is, says a medical authority, severely handicapped on dry ground, but he can, if he is a swimmer, find his way easily enough in the water. Blind people generally have a keen sense of hearing, and they can steer themselves in the water by sound as well as an ordinary man by sight. If they are swimming toward a certain point a whistle from time to time will enable them to reach it with unerring accuracy. This fact has been proved by some interesting experiments. A race between blind men and ordinary swimmers on a lake resulted in a victory for the former. Normal swimmers lose much time in raising their heads for the purpose of keeping their eyes on the winning post. This also prevents them from concentrating all their attention on speed.—Exchange.

Roses For Restoring Hair.

Roses form the chief ingredient in what is probably the earliest recipe for a hair restorer on record. According to Pliny, "wild rose leaves reduced into a liniment with bear's grease make the hair grow again in most marvelous fashion." Pliny also recommends "ashes of roses as serving to trim the hairs of the eyebrows." Roses figured prominently in several old time strong drinks, such as rosa solis, which consisted of rosewater mixed with aqua vitae and flavored with cinnamon. The favorite morning draft among Elizabethan roisterers was "rosa solis, to wash the moultrugs out of a moody brain."—London Chronicle.

Remote Origin of Alcohol.

No one knows when alcohol was first made. It is commonly taught that it was first distilled by the Arabians about the tenth century, but there is little doubt that they obtained the secret from Italian doctors, who had long been practicing it. Paul Richter in the Berliner Klinische Wochenschrift shows that a knowledge of "aqua ardens," or "burning water," may be traced as far back as the second century A. D. to a Christian father named Hippolytus, who possessed a recipe analogous to those handed about during the middle ages.

Oldest Ball Game.

Tennis is pronounced the oldest of all the existing ball games. It is impossible to give its origin, but it was played in Europe during the middle ages in the parks or ditches of the feudal castles. It was at first the pastime of kings and nobles, but later it grew popular with all classes. The French took it from the Italians and the English from the French.—New York Press.

LOCAL OPTION AND THE FREDERICK COUNTY LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES.

The following is the legislative bulletin of the Anti-Saloon League for Frederick County, which will be published in this week's American Issue, the weekly official paper of the League.

This is the worst tangled situation in the State. Three Republicans, Messrs. Frank Nicodemus, DeWitt T. Free and A. C. Koogle, have signed explicit, satisfactory statements.

Upon information from our most trustworthy constituency in that county, we are satisfied that two Democrats, Messrs. McGill Belt and George H.
Bussard, will vote right on the local option question.

Two Progressives, Mr. Emory C. Rensburg, who was a Republican member with a good record in the last House, and Dr. Clarence Foster, another high-grade estimable gentlemen, made absolutely satisfactory replies. In fact their replies were the first received. The prohibition party has indorsed these two Progressives and nominated three candidates of its own and put local option into its county platform.

We have received dire threats from some of the Progressives of charges which they will make and unpleasant publicity, if the League advises centering upon any candidates other than their own. But the League of course cannot be intimidated by its mistaken friends any more than by its enemies. The receipt of explicit pledges from three Republicans after some of these Progressives and Prohibitionists had solemnly assured us that they KNEW that no Republicans would make a satisfactory reply, shows the utter impossibility of relying upon statements of such biased partisan sources.

Among those we are relying upon are Progressives who combine enthusiasm for the Progressive party with loyalty to the fundamental principles of the League AND SOUND POLITICAL JUDGEMENT AND OPPORTUNITY FOR KNOWING THE FACTS. And we have IN WRITING from high within the Progressive party in the county, an admission that it is not believed that the Progressives can be elected and that these two Democrats, McGill and Bussard, are absolutely right.

We know positively and definitely, having put it up to their political leader in the county without any denial, that Richards and Gittinger, the other two Republicans, have been indorsed by the liquor interests of the county. Richards is the man who attempted to bring saloons back into Brunswick, the great B. & O. freight yard center.

We also have explicit information to the effect that Smith and Wachter, Democrats, will be supported by the liquor interests and are informed, though not so directly, that Nelson, the other Democrat, is also receiving liquor support, although some of his friends are claiming that he is a temperance man.
The liquor interests are practical politicians and since three Republicans are on the local option side, they will have to support three Democrats and Nelson is the only available third.

We would cheerfully recommend centering upon these two Progressives if they had the best chance of election, or even if they had no chance of election if they were not sufficient satisfactory candidates who do have, as we did in Allegany.

We think that Messrs. Belt and Bussard are making a mistake in not declaring themselves openly but that is no reason why the temperance people should make another.

There is in the county a feeling of bitter revolt on the part of many Republicans against Judge John C. Motter, the Republican leader, but we submit that it would be the height of folly for Christian temperance people to slaughter those of Judge Motter's candidates who are SATISFACTORY.
The League as a League has no concern with the fight on Judge Motter, — unless the temperance Republicans should be defeated and the liquor Republicans elected, in which case we would know what had happened and what should be done for the future. The League is not a general political reform agency.
We neither affirm or deny that Judge Motter is an "arbitrary political boss" as charged. That is none of our affair. He has nominated three Republican candidates who are committed to temperance. The League is for those candidates and in favor of encouraging the Judge to repeat such nominations, and we will protect them when he does. He has nominated two liquor candidates. The League is against those candidates and in favor of discouraging any repetition of liquor nominations. With this the League's responsibility stops.

Under all the circumstances there is no course open to the League save to advise all temperance voters and all friends of good government in Frederick County to support three Republicans, NICODEMUS, FREE AND KOOGLE, and two Democrats, MCGILL AND BUSSARD for the House of Delegates.

We have been threatened that such a recommendation will be followed by an attack by the Progressives and Prohibitionists, backed by some preachers, in an effort to get the temperance people to center upon at least two Progressives. Of course this is a free country, but the only possible purpose which can be accomplished by any such action will be to defeat temperance men and elect liquor men in their places. Such action will play into the hands of those who are trying to "trade" and MAY RESULT IN ELECT-ING THREE WHISKEY DEMOCRATS AND TWO WHISKEY REPUB-LICANS instead of electing three temperance Republicans and two temperance Democrats.

Under the leadership of the Anti-Saloon League of the county, in conjunction with the State League, Frederick County has been represented in the legislature by solid local option delegations since the first session when one man betrayed the people. The Anti-Saloon League has made good in getting results, and has established a reputation for NON-PARTISANSHIP and absolute honesty and fair dealing. It knows better than any man or body of men who are interested in certain partisan candidates can possibly know, what ought to be done to save the situation.

If you vote for Nicodemus, Free and Koogle, Republicans, and Belt and Bussard, Democrats, your vote will help local option. If you vote for anybody else, NO MATTER HOW HONEST AND PURE YOUR INTENTION, you will be in practical effect, regardless of the label on your ticket, voting in a manner which will give the liquor interests a better chance to win.

We appeal for the united support of all who put the CAUSE above party and RESULTS above personal preference.

"LATER—Since this bulletin was prepared Mr. Smith, one of the Democratic candidates has died. In the absence of information to the contrary we assume that his place is filled by a man of the same views. This death of one of the men supported by the liquor interests does not in any way change the recommendation concerning the three Republicans and two Democrats who should be supported by all local option voters."

THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE OF MARYLAND, (Paid Advertisement.) BY WILLIAM H. ANDERSON, Superintendent.

Floored the Court.

London Law Times tells a story of the late Lord Ashbourne, who as lord chancellor in presiding in the court of appeal in Ireland would occasionally make up his mind to bring a case to an end before the rising of the court.

A junior who was not conscious of his humor stood up to open what appeared to be a short interlocutory appeal. Lord Ashbourne after a sentence or two had been spoken interjected, "Now, Mr. —, why should we reverse the king's bench on a point like this?"

"My lord," rejoined counsel, "there are six reasons why the order should be reversed."

"Then," said the president of the court, "suppose we commence with your three best."

"No, my lord," said counsel, "I could not consent to that because I have frequently succeeded in this court upon my bad points."

Lord Ashbourne collapsed and for once was unable to have his own way in the court of appeal.

An Old Time Merman.

An amusing and detailed account of a merman seen in the Atlantic, written apparently in good faith, ends with the following description of the monster, which may possibly have been a seal or a sea lion. "That monster is about eight feet long, his skin is brown and tawny, without any scales, all his extremities are like those of men, the eyes are a proportionable size, a little mouth, a large and flat nose, very white teeth, black hair and skin covered with a mossy beard, a sort of whiskers under the nose, the ears like those of men, fins between the fingers of his hands and feet like those of ducks. In a word he is a well shaped man. Which is certified to be true by Captain Oliver Morin and John Martin, pilot, and by the whole crew, consisting of two-and-thirty men." (An article from Brest in the "Memoirs of Trevoux." The monster was mentioned in the Gazette of Amsterdam Oct.
12, 1725, where, it is said, it was seen in the ocean in August of the same year.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

EUGENE B. SMITH.

Eugene B. Smith died at the home of his brother, Annan Smith, at Hanover, on last Monday, Oct. 20, 1913, from valvular disease of the heart. He was aged 31 years, 9 months and 1 day.

The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Smith, and was born at Emmitsburg. The family moved to McSherrystown some years ago, and later to Lancaster.

The young man was for several years employed in the office of the Hanover and McSherrystown Street Railway and later learned telegraphy in the despatcher's office of the Western Maryland Railway. He left Hanover several years ago to accept a position as telegrapher with the Jersey West Shore Railroad, at Westville, N. J. About a year ago, on account of failing health, he was compelled to give up his position and spent some months in California and Colorado. Since then he has lived with his sisters, Mrs. Elmer Derringer, in Lancaster, and Mrs. John I. Lilly, of Hanover.

The deceased was an exemplary young man and enjoyed the esteem of a host of friends, who will deplore his untimely death.

The remains were taken to Lancaster to the home of his sister. Funeral from Sacred Heart Catholic church, Lancaster, Oct. 23rd. Rev. F. Steffey officiated. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Fire Wednesday morning completely destroyed the store of Richard Thomas, at Doubs. The fire broke out about 5:30 o'clock, probably from a defective flue.

THE OCTOBER "MOUNTAINEER"

First Number of Volume XXI Shows Marked Improvement and Return to Old Standards.

Mr. Ralph Keating is to be congratulated upon the first issue of the Mountaineer under his editorship. The number is full of well-chosen and well-written articles and editorials, seven pages of Alumni news, almost as much space devoted to local notes, a book review, and sporting news up to date.

"The Garden of Roses," a short story by George J. Goldsborough, is a typical motion picture feature and has a real "end of the film" finish. "Three Mondays," by Ralph Keating, is a story of mistaken identity, with a well conceived plot, developed in true short story style. The publication throughout is interspersed with verse of merit.

Leo T. Collier's "Signs of a Second Fall" is an excellent article on the woman suffrage question, and his introduction to "A Row of Books" is one of the best features of the magazine.

W. M. Adopts Interchangeable Mileage Book.

The Western Maryland Railway expects a big increase in its passenger business as a result of the fact that it has entered into an agreement with the Trunk Line Mileage Bureau which will allow it to sell the interchangeable mileage book. This agreement becomes effective November 1. The book will be good on practically all of the important systems in the East.

It is expected that commercial travelers will use the book to a great extent. The railway company has tried before to secure the advantages of the book, but has just succeeded for the first time in getting them.

ACROSS THE LINE

Gettysburg:

Hon. Donald F. McPherson and Martin Winter have purchased the Louis Weygandt tract of land containing 35 acres and fronting on the Fairfield road just west of Seminary Ridge and joining the Prof. J. Louis Sowas home. They have also bought the Philip Henning tract of land containing 24 acres just across the road from the Weygandt tract and extending to and fronting on the Springs Hotel road; this tract being known as the old race course tract. It is the intention of the purchasers to develop these tracts of land by opening two streets through the same from the Springs Hotel road and on to the south limits of the Weygandt tract for the present, with possible further extension in the future. These streets will be three-fifths of a mile in length each.

On last Wednesday evening, through the kindness of Miss Mary Seltzer, a surprise was tendered to Mr. William Seltzer, at his home, in honor of his birthday. The guests met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Seltzer and at an early hour journeyed to Mr. Seltzer's home, where a very delightful evening was spent in various ways. MOUNT SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Terrace Talk

Minims will run the relay between the halves of the football game.

Honor and shame from no condition rise, Get out your "matter" and you'll win the prize.

All the classes of the house have had special meetings concerning the track meet.

Some of the Alumni are expected to arrive on Tuesday for the National Alumni Banquet, next week.

And now that real old saying, That "he got it in the neck," Has been altered by our Seniors It's on the lip, by heck.

"Alligator" Long, a second string man, made a fine showing in the Gettysburg game on Saturday, when he went in for Captain McManus in the latter part of the game.

The other athletic events of Wednesday will be 100 yd. dash, high jump, 220 yd. dash, shot put, 440 yd. dash, broad jump and 880 yd. relay.

In order to harden the first team, Coach Day lined up the remainder of the squad consisting of about twenty men against the varsity, but the majority did not rule in this case.

Songs and yells have been practiced on the alley every evening this week. The cheer leader is determined to have something working on the side lines during the Gettysburg game on Wednesday.

Coach Day was not disappointed at the showing his men made last Saturday, alleging that they were playing at a great disadvantage on account of the sloppy condition of the field. He believes his warriors can show and be shown to advantage only on a dry field, none of the Mountain aggregation possessing any excess of avoidupois.

The seniors are arranging for the interclass fall track meet to be held on the morning of November, 6. Competition between the sections will be keen. A silver loving cup of unique design has been offered by Spalding Bros. of Baltimore to the man who scores the highest number of points for his class. The events will include high jump, broad jump, one hundred, two hundred twenty, and four hundred and forty yard dashes, etc.

"Hawthorne of the U. S. A.," a stirring play in four acts, to be presented by the class of '14 on the evening of Nov. 6, is being rehearsed under the management of Mr. Thomas Burke. The college theatre has been the scene of many good plays in the past, but "Hawthorne," staged by a real stage manager and playwright, will doubtless prove superior to anything histrionic ever done at Mount St. Mary's.

The Mountaineers and the Gettysburg eleven are scheduled for one of the greatest gridiron battles ever staged on Echo Field when they confront each other on Alumni Day, November 5. Gettysburg will be there flushed with memories of her latest victory and confident of another. Mt. St. Mary's will not be hampered by overconfidence but

MR. BRYAN AND BLAIR LEE.

Mr. Bryan's attitude in connection with his support of Blair Lee is not only entirely logical from the standpoint of an advocate of local option, but thoroughly consistent with Mr. Bryan's own course in Nebraska, where he supported for the Senate a candidate to whose position on the liquor question he was opposed.

There is only one real issue in the Senatorial campaign in Maryland and that is whether we shall will be spurred on by the determination to make a commendable showing before the distinguished Alumni visitors.

Preparations are being made by the student body at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, to entertain some of the distinguished alumni who will be present at the annual banquet on Wednesday, Nov. 5. One thousand invitations were sent out last week and more than half of them have been heard from. Indications are that the day will be a gala one in the history of the school.

The program includes a football game on Echo Field between Mt. St. Mary's and Gettysburg. Last week the Pennsylvanians won a victory over the Mount men, and the locals are determined that the return game will serve the purpose of recouping their lost fortunes and entertaining their distinguished guests. Coach Day has been rounding the squad into shape, light scrimmages and defensive work being the points he counts on to make the contest lively and a triumph for his men.

The zest and vim with which the eleven entered into practice this week augurs ill for old Gettysburg. Every man of the eleven is determined to seek revenge for the defeat sustained last week. The slogan of the team is "Get Gettysburg," and until the final whistle blows for the renewal of hostilities, Coach Day will keep it a vivid picture before them. The spirit of retaliation displayed by his men is gratifying to the whole student body. The cheering leaders have been rehearsing special parodies to be attuned to the music of the Frederick band when the battle is over. Captain McManus and Sheridan who were injured in the early part of last Saturday's game have held aloof from any active work this week, and will be in good shape for the decisive contest.

Mount Saint Mary's met its second defeat of the season at the hands of Gettysburg on the latter's grounds last Saturday by the score of 34 to 6. The field was muddy and Gettysburg greatly outweighed the visitors. The playing of both teams was straight out and out football, line bucking featuring.

Gettysburg scored the first touchdown within three minutes of play. Soon afterward Mount St. Mary's scored its only touchdown on three skillfully executed forward passes.

Poffinberger and Sheffer made big gains for Gettysburg by spectacular line plunging. Hoar showed his usual form. McManus, Mahoney and Haltigan starred for Mount St. Mary's. The line-up:

Not Paint

With linseed oil at $1, what sort of oil do you think they use in "paint" at $1.75 and $1.50?

That stuff is counterfeit paint. You can cheat yourself; you can't cheat Time or Weather.

Paint is a rubbery coat over wood and iron to keep-out water.

Counterfeit paint may look like it; counterfeit money looks like money.

What are all counterfeits for? They all look alike.

An Opportunity Lost

By MARGARET BARR

In feudal times, when the now ruined castles on the river Rhine were alive with people, there lay dying in one of them Count Hallenstein, its owner. There had long been a feud between the count and Baron Hafstrom, a neighbor, who, learning of his enemy's illness, designed, as soon as he, the latter, died, to step in and take possession of the castle and estate. The count's son and heir, Herman, was at the time of his father's illness returning from the university where he had been studying and had been recalled to his home.

The messenger who summoned him also informed him that Baron Hafstrom was watching for him to waylay and make him a prisoner, that at his father's death there would be no head to the Hallenstein vassals to offer resistance and that he might hold the heir to do with him as he chose. Herman set out on horseback with the messenger, Ludwig Ritter, to return to his dying father. In order that he might outwit those lying in wait for him, he concluded that Ritter should personate a knight, and he, Herman, would act as his servant. So they changed garments and proceeded in this fashion, Herman riding behind Ludwig.

One evening when they were not far distant from Hallenstein castle they stopped at the house in the center of a large vineyard, whose owner, August Bauer, entertained them hospitably, according to the custom of the country. Gretchen, Bauer's daughter, was a comely girl, eighteen years old, an age at which young girls are especially interested in the opposite sex. She could not but notice the difference between the two strangers, the master being ill at ease in playing a role that was novel to him, and the courtly manners of his servant.

Herman before setting out had instructed Ludwig not to defer to him in any way—indeed, to treat him rather harshly, the better to carry out the deception. Bauer told Ludwig that Baron Hafstrom's men had been to the vineyard that day looking for Herman Hallenstein, and Herman, fearing that he might be taken for the master instead of the man, instructed Ludwig to redouble his harsh treatment, whereupon Ludwig, while Herman was waiting on him, feigning to be displeased with his servant, rated him soundly, indulging his pretended ire so far as to strike him.

Herman bore his treatment meekly, but Gretchen's eyes flashed fire. She said nothing at the time, but when alone with Herman sympathized with him and offered, if he wished to leave his master's service, to ask her father to give him employment in the grape culture. It occurred to Herman that it might be well to accept the offer and send Ludwig ahead to find a passage through Baron Hafstrom's men. So Gretchen went to her father with the request, which was granted, and Herman was set to trimming vines, while Ludwig, after abusing his man for leaving his service, went on.

Gretchen, who was infatuated with Herman, went out to where he was at work and spent a great deal of her time chatting with him. This angered her father, who was a wealthy man and had no idea of permitting his daughter to become involved with a servant. He reprimanded her, but it was too late. Young hearts need but a spark to start an unquenchable flame. Since Gretchen could not meet Herman openly she met him in secret.

On the second day after Ludwig's departure he returned. He had found an unguarded avenue to the castle. The count had died while he was there, but he had instructed the countess to keep his death a secret till Herman had arrived. Ludwig now proposed that Herman should obtain clothing from Gretchen and proceed as a girl. So Herman told Gretchen that he was a political fugitive and asked her to let him have her clothes by which to make his escape. She readily consented and brought him what he needed. Arraying himself in her belongings, painting his cheeks and powdering his face, he started. Gretchen accompanying him till he had traversed the more frequented part of the distance and passed several bands of men watching for him. The two journeying together so aided the deception that Herman asked her to go on with him till his safety had been assured.

Leaving the main road, they entered a defile in the high hills that bordered on the Rhine, which Ludwig had found unguarded. A band had since occupied it, but the travelers climbed a hill and passed on above them. In this way they avoided several parties and at last entered the castle.

Gretchen was much astonished to see her companion, when he had thrown off his feminine apparel, receive the homage of his vassals. After an interview with his mother and the funeral of his father he placed himself at the head of his retainers, summoned forth and scattered the bands that had been looking for him.

Baron Hafstrom, seeing that the opportunity had eluded him, gave up the idea of appropriating Hallenstein castle and withdrew his forces. Gretchen became Herman's wife and brought him a fine fortune, with a part of which he strengthened the defenses of his castle and otherwise bettered his condition.

Our Platform of Principles on County affairs has been before you for Two Weeks and YOU MUST HAVE READ IT.

Neither of the two old parties has given you a county platform, upon which to ask your support. Do you know what they stand for?

If you believe in progressive principles, and desire to see them become effective, VOTE FOR ALL THE CANDIDATES ON OUR TICKET.

VOTE FOR THE RULE OF THE PEOPLE. Vote for the MEN who will represent the PEOPLE.

Vote for the MEN who will NOT be controlled by the BOSS.

Both the Old Parties in Frederick County have been controlled by ONE BOSS for a number of years, as evidenced in the last Frederick City Election, when more than 300 Democrats refused to vote for Mr. Frailey, the Democratic nominee for Mayor, yet the BOSS threw enough Republican votes to him to defeat Mr. Osburn the Republican nominee by 158 votes. This same TRICK has been done many times in County Elections and if you will watch the way the wind is blowing now, you must conclude it is going to be repeated in the coming election. It is reported that the BOSS has retired from Frederick County Politics, but we beg to advise the voters, that this is incorrect.

OH, YE FREE AMERICAN CITIZENS OF FREDERICK COUNTY, AWAKE! AWAKE!! AWAKE!!! to your duty on ELECTION DAY.

The Progressive Party is a party of the People, by the People, and for the People.

VOTE FOR ALL ITS CANDIDATES ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4th, 1913.

Published by authority of Dr. Alfred Belt, Political Treasurer.
