COUNTY TO BE REPRESENTED

AT CHICAGO LAND SHOW

Efforts of Committees Meet With Success

EXHIBITS FOR BALTIMORE SHOW

Over Half of Money Needed Already Raised.—Farmers Appear to Be Enthusiastic and Promise to Send Products.

Seven hundred dollars will be used to place an exhibit of Frederick county products at the great United States Land Show at Chicago and a display at the State exhibition in Baltimore during Maryland Week. At least $500 of this amount will be used for the county's exhibit at Chicago with the Maryland exhibit, and the balance will be used to assist the Frederick County Farmers' Association to place an exhibition in Baltimore.

Although the State is not to be represented at the Chicago Land Show, it has been decided that Frederick county should have an exhibit at the show, in spite of the lack of interest displayed by the State.

The committee from the Frederick County Farmers' Association and the Board of Trade, who are soliciting funds for the purpose of getting Frederick county creditably represented at the Horticultural Show in Baltimore and the United States Land Show at Chicago this month, met with ready response from the farmers and other progressive citizens.

Mr. T. B. Hayward, Mr. Noah E. Cramer and Mr. S. L. Motter, assisted by Mr. Charles Snook, of Lewistown, and Mr. William S. Stoner, of Thurmont, covered the districts around Emmitsburg, Thurmont and Lewistown and were much encouraged. Not only were cash contributions received, but much produce was promised and in every case the project after being explained was heartily and practically endorsed.

So far there has been $325 promised toward the fund, part of which has already been paid. Mr. Hayward said on Saturday that he thought $600 would cover the entire expense at the Chicago show and that $800 would cover the entire expenses at both the Baltimore and Chicago shows.

The committees have also met with great success persuading the farmers to send samples of their products for the displays at Baltimore and Chicago. The produce and vegetables are to be sent to the Farmers' Exchange and from there shipped to Baltimore and Chicago. Mr. Noah E. Cramer, chairman of the committee appointed to canvass the county, said that Middletown, Buckeystown and Urbana districts have as yet been covered, and stated that marked success was met with at all places and that the farmers are enthusiastic over the two exhibits, and that very few of them have refused to contribute. Many have volunteered to give assistance to the cause by giving products to be used as exhibits. Many fine specimens have been secured in this way. Mr. Cramer says that some excellent specimens of grain, fruits and vegetables have been promised.

THE CHRONICLE has been authorized to act as collector for Emmitsburg district. All contributions will be forwarded to the general treasurer, Mr. T. B. Hayward. All produce to be exhibited must be at the Farmers' Exchange, Frederick, Md., not later than Monday or Tuesday next. It is desired to have each exhibit marked by name and address of the exhibitor.

Increase in Auto Accidents.

The increase in automobile accidents in the larger cities during the past three years is astounding as will appear from the following authentic figures:

New York 310 per cent; Philadelphia, 390; Boston, 277; Cleveland, 540; Baltimore, 200; Pittsburgh, 180; Detroit, 325; Buffalo, 200; San Francisco, 93; Milwaukee, 93; Cincinnati, 260; Newark, 40; Los Angeles, 280; Kansas City, 560; Seattle, 180; Indianapolis, 450; Providence, 400; St. Paul, 400; Denver, 57; Memphis, 400.

To Jail for Happy Xmas.

A Brooklyn man, styling himself the "original hen-pecked husband," appeared before a magistrate and asked to be sent to jail for six months to escape the constant nagging of his wife and daughters. He begged with tears in his eyes that he be sent to jail for at least two months, as he "wanted to have a happy Christmas."

There will be no anti-trust legislation until the regular session of Congress.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP STATE AND COUNTY.—BLAIR LEE THE NEXT SENATOR.—HARRINGTON, MAGRUDER AND McNULTY ELECTED. —EVERY COUNTY CANDIDATE BUT ONE WINS OUT.

PREPARING FOR BIG CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEET

Convention of Maryland Societies Will Be Held in Baltimore on November 17, 18 and 19.

Preparations are being made for the greatest religious gathering of young people ever held in this State, in Baltimore, November 17, 18 and 19, at Associate Congregational Church. This will be the Convention of all the Christian Endeavor Societies in Maryland and a great crowd of them is expected. Throughout the Western counties, Mr. Karl Lehmann, of Denver, Colorado, the International Field Secretary of Christian Endeavor, is now touring in the interests of Christian Endeavor in General. He is looking up the old societies and helping to organize new ones. At the same time he is urging the different societies to send representatives to the convention in Baltimore.

The church is a spacious one and a great crowd can be taken care of. The county societies are urged to send as many members as can attend. There has been a flat rate made of One Dollar a day for entertainment and this will be the entire cost outside of railroad fare. Special rates can be obtained through the railroad agent at your station.

The president of the Union, Rev. Edgar T. Read, has arranged the most attractive program that has ever been presented at a religious gathering in recent years. Every phase of religious activity has been covered and the best leaders in the country will be on hand to conduct the conferences.

This county has a number of Christian Endeavor Societies and a goodly representation of the members should attend this Convention.

Autos Pay for Roads There.

Out in Kansas, at least in some counties, according to a prominent citizen of Kansas City, Mo., they are making automobiles pay for road construction. In Johnson county the law is that from the $5 tax on each motor vehicle $4.25 shall be retained by the county to be used for the maintenance of the county roads. Many of the counties in Kansas had no roads at the time the law was passed. Johnson county had seven miles of county road, and the county commissioners refused to designate any more county roads because of the burden that is placed upon the county in maintaining the upkeep. That left the entire fund which had accumulated from the tax levied by the State to be utilized on this one stretch of road. The fund has now been distributed so that each township is to receive the money paid in by machine owners in the individual townships.

In this manner over 100 miles of road have been designated in Johnson county, and each township has paid its share of this fund. The result is that the good roads movement has received a big boost in that section of the country.

Customs Receipts Not Dwindling.

Although the new tariff act with its lower rates of duty have been in effect practically a month the customs receipts have so far shown little falling off. According to the Treasury statement the customs receipts for October amounted to $30,138,000, just about $80,000 less than those of October, 1912. The deficit for the fiscal year to date, the statement shows, $5,757,627, about $3,900,000 more than the deficit at the corresponding period last year.

Secure Positions for Students.

Johns Hopkins University is to establish a bureau to assist students and graduates to secure positions. A similar bureau is being conducted at the University of Maryland under the direction of Samuel Want, an instructor in the Law Department. The purpose of the bureau is to provide employment that is remunerative and then to give the students an opportunity while pursuing their studies to do practical work in the line of their professions.

Since his dash through the South from Washington to Mobile and back in seventy-two hours, the President has been the recipient of much proffer from Southern admirers. Sweet potatoes, yams, Hubbard squash, pumpkins, and apples by the peck measure, bushel, and barrel are arriving at the White House daily.

Three representatives of the Chinese Government are in the United States studying our courts.

HON. BLAIR LEE, OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY
Next U. S. Senator from Maryland. He succeeds Hon. William P. Jackson appointed by Gov. Goldsborough to the unexpired term of the late Senator Rayner.

In response to the appeal made by President Wilson, through his Secretary of State, Mr. Bryan, every Democrat in Maryland and many who are not Democrats went to the polls on Tuesday to record his approval of the present administration. As a result Hon. Blair Lee was elected United States Senator by about 25,000. Mr. Lee carried along with him the other Democratic State candidates.

Noticeable in the returns is the fact that the Progressive vote failed to materialize and indications point to a falling away of the new party. The results also show that William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League forces, exerts very little influence on voters generally. This was most apparent in Frederick County where every man the superintendent opposed for House of Delegates was elected.

The Democrats scored an almost unprecedented victory in Frederick county, electing every man on the ticket with the exception of the office of County Surveyor which was carried by Emory C. Crum, the present incumbent by 102 majority over George M. Hett, Democrat.

Blair Lee was given a plurality of 631, which exceeded the hopes of many Democrats. The vote was as follows: Lee, 5,264; Parran, 4,633; Wellington, 302.

Frederick W. Cramer, for County Treasurer, led the county ticket, securing a plurality of 1,045. Neidig, the defeated Republican candidate, received 4,181 votes.

For Sheriff, John D. Conard, Jr., received 5,033 votes to 4,627 for P. Merle Hiteshow, Republican.

MARYLAND NEEDS A BACK TO THE FARM MOVEMENT

Western Part of State Must Look to Incoming Foreigners for Farm Help.

That a "back to the farm" movement will soon become necessary in order to supply the demand for farm labor in Western Maryland, is the prediction made by persons who are aware of the pronounced scarcity of farm help in the Western section of the State. Almost daily, the cry for additional labor comes from the farmers in Western Maryland, and especially those owning farms along the lines of the Western Maryland Railway Company, and there is no doubt but that this continued demand will result in an effort to divert many of the unemployed in the cities, and also the immigrants who are now being brought to Baltimore from foreign shores, to the rural districts of the state, where steady employment awaits them.

This scarcity of labor along the lines of the Western Maryland is but a further illustration of the rapid growth which has taken place among farming sections in the western portion of the state. Large fruit orchards are now in process of development, and there has also been a general broadening out in agricultural pursuits, which has consumed all of the available labor, and the men behind this development work must now look to the cities and incoming Europeans to supply the deficiency. Western Maryland farmers hope that the tide of the unemployed will be turned in their direction. In an endeavor to procure additional laborers to aid in the further agricultural growth in Western Maryland, the farmers will have the active co-operation of General Passenger Agent Stewart and other officials of the Western Maryland Railway Company.

Large Incomes of Englishmen.

England's assessed income from abroad, as set forth in the income tax statistics of last year, reached the immense total of $520,000,000, which represents capital of nearly $13,000,000,000. These incomes are derived from foreign mines, gas works, water works, tramways, breweries, tea and coffee plantations, nitrate grounds, oil fields, lands, financial, telegraph, cable, shipping and insurance companies, branches of banks and mercantile companies, mortgages on property, loans and deposits abroad and profits of all kinds arising from business done abroad by manufacturers, merchants and commission agents. When it is realized how great is the capital invested by Englishmen abroad in these varied enterprises the immense aggregate income, outside that included in the income tax statistics, can be imagined.

This Year's Crop Very Valuable.

It not infrequently happens that comparative small crops sell for more money in the aggregate than very large ones. Last year's great corn crop, much exceeding any previous one, was worth a good deal less than crops of several preceding years when production was considerably smaller. The most valuable corn crop, prior to this year, from the money point of view, was that of 1909, when production was satisfactory but not abnormal. This year's sub-normal crop will be worth a good deal more than last year's and will probably somewhat exceed in value the 1909 crop. It will be the smallest in more than a decade, but in all likelihood the most valuable ever produced.

Increased Operations Make a Deficit.

A deficit of $414,972.60 is shown in the annual report of operations for the year ended June 30 last issued by President J. M. Fitzgerald of the Western Maryland Railway Company after approval by the directors. This compares with a surplus of $647,270.53 last year. It is accounted for by the increased operating expenses due to construction work on the line. The total operating revenue was $7,632,679.11, an increase over last year of $389,621.

Three hundred dollars is the amount of the reward offered for the arrest and conviction of those guilty of robbing the home of Harry W. Bowers, Esq., of Frederick.

The Cumberland Valley Railroad, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania system, has given an order to replace 25 per cent of its wooden passenger equipment with cars of all-steel construction.

BIG AUDIENCE FOR BRYAN

OPERA HOUSE PACKED

Prof. Lagarde of Mount St. Mary's Presided

PRESIDENT AND LEE PRAISED

Goldsborough and Commoner Reviewed Wilson's Policies.—In Ringing Talk Advocated Election of Entire Democratic Ticket.

The largest Democratic Mass Meeting ever held within doors in this county was that of Saturday at the City Opera House, Frederick. It was the formal close from a standpoint of a strenuous campaign, admirably managed and fought to the last ditch.

By 8 o'clock every seat in the building was occupied, even to the topmost row in the galleries, and a magnificently representative audience it was that greeted the speakers of the evening.

Col. E. Austin Baughman, Chairman of the County Central Committee, opened the meeting by introducing Prof. Ernest Lagarde as presiding officer. Col. Baughman said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

By far the most pleasant duty that has devolved upon me as chairman of the County Central Committee—an honor which I again assure you I most deeply appreciate—is that of welcoming our distinguished guest on behalf of this representative meeting which presages a sweeping Democratic victory.

Certainly it is most fitting that he who presides here to-night should be a Democrat of the old school, a Democrat of the Jeffersonian type—that of Democracy which means the rule of the people, and surely there is no sturdier exponent of Democracy in this magnificent county than he whom I now have the honor to introduce to you—Prof. Ernest Lagarde of Mt. St. Mary's College.

A tremendous applause greeted Prof. Lagarde who, in acknowledging the honor and introducing the speakers, said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I know and feel that I am voicing the sentiments of all here present when I say that Frederick City is honored exceedingly tonight by the presence of the Premier Statesman of the present Federal Administration, the Great Commoner, the learned expounder of the teachings of our primal commoner, the Sage of Monticello.

None better represents the fine flower of the chivalry of triumphant Democracy, the battles fought, the sacrifices borne, the heroism exhibited than the distinguished gentleman who is about to address us.

None better than he, in union with his conscientious and masterful captain, typifies the promises, the hopes, the aims, the associations, the achievements of the Democracy now restored to power to realize the principles that her sons of other days so conclusively defined, so devotedly supported and so successfully effectualized. He is here tonight to ask you to help perpetuate the policies of our great leader by electing next Tuesday all of our candidates under the generalship of that peerless Marylander, Blair Lee.

Ladies and gentlemen, the speaker I am to introduce to you is, in the words of a leading citizen of our State, "one who sways his audience by the power of his eloquence as the forest trees bend before the storm."

I have the honor to introduce the Hon. William Jennings Bryan.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, FELLOW-DEMOCRATS, ALL:

It is with a sense of profound appreciation

Wesleyan Students Steal Hymn Books.

Wesleyan students stole 400 hymn books from the college chapel, and when Prof. Karl P. Harrington, who was conducting chapel exercises, announced that the congregation would sing "Rock of Ages," he soon found no one but himself and the choir singing. During the prayer by Prof. Harrington an enormous alarm clock, concealed in the organ, went off with a loud noise.

W. M. Pays Violation Fine.

For 24 violations of the act of Congress, prohibiting employes from being worked more than 16 consecutive hours, the Western Maryland Railway Company paid $600 in the United States District Court—$25 for each violation, which was the fine imposed by Judge Rose.

On her standardization trial the battleship, Texas, the largest war craft in the American Navy made 22.28 knots.

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Terrace Talk

A number of new yellies were pulled off by cheer leader McGee. Every student entitled to exercise his franchise went to Emmitsburg and cast his ballot. Large delegations from Frederick, Thurmont and Gettysburg attended the game on Wednesday. The Yellow Springs Band, was present and furnished excellent music before and during the game. The students were given "rec" on Monday by Bishop Edward P. Allen, of Mobile, formerly president of Mt. St. Mary's. Among the prominent laity who attended Wednesday's game were Joe Engel, of the Washington Americans, "Eddie" Plank, Collins and Davis, of the Athletics. "Bear" Dowdle, '15, star tackle of the Catholic University football eleven, has returned to resume his studies at the Mount. Dowdle's departure from the capital caused much gloom in the Washington camp and proved a tower of strength in the wall of the Mountaineer's defense. Gettysburg, 14; Mount St. Marys, 6. Gettysburg defeated Mount St. Mary's 14 to 6, on Wednesday in one of the best games ever played here. The teams were evenly matched and the men of both elevens fought like demons until the signal whistle blew. Their second score came in the third quarter, when Carroll fumbled a pass Gettysburg again secured the ball on the 10-yard line and in three plays scored their second touchdown. Carroll, Captain McManus, Sutton and Dowdle played splendid football for the Mountaineers, while Hoar and Milhaffy excelled for the visitors. The line-up: Mt. St. Mary's Pos. Gettysburg Hannon l. e. Biehl Kelly l. t. Rosenberg J. McManus l. g. W. McHugh Rice c. c. Witherow Dwyer r. g. Shafer Dowdle r. t. Baegle Keenan r. e. Brumbaugh L. McManus q. b. Hoar Carroll l. h. Weygel Sutton r. h. Hannon Laid Them Low.

Dowdle Hit the Line Hard.

In the first half the Mountaineers rushed the ball almost at will and finally landed it on Gettysburg's 10-yard line.

Farrell's Vote Not Counted.

In the election at Emmitsburg on Tuesday, the fact that one voter took along with him into the booth a sample ballot caused his vote to be thrown out, at least not counted. The voter was James Farrell, and in some manner the sample ballot was dropped upon the floor. When the time came to deposit his ballot, the judges were equally divided on whether it should be counted, and the ballot was placed in an envelope and delivered to the Board of Election Supervisors, who will determine upon it at the official counting of the ballots. The law provides that a fac-simile ballot shall not be taken into the election booth by a voter. Some claimed the sample ballot was a fac-simile, while others claimed to be such it should contain the same on both sides as the official ballot contains.

Brown and the Wild Cat.

It will be remembered that from time to time stories have been told of local wild cat encounters. Few of these stories were overdrawn. The attention of Ward Brown, of Emmitsburg, who was working in the woods back of Mt. St. Mary's College the other day, was attracted by an animal which he took to be a skunk, but which upon closer inspection proved to be an unusually large catamount, nearly a yard in length.

Not knowing whether, unarmed, to attempt an attack upon it, fearing that it might spring upon him, he sat down at a respectful distance from it and laid deep plans. But before he could come to a definite decision as to whether to bite it or run from it, the considerate wild cat took to the bushes and Brown resumed his occupation. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Some People Seem to think that much of the money spent in advertising is wasted. But does it seem likely that the business men of the United States would spend billions in this way unless it produced returns?

The simple truth is that advertising is the least expensive form of salesmanship.

The newspaper is picked up when people are at leisure. They read its advertising as carefully as any part of the paper and what the merchant says is given thoughtful attention.

MARYLAND WEEK IN BALTIMORE TO BE BIG EVENT

Horticultural Society and Its Affiliated Bodies to Hold Annual Meeting and Exhibits the Products of the Farm.

Maryland Week will be observed at the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore, November 18 to 22, when the State Horticultural Society and its affiliated bodies will hold their annual meetings and exhibit the products of the farm. There will be many features of the exhibition that will make it worth while for the farmer to see. There will also be a social side, for the visiting farmers will be guests of the Baltimore Board of Trade at a luncheon, an automobile tour of the city and a boat ride around the harbor. Maryland Week is largely educational, with exhibits from the experimental station of the Maryland Agricultural College and with speakers of national importance. Every man who can possibly spare the time should go. Scientific farming means larger and better crops and the results of scientific farming are shown during Maryland Week.

Deer and wild turkeys are reported to be plentiful in Virginia.

THE stores which do the largest business are those which keep their names constantly before the public. Advertising is just as great a necessity to an active business life as food and drink are to healthy physical existence. If you stop eating you die for want of sustenance, if you stop advertising, your business dies for want of publicity.

Democrats Apparently Retain Control of Legislature.

FIELDER BADLY CUT IN ESSEX

Hudson, Home County of Democratic Candidate, Gives Him Big Plurality.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 5.—With incomplete returns from all parts of New Jersey it is apparent that James F. Fielder, Democrat, has been elected governor of New Jersey over Edward C. Stokes, Republican, by a plurality of not less than 15,000. The chairman of the Democratic state committee says that Fielder's plurality in the state will be 40,000.

In Mercer county Stokes received a plurality of about 1,500 and carried the legislative ticket to victory. Barton B. Hutchison is the new senator, while Hervey S. Moore, Edgar Weart and James Hammond are the assemblymen from Mercer. A. Crozer Reeves, the Progressive senatorial candidate, made a remarkable run and went far ahead of his ticket. Everett Colby, the Progressive nominee, was a poor third in the state.

The Democratic state committee says that Fielder has carried Jersey City by about 12,000 and Hudson county by not less than 25,000.

Democrats Claim Victory.
The Democratic state committee from their headquarters in Jersey City gave out a statement claiming that the Democrats have carried Bergen county for Fielder, and also that Fielder has carried Warren county by about 2,000. They concede that Stokes has carried Mercer county by about 1,000 and Atlantic county by about 2,500.

At Republican headquarters in Newark it was claimed that Stokes had carried the state by a small plurality. They claimed that Camden county had given 4,000 for Stokes over Fielder. The Progressives have advised from Camden to the effect that it went 12,000 for Colby. They base their claim or hope on a bulletin from Hudson Heights.

The Republican state committee is claiming Essex county by 8,000, Camden by 5,000, Atlantic by 3,000, Mercer by 2,000, Passaic by 3,000, Burlington by 2,500, Cape May by 500, and Salem by 500. The committee concede Hudson by 18,000, Hunterdon by 1,200, Monmouth by 1,000, and Warren by 1,000.

It is practically certain that the Democrats will retain control of the house of assembly. They have elected twelve members in Essex, eleven in Hudson, one in Hunterdon, three in Middlesex, two in Monmouth, making twenty-nine. Warren and Sussex are absolutely sure that there will be a safe majority in the lower house. The senate is still in doubt.

Colby's Vote Very Light.
The feature of the election was the light vote cast for Everett Colby, the Progressive candidate. Colby's vote probably will not exceed 40,600 as compared with 145,410 received a year ago by Roosevelt for president.

Fielder's vote in the returns at hand is running slightly below that received by Woodrow Wilson a year ago, which was 178,280.

Estimates from Hudson county, Fielder's home county, show that Fielder has carried it by 20,000; that he will have 3,000 in Monmouth, 1,500 in Middlesex and 1,000 in Union.

Stokes has apparently carried Essex county, the home of Colby, and also the home of former Senator James Smith, Jr., and former Democratic State Chairman Nugent, whom Fielder on the stump accused of working against him.

In Paterson, Demarest, the Socialist candidate for mayor, has polled a heavy vote, and it is very probable that he will be second in the final count to Fordyce (Rep.), who appears to be elected by about $40. This is one of the results of the great silk strike of last winter and spring. The Democrats renominated Mayor McBride, who headed the city government during the strike. The Socialists made a vigorous campaign against him.

Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, voted at 1:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Varick street, between Bright and York streets. He arrived at the Grove street subway station a few minutes after 1 o'clock and rode in an automobile with his former law partner, George Cutley, and his brother, William Tumulty, to the polls. His vote was 79. After calling on his parents in Monmouth street he took a train that departed from New York at 3 o'clock for Washington.

President Wilson took a personal interest in the New Jersey election. James F. Fielder succeeded him as governor when he was elected president, and Fielder's candidacy was openly advocated by the president.

Wilson Is Delighted.

President Wilson, who returned to Washington at 9:30 o'clock last night after voting at Princeton, sat in his office until nearly midnight receiving election returns. Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, and Rudolph Forster, executive clerk, were the only persons who saw him at that time. They carried to him press bulletins and telegrams from political and professional friends, and he showed delight at the Democratic victories in Massachusetts, Maryland, New York and New Jersey.

The president's interest appeared to be centered in the returns from his own state. At 11:30 o'clock he received a telegram from the state house in Trenton saying that Fielder was elected by about 16,000 plurality. This seemed to satisfy the president, and he went over to the White House with the intention of going to bed.

Representative Doremus of Michigan, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, went to the executive offices at 10 o'clock, but remained in Secretary Tumulty's room. None of the members of the cabinet saw the president during the evening. Secretary Bryan got the election returns by telephone at his home.

ELECTION A WILSON VICTORY

Backed Lee, Walsh and Fielder.

PROGRESSIVES STRONG

Democrats Win Outside of New York State.

MARYLAND WITH PRESIDENT

Massachusetts Result Probably Means Retirement of Gov. Foss From Politics.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Democrats still hold the nation. The predictions of a reaction have been unfulfilled. Blair Lee has carried Maryland, and Walsh has carried Massachusetts, the latter by the sweeping majority of 60,000. Fielder, President Wilson's candidate, has carried New Jersey by a fair plurality.

But in New York state a severe rebuke has been administered to the Murphyrized Democracy that took control of the state when Governor Hughes gave way to Governor Dix. Smashing blows have been delivered to the Democracy everywhere up state, and where Democracy is strongest the blows have been hardest.

In the minor elections, such as those for mayor, the Democrats have generally been successful. For instance, Newton D. Baker, the Tom Johnson mayor of Cleveland, is re-elected over his Republican opponent, Davis, and Indianapolis has elected a Democratic mayor, Joseph E. Bell, by 9,000 majority over a Progressive, who leads the Republican vote by 400.

The Progressives are not down and out, as was so freely predicted. They have not made much of a showing in New York state, but they have shown in many others that they are not negligible quantities.

The main things which stand out from the election lessons are the continued confidence in the Democratic party in every state outside of New York and its utter smash in this state.

Fight in Massachusetts.

The fight in Massachusetts was four cornered, with Walsh running as the Democrat, Gardner as the Republican, Bird as the Progressive and Governor Foss as an independent. Walsh's majority is, as said before, about 60,000. The Republican and Progressive are running neck and neck, and Foss is out of sight. His vote is inconsiderable.

In Maryland Blair Lee's election was just as much of a personal triumph for President Wilson as was the election of Fielder in New Jersey. Mr. Governor Fielder in New Jersey Mr. Wilson sent Secretary Bryan into Maryland to advocate the election of Lee to the senate. The cry was raised that Bryan was inconsistent in advocating the election of a man who had advocated personal liberty in excise matters, whereas in Nebraska he had bolted the nomination of Jim Dahlgren because Dahlgren was a "personal liberty" man. Bryan's retort was that in Nebraska it was a state matter, but that Lee was a candidate for a national office.

The attempt to discredit Wilson and Bryan failed, and Lee was elected by a handsome majority.

A similar situation was presented in New Jersey. Fielder was the representative of the Wilson Democracy. Last spring the president of the United States felt impelled to go into New Jersey to urge the passage of certain reform bills in which he was interested. The gang felt so sure of its power that it dared to insult the president to his face. The result is seen in the election of the president's candidate.

Returns Are Impressive.

So much for the three states outside New York where the voters have had a chance to elect state officers. But in New York, where Murphy and Tammany have ruled ever since Dix became governor, there is a terrible defeat for the Democratic party. The Republican candidates for court of appeals, Hiscock and Werner, have carried the state by a majority approximating 30,000.

The individual overturns are impressive. For instance, Monroe county last year gave 1,100 majority, and this year it gave 7,000. All over the state there seemed to be a disposition to soak Murphy.

Westchester county, which last year gave the Democratic candidates pluralities in the neighborhood of 3,000, gives the Republican candidates this year pluralities of about 3,200. Suffolk is another county which has shifted from Democratic to Republican in the court of appeals vote.

The Democrats carried Buffalo, electing Fuhrmann for mayor again. The Progressives carried Syracuse, electing Louis Will as mayor. Albany revolted against "Packy" McCabe, Murphy's man, and elected a Republican mayor, J. W. Stevens.

The old machine won out in Philadelphia, electing the Republican organization candidate for district attorney.

While Mr. Wilson's biggest victory may appear to be in New Jersey, his most important triumph was in Maryland, where his motives were ridiculed and where his sending of Mr. Bryan as his personal representative to urge the election of Blair Lee was made a matter of common criticism. He has elected a man of the kind he wanted from Maryland to the United States senate, using Bryan as his means of doing it.

Foss' Defeat Impressive.

The Massachusetts result probably means the retirement of Governor Foss from politics. He left the Republican party to accept a Democratic nomination, became the Massachusetts Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1912, then coquetted with the Republicans, bolted the president's policy, ran independently for governor and has now received one of the smallest votes cast in Massachusetts for anybody since the last time Benjamin F. Butler ran.

Indications were that the Democratic party had lost most of the lower branch of the New York legislature.

Returns of eighty-eight of the fifty assembly districts in the state showed the election of fifty-six Republicans, twenty-eight Democrats and three Progressives, with one in doubt. Nine of the successful Democrats and eight of the Republicans were endorsed by the Progressives.

One of the spectacular features of the state election was the triumph of former Governor William Sulzer, who, running on the Progressive ticket in the Sixth district, was sent back to Albany.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

THE ANSWER.

Figure out all the "ifs" and "ands," the whys and wherefores, the pros and cons—analyze Tuesday's result from every viewpoint and the one answer is, "Wilson, that's all."

FREDERICK COUNTY'S PART.

Frederick County—in response to the appeal of the President, made to the entire State—did its part in the election of Tuesday, and did it well.

All eyes will be upon the County Commissioners whose platform was as specific as it was necessary. The people want a lower tax rate, the people demand full compliance with the law in everything pertaining to this office.

other candidates elected to office will merit the confidence placed in them by the voters, we have no doubt whatsoever.

CHAIRMAN BAUGHMAN.

Col. E. Austin Baughman in his speech acknowledging the honor paid him by the Democrats of Frederick County in making him their chairman said that he proposed in the then on-coming campaign to give to his party the best that was in him.

Col. Baughman has won his spurs. He has proved beyond a doubt that his selection was a wise one. He managed the campaign in a tactful and masterful manner, and to him and his able associates, who responded so generously and effectively to his appeal, is due the outcome on Tuesday last.

Col. Baughman did give the best that was in him; the committees throughout the county did yeoman duty, and the voters in all the districts did their full part—hence the result.

JUDGE MOTTER'S ILLNESS.

It is a source of exceeding regret to his friends—of whom he had so many—that former Judge Jno. C. Motter should be stricken by illness.

For many years Judge Motter has been a prominent figure in Maryland, both as a judge and as a political leader, and his identification with Frederick County interests, in which he has always been foremost, links his name indissolubly with this part of the State.

The news of the Judge's illness came as a shock to the City of Frederick and to the entire county. The many and sincere inquiries concerning his condition are evidences of his popularity, and THE CHRONICLE joins in the hope, generally expressed, that Judge Motter may quickly recover.

THE LAND SHOW PROJECT.

At no time in the history of the United States has as much attention been given to the intelligent handling of farm land as has been given during the past year. We refer more particularly to the interest shown by and the information furnished by farmers, orchardists, dairymen, and prospective land buyers through boards of trade, chambers of commerce, and agricultural societies throughout the country.

Every State, realizing the immense advantages to be obtained by encouraging progressive people to settle within its borders, is putting forth its best efforts to obtain that end. Lectures by experts and practical talks by specialists are constantly being given, and product exhibits are being made at large centres—all with the purpose of exploiting the advantages to be derived from the development of the farms and the industries of their respective commonwealths.

Even individual counties and communities are thus engaged, knowing full well that every bit of publicity given, every practical demonstration made, every exhibit displayed, means the eliciting of outside interest, the encouragement of home industries and the consequent betterment of local assets.

Just at this time Maryland is about to show the rest of the country what she has to offer. Prior to the exhibit at the Great Land Show to be held in Chicago, November 20 to December 5, a State Exhibition will be conducted next week in Baltimore, at which may be seen the best specimen products from the farms in the various counties.

This county is seeking, through the instrumentality and co-operation of the Frederick Board of Trade and the Frederick County Farmers' Association, to interest all farmers, all banks, all business men in this exhibit, with a view to placing this county, one of the banner counties of the country, in the position to which it is entitled—in the very forefront. To do this money is required, and in this connection let it be said, that contributions, no matter how small, will be most welcome. Exhibits are also in demand. These may include any specimen product, such as apples, wheat, corn, flour, etc.

Emmitsburg district ought to be well represented at both shows. This district is proud of its farmers and its products, and no orchardist or tiller of the soil hereabouts should hesitate for a moment to forward specimens for this purpose. Just how this may be done will be seen in another column of this issue.

NEW SOCIETY FOR TEACHING THRIFT IN UNITED STATES

A Billion Dollars a Year is Spent on Indulgences that Mean a Positive Physical and Moral Harm to the People.

The teaching of thrift in the public schools, colleges and universities, the discussion of thrift by commercial organizations from its economic standpoint, and the preaching of thrift in the churches from its moral aspect are a few of the plans of the American Society for Thrift, which has begun a national campaign from headquarters in Chicago.

The American Society for Thrift, of which it is supposed to have representatives in every large and small city in the United States, says Mr. Straus, chairman of the organization, is an enterprise with which all good people ought to be in sympathy. The American people as a nation dislike to be told they are unthrifty, and yet it is true that they are unthrifty in the extreme. They boast of their money-making powers, and the facts justify them. Americans know how to make money, no doubt about that, but they don't know how to spend it—and that is equivalent to saying they don't know how to save it—for money gets its chief value from its use. I do not want to be understood as saying that the want of thrift explains the greater or even a great part of the poverty of the world, but I do say that the want of thrift aggravates the already existing poverty and makes a heavy burden still harder to carry.

The happy-go-lucky spirit so common among the American people is the reason why so much money is spent in senseless pleasure and vice. A certain amount of pleasure is needed by all classes; there cannot be efficient work where there is no play, but there is no doubt that a billion dollars are spent every year by the people of the United States on indulgences which not only cannot be described as sane pleasure but which do positive physical and moral harm.

Not a Complete Surprise.

When William R. Hearst bought the old New York Journal one of his managing editors, Julius Chambers, invited Hearst to dinner with him.

They went to a downtown French restaurant. Chambers had ordered the dinner, which was a good one, and Hearst and he had a pleasant time. Along toward the close of the meal Chambers said: "Now, Mr. Hearst, I am going to give you a treat. I have ordered something you probably never have eaten or seen."

Chambers nodded to the waiter, who brought in some French artichokes. "You see," explained Chambers, "these are a great delicacy. You pull off the leaves and dip the ends in the sauce and eat the ends only."

Hearst smiled a little and followed directions. As they progressed Chambers said complacently: "Pretty good, eh? I don't suppose you ever saw an artichoke before."

"Well," Hearst replied, "I can't go so far as that. You see, Chambers, we had 400 acres of them growing the last time I was out at our California ranch."—Saturday Evening Post.

Fans in the Eighteenth Century.

A letter in the London Spectator dated May, 1711, gives a most interesting description of an academy where ladies could be drilled in the proper use of their fans and initiated into the mysteries of "the angry flutter, the modest flutter, the timorous flutter, the confused flutter, the merry flutter and the amorous flutter." In the eighteenth century at dancing assemblies in London, Bath and other places of fashionable resort gentlemen chose their partners by "lottery of the fan." The fans of all the ladies present were placed in a hat, whence each gentleman had the privilege of selecting one, the lady to whom it belonged becoming his allotted partner for the evening. Of course such a custom entailed a great study of fans on the part of the gentlemen. Boswell, Steele and Pope found something to say about the fan, and Guy, enlarging upon the efforts of his predecessors, wrote a long poem in praise of the fan, attributing its invention to Venus.

How Brazilians Bag Wild Fowl.

From "The Log of a Rolling Stone," by Henry Arthur Broome, comes the following curious mode of bagging wild fowl in Brazil by way of economizing ammunition:

"The expedient is to get hold of a very large pumpkin and, after scooping out the meat and seeds inside, to cut two little eyeholes in it and then place it on the hunter's head. He then wades through the sedge and flags into deeper water up to his neck, where the wild fowl are feeding, who gather that it is merely a pumpkin innocently floating on the surface. The hunter then soon gets into the midst of his quarry and, seizing them by the legs, pulls them quietly under water, where he tucks them under a belt fastened round his waist, and as their companions presume that one unfortunate bird after another is only diving for food the hunter gets a wasteful in no time and returns well satisfied to the shore."

The ups and downs of the artist's calling are well illustrated by the fortunes and misfortunes of the late M. Sukborovsky, a Russian artist. His celebrated painting, "Nana," was exhibited all over the world and made a fortune for himself and others. After personally receiving some $300,000 for its exhibition the artist, thinking its vogue over, sold "Nana" for $21,000, and the dealer resold it at double the price. An American bought it and showed it all through the United States, Canada and South America and is reported to have made $1,000,000 by the enterprise. On the other hand, the artist lost all his money by unfortunate investments and was reduced almost to beggary.

Gave Him a Hint.

Miss Carter had not been successful in bringing young Dodge to her feet and in consequence felt a little spiteful toward him. One evening they were having quite a serious talk in the library. "Do you think," asked the young man, "that men progress after death?" "Well," responded the girl, "if they don't it would almost seem useless for some of them to die."

Wagner Worship.

"There is no such worship of national genius in America as prevails abroad," said a recently returned tourist. "In Germany, for instance, at the opera the scale of prices varies according to the composer, Wagner, of course, commanding the top notch admission. But the most peculiar feature of this musical adoration is that it affects the toilets as well. With the elaborate gowning of a New York audience in mind, I approached our landlady as to the propriety of appearing at the opera in such a makeshift costume as my tourist wardrobe afforded. 'It depends entirely upon the composer you intend to hear, fraulein,' was her astonishing reply. 'For some your present attire would be perfectly proper, but if it is the great Wagner you are to hear'— She broke off, but an expressive shrug of the shoulders told plainer than words that it would be an affront to his ashes to appear in anything but the most stunning and up to date evening gown."—New York Tribune.

When Thanks Were Given.

Many years ago a noted chief of the tribe of Chippewa Indians while hunting wounded a deer and followed it for miles. The chase was long and very severe, and the Indian was in the last stages of exhaustion from fatigue and lack of food and water when he found himself on the top of a wonderful mountain, at the foot of which nestled a beautiful lake crystal clear. From the surface of the lake trout leaped, and upon the shore lay the deer he had hunted. Here were food, water, fish and fuel for cooking.

Raising his hand and facing the setting sun, the exhausted chief exclaimed, "Ish-pem-ing," which in the Chippewa tongue means "heaven" or "the place on high."

The story was remembered, and the name given by the Indian was adopted by the white settlers when the present city of Ishpeming, Mich., was formed. —Ladies' Home Journal.

Inexperienced.

In a boarding house for bachelors Amanda, a typical "mammy," looked after the guests' comfort in true southern style, so well that one of the men thought he would take her away with him in the summer in the capacity of housekeeper. Toward spring he waylaid her in the hall one day and said: "Mandy, do you like the country?"

Mandy reckoned she did. "Would you like to go away with me this summer and keep house for me?"

Mandy was sure she would. "Suppose I get a bungalow. Do you think you could take care of it nicely by yourself?"

Mandy gasped and rolled her eyes. "Deed, no, massa! Reckon you all better get somebody else; I don't know nothin' about takin' care of any animals."—Harper's Magazine.

Antiquity of Nagging.

No, if you are nagged you are not alone in your experience. Nor are the nagged persons of this age the only nagged persons of any age. Nagging is an old custom. They tell us that Adam, Job, Socrates, Aesop, Leonidas, Machiavelli and many more distinguished historical personages were victims of nagging. This proves the antiquity but not the wisdom or the respectability of nagging. And if it is as old as it is claimed to be let it crawl away somewhere to die. For come to think of it, nagging is just as hurtful to the nagger as it is to the nagged. So why injure ourselves for the purpose of injuring some one else? Samson did that, you know, when he pulled down the temple of Gaza and broke his own back. Rather a poor example to follow, eh?—Detroit Free Press.

Wrote In Bed.

Mark Twain wrote nearly all his later books in bed. So persistent a "sluggard" was he that he had a specially contrived bed desk fitted up so that he could write without trouble or exertion while propped luxuriously among his pillows. He used to aver that most of his best thoughts came to him in bed and that the trouble and worry of getting up, shaving and dressing dispersed them all and left him in no mood for commencing his literary labors. He was of opinion that bed was the very best place for the author, and he acted upon his belief.

Illicit Gold Buying.

Most people have heard of I. D. B. (illicit diamond buying), a crime which in South Africa is punished with penal servitude on the breakwater at Cape Town.

The Rand, however, has the lesser known offense of I. G. B. (illicit gold buying). Considering that in the Rand mines only a few pennyweights of gold go to a ton of quartz, it is obvious that the miner does not get much chance of stealing the precious metal. When does the gold thief get his opportunity?

The pieces of quartz are ground into dust by powerful hammers known as "stamps." Water then washes the dust over inclined plates coated with amalgam. The gold instantly combines with the mercury in the amalgam, afterward being easily separated by chemical process.

It is of this gold laden amalgam that the dishonest employee will scrape off portions which, though small, will mount up to a good bit of gold in time. —Pearson's Weekly.

Well Qualified.

The drapery magnate was bombarding the applicant with the usual questions.

"Speak French?" "Yes." "Good salesman?" "Yes." "Can you tell a good lie?" "Oh, yes!"

"Well, I'll give you a start." The young man got on famously for a few weeks, until one fine morning a dainty Parisian damsel approached him and sweetly stated her requirements in the native tongue. The poor young man was flabbergasted, not comprehending a single word. Five minutes later he was facing his indignant employer.

"This is scandalous, sir. When I employed you did you not tell me that you could speak French?"

"True," mildly replied the culprit; "but did you not also ask me if I could tell a good lie?"—London Tit-Bits.

Significance of Small Duties.

Don't object that your duties are so insignificant. They are to be reckoned of infinite significance and alone important to you. Were it but the mere perfect regulation of your apartments, the sorting away of your clothes and trinkets, the arranging of your papers—"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might" and all thy worth and constancy. Much more, if your duties are of evidently higher, wider scope; if you have brothers, sisters, a father, a mother, weigh earnestly what claim does lie upon you on behalf of each and consider it as the one thing needful to pay them more and more honestly and nobly what you owe. What matter how miserable one is if one can do that? That is the sure and steady disconnection and extinction of whatsoever miseries one has in this world.—Thomas Carlyle.

Rocheport In Court.

Henri Rocheport went to court of teneer, it is said, as plaintiff, defendant or witness than any other man in Paris. Partly this was because of his articles, partly because of his continual dealings with the picture dealers, with whom he often disagreed. In his later years, moreover, he was often called as a "witness" by parties in political suits, not because he had any pertinent testimony to present, but because he had a happy faculty when on the witness stand of making the government, the police and all that set appear a set of fools or scoundrels. The French code of procedure allows a witness much more latitude in "telling his own story" than does ours. And Rocheport's stories, whether relevant or not, were sure to have a sting in them for the folk in authority.—New York Sun Press.

Musical Marvels.

It has been said of Dr. Hans von Bulow and Rubinstein that, if every note of music worth preserving had been destroyed, they could between them have reproduced every line of it. Von Bulow once gave a series of twenty piano recitals without a line of music and striking approximately 1,250,000 notes, each of which had to be retained in its exact position in his memory; and Verdi once, for a wager, played faultlessly an entire opera, drawn by lot, which he had composed four teen years earlier and of which he was not allowed to see a note.

Nice For the Cows.

Retired Haberdasher (late of London)—Now, then, 'Entry, I'm goin' to have a large party 'ere next week, and I shall expect an unlimited quantity of milk, cream and butter. After that the cows can 'ave a rest till me and Mrs. P. returns from the conteng.—London Punch.

London Juries.

England has been investigating its jury system and finds that charges of unfairness against juries are no new thing. One old bishop remarked, "London juries are so prejudiced that they would find Abel guilty of murdering Cain."

Vindictive.

Ethel—Yes, I know Billy is very wild, but I'm going to marry him to reform him. Kate—I told that boy a dreadful punishment would overtake him.—New Haven Register.

He Got On.

Millions—When I married your mother I was earning $10 a week. Two years later I bought out my employer. Daughter—And put in a cash register.—Town Topics.

Of all work producing results, none pays so well as drudgery.—Bishop Palpatos.

ciation that I stand before this brilliant presence tonight to say that there is no event in my past which so deeply moved me and filled me with so just a pride as the present occasion when I realize the signal honor conferred on me by the Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, my good friend and former student, Col. E. Austin Baughman, when he selected me from among so many worthier representatives of the County Democracy to preside at the reception of the illustrious statesmen whom we gather here tonight to honor.

Bear with me as I acknowledge the gracious words of the Chairman of the National Democratic Committee. I thank him for his flattering reference to myself and I tell him that I am happy to see the great strides he is making to reach in an early future the eminence which his lamented and illustrious father held as the organizer of Democratic victories.

It is with pleasure that I announce to you that besides the distinguished orator who is our guest of honor, we are fortunate in having with us one well-known to the Democracy of the State from the Stores of the Chesapeake, whose liquid hands are raised in gladsome greetings to the rising sun, to this historic corner, "green-walled by the hills of Maryland," whence the setting sun sends his Golden Farewell to the toil-worn of our beloved State—one whose eloquence has so often been heard in the advocacy of genuine Democratic principles—one whom we proudly acclaim as the standard-bearer of the Democratic party and who is ready now to take up that banner and to lead his fellow Democrats to the field of triumph and renewed victory, and in whom I take a particular pleasure of introducing to you, Ladies and Gentlemen, the Hon. A. S. Goldsborough.

Mr. Goldsborough said that for years the people have been deluded by the Republican party. The Democratic principles are the embodiment of popular right. He declared the privileged interests were fostered by the Republicans. He said that every Marylan-der's bosom should swell with pride to know that such a man as Blair Lee, a champion of the people, has entered public life. He closed with a plea for a selection of a full Democratic delegation to the Legislature, so that good laws may be passed over the governor's veto. He praised Democrats to the skies, saying that they are the best for every office and claiming that Maryland is in the forefront with progressive legislation, which has been enacted by the Democratic party.

When the speaker concluded, the "people's leader" was introduced and amid a deafening applause Mr. Bryan walked to the front of the stage and began.

After expressing pleasure at being able to come to Frederick county again,
Mr. Bryan launched into his address.
He began by saying:
"I don't think anyone is enjoying life more than I am. It is quite different from what it used to be." (Laughter.) "We used to predict, and they called us prophets, and now we are writing history.

MT. ST. MARY'S ALUMNUS, PROMINENT ATTORNEY, DIES

P. J. Brady Succumbs to Heart Failure Following an Operation for Stomach Trouble.—Was Prominent Figure in Cleveland, Ohio.

P. J. Brady, one of the best known attorneys in Cleveland, Ohio, died on Sunday at Charity Hospital, following an operation. His death was wholly unexpected. Physicians said his heart was unable to withstand the shock of the operation.

For a long time Mr. Brady had been a sufferer from stomach trouble, but his illness was not considered serious and it was only on October 25th that he was taken to the hospital. The news of his death was a great shock to his friends, many of whom did not know he was in the hospital.

At the attorney's bedside when he died, besides his wife and four children, were C. A. Grasselli, president of the Grasselli Chemical Company, his almost life-long friend, and his father-in-law, Herbert Bucklen, millionaire Chicago real estate dealer. He was conscious and retained his characteristic cheerfulness until within a few moments of the end.

Mr. Brady was born in Ireland in 1866. His family moved to America when he was a young man. He obtained a degree of bachelor of arts from Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg in 1887 and in 1908 received the degree of doctor of laws from the same college.

While at college he was the close friend and confidant of General Francisco Madero, the late President of Mexico, and was intimately acquainted with all the members of the Madero family. He was admitted to the bar in 1892 and has practiced law ever since. He was the national treasurer of the Knights of Columbus, member of the Cleveland Athletic Club, the American Bar Association and was vice president of the St. Joseph Valley railroad and vice-president of the Columbian National Fire Insurance Company, of Detroit.

Among Mr. Brady's personal friends were many men in high public stations, including former President Taft, Marcus A. Hanna, Supreme Court Justice Shauk and Governor Cox. At one time he was offered an appointment as Supreme Court Judge in Panama but declined.

Early in his practice of law Mr. Brady was a partner with W. T. Cashman. For eight years and until a year ago he was associated with John L. Dowling. W. W. Hole was a member of the firm in 1911 and 1912. During the past year he practiced law alone.

WILLIAM H. BAKER.

After a prolonged illness, Mr. William H. Baker died on Wednesday, Oct. 29, 1913, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elmer Rentzell, of Fairfield, Pa., in his 77th year.

Mr. Baker lived many years in Liberty township, three miles from Emmitsburg, engaged in farming. He is survived by four daughters and three sons—Mrs. Lyle Seabrook, Mrs. Geo. A. Hare, of Mumbasburg; Mrs. James Boyd, Mrs. Elmer Rentzell, of Fairfield, Pa.; Martin Baker, Liberty township; Ross Baker, of Waynesboro; Albert Baker, of near Emmitsburg.

The funeral services were largely attended, being held in the Fairfield Lutheran church, on Saturday, Nov. 1, at one o'clock, P. M. Rev. Charles Reinwald, D. D., officiated at the service, assisted by Rev. W. K. Fleck, of Fairfield. Interment in Fairfield Union cemetery.

Young Boy Accidentally Shot.

With a gun that "wasn't loaded," Forest Moler, son of Councilman and Mrs. Jacob Moler, of Brunswick, accidentally shot and killed his nine-year-old brother, Clement West Moler, at 1.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The two boys hearing so much of the hunting season, went into the garret of the house and secured a rifle, stating that they intended to use it for hunting tomorrow. They took the gun into the dining-room of the Moler home for the purpose of cleaning it and not knowing the gun was loaded, started to clean it in preparation for the days sport Monday. The older lad was holding the gun when it was discharged, the bullet striking the younger lad in the temple. Death came instantly.

Are You Going to Stand

JUDGE MOTTER STRICKEN AT THE POLLS

Suffers an Attack of Paralysis in Frederick on Election Day.

Former Judge John C. Motter, long regarded as the leader of the Republican organization in this county, and one of the Republican leaders of the state was paralyzed at the polls Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock, and is now at his home, near Frederick, in a serious condition. His speech is effected and he is helpless on the right side.

Judge Motter was born in Emmitsburg district, Frederick county. He was educated in part at the home of his father, John Motter, a well-to-do tanner, and afterwards went to school at Williamsport, Pa., but his health broke down and he could not graduate. He soon built up a large practice at Frederick, and took an active interest in politics. He was married in 1876 to Miss Marker, of Frederick.

Cake and Candy Sale.

Landis' Jewelry Store Robbed.

On Tuesday morning early the jewelry store of H. S. Landis, in Frederick, was robbed in the boldest manner possible by Jesse Derr, of Frederick, who has served several terms in the Maryland Penitentiary and in the House of Correction for thefts.

Derr smashed a large plate glass with his foot and crawled through the opening into the store. The noise aroused Mr. Landis, who sleeps directly over the store. Dressing himself he went into the store and found Derr, who threw up his hands and said: "I surrender." at the sight of the proprietor.

Derr rifled the windows, where lights were burning, and a light in the store was also left burning. About the time Mr. Landis entered the store policemen were on hand and took charge of Derr.

St. Joseph's Festival.

The annual festival for the benefit of St. Joseph's Parish will be held in St. Euphemia's Hall, next week, on the afternoons and evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Thursday is to be their night and it is expected that every member of the society will be present on that evening. St. Joseph's Festivals are enjoyable affairs and the attractions offered always elicit the interest of the whole community. Unusual preparations have been made this year and there will no doubt be a large attendance.

Notes and Remarks Both Personal and Pertinent By "Country Contributor."

An amusing incident came to the writer's notice a few days ago, apropos of a pony bought at a late horse sale by a youngster whom we will call Dick. Master Dick bought his pony, brought it home and placed it in his father's barn. After a few days confinement the youngster finding that the pony was gentler than he expected, turned it out to crop the grass on the lawn, near the house. One day the pony came around the house towards the kitchen door, which happened to be left open. Finding the coast clear, no one in sight, master pony started for the door, after sniffing a few times seeing no person present he ventured inside the cooks domain. Hearing voices further on, he continued his investigations, which finally led him into the dining-room where the family were assembled around the dinner table. As the pony walked in, he was greeted by screams from the ladies of the family who proceeded to depart out of the room with more speed than grace, leaving the pony monarch of all he surveyed. Master Dick after the first surprise was over, recovered his wits, and by gentle persuasion induced his pony to leave the room and return to the lawn once more, but it will be safe to prophesy that the good house mother will be very careful from this out, to know where the pony is before she ventures leaving the doors open.

Mrs. Castleman, of Greensboro, Ala., has returned home after spending several months in this place.

BIG GAIN FOR REPUBLICANS

Indications Are That Democrats Have Lost Control of Legislature.

New York, Nov. 5.—John Purroy Mitchel rode safely into the mayoralty of New York city on an anti-Tammany wave which gave him 106,012 plurality over ex-Judge Edward E. McCall.

Fusion swept the city. Its candidates will fill all the chairs at the board of estimate meetings except that of Queens, where Borough President Connolly, independent Democrat, whom fusion did not endorse, is elected. Nobody, however, expects Tammany to get any benefit from his vote.

prospect of becoming mayor should anything happen to take Mr. Mitchel away. He wins by 50,000 plurality at least over Joseph A. Goulden, Tammany's candidate. William A. Prendergast is elected comptroller over Herman A. Metz by a plurality of about 25,000.

Marcus M. Marks is chosen borough president of Manhattan over Dr. Thomas Darlington (Tammany) by 14,000. Tammany even loses its county ticket in New York county. It had lost the board of aldermen.

Murphy Makes Statement.

Charles F. Murphy, conceding the defeat of the ticket, said: "The result speaks for itself. Mr. Mitchel has been elected by a majority of votes. His opponents join in the wish that he may have a successful administration and hope that it will be of substantial benefit to the city."

Candidate McCall said nothing. He went to bed early after hearing the worst from his campaign manager, Joseph Johnson, and couldn't be reached by reporters.

Returns give control of the next assembly to the Republicans. Unless the figures are changed by later returns they will control this branch of the legislature by only one vote. The Democrats will have fifty-eight members as against 103 in the present assembly. There will be sixteen Progressives, where there are only five at present.

Sulzer a Big Factor. Feeling against the Democratic organization, largely on account of the impeachment of William Sulzer under the whip of the Democratic bosses, it is clearly indicated by the dispatches from up state sections, was responsible for the loss of the assembly to the Democrats.

This feeling found its vent in districts where men who had voted for the impeachment of Mr. Sulzer had been renominated. Seventy-one assemblymen, eight of these Republicans, voted to impeach Mr. Sulzer. Of these forty-nine had been placed in nomination again. Only in the strong Tammany districts in Manhattan and the Kings were they successful in defeating their Republican and Progressive rivals.

In nearly every up state district where an assemblyman who had voted for the impeachment resolution was running for re-election he went down in a general slaughter, which in many instances included the entire county ticket.

The direct primary sentiment revived by the Sulzer campaign last spring was reflected very strongly in the assembly elections. It is safe to say that a majority of the 150 members of the next assembly will favor a state wide primaries bill, regardless of party.

Progressives a Big Help.

In Buffalo the Progressives aided in what came near being a clean sweep of all the Democratic assembly candidates. In the last assembly Erie county had eight Democrats and one Republican. At the election all except two Democratic organization candidates for the lower house went down in defeat. Yet the result there could not be called a Republican victory, for in all except two of the districts which the Democrats lost candidates who had the indorsement of the Progressive party were elected.

The result in Erie county puts an end to Tammany's sway in that section of the state and establishes firmly in his leadership of the Democratic organization Henry P. Burgard, who defeated William H. Fitzpatrick, Tammany Leader Murphy's lieutenant in Erie, at the primaries last September.

Onondaga, at one time so strongly Republican, will send to the assembly next year two organization Democrats and one organization Republican. In Ulster two of the five districts in Monticou county the Republican candidates won over Democrats, running with Progressive indorsement.
