TERRACE TALK

The schedule for the basketball season, just opening, calls for a total of twenty-six games, numbered among them being the colleges of Western Maryland, Washington, Bucknell, Albright, Seton Hall, Manhattan, Fordham and Gettysburg.

Basketball is now engaging the time of Mt. St. Mary's gridiron warriors and many of the varsity. Every afternoon the squad scurries from class to the gymnasium for a good two hours of strenuous practice under the direction of Coach Day. And they go after the new game with the same impetus and vim that has characterized their phenomenal football fighting. The schedule of the season just closed is now Mountain history and creditable football history it is to the enviable eleven.

The Mountain men held a brief meeting of the Athletic Association on Tuesday, the business of the occasion being the formal presentation of a sterling silver loving cup to Coach John L. Day. The Coach was taken by surprise at this latest manifestation of fine spirit which, he said, has been helpful and gratifying to him all along. He expressed his appreciation of the boys and their way of doing things and said he would value the cup far more for the splendid association it conveys than for its intrinsic worth. The cup is of beautiful design and reposes on a pedestal of ebony. Capt. Leo McManus, on behalf of the team, made the presentation speech.

The first game of the season will be played on Monday, December 15, with Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, this being the last game before the holidays. The team will leave the Mountain on December 18 for a three days' stay in New York, during which time they will oppose Seton Hall, Manhattan, and Fordham University respectively. If a stronger incentive be needed to spur the boys on to action than their desire to be the winners of the season, the prospect of a trip to New York will furnish it. Already this trip is making powerful appeal to the forty and more aspirants to basketball fame, and competition is keen and clever.

Conspicuous among the candidates seen in practice at the gymnasium are four out of last year's star quintet. With these as a phalanx from which activities will be directed, the prospects for a regular championship team looms up bright and big. There is Captain Costello, the name synonymous with conquest; Leary the lightning-like; May the merciless; and Philips the fierce. A quartet of this kind, in the judgment of bystanders who alwas "see most of the game," is calculated to make such a showing as no season before has recorded.

John W. Dowdle, of Chicago, Ill., who played right tackle for the eleven this fall, was unanimously chosen captain of the '14 team, Dowdle is 19 years old and weighs 194 pounds. Under his leadership and with a wealth of promising material, the college should enjoy one of the most successful seasons in 1914. Whatever may be said of the season that has just closed, the men at the Mountain played clean and hard football, the kind that any good college might well be proud of. On no occasion could any of their tactics be described as detracting, even in the smallest measure, from the honor in which they hold their Alma Mater.

To Prevent Import of Narcotics.

Alarmed over the increasing use of narcotics, officials of the Department of Agriculture are considering the rigid enforcement of that section of the pure food and drug act prohibiting the importation of any drug dangerous to the people of the United States. It is estimated that there are 1,000,000 users of drugs in this country, which imports annually 1,202,300 pounds of cocoa leaves from which 140,000 ounces of cocaine is produced.

Successful Play by E. G. S.
 To an onlooker the rendition of "The Courtship of Miles Standish," which was presented by the Emmitsburg Grammar School last Friday evening was a decided success. The principal characters in the play were: Miles
 Standish, James Hays; John Alden, Bryan Byers, Priscilla Mullens, Pauline Annan; Elder, Charles Gillelan; Magistrate, Louis Annan. Recitation, The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth was well delivered by Margaret Zimmerman. Reading, an account of the Love Scene of John Alden and Priscilla Mullins, Margaret Hays; Recitation, "The Lost Chord" Ethel Annan; Recitation, Recessional, Margaret Annan.
 All the members of the cast seemed to have a true conception of the part assigned to them. Alice McNair who recited a prologue to each scene had a fine stage presence and spoke her lines with clear enunciation, and with a keen appreciation of their import.

Interesting Facts in Figures.
 English is spoken by more than 150,- 000,000 persons.
 There are used daily in the United States about 50,000,000 eggs.
 There are 27,119,000 sheep in Great Britain to its 88,000 square miles. New York State has 1,131,000 to its 49,000 square miles, which shows how short American farmers are in their understanding of the true value of sheep raising.

Manly Art of Self-Defence.
 Commenting on Maurice Maeterlinck's defence of boxing, Mac Levy, athlete and trainer, remarks:
 "Most people are unable to distinguish between boxing as an exercise and prize-fighting, but now that the "highest-browed" and most admired of the "high-brows" has confessed that he has boxed every day for three years, perhaps boxing will be restored to its old status as a "gentleman's sport."
 After eighteen years as a trainer of athletics and an instructor in physical culture, I am inclined to believe, with Maeterlinck, that boxing is "the supreme intellectual exercise of muscles."
 Like Maeterlinck, I believe that if every boy were taught to box, the world would be vastly improved. A suggestion that boxing be taught in the public schools would doubtless bring out a storm of protest, but the adoption of such a plan would be a blessing to humanity."

Favors a State University.
 Outlining some of the measures he hopes will be enacted by the next Legislature, Governor Goldsborough especially emphasized the fact that he stands for such changes in the laws as will make possible the consolidation of the various colleges receiving aid from the State into one great university.

Communications intended for publication in this paper, letters of a business nature in relation to the Chronicle, and all orders for Job Printing to be done at this office should be addressed to THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

THE TRUE UNIVERSITY OF THESE DAYS IS A COLLECTION OF BOOKS.—CARLYLE.

A little over seven years ago it came into existence—the Emmitsburg Public Library—and during that time it has been the source of pleasure and profit to a great many people.

The State Library Commission from which, by the way, the local library receives no support other than periodical loans of "traveling libraries"—has given the Emmitsburg Public Library the distinction of being one of the best in the State.

Now, the question is: Ought not an institution like this—a community institution, founded with the idea of community cooperation, community benefit—receive very liberal support?

Increased annual membership is all that is needed; simply more individual local interest—more subscriptions at one dollar each.

We are hearing and reading much about community Christmas trees—a rallying point for every one in the community. New York, Baltimore, many large cities are to have them this year.

To get the real Christmas spirit read Washington Irving's "Old Christmas" and the "Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens.

THE W. M. (Worst Managed) R. R. is steadily pursuing its policy of expansion—confining its activities, however, mostly to expanding rails.

ADVERTISERS—PATRONIZE THEM.

No man advertises for the fun of it. There is no fun in it; it is a serious investment. The shopkeeper who puts his name to a statement risks his credit and his standing if what he says can not be substantiated.

There are no people in business—we say it unhesitatingly and without qualification—more conscientious than those who advertise in THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

At this season you, readers of THE CHRONICLE, are in the buying spirit. There are lots of things that you need; many things which you desire, and in no way can you better fill those wants and desires than by patronizing those on whom you can depend—the advertisers in THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

One word more—heed the advice that experience has proved to be sound: buy early, while stocks are unbroken, while there is time to fill special orders.

THERE is no confirmation of the report that "Throw Out the Life Line" is to be adopted as the official hymn of the W. M.

THERE are already enough X-mas hay-vana cigars in evidence to bed a hundred thousand elephants.

THE necktie manufacturers must have bought all the last year's remnants of the carpet factories, judging from the prevailing styles in cravats.

A MUCH NEEDED LAW.

The bill for food protection, drawn up by Chief Counsel Whyte of the State Board of Health and which will be offered to the next Legislature, can hardly fail of being enacted into law as there is not a legislator, we are sure, who does not feel that it is his duty to safeguard the health of Maryland.

Mr. Whyte's bill seeks to enforce absolute cleanliness and freedom from disease, both in regard to those who handle food stuffs and to places where food is kept. Rigid inspection is wisely provided for and failure to comply with the law is punishable by heavy fines.

THE engineer of the big fast freight Ne'er lifts his hand from the throttle, Unless he's about to chew on a plug Or to hit the half-pint bottle.

THE Baltimore Sun says: "A railroad manager these days must be very much of a philosopher to keep his temper and his sanity," which leads us to express the hope that President Fitzgerald of the W. M. may be spared the loss of the latter.

WRECKS on the W. M.! How dare you?

"EASY" DAD.

This is the merry time of year when father is on top, (only in one sense). He's called "Dear Dad" and "Darling Pop" (this to extract his pence). The children crowd around and almost hang upon his neck; (they "love him much"), they're getting ready, one and all, to strike him for a check (to make a "touch").

"HE that revels in a well-chosen library has innumerable dishes, and all of admirable flavor."—William Godwin.

Revel in the Emmitsburg Public Library—it's a table d' hote feast for one dollar.

MAKE one of your Christmas gifts a yearly membership card in the Emmitsburg Public Library.

"SAFETY first," and then—the crash.

MRS. PANKHURST may have a weak heart, but she has an all-fired strong head.

Fully 80% off: The W. M.

Although Mr. Bryan has been a candidate for President three times and is now Secretary of State, when he went to the Capitol to hear President Wilson read his speech he was not recognized by the doorkeeper and had great trouble in entering until recognized by the bystanders.

By the addition during this year of 115,862 volumes the library of Congress now contains 2,128,255 books and pamphlets.

THANKING A NEWSPAPER.

That newspaper editors should give freely of their time and work and space in promoting every movement for the general welfare, every charitable plan and philanthropic purpose—to a thousand and one things that are under way all the time—is something that most people expect as a matter of course.

INFLUENCE OF HOUSE PLANTS.

The cultivation of house plants has a refining and quieting influence on families where they are grown; they adorn the house as nothing else can and give to the cheapest furniture an air of elegance which no other ornament can impart.

RELICS OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The request has been received at the War Department from the only living descendants and heirs of the late Jefferson Davis that certain articles of personal property of the former leader of the southern confederacy, now in possession of the War Department, be forwarded to the executive of the Davis estate, who lives in Colorado.

SPEED TYPEWRITING.

Eight years ago there was only one girl in the United States who could write 82 words a minute on a typewriter and keep it up for an hour. She won a prize for speed and accuracy in 1906, held her supremacy for four years, and in 1909 raised the number of words to 95.

THE RICHEST GIFT.

The richest gift that we can bestow upon humanity is that of our best selves. Our years may be made meaningless years, squandered in foolishness, wasted in pride, eaten up in vain glory, or they may be made years of service, of use, of enrichment to the world.

It will take $1,108,000,000 to run the government in the fiscal year that will be begun on July 1, 1914, according to the annual estimates submitted to Congress Monday by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Editorials From Maryland Exchanges.

The whole world is beginning to adopt the Wilson policy. It is the best because it is honesty.—Annapolis Capital.

Only a trifle less than four weeks remain in which to quench the thirst on suds and schnapps. Then will come the annual swearing off.—Cumberland Daily News.

Don't shun a business man and refuse to trade with him when you have cash simply because you owe him for past accommodations. The way to get even with him for his kindness is to patronize him when you have money and pay for what you want.—Valley Register.

There is no concern in public business that so richly deserves the fate that is overtaking it, nor will there be any tears shed by the people when these express companies who have for years practiced extortion at will, are put entirely out of business, and the operation of the parcel post system is destined to seal their doom.—Midland Journal.

The way to reduce the price of eggs, butter and meat is to smash the cold-storage houses. Restrict the storage of all food products to 30 days and the work is done. As simple as this method is our statesmen do not seem to have stumbled upon it. Maybe their vision has been obscured by gold dust.—Cumberland Evening Times.

When our ancestors objected to paying too much for their tea they just boarded a ship that brought it, up in Boston harbor, and pitched it overboard. That led to trouble—and cheaper tea. The cold storage people, who are getting blood money out of the people for eggs and other things, should heed this lesson.—Sykesville Herald.

Those lady suffragists display a delightful lack of humor when they propose to march seven times around the White House, a la Joshua, in order to advance the cause of female freedom. It would indeed "have all the elements of the Biblical story," except that neither the Lord nor man would be connected with it, and except that the only thing that would "fall down" would be the marchers. But it would make a beautiful show. Please stage it, ladies.—Cumberland Daily News.

Congressman Lewis' remarkable success as a legislator at Washington and the general recognition of his exceptional ability and industry in looking after important public measures of wide import have made him a much-sought public speaker, and demands upon him far more than his time permits him to leave the capital.

The compensation of members of the legislature should be increased to ten dollars a day. The per diem of five dollars for members of the state senate and house of delegates was fixed way back in 1867 and, no doubt, was adequate for those times, but five dollars a day is not sufficient in this generation of high prices to meet the actual expenses of the average legislator at Annapolis.

Law of the Road.

Now that automobiles are so numerous, it is getting to be very important that all users of the road should know and observe the rules in order to prevent accidents.

There are very few cases in which there is room for complaint when vehicles meet as every one turns to the right, but when an auto overtakes a horse-drawn vehicle there is no way to tell which way the latter will turn out for about as many turns to the right as to the left.

All vehicles should turn to the right hand except those who overtake and pass another, in which case the one which is passing the other should pass around to the left.

Observance of this rule costs nothing and decreases your chance of accident, and in case of accident it throws the blame on the other man and prevents his suing you for damages.—Havre de Grace Republican.

During the fiscal year there were 1,021 desertions from the United States Marine Corps. Only 266 of the deserters were caught.

A Royal Change of Mind. By ARTHUR W. BREWSTER.

The king of Aurlania had asked the king of Wortenberg for the hand of the latter's oldest daughter, Amalia, for the former's son, Prince Carl.

Passing along a corridor on his way to his room, he met a young girl who from her costume might have been a governess, a reader or have occupied any of the lesser duties of one belonging to the palace.

She passed on without making any protest, though her cheeks turned crimson. The prince as soon as his attention could be diverted from her saw a man standing at the other end of the corridor, looking at him with fire in his eye.

The royal family and guests met for dinner, and Prince Carl was then formally welcomed and introduced to his fiancée, the Princess Amalia. He was also introduced to her younger sister, the Princess Louise, and was astonished to recognize in her the girl whom he had kissed in the corridor.

Neither Louise nor Danilo made the slightest reference to Prince Carl's transgression, nor did they ever show by their manner that they were conscious of it.

The only person whose manner was not satisfactory to Prince Carl was the Princess Amalia. She treated him with such scrupulous politeness that it was evident she had been informed of his transgression.

Upon receiving this information Prince Carl made preparations to leave the capital. On the evening before his departure an officer of the household guards called upon him to ask satisfaction on the part of Prince Danilo for an insult offered the Princess Louise.

On the evening of his arrival Prince Carl had sent a courier back to his father, the king of Aurlania, to say that the match with the Princess Amalia was impossible and to send posthaste a request for the hand of the Princess Louise.

"I will not marry Prince Danilo," she said. "And if Prince Carl proposes to me I will marry him, no matter what action the council may take."

Now, the princess was a young woman of considerable firmness. She laid out duties for herself to perform daily, and it was in working costume that Carl had mistaken her identity.

This was tantamount to an order for him to withdraw his challenge, for except for being considered an applicant for her hand, he was not called upon to protect her.

And this is now a prince of the good went courting a princess and married her sister.

No feature is more remarkable in the season's styles than the way in which the one piece skirt is handled.
Most effective draperies are now produced with a single strip of fabric and almost infinite variations. This

THE NEW DRAPED SKIRT.
one is exceptionally becoming and attractive, yet it means almost no labor for making.
There is only one piece of material with the plaits so laid that they give graceful fold lines, and the edges are overlapped at the front. The finish can be made either at the high or natural waist line, as liked, and the front edge can be buttoned into place or can be stitched to the desired depth. The front edges can also be curved, as in this instance, or made perfectly straight.
For the medium size will be required four and a half yards of material twenty-seven or thirty-six inches wide.

moved as much as possible from all excitement. A complete change of air and scene is usually prescribed.

Only the simplest foods are permitted and the sufferer is encouraged to take as much outdoor exercise as possible, together with cold baths and vigorous massage. Such treatment has been found to bring relief within a few weeks.

It has been found that even when the sufferer seems to have lost all control over her understanding she will be found sufficiently composed at intervals to obey the instructions the doctor or attendants may give.

It has been found extremely difficult work a complete cure in the more violent cases which have been neglected. Years after the victim has apparently been completely restored to her normal health any undue excitement is likely to bring on a relapse and a recurrence of the distressing symptoms.

THE ORIGIN OF "DIXIE."

Says the New York Tribune: "Where the Southern States and the famous Southern song derived the title 'Dixie' is told in the history of the old Citizens Bank of New Orleans, which the London Financial Times gives Prior to the Civil War the bank, which had power to issue paper notes, put out several millions of dollars in denominations of $10 and $20. The $10 bills were engraved in French with the word 'Dix' (ten) prominently featured on the back. The bills became known as 'Dixies,' and this money becoming popular, Louisiana became known as 'the land of Dixies,' and at last the term was so broadened as to include all the Southern States under the familiar 'Dixie Land.'"

For Panama-Pacific Exposition.

According to the Army and Navy Register the Secretary of the Navy desires $104,000 additional for the contingent expenses of the Navy to include the entertainment of officers and crews of foreign fleets at the San Francisco exposition. A provision is also suggested that tolls shall not be collected from any foreign vessel going through the canal and returning which has been designated to participate in that exposition. Authority is also requested to allow the Secretary of the Navy to define and establish anchorage grounds in Hampton Roads for the combined fleets of the United States and foreign governments, which may rendezvous there prior to proceeding to San Francisco. Authority is also desired by the Secretary of the Navy to make rules and regulations regarding the movements of all vessels to insure the proper and orderly conduct of such features as may be planned for the combined fleets and to provide for the safety of all vessels participating therein.

IT may be a mistake of the publisher in thinking he has been done a favor, but as a rule whenever a newspaper loses one subscriber on account of pique there are usually two or three others gained for the very reason that the one feels aggrieved.

The broad-minded and intelligent subscriber will recognize the fact that it is only the negative quality in life that never crosses the feelings of anybody.—Jennings (La.) Herald.
