BIG CATHOLIC CONVENTION

IS HELD IN BALTIMORE

American Federation of Catholic Societies

WORLD PEACE MOVEMENT URGED

Protest Against Cruelties in Mexico.—Governor and Mayor Take Part in Exercises.—Thirty Thousand in Big Street Parade.

Baltimore had another big convention this week when the American Federation of Catholic Societies met on Monday and continued in session for four days.

The Federation Convention represented about three million Catholics, nearly all Catholic organizations in the United States having sent representatives, besides delegates from Catholic institutions and independent societies.

On Sunday, September 27, there was a solemn Procession of Seminarians, Priests and Prelates, at 10.30 A. M., followed by a Pontifical High Mass at the Cathedral, at which His Eminence, James Cardinal Gibbons preached.

The actual work of the Federation began on Monday when President Charles I. Denechaud presented his report. He said that the Catholic world looked to the assemblage that represented 3,000,000 members of Catholic societies for leadership and counsel.

"The Catholics of these United States should take the initiative for the creation and fostering of concerted action for world peace," said Mr. Denechaud. "Public sentiment should be quickened and Congress implored to cause this nation to make the first overtures for a serious, sincere and lasting agreement among the peoples of the world for international peace."

Referring to "accredited reports of cruelties perpetrated by some Mexican authorities upon defenceless priests and nuns," President Denechaud said: "The Federation must raise its indignant protest at this inhuman persecution and respectfully request the Government to secure full explanation and reparation for the indignities and atrocities committed and for property despoiled."

Intimating that it was time for Catholics in the United States to protest to the Washington Government against the alleged brutal treatment of thousands of Catholics in Mexico, Bishop Schrembs of Toledo preached a sermon at the Cathedral Tuesday morning. Cardinal James Gibbons was present, and spoke in approval of the bishop's sermon. Bishop Schrembs contrasted the great outcry from "men of all faiths and of no faith" over the imprisonment of a Russian Jew for alleged ritual murder, with the seeming indifference of the American people to conditions in Mexico, where "not one individual, but thousands upon thousands of Catholic men and women are being outraged and in many cases brutally murdered."

On Tuesday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon a great parade in honor of the assembled Prelates and Convention Delegates took place. Fully 30,000 men were in line and it was a sight to be long remembered by those who witnessed it. It was reviewed by Cardinal Gibbons, dignitaries of the Catholic Church from many sections of the United States; Governor Goldsborough and Mayor Preston. The pageant took three hours to pass, and thousands of spectators lined the sidewalks all along the route.

Every Catholic Church and nearly every society and sodality was represented in the line of march many of which had their own bands. Four thousand colored Catholics of Baltimore formed one division of the parade and made a fine appearance.

Among the bands was the Mission Church Field Band of Roxbury, Mass. which came to the city to take part in the pageant. It is composed of working boys of the Mission Church of that city, and was headed by Rev. Joseph Hayes.

There were many flags in evidence. The national and state colors and the papal colors waved in each division. Nearly every delegation carried a huge flag of gold and white, bearing the papal tiara.

Maderos Return to Mexico.

Forty members of the Madero family, led by Francisco I. Madero father of the late president of Mexico, started back to their homes in Monterey, Mexico, whence they had been driven by the revolution. The elder Madero said he had advised indicating return of peace with the establishment of the Carranza government and considered it safe to go back.

A LINCOLN MEMORIAL BRIDGE

Building Highway May Hasten Law Providing Structure as Supplement to Road.

A dispatch from Washington states that it is very probable that the construction of the Lincoln Memorial will hasten the enactment of legislation providing for a memorial bridge across the Potomac, from the Capital city to Arlington and the Virginia heights, which face the city for a distance of several miles, along the river bank. The bridge would form a beautiful supplement to the Lincoln memorial, relieving its isolation and making it part of a deliberate plan to visualize, in as large a way as may be possible, a reunited country.

The idea has back of it both sentiment and utility. The sentimental feature has just been alluded to. As the Potomac marked the dividing line between the North and South during the civil war, so a memorial bridge, spanning it from the national capital to the most interesting and most beautiful of all the civil war sites, would bring the sections together physically as they already have been brought together politically and economically. From the utility standpoint the bridge would afford convenient and direct means of access to the Virginia heights, opposite the city. At present these heights can only be reached by roundabout courses, several miles in length, and passing through some of the most unlovely portions of the city. Once the bridge was built these heights would become the best and most popular suburban residence section of Washington. At present, in spite of their nearness, they are not available for that purpose.

The plan is to have the bridge cost about $6,000,000. The best architects in the country would be invited to make the plans. Not only would the structure itself be a memorial of the civil war, but stationed at intervals along its roadways would be statues of the men, South and North, made famous by the war.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN

Sectional Conference to be Held in Four Cities During October and November.

Four Sectional Conferences on tuberculosis will be held in various parts of the country during the months of October and November under the direction of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, according to an announcement from the headquarters of that organization Thursday.

These Conferences, designed to stimulate the war against tuberculosis in the sections which they serve, will be held in St. Louis, Mo., on October 6, 7, and 8; in Philadelphia, Pa., on October 16; in Bangor, Me., on October 22nd; and in Atlanta Ga., during the last week in November. Prominent anti-tuberculosis workers from all parts of the country will address the various conferences. Among the principal subjects to be discussed at all the conferences are The Red Cross Seal campaign; the advantages of local hospitals for the care of consumptives; the home treatment of the tuberculous; and legislative problems.

In the official announcement relative to these conferences, Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the National Association says: "These four conferences are in fact the mobilization of those who are engaged in the war against tuberculosis for the coming fall and winter campaign which we are planning to wage against this disease. In almost every state of the Union, active movements against tuberculosis will be forwarded during the next six months. We hope at these conferences to discuss ways and means and to secure the support and enthusiasm which will enable us to attack our individual problems more successfully than we could do otherwise."

Chance for the United States.

The Canary Islands which produce only a small portion of the foodstuffs which they consumed are anxious that American merchants take advantage of the remarkable opportunity to establish direct trade between the United States and these islands. If this commerce can once be turned into direct channels it will not be apt to resume its old course. Opportunity exists in all lines, but for the present attention is centred upon the following: Coal, corn, wheat, wheat flour, lard, sugar, rice, soap, candles, canned goods, beer, biscuits, and generally speaking, all articles of prime necessity.

Plans for the rehabilitation of the H. B. Clafin Company, the wholesale dry goods house which went into the hands of receivers on June 25, have been announced.

THE PEACE HYMN.

Recommended to be sung, to the tune of St. Agnes, in all churches, Sunday, Oct. 4, by the Federal Council of Churches and the Church Peace Union.

OD of the nations, near and far,
Ruler of all mankind,
Bless thou thy people as they strive
The paths of peace to find.

The clash of arms still shakes the sky
King battles still with king,
Wild through the frightened air of night
The bloody tocsins ring.

But clearer far the friendly speech
Of scientists and seers,
The wise debate of statesmen and
The shout of pioneers.

And stronger far the clasped hands
Of labor's teeming throngs,
Who in a hundred tongues repeat
Their common creeds and songs.

O Father! from the curse of war
We pray thee give release,
And speed, oh, speed the blessed day
Of justice, love and peace!

[Rev. John Haynes Holmes.]

FOREIGN ORDERS ON INCREASE

War Abroad Serving to Stimulate America's Biggest Industries

UNITED STATES CALLED UPON TO FEED EUROPE

Uncle Sam Is At The Same Time Getting the Trade the War Ridden Countries Have Lost

BUSINESS OUTLOOK PROMISING BECAUSE OF LARGE EXPORT ORDERS

With the Situation Clearing Early Reopenings of Stock Exchanges Is Predicted.—Textile and Shoe Industries Have Large Export Orders.—Russia Reported to be Buying Armored Motors From Schawb.

As indicated by the exhibit in the last issue of the CHRONICLE, there is no reason whatsoever for pessimism. The trades' symptoms a week ago were very encouraging. They showed a return of confidence in every industry and that a new era of prosperity will soon have been ushered in is confidently to be expected. To quote a Western journal, "The textile industries are doing very well, and there are large orders in the cotton trade for future delivery. Shoe manufacturing is enjoying a veritable boom, both the foreign and domestic demand being very large. People are even buying jewelry more freely than at the corresponding period one year ago. Conditions in the steel trade are dull, no doubt owing to the limited buying by the railroads and the difficulty of financing large building and construction operations."

From New York comes the following: "There is spreading throughout this city among manufacturers, merchants, public works constructors, contractors and other business men of the creative classes, a decided feeling of confidence, in the immediate improvement of business."

It is said that there are foreign buyers in our markets ready to purchase millions of dollars of our commodities as soon as the exchange tangle is unsharled—as it soon will be. The general feeling is anything but pessimistic. To substantiate this a Wall street prediction is to the effect that leading stock exchanges of America will resume business by the first of November. Progress is being made toward a resumption of normal activity in the security market. Permission to trade in the unlisted stocks at concessions must be looked upon as another step in the direction of a resumption of freer trading in Stock Exchange issues.

Commenting on the business situation a Boston paper of high standing has this to say:

"Men are getting a better grip on themselves and as a result the tension is relaxing, exports have increased, and the general trend of affairs commercially is toward betterment. It is difficult if not impossible at this time to make a

AMERICA'S CLUSTERING GLACIERS

Vie in Magnitude and in Splendor With The Most Boasted Glaciers of The Alps.

The United States has a claim to distinction for which it has by no means received general credit either at home or abroad. For the United States on the authority of the United States Geological Survey, possesses glaciers which "vie in magnitude and in splendor with the most boasted glaciers of the Alps." The claims of this country to fame as a land of glaciers are set forth in a bulletin recently issued by the Geological Survey and written by F. E. Matthes, which deals in detail with the glaciers of Mount Rainier. But this mountain is by no means the only locality in the United States where glaciers are to be found. Mr. Matthes writes:

The impression still prevails in many quarters that true glaciers, such as are found in the Swiss Alps, do not exist within the confines of the United States, and that to behold one of these rare scenic features one must go to Switzerland, or else to the less accessible Canadian Rockies or the inhospitable Alaskan coast. As a matter of fact, permanent bodies of snow and ice, large enough to deserve the name glaciers, occur on many of our Western mountain chains, notably in the Rocky Mountains, where only recently a national reservation—Glacier National Park—was named for its ice fields; in the Sierra Nevada of California, and further north, in the Cascade Range.

It is on the last-named mountain chain that glaciers especially abound, clustering, as a rule, in groups about the higher summits of the crest. But this range also supports a series of huge extinct volcanoes that tower high above its sky line in the form of isolated cones. On these the snows lie deepest and the glaciers reach their grandest development. Ice clad from head to foot the year around, these giant peaks have become known the country over as the noblest landmarks of the Pacific Northwest. Foremost among them are Mount Shasta, in California (14,162 feet); Mount Hood, in Oregon (11,225 feet); Mount St. Helens (9,697 feet); Mount Adams (12,307 feet); Mount Rainier (14,408 feet), and Mount Baker (10,730 feet), in the State of Washington.

LINTHICUM FOR GOVERNOR IN 1916

Movement Backing Him Wants James H. Preston United States Senator in 1917.

Frank Kelly, Baltimore Democratic leader, and his lieutenants are reported as having drawn up a slate that includes Congressman J. Charles Linticum for Governor in 1916 and James H. Preston, mayor in 1915 and the following year nominated for United States Senator to succeed Senator Blair Lee in 1917.

At this time Kelly has no other plans of his own except the nomination and election of Linticum as governor, therefore it can be seen that Senator Smith, if he lives up to the predictions of his friends, will stand for Linticum against all comers in the gubernatorial free-for-all. Last week when the Democratic State Convention was held in Baltimore little could be heard from most of Smith's lieutenants both on the Eastern Shore and in other sections except that Linticum was to get the support of the regular forces when the bugle for the starters in the gubernatorial primaries blows next year.

Pittsburgh to be Engineering Center.

The city of Pittsburgh, already one of the great American centers of the engineering industry, is apparently planning to become as great a centre of engineering education. The University of Pittsburgh is now offering a new and unique course, an evening course in engineering for graduates of reputable colleges. Many young engineers find after engaging in practical work that the courses they took in college did not fully prepare them for their profession. Few of them have either the inclination or the means to abandon their work and go back to college for further studies, but many of them are in a position to devote their evenings to new courses. It is for such men that the new university work is primarily designed. Those who meet certain requirements will be eligible for a regular university engineering degree.

For Uniform Weights and Measures.

With the object of standardizing weights and measures regulations throughout the country, a three days' conference of weights and measures commissioners from New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Maine, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, California and the District of Columbia will begin in New York City on Oct. 15.

A REPUBLICAN REVIVAL

MEETING IN BALTIMORE

Democratic Administration and Politics Attacked

COUNTY MEN AGAINST PRIMARY

Frederick's G. O. P. Hold That System is Hard on Poor Candidate.—An Aggressive Campaign to be Waged.

That the G. O. P. is by no means dead, and that it still holds allegiance to the doctrine of protection, was made plain at the Republican State Convention which assembled in Baltimore on Monday. The body, which represented every section of the State, scored the Democratic administration for imposing on the people burdens made necessary by a reduction of the tariff and announced their readiness to go before the people on this paramount issue of the coming campaign.

No convention held in recent years has been so well attended and certainly at none since the Republican party became divided, has there been such an array of representative men. Every leader from the Governor down, announced himself as on the firing line and fully prepared to give battle to the common enemy.

The only notable absentee was National Committeeman Jackson, and he sent a telegram explaining that business matters demanding his attention prevented his attendance, but declaring his readiness to render every assistance in his power to bring about the election of the Republican ticket.

Governor Goldsborough was called upon for a speech and he responded, but the principal address was that by Col. E. C. Carrington, Jr., the candidate for United States Senate, who received a rousing welcome following his nomination and who outlined the issues of the campaign.

Every speaker found in the policies of the Democratic administration a vulnerable spot and pounded it unmercifully. They fortified their contentions with facts and figures, proving beyond doubt the accuracy of their statements. The high cost of living was traced directly to the reduction of the tariff, which fact became manifest before the war in Europe began, and Mr. Heaps made the hit of the evening when in the course of his address, he declared that the attack on big business to reduce prices had a contrary effect, as was evidenced in the jump in the price of sugar, which prior to the cutting down the duty sold at 4½ cents, and since then had jumped to nine cents.

The Republican State platform was adopted and after Col. Carrington's address the meeting adjourned.

Chairman Galen L. Tait received from Senator Borah a letter in which he heartily commended the candidacy of Colonel Carrington for United States Senator and promised to speak in Maryland during the campaign.

The Republican Frederick County Central Committee met in Frederick last Saturday. The meeting was called principally to discuss matters pertaining to registration and to map out plans to get the remaining Republican voters on the books in time to vote at the coming election.

The meeting was characterized by a condemnation of the primary election system in that it takes from the poor man an opportunity to become a candidate for public office, was included in a resolution, the sense of which was that under the primary election law, the expense for a person to become a candidate is so great that it is impossible for a poor man to become a candidate for any office, on account of the heavy fees charged to file the certificate for a place on the primary election ticket. In addition to the law being condemned in this respect, it was also set forth that it was an expense to the taxpayers, who are obliged to stand the burden of the election expense.

Luten Bridge Company Gets Contract.

The State Roads Commission has awarded to the Luten Bridge Company, of York Pa., the construction of a bridge over the Patapsco river on the Frederick Road at Ellicott City, the bid was $15,500. The Luten Bridge Company's bid calls for the plain and reinforced concrete work for a three span bridge, according to the plans submitted by that company and according to the specifications of the Good Roads Commission and includes excavation to the depth shown on the plan.

Sixty million dollars were lost by the American farmer last year simply because he did not take steps in time to prevent the deadly hog cholera.

FOREIGN ORDERS ON THE INCREASE.

good earnings reports, Europe will not be disposed to part with any more of her American securities than can be helped.

Formation of the $100,000,000 gold pool by the banking institutions of the United States has for its purpose the betterment of the foreign exchange situation. It is believed that it will do much toward the restoration of international trade.

That the farmer is profiting is evident from the fact that late shipments of wheat from the farms to the Western markets broke all records, amounting to 19,190,000 bushels. And no small part of this enormous total was sold at war prices. Baltimore grain exporters also gained by conditions abroad and shipped for foreign consumption in a comparably short time 3,250 bushels of wheat and 5,750,000 bushels of oats, from Northern and Southern ports many times this amount has likewise been shipped. One wheat cargo Europeward for every day of September, a total of 4,245,360 bushels is the record of Galveston thus far this month. More empty bottoms are arriving daily, and a new grain export record will be set. In some of the wheat counties of eastern Oregon and Washington as much as 80 per cent. of the crop has been purchased.

The Lackawana Steel Company has taken an order for 3,000 to 4,000 tons of reinforcing steel bars for Government work, at Buenos Aires, Argentine. This is the largest export order of bars taken in this country since foreign inquiry was stimulated by the war. With a Pittsburgh concern one European government is about to close a contract for 10,000 tons of special grades of steel and inquiries are in the market for an aggregate of 10,000 tons of sheet bars for Great Britain. It is expected that a large part of this business will go to the United States Steel Corporation.

Some of the independent mills, through exporters, secured orders for several thousand tons of billets for England and several thousand tons of steel bars for Argentina. One interesting feature is that American manufacturers of specialties who have drawn their supply of steel from Belgium have discovered they can purchase material of equal or superior quality at lower prices in the home market.

Manufacturers of shoes are preparing for a busy season, which should begin early next month, and they are buying leather in anticipation of their needs.

The Italian government has entered the American market for immediate delivery of upward of $5,000,000 worth of army regulation shoes, military accouterments, horse saddles, mule saddles, leather belts and knapsacks for soldiers and promises to pay cash against bills of lading.

The horse trade is little influenced by the buying of animals for army work by foreign Governments. The market is steady, possibly a shade higher than usual. Most of the stables are well filled, heavy draft horses apparently being a feature.

Information comes from the West that the English Government has ordered 60,000 head. A Western dealer now in Boston said that several trains of horses had been shipped from the Middle West for Toronto and Montreal for the English Government. The price paid by the English officials is around $150 and $165. Generally speaking the horses are not such as would be acceptable to the United States army.

A new industry—that of shipping coal to the South American market—was officially inaugurated in Mobile with the sailing of the ship Domingos Joaquin de Silva, laden with 2,964 tons of Alabama coal for Buenos Aires. The shipment was made by Mobile capitalists as an experiment, the plan resulting from a recent report that South American countries were hard pushed for coal, the fuel selling for $24 a ton in Buenos Aires.

As the British Government has forbidden the shipment of coal from Great Britain, a new field for Alabama coal is now opened up.

The Government of Greece has placed one order here for 100,000 tons of coal which is now being shipped to the seaboard for shipment. Hitherto Greece has obtained its coal from Wales. The Berwind-White Company, the largest exporter of American coal, announces that inquiries are coming in quite rapidly concerning the delivery of coal to South America. Most of the coal that goes to South America is shipped on a cash basis.

Every branch of business and every class of manufacturers seems to be likewise benefited in the short time the war has been waging, and in the category appears everything from armored automobiles to chewing gum and tobacco. This is cited from the report that Charles M. Schawb has secured a $5,000,000 contract from Russia and France to furnish 3,000 armored and gun-mounted motor trucks for use in the war, and the statement from an expert who says:

"American consumption of tobacco and chewing gum has greatly increased since the war began. Everybody has taken on a case of nerves over the big scrap. Men become so excited over war bulletins they keep puffing or chewing almost all the time.

"The tobacco business has increased about 10 per cent. There has been a particularly large increase in the sale of cheap cigars. Foreigners who have been unable to answer the call to their colors keep glooming around the bulletin boards with a stogie as their sole source of comfort. Or it may be a big wad of tobacco.

"Women have to take theirs out on something else, and it has fallen to the lot of chewing gum to take the edge off their nerves. Agents of chewing gum factories tell me their factories have been working 24 hours each day, to supply the greatest demand in their history."

During the past month the Welsbach Company has taken on at least 500 new employees, mostly all of whom were girls. This increase is due to the war in Europe, which prevents foreign made mantels coming into this country.

The Canadian Pacific Railroad announced that the operating departments of its eastern and western lines would employ 6,000 extra men within the next two months. The object of employing such a number of laborers at this time, the company stated, was to relieve distress brought about by the war in Europe.

Preparing for Any Emergency.

The National Rifle Association of America, closely allied to the War Department, has secured the passage by Congress of a measure to issue free to rifle clubs rifles and ammunition so that the citizens, who in time of war, would compose the volunteer armies would have some knowledge of the care and use of the military arm. Under this act, the Government will issue the rifles with which the regular army was formerly equipped, popularly called the "Krag," and the equal of any of the rifles being used in the European war. With each rifle will go 120 rounds of ammunition. This ammunition will be issued annually to every club member who will guarantee to use the same in practice shooting as prescribed by the War Department.

The German war-chest, according to the French papers, amounts to $500,000,000, and the French war-chest to $900,000,000.

Bliss, Jr., president of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, announced that the association has received from the Rockefeller Foundation a gift of $200,000 to be used during the next 10 years for pensioning widows with dependent families now in the care of the association's bureau of relief.

Continuing his campaign against the "money hoarders," Secretary of Treasury McAdoo today exposed an alleged movement involving a chain of Southern State banks in the South to curtail loans for cotton-holding purposes, one of the vital banking needs of the cotton States at the present time.

Suffrage circles in New York were thrown into a flutter of excitement today by the report that the Baroness de Bazus, who was Mrs. Frank Leslie, and who died on September 18 last, left nine-tenths of her estate, estimated at $2,000,000, to the cause.

Emphatic denial of statements published in morning papers today, quoting him as having said that King Alfonso of Spain had offered to co-operate with the President to bring about peace in Europe, is made by Counselor Lansing, acting Secretary of State.

Monday.
Two resolutions providing for investigations of the oil business of the United States, particularly the Standard Oil Company, were adopted unanimously by the Senate.

In order to induce Congress to appropriate more money for the exploitation of aeronautics in the Army and Navy, Lincoln Beachey, the California aviator, made an exhibition flight over Washington today.

Assurances from General Villa that he will not be a candidate for President or Vice-President of Mexico were forwarded to the Administration today by Consular Agent Carrothers.

Mrs. Annette Abbot Adams, of San Francisco, was today appointed assistant United States attorney there. She is the first woman in the United States to occupy such a position. Representative Raker, of California, declared he considered the appointment a recognition of woman suffrage.

R. W. Sears, founder of Sears, Roebuck & Co., died today at Waukesha, Wis., according to a telegram received in Chicago. Mr. Sears was born in Minneapolis in 1863. He began his business career in a humble capacity at St. Paul. He organized Sears, Roebuck & Co. at Minneapolis in 1890, and transferred the business to Chicago in 1895. In that year he retired from active business and devoted himself to farming. He leaves a large fortune in it is believed.

Tuesday.
The President appointed Representative Walter Irving McCoy, of East Orange, N. J., a justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Justice Jobe Barnard.

Three persons received injuries in a collision in the New York subway, fourteen were hurt on a street surface crosstown line and six were burned and hundreds were thrown into a panic when a converter box exploded on one of the cars of a third avenue "L."

The Rivers and Harbors Appropriation Bill, in the form of a Senate substitute, carrying only a general fund of $20,000,000 for continuing present projects in the discretion of the War Department, was passed by the House.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was today filed in the Federal District Court, New York, against the Atlantic Gas and Electric Company, a corporation under the laws of the State of Connecticut. The petition, which was filed by C. N. Phil, first vice-president gives assets of $20,000 and liabilities of $2,478,212.

Sir Charles Johnston was elected Lord Mayor of London for the term of one year, beginning November 9, 1914. He succeeds Sir Thomas V. Bowater.

The Western Union Telegraph Company announced that in connection with the Eastern Telegraph Company and the Central and South American Telegraph Company it would resume on October 1 the deferred rate service to North, East, South, and West Africa, Asia, Australia, Dutch East Indies and South America. This service is already in effect with Great Britain, Holland and Norway.

Wednesday.
Secretary Bryan today promised Senator Pomerene to speak in the Democratic campaign in Ohio between October 10 and 15.

The third steamship fire in New York harbor within eight days broke out today on the Fabre Line steamship Sant' Anna the ship which brought Cardinal Farley and many American refugees home from Europe two days ago.

Two hundred and fifty girls and teachers escaped in their night clothes when fire destroyed the main dormitory of the Alabama Normal College at Livingston, Ala., early today. The fire, which originated in the heating department, caused $60,000 damage.

A demand to know if Great Britain is interfering with shipments of Copper from the United States to Rotterdam in neutral bottoms was made on the Secretary of State by unanimous vote of the Senate.

Field Marshal Earl Roberts, of Kandahar, Pretoria, and Waterford, former commander-in-chief of the British Army, received congratulations today on his eighty-second birthday anniversary. Earl Roberts was born in India in 1832, and entered the army at 19 years of age. Following his success in the South African campaign he was made commander-in-chief in 1900, and continued as such until 1904.

Thursday.
The British Government today notified the United States that it would not interfere with the shipment of foodstuffs from this country in neutral bottoms to Holland, according to an official announcement by the State Department.

Abrogation by Turkey of ancient "capitulations" in favor of foreigners, giving them special privileges, went into effect, as far as any official word received in Washington was concerned, despite protests of the United States and most European powers.

An alleged society burglar, a handsome man of 30, whose apparel and manners made him perfectly at home in the atmosphere of Fifth Avenue lay dying in the Knickerbocker Hospital of a bullet wound inflicted with a police revolver.

A tax on automobiles in place of the tax on gasoline, contained in the House war tax bill, was recommended by the subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee in charge of that section. It is estimated by the subcommittee that this tax will raise approximately $16,000,000 revenue.

LOCAL MAN INVENTS FIREARM

A Gun That Shoots Around the Corner, Behind Trees, Etc., Company May Be Formed.

Closely following Mr. Bushman's invention—a new type of a rapid fire cannon—comes the announcement of the perfection of a gun that will shoot around the corner or around a tree, the invention of Cornelius Buckingham, of this place. Mr. Buckingham has been working on this gun for nine months, experimenting with it during his leisure hours. The last trial was made on Wednesday night and was a perfect success.

Buckingham, who is a very modest man, at first had very little to say about it when approached by a representative of the CHRONICLE, evidently fearing that his patent rights might be infringed. Receiving the assurance that he would be given full credit for his invention he finally vouchsafed the following explanation: "In the first place the gun weighs only 9 ounces; it is invisible when concealed in the pocket; the barrel measures three and a half inches and is super-rifled. The interior mechanism consists of a centrifugal periphery spreader which acts in conjunction with an articulated anterior circumdeflector and body finder. The cartridge is loaded with smokeless and soundless denatured dynamite and a dehorned bullet. You pull the trigger, this raises a coil of highly sensitized oscillating springs that start a revolving tube with communicating slot pockets, thus giving accelerated angular momentum to the reverse action of the duplex recoil chamber. You fire at the spot where the object to be hit was last seen. As the projectile leaves the barrel it strikes the edge of the air in such a manner as to split it at right or left angles as the case may require. The gas from the projectile overcomes the gravity pressure and throws in the speed clutch on the flying bullet. As the covering of the bullet is first detached the moment the trigger is pulled the casing hits the body aimed at and magnetizes it so that the bullet proper also magnetized follows, thus insuring absolute accuracy."

It is reported that a company will be formed to take over Mr. Buckingham's invention and that at least six hundred million of these firearms will be used during the war in Europe.

Clafin Trustees are Named.
John Clafin, head of the H. B. Clafin Company, is eliminated from any participation in the reorganization of that company, and has turned over to the creditors all his personal assets, including not only his bank stock and holdings in drygoods corporations, but his home at Morristown, N. J., and his summer home in the Adirondacks, it is learned. The creditors will receive 15 per cent in cash and 85 per cent in three-year collateral notes. Five trustees, who will hold all stock of the new Mercantile Stores Company and name its directors until the outstanding claims of 42,200,000 have been paid, will attend to the working out of the plan. They are James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce in New York; Ernest A. Hamill, president of the Corn Exchange National Bank of Chicago; Philip Stockton, president of the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston; John W. T. Nichols of Minot, Hooper & Company, New York, and Henry W. Howe, of Lawrence & Co., New York.

Colorado's Increased Beet Acreage.
The Great Western Sugar Company has just purchased $1,000,000 worth of beet seed which will be planted in Colorado on greatly increased acreage to meet the extra demand caused by the decrease of supply of cane sugar.

When the European war began the beet sugar companies of the United States found themselves facing a crisis, as nearly all beet seed has been imported, and the stock on hand was far from sufficient to seed the usual acreage next year, while very little could be produced in this country this year. For weeks W. L. Petrikin, vice-president of the Great Western organization, has been endeavoring to get in touch with beet seed firms abroad. Negotiations with German and Holland seed firms have been successful and a vessel bearing a $1,000,000 cargo of sugar beet seed is ready to cross the ocean.

General Registration of Voters.
A general registration, decreed by an act of the last General Assembly, becomes effective in Maryland this year and every voter in the state must first be duly recorded by the registration officials before he can cast his ballot at the election next November. Four days of registration have been allotted, viz: September 22nd and 23rd and October 7th and 8th, with an additional day devoted solely to revision and correction of the registration records. Every voter must register in order to enjoy his franchise in November, and also that he may vote at the county and state primaries next summer. The importance of this general registration should compel the interest and direct the prompt action of every voter in Frederick county.

Madam De Thebes prophesied that the French will enter Germany on October 29 and that the war will end on November 7.

League of Young Patriots.

In every school house throughout Great Britain the children are being enrolled in the newly formed League of Young Patriots. Queen Mary herself has graciously intimated her full sympathy with the objects of the league, and, moreover, has given her consent to the Princess Mary's becoming patron of the league, to which peculiar interest thus attaches, for it will be Princess Mary's first public act. Each boy and girl who becomes a Young Patriot is required to make and fulfil two simple promises:

1. To God and King and country I will do my duty.
  2. To those in difficulty or sorrow through the war I will give my best help.
- And these are the rules they must keep every day:
1. Wear the badge of the league.
  2. Ask daily for a blessing on their country and a speedy end of strife.
  3. Show special kindness and helpfulness to those in need and trouble.
- The badge of the league consists of a white cross on a red ground—the famous Red Cross emblem reversed.

TAKE HIS ADVICE.

The highest salaried editor in the world, Arthur Brisbane, says: "As a friend talking to another about a certain kind of goods can influence a friend more than a stranger, so a country newspaper, standing on a footing of friendship with its readers can talk to them about goods for sale or any other topic, and impress upon them more strongly than the big metropolitan newspaper, which is really a stranger."

The judgment of an authority like Brisbane amounts to something. Take his advice, then, and advertise in THE CHRONICLE, the paper that is your friend.

The Local Weekly Newspaper per 1,000 Circulation is the Most Valuable Advertising Medium in the World.—Chas. H. Betts, Pres. of New York State Press Association.

Urges Selling of Jefferson's Home.

Although there is a bill pending in Congress to authorize the purchase of the property, Secretary Bryan has written to Representative Jefferson Levy, of New York, urging him to consider selling Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, to the Government. He suggested that Mr. Levy might retain a life interest in the property, but added that the present seemed to be a fitting time to make the deed, as it would "commemorate the great Democratic administration of President Wilson."

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland—the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State—there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowledgeable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal; the surrounding scenery is unmatched; the climate is notably healthful; its water—pure mountain spring water—cannot be surpassed.

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary—with an enviable reputation extending over 106 years—is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies—equally as noted during its 105 years of splendid achievement—is also here.

There are excellent Schools—Public and Parochial—in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liverys, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations.

There is business to be had in Emmitsburg; there are Factory Sites available. If you contemplate changing your place of residence—come to Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Md.

FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE.

With thousands upon thousands lying in hastily made graves, myriads unburied on blood-soaked fields of battle, countless prisoners longing for release, hordes of wounded anxious for the end, widows, orphans uncountable, forlorn and pleading for relief, and with millions of men, made mad by lust for conquest, still remaining in strife, is there any wonder that the heart of America is torn with pity and sorrow and that the people of this peace-loving country cry out to God for peace?

Some one blundered; others followed, and all, purblind and proud and surfeited by a sense of imagined right, are in the vortex. None seeks quarter, none asks it. All are deaf to the proffer of human arbitration. America looks on amazed. Yet by common consent, and in the spirit of fellowship and at the call of her Chief Magistrate her people stand ready to prostrate themselves before the throne of Him who said "Thou shalt not kill" and plead for a ruling that is divine.

On Sunday next, pursuant to the proclamation of the Christian head of our Christian nation, let Catholics, Protestants and Jews, those of every creed, assemble and with one accord make their supplication, asking that there come quickly an era of inter-racial brotherhood, solidarity and democracy—a cosmopolitan citizenship with religion for its basis and righteousness for its aim.

And may there then arise out of the strife of these darkest hours a glad morn of good will among men. May the soldier lay down his arms, the strategist devote his ingenuity to the betterment of the race, may carnage cease forever and over all may there abide universal peace.

LEWIS OF THE SIXTH.

"The nation is fast awakening to the fact that marketing and not production, is the problem of the farmer," remarks an expert of the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America.

That is just what David J. Lewis figured out, and that is why he inaugurated the Parcel Post system—to help the farmer, especially the small farmer. David J. Lewis is ever on the side of the people, people who need helpful legislation. He is working in their behalf all the time. For this very reason the people want him to remain in Congress. For this very reason they intend to send him back to Washington as the Representative of the Sixth District.

DID YOU?

Some good that one might have done, some little act of kindness, just a smile of good cheer, the firm hand clasp of encouragement—these, when the opportunity passes, often occur to one.

When the day is over think of this:

Did you give him your hand? He was slipping down hill, And the world, so it seemed, was using him ill.

Did you know what it means to be losing the fight, When a lift just in time might set everything right? Do you know what it means—just a clasp of a hand, When a man's borne about all a man ought to stand?

You'll be the better for it—if you then and there determine to help the other fellow, and do it.

"A man with a new idea is a crank until the idea succeeds," said Mark Twain. Elbert Hubbard says, "Look upon any new idea as a possible one, until you know positively that it isn't." It is quite noticeable that in every profession, in every calling, the so-called "cranks" and the men with the new ideas eventually come out on top. One finds this to be the case in medicine, surgery, engineering, finance, war—even in law, except among what the Omaha Bee calls "shake-down lawyers and legal grafters who misuse the courts as a fee mill to fill their pockets."

WHEN a kindly, gentle soul, worn with the pilgrimage, yet unflinching, leaves its earthly habitation—one in whose lovable character the qualities of patience, tolerance, tender sympathy, unselfishness, devotion to family, loyalty to friends and fealty to God are beautifully intermingled—there is, indeed, a loss. Life's fair day is over. The oncoming shadow has lengthened into the night whose morrow is not here. But there are memories, tender memories of that long, sweet day so full of thought for others. These, even time will not efface.

THE pronunciation of Przemysl has been settled; Rustem Bey is going to leave; the Maharajah of Mysore, the Gaekwar of Baroda and the Nizam of Hyderabad have chipped in; Aga Khan is ready and Dink Botts is safe. Now for the world's series.

THERE is many a man who is hitting the trail at night and at chill early dawn, who wishes his coat, that snug, long winter coat, was not up at his "Uncle's" in pawn.

NEWSPAPER headline: "Plenty of Dyes Here." Not a newspaper heading, but a lamentable fact: Plenty of dies, and then some, over there.

THE state of Mr. Roosevelt's belief regarding his candidacy two years hence will be bulletined from time to time.—Philadelphia Record.

IT will no doubt be fully as convincing as heretofore.

The Prophecy of The Kaiser.

When the Russian artist Vassili Vereschagin exhibited his pictures at Berlin, says the Manchester Guardian, it is reported that he received a visit from the present Emperor and Empress of Germany, whom he conducted around the gallery. The emperor, in the course of their survey, stepped before the canvas on which Vereschagin has represented the awful series of massacres which is known to history as the retreat from Moscow.

DIFFERENT VIEWS.

After learning to sing the praises of democracy and imperialism in one breath we can imagine Mr. Herman Ridder dashing off the following composite poem:

GERMERICIA.

My country, 'tis of thee, Sweet land of Monarchy, Of thee I sing. I love thy 'rocks' and rills. Thy kings and Kaiser Bills, My heart with rapture thrills, Die Wacht am Rhein.

HIT BELOW THE BELT.

The German advance Is dreadful to view. Pilsner's gone up And sauerkraut too. —Boston Transcript.

The Booster.

Oh, the nightingale is calling And the mocking bird may sing When the shades of night are falling In the Summer and the Spring. But the ordinary rooster Is a better friend to men— For the rooster Is the booster Who awakens us again!

There are kickers in the city, There are knockers in the town. Who will tell you it's a pity How the place is running down. But the optimistic booster Is a better citizen— For the booster Is the rooster Who awakens us again!

A MONK'S STRANGE PROPHECY

Interesting Document Written in 1600 Seems to Foretell Present Crisis In Europe.

At the breaking out of the war in Europe the New York Times published the following Paris cable:

"The Figaro publishes a translation of a Latin prophecy alleged to have been written by a monk, Brother Johannes, in the year 1600, describing the destruction of Antichrist in a great war. Following are some significant passages:

"The real Antichrist will be one of the monarchs of his time. A son of Luther will invoke God, proclaiming himself His envoy. He will have only one arm. His armies, which will appear innumerable, will take for their device the words, 'God with us [the motto actually stamped on the Prussians' belts]. He will long act by ruse and treachery, and his spies will overrun the earth, but a war will furnish the occasion for his throwing off the mask—not that war waged against the French monarchy, but another easily recognized, because in two weeks it will become universal, bringing into battle the most distant peoples. Armies will form at the four corners of the earth. Antichrist will massacre priests, women and children and the aged. He will show no mercy, holding the torch like the barbarians, but invoking Christ. There will be an eagle in his arms, also in those of his acolyte, the other bad monarch who, a Christian, will die through the curse of Pope Benedictus. "To conquer Antichrist, more men must be killed than Rome held. It will require the effort of all the kingdoms. This will happen 20 centuries after the incarnation of God's word."

Ornithological Weddings.

There was a poetic appropriateness in two weddings which were celebrated in London some time ago in which Mr. Bird led Miss Linnet to the altar and Mr. Wren was linked to Miss Nightingale.

Although it is seldom that one comes across two of these "ornithological" weddings in one day, they are by no means uncommon.

On one occasion a church near Dublin was the scene of an interesting marriage in which a Mr. Crowe was united to a Miss Crowe by the Rev. Canon Peacock, the wedding march being played by Mr. Rook. Much more remarkable, however, was a match which set Edinburgh in a flutter some years since. The bride was Miss Henrietta Peacock, and the bridegroom was Robin Sparrow. The Rev. Mr. Daw performed the marriage ceremony; Philip Hawk officiated as best man and Miss Larkins as principal bridesmaid, while the marriage lines were extracted by John Crow, session clerk. "It is worthy of further remark," adds a reporter, "that the sexton's name is Raven, one of the pew openers is a Gull, and the assistant sexton is a Henry Laycock."—London Tatler.

Echoes Made to Order.

Are you aware that it is possible to make echoes? It is, indeed, easier to make than to destroy them.

In the past men built their great temples and cathedrals with no thought of acoustics. Hence, when the preacher preached echoes roared freely amid the groinings of the roof, down the rows of sculptured columns and round and round the nave.

With wires strung here and with tapestries spread there many of the echoes of the old world buildings have been obliterated. There are echo experts—builders acquainted with the science of acoustics, whose specialty is echoes' destruction. Sometimes their tasks are hard.

Today an architect takes thought of the echo. His building is constructed so as to exclude this intruder. And, knowing how to exclude it, he knows how to welcome it also.

Architects are frequently called upon in landscape work to put up summer houses and arrange rocks around them so as to create an echo there. And this they can satisfactorily do.—London Tit-Bits.

An Engine That Wouldn't Down.

A light American automobile was sold to a tea planter of upper Assam, a region in the Himalayan foothills with scarcely any good roads and a rainfall of from 300 to 500 inches a year. Six months after it was purchased the planter's native chauffeur drove it into a washout on the Cherapunji road during a freshet, and it went rolling 500 feet into the rain swollen river. A week's search failed to reveal any trace of machine or driver. At the end of the rainy season the remains of the machine were found several miles below the point where the accident had occurred. The wheels were gone and the body battered almost beyond recognition, and it was only on the score of sentiment that the planter had the pieces gathered up and taken home by coolies. A month later while on a tour of Assam I saw the salvaged engine and part of the transmission gear set up over a well and actually pumping water to the planter's bungalow on the top of a high ridge.—World's Work.

Indescribable.

"Love is an emotion which may be felt but cannot be adequately described," observed the sage. "So is seasickness," replied the fool.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Chronic Grouch.

"Have you got dyspepsia?" "No." "Then what's the use of acting all the time like you had?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Querer Fish.

Which fish have the power of floating and swimming back downward?

This peculiar property is possessed only by the diodon and the tetodon, two allied families of tropical fishes which are popularly known as globe-fish. The tetodon is also found off the coasts of Cornwall and Ireland. The faculty is due to the fact that the skin on the abdomen of these fishes is much looser than it is on the back, and they have the power to inflate this loose skin by swallowing air through the gullet. This of course enables them to turn over at will, and, although the great French naturalist Cuvier did not believe that when in this position they could swim as they pleased, Darwin corrected him and proved that they could swim both forward and backward in this position.

It is of course well known that the shark and the dogfish, owing to the peculiar position of the underjaw, are obliged to turn on their backs before they can seize their prey, and while in this position they are able to swim for a very considerable distance. This, however, is done by the muscular force of the fins and tail and not through any special apparatus, such as the globe-fish possesses.—St. James' Gazette.

The Cupboard Was Bare.

The late Dr. Masters, who was formerly a missionary in Canton, China, afterward lived in Berkeley, Cal. His friend and fellow missionary, Dr. Boone, returning on furlough, was expected to arrive in San Francisco on a certain day. Dr. Masters crossed the bay to the city; he meant to meet Dr. Boone and his party, and, after spending the day in sightseeing, to take them to dinner at a well known restaurant.

The steamer, however, had reached port earlier than had been expected, and when Dr. Masters got to the dock, his friends had left. He made inquiries at the principal hotels, but could not find them. In order to notify his family in Berkeley of the necessary change in plans, Dr. Masters sent them a telegram. Here is the somewhat damaged message that Mrs. Masters finally read: "Can't find the bones. Will come home to dinner."—Youth's Companion.

Atavism in Dogs.

Dogs, probably the earliest of domesticated animals, when transferred to a tropical country, such as central Africa, lose in a few generations most of the characteristics they have acquired in Europe, and revert more and more to the type of the jackal and the wolf. Then their ears, whatever their breed, tend to become pointed, their coats turn sandy or rufous and their bark becomes a howl. Some attempt has been made to show that this is the result of disease and resembles the effect of malaria on the human constitution. Yet the Egyptian dog of pharaonic times possessed, as is seen by the monuments, these very characteristics, and as he was certainly domesticated before the European animal it is probable that these are original features of the race.—New York Sun.

English Schoolboy "Howlers."

The following answers were given in an examination in an English school: "James the First claimed the throne of England through his grandmother because he had no father." "Monarchy is the state in which a man has but one wife." "Joan of Arc was the wife of Noah." "Julius Caesar had a cadaverous appetite, and before he died he ate two brutes." "In the London parks the law of gravity is twelve miles an hour." "Gastronomy is the study of the stars and heavenly lights." "Quinine is the bark of a tree; canine is the bark of a dog." "The Mediterranean and the Red sea are connected by the Sewage canal."—London Globe.

Mouth of a Whale.

The whale rarely, if ever, swallows anything larger than a herring. Although the head is of enormous size, from one-quarter to one-third the length of the body, and the mouth fifteen to twenty feet long and six to eight feet wide, the opening of the gullet is not larger than a man's fist.

Sweet Oil.

"Gertie," said a mother to her five-year-old daughter, "here's a dime. Run down to the drug store and get me a bottle of sweet oil." Gertie started down the street, but soon came running back to ask, "About how sweet do you want it, mamma?"—Chicago News.

Startled Him.

"I was outspoken in my sentiments at the club this afternoon," said Mrs. Garrulous to her husband the other evening. "With a look of astonishment he replied: 'I can't believe it, my dear. Who outspoke you?'"—National Monthly.

Heredity.

This information is gleaned from circus stuff: "The acrobat of today is turning the same somersaults his great-grandfather did in the little circus of yesteryears." Seems remarkable that acrobats are hereditary.—Toledo Blade.

The Limit.

Gabe—They tell me that Blank is an awfully grouch. Steve—He sure is. He is the kind of fellow who blames his face because it needs a shave.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Thought of any sort cannot be removed except by action.—Goethe.

Havana's Pathetic Little Door.

This little door is one of the entrances to La Casa Beneficencia, the large and well regulated orphan asylum of Havana. The passerby might easily take it for a coal hole if coal were generally used in Cuba, for when the door is closed there is nothing to indicate its use. On opening it, however, one finds a revolving circular box divided into three compartments. It does not need a very vivid imagination to picture the drama that has been enacted here on many occasions.

A woman, her head covered with a black shawl, her arms holding a bundle to her breast, hurries along the narrow street. She reaches the little door. Glancing furtively about to see that no one is looking she opens the door and, shaken by stifled sobs, kisses for the last time the baby she is about to renounce. She places the child in the circular box, gives it a turn and hurries on. Inside one of the Sisters of Charity hears the tinkle of a bell. It marks the arrival of a newcomer in La Casa Beneficencia.—Boston Herald.

Force of Habit.

A humorist was looking over a mill, and while in an unguarded moment he was perpetrating one of his jokes upon an innocent operative he was drawn into some ponderous gearing and badly crushed.

They extricated him from the machinery and laid him on the floor.

"Who is it? Who is it?" was the anxious inquiry as a crowd collected.

Nobody knew. Then the funny man suddenly opened his eyes and strove to speak. A sympathetic bystander bent down to catch his words.

"There's good reason why nobody recognizes me," he whispered painfully.

"What is it?" asked the sympathetic one.

"Because," the humorist explained as he saw a chance to get one home, "it's because I've been traveling inco." "That was his final effort, for he never spoke again.—London Tit-Bits.

"Towel" of Hot Air.

In hotel, factory and public lavatories, where roller towels should not be used because of the danger of spreading skin disease and where the expense of furnishing individual paper or cloth towels is considerable, the electric hand drier may be used economically and satisfactorily. A sanitary hand drier described in the Electrical World consists of a sheet metal case with an opening in its top in which the hands can be inserted and dried by a current of hot air. A foot pedal operates a quick acting switch which starts a blower, forcing air through the electric heater. The hand drier is, of course, absolutely sanitary, as it is unnecessary to touch any part of the apparatus when using it. The hands can be thoroughly dried, it is declared, in from thirty to forty seconds, which is less time than is required to perform the same operation with a linen or paper towel.

Associations.

All experience evinces that human sentiments are strongly affected by associations. The recurrence of anniversaries or of longer periods of time naturally freshens the recollection and deepens the impression of events with which they are historically connected. Renowned places also have a power to awaken feeling which all acknowledge. No American can pass by the fields of Bunker Hill, Monmouth and Camden as if they were ordinary spots on the earth's surface. Whoever visits them feels the sentiment of love of country kindling anew, as if the spirit that belonged to the transactions which have rendered these places distinguished still hovered round with power to move and excite all who in future time may approach them.—Daniel Webster.

Long Honeymoon.

Marriage among Moslems in India is followed by other ceremonies. The bride, with the bridegroom, is taken back to her father's house after four days; then again she comes back to her husband's house after ten days' stay and then after a stay of twenty days returns to her father's house for at least six months. Thus instead of having a short period of honeymoon they make it last almost a year.

Why Roquefort is Strong.

Roquefort cheese gets its sharp flavor from caproic, caprylic and capric acids and their salts, which are formed by a sort of hydrolysis of the fat during the ripening period. This change is caused by a microbe called Penicillium roqueforti. These acids have a peppery taste.

Draining Doughnuts.

A pair of long wooden knitting needles are most excellent for draining doughnuts. As the doughnuts are fried slip them on a needle, and when it is full rest it on the top of a pan to cool. The doughnuts do not crush, and the lard drains off.

Melting the Heart of Anger.

Is thy friend angry with thee? Then provide him an opportunity of showing thee a great favor. Over that his heart must needs melt, and he will love thee again.—Richter.

Glazed Tiles.

The making of glazed tiles or "azulejos" is the only ancient Valencian industry which has retained its importance through centuries up to the present day.

Plain Pain.

Plain Patient—My face pains me, doctor. What shall I do? Doctor—I'm sure I don't know. You might try a beauty specialist.

HERE AND THERE

STATE

Rockville.—The directors of the Montgomery Co. Agricultural Society have decided to pay only 75 per cent of the premium money awarded at the County Fair, owing to a deficit of $400 in the Fair receipts.

Ridgeley.—The town of Ridgeley, opposite Cumberland the seat of the Western Maryland Railway shops, will vote on incorporation October 15. A majority vote is required. Registration was recently completed and there are 310 voters. The town, if incorporated, will include 180 acres.

Baltimore.—Unless all calculations go wrong, Baltimore will by December 1 be connected with Belair, Harve de Grace, Perryville, Elkton, Chesapeake City, Chestertown, Centerville, Easton, Denton, Cambridge, Hurlock, Preston, Sharptown, Salisbury, Princess Anne, Berlin, Snow Hill and Pocomoke City. This will give a modern, high class highway more than two hundred and fifty miles in length and second in construction to no road in the United States.

Brunswick.—Damage amounting to about $1,200 was caused in Brunswick by an open spigot in the Barker building. The water flooded the millinery store of L. Perelman and the dry goods and notions store of L. B. Cline, which are on the first floor.

Liberty.—Miss Marion Genevieve Maguire, daughter of J. Russell Maguire, of Philadelphia, and James Downey Boyle, son of Henry Boyle, of Liberty, were married Saturday in the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, Philadelphia, by the Rev. Gerald Coughlan. Frank J. Boyle, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Marguerite Maguire, sister of the bride, maid of honor. Harry S. Joseph B. and Albert J. Boyle and J. Milton Welsh were ushers. Misses Genevieve, Frances and Katherine Maguire, sisters of the bride, and Miss Josephine Eisenman were bridesmaids.

Smithsburg.—The Western Maryland Railway station at this place was entered by robbers and $80, most of which belonged to the Western Union Telegraph Company, was taken from the cash drawer. The thieves gained entrance by cutting out a pane in the front window of the office.

Frostburg.—The Hagerstown and Frederick Electric Railway, which recently purchased the plant of the Frostburg Illuminating and Manufacturing Company, plans the enlargement of the power house, the object being, it is stated, to create power sufficient for all purposes in every town of George's Creek region. The intention is to reach Mount Savage, Midland, Lonaconing and intermediate towns.

Hagerstown.—The poultry show at the Hagerstown Fair promises to break all records. Last year about 6,000 birds were shown. According to entries already received, it is thought that 8,000 or 10,000 fowls will be on exhibition this year. Among the guests of the Association will be four of the best-known members of the Philadelphia Athletics—

Frank Baker, Jack Coombs, "Big Chief" Bender and Eddie Plank. Hans Wagner the famous shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates, also is expected. All of the players are fanciers and will have chickens on exhibition in the poultry department. Wagner will show his prize Orpington chickens, on which he has won a number of premiums at Pittsburgh.

Hagerstown.—Owing to the enormous crop this summer the price of peaches has dwindled to from 10 to 15 cents per basket. As at these figures growers would lose money should they have the fruit picked and packed for shipment several large peach growers in the Smithsburg belt have decided to let a part of their peach crops go to waste.

Cumberland.—The high price of feed and the heavy growth of grass on the bottom of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal may cause a temporary suspension of operations.

Baltimore.—The large plant of the C. J. S. Steiner Mantle Company, at Orangeville, was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. A little one-story building, which was a short distance from the main structure, is the only one in the group that remains standing. Charles J. S. Steiner, who was at one time interested in the Company, estimates the damage at $40,000.

Belair.—Due to an explosion in the canning establishment of Joseph W. Archer & Sons near here, the boiler went up in the air about 150 feet high. It passed over several houses and landed in an upright position in a field about 200 yards away. Although there were between 30 and 40 persons in the plant at the time, some of whom were within 10 feet of the boiler, none were injured.

Baltimore.—The State Board of Health of Maryland has closed 27 canning factories in the state during the present season because the owners failed to comply with the law requiring the sanitary conditions of these factories.

Annapolis.—Dr. Fell, principal of St. John's College, and Mrs. Fell, with their sons, Edgar and John, arrived here Tuesday after a visit to England. The party arrived in New York Saturday on the Philadelphia, of the American line.

Baltimore.—Receipts at the office of Harry A. Roe, state commissioner of motor vehicles are very heavy. Those for September to date are double those of last September, with the receipts of the Washington branch office still to come in. Indications are that the net receipts will be in excess of $250,000.

Annapolis.—The inventory of the estate of D. Dodge Woodward, who died in Annapolis recently, indicates that he left over $90,000. No will has been found, and the property will be distributed by the Orphans' Court. One of the heirs is William N. Woodward, deputy clerk of the local court. Most of the property consists of deposits in Baltimore savings institutions.

THE REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY

Recommends Greater Power For Police Judges.—Conditions in Institutions Good.

The session of the grand jury just ended was one of the heaviest in years. The session lasted 18 days and 196 cases were considered, 350 witnesses examined, 78 indictments found and 118 cases dismissed. The more important business considered by this jury is included in the following excerpts from its report.

"We have found many cases should not have reached us, but in the effort of our many officers to do their duty, show they have been ardent workers for the upholding of our laws. And many such cases should have been disposed of by our magistrates and feel if they have not the power they should have it to save the county great expense. One of the perplexing questions we found in many cases, the witnesses were thoroughly coached. It was difficult to get sufficient evidence to convict in such cases.

"One item we regret to find in many localities is the giving away of liquor and in many instances to minors.

"It would be better, possibly, if some adequate license be issued to traction engines, yet we feel with time proper education in the line of use on said road by all conveyances, much of the harm now claimed can be overcome, and the experience of road construction improve its conditions, for we fail to find any real damage done by traction engines in general. We ask that the law against the speeding of automobiles and motorcycles should be strictly enforced.

"We had no cases of selling cocaine or similar drugs. We went over the many cases of vice and disorderly houses, and find from reports from the many officers in general that our city has few violations except on All Saints' street, which place we have made every effort to correct.

"We visited Montevue Hospital and find we have buildings too numerous and too large for our present wants. The problem is how to manage such an institution. But we believe our county commissioners can make it self-supporting.

"We also visited the jail and found same clean and in order with the right man for sheriff, with his very efficient helpers and also find their report herewith attached correct, but would recommend separation of colored and white prisoners.

"The condition of Montevue as reported by Superintendent Olin W. Rice follows: Males, white, 50; colored, 15; children, colored, 1; tramps, 8; total, 74. Females, white, 39; colored, 10; total, 49.

"List of prisoners at the jail: State prisoners: White 8; Black, 17; males, white, 5; females, 3; males, black, 16; females, 1; total, 25.

"Corporation prisoners: White, 1; black, 4; males, 3; females, 2."

Military Critics Make Comparison.

Military critics are comparing the battle of the Marne with the battle of Antietam which was fought just 52 years ago. These critics put the number of allies in the former battle at 1,600,000, as against 900,000 Germans, or a total of 2,500,000—more than twenty-one times larger than the fighting forces at Antietam.

The losses in killed, wounded and missing at Antietam totalled 23,500, or one out of every six of the combatants. If the same ratio should have prevailed in the Battle of the Marne, the total losses of those five days of fighting would have reached 417,000.

The European battle was undoubtedly the greater battle of the two but in the fierceness of the fighting, leaving out of consideration the size of the armies, Antietam was not so far behind the Marne, if at all.

An army rifle is today effective over a range of 700 yards, whereas in 1870 the range was only 400 yards.

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of persons furnishing items will be withheld.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Musselman, of Gettysburg, spent Sunday with the Misses Hoke.

Misses Ruth Patterson, Mary Shuff and Louise Beam and Mr. Robert Gillilan motored to Ellicott City on Sunday.

Mr. George Robinson, of Littlestown, was in town this week.

Mr. W. P. Nunemaker, of Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., spent Saturday and Sunday here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Willson, of Hagerstown and Judge Cassidy, of Germantown, Pa., spent several days with Mrs. Margaret J. Mitchell.

Misses Bertha and Camelia Felix have returned from a three weeks visit to New York.

Mr. Rutzahn, of Middletown, was in Emmitsburg Saturday.

Mr. Eugene Whitmore, of Greenville, Pa., was in town last week.

Mrs. Sarah Peters, Mrs. Sol. Allison and children, of Fairfield, spent Sunday with Mrs. Charles Staley.

Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Francis J. Campbell, of Irvington, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kerrigan.

Messrs. J. Henry Stokes and Lawrence Mondorff and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Thompson motored to Carlisle on Wednesday.

Mr. Felix Diffendal had as his guests on Saturday; Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hartzell, Mr. and Mrs. John A. McDivit, Mr. James V. McDivit and Mr. W. H. Bateman, of Baltimore.

Mr. Charles D. Eichelberger left Tuesday morning for Baltimore, where he will take a course at the Maryland University, in pharmacy.

Miss Margaret Boyle left Thursday for Baltimore where she will take a course at Strayers Business College.

Mr. Michael J. Thompson left Emmitsburg yesterday for New Haven, Conn., where on Saturday he will referee the big Yale-University of Virginia football game. Mrs. Thompson accompanied her husband.

Misses Nellie and Anna Felix were in Baltimore this week.

Motter and Miss Constance Kerschner, of Washington, Rev. and Mrs. George F. Mull and Sumner V. Hosterman Esq., of Lancaster, L. I., Messrs. E. M. Kerschner, Robert Kerschner and Richard Kerschner, of Pittsburgh, Mr. Edward Kerschner, of Philadelphia attended the funeral of Miss M. Louise Motter on Thursday.

Miss Adele Hughes, who has been spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hoke, has returned to her home in Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Thurmont Man Killed.

Eugene Fogle, the man run down in the Western Maryland yards at Hagerstown on Monday, and who died two hours later at the Washington County Hospital, was formerly of Thurmont. Fogle was a half brother of Herman Stoner, who met death by drowning last year. The first report gave his name as Eugene Stoner.

"DO THEY RESPOND?"

Ten minutes after THE CHRONICLE left the uptown carrier's hands last week there was an inquiry by phone at this office relative to a For Sale ad.

If you want to buy or sell ANYTHING, advertise in THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE and see how quickly the people respond.

Many Visit Columbus's Ship.

The Santa Marie, the rebuilt flagship of Columbus, which is on her way to San Francisco to be shown at the Panama Pacific Exposition, is exciting great interest at its present berth in Boston. Visitors are showing great interest in the anchor used by the discoverer of the New World on his voyage of 1492, in the cannon, furniture, maps, charts, compass and other articles which Columbus used on the trip into the unknown waters of the western Atlantic.

Dr. E. D. Hudson, veterinarian, will answer all calls in Emmitsburg and vicinity. Third and Hanover streets, Gettysburg, Pa. Either Phone.

Are You Going To

sell your farm in the Spring? Do you contemplate disposing of your Household Goods or your Livestock? Perhaps you want to buy a farm, a house. If so advertise in THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Every reader of THE CHRONICLE is invited to send news to this office. The management of THE CHRONICLE will take it as a particular favor if patrons will telephone or write to this office concerning matters of general interest. By sending personals, details of improvements to town or farm property, accounts of accidents and fires, the reports of meetings, particulars of deaths and weddings and mention of all social events, they will make this THEIR paper—truly representative of the community.

Good Paint

is cheap; and Devoe is not the only good paint; it is one of a dozen; and very likely, the only one in your town—there are hundreds of middling and bad. You can see what chance there is of another good one there: perhaps one in ten at the most.

Bad paint is dearest; middling is dear; costs 2 or 3 times as much as the best. No matter about the cost of a gallon; that isn't it; the cost a square foot; the cost a job; better yet, the cost a year. There's a whole education in paint in this advertisement.

THE WEEK AT THE COUNTY SEAT
Chronicle of Happenings at Frederick
City and in the Courts.

The County Commissioners awarded contracts for supplies for Montevue and jail as follows: William D. Baumgardner, hides and tallow; Horace Zacharias, cattle; Jacob Notnagle, meat for jail; Maryland Brick and Supply Company, soft coal for Montevue, Henry Hagan, groceries; B. Rosenour & Sons, shoes and clothing; Thomas H. Haller, dry goods; Farmers' Exchange, flour and feed.

Declaring that the price per kilowatt for electric light was entirely too high—12 cents—H. Dorsey Etchison, a member of the Frederick Bar, appeared before the Board of Aldermen Tuesday night and urged that the Aldermen file a petition with the Public Service Commission asking for an adjustment of the electric light rates.

Miss Laura Schooll was awarded a verdict for $3,500 by a jury Wednesday against A. Kemp Keefer and Jacob Rohrbach, executors of the estate of the late Mrs. Margaret E. S. Hood. Miss Schooll sued for $6,000 for alleged services during the life of Mrs. Hood. The case occupied two days a number of witnesses being examined on each side.

Thousands of pumpkins are now being canned by the Frederick City Packing Company and the season for this vegetable is considered one of the best ever had in this county. A force of workmen at the industry will be engaged fully three weeks yet before all of the pumpkins are canned and read to put on the market. Besides being plentiful, the pumpkins are extraordinary large and so far not a single farmer is known to have come forth and said the crop was not as large as anticipated.

The High School football squad this season is to consist of strictly bonafide players according to Captain Leberz, enough men turned out for practice to compose four elevens. Manager Claggett Summers has definitely announced that the opening game will take place in Frederick October 17, when the strong Rock Hill pigskin aggregation will journey to Frederick and line-up against the High School lads.

The funeral of Rev. J. W. Kiracofe, a former pastor of the Centennial U. B. Church, will be held at St. Paul's U. B. Church, Hagerstown, on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. Dr. A. B. Statton. Rev. Kiracofe died at his home in Hagerstown after a four days' illness of complications of diseases.

XPERIENCE has demonstrated that the most effective and economical means of placing your name, your goods and your wants before the people of Emmitsburg and Emmitsburg District is through an advertisement in their home paper—THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

A 25-cent "Want" adv. inserted in the CHRONICLE brought a dozen inquiries by telephone on the date of its appearance, and numerous replies were subsequently received. The ad. way is the only way.

There was a man in our town
Who claimed he was very wise,
He even had the nerve to say
He didn't advertise.

His business soon foretold this fact
For things went very slow,
So he asked a man if he thot that it paid
See Matthews, he said, they know.

A Store Window

-is good advertising, so is a sign over the door; but the best of all is an advertisement in THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

ACROSS THE LINE

Gettysburg:

Prayer for peace among the nations of Europe will be offered up on the battlefield here when the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston will conduct exercises at the National Cemetery Sunday afternoon, the day set aside by President Wilson for universal prayer for peace.

Raymond A. Stock, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Stock of this place, has been awarded highest honors for class and shop work in a class of 600 men at the Westinghouse Electrical Institute, Pittsburgh. He is a graduate of St. Francis Xavier's School and will complete his course at Pittsburgh in April.

The compulsory school law went into effect in Gettysburg, Monday. At that time Truant Officer Utz began his work and all children between the ages of eight and sixteen will be obliged to attend school regularly.

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Terrace Talk

The Purcell Lyceum will be reorganized in a few days.

The annual Spiritual Retreat will probably begin next week.

"Bunch" Munoz is now a member of the Senior Department and he seems to be extremely happy about it.

Of the new football recruits, Zittsman is the heaviest, tipping the scales at something over two hundred pounds.

Messrs. R. C. and Leroy Golbsborough were elected manager and assistant manager, respectively, of the baseball team.

The first number of volume twenty-two of the Mountaineer will be published on October 15. A. Joseph Schmidt is the editor.

The number of students in the house passed the 300 mark on September 22, being an increase of 23 over last year's attendance on that date.

The two tardy members of the Senior Class, who have not yet placed their signatures on the College register, are expected to return in a short time.

Mr. Regis Noel '12 spent a few days at the Mount this week en route to Washington, where he will pursue a course in jurisprudence at Catholic University.

The officers of the Athletic Association for the ensuing year are: John J. Dowdle, president; Leo P. McManus, vice president; William English, treasurer; and Louis Rowan, secretary.

The annual reunion and banquet will be held at the College on Wednesday, October 14 at 1.30 P. M. Invitations have been issued for the event and it is expected that the attendance will be large.

Daniel I. McDermott '15, of Norristown, Pa., succeeds Daniel F. Costello, as manager of the football team. Costello was graduated last year and is at present playing a great game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The study of Biology has been introduced in lieu of Geology to the Senior class. The class of '16 have taken up Geology. Rev. Dr. Edward B. Jordan is teaching the theory of Biology while Prof. John Rauth has charge of the laboratory work.

The hopes of the supporters of the New York Giants were completely crushed, when the National League Champions met defeat on the Polo Grounds at the hands of Pittsburgh on Tuesday. The New Englanders then became extremely cheerful.

The second meeting of the Athletic Association was held this week in the Music Hall and plans were discussed as to the probability of organizing a College Band. The President of the College offered to furnish the instruments and a canvass of musical talent is now being made among the student body. It was not very many years ago that the College boasted of a splendid band, and there is no reason to doubt the practicability of a new organization of this kind.

MT. ST. MARY'S ITEM.

Miss Katherine Seltzer, of Baltimore, who had been visiting her brother, Mr. James Seltzer has returned home.

Miss Anna Wagner, of Hagerstown, who had been visiting relatives here has returned home.

Mrs. James Seltzer spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Michael Lingg.

Tomorrow Mt. St. Mary's opens its football season at Westminster.

The College register now shows 303 students. This number does not include the 50 or more Seminarians.

Prof. Ernest Lagarde who for the past few weeks has been quite ill is rapidly recovering.

The sad news of the sudden death of Mrs. Joseph Althoff, of Baltimore, came as a great surprise and shock to her many friends and relatives. Her funeral was held in Baltimore. Interment was made in the cemetery on the hill near Mt. St. Mary's College on Tuesday.

Mr. Herbert Townsend, Mgr. of the J. F. Eline Co., of Baltimore, made a business trip to the College on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pius Shorb have rented the Shaffer tenant house.

Several persons from this place attended the Catholic Convention on Monday and Tuesday in Baltimore.

LOYS AND VICINITY.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Martin and son, Elmer, Mr. Clarence Striner, of Loys, Mr. Calvin G. Colbert, of Sunny Side, and Mr. William A. Shorb, of Rocky Ridge, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pittenger.

POULTRY RAISES SHOULD INCREASE FLOCKS

Conditions Abroad Promise Heavy Demand For Poultry Products During The Winter.

In an interview, Prof. Roy H. Waite, Poultryman at the Agricultural Experiment Station, urged that poultry keepers in the State aim to increase their production during the coming year owing to conditions abroad. He said in part, "Production has been seriously crippled in a large area of the world and there is going to be a sudden demand for poultry products sometime during the coming winter."

"Will the Maryland Poultry raiser be prepared to step in and help furnish food for the world? Present low prices cannot long continue. The markets report that the movement of poultry is sluggish and the fact that the prices today are lower than usual at this time of the year seem to indicate that poultry is being dumped on the market on account of the rising cost of feed. Hold on to all the pullets and year old hens you can for there is bound to be a reaction, but of course don't over stock and run too much risk of disease."

"On account of the present high cost of feeds it will be necessary for you to practise the most rigid economy in the matter of feeding. Economy, however, doesn't always mean cutting down on feed, but it does mean adjusting the outlay and income so that the most profit will be realized. Utilize all available waste products when you buy, purchase the lower priced feeds, providing their feeding value justifies their use."

Will Revolutionize Bottle Making.

A company has just been incorporated in Ohio with a capital of $600,000 for the manufacture of glass vials by a new method. This machine, experts say, will revolutionize. The new process does away with annealing finished ware and the use of the "glory hole" furnace, all blowing tools and molds. The glass is drawn in tubes one hundred feet in length and any diameter desired. In two minutes after it leaves the machine the ware is cold enough to handle with bare hands. The machine can be started cold and operated in two minutes, and it takes less than two minutes to convert a tube into a finished bottle. The machine is heated by gas and is operated by one person. Any shape or size neck vial, screw-cap bottles, and test tubes can be made with it.

NEWS FROM THE TRACT

Mr. and Mrs. George Sites, Mr. and Mrs. John Overholzer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spangler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stultz and family.

Mr. Mack Sites visited Mr. Charles Overholzer on Sunday.

Miss Arbutus Wolf was called home due to the illness of her mother.

Elmer Warren and Charles Overholzer visited Samuel Warren recently.

ALFALFA The Profitable Hay Crop

Yields Four to Six Cuttings a Year of Easily Cured and Most Nutritious Hay Wonderful Increases in Yield Each Successive Year.

ALFALFA "GOLD" BRAND

"Its long, branching roots penetrate far down, push and crowd the earth this way and that, and thus constitute a gigantic subsoiler. These become an immense magazine of fertility. As soon as cut, they begin to decay and liberate the vast reservoir of fertilizing matter below the plow, to be drawn upon by other crops for years to come."

Alfalfa yields four to six cuttings next season. Frequent cuttings thicken out the stalk and makes it stool out and grow off better.

FABLES IN SLANG

The New Fable of the Same Old Thing, With Improved Trimmings.

Once there was a Husky employed to crack the Whip around a smoky Works that did not offer an attractive Vista from the Car Window, although it blossomed with a fragrant crop of Dividends every time the Directors got together in the Back Room.

Most of the American Workingmen employed in this Hive of Industry came from remote parts of Europe. Each wore his Head entirely in front of his Ears and had taken an Oath to support the Constitution. It was the duty of the Husky to keep these imported Rabbits on the Jump and increase the Output.

He made himself so strong with the big Center Poles that they declared him in every time a Melon was sliced and when it came time to Scramble the Eggs and pull off the grand Whack-Up, he was standing at the head of the Line with a Basket on his Arm.

So it came about that one who started in a Thatched Cottage and grew up on cold Spuds and never saw a Manicure Set until he was 38 years of age, went home one day to find Gold Fish swimming about in every Room and Servants blocking the Hallways.

He had some trouble finding Rings that would go over his Knuckles and the Silk Kind felt itchy for quite a while, but finally he adjusted himself to his new Prosperity and began to deplore the apparent Growth of Socialism.

dewed Title who sits on the Boulevard all day and dallies with the green and pink Bottled Goods has got it all over Burns like a Striped Awning.

All the starving members of the Up-Against-It Association were waiting at the Dock to cop the prospective Meal Ticket. Not one of them had ever Shaved or Worked, and each wore his Handkerchief inside his Cuff and had Yellow Gloves stitched down the Back and was fully entitled to sit in an Electric Chair and have 80,000 Volts distributed through the Steel Ribs of his Corset.

As soon as Kathryn began to meet the Roqueforts and Camemberts she discovered that they had Lovely Eyes and certainly knew how to treat a Lady.

Kathryn had been brought up on Philadelphia Literature, and even during her most ambitious Social Flights she had encountered the Type of Man who remains on the opposite side of the Room having trouble with his White Gloves.

She never had been against those Willing Performers from Gascony who wore Red Ribbons and Medals and who rushed over to kiss her Hand and then look deep into her Eyes and throb like a Motor Boat.

This class of Work simply shot her Pulse up to 130 and made her think that she was Cleopatra, floating in the Royal Barge and surrounded by crawling Slaves.

When a certain Markee crawled into her Lap and purred into her Ear and threatened to curl up on the Rug and die if she Refused him, she simply keeled over with Excitement.

After she recovered she found herself actually Engaged to the Representative of one of the Oldest Families in the Sauscison District of the Burgoo Province and as manly a Chap as ever borrowed Money from a Toe-Kancer.

She hurried home to keep it out of the Newspapers and to tell those who would listen that American Men were Imposable.

Then the Markee came over with his Solicitor and a Bottle of Chloroform and a full kit of Surgical Instruments, and the Wedding was fully reported by the Associated Press.

The Captain of Industry sized up Son-in-Law and knew that when the Money was gone, the Markee could always get a job hanging up Hats in the Check-Room of a first-class Table D'Hote Restaurant.

From the window of her Chateau in the Burgoo Province the Lady Cashier can see the American Tourists going by in their hired Motor Cars. Her Cheek flushes with Delight when she happens to remember that in another Three Months or so Friend Husband will come home long enough to show her where to sign her Name.

What is more, she has the Privilege of walking out at any time and picking Flowers with the Understanding that she is not to let it be known that she is related to any of her Relatives on either side of the Atlantic.

MORAL: Europeans have a Right to their own Money.

Cost of Flying Aeroplanes.

It is estimated that the fuel and oil costs of an aeroplane of high power run into about five dollars per hour of flight. In England there are from one hundred and twenty to one hundred and fifty aeroplanes, and as each machine is expected to do about two hundred and fifty hours' flying annually, the significance of high fuel costs will begin to be appreciated. It will be measured by a fuel and oil bill of about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year at retail prices. Those who read the signs expect the rate of increase of air-craft to continue to one thousand aeroplanes, and many dozens of airships within the next two years mean probably a fuel and oil bill of $1,250,000. It has been further estimated that on the above supposition of development aeronautes may be expected within two years to take one-sixth part of the fuel consumption of all the motor-vehicles in Britain. Of the total consumption, estimated by Mr. Critchley at about one hundred million gallons a year, it seems that twenty million gallons are used by the omnibuses and taxicabs of London, while motor boats, motor cycles and sundry users take 10,000,000, so that on this basis the 100,000 vehicles in England take 70,000,000 gallons.

Mexico Rich in Natural Wealth.

In natural wealth Mexico is one of the most favored of all the lands of the earth. Its resources are little short of marvelous. In gold, silver, and the various precious stones its possibilities are tremendous. It is rich in petroleum. Its forests are immensely rich. Its agricultural possibilities are scarcely to be estimated, so great are they. In all the elements of natural wealth the country leads all others. As regards climate, Mexico, in its higher regions, is a paradise; and after what was achieved at Panama, it is safe to say that even the coast regions may be made perfectly wholesome and so.

Paint---Drouth

The longer the drouth the more rain is required to water the earth.

The longer a building goes without painting the dryer it gets and more paint is required to keep water out.

A ten gallon Job this year is a eleven gallon Job next year—you will save money by using the best paint.
