BELGIAN RELIEF STILL BIG TASK

United States Commission Prepares For Winter's Work.

MUCH DEPENDS ON HARVEST

Big Organization Probably Facing Most Arduous Part of Novel Work—Sixty Thousand Tons of Food Have to Be Sent Every Month to Feed Nearly 2,000,000 People.

New York.—There are 7,000,000 Belgian mouths and 2,000,000 French ones in the "occupied zone" of war in Europe into which nothing enters save what is provided by America, but the situation in some ways presents more serious aspects than it did this time last year.

Lindon Wallace Bates, vice chairman and New York director of the commission for relief in Belgium, says that it will be several weeks before it can be definitely known just how much it will be necessary for Americans to do during the coming winter. Much depends on the Belgian harvest. But it is certain that the commission, which has undertaken to supply the Belgian non-combatants with food until the war ends, has before it perhaps the most arduous part of its work—most arduous because, although the first enthusiastic wave of sympathy for the stricken country, which made the collection of donations little more than the sending of acknowledgments, has had a year to lose its original ardor, the task is just as big as ever.

Sixty thousand tons of food have to be sent every month and over 1,500,000 people fed who have no means to pay for anything. This means a minimum of $3,000,000 a month to be raised, and it is not expected the commission's present funds can last much longer.

In one respect the work will be much easier than it was last year. The organization of the commission is complete and well high perfect. Its committee has become accustomed to smooth and harmonious co-operation, and its agents have been established in every center of distribution. The problem thus is merely that of getting the food instead of getting it and then getting it to the people of Belgium.

The diplomatic obstacles which made the early work particularly arduous also do not now exist. All of the belligerent nations have recognized the commission as the medium to supply food to non-combatants and have agreed not to molest its shipments. As Bates put it, the commission has become established as an "imperium imperio."

But there have been many births in Belgium, and, although many adults doubtless have died, a baby is somewhat more difficult to feed than his father.

The people of Belgium who are able to pay for food of course have not been receiving gratis their supplies from the commission. There are about 5,500,000 of these. As there is little other food for sale in Belgium, they have to buy their supplies from the commission. They each have had to procure them a ticket entitling them to buy only a certain amount—precisely the same as that given to those who have no money.

The amount is about ten ounces of bread and dried beans and rice and prunes, and others basic foods a day. It is about one-third of a soldier's ration, or about one-fourth of what the average American eats. It costs, for each member of the "bread line," about $2 a month.

In spite of the small amount and the even smaller cost, however, it has sufficed not only to keep alive the people of Belgium, but to keep them well and physically fairly well contented.

ALLIGATORS' BILL.

Worries the Town Council of Anderson, Ind.

Anderson, Ind.—Two small alligators, each about three feet long, but nearly twenty-five years old, are causing the city water department some concern because of their meat bill, although the cost has averaged not more than $20 a year.

The last bill just presented for meat was $15, and because that bill was for only one feed City Clerk Collins and City Comptroller Richter were astonished. It was explained, however, that the alligators had fasted since October last. It is regarded doubtful whether the alligators will again manifest hunger until next spring, but the records show that perfectly good meat for the two alligators has cost the city about $400.

THREE SCHOOLBOYS WIN PRIZES WITH PIGS

Put $150 In Bank While Still at Lessons.

Washington.—"A year ago the three sons of a dairyman living seven miles out of Macon, Ga., did not have a cent in bank, but had two small thoroughbred Duroc-Jersey pigs," says a statement issued by the department of agriculture. "Two of the boys joined the Bibb County Pig club. Today all three boys belong to the club and have in one of the Macon banks over $150, made while going to school.

"One of the banks in Macon offered a deposit of $1 and a metal savings bank to each of the Bibb County Pig club members who would make good. Making good consisted in exhibiting a pure bred pig at the fair and delivering to the county agent a record of feeds and weights, showing how much it cost per pound to raise it.

"Out of the forty-two boys who made good thirty-two let their dollar deposit remain in the bank. Two of the latter were the dairyman's sons, who won considerable prize money with their boar and sow pigs. This prize money was deposited with the bank and is part of their savings.

"A sow they exhibited had her first litter of seven redheaded pigs at fair time. She is now the mother of a second litter, in which there are twelve, all of them thriving.

"These boys will be exhibitors at the fair this fall, and the bank will have to surrender three more one dollar deposits and three metal savings banks for the three pure bred pigs exhibited and three complete records delivered."

FIFTEEN YEAR HUNT TO END.

Captain C. E. Farrand's Widow to Be Declared Legally Dead.

Denver.—Mrs. May Spencer Farrand, second wife of the late Captain Charles E. Farrand, U. S. A., retired, who mysteriously disappeared fifteen years ago, may soon be declared legally dead in order that the captain's estate may be settled. The only heir the attorneys for the estate have been able to find is Mrs. Louise A. Ryder of New York city, daughter of Captain Farrand by his first marriage.

A nation wide but futile search has been made for Mrs. Farrand for fifteen years by war department officials, federal secret service men and attorneys, since she left Arvada, a Denver suburb, shortly after her husband's death. Neither relatives nor friends have since heard from her.

"Unless Mrs. Farrand is found in a few weeks, Public Administrator Woodward said, "she will have to be declared legally dead, and the captain's fortune will go to the only heir we have been able to locate, but if she is found half of the fortune will go to her."

MAY LOSE CITIZENSHIP.

Status of Baltimoreans Fighting in Europe Is in Doubt.

Baltimore.—A question of law may arise if the young Baltimoreans now fighting in Europe, John Poe, John Sydney Howell, Alexander Godby and Martin D. Monaghan, attempt to return to their native land. It is held by the department of labor that by taking up arms they have expatriated themselves. This was the finding in the case of Frank Caswell of Harrison, Me., a trooper of the Canadian contingent, who attempted to come home, but was held up by the authorities on the ground that he had ceased to be a citizen of the United States.

Local officials declare that a different light may be thrown on the subject when it becomes known under just what conditions these young Baltimoreans enlisted. If they swore allegiance to the flag under which they aspired to fight they of course ceased to be citizens of the United States, but there appears to be doubt as to just what the foreign powers exact of their recruits.

HAS 'EM THINKING.

St. Albans Freak Has Established a Record as Climber.

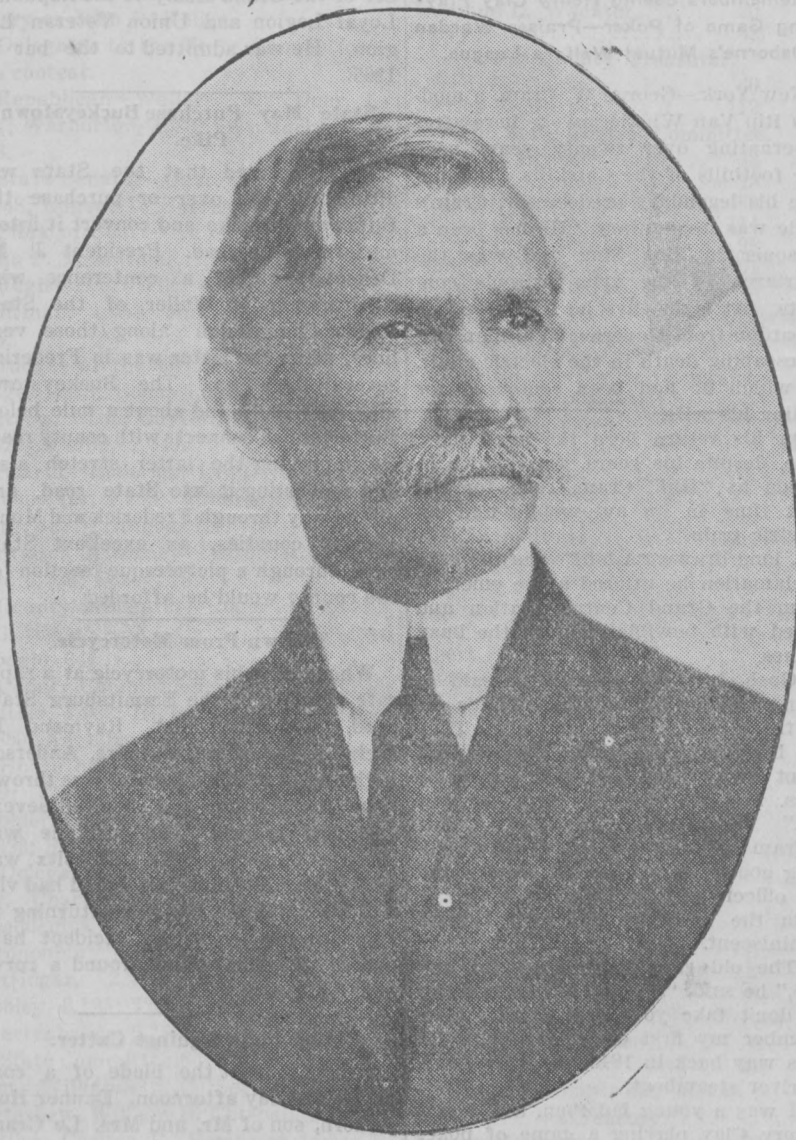

St. Albans, Vt.—W. L. Plumley of North Clarendon has a freak dog, whose specialty is climbing. The highest climb he ever made was thirty-two feet. Veterinarians and others who have examined the dog's feet are at a loss to understand how he grips a tree trunk in climbing.

His nails are like those of the ordinary dog, though possibly a trifle more pointed, and the fleshy pads of his feet are perhaps a little broader.

So accustomed to height is the dog that he sleeps in tree branches twenty feet above the ground. He is three years old and part pug and part bull.

HARRINGTON AND WELLER WIN

Nominated By Large Majorities Over Lee and Warburton.—County and Local Vote.—Mr. Patterson Wins.

EMERSON C. HARRINGTON.

Comptroller Emerson C. Harrington decisively defeated Senator Blair Lee for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Mr. Harrington will have 81 votes in the convention and Senator Lee 48. They split in Baltimore city, each getting two districts. Mr. Harrington has a substantial popular majority.

Albert C. Ritchie defeated State Senator William Milnes Maloy for the nomination for Attorney-General receiving 95 votes to Senator Maloy's 34. Mr. Ritchie won three districts in the city and led his ticket throughout the State. He lost the other district in the city by less than 50 votes.

Hugh A. McMullen defeated William B. Copper for the nomination for Comptroller by 76 votes to 53 in the convention. Mr. McMullen only carried one district in the city, but made some gains in the counties.

Roads Chairman O. E. Weller, for Governor, and Robert F. Duerr, for Comptroller, swept things in the Republican primary. They will have 112 votes of the 129 in the Republican convention. Mr. Warburton and his running mate, Gen. Charles F. Macklin, for Comptroller, only carried Cecil, Dorchester, Anne Arundel and Calvert, giving them 17 votes. Albert A. Doubt was not opposed for the Republican nomination for Comptroller.

In Frederick County.

The returns in the county were not all in until Wednesday afternoon. Lee carried the county by about 400. Weller by almost 1,400. The complete returns are:

Democratic.—Lee, 2,604; Copper, 2,251; Maloy, 2,152; Harrington, 2,205; McMullen, 2,415; Ritchie, 2,524.

State Senator—Etchison, 2,748; Belt, 1,797.

County Treasurer—Harper, 2,615; Gaver, 1,920.

State's Attorney—Lewis, 1,834; Smith, 1,704; Delauter, 1,152.

ACCIDENTS KILL 25,000 WORKERS

Labor Bureau Publishes Statistics by Dr. Hoffman.

PROBLEM MUST BE MET.

Declared That Compensation For Industrial Accidents Will Become Universal—Railroad and Agricultural Pursuits Responsible For More Than 4,000 Fatalities Annually.

Washington.—An important bulletin on the statistics of industrial accidents by Frederick L. Hoffman has just been issued by the United States department of labor. The New York Medical Record says in part:

"The abolition of the principle of workmen's compensation by more than half of the states within the last few years emphasizes the importance of the industrial accident problem and foreshadows the time when such compensation for industrial accidents will become universal throughout the United States.

"As one method of measuring this importance the bulletin presents an estimate of the number of fatal and non-fatal accidents occurring among American wage earners in a single year.

"The conclusion reached is that the number of fatal industrial accidents among American wage earners, including both sexes, may be conservatively estimated at 25,000 and the number of injuries involving a disability of more than four weeks, using the ratio of Austrian experience, at approximately 700,000.

"These numbers, impressive as they are, fail to indicate fully the number of industrial accidents, for such studies as have already been made show that of the accidents involving disabilities of one day and over at least three-fourths terminate during the first four weeks.

"The injuries which contribute the greatest number of fatal accidents, according to Science for Aug. 30, 1915, are railroad employments and agricultural pursuits, each group being responsible for approximately 4,200 fatalities each year. Coal mining contributes more than 2,600 and building and construction work nearly 1,900. General manufacturing, while employing large numbers, produces only about 1,800 fatal accidents.

"When the fatality rates are considered, metal mining ranks as most hazardous, with a rate of four per thousand; coal mining comes next with a rate of 3.5, and fisheries and navigation following with a rate of three per thousand.

"Manufacturing industries as a whole rank lowest, with a rate of 0.25 per thousand, but the fact should not be overlooked that this low average rate covers manufacturing groups varying widely in hazard, including on the one hand boiler-making and the various departments of the iron and steel industry, in some of which fatality rates as high as those in metal and coal mining have prevailed, and on the other hand the textile and clothing industries, in some of which the risk of fatal accident is practically negligible.

"These estimates are derived from the best sources available. At the present time there are no entirely complete and trustworthy industrial accident statistics for even a single important industry in the United States. This lack of trustworthy industrial accident statistics is due to the absence of any uniform requirements in the various states as to the reports of industrial accidents."

TWO BOYS CAUGHT WOLF.

Bagged Him With Gunny Sack Near Small Town.

Kansas City.—Cecil Lattimer, twelve years old, and his brother, James Edgar, ten years old, sons of J. J. Lattimer of Independence, took a wolf scalp to the county clerk's office in that city recently and claimed the bounty of $3. The boys said they captured the wolf on the Frazier farm, southeast of Independence. When they saw it it ran into a hollow log. They procured a gunny sack and tied it over the opening of the log and then scared the wolf out into the sack.

Hen Hatches Quail Eggs.

Viola, Wis.—A mother quail laid two eggs in the nest which one of William Bender's hens had made in the woods near his farm. The hen hatched them, and they joined themselves to the barnyard flock.

Extremes in Apes.

The gibbon is the smallest of the manlike apes. Its arms are so long that it can touch its ankles when walking. The gorilla, which is often six feet high, is the largest of the apes.

WAR THREATENS RUIN TO SWISS HOTEL MEN

Appeal Made to Government For Aid by Mortgages.

Geneva.—Bereft of tourist patronage by the war, the Swiss hotel keepers in convention assembled have appealed to the government for relief. They want a state system of mortgages on furniture in inns and a delay of two years after the end of hostilities for the payment of interest on the mortgages.

There are about 4,000 tourist hotels in Switzerland, employing 43,000 people, with a yearly wage list of $5,000,000, and $227,000,000 capital is invested in the business.

More than $100,000,000 was spent by tourists in Switzerland in 1913, of which $1,000,000 went for postage stamps and souvenir cards, $400,000 was spent for telegrams and phone talks, $4,000,000 was taken by the railroads for fare and freight, and the balance, less a comparatively small amount for customs duties, was got by the hotels and shops in the proportion of eight to two.

These estimates are the official ones made public at the national exposition at Berne.

English, French, German and American travelers make 60 per cent of the Swiss tourist trade. The war came early enough in the summer of 1914 to reduce the hotel receipts 40 per cent.

This season there has been practically no business.

FINDS BOY LOST YEARS.

Was Located in Company of Strange Man in Texas.

Fort Worth, Tex.—A four-year search through the United States and Canada for her eight-year-old son was ended here by Mrs. Julia Delo of Quebec, Canada, who identified the boy held by authorities here since the arrest of E. S. Carroll on March 5 as her son. Carroll had been arrested on a charge of assault. He had been traveling around the country with the boy. Both told conflicting stories and were ordered held. Carroll, officials said, probably will be charged with abduction.

The boy recognized his mother immediately, although he was only four when he disappeared from home. Carroll's attorney filed a habeas corpus petition to regain possession of the child.

WAR HAS SPREAD CHOLERA.

Greater Prevalence Abroad Affects Quarantine Restrictions Here.

Washington.—The United States public health service has collected all available information regarding health conditions in foreign ports in order that needless restrictions shall not be imposed upon vessels and that active measures may be taken when necessary. In a review of the world distribution of cholera, yellow fever, plague and typhus fever, just issued by the United States public health service, it is pointed out that in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1915, cholera was present in Austria-Hungary, Ceylon, China, Egypt, Dutch East Indies, India, the Philippine Islands, Russia, the Straits Settlements, the Balkan territory, Germany and Indo-China.

The amount of cholera reported in Russia during the six months ended Dec. 25, 1914, and the absence this year of reports from that country, save from Petrograd during the six months following, indicate that the disease has been more or less widely prevalent there. In the six months ended June 25, 1915, cholera was reported to be present in the prison camps in Germany in twenty-three localities, in Silesia, and in Brandenburg, Posen and Zirla, in Germany. In all probability these cases were traceable to the seat of war in the east. The new infection in the Balkan territory may have originated from the constant infection of Austria-Hungary or from Turkey, where cholera was reported prevalent during 1914 and 1915.

Say Dan Cupid Is Loafing.

Columbus, O.—Cupid's business in Ohio was all shot full of holes last year. Little Dan trapped only 47,000 Ohio pairs in the year ending April 1, 1915, according to figures given out by Secretary of State Hildebrand. And that's 2,561 pairs fewer than were wedded in Ohio in the previous year and 300 fewer than 1912, when the population was much smaller.

Marries Five Hundred Couples.

Rome, Ga.—Rev. T. R. Hanson, who resides five miles from Cave Spring, in this county, has reported to Ordinary Johnson that he had just solemnized the five hundredth marriage during his residence here.

MODERN RIP VAN WINKLE RETURNS

PRISONER TWENTY YEARS.

Electric Cars, Autos and Women's Styles Amaze Pardoned Wife Slayer. Remembers Seeing Henry Clay Playing Game of Poker—Praises Warden Osborne's Mutual Welfare League.

New York.—George W. Cram, a modern Rip Van Winkle, awoke here after hibernating over twenty years near the foothills of the Catskills. But unlike his legendary predecessor, Cram's exile was involuntary. He has been a prisoner in Sing Sing and was the patriarch of the grim prison's convicts. At eighty-five he was freed by a pardon from Governor Whitman after escaping death in the electric chair, to which he had been sentenced for killing his wife.

On his return here the aged man, who, despite his years, was known in prison as "Kid" Cram, rode for the first time in an automobile and an electric train.

A long drawn "A-h-h!" was the only exclamation he uttered as he emerged from the Grand Central station and gazed with bewilderment at the busy scenes.

"Gosh, how it's grown!" he said as soon as he got his breath. "That's one of the electric street cars, eh? They are big things, all right. Gee, when I went away they had just got cable cars, and we thought them wonderful."

Cram had left the prison after bidding goodby to all his old cronies and the officers at Sing Sing.

On the train the old man became reminiscent.

"The old rum is no good for any one," he said, "and my advice to a boy is, don't take your first drink. I remember my first drink, all right. It was way back in 1848, on a Mississippi river steambot."

"I was a young lad then, and I saw Henry Clay playing a game of poker with some other men. He took me between his knees and gave me his 'hand' to play. After it was over he gave me his glass of wine to drink. I don't remember whether I won the game or not, but I know I've played many games since then."

"Say, boys," he began suddenly, veering his conversation to Sing Sing. "Warden Osborne's Mutual Welfare League is the greatest thing that was ever instituted in a prison. When I first went into the prison it was a hell on earth. Now it is a paradise."

Reverting to his own case, he said: "When I was fighting in the Indian campaign near the California line in 1846 I was hit in the nose with an Indian musket. I think that old wound was the direct cause of my trouble. You know, I served in three wars—the Mexican, Indian and civil wars."

"I had been out of work for some time and I began to worry. After that I don't remember a thing, until I woke up to find I had been in the death house at Sing Sing for over a week and was under sentence of death for killing my wife. I never quarreled with my wife."

Cram took a walk along Fifth avenue before going to the home of his granddaughter. "Gee," he whispered, "how the women dress nowadays! In my time they would have been locked up if they went about with as little clothes on as that."

"I don't think I'll go down to Coney Island yet. It's thirty-five years since I was there. I'm going to California after a few days here. I haven't been there since the days of '49."

Cram was given $10 when he left Sing Sing. He had earned one and a half cents per day.

"I sent that to my family," he said. "Altogether I earned $136 while I was there. I think they ought to pay convicts a dollar a day. They earn it."

HIS EXHIBIT FREE.

Minneapolis Youth Shows Miniature Railroad Device at Fair.

Minneapolis, Minn.—For the first time in the history of the state fair the management has given free exhibition space to an exhibitor in order to have him show his product on the ground. Walter F. Hines, a boy who lives at 2543 Jefferson street, N. E., Minneapolis, is the exhibitor.

Hines has made a miniature locomotive engine, and in the back yard of his parents' home he has a track that runs around the edges of the yard. It is completely equipped with semaphores and block signals.

"I have always loved to make things with my hands," Hines said. "People think it would be a lot of work to make it, when, as a matter of fact, I had more fun making it than I have had since it was completed, playing with it."

Doesn't Like Water.

Marion, Ind.—John Dinkle, arrested for vagrancy, told the police he had not taken a bath for seventeen years. When he was turned over to O. P. Wright, sheriff, it was directed a bath be given the man. Trustees of the jail applied soap and brushes, with the result that Dinkle received a scouring he will remember for some days.

Ex-Governor Harris Dead.

Andrew L. Harris, former Governor of Ohio, died at Easton, Ohio on Monday.

Governor Harris had a distinguished war record, having been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Ohio Volunteers in 1861 and a colonel May 3, 1863. He was brevetted a brigadier-general of volunteers March 13, 1865, for gallant services after having been mustered out in January 1865. He was Governor of Ohio from 1906 to 1909 after having served in the House of Representatives and held various state and county offices. He was born November 17, 1835, in Butler county, Ohio, and married Miss Caroline Conger, of West Florence, Ohio, October 15, 1865. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, Loyal Legion and Union Veteran Legion. He was admitted to the bar in 1865.

State May Purchase Buckeystown Pike.

It is expected that the State will ultimately take over or purchase the Buckeystown pike and convert it into a modern State road. President J. M. Dranenburg had a conference with Chairman O. E. Weller, of the State Roads Commission along these very lines, when the latter was in Frederick several days ago. The Buckeystown pike runs south and about a mile below Buckeystown connects with county road. By improving the latter stretch also, and converting it into State road, and all the way through Frederick and Montgomery counties, an excellent State road, through a picturesque section of the county would be afforded.

Thrown From Motorcycle.

When riding his motorcycle at a rapid rate of speed on the Emmitsburg State road, near Thurmont, Raymond P. Eicholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Eicholtz, of near Thurmont, was thrown from the machine and received severe cuts and bruises. The machine was slightly damaged. Mr. Eicholtz was working near Walkersville and had visited his parents. He was returning to Walkersville when the accident happened. He was going around a curve near Thurmont.

Lad Falls Against Cutter.

Falling against the blade of a corn cutter Monday afternoon, Danner Hospelhorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Hospelhorn, of near Gettysburg and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Hospelhorn of this place, cut a gash several inches long in his right hand. The boy was helping his father cut corn. He stumbled as he was near the cutter and throwing out his hand to prevent his falling got it on the sharp knife of the cutter. The wound was dressed by a Gettysburg physician.

New Parcel Post Agreement.

The attention of the public is directed to the fact that the department and the postal administration of Haiti having agreed thereto admissible liquids and oils, pastes, or salves or other articles easily liquefiable may be sent by international parcel post from the United States to Haiti and from Haiti to the United States, provided said articles are packed in accordance with the Postal Laws and Regulations.

More than $200,000,000 has been spent by the various states on 31,000 miles of state highways. About 11,000 miles have been built within the last two years. Only seven states have no form of state highway department.

MIKE THOMPSON BACK IN ATHLETICS

Accepts Coaching Job at Baltimore City College.—Will Officiate at Big Football Games This Year.

Mr. M. J. Thompson, the genial proprietor of the New Slagle Hotel, has accepted the position of athletic director at the Baltimore City College and has moved from Emmitsburg to Baltimore to take up his duties at once. "Mike," as he is known in sportdom, is a widely known football official and coach. His ability is known throughout the East, several of the large colleges employing him each year to referee or umpire important football contests. He has officiated at Army-Navy games, and has been a prominent figure at Yale, Harvard, Brown, Cornell, Carlisle Indians and several mid-Western colleges. He also coached the Mount St. Mary's and Washington College elevens.

The move is thought to be a big one for City College. The loss of two football championships in successive years has caused the officials to go the limit in placing the Orange and Black upon sound footing. While the material during the last few years has not been up to the standard of former seasons, it is believed the advent of Thompson will bring out a larger squad.

Because of the many players lost through graduation, he will be forced to rebuild an entirely new team, only five members of last year's squad being available. In the meantime, Maury Eichelberger, the former City star and outfielder of the Walbrook (Inter-club League) club, will work out with the athletes.

Mr. Thompson had just returned from a meeting of the football rules committee in New York when Dr. J. K. Uhlig made the announcement that City College had secured Mike's services. In regard to the New York meeting, Mr. Thompson said that the football rules remained practically unchanged from last year's, except for a few alterations that affect the officials only. Mike has been informed that he will be called on to officiate at some of the biggest gridiron battles in the East during the coming season.

TERRACE TALK.

The "loafs" were plentiful.

The new students were examined on Friday and Saturday.

The prefects appointed this year were: Messrs. M. Jordan, head prefect; P. Kilgallen, T. Cunningham, J. Haldi and L. Gilroy for the senior side, and Messrs. E. Shea, F. Brady and E. Dougherty for the junior side.

Football candidates reported to Coach Day for practice on Monday. Only those who had written permission to play were asked to report. Some of those who were on last year's team and who reported for practice were: Capt. W. Carroll, L. Long, P. Cahill, J. Rice, M. Stohman, Haltungs is still busy life-saving on the bay, but will be in the regular line-up when he returns.

Football goal post have been set-up on both ball fields.

Many fellows enjoyed a cool refreshing swim in the "gym" pool on Sunday and Thursday.

The billiard artists and racquet swingers are making good use of their recreation periods. No new arrivals has been able to down the old stars of the sand courts. Si Klosky, 1st now at Johns Hopkins, takes his warm-up practice here.

The seniors defeated the juniors at baseball on Sunday by the score, 7-2.

Several alleged students have been found inquiring for the exact text of that "something about, by the sweat of his brow."

Monsignors B. J. Bradley and John J. Tierney, of Mt. St. Mary's College, attended the funeral of Michael Jenkins held at the Cathedral, Baltimore, on Saturday morning.

ODDS AND ENDS

Gibraltar is less than two square miles in area.

The per capita circulation in the United States is $34.35.

Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia and Wisconsin in the order named are the leading lime producing states.

An expert fruit packer estimates that the dried fruit yield of California for 1915 will reach a value of 22,500,000. He estimates that the State will produce 70,000,000 pounds of dried peaches, 40,000,000 pounds of apricots, 130,000,000 pounds of prunes, and 30,000,000 pounds of raisins.

"Big Tim" Sullivan, political leader and former Congressman, who was found dead under mysterious circumstances in 1913, in New York, left an estate approximately $1,001,277, according to a report filed Saturday by William B. Ellison, his receiver. The estate will be divided between a brother and a half brother.

—and, Son, Just One More Word

LIKE all red-blooded men, you have a natural desire for stimulants. I'm fifty-five years young and all my life I've drunk beer—temperately. That fact is largely responsible for my present rugged constitution.

I want you to pattern after me. Walk into a beer saloon whenever you feel the need of a mild stimulant and get your glass of beer. It's the drink of real temperance. Those people you meet up with in life who tell you total abstinence is Temperance are deceiving themselves. They're the kind that close the decent tax-paying beer saloons and foster the speak-easy and blind pig.

Steer clear of those dives, my boy, and you'll never cultivate an appetite for strong drinks. You've got a perfect right to drink beer moderately, but do it aboveboard, son—in the beer saloon, where decent men are ashamed to drink to excess. I won't fear the caliber of the companions you meet there.

County Commissioner—Huffer, 2,218; Witter, 1,933; Hightman, 1,781; Haugh, 1,659; Angelberger, 1,035.

House of Delegates—Delaplaine, 1,939; Flook, 1,523; Kefauver, 1,873; Mohler, 1,333; Molsworth, 1,706; Perry, 1,323; Rice, 1,468; Smith, 1,441.

Delegates to the State Convention—Dr. Charles Goodell, 2,817; Edward Nicodemus, 2,608; Beachley, 2,340; Dronenburg, 2,126; Everhart, 1,905; Gittinger, 2,754; Rhoderick, 2,476; Schley, 2,135; Toms, 1,400; William O. Wertebaker, 2,184.

State Committeemen—J. Stewart Annan, William J. Corbett, P. Mehrl Hiteshaw, William E. Cutshall, John D. Keller, Carlton R. Horine or James P. Harris.

The Democrats had contests for County Committeemen in 18 districts, the hottest being in Middletown, which resulted as follows: Baker, 103; Baughman, 75; Bittle, 72; Bussard, 75; Coblitz, 98; Gaylor, 75; Gaver, 99; Hauver, 93; Hildebrand, 96; Holter, 92; King 94; Miller, 93; Nkirk, 77; Rutzahn, 75; E. Shank, 75; F. Shank, 76; Stockman, 86; Wiles, 76.

The defeat of Col. Austin Baughman will make necessary a new county chairman. The result of the election was the defeat of Eugene M. Harrison, Mayor of Brunswick, for the Senate. He came out early in the campaign squarely pledged to vote for a liquor referendum bill and was indorsed by the Anti-Saloon League.

Kaufman was solidly supported by the liquor people. Neither successful Senatorial candidate pledged himself on liquor legislation. Most of the successful legislative candidates were indorsed by the Anti-Saloon League.

Both old line organization slates were chipped. Harley, for County Treasurer, and Edward Schley Delaplaine, who led the Republican delegate ticket, were not picked by all of the leaders to win.

Edward J. Smith, who is closely identified with the Democratic organization and secretary of the county committee, lost to Lewis, who did not have organization backing. The new Democratic State Committee is composed of three Harrington and two Lee supporters.

Dr. Conley, Alban Wood and D. Columbus Kemp represent the organization, and William J. Grove and Dr. Benjamin F. Perry are Lee men.

In Emmitsburg the vote was as follows:

PATERSON APPRECIATES SUPPORT.

I want to sincerely thank the Republicans of Frederick County for the magnificent vote given me during the Primary campaign and to assure them—now that they have done me the honor to nominate me as their candidate for the office of Register of Wills—that I shall do everything in my power to place this office in the Republican column at the coming election. I most earnestly and respectfully solicit the loyal support of the entire party in the campaign now to be waged, and at the polls on November second.

ALBERT M. PATERSON.

THANKS HIS SUPPORTERS.

I want to sincerely thank the Democrats of Emmitsburg district for the splendid vote given me at the Primary, and to ask them to continue their support during the campaign and at the polls on Nov. 2.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland—the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State—there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

There are excellent Schools—Public and Parochial—in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liverys, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations.

THIS SEASON—ALL SEASONS.

Every season should be advertising season. Successful business men go a point further and insist that every day should be advertising day—and they are right, absolutely right.

they have kept their names and their commodities before the people—not now and again, not every little while, but all the while.

Ask the successful ones the method they pursued and they'll tell you, perhaps, that at first they did not have the "habit," but acquired it by experimenting—with the experience of others as their guide—and that very soon it became second nature.

If there are any in doubt as to the way to map out an advertising campaign, as to the manner in which to begin, let them read this "Story of a Merchant Prince."

There was an old geeser and he had a lot of sense; He started up a business on a dollar-eighty cents.

The dollar for stock and the eighty for an ad Brought him three lovely dollars in a day by dad!

Well, he bought more goods and a little more space And he played that system with a smile on his face.

The customers flocked to his two-by-four And soon he had to hustle for a regular store

Up on the square, where the people pass, He gobbled up a corner that was all plate glass.

He fixed up the windows with the best that he had And he told 'em all about it in a half-page ad.

He soon had 'em coming and he never, never quit, And he wouldn't cut down on his ads one bit.

Well, he's kept things humming in the town ever since And everybody calls him the Merchant Prince.

Some say it's luck, but that's all bunk—Why, he was doing business when the times were punk.

People have to purchase and the geeser was wise— For he knew the way to get 'em was to advertise.

—From the Chicago Hearsthouse.

HARRINGTON WINS.

With Mayor Preston, five thousand city job holders and the City Machine against him, Emerson C. Harrington won the Democratic nomination for the governorship.

In his address to the Democratic voters of Maryland Mr. Harrington said, in part:

"In becoming a candidate for Governor I did so at no man's bidding, nor did I seek any man's consent, but decided, as I have always done, to make my fight directly before the Democratic voters of Maryland.

"I have not at any time during this campaign attempted to make any secret deal of any kind or character with anyone. I have made no promises or pledges except what I have publicly announced to the people.

"If nominated and elected there will be no power behind the throne, and I shall know but one duty, and that is to serve the best interests of all the people of the state, without fear, favor or partiality to any man or any section."

That is the kind of man Mr. Harrington is—the kind of man his supporters know him to be, and he is just the type of man Maryland needs for governor.

Here's to you, Governor Harrington!

THE exceptional run of Mr. Albert Ritchie—he carried three districts in Baltimore, leading the head of the ticket there and elsewhere—is a decided tribute to the merit of this young lawyer who has decidedly "made good" in his profession.

THE Democratic party and Mr. Hugh McMullen are both to be congratulated on their success. There is no cleaner or more straightforward man in Maryland today than Hugh McMullen whose eminent success in life is due solely to his own endeavors.

THE Republicans of Emmitsburg district are naturally very proud of the nomination of their home candidate for the office of Register of Wills. Mr. Albert Patterson is to be congratulated on the very flattering majority he received over his opponents.

ON Tuesday the 14th a Lee cyclone struck Emmitsburg district and swept the Harrington ship high up on the rocks. Although no lives were lost the survivors felt the shock all through.

THE overwhelming victory of Mr. Weller, who won the Republican nomination for the governorship, leaves no semblance of a doubt as to his popularity in his party.

THE primaries are over, nominations have been made and Democrats are Democrats still. They will now get together and fight for Democratic victory in November.

ALL the submarines and Zeppelins not in use in Europe on Tuesday must have been in this district—also a few 42 centimeter guns.

THE "Royal Family" will please rise and sing. It's a Long, Long Way to Annapolis—on the Lee trolley.

"I am still for Harrington, and Harrington will be nominated," said "Marse" Fred. Talbot,—and he was.

"OUR candidates will be nominated beyond a doubt," said Frank A. Furst—and they were.

"HARRINGTON will carry Emmitsburg district," said others,—and he didn't.

SENATOR LEE will now perforce, fill out his term in the Senate.

MAYOR PRESTON will still be mayor of Baltimore city.

HAS anybody in Baltimore seen Kelly?

Brummel's Friends' Wardrobe. In George IV.'s wardrobe were found many things that could not be offered for sale—countless bundles of women's love letters, women's gloves and locks of women's hair. These were destroyed. And 500 pocketbooks came to light, all containing sums of money—£10,000 in all was thus collected.

A Geographical Superstition. Durazzo owes its name to superstition, for it was originally called Epidamnus up to the time of its capture by the Romans.

A Cruel Retort. Discontented Wife—Several of the men whom I refused when I married you are richer than you are now. The Husband—That's why.

Picking Up Gossip. "My wife thinks these are strenuous times." "What's the trouble?" "She can't be in two places at once. If she listens at the air shaft she'll miss what is going on over the party wire"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cornish and Squab Pie. There are few, if any, conger eels in American waters; they are to some people a most unpleasant looking fish. Cornwall, England, exports them highly and makes them into pie with much cream and parsley.

What the Duke Said. The Duke of Wellington, of course, never said "Up, guards, and at 'em!" at Waterloo, but is it generally known how near he came to saying it?

Thick and Thin Shells. There are several kinds of high explosive shells, which have been designed for various purposes.

The Man in the Iron Mask. The Bastille, whose fall July 14, 1789, marked the birth of French liberty, was built in 1369 to defend Paris against the English.

Beetles of Prey. Many beetles are bugs of prey. Predacious insects generally have wonderful appetites.

A Foxy Reply. One of the most caustic replies ever made during an election campaign was that of Fox when he called at a shop during one of his candidatures.

Revised Versions. Handsome is that handsome is made up. Those who live in glass houses should always have the largest siege guns.

Fire Lands. The phrase "fire lands" originated in a passage of early history, which also gave rise to the term "western reserve." After the Revolutionary war, when the colonies consented to cede their claims to western lands to congress, Connecticut reserved from her cession a tract embracing a large part of northern Ohio.

Love of Money. The love of money can hardly be the root of all evil, for it is only one perverse passion out of many. But there is a kind of decorum about money which makes the love of it peculiarly dangerous, since it conceals from the lover the nature and effects of his passion.

Chesterfield on Toothbrushes. When did the English first adopt the toothbrush habit? In "Esmond" Thackeray makes Lord Castlewood spend "a tenth part of his day in the brushing of his teeth and the oiling of his hair," and in doing so the novelist commits a double anachronism.

Porpoise Jaw Oil. Practically all the porpoise oil used in this country, even if not in the world, for lubricating watches and other delicate instruments is made near New Bedford, Mass., which many years ago was important as a whaling port.

He Taught Him. Yells from the nursery brought the mother, who found the baby gleefully pulling small Billy's curls.

Injured Innocence. Irate Parent—What do you mean by holding Willie Jones down in the mud and skinning his nose?

He Understood His Profession. The professor of jurisprudence in a western university was lecturing to a hundred embryo lawyers.

World's Finest Equestrian Group. London's statues are generally the laughing stock of foreign visitors. They are called "jokes in stone" and other rude names.

Self Denial Is Rare. "The average human being does not want to live hygienically!" exclaims the editor of Clinical Medicine. And he backs up his assertion with the following: "Once we published an account of a case of diabetes we had treated with some success.

Sea Water Salt. The salt industry of San Francisco bay is one of farreaching importance, and the method of production is simple in its operations since the finished article is the result of evaporating the sea water.

Degrees of Pain. There are degrees of pain, as degrees of faultfulness, which are altogether conquerable and which seem to be merely forms of wholesome trial or discipline.

Opening Volcanoes. Sailing across the bay of Naples, past the spot where the notable city of the present day is situated, our travelers came to Puteoli, or Pozzuoli, as it is now called, at present a decadent suburb of Naples.

Angleworms and Rain. Just why the angleworm comes out of the ground after a soaking rain when its natural tendency is to seek the deep, moist part of the earth in times of drought was long a puzzle to the naturalists.

New Polished-Steel Burglar-Proof Vault Door.

The above illustration is from a photograph of our new Vault Door, recently installed by the York Safe and Lock Co., York, Pa.

The specifications of the door and new vault equipment are as follows.

Six inch thick steel door which is absolutely drill proof, explosive proof and non-burnable. This door is locked by twenty-two (22) bolts, each 2 1/2-inch diameter, and the bolt work is checked by three movement Sargent and Greenleaf 72-hour time lock, also two bank four tumbler combination locks.

The lining of the vault consists of 1 1/2 inch thick steel, built up of alternating layers of 5-ply Chrome steel and Bessemer which is drill proof.

The Safe Deposit Boxes are of the best construction, each box is fitted with bronze case high grade safe deposit box lock, supplied with two renters' keys. These locks are master key locks, being necessary to use a guard or preparatory key to operate same. Each box is also supplied with tin bond box on the inside.

This vault is considered absolutely burglar-proof, and as an extra safeguard, is equipped with burglar-proof chest on the inside. The finish of the vault front is natural polished steel.

This equipment is the best security known to modern ingenuity.

POULTRY SHOULD BE FREED FROM MITES.

Owners Of Farm Flocks Can Easily Rid Them Of Mites By Simple Treatment.

ROY H. WAITE,

Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

During the warm weather of summer, chicken mites thrive and multiply at an almost inconceivable rate. If you expect your hens to do well, you will have to see that they are kept free from these pests.

These mites hide under the roosts and in cracks and crevices near them. For this reason, it is always advisable to have the fixtures and inside of the house as smooth as possible. Often times poles with the natural bark left on are used as roosts, but the rough bark makes an ideal place for mites to hide and after the bark loosens, as it will with age, the mites find an almost ideal place to breed. If you use the poles, take off the bark and smooth them up. Dressed 2x4's with the two top edges rounded are very good for roosts.

Hens infested with mites do not do well and often times acquire a peculiar snuffle, even in seasons when colds are not prevalent. Mites keep the hens agitated all the time they are on the roosts and do not allow them the rest they should have. The proper way to handle mites is to prevent their getting a start. If the roosts and especially the places where the roosts are joined to the house are painted with ordinary kerosene oil at least once a month, little trouble from mites will occur. When they once get a foothold, however, you will have your hands full. You can exterminate them with kerosene, but not at one application, unless you get it into every crack and crevice. It is best to put it on once or twice a week for a time and then when the mites are subdued not quite so often. Personally, I like to put it on with a paint brush. You will be able to locate the cracks containing mites by the tiny white specks near and in them.

EXPERIMENT STATION RECOMMENDS AMERICAN-GROWN ALFALFA SEED.

LARGE ACREAGE WILL BE PLANTED IN MANY COUNTIES.

Continued shortage of grass in many sections is forcing farmers to experiment on crops better adapted to the adverse weather conditions of recent years. There seems to be a decided inclination to increase the acreage of alfalfa. It is important, however, in seeding alfalfa that the grower should secure the best quality of seed. In regard to seeding alfalfa seed Prof. Nicholas Schmitz, of the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station, says: "Use American grown alfalfa seed. The question of what kind of alfalfa seed to use has become an important one of late years. Tests over the State have shown that ordinarily European seed is as good as the American grown seed in Maryland, but of late years much of the so-called European grown seed comes from Turkestan or other southern sections, and is not well suited to Maryland conditions. The best plan, therefore, is to buy American grown seed, even though it may be several cents higher in price than the so-called European seed."

LOSS OF SEED FROM LETTING CLOVER ROT IN THE FIELD SHOULD BE AVOIDED.

NICHOLAS SCHMITZ,

Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

It is a common practice with some farmers in Maryland who grow clover seed to allow the clover to lie in the field in windrows or cocks for several weeks or even months after cutting before they stack it and draw it to the barn for thrashing. The result of such exposure is that many seeds will germinate or become swollen so that even though subsequently dried they are of no value or at best of only very low vitality.

The clover should be allowed to become thoroughly ripe. If the seeds are not thoroughly dried in the field when cut, and a spell of wet weather follows many seeds may be destroyed. The best practice is to allow the clover to become as ripe as possible without loss from shattering; when the seed is harvested. Cut it in good dry weather and then cure it and protect from exposure to rains, the same as hay. If the huller can be procured at once hulling in the field is the most economical way. If necessary to delay the hulling, loss of seed will be avoided by storing the clover in the barn, well constructed stacks.

Serving a Summons

By RYLAND BELL

Ned and Frank Whittlesey, brothers, inherited an estate jointly. Ned, a young army officer, was a spendthrift and soon got the estate tangled up.

After a consultation with their attorney a plan was proposed by which Ned should assume certain liabilities which would force the creditors to get service on him in order to commence a suit. As soon as the papers were executed Ned went into hiding in order that such service could not be obtained, the object being to delay judgment and execution while efforts were being made to turn certain portions of the estate into money with which to save the rest.

It was not long before the creditors' attorneys got on to the game, and a number of detectives were employed to hunt up the young officer. He had hunted Indians so long and had learned from them so many stratagems that he was far better equipped for the work in hand than one would suppose. The trouble was that it was impossible for him to keep himself shut up. For one who had roamed on the western plains to remain within four walls was out of the question. However, since the saving of a fortune depended on taking great care to keep away from the bailiffs, he consented to abide in a house in the country secured for the purpose.

For a few days the young cavalryman busied himself in a library there was at hand; but, tiring of this, he asked for a horse that he might occasionally ride in the open. The attorneys sent him the swiftest animal they could find. Just before the first ride he took he sent a man out to scan the surroundings for process servers. None appearing, Ned mounted his horse and started. A man suddenly appeared in the road before him, throwing up his arms to stop the horse. But Ned gave the animal the spurs and had the man not jumped aside would have run him down. As it was, he escaped before the man could read a word of the summons. But Ned did not think it prudent to return till after nightfall.

A few days later while Ned was sitting at a desk before a window on the ground floor writing a letter a head bobbed up on the other side of the window, and a man began to read a summons. Ned kept a small revolver in his pocket for emergency use and, drawing it, began to put a shower of bullets in a circle about the fellow's head. The process server ducked and beat a retreat.

It occurred to Lieutenant Whittlesey that he had laid himself liable to arrest and had better change his location. He sent his orderly, whom he had with him, to his brother with a suggestion that he provide another hiding place for him and, leaving his present quarters, bivouacked that night in a wood. The next day his orderly returned to him with instructions as to a new abode, which was easily obtained, for the Whittlesey estate consisted of a number of houses, several of which were vacant. The one now provided for him was furnished. He was comfortable there, and all might have gone well could he have been satisfied to remain for a short time a prisoner. But he insisted on riding out every day, and the bailiffs got on to him.

One morning Whittlesey was standing by a window shaving when he heard a series of shrieks in the yard beneath him. Throwing up the window and looking out, he saw a young woman struggling with several men. The window was not over ten feet from the ground, and Whittlesey, in shirt and trousers, one half his face lathered, the other clean shaved, jumped down among the trio. He knocked one man down. The other pulled a summons from his coat pocket, but before he could begin to read it Whittlesey dropped him. The woman broke into a laugh, and Ned beat a hasty retreat.

The lawyers sent him word that if he could avoid the bailiffs three days longer they would have carried through a sale which would relieve the situation. Ned solemnly resolved that he would keep within doors and risk nothing.

On the third day he was sitting in a room on the second floor—he would not go any lower for fear of being surprised—when he heard something drop. Without an open window stood a tree, a limb of which grew to within a few feet of the opening. Turning his head, Ned saw that a woman had sprung from this limb into the room. Ned sat for a moment, so astonished that the intruder got ahead of him. Like a flash she passed to the door, locked it and threw the key out through the window.

Ned saw that the game was up. The girl—for such she was, and comely, too—began to read a summons to him and, being too gallant toward her sex to stop her by violent means, he was compelled to listen.

However, he called for assistance and had the girl shut up in a room by herself till the next day, when his brother appeared and announced that the sale had been completed and the property was saved.

When Whittlesey returned to his command he narrated his experience to his brother officers, ending with these words:

"Talk about Indian stratagems! If I ever command the army I'll supply every regiment out here with one or more process servers."

Paint or Not

Is a horse worth more or less after feed?

Hay and oats are high today; shall I wait today and feed him tomorrow?

That's how men do about painting their houses and barns and fences. Paint has been high for several years; and so they have waited. Some are still waiting.

Their property drops a trifle a year and the next job of paint creeps-up creeps-up creeps-up; it'll take more paint by a gallon a year; they don't save a cent, and the property goes on suffering.

DEVOE.

Mr. James Hays has entered Mount St. Mary's College.

Mr. J. Thomas Gelwicks is repainting his properties on West Main street.

Mr. Edgar C. Moser has accepted a position with the Emmitsburg Motor Car Company.

Miss Ruth Gillean entertained a few of her friends at her home on West Main street on Monday evening.

Mid-week services have been resumed in the churches since the return of the pastors, who have enjoyed extended vacations.

Mrs. Charles Sites, who sometime ago was operated on for appendicitis at the Frederick City Hospital, is convalescing.

On Thursday, September 23, a dance will be given at Hillside, the home of Mrs. Corry.

Mr. Maurice Topper, of near town, reports that his oats crop averaged him sixty-three bushels per acre. This crop this year is the best so far reported.

A marriage license this week was granted to Mr. Edgar Allen Shealey and Miss Mizeppa Grace Troxell, both of Emmitsburg.

The regular meeting of the Civic League will be held one week from tonight, Friday, Sept. 24, at seven o'clock in the school house.

Bishop John Gardner Murray, of this place conducted the funeral services of Cecelius E. Warfield at Baltimore on Saturday. Bishop Murray was accompanied to Baltimore by his wife Mrs. Murray.

Mr. George S. Miller, a local cleaner and presser of clothing, has taken up the manufacturing of white canvass gloves. Mr. Miller has arranged with several wholesale establishments for the sale of his merchandise.

Rev. Dr. W. W. Barnes, Superintendent of the West Baltimore District M. E. Conference, preached at the local Methodist Episcopal church last Thursday evening. The Second Quarterly Conference also convened in this church Thursday evening. Rev. Mr. S. E. Rose, pastor of the church, addressed the conference and Dr. W. W. Barnes presided throughout the session.

The public school reopened on last Wednesday morning with 95 pupils present. Miss Eva Rowe, teacher of the Clairvaux school, has been added to the local teaching force, the Clairvaux school having been consolidated by the county school board. The prospects for a large enrollment at the Emmitsburg school are exceedingly bright and, at least one-third as many students as are now enrolled are expected to come in by the fall term, which will show a total of approximately 130 students.

Several years ago Mrs. Ida Gillean planted in her garden on West Main street the seeds of different varieties of fine peaches. To-day Mrs. Gillean has a very small, but a very select young peach orchard bearing this luscious fruit. The "Gillelan Golden" is one variety, the "Persian Princess," the other. The first is the color of rich, unalloyed gold and the second is tinted like Persian tapestry.

Both varieties, large in size, are delicious. This office is indebted to Mrs. Gillean for some very fine specimens of these rare peaches.

Baltimore's Best Store Is The Store of Service

And it gives the sort of service that is most helpful to the woman who comes to Baltimore now and then to do her shopping.

That is because each section of this store is a specialty shop, and we have trained our people to a thorough and complete knowledge of the goods they sell.

We have specialists who will tell you just the proper model of corset that will best suit your figure. We have specialists who will help you to select and design your hats. We have specialists who will assist you in picking out your dress, your suit, your lingerie, your gloves, hosiery and shoes. We have specialists who will show you how to dress your hair most becomingly. And all these specialists are at your service, without charge. It means something worthwhile to be a customer of Baltimore's Best Store.

To My Friends and Customers

HAVING sold my stock of goods to Mr. Charles Slagle, a merchant who will keep an up-to-date store, I earnestly request my old patrons to give him a fair trial. You will find me in my new store-room in the same building and in a position to handle produce on a larger scale than ever.

Thanking you for your liberal patronage in my former business and soliciting a continuance thereof in the new, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

FAIRFIELD.

The Gettysburg Ball team with a much stronger lineup returned to Fairfield Saturday, the eleventh, bent on getting revenge for the 14-2 defeat they received here the previous Saturday. While they failed in their effort for revenge, losing 5 to 6, the closeness of the score shows what a strong fight they made.

"Muff" Oyler, late of the Blue Ridge League, playing with the visitors not only put up a strong game himself, but his presence on the team put life and confidence into his team mates.

Oyler leadoff man, hit the first ball delivered by Johnny Stokes, pitching for Fairfield for a single. Following his arrival at first he promptly stole "second" and "third" coming home on a passed ball—thus chalking up a run for Gettysburg before most of us could realize the game had started. However no further damage occurred in this inning, Stokes fanning the next three men. Fairfield, nothing daunted by Oyler's fast work came right back in their half with a tying run—a hit batsman and two solid singles doing the work.

Nothing was done by either side in the second inning. In the third three singles produced run number two for the visitors. Locals nothing in their half.

In the fourth inning Gettysburg failed to come across while Fairfield by good stick and fast base line work produced two tallies thus for the first time taking the lead, score 3-2. Fifth, nothing doing, but in the sixth the visitors made the score-board read 3-3 by putting one over while the local half a goose egg was hung up. Again in the seventh Gettysburg scored one putting them in the lead 4 to 3 since Fairfield went out in order.

To make things look worse from a local viewpoint another run was made by the opponents in the eighth, score now being 5-3 against us and when the first two men up in our half of this inning were easily retired faint hearted fans could be seen hastily leaving the grounds; but just at this time the unexpected (which makes baseball the great sport it is) happened—a rally was started by left fielder Musselman and second baseman Horner, (the only players of the old Fairfield nine still in active service) getting on through slow work by the opposition. Tommy Bowers next man up singled filling the bases. Oh for a hit! and it was forthcoming for Johnny Stokes next up was there with the goods, a good solid single sending Musselman and Horner home, tying up the game and placed the fleet Bowers on third who a moment later scored on a short passed ball. (Great applause.) McLaughlin ended the agony of this eventful eighth inning by striking out. Score 6-5 on right side of ledger.

Stabley the first man up in the ninth for the visitors was promptly passed by Stokes, in order to conserve his strength for the next man the dangerous "Muff" Oyler. Enthusiasm lost all bounds when this "Blue Ridge" star struck out. Amid the excitement of the moment Stabley was caught napping off first. The man following Oyler also struck out thus ending a hard fought game.

Aside from Stokes' excellent pitching (consisting of 13 strikeouts and his opportune hitting in the eighth) the feature of the game was Tommy Bowers' stick work, he having four singles in as many times at bat.

Arendtsville will play Fairfield Saturday, Sept. 18. Game called at 2:30 P. M.

Big Crowd Present For "Old Home Day."

With the largest crowd of people present that ever gathered in Buchanan Valley, near Ortanna, at a public gathering the "Old Home Day" of that community was observed at St. Ignatius Hall last Saturday. It is estimated that more than 600 people were in attendance during the day. The address of welcome was made by the Rev. Father Sullivan pastor of St. Ignatius Church and the response on the part of the people of the neighboring townships was given by Attorney Charles S. Durcan, Gettysburg. Prizes were awarded to the person coming the longest distance to attend the celebration, the oldest person present and the attendant who had the largest family present.

Letters To The Editor.

[The Editor would have it understood that he is not responsible for the views expressed in communications addressed to him and published in THE CHRONICLE.]

No attention will be paid to anonymous communications.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 10, 1915.

To Editor the Weekly Chronicle:

Dear Sir:—

While motoring through your town not long ago, it became necessary for me to get out of my car to make some needed purchases. It was between six and seven o'clock, and I do not think I ever had to put my feet upon such filthy pavements. The bricks were literally slimy with excretions all over the pavement around the square and especially in front of the hotel porch.

Have you no regulations regarding such violations of all the laws of decency and health? I have motored about this country considerably, but have yet to meet with this condition of public pavements, anywhere. For shame! Have you no pride in the cleanliness and sanitation of your town? Clean up and teach those who do not know enough to keep the pavement fit to walk upon that they must do so. We make short work of such miscreants in Baltimore.

A PASSER-BY.

Our Own Little Town.

If you meet a man who is down in the mouth, who thinks that his town is all wrong; just take him aside or give him a ride and hand him this quaint little song: "There are fancier towns than our own little town, there are towns that are bigger than this; and the people who live in the timer towns all the city excitement will miss. There are things you can see in the wealthier town that you can't in the town that is small; and yet up and down there is no other town like our little town after all. It may be that the street through the heart of the town isn't long, isn't wide, isn't straight, but the neighbors you know in our own little town with a welcome your coming will wait. In the glittering streets of the glittering town with its palace and pavement and thrall in the midst of the throng you'll frequently long for our own little town after all. If you live and work and trade in our town in spite of the fact that it's small, you'll find that the town,—our own little town—is the best kind of a town after all.—Laurel Leader.

OUR BOYS and GIRLS

Jack and Tom were spending the afternoon at the Wild West show. They admired the bucking broncos and the daring feats of the cow-boys. The act the boys enjoyed most was where a little Indian boy stood against a target while an older Indian shot arrows at him. It seemed as if the arrows must strike the boy, but when the archer had finished the boy stepped out from the target unharmed. "Gee," said Jack, "that kid's got nerve, all right."

"Say, Jack, don't you think it would be fine to travel with a circus?" asked Tom. "Let's run away from home tonight and join this show. Tonight is its last night here. After the baggage cars are loaded we could crawl into one of them and hide. When the show gets to its next stand we'll be right on the job."

"I'm with you, Tom. A fellow will never see any sport while he goes to school. We can soon learn to ride the broncos. We will have fine times traveling over the country," replied Jack.

When the afternoon performance was over the boys took a walk around the grounds. As they were wandering through the Indian village they heard someone crying. Looking into one of the tents they saw the little Indian boy crying as if his heart would break.

"Say, Indian, can you speak English? If you can, come out and tell us what the noise is about," said Jack.

"Of course I can speak English. I'm not an Indian. My name is Will Adams, and I'm as white as either of you boys; I'm crying because I want to see my father and mother. They live in this city," replied the boy.

"Isn't the Indian your father?" asked Jack.

"No, indeed. Last year when the show was in this city I ran away from home and joined it. The Indian adopted me. He dressed me in Indian clothes and painted my skin, so no one would recognize me. He is a cruel master. Just look at my arms," said Will as he rolled up his sleeves. His arms bore black and blue welts.

"Why don't you run away from the show and go home to your parents?" asked Tom.

"I can't get away. I'm watched too close. Anyway, I guess my parents think I am dead. Say, boys, don't ever join a circus. It's no cinch, I can tell you," replied Will.

"We'll help you to get away," said Jack. "My uncle is a policeman. I'll tell him your story and he'll notify the proper authorities, who will rescue you. We must go now and meet Uncle Jim; he's on duty this afternoon. We'll see you again to-night. Don't cry any more, for I'm sure you will soon see your parents."

The boys soon found Uncle Jim and told him about Will. He at once notified the authorities, who in turn notified Will's parents. Before the show, that night, Will was rescued from the Indian master and a joyful reunion followed. The three boys remained the best of friends. It is needless to add that Jack and Tom did not run off to join the show.—Catherine Morris.

A Candle Trick.

Procure a good large apple or turnip and cut from it a piece resembling the butt end of a tallow candle. Then from an almond or other nut whittle out a small peg, which stick into the piece of apple for a wick. You have now a very fair representation of a candle. You can light the wick and it will burn for at least a minute. After lighting the candle and letting it burn for a minute, blow it out. Tell your friends that you are very fond of eating candles, that they are not bad to the taste; that in cold countries, as in Greenland, they are considered delicacies. Ask your friends if they would like a bite. They will, of course, say no. Then say you will eat it yourself, whereupon you can put it in your mouth and chew it up, to the surprise of the company.—Home Notes.

Umbrellas.

People on a rainy day look like mushrooms, strange to say, and their round umbrella-tops gleam between the falling drops.

Little mushrooms grow in clumps Round the feet of mossy stumps; Large ones wander up and down Through the streets of Rainy Town.

German School Hours.

American boys have reason to be thankful that they are not compelled to go to school at 7 o'clock in summer and 8 o'clock in winter, as German boys have to do in all large cities.

SPRAY POTATOES FOR THE LATE BLIGHT.

C. E. TEMPLE, Maryland Agricultural College Extension Service.

This is the time of the year to keep on the watch for the late blight of potatoes. A great many growers make it a regular practice to spray their late potatoes four or five times with Bordeaux Mixture, but there are many who never spray. The first application should be made when the plants are about six inches high. This should be repeated about every ten days during the growing season.

The Fungus which causes the late blight attacks the margins of the leaves first, then it spreads rapidly over the leaves into the stem and then into the tubers. The diseased parts turn black and give off a characteristic odor. This disease spreads most rapidly during cool, wet weather. If this kind of weather prevails for several days in regions where the late blight is known to exist, an epidemic may result with total loss of the crop. It should be remembered in this connection, that the potatoes produced from diseased plants usually decay in storage.

SPRAYING INSURES GOOD CROPS.

Bordeaux Mixture is made as follows: Slake 4 pounds of good quicklime by adding just enough water to keep it from burning; it should be stirred continuously while slaking. Now add enough water to make about 20 gallons of the mixture. Then dissolve 4 pounds of bluestone in a few gallons of water by suspending it in a sack near the surface of the water which should be contained in a wooden or earthen vessel. The bluestone solution is placed in the spray tank and enough water is added to make about 25 gallons. After stirring the lime water thoroughly, add it to the bluestone solution and add enough water to make 50 gallons; mix vigorously. The material should now be tested. This is done by placing a small quantity of it in a saucer or other shallow vessel and blowing one's breath over the surface for a minute or two. If a white, flaky substance appears on the surface of the mixture, it indicates that there is sufficient lime. On the other hand, if a piece of bright metal, such as knife blade, is placed in solution and it quickly takes on a bronze color, this indicates that free copper exists which may injure the foliage. In this case, add more limewater, stir and test until the free copper disappears. Both tests should always be applied.

Where spraying is done on a large scale, it is customary to make up a large quantity of stock solutions in separate containers. Enough water is used so that a gallon of the bluestone; and likewise, one gallon of the lime mixture will contain one or two pounds of the lime. It is then an easy matter to prepare a tank of Bordeaux Mixture of any strength desired.

If a poison is needed for insect control any one of the following may be added in solution to either the lime water or the Bordeaux Mixture: Arsenate of zinc paste,.....2 lbs. (or powder, 1 lb.) Arsenate of lead paste,.....3 lbs. (or powder, 1½ lbs.)

Paris Green.....½ lb.

The quantity here given in each case is for 50 gallons of the spray solution.

The cost of spraying depends upon the quantity of chemicals purchased at a time and the conveniences for mixing and applying the spray material. Bordeaux alone should not cost more than 50 cents per barrel. With the present indications that potatoes will bring a fair price next spring, it would seem advisable to spray wherever the blight is known to exist.

HESSIAN FLY SHOULD BE EXTERMINATED.

Farmers must remember that the spring brood of the Hessian Fly spends its pupa, or "flax seed" stage, in wheat stubble during the summer. It is, therefore, very desirable, where possible, to plow under deeply all stubble fields before August, 15th, also to destroy all volunteer wheat. This will prevent the emergence of the adult flies in September. It is not good farm practice to follow wheat a second year in the same field, although it is often done. Then it is common in this State that wheat stubble is seeded to timothy and clover, and, therefore, any kind of cultivation of these stubble fields is impractical. Under these conditions the farmer can only delay seeding his stubble in the fall until the flies have made their way from the stubble to the fields and died without being able to find young wheat on which to lay their eggs.—T. B. Symons, Maryland Agricultural College Extension Service.

MEN AVAILABLE FOR WAR.

Two and One-half Millions Ready in New York State. Albany, N. Y.—There are 2,500,000 men in New York State between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, therefore, available for war duty, Secretary of State Hugo announced in one of his census bulletins.

The June enumeration shows, he says, that there were approximately 250 officers and 6,800 enlisted men at the army posts of the state, 60 officers and 1,300 men in New York's naval militia and 1,000 officers and 16,086 men in the national guard. Thousands of men besides these have had some military training, either in the regular army, national guard or in college or military academies.

Figures obtained from the adjutant general's office show little change in the strength of the national guard in fifty years. At present it stands: Officers, 1,000; enlisted men, 10,080; total, 17,080. In 1857 it was: Officers, 1,827; enlisted men, 14,608; total, 16,435.

The possible strength of the division under the present federal regulations is: Officers, 743; enlisted men, 21,930; total, 22,673.

To give more men at least the rudiments of a military training Lieutenant Colonel E. V. Howard of the adjutant general's office favors what he terms a "mild conscription." Every young man on reaching the age of eighteen years would be called to serve under the colors for three years, during which time he would give thirty days of active service each year. A call to arms would find, then, thousands of men better fitted to serve their country.

Bolgiano's Red or Purple Top White Globe Turnip

Red or Purple Top White Globe Turnip.

The Handsomest and Most Profitable Turnip for Home or Market. It is a large, rapid growing sort with globular-shaped roots. Flesh pure white. The skin is white and purple. On account of its shape it will outyield any other sort.

Bolgiano's Long-Standing Kale

Beautifully curled and crimped sort; strong, vigorous habit, perfectly hearty, bright green color; very attractive in appearance; superior to all late sorts. Will stand longer without shooting to seed than any other variety.

Bolgiano's California Mammoth Radish

Solid and juicy as an apple; pure white flesh and delicious flavor—a very choice variety. We never sent out a Winter Radish that gained so much popularity in so short a time. Sown any time after July 1st to the 1st of September, it will keep all Winter in prime condition; mild in flavor, brittle. Never gets woody as do most Winter varieties. Market gardeners have found it to be a splendid seller and have always made money with it.

Other Delicious Vegetables

Bolgiano's "May Queen" Beans, Enormous Bush Lima, Emerald Isle Pole Lima, Deep Blood Beauty Beet, new "Square-Deal" Cabbage, "Sudanian" Carrot, "New Century" Cauliflower, "Early Fortune" Cucumber, "Long-Lost" Lettuce, "Wonder Worker" Peas, "Plucky Baltimore" Potatoes, New Improved Long-Standing Spinach, American Purple-Top Rutabaga.

Bolgiano's Field Seeds for Summer Planting

Crimson Clover, Cow Peas, Dwarf Essex Rape, Red Clover, Hairy Vetch, Alfalfa, Sweet Clover, Sudan Grass, German Millet, all varieties domestic and imported Grasses. Bolgiano's Summer and Fall Catalogue for Market Gardeners, Truckers, Farmers and Poultrymen. Now being mailed. Send for your copy today. If your local merchant cannot supply you with Bolgiano's "Big Crop" Seeds, send us a postal and we will tell you where you can secure them.
