FIRST SIGNS OF CHRISTMAS

Red Cross Seals Make Their Appearance Throughout the State.

The 1916 Seals have made their appearance throughout the state and in consequence a great many organizations, individuals and school children will devote considerable time and effort between now and New Year's in an attempt to make this season's sale surpass all previous ones. The Maryland Association for Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis, which acts as state agent for the Seals, has been gradually but consistently developing and extending the state sale until now there is scarcely a town or hamlet in Maryland where there is not a selling agency of some kind. The Association benefits directly only from the sale in Baltimore City; of the funds raised from this source in the counties, the Association receives but a small share, the larger portion remaining in the territory where it originated. In this way, people who buy Seals can feel that their money is going to be used to better the health conditions of their own community. The Seals are being handled by the branches of the Association in the following counties: Allegany (Cumberland), Anne Arundel (Annapolis), Caroline (Denton), Charles (La Plata), Dorchester (Cambridge), Frederick (Frederick City), Harford (Bel Air), Howard (Ellicott City), Montgomery (Rockville), Queen Anne's (Centerville), Somerset (Crisfield) and Washington (Hagerstown). It is probable that several other county agencies will be established before December 1st.

The Christmas Seal does two very definite and desirable things—first, it is a powerful educational factor, in that it directs the attention of hundreds of thousands of people here in the state to the need of more healthful living conditions and obtains the active personal co-operation of many others in furthering the "better health" movement, including the children who assist in selling the Seals; and secondly, the Seals supply a goodly share of the funds necessary for financing the many things that have to be done throughout the state to bring relief to people suffering with tuberculosis and to keep the general public alive to the vital issues involved.

Church For Colored Help.

The summer residents at Blue Ridge Summit, Monterey, Charming and Buena Vista Springs, from Baltimore, Richmond, Norfolk, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, have purchased land formerly belonging to the late George T. Oliver, of Baltimore, at Blue Ridge Summit.

A church 30 by 58 feet, is now being built, which, when completed, will be presented to the colored people of that section, to be used as a place of worship during the summer. Heretofore, the colored help at the many cottages had no church in which to hold religious services.

The American Racing Union has offered the United States government 90,000 homing pigeons for army use.

STATE CONDENSED.

A farm, which in 1682 was deeded to Elisha Baker by William Penn and King Charles II., is now owned by the mother of Elisha R. Baker, near Doe Run, master of Pomona Grange. There has never been any other name on the deed since the original grant, and Mrs. Baker refused to have the deed recorded in her name because she expects her son to own it. The fifth Elisha Baker is the small son of E. B. Baker, now 10 months old.

The new Salem Reformed church, Cumberland, was dedicated Sunday. The church is of brick and stone and of Gothic architecture with tower. It cost $16,500. The old wooden structure, which had been the house of worship, has been removed to the rear of the lot and will be used for Sunday-school and social purposes. The new edifice will seat 500 persons. It is rich in memorial windows.

Hagerstown's seven banks have on deposit $9,644,770 71, a gain of $688,513.19 over the deposits on September 12. The aggregate resources of the banks are $11,951,499.53, against $11,214,751.99 on September 12, a gain of $736,697.54.

The will of Charles S. Lane, Hagerstown banker, has been probated. His entire estate is left to his widow, Mrs. Hetty M. Lane, and two sons, John M. and Charles S. Lane, Jr., in trust.

The new home of the Highlandtown Branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, Baltimore, was dedicated Sunday afternoon. The building and its equipment cost $50,000, and is one of the finest branches of the Association.

The measles epidemic in Washington county continues unabated. The third death from the disease was reported Sunday. Bessie, the five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Clapper, Clearspring, is the second member of the Clapper family to die from measles in the past two weeks. Over 1,000 cases of measles have been reported in Washington county in the last four weeks, by far the greatest number in the history of this section.

Fire Monday evening destroyed the large bank barn on the stock farm of the Messrs. Kraft, four miles from Ellicott City. About 100 tons of hay and 20 tons of straw were burned. The loss is $5,000.

Capt. John R. Mills, who for many years has had command of the yachts owned by Booz Bros., shipbuilders, and who has been a well-known figure in maritime circles for over 40 years, died Monday morning at his home, 1404 West Pratt street, Baltimore. Death was caused by typhoid fever.

A wedding of unusual interest took place Tuesday morning in the Cathedral Baltimore, when Miss Catherine E. Gibbons, of Dayton, Ohio, a second cousin of Cardinal Gibbons, was married to William A. Fitzpatrick, of New Orleans, La., who is engaged in the tropical importing business in that city. The ceremony was performed by Cardinal Gibbons at a high nuptial mass. Miss Mae McDonald, of Springfield, Ohio, was maid of honor and James F. Gibbons, brother of the bride, was best man.

FROM THE COUNTY.

A building boom is in progress at Le Gore. J. W. Le Gore has in course of erection about twelve houses to be used by his employees, and also one large house for his son J. A. LeGore. S. W. Barrick has purchased the Chas. Ashbaugh property and has several houses in course of construction on it. He recently finished a block of four new houses.

The poor and needy of Frederick were given a real Thanksgiving this year, through the sum of money raised by Mayor Frailey by holding a Self Denial Day. Altogether the sum of $91 was raised in this manner, about $45 being collected on Saturday and the remainder on last Thursday.

The two old-line parties, Democratic and Republican, spent $2847.86 in the presidential campaign in Frederick county, according to statements filed by the treasurers of the county central committees Monday with the clerk of the circuit court. The Republican organization spent $1,918.20, while the Democrats put $929.66 into the fight. Four organizations—Democratic, Republican, the United Dry Forces and the "Wets" put a total of $17,774.84 in the fight in this county. The old-line parties concentrated their campaign on the various candidates on the ticket, while the issue between the "dry" and "wet" organizations was prohibition. The latter two organizations spent $14,926.98. Of this amount $4,467.35 was used by the United Dry Forces.

An estate valued at $50,000 is disposed of by the will of Mrs. Ann C. Carlin, which was filed for probate in the Orphans' Court, Frederick, Monday. Lampe, Mrs. Fannie Storm, Mrs. Mollie Stewart, Miss Kate Bartgis, Miss Minnie A. Doll, Charles D. Doll and Mrs. Florence Doll.

Plans and specifications for the new Frederick post office, which has been received in Frederick by Postmaster J. Aliene Williamson, indicate, that the building, as expected, will be a handsome and imposing one. With a front of 90 feet and a depth of 64 feet the front to be light limestone or sandstone, with eight huge granite columns, an imposing structure will be presented to the public. The two sides and rear of the building will be of brick. The steps leading to the entrance will be of granite, with two large ornamental lighting posts on either side. The building will be 28 feet high from the floor level, and nine feet, six inches from the floor level to the ground. The entire structure will be of steel, bronze, stone and brick and will be absolutely fire-proof. The entire first floor will be of steel, with steel girders for the supports. Bronze grills will be constructed in front of the windows, while a large flag pole will appear on the top of the building.

The October report of the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company shows the largest gross earnings in the history of the company, being greater than the previous months of August and September, which were likewise notable for large earnings. The detail figures for October are as follows: Gross earnings from all sources, 1916, $54,593.27; 1915, $45,640.33. Net earnings applicable to interest, 1916, $23,280.65; 1915, $26,617.23.

Maintaining that 10 or 12 cent milk would be prohibitive to the laboring classes of Frederick, Mayor Lewis H. Frailey has declared that if the threatened rise in milk became effective in Frederick he would exert all his influence to have passed an ordinance providing a tax of $100 on each milk dealer. The fund which would be created by the tax the Mayor plans to use to purchase milk and food for the poor of Frederick. The price of milk at present is 8 cents.

The wet forces spent $10,724.36 in the recent campaign in their effort to prevent Frederick county from going dry, according to the report filed Saturday by Charles B. Cox. The receipts equaled the expenditures. The receipts included $500 from the Frederick county Liquor Dealers' Association and $10,059.63 from the Maryland Brewers' Association. Expenditures included $2,500 paid to Leo Weinberg for professional and legal services and $6,818.14 for advertising.

The $50,000 Hood College dormitory campaign, which ended Wednesday night attracted statewide attention. This stupendous undertaking conceived by representative business men of the city and county was watched closely not only by Frederick county but by heads of institutions in other states

OUR PRESIDENTS LONG LIVED

Twenty-Four Totalized 1,663 Years, An Average of 69 Years Each.

The longevity of the Presidents of the United States is remarkable, says the London Lancet. Their ages at death were as follows: 67, 90, 83, 85, 73, 70, 78, 79, 68, 71, 53, 65, 74, 64, 77, 56, 66, 63, 70, 49, 56, 71, 67 and 53 years. Those at 56, 49 and 58 were, respectively, Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, who were assassinated. The ages of these 24 men totalize 1,663 years, or an average of 69 years each, showing, as is believed, that the stress and responsibility of leadership seems to have no effect on longevity.

The following causes of death are those popularly accepted: Washington, pneumonia (more correct accounts state dematous affection of the windpipe, or membranous croup); J. Adams, debility; Jefferson, chronic diarrhea; Madison, debility; Monroe, debility; J. Q. Adams, paralysis; Jackson, consumption and dropsy; Van Buren, asthmatic catarrh; Harrison, bilious pleurisy; Tyler, bilious attack (with bronchitis); Polk, chronic diarrhea; Taylor, cholera morbus and typhoid fever; Fillmore, debility; Pierce, dropsy and inflammation of the stomach; Buchanan, rheumatic gout; Lincoln bullet wound; Johnson, paralysis; Grant, cancer of the tongue and throat; Hayes, paralysis of the heart; Garfield, bullet wound; Arthur, Bright's disease, paralysis and apoplexy; Cleveland, debility; B. Harrison, pneumonia; McKinley, bullet wound.

Hughes to Practice Law.

Charles E. Hughes announced at Lakewood, N. J., Monday night that on January 1st he would resume the practice of law as a member of the New York City law firm of Rounds, Schurman and Dwight, 96 Broadway. His son, Charles E. Hughes, Jr., also will enter the firm it was stated.

In 1906, when Mr. Hughes was named for Governor of New York, he was a member of the same law firm, but its title at that time was Hughes, Rounds & Schurman. With Mr. Hughes again in the firm its new name, it was announced, will be Hughes, Rounds, Schurman & Dwight.

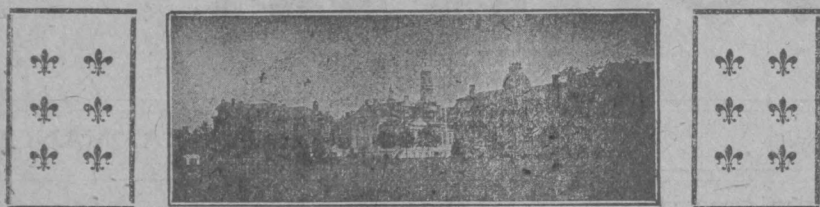

Associated with Mr. Hughes and his son will be Arthur C. Rounds, George W. Schurman, Richard E. Dwight, Walter F. Carter, Raymond M. Lowes, Martin J. Keogh, Jr., Augustus L. Richards and Harvey L. Stowell.

New Post Office on Mountain.

As soon as a few minor details connected with its establishment are completed, Gladhill, a station along the Western Maryland on Jacks mountain, will have a post office. Persons of the vicinity will be served from this point instead of from Virginia Mills by rural route. The post office will be known as Green Stone. Clarence Wills will act as postmaster. Congressman C. William Beales was interested in the matter and announced that the postoffice department would establish an office at this point.

Sweden during the last five years has consumed 1,126,000 tons of bread yearly.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE--ACADEMY

Valley Echoes

Miss Margaret Linthicum, of Baltimore, spent Thanksgiving at the home of her uncle, Mr. Snyder at Frederick, Md.

Miss Frances Flynn enjoyed a short stay last week with her brother-in-law, Mr. W. D. Hughes, Atlanta, Ga., who had occasion to visit Baltimore for several days.

The Misses Marie, Elizabeth and Gertrude McManus of Philadelphia, Pa., were the guests of Miss Anna Maria Fesenmeier, 7 W. Preston Street, Baltimore, during the past week.

Mrs. Elizabeth McConomy Rathfon, Lancaster, Pa., paid a short visit to St. Joseph's, Wednesday en route from the Convention. Mrs. Rathfon is Treasurer of St. Joseph's Alumnae Association.

Miss Clementine Kelly, Pittsburgh, Pa., arrived in Emmitsburg Wednesday evening to be the guest of Miss Masie Sebald until Monday when she comes to St. Joseph's to enter the retreat until December eighth.

The St. Joseph's Alumnae were entertained by Mrs. Margaret Parker Magee, Regent of the Washington Chapter at her home in Washington, D. C., on the afternoon of Tuesday, November twenty-eight.

Miss Clara I. Cogan, A. M., accompanied by Miss Margaret Bresnahan, arrived at St. Joseph's Wednesday afternoon where she will remain during the week. Miss Cogan expects to resume her classes at New York University upon her return home.

In response to a cordial invitation of Mt. St. Mary's College a number of St. Joseph's girls attended the football game last Saturday. We regret to state that the palm of victory was awarded to Gettysburg. Defeat honorably borne is equal to victory.

Among the St. Joseph girls who took advantage of the privilege of attending the Convention last week were: Misses Margaret and Catharine Mahoney, Alice Barry, Kathryn Gloninger, Elise Kalbach, Mary Foley, Virginia Skokum, Mary Keane, Frances Flynn.

Miss Helena Hartnett of Wilmington, Del., was in Emmitsburg during the past week for a short stay. Miss Hartnett spent a few hours at her Alma Mater much to the delight of her many friends who regretted her stay could not be prolonged.

Miss Margaret Rohrbach who has been making an extended sojourn with her two sisters, Mrs. Loretta Rohrbach Golibart and Mrs. Frances Rohrbach Golibart, Chattanooga, Tenn., returned to her home in Frederick, Md., just in time to partake of the joys of the Convention.

Miss Pauline R. Staley, Pittsburgh, Pa., was the guest of Miss Mary A. Rodgers during Convention week. Miss Staley after a short visit to the Misses McManus of Philadelphia, is expected at St. Joseph's accompanied by Miss Rodgers, for the annual retreat which opens on the night of December 4th.

Major and Mrs. Dan Tyler Moore, nee Maria Cristina Crespie, whose wedding in New York was an event of last month, accompanied by Miss Ila Louise O'Brien, '11 motored from Washington, D. C., to spend Sunday at St. Joseph's. Major and Mrs. Moore have taken a house in the suburbs of Washington for the coming winter.

It is most gratifying to announce to the Alumnae the re-election of Miss Clara I. Cogan, A. M., of Brooklyn, New York, as president of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae. The result of the election was announced at the Second Biennial Convention in Baltimore last Saturday evening. Miss Cogan, the Foundress of the organization is a loyal child of the Valley and has done much to further the interests of her Alma Mater.

An enjoyable feature last week was the impromptu entertainment arranged by the seniors. Readings by Miss Frances Flynn and Miss Anna Mulholland proved a source of great interest and merriment. The academic singing class rendered "Way down upon the Suwanee River" with truly soul stirring pathos. Several of the new victrola records were played and altogether the evening was a success.

Much interest was felt in the Valley concerning the marriage of Miss Catherine McMullen of Cumberland, Md., to Mr. John Gloninger formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Valley View Farm but now stationed with the United States troops in Baltimore. The wedding which was solemnized, November 29, in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Cumberland, was witnessed by relatives and friends of the bride and groom both of whom are well known at St. Joseph's where two of the Misses Gloninger are students.

St. Joseph's School of Industry, Charles St., Baltimore, was the scene of a most delightful tea Sunday afternoon. The Alumnae of St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, Md., St. John's Academy and St. Martin's Academy, Baltimore, Md., were present. The parlors and reception rooms were tastefully decorated with palms, evergreens, carnations, asters and chrysanthemums and formed a fitting background for the charming spectacle of hundreds of exemplary Catholic women united in loving loyalty by a sympathetic bond of gratitude to their religious teachers, the Sisters of Charity. Indeed the teachers, could they have all witnessed this beautiful and inspiring union, would have felt their sacrifices repaid a thousand fold. Radiant smiles glorified the atmosphere, tender music, glad meetings of old friends, and all that is noblest in human affection pervaded the air, lending a supernal touch of joy. God bless our catholic women!

Alumnae Association of St. Joseph's College represented, at the Third Convention of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae at Hotel Belvedere during November 23, 24, 25, and 26, 1916: Miss Clara I. Cogan, A. M., Miss Mary Reilly, Miss M. Stella McBride, Mrs. Elizabeth McConomy Rathfon, Mrs. Mary Wade Kalbach, Mrs. Clara Douglas Sheeran, Mrs. Marie Uilo Romeo, Mrs. Elizabeth Keenan White, Mrs. Loretta Muth Paul, Mrs. Simon Golibart, Mrs. Bruce Wolcott, Miss Minnie Hubert, Miss Anna M. Fesenmeier, Mrs. Alice Smith Cunningham, Mrs. Oliver Devries, Mrs. G. R. George, Mrs. May Kalbach Neily, Mrs. Augustus Convery, Miss May Hassell, Miss Elizabeth A. Welty, Mrs. Margaret Reilly Brown, Mrs. Charles Rohrbach, Miss Margaret Rohrbach, Misses Gertrude and Elizabeth McManus, Misses Victoire and Elise Kalbach, Misses Mary and Rosa Rogers, Mrs. Irene Gaspari Schofnacher, Miss Stella Carpenter, Mrs. Anna Oldenburg Ritter, Mrs. Agatha Mahoney O'Donohue, Miss Gertrude Rehill, Miss Helena Hartnett, Miss Mary A. Rodgers, Miss Pauline R. Staley, Miss Christine Cushman, Mrs. Helen Morgan Cahill, Miss Loulie Hartman, Mrs. Virginia Cooke Heinekamp, Misses Lillie and Cora Plunkett, Mrs. Marie Gloninger Rial, Miss Theo Brown, Miss Martha Spalding, Miss Vincentia Sebald, Miss Bessie Morgan, Miss Margaret Bresnahan, Miss Marie Mackey, Mrs. Sally Ferguson Pearce, Miss Margaret McManus, Mrs. Custer, Miss Bessie Dobson, Miss May Carroll Lyons, Miss Annie Warner, Misses Margaret Mahoney, Catherine Mahoney, Alice Barry, Kathryn Gloninger, Mary Foley, Virginia Skokum, Mary Keane.

The International Federation of Catholic Alumnae was entertained in a charming manner, Saturday evening, at a banquet held in the Belvedere. There were about a thousand representative women participating in this delightful affair. The selection of tables and the making up of individual parties was left to the volition of those present, but according to the natural inclination of school day friendships those who played and studied together in golden yesterdays were found reunited this evening. The tables were decorated with kilarney roses and a center piece of ferns; the artistic finish was not in the least marred by the many banners and pennants that adorned the walls, in evidence of the unimpaired loyalty for the various alma maters.

The soulful southern airs rendered so beautifully by the orchestra did much to enhance the general effectiveness of the scene. At the close of the banquet after the last-impressive note had died on the air but still echoed in the hearts of those assembled, the toast-mistress Mrs. Charles Spencer Woodruff, Baltimore Academy of the Visitation, spoke a few words, insinuating the old time theory of breaking bread in proof of friendship; her vivacity and charming personality immediately created a potent spirit of sympathetic unitedness.

Mrs. Woodruff then introduced Mrs. Ambrose Small, St. Joseph's College, Toronto, Canada, who spoke of "What Religion has done for the World" in a masterly way, entering into the discourse with a logical plan and constructing pyramids of philosophical proof to the admiration and intellectual delight of those present. "Peace" the colossal theme of modern periodicals and orations, was the subject chosen by Mrs. G. F. Phillips, Visitation Convent of Dubuque, Iowa; "Peace" that ever interesting topic was further enhanced by the perfect enunciation of the speaker. "The Greatest Thing in the World," an affectionate tribute by Mrs. Chas. A. Jackson, Congregation of Notre Dame, Waterbury, Conn., to Convent education, was termed by many of the audience "sublime." Her silvery eloquence certainly stirred the depths of loving hearts.

Mrs. George T. Courtney, Association of the Sacred Heart, Detroit, Mich., treated in a well rounded and complete fashion "Woman as a Citizen" putting forth the modern spirit of progress so obvious in the great today, well tempered with the conservatism of Christian principles. "Our Greatest Asset" by Miss Mary Malloy, Alumnae College of Holy Name, Governor for California, was supplied owing to her absence by a Bostonian and in spite of its being impromptu the whole hall rang with genuine applause; the eloquence that flows spontaneously from the human heart is the truest, noblest music in the world. This unique symposium, masterly and masculine in force and effectiveness, but womanly in the bewitching wiles of feminine magnetism, was concluded with the unrivaled masterpiece of Mrs. Clara Douglas Sheeran of New York, who represented St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, Md., in "Woman as an Organizer." Each sentence that fell from her lips contained a condensed volume of vital thought, a miniature brain with all its complex workings.

Mount St. Mary's in Stride.

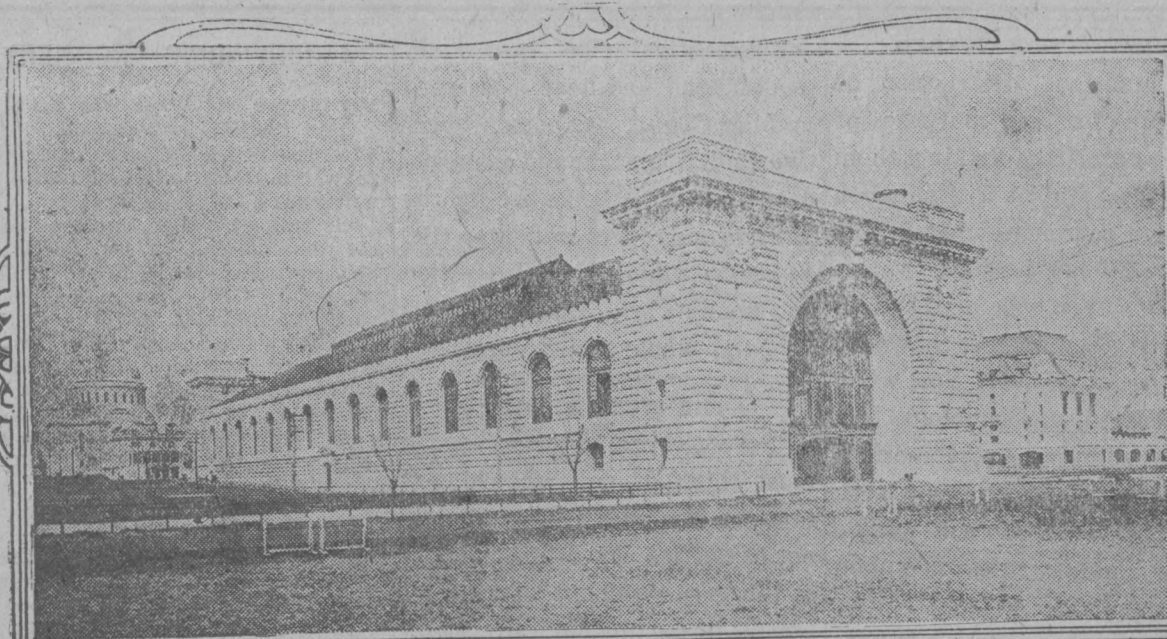

Delaware College, was outplayed by the clever Mount St. Mary's team yesterday afternoon at Newark, Del., and lost the game, 22 to 7.

Both teams played a hard game in the first quarter and neither side scored. In the second period Mt. St. Mary's scored largely through the clever playing of Lebherz, who broke through the forwards near the end of the half and crossed the goal line. Sheridan missed the goal.

In the last half Mt. St. Mary's completely outplayed Delaware and the team was only saved from a shutout when Myers fell on the ball, back of the line, after a Mt. St. Mary's kick had been blocked.

After the contest, the Mountaineers elected Drury captain of the 1917 eleven.

MOUNTAIN TEAM DEFEATED BY OLD RIVALS

Mount St. Mary's Eleven Puts Up Stubborn Resistance Against Aggregation Which Had The Greater Weight.

Mount St. Mary's football team lost a hard-fought game on Echo Field last Saturday to its old rivals, Gettysburg College, 12 to 3.

The Mountain team started off with a rush chalking up a field goal in the first minute of play. Captain Stratton won the toss and his team received the kick off. The ball was kicked to Froelich, who fumbled, a blue and white player recovering the ball. Line plays and end runs failed and Sheridan, dropped back to try a goal from placement. His shot was true, the goal being made from the 30-yard line.

Gettysburg scored in the second quarter, when, after receiving the ball near the middle of the field they carried it unharmed for a score, Moyer taking the ball over. The last touchdown was the result of the cleverly executed forward pass, Stoney to Emanuel, the latter running about twenty yards after receiving the pass.

The features of the game were the spectacular runs by Euker, of Mount St. Mary's, and Moyer, of Gettysburg. The former succeeded in running through the entire Gettysburg team several times and once returned a punt forty five yards.

Captain Sheridan, of Mount Saint Mary's, and Captain Stratton, of Gettysburg, also performed nobly as did Rodgers and Mulhearn, of the Mountain team. The lineup.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Emmitsburg women know how the aches and pains that often come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, are frequent indications of weak kidneys and should be checked in time. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney diseases by striking at the cause.

Can Emmitsburg sufferers desire stronger proof than this Hagerstown woman's word?

Mrs. Raymond Kline, 322 N. Locust St., Hagerstown, Md., says: "My back began to ache and that was the first I knew that my kidneys were disordered. The kidney secretions became unnatural and mornings I felt all tired out. Doan's Kidney Pills made me feel like a different woman."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Kline had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TRUSTEES' SALE.

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, passed on the fourteenth day of November, 1916, in a cause therein pending, known as No. 9520 Equity on the docket of said Court, the undersigned Trustees will offer at public sale at the Elder Hotel in Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Maryland, on TUESDAY, THE TWELFTH DAY OF DECEMBER, 1916,

AT THE HOUR OF ONE O'CLOCK, P. M., all that real estate which was owned by the late Ephraim S. Sheeley of which he died, seized and possessed, situate and lying in Frederick County, State of Maryland, about two miles east of the town of Emmitsburg, consisting of three separate pieces of real estate containing in all about NINETY (90) ACRES OF LAND, MORE OR LESS, described in the following deeds:

First.—All that real estate described in a deed from Susanna Lupp and John Lupp, her husband, dated April 17, 1899, to the said Ephraim S. Sheeley, containing 22 acres, 2 rods and 10 perches of land, more or less, which deed is recorded in Liber S. T. H. No. 280, folio 551, etc., one of the land records of Frederick County, Maryland.

Second.—All that real estate described in a deed from John A. W. Matthews and Laura J. Matthews, his wife and Charles H. Brown, dated March 1st, 1904, to the said Ephraim S. Sheeley, containing 64 acres of land, more or less, which deed is recorded in Liber S. T. H. No. 280, folio 550, etc., one of the land records of Frederick County, Maryland.

Third.—All that real estate described in a deed from J. Rowe Ohler and Annie R. Ohler, his wife, dated May 6th, 1910, to the said Ephraim S. Sheeley, containing 2 acres and 117 square perches of land, more or less, which deed is recorded in Liber No. 18, folio 353, one of the land records of Frederick County, Maryland. All these three properties are adjacent to each other and constitute but one farm, consisting of ninety acres of land, more or less, as above set forth. The improvements consist of a frame bank barn in first class order and repair, a frame dwelling house two stories high and likewise in good order and repair, other out-buildings incident and necessary to a farm and a peach and apple orchard in their best bearing period. The majority of the land is in a high state of cultivation and yields good crops. This property lies only a couple miles from Emmitsburg and its size, the character of its soil and location render it a most desirable property.

Terms of sale as prescribed by the decree:—One-half of the purchase money to be paid in cash on the day of sale or on the ratification thereof by the Court, and the residue in six months, the purchaser or purchasers giving his, her or their notes, with approved security and bearing interest from the day of sale, or all cash at the option of the purchaser. A deposit of Two Hundred Dollars will be required of the purchaser or purchasers at the time of sale, to insure compliance with its terms. All conveyancing expenses to be borne by the purchaser.

Gladys B. Orr, vs. No. 9543 Equity. In Equity.

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff Gladys B. Orr from the defendant Clarence E. Orr. The Bill states in substance that the parties were married June 7th, 1913 by the Rev. H. O. Keene; that the plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland and has so resided all her life; that the defendant Clarence E. Orr is a non resident of the State of Maryland, but now resides in the State of Florida; that the defendant Clarence E. Orr has committed the crime of adultery with divers lewd women at the City of Baltimore, between the first day of August 1914 and the filing of the plaintiff's bill; that the plaintiff has not lived with nor cohabited with the defendant since she discovered his said adulteries; that one child was born from said marriage, Lois Orr aged about two years, and the Bill also prays for general relief and for process.

It is thereupon this 20th day of November, A. D. 1916 by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiff give notice to the said adult non resident defendant Clarence E. Orr of the object and substance of said bill by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Frederick County Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 23rd day of December, A. D., 1916, warning him to be and appear in said Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 8th day of January, A. D., 1917 and show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the production of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Lingular Hills and the Catocin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.—Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland—the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State—there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal; the surrounding scenery is unmatched; the climate is notably healthful; its water—pure mountain spring water—cannot be surpassed. It is within easy access of Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick; eight miles from the National Battlefield at Gettysburg, near to the Mountain Resorts, and is surrounded by fertile farms and productive orchards.

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary—with an enviable reputation extending over 108 years—is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies—equally as noted during its 107 years of splendid achievement—is also here.

There are excellent Schools—Public and Parochial—in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liverys, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations. There are four or five mails a day, telegraph, express and telephone service connecting all points; electric light and power, oil streets.

There is business to be had in Emmitsburg; there are Factory Sites available. If you contemplate changing your place of residence—come to Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Md.

INVESTIGATION NEEDED.

The malicious destruction of foodstuffs for the purpose of keeping up prices, making them prohibitive, and at a time when there is a scarcity—what is this procedure if not a crime?

If there ever was need for investigating committees that need is pressing at this very time when hard hearted, unscrupulous, big-profit worshipping combinations are creating conditions that work untold hardship on the middle class, the laboring class and upon the poor.

No wonder boycotts are in process of being made operative in the larger centers. The food situation has reached a stage when concerted action is positively a necessity for self protection. And by the way there is nothing as effectual as a boycott, especially when inaugurated and conducted by earnest and determined sober-minded people supported by the imponderable force of public opinion.

While an investigation of food commodities manipulation is the more urgent, likewise there is occasion for a thorough inquiry into the reason for price raising in other commodities—more particularly those not affected by the demand incident to the European war.

"The European War," has become a shibboleth; it is made the excuse for much on which it has no bearing whatever. In fact many concerns, seeing a chance for price inflation, are known to be blaming on "the war" conditions with which the war has no semblance of connection.

Both Federal and State investigations are urgent—not near the surface probings, but deep-cut explorations into the heart and core of the corruption, followed by drastic punishment for the offenders.

INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF CATHOLIC ALUMNAE.

"Ideals are the world's masters," says a well-known writer; "Our ideals are our better selves," says another; "Ideals we do not make. We discover, not invent them," is the way a noted teacher expresses it and, as if to make it personal, this is added by still another: "Be true to your highest convictions."

Ideals, then, and the loftiest, were the actuating forces that created that solidarity known as the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, whose brilliant convention, begun in Baltimore, closed in Washington this week. Christian Principles; Christian Education; Ideal Catholic Womanhood—these are the standards of Federation, the component parts, as it were, of the big powerful religious and moral dynamo that is stimulating the thousands who form its membership.

The subjects discussed at the convention, embracing, as they did the various phases of practical Christianity and civic morality prove that earnestness of purpose in developing ideals is the live, impelling motive and purpose of the organization.

Emmitsburg feels especially proud of the Federation, in that its founders, Miss Clare I. Cogan and Mrs. James J. Sheeran are alumnae of St. Joseph's College and Academy, Miss Cogan being the prime mover in establishing the order.

The Federation is truly to be congratulated in having Miss Cogan for its first and its present executive. The rare qualities of head and heart possessed by Miss Cogan, her poise, executive ability, her tact and graciousness preeminently fit her for the position and reflect credit upon St. Joseph's, upon the Federation and upon its steadfast, indefatigable and whole-souled president.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

"Now the campaign is over we must think of only one thing," said the President, "and that is not of parties but of the interest of the great country we all love. Let us forget all our differences and unite for common service. Only in that way can we work for the great nation that has given us liberty and peace."

This thought, we firmly believe, has been and will be uppermost in the minds of the people. The contest is over and President Wilson, all realize, is the president of the whole country. "Common service," which at this time means cooperation actuated by patriotism, is essential if this great nation is to do her full part.

Happily the scars made in more or less partisan encounters are soon to heal; enmities are quickly forgotten, and "our country," "our president" are the designations loyally applied as soon as the smoke of battle has cleared away.

Now is the time for all good sports to show their colors, and to bear in mind Dr. Holmes's advice which was this: "To brag little, to show well, to crow gently when in luck; to own up, to pay up, and to shut up when beaten."

"A YOUNG man who has unexpectedly received a legacy of $800,000 is going to take up aviation."—A case of becoming a "high flyer" in the literal sense.

COLONEL HARVEY's magazine is out—telling just how it didn't happen. Somehow or other the Colonel's election prognostication didn't prognos this time.

GET that sensible old dope with-in the think-box in your pate: "do your Christmas shopping early"—don't begin when it's too late.

THE last campaign furnished additional proof that the betting odds are not sure indications of "the way the thing's going to go."

UNLIKE the boss of the baseball team Mr. Hughes' campaign manager can't say "back to the bench."

UNLIKE the baseball manager, Mr. Hughes' campaign manager.

WELL, there'll be one less cupid needed in the House now.

NEITHER did the "straw vote" run true to form this time.

SOME say it was Hiram Johnson who rocked the boat.

ALREADY business has taken a slump—upward.

Shop Talk.
"If we didn't have to give back any change think of the money we merchants would make."

"We all have our troubles," said the magazine publisher. "Sometimes it frets me to have to print any reading matter, but I suppose it must be done."

Vindicated Self Esteem.
"The Wogges seem to have a high opinion of themselves."

"Yes. You see, the same cook has consented to remain in their employ for three or four years. So they feel entitled to think that they are rather nice people."—Washington Star.

A CONVINCING ARGUMENT.

Yet It Was Not What Was Said, but the Way It Was Said.

In an article about Charles M. Schwab in the American Magazine the writer says:

"Several years ago, in the midst of the development of his Bethlehem Steel company, Mr. Schwab found it important to sell some notes. So he went to a financier. With his customary enthusiasm the magnate sketched the happy condition of the steel industry and the bigger things just around the corner. So well did he present his case that the light of Bethlehem's furnaces might have been borrowed from the rainbow."

"Why, there won't be any trouble selling those notes," said the financier. And the steel man went happily back to his New York office. A little later he was called to the telephone.

"Mr. Schwab—it was the financier speaking—would you mind dictating in a letter just what you said to me?"

"So the steel magnate dictated a letter and took it over to him."

"Why, Mr. Schwab, that isn't the same thing at all," said the man of money.

"Yes, it is," protested Bethlehem's president.

"They went over the letter together, and the financier was forced to admit that it contained exactly what Mr. Schwab had said."

"Well," he said, "you're right, but I can't sell those notes unless you dictate that talk into a phonograph."

DRINKS TOO HOT ARE BAD.

If Taken Above 130 Degrees They Injure the Stomach.

Many people without realizing it are in the habit of drinking tea at much too high a temperature. Sir Henry Thompson points out in his book on "Diet In Relation to Age and Activity."

"Few persons are aware that they habitually swallow hot liquids, tea especially, at a temperature which if applied to the hands or feet would inflict painful scalds. Most tea drinkers take it about 140 to 145 degrees F., which the mouth bears very well if slowly sipped, while the cup itself is too hot to be held by any hand."

"But the habit of swallowing such tea is injurious to the stomach, and it ought not to be taken above 130 degrees or so. Again, water at 120 degrees, which feels a little more than lukewarm in the mouth, causes severe pain if the hand is dipped in it and cannot be endured."

He has, however, some good words to say for the early morning tea.

"This morning tea in any case should be taken at least an hour and a half before the first meal of the day. For many years I have been accustomed to write for an hour every morning in bed after tea, and at no time do I find the brain clearer for work, while the appetite for solid food is excellent when the hour for breakfast arrives."

Luminous Paints.

Luminous paint is of two kinds—that which emits a phosphorescence glow for a few hours after each exciting by strong light and that which is self luminous and shines continuously even in uninterrupted darkness. The phosphorescent paint is a special preparation of calcium sulphide that was invented about 1875 by Professor Balmann of London university. The self luminous paint is a mixture of zinc sulphide with a minute quantity of radium salt and followed soon after the discovery of radium by the Curies in 1898, and the production by Sir William Crookes of the splintariscope, in which a microscopic bit of radium salt on a wire excites a scintillation of tiny stars on being brought near a disk coated with zinc sulphide.

A Curious Herb.

In New Caledonia there is a herb which has the rare property of revealing one's secrets. It is known as the Datura stramonium and has white flowers and rough berries full of dark grains. They are treated of in the "Annals of Hygiene and Colonial Medicine." A person who has swallowed the tea made of this herb will after falling asleep tell where his money is hidden and will also arise and go direct to where his treasure is concealed. Robbers often use this tea as knockout drops with which to rob their victims.

Not In Good Form.

A Chicago woman who had received a legal summons to appear in a certain court at a certain period was much put out thereby. In explaining the matter to a friend, she said: "I have certainly received the citation, but I shall not appear—could not, in fact. Not only am I not socially acquainted with Judge Jones, but the whole tone of his communication is so impossible that I absolutely refuse to know him."—New York Times.

Fighting Fish.

The platka, a ferocious fish, is widely cultivated in Siam by people who prepare them for the "prize ring" or pond where they battle, greatly to the delight of the populace and to the considerable profit of the king, who gets round sums of license money.

PERRY AND JAPAN.

Our Naval Officer Knew How to Handle the Lofly Orientals.

Captain Perry, the American naval officer who opened Japan to the world, knew the value of lofty dignity in dealing with orientals, says Willis J. Abbot in his "Story of Our Navy."

"On the 8th of July, 1852, the squadron anchored off the city of Uraga, the bay of Yeddo, Japan. Captain Perry decided that the proper course to pursue with the Japanese was to assume a very lofty and commanding tone and bearing."

"He therefore ordered away from the sides of his vessel the boats which swarmed around it and allowed none but government officials of high rank to come aboard. He himself remained in seclusion in his cabin, treating with the Japanese through intermediaries."

"He moved his squadron nearer the capital than was allowable and then demanded that a special commission, composed of men of the highest rank, be appointed to convey his letter from the president to the emperor."

"The close proximity of the ships of war to the capital and Captain Perry's peremptory demand were not at all to the liking of the Japanese, but they were greatly impressed with his apparent dignity and power and at last consented to receive and consider the letter."

THEATER RECEIPTS.

Padded by the Managers to Deceive Their Competitors.

To my knowledge there never was a theatrical manager who reported his real receipts. The business representatives of all touring organizations invariably swell the money admissions in their nightly telegraphic reports to the home office by a certain stipulated sum, varying from $200 to $500. This system is calculated to deceive the telegraph operators at either end and any competitor to whom the message may be shown.

Once, in entirely good faith, a widely known theatrical manager was complaining to a friend of the bad business one of his attractions was experiencing. He was endeavoring to impress his colleague with the futility of sending productions on tour.

"You can't imagine how low our receipts fell yesterday in a one night stand," he declared.

"How low were they?" asked the friend.

"Nine dollars," replied the manager. He had exaggerated by $2. The receipts were actually $7. Force of habit—he just couldn't help it.—Renold Wolf in American Magazine.

Tower of Hercules.

Travelers may still see on the coast of the English channel at Dover the ruins of a Roman lighthouse that was built at the time of the Roman conquest of Britain. Another ancient lighthouse, built less than a century after the tower at Dover, is still serving its original purpose. It was partly rebuilt, and some alterations were made in it, but in the main it is the same old structure that guided the Roman galleys as they skirted the coasts of the bay of Biscay, making their way to the Roman port of Brigantium. This is the modern harbor of La Coruna, and the lighthouse is the most ancient thing about it. The Romans called it the tower of Hercules, and the moderns have perpetuated the name. The exact date of its erection is not known, but inscriptions and other evidence show that it was built in the time of Trajan, between 98 and 117 A. D.

Got a Response.

In the second act of a certain play the curtain rises on an empty stage. Then presently a meek looking young man with a raincoat over his arm comes on and loudly calls: "Uncle! Uncle!"

According to the book of the play, he should receive no answer and, after a pause, should proceed with a monologue.

One night, however, a voice was heard from the gallery. "All right; I'm coming in a moment. How much do you want on it?" amid shouts of laughter from the audience.

Carved by Giants of the Past.

The strange stone carvings on Easter Island are one of the mysteries of the world. They range in size from a colossal seventy feet in height to a pygmy standing three feet. There are 555 of them. The theory has been advanced that they were made by the race of wicked giants mentioned in Genesis, for whose punishment the flood was brought about.

"Mugwump" a Great Man.

The term "mugwump" is said to be derived from the Delaware Indians, and in its pure state meant "a great man," according to the San Francisco Argonaut.

It is to be found in Eliot's Bible, where it is given as "muquamp."

Weighing a River.

A cubic mile of river water weighs approximately 4,205,650,000 tons and carries in solution on the average about 420,000 tons of foreign matter. In all about 2,735,000,000 tons of solid substances are thus carried annually to the ocean.—Exchange.

Old Legal Fees.

Records of a justice of the peace in Butler county, O., from more than a century ago show that the magistrate's fee was then 12½ cents in all cases and that civil actions often were brought for judgments of less than $1.—Exchange.

By desiring what is perfectly good we are part of the divine power against evil.—George Eliot.

COLOR BLINDNESS.

The Incident That Opened John Dalton's Eyes to His Affliction.

John Dalton, the famous English chemist and natural philosopher, without whose discovery of the laws of chemical combination chemistry as an exact science could hardly exist, was wholly color blind. His knowledge of the fact came about by a happening of the sort which we call chance. On his mother's birthday, when he was a man of twenty-six, he took her a pair of stockings which he had seen in a shop window, labeled, "Silk, the newest fashion."

"These bast bought me a pair of grand hose, John," said the mother, "but what made these fancy such a bright color? Why, I can never show myself at meeting in them."

John was much disconcerted, but he told her that he considered the stockings to be of a very proper go-to-meeting color, as they were a dark bluish drab.

"Why, they're as red as a cherry, John!" was her astonished reply.

Neither he nor his brother, Jonathan, could see anything but drab in the stockings, and they rested in the belief that the good wife's eyes were out of order until she, having consulted various neighbors, returned with the verdict, "Varra fine stuff, but uncommon scurvy."

The consequence was that John Dalton became the first to direct the attention of the scientific world to the subject of color blindness.

MYSTERIOUS METASTASIO.

Peculiar Mode of Life of the Celebrated Italian Poet.

Metastasio (1698-1782), the celebrated dramatic and operatic poet, spent fifty-five years in Vienna with the Martines family without ever learning German or wishing to learn it.

Besides his utter indifference to all speech but Italian, Metastasio possessed many peculiarities of character. None might mention death in his presence. Those who alluded to smallpox before him he made it a point not to see again. In all his fifty-five years in Vienna he never gave away more than the equivalent of $25 to the poor. He always occupied the same seat at church, but never paid for it.

Metastasio took all his meals in the most mysterious privacy. His greatest friends had never seen him eat anything but a biscuit with some lemonade. Nothing would induce him to dine away from home. He never changed his wig or the cut or color of his coat.

Metastasio was to have been presented to the pope the day he died and raved about the intended interview in the delirium of his last moments. Mrs. Piozzi (familiar to readers of Boswell's "Life of Dr. Johnson" as Mrs. Thrale) collected these particulars from the ladies of the Martines family, with whom Metastasio was so long domesticated without speaking or understanding a word of their language from first to last.

Some Welsh Words.

Welsh is a marvelously expressive language. In a souvenir guide to Carnarvon there is a list of Welsh railway stations with their English equivalents. Here are some of them: Abergwynfi, entrance to the place of bliss; Amwlch, a place of frequent expansion; Cefn Brynch, the back of the screaming hill; Dowlais, the voice of God, and Llanbister, the manure yard road. There is also one station the name of which runs to fifty-eight letters. Its meaning is merely, "The fair church at the pool of the white seagull, near the alder grove where the fodder for the oxen is stored in the red barn." And surely teetotalism ought to flourish in a country where beer is known as "cwrrw."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Farragut's Name.

In its present shape the name "Farragut" is, not known before George Farragut, father of the admiral, who came to this country and joined the patriot side in the War of the Revolution. His father was Antonio Ferragut of Chudadella, Minorca. In that form the name is traced back continuously to Don Pedro Ferragut, who fought with James I. of Aragon in expelling the Moors from Minorca in 1229. In the interval the Ferraguts played a prominent part in the affairs of the Balearic Islands.—New York Sun.

The Childlike Nature.

"Do you mean to tell me that tender-foot pulled a gun 'cause he thought you had stacked the cards?"

"That's what I said," replied Plute Pete.

"You told me the game was going to be like taking candy from a child."

"Yes. But some children has awful dispositions."—Washington Star.

Could Understand That.

"Your father actually seems to be enjoying this grand opera."

"It's all in explaining things properly. He takes more interest since I told him that tenor leads the league in hitting high notes."—Pittsburgh Post.

Might Be a Donkey.

"Would you advise me to bull or beat the market?"

"I would advise you not to monkey with it."—Boston Transcript.

PAUL WINCHESTER ADDRESS-ES MEN'S CLUB, FREDERICK

He Spoke For Two Hours And Was Given a Rising Vote Of Thanks By
The Members Of The Club.—
Bishop John G. Murray Will Address The Club In January.

Mr. Paul Winchester, a well-known resident of Emmitsburg, delivered an address on "politics, as she is played," before the Men's Club of All Saints Protestant Episcopal church, Frederick, Tuesday night. The Electoral College was the primary theme of Mr.
Winchester's discussion, but he launched forth into various branches of practical politics. He spoke for two hours.

Mr. Winchester said in part: "The provision of the Federal Constitution, which provides that each State shall have the right to decide for itself the qualifications of the voters within its borders, was referred to in the address.
Mr. Winchester said he favored a mass vote, but said that the United States Constitution stands in the way of a change from the present system. He referred to the doctrine of "State's Rights" and also mentioned the fact that in some States, as in the State of Massachusetts, no person can vote unless he can pass certain educational qualifications. He also referred to the voting of women in the Western States.
"The small states, Mr. Winchester said, would never consent to a change in the Federal Constitution providing that the President should be elected by a popular majority.

"Mr. Winchester said he was an independent Democrat, but voted on November 7 for Dr. Joseph Irwin France
the successful Republican candidate, for the United States Senate.

"In the course of his remarks, Mr.
Winchester rapped the State Legislature, telling his experiences at past sessions at Annapolis.

"He also gave inside information as to the amount of money spent in electing the Governors of Maryland. The least amount spent he said, was in the election of the late Governor Austin L.
Crothers. The most was in the election of former Governor Edwin Warfield, of Howard county.

"Mr. Winchester said his career in journalism began on the Boston Advertiser in 1871. He said he had the privilege of studying American history under John Fiske, one of America's greatest historians. Mr. Winchester went to school and college in Massachusetts and cast his first vote in that State, being compelled to show that he could read and write before he had the privilege of casting a vote.

"Mr. Winchester told of his connection with the Associated Press, and told the members of the club how Grover Cleveland had received a popular majority of votes, but was defeated on account of the Electoral College by Harrison.

"Mr. Winchester was given a rising vote of thanks by the members of the club. Park W. T. Loy, the president, presided at the meeting and announced that Bishop John G. Murray would address the club in January."

AGE OF THE EARTH

Latest Scientific Estimate Makes It 1, 500,000,000 Years.

Science has been making the age of the world 200,000,000 years, more or less, says the Columbus Ohio Journal.
But the latest scientific calculation is 1,500,000,000 years. This great difference of time arises from the difference of methods of calculation. The first-named period is reached through geological estimates, founded on sedimentation and stratum formation.

The longer period is reached through the retroactive effects of uranium and its related elements. It has taken all this time for uranium to produce crystallization which possesses creative force.
The longer period is the estimate of chemistry, the shorter period of geology, but, as there is no geology without chemistry, the scientific world is turning to uranium as the controlling element in the building of the earth, and the period of its retroactive agency constitutes the age of the earth. From uranium we get radium, the master force of all change. As radium was only discovered in 1888, there is plenty of time left in which to find out how old we are.

Steady Progress on Reassessment Work in the County.

Steady progress is being made in the work of reassessment being carried on in Frederick county, and it is expected that it will be completed by January 1, 1917. Daily reports from the various districts are being received by Supervisor of assessments Alfred W. Gaver.
This week the Emmitsburg assessors
J. C. Rosensteel and E. H. Rowe were among those who reported.

Mr. Rosensteel, who is assessing the property in the town of Emmitsburg, expects to have the work finished in a few days, while Mr. Rowe has about half completed the district.

Railroads of the Northwest have agreed to the campaign for relief of the country-wide car shortage by putting about 16,500 of their ore cars in the coal-carrying service. This was announced at Washington by the American Railway Association's conference committee on car efficiency.

CATHOLIC ALUMNAE END CON-VENTION AT WASHINGTON

Miss Clare I. Cogan Re-elected President.—Other Officers Elected.—St.
Louis Was Chosen As Next Convention City.

The second biennial convention of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae came to a close Monday evening with a ball at the New Willard hotel, Washington.

The convention held its first session at Hotel Belvedere, Baltimore, Friday and at this session it favored dress reform and good literature. Cardinal Gibbons referred to mothers as the "Jewels of the Domestic Kingdom." Rev.
Fr. Prendergast scored the modern woman and exalted the domestic woman who finds her happiness in her home.

At the election on Saturday, Miss Clare I. Cogan was reelected president.
The other officers elected were: First vice president, Mrs. Hugh T. Kelly, Toronto, Can.; second vice president,
Mrs. Edward G. Paine, Milwaukee,
Wis.; third vice president, Mrs. E. J.
Moore; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Reed O'Neil; recording secretary,
Mrs. John McEniry; trustees, Mrs.
Frank A. Habne, Mrs. Daniel V. Gallery, Mrs. D. A. McAuliffe, Miss Mary Judith Smith and Miss Pauline Bielniere.
The banquet at night was a brilliant affair, four hundred and sixty guests were seated at one time.

On Sunday a solemn high Mass was offered at the Cathedral at which Cardinal Gibbons officiated and Bishop Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University and director of the Federation, attended. The reception by the Cardinal and Bishop following the Mass was most elaborate, nearly 1,000 women having been presented to the Cardinal and Bishop.

Cardinal Gibbons surprised all when the Countess Spottiswood Mackin, a papal countess, of New York and Paris was presented to him. The Countess wore a black gown, on the waist of which were pinned her decorations. "I am delighted to see you," said the Cardinal, "and trust you are well."

Then, while scores were standing in the line awaiting their turn to greet him he removed his zucchetto, that little red skull cap, and presented it to the Countess.

"Keep this as a remembrance of me," he said. The Countess, kneeling, accepted the gift. "If you will await me after the reception I will present you with an autographed photograph,"
the Cardinal then said.

The Countess waited, and after the visitors had been presented Cardinal Gibbons went to his room and returned a few moments later with a large photograph containing his autograph.

In the afternoon the delegates entered automobiles procured by Mrs. J.
Frank Crouch, chairman of the reception committee, and were taken on an automobile tour of Druid Hill Park and the beautiful Green Spring Valley, returning to the city about 5 o'clock and visiting the various convents for tea.

St. Louis was chosen Monday afternoon as the next convention city for the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae at a meeting of the executive committee of the Federation in the assembly hall of the Catholic University in Washington.

The reception tendered the visitors
Monday morning at the Catholic University was in the nature of an ovation.
The scene on the campus of the University was a brilliant one. Classes were suspended for the day and the students, in cap and gown, gave themselves over to the agreeable task of entertaining the women from Baltimore and other cities. Bishop Thomas J.
Shahan, rector of the University, was one of the reception committee who greeted the visitors as they passed through McMahon Hall. Helping him to receive were Mrs. Edward Douglas White, wife of Chief Justice White;
Miss Clare Cogan, international president of the Federation, and other officers.

Monday afternoon the visitors were taken on a sight seeing tour of the Pan-American Building and the White House. President Wilson was not able to meet the delegates of the Federation as he had hoped to as he was still suffering from a severe cold. A magnificent ball and reception Monday night brought to a close the great biennial of the Catholic women.

Reformed Church Reunion July 19.

Officers were elected, the date for the annual reunion, July 19, 1917, fixed and general business transacted Tuesday at a meeting of the Pen Mar reunion committee of the Evangelical Reformed church held in the Central Trust Company building, Frederick.

The following officers were elected:
President, E. L. Coblenz; Ephraim Cornmen, vice-president; M. B. Gibson, York, secretary, and S. S. Brenner, treasurer. These men were named chairmen of the various standing committees: Transportation—M. B. Gibson, publicity, William C. Birely and programme, Emory L. Coblenz.

OBITUARY

PAXTON H. RILEY.

Paxton H. Riley, a veteran of the Civil War and highly respected farmer of Liberty township, died at his home near Fairfield Tuesday evening. He was aged 78 years, 9 months and 5 days.

Mr. Riley was married to Miss Harriet Musselman, a daughter of Christian Musselman, Fairfield. Her death occurred seven years ago.

He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Robert Watson, Waynesboro; D. H. Riley, Liberty township; Mrs. Charlotte Reed, Freedom township; C. E. Riley, Liberty township; Harry E. Riley, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Maggie E. Harbaugh, Rouzerville; Mrs. Eliza J. Stine, Liberty township and Ivan R. Riley, of near Gettysburg. One sister, Mrs. Lucretia Shulley, Chambersburg and a brother, Daniel Riley, Fairfield, also survive.

The funeral was held Friday morning with services in the Lutheran church, Fairfield, Rev. W. K. Fleck officiating. Interment was made in the Fairfield cemetery.

HARRY ECKENRODE.

Word was received in Emmitsburg this week of the death of Mr. Harry Eckenrode, of Dayton, Ohio, who died at that place Wednesday, November 15, 1916, after an illness of several months from brights disease.

Mr. Eckenrode was a son of the late John and Isabelle Eckenrode and was a former resident of Emmitsburg.

He is survived by his wife and six children. Messrs. Henry I. and Vincent Eckenrode, of near Emmitsburg and Mrs. Isabelle Baker and Mrs. Philip Lawrence of this place, are uncles and aunts of the deceased.

MISS MARGARET L. BRADY.

Miss Margaret Isabelle Brady, daughter of the late Edward and Catherine Bishop Brady and sister of Mrs. Katharine B. Grimes, of Emmitsburg, died at St. Agnes' Hospital, Baltimore, last Monday, November 20, 1916.

The funeral services were held last Wednesday morning at St. Agnes' Chapel, Baltimore.

HIS FRIEND HURT;

HE HELPED HIM

Injured Man Laughed When Simple Treatment Was Suggested, But He Thanked His Comrade Later.

Once upon a time word came to Henry A. Voehl, of Plainfield, N. J., that a close friend had been injured, and full of anxiety he visited the afflicted man, who was suffering from a sprained ankle.

"It was so bad that the leg had turned black," said Mr. Voehl in relating the story. "I told him I would have him out in a week and he laughed at me. But I took him a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, that night he put some on and noticed the ankle felt better. I told him to use it every day, and in three days his ankle was practically well. In four days he was working. He gladly admits that Sloan's Liniment 'put him on his feet.'"

Sloan's Liniment can be obtained at all drug stores, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

GLONINGER—McMULLEN

Married at St. Patrick's Church, Cumberland, Wednesday.—Seven Priests in Sanctuary.—Groom Son of Mrs. J. L. Gloninger of This Place.

The marriage of Miss Catherine Genevieve McMullen, second daughter of State Comptroller Hugh A. McMullen, of Cumberland, and John R. Gloninger, of Pittsburgh, son of Mrs. J. Ledlie Gloninger, of "Valley View Farm" Emmitsburg, was solemnized Wednesday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic church, Cumberland. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Andrew J. Conlon, assistant pastor of the church. In the sanctuary were the Rev. Charles O'Hara, of St. Patrick's church; the Rt. Rev. Bernard J. Bradley, president, and the Rev. James G. Burke, vice president of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md.; the Rev. George Tragesser, pastor of St. Anthony's Shrine, Emmitsburg; the Rev. John W. Dowling, Mount Savage, Md., and the Rev. John J. Brady, Meyersdale, Pa.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a gown of white liberty satin and rose point lace, with pearl garniture and a long court train bedecked with orange blossoms. Her coronet of rose point lace and veil of tulle were caught with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried white orchids and lilies of the valley. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Alice McMullen, who wore a frock of pink satin brocaded in silver, slippers of silver cloth and hat of tulle and silver lace. She carried Ophelia roses.

Dr. Bruce P. Rial, Pittsburgh, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man and the ushers were William C. Jacob, Assistant City Solicitor, of Pittsburgh; Joseph V. McMorris and J. H. Gloninger, uncle of the groom, all of Pittsburgh; John T. Wurtz, Connelville, Pa.; Luther P. Shaffer, brother-in-law of the bride; Daniel F. McMullen, Jr., the bride's brother, and Hume Opie Annan and William C. Walsh.

The church was decorated with ferns, palms and white chrysanthemums. While the guests were assembling Sister De Nevis, organist of St. Patrick's gave a recital and during the ceremony William E. Connelly, of New York, sang "O Promise Me."

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride, attended by members of the bridal party, relatives and guests from a distance. The house decorations were palms and chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Gloninger will be "at home" in Cumberland after January 1.

A reception dance was given Tuesday night by State Comptroller and Mrs. Hugh A. McMullen at Daisy's Hall, Cumberland, in honor of their daughter, Miss Catherine Genevieve, and John Ringgold Gloninger, of Pittsburgh.

KOLB—DOUGHERTY.

On Tuesday morning, November 28, Mrs. Mary Dougherty was married to Thomas Vincent Kolb, in St. Anthony's church, near Emmitsburg. Rev. George H. Tragesser performed the ceremony.

FOR XMAS

Everyone will admit that home news is the most welcome kind of news.

A personal letter rarely gives all the home news; nor does one write even a part of the news with weekly regularity.

The home paper—52 regular letters—is the best conveyor of welcome news that away-from-home relative or friend could wish.

Why not remember that relative or that friend who is interested in you and send him or her the THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE for Christmas?

One dollar will do it.

Savings Banks Are Hundred Years Old.

With the present-day figures showing aggregate deposits of $5,000,000,000 in the savings banks of the United States, representing the accumulated savings of nearly 12,000,000 thrifty Americans, it is difficult to realize that a century ago there was no such thing as a savings bank in this country. It was just 100 years ago Wednesday that the first institution of its kind was organized in New York city by the New York Society for the Prevention of Pauperism. Although the first to be organized, the New York bank was not the first of its kind to begin business. The first to go into actual operation opened its doors in Philadelphia, December, 2, 1816.

Starts Mail Early Campaign.

Expecting heavier Christmas mails than ever before because of "the general prosperity prevalent throughout the country," Postmaster-General Burleson announced he had begun through postmasters a nation-wide "mail early campaign."

Early mailing is especially necessary Postmaster-General Burleson says, because the day before Christmas falls on Sunday and all parcels should be mailed in time for delivery on Saturday, December 23.

LOOKING FORWARD TO BIG DEMOCRATIC DEMONSTRATION

Jollification Friday, December 8th.—Plenty of Music And Red Fire.—Parade With Unique Floats.—All Invited.

As announced in the CHRONICLE last week the big local Democratic demonstration will take place next Friday night, December 8th. Already the people of Emmitsburg and nearby towns are making extensive preparations and, judging from the keen interest being shown, this parade and carnival will equal, if not eclipse, the memorable event of four years ago.

The citizens of Emmitsburg extend a most cordial invitation to folks from all nearby towns (and far away towns for that matter) to join in the jollification on the night of the 8th. These neighbors will be welcomed with the glad hand and all floats and autos and other features will be given a prominent position in the parade.

In order that the parade may be diversified and the more interesting the suggestion is offered that as many distinctive representations as possible be contemplated.

Floats containing ladies and children are always effective, organizations in uniform, marching or in automobiles, make a splendid appearance; or, originations by the younger element are ever attractive; platoons of horsemen in similar costumes add variety; clowns, cowboys, indians, soldiers, black face artists,—in fact all features that give color and variety to the line make a splendid impression.

This gives the widest scope for individuality at little or no cost, especially as every kind of vehicle imaginable is capable of being converted into a float with bunting, greens, flags and products of the field.

On this occasion an opportunity will be offered for trade displays; merchants, millers, farmers, cattlemen, dairymen, chicken raisers, auto dealers, builders—those in any and every business will have the chance on the 8th, to give special publicity to the wares they have to offer.

Though primarily a Democratic affair, partisan lines will not be drawn. Like the last jollification and parade, all parties will take part in making the 8th, the occasion for getting together—bringing people to town for a good time.

Danger Signal.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or go and help to put out the fire? It is much the same way with a cough. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing, but should cure the disease that causes the coughing. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Thomas Beeching, Andrews, Ind., writes: "During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other." Obtainable everywhere.

Civic League Elects Officers.

On last Friday evening, November 24, Civic League held its annual election of officers. The following were elected to serve one year: Mrs. Edgar L. Annan president; Miss Ruth B. Gillelan vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Horner, Treasurer; Miss Mary J. Shuff, secretary.

Orders Four Battleships.

Secretary Daniels awarded contracts Wednesday for more than $65,000,000 worth of new fighting ships for the navy, including four battleships, at $11,000,000 each; two fleet submarines, at approximately $1,190,000 each, and 27 coast submarines, at $694,000 to $698,000 each.

These vessels comprise the bulk of the great building program of 66 craft of various types appropriated for by the last session of Congress. Bids for four battle cruisers will be received December 6, next, and for three scout cruisers on January 3, with the hope of completing the task of getting all the ships under contract within the six months limit set by Congress.

Nervous Women.

When the nervousness is caused by constipation, as is often the case, you will get quick relief by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets also improve the digestion. Obtainable everywhere.

ACROSS THE LINE

The date for the Confederate reunion at Washington next spring has now been definitely fixed for the week beginning May 28th and ending on Thursday, May 31st. This will make either Friday or Saturday, June first or second, available for unveiling the Virginia monument now being completed at Gettysburg. It is stated on high authority that Virginia is prepared to have the ceremonies at that time worthy of the importance of the event, and that they expect a big attendance of the southern veterans.

Mrs. Mary Bruggeman was awarded $2500 against the city of York for the loss of the sight of an eye. She alleged that mud splashed in the eye while she was cleaning away stagnant water in front of her property. The water contained poisonous germs.

The will of the late Adjutant General Wilbur F. Sadler, Jr., of New Jersey, a native of Carlisle, has been filed for probate. No inventory accompanied the will, but General Sadler's estate is estimated to be worth about $250,000. The entire estate is left to Lewis S. Sadler, Sylvester B. Sadler, and Horace T. Sadler, all of Carlisle, and brothers of the deceased. David B. Graham, General Sadler's valet, is left a life interest in a house occupied by him in Trenton.

The professional photographer, as well as the ardent amateur, will not have the slightest chance in the world to take pictures of the new Virginia memorial between the time of its completion this month and the dedication next May. Two guards are to be placed at the site along West Confederate avenue with strict instructions to see that any effort to photograph the fine memorial is quickly frustrated. Virginia authorities have requested that this be done and the National Park Commission is making the necessary arrangements here to have their plans carried out.

Special services were held Sunday in St. John's Lutheran Church, York, in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Henry H. Walker, the pastor.

Dorothy L. Bowers, the eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers was awarded a verdict for $2500 for injuries received when struck by the electric coupe of Mr. and Mrs. John Warner, Baltimore street, Gettysburg, on September 17, 1914. The jury in the case, arrived at a verdict for the plaintiff after an hour's deliberation. The father of the child was awarded $105.90 to reimburse him for outlay for medical attention to the child.

The second body of a woman—a wife of a Civil war veteran, to be buried in the National cemetery, Gettysburg, was interred there Friday and was that of Mrs. Samuel Andrews. Mrs. Andrews' death occurred in Gettysburg a number of years ago, and she was buried in Evergreen cemetery. Mr. Andrews later moved to Mt. Holly Springs and his death occurred in that place several months ago. His body was brought to Gettysburg for interment. Under a ruling of the Quartermaster's Department the body of the wife of a private Union soldier may be buried in the same grave as that of the husband. The first woman to be buried there under this provision in the regulations governing the cemetery, was Mrs. George Ridinger, several weeks ago.

Overland
Automobiles

Which
Do You Prefer?

Pullman or Freight?

No one would think of riding in a freight car if he could enjoy the comfort of a big, comfortable easy riding Pullman parlor car.

So with automobiles. Most of the popular priced cars ride like freight cars. This is due to the old fashioned type of spring.

Many manufacturers still continue to use them.

The Overland does not. The 75 B Overland has the latest type of cantilever shock absorbing springs. As a result it is one of the easiest riding cars in the world. One demonstration will prove this. $635 f. o. b. Toledo.

SOIL PREPARATION MOST IMPORTANT

All Types Of Soil May Be Made
Equally Productive.

WET LANDS MUST BE DRAINED

College Park, Nov. 30.—A very timely lesson on "Preparation of Soil" has been prepared by G. H. Alford, State Agent, College Park, Md. Mr. Alford says in part:

Soils differ widely in composition and condition. A soil composed largely of pulverized limestone, is called a marl, calcareous, or lime soil; of sandstone, a sandy soil; of alumina, a clay soil; of partially decomposed vegetable matter, such as we find in swamps and marshes, a peaty, mucky soil. All of these soils may be equally productive if they are in the proper mechanical condition and contain a sufficient amount of the elements of plant food required in plant growth. The soil has two distinct functions to perform in the growing of crops; first, it furnishes a home for the plant; second, it furnishes the crop plant food. When we improve the physical condition of the soil, we make a better home for plants. When we add to the soil, we increase the supply of plant food. One soil may be in an excellent physical condition, but contain very little plant food. Another soil may contain an abundance of plant food, but the physical condition may make it totally unfit for growing plants.

Drainage is needed on fields and on every part of a field where water stands for some time after a rain, when water oozes to the surface making seepy spots and on land where water stands in a post hole within several feet of the surface during the growing season. On land that is well drained, the crops are better able to endure a long drought than on undrained land. This is because the water in the undrained land shuts out the air and the roots go only as deep into the soil as the air penetrates freely. On undrained land, the roots of growing plants spread out near the surface and when the soil dries out during the hot summer, the crop "fries" or burns up before maturity. Poorly drained soil cannot be prepared early in the spring and it is almost impossible to properly prepare it at any time for the reason that large quantities of water evaporating from the surface of the soil makes it compact and solid. The evaporation of the water in the early part of the growing season keeps the soil cold regardless of the temperature of the air, thereby retarding the growth of plants. Furthermore, helpful germs cannot live in undrained soil and change vegetable matter into available plant food, because the water excludes the air from the soil.

We should deepen our soils for the reasons: First, to increase its water holding capacity; second, to let the water escape from the surface without running over the ground and washing it off; third, to permit the air to circulate freely for a considerable depth; fourth, to secure crops against drought by enabling the roots to go down to perpetual moisture; fifth, to increase the area from which plant roots may obtain food.

The soil must be well drained and thoroughly pulverized for a considerable depth and in addition it must be full of humus in order to produce maximum crops. Fire is one of our worst enemies because we burn the corn stalks, grass and trash on the land that is needed to properly prepare the soil for growing crops. The humus increases the water holding capacity of the soil several times and puts it in a loose open porous condition so that air, water, and plant roots can easily come into contact with every grain of it. The humus also prevents the soil from packing after heavy rains and furnishes food for the bacteria or microscopic life that makes the plant food available for plants. It matters not how much plant food the soil may contain, it will not yield maximum crops unless bacteria are present to make the plant food available for crops. The number of bacteria in the soil closely follows the amount of humus in it.

It is generally advisable to break the land in the fall and winter for the following reasons: First, we are not as busy in the late fall and winter as we are in the spring; second, the vegetable matter is turned under to decay; third, insoluble plant food is brought to the surface where the frost and air can change it into soluble plant food; fourth, the soil is rough and loose so that it will drink in the rain that falls. When broken in the fall and winter, we can use the better styles of two and three horse turning plows or disc plows. The gasoline engine traction plow will do more and probably better work, but the average small farmer cannot afford to own one.

When we are unable to break our land during the fall and winter, we should break it early in the spring for the following reasons: First, to save water. It has been found by experiments that unbroken land permits the water in the soil to escape much faster than does broken land. Second, to prevent clods; third, to permit good settling of the soil before planting time. In the early spring it is best to use the disc plow, so set that it will not bring much subsoil to the surface.
