GERMAN LOSSES HEAVIEST OF WAR

British and French Mass Large Forces and Await the Expected Teuton Attack.

200,000 ITALIANS AID HAIG.

French Gain Important Heights Near Amiens—Allies Get First Breathing Spell Since Hindenburg Opened Picardy Drive.

London.—After many days of slaughter a sudden lull set in on the western battle front.

It is the first breathing spell Hindenburg has allowed his exhausted troops
since he started his supreme drive
through Flanders for the Channel
ports on April 9.

Also it is the nearest complete cessation of fighting since March 21,
when Ludendorff's spring campaign
opened "on the very minute" with the launching of Germany's "win the war"
offensive in Picardy.

However, the great battle is being kept ominously "alive" by a chain of ceaseless and deadly artillery fire.

The bombardments at points all along the 150 mile battle front continue at an intensity which may bring forth at any moment another outbreak of general infantry fighting.

Simultaneously the French were gaining ground in heavy local fighting on a five mile front southeast of Amiens, from the Luce to the west bank of the Avre.

Italy has sent 200,000 infantrymen
to serve in the inter-allied army of reserve in France.

The Italian fighters compose the right wing of the reserve, which is subject to the command of the inter-
allied council acting in concert with General Foch.

British advisers say this reserve
army will number at least 800,000 men.
The army will be composed of picked
troops from the forces of the Italians,
British, French and Americans, each nation contributing 200,000 men.

The Italian troops sent to the French front are veterans of the great drive against Austria. They are picked men, but as yet none of the Alpine troops has been assigned to their army.

The Germans have not repeated
their thrust along the line running north of Bethune, where they met with a sanguinary repulse. They employed about 75,000 men along a line variously reported to be six to ten miles in length, but gained little or no ground.
La Basse canal front is still in British hands, and bridges flung across it by the Teutons have been swept away by the allied artillery fire.

The blow aimed by the French at the very apex of the German lines in Picardy, in front of Amiens, has not been followed up. It is difficult to believe that the allied counter offensive,
when it comes, will be launched in this sector. Advances from France would seem to indicate that the blow will be struck at another part of the battle
line.

In the three days since they took Messines ridge the Germans have failed to gain any ground, and their losses
in fruitless assaults, according to both official and unofficial accounts, have been extremely heavy.

"We hold the Boche waves, but that is not sufficient; we will do something more," General Foch is quoted as saying.

"Our ample reserves are still intact.
We are satisfied with the progress of events."

VOTES $140,000,000 AN HOUR.

House Passed $1,350,000,000 Naval Bill in Record Time.

Washington.—After the house had passed the naval appropriation bill by unanimous vote Representative Brit-ter, Republican, of Illinois called attention to the new record, saying:
"The house disposed of the appropriation bill at the rate of $140,000,000 an hour." The naval bill is the second largest in the history of this country.
It carries almost $1,350,000,000 for the building program of the navy.

Weygand to Aid Foch.

Washington.—France will be represented in the future at the Allied Council at Versailles by General Belin, who was a major general at the beginning of the war, says a diplomatic dispatch
received here.

He succeeded General Weygand, who is to be the chief collaborator of Generalissimo Foch.

J. Austen Chamberlain's appointment
to the War Cabinet has furnished Northcliffe the opportunity to train
his newspaper guns on the government,
and his organs are openly hostile to
the government they made possible in December, 1916.

WASHINGTON

Impatience is being manifested by the house over the senate's delay in disposing of the Burnett alien slacker
bill.

The navy appropriation bill, carrying almost $1,500,000,000, was passed by the house without a dissenting vote.
It increases the naval personnel 78,000
and the Marine Corps 45,500.

President Wilson's proclamation
placing alien women under the same
restrictions as men prohibits them
from entering Washington.

Charles M. Schwab appeared before the War Board and settled the three weeks' steel controversy by getting priority for ships over the railroads. He will move offices to Philadelphia to direct shipbuilding from there.

President Wilson burns his left hand severely on a hot exhaust pipe while taking a trip in a British war tank that is being exhibited in Washington to aid the Liberty Loan.

President Wilson signed the women
enemy alien bill.

"I am here to build ships, and I expect to build them," is the message of Charles M. Schwab to the country as he takes up his duties as director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Proposals to increase the fixed price
on wheat to $2.50 a bushel were defeated in the house, partly through the aid of the President's opposition to the measure.

A bill to fix the maximum price for raw cotton, when sold by the producer
or dealer to the manufacturer, at 20 cents a pound during the war, was introduced by Representative Emerson
of Ohio.

The senate passed the silver bill
providing for the melting into bullion $350,000,000 to meet foreign trade balances.

WAR BULLETINS

During the latest attack on the canal of La Basse and Givency more Germans were killed on the banks of the canal than at any one place since the northern battle began. The enemy attempted to establish positions on the southern side and got into Givency,
but were hurled back. At one point
the Germans raised white handkerchiefs, and when the British fire slack-ened 170 of them came forward and surrendered.

A big Italian army now forms the right wing of the allied forces in France, according to the announcement from Washington.

A lull came to the war wracked
fields of Flanders, where almost without intermission since March 21 there has been in progress the most titanic
struggle in which human beings ever engaged.

The Germans are reported to be bringing some of their heaviest batteries west across the Ypres-Comines
canal for a bombardment of Mount Kemmel, preparatory to a grand assault on this southern bulwark of Ypres.

Germany does not dare fight the British grand fleet on the high seas,
said an English newspaper, or else she would have taken this cheaper way
rather than spend an enormous number of lives on the western front.

Wide discontent against the war
reigns in Vienna, and Austria faces
her greatest peril within the empire,
where "security no longer exists" and
the populace becomes more and more friendly to the entente.

APRIL 26 LIBERTY DAY

By Proclamation of President
Wilson Is to Be a Holiday.

Requests People of the United States
to Assemble in Afternoon and Pledge Anew Their Support.

Washington.—President Wilson issued a proclamation setting apart Friday, April 26, as Liberty Day.

By the President of the United States of America:

A proclamation.

An enemy who has grossly abused the power of organized
government, and who seeks to dominate the world by the might
of the sword, challenges the rights of America and the liberty and life of all the free nations of the earth. Our brave sons are facing the fire of battle in defense
of the honor and rights of America and the liberty of nations. To sustain our gallant associates in the war a generous and patriotic
people have been called upon to subscribe to the Third Liberty Loan.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do appoint Friday, the twenty-sixth day of April,
one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, as Liberty Day. On the afternoon of that day I request the people of the United States to assemble in their respective communities and liberally buy, pledge anew their financial support to sustain the nation's cause.

Patriotic demonstrations should be held in every city, town and hamlet throughout the land under
the general direction of the secretary of the treasury and the immediate direction of the Liberty Loan committees organized by the federal reserve banks. Let the nation's response to the 'Third Liberty Loan express in unmistakable
terms the determination of America to fight for peace, the permanent peace of justice.

For the purpose of participating in Liberty Day celebrations all employees of the federal government
whose services can be spared may be excused at 12 o'clock noon, Friday, the 26th of April.

In witness whereof, I have here-unto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia, this 18th day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-second.

By the President:
WOODROW WILSON.

WORLD'S NEWS IN CONDENSED FORM

NEW YORK.—Federal officials prepare for the task of registering German women in this city and vicinity
and rounding up women spies.

AMSTERDAM.—Subscriptions to the eighth German war loan, says a message from Berlin, have reached a total of more than $3,637,500,000, excluding amounts from former loans offered for conversion.

WASHINGTON.—American troop
and supply ships are well protected on the voyage to France, James Kerney
said, and their depth bombs, listening devices and hydro-airplanes have conquered the submarines.

LONDON.—Eighty-three lives are lost in the sinking of two American supply ships in European waters, one of the vessels being sunk at sea by a submarine and the other by a mysterious internal explosion while she was in a French port. The total saved from the two vessels was 61 men.

VIENNA.—Austria is in despair despite the German claims of speedy victory. One Vienna newspaper asserted that even should Hindenburg accomplish his aims a hunger peace
would be the only result for Austria.

TOKIO.—America is to get 66
steamships from Japan.

Daylight Saving Worked Well.

In the United Kingdom during the four and a half months that daylight saving was practiced in 1916, it is claimed that the saving in gas alone conserved 200,000 tons of coal. The expenses to consumers were reduced by $2,375,000. Electric light companies reported a reduction of about 20
per cent.

In France fuel used for illuminating purposes was 10 per cent less after the daylight saving program was adopted.

In Germany the Berlin municipal gas works reported in May and June of 1916 a decrease of 508,500 cubic meters, in spite of the fact that 18,
000 new gas meters had been installed
during the previous six months.

CAPTIVES AT CAPITAL

Red Patch on Hip an Excellent
Target for Marksmen.

Under Heavy Guard, Officers and Men of Captured Submarine U-58 Are Sent to a Georgia Prison Camp.

Washington.—Thirty-eight surly,
sneering, well fed and alert Germans,
the captured crew of the submarine
U-58, taken by the United States destroyers Fanning and Nicholson last November, passed through Washington.

Their appearance was startling. Few persons in the great union station,
used to the constant stream of soldiers, realized that these were the first prisoners of war captured by Americans. They were under heavy guard of trim khaki clad United States regulars, commanded by a captain, who plainly indicated he meant business.

The captives came off the Southern Railway train in column of twos, led by their commander, Capt. Lieut. Gustave Ansbarger, and his other officers,
Otto von Ritgen, Paul Schroether,
Frederick Muller and Henry Ropke.
Following them were 33 of the crew.
The officers were neatly dressed in their blue, with gold insignia. They glanced around the great station and grinned at each other. Back of them came the 33 men of the crew. They were in well worn and well used blue
and the heavy canvas clothes of the machinists. All of the men were underdressed and the crew seemed composed mostly of boys from eighteen to twenty, while the officers were not more than twenty-five to thirty-five.

On the back of the right leg of each,
between the hip and the knee, was a large oval patch of red, eight inches high and six inches across. This could be seen easily a mile away.

"What's that for?" a sergeant was asked.

"That's what the Heinies have been asking us," he replied. "Let any of them try to run and he will find out pretty quick. Red is the best thing in the world to shoot at."

PITH OF THE WAR NEWS

British troops are holding their lines
firm on the northern sector in Flanders, and the Germans, after being severely punished at Givency and the canal of La Basse, have for the moment ceased their attacks.

On the southern sector the French
have pushed back the enemy near Hangard. British, French, American and Portuguese troops are fighting
on this front.

Chinese laborers in Picardy under the command of American engineers,
dropped their tools for rifles and helped drive back the German hordes
that were attacking.

Belgian troops saved the British from a flank attack on Ypres from the north by which the allies would have been caught between two fires.

British troops drove the Germans out of some of their advanced posts in the neighborhood of Robecq, near the tip of the southern edge of the salient
in Flanders.

"Our line holds like a rock," said the London Observer in its weekly review of the war.

British spirits are high despite week
of violent battle and are confident of regaining ground.

NEW U. S. POWDER PLANT.

Will Cover 3,360 Acres and Make
1,000,000 Pounds Daily.

Washington.—Ground has been broken for the largest powder plant in the world for the United States government.

Within two months the daily output
will be from 900,000 to 1,000,000 pounds
of smokeless powder, and the plant,
which is being constructed in nine sections, will be three and one-half miles
long and one and one-half miles wide.

BABIES INCLUDED IN HELP AD.

Labor So Scarce Shoe Company Wants
Mothers to Work as Stitchers.

Boston.—New England's labor problem has become so serious that the Thomas G. Plant Company, one of the largest shoe manufacturing firms in the country, advertised for women who have infants or older children and are experienced shoe stitchers.

The company has provided a nursery
and will have kindergarten teachers
on hand to care for the youngsters
while their mothers work.

Opposition to Senator Chamberlain's
bill to court martial spies and propa-gandists sprang to the front when Borah of Idaho launched an attack
upon the bill, terming it absolutely unconstitutional and having no necessity to back it.

GENERAL

Miss Amy Simpson, noted singer, reports German agents in South America
plotting desperately against the United States. She has just returned from an eight months' tour of that continent.

The National Foreign Trade Council,
in session in Cincinnati, declares America must be ready to meet Germany in a great struggle for world commerce
as soon as peace is declared.

A call for 1,180 draft registrants
of grammar school education with some technical training was made by Provost Marshal General Crowder.

President Wilson, as well as Secretary Baker, favors a change of methods of speed airplane building, and Edward R. Stetinius is spoken of to conduct the work as a single head.

The war department announced that it needs photographs, drawings and descriptions of bridges, buildings,
towns and localities of France and Belgium now occupied.

A bill empowering the President to take over any railroad, electric line or interurban line the possession of which is necessary to the building or equipping of ships has been passed by the house.

San Jacinto and Hemet are reported
almost wiped out by an earthquake
which rocked southern California.

M. Tardieu, French high commissioner, in a speech in behalf of war orphans, says France has lost 1,300,000
men killed since the war began and that as many more have been taken prisoners by the Germans.

Mrs. Hamilton Fairfax, president of New York State Colonial Dames, has
asked the resignation of every pro-German member. It is expected a group of women who have ignored the order will be expelled.

The greatest contest for world trade
in history is now being prepared for
by the larger nations, members of the Committee on National Exports Control declared in their report. Even Germany is formulating big schemes
while carrying on the war, they declare.

Other communities, including New York, act to curb the sales of German language newspapers following the ban placed upon such sheets in Hackensack, N. J.

Indications in shipbuilding circles
are that the advent of Charles M.
Schwab as director general of ship-
building will result in important changes in the personnel of the federal administration of affairs at Hog Island.

German-American War

The Americans were in battle with the Huns, during which the latter penetrated the front and took the village of Seicheprey, but were afterward
driven out and pursued by the Americans, restoring the original positions.

Berlin reports that 183 Americans were taken prisoner and 25 machine guns captured in the action at Seiche-prey.

Twelve hundred German storm
troops attacked the American sector near Toul and captured a village. The village was recaptured and the American line restored virtually intact. Two German airplanes were brought down.
The Germans suffered heavy casualties.

General Pershing reports how a detachment of American engineers dug themselves in and heroically held a subsector against terrific German assaults in a three day battle.

An increase from 30,000 to 75,500 in the personnel of the Marine Corps is unanimously agreed upon by the House
Naval Affairs Committee.

One of the most heroic deeds of the war is credited to Doctor Patton of New York in a special cable dispatch
from Don Martin, New York Herald
correspondent with the American army. Doctor Patton saved the lives of 20 gas victims, operating without a mask until he himself collapsed.

LAUNCHED IN 55 DAYS.

Seattle Shipyards Break Record in Construction of 8,800 Ton Ship.

Seattle, Wash.—Winning back the world's launching record by an achievement that will startle every maritime nation, including Germany,
the Skinner & Eddy Corporation
launched the 8,800 ton steel steamship West Lianga for the United States in 55 working days.

This clips five days from the previous world record, which was made by the Columbia Company of Portland.

CAPITAL BARS ENEMY WOMEN.

President's Order Provides Permits in Barred Zones—Must Register.

Washington.—Arrangements are nearly completed for the registration of German enemy alien women. President Wilson issued a proclamation
classifying all women of German birth
and all women of Austrian-Hungarian nationality as enemy aliens and applying to them the same restrictions and guarantees that are applied to men.

HAVOC BY 'QUAKE IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles Crowds Stampeded
by Two Shocks and Many Persons Are Hurt.

TWO TOWNS ARE DESTROYED.

Panic in Los Angeles as Walls Are Shattered—Theater Crowds Are Thrown Into Terror—Buildings Also Topple.

Los Angeles.—All of southern California and part of western Arizona
and Utah were shaken by an earthquake which wrecked virtually all business buildings and homes in Hemet
and San Jacinto, two inland towns 45
miles southeast of Riverside, Cal., and caused minor property damage in practically every town and city. The loss
in Hemet and San Jacinto was estimated at $500,000, and two lives were lost there.

One man was trampled to death in a panic at Santa Monica. A woman was injured by falling from a second story window at San Jacinto, and a number of persons were injured there and elsewhere, none seriously. Three men en-dormed in a magnesite mine tunnel
near Hemet probably were saved by fellow workers who drove an air shaft
to them and were expected to dig them
out.

The severity of the shock seemed greatest inland, but it was distinctly apparent at nearly every point over California south from a line from Barstow to the coast and in some parts of Arizona, although no damage was reported there. Homes all over southern California were shaken, dishes rattled, furniture moved, and in many places the shock caused the occupants to vacate hastily. The shock was reported to have extended as far east as Seligman, Ariz., and Milford, Utah.

In Los Angeles, where there were two shocks of ten seconds and thirty seconds each, the earthquake broke a number of large plate glass windows to office buildings. There was almost panic in the numerous theaters and picture houses, and one woman, Mrs.
A. Jacobs, was struck on the head by an iron fire escape, lowered from above as she stepped from a theater
side entrance.

At the city jail there was a panic
among the prisoners when glass
crashed from the upper windows.
Bricks fell from the cornice into the street. At a meeting of the Half-Century Club held in the old Normal Center, in the center of the city, the chan-delliers fell, and a panic was narrowly averted by the band playing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

At Santa Monica, a seaside town
near here, a crowd was on the Municipal Pier, which swayed perilously,
and in the rush to escape Frank E. Darbell,
a retired manufacturer of Los Angeles,
was thrown down and trampled to death. Several persons were injured.

As the ground tremors increased the walls of brick buildings in the business district toppled over. Roofs creaked
and groaned and then fell, often giving way before the side walls had started
to go.

FOREIGN

The Irish Nationalists' united stand against conscription is causing worry
in Great Britain. The priests will pledge their people to resist the draft.
Germans are rapidly moving on Petrograd and Viborg is likely to fall soon.
The Czar, it is believed, will not be tried by the Bolsheviks.

The House of Commons will be asked to consider the British war budget for the ensuing 12 months, which is estimated by financial writers at $15,000,- 000.

According to an official announcement at Geneva the neutrality of Switzerland was violated 586 times up to the end of January.

The Bolshevik government orders
the shipment of war materials and munitions accumulated at Vladivostok to European Russia, directing that freight and passenger traffic on the Siberian railroad be suspended for that purpose, if necessary.

The schooner Jean Campbell, 64
days from a Nova Scotian port, given up as lost, arrived at a Canadian port
with a cargo of flour.

A manifesto declaring that conscription for Ireland is a "violation of the rights of small nations" was issued by the Irish Nationalists, Sinn Feiners
and Laborites.

Terrace Talk

Mr. Paul Mallon, '21, left on Monday morning for his home in Louisville, Ky.

The Senior class plans to present the play, "Within the Law," on the evening of May 1.

A representative of the Lewis Studio of Westminster was at the College on Thursday to take pictures of the Minim basketball squad.

A service list, containing the names of a large number of Mountaineers who are serving the country, has been printed and is now posted at the College. Plans are under way whereby a service flag will be unfurled some time in the near future.

At a recent meeting of the Senior class, Mr. O. M. Gallagher was elected manager of the tennis team to succeed Mr. J. M. Ryan whose resignation was tendered a short time ago. Catholic University is desirous of having a tennis match played in conjunction with the baseball game here on May 9.

The baseball team will play Gettysburg College on Echo Field next Monday, April 29. The Pennsylvanians won the game played at Gettysburg two weeks ago and the locals will be out for revenge on Monday. The game should be well worth attendance and will be called at 2 o'clock.

Mr. M. J. Lafferty, '18, has resigned his position as Local Editor of The Mountaineer and his loss no doubt will be hard felt by the College paper. During Mr. Lafferty's regime as head of the local column this part has been one of the features of the Mountaineer and his place will be mighty hard to fill.

The baseball team journeyed to Washington Saturday morning to play Catholic University but unfortunately the game could not be played because of a steady downpour of rain which lasted practically all the afternoon. The locals were treated royally during their short stay at the University and the authorities there are anxious that another game be arranged and already three open dates have been offered Manager Carroll. Fifteen men were in the party that made the trip to Washington. Along with Coach Thompson, Dr. Flannagan and Manager Carroll the following players made the trip: Captain Sadler, Roche, Saul, J. Royer, Carney, Chapman, Holahan, Hagerty, Cogan, Poist, Durkin and W. Royer. J. D. S. '18.

M. S. M. Jr. vs. St. Anthony's.

St. Anthony's and Mount St. Mary's Juniors will meet in a baseball game on the latter's grounds on Sunday, April 28. Mount St. Mary's has a pretty good team and may give St. Anthony's boys a run for the goal.

Illinois has already given 125,000 men and a half billion dollars in cash toward the war.

About 60,000 officers and men are engaged in coast patrol work of the Navy.

Japan has a population of 54,000,000, spread over an area of 147,655 square miles, a territory just a trifle larger than the State of Montana which has a population of 446,000.

SAVE CIVILIZATION, SAVE AMERICA, YOUR OWN FAMILY AND YOUR OWN HOME

The Third Liberty Loan is your opportunity. It is the most direct blow that can be struck at German military supremacy. It is the most powerful aid that can be given our soldiers in France. It means rifles and helmets and gas masks---the best protection for our men from German brutality. It means big guns and shells and airplanes---and VICTORY.

INVEST TODAY IN BONDS OF THE THIRD LIBERTY LOAN, AND SAVE THE LIVES OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS.

The following statement in reference to the Loan is taken from a circular letter of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, dated April 5, 1918:

"The amount of the Third Liberty Loan will be $3,000,000,000, the right being reserved to allot bonds up to the full amount of any oversubscription. The bonds will bear interest at the rate 4 1-4 per cent. per annum, will be dated and bear interest from May 9, 1918, and will mature September 15, 1928. The first coupon will be for 129 days' interest and will be payable September 15, 1918, after which interest will be payable semi-annually, March 15th and September 15th. This arrangement as to interest dates is made in order to avoid having interest payments on this series of bonds fall upon approximately the same dates as those of the Second Liberty Loan.

NOT CONVERTIBLE.

"The bonds are not convertible and are not subject to call for redemption before maturity. The bonds carry the same exemption from taxation as those of the Second Liberty Loan.

SINKING FUND.

"The bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase Third Liberty Loan Bonds to the amount of one-twentieth of the original issue of such bonds during the first year, and in each subsequent year, one-twentieth of the amount outstanding at the beginning of each subsequent year, until the expiration of one year after the termination of the war. A similar provision is made in the bill with respect to the bonds of the Second Liberty Loan and the bonds issued upon conversion of bonds of the First Liberty Loan.

RECEIVABLE FOR INHERITANCE TAXES.

"Third Liberty Loan Bonds, which have been owned by a person for six months prior to the date of his death, will be acceptable at par and accrued interest in payment of United States Inheritance taxes upon his estate. This applies also to 4 1-4 per cent. bonds issued upon conversion.

INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS.

"Subscriptions will be payable in the following installments:

5 per cent. on application; 20 per cent. on May 28th; 35 per cent. on July 18th; 40 per cent. on August 15th.

"No installment payment is required to be made in the month of June on account of tax payments which are due in that month.

PAYMENT IN FULL.

"Payment in full may be made with the application on or before May 4th, but bonds will not be delivered before May 9th on any subscription for an amount exceeding $10,000."

FOODS TASTE BETTER COOKED —TOBACCO TASTES BETTER TOASTED

Since the day of the caveman, who liked his meat raw, civilization has learned a lot about the scientific treatment of the things we eat.

Naturally none of us would now prefer to have our meat raw, our potatoes as they come from the ground, our coffee unroasted.

And naturally follows the great discovery recently made by The American Tobacco Co.—that tobacco tastes better TOASTED!

This wonderful new idea—simple like all great inventions—was first used in producing the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarette—made of toasted Burley tobacco.

Burley has a mellow flavor, entirely different from the tobacco usually used for cigarettes. It is a pipe tobacco and LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes taste like a pipe.

MR. WINCHESTER'S LETTER.

Baltimore, Md
April 25, 1918.

The probable candidacy of State Senator Orlando Harrison for the democratic nomination for Governor next year has brought about consideration of the question as to nominees for State offices rather early, although no earlier than has been the case on several occasions in past years. Ex Governor Frank Brown was in the field six years before he finally secured the nomination; and ex Governor Warfield was an avowed candidate five years before he was chosen in 1903. Further back, the late Governor Hamilton was a candidate in 1875 and was not nominated until 1879. Senator John Walter Smith was a candidate for more than two years before he was named, and the late Gen. L. Victor Baughman and Col. Buchanan Schley were avowed candidates for years, and both were doomed to disappointment as were the late Thomas G. Hayes, Judge William A. Fisher and Henry Williams. In fact, it has been the rule rather than the exception for men, ambitious to become Governor, to announce their candidacy long before they were successful, and quiet campaigns for the nomination for the highest office in the State have usually been under way for many months before the people were called upon to make their choice. So their is nothing unusual or unprecedented in these early discussions of candidates; indeed the precedents are nearly all in favor of such early action, and the gentlemen who are now considering the possibility of going into the fight are only following the example set by a long line of distinguished predecessors who have not hesitated to let the public know what they wanted. In coming forward and giving the people an opportunity to size up their ability and qualifications this early, the gentlemen who are looking forward to a possible or probable candidacy for the succession to Governor Harrington are performing a public service and should be commended for their frankness in thus taking the voters into their confidence. "Here we are," they say. "There are several of us who would like to have the nomination. Our entrance into the arena shows that we believe that we are competent, but it is for you to decide. We must admit our claims to you. You are the judges. Hear us all, give us a fair chance, and we will submit to your verdict, and loyally support your selection at the election." And it is surprising when the list of available is examined to see how many there are who may safely be classed as "gubernatorial timber." Some of them may not be considered available owing to their political alliance, others because of location, and still others for different reasons, but the man who may be nominated from among these who are now looked upon as possible candidates, in a fair, honest, and unhampered primary election, would undoubtedly be supported by the mass of the democratic and independent voters of the State and would, with equal certainty, win—for the democratic majority in Maryland is so great that a candidate nominated according to the spirit and letter of the law, no matter how vigorous and spirited a contest may take place in the primaries, is sure to win by a large majority—for the democrats of the State will see to it that no unfit or unavailable man shall be named, even if he should be supported by a coterie of powerful but self-constituted leaders. The democratic voters show every disposition at the present time to take matters in their own hands, and no leader or set of leaders, however influential they may be, will be able to force on the party an unfit, unavailable, or unpopular man, and thus jeopardize the party prospects in the General election. At the present time the three most prominent of the several available candidates are:—Mr. Emory L. Coblentz, of Frederick Co.; Judge Robert Moss, of Annapolis, and Senator Orlando Harrison, of Worcester County. In former letters, recently published, sketches have from time to time been given of Senator Harrison and Judge Moss, as well as others whose names have been mentioned in connection with the Governorship, and while Mr. Coblentz has been mentioned, no details have been given as to his qualifications and availability as a possible leader in the State contest which will take place for control of public affairs next year.

Mr. Coblentz is a lawyer of high standing and ability and ranks among the best members of the bar in the State. But he is much more than that. He is also a business man of first class qualifications, second to none in Western Maryland. By his energy and skill he has developed the great system of electric railways which gridiron and have greatly developed Washington and Frederick Counties, and extend into southern Pennsylvania, and he is the active President and head of the whole combination. He has in connection with his railway system, in operation an electric lighting plant which furnishes electricity to a large number of towns in that section. But this is not all that he has done. He is the President and active head of the Central Trust Company, of Frederick, the largest Trust Company in the state outside of Baltimore City. In order to form this Company he consolidated several banks, all of which were flourishing, and the success he has attained in this enterprise is known to every financier in the State. All these enterprises he has built up gradually during the past ten years, and his success in gaining the confidence of the whole community has been phenomenal. He has proved himself to be a man who succeeds in doing things well; and withal, he possesses a most agreeable and attractive personality, and is a public speaker of far above the average ability and charm. As a candidate he would be a success, and those who know him well believe that as Governor of Maryland his administration would, like that of the late Governor Crothers mark an era of progress in the State.

Another possibility, whose name is under discussion at the present time, is Mr. Carville D. Benson, of Baltimore County, whose name and reputation is as well known as that of any man in Maryland. Mr. Benson is one of the ablest men in the State, and no member of the General Assembly, in either the Senate or House, has ever been more influential than the able young lawyer who has been speaker of the House, leader of his party in both Houses, and whose fame and influence are State wide.

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge.

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, head-aches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular or attended with pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Thousands recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement below. Thos. Donaldson, 129 Randolph Ave., Hagerstown, Md., says: "I have been troubled with my kidneys for many years and have had such pains through the small of my back I could hardly turn in bed. My kidneys have often acted irregularly. I have tried Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always relieved me. When I take this medicine, it never fails to give satisfactory results."

ALLIES DEMAND MORE CEREALS

American Meat Restrictions Relaxed to Effect Greater Wheat Savings.

ARGENTINE ARRIVALS SHORT.

Meat Supply Here Considerably Enlarged — Food Administration, However, Warns Against Waste.

The allies have made further and increased demands for breadstuffs, these enlarged demands being caused to some degree by shortage in arrivals from the Argentine. It is, therefore, necessary for the U. S. Food Administration to urge a still further reduction in the consumption of bread and breadstuffs generally if we are to meet our export necessities. The Food Administration has issued a statement explaining the situation in detail, particularly the reasons which lead it, for the purpose of centering effort for the time being upon the cereal situation to relax temporarily the restrictions on meat consumption.

Experience shows, this statement says, that the consumption of breadstuffs is intimately associated with the consumption of meat. For various reasons our supplies of meat for the next two or three months are considerably enlarged, and we can supply the allies with all of the meat products which transportation facilities render possible and at the same time somewhat increase our own consumption. In these circumstances the Food Administration considers it wise to relax the voluntary restrictions on meat consumption to some extent with a view to further decreasing bread consumption.

Conservation of food must be adjusted to meet necessities from time to time, for neither production, nor allied demands are constant factors, nor can any of these factors be anticipated for long periods in advance in the disturbed conditions in which we at present live. While the world situation is not one that warrants any relaxation in the efforts to eliminate waste or to relax economy in food, the Administration desires to secure better adjustment in food balances.

So long as the present conditions continue the only special restrictions we ask are the beefless and porkless Tuesdays.

The meatless meal and the porkless Saturday are no longer asked.

The farmers of the United States are responding to the national call to increase hog production. Their increase, to all appearances, is being attained more rapidly. Of more immediate importance, however, are several complex factors which have effected an immediate increase in meat supplies.

The transportation shortage before the government took over the railroads, the bad weather in January and early in February, the large percentage of immature corn in the last harvest and the necessity of feeding this corn as rapidly as possible to save it from decay, have not only resulted in backing up the animals—particularly hogs—on the farms for a longer period of feeding, but have resulted in a great increase in their average weight and will result, with improved transportation conditions, which already appear, in larger than normal arrivals at market for the next two or three months. The weight of hogs coming to the market for the past two weeks indicates an increase in weight of from an average of 203 pounds last year to the almost unprecedented average of 232 pounds, or a net increase in their meat value of over 15 per cent. This is a distinct addition to the nation's meat supply. It therefore now seems certain that we have such enlarged supplies for at least some months to come, that we can not only increase our exports to the allies to the full extent of their transportation facilities, but at the same time can properly increase our domestic consumption.

The response of the public to our requests for reduced consumption of meat during the past few months has been most gratifying, and this service alone has enabled the government during this period to provide such supplies as transportation to the allies permitted.

The Administration also suggests that in those parts of the country where the old fashioned home preservation of pork is still the custom, this practice should be extended at the present time, as it will relieve the burden upon transportation to and from the packing houses and is economically sound as saving the cost of packing operations and at the same time will provide home supplies of pork to last over the months of decreased supplies.

The Food Administration desires to repeat that it does not want to give the impression that these are times when simplicity and moderation of living are not critically necessary, but that its sole desire is to secure an adjustment between our different food supplies and meet changing conditions from time to time and to keep the public fully and frankly advised of its position with the full confidence and reliance that whenever it becomes necessary renewed appeals for saving will met the same loyal response as in the past.

DO NOT IGNORE TRIFLES.

The little things we call TRIFLES—they are the opportunities which bring joy or comfort into the lives of others. It is a small thing to contribute a dollar to the Red Cross or spend a few moments making surgical dressings for the soldiers in France; but it is a very great thing if your brother or somebody's brother is lying somewhere in the war zone with his wounds not properly attended, because you cannot spare the time to do this trifle.

You say there is no comparison whatsoever between a human life and a small gauze bandage, but how many times has this little thing saved a human life? Do not try to shirk your duty by saying: "They have ever so many people to work for them." Who is willing to do your share? Do not be too ready to think others more generous and self-sacrificing than yourself; they are not!

You may be a minute late for business in the morning. To you it is only a trifle. You may forget to say "thank you" for some kindness or courtesy shown you, it is only a trifle. A defective piece of stone may be used in the building of an edifice; it is only a trifle but, sooner or later these same TRIFLES will bring ruin.

The more we look into the little things, the more we see their importance; the more we become convinced that after all they are the things which constitute the bigness of life. It is a true and time worn adage that "perfection is made up of trifles but perfection is no trifle." In fact, it you overlook trifles the danger is that you will fail to progress.

Don't ignore trifles; they may be your key to the large result we call success.

PLAIN TRUTH.

One's pockets may be lined with green, one's skull be full of brains; but neither can supply a drop of blue blood for one's veins. One's life would very pleasant be, in fact so very nice, if folk's one met were half as free, with help as with advice. One's piety would better be, if through it there would trickle, laughter, sunshine and much less of extract of the pickle. One's chances in a poker game are slim exceedingly, when one holds threes, and fours are held by one's blamed vis a vis. One can't deny there's comfort in the plan of McAdoo—wearing one's old half soled pants and last year's flimsy top piece, too. One's got t' acknowledge one is bumped right out the groove of luck, when called upon to show the crowd a time with just one "buck." One's life aboard a flivverette with chauffeur "lit up" right, ain't safer than aboard a train of cannon dynamite.

YES indeed, Inquisitivia, every cloud has a silver lining—honest injun; but in order to see it you've got to turn the cloud inside out. So keep up your optimism. Optimists tell you to think of Jonah—how he came out all right. And just suppose that whale had been given to Fletcherizing.

"ONE way to realize our own insignificance is to read the daily list of casualties," says the Auburn Citizen. The longer the list the greater the obligation we owe to the heroes who are bleeding for us in France. One way to pay off part, a very small part of that obligation, is to buy a Liberty Bond.

THERE is an American soldier in France fighting for you; "going through hell" for you, facing death for you. Buy a Liberty Bond today, that that soldier may know that even if you have to stay at home you, too, have fighting blood in you.

TIME is changing a lot of zones. With the obliteration on Wednesday next of the intemperate zone there will be left hardly any but war, postal and o.

WHAT has become of W. J. Bryan, Harry Thaw, the Seven Sutherland Sisters, Sir John Jellyfish, and the Town Constable?

IN the eyes of some folks a profit's not without honor, even if it's a hundred per cent.

ONLY a few more trips for the little brown jug; then all hands out for the whitewash job.

NO NEED FOR MORE TROUBLE

Colored Man a Philosopher When It Came to Question of Matrimony.

An excellent story is told by Kate Douglas Wiggin, the popular writer. A negro servant wishing to get married, asked his master to buy him a license in the neighboring town. The master, being in haste, did not ask the name of the happy woman, but as he drove along he reflected on the many tender attentions that he had seen John lavish upon Euphemia Wilson, the cook, and, concluding that there could be no mistake, had the license made in her name.

"There's your license to marry Euphemia," he said to the servant that night. "You're as good as married already, and you owe me only $2."

The darky's face fell. "But, Mass' Tom, Euphemia Wilson ain't de lady Ise gwine to marry. Dat wa'n't nothin' mo'n a little flirtation. Georgianna Thompson, de la'ndress, is de one Ise gwine to marry."

"Oh, well, John," said the master, amused and irritated at the same time. "There's no great harm done. I'll get you another license tomorrow, but it will cost you $2 more, of course."

The next morning the darky came out to the carriage as it was starting for town, and leaning confidentially over the wheel, said:

"Mass' Tom, you needn't git me no udder license; I'll use de one Ise got. Ise been t'inkin' it over in de night, an' to tell you de troof, Mass' Tom, de conclusion o' my judgment is dat dar ain't $2 worth o' difference between dem two ladies."

CHARACTER IN LAST WORDS

Final Remarks of Men of Eminence a Key to Thoughts That Dominated Them in Life.

The schoolmaster spoke in old Alexander Adam's last words, "It grows dark, boys; you may go," the polished man of the world in Chesterfield's "Give Dayrolles a chair," the philosopher in Hobbes, "I am going to take a great leap into obscurity," the ascetic in Thoreau's "I leave the world without a regret," the rebel in Peter Plindar's "Give me back my youth," the poet in Keats' "I feel the flowers growing over my grave," the actor in Quin's "I could wish this tragic scene was over, but I hope to go through it with becoming dignity," the man of action in Cecil Rhodes' "So little done, so much to do," the hero in Lawrence's "Don't give up the ship!" the wit in Palmerston's "Die, my dear doctor! that's the last thing I shall do," the humorist in Doctor Samuel Garth's appeal to his fellow-physicians, "Dear gentlemen, let me die a natural death," the believer in Sir Henry Havelock's (it is doubtful that Addison said it first) "Come, my son, and see how a Christian can die," the skeptic in Thomas Paine's "I have no wish to believe on that subject," the victorious warrior in Wolfe's "God be praised! I die happy," the dictator in Napoleon's "Tete d'armee," the anxious patriot in Pitt's "My country! how I love my country!" the stoic in Harriet Martineau's "I see no reason why the existence of Harriet Martineau should be prolonged," the sophisticated villain in Titus Oates' "It is all the same in the end," the plutocrat in Lorenzo de' Medici's "Not that, I cannot part with that," the benevolent man in Walter Scott's "God bless you all!" the martyr in Sir Henry Vane's "Ten thousand deaths for me ere I will stain the purity of my conscience."

INDIAN WORKED WITH BRAIN

Buck's Ingenious Explanation for Not Aiding Squaw to Carry Their Domestic Burden.

A group of people who were touring Alaska one summer were disgusted at the laziness of the buck Indians they saw in the villages and along the trail.

One day when they were taking a slide trip they came upon a couple of Indians who were evidently packing into the mountains to stay a while. The squaw was staggering under a tremendous burden. She lugged all of the bedding and provisions, and a papoose for good measure. The old buck was slumping along lazily ahead of her, smoking his pipe and looking down at the trail.

One member of the tourist party hailed the Indians and when they stopped he inquired, somewhat out of patience:

"See here, buck, how comes it that Nikawana is carrying all of the baggage and you are slouching along, enjoying your pipe? Why don't you take at least half of the load off your squaw, you big lazy Indian?"

The buck stood silent as a sphinx for a few moments, then grunted to himself and, pointing his index finger to his forehead, he exclaimed in deep, guttural tones:

"Huh, me all time think!"

Crime Always Poorly Paid.

It has long been a matter of note that the safe robber of highest degree and the counterfeiter of fullest accomplishment bring to their purposes talents which would serve them in legitimate application exceptionally well. Ranking below these operators in genius, the new motor car thief displays yet an acumen and a smoothness in business execution which should make him as a straight man of affairs generally valuable.

All these performers, refusing to work honestly for sure and sufficient compensation, work much harder for the uncertain returns and ever-present perils of crookedness. They make manifest a curious paradox of crime. They are not explained wholly by the ories of a stunted spirit of adventure and a highly temperamental love for the risks of the game. Perhaps the law, to meet them effectively, should hold them to punitive account in measures proportioned less to arbitrary degrees of crime than to proved wastes of natural gifts.

Do Men or Women Dream Most?

A question often asked is, "Who dream most, men or women?" According to Heerwag's statistics "Women sleep more lightly and dream more often than men; the frequency of dreams is proportional to their vividness; women who dream sleep longer than those who do not; twice as many women as men dream."

Another mooted point is, "Has age got any bearing on dreams?" In normal individuals above the age of sixty-five De Sanctis found that dreams were rare; atmospheric influences seem to be important elements in causing them; memory of them is weak; they are emotionally poor, and deal with long past scenes.

Echoes.

"Can't you play something else than that everlasting march from Lohengrin at my wedding?" asked the several-times-widow who is arranging for another of her matrimonial events.

"Certainly, madam," responds the courteous organist.

And as the bridal cortege wends its way down the aisle the church shakes to the thundering forth of that popular classic "Over and Over Again."—Judge.

AMONG TOMBS OF MONARCHS

Shaft Will Be Erected on Scottish Coast to the Memory of United States Soldiers.

Nature has built on several of Scotland's western islands great stone shafts that are viewed with wonder and admiration; man has erected on others many columns and monuments that are renowned in art and history. To mention notable examples, the natural may be seen in the basaltic pillars of Skye and Staffa, the artistic in the memorials to Scottish, Irish and Norwegian kings in the burying ground of St. Columba's Isle, Iona. There will shortly appear amid this concourse of records a monument altogether novel, a new-world monument, by which America will signalize the memory of her young soldiers of freedom whom Germany's submarine deviltry drowned in the adjacent waters. On this knoll a lofty monolith of imperishable granite will be raised in honor of the brave who went to death undismayed and self-controlled.

Islay was the chief seat of those fighting chieftains, the lords of the isles, who began in the twelfth century their incessant warfare with the Norsemen, and the title of the island princes has descended to the Prince of Wales. Quiescent past and stirring present seem to meet on this picturesque island. If the shades of the old-world kings ever visit the royal tombs at Iona, they need look south but 30 miles to see a towering sign of the making of new-world history.

PLEA FOR "FOOLLESS" DAY

Movement to Abolish Stupid April First Jokes Surely Would Meet With General Approval.

In connection with the movement for "less" days it is up to some patriot who has the highest interest of the nation at heart to launch a campaign for a foolless first of April.

Individuals, like automobiles, are not foolproof, and Mr. Absent Minded, who from time immemorial has been a much-fooled man on the fatal day, would rise up and call congress blessed, instead of calling the members thereof names, as he now does, if that body would busy itself with legislation abolishing the April-fool jokes that wreck tempers, ruin dispositions and work havoc generally.

On the other hand, Mrs. Absent Minded would probably fight to the last ditch against any curtailment of the privileges of jeering derisively at her husband when he puts salt in his coffee, cracks an egg which proves to be only a shell, finds the lining of his overcoat sewed up, picks up some stage money on the doorstep and starts to work with a box of soap camouflaged as candy in his pocket to munch after lunch.

As a result the sons of dignity will probably have to endure the annual disturbance of their mental equilibrium in order to keep peace in the family.

Man Dumb From War Now Talks.

Parents of Walter Jones, a soldier of Glen Cove, L. I., who has just returned from France, answering a telephone call from New York, heard the voice of their son, whom they supposed was dumb as the result of shell shock. In the trenches in France a shell exploded within a few feet of Jones and he became unconscious. Several of his comrades were killed by the explosion. When Jones regained consciousness he was deaf and dumb. He was sent back to America for treatment and on the ocean trip homeward the vessel was attacked by a submarine. The excitement of this shock is said to have restored both his speech and hearing.

Hot Stuff.

Arthur Feust, consulting engineer from Utah, breezed into New York and attended a banquet at the Engineers' club. Several of the guests were the McLean kilties of Canada.

A feature of the menu was squab on toast, and one of the Scotch veterans, after asking what it was, proceeded to cover it well with tabasco sauce. He ate a couple of bites of the burning liquid, and then, with a low cry, put down his knife and fork.

"Lay thaur an' bur-r-n," he said. Then turning to the waiter called: "Aye, mon, I've had enouch o' this. Gle's a shellin's worth o' ham, vie ye? An' say, laddie, bring a bucket of ice water."

Wide Interest in Astronomy.

There can be no doubt that there is just now a great awakening of public interest in astronomy. Renewed evidence of this, if any were needed, is afforded by the secretary of the American Association of Variable Star Observers. About a year ago, we carried in this column a brief note describing the aims and needs of the association, and appealing for observations to its corps of volunteer observers all over the world. Within one month the secretary states that he had received 53 replies to this very modest little notice.—Scientific American.

He Hoped Not.

Edwin R. Hisey, the undertaker, and C. L. Dietz, the broker, are brother Rotarians. One stormy day recently Hisey, while returning from Crown Hill with his motor hearse, saw Dietz standing on a corner 'way up Meridian street. Hisey stopped the hearse and shouted to Dietz:

"Going down, Lew?" Dietz stared at his hospitable friend and replied:

"I—I—I hope not!"—Indianapolis News.

MICE STEAL AND STORE GRAIN

Damage Done by Little Rodents is Cause of Considerable Loss to the Producer.

Little do people know about our native mice and their allies, as they are mainly nocturnal in their habits, and were it not for the discovery of their ruins in the leaf mold, their nests in the fields and the annoyance that they sometimes cause their existence would hardly be suspected, says W. I. Bee-croft in the Boy Scouts Magazine. The owl and the fox could tell us much about the prevalence and the ways of these little folk. As I have lived for a number of years in close proximity to the woods, I have had my share of mice about the premises. I have caught the white-footed or deer mouse the jumping mouse, the red-backed mouse and that mensly little foreigner, the common house mouse, and, as if that were not enough, there are two or three species of shrew-mice and moles.

Once I had occasion to clean away rubbish that had collected in a corner near bags of grain. As I picked up an old shoe something in it rattled. I turned it upside down and a handful of grain fell out. A pickle bottle was half full of corn. From a roll of roofing paper a quantity of grain rolled out, and here and there I found little heaps of corn and wheat. White-footed mice had supplied themselves well at my expense, but only the mice themselves could tell what they had carried off to parts unknown. I hastened to the store and purchased two small mouse traps. Mice are innocent and unsuspecting little creatures. In a short time peace and quiet reigned over my grain bags.

IDENTIFIED AFTER TWO YEARS

New York Police Refused to Be Baffled by Mystery of Skeleton Found in the River.

Identifying dead bodies is often extremely difficult. Of course, finger prints and photographs make identification fairly easy, and laundry marks are a great help; but very often the police have much less to work upon.

The New York police recently found a male skeleton, fully clothed, in the river. They succeeded in identifying it by means of a gold bridge in the upper jaw. They traced the dentist who had made the bridge, and he gave them the chart of the mouth, which corresponded with the teeth of the skeleton. They then found a watchman, who said that the man was known as "Sam." In the course of conversation he mentioned that "Sam" had an enlarged great toe joint on his left foot, and very often wore shoes with a hole cut over the big joint and a patch sewed over the hole. At the mortuary the shoe was found just as the watchman had described it. Then the deceased's sister was traced, and she identified her brother by means of a handkerchief found in his pocket. It was afterward proved that the man fell into the river when he was drunk, and that he had been in the water about two years. This is one of the cleverest pieces of identifying work of recent years.

Plants Have Become Pests.

Popular plants, like certain animals, may develop into formidable pests when introduced into new localities. As a striking example of the spread of a shrubby species, E. F. Andrews brings forward the Japan honeysuckle, which a half century or so ago was known in the southeastern United States only as an attractive vine for garden or piazza, but since then has run wild until it has become the most aggressive and indomitable enemy of the native vegetation. Unlike the common herbaceous weeds, it is not confined to roadsides and waste places, but invades the most secluded haunts of wild flowers, strangling or smothering every green thing, and it is not unusual to see whole acres of haw thickets or other shrubby growth being exterminated in its deadly meshes. A plant that had been reduced in its throttling grasp to little more than a leafless skeleton was a remarkably fine haw tree 16 inches in diameter, with a crown spreading 40 feet and a height of about the same.

Prediction Somewhat "Off."

"The last great war has been fought and the nations may now look forward to uninterrupted peace."

This was the hope and belief proclaimed from many pulpits in England when Great Britain, by royal proclamation, celebrated a general thanksgiving day following the end of the Napoleonic wars. After the smoke of Waterloo rolled back it revealed a continent given over to desolation.

Although England had suffered less than the other nations involved in the long struggle, she had by no means escaped unhurt. For twenty years Great Britain had supplied the financial sinews of war for her allies in addition to active participation in battles on land and sea.

First Paper Mill.

The first paper mill in this country was started by William Bradford at Germantown, Pa., in 1690. It was known as the Rittenhouse mill, and, of course, the paper was made by hand—the first machine for the purpose being invented in 1799 by a Frenchman, Louis Robert.

The invention of paper is attributed to a Chinaman named Tsai Lun, who is said to have made it from bark, hemp, rags and old fish-nets in the year 105 A. D. Six centuries later the Arabs captured the Chinese city of Samarkand, and there learned the art of paper-making.

LIKE SCENE FROM FAIRYLAND

Correspondent's Graphic Portraiture of Children Leaving Petrograd Cathedral After Services.

I was just crossing the snowy square in front of St. Isaac's, returning from the last mass before the midnight Easter service, when suddenly—were the gates of Fairyland flung open? Down the aisle of columns, out from among the dusky pillars of the great cathedral, in twos and threes—or sometimes alone, a voluminous shawled and aproned nyanya in the background—came figures—gravelly intent little figures, each carefully shielding his candle with tiny, cupped hands or twists of white paper, the yellow candle light flaring up into faces as cherubic as Reynolds' "Age of Innocence," but weighted with all the sweet solemnity of Miltonic angels; children bearing home sacred candles lighted at the altar of their own Lares and Penates. Out from among the inscrutable shadows and down the steps of the vast cathedral they flickered and floated in twos and threes; and still farther down the canyons of the dark streets, the spirit lights wavering and gleaming like myriad will-o'-the-wisps, phantom ships floating on a phantom tide. It reminded me of nothing so much as that night of ancestor worship in the East, when lotus lanterns burning for the dead are set afloat on river and bay and far out to sea.—Olive Gilbreath in Harper's Magazine.

CHINAMEN "FEED THE DEAD"

Religious Ceremony Faithfully Observed by Celestials, Wherever They May Be Living.

Chinamen still observe the religious ceremony of "feeding the dead." The food is intended as a propitiatory offering to the Chinese evil spirit. The offerings vary according to the habits and tastes of the occupants of the graves.

"At the grave of one," says an eyewitness of a feast, "his friend, after digging holes in the hard ground with his knife, stuck up two candles, and laid out several sets of chop-sticks and as many small cups, which he filled with wine; then he placed on the grave some bowls of rice, a package of cigarettes, and a small vessel of opium. Afterward he made several bows and genuflections, as if inviting his dead friend or the other party to set to."

"A number of fires were burning in the vicinity, and on these were placed pieces of paper with squares of imitation gold leaf pasted on them representing gold coin; other squares with silver foil represented silver coin; and smaller squares, punched full of holes, represented the brass 'cash,' which has a hole in the center. Some burned small garments made of paper, and thus furnished a new suit to their deceased friends at a small cost. After the provisions had been displayed long enough to give the spirit enough to satisfy himself, they were carefully brought back to town."

Paper Scarce in Wartimes.

During the War of the Revolution persons engaged in the manufacture of paper were exempted from conscription. As the war advanced the supply of paper for cartridges and wadding ran so low that the government advertised for it, and finally ordered the public to produce all they had, even sending files of soldiers to search for the indispensable article where there was any likelihood of finding it. In the garret of a house where Benjamin Franklin once had his printing office were found 2,500 copies of a sermon by a Philadelphia divine on "Defensive War." These were seized and used to make cartridges for the battle of Monmouth. The results of the battle showed conclusively that it was "a most striking discourse." During the Civil War common news paper sold for 25 cents per pound, and ten years later it sold for 10 cents per pound.

Taught That All Was Dream.

As far back as the fourth and third centuries B. C. Chuang Tzu, the brilliant Chinese mystic, taught that this life is really a dream. He said: "Those who dream of a banquet, awake to lamentation and sorrow. Those who dream of lamentation and sorrow wake to join the hunt. While they dream they do not know that they dream. Some even interpret the dream they are dreaming; and only when they wake do they know it was a dream. By-and-by comes the great awakening, and then we find that this life is really a great dream."

"Fools think they are awake now, and flatter themselves they know if they are really princes, or peasants. Confucius and you are both dreamers; and I, who say you are dreamers, I am but a dream myself."

Diving Water Birds.

Water birds which are ordinarily able to float high on the water can also sink at will by expelling the air which is inclosed within the film of feathers surrounding their bodies, thus making them heavier than water. This mechanical trick on the part of diving birds is probably familiar to all who have watched the kingfisher at close quarters, and have noted the sudden contraction in the bird's apparent size as it takes the plunge. This is more easily observed in the case of the starling, which sometimes imitates the kingfisher by plunging into water for food. The shrinkage of the bird in apparent size is very noticeable when, after hovering above the surface, it turns downwards to dive.

THREE POTATOES EACH DAY

Spuds Are Plentiful And Food Administrator Baetjer Urges Their Use As War Food.

Baltimore.—There is one article of food of which Herbert Hoover begs good Americans to eat more than ever—that is the potato. Last year's record crop, plus transportation tie-ups, plus delay in marketing, has left available now a surplus of many million bushels of spuds which must be consumed in the next two months or else go to waste. We don't need to save potatoes, but we simply must save the national eagerness to plant potatoes. The surest way to insure a bumper crop this year is to provide a home market for the 1917 surplus. Three good-sized potatoes a day eaten by each American will take care of that surplus and put us in shape to handle the next crop of about the cheapest and most palatable food to be had. Every Marylander is therefore urged by the State Administration to be a potato patriot as well as an ordinary patriot. Start with them baked for breakfast and wind up the day with them all dolled up according to one of the two-score delicious recipes which are recommended by the War Food Bureau, Lexington Building, Baltimore.

NO MAGIC IN WAR WORK.

"I have no cut and dried scheme whereby a magic wand can be waved and the production of food increased fifty per cent.," declares Hon. Chas. A. Dunning of the Canada Food Board. "The only way we can bring that about is for everyone to do a little here, a little there and with everybody in the country helping."

A private donation of $25,000 to the Maryland Food Administration has been made to boost along the good cause in this State and it is being used as a prize fund for amateur and professional Soldiers of the Soil, and half of each county's portion goes for work in War Gardens, which grow sweet corn, potatoes, tomatoes, turnips, cabbage, onions and beans.

In each county there are ten prizes for gardens under and over one-half acre. The Contest Department, 700 Equitable Building, Baltimore, is waiting to file your entry or send you further details.

CUT WHEAT OUT ENTIRELY.

Somewhere in the U. S. A.—This community claims to be the first to have given its pledge to Herbert Hoover to abstain absolutely from wheat products until the next harvest is garnered. The rest of the nation is now following suit and every day brings a list of similar pledges to the Federal Food Administrator. The best hotels and restaurants throughout the country have voluntarily made promises to keep wheat breads and wheat pastries off their bills-of-fare. And though other places may dispute our title, we claim to have set in motion a wheat avalanche which is going to overwhelm Prussianism.

Wheat is no more wholesome than other grains. Even if it were, we would gladly make the sacrifice necessary to supply with wheat our army and our allies who are too busy to spend time in further experiments with substitutes. We have lots of time and they must have lots of wheat.

WAR WON'T END FOOD CRISIS.

London.—Notice has been served to the women folk of all Colonial troops that by remaining in England they have taken the chance of not getting home till eighteen months after the declaration of peace. It will take that long to demobilize the armies now in France. After that, tens of thousands of men will be kept busy putting France, England, and Italy back into something like normal shape. So for the next two years, even if speedy victory is ours, there will be a vast population dependent for food upon foreign supplies. Most of this must come from the United States and Canada. So whether the news from the front be good or bad this country and its allies confidently look to the American farmer not to slacken production one whit but to ward off a state of affairs which could be worse than war itself.

COLCANNON.

(Official Recipe.)

Mix one cup of mashed potatoes and one cup of chopped greens to a smooth paste; add a tablespoon of fat, salt, and paprika to taste; place in baking pan, cover with mashed potatoes, brown in the oven and serve very hot.

WAR PORTIONS.

Don't worry about wheatless days and wheatless meals. Take the total abstinence pledge and cut it out altogether as thousands of patriotic Marylanders have already done.

If you live in a boarding house, why not beg or borrow a vacant lot and get up a team to dig up a garden instead of "knocking up flies." That would help you, help the landlady, and help win the war.

"Gout and rheumatism and old age are disappearing right and left among people who used to eat and drink too much," declared a speaker at a recent medical convention in London.

Mail Boxes To Right of Road.

Orders have gone out to all the patrons receiving mail on the rural routes to have their mail boxes placed on the right hand side of the road. This, it is stated, has always been the rule of the Post Office Department, but was never enforced; now the order has gone out that this must be done, in a number of cases this change has already been made.

It is pointed out that since the development of such an increased amount of traffic that the plan of zigzagging back and forth across the road was of much danger to the carrier.

Some Good Advice.

"Don't think too much of your own methods. Watch other people's ways and learn from them." This is good advice, especially when bilious or constipated. You will find many people who use Chamberlain's Tablets for these ailments with the best results, and will do well to follow their example.

W. J. GROVE ON ROADS.

Messrs. Editors:

A few years ago I discussed the road question quite often and then insisted upon modern methods for road construction. The mode of travel has changed so rapidly that it has been difficult to build roads that would stand the ever changing traffic over them and while an immense amount of money has been spent in road construction those who were bitterly opposed to hard roads a few years ago are now clamoring for them everywhere.

Our improved highways have not only helped out conditions locally but have helped to relieve the congestion on our railroads due to the war, showing that if the investment is large we are getting value received for our money. This being the fact naturally we must not hesitate to build roads and keep them in repair after they are built even if it means an advance in our tax rate.

The day of the dirt roads is passed but like the poor they will always be with us and they should not be neglected.

I have always believed our system for working the roads is wrong. It may not be popular but until we put a road gang "the prisoners of the County if you please" on our roads and keep them there during the early spring months and compel them to go over the roads and open up the culverts and side drains and see that the winter springs are kept in the side drains instead of running down the middle of the road washing good stretches of road away and making them in many places almost impossible and very expensive to repair. If our County Commissioners will continue to appoint farmers for road supervisors, who usually work on the roads when they can't work on their farms, then the Commissioners, when making these appointments, should make it obligatory that the side drains and culverts must be kept open to keep the water off the road and this can be done easily and economically by going over the road after each heavy rain with pick and shovel making the repairs needed often in few minutes. I think this very much more important than running the scraper over the roads which generally consumes the money allotment provided for them and they are allowed to remain another season before any more work is done. In any event if we want good roads they require attention and they must not be neglected.

K. OF C. MEET IN WESTMINSTER

Third Degree Conferred On a Class of Sixty New Members.—Over Four Hundred Guests Were Present.

Westminster Council No. 1393 Knights of Columbus celebrated the ninth anniversary of its institution on Sunday April 21st., by an exemplification of the Third Degree. That the affair was a brilliant success can be attested by the four hundred or more visitors from the various parts of the state, who notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather saw fit to come from the various districts to make a Maryland Holiday. Many of the Knights were accompanied by their ladies.

A special Mass was solemnized in St. John's Church at 10 o'clock by Rev. Father Cassidy—pastor at Westminster at the time of the Council's institution. The sermon—product of a master mind—timely, forceful, magnificent, was by Rev. Peter Guilday, Ph. D. of the Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

Immediately after the Mass a splendid dinner was served in the Firemen's Hall by the ladies of the parish. During the dinner hour—an incident which deserves special mention occurred—the weather cleared. The reception committee took charge of the ladies during the afternoon, while the members of the Order repaired to St. John's Hall for the exemplification of the Third Degree. The Degree was conferred upon a class of about sixty members from Westminster, Brunswick, Frederick and Emmitsburg—eleven coming from the local council—Brute 1860. The conferring officer was Past District Deputy, Joseph M. Smith, and he was ably assisted by a superior degree staff from Baltimore and Washington.

Among the guests present the following may be mentioned: State Deputy, Edgar N. Ganster; District Deputies, H. F. Burkhart, of District No. 2, (under whose direction the degree was held); J. Carroll Watts, of Baltimore; and Fred R. Ullrich, of Southern Maryland; Master of the Fourth Degree, Charles W. Darr, of Washington, D. C.; Grand Knights, John K. Leahy, of Westminster; Bernard J. Flynn, of Maryland Council, Baltimore; Louis H. Callahan, of Emmitsburg; John McE. Wilson, of Frederick; and William F. McWilliams, of Annapolis; also a number of the officers and members of the various councils of District No. 2, and from Baltimore and Washington.

Emmitsburg was represented by about thirty members not including the candidates.

Valley Echoes

Miss Gertrude McManus, '16, is spending some time in Atlantic City.

Miss M. Floyd Miller, '12, Richmond, Va., has commenced a course in voice culture under the direction of Prof. Marcus Kellerman.

Mrs. Mary Rogers Fitzsimmons, '16, Baltimore, recently spent an afternoon at her Alma Mater. The girls heartily welcomed the bride.

The senior examination in Journalism proved not only successful but most interesting. It is with regret that the subject is terminated.

Tennis is in again! The courts are ever occupied. The collegians look forward to something snappy in the way of finals later in the Spring.

Miss Vincentia Sebold, '09, who is in training at Providence Hospital, Washington, D. C., paid a visit to her Alma Mater during her few days stay in Emmitsburg.

Miss Mary Shannon Webster, Smith College, '17, who last fall paid a visit to St. Joseph's is doing Red Cross Work in a French Canteen, according to a full page report in The Syracuse Herald. The account of her patriotic service has greatly interested the Seniors who remembered meeting her with pleasure and found many friends in common.

Sunday evening, the senior class read the second scholastic theses on the threefold subject: Education, Imagination and Poetry. The discussions were: Education, the Great Romance of Life, Miss Kathryn Gloninger; The Uses and Power of Imagination, Miss Marie Louise Pattison; Romanticism in Poetry, Miss Marion Flanagan; Thought, The Keynote to Education; An Appreciation of Poetry, Miss Elise Kalbach; Education, Imagination and Poetry, Miss Anna Hall.

R. M. Reilly, Esq., Lancaster, Pa., a graduate of Mount St. Mary's and a friend of the Valley, received a cablegram from Rome, designating him a Knight of St. Gregory. Mr. Reilly is an uncle of Miss Alice C. Barry, '18. The Class of 1918 offer congratulations.

On Thursday, April 18th, the Senior Musicales was held with great success. Miss Barry displayed advantageously her coloratura quality in Randegger's Marnella. This selection was in contrast to her first number in which the legato element was evident. In her second group of songs, Miss Barry sang the Rondel de l'Adieu with becoming pathos, and in response to repeated calls gave two delightful character numbers.

In Bizet's Habanera, Miss Hall's heavy mezzo was enthusiastically received. Her French number, Sur l'aile d'un rêve, added to her linguistic laurels. By the versatility displayed in her rendition of Braga's Santa Lucia, Miss Hall gave the audience a pleasant surprise. Clough-Leiter's Shadow's Ladies was one of her dainty encores.

Miss Kalbach's mastery and excellent interpretation of Scena and Canzonetta from "Denorah" was much appreciated. She was particularly successful in her charming rendition of a group of Carpenter's Childhood Character Songs. A bit of patriotism was added to the program in her last number, "When the Boys Come Home," to which she was obliged to respond with repeated encores.

The trios given by the vocalists formed a delightful digression from the solo nature of the program.

Miss Flanagan distinguished herself by her rendition of Aria on the G String, her second violin number, and in her brilliant interpretation on the piano of Hoffman's Valse Caprice, op. 53.

Among the guests at the Musicales: Miss M. Stella McBride, Prof. and Mrs. John Crumlish, Rev. John McGovern, Rev. P. A. Coad, Mrs. Annie Oldenburg Ritter, Miss Pauline Smith, Miss Florence Delone.

At the home of Mrs. W. L. Sayers, 23 Rutland Road, Brooklyn, N. Y., a card party for War Relief, was held on Tuesday afternoon, April ninth. In addressing the guests, the Regent, Mrs. John Manuel Alvarez, said: "Ladies, for the third time this season, the New York Chapter of the Alumnae Association of St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, Maryland, has gathered with its friends for War Relief work. As most of you know the proceeds of my party and Mrs. Sheeran's were used to purchase Trench Mass Kits. Our faithful friend, Mrs. Sayers, a resident of New York City has upheld the honor of our Chapter in the present Knights of Columbus War Drive, by forwarding $50.00 to the Cathedral on the prospect of success today. This American spirit of not admitting the possibility of failure is the spirit that must win the war. I congratulate both Mrs. Sayers, Sr. and Mrs. Sayers, Jr. upon their admirable loyalty and courage. As our Chapter is second to none in its ambitious attempts, I call upon the members for a volunteer hostess for the fourth card party to be given during the week beginning April 22nd, the proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of a Liberty Bond.

Our Treasurer, Mrs. Edgar G. Criswell, will receive here today the names of any one present who wishes to buy a Liberty Bond through the Wilson College Club. Mrs. Criswell is in charge of the booth two days a week. The booth is at Sixth Ave. and Ninth St. Your bank will arrange the terms of the purchase even for a fifty dollar bond, on the installment plan. Therefore if you have not already placed your Third Liberty Bond, I ask you to consider buying one through Mrs. Criswell. No public meeting this month is truly American if the Chairman does not urge the audience to buy bonds. Therefore I have asked Mrs. Sheeran to speak to you on the subject of the Third Liberty Loan.

Miss Mary Welty of 500 Clinton St., Brooklyn, N. Y., very gladly offered her home for the fourth card party to be held on Wednesday, April 24th.

Mrs. Clara Douglas Sheeran's Address.

Ladies: It is a sacred privilege to voice the call of our Government for Third Liberty Loan. With the ringing words of our great War President still fresh in our memories we need no urging to be among the honor citizens of this nation dedicated to the cause of righting the world's wrongs.

Liberty Bonds are a safe investment for behind the principal and interest are all the wealth and resources of this country. Such securities should satisfy even the most cautious business mind.

Liberty Bonds are a necessary investment. Those who think must reason. If we do not send a fully equipped army and navy to fight for peace we may have to accept terms such as were forced upon Belgium or Russia; and who can say what would then be the value of any investment we now hold. Peace might not then mean peace such as we know it now. So the logical mind will realize the necessity of an over-subscribed Liberty Loan.

Liberty Bonds are a patriotic investment. Let not the horrors of war and the material strain and stress of the times dim the glorious ideals we have ever held for our country. The sooner we win the war, the fewer lives will be lost. We must learn economy. We must learn thrift. We must learn to do without. The time has come when service means sacrifice. Think of the mothers who are waiting breathlessly the result of this Liberty Loan. Do they not know in their hearts that it means food and shelter, blankets and clothing, gas masks and ammunition, hospital and medical supplies, surgeons and nurses for the boys who were once safe at their breasts? Are we not all in a larger sense mothers to these American boys who have gone to fight the power of evil?

It is not so very long ago, that this country was pro German or pro-Ally. There were Pacifists and Fire-eaters and all sorts of Obstructionists. Today, we have Aliens and Apathists. The Government deals with the former, but it is our duty to arouse the latter from indifference. Because the war is three thousand miles away and perhaps no near relative is in the service the horror is not brought home to some individuals. If we cannot influence their selfishness at least we can solemnly warn them to refrain from discouraging remarks. "He who is not with Me is against Me." Can the Government long overlook those who are not with it? Therefore, let no slighting word go unchallenged, for war is upon us.

Ladies, I call upon you to subscribe to the Third Liberty Loan. There is no better way to help. Scattered efforts will not end the war. Your country asks the loan, only the loan of your money for what she needs. In the words of our Honored President—"Force, Force to the utmost, Force without stint or limit, the righteous and triumphant Force which shall make Right the law of the world and cast every selfish dominion down in the dust."

CLARA DOUGLAS SHEERAN.

Constipation and Indigestion.

These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person.

MARYLAND TOWNS WIN HONOR FLAG

MANY SUBSCRIBE QUOTAS

Patriotic Competition Among Communities Of The State In Selling Liberty Bonds.

One by one Maryland towns are rapidly falling into line in the growing procession of patriotic communities of the land that have won the privilege of flying the Liberty Loan Honor Flag by subscribing to the full quota of third issue bonds that they have been assigned to buy.

Already a number of Maryland towns are proudly flying the Liberty Loan Honor flag, signifying the fact that they have subscribed their quotas. Spurred on by the example of these honor towns, other communities in Maryland have instituted a sharp competition for the distinction of being the next to fall into line and thereby obtain the right to fly the Honor flag.

Pikesville, Baltimore county, was the first Maryland town to receive official notice from Governor Seay, of the Fifth District Reserve Bank, that it had been awarded the Liberty Loan Honor Flag.

Ridgely, was the first town in Caroline county to go over its quota with a total of $15,900 representing 192 subscribers, while Federalsburg was the second with $60,000 representing 460 subscribers.

Reisterstown, Baltimore county, has run close to its allotment of $36,000. Thirty-one thousand dollars of this amount was subscribed at a meeting held last week at the Franklin High School.

Such effective work is being done in the counties in the drive that Baltimore will have to look to its laurels if it expects to outdo the rural districts in subscribing to this bond.

For the purpose of bringing every person in the counties into direct touch with the Liberty Loan, a speakers' tour has been arranged by the Liberty Loan county chairmen. These speakers will tour several of the counties, stopping en route at various towns to deliver patriotic addresses and to secure subscriptions to the Loan. The speakers who will make this tour will include some of Maryland's most prominent men, and they will be accompanied on their tour by Farson's band and a military quartette, which together will furnish plenty of patriotic music. It is expected that all the towns which will be visited, will turn out in full force to greet the Liberty Loan speakers, and will put their patriotism to a practical test by subscribing largely to the Loan.

Work being done by the members of the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee for Maryland is noteworthy. More than one million dollars of Maryland's quota has already been raised by the Woman's Committee, and indications are that Maryland's fair sex will far exceed their quota in this loan drive. Reports from the Women's Liberty Loan Chairmen for the various counties show excellent results being gained throughout the State. Baltimore county woman's committee has reported subscriptions amounting to over $300,000; Anne Arundel county, of which Mrs. Theodore Johnson is chairman, reports $47,500 raised by the women of that county and Harford county, of which Mrs. Herman Stump is chairman, has secured through its women Liberty Loan workers, $20,000. Other women county chairmen are reporting equally as splendid results. In order that every woman in every county in the State can be brought into personal touch with this loan drive a flying squadron of women Liberty Loan speakers and bond salesmen will this week make a tour of every county in this State, visiting the largest towns in each county and stopping en route at farm houses and small villages for the purpose of stimulating this drive for war funds for Uncle Sam. The automobiles which will carry these women into the heart of every county in the State, will be gaily decorated with Liberty Loan posters and flags so that it is expected that they will attract much attention as they whirl along the country roads delivering their message of practical patriotism to the rural folk.

Fuel Value of Coal Lessened.

Careful estimates made by the director of the bureau of mines and his associates indicate that while last year's coal output of 600,000,000 tons will probably be increased to 650,000,000 tons this year, the effectiveness of this fuel will be equivalent to a production of normally prepared coal aggregating only 570,000,000 tons. The reason for this surprising discrepancy is that much of the coal is not being prepared with the usual care. It is calculated that there is 5 per cent more ash content in this year's coal than in that of previous years. In other words, approximately 600,000 carloads of ash are being added to the burden borne by the railways.

It has been shown that the inclusion of 5 per cent more ash in the coal means a reduction in efficiency in the remaining good coal of 7 1/2 per cent. Stating the case another way, the total reduction in the coal's effectiveness is 12 1/2 per cent.
