EMMITSBURG WINS FREDERICK COUNTY LEAGUE PENNANT

Boys Play a Wonderful Game While
2,500 Fans With Their Husky Voices
Root for Their Favorite Team.

About 6000 enthusiastic fans saw Emmitsburg defeat Brunswick in the third and deciding game of an extra series of three, for the championship of the county league, at McCurdy Field Saturday afternoon, 11 to 5. The North county men won batting rally in the third, sixth and ninth innings when nine runs were chalked up after two had been retired. Carmel Warthen, who succeeded Slaybaugh in the fifth, held Brunswick to one hit and kept the railroaders from scoring the remaining four innings. It was the first pennant for Emmitsburg in the seven years of the County League, and the victorious team was given a demonstration at home.

About 400 fans from Emmitsburg and the same number from Brunswick cheered themselves hoarse for their respective teams. Delegations were also on hand from Thurmont, Woodsboro, Yellow Springs, Mt. Airy, Middletown and Myersville, the other towns of the County League. The crowd was the largest that ever witnessed an amateur game in this city. Emmitsburg outdid their opponents early three to one. Slaybaugh, who led the Railroaders to four hits gave way to Warthen after Brunswick scored twice in the fourth. M. J. Thompson, president of the league, John H. Rosensteel, president of the Emmitsburg club; H. C. Bickel, president of the Brunswick club; David Cramer, president of the Frederick Blue Ridge Baseball Association and the presidents and directors of the other clubs and a large number of invited guests witnessed the game from boxes in the grand stand.

Slaybaugh held the Railroaders to two hits up to the fourth when a pair of singles netted one run.

The North countians scored twice in the first two on hits. With one down Zimmerman was passed. A. Rosensteel and Slaybaugh then hit safely, Brunswick went out in one, two three order, Emmitsburg chalked up another in the second on a hit by Rosensteel, which took a bad hop at third, a sacrifice by Burroughs and a sacrifice fly by Fitz.

The railroaders counted three in the second when Smith and Phillips walked.

Orrison singled and a fly to right field by Huffer was misjudged by Fitz.

With two down in the third, A. Rosensteel was safe on a fielder's choice, Slaybaugh walked, and singles by J. Rosensteel, Burroughs and Fitz netted five runs. Brunswick scored one in the fourth when Cornelius reached first on an error by Sites, stole second and scored on P. Orrison's line drive to Sites, which the latter dropped. The Railroaders put across their last run in the fourth on singles by C. Orrison and Huffer. Boyle retired the side by three catches in left field.

With two down in the sixth hits by Boyle Rosensteel, and Slaybaugh three more for Emmitsburg. The North countians chalked up their last pair in the ninth when Zimmerman, first up singled over third and a single by Slaybaugh and a poor throw to first by Fleetwood, Slaybaugh and Rosensteel led at bat for Emmitsburg with three timely hits each, Orrison and Huffer with two safeties made four out of five for Brunswick.

Emmitsburg's Ball Club To Be Given Banquet

Formal Reception for Victorious County League Team

Never has this town been so keyed up over an organization as it is over the baseball club of this year. The name of each and every member of the team, with the name of the manager, Lawrence L. Mondorff will occupy a prominent place in the local hall of fame for years to come for the younger generation to look up to.

For seven years, Emmitsburg being one of the charter members of the league, the local baseball players, under the guidance of competent managers, have looked forward to a pennant-winning combination. From the opening of the present season it appeared as though the boys in this northern end of the county had hit their stride and with the hearty cooperation of every member of the community they came through with flying colors.

That the effort of the boys was appreciated was clearly demonstrated on last Saturday evening, when the team returned from Frederick after tucking the pennant away by defeating Brunswick. The entire community acted as a receiving committee and what a reception the boys received!

WOMENS' CLUB RESUME OF ACTIVITIES

After Two Month's Idleness the Rural Womens' Clubs Again Function

After two months' vacation the Rural Women's Club held their first meeting on Thursday, September 15 at the home of Mrs. Harry Boyle. The meeting was opened by singing "Mendelssohn's Song Without Words." Mrs. Boyle was present. The roll call was responded to with "One thing I do to keep well". The club planned to have Mrs. Frances Kaspar Lawson of Washington, to give a vocal recital some time in October. Miss Helen Pearson, Home Demonstrator gave a most interesting talk on the "Human Machine". The hostess served very delicious refreshments. The club adjourned to meet September 29 at the home of Mrs. William H. Treiber. Mrs. Andrew Annan, Chair man of American Citizenship and Legislation will be in charge of the program. Mrs. Charles Ellicott, President and Miss Lavinia Engle, State Manager of the Maryland League of Women voters, will be the speakers.

Songs of Plain Folks

Playing House
By James Lewis Hays

The corn crib's empty—sister's playing house.
She's entertaining—Hear that grown-up tone?
Let's pay a call. (Knock, knock!) The little mouse
Is quiet now. Thought she was all alone.
Why How-da-do! Dear Mrs. Thingumbob,
We walked right in, we couldn't find the knob!

Do meet Miss Whatchacallit. She's my guest
And this is Mr. Barker. She! Get down!
(He has peculiar ways.) Oh yes, we'll rest.
This chair is fine. Why, what a lovely gown!
You have the nicest things! This china, too.
Cracked? Oh, that's stylish—let's the sunbeams through!

Tea? Thanks! I'll take one little tiny cup.
One lump—here Mr. Barker, can't you wait?
For goodness' sake, don't sniff just like a pup!
We must be going. My, these cakes are great!
Dear Hostess, you're as pretty as a dream.
Mud pies? I love them! Give me lemon cream.

MOUNT ST. MARY'S FOOTBALL TEAM HARD AT WORK.

Two Weeks of Preliminary Training
Puts Squad in Fine Shape for Tomorrow's Game.

After two weeks of preliminary practice the Mount St. Mary's College football squad, under the direction of Coach Arthur H. Malloy is now down to real work and beginning with this afternoon's work-out session. The squad is in order. Due to the excessive heat, Coach Malloy has not been able to drive the candidates as he planned. Outside of the barest preliminaries, such as forward passing, punting and signaling drills, very little hard work has been indulged in so far. With cooler weather in store, tackling the dummy and daily scrimmages will be order so as to get the squad in condition for the first game which is booked for Saturday, October 1st, with Catholic University at Washington. Edward Abbaticchio, captain of the 1925 team, has been assisting Coach Malloy for the past two weeks in the preliminary training, and has been a wonderful help to the Mountaineer mentor. Abby will leave the squad on Sunday for Washington where he will resume his medical studies at Georgetown University.

Altho, it is a little early to make any prediction on the kind of a team the Mountaineer institution will send to the gridiron, the spirit and earnestness of the 40 candidates out daily on Echo Field gives every indication that Malloy will have a mighty fine combination. The boys show their alertness, even during the hot weather that they have been taking pretty good care of themselves during the vacation period. Even in spasmodic drives, the boys come out of the task showing very little effects and finish up the days work by trotting around the field at a lively gate.

NEW STEEL STAIRWAY AT MOUNT ST. MARY'S

Improvements Made at Mount St. Mary's College During Summer
Vast Improvements still are being made at Mount St. Mary's College here, and recently a high steel stairway was erected in the senior department, estimated to have cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. During the summer a concrete walk was laid from this building to the music hall. The "Mount" most assuredly has been making rapid progress in the last few years, not only in so far as improvements are concerned but the steady growth of students each year is a criterion of the sturdy strides, which the famous institution has been making.

Yes—We Have Some Baseball Players!

Aftermath of County Victors' Performances on Diamond

Having won, for the first time in the history of the Frederick County League, a pennant for Emmitsburg, and after the hardest battle in the experience of that circuit, it is only to be expected that some means should be taken to present the players and officers of the club at their real value. The mere fact that they won the pennant is probably the best proof of their ability but this paper takes this article as a way to bestow the praise due to the contestants, individually.

A large measure of the success is due the loyal rooters who followed the team during the entire campaign and through whose hearty cooperation and unstinted backing many handicaps were overcome. The usual dismal sighs were missing when the home club was on the short end of the score. They had given way to the most inspiring cheering which could emanate from a crowd.

The fact that he and he alone, of the local team, was the only one selected by someone for that certain someone's (identity unknown) All-Star Team is probably the highest acclaim that could be given him. When it is noted that that someone's apparent active and vehement animosity was so great that he overlooked all the other members of the local squad for his first team, Allen Rosensteel's true worth is realized immediately.

No one can, and it is believed no one cares, to question the value which young Carmel Warthen was to the club. His record is greatly enhanced when it is taken into consideration the numerous times that he has pitched.

The outfield combination of Joe Rosensteel, Brooke Boyle, William Cadle and Maurice Fitz cannot be too highly commended. The first two mentioned finished the season in first and second places respectively in the batting averages of the team and the hits off the bats of the other two coming at opportune times, figured largely in the scoring. Their performance in the field was at a par with any outfield in the League. They made many spectacular catches at advantageous times and figured greatly in checking rallies.

Gene Burroughs' exhibition behind the bat was a fine piece of work. He acquired a knowledge of his opponents' weaknesses at bat on their early trips to the plate and could dispose of them easily at later stages of the game.

Leonard Zimmerman's hitting and speed on the bases were prominent factors in the victories of his team. Many close games were decided when an extra base was taken or a sacrifice play was executed successfully as he was the best exponent of the squeeze play.

Art Slaybaugh's presence added great strength to the team in more ways than one. His efficiency as a pitcher removed a great burden from the shoulders of Carmel Warthen who had it not been for Art, would have had to carry the brunt of the pitching assignments. Dexterity in the infield and outfield as well as proficiency at the bat were other of his various qualifications.

Two other Fairfield boys, Jim Swope and Stewart Sites, played bang-up base ball in the infield and although Sites was rather weak at the plate, he made many plays in the field which substantiated his position on the club. Jim Swope, one of the Big Four among the hitters, was an extremely dangerous man at bat and caused many a pitcher to fear for his game. It can also be said that Jim was no slouch in the field, holding down the hot corner with marvelous precision.

"Pete" Polsen, Donald Harner, Ray Keepers and Ben Sebold came in for their share of the laurels. In their positions as substitutes they were always ready for play and never at any time could they be found wanting for failure to encourage or cheer the players. When a team comes in off the field after a bad inning a word of encouragement has a wonderful effect and goes a long way in preserving the morale of the team.

DEMOCRATIC OFFICE- HOLDERS EXPECTED TO RETIRE SHORTLY

Many Democratic City Government
Officeholders Expected to Retire
Within the Next Two Weeks

By Paul Winchester and Grafton Lee
Brown

The prospective retirement from the city government of the democratic officials, who have been the heads of the many departments during the administration of Mayor Jackson, is the chief subject of discussion among all citizens who are interested in the management of municipal affairs, and the really vast amount of business connected with the City Hall. And all these changes will take place within the next two weeks, and the entire personnel will become republican, for there is no doubt but that Mayor Broening will replace all with members of his own party.

When it is realized that the city government expends during every year from fifty to one hundred millions of dollars, it can be understood how great is the importance of all that is done in and through the departments, the management of which will pass completely into new hands on the first of next month. It is true all this change is made without serious friction, that the subordinates who really do all the work, go on as usual about their duties, and the great number of changes and removals, are brought into effect so gradually that the public generally is not cognizant of any difference. As a matter of fact, governmental functions are now so stabilized and standardized, that they practically run themselves—they go on in practically the same way, no matter who may be in charge.

With the idea that they are going to revolutionize the whole business, they soon give all that up, and go on as their predecessors have done, and whatever changes they may make in the end, vary from the others in such a slight degree that they are scarcely noticeable, even to those who may be in close contact with them. As an instance, the loudly heralded changes in the management of affairs brought about by the work of the Efficiency and Economy Commission, have been so merked with the system they were expected to supersede, that their effect is really negligible. And now, to cap the climax, the outstanding features of the plan are to be done away with, and the old system is to be restored. Mayors may change, heads of departments may change, but the same old routine of city administration goes on, as it has gone on, for generations. The only real changes are those brought about and necessitated by the changes incident to the vast growth of the functions of all governmental processes. And when Mayor Broening has placed republicans in the departments, now headed by democrats and those department heads have supplanted, a striking feature which will indicate that the republicans and not democrats are in control, will be the presence in some of the minor positions, of a few decent, intelligent, competent and self-respecting colored men, who will be there as a reward for work done during the campaign for the party which set them free. "Vote for the party which set you free," has been one of their slogans, ever since they were enfranchised, and when it is observed that their allotment of office is not at all commensurate with what they are entitled to from their numerical strength as republican voters, the wonder is, that more has not been given them, by those who have been placed in power by their votes.

Larry Mondorff and Chick Rowe, can not be too highly rated. The latter was also of value to the team in role of pinch hitter and relief catcher and his knowledge of the game was a necessary part of the get up of the team. Manager Mondorff who piloted the club throughout the hectic season did his duty as he thought best and his fine bits of masterminding and acquaintance with the weak and strong points of his players was the deciding factor in the capture of the

John W. McFadden, son of the late Charles and Sarah McFadden, widely known in Frederick County, died suddenly Tuesday night September 20, of heart disease at his home Waveland, in Holmesburg, Phila. He was 73 years old.

Mr. McFadden was through his mother a descendant of old Emmitsburg families and one of the oldest alumni of Mt. St. Mary's College. For some years he made his home at Trevanion Mills, near Taneytown, and later at Frederick. He was a keen student and collector of the history of Emmitsburg and of Frederick and Carroll Counties generally and was a frequent visitor to Emmitsburg where he had many friends.

Mr. McFadden was associated with his father in the railroad building firm of Charles McFadden & Sons and later was the head of a hardware and railway supply house in Philadelphia. He retired from business many years ago.

The funeral will be held Saturday from St. Dominic's Church, Holmesburg.

MANY DEMOCRATS TO RESIGN

Mayor Broening has kept his own counsel, and there has been no authorized public announcement as to those who are to receive appointments at his hands. It is the general understanding however, that he is selecting his new heads of departments on his own responsibility while he is conferring with some of the leaders of his party, he is submitting to no dictation. He is abundantly able to do this, for his four years as mayor only a short time ago enable him to understand what he ought to do—he also understands that no matter who may be his advisors, he cannot shift the responsibility to other shoulders, that the responsibility to the public is his and his alone, and not that of any one else, or any coterie of advisors, whether of politicians or business men, no matter how high their standing may be, as citizens or business men. No difference whom he may place in office, it is an old, and true saying that for every job holder he puts in he will find that the result will be he will have to deal with one ingrate and at least nine enemies. And, as there are literally thousands of applicants for the places he will have to most difficult problem to solve. Owing to the great depression in the labor market, the number of people out and lay... now the government reports state that in Baltimore alone, there are over one hundred thousand men out of work, and the outlook is becoming darker and darker every day.

Girls Shun Architecture

One has to read this twice to believe it.

Out of something over 5,000 United States college students who answered a questionnaire as to their life ambitions, not a single girl wanted to be an architect. Although they wanted to be everything else on earth—everything except soldiers and architects.

It would seem that one of the greatest jobs any woman could undertake would be architecture. Especially of private residences. After all, the designing of a residence is just putting a wall around a house-keeping job. And the architect who makes the plans usually has women to deal with as cash customers. All that a man ever does with a new house is to explain how he would like to have the den and then finds out there isn't going to be any den.—Los Angeles Times.

Andre's Fatal Error

THE confiscation of a Hessian uniform coat by a straggling follower of the American Revolutionary army saved Washington's struggling forces from the designs of the traitor, Benedict Arnold.

One dark night in September, 1780, Arnold, who was then in command at West Point, met Major John Andre, adjutant general of the British army, on the banks of the Hudson river near Stony Point. There they discussed Arnold's treasonous plan to turn over Hudson valley to the British by surrendering West Point, which, with the successes just attained by the British in the south, they believed, would destroy American hopes. Next day Andre intended returning to the British sloop, Vulture, anchored in the river, but American batteries began firing on her and his boatman, Joshua Smith, refused to row him out.

To escape this dangerous predicament, Andre started on the journey to British headquarters in New York overland. As he was nearing Tarrytown and safety, Andre was suddenly confronted by three armed men. One of them wore a Hessian uniform coat. That led Andre into his fatal error. He concluded these were British soldiers and cried out that he was a British officer. Then to his dismay he discovered they were Americans.

Andre begged, threatened and offered a huge ransom but in vain. The men searched him and papers in Arnold's handwriting were found in his stockings. The prisoner was turned over to an American officer, who sent a letter to Arnold, telling of the capture, unaware as yet of Arnold's implication. The papers were dispatched to General Washington.

It so happened that General Washington had unexpectedly arrived on the Hudson. He had sent Alexander Hamilton and others of his staff ahead to breakfast with Arnold. The message telling of Andre's arrest reached Arnold at the table. He folded the paper, excused himself and hastened to his room. There he told his beautiful wife of his impending ruin and left her weeping with their child. He made good his escape. Andre was hanged.

John Paulding, David Williams and Isaac Van Wert were the Americans who captured Andre. Each received a medal and an annual pension of $500 but their fame was dimmed somewhat when it developed that the three soldiers but army stragglers, apparently devoid of patriotism, Andre testified that they were willing to be bribed but he could find no way to insure payment of the money he promised them.

Make Your Aprons of Paper

A DOZEN basting stitches, a half roll of cheap crinkled crepe paper, and an apron is made which never knows the labor of ironing or washing day. Its life is shorter than cotton, but its expense is infinitely less, and its labor is nil.

A half roll is taken for the skirt, a double band for the waist. A small section for the bib and two crinkled straps frilled at the edges make quick decoration to take the place of lace or embroidery. There is enough paper left from the single inexpensive roll to make another shorter apron.

The new paper table cloths are also a great saving in ironing, and they can be purchased in packages of one dozen, with the varied designs of linen cloths put into them.

Crepe paper dust caps are a better protection to the hair while cleaning than those made of loosely woven cotton. We also get the message that at the smart boarding and day schools the little girls are wearing generous bows on their hair of bright crepe paper to take the place of expensive ribbons. The bows are first made and then fastened to the hair with the usual small comb or loop of tape.

THE CENTENARY EXHIBITION AND PAGEANT OF THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD SEPTEMBER 24 - OCTOBER 8 AT BALTIMORE, MD.

THE "TOM THUMB"—FIRST AMERICAN BUILT LOCOMOTIVE—1829.

"THE FAIR OF THE IRON HORSE." THE CENTENARY EXHIBITION AND PAGEANT OF THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY TO BE HELD IN A SUBURB OF BALTIMORE (HALETHORPE), MARYLAND, FROM SEPTEMBER 24TH TO OCTOBER 8TH, 1927. WILL BE A PUBLIC AFFAIR TO WHICH EVERYBODY IS CORDIALLY INVITED.

There will be no admission charge of any kind or special invitation required.

The President, Directors and Officers of the Company extend a hearty general invitation to everyone.

The exposition will be open from ten o'clock in the morning until six o'clock in the evening. The Pageant will be held in the afternoon. There will be a grandstand for viewing this feature, in addition to ample standing room on the lawn.

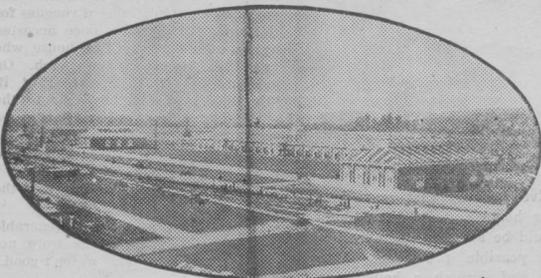

Seats in the grandstand will be reserved free on application to the Centenary Director, Room 1204, Baltimore and Ohio General Offices, Baltimore, Maryland.

TRAFFIC BUILDING

Shows the Co-operative Activities of the Baltimore and Ohio.

In the Traffic Building, somewhat smaller than the Hall of Transportation, but just as beautiful, will be shown some of the co-operative activities of the railroad—the scientific location of industries, the development of geological resources and increasing the productivity of the soil by working with the farmers; "Safety First" and other kindred movements.

In the center will be located an elaborate model of the Locust Point elevator of the Baltimore and Ohio, one of the largest, most efficient and rapid grain handling plants in the world. Shipping of grain to vessels loading at eight different berths over most distant berth, has been made at the rate of 150,000 bushels per hour, while the unloading of cars at the same time over the four automatic car dumpers has averaged eight minutes a car on each dumper, or a total of about 60,000 bushels of grain received per hour. The entire plant is operated by electricity.

By the north wall there will be exhibits showing the agricultural and industrial development of the Baltimore and Ohio, displaying some of the literature used to help farmers and industries to do better and more business.

Other spaces in the building will be devoted to the employees' magazine, freight and passenger department exhibits, including a detailed display of old and new tickets and time tables.

In this building will be seen an exhibit of unusual interest and import-a gallery system of 2,500 feet to the apex, showing in an elaborate and attractive manner the facilities offered by the Company to its employees to acquire their own homes and to secure other benefits through the Relief Department. This will be a unique exhibit containing many electrical attachments in connection with its various moving features. Its conception and design are most unusual.

Allied Services Building
In another structure, the Allied Services Building, will be shown the principal associated services of railroads, including the telegraph, telephone, express, railway mail service, etc.

The Western Union Telegraph Company will furnish a display tracing the evolution of the telegraph from the crudest beginnings to the present. Among other interesting devices will be shown the original instrument by which the inventor, Prof. S. F. B. Morse, transmitted the first telegraph message in America "What Hat, God Wrought" from Washington to Baltimore in 1844 over the wires along the Baltimore and Ohio's right-of-way. There will also be a cable transmission machine attached to the London cable, over which news can be sent to and from the English metropolis.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company will furnish an exhibit demonstrating the important work of the train dispatcher, the "eyes of the railroad," who has control over every train running over the district assigned to him for surveillance. This display will also include a historic collection of telephones, showing the great advances made in this means of wire communication. The original switch-board used for the first time in the United States will be put in actual operation.

The Federal Post-Office Department has prepared an elaborate exhibit showing the close co-operation of the railroads in the rapid and efficient movement of the mails by rail.

Another section will be turned over to a reproduction of the steps in the growth of the express industry. This exhibit will be furnished by the American Railway Express Company.

Early Cradle Formed From Hollowed Log

Cradles, in their earliest form, were merely logs, scooped out to form more or less comfortable resting places for babies. They were without rockers, since the natural shape of the logs made their use unnecessary. Cradles have varied with different modes of living and reflect in their diversity of form and adornment the progress of the cabinetmaker's art. The Romans are said to have used cradles of considerable refinement, but after the decline of the empire, accompanied as it was with the decay of living, the cradle, with other furniture forms, assumed a crude and humble aspect. One of the early forms of the cradle was the oaken chest without a lid. Baskets of osiers were sometimes used, in which the child, wrapped in swaddling clothes, was placed. The American cradle of oak in the Metropolitan museum in New York dates from the early Seventeenth century. Fabulous wealth and the skill of the greatest craftsmen have been lavished on the cradles of royal children throughout history. These important beds have been gilded and carved, intricately inlaid with gold and gems, upholstered in the choicest silks and fitted with the most sumptuous of coverings of velvet and fur.—Dorothy Bent, in Art and Decoration.

Saving Search

The kind woman noticed an old man, whose right leg was gone, standing on a street corner with a perplexed look on his face.

"My poor man," she said, "are you lost?"

"No, ma'am," he replied. "I'm looking for a feller that got his left leg shot off in battle."

"What is his name?"

"I don't know that," was the reply, "but he wears a number ten shoe."

"For heaven's sake, if you don't know who he is, how do you know he wears a number ten shoe?"

"I ain't sure he does, but it stands to reason that if he don't, one or t'other of us is going to have trouble with his bunions. Lady, I'm looking for a right-legged feller to go partners with on a new pair of shoes."

Found Out
Dr. F. X. tells of a woman who told her physician of her pain and symptoms, forgetting none. At the end of the recitation the doctor told how old she was. She replied that she was forty. Deciding that look at her blood pressure might be in a diagnosis the doctor made preparations for same, attaching the rubber part of the testing machine to her arm. Turning her head to witness the demonstration, the now much alarmed patient, noted the meter rapidly rising, thirty, thirty-five, thirty, when she interrupted the doctor with, "Oh, I'm sorry; I see you can find out my age with that machine. I am already forty-eight."—Boston Globe.

Marvelous Stone Car in Old Indian Temple
When the Mohammedans invaded the kingdom of Vijayanagar in the Sixteenth century, they wrought tremendous havoc on all the great buildings of that great city, says a writer in a Calcutta paper. Today, as one rambles over it, there is hardly to be seen a structure that does not show evidence of the iconoclastic proclivities of the invaders.
It is interesting to note that one of the unique structures among the ruins, a temple car made of stone, has apparently been untouched. This is the more striking as the temple, in the courtyard of which the car stands, has been terribly treated, some of the finest carving in the whole city being broken and shattered out of all shape. This car is to be found in the vicinity of the Vitthalaswami temple, not far from the river.
After first appearance one is inclined to think the car has been carved out of a solid block of stone, but a closer examination shows this is not so. The joints between the various parts are wonderfully well done, and unless one looks at the structure carefully it is not surprising the impression of solidity should be given. The pilgrims who visit the place believe that they obtain merit by turning round the wheels, which are also made of stone. As a result of this devotion the axle has become very much worn. Two elephants of stone stand in front of the car.

Simple Way to Prove Truth of Old Saying
Our community chuckles over this story of our old grocery-man who caught a canny customer in her own net.
Mrs. McKinley came into his store one day with a pat of delicious-looking butter, and said: "Mr. Paul, I have some butter here I would like to exchange for some other. You see, a mouse fell into my sour cream jar and drowned. I took it right out and the cream wasn't hurt, but knowing of the accident, I can't eat the butter. Won't you give me some in its place? Other folks won't know about the mouse, and what you don't know doesn't hurt you."
"I shouldn't like to disoblige an old customer," Mr. Paul replied, and taking the butter, disappeared in the rear of the store. There he carefully re-wrapped the butter in another paper, took it to the front, and handed it to the woman.
Mrs. McKinley thanked him volubly, and he said reflectively, "Yes, yes, it is quite true that what you don't know doesn't hurt you."—Capper's Weekly.

Always Stiff and Achy?
Too Often This Warns of Sluggish Kidney Action.
LAME? Stiff? Achy? Sure your kidneys are working right? Sluggish kidneys allow waste poisons to remain in the blood and are apt to make one languid, tired and achy, with often dull headaches, dizziness and nagging backache. That the kidneys are not acting right is often shown by scanty or burning secretions. If you have reason to believe your kidneys are acting sluggishly, use Doan's Pills. Doan's stimulate the kidneys and thus assist in eliminating waste impurities. Users everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Ups and Downs
Dr. Marvin Shie, who, at the American Medical association's convention in Washington, exposed the danger to the health of tattooed permanent flushes and tattooed red lips, said at a dinner in Cleveland:
"Our beauty doctors sometimes damage a woman's constitution as much as her bank account."
"I heard a story the other day. A man said:
"I understand that Mrs. Maturin Mayhew, the society leader, has had her face lifted."
"Is that so?" said a second man. "I don't see any difference."
"Well," said the first man, "it fell again, I hear, when the beauty doctor sent in his bill."

Qualified Praise
"Uncle Joe" Cannon's biography, written at his own request by his secretary, L. W. Busbey, is the subject of many amusing anecdotes of American politics. Clinton Brainerd vouches for this one. Cannon was once accosted by a new member of the house who had just made his maiden speech. On being asked if he approved of it, "Uncle" Joe shifted his cigar to the other side of his mouth and answered judicially:
"You said many good things, and many new things."
"Thank you, Mr. Speaker," said the new representative.
"But," continued the venerable speaker, "the good things were not new and the new things weren't good."

Early Form of Banjo
The existence of instruments of the lute or guitar kind implies a certain grade of knowledge and culture among people who know how to stretch strings over soundboards and to determine the required intervals by varying the vibrating length of the strings. Such instruments found in use by savage or very uncivilized peoples suggest their introduction through political or religious conquest by a superior race. The Arabs may thus, or by trade, have bestowed a guitar instrument on the negroes of western Africa and the Senegambian "bania" may be, as Mr. Carl Engel suggests, the parent of the American negro's banjo.

Uncle Sam's Islands
The Philippine Islands were ceded to the United States by the treaty of Paris, December 10, 1898, following the Spanish-American war. By the terms of this treaty the United States paid to Spain $20,000,000 in connection with the relinquishment of all claims to the Philippines, Porto Rico and Guam, and under a later treaty of November 7, 1900, a further payment of $100,000 was made to Spain for the cession to the United States of further islands of the Philippine archipelago.

CELEBRATE THEIR 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Former Well-Known Emmitsburgians Fittingly Celebrate Golden Wedding

For the first time in many memories, Owensville had had a Golden Wedding celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Peddicord were the bride and groom of fifty years ago on Sunday, fifty years ago, Miss Marietta Stauffer, and Michael Peddicord were married, in the old Mountain church, at Emmitsburg. On Sunday morning a special service was held at St. Mary's Church, in honor of their anniversary and Father Duke celebrated High Mass. On Sunday afternoon a beautiful reception was given them at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jno. Connell, in Owensville. The whole family, as far as possible was present, the guests numbering seventy. The nearby neighbors were also present. The house was a bower of flowers and the color scheme of decoration was white and gold. White and gold cakes, and white and golden ice cream were served. The bride of 50 years was the dear little mother, in her white dress and her soft white hair. The groom, though a little bent with the weight of years, was as hearty and happy as a boy. The children were all there—Harry and Will and John Peddicord, and Mrs. Leonard Watts, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Russell Whittington, Mrs. John Connell, and Miss Fannie Peddicord. The last named is the well-known operator at West River central. There are 31 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Peddicord has no brothers or sisters living, but Mrs. Peddicord's sisters were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Peddicord have lived on West River 31 years. Many of us remember a little boy, Cleve, who was run over by an ox cart and died about twenty-five years ago. We wish many years of health and comfort to our good neighbors, to the end of their journey.

In honor of the occasion Mr. Peddicord submitted the excellently written verse that appeared in last weeks Chronicle.

ALL YOU NEED IS A NICKEL

And a Sure-enough Smoke Surprise is Yours

Man, put your hand in your pocket and locate one of those loose nickels! That's all it costs to treat your taste to the most smoke-pleasure 5c ever bought! A fresh, mellow Havana Ribbon cigar for 5c! News? You bet it's news!

Maybe you've tried a lot of 5c cigars that were "said to be worth more." But here's one that sold at a higher price for years! And if it weren't for those same volume sales, the present price of 5c wouldn't be possible. Havana Ribbon is really a fine cigar in every sense of the word. Mellow-as-they-make-em! Made of ripe tobacco. Just friendly—full of joyous fragrance and satisfying body. Now—5c.

But say—just try it. Walk into the nearest cigar store and say "Havana Ribbon!" Lay down a nickel and light up there on the spot. Only a nickel—but it'll set your taste a-purring to pure contentment right from the first puff!

ANYWHERE TO ANYWHERE—BY TELEPHONE

"But

I don't know the Number"

If you want to place a long distance call by the fast "call-by-number" way but don't know the telephone number of the out-of-town party, just ask for "information" and give her the name and address of the person you wish to reach in the distant city.

After she gives you the number, hang up your receiver, wait momentarily, then give the out-of-town telephone number and name of the place you wish to reach to your local operator. For instance, if your call is to New York City, simply say, for example, "I want New York, Morningside 1630." In a few moments, usually while you wait on the line, you will be talking with your party or receive a report.

This service is available on calls by number only. If you want to talk to a particular person, ask for Long Distance in the regular way. Call by number if you possibly can as it is the quickest and cheapest way to telephone to distant points.
