Republicans Show Strength In County

Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

IN THE DOGHOUSE

Ladies and gentlemen, I'm in hot water . . . Aye, in a veritable stew I am . . . My boss came to me with the information that several persons are incensed over my column . . . By way of explanation, here's the story in anything but a nutshell.

You recall that I decided to brush out-of-towners up on current events, new business enterprises, etc., by bringing them accounts of what's going on here in town. Well, I gave "blow by blow" descriptions of all the new restaurants and eating establishments, plus all the new garages and filling stations which have sprung up during the past few years . . . Well, here's what . . . I decided that I would skip a week or two before I mentioned any other new enterprises lest my readers begin to think I was being slipped a few bucks on the side . . . I am seemingly innocent commercial plugs. And what happens? Gad, the complaints start rolling in . . . "What's wrong? My business is new . . . Don't I rate?" or "It seems anything but fair that you don't mention my place. Heaven only knows we're SO new that our establishment is still wearing diapers" . . . And, a few other similar complaints. One was so irate he said, "Not that I care, because confidentially, I think Abigail st—." Cruel world, and after I labor so hard over this column . . .

Seriously though, folks, I didn't mean to show any partiality or to slight any of you . . . I'll get around to you . . . I love's y'all . . . No more, no less . . .

Any of you seen that nice plastic mailbox in front of a certain house on N. Seton Ave. extended? Mighty practical, me thinks. When it's raining or snowing, just stand on the porch and cast a glance out . . . No mail today . . . Consequently, no wet feet for nothing . . .

MY FAVORITE DREAM

Yes, I have a favorite dream, and in it I see our beloved ball game completely surrounded by a stadium built according to the regulations and standards of a stadium like they have in larger places . . . And why not . . .? After the marvelous turnouts at the last two games held on our field I see no reason why we couldn't and shouldn't have one . . . It's time to make certain persons pay to see the games now . . . Those wide open fields make it too easy for too many people to sneak in without the ticket sellers spotting them. Can't you just see a stadium down there? Our own Emmitsburg Stadium . . . Yes, it could be done . . . Of that I'm sure . . . Because Emmitsburg is without a doubt the most baseball loving town I've ever seen . . . There isn't another team in either of the two leagues in which our boys play, that draws the crowds that Emmitsburg does . . .

Speaking of baseball brings to mind something told me by a friend. In the last game when Hank Weaver, Littlestown's ace pitcher, sustained a leg injury and had to be carried off the field, a group of local persons began to applaud in appreciation of the good game Weaver had pitched and Littlestown fan became incensed and in scathing tones hurled the remark at the well-meaning group, "Huh, it certainly isn't very sporting to clap when a player gets hurt, I don't care which side he's on" . . . It was just another case of misconstruing something, but gosh you just can't win, can yuh?

THERE'S A TIME

A certain non-vet should wise up and realize that the kitchen at the club is much too small to house his portly self all the time while the ladies are working in there. I'll admit the young ladies on duty ARE attractive and are pleasant to be around, but after all, a kitchen IS a kitchen . . .

VANDALS TAKE $3,000 WORTH OF FARM EQUIPMENT

Hallowe'en Pranksters Carry Away And Destroy Valuable
Machinery at Thurmont

Vandals carried away well over $3,000 worth of new farm machinery and equipment, apparently as a Hallowe'en prank, from the Farm Equipment Center of Robert K. Remsburg at Thurmont some time Sunday night.

Remsburg, who reported the vandalism at the sheriff's office Monday, said a new hay baler had been located, with one tire flat and possibly other damage done, in the Thurmont vicinity and a lime sower found south of the town.

Mr. Remsburg said state police reported a wagon found on alternate Route 40, between Frederick and Hagerstown. The wagon was reported identified from a label on the side as belonging to Remsburg.

Remsburg said the machinery was removed from the yard at his property some time Sunday evening or night. It had to be towed away, he said, and he believes several persons are involved. Although neither authorities nor Mr. Remsburg considered the case an out-and-out larceny affair, the owner said just as much trouble may result, particularly, if the wagons should not be located or should be found seriously damaged.

It was the only serious depredation to come to the attention of officers Monday morning as the night of Hallowe'en itself passed comparatively quiet, following considerable activity and many pranks Saturday night.

Mayor W. S. Weybright, Thurmont said that while there was considerable corn fodder strewn around the town, no traffic was impeded.

Hallowe'en In Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg celebrated Hallowe'en in an unusual quiet fashion this year. The kiddies threw corn and confetti and, as usual, wore masks and blew horns and other noise makers. A wagon somehow disappeared from the rear of Frailley's Store.

This was the only act of depredation reported.

LIONS CLUB PLANS CHARTER, LADIES' NITE

The next meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club will be held in the White House Inn, Monday, Nov. 8, at 6:15. A program in recognition of Armistice Day will be planned. Guest speaker before the club will be the Rev. Fr. Rhyme of St. Joseph's College faculty.

Visitors to the meeting will include a delegation from the Fairfield Lions Club.

The big meeting of the year will be held November 22, at 6:30 p. m. in the Lutheran Parish Hall. This is the Annual Charter and Ladies' Night. A roast turkey banquet is planned and will be supplemented by an entertainment show. The program as arranged to date includes: amateur magician show, music by a group of St. Joseph's College girls; piano selections by Prof. Wm. Sterbinsky and an old time square dance with Miss Mildred Trevett directing.

HAL'OWE'EN PARTY HELD AT VALTER HOME

A Hallowe'en party was given by Miss Joan Walter at the home of her mother, Mrs. Helen Walter, on Monday. After many games and ghost stories, refreshments were served to Nancy Wachter, Miriam Topper, Maryon Wasilifsky, Marjorie Crist, Dolores Zurgable, Esther Sprinkle, Saranna Miller, Lillian Bowers and Lois Hardtgen.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Mrs. Robert Strickhouser, Taneytown, Rt. 2; Mrs. Paul Crist, Fairfield, Pa.; and Harold Gochenour, Emmitsburg were admitted as patients to the Gettysburg Hospital.

ST. JOSEPH'S PTA HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Improving Field For Football Practice

The St. Joseph's High School Parent-Teachers' Association held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening. President Guy A. Baker presided. The opening prayer was recited by Rev. Michael O'Brien. The minutes of the preceding meetings were read and approved.

The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $424.74. Hugh Rocks reported on the Hallowe'en dance and thanked the committee for its splendid co-operation. A report on the progress of the card party to be held Thursday was given by the chairman of the committee, Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle.

A report was given by Prof. Dominic Greco regarding equipment for the gymnasium. Committee Meets Sunday

A special meeting of the gymnasium committee will be held Sunday at 11:15 a. m. at the home of Thornton Rodgers. Bernard H. Boyle, chairman of the field committee, gave a report. It was decided to hire help to level and reseed a section of the field. The larger portion of the field is now ready for use. During the coming week the field will be limed and marked for football practice.

Hugh Rocks reported on his findings regarding the rental or purchase of a juke box for the association to be used by the students at the noon hour and various other occasions. It was decided to have the box installed shortly if the PTA would buy it. The president reported that Mr. Quinn Topper donated the sweet cider for the Hallowe'en party and Miss Sandra Hill presented the apples for the occasion.

To Hold Dances

It was decided to hold dances in the school auditorium every two weeks. The first dance will be held Wednesday, Nov. 24. The price of admission for these affairs will be 25 cents. The committee in charge of these dances is Mrs. Andrew Jordan, chairman, Mrs. Floyd Miller, Mrs. George Rosensteel, Mrs. A. Karlquist and Mrs. J. Louis Topper.

Twenty-three members and six teachers attended the meeting. The next meeting will be held December 7, at 7:00 p. m.

MITE SOCIETY MEETS AT FRAILLEY HOME

The Mite Society of Trinity Methodist Church held its first meeting at "Balmara," the home of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Frailley, on Friday evening, Oct. 29, with Mr. Frailley, the president, presiding.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Grim led the devotionals with Mrs. Grim at the piano. Reports were given, hostesses selected, and plans for the year were discussed. During the evening the members were entertained by movies shown by Rev. Grim and Mrs. William Frailley. Hallowe'en decorations prevailed and the same theme was carried out in the refreshments.

The next meeting will be on Friday, Dec. 3.

LEGION POST STARTS BLOOD DONOR FILE

The regular meeting of the Francis X. Elder Post, No. 121, American Legion, was held in the Legion Home Tuesday evening. About 30 legionnaires attended.

Commander Curt Topper announced that preparations are being made for a blood donor file which will start soon. The committee placed Robert Wormley in charge of this service which will be used as a reference for those who may need blood transfusions in the future. Mr. Wormley expects to solicit all donors in town and surrounding areas for blood type and cards will be sent to the Gettysburg Hospital and Dr. W. R. Cadle's office.

Another important Legion activity this year will come in the form of a basketball team. The committee appointed J. Rosensteel and Robert Topper to secure uniforms and contact opponents for games. The Legionnaires will use the Emmitsburg High School floor for their home games.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS WANT RESHUFFLING

County Party Heads
Call For Reorganization;
Desire "New Blood"

Jubilant with the outcome of Tuesday's election in the nation, Frederick County Democratic Party leadership was crying for blood Wednesday.

"We need new blood — young blood" in the party," one of the party leaders declared after reviewing the substantial Dewey and Beall majorities rolled-up in Frederick County.

"Some of us have grown old in party service. We've lost our zip," he said.

"There's no better evidence than the returns from Tuesday's election in Frederick County and there's no better time to put the party in younger, more ambitious hands."

What impressed the top ranking Democratic leaders was that they couldn't get out the vote or win locally at a time when public sentiment was apparently running their way throughout the nation.

Some of them hinted that rejuvenation of Democratic leadership in the State is also needed. Failure to carry Maryland for Truman was attributed to inept leadership in the campaign. With the help of organized labor in Baltimore, county Democrats think the Truman ticket should have fared much better than it did in the metropolitan area.

Critical eyes were also cast toward Montgomery County where, for the second time in two years, Democrats of that county have nominated a candidate for Congress and then supplied most of the votes to defeat the native son in the election.

Alleghany County broke all tradition in the Sixth District to give an outsider a majority of votes over a native son. Alleghany County majorities for years had elected both Republicans and Democrats from that county to Congress. With a tremendous lift from organized labor, Democrats carried Alleghany County over Congressman J. Glenn Beall.

The defeat Democrat, F. Byrne Austin had pinned hopes for election on carrying Montgomery County, which supplied the votes to nominate him. Congressman Beall's promise to defeat him in Montgomery and Frederick Counties rang true.

Frederick Democratic leaders could find but one answer for the Republican majorities piled up in Frederick City and many of the rural areas on Tuesday. Effective work was lacking in most precincts and party workers were unable to get out a winning percentage of the registered vote.

The fact that several city precincts and some county precincts were able to produce Democratic majorities on Tuesday convinced party leaders that new blood is needed in the ranks.

MISSION BEGINS NOV. 14

A one-week mission will begin in St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Sunday, Nov. 14. The mission will be given by Rev. Joseph C. Neary, C.M. and Rev. John Hallahan, C.M. Daily Mission Mass will be 6:30 a. m. and evening services will begin at 7:30 p. m.

GAY VENTURE ENTERED IN THIRD AT PIMLICO TODAY

Gay Venture, 8-year-old gelding, who has been training well for jumping events, runs today in the third event, a $3,000 purse, at Pimlico. Mrs. Bertha Flax, owner of this fine gelding, believes the steeplechaser will take this event since the thoroughbred has been doing everything that has been asked of him during workouts. Jockey Fife will be up on Gay Venture.

The Pimlico fall meet runs until Nov. 13 with post time each day at 1:15.

LEGION AUXILIARY WILL MARK GRAVES

Present New Flag To Emmitsburg High School

The auxiliary of the Francis X. Elder Post, No. 121, American Legion held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the Legion Home.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Laura Rosensteel, with reading of the Legion Prayer, allegiance to the American flag, and Preamble of the Legion. Roll call and minutes of the September and October meetings were read by Ethel Baumgardner. Secretary-Treasurer Margaret Brown gave her report. At the rummage sale held by the auxiliary on the 16th of October, $51.90 was realized. Membership committee not being present, Mrs. Brown reported 28 members had made payment of dues to date.

A thank you card was read by the secretary from the Mackley family to whom the auxiliary had sent a sympathy card because of the recent death in the Mackley family.

Three members from town attended the Thurmont installation of officers: Laura Rosensteel, Helen McNair, and Margaret Topper. Mrs. McNair officiated at the installation of the new president. A lovely pair of gloves was given Mrs. McNair as a gracious gesture of thanks for her part in the ceremony. This was Thurmont's first installation of officers as the auxiliary has been in existence only one year. The ladies thoroughly enjoyed their visit.

Several business affairs were discussed. A committee composed of the following ladies: Jeanette Chrismier, Laura Rosensteel, and Nettie Ashbaugh, was appointed to be certain to place the grave markers purchased by the club nearly a year ago on the graves of the deceased members of the auxiliary by Nov. 11.

Final plans were made to present a new flag to the Emmitsburg High School to replace the old one which has become quite shabby. As many members of the club who are able to attend this dedication should do so on Nov. 11. The flag will be presented to Prof. Arvin P. Jones, principal, by President Laura Rosensteel. A definite time of the day has not been set as yet.

Several plans for entertainment were discussed since insufficient number of members made it impossible to play bingo. Mrs. Carmen Topper suggested that the auxiliary have the name of each member placed in separate capsules and at each meeting a drawing will be held of one name. The auxiliary will furnish the first prize. If the member whose name is called is not present the drawing will continue the following month and the prize doubles. This procedure will go on until a winning name is called and then the game will begin again.

An idea to raise a sum of money for the auxiliary was to have a piggy bank for the members to drop any stray coins in that they wished to at each meeting. The bank will be broken at the end of a year and any money obtained will be used for worthy purposes by the auxiliary. Nettie Ashbaugh volunteered to purchase the first piggy bank.

Christmas plans were that members are to exchange gifts with each other according to the number of members present at the December meeting. The value of the gift is not to exceed one dollar.

Wayne McCleaf won the evening prize.

After the meeting adjourned, refreshments, consisting of pork, mashed potatoes and sauer kraut, were served by the men and ladies.

Twelve members attended the meeting.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses were issued at Westminster to Ralph Walter Vaughn and Norma Jean Clabaugh, Taneytown; Marlin Howard Hiner and Belva Elaine Gore, Union Bridge; James Donald Harner and Clara Maebele Weishaar, Taneytown.

Traditionally-Democratic Emmitsburg Goes To GOP Column

Harry S. Truman swept the nation Tuesday to become the next President of the United States. Mr. Truman accomplished this feat, however, without the aid of normally-Democratic Frederick County.

Republican Candidate Thomas E. Dewey mustered enough strength to win easily over the Democratic nominee by nearly 3000 votes.

Democratic leaders in the county are alarmed at the weak demonstration displayed Tuesday by their party, not only in the county, but also the state, and are crying for a reshuffling of the present 'stagnant' leaders. They want new blood in the organization.

MT. ST. MARY'S PLAYS UNDER LIGHTS TONIGHT

Saints Hopeful Of Making
It Three Games In A Row
Against Western Maryland

Coach John Law expects to cross up Western Maryland College in Frederick Friday night, with a new aerial attack supplementing the threat of Mount St. Mary's current all-state scoring champion's running.

Wednesday, Coach Law assembled the best physically-conditioned squad they have shown so far this year for practice against expected Green Terror plays of Friday night.

Echo Field's scrimmage and defensive drill was secret Wednesday and Thursday. An entirely new offensive, through the airways, was developed to throw at the Westminster collegians.

Freshman Jim Leahy, from Elizabeth, N. J., who showed well on defense in the backfield last week against Catholic U., will move to offense work at McCurdy Field, against Western Maryland.

Another newcomer to Mount football, Ed Ward, Valley Stream, N. Y., who has recently been out of the lineup with a separated shoulder, will be back as running halfback along with Walt Bellardini and Co-Captain Jerry Cohee.

Mountaineer exuberance took a small slump, however, as a telephone message from Brooklyn, N. Y., came during the voluntary workout; announcing that Joe Gelish, first-string tackle, suffered a broken jaw while on vacation and will be out of the Mason-Dixon Conference tilt at McCurdy Field. Sparked by Co-captain Jim McAndrews, guard; Tackle Joe Gelish and Center Jack O'Connor, the Mt. St. Mary's right forward wall has been doing yeoman work in making holes for quick-opening plays and Bellardini-executed scoring dashes.

Additional seating arrangements are arranged for the test of the two colleges tonight, and a record turnout is predicted.

130 STUDENTS ATTEND HALLOWE'EN DANCE

The Hallowe'en dance held last Friday evening in St. Joseph's High School auditorium was attended by approximately 130 students and guests.

The auditorium was attractively decorated with pumpkins, corn stalks, witches and black cats.

Music was furnished by a recording machine. Refreshments of doughnuts, cider, popcorn and apples were served. An artificial moon at the west corner of the auditorium furnished light for the dancers.

VFW MAKING PLANS FOR OYSTER SUPPER

About 25 veterans of foreign wars attended the regular meeting at their home on the Square Wednesday evening. Vernon Keilholtz, commander of the VFW, announced that an oyster supper will be held Nov. 23 in the basement of the home. The committee in charge are: Thomas Gingell, Wayne McCleaf, and Dr. G. W. Green.

HOSPITAL DISCHARGES

William Annan, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Raymond Myers, Fairfield; J. Ward Kerrigan, Emmitsburg; All discharged from Gettysburg Hospital.

Maryland Democrats rejoiced over President Truman's election triumph but found some cause for distress in the Free State's rowing against the national current for the first time in many a day.

The nation went to Mr. Truman but Maryland's eight electoral votes were captured by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York on the strength of a county majority that absorbed a Baltimore City Democratic advantage.

The Republican candidate's victory here put a blemish on Maryland's record of backing Presidential winners. Not since 1888 had Marylanders given a majority to a loser.

Three Democratic and two Republican incumbents were re-elected to Congress and the delegation remained at 4-2 with the victory of a Democratic newcomer, State Senator William P. Bolton, of Baltimore County, who was elected in the Second District.

Complete unofficial returns from the State's 1,347 precincts gave Gov. Dewey 293,929 votes to Mr. Truman's 285,834.

Maryland Democrats were among the first in the nation to endorse President Truman for reelection at their State Convention, but their fight to put him across in the State foundered against the slender majority he got in Baltimore City.

Not all polling stations made immediate counts of minor party ballots. Consequently, state-wide figures on these are still incomplete and will show an increase over present tabulations. But there will be no appreciable difference in the election picture.

But the plain fact was that Baltimore City just didn't come through—at least not like it did in 1944, when its Democrats mustered a 50,676 superiority to overcome a county GOP sweep and enable President Roosevelt to carry the state.

HIT BY AUTO

George Lingg, about 85, was struck by an automobile Tuesday evening at 6:50 driven by Leo Keepers, of town.

The car was proceeding toward the square when it was said Mr. Lingg, who was on his way to evening devotions, walked into the path of the oncoming automobile. Mr. Lingg was rendered unconscious by the impact. The accident occurred in front of the office of Dr. Allison, who at the time was unavailable. Dr. Cadle administered first aid to the victim in Dr. Allison's office. Fr. Stauble, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, administered the last rites of the church to Mr. Lingg.

Mr. Lingg suffered abrasions to the head and bruises to the body. State Trooper Bond investigated the accident and no charges were preferred against the driver of the car.

PEOPLE WERE RIGHT IN ELECTING TRUMAN

The mandate handed President Truman Tuesday shows clear thinking on the part of world-wise American citizenry. To have made a change in the administration at this time might well have proved disastrous for this nation. While practically all large newspapers sponsored Mr. Dewey for the presidency, it points out that newspapers do not necessarily formulate the opinions of the public, as was proven at this election.

President Truman has followed a sound course in international affairs and is supported by a well-balanced and stable State Department which is doing a magnificent job under considerably severe conditions.

In his pledge to rid the country of the Taft-Hartley Bill—the most vicious piece of anti-labor legislation ever passed—Mr. Truman will bring labor and management to harmonious agreement. Strikes should be at a minimum when this bill is repealed.

In his over-all program for the welfare of the country, the Chief Executive has pledged all his energy and support of the following requests which the Congress—Republican majority—denied him this year:

- 1—An excess profits tax.
- 2—Allocation and inventory controls.
- 3—Authority to ration scarce products.
- 4—Price control over scarce products essential in manufacturing and consumption.
- 5—Increase of the minimum wage from 40 to 45 cents an hour.
- 6—Restriction for commodity speculation.
- 7—Stronger rent controls.
- 8—Authority to control wage increases which might cause a break-through price ceilings.
- 9—Restoration of more than $50,000,000 which had been cut from public power and reclamation projects.

SHORT STORY

Always A Payoff

By KATHRYN BEMIS

HENRY HALL came breezing into his suburban bungalow. No Mandy in the kitchen, no wife Grace in sight. "Grace will warm up something and call it dinner!" he sputtered. "Why does she play bridge on Mandy's day off?" But after living ten years with a bald-headed, flat-chested little scrimp of a man like himself, a modest-salaried manager of a women's apparel shop, he couldn't blame Grace for craving entertainment.

He switched on a lamp in the living room and settled into his chair by the radio. His gaze lighted on his encyclopedia.

He took out the first volume his hand touched. Perhaps a little Shakespeare would brighten his talk. He started as something flew out from a leaf, zigzagged to the rug.

A ten dollar bill! He snatched it up, stuffed it into his billfold. Grace, hiding her money in books! He yanked out another masterpiece, shook it. Two more tens fluttered before Henry's eyes.

Within a few minutes, he had shaken down $200 instead of meekly knowledge, from the awe-inspiring tomes.

BUT from that night on, Henry was worried. The allowance he gave Grace was small. She must have scripped on household expenses a long time to save that money. What sinister project was she planning?

So he was greatly relieved one evening when she met him at the door and quavered, "Oh, Henry, I've been robbed!"

Henry managed to look concerned. He asked, "Robbed? What's gone?" "Two hundred dollars! I saved from the house-money! I hid it in the encyclopedia! I've slaved—done without Mandy days on end—saved what I would have paid her—"

Her bitter disappointment overcame his desire to punish her. He jumped up, saying, "Wait! Just a minute!"

He raced upstairs to his clothes closet. He reached into its dark confines for his old brown coat. The brown suit had unaccountably disappeared!

"Where in the dickens is my old brown suit?" he called downstairs.

"That moth catcher? I warned you I'd give that rag away or burn it up. But I did even better. The old clothes man gave me 50 cents for it!"

FROM now on, Henry was a changed man. Finding that old brown suit had become his obsession. Then one morning when giving instructions to one of his saleswomen, he abruptly wheeled about, dashed out to the street. He grabbed a passing man by the collar of his shabby brown coat, demanding, "Where'd you get that suit?"

The voice of the stranger shook with fear of the madman he judged Henry Hall to be. "Griss and Griscom made it for me—five years ago," he said conciliatingly.

"Ha!" jeered Henry, not relaxing his hold. "Griss and Griscom made that suit for me—the label's inside! Smart, aren't you?"

"What's coming off here?" snapped a policeman, thrusting Henry aside.

"This man's wearing my suit—he's got the money—he's—"

After the matter had been talked out before the police sergeant and Henry was convinced that the stranger had once been affluent enough to buy custom-made suits and now was clothed in one of them, he returned to the shop, a chastened man.

Mandy's black face wore a broad grin that night when she placed the beef roast before Henry. She said, "Mr. Hall—you know what? My boy fren' looks swell in your old brown suit he bought off'n that ol' cloy' man. He's sure generous, too."

"Wha's that?" asked the suddenly alert Henry.

"You see, we're fixin' to git married, Mr. Hall. Not havin' steady work, I ain't saved much, but that man's makin' up for it! He's already bought me a white 'lectric 'frigerator—big as two like you'all's got!"

The Women's Guild of the Reformed Church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ora Wagaman.

Cold Shoulder Likely To Be Given If You Have Cold

We have all had the experience of involuntarily moving away from someone in a crowd who suddenly coughed or sneezed. It could be that the offender's nose or throat was merely sensitive to dust in the air, but we take no chances. No one wants to catch a cold, and with good reason.

The movement away from the cold sufferer is based on sound and unpleasant experience. The "common cold" is no respecter of sex, age or season. Everybody knows that a cold can mean days of coughing and sneezing, that "stuffed up" feeling or a running nose, with the victim looking almost as miserable as he feels. Worst of all, although no one dies of just a cold, it can lead to serious complications that may cause grave and even fatal illnesses.

Colds are highly contagious. They are caused by a virus, or germ, so small that it cannot be seen with an ordinary microscope. It travels from the sick person to well people and is most frequently spread by droplets of moisture sprayed into the air when the person with a cold sneezes or coughs.

A cold is an infection, as in the case of all infections, we can discourage cold germs from taking hold by keeping to a well-balanced, nourishing diet, getting plenty of rest, sleep and fresh air, dressing comfortably and in keeping with the weather and avoiding chill and excessive fatigue.

When precautions fail, as they frequently do, and the first unwelcome symptoms of a cold appear, the victim should stay at home. This prompt action may shorten the cold's existence and lessen the likelihood of complications as well as reducing spread to others. Plenty of rest is an important factor in treating a cold. The cold victim should have plenty of liquids including water, fruit juices and clear soups.

If a fever develops, the patient should go to bed and call a physician.

Anyone who has a cold should exercise common sense and courtesy to prevent spreading it to others. He should "keep his distance" in laughing and talking with others. He should cover all his coughs and sneezes, not with his hands but with his handkerchief or preferably with tissues that he can dispose of easily and inexpensively. The cold victim should wash his hands frequently, because he handles his handkerchief or paper tissues, then handles articles that are used by others and in that way spreads his cold germs.

Remember that a cold is more than a temporary nuisance. Neglected, it can become the forerunner of pneumonia, serious ear trouble, bronchitis, sinusitis and other serious illnesses.

Two pilgrimages from Philadelphia visited the Shrine of Mother Seton at St. Joseph's College last Sunday. The travelers had dinner at the White House Inn.

HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUB TO PRESENT MINSTREL NOV. 23 & 24

While the Freedom Train makes its way to Frederick on November 21, the U.S.S. Glee Club Liberty Ship, after many months of travel, makes its way to the Emmitsburg dock on Flat Run Creek for a stay of two nights, November 23 and 24. The ship will be loaded with freedom documents and expressions of liberty which will be well worth the time of all nearby citizens to observe. Entrance to the Liberty Ship will be obtained by the purchase of tickets, being sold by Glee Club members for 30 cents for children and 60 cents for adults.

The show consists of two acts: and dance routine, consisting of Act I, being introduced by a song the old time minstrel circle, with blacked end men, and many novelty numbers to surprise the audience.

Act II will be a contrast in mood to emphasize the seriousness of the job of every American to preserve liberty and by song and dance will represent the contributions of many countries to form an international society for eternal peace.

It is the hope of the Emmitsburg High School Glee Club that this show will have greater audience appeal this year than the show of last year, because of the effort made to incorporate a timely message with fun and frolic.

The show is entirely original, being written, directed and produced largely by the students under the supervision of the music teacher, Miss Trevett.

The following committees are working on the minstrel:

Planning, B. Hollinger, S. Stinson, S. Hays, P. McNair, B. Fisher, D. Wastler, J. Deatherage; scenery, T. Hays, J. Beegle, J. Ferguson, D. Gillespie, F. Fisher; programs, C. Hahn, J. Deatherage, M. GOV. LANE ISSUES PROCLAMATION ON EDUCATION WEEK

Governor William Preston Lane, Jr., has issued a proclamation designating the week, November 7-13 as "American Education Week in Maryland." Coinciding with the national observance of American Education Week, the governor's proclamation calls attention to the importance of education as a means of "strengthening the foundations of freedom." He also reminds parents and citizens generally that they are the owners of the public schools and urges them to study them thoroughly by visiting the classrooms during the week set aside for the observance.

Activities carried on in the schools next week will mark the twenty-seventh celebration of American Education Week. The observance was sponsored initially by the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the National Education Association.

The governor's proclamation is as follows:

Whereas, education is one of the most important means of strengthening the foundations of freedom and of developing citizens for life in a democratic state and nation; and

Whereas, the people of this state, recognizing the need for a more vigorous instruction of its future citizenry, have through their General Assembly provided extended educational opportunities in Maryland; and

Whereas, our local communities are the starting points for democratic living, the residents therein, who are the owners of our public schools, should keep themselves informed concerning these schools and the effectiveness with which they fulfill their purposes; and

Whereas, the week beginning on November 7, has been designated as American Education Week;

Now, therefore, I, William Preston Lane, Jr., governor of the State of Maryland, do hereby designate the period, Nov. 7-13, 1948, as "American Education Week in Maryland" and do urge each community in this state to study thoroughly its schools and their problems by visiting the classrooms and observing the work therein.

RAT-PROOFING NOW CUTS DOWN CORN CRIB LOSS

A thorough job of rat-proofing the corn crib may well pay for itself before the winter is over, according to T. L. Bissell of the University of Maryland. Rats can eat and destroy enough corn during the winter months to run up a good-sized bill if no steps are taken to stop them, so Bissell advises cleaning the crib and rat-proofing it before corn is harvested and stored.

He recommends that the building be placed on piers at least 18 inches off the ground. The bottom should be covered with hardware cloth which should also extend about two feet up the sides of the crib. This wire should have three or four meshes to the inch. An eight inch band of sheet metal should be placed around the top edge of the wire. This band serves as a guard to keep rats from climbing the hardware cloth.

Doors and door-casings should be covered with hardware cloth, or metal guards should be placed on corners and lower edge of the door. Complete proofing may be achieved by also covering the underside of the crib with the cloth.

Another scheme for rat-proofing the corn crib is to place an inverted dish pan over each pier on which the building rests.

When building new structures, keep rats from going underneath by extending the foundations at least two feet into the ground and keep wooden parts at least a foot above ground.

FIVE STUDENTS RECEIVE DEGREES

A ceremony harkening back to medieval times took place in St. Joseph's Church, Emmitsburg, on Friday, Oct. 29, when five students were invested with the Paladin Leadership Degree in the Order of Paladins of the Round Table, honor society of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade.

The awards have been authorized by the national executive board of the Crusade in Cincinnati, for attendance of the students at the thirteenth National Crusade Convention, held at the University of Notre Dame, just before the opening of the present school year.

Those invested were: Bernadette Arnold, Robert Jordan, Kenneth Joy, Eugene Rosensteel and Jean Topper. The Rev. Michael O'Brien, C.M., was in charge of the investiture ceremony.

The Order of Paladins derives its name from the days of chivalry. The original Paladins were the special retainers of the Emperor Charlemagne. The round table idea dates back to the time of King Arthur. Membership in the Order of Paladins is usually conferred for special achievements in the educational program of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, which is designed to acquaint Catholic young people of the United States with missionary problems in all parts of the world. The leadership degree, however, is conferred upon those attending conventions of the Crusade, because these are considered to be leadership schools for members of the organization.

THE BLINKER

One eve as I was walking, a yokel joined me, talking;
Telling of the wonders of the town.

Of the aged and esteemed daddies,
the young and gallant ladies;
And many local yokels of renown.

He told me of his college, where he acquired some knowledge;
He said he'd seen a star in every game,

He told me, coyly cunning, of his stunning football running;
And of the glorious run which won him fame.

And as I followed closely, he muttered low, morosely;

Of the razing of the thing that he loved the best.

"'Twas" a thing of radiant beauty,
(by a man who did his duty);

And then he spoke with fervor and with zest.

"'Twas" a lovely water fountain,
spouting water from the mountain;

And it stood within the center of the square.

He said it was the fairest, (it surely was the rarest);

It must have been the fairest of the fair.

And well did he remember, a cold and bleak December;

When the flowing water froze to solid ice.

Then the water pipe had busted,
and the fountain was encrusted;
with an iridescent brilliance.

In horror, many trembled, when the city dads assembled;

And voted to remove it from the Square.

The dads in tones sarcastic, said it blocked the city traffic;

And today the lovely fountain isn't there.

Henry had built the flivver, on Michigan's Rouge River;

And Leaping Lenas dashed madly here and there.

Said a deeply thinking thinker,
we'll install a blinking blinker;

So they put a blinking blinker in the Square.

I'm not sure we have the thinker,
but I know we have the blinker;

But the erstwhile blinking blinker doesn't blink.

We have twinkling stars forever,
yet the blinker twinkles never,

But, to tell the truth, I don't care a wink.

Postmaster Oyler has been notified by the Postoffice Department that Gettysburg will receive one and one-half million of the sixty million Gettysburg stamps, which incidentally, do not contain the name Gettysburg on them.

The stamps will be placed on sale at the Gettysburg post office on November 19, the anniversary of the Lincoln Address. Other postoffices will have the Lincoln stamp not earlier than November 20.

Mrs. Hester Burton has returned home after spending two weeks with relatives at Staunton, Va.

GUESS AGAIN, IT'S NOT A FOOTBALL STADIUM

A farmer harvesting his oat crop, leaves an unusual study in design around an isolated breeding plot of DeKalb Hybrid seed corn in DeKalb County, Illinois. The heavy white lines are oat straw left in swaths by the combine. The dark green rectangle in the center, is a field of parent inbreds being increased for future hybrid seed production. Inherited corn characteristics are carried from tassels to ears by dust-like pollen grains. Like purebred cattle, parent corn must be kept pure or undesirable off-spring may be produced. To make certain these hybrid corn parents stay pure, they are grown in isolated fields like this one, safe from contamination by stray pollen from neighboring cornfields.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

The attention of farmers was called to the importance of maintaining their "soil bank balances."

"Take care of your account in the soil bank," says Joseph H. Blandford, State Chairman of the PMA Committee in Maryland, "and your account in the first national will take care of itself."

Blandford pointed out that since the beginning of World War II farmers have been producing extraordinarily heavy crops. Each of the crops has drawn heavily on the mineral and organic deposits in the soil bank. This bank is no different from the financial institutions in that the account should always show a substantial reserve. And just as the board of directors favor the customer who maintains this reserve, so does Mother Nature, who is the manager of the soil bank, favor the farmer who maintains in his soil, liberal reserve supplies of mineral and organic materials.

Mr. Blandford stated that Congress has recognized the principle that maintenance of the soil is of basic importance to the welfare of all citizens, and that the cost of proper soil care is too great to be borne by farmers alone. Therefore, federal funds have been allocated to every agricultural county. These funds are right now being distributed through the agency of the Triple A committees, to the farmers to be used during 1949 in helping them to finance the cost of performing needed conservation practices approved by the committee.

By doing this year after year it is hoped that we may check our present annual loss of a half million acres of productive land, and are present and future food supplies for our rapidly growing population, as well as meet the increasing demands of industry for raw materials.

Joseph H. Blandford, Chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee, has called attention to a speech in which Albert J. Loveland, Undersecretary of Agriculture, declared, "It's the Nation's business—the Government's business—to help farmers keep their land productive and if farmers are to conserve their land, the farm program must be maintained to keep prices from dropping to the point where farmers cannot make a living let alone conserve the land."

Mr. Loveland recalled conditions when farmers had no price support programs and a big crop meant real trouble for the farmer. He pointed out that on June 29 of this year, the price of No. 2 yellow corn at Chicago was $2.30 a bushel. Three months later it was $1.61.

"Yes, the drop was bad enough and it hurt, but it came to a stop," said Mr. Loveland, because "today we've got a corn loan program. We don't have to dump our corn on the market. We don't have to take whatever is offered for it as we have the right kind of storage—right on the farm."

"Both the conservation and price support programs are programs for the Nation. Careless talk about payments to farmers as though this whole fundamental effort were merely a 'slick scheme' to pay farmers a subsidy is tiresome . . ."

He stated that "loose charges" that farmers are being ordered around by "bureaucrats" are without foundation. On the other hand, "there were plenty of people telling farmers what to do when corn was down to 15 cents."

He warned against efforts to blame the farmer for high retail prices and the current proposals to lower 1949 price-support levels, charging that these suggestions "stem from the same sources that were against the farm program from the beginning."

He urged farmers to help give the public a better understanding of the real purposes of conservation and price supports and to see that farmers continue to administer farm programs.

When friends drop in for tea or coffee, your own home-made bread will add a gracious touch. Make Orange Nut Tea Bread ahead of time for it slices better after 24 hours. Cream together $\frac{1}{4}$ cup shortening, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar. Add 1 egg, beaten. Sift together 3 cups flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. baking powder, $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt. Add alternately to creamed mixture with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup orange juice. Add 1 tsp. grated orange rind, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped nut meats. Pour into greased loaf pan $10\frac{1}{2}'' \times 5'' \times 3\frac{1}{2}''$. Bake in gas oven 350° for $1\frac{1}{4}$ hours. If you want to keep the Tea Bread longer than a few days, add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup dates.

Broiled potatoes turn out crisp and brown when peeled raw, sliced quarter inch thick, dipped in oil and placed on pre-heated broiler pan under medium flame. About 6 to 8 minutes on one side and 5 on the other make them just right for a quick-broiled dinner.

When the gas flame is turned down to simmer point after bringing vegetables to the boil, you save about 75 per cent in fuel.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB NOTES ROADSIDE STATIONS' CLEANLINESS

Sanitation in establishments along the nation's highways, long a crying disgrace, is showing some marked signs of improvement, said the general manager of the AAA Automobile Club of Maryland.

"During and immediately following the last World War," Mr. Kolmer said, "conditions in many roadside restaurants service stations restrooms and other facilities provided for the motoring public became a definite menace to the health of travelers. The situation deteriorated to such a level that it led to repeated demands for a cleanup on the part of those compelled to use the facilities."

The AAA as spokesman for the motor vehicle traveler, led in the attack on this matter, seeking to enlist the cooperation of the State Departments of Health and the major oil companies in effecting a cleanup.

"Results of this campaign, according to reports from travelers all over the country," Mr. Kolmer said, "indicate that this cooperation has been forthcoming, and that sanitation in eating places and restrooms along the highway has improved materially within the past year."

"However," he added, "such conditions are still far from ideal, which means that renewed and consistent efforts must be made to achieve and maintain standards of cleanliness that safeguard the health and comfort of the traveler."

EXTENSION SERVICE SEEKS MORE AGENTS

Better Public Relations Card Suggested at State Conference

Too many city people think too many farm people are "hicks," farmers said recently.

They called for a public relations program to change the urban attitude.

At a panel discussion by nine farmers the question arose at the 34th annual conference of the Maryland State Extension Service for more than 100 county agents and extension workers.

One farm wife urged "better public relations to overcome the stigma that is sometimes attached to farming in the minds of city people," Assistant Extension Editor Arthur Durfee said.

She protested that city folk look on farmers as "uneducated, uncouth hicks who are way behind the times," Durfee said. Farmers nowadays can have all modern conveniences and live as well as city people," she added.

"I never lived on a farm until three years ago, but now I don't feel any different from when I lived in a city of 35,000," she added.

Other farmers urged local groups to demand more county agents in their area. "The agents would do better work if they didn't have to put in so many hours," one speaker said.

Dr. Roger B. Corbett, associate director of the Extension Service said later that county agents in Maryland average 10 to 12 hours a day, six days a week, "and many days run up to 16 hours." None of Maryland's 23 counties has more than four agents, he said; many have only two. One speaker suggested that "over-worked" agents seek ways to cut down on the number of night meetings they must attend.

Another urged that the Extension Service at the University of Maryland add two new specialists to work with 4-H farm boys and girls. He asked that a specialist in family living and one in recreation be added to the staff.

NEW DRAFTTEES TO LEAVE VERY SHORTLY

County Draft Board Will Send Small Group First

The first induction call under the peacetime Selective Service Act has been received at the Frederick Draft Board offices and will be filled in the near future.

It is understood that the call is for a very small number of men and is for this week. As far as could be learned, it can be met by the boards.

This is the second pre-induction call. Only a few men from the boards were listed as available for military service following the first call. Only single, non-father, non-veteran registrants are being taken at this time.

The boards are continuing the work of assigning serial numbers to each registrant according to a nationally-prescribed formula. This work takes some time to complete but will finally furnish each board with a master list for future operations.

It is understood that sending of questionnaires to registrants has ceased for a time until other board work is completed and will be resumed later. A number of registrants, particularly in the first age groups to register, have received their draft classifications.

DRAFT PREVENTION LOWERS FUEL COST AND ADDS COMFORT

A fall check to see that all doors and windows are tight against wind and heat leakage is suggested to home owners as a way of preventing drafts, saving fuel and making the house comfortable in cold weather. There must be no air leaks around panes or frames of windows and doors. Cracks, which often appear at these places as the house settles, must be repaired.

Loose panes may be repainted, engineers say, but cracks around the outside of door and window frames need caulking. Large cracks usually need to be packed first with oakum, jute or similar material and then covered with caulking compound, a puttylike plastic seal which is applied with a putty knife or the more convenient caulking gun. Supplies for caulking are sold at hardware stores.

If a crack between masonry walls and window frame is large, it may be necessary to remove the molding around the outside of the frame before caulking between frame and wall. Or the spaces between bead and wall may be filled with caulking compound. Any small crack may be filled in with the compound.

Loose-fitting windows and doors will need weatherstripping to make them tight. Metal weatherstripping of either the flat "contact" type or the interlocking type gives the best and longest service. The interlocking weatherstripping must be installed by a skilled workman, however. Flat contact strips will do for short-time use and may be installed by home carpenters following directions which come with them.

Storm windows or double glass help prevent loss of heat through the pane and protect the inner glass from sweating or frosting in cold weather. The pane and sash of both windows must fit tightly, however, to prevent frosting of the storm windows. For good insulation the space between the panes must be still air with no air leaks or drafts.

MRS. G. F. SHERMA GILDS

Mrs. Laura R. Gilds, widow of G. F. Sherman Gilds, died at her home in Taneytown at 1:15 p. m. Tuesday. She was critically ill for the past week. She was a daughter of the late Frederick and Christiana Marquet and was 78 years of age.

Surviving are two sons, Franklin S., Westminster, principal of the Uniontown School, and Kenneth R., Taneytown; also eight grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Services will be conducted at the late residence today at 10 a. m. Her pastor, the Rev. Glenn L. Stahl, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Robert Benner.

She was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church for fifty years. She also belonged to the Mite and Missionary Societies of the Church and to the Pythian Sisters Lodge.
