Woe is me! I'm so full of turkey I'm positively miserable. My brain is muggy and lazy and I can't concentrate enough to make sense. My only hope lies in the fact that my readers are feeling much the same as I over their Thanksgiving feast and are muggy, too. Gad, it's a good thing it only comes once a year . . .

And now that Mr. Turkey has met his Waterloo we can give our undivided attention to Santa Claus and the problems of Christmas shopping . . . Merchants here in town are really on the beam this year. They've got their Christmas merchandise on display already . . . What ya say, you people, get on the same beam and get going on that long list of you-know-whats for Christmas . . . Perish the thought of picking a tie for your men folks this year . . . The ties this year are without a doubt either the most gruesome things men have ever dared to wear or the most beautiful departure from conservatism . . . I've yet to make up my mind . . .

Truly, I go completely berserk when they turn me loose in a store where there are dozens of these wild and woolly ties . . . Maybe I ought to settle for some plain linen handkerchiefs . . . Certainly there is no problem there. But more about Christmas and its worries later . . .

And now we'd like to introduce another of our new business establishments to y'all. It's none other than the big farm equipment center on the Tollgate Hill which has been opened about two years . . . It's owned and operated by two brothers, both veterans . . . the Zurgable Bros., Maurice and Roger . . . You older readers remember the late "Tom" Zurgable I'm sure . . . Well, these are his 'boys'. They've really gone all out to give the people of Emmitsburg and surrounding territory everything in the line of farm equipment, fertilizer, feeds, etc. The business is housed in a brand new building, a whooper of a place . . . and say, those fellas aren't rookies either; after all they both lived on a farm and know what makes 'em tick and believe me their experience sure is handy in their business . . . You know, I've a soft spot in my heart for all these fellows opening new enterprises here in town . . . Not that the older establishments aren't all right . . . they're tops, too . . . But a little new blood makes Emmitsburg's commercial life stronger and more active . . .

9-YEAR-OLD BOY IS FOUND DEAD IN WOODS

Police Believe Youth
Is Victim Of Hunting Accident

Police are investigating the fatal shooting of Carol Paul Hays, 9, whose body was found in the woods near his farm home in Smithburg. According to the medical examiner's report, Carol was killed by a .22-caliber bullet in the head. A younger brother, Donald, 8, and a cousin, Donald Hays, 13, were hunting with Carol when he was shot.

Deputy Sheriff Lester Isanogle believed the boy's death was an accident, however, this will not be determined until a report is received from the FBI in Washington, on two .22 caliber rifles Sheriff Isanogle sent to be examined.

The sheriff said he could not determine whether the bullet came from Carol's rifle, which was found near him, or another rifle. There were no powder marks which usually result from close-range firing.

The young boy is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hays and by these brothers: Harold, Lauren, Lee, Donald at home; Merle, USA, stationed at New Jersey; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Spitzer, Smithburg; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Hays, Wolfsville.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

The latest information on price supports for Maryland crops in 1949 was released by Mr. Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

Wheat and corn will be supported at 90 per cent of parity.

Tobacco will be supported at 90 per cent of parity through June 30, 1950. The new base period resulting in a higher support figure will apply to the crop to be grown next year. Support on the crop now in the barn will be calculated on the old base period. We understand that consideration is being given to an effort to amend the present law to make the new base period apply to the 1948 crop.

Hogs, chickens, eggs, milk and milk products will be supported through Dec. 31, 1949, at 90 per cent of parity or the comparable price.

Irish potatoes harvested in 1948 and marketed before Dec. 31, 1949 will be supported at 90 per cent of parity. Potatoes harvested and marketed in 1949 will be supported at no less than 60 per cent of parity nor more than the 1948 price.

ROCKY RIDGE THIEVES ARE GIVEN YEAR SENTENCE

Two Baltimore
Newspaper Route Men
Sleaz. Equipment

When they pleaded guilty to charges of larceny of two re-capped tires from Marshall E. Fishpaugh, Rocky Ridge merchant, two Baltimore newspaper route-men were each sentenced to serve 12 months in the House of Correction by Magistrate William J. Stoner at Thurmont Monday afternoon.

The brothers, Lawrence David and Herbert Leroy Phipps, were arrested early Sunday morning in Thurmont after Fishpaugh reported the theft of the two tires to State Trooper Bond.

The warrants charged the men only with the theft at Rocky Ridge although they are thought by officers to be responsible for a series of thefts from stores at Rocky Ridge, Middleburg and Graceham.

According to testimony Fishpaugh "planted" the tires and kept watch Saturday night and Sunday morning in an effort to learn who has been taking merchandise from his place over a period of several weeks. He saw the men take the tires and then reported the theft to Trooper Bond.

Robert H. Klipp, Middleburg merchant, and Bulman's Store at Graceham had previously reported similar thefts of wash tubs, garden tools and various grocery items over a period of a month.

Articles found in a newspaper delivery truck implicated the men in other thefts it was revealed, but prosecution was simplified when the men decided to plead guilty to charges of larceny of the two re-capped tires.

Both of the defendants had good jobs, the magistrate was informed, and both are married. Herbert Leroy Phipps has six children and his brother has no dependents except his wife.

DEER SEASON TO OPEN HERE DECEMBER 6

All Information
Indicates Plentiful
Supply This Year

Another good season of deer hunting in Frederick County can be expected December 6 to 11, Regional Game Warden Benjamin F. Phebus said this week.

The deer are scattered more in Frederick County, he said reporting more animals above Sabillasville, along the Mason-Dixon Line and around Emmitsburg. A number of the 68 shot in Frederick County last year were killed between Emmitsburg and Sabillasville.

Reports from other sections of the mountainous area of the county indicate that there are a good many deer left despite the record slaughter last year, Mr. Phebus said.

Checking Station at Lewistown
He said he was in Baltimore last week to make arrangements for assignment of additional game wardens in Frederick County during the deer season.

The checking station will again be located at Snook's Mill, Lewistown, where slain deer have been recorded the past few years.

Improved data-gathering methods, to be instituted this year at each of the deer-checking stations in the six counties where hunting the white-tails is allowed, are being planned by Edwin M. Barry, assistant to the director of the State Game and Inland Fish Department.

Barry and Director Ernest A. Vaughn have returned from Western Maryland, where they together with H. C. Buckingham, director of the state forests and parks, are arranging sites for game management, refugees under the Pittman-Robinson Act. Both were most optimistic of the coming deer hunting season.

Legal In Six Counties
They saw some deer, heard of others and observed signs which indicate that these animals have shown an appreciable increase in the state. Maryland deer herds have spread now so that it is believed there are some in every county. The total deer population is estimated at 15,000.

Deer hunting in Maryland is legal only in Alleghany, Garrett, Washington, Frederick, Cecil and Worcester counties.

At the checking stations last year, each dead buck was registered, the checker tabulated its weight, number of points to the antler, where it was killed and by whom.

Additional information which will give further data on the status of Maryland's deer herds will be sought this year.

Measurement of the antlers at the base gives some idea as to the age of the deer, and where-ever possible, if the owner does not expect to mount the head, the upper and lower jaw bones of the animal will be sought.

Further, hunters will be questioned concerning the number of does seen in the woods and the location of herds with the idea of gauging the advisability of opening the season on killing female deer in some future year.

Over a period of five or six years Barry declares, the information may be of invaluable aid in estimating the size and condition of Maryland's deer herds.

Only one male deer having at least one forked antler may be killed each season by a hunter in Maryland. They may not be hunted with dogs and may be shot with a rifle having a muzzle energy of at least 1,200 pounds, or a shotgun firing a single ball or slug.

THIS SHOULD BE YOUR GOAL

Support of our community ought to be the every day job of every active Emmitsburg resident. We must necessarily feel that unless we are actively working for the community in which we earn our livelihood, we are failing in our duty as a citizen.

Each of us has a stake in every business, civic or cultural activity in this area. Their success depends in large amount upon the support derived from you and your neighbors. Business cannot long survive without the patronage that you give it. Nor can the grand old, and revered churches, for which Emmitsburg is widely known, prosper and grow without the help which only you as a citizen can lend.

Obviously, the excellent business services which merchants provide, the superb educational facilities which our schools and colleges offer, and the cultural influence developed by the many fine social and fraternal associations in our midst all function for your betterment. Your existence is made more complete, more satisfaction-giving and more bountiful as the direct result of the full degree of cooperation rendered by all our local institutions.

If we—and you—are to be loyal citizens of Emmitsburg, the duty therefore falls upon our shoulders to offer cooperation in the same high degree to these people who help make our lives complete. Consider this deeply, and rate yourself. Are you a GOOD citizen of Emmitsburg? Or do you shirk the responsibilities you should share.

Support Emmitsburg business houses. Spend your money where you make it. Support Emmitsburg churches. Can you visualize our town without its wonderful churches? Join wholeheartedly in the school's educational efforts. Be active in the PTA and other school societies. Assist the Fire Department, the American Legion, the VFW, the constabulary and police force.

Be a true citizen of Emmitsburg. Be a person at whom other citizens will point with pride saying, "He's An Emmitsburgian."

This Should Be Your Goal!

support level of 90 per cent. Turkeys, soybeans for oil and sweet potatoes will be supported in 1949 at not less than 60 per cent of parity nor more than the 1948 support level of 90 per cent.

Wool will be supported through June 30, 1950, at present support figures (an average to farmers of 42.3 cents per pound for shorn wool, grease basis).

All other commodities may be supported if funds are available after other price support commitments are met, at levels that will tend to bring them into the proper relationship with other supported crops.

"The 1949 program is stiffer than those of past years." That is the way in which Mr. Blandford summarizes the potato program for the coming year.

The allotment acreage for Maryland has not yet been announced, but he reveals that goals will be set for the Irish potato crop for individual farms. Planting within the goal will be one of the conditions for eligibility to participate in the potato price support program. It is expected that farm goals of three acres or more will be established on the basis of 1948 goals—with appropriate adjustments being made for changes which have occurred in past potato acreage, rotation practices, topography, land, labor, and other facilities. "In establishing farm acreage goals for late potatoes, serious consideration must be given to the storage facilities which the grower has available," says Mr. Blandford.

It is also known that the sum of all farm goals cannot exceed the State commercial goal, which is expected to be considerably under that of 1948. Mr. Blandford reports that information about the goals will be made available through the county offices as soon as possible.

"Plenty of food for everyone is the objective of both the price support and conservation programs administered by elected farmer-committees," says Mr. Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee.

"And as far as production is concerned the programs are paying off," the chairman said. "Farmers are producing the greatest crops in history. Progress is being made in protecting the soil for future abundant production by the use of the practices on which we make assistance payments."

Price supports—or price stabilization—programs aid the work being done to protect the land from erosion and depletion. "The first step in conservation," Mr. Blandford explains, "is protecting the farmer and his family against ruinously low prices. Price supports put a floor under commodity prices and keep them from going down so low as to put the farmer out of business. With that protection the farmer can go ahead with his program of agricultural conservation and abundant production."

"It gives meaning to the conservation work he carries out on his farm. Stability in the farming business encourages better care of the land through conservation practices which control erosion and build the land for greater production."

"Price supports and conservation, being thus closely related, are administered by the same elected farmer-committees. Loans and other price stabilizing programs with soil and water conservation fit into the pattern of greater security for the Nation."

WHOOPIING COUGH SERIOUS, PARENTS TOLD

Children Should Be Inoculated Early

For some reason, probably because it is so common among children, whooping cough is seldom taken as seriously as it should be. Most mothers are terrified at the mention of some childhood diseases, yet refer lightly to "only a case of whooping cough."

Easily spread from person to person, whooping cough causes more deaths in children under five than measles, diphtheria and scarlet fever combined. Besides being dangerous in itself, whooping cough may bring serious complications. A child with a severe attack of whooping cough becomes vulnerable to bronchopneumonia, pleurisy or even pulmonary tuberculosis.

Years ago, parents felt that whooping cough was unavoidable and resigned themselves to their children having it for some time. We know today that whooping cough is preventable. Of course, a good way to avoid it is by keeping away from anyone who has it. But it is not always possible to avoid exposure to whooping cough germs. Whooping cough, in fact, is most catching in the early stages before the characteristic whoop has made its appearance and it is considered "just a cold." Often without realizing it, people are exposed to these germs in street cars, theaters, schools, churches and daily contacts.

There is now a vaccine which offers immunity to whooping cough. Since infants and young children are particularly susceptible to whooping cough, most doctors advise the injection of this vaccine between the third and ninth months of a child's life. Mothers should take every advantage of this immunization. Records show that if given at least three months before exposure, the vaccine will prevent the disease in 85 per cent of the children vaccinated. The remainder of children injected are apt to have a less severe attack than they would otherwise.

Epidemics of whooping cough strike most often in winter and early spring. Children from one to ten are most frequently infected within and it is particularly severe in babies of six months to one year of age. An effective serum is available for treatment of babies, and others in whom there is reason to believe the disease may be particularly severe.

The grave danger of whooping cough is the fact that its first signs resemble those of a cold and so may be neglected. Early symptoms include a running nose, dry cough and slight fever, and it is in this stage that whooping cough is most easily spread. If a child's "cold" hangs on the doctor should be consulted without delay. To wait for the characteristic "whoop" of the disease is to delay treatment until it is in a serious stage.

The critical stage of whooping cough lasts about six weeks, but the cough may persist and the patient remain weak for months. The child who contracts it must be watched carefully during the period of convalescence, since at that time his resistance is low and he is an easy prey to other diseases in this weakened condition.

PHIL. ATHLETICS WANT FREDERICK

Philadelphia A's and Frederick Citizens to Hold Meeting Over Organization Shortly

After a lapse of 18 years Frederick will return to organized baseball in the Class D Eastern Shore League, which voted Sunday to take Frederick and Chambersburg into membership. The Frederick franchise was secured by the Philadelphia Athletics who plan to operate the team there as a "farm" for young talent.

Ehlers "Dutch" Brennan and Bernie Gest represented the A's farm interest at the Eastern Shore League meeting over the week-end at Salisbury in which the Athletics' director secured the Dover, (Del.) franchise which is being switched to Frederick.

Observers at the two-day session on the "Shore" said Connie Mack's plans to secure a franchise for Frederick "looked awfully precarious" both days of the Eastern Shore League directors' meeting and were not successfully concluded until the final vote was taken at 4:30 p. m. Sunday."

An October consensus that Shore franchise-holders could not successfully support their present number of clubs, was completely over-ridden at the Saturday-Sunday conclave.

Strong opposition from the Maryland Eastern Shore clubs to surrender any of their franchises, was backed with $10,000 forfeit money postings to retain their status quo, despite big league backers' warnings that the towns are situated too close together and the populations too scarce, to properly support teams.

As the loop is now constituted, Frederick takes the place of Dover and Chambersburg. In place of Milford, Del., four clubs remain on the Eastern Shore; two, at Seaford and Rehoboth, Del.; with the two new entries.

All of the ball parks are modernized with illumination for night games.

Persons in close touch with the baseball situation at Frederick, said the moves to bring organized baseball back to that city after an absence of 18 years, still are up to the Athletics' Philadelphia executives and further word will have to come from Shibe Park.

FREDERICK MAN NAMED TO HEAD STATE MASONS

Harry O. Schroeder, of Frederick, was Wednesday night elected and installed as Grand Master of Masons in Maryland at the concluding session of the Grand Lodge in Baltimore. He is the first Frederick man in history to be thusly honored.

He is a Past Master of Columbia Lodge.

Other Grand Lodge officers were also installed. The new Deputy Grand Master succeeding Mr. Schroeder, who has filled the station for the past two years, is Jacob S. New, Baltimore. State Senator Wilmer Fell Davis was installed Grand Senior Warden.

Mr. Schroeder thus becomes the head of a fraternity having close to 40,000 members in Maryland. His election and installation was witnessed by approximately 50 members of Columbia and Lynch Lodges of Frederick, most of whom made the trip to and from Baltimore on a chartered bus.

TIPS OFFERED ON SCHOOL LUNCHEES

Sandwiches Must Be Nourishing For Children

Lady, are your children singing those "Lunch Pail Blues?" Or is your husband guilty of "overlooking" an occasional sandwich? Remember, sandwiches are the mainstays of lunches carried to work or to school, and they should be attractive and varied as well as nourishing if the lunchbox meal is to be eaten with relish.

Home economists offer some tips guaranteed to empty that lunch pail to the last crumb. Begin by using medium-thin, day-old bread because it is firm enough to spread easily and hold the filling, yet not hard and dry as older bread may be. Personal taste may decide the question of trimming off crusts, but it does take extra time, is wasteful unless the crusts are saved for other uses, and causes sandwiches to dry out faster.

For smooth spreading and untorn bread, soften the butter at room temperature or "cream" with a fork, but don't melt it, since this makes the fat soak into the bread. Work in a bit of seasoning—a pinch of mustard, or chopped parsley, or onion juice, depending on the filling to be used. Of course, spreads such as peanut butter and soft cheese may go directly on the bread, but whatever your choice, apply it lightly and evenly to the very edge of each slice.

Do you know sandwich filling mixtures are so numerous that a different one may be used every day in the year? Different breads also may be used for variety or half-and-half sandwiches made with one slice of rye and one of white bread. Rolls, biscuits and buns may vary th lunchbox, too. In making bun sandwiches, slice the bun only three-fourths through to secure the filling for easy eating.

Beware the sandwich that is drippy or sticky. Avoid overloading the bread with filling or using wilt-easy lettuce or juicy tomatoes. Instead, carefully wrap a wedge of cold lettuce, a quartered tomato and crisp carrot and celery strips separately in waxed paper for an easy-to-eat "finger salad."

TO SPONSOR BABY SHOW AT THURMONT

The Thurmont Firemen and Grange, conjunctively, will sponsor a baby show to be held Wednesday, Dec. 1, in the Firemen's meeting room in Thurmont.

Contestants will be divided into two groups and the winner of each group will receive a prize. The first group will include infants up to one year old, while the second group will be from age one to school age (six years old).

The baby show is being held to help promote county interest in better and healthier children and to promote more interest in the health clinic of the grange which is being held here twice a month.

This health clinic has been in existence since June of this year. It is for the protection of babies and children up to school age. It also offers pre-natal instruction to mothers. The northern section of the county is urged to take advantage of this clinic.

The regular clinic is held the first and third Wednesday of each month at one o'clock in the Firemen's room of the Thurmont Town Hall.

Homemakers' Corner

Have you heard that this year the United States will produce the largest tree nut crop on record? According to the Department of Agriculture, the total crop, including pecans, almonds, walnuts and filberts—will run close to 63 million pounds more than last year's yield. Pecans will be heaviest in supply, and are expected to make up more than a third the total crop, an estimated 386 million pounds in the shell. That's a lot of nuts for somebody. And it doesn't count the thousands of pounds of black walnuts which will be harvested in Maryland.

Knowing this, the wise homemaker will try to use these nuts in her kitchen more than ever before. Nutrition specialists at the University of Maryland point out that nuts contain high-quality protein, so that when combined with other ingredients in a main dish—such as pecan and rice loaf—they can be used as an alternate for meats or other protein foods. They provide B vitamins, especially thiamine and some iron and calcium, too.

Being a popular and tasty food, nuts have many uses in baking, ice cream and candy making, as part of a meal or for between-meal or party snacks. In baking, try adding chopped nuts to any recipe for breads, muffins, biscuits (especially those to be used for shortcake), waffles, cookies, and cakes, using about one-third cup of nuts to each cup of flour called for. When adding them to a cake mixture, chop the meats finely and add last of all, so that they will remain suspended in the batter during baking and not sink to the bottom.

Why not line up your favorite recipes to be ready for December, when these plentiful nuts will be coming to market? Especially be sure to have a generous supply on hand for Christmas. How about a nut stuffing for that turkey?

MEAT CUT Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. This is a veal kidney chop.
Q. Where does the cut come from and how is it identified?
A. The veal kidney chop is cut from the rib end of loin, clear through the flank section. It also contains a cross-section of the kidney, on a cushion of fat. The flank wraps around this section. The veal kidney chop is one of the larger of the veal chops.
Q. How should this cut be prepared?
A. The veal kidney chop should be broiled as should all veal chops or steaks (veal, since it comes from a young animal, has little fat to aid in making it tender). Brown the meat first, slowly, in a small amount of hot fat (the chops may be dipped first in an egg-and-milk mixture, then in sifted cracker or bread crumbs, to protect the meat from direct heat and also to aid in browning). When the chops are nicely browned, add a small amount of liquid (water, milk, tomato juice, sour cream, fruit juices) and cook slowly, covered, until tender, usually about 45 to 60 minutes.

Pre-planning a part of any meal is a wise precaution when you're busy. Banana Cream Torte is an interesting dessert and can be prepared the day before to save time at the regular meal-hour rush. Combine 2 1/2 graham crackers (2 cups) rolled fine with 1/2 cup softened butter or margarine and 2 tbsp. sugar. Blend well. Press 1/2 of crumb mixture firmly against sides and bottom of well-buttered pan. For the filling prepare 2 pkgs. prepared vanilla pudding with 4 cups milk following directions on package. Cool and pour into crumb-lined pan. Slice 2 bananas over top of pudding. Beat 3 egg whites stiff but not dry, adding 6 tbsp. sugar gradually. Spread meringue over bananas. Sprinkle remaining 1/2 crumb mixture on top. Bake in gas oven (350°) for 20 mins. Chill overnight before removing from pan. Serves 6 to 8.

In most Japanese homes, a small stove under the tub heats water for bathing. In this country, an automatic gas water heater holds the hot water to the necessary 105° for a refreshing hot bath.

When broiling grapefruit halves top them with apricot jam, spiced sugar, or Brazil nuts and brown sugar. Add dots of butter before putting them about three inches under medium flame.

Winter weather doesn't bother the owners of gas laundry dryers. All they have to do is put the wet clothes into the dryer and sit back while the clothes dry to a soft fluffiness.

New flavor for pudding sauce: To basic recipe add 2 tbsp. orange juice, 2 tbsp. grated orange rind. Beat until smooth. Sprinkle with orange rind just before serving.

The 1948 grape crop is over three million tons.

SHORT STORY

Childhood Encore

By
ROGER S. VREELAND

THE house still stands at 215 Inwood Lane, Clarendon. The Inwood Lane is important. Remember that. The number doesn't make any difference, because then there wasn't another house within 500 yards.

Honeysuckle at the end of the piazza entwined a lattice screen and you could really suck the honey. Uncle Clem—who wasn't my uncle—had shown me how. Cannas grew funnel-shape way up past the piazza railing. Mother's round peony garden on the side lawn by the swing that my father had made (I never remembered him) grew luscious creamy pink and white flowers.

Inside was the brick fireplace before which the three of us would sit in the winter, Uncle Clem taking care of the fire and telling us stories while Mother sewed, and I would watch the picture of Nero's Horses over the mantel until I saw their eyes roll and breath steam out of their nostrils.

This was the house I was born in. It was big and it was old and it was full of strange nooks from cellar to attic. I knew Mother liked it for she often said she hoped some day to buy it.

Considering she was a widow, my mother did well in providing for the two of us until Mr. Hale came. That was Uncle Clem's real name. She didn't need the small amount he paid her. It was just from the kindness of her heart that she gave him a home. He was old, feeble, bent over; he carried a cane most of the time. I know these things now. But strangely I remembered him as spry, full of pep and fun. He was kind and always thoughtful of things to do.

MOTHER never knew where he came from, until after he was gone. The first I ever saw of him was when he appeared at the door into the living room and "entered" him until Mother came in from the chicken coop.

Mother was cool to him at first. He was always suspicious of strangers. But I saw the kind of fellow he was right away. He told her his family was gone and asked if she had a room to spare. He said he had a little money, enough to pay for his room and board.

Uncle Clem spent nearly all his time with me. Sometimes he would forget what we were playing, and sit with a kind of dreamy, faraway look. Then he would snap back into what we were doing. He got to calling my mother Mom and I guess she didn't mind.

Once I heard him tell her that his working days were over and he enjoyed trying to be a boy again.

But there were some things I couldn't understand about him.

His will was made out to Mother, leaving her enough to buy the house.

When we played hiding games he'd seem to have an uncanny sense of where to look. He knew about the flat stone over the abandoned well behind the chicken coop before I showed it to him, the loose board on the floor of my closet, the recesses over the eaves in the attic, and the door to the unused cold storage vault in the cellar. He even knocked on one of the inside walls where it sounded hollow, and he said: "There was a window there once."

When Uncle Clem died I cried all night. Mother had to go into his personal things. His will was made out to her, leaving her enough to buy the house. I'll never forget her cry of surprise when she came across an old newspaper clipping he had saved. It was about his retirement from business. I have it now.

Clement B. Hale," it began, "has served a testimonial dinner last night by the insurance company which he has served for 40 years. This is a record for the company, stated John H. Quinn, the president, who presented Mr. Hale with a gold watch. Hale, who now retires on pension, was born March 19, 1852, in Inwood Lane, Clarendon."

Mrs. Joseph Hoke, Roy Eyler and George Gingell and children spent a day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Summers, Frederick, on Sunday.

LIONS LADIES' NIGHT IS GALA AFFAIR

District Governor Main Speaker At Annual Event

The Emmitsburg Lions Club celebrated its nineteenth annual charter night in gala fashion Monday night in Elias Lutheran Church Parish Hall. Over 100 members and guests attended the affair and were delighted at the magical demonstration of Magician Allen Fennell, who had the audience in hysterics most of the evening with his wizardry.

The annual Ladies' Night affair was called to order by President Herbert Roger. Singing of "America" followed the call to order, and the pledge to the flag was made. Rev. Philip Bower gave the invocation.

The guests, many of whom were from out-of-town, were treated to a delicious Maryland turkey dinner and served by the women of the Lutheran Parish.

The affair also featured a trio of Spanish girls from St. Joseph's College who sang several songs in their native language.

Toastmaster Dr. D. L. Beegle was very pleasing in his role and interspersed his announcements with many humorous jokes.

Guest speaker of the evening was C. O. Fishpaw, district governor of the Lions, who gave a very interesting talk. Musical selections were played by Prof. W. S. Sterbinsky and were well received. The evening was rounded out with dancing under the direction of Miss Mildred Trevett.

Indian Logic

A TOURIST noticed a lazy Indian chief loitering at the door of his wigwam.

"Chief," remonstrated the tourist, "why don't you get a job in a factory?"

"Why?" grunted the chief.

"Well, you could earn a lot of money. Maybe 30 or 40 dollars a week."

"Why?" insisted the chief.

"Oh, if you worked hard and saved your money, you'd soon have a bank account. Wouldn't you like that?"

"Why?" again asked the chief.

"For heaven's sake!" shouted the exasperated tourist. "With a big bank account you could retire, and then you wouldn't have to work any more..."

"Not working now," pointed out the chief.

A MYSTERY

Upon being offered some roast chicken, Sam accepted a drumstick.

"Now, Sam, would you like some of this nice stuffing?" asked his mother.

"No, thank you," he replied. And after a thoughtful moment added, "And I don't see why the chickens eat it either."

CIGAR SHORTAGE

First tramp: "This is the first cigar I've had in three weeks."

Second tramp: "What's been the trouble?"

First: "Had lumbago and couldn't bend over."

Modest Wish

A man, frantic to locate a place to live, asked a naturalist if he knew where he could find a house.

The naturalist replied: "House? Boy, you're getting soft. Why don't you live out in the open air, let old Mother Nature cover you with a blanket of stars, and have the blue firmament above as a roof?"

"Frankly," said the man, "I had in mind something a bit smaller."

They Serve a Purpose

"Tell me," said an old gentleman, drawing little Johnny out with good-natured teasing, "what are little boys good for, anyhow?"

Johnny considered the question thoughtfully, then sagely replied, "Well, we're good to make men out of."

MISSION CRUSADE MEETS HERE

St. Joseph's High School Scene Of Event

Last Thursday at St. Joseph's High School in Emmitsburg, a meeting of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade was held. Miss Regina Bienlein of St. Joseph's College presided. The secretary called the roll with the following units present:

St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg; St. John's, Westminster; St. Mary's, Hagerstown; Mt. St. Mary's Seminary; St. Joseph's High School, here.

The meeting was formally opened with the Mission Prayer by Rev. Fr. Dausch of Hagerstown. This was followed by a short address of welcome by Rev. Fr. O'Brien, C.M., of St. Joseph's. Miss Patsy Dunham, secretary, gave her report, and Miss Patricia Jasper, treasurer, reported a balance on hand of $1.07 with no withdrawals.

The president called upon the various units for individual reports in financial as well as spiritual matters. Since there was no new business, the president recognized the various speakers on the subject, "Why I Think Some Marriages Fail."

The speakers were Patricia Jasper, Beverly Ford, Joseph Patton, the Rev. Mr. Casey, Peggy Patton, and James Eckert. At the close of this discussion, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vaeth gave the gathering his views on the subject.

Msgr. Vaeth then told the group of a coming missionary endeavor for our own religious orders in this vicinity. A Mission Month is to be designated, during which time would be devoted to the learning and studying of these orders, as well as collecting funds for the missions here at home instead of the usual foreign missions. This plan is known as the Baltimore Plan. We are first to have our mission dues paid and then care for any foreign or home missions. He warned the group to beware of false clergy-men soliciting funds, and gave examples of how they work.

It was decided that the next meeting would be held at St. John's High School in Westminster on Thursday, Dec. 16. For discussion, the topic will be "My Comments on the Bishop's Report." Due to the broadness of such a topic, each unit will be notified which phase of this subject to take.

The meeting was closed with a prayer and the song, "Missionlands, My Missionlands." Solemn Benediction was held in St. Joseph's Church with Rev. Michael O'Brien, C.M., as celebrant, assisted by seminarians from Mt. St. Mary's Seminary.

Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria by several members of the PTA.

In rainy weather, an inverted glass placed over salt container will prevent salt from clogging.

Wax the feet of furniture when waxing floor and the waxed floor will not be marred when furniture is moved.

15 STATES TO USE SINGLE LICENSE PLATE

Vivid Colors Will Reappear In 1949

Passenger car owners in fifteen states will use only a single license plate on their automobile next year, according to the AAA Automobile Club of Maryland's annual survey of state motor vehicle registration and license laws.

The AAA report points out that seven years ago, in 1942, all states were issuing double license plates. But the war emergency and the accompanying restrictions on the use of metals caused all but a handful of states to adopt the single license plate. Gradually the practice of issuing two license plates is being resumed.

Also, as a hold-over from the war years, seven states will retain their 1947 or 1948 license plates, validating them for use during 1949 with year date tabs.

Five states now issue permanent type plates—Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Missouri, and Wisconsin. The latter two states, in adopting the permanent plate system have also abandoned the yearly registration period and now have a registration period of twelve months, but with plates expiring at the end of each month of the year. In these states the expiration date is indicated on the license plate itself.

The AAA noted that somber colors used during the war years are being replaced with more vivid hues. The aluminum color, now being used instead of white in a great many states, will appear next year with varying shades of green, red, and blue. Other colorful combinations include red-on-green for Florida; canary yellow-on-royal blue for Illinois; blue-on-silver for Nevada; straw-on-black for New Jersey, and cream-on-blue for the Canal Zone.

While more and more states are announcing their so-called "period of grace" for securing the next year's automobile license plates in advance of the stated expiration date, nearly a dozen states last year granted last-minute extensions. Hence, careful checks should be made by enforcement officials in order to avoid false arrests for operation of vehicles on expired plates, the Club pointed out.

TULL-EYLER

A lovely wedding took place at St. Anthony's Shrine Thanksgiving Day at 10 o'clock between Janice Lorraine Eyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Eyler, of Rocky Ridge, and Howard V. Tull, near Emmitsburg. The double ring ceremony was used at the nuptial mass at which Rev. Stanley J. Scarff officiated.

The bride was charming in her traditional gown of white satin. She chose her sister as maid of honor who wore a very attractive gown. The best man was Robert Case. The altar was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums.

Upon their return from their honeymoon, the young couple will reside in the Tull home near Emmitsburg.

INFORMATION, PLEASE

Did you know that Emmitsburg was an incorporated town just ten years after the Revolutionary War. The date 1786.

Mr. Surratt, the brother of the only woman ever hanged in the United States, taught school at the same location at which the present vineyard is located. He, by his pupils, was commonly known (and quietly) as "Sir Rat" because of his stern and uncompromising inability to see one else's point of view.

His sister was found guilty and hanged in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

The University of California has 43,600 full-time students. The Berkeley Campus, 23,000, has almost as many as Yale, Princeton, and Harvard combined. The second largest, UCLA, (14,500) is larger than the University of Chicago. Two and one-half million books in the library are valued at nearly ten million dollars.

This year's budget is set at 45 million dollars.

We, in Maryland, will have to remember that the tuition is free and that two-thirds of his, or her present financial aid comes from the Legislators who are graduates from University of California.

President Sproul, who is now head of the largest university in the world, has as his goal 50,000 students in 1950 and 60,000 in 1960.

There are 10,400 acres of campus and only 41 acres classroom space.

The Lick Observatory at South Hamilton, Calif., which maintains the second largest astronomical telescope in the world, was founded and financed by, according to a recent radio broadcast, a man who was disappointed in his heart's desire from our neighbor, little Hanover, Pa. He then went to the Golden State, succeeded rapidly, and died there, establishing the observatory which his name perpetuates.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Humerick, Altoona, Pa., and Miss Evelyn Humerick, of Washington, D. C., visited with relatives in town Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Gregory Washabaugh and daughter, Sara, of Annandale, Va., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Humerick.

Mrs. William Topper visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Upton Austin, Taneytown.

SAM POST SAYS:

"Make no mistake about it, I'm a tough guy—hard as nails—just like I had to be when I followed that Star-Spangled Banner overseas. No room for mushy sentiment in my make-up!"

"All the same, when I drive past the Scout Camp evenings and see 'em haul down Old Glory, a couple of butterflies always start fluttering around in my stomach. It does things to me."

"Well, I guess a fellow's got to shoulder a gun and sail across an ocean to understand what the Red, White and Blue really means. And, if this country's going to be kept safe from all the foreign 'isms' that're always hanging around, overseas veterans will be largely responsible."

"The way I look at it, any man—old or young—who's eligible to join the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has a certain OBLIGATION to become a member. The V.F.W. is working overtime to teach all citizens to respect and revere the Stars and Stripes. Our hard-hitting Americanism work goes on day and night. We make it hot for agitators who come to town looking for a soft touch. Yes, the V.F.W. is fighting for a strong U.S.A.!"

"Would you like to be a part of a movement that's doing all this? If you're a veteran with overseas service in any past war, you're eligible to join our V.F.W. Post. Come down to our next meeting. Find out how well you fit in with the most exclusive group in town—a bunch of fellows who are doing a big job in a great way!"

A group of local fellows went to Renova, Pa., to hunt bear last week, unfortunately none of the men were lucky enough to get one. Those making the trip were George Ashbaugh, Weldon Shank, Clyde Wenchoff, Everett Wills, Thornton Rodgers, Jr., Harold Miller, Paul Newman, Don Huffer, Lester Crouse and William Cover.

The following ladies from Emmitsburg attended the district meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary at Westminster on Sunday: Mrs. Helen McNair, Mrs. Nettie Ashbaugh, Miss Ruth Gillelan, Mrs. Margaret Brown, Mrs. Jeannette Chrimer and Mrs. Laura Rosensteel. The ladies were served luncheon at this meeting, which was held at 1:00 p. m.

Mrs. Claude Corl, of Sabillasville, visited her mother, Mrs. E. L. Higbee, this week.
