BY ABIGAIL

Looking into other people's affairs . . . a favorite pastime of your enthusiastic correspondent . . . I picked up a few comments from recent visitors to our fair Town, which I believe, proved that you and I are on the right track after all.

A visitor from Cleveland mused at great length on the quiet, peaceful atmosphere pervading Emmitsburg. It was his first trip here in fifteen years. He confessed that he had completely forgotten that this is the way he used to live when residing here. But a few years in Ohio's largest city caught him up in the maelstrom and he unwittingly accepted this new way of living as standard. It took several days of our local charm to recant him from the anaesthesia induced by the pressure of big city life. And get the significance of this remark he uttered: "In two days I have met more friends I'd forgotten about than I've been able to make in fifteen years!"

Have the promise of this and his wife that we'll have a new family in Emmitsburg one of these days. He swears he'll be moving back . . .

A second visitor adopted an attitude of indifference, bordering on snobishness. He remarked, "Why the old Town hasn't changed a lick in twenty years. Why would anyone want to come back here except for a short visit?" He wanted to know what we do for recreation, and how do we get food comparable to Harrisburg's big super markets? How can you find a place to live in a town that never seems to grow. How, indeed, could a person make a living here where job opportunities do not exist on the scale of a city?

Well, of course, any of you could have answered his objections equally well, but I thought the best way was to bundle him and his children into a friend's automobile and go on a conducted tour of Emmitsburg. It was thrilling to old Abigail because as I made the visit I had the guilty feeling I had got a bit rusty myself on everything that has been transpiring in our midst.

It was truly exciting to discover developments even I hadn't known about. I proudly pointed out every new excavation and foundation where a house was a-building (and there were plenty!) We drove to the far reaches of each street, and my friends were astounded to learn that the boundaries had expanded far beyond their limits in 1929. It was a proud moment as they pointed to one structure after another and exclaimed, "Isn't that a pretty home . . . when was it built?" Eventually we got around to DePaul Street, and his enthusiasm knew no bounds at sight of it. He remembered it as an alley way back when with a house or so scattered here and there. It was wonderful to watch the mother's reaction when we explained the grand new building there was newly-built St. Joseph's High School.

Being a business man, our guest was quick to notice and note the many new stores and shops that have made their appearances in recent years. It wasn't at all like he remembered the sleepy little town he fled twenty years ago. I could sense his mounting enthusiasm as we progressed, but it knew no bounds when we approached the new shoe factory. "Why, I had no idea!" he exclaimed. Then he went on to say that he had marked off Emmitsburg as a possible business venture because of its lack of opportunities for employment. He felt

HEAVY RAINS AGAIN STRIKE TOWN, DISTRICT

Creeks Again Run High; Much Crop And Property Damage

Exceptionally heavy rains, that at one time neared cloudburst proportions, swept Emmitsburg over the week-end and for a time Sunday afternoon blocked traffic on Rt. 15 between Emmitsburg and the Mason-Dixon Line.

Streams in all sections continued to run flush but were not out of bank.

Flat Run Overflows

The only traffic tie-up Sunday as the result of water inundated roads was north of Emmitsburg when Flat Run Creek swept out of bank and across Rt. 15, temporarily blocking north and south-bound traffic.

Heavy showers prevailed in the morning and again in the afternoon. Between three and six o'clock Sunday evening, they increased in intensity. The small Flat Run was unable to carry the run-off water and the overflow resulted. Tom's Creek and the stream passing the high school also went out of bank.

The traffic condition around Emmitsburg was taken under control by State Police Sgt. W. K. May and Troopers Stonesifer and Bond.

One Accident

One accident occurred when a northbound Oldsmobile driven by Howard J. Wantz of York, Pa., was damaged to the extent of some $200 when it was struck by a southbound Ford truck driven by R. Cole Lefever, Washington, D. C. The mishap occurred at the Toll Gate Hill curve. Sgt. May charged the Washington man with failing to keep to the right of the center of the highway and with operating on "dead" tags.

Storm Strike Again

Monday also saw heavy downpours in this section and Flat Run at the end of N. Seton Ave. again went out of bounds and Tom's Creek at the foot of Toll Gate Hill, was impassable for some time. The state road in front of Emmitsburg High School was under water too. About two feet of water halted traffic there temporarily.

Over eleven inches of precipitation was recorded at the official weather station at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, during the past week, it was said Tuesday.

The record rainfalls have played havoc with some college facilities and have caused serious washing at points on the campus as streams overflowed.

An overflow pipe in a stream near the college became clogged as a result of the heavy rains and water has poured through parts of the bakery and dairy buildings at times, causing some damage.

The large outdoor swimming pool has been out of commission for at least a week, it was reported Tuesday. The big pool has been flooded on several occasions and a large amount of mud has washed into it.

The worst of the rains came last week when 6.4 inches occurred on two days—Tuesday and Wednesday. This was followed by .78 of an inch on Friday, while 1.80 was recorded Sunday and 1.56 inches up to five o'clock Monday afternoon. The co-operative observer estimated that close to an inch more fell after five p. m. Monday.

The precipitation is more than twice as much as has been recorded at the weather station at the Frederick airport during the same period.

Louis Orndorff is a patient at St. Agnes' Hospital, Baltimore, where he underwent a knee operation this week. His condition is reported as satisfactory.

Mrs. Michael Bobanio and son of Aliquippa, Pa., are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Warthen.

Miss Eva Rowe of Washington, D. C., visited here over the week-end.

Hundreds View Firemen's Parade, Prizes Awarded

Weather Ideal For Affair As Throng Lines Streets Of Emmitsburg

The parade held last Friday in Emmitsburg was one of the most largely-attended affairs ever to be held here. It is estimated that several thousand people viewed the mile-and-a-half long line of march.

Parade Chairman John J. Hollinger announced the following participants as prize winners:

The first prize of $100 went to the Guardian Hose Company of Thurmont for the best appearing fire company with band or drum corps and apparatus in the line of march.

Second prize, $50, went to New Midway.

First prize of $50 for the best appearing fire company without a musical unit was won by Westminster; Brunswick fire company took second prize of $25. The Hagerstown Moose drum and bugle corps won first prize and $75 for the best band or drum corps, and second prize of $50 was won by the Mercersburg American Legion Band.

New Midway Auxiliary was the only auxiliary in the parade. It was awarded $50 first prize. Arcadia, Md., volunteer firemen won $50 for having what the judges considered the best appearing piece of fire equipment in the parade.

Leading the parade was State Trooper Kenneth Bond, followed by color guards and firing squads of the local Legion and VFW posts. The Hagerstown Civic Band was the first musical unit in line. The local VFW ambulance preceded a long line of motor equipment of the 729th Mechanized Unit of the Maryland State National Guard from Camp Ritchie.

Other units marching were: Gettysburg, Barlow fire truck, Fairfield fire truck; drum and bugle corps of Hagerstown Lodge No. 212 Loyal Order of Moose, Alpha fire company, Littlestown, Cashtown, Fountaintdale, Ryneal, Arcadia, Hampstead, Westminster, Clear Spring, Hesson Snyder post, American Legion drum and bugle corps, Taneytown, Walkersville fire trucks.

Color guard and American Legion Post No. 517, Mercersburg band; Thurmont firemen, marching unit and truck; Braddock Heights trucks; Brunswick truck and marching unit; United Fire Company, Frederick, two fire trucks; Yellow Springs concert band; New Midway fire truck; New Midway Ladies' auxiliary; Vigilant Hose Company, Emmitsburg and fire truck.

Parade judges were Sheriff Guy Anders, Frederick; William D. Buzzard, Camp Dietrick, Frederick, and Alton C. Whitmore, Frederick.

Grange Sponsors X-Ray Exam

Emmitsburgians will soon have the advantage of a free X-ray examination when the mobile equipment will move into Emmitsburg on Aug. 2. Every resident, young and old, is invited by the Emmitsburg Grange to take advantage of this free examination.

The equipment is owned and operated by the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn. and through the co-operation of the Emmitsburg Grange is to come here for the benefit of all.

Those taking advantage of the examination will be notified within three or four weeks of the results. The whole procedure of examination will take only a few minutes of your time and the results are divulged to you only.

The unit will be stationed at Emmitsburg High School from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m.

BANNS PUBLISHED

The banns of marriage were announced for the first time in St. Joseph's Catholic Church last Sunday morning between Charles Keepers of St. Joseph's Parish and Joan Neiderer of St. Vincent's parish, Hanover, Pa.

What's Your Name?

By JULES CHRISTIAN

It has been suggested that the next few columns be given to the leaders of our community. The political, religious, and business leaders occupy a place of great importance in our Town. Therefore, the writer is glad to comply with this suggestion. The first group to be considered will be the political fathers of the town who are doing such a good job in the over-all management of the community.

Before taking their name by name, a few words ought to be said, in general, about the numerous family names that have come from the political or legal professions. Political leaders have always lived in the lime-light. In fact history has largely been a record of what this one group of people has done. The political leaders who have headed governments, and those associated with them in the making and the enforcing of the law, constitute the major interest to which the historians of the past have given attention. Therefore, in any community the Town Fathers occupy a place of great prominence. They usually become the major target of praise or criticism. If they are energetic men characterized with sincerity and efficiency, they are apt to be criticized all the more. But they are neither hurt nor discouraged. They know that such criticism is often a form of praise in disguise.

JUDGE

Just because the political fathers of any community, large or small, have occupied such a place of prominence, numerous people surnamed themselves after the office they held.

Taking a few examples, John who presided over a court of justice became John the Judge or John Judge. If he lived in France or came therefrom, he most likely became known as John Damouth or John Demmitt. If he came from the Isle of Man he became John Dempster from which came the name of Dempsey made famous by Jack Dempsey, the renowned pugilist of recent times.

BOYLE

John who had the custody of the prisoners during the trial became John Boyle. Frequently he chose to be called John Bailey, a name to describe his occupation. Till this day one of the most famous courts of England is called Old Bailey. In France he might name himself John Badaeu. In England he might choose to call himself John Graves or John Reeves.

John who had charge of preserving order in the court became John Marshall or John Beadle. John, the court attendant became John Sargent. And John who executed the summons to appear in court became John Sumner, frequently spelled Summers.

SHRIVER

John the attorney became John Lawyer or John Proctor. If from Germany, John the magistrate became John Shultz. John who had charge of enforcing the law in any given district became John Reaver often spelled Reeve. John who was the county sheriff became John Shriver, a name made up of two words to describe the office. One was Shire, the English name for County. The other was Reaver meaning the officer. Thus Shirereaver was shortened to Shriver for brevity and musical sound.

This brief survey of a few names derived from the law and its enforcement, will serve as an introduction to next week's column dealing with the local Town Fathers who are entrusted with the civil management of the community.

Well-Known Farmer Dies

MAHLON STONESIFER

Mahlon Stonesifer, a retired farmer, died Friday morning at six o'clock at his home in Emmitsburg at the age of 82 years. Death was attributed to complications. A native of Keyesville he was a son of the late Reuben and Anna Zentz Stonesifer. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Anna Z. Fuss Stonesifer, and the following children: Robert W. Stonesifer, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Emma Bollinger, Harney; Mrs. Anna McNair, Emmitsburg; Leo Stonesifer, Chicago; Edgar Stonesifer, Emmitsburg; Carroll Stonesifer, Westminster; Ray Stonesifer, Chicago; Mrs. Helen Myers, Thurmont; Mrs. Marion Eyley, Mrs. Ruth Copenhaver, both of Emmitsburg. Forty-three grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Alma Newcomer, of Taneytown, also survive.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in the Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg. Rev. Philip Bower officiated. Interment in Mt. View Cemetery, Emmitsburg.

Pallbearers were Luther Kugler, George Eyster, Lloyd Dern, Charles Sharrer, Edward Smith and Jacob Adams. S. L. Allison, funeral director.

MISS ESTELLE SWEENEY

Miss Estelle Sweeney, a retired school-teacher of near St. Anthony's, died at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Saturday at 2 a. m., after an illness of nine days, aged 71 years. She was a daughter of the late Daniel and Elizabeth Latham Sweeney. Surviving are an uncle, Paul S. Sweeney, Elgin, Ill., two cousins, Lawrence Sweeney, Chicago, and Mrs. Willis M. Kelly, Pittsburgh, Pa. Requiem mass was conducted Monday at 10 o'clock at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Rev. Fr. Carney officiated. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery, Emmitsburg. S. L. Allison, funeral director.

Negro Legion Team Plays Here Sunday

Baseball Outfit From Frederick Promises Plenty of Action on Diamond

A strong and fast Negro aggregation from the American Legion Post of Frederick plays here Sunday afternoon on the Community Field.

The colored Legionnaires boast of wins over better teams in the county, and have beaten the Frederick Hustlers, strong independent team.

Emmitsburg's Sunday team has been bolstered considerably lately both in offensive and defense playing. If they continue to play the same brand of ball, Sunday's game should prove to be one every local fan wouldn't want to miss.

Game time will be 2:30.

Play Fairfield Tomorrow

Fairfield will be host to the local ball club tomorrow afternoon in an Adams County League game. Fairfield has a record of 10 wins and six defeats for their efforts this year, while Emmitsburg shows a three and fourteen count.

Twilight Game Scheduled

A postponed Adams County League game will be played at Littlestown Saturday night at 8:30 under the lights. Littlestown has a record of nine wins and six losses.

Win Saturday's Tilt

Emmitsburg scored a run in last half of the eleventh inning last Saturday to win from York Spring, 11-10.

"Bo" Cadle scored from third after the ball had gotten away from the catcher. Previously, Bo singled past third and was advanced to third by a sacrifice and an error.

The game see-sawed back and forth for nine innings with the visitors coming up with a run in their half of the ninth tying the count. Each team scored a run in the tenth, with Emmitsburg winning by a run in the 11th frame.

Most of Emmitsburg's offensive came from the stick wielding of Smith, Frock, Paidakovich, and Chrimer.

Paidakovich Steals Home

In the eighth inning, with the score knotted at eight-all, Paidakovich stole home, putting Emmitsburg ahead. However, the Springers scored one in their half of the ninth making the game go into extra innings.

Kelly, who replaced Joy on the mound, received credit for the victory.

Miss Barbara Matakovich, Jessup, is spending three weeks visiting with her uncle, Jack Burbick and with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle and family.

HOMEMAKERS TO ATTEND LUNCHEON-TEA

The Emmitsburg Homemakers' Club is invited to attend a luncheon-tea to be held in the Conference Rooms of the old East Church Street School, Frederick, Tuesday, July 28, from two to four o'clock.

Miss Beatrice Fehr, county home demonstration agent, and Miss Roxie Montgomery, assistant demonstration agent, will be hostesses at the affair.

PARKING METER TIMES

Attention is called to all motorists in this district to the parking meter changes which were recently put into effect in Emmitsburg.

In the Square and vicinity, that is to Harner's Alley on E. Main St., and from the Square to Tokar's Alley, the meter time is from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. weekdays, and from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturdays. The balance of the meters are effective as follows: Weekdays through Saturday, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Two-hour parking is permitted on all meters.

COMMISSIONER IS OVERRULED; LICENSE GRANTED

Rosensteel-Cooper Appeal Upheld By Associate Judge

Reversing the decision of Commissioner G. Cleveland Trout, Associate Judge Patrick Schnauffer Tuesday afternoon ordered a Class A Offsale beer, wine and liquor license issued to Richard H. Rosensteel and Louis Cooper in the Emmitsburg District.

The controlling factor in his decision, the judge indicated, was a petition signed by some 250 residents of Emmitsburg, including many of the most important citizens, urging the issuance of the license.

It has been the policy of Judge Schnauffer in such cases to heed the wishes of a majority of citizens, where possible. He pointed out that he followed this procedure in a Hyattstown case some time ago.

The judge said that on the question of population, it appeared there had been a sufficient increase to authorize a third liquor establishment in Emmitsburg, whether or not the student bodies of Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Colleges are considered.

Usually a petition has no great bearing in court, but on the question of alcoholic beverage license permits, the situation is different, the court said. The application starts off with a petition signed by a number of citizens and it is logical that any additional petition would be "admissible and enlightening," he said.

Attorneys for the applicants had pointed out that the petition favoring the issuance of the license had been signed by both the mayor and the ex-mayor of Emmitsburg, by a Town Commissioner, by the trial magistrate, the deputy sheriff, the high school principal, the physicians of Emmitsburg, the head of the physical education department at Mt. St. Mary's College and by many others.

Twice before Commissioner G. C. Trout denied the license, and in the latest opinion, from which the appeal was taken, had said the population increase did not justify the granting of the permit and present accommodations were adequate for the public. There was no question of the qualifications of the applicants—Rosensteel a veteran and Cooper a long-time businessman.

The applicants' attorneys argued that the commissioner's interpretation of the population statistics was wrong, that the population was at least 3,763 excluding the college student bodies and this was sufficient for a third licensed establishment.

They also asserted that the fact the establishment was a half-mile from the center of Emmitsburg would be a convenience to the public, since there was plenty of parking space. Moreover, they maintained, the comparative isolation of the place would be a help to "sensitive" drinking people who did not want to be seen entering a liquor store. Objections to the issuance of the permit, they claimed, stemmed from one of the town's liquor distributors.

Attorneys for the applicants were Alton Y. Bennett, Benjamin B. Rosenstock and William M. Storm. E. Austin James, representing the objectors, argued that the petition in support of the application should not have been admitted into evidence because he was unable to cross-examine the signers and he felt certain the large majority would testify they had not been inconvenienced by the lack of a third liquor store.

T. West Claggett, representing the liquor commissioner, argued there was no certainty from the population figures produced at the hearings that there had been a sufficient increase for a third licensed establishment. He estimated that 90% of the residents of the town who would be prospective customers of the R-C establishment would have to pass the other two liquor stores en route.

Around the Studios

with Charlie Brooks

New York's recent freak weather—first hot and then cold—didn't bother radio's Tess Sheehan, dynamic middle-aged Irish actress who plays Wendy's Aunt Dorrie in the CBS dramatization "Wendy Warren and the News." She recalls with mischievous delight a Christmas Day in Manitoba, in 1913, when she was playing on the famous Chautauqua stage. The group drove in a carriage for eight solid hours, with the temperature at 30 below zero. "We wore long woolen underwear," says Tess, "wool dresses, wool stockings, high boots, and two fur coats—our own and an extra one from the livery stable."

Tess Sheehan

Director Ollie Barbour of NBC's popular daytime show, "When a Girl Marries," needed an odd combination—a shady character who could charm children into telling where some money was hidden. So he and writer Elaine Carrington created a role that gives actor Louis Van Rooten a shot at the title, "biggest liar in radio," a spinner of fabulous yarns. "It's one of the most fascinating parts I ever played," says Van Rooten who's just back from a movie stint in Hollywood.

When a radio actor marries a radio actress—as often happens—vacations are a problem. Because NBC's "Portia Faces Life" has been recorded for three weeks in advance, Les Damon, who plays the part of Bill Baker, will get most of July to himself. Already a member of the "Around the World" club by virtue of previous trips, mostly by air, Les is planning to spend his vacation on a cruise to South America. But his wife, Ginger Jones, who was also in the "Portia" cast until recently as Joan Ward, cannot get away because of other radio commitments. She'll stay on their New Jersey farm and look after her booming jam and jelly business.

DEED RECORDED
A deed was recorded in the clerk's office for the sale of a property on Blue Ridge Ave., Thurmont, from Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Martin and Floyd C. Martin to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Murray, consideration being around $7,000, according to revenue stamps.

PERSONALS

Mr. J. Edward Houck, who suffered a severe heart attack last week, is improving steadily at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martin and daughter, Dorothy, and Mrs. Martin's mother, of Altoona, and Miss Virginia Shorb, Rocky Ridge, spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney E. O'Donoghue, New York City, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John A. O'Donoghue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keilholtz are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Rebecca Lee, on Tuesday, July 12, at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa. Mrs. Keilholtz is the former Frances Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bosley and Doris Lee, Johnny and Willie, Bosley, spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner.

Mr. Herbert Roger is again confined to his home on S. Seton Ave. with a leg ailment. Mr. Roger had the same affliction several weeks ago and it was believed to have been cured until it returned again this week.

Hagerstown Mayor Receives Threats

Mayor Herman L. Mills of Hagerstown said Tuesday night he had received two anonymous telephone threats against his life as the result of his anti-gambling campaign.

"Neither this or anything else will deter me from the discharge of my plain duties," the Mayor said in a broadcast over radio station WJEE.

The Mayor's broadcast reviewed the controversy which followed raids on 11 fraternal organizations and clubs last Friday by police. From the raid about 75 slot machines containing $3,709 were confiscated and stored in the city hall.

It was reported no action has been taken against the clubs and the policemen were briefed by the Mayor before the raids.

Mills said Tuesday night, "The one-armed bandit is a glaring example of unrestrained gambling in Hagerstown." Previously he had judged the receipts from machines in the city was about $200,000 a year.

Answering arguments that the "take" from the machines are used to promote charity," Mayor Mills stated "if our charitable practices are to depend on unlawful income we are in bad shape morally."

Mills was elected Mayor on the Republican ticket this year.

Eyler Filly Is Race Victor

Significant, 2-year-old filly, owned by C. William Eyler, Thurmont sportsman and meat store proprietor, took the second half of the daily double at Laurel Raceway Saturday night. The colt clipped the mile in 2:12.2 and brought happiness to the holders of tote tickets, by paying $23 to win. Coupled with the winner of the second race, Hedgewood Song, the daily double pay-off was $238.40.

Significant had raced only once before her victory Saturday night.

Gilbert L., trotter, owned by Myrle F. Keilholtz, Emmitsburg sportsman, placed third Monday night at the same track and paid $5.

With the aid of chemical analysis of leaves of peaches and apples, a more accurate diagnosis of the fertilizer needs of Maryland orchards is being made.

that the factory should have a tremendous influence on development of the community.

We visited two of our grocery stores, and he was very favorably impressed by their modern appearances. He was careful to note comparative prices on goods with which he was familiar, and also to remark on completeness of assortment and good storekeeping. We casually remarked about increased enrollments at all local schools. A later trip to Mt. St. Mary's convinced him that things are certainly not at a standstill here. On the contrary, September's enrollment will be the highest on record at the Mount. He foresaw a high potential of business for Emmitsburg from both St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Colleges.

Actually, folks, it was a proud day for little old Abigail and for all Emmitsburg. Other people think we're growing, and I can tell you that many people are looking toward our town as a place of residence with an air of nostalgia in the glance. If we can further the friendly, progressive attitude we've struck up till now, I believe we're due for an influx of new families, new businesses and success!

Gettysburg's newly-erected Country Club is quite the place... Makes me mighty envious that Emmitsburg can't have something of the sort... Private swimming pool, tennis courts, golf course and everything's else that goes to make a nice country club. I guess Emmitsburg's a little too small a community for an edifice like that, but it sure is a swell dream in case our population ever increases to about 10,000.

In 1900, according to estimates, there were 1,527,000,000 people in the world.

ROCKY RIDGE NEWS

By MRS. JOHN KAAS
(Rocky Ridge Correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martin and daughter Dorothy, Altoona, Pa., Mrs. Mary Frigart of Duncansville, Pa., spent a few days last week with Mr. Martin's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Shorb.

Mrs. Estella I. Englar celebrated her 85th birthday anniversary on Sunday, July 17. Many friends and relatives called to extend their best wishes. She also received 125 cards.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kaas spent the week-end in Salisbury and attended the Marine Corps League convention. Mr. Kaas was a delegate from the Shangri La detachment of Frederick.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. Minnie Renner on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Seward Englar of Linwood; Mr. Samuel Long and Mrs. Margaret Creger of Thurmont and Mr. Lloyd Freeze of Frederick.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren of Fountaldale, Pa., visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Long Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Six spent a few days recently at Atlantic City, N. J.

MT. TABOR GUILD HOLDS MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of Mt. Tabor Evangelical and Reformed Church was held on July 14 at the home of Mrs. Harvey Stambaugh, with Mrs. Mae Kaas as co-hostess. There were 12 members and 4 visitors present.

The meeting was opened by singing the hymn, "Anywhere is Jesus." Mrs. Richard Dubel in charge of the worship service. Mrs. Mae Kaas was program leader. The readers were Mrs. John Dubel, Mrs. Novella Dinterman, Mrs. Howard Miller and Miss Newton Valentine. The program topic was, "On Our Own Doorsteps." Through the readings we were made better acquainted with our neighbors in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands and the Philippines.

Singing of the hymn "From Greenland's Clays Mountains" followed the readings.

A very interesting talk about the family life and customs of China and India was given by Mrs. Edouard Taylor, who had been a missionary there for 15 years.

The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Novella Dinterman. The meeting closed with prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harvey Stambaugh and Mrs. Mae Kaas.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Saylor on August 11, with Mrs. Wesley Dubel as co-hostess. Mrs. Howard Miller will be the leader.

MARINE LEAGUE HOLDS CONVENTION ON SHORE

The third annual convention of the Maryland Marine Corps League was held at Salisbury on July 16.

A memorial service was held in the courthouse park. A clay model, a replica of the raising of the Flag on Mt. Sabasco on the island of Iwo Jima in World War II by the Marines, was used in the service, which was conducted by G. R. Long, senior vice commandant. Rev. Sauesbury made the invocation and pronounced the benediction.

At the business session Clem B. Russell of Clarksburg, Md., a veteran of the China campaign of 1930-31, was elected commandant. He succeeds Paul R. Shaner of Hagerstown. William R. Hainesberger of Silver Spring, was made senior vice commandant. Other officers elected included: Andrew W. Craige of Rockville, adjutant-paymaster; Richard O. Campbell, Salisbury, chaplain; Dale C. Price of Cambridge, judge - advocate; John D. Kaas, Rocky Ridge; Howard D. Adkins of Berlin and John V. Little of Hyattsville were made division vice commandants.

The group urged legislation in Congress for retaining the Marine Corps as a distinct unit and setting a floor of 6% of the total of the entire armed forces as the corps strength.

Also adopted was a resolution favoring the establishment of a joint state council of veterans organizations to serve as an information clearing house, with special attention to legislative matters.

The convention ended with a banquet. Addressing the gathering was Brigadier-General Gerald C. Thomas, chief of staff of the Marine Corps equipment board at Quantico, Va.

Rockville was selected for the 1950 convention site. About 50 delegates attended the session.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

The loan rate for U. S. No. 1 wheat shipped by rail to Baltimore and Philadelphia terminal storage is $2.37 per bushel. The rate for wheat shipped by boat or truck is 10c under this figure. If farm stored wheat, rates range from $2.11 to $2.16 depending upon the county in which the grain is located. Discounts from these prices are provided for wheat grading lower than No. 1. A discount of 6c per bushel applies to wheat grading "garlicy." Most Maryland wheat grades No. 2 garlicy, and is therefore subject to a discount of 7c per bushel from the No. 1 rate quoted above.

This week Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee, called attention to the serious shortage of wheat storage space at Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. Nearly all storage facilities at these points are owned by railroads and are used principally to store grain hauled by the carriers from western areas. Space allotted to nearby wheat has already been filled, leaving only a very limited amount in the hands of private operators available for Maryland wheat. Under these circumstances, many Maryland farmers who prefer to take advantage of the price support loan program rather than sell at a loss in the present market, may be forced to apply at their local AAA Offices for a farm storage loan.

Fortunately, weather conditions have so far been favorable for harvesting wheat, much of which carries a moisture content as low as the 14 per cent required for obtaining an immediate loan. Other wheat of 15 or 16 per cent moisture if stored so as to provide air circulation, can be held until the present terminal storage problem is relieved by shipments abroad, and movement of grain into trade channels.

The present situation was forecast by the Maryland PMA several months ago, and since that time farmers have been repeatedly advised to provide their own storage. Mr. Blandford concluded by saying that the corn storage problem this fall may be even more acute than that of wheat unless farmers in the meantime provide their own facilities.

Famous Band At Forest Park

All plans are completed for the first appearance in this section of the famous Ringgold Band. The band, which will play two concerts at Forest Park, Hanover on Sunday, July 24. One concert will be held in the afternoon at 1 to 3 o'clock and one in the evening from 6 to 8 o'clock.

The band, directed by Fred Cardin, is one of the finest bands in America and was founded in 1852. There will be soloists, ensembles, novelties and selections by Joyce Sell, soprano, prima donna, of the Reading Civic Opera Society.

Admission and parking will be free and there will be 1500 reserved seats at 30 cents, including the tax. In event of rain, concerts will be held in the ballroom.

Game Hearing Is Scheduled

The Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission announces a hearing to be held on the 17th floor of the Munsey Building in Baltimore, Monday, August 1, at 10 a. m. to discuss the following proposed regulation:

"That it shall be unlawful to hunt, pursue, or kill rail bird and sora in this state except between September 1 and October 20, inclusive."

All those interested in the preservation of Maryland's game, especially sportsmen's clubs, are invited to attend.

Chickens—fresh killed, chilled and held, or frozen—when completely surrounded by ice, will maintain a fresh-killed appearance for a period of 14 days.

LOOKING AT RELIGION

By DON MOORE

Radio Merry-go-round

By JOSEPH MARTIN

DO YOU know why you are hearing mediocre recorded music on your radio, even if it is FM, the perfect medium?

It's because the recording industry in America is more interested in feuding over the speeds of records than it is in bringing them up to full tone range, as is being done in England.

The English records make tones audible up to 15,000 cycles per second, and higher, if your ears can take it. FM transmission carries ALL the tones. But American records do not carry tones above 5,000 cycles. And 5,000 is about the limit of transmission on AM radio.

The trouble is, RCA and Columbia are monkeying with long-playing records, which are all right, if you didn't need needle arms like an octopus to play them. The RCA L. P.'s play at 45 revolutions a minute, and the Columbia discs at thirty-three and a third. Standard records play at 78 revolutions.

The emphasis is on confusion, and the laboratory pays little attention to quality.

That's why comparatively few people are buying records—and of course, it is the reason that the record stores are folding up all over the country. The production of a few dozen GOOD full range recordings would save the business. Once heard over FM radio, especially over stations like WMCP, specializing in fine music, the good records would create a new demand.

Married men should be masters in their homes or know the reason why, states a writer. At least most of them know the reason why.

Mahoney For Gov. Drive Started

The first Democratic club sponsoring the candidacy of George P. Mahoney for Governor of Maryland has been formed in the Belair road section, it was announced today.

John Ringrose is president; William I. Leslie, vice-president, and Leonard Bohager, secretary-treasurer.

Official name of the club will be The George P. Mahoney Democratic Club of the Belair Road, Inc. Mr. Ringrose said the primary purpose of the club will be to further the candidacy of Mr. Mahoney for governor.

At the same time one of the larger American Legion Posts of Baltimore voted Mr. Mahoney as the citizen who has contributed most to the welfare of Maryland during the past year.

This was announced by Commander John William Martin, of the Internal Revenue Post of the American Legion, who said the post voted this honor to Mr. Mahoney unanimously at a recent meeting.

In conveying a report of the meeting to Mr. Mahoney, Commander Martin said:

"It is not often given to one individual to do so much for the improvement of the state as you have been able to do.

"It is rare to find in one person the vision to plan intelligently for the future and at the same time to interest his fellow citizens in making the state a more permanently pleasant place in which to live."

POLIO

Parents have reason to dread infantile paralysis, or poliomyelitis. Beside the possibility of death, they fear that the child who gets "polio" might be permanently crippled. Some also feel helpless against the disease because there is still no preventive or cure for it and the exact method of its transmission is still not known.

But we do know that prompt treatment under medical advice may prevent even temporary crippling, or decrease the seriousness of permanent crippling, which is sometimes a complication of polio. If the disease causes temporary paralysis, it is still often possible to avoid permanent crippling through one of the newer methods of treatment.

The disease's popular name, "infantile paralysis," can be misleading. Although many cases—approximately 60%—reported are in children under ten years, polio can attack people at any age. Besides, paralysis occurs in only a fraction of the number of cases, and about 80% of polio cases reported recover without any permanent crippling effects.

Polio is caused by a virus—a disease-producing organism so tiny that it cannot be seen through an ordinary microscope. Paralysis can occur when the virus injures or destroys certain nerve cells which control muscular action.

The disease may occur at any time of the year, but it strikes most frequently in the summer. Polio "outbreaks," or epidemics, usually reach their peak in late August or early September.

Early symptoms of polio include headache, slight fever, upset stomach, or those symptoms commonly associated with a cold. At the slightest suspicion, of polio, the doctor should be called at once. While waiting for the doctor, the sick person should be kept as quiet and as comfortable as possible.

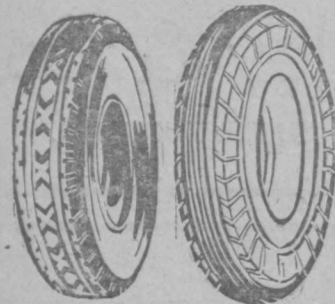

When we still have a lot to learn about polio, there are certain precautions that can and should be taken against the disease, particularly when there is an outbreak in the community.

Children should be kept out of crowds at this time and away from anyone who appears to have even the slightest illness—it is believed that the polio virus is spread from person to person. It is wise to avoid physical strain, fatigue or chill, since these seem to make people vulnerable to the disease. Doctors also advise postponing tonsil and adenoid operations during a polio epidemic as an extra precaution.

Parents are wise to seek full information on polio. This can be obtained from their family doctor, their local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, or the national office of the Foundation at 120 Broadway, New York 5.

Wedding Anniversary: "When A Girl Marries," consistently top-rated dramatic serial written by Elaine Carrington, celebrated its tenth anniversary on the air recently.

Mary Jane Higby, star of the show, has played the role of Joan Davis ever since it started, and John Raby, as Harry Davis, was off the program only for the four years he spent in the Army. Others who have been with the cast since 1939 are Marian Barney and Michael Fitzmaurice.

Elaine Carrington proudly blew out ten candles on a huge cake served at an anniversary luncheon in New York. Also present were Miss Higby and Mr. Raby, director Ollie Barbour, former director Tom McDermott, and representatives of the "When A Girl Marries" sponsors.

Time Out: Friendly baritone Jack Berch will get a break this summer. In line with several other shows which are doing the same thing, Jack's daily NBC show will be recorded in advance to give the cast a rest. Jack, who already has one grizzly bear to his credit, is going with organist Charlie Maganti to the wilds of Alaska for the September hunting season.

Broadway calls: Lovely actress Anne Burr, who plays "Nona" in the CBS news-drama program "Wendy Warren and the News," has been assigned the feminine lead in Broadway's "Detective Story," opposite Ralph Bellamy. Miss Burr, who replaces Meg Mundy in the role, has had a good deal of stage experience, and like most radio actors, got her early training in the theater. Comparing radio acting with the stage, Anne says, "Radio is much harder on your nerves. When you make a hit in a play, the pressure is off, and you can just keep improving your part. But radio, with its day-to-day changes, imposes a new set of problems for each performance, and I get 'Opening-night butterflies' in my stomach every time I go on the air."

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

There's no economy, points out Nutritionist Miss Margaret McPheeters of the Maryland Extension Service, in using wrapping materials for freezing that don't protect the food properly. Packaging material for freezing must be highly resistant to air, moisture and grease. Boxes and cartons must be sturdy to prevent crushing foods, and should be shaped for efficient use of freezer space. Freezing wrappings must not add flavor, color or odor to food and must seal perfectly.

Manufacturers are constantly developing new materials for safeguarding home-frozen foods, and a wide variety is now available. Cartons, paper-board boxes, bags and pouches, Cellophane sheets, and aluminum foil are some of the packaging supplies that meet freezer needs and will help you pack your foods conveniently and more safely. But remember to check the labels on these materials to be sure they are designed specifically for packaging frozen foods and not for general kitchen use.

Many delicious and nourishing milk beverages can be made at home, rivaling the concoctions of your favorite drive-in stand. Try this delectable milkshake made with banana pulp instead of ice cream. To fill a tall glass, use a fully ripe banana and a cup of cold milk. Press the banana through a medium-fine sieve or beat with an electric mixer or rotary egg beater until smooth and creamy. Add milk and beat again.

This banana shake can be varied many ways. Flavor it with vanilla or nutmeg—or both—or add a little chocolate syrup before mixing. Or use a half cup of orange juice in place of half the milk.

Social Security Drawers Reach Record High

The number of persons receiving Federal old age and survivors insurance benefits increased during March by more than 48,500. William J. Lanahan, manager of the Hagerstown field office of the Social Security Administration said that the increase in March was the largest ever recorded.

Monthly benefits under the old age and survivors insurance program were being paid at the end of March to 2,400,000 persons at a monthly rate of $48,900,000. Mr. Lanahan said also that more monthly benefits also were awarded during March than in any other month in the program's history. These awards totalled 68,000—32 percent greater than the number awarded in February and 1 percent above that recorded in the previous record month of March 1948.

About 96 percent of the benefit awards during March were made to persons who had already stopped working and were eligible to begin receiving payments immediately as compared with only 85 percent of the March 1948 awards.

Old-age and survivors insurance is a program to provide a monthly income for workers and their families when the worker retires at 65 or later and for his family when he dies. The Hagerstown field office at 74 West Washington Street in Hagerstown handles claims arising in Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties.

Private Wantz Now In Japan

Pvt. David B. Wantz, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Wantz, Rt. 3, Emmitsburg, arrived in Japan in Dec. 1948, to assume duties with the Army's occupation forces.

Joining the Army July 12, 1948, he was sent to Ft. Jackson, S. C., for his initial training. Upon its completion, he received orders to report to the port of embarkation at Ft. Lawton, Seattle, Washington. It was from there that he sailed for the Far East.

Upon his arrival in Japan, he was assigned to the famed First Cavalry Division on patrol in the thickly populated Tokyo-Yokohama area. Later, he was re-assigned to the equally famed 32 Infantry Regiment of the Seventh Infantry Division. His current job is that of linesman in the headquarters company of that organization.

Poultry Tips For Summer Flock

Poultry-raisers who are planning on high egg yields this fall and winter will want to adopt a systematic flock-management schedule this summer. Here are a few of the things the good poultryman should do—

- 1—Put birds on range when they are six weeks old, or as soon thereafter as weather conditions permit.
- 2—Provide range which is well-covered with succulent grass. Blue-grass, Sudan grass, buffalo grass, alfalfa, and Ladino clover are some of the good range crops.
- 3—Keep grass short by frequent mowing. If properly cared-for, range will provide up to 15 per cent of flock's food needs. Birds like young grass best.
- 4—Use light, movable range shelters. Move them at regular intervals to help keep down disease, to preserve condition of the range crop, and to keep a supply of fresh green forage at hand.
- 5—Provide plenty of shade. If there are no trees, plant sunflowers.
- 6—Move feeders and waterers frequently, preferably every day.
- 7—If possible, do not use the same piece of land for range during successive years. Rotation helps prevent disease.
- 8—Provide four inches of feeder space per bird. Use covered feeders to protect feed from rain.
- 9—Place hoppers near shelters on rainy days, in shade during hot weather.

New Insecticide Proving Very Satisfactory

If uninvited guests of the crawling variety—ants or waterbugs or roaches, that is—are visiting you this summer, now is the time to get rid of them. The task is a comparatively easy one, thanks to chlordane, a new chemical ingredient which has been incorporated into many can-packaged products.

Chlordane, in fact, has proven almost a cure-all to the problem of household and garden insecticides. In tests by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and other organizations, chlordane has been found successful in eradicating not only ants, waterbugs and roaches, but also spiders, bedbugs, flies, mosquitoes, corn borers, cucumber beetles, squash bugs, aphids and many other garden insects. It is also successful in fighting clothes moths and carpet beetles.

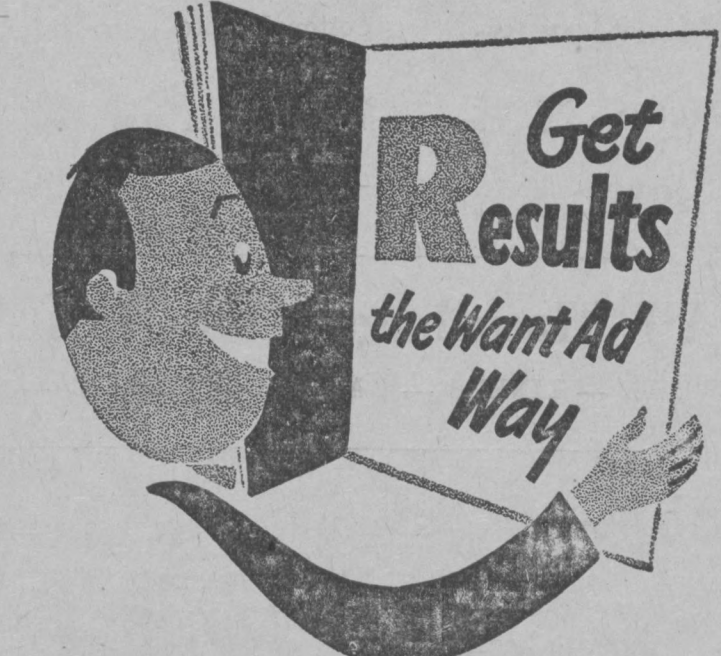

If you need an insect killer for the garden, be sure to get a chlordane dust or a liquid with a water base because an oil spray will kill plants and grass.

Used outdoors a chlordane insecticide is effective for about 2 weeks, while indoors its potency lasts for 6 to 8 weeks.

Insects will die if they walk over a surface which has been treated with a chlordane spray. Don't use this type of insecticide for general spraying of rooms, but apply it locally at the points where the ants or roaches crawl, hide or enter the house. It can be painted with a brush or sprayed on baseboards, kitchen shelves, in cupboards, around the garbage container and near all cracks and crevices in the floor or on the walls. Be sure to remove all food and utensils from the area to be treated. They can be replaced after the spray dies.

A chlordane insecticide will keep flies and mosquitoes away from your door if you spray it on the screen.

Mrs. O. C. Wiegand has been discharged from the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., after undergoing observation.

Williams Grove Has High Class Racing Card

James H. Lamb, secretary of the AAA Contest Board, this week announced that for the first time in the history of auto racing all Indianapolis cars and drivers will compete Sunday, July 31, on the Williams Grove Speedway.

Mr. Roy Richwine has been informed by the AAA Contest Board's official that the event will mark the only time the Indianapolis cars and drivers will appear on any speedway in the East this season.

"The sanctioning of this type of program on the Williams Grove Speedway is an experiment and does not establish a precedent," Mr. Lamb emphasized.

With only the big cars from Indianapolis Speedway and their drivers eligible for the most outstanding event of the season at Williams Grove, the program will actually be a "Little Indianapolis."

Among those expected to turn in entries are Bill Holland of Reading, winner of the "500" this year; "Rapid Rex" Mays of Glendale, Cal., holder of more speed records than any living driver; Emil Andres of Chicago; Johnny Mantz of Long Beach, Cal., winner of the last big car race at Williams Grove; Johnny Parsons of Van Nuys, Cal., second finisher at Indianapolis; Paul Russo of Hammond, Ind.; George Connors of Los Angeles; Troy Rutman of Ontario, Cal., and many other stars of the "500."

Mr. Lamb also announced that this race will be open to cars with maximum displacement limits of 274 cu. in. overhead valve, unsupercharged engines, and 183 cu. in. overhead valve, supercharged engines. Minimum displacement is 190 cu. in.

Mr. Richwine announced that reserved seats are now on sale for the "Little Indianapolis" on July 31 with all Indianapolis cars and drivers for the first time on any half-mile speedway. Anticipating a large attendance, Mr. Richwine advises fans to make their reservations immediately.

BASEBALL AWARD $30 THIS WEEK

The award given by the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. has mounted to $30. For the past five weeks no one has been present to receive the prize offered when the drawing was held. This Sunday, the holder of the lucky ticket will receive $30, providing he is present at the drawing.

Four applications of DDT spray, one pound of DDT to 100 gallons of water at 15 day intervals, will control a codling moth of apples.

Young Politicos Sponsoring Essay Contest

Less than three weeks remain for the submission of entries in the nation-wide essay contest being sponsored by the Young Democratic Clubs of America, the National Young Republican Federation, and the American Forum of the Air, contest officials noted today.

Deadline is August 1 for the contest. The winning Young Democrat and Young Republican will receive an expense-paid trip to Washington, $250 in cash, and the chance to debate on a nationwide Mutual Broadcasting System network in September.

The contest procedure is as follows:
The contest is to be sponsored jointly by the American Forum of the Air, the Young Democratic Clubs of America, and the Young Republican National Federation. It will be open to any person residing in the United States who is between the ages of 18 and 28, inclusive.

Entrance into the contest shall be by letter addressed to the American Forum of the Air, Washington 6, D. C., on the following two subjects: "Why I Am a Young Republican" or "Why I Am a Young Democrat." This letter shall be between 100 and 500 words in length, and submitted by August 1, 1949.

Entry letters should state the contestant's name, address and age.
Entry letters, upon receipt by the American Forum, shall be forwarded by the Forum office to the appropriate state headquarters (depending upon which of the above subjects is chosen by the contestant) of the Young Democrats and Young Republicans in the state of residence of the contestant.

Each state headquarters, Young Democrat and Young Republican, shall choose a Young Democrat and Young Republican winner for each state. Judgement shall be made from the entry letters and shall be based on quality and relevance of argument and effectiveness of presentation.

Winning letters for each state shall be forwarded by September 1, to the American Forum of the Air, Washington 6, D. C. An impartial board of judges shall select one Young Democrat and one Young Republican from among the state winners. Judgement in this instance shall be based on the same points as in judging for state winners. Decision of the judges is final.

Winning contestants, one Young Democrat and one Young Republican, selected by the impartial board as outlined in the preceding paragraph, shall meet in a final national contest. This final contest shall be a non-decision debate with each contestant allowed equal time for affirmative presentation and rebuttal, to be broadcast over the regularly scheduled American Forum of the Air program on the Mutual network not later than September 26, 1949. Subject for the final national debate shall be "What Are the Fundamental Issues Which Divide the Republican and Democratic Parties Today?" Each of the two national winners will receive a $250 award from Mr. Theodore Granik, to be used for educational purposes.

Legion Crab Feast Tonight

The annual crab feast of the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, will be held this evening at 8:30 at Kump's Dam to members, auxiliary and guests.

According to committee reports the affair will be the largest ever to be held by the Post and everything is in readiness for the occasion.

Chairman of the committee is Francis Sanders, assisted by Eugene Rodgers, Charles Gillelan, Edgar Ashbaugh and Louis Rostensteel.

SYLVESTER—GLASS

Miss Mary Ellen Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Glass, Kissimmee, Fla., formerly of Emmitsburg, and Cecil Sylvester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sylvester, Kissimmee, were married June 4 at Folkston, Ga., it was announced today.

Their only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis, friends of the couple from Kissimmee.

After the ceremony the couple spent several days at Daytona Beach and Jacksonville, Fla.

The bride is a graduate of the Osceola high school and now is employed as secretary for Mann's Insurance Agency of Kissimmee.

The groom also attended Osceola high school and served two years in the United States Navy. He now is employed at the Kissimmee Dry Cleaners.

The couple are at home at 302 Brack street, Kissimmee, Fla.

One thing to remember while traveling on the highway is that lost time can sometimes be made up, but death is permanent.

Truck Crash Kills 4-Year-Old Boy

A five-ton truck, driven by a blind man aided by a younger brother, upset on a back mountain road Monday near Orrtanna, Pa., killing another brother. Six other members of the family sustained minor injuries.

The victim was four-year-old Barry Schultz, who was pinned beneath the truck in the accident. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa.

Pennsylvania State Police said the truck was operated by Nelson E. Schultz, 26, a veteran blinded during World War II, with a brother, Merle, 11, helping him.

It was reported that Schultz sat behind the wheel and operated the pedals, and that Merle sat in the veteran's lap, providing the "eyes" to guide the steering.

The accident happened while the family traveled in a truck to pick cherries.

Cars Collide Near Greenmount

Automobiles driven by Judge D. F. McCuaig, St. Thomas, Ontario, and Arthur Henry, Fairfield Rt. 2, were damaged in a collision on the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg Rd., about four miles north of Emmitsburg Monday evening at five o'clock. No one was hurt.

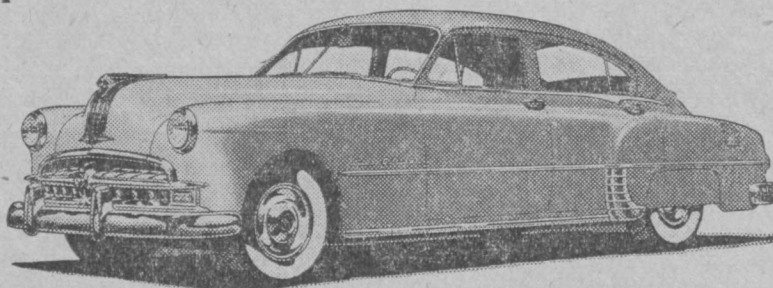

State police of the Gettysburg detail, who investigated, said Judge McCuaig was attempting to pass a truck when his car and the Henry machine, collided. Damage to the Canadian's car was estimated at $150, and to the other machine at $60. McCuaig paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Gettysburg, Pa., on a charge of failing to yield half the highway.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HELD

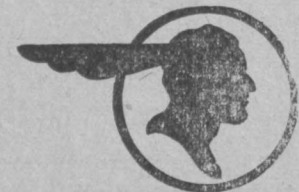

A birthday party was held on Thursday evening of last week, July 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Topper in honor of their daughter, Shirley, who celebrated her 11th birthday. A movie and games were enjoyed and refreshments served to Virginia Topper, Linda Humerick, Arlene Lingg, Robert Gelwicks, and "Woody" Stoner.
