ONE FOR THE BOOKS

Christmas is over, to be sure, nevertheless, I can't let it go by without telling you an interesting little anecdote about one of our local gentry, Allen Bouey, by name. It seems that Boogie, as he is affectionately called by his friends, was playing the role of Santa Claus at an affair of some sort which was held near here a couple of years ago. Naturally, the kiddies were thrilled to pieces and took their turns in sitting on Santa's knee and telling him what they wanted for Christmas. Well, one little tyke queried, "Santa, what is the name of your reindeer?" Without thinking (I'm not sure he knows how to anyway) Friend Allen, alias Santa Claus, replied: "Johnny." Was his face red when he had to think it over! Shame on you Boogie—"Johnny"—Ugh!!

OLD AMERICAN CUSTOM

Like me, I trust most of you are resignedly trekking to the various stores and haberdasheries and dress shoppes, etc., to return those never failing "eye sores" that one invariably receives from some ever loving, well-meaning soul at Christmas time . . . Yuh know, Christmas is a wonderful season and I love it dearly and I don't want to be nasty, but darn it all I can't help but think that some people must have rocks in their heads instead of brains when it comes to selecting Christmas gifts. . . . Frinstance, I received one pair of hose that were so small I couldn't even wiggle a TOE in let alone get my whole foot in . . . Then I opened a box containing another pair of hose and they were so large that the late Gargantua could easily have worn one of them for a nite gown had he been so inclined—yes, and even have enough left over for a nite-cap to match . . .

Now don't get me wrong, folks—As I said before, I love Christmas, but do I HAVE to get a set of monkey wrenches that I don't know how to monkey with, a cuddly little poodle dog that my landlord won't let me have on the premises, a five-pound box of that horrid hard candy that hurts my teeth and fouls my upper and lower plates all up; a cocktail shaker, when I'm an absolute teetotaler (this latter I say with tongue in cheek — BUT it makes good writing material) . . . Then I got a Toni home permanent kit and me with naturally curly hair . . . Joe Louis or Satchel Paige wouldn't have the least bit of trouble getting their big hams of hands in the leather gloves I got; oh, I could go on almost indefinitely telling you what I got that I didn't want, but I won't bore you with MY troubles knowing that most of you good people are having the same woes. The one thing I really wanted was a nice shiny new typewriter so I could torture my readers with my infrequent brainstorms and erratic reasonings and radical opinions . . . but did I get it? Hmph, I did NOT . . . And I won't as long as I have the Editors I have for bosses. All I got from them for my Christmas bonus was a subscription to the YOU KNOW WHAT, the Emmitsburg Chronicle . . . How you readers can read that "rag" I'll never know . . .

As I said once before (was it twice or three times?) I love Christmas—it's not that I'm griping—it's just that I'm GRIPING!!

WHERE'S THE FIRE?

Can't help lettin' all of you in on a secret where everybody's going this Saturday night . . . From all indications one would think there were a fire someplace around the Firemen's Hall about 8:30. It seems that the smoke-eaters

COMMUNITY FUND COMPLETES ORGANIZATION

Officers Installed And Board of Directors Appointed

The Community Fund of Emmitsburg climbed through its infancy stage Monday night and became a full-fledged member of the local community civic organization family. At a well-attended meeting in the Firemen's Hall, the first officers were installed and a set of by-laws adopted. The laws were drawn up by Attorney Thomas J. Frailey.

Selected to head the Fund, for a period of one year, was Lumen F. Norris, president; Dominic Greco, vice president; Arthur Elder, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Hoke, treasurer.

Appointed to the board of directors were Harold Hoke, Guy Baker, Sr., Lewis H. Stoner, George Martin and B. David Martin.

The governing board of directors was also appointed and consists of a representative from every church, service unit and civic club in town. Several of these organizations that were invited attended but did not officially instruct their delegates as to their permanency status. Each officer and member of the board of directors is appointed for a one-year term.

Several ways and means of obtaining monies for the Fund were discussed but no action was taken on any of them at the present time. All those civic units that failed to attend the meeting are instructed to either appoint or elect a member to the board for a period of one year and also to be present at the next board meeting to be held on Friday, Feb. 10, at 8 p. m. in the Firemen's Hall.

The Fund begins its life with a sum of $203 obtained from the recent organization drive. All officers receive no pay for their services. As an expression of appreciation, the new officers and board of directors wish to thank the following for their recent donations:

Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Lions Club, Vigilant Hose Co., students and faculty of Emmitsburg High School, Emmitsburg High School P-TA, St. Joseph's High School P-TA, Women's Club, Masonic Lodge, Knights of Columbus, Ladies' Auxiliary of the VFW, Lutheran Sunday School, Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beegle, Cise M. Beall, Houser's Drug Store, Roger Tire Shop, J. W. Rowe Store, J. Donald Stoner, William C. Smith of Pittsburgh Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Miller, and Robert C. Wormley.

Boy Scouts Planning Activities

The Boy Scout Troop Committee held a meeting Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. William Kelz. Scoutmaster Henry Charlton reported the formation of another new patrol, bringing the total to four. He also gave a resume of the Scouts' activities since they were granted their charter several months ago. It is planned to hold an investiture service for six new Scouts in the near future. Observance of Scout Week was planned and a display of Scoutcraft will be placed on exhibition in a local store window during the observance. Plans for sending a delegate to Valley Forge for the National Scout Jamboree were discussed as well as summer camping. It is believed that Camp Herbert Hoover, Washington, D. C., will be the site for the summer camp. The boys will all observe Lincoln's birthday by attending their respective churches in a body and also uniformly.

Mr. Philip H. Sharpe, who has been confined to his home near here suffering from an attack of pneumonia, is able to be up and around again.

Mr. Lester Damuth, N. Seton Ave., who was recently taken to the Newton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., still remains in serious condition.

IMPROVEMENTS TO LOCAL SCHOOL BEING STUDIED

Local Group Asks For New Gymnasium, Cafeteria

The Frederick County Board of Education is making plans to hold its monthly meeting on January 18, when it is expected that specifications for the proposed new high school at Middletown will have progressed sufficiently for consideration.

The plans and specifications have been in the process of preparation by architects for some time. It is possible that the board, at the coming meeting, will definitely decide on the plans and bids may be asked in the near future.

Superintendent of Schools Eugene W. Pruitt notified members of the proposed meeting this week after conferring with Geo. C. Rhoderick, Jr., the school board president.

Mr. Pruitt, in answer to a question, reported the Board of Education has not definitely said as yet that any one school building project shall be first in line after Middletown.

The question was asked because of reports that an Emmitsburg group had approached members of the Board of County Commissioners concerning the possibility of an addition to the Emmitsburg High School.

Twice in the past several years delegations of Brunswick residents have appeared before the commissioners, seeking a new elementary school there and a site has been purchased by the Board of Education.

The last Brunswick delegation to come before the commissioners could get no definite commitment as to whether a new school project might get under way in the railroad town this year.

The commissioners are committed to no project beyond the Middletown one, but there is some belief that one more school building job might get started, at least from a planning standpoint, during the year.

At Emmitsburg, it is understood, an auditorium-gymnasium and a cafeteria are listed as the pressing needs. This would free enough space to cut down on crowded classrooms it is believed.

Young Democrats Hold Meeting

Young Democrats from every election district and almost every precinct in the county were present at a meeting of the Young Democratic Club held in the Frederick YMCA Monday night. President Arthur Potts presided.

The young voters heard an interesting speech by Mayor Kelly of Rockville, Montgomery County, who was the principal speaker of the evening. The mayor urged the group to get out and bring in the vote, stating that elections were won in the precincts. The meeting of the recently reactivated organization was very well attended. The group also was addressed by members of the county Central Committee. Plans were being laid for the club to hold a Jackson Day banquet, the date of which has not as yet been selected.

It was pointed out to the young voters that their committee was instrumental in securing a pay raise for the county teachers. This committee met with the county officials recently and pleaded for an increase for the instructors, which was granted.

Plans were discussed on enlarging the organization and each member was advised to bring long another member to the next meeting to be held in Frederick on Jan. 30.

Those representing Emmitsburg at the session were Young Democratic Chairman John M. Roddy Jr., Lumen F. Norris, and C. A. Elder.

Mrs. Mary Gelwicks of Baltimore, is spending a week here with her mother, Mrs. Anna Wagaman.

A little care of ornamental plants now will insure their beauty next year.

New York Couple Is Seriously Injured In Saturday Mishap

The above photo, taken a few minutes after the accident, shows the Johnson car totally demolished. The wreck occurred on the bridge that crosses a small stream in Franklinville, about six miles south of Emmitsburg on Rt. 15. State Trooper Kenneth Bond is shown investigating. The road from Emmitsburg to Thurmont, is one of the most infamous stretches in the country. In a 7-mile stretch there occurs some 25 curves, several double and one triple. Committees from the Emmitsburg and Thurmont Lions Club are presently trying to get the State Roads Commission to modify some of the more dangerous ones—of which there are many.

Seriously injured Saturday afternoon near Thurmont when the car in which they were journeying to Florida missed a turn and hit bridge girders at Franklinville were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Johnson of Rensselaer, N. Y.

Mr. Johnson was driver of the new Chrysler coupe, which State Trooper Kenneth B. Bond said was totally demolished in the crash.

Trooper Bond said that evidently Mr. Johnson missed making a right-hand turn of the road approaching the Franklinville bridge. The couple crossed to the left side of the road moving southward and hit the north end of the bridge on the east side.

There were no tire marks to indicate that brakes had been applied, the trooper reported. No charges have been filed pending completion of the investigation of the smashup. Trooper Bond said the 1949 automobile of the couple is a total loss. The Johnsons had only owned the car two months and there was a bare 1,000 miles registered on its speedometer when it was wrecked.

What's Your Name?

By JULES CHRISTIAN

The next few columns will be given to the doctors of the community. In the issues of life and death, they just about play the role of God. They are too modest to claim such a role. While life has many values deeply cherished, the supreme value is to survive. That is the first law of nature. And next to it is to maintain some semblance of health. In these areas, the doctor plays his remarkable role.

The ancient Greeks were the first to associate the physician with God. When Aesculapius, the famed Greek doctor, who lived 1500 B. C., died, he was deified and made the Greek God of Medicine. One of the first to sketch the modern physician in such a role, was Hendrik Galtzius, the Dutch artist and painter of the 16th Century. He sketched the role of the doctor in four miniature masterpieces. This writer cannot sketch the famous pictures but only the inscriptions under them. They are as follows:

1. When death lurks at the door the physician is considered as a God.
2. When the danger has been overcome, the physician is looked upon as an angel.
3. When the patient begins to convalesce, the physician becomes a mere man.
4. When the physician asks for his fee, he is considered as Satan himself.

If the famed artist could have been transplanted to Emmitsburg, he undoubtedly, would have eliminated the latter, and left the doctor's role dangling somewhere between the Divine and human.

DR. ALLISON

James Henry Allison. This is the latest physician to come to Emmitsburg. He was much needed, too. Sometimes, in cases of emergency, the other doctors would be away. That is devastating on the anxiety. To help fill in the gap, Dr. Allison came. He is the youngest doctor in town. Already, in this short time, he has achieved a big place in the hearts of the people as a gifted doctor.

The press sketches him as a good churchman, too. That is fortunate. Many doctors seem obsessed with the thought that they are too busy for this sort of thing. That is unfortunate. For the one who officiates as life comes into the world, and as life goes out of the world, ought to feel himself closely linked with the work of the Divine. Therefore, a good doctor who is a good churchman, ought to be a better physician. Such, we are given to believe, is found in Dr. Allison.

He was born at New Oxford, Pa. He went to school at Mt. Carmel. A graduate of Gettysburg College, he took his M.D. degree at the University of Pennsylvania, and his internship in the Army where he served three years, half of which was overseas. He was discharged as captain.

All this was a preparation to better serve the people of Emmitsburg. He says that he likes this community very much, and his chief ambition is now being realized. That is just to be a good country doctor. To thus realize one's hopes is a consummation devoutly to be wished. For it, many would give a fortune. And thus, Dr. Allison has fashioned his earthly paradise out of his practical ambition to serve the people well as a good country doctor.

MEANING OF NAME
This is an English name brought to Britain by the Normans. It is derived from Adelaide which is made up of two forms. One is "Athal," meaning noble. The other was "Haidu," meaning rank. It was thus used to designate a person of noble rank. The Normans contracted Adelaide into Aliz from which came the English Alice. The suffix "on" was added to make it a pet name for Alice.

ALTON BENNETT HEADS COUNTY MARCH OF DIMES

Lumen F. Norris Delegated to Lead Drive in Emmitsburg

The 1950 March of Dimes campaign must hit a new high, "if the nation is to undo the ravages of the blackest toll of infantile paralysis in its history," Mr. Alton Y. Bennett, county March of Dimes Director, said this week in urging everyone to double his contribution to the drive this month.

The year 1949, Mr. Bennett said, was the most severe in the 12-year history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. With more than 40,000 persons stricken, epidemic aid funds of the National Foundation were virtually depleted, he pointed out, and it was necessary to conduct an emergency drive for the first time in the organization's history.

The director declared that the epidemic drive provided stop-gap funds barely enabling the National Foundation to carry on through the last three difficult months of 1949. But if those who were stricken are to continue receiving help, resources must be replenished in the forthcoming March of Dimes, Jan. 13-16, Mr. Bennett said.

The financial problems involved in caring for polio victims are increasingly difficult not only because of widespread epidemics but also because of soaring medical and equipment costs," he said.

"Only an enormously successful March of Dimes appeal will enable the National Foundation to provide continuing care for the thousands already stricken while at the same time preparing for any eventuality 1950 may bring. The year 1949 has taught us that we must be alerted for extremes."

There also is urgent need for funds to continue the National Foundation's all-embracing research program aimed at ferreting out means of prevention and control of this crippling disease, Mr. Bennett said.

The Frederick attorney again selected Lumen F. Norris, Emmitsburg to head the local drive. Mr. Norris said he had several plans in mind to raise funds, but no definite decision has as yet been reached. It is believed that a dance will be held as in past years.

Attorney Frailey Is Elected New Bank Vice President

Officers of the Farmers State Bank, Emmitsburg, were installed at the annual election of the institution Tuesday night. Attorney Thomas Frailey was honored when he was elevated from a directorship to that of vice president. Mr. Frailey has been a director of the bank for a number of years.

Other directors and officers installed, same as last year, are as follows:
M. F. Shuff Sr., Dr. W. R. Cadle, Oliver J. Weybright, P. F. Burket, William H. Bollinger, Charles R. Fuss, Thomas J. Frailey, Quinn F. Topper and George L. Wilhide.

They organized with the officers Mr. Shuff, president; Thomas J. Frailey, vice president; George L. Wilhide, cashier; Frank W. Weant, assistant cashier; Mrs. Alice Shorb, bookkeeper and clerk; Mrs. Marie Rosensteel, stenographer-clerk; Maryland and Pennsylvania attorneys respectively Amos A. Holter, Frederick, and Francis A. Yake, Gettysburg, Pa.

BASEBALL ASSN. TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS SUNDAY

Annual Meeting Is Public; Will Appoint New Manager

Baseball will officially get under way Sunday afternoon in Emmitsburg when the annual election of officers for the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. will take place. The public is advised that the local ball club is their "baby" and that as such they are entitled to attend the meeting and also to nominate and elect their officers. This meeting is usually very well attended and it is believed that much interest will be stirred this year when the locals join a new league, the Pen-Mar Baseball League. The meeting will be held in the Firemen's Hall and will get under way at two o'clock.

A complete new set of officers is to be installed as well as a new board of directors. The organization, while ending the season financially in the red, had what would be termed a successful year, as many capital expenditures were made in improving the local ball park. The annual financial statement of the organization will be found on page five of this week's Chronicle.

A new team manager will be appointed at Sunday's session, as the team finished last season with the assistant manager in charge, the regular manager having resigned in mid-season. Several good prospects are in view for the job and will be accepted Sunday.

The locals had what is considered a fair team last season, even though finishing in last place in the now defunct Penn-Maryland Baseball League. Disension was rife in that circuit and all games won were taken from Emmitsburg, placing them in the cellar a few weeks before termination of the schedule. The present officers declared that prospects look fine for the 1950 season. Much new material has been obtained for the playing team and with the addition of a well-known local man as manager, things, according to their opinion, look promising.

The directors of the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. wish to express their grateful appreciation to the business firms and individuals, listed below, for their generous contributions in cash, merchandise, and services during the 1949 baseball season.

Maryland Market Report

Baltimore grain markets were steady to higher for the week ended Jan. 5. Supplies are ample, demand, fair. Wheat and corn advanced about two cents per bushel on the Baltimore market. Barley was about steady. Oats were firm. Yellow soybeans remained firm on the Baltimore market; black soybeans, however, showed slight weakness.

National Grain Market

Grain markets strengthened slightly during the first week in January following the holiday dullness, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicate. Marketings continued small and this, along with good export inquiry for corn and oats and reduced acreage allotments for corn in 1950, were the strengthening factors in the market for wheat and grain. Wheat prices were barely steady as the result in part of light export business, beneficial moisture in the southwest, and smaller quantities placed under loan in November than had been expected by the trade.

Maryland Feed Market

The Baltimore feed market, contrary to the national trend, strengthened during the week ended Jan. 6. Fifty per cent meat scrap advanced more than 3%—$3.56 per ton higher than the average price on Dec. 30. Feeds showing an increase of more than 2% on the Baltimore market during the past week are: 32% dairy feed—$1.96 per ton higher, 20% broiler mash—$2.23 per ton higher, and 20% laying mash — $2.01 per ton higher.

The broiler-feed ratio was still very unfavorable for Maryland producers for the week ended Jan. 5. Broiler prices averaged 18.9 cents per pound while 20% broiler mash on Lower Eastern Shore averaged $91.84 per ton. On this basis one pound live weight of broilers would buy 4.1 pounds of feed (the same as last week).

National Feed Market

Most feedstuffs were in plentiful supply at the close of the week ended Jan. 3 and prices declined slightly, according to reports to the Dept. of Agriculture. A dull holiday demand, continued mild weather over a large portion of the country, and abundant stocks of feed grains contributed to the weak situation. Wheat feeds declined about 50¢ per ton, despite the smaller output during the holidays. Oilseed meals were barely steady to slightly lower, with offerings generally sufficient for demand, which has not yet revived following the inventory period. Corn feeds were steady to firm, with current offerings small and readily taken. Animal protein feeds were down slightly compared with a week earlier.

cer's Canterbury Tales of the 14th Century. Forms of the name are found in many of the Census Rolls of the Middle Ages. The name became popularized by three imminent persons. The first was Queen Adelaide, empress of Rome in the 10th Century. The second was "Good Queen Adelaide," wife of William Fourth. The third was by the author of "Alice in Wonderland," Lewis Carroll, pen name for Charles Dodgson. These latter two, of the previous century, brought this name into great popularity. As a family name it was selected by the bearer to denote that his ancestry came from the nobility of the old world.

Keeping organic matter in the soil is the only natural way and the best way to store nitrogen and still have it released as crops require it.

Two Related Residents Die Same Day

Two well-known related local citizens died last Friday morning at their homes here within three hours and 10 minutes of each other. They were Marlin Arthur Stonesifer, aged 67 years, Route 2, who died at 3 a. m., a nephew of Mrs. Annie Virginia Stonesifer, aged 75 years; Emmitsburg, who died at 6:10. Mrs. Stonesifer's husband, Mahlon Stonesifer, who died last July, was the brother of Marlin A. Stonesifer's father, Reuben Alfred Stonesifer, also deceased.

Mrs. Stonesifer was the daughter of the late William Fuss and Maria Overholtzer Fuss. She is survived by the following children: Robert W., Edgar M., Mrs. Reno Eyer and Mrs. Charles Copenhagen of Emmitsburg; Mrs. Allen Bollinger, Route 2, Taneytown; Leonard S., and Ray, Chicago; Carroll, Westminster and Mrs. Charles Myers, Thurmont. Forty-three grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren also survive besides one sister, Mrs. Alma Newcomer, Taneytown.

The deceased was a member of the Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg. Funeral services were held on Monday at 1 p. m. at the church, Rev. Philip H. Bower, pastor, officiating. Interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

MARLIN A. STONESIFER

Marlin Arthur Stonesifer, son of the late Reuben Alfred and Clara Frock Stonesifer, had been ill for the past year. He was employed by A. W. Feeser and Company, Taneytown.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alice Hockensmith Stonesifer; a son, Glenn A., Brunswick, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorsey Rippeon, Woodsboro; four grandchildren and one brother, Russell, Keyser.

Funeral services were held on Sunday with brief services at the late home at 1:30 and further services at 2 p. m. at the Grace Reformed Church, Keyser, of which the deceased was a life-long member. ### St. Joe's High School Basketball Team Shows Improvement

The basketball court has been the scene of a good deal of activity at St. Joseph's High School for the past month. Under the guidance of 'Pete' Clark, last year's captain of Mt. St. Mary's College basketball team, the boys are shaping up into a fast, hard-playing team. Mrs. John McCann, candidate for a degree in physical education at Western Maryland, is coaching the girls, with emphasis on fundamentals of play.

To date, the boys have won four out of six games while the girls have captured two out of six. This past week a double-header was played against St. Mary's, Hagerstown, with the locals victorious in both contests. Final scores were St. Joe Girls, 32, St. Mary's, 20; St. Joe's Boys, 31 to 21 over their opponents. On Tuesday of this week both teams met defeat at the hands of the Union Bridge squad in the local gym. Union Bridge Girls trimmed the St. Joe squad 30-18. In a hard-fought contest the Bridger Boys broke a tie in the closing minutes to beat St. Joe's by one point. Final, 23-22.

The following games are scheduled for the near future: Friday night, a double-header with Blue Ridge Summit. Game time is 7:30 p. m. on the local court. Monday, Jan. 16, both teams will play again in the local gym and meet Westminster High. On Wednesday Jan. 18, a return game will be played with Taneytown at Taneytown.

Subscription Drive Begins Monday

Beginning on Monday the Chronicle starts one of the most gigantic subscription drives ever held in this section.

A crew of young boys will make a door-to-door canvass and take to the rural routes for many miles around. These boys are working for a good cause and a large percentage of the price of the subscription will be theirs for use in club activities. The crew will issue receipts for every subscriber. We feel certain that when you hear their story you will become a subscriber to the Chronicle, your hometown paper. We thank you all for any cooperation extended these young lads.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

There will be no marketing quotas for 1950 crop corn. The total supply of corn for the 1949-50 marketing year is below the level at which quotas would be called for under the controlling legislation. This announcement made by the Secretary of Agriculture has been called to the attention of Maryland farmers by Jos. H. Blandford, Chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee.

At the same time, Secretary Brannan announced the determined commercial corn producing area, and the acreage allotment for that area in 1950, as required by provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. The 1950 allotment for the commercial area is 46,246,973 acres. This represents a reduction of a little more than 11 million acres from 1949 plantings. The downward adjustment will be about 13.9 percent from 1949 nationally, and about 19.7 percent in the commercial area. (Allotments are applied only in the commercial area.) This 19.7 percent reduction will not apply to individual farm allotments. These will be based upon the past three years' production of each farm.

Plantings within individual acreage allotments will be a condition for price support, which is mandatory in 1950 at 90 percent of the October 1, 1950 parity level. The support level outside the commercial area, where there are no allotments, will be 75 percent of the level in the commercial area.

Determination of the corn acreage allotment for 1950 resumes the procedure which was initiated with the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and continued until the war emergency required suspension. Corn acreage allotments were in effect each year from 1938 through 1942. They were proclaimed for 1943 but suspended because of the increasing wartime demands.

Acreage allotments do not constitute an enforced limitation on production, but they are a condition for price support. The allotments provide for abundant production to meet all current needs and adequate reserves, but they seek to adjust production in line with total needs.

In announcing the 1950 corn allotment, Secretary Brannan said:

"Our corn farmers, like wheat and other producers, are now faced with the anticipated need to make certain production adjustments. Acreage allotments are the fair and equitable means by which they can do this in an orderly way.

"If farmers stay within their allotments in 1950, our experience in the past would indicate that there is every reason to believe that marketing quotas—with their more compulsive features—will not be needed in 1951 or later. Farmers have a big stake in making allotments work. What Cost With No Farm Supports?

"Often overlooked when the cost of agricultural price support programs are considered is the cost of no support programs at all," says Mr. Blandford.

In the face of full bins and cribs and warehouses, what would happen to the price of wheat and corn and cotton if there were no supports? What would happen to farm land prices? What would happen to the whole economy?

Mr. Blandford thinks those are questions which should be considered by everyone seriously concerned with farm price supports. He quoted Paul S. Willis, president Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., on this subject:

"When people weigh the costs of the disaster which might come from having the bottom fall out of farm prices against the costs of continuing farm price supports, I believe they will agree that their continuation is in the public interest. At the present time, farm price supports provide stopping places so that any downward trend in farm prices will be gradual.

"The people who want farm price supports eliminated entirely should remember that these supports were used to speed up farm production to meet all war and postwar needs. Now that record-breaking crops, produced at the urgency of the government, appear greater than necessary to supply the present demand, it would be both unfortunate and uneconomical to pull the props of price support out

AAA Announces Poster Contest For Students

A grand prize—$350—awaits the elementary or secondary school student who submits the best traffic safety poster to the AAA 1950 National Safety Poster Contest before midnight, Apr. 15. Mr. Leonard E. Kolmer, general manager of the AAA Automobile Club of Maryland announced this week.

Sixty-one additional cash prizes totaling $1,925, and hundreds of place and honorable mention certificates also will be awarded to students from all over the country.

"As in past years, Mr. Kolmer said, 'the 10 best posters will be reproduced and distributed, 150,000 each month, to elementary schools all over the nation for use in traffic safety education. Each poster will carry the name and school of the student artist.

"Teachers generally are enthusiastic about the contest, realizing that teaching children the rules of safety in traffic is one of the biggest problems facing America today.

"From the artist's standpoint, Richard Lahey, distinguished American painter and judge of former AAA Poster Contests, comments that: 'The Traffic Safety Posters not only instill in young people a great interest in safety education; they also serve to develop an art interest of importance in the young designers.'

"The contest is one of only 36 approved for high schools by the National Contest Committee of the National Association of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association."

Entries may be made by a public, parochial or private school, a class or any individual, Mr. Kolmer explained. Emphasis is placed on the fact that posters must be strictly original in idea, execution and design, and positive in approach. A competent committee of persons prominent in education, art and traffic safety will be selected to judge the contest.

In addition to the grand prize of $350, and the "open classification" prize of $75, 10 first prizes of $75, 10 second prizes of $50 and 10 third prizes of $20 will be awarded to high school students submitting the best posters, and 10 first prizes of $25, 10 second prizes of $10 and 10 third prizes of $5 are designated for elementary and junior high school winners.

Teachers and students interested in competing should come from under the farmers' markets."

Under current programs, Mr. Blandford explains, farm price supports are below parity. This means below an even break with the rest of the people of the country. Parity means that what a farmer has to sell is in an equitable balance with what he has to buy. Ninety per cent of parity is 10 per cent below this balance.

He points out, too, that in most cases, what the farmer gets is only a part of what the consumer has to pay. In many instances, this means that if the farmer were to give his products away there still would be only a small reduction in price to the consumer.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

Your portable electric fan that's spending the winter in the attic can help around the house even in cold weather, according to A. V. Krewatch, extension agricultural engineer of Maryland University.

Few people, he says, realize that the fan can be as useful in keeping a room comfortably warm in January as in keeping it cool in July. In poorly insulated houses, rooms are often considerably cooler around the floor than at the ceiling. A fan, set at slow speed so that it causes no noticeable draft, will distribute the heat more evenly. Placed at one side of a radiator, fireplace, grill, or other source of heat and aimed at an adjacent wall up toward the ceiling, it keeps the warm air moving slowly through the room. You'll have greater comfort and save on your fuel bill at the same time.

Perhaps you already know that a fan set at one end of a line of clothes will speed indoor drying. And at any season, a fan can be used to carry off cooking odors from the kitchen. Place it facing a window opened just a crack, and let it run while the cabbage boils or the bacon fries.

The last cookies made from a rolled dough are sometimes heavy and tough, due to the flour that's used to prevent sticking. Next time, dust your board with confectioner's sugar instead of flour. Your cookies will be tender—and maybe better.

Another cookie secret—if you are cutting out fancy shapes, try rolling the dough out right on the floured (or sugar) cookie sheet. Cut out the cookies, remove the surrounding scraps, and pop the sheet in the oven. This way, you don't worry about tearing the tender dough as you

HEALTH COLUMN
COLDS

Although he obviously suffers, with his running nose and eyes, sneezing and coughing, a cold victim probably gets less sympathy than any other ill person.

One reason may be that most people average two or three colds a year and most people look on a cold as just a temporary nuisance. Another reason for this lack of sympathy might be that people realize a cold is catching and so they avoid the sufferer. The person who carelessly spreads his cold germs by neglecting to cover his coughs and sneezes with his handkerchiefs or tissues is especially unpopular.

For the so-called "common cold" is highly contagious. The victim most frequently spreads his cold at the time the symptoms first appear, but his cold can be spread even before he himself starts coughing and sneezing.

The cold germ—a virus so small it cannot be seen under an ordinary microscope—is usually spread by direct contact. Things like sitting in a draft and getting wet feet are not sufficient in themselves to produce a cold. But doctors believe that sudden changes in temperature and severe chilling or wetting sensitize the membranes of the nose and throat and make a person more vulnerable to cold germs. Cold germs can lodge beforehand in the membrane of the nose and throat and not "take hold" until sudden chill or cold weaken surrounding tissues.

A cold, of itself, is never the cause of death. If neglected or ignored, however, a cold can lead to serious illness or complications which may prove fatal. Colds not properly cared for can result in pneumonia, tonsillitis, diseases of the ears and of the throat, or secondary infections of the sinuses, larynx, bronchial tubes and even the eyes.

The best way to avoid a cold is to avoid those suffering from colds. But since this is not always practical, the best defense is building natural resistance to all illness, mainly through proper diet and sufficient rest.

If a cold does strike, despite precautions, a person should get as much rest as he can, and take light and easily-digested foods, such as soups, milk, and fruit juices. If possible, he should stay at home. Prompt action against the early symptoms of a cold can mean "licking" it in a few days and perhaps warding off a serious illness that might have struck had the cold been ignored and the body's resistance further weakened.

Alcoholic Beverage
Taxes Show Gain

State revenues from the sale of alcoholic beverages in Maryland for December showed a gain of $75,454 over the same month in 1948, Comptroller James J. Lacy reported today.

The total taxes collected from this source amounted to $447,397 compared to $371,980 for December, 1948.

However, Mr. Lacy's report showed that for the first six months of this fiscal year, July 1 to December 31, revenues obtained from taxes and license fees on the sale of alcoholic beverages decreased $86,362 when compared to the same period in 1948. This reflects a decline of 2.69%.

Total revenues for the first half of the fiscal year were $3,126,074 against $3,212,437 collected in 1948.

Horse Injures Man

One man was seriously hurt and several others slightly injured about two o'clock last Friday afternoon when a horse became fractious in the sale ring at the Eyer Livestock Sales stable in Thurmont, knocking down several persons in the ring.

Taken to the Frederick Memorial Hospital was Edward Gussey, 75, Newark, N. J., a horse buyer for the Eastern Packing Co. He was at first treated by a Thurmont physician for shock immediately after the accident.

Mr. Gussey was sitting on a bench in the show ring, it was said, when a pair of horses were led in and one of them became excited. The horse started kicking, knocking Mr. Gussey and others down. Physicians said Mr. Gussey had a contusion on the left thigh where the horse apparently kicked him.

Mr. Gussey has for many years bought horses at Thurmont, Leesburg and Front Royal for the New Jersey firm.

Turkey Breeding—Debeaking

Turkeys should be kept separately for breeding until the mating season begins. Breeding males may be of any age, however, well-matured young toms usually give best results. Under a normal breeding season without a spectacular success, but under sound management, you may expect 35-40 eggs from young turkeys and about 20% less from yearling hens. It is advisable to keep a few alternative toms, and they should be kept separately on account of their fighting spirit. Artificial light stimulates the sexual maturity of birds of either sex. For high-rating fertility of eggs it is necessary to turn lights on toms four weeks earlier than on hens, but the toms should not be added to the females before the first day of lights on hens. It is extremely important that the hens are free from parasites which they frequently acquire from toms. Check your toms carefully for lice and mites before you add them to the hen quarters. Deworming before the breeding season begins is also a good practice. As in a previous Poultry Pointer mentioned sodium fluoride, mixed at the rate of one part to two parts of a filler, as for instance, flour or road dust will take care of lice, and can be easily pinched with a salt shaker under the wings, along the back and around the vent. Sodium fluoride internally taken, is poisonous for human beings, as well as birds. It also irritates the operator's and bird's eyes. Therefore birds should be released into fresh air immediately after application, and the operator ought to wear a piece of wet cloth over his mouth and nose while treating birds. Breeding mash should be given to all birds at least two weeks before the mating begins.

Electric De-beaker—When you think it necessary to debeak your laying chickens do not use a knife or similar tool, because excessive bleeding may follow this procedure. It is best to borrow or buy an electric debeaker which cauterizes the wound and stops the bleeding immediately. Do not burn off more than three-eighths of the upper beak. This is a humane method, because it is absolutely painless to the bird. Debeaked chickens should be fed poultry mash in containers, because they will have difficulty in picking up whole grain from the floor. If whole grain is to be fed it should also be placed in hoppers so that birds can eat with ease.

Turkeys should not be debeaked as the ring method proves most satisfactory.

Before putting your farm machinery away for the winter it should be given one last greasing and a coat of paint if necessary to protect it from winter weather.

Put cold baked beans into the lunch box, in individual bean pots or screw-top jars. Add catsup or salad dressing if desired. Soil organic matter is the remains of plants, animals and microbes in all stages of decomposition.

A door prize will be given away.

REMODELED COUNTY

JAIL IS NOW IN USE, SHERIFF ANNOUNCES

The remodeled Frederick County jail is now in use, although improvements have not been quite completed, Sheriff Guy Anders said this week.

The sheriff said prisoners have been moved from temporary quarters, where they were incarcerated while the improvements were being made, to new quarters on the first and second floors.

There were 19 prisoners in the jail early this week. Ten, who have been tried and sentenced, are incarcerated in the dormitory on the second floor. Members of this force work regularly at various jobs while serving time, although no work on county roads can be done during the winter.

Juvenile quarters on the first floor is fully occupied by three young men. In one cell block on this floor are four other persons who are awaiting trial. The "drunk" tank on this floor had two occupants this week.

It was explained that persons who are intoxicated when admitted to the jail are placed in the "tank" pending trial. Actually, this is a room with bunks and lavatory facilities where prisoners, who get into drunken rages, can be "cooled off" via a fire hose arrangement.

Incidentally, from experience thus far, the "tank" promises to hold more terrors for the unruly drunks than the use of physical force has in the past. It is understood one prisoner started to "run wild" in the room soon after he was admitted last week. A good "hosing down" had a most quieting effect.

Sheriff Anders and his aides are seeing to it that the remodeled jail, which represents an expenditure of around $160,000, is being kept clean. Every man cleans and cell and cell blocks are kept clean daily.

The sheriff said some electrical work remains to be done in the basement, including night lights in cell blocks and further wiring of the heating system. Painting is also being done in the basement and the ceiling of the jail office and lobby are also scheduled to get a coat of paint. This work may be completed by next week.

ORNER—HARBAUGH

In a candlelight setting at Elias Ev. Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, on Saturday evening of last week at six o'clock, Miss Blanche Harbaugh, daughter of Mrs. Charles Harbaugh, became the bride of Robert Orner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Orner, of Harney. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. Philip Bower.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Charles Gutshall, wore an ivory satin ankle length dress with matching accessories and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid tied with multiple white ribbons. Her only jewelry was a diamond locket which belonged to her mother.

Mrs. Charles Gutshall, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dark green satin street length dress with black accessories and carried an old fashioned bouquet of mixed flowers.

Wesley Mummert of Harney, served as best man and the ushers were Elwood Strickhouser of Harney, and Robert Dixon of Woodsboro.

The wedding marches were played by the church organist, Miss Ruth Shuff, and "Because," "O, Promise Me" and the "Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Thomas Bollinger.

The altar was beautifully decorated with poinsettias, chrysanthemums and lighted tapers.

A reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride following the ceremony, after which the young couple left on a wedding trip to New York City.

The bride and bridegroom are both employed at the Cambridge Rubber Co., Taneytown.

Commissioner James T. Hays underwent an operation at the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., this week, and is reported as recuperating nicely.

Mr. Roderick Montgomery was confined to his home on W. Main St. for several days this week suffering from tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Sites of Fairfield, Pa., spent Sunday with Mrs. Sites' mother, Mrs. Edna A. Tressler of Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Elder and family of Thurmont, spent the week-end in New Holland, Pa., visiting friends.

ABIGAIL

and baseball directors are going to resuscitate the "corn game" which was held several Saturday nights before Christmas. I know many of you will be following the crowd to lay down more than you pick up . . . but I heard that in addition to the many lovely prizes to be won, there will be groceries this Saturday. As I said before, when the crowd starts stalking for corn Saturday nite at 8:30, I'll be there . .

State Trooper Uninjured In Wreck

State Trooper James S. Potet made a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday afternoon when his police cruiser was wrecked while pursuing a speeding motorist through Middleburg, Carroll County. The motorist, identified as Riley E. Hooper Jr., 20, Union Bridge, was later summoned for hearing in Taneytown on Jan. 25 on charges of excessive speed and reckless driving.

Potet told investigating officers, First Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt and Trooper G. B. Markle, that he picked up Hooper's trail at the intersection of Routes 85 and 71 less than a mile east of Middleburg. While speeding through the town at 70 miles an hour, the trooper said he applied his brakes to negotiate a slight curve and the front wheel locked.

The vehicle, according to the report, skidded broadside along the highway for 150 feet, snapped off a telephone pole and continued another 50 feet into a field before coming to rest. The left front door post struck the pole, causing about $250 damage to the car, the trooper reported.

Potet, who is stationed in Taneytown, stepped from the wrecked car uninjured.

Freezing foods will not improve their quality—it is important that high quality foods be used in order to insure a good product.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Lehman, Cavetown Pike, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Margaret Lehman, to Homer E. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Nevin Martin of Emmitsburg.

Miss Lehman was graduated from the Hagerstown High School and the Towson State Teachers College.

'Corn' Game

Emmitsburg's "corn playing" fans will hit their stride again Saturday night when the series of games being held co-operatively by the Vigilant Hose Company and the Emmitsburg Baseball Association resume after suspension of play during the Christmas and New Year's holidays. Plenty of new and handsome prizes have been added for the players' selections. Groceries have also been put on the prize list.
