My gosh, Mabel, pass the anti-histone tablets and get my red flannels out of hock, seems as though we have run into something here. That 11 above weather that started Monday caught many of us in a state of unpreparedness. It really nabbed a lot of motorists flatfooted, that is with no antifreeze. We saw at least a dozen cars steaming and puffing along the vias and many had to be pushed and were late for work. In my recollection this has really been the mildest winter we have ever had here. I can remember not so long ago when kids could look forward to missing a few days of school during the winter months because of the high snows, however, they are fully recompensed as they now ride to school and we old-timers had to wade through the stuff all winter long—hardly a letup. I remember also, about 15 years ago when the Chronicle missed its first edition in some 50 years because of the snow. That year we had a blizzard and the power lines were down for several days. Well not to make you shudder, but just as a bit of information, the weatherman says this thing may hang around for a few more weeks yet. Anyway, we'll settle for a little clean snow, in preference to the mud we have been trying to wade through.

SEASON'S LAST

Who says advertising doesn't pay? Last Saturday's "corn" game, sponsored by the firemen and the ballplayers was a terrific success. The affair was advertised as the season's last and many extra prizes were to be run off. You guessed it... the hall was packed, netting the joint sponsors a nice little profit.

HARBINGER ? ? ?

We don't quite know what it is all about, but we will pass along this bit of information to you for what its worth... a crew of surveyors last Wednesday was out looking the Toll Gate curve situation over... could it be... Yes, I believe it could... Chances are it was a State Roads crew... who else would be interested in the thing?

PHONES ? ? ?

Have you noticed several telephone trucks and crews working around lately? Well, true to the company's promise of dial phones, it really intends to dial Emmitsburg... and this year. The crews are doing preliminary work preparatory to the installation and are replacing old poles, moving others back from the roads and stringing new cable. We have it from a top official that as soon as the weather permits, erection of the new exchange on S. Seton Ave. will begin. Closest estimate for the new service to begin is July.

BASEBALL

Coach John Law, Mt. St. Mary's head football mentor, and manager of the local baseball team this season, gave a very interesting and informative pep talk Sunday afternoon to about 25 directors and players of the association. From what I gather about the confab, the coach really means to give us a real team this year. He is leaving nothing undone to secure talent and to utilize it to the best advantage. A stickler for condition, Law is installing a sliding pit for the players to practice in; he is going to insist on strenuous bunting exercises and numerous other functions that go to make a winning ball club. Lee Schaeffer and Leonard Sites, Don Smith and Jack Bubrick have been signed up by Business Manager Flax. There is a strong possibility of securing the services of Fred Shank, a

ONE-FOURTH OF COUNTY VOTERS DISFRANCHISED

Thousands Must Re-register Before Fall Elections

Complete figures as compiled from the county's 60 election precincts showed this week that 7,354 registrants are scheduled to be stricken from the registration books for failure to vote once in the past five years.

The loss in registrants, if the strike-offs hold up, will amount to just about 25 per cent of the county's registered voters. This is a slightly better showing than that for Frederick city, where the names of around one-third of the voters are scheduled to go off the books, unless they can show cause to the contrary.

The Board of Election Supervisors, which prepared the strike-off list as directed by law, will probably begin mailing "show cause" notices to the registrants on the list within the near future. It will be up to these registrants to show to the supervisors that they did vote once within the past five years to avoid a strike-off. Otherwise, they will have to re-register later this year to be able to vote in the coming State and county primaries and general election.

The totals showed 4,179 Democrats scheduled to go off the books, and 3,229 Republicans who will lose franchise privileges. On the basis of the last available registration figures—those of late 1948—this amounts to more than 25 per cent of the registered Democratic voters and over 24 per cent of the Republican registrants.

The Democratic book majority in the county—3,597 in 1948—will shrink to around 2,500 to 2,600 subject to latest figures on strike-offs for deaths.

It appears that the total Democratic registration will be around 12,000 and the Republican registration around 9,500.

In addition to the major parties, the list scheduled for strike-offs 49 voters who had declined to affiliate or were independent, and 97 persons who had registered by absentee registration, while in the armed services.

The total showed 6,504 white and 1,050 colored persons on the strike-off list. Women apparently did not vote in nearly the same proportion as men. There are 3,918 male and 3,636 female registrants to get strike-off notices.

Magistrate Baker Sends Two Youths To Pen

Pleading guilty to unauthorized use, William Douglas Tully 19, Fairfield Rt. 1, and Edward William Wetzel, 19, Emmitsburg Rt. 1, were each sentenced to a year in the Maryland House of Correction by Magistrate Jacob E. Baker at Emmitsburg last Friday. Charges were preferred by Trooper Kenneth E. Bond.

The youths were charged with taking, without permission, the car of Robert L. Baker, Orantanna, Pa., who was visiting in the Emmitsburg vicinity on Feb. 10. Trooper Bond investigated and Tully surrendered on Friday. On the basis of information obtained, Wetzel was implicated.

Taken before Justice Baker, both admitted the charge, signing statements to that effect, said Trooper Bond.

Both had previous records, it was said, and Wetzel is understood to have had suspensions in two prior cases.

In view of these circumstances, Magistrate Baker imposed the confinement penalties. Trooper Bond reported.

RECEIVE SACRAMENT OF BAPTISM

The following children were received by the Sacrament of Holy Baptism at the Lutheran Church: Harry Thomas Fogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fogle; Frances Viola Eyler, John Elsworth Eyler Jr., and Betty Virginia Eyler, children of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Eyler.

Two Sanitarians Appointed By Health Dept.

Kenneth R. Wagaman, Emmitsburg and J. Alfred Cutsall, Frederick, have been appointed sanitarians on the staff of the Frederick County Health Department, Dr. Carroll E. Easterday, county health officer announced this week. They began work on Monday.

Appointment at $2,400 per year of the sanitarians, bringing the number of the health department to four, was made possible by the department's expanded budget for 1950. Their duties will be county-wide, part of the health department's program to improve sanitary conditions in rural as well as urban areas. Both new appointees will be given intensive training in sanitary inspection work.

Wagaman, who was born in Salladasville, is a graduate of the University of Maryland and has done post-graduate work there in economics, accounting and finance. He has been with the State Roads Commission and has had wide experience in Federal and state bureaus as well as in business. He is married and has three children.

Tall Tale No. 4

Dear Sir:

As it is raining and a miserable day outside, I am inviting your readers to draw up a chair and put a log on the fire, and I'll tell them a bed-time story.

As you all know, Potter County, Pa., is a famous locality for wild life of all kinds and by all kinds, I mean all kinds, but I'll elaborate on but one type.

Uncle Herman several years ago, had an idea that he could do with animals the same wonders Luther Burbank had accomplished with fruits and other plants, so he cross-bred a gray squirrel with a jack rabbit and the experiment was a great success; he named the offspring of this union the Squir-rab, this animal had the body of a rabbit and tail, head and legs of a squirrel, and it could climb trees as well as an ordinary squirrel.

The Squir-rab made excellent eating and in a Hungarian goulash it was really out of this world; but it had one bad fault, viz., in the early spring of the year it always contracted a sturgleumglespoofen of the inner recesses of the cerebral cavity, and this always reduced it to a state of utter idiocy; in fact, it became so imbecilic during this period, that some of the Potter County natives thought of electing the animal to the U. S. Congress.

At one time I had one as a house pet, but in the spring of 1902 I decided to kill it, but as it had been a pet, I could not consider it as an edible dish, so I cut its head off, put the head and body in a gunny sack and weighted it with rocks and threw it into the river. Upon arriving home an hour later, I saw the Squir-rab sitting on my back porch, carrying its head in its mouth.

Utility Shop Opens Wednesday

Wednesday is the date for the opening of the Utility Shop under the new ownership of Mr. Robert Daugherty. The 40-year-old concern was recently purchased from Miss Ruth Gillelan, who had operated it for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Helen Daugherty, manager, announced several lovely door prizes will be awarded Wednesday evening. Patrons are advised to register for the drawing early.

The establishment has been removed from its former location to the premises of the Maxell residence, which has undergone extensive repairs and remodeling to accommodate the business.

The concern will handle the customary lines of yarns, ribbons, print dresses, towels, socks, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn F. Topper recently quietly observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding.

What's Your Name?

By JULES CHRISTIAN

"God and the doctor
We both adore
Just at the brink of danger
Not before.
The danger past,
Both alike are requited.
God is forgot
And the doctor slighted."

This tribute by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, will serve to bring to a conclusion the roll call of the physicians of Emmitsburg. This is because the name of two doctors already have been considered in previous editions.

Another name, however, is here included in the list of the prominent professional men of the community. That is the principal of the Public High School.

ARVIN P. JONES

Prof. Jones is engaged in one of the most important professions in the world. That is teaching, shaping the destiny of tomorrow by moulding the youth of today. It is doubtful if any other person, outside the home, has a greater influence on the destiny of our country than the teacher. Frequently a person will look back to some teacher as the greatest influence in his life. The output of knowledge and character thru the schools, has had a major part in creating the greatness of America, and will continue to have a major part in the destiny of things to come. So we salute Prof. Arvin P. Jones today.

He was born near Oakland, W. Va., graduated from New Windsor High School and the University of Maryland. He also went to Columbia University, where he received the M. A. degree. In addition, he did further post-graduate work at Harvard. In 1931 he came to Emmitsburg, where he remained until 1939. For the next 9 years he was associated with the Baltimore branch of the New York Life Insurance Co. Now he has been back to Emmitsburg again for the past two years in his present position of public service. Before coming here in 1931, he was principal of Liberty High School.

Prof. Jones has three children which he takes very seriously in playing the role of a good father. Richard, the eldest, has been accepted at the Medical School of the University of Maryland. Daughter Shirley is to graduate this summer and enter the University of Maryland.

Interesting Travelogue Describes Southern Baptists

By REV. CHARLES S. OWEN

IX

This travelogue would be incomplete without some observations about the mountain people. In the remote areas, of the Southern Highlands, lives the mountaineer. According to popular fancy, he still speaks the language of Shakespeare. In his speech he is more English than Great Britain, and more American than any other people. In his veins flows the purest Anglo-Saxon blood of the nation. His people are 100% native born.

Hospitality, friendliness and religious faith, was in evidence almost everywhere. On Sunday we went back into a rural mountain community to attend a church service. It was a Baptist Church. The utter informality of the worship, would impress most congregations elsewhere as being very odd indeed. But when the service was over most of the people greeted us with utmost friendliness. No less than six persons, upon learning that we were guests from the North, invited us to go home with them for dinner.

In another community, more isolated in the mountain region, a rattlesnake revival was reported in progress. That is where the devotees exhibit rattlesnakes as evidence of special Divine power and protection. We planned to attend one of those services, but never quite found time to do so.

Almost everywhere in rural areas we saw splendid looking churches, evidences of prosperous and devoted congregations. Most land in the fall. Euclid is in the tenth grade. Here is a family inspired by big things. And the future is apt to hear from each one of these children.

The paternal interests of Mr. Jones also reach to include all his pupils. He takes a keen and fatherly interest in their life and problems. His biggest thrill in life is to see his pupils become successful men and women. Such a project as he is staging today in the local school in the panel discussion of brotherhood between men of both Jewish, Catholic and Protestant faiths, is a further tribute to breadth of interest and fraternal spirit.

Prof. Jones is also a lover of nature. Anything out of doors, the beauties of the world. That is a good emblem of the big heart. Hunting, fishing, picnicking, boating and reading, are among his choice delights. He is a member of the Lions Club, and the Indian Lookout Conservation Club.

MEANING OF NAME

Jones is a name of Welsh origin. It means son of John, which in turn means "God is gracious." Originally it came from the Bible. In the New Testament story, the name of John was clothed with glory. After the Crusades forms of the name became very popular in Western Europe. More boys have been named after John than any other. More family names have come from this source than any other. Today there are about 100 forms of John. Some of the most common are, Johnson, Jack, Jackson, Jenkins, Jennings, Jennett, Jensen, Hanks, Hancock, Jane, Shane, Hanson, Ivan, Melvar and Jones. The latter is the most characteristic Welsh form. It is formed from Johns by dropping the "h" for the sake of a better sound. The Welsh added the "s" to the father's name to indicate "son of." Thus for example, a boy named, let us say, Merwin, wished to select a family name for himself. (The Welsh were very late in doing this). He called himself Merwin, son of John, or Merwin Jones.

The name of Jones has been very prominent in American history. Many men of distinction have added glory to the name. Among them is John Paul Jones, the patron saint of the U. S. Navy.

Harness Racemen Strive For Better Conditions

Maryland's new association of harness owners, of which Joseph H. Eyler, Thurmont, is vice president, is going to ask the state racing commissions of Maryland and Delaware to help them get improvements for the growing sport.

George R. Norris, president of the Interstate Harness Horsemen's Association, announced a 16-point program will be presented to the commissions. He said the program was agreed to by 150 members of the association at a recent meeting in Dover.

Principal proposals will be a minimum purse of $700 and appointment of a steward recommended by the association. Norris said the association's goal is a $1,000 minimum purse.

The owners, from Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and Virginia, also will ask that one mile be the minimum race distance, elimination of fees for overnight races, except for horses sharing the purse, and a maximum of 8 starters in overnight events.

"Harness racing has gone big time and we have to see that our rights are protected," Vice President Eyler said in describing the purpose of the association that was formed last month.

The harness sport has advanced rapidly in Maryland since pari-mutuel betting on it was legalized three years ago. There will be four tracks in operation this summer.

Frederick countians will vote this fall whether to permit betting on racing in this county.

St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, presented its Centenary Award, a holy year pilgrimage to Rome, to Joanne E. Downey, '51. The award is granted on the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the union of Mother Seton's Sisters in the United States with the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul in France.

Miss Downey will be granted a special audience with the Holy Father as a member of the Student Pilgrimage sponsored by the National Federation of Catholic College Students. She will visit Rue du Bac and the Chapel of Apparitions of the Blessed Virgin to St. Catherine Labouré and the Sanctuary of Lourdes where the Blessed Mother appeared to St. Bernadette.

Divide and Conquer

Divide and rule is a maxim old,
Used by those in power.
As o'er our heads the mace they hold;
And with leering visage glower.
Ghenghis Khan, Alexander the Great,
And the Roman Caesars too
Were all alike in their monstrous hate,
Of you and you and you.

Joe Stalin, uncouth, unclean,
The Ruler of the Reds,
With a single breath can order the death,
Of thousands in their beds.
Hitler planned (as he brutally banned
And purged the Semitic Race)
With Swastika unfurled, to rule the world,
And assume the leading place.

In the U. S. A. the rulers sway,
The people by the vote.
Tho' many perceive but few believe,
Each vote is a hollow note.
The point I stress is that Harry S.
And Tom E. Dewey, too
Both used the plan to rule each man,
By dividing you and you.

And Wallace, forsooth, gave further proof
To the point I bare to view;
When he drove a wedge with an oral sledge,
Between you and you and you.
There's nothing in view that we can do,
To save us from our fate.
But save our breath 'til a welcome death
Is our pass thru Heaven's Gate.

The hydrogen bomb is the latest thing,
With which to kill their fellows;
From Pole to Pole, and 'round the Equator's ring,
They'd kill whites, blacks, browns and yellows.
And thousands will die, when from out of the sky,
Bombs will fall and shatter,
With a screaming rush they will sear and
Crush, humans into matter.

Yes, rule or be ruled is the way we're schooled,
If the shoe fits we must wear it;
Tho' our path of life is beset with strife,
We can only try to bear it.
For the Lord on High, on The Cross to die,
Left words of hope for you.
In death's searing wave, He freely forgave—
"They know not what they do."

To Head State Cancer Drive

Dr. Grant E. Ward, president of the Maryland division of the American Cancer Society, this week announced the appointment of W. Carroll Mead, as Maryland State Campaign Chairman for the Society's annual drive for funds scheduled for the month of April.

Upon accepting the appointment, Mr. Mead expressed his pleasure of being selected for this assignment. He added:

"The responsibility presented by this appointment will be discharged to the best of my ability. I expect to devote a large percentage of my time to this campaign, the success of which means so much, not only to cancer victims, but to the institutional workers engaged in research and education. I feel sure that with the cooperation of the members of the society and those who are being enlisted as part of the campaign, this year's quota will be achieved. The generous support given by the public in previous years indicates

Newspaper Advertising Gains

Newspaper advertising in 1949 was surpassing the record figures of 1948, and prospects for 1950 are that expenditures possibly will exceed last year's record, reported the New York Times in its year-end review.

Based on incomplete figures for the year, the gain in advertising for newspapers in 1949 was estimated at 3.7 per cent with the dollar total expected to break all records.

Based on estimates of the bureau of advertising of the ANPA, advertising income of newspapers would hit about $1,697,100,000 for the year.

Expenditures by national advertisers for newspaper space were at the annual rate of $428,700,000 on figures for the first nine months, the ANPA bureau reported.

This eclipsed the previous high mark of $389,261,000 set in 1948.

A shiny insulated roof, such as aluminum roof, reflects the heat from the sun and helps keep the house cool in the summer, USDA agricultural engineers say. It also helps prevent loss of heat from the house in the winter.

that the work of the society is known and its significance understood."

In 1942, Mr. Mead entered the Marine Corps, served in the South Pacific and was separated as a captain. He is now a Marine Corps reservist holding the rank of major.

He has been active in the Baltimore Community Chest campaign as well as other fund raising drives.

In 1947, he served as Maryland Campaign chairman for the Washington and Lee University Bi-Centennial campaign to raise three million dollars for the college.

MATING OF GEESSE

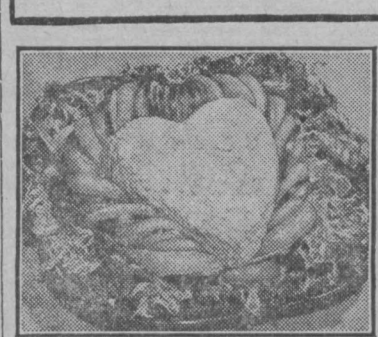

The wild gander does not believe in b-gamy, he likes to mate with just one goose, but a young ander can be mated with two geese. Toulouse and Emden geese (Emden geese are used for pelts as mentioned in a previous pointer) do not mature before their third year. Since second year eggs are usually infertile, they should be used for cooking. The length of maturing time does not matter too much, when one considers that females can be kept up to 10 years of age, while males should not be kept for more than seven years for breeding. It is very difficult to distinguish sex in geese, particularly when they are young. The ganders have a shrill, high voice, and usually are a bit larger than their sisters, which have a harsh and coarse voice. Geese have to be managed very gently, because they can be disturbed very easily. When mated they can be allowed to run in flocks, however, each mating should be kept by itself during the breeding season on account of the ganders' fighting spirit. Two to three feet high fences will keep geese confined in large enough yards. It is advisable when handling sitting geese to wear gloves to protect your hands from bites.

When geese start laying eggs they should be collected daily, otherwise the goose becomes broody too early. If this advice is followed, it will take a long time before they become broody. Therefore, it is best to have a heavy chicken set on not more than seven goose eggs. Geese can set on 10 to 14 eggs. It takes the small breed of geese about 30 days, and the larger ones about 35 days to hatch. After the 15th day, you should soak the eggs every three days for a half a minute in hot water of 100 degrees Fahrenheit. It is advisable to soak the eggs daily during the last week of incubation.

When using the goose for setting, she should be allowed to set in the nest in which she laid her eggs, because it is more than difficult to make her set in another place. Their stubbornness exceeds the mule by far.

Many breeders do not use geese for setting at all, because they are more difficult to handle than chicken hens. When chicken hens are used, they have to be treated with insect powder three to four days before the hatching may be expected. It also is necessary to turn the eggs under chicken hens daily, while geese as setters are able to turn them without the human's help.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

A WOMAN'S never too old or too young, too rich or too poor, to adore being remembered on Valentine's Day. A thoughtful husband makes your heart sing when he says "I love you" with red roses, a bashful beau is content to let candy do his sweet talk. One of the most touching tokens of affection, though, is that from your young daughter — something she has made with her own chubby hands.

It may be a Valentine she's labored over, cutting, pasting, then printing a verse in her childlike way. Again she may get ideas she wants to "cook" something for you. This year, why not help her make this delicious heart salad which the whole family will enjoy. Tasted and tested in the Best Foods consumer kitchens, it's certain to delight any young Miss.

Frilly Heart Fruit Salad
1 quart cottage cheese
1/2 cup real mayonnaise
2 teaspoons salt
2 grapefruit, sectioned
3 oranges, sectioned
2 medium size red apples
Chicory

Drain cottage cheese well in a strainer. Blend with real mayonnaise. Place cheese mixture on chop plate, shaping into a heart with hands or spatula. Arrange escarole around cheese. Cut unpeeled apples in thin wedges and dip in grapefruit juice to prevent discoloration. Arrange with grapefruit and orange sections alternately on chicory. Serve with additional real mayonnaise. Serves 6 to 8.

Do You Want To Cut Your Federal Taxes?

Efficiency At Less Cost

Efficiency is necessary to reduce the cost of government. It is also imperative for our national prosperity. The Commission on the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government in its minute survey of the 1812 Federal agencies, boards, and departments, found a sad lack of effective house-keeping. This Commission, created by Congress with the approval of President Truman, was headed by former President Hoover. It has provided a vivid picture of the weaknesses in our present set-up, and suggested ways of increasing efficiency so that your taxes may be reduced.

Today thousands of tons of obsolete, useless records are stored in steel cabinets in expensive offices at maintenance charges of $29 per year each, when they could be kept in warehouses at a cost of only $2.15 per year each.

In 1928 the Department of Agriculture had about 22,000 employees and spent less than $6 million. In 1948 it had 82,000 employees and spent $834 millions of your hard-earned tax dollars. In a single Georgia cotton county, 47 employees of 7 separate USDA field services were handing out advice. A Washington State county had 184 Department agents and a Maryland county had 88 agents advising the heavily taxed farmers. A Missouri dairyman was "confused and irritated" when he recently received contradictory advice from five government agencies on how to fertilize his fields.

These are a few instances of the thousands discovered by the Commission where elimination of duplication would give increased efficiency and better service at less cost. If all of the recommendations of the Commission are adopted, the workers of this country would save between three and four billion dollars in taxes annually.

If you are interested in seeing these changes made in your government, tell your Congressman. Write the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government, 1421 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania, for more information. Talk to your friends about it. These much-needed reforms cannot be made into law without your support!

Ford Takes 1950 Fashion Award

A recent announcement is made that the Fashion Academy Gold Medal Award for "outstanding design and fashion styling" has been awarded to the 1950 Ford. This is the second consecutive year the Ford line has been selected by the Academy to receive the award.

The Fashion Academy has become internationally known in the past years for its annual selection of "America's Best Dressed Women" and, more recently, for its annual award in the automotive field to "America's Fashion Car of the Year."

The award last year, to the 1949 Ford, was the first time the Gold Medal was awarded to a car in the low-priced field.

BOY THAT'S FAST

Just as jet planes are outstanding for their speed, so electric ranges are "tops" in their own field for the same reason.

There may have been faster methods of cooking a number of years ago when electric ranges were still in the development stage, but those days are long since past. Today's ELECTRIC RANGES provide the fastest controlled method of cooking yet developed.

The completely insulated electric range oven comes to full heat almost unbelievably quickly. Surface units glow with controlled heat almost as soon as a switch is turned.

But SPEED is just one of the many advantages of cooking electrically. Check these others:

PERFECT COOKING RESULTS every time, thanks to accurate, unfailing heat controls.

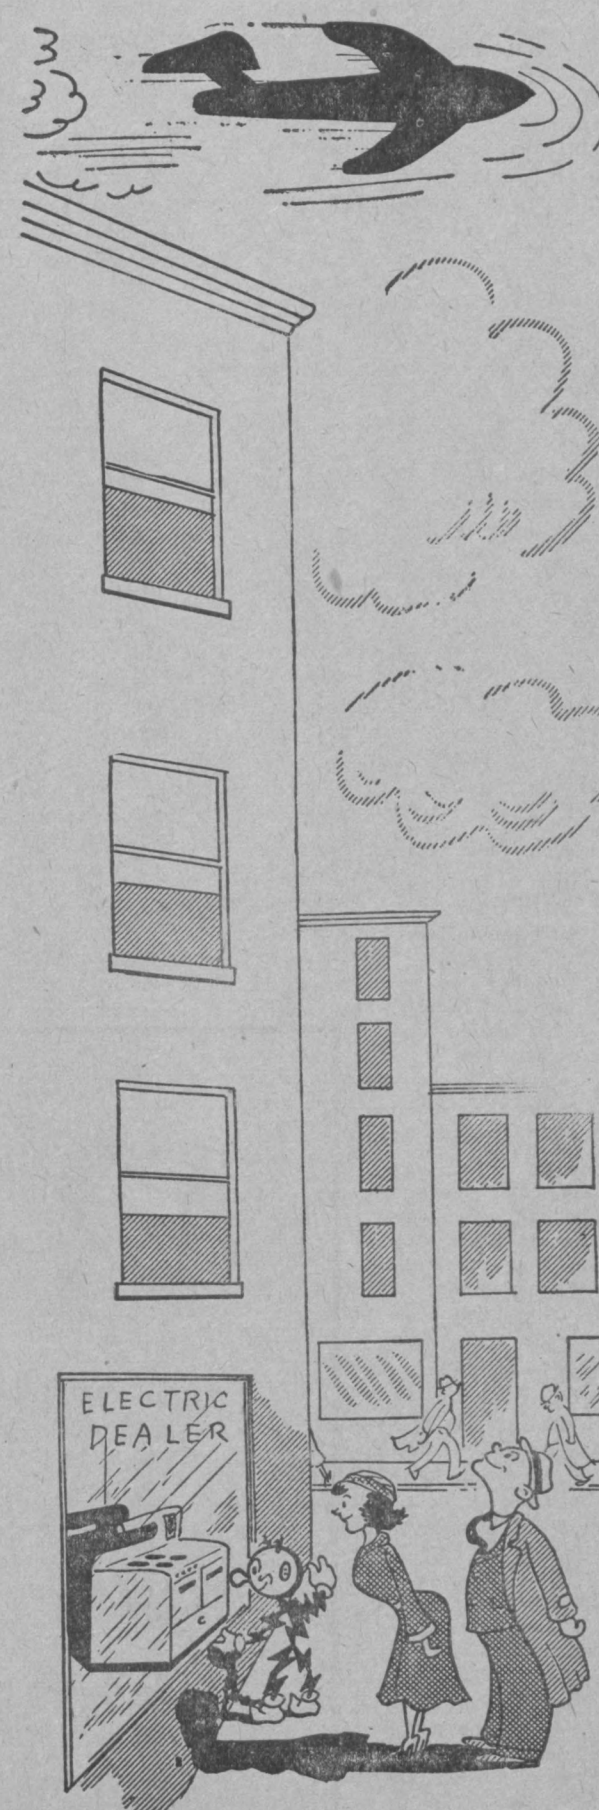

COMPLETE SAFETY because there is nothing to leak, spill, burn or explode.

TRUE CLEANLINESS with no flame produced smoke or soot.

AUTOMATIC OPERATION possible only with positive, electrical controls.

GREATEST ECONOMY due to full insulation and automatic controls which hold the use of low cost electricity to a minimum.

All these can be yours in the most beautiful of all ranges. See the 1950 models at your dealer's now. Prices and types to suit every purse and purpose.

Plans for the annual State-wide meeting of county and community committeemen in the Production and Marketing Administration program is scheduled for Baltimore on March 9 and 10. Also meeting with the group will be the chief clerks from the county offices.

Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the State PMA Committee, states that all of the county and community committeemen and chief clerks are being invited to attend. The purpose of the meeting is to talk over with farmers the programs administered by PMA in an effort to further adapt them to the needs of the State's agriculture.

Other topics of a general nature are to be included on the two-day program and complete details will be announced later.

"We remind the committeemen of this event now to give them full opportunity to make plans to attend," states Mr. Blandford. "We held the first such meeting last year and the response was so enthusiastic and the results so helpful, that we plan to have a similar get-together about this time each year."

Surpluses Offered

Dried eggs and non-fat milk solids from U. S. Dept. of Agriculture's price support stocks are being offered free at the point where they are stored in school lunch programs and to Federal, State, and public welfare agencies for the assistance of needy persons in Maryland. This was announced this week by Mr. Blandford.

These commodities will be handled under the system of distribution provided in Section 416 of the Agricultural Act of 1949. This law sets up several priorities on distribution of government surplus foods by various types of recipients, and it provides that recipient agencies must pay handling charges and transportation from the points of storage.

Public welfare agencies desiring to obtain dried eggs and non-fat dry milk solids must agree to distribute commodities only to those they determine to be eligible under approved program outlets. They must also agree not to reduce their expenditures for food because of receipt of donated commodities.

Schools and interested public welfare agencies in Maryland can get full information on available surplus commodities and details for handling them from John J. Seidel, assistant supervisor, Maryland State Dept. of Education, 1201 Mathieson Bldg., Baltimore 2, public schools; Paul Simpson, State Dept. of Budget and Proc., 318 Light St., welfare and public institution, and USDA Food Distribution Programs Branch, Room 714, 641 Washington St., New York 14, private schools.

Hormones Help Capon Raising

Considerable interest has developed recently among Maryland farmers in the production of so-called "chemical capons." Dr. C. S. Shaffner of the University of Maryland Poultry Dept. explains that these birds are not capons but are cockerels which have been injected with a female sex hormone. In the market they are called caponettes or capettes.

To produce them, a small pellet of a female sex hormone (15 mg. diethylstilbestrol) is implanted under the skin of the neck near the head. In dressing the chickens for market, the pellet remnant is removed with the head and no effects of the hormone result from eating the bird so treated.

Caponette roasters may be produced by injecting cockerels when seven or eight weeks old and again when 12 or 13 weeks and selling them at 20 or 21 weeks. They may be sold as fryers at 13 weeks. The pellet is absorbed in five or six weeks, hence the need for two injections if birds are kept to roaster size. Old breeding males deposit fat and likewise become much more tender four or five weeks after a pellet has been implanted.

The economy of production of caponettes is not fully established. However, there is without question an increase in market quality. The birds are more docile, fight less, and put on fat more readily, particularly after 12 weeks of age.

SHORT STORY

Cordially Disliked

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

I HAVE NEVER known a man to be more wholeheartedly disliked than Henry Spafford. The reason for it is his braggartly qualities, his overbearing sense of importance.

We tolerate him because we like his wife, Madge, but even so our toleration is a chore. The other night I was over to the Spafford's and sat through an hour of Henry's bragging. It seems that the big boss in New York—Henry is employed by the Jason Reid Steamship Company—called up the Philadelphia office where Henry works and Henry answered the phone.

"Jay's a great guy," Henry told me, referring to the incident. "He's asked me to run up to New York to see him a couple of times. I must remember to do that."

"Who's Jay?" I asked.

"Jay?" Why, Jason Reid, who owns the line, of course.

"Oh," I said.

"The way to get along in any business," Henry went on, "is to let the boss know right off he can depend on you. That's the way I am with Jay."

I left the Spafford home an hour later, furious that I had stayed so long, pitying Madge and disliking Henry with a renewed sense of disgust. "Something," I told Betty, my wife, "ought to be done about that punk. Now he's calling Old Man Reid, Jay."

"The thing to do," Betty smiled, "is to be amused at his ravings, not annoyed. He doesn't hurt any one, and there's always Madge to think of."

"Even Madge," I replied, "won't keep me from hitting that guy one of these days. Something," I repeated, "ought to be done about him."

Whether or not my thinking about it had anything to do with what happened a couple of days later I will never know. Henry was fired. Without warning or explanation he was given a couple of weeks' pay and was bounced out on his ear.

My first reaction when Betty told me about it was one of exuberance, a fiendish desire to rush over there and gloat, to sneer: "I told you so! Why don't you call up your friend, Jay, wise guy?" But this feeling passed immediately. Curiously it was followed by one of pity. The more I thought about it the deeper became my sympathy. What greater humiliation, I thought, could a man endure than this that confronted Henry Spafford?

NEXT DAY I called Hal Wheaton and asked him to have lunch with me.

"Don't be annoyed at his ravings. He doesn't hurt anyone, and there's Madge to think of."

"Have you heard about Henry?" I asked when we were seated.

Hal nodded, avoiding my eyes. "I met the poor devil on the street this morning. I don't mind saying that it was an ordeal."

I thoughtfully lighted a cigaret. "Hal," I said, "think of Madge. Isn't there something we can do?"

"Well," said Hal, "I've been wondering, too. Poor Madge." He coughed. "I called Bob Taylor of the Taylor Lines this morning. Bob says that he might be able to do something for Henry on our recommendation."

"I guess," I grinned, "that's the answer."

And it was. Henry and Madge were over three days later. "I understand you've got a new job?" I remarked to Henry.

"Yes," he said with a bored look on his face. "Bob Taylor called up as soon as he heard that I was free, and asked if I'd consider a position with him. Well, you know when a man offers you more money—"

I glanced at Betty. There was a faint smile on her face. I suppose she was amused. I hope so. Because an hour later, with Henry still blowing, I was mad enough to choke him, and almost did.

At night, dim your lights for other cars, this reminds other drivers to dim their lights for you.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

Wheat markets in Baltimore advanced about one cent per bushel during the week ended Feb. 17. Corn and barley declined about one cent per bushel while Western white oats gained about two cents per bushel on the Baltimore market during the past week. No. 2 yellow soybeans showed a slight upward trend while No. 2 black soybeans gained about four cents per bushel. Supplies of all grains were ample; demand, moderate.

National Grain Market

Wheat markets were quiet with little change in prices during the week ended Feb. 16, but feed grains held firm and prices of most of them showed moderate gains. Some improvement in winter wheat prospects tended to offset the strengthening influence of a moderate export business, and prices held practically unchanged, at around loan value. Smaller offerings of corn, as a result of poor marketing conditions in the main belt and a moderate export trade, along with favorable livestock corn feeding ratio strengthened the corn market about three cents per bushel. Oats and grain sorghums also turned firmer but barley remained weak with trading slow. Rye followed an advance of about three cents per bushel in Canadian markets. Soybeans advanced three to four cents per bushel and No. 2 yellow soybeans were recorded at $2.34 at Chicago and $2.28 at Minneapolis. Maryland Feed Market

The Baltimore feed market continued to decline during the week ended Feb. 17. Weakness was most pronounced in 50% meat scrap which dropped sharply over 7%—$7.50 per ton less than last week's average price. Sharp declines amounting to about 21% since the week ended Jan. 20 have brought the price of 50% meat scrap down from an average of $121.62 per ton on the Baltimore market, Jan. 20 to $100.30 per ton this week. Brewers' dried grains declined almost 2% during the past week—$1.20 per ton lower. Wheat millfeeds showed an upward trend with standard bran advancing over 2%—$1.64 per ton more than a week ago. Soybean meal (1.57 per ton higher) and 17% dehydrated alfalfa meal ($1.75 per ton higher) gained almost 2% on the Baltimore market.

The broiler-feed ratio was more favorable for Maryland producers for the week ended Feb. 16. Broiler prices averaged 25.3 cents per pound (24 cents last week) while 20% broiler mash on Lower Eastern Shore averaged $89.79 per ton ($91.71 per ton last week). On this basis one pound live weight of broilers would buy 5.6 pounds of feed (5.2 pounds last week). National Feed Market

Feed markets strengthened materially toward the close of the week ended Feb. 14 reports to the Dept. of Agriculture show. The firmer situation resulted from an increased demand from feed manufacturers and distributors who were replenishing stocks which apparently had been allowed to run low. A moderate advance in grain prices, improvement in the demand for chick feeds, and somewhat more favorable feeding ratios for poultrymen were further strengthening influences. Bran prices were up $1.00 and middlings and shorts about $2 per ton on an average from a week ago. Soybean meal advanced about $4 per ton and other oilseed meals gained 50¢-$1 per ton. Alfalfa meal, brewers' dried grains, and tankage continued weak. The index of feedstuff prices advanced about 4½ points, to 201 compared with 207.6 a year ago. The feed grain index was up about 3 points, to 185.5 against 188 a year ago.

A reduced demand for chick feeds this spring is indicated by farmers' intentions to buy about 12 per cent fewer baby chicks than in 1949. Growers plan to decrease their baby chick purchases in all regions of the country except in New England relationships, resulting from a 39 per cent drop in egg prices from mid-October to mid-January with practically no change in feed prices, is principally responsible for the smaller purchases. Continued heavy feeding of laying farm flocks is indicated, however, by the largest January egg production on record. Farm flocks in January were seven per cent larger than a year ago and four per cent above the January average. The rate of egg production during January was 12.8 per layer compared with 12.1 in January last year and an average of 9.6.

The CORE program, still new to many, because more meaningful when we try to understand it as a living, learning experience for our children. Our most perfect understanding is actual personal experience; next to that it is observation. One of our most helpful experiences this week arose when the Seventh Grade of Emmitsburg High School observed the printing of the Emmitsburg Chronicle.

The Seventh Grade, under the supervision of Mrs. Scott, is studying a unit on the various communications systems and naturally needed to know about the medium known as the newspaper.

and the part it plays in our everyday life. There was no better way of gaining an understanding of the vast amount of work that goes into issuing our home town paper, than by visiting the local press and the various stages of publication, from hand-written ads and articles to the finished newspaper, clutched from the press by the giant mechanical hand as it claimed the latest weekly edition, ready to be folded, addressed and stamped to join another means of communication which all too few of us fully understand, and appreciate — "Uncle Sam's Mail Service."

PNEUMONIA

Since the discovery and use of penicillin and sulfones in the last few years, the death rate from pneumonia has been, and still is, decreasing considerably.

But there is no room for complacency. Pneumonia ranks fifth among the causes for death from disease in this country. During 1947, the year for which we have the most recent figures, pneumonia took nearly 55,000 lives.

Pneumonia attacks all ages, but it is most frequently fatal among infants and very old people. Although it can occur at any time of the year, it is most common during the winter months when chilling and over-exposure to the cold, factors favorable to the onset of pneumonia, are most likely to occur.

Pneumonia, in general, is a severe inflammation of the lungs. Its early symptoms include chills and fever, cough, severe pain in the region of the side, and, as the disease progresses, difficult and rapid breathing and sometimes blood-tinged expectoration.

Doctors suspect that pneumonia germs can be transmitted from person to person. So until we know definitely otherwise, pneumonia must be considered a communicable disease and pneumonia patients should be kept away from other people to prevent the possible spread of the disease.

There are various types of pneumonia caused by different kinds of organisms, germs, or viruses. The two most common pneumonias are those caused by germs known as "streptococcus" and "pneumococcus."

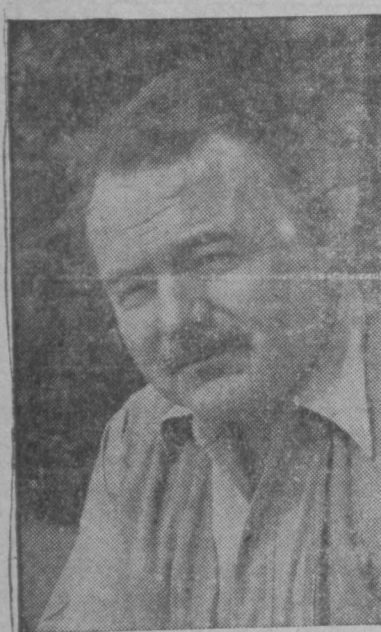

Streptococcal pneumonia usually attacks when the body has already been weakened by some other disease, such as measles, whooping cough, or influenza. It is frequently a complication of one of those illnesses, especially when prompt medical care of the primary infection is neglected.

Pneumococcal pneumonia is a primary infection, although the patient frequently suffers from what seems to be a "heavy cold" before the acute attack of pneumonia. Doctors believe that pneumococci can be present in the nose and throat of a person, but that the disease does not develop until the resistance of the individual's body is temporarily lowered by fatigue, malnutrition, or exposure to chilling or wet weather.

Although treatment of the various pneumonias with penicillin and the sulfa drugs has saved many lives in recent years, there is no practical vaccine for the prevention of pneumonia.

As far as we know, the best way to avoid pneumonia is by avoiding anything that tends to reduce the body's vitality and resistance, especially during the winter months. And since it is easy for pneumonia to take hold following less severe infections, prompt medical treatment is important for measles, whooping cough, influenza, bronchitis, and sore throats — common "winter ailments."

New Hemingway Novel

Ernest Hemingway's new novel, "Across the River and into the Trees," is the story of a fifty-year old U. S. infantry colonel who returns to Venice for a last visit with a young and beautiful Italian girl. They are happy in their intense love, but it is a happiness made poignant by their realization that the war-battered colonel hasn't long to live. Hemingway, in describing their last visit, recounts the events in the soldier's colorful life which made him the brutal, and yet strangely tender man that he is. The novel starts in the February issue of Cosmopolitan magazine and is Hemingway's first work since his famous "For Whom the Bell Tolls," published in 1940.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

Egg production is hitting the top this winter—about 50 per cent above average with the rate of lay still increasing, according to poultry specialists. Good news for homemakers—for where else can you find so many good qualities in so small a package as an egg?

Treat your family to ample servings of this food in a generous omelet. Flat or fluffy — whichever you like, the ingredients are the same: one or two eggs per person, one tablespoon of milk for each egg, and salt and pepper to taste. To make omelets fluffy, beat the egg yolk and white separately. For a flat omelet, beat all ingredients together.

Dress up the omelet with a mushroom sauce, tomato, cheese or Spanish sauce, or top with creamed vegetables or meat. For a sweet variation, add jelly or marmalade just before folding the omelet. For a tomato omelet, use tomatoes instead of milk for the liquid. Garnish with a sprig of parsley before serving.

CHOICE CHICKEN

Maryland can be justly proud of her fine broilers. Since they are cheaper now than they've been for many months, wise homemakers put them on the weekly shopping list. In buying, allow one bird a person if the birds are small. The large broilers or fryers—weighing from three to three and one-half pounds dressed—will furnish two servings when halved.

As a rule, young tender chicken is best broiled or fried, but some good cooks prefer to cut the chicken into smaller pieces and steam-fry them. This method calls for a saucepan with a close-fitting lid, a cup of boiling water, and one teaspoon of salt. Simmer the chicken until it is fork-tender, roll each piece in well-seasoned flour, and brown quickly in hot fat in a large skillet. Use the broth in place of some of the milk in making gravy.

PLENTIFUL PORK

Figs will be one of our most plentiful crops in 1950, according to marketing experts at the University of Maryland. To the homemaker, that means not only ham and bacon and roasts, but spareribs as well. Sauer kraut and spareribs, barbecued spareribs, stuffed spareribs, and Chinese-style spareribs.

Youths of 18 Must Register for Draft

Col. Henry C. Stanwood, State Director of Selective Service for Maryland, said "the obligation to register is a continuing one and must be fulfilled under the requirements of the Selective Service Act of 1948."

The young man who becomes eighteen (18) is required to register at a local board office within five days after his eighteenth birthday. If he happens to be away from his home he need not return as he may register at the local board office most convenient to him and the record will be sent to the local board having jurisdiction over his home residence, if he wishes, even though it is in another state.

It is mandatory that a registrant keep his local board informed of any change in address or change in status. This requirement applies to all registrants, including those who have reached age 26.

The county local board will register men during the hours of the day posted on board offices. These boards are on a part-time basis only.

Retaliation Bill Gains Support

The Senate Judiciary Committee voted a favorable report last week on a bill of "retaliation" for a truck law in force in Virginia.

The Maryland bill resembles the Old Dominion statute.

Its author, Senator Edward Storm, Democrat, of Frederick, explained to the committee that the aim of his bill was to induce Virginia to repeal a law which, by setting up an "inter-state barrier, reminds you of the Colonial days."

The Maryland measure would require Virginia trucks to buy their gasoline in Maryland for their trips through the Free State.

Or else, they would be billed for the 5-cents-a-gallon Maryland tax on gasoline consumed over the State's highways.

Virginia now requires that from out-of-state truckers, who must file monthly statements on mileage and gasoline purchases of the Virginia trips.

The judiciary group voted approval after several Senators first suggested a resolution calling upon Virginia to repeal its truck law might be better.

Those arguing that enactment of the Maryland bill would have a sharper effect—Storm has said the law should make Virginia truckers "scream"—won out,

Where it's best not to interrupt

Another place where it's a good policy not to interrupt is on your telephone party line. If you hang up gently when you find the line in use, you can be pretty sure that others on the line will do the same for you when you're talking. In an emergency, of course, you should be ready and willing to give up the line — just as you would expect others to do for you.

On Sunday night, Feb. 12, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home near Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimes were married on Feb. 12, 1925 by Rev. Staley Jones. They have three children, Mrs. Louise G. Shafer and Miss Betty Grimes of Frederick, and Fred, at home. They also have two granddaughters, Cynthia Louise and Sally Anne Shafer.

A large three-tier wedding cake centered the diningroom table, surrounded by fern and red roses.

During the evening, Mrs. Margaret Blair, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Adam Grim, sang selections appropriate for the occasion, including "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer," "Bells of St. Mary's," "Bless This House," and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Because."

Refreshments consisted of homemade chicken sandwiches, ginger ale, potato chips, cake, candy, peanuts, and ice cream. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Murray Roop, Mrs. Theodore Wolfe, Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner, Miss Marion Biggs, and Mrs. Raymond Roop.

Field Officer Explains Social Security

The fifth in a series of 13 by the Social Security Administration tells how the welfare of children is the dominant consideration of the Nation. Social Security for them must be a partnership of family, government, and community.

Social Security for children rests on a partnership of family effort, government services, and private facilities. The welfare of children is a dominant consideration in the achievement of our hope for a better world. The present Social Security provisions represent an important step toward this achievement.

When children are left with no one to support them, how are they to be kept from want? How can their families give them the kind of home and care that children need? How can the home life of America's children be strengthened? These questions are important to each of us. They are important to every community and to the entire Nation. Today's children are tomorrow's citizens. The whole country has a stake in their security.

Through the Social Security Act the government helps families to protect their own children. We administer one phase of the Act—Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. This insurance plan provides a way by which a wage earner may build up protection for his children. When he works on a job covered under this system, a worker contributes a small regular amount from his earnings (one and one-half per cent) which entitles his family to monthly insurance payments under certain circumstances.

Our plan is designed primarily to protect children under 18 whose fathers die at any age, and such children whose fathers are receiving Old-Age Insurance. Children of working mothers who die insured may be entitled to benefits if they are not living with or being supported by their father. In most cases adopted children and step-children of a wage earner are included under the program. Monthly survivors' benefits also are payable to mothers, as well, if she has children in her care.

Claims for monthly insurance benefits are taken at our office in Hagerstown, located in the postoffice. Payments are not made automatically. A claim for benefits must be filed before payment can be made. The worker's family should contact the nearest Social Security office when the worker dies; the worker should get in touch with the office when he reaches age 65. I will be in Emmitsburg on Monday, Feb. 27 at 11:30 a. m. at the Emmitsburg postoffice.

Extra Revenue

The city of Martinsburg, W. Va., has recently figured out a new wrinkle on parking meters. For $36 you can buy an annual pass. Otherwise you pay a nickel an hour or a penny for 12 minutes every time you park on a downtown street.

The mayor reported he's sold four of the annual tickets, plus three special cards at $10 apiece for delivery trucks.

When you park, you stick your annual pass on your windshield instead of putting money in the meter.

Mayor Stotler and city council hope the system will produce more parking revenue.

HEART-BEATS skip a note around the studios... for some of radio's top comediennees are also it's loveliest ladies. Number 1 example is hilarious hillbilly, Judy Canova, heard on NBC Saturday evenings. You think she's funny—then what about this glamour-pose? Judy is versatile, to say the least, and can don a "new personality" with ease, depending upon the effect she wants to create. At one time she inherited a real Italian castle—which could be the reason for this "new look."

Legion Quintet
Victorious
Twice Again

The Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion basketball team, scored their ninth and tenth wins of the season last Thursday and Monday nights respectively.

The fast cagers from the Emmitsburg Post made it two in a row over the Wine's Sport Shop of Westminster by a 78-33 score. Earlier in the season the Emmitsburg quintet won 64-38. Center Curran netted the most points in last Thursday's affair with 16, closely followed by Guard Myers with 14, and Center Harvell with 12. Half time score read 43-17.

In chalking up their 10th win against two losses this season, Bream's Garage of Gettysburg, Pa., was the latest victim of the fast quintet from Emmitsburg. Guard Harvell jumped way ahead in the scoring Monday night with 21 points, while Forward Myers netted 13. At half time the score was 26-16, and final score, 56-37.

The next home game will be played Tuesday night, Feb. 28, when Sears of Frederick, meet the local Legionnaires at the Emmitsburg High School gymnasium. Game time has been set for 8:00 p. m.

Thurmont High
Plans Minstrel Presentation

The date of the Thurmont High School Glee Club's musical minstrel has been officially set for March 3 and 4.

Act one of the show will feature the opening of the famous "Silver Clef Cafe" and will include a gala floor show. Entertainment for this show will be provided by Dorothy Thayer, New York's Park Avenue Hillbilly; Hal Dolson, who made "Mammy" famous, and the popular dance group from Radio City New York, the Knockouts. Other popular performers will present the latest songs and dance routines.

Act two will be the regular minstrel circle with the entire chorus, an interlocutor, and six endmen participating. They will present lively tunes with action, hilarious jokes, and dance routines.

Much time and effort is being spent on costumes and scenery for this musical.

The grand finale will be a dance held in the famous balloon ballroom, the Thurmont High School cafeteria, of the Cafe following the performance on Saturday night. Everyone is invited to dance for several hours to the music of Tony Polacco's orchestra from Mt. St. Mary's College with Vinney Hughes as soloist.

Mrs. Kate Reuter and son, Crist, and son-in-law, Capt. Faras, of Baltimore, visited on Tuesday with Peter F. Burkett.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillelan, Sunday visited with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wood, Reisterstown.

TRAVELOGUE

from coast to coast. The little Baptist city comprises 1,200 acres located in one of nature's choicest spots in the Southern Highlands. There are 150 buildings, an auditorium that seats 2,200, a diningroom that seats 2,500 at one time. Palatial hotels, magnificent homes, attractive tourists facilities and cabins, classrooms, assembly halls, are sufficient to accommodate huge crowds.

The guide took us on a tour of the establishment and pointed out many distinguished homes where the most outstanding leaders and executives of the Southern Baptist Convention, maintain their summer residences. We learned that the Southern Baptists were the largest religious body in the South, that there were nearly six and a half million of them. Before the recent merger of the Methodist bodies, they were the largest religious body in America. They appear to possess great religious energy with a vigorous program of organized promotion noted in almost every church.

This little Baptist capital is situated where the Blue Ridge Craggy and Black Mountain Ranges come together, to fashion a wonderland of high elevation, scenic beauty and cool summer climate. Ridgecrest is owned and operated by the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. It was established 40 years ago. It is here that the statesmen of that church from all over America and elsewhere, meet the religious leaders from the respective Baptist Churches from all over the Southern areas of the country, for a program of intensive study and training. The claim is that Ridgecrest, like the sun, sends out a radiance over all the land and to the ends of the earth. The Baptists claim that Ridgecrest is one of the glories of America.

third baseman from Taneytown if he can obtain his release from that club. These stars, in addition to the local talent, should produce a pennant-contender.

Partner Withdraws

Announcement was made this week that the firm trading as Neighbors Esso Station, operated by David L. Neighbors and Eugene F. Bouey, has dissolved partnership.

Mr. Bouey has accepted a teacher's position at Manchester High School and will instruct the eighth and 10th grades. Mr. Neighbors stated that the business will be continued by himself.

The net proceeds of the card party sponsored by the F-TA of St. Joseph's High School was $203, it was reported. The affair was held Thursday evening of last week with Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle, chairman, assisted by Guy A. Baker.

Unemployment
In County
On Downgrade

Unemployment in Frederick County apparently is considerably below the figure that it reached during the winter of 1948-49, according to information from the Frederick Dept. of Employment Security in Winchester Hall.

Latest figures showed that approximately 650 persons had filed and were being paid unemployment compensation claims, including approximately 166 veterans.

In the middle of February of last year, the Frederick office was paying claims approximately 1,800 unemployed. This number was still above 1,100 in the spring of last year but gradually dropped during the summer months.

Quite a number of the unemployed at the present time were affected by the temporary shutdowns of several industries. A brick company in the southern section of the county and a rubber concern in the northern section are not operating at the present time, it is understood, laying off workers.

Some of the other unemployed are in construction work and will get jobs when the weather "opens," it was said. They include carpenters, masons, and general laborers. The coming of spring will also bring a resumption of farm work which will take up some of the slack.

Chorus To Sing
Sunday

The Cumberland Valley Choristers will present an oratorio by Felix B. Mendelssohn Sunday at 8 p. m. in the Thurmont High School.

The chorus is under the direction of the well-known Charles M. Cassell. The concert is being sponsored by the Thurmont Ministerium and the general public is invited. An offering will be taken up.

The Choristers have appeared in this section several times before and many local voices are among the more than 60 voices.

Three Fires

The Vigilant Hose Co. of Emmitsburg answered three alarms the latter part of last week and this week. Last Friday they were called to the property of Austin Joy, when an outbuilding was aflame. No damage resulted. Sunday saw the hose company at the home of Paul Late, Taneytown Rd., where a chimney fire was extinguished. On Tuesday they responded to a conflagration near the Mason-Dixon Inn, Gettysburg Rd., where a stubborn field fire was subdued.

PERSONALS

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wiley received the Sacrament of Baptism Sunday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. The child was named John Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCaffrey and sons, Thomas and Richard of Westminster, visited on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gerkin of E. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little of Taneytown, visited during the past week with Mrs. Carrie Firor. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillelan spent the week-end with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kelly and family.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. George D. Paxson and children, Peggy, Sally and Butch, of Arlington, Va., spent last Saturday in town. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Combs of New Castle, Pa., were guests several days of last week of Miss Doris Peppeler.

TIME TO LAUGH

The plane had engine trouble. The pilot had to parachute to safety. On his way down through the air he met an old lady going up.

"Hey!" he shouted. "Have you seen an airplane coming down?" "No," replied the old lady. "Have you seen a gas stove going up?"

Keeping a pan or two of water on the radiator and watering house plants often is a good way to keep moisture in the air. Healthy growing plants transpire a considerable amount of water into the air.

Set Sunday As
Red Cross Day

The American Red Cross designates Sunday, Feb. 26, as Red Cross Day.

During the month of March, the people of Emmitsburg and community will be solicited for our share of the National Red Cross goal of 67 million dollars. Frederick County's goal is $10,000.
