

Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

I imagine that most of you traveling the highway between Frederick and Emmitsburg have wondered countless times when the status of a certain bridge near Harmony Grove will assume the status of a PERMANENT bridge rather than TEMPORARY. . . Frankly, it's about the most permanent temporary bridge I've ever had the good fortune to behold. Let's see now—to get down to facts, I recall that as near as I can figure it, the original concrete bridge that formerly spanned Tuscarora Creek buckled up and collapsed one winter because of heavy rain. I would say it happened more than five years ago. A wooden structure was erected over the little run and a sign bearing the words "TEMPORARY BRIDGE" was placed at each end of the bridge. Well, that same inadequate (in my estimation) wooden affair is still there. . . it's still TEMPORARY after these years.

I say it's inadequate because Route 15 is the main thoroughfare from the Nation's Capital and is heavily traveled. The traffic over that route is terrific and a crude wooden structure like the present bridge that spans Tuscarora certainly can't hold up much longer. So, what's say, SRC, let's swap that TEMPORARY BRIDGE for a nice permanent structure that we motorists can drive over without wondering if our car will be the "straw that will break the camel's back," so to speak.

I want to offer my commendations to the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, on their splendid effort to assist the youth of the community in sponsoring the junior baseball team. . . These men have been through severe worldly strifes and realize definitely the benefit of building morale and character. The Service Unit has agreed to spend nearly $400 on the project. The boys will be entered in league competition this season and will be given a try for State honors—if they have the right caliber material. Last year they gave an excellent account of themselves, under the able leadership of Legionnaire Jack Rosensteel. Again, this year Jack has consented to devote his time, free of charge, to conducting the affairs of the team. Parents of all boys interested in playing, and who are between the ages of 13 and 17, are asked to show up at the Legion Home Sunday evening at 7 p. m.

PRACTICE

Manager John Law of the local baseball team has issued a call to all players to show up for practice Sunday, weather permitting. The coach has reserved Sunday afternoon for a light practice and for a general confab with the prospects. Incidentally, if you haven't got your television tickets yet, better contact any of the officials of the ball club. The set will be awarded at the curtain-raiser on Sunday, April 23. . . Seems as though everything has turned to baseball. . . Prexy Bernie Boyle announces a meeting of the local baseball association for Sunday, April 2, and still more ball. . . The Adams County Umpires Assn. has invited all officials of the Pen-Mar Baseball League clubs to hear American League Umpire James Boyer speak at a meeting Sunday afternoon at the Gettysburg American Legion Home.

CHEERFUL GIVING

Not enough can be said about the recent donations of Emmitsburg two service clubs, the VFW and American Legion, when each donated a $1,000 to the Reformed Church which was destroyed by fire recently. Earlier this week, the VFW of Gettysburg unanimously voted to donate $50 for the same cause.

FIRE COMPANY CONTEMPLATING NEW EQUIPMENT

Consider Purchasing
Paraphernalia For Night Fighting

Plans for better fire fighting equipment were discussed at the regular meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co., Emmitsburg, Tuesday night held in the Firemen's Hall.

On the recommendation of Chief John J. Hollinger, the company is considering buying a lighting unit for night fires and also a portable pumper, which can easily be handled by two men for use in creeks where it is impractical for a truck to get near the water.

Applications from six individuals wishing to become members were received. They were: John Law, Albert W. McClellan, Robert Daugherty, Donald Joy, Floyd C. Miller, and Harry Tom McNair. Acceptance of these men will be voted on at the next regular session.

For the first time in many years the company decided to publish its annual financial statement, upon the recommendation of President Herbert W. Roger. The president reported that so far in 1950 a total of 18 fires has been handled by the smoke-eaters. Complaints that the truck has been leaving the hall before the members have reached there were aired and it was decided that the driver was not to leave until the siren had completed its eleventh cycle. Previously it departed on the third cycle.

Secretary Guy A. Baker reported on the fire school which was held Sunday in Frederick. The school was addressed by Mr. Johnson of the State Forest Fire Service. Quite a number of local firemen attended and saw movies and heard lectures on forest and field fire fighting.

The president read many cards of thanks for the efficient job the company did in saving other property from destruction during the recent blaze that razed the Reformed Church. Several sizeable contributions were also listed. Some of these were: Martin Stouter, $25; Theodore Bollinger, $25; William Bollinger, $10, and Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion, $5.

Committees were appointed for the Easter Ham Raffle which will be held on Saturday, April 1. Those appointed to serve are: Joan J. Hollinger, chairman; Guy A. Baker Sr., vice chairman; J. Ward Kerrigan and Charles Troxell, finance. Louis Bell was selected to purchase 20 hams for the affair.

The membership voted to buy new coats, boots and helmets included among these are to be white helmets for the officials. But 32 members attended the meeting after adjournment.

Baseball Meeting

Alex Deatherage, manager of the local Hanover Shoe baseball team, announced this week there will be a meeting of players on Sunday, March 26, at 2 p. m. in the Firemen's Hall. All regular and prospective players are asked to report. Schedule data and other important matters are coming up.

Some Service!

Uncle Sam's mail boys do a fine job. Here is one for the books.

Yesterday a letter turned up by Air Mail from Charlottesville, Sweden, bearing an unusual address. The envelope was inscribed, "Mr. Phil Sharpe, U.S.A., the addressee is the well-known author of the book 'Complete Guide to Handloading.' Please send the letter forward."

The envelope bore the postmark of Charlottesville, Sweden, Mar. 11. It bore a New York City postmark of Mar. 14 and delivered to Mr. Sharpe on the 16th—five days in transit.

As to comment, Neighbor Phil just shrugged and said—"Two groups always find you, the income tax boys and the postoffice."

Mr. James O'Rourke, farm boss at St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, was confined to his home on S. Seton Ave. for several days this week, suffering from virus-X.

3-Year-Old Child Injured In Collision

A child was injured and considerable property damage incurred in two highway accidents on Rt. 15 just south of Emmitsburg Sunday morning.

Gary Gilliam, 3, Carlisle, Pa., suffered injuries and was removed to Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., when cars driven by Roy F. Gastley, Frederick, and Earl R. Gilliam, Rocky Ridge, collided at the entrance to St. Joseph's College, about 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

Gilliam, driving south on Rt. 15, made a left turn into the college grounds. State Trooper H. J. Brown reported, when Gastley's northbound car hit Gilliam's machine broadside.

Damage to each car was estimated at $350. Gilliam was charged with failing to give the right-of-way and Gastley was charged with reckless driving.

No one was injured, but a 1949 Oldsmobile was badly damaged about 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning on the northern outskirts of Thurmont. Edward G. Hobbs Jr., Thurmont, was pulling from a side road onto Rt. 15, Trooper Brown reported, when a truck operated by Richard Lee Eyer, of Rocky Ridge, skidded and crashed into the sedan in front of the Eyer race track.

Damage to Hobbs' car was estimated between $600 and $700. No charges were preferred, the officer said.

Rightnow Is Re-elected VFW Commander

Wales W. Rightnow was re-elected commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Emmitsburg, at the annual election held Wednesday evening in the Post Home on the Square.

Other officials voted into office include: Fred B. Bower, senior vice commander; William C. Ryder, junior vice commander; Lumen F. Norris, quartermaster; Louis H. Stoner Sr., post advocate; Roger Zurgable, chaplain; Dr. James H. Allison, surgeon, and trustee, Charles J. Rowe.

Elected house committees were Raymond M. Baker, Richard H. Rosensteel, Thomas G. Gell, Louis H. Stoner Sr., Eugene Kraemer, and Joseph G. Sanders.

Commander of the Seventh District, Roy C. Gamber, addressed the membership at the session and will install the newly-elected officers at a meeting April 5. One new member was admitted to the organization. He was Howard F. Carty.

The Post announced the purchase of a resuscitation unit to be added to the ambulance equipment. The unit is used for resuscitation, aspiration, and inhalation. It is applicable to cases of asphyxiation, drowning, and asthma attacks. Cost of the new paraphernalia was $606 and was purchased from a Baltimore concern.

"Corn" Game

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, Emmitsburg, announced this week that a "corn" game has been scheduled for Saturday evening, March 18, at 8 p. m. in the basement of the Post home on N. Seton Ave. A valuable door prize, in addition to other prizes offered, will be awarded.

Fund Enriched

Rev. Charles S. Owen, secretary of the Taneytown Ministry, this week in a letter to Rev. E. P. Welker, pastor of the local Reformed Church, indicated that the Society has voted to donate a gift of $75 to be placed in the building fund of the church which was recently destroyed by fire.

FOOD SALE

The Women's Guild of Reformed Church, Emmitsburg, will hold a food sale Saturday, April 8, at 1:30 in the Firemen's Hall. Cakes, pies, colored Easter eggs, chickens, sandwiches will be on sale.

Mrs. Sterling Galt and Mrs. Katherine Bursk, returned to Emmitsburg last Thursday after spending sometime in Lancaster, Pa., where Mrs. Galt was a patient at the hospital.

Community Fund Basketball Game Gettysburg Champs Here

Final arrangements are complete for the staging of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg's big doubleheader basketball game to be staged Thursday evening, Mar. 23, at 7:30 p. m. in Mt. St. Mary's College gymnasium. This is the initial effort for the association to raise funds to carry on its important work in the community.

Chairman Lumen F. Norris stated this week that distribution of 500 tickets has been made and said all signs indicate a record-breaking crowd will attend the athletic contests.

Heading the show will be the Glenn L. Bream quintet from Gettysburg. The Pennsylvanians come here with an excellent record for the season, having been crowned City Champions of Gettysburg. Residents here already know the stellar reputation that Harold Hoke's American Legionnaires have compiled in winning 11 of their 13 independent contests this season.

Opening the evening of play, beginning at 7:30 p. m., will be the preliminary event, which matches Emmitsburg High School boys with the fast-stepping quintet from St. Joseph's High School. These two teams have met before this year and really put on a swell show.

Several hundred children from the two local schools are expected to attend the affair. Tickets were distributed last Friday evening among members of the Fund and any unsold ones will be placed on sale at Roger Liquor Store today.

It is expected that ducats will be available at the Emmitsburg Recreation Center, B. H. Boyle and Crouse's starting next week. For those not having advance tickets, they will be available at the gate Thursday night.

From all indications it is believed that Thursday's crowd will be the largest ever to witness a basketball game here.

Sponsors of the affair include Emmitsburg Grange, Emmitsburg Baseball Assn., Emmitsburg High School P-TA, St. Joseph's P-TA, St. Joseph's Church, Reformed Church, Vigilant Hose Co., Presbyterian Church, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, VFW Auxiliary, Legion Auxiliary, Lions Club, Mt. St. Mary's College, and the Homemakers Club.

Transportation for children will be provided by the Fund for all children who have no other means of getting to the game. George Rosensteel's bus will leave the Square at 7 p. m. Thursday evening.

Interesting Travelogue Describes Glories Of Blue Ridge

By REV. CHARLES S. OWEN

Across the Swannanoa Valley from Ridgecrest and Montreat, the Southern Baptist and Southern Presbyterian Capitals, is located the religious capitol of the Southern YMCA. This is a non-secretarian religious summer assembly open to people of all faiths. It is named Blue Ridge. From here, one can look across the valley and see Montreat and Ridgecrest set, like gems, against the opposite mountain sides.

Blue Ridge is said to be the most complete and spacious resort in the south. It is situated in one of the most beautiful spots in America. It might well have been called the Lap of the Gods. For if the mountain overlooking the place might be thought of as a god sitting in a huge armchair, this religious capitol would be located in His lap, and the valley below His footstool. And around His shoulders above, like a collar, is etched the visible Blue Ridge Parkway.

Here the Y students from the colleges and universities all over the south, come for their summer assembly. It might be added that the YMCA a national and international organization, to promote moral character and Christian service among young men, conducts student branches in the southern colleges and universities.

Many years ago when in college, I recall having attended one of these summer assemblies at Blue Ridge for a week. Representative student bodies from many southern educational institutions, were there. It was like a lot of colleges suddenly merged into one with each respective unit trying to outdo the other. What those groups could think of and do in terms of dramatic stunts, captivating college yells, and ingenious tricks, exceeded all imagination. Many southern colleges have built their own homes here for their student delegations to occupy.

The grounds are very extensive and beautifully landscaped by the best artists. The buildings are numerous, giving the appearance of a little city within itself. Some of the palatial structures are enormous in size. The largest is the famed Robert E. Lee Hall, named after one of the great southern heroes.

NATURE'S BALCONY

From the pillared porch of this great hall, one gets a panoramic view of the whole Land of the Sky. You look out upon the Great Smoky Mountain Range and Park about 50 miles to the west. About 25 miles to the north you look upon the monarch of the Southern Highland, Mount Mitchell, the highest peak in the east, and around whose shoulders is etched the Blue Ridge Parkway. In another direction you look upon the Craggy Range on the crest of which can be

Lions' Delegates Meet With Roads Official

Thirty-five members of the local Lions Club attended the regular meeting held Monday night in the Lutheran Parish Hall, President Robert Daugherty, presiding.

E. L. Annan Jr. gave a report on the speech made at Thurmont Friday night by Russell McCain, a member of the State Roads Commission.

Committees from the local and Thurmont Lions Clubs have been working on a project to have the Commission modernize and make safer the road between Emmitsburg and Thurmont. Fourteen members from town attended the meeting held a Camp Cozy.

Mr. McCain stated that the Commission was reluctant to rebuild a complete new road, but added that if right-of-ways were secured from the property holders along the way, the Commission would eradicate several of the most dangerous of the 28 curves from here to Thurmont. His reason for the Commission not wanting to spend enormous sums of money on the old road was given as the Commission is planning a national highway from Gettysburg to Washington in several years. He admitted that more than 3,000 cars pass through Emmitsburg and Thurmont daily on Route 15.

Dr. John J. Dillon, secretary-treasurer of the club, gave a complete report on the horse show. Dr. D. L. Beagle, of the health and welfare committee, reported on the glasses for school children and expressed the wish that those in charge of the schools knowing cases where children require eye glasses, to report them to the Lions Club. Dr. H. E. Slocum has volunteered his services free of charge in these destitute cases.

Guest speaker for the evening was John Law, head football coach at Mt. St. Mary's College and manager of the local baseball team. Prof. Dominic Greco was a guest of the club.

The program committee reported that a film will be shown by the State Police in the Parish Hall on April 10 and extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend, free of charge.

Shooting Match Tomorrow

Aaron Adams, chairman of the shooting match committee, said this week that the postponed match of last week has been scheduled for Saturday, March 18.

Shells will be furnished and 12-gauge shotguns will be used at the affair which starts at one o'clock on the Firemen's Field, Emmitsburg.

Proceeds from the "shoot" will go into the building fund of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club, which plans to build a clubhouse in the near future.

MITE SOCIETY MEETS

The Presbyterian Mite Society met last Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Longpre, Mr. Longpre conducted the devotion and Rev. Charles S. Owen, pastor, gave a Pict-O-Graph story of the Via Dolorosa. Miss Leanna Franklin and Mrs. Longpre had charge of the program of entertainment for the evening which was closed with refreshments served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner Welsh Boyle, Pentwood Rd., Baltimore announce the birth of a daughter on March 2, at Mercy Hospital. Sunday, March 12, the baby was baptized in the chapel of the hospital and received the name of Joan Pillion. The sponsors were Mrs. Harry S. Boyle Jr. and John Fahey, of Baltimore. This is the second child of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Zurgable are the proud parents of a baby son, born Monday evening at the Annie M. Warner, Gettysburg. This is the couple's second child. Mrs. Zurgable is the former Miss Irene Siobr.

FIRE DESTROYS ONE OF DISTRICT'S OLDEST RESIDENCES

Property of
James H. Boyle
Completely Razed

One of Adams County's oldest residences was completely destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon as Emmitsburg and Gettysburg firemen battled valorously but in vain as the structure was leveled.

The property, owned by the James H. Boyle family for more than a 100 years, is located near here on the Tract Road. The frame enclosed log structure is believed to be older than the county itself, which this year celebrated its 150th anniversary.

Valuable antique furniture also was destroyed by the blaze. Much of the furniture had been in the Boyle family for six generations.

Mr. Boyle, present owner of the house had resided there all of his life, more than 80 years, and was born in the structure.

The conflagration was discovered about 12:30 p. m. shortly after Mr. and Mrs. James Boyle, their daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Violicki and her son, Gerry, aged 13, had completed the noon meal.

Mrs. Boyle, who has been ill for some time, had retired to her second floor bedroom to rest and found that an unused second floor room was on fire. She called her daughter, who summoned the fire companies. In the meantime, Mr. Boyle, Mrs. Violicki and Gerry formed a bucket brigade, carrying water to the second floor of the house and on the return trip carrying with them clothing and furniture, to save them from the fast-spreading flames. Most of the second floor articles were rescued in that fashion, however the contents of the attic, where most of the valuable antiques in the family were stored, were destroyed.

The Vigilant Hose Company had two engines at the scene and the Gettysburg Fire Company reported with three pumps, but the structure could not be saved. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

The saved furniture was taken to Mrs. Violicki's home, nearby, and to the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Boyle, Emmitsburg. The elder Mr. Boyle is temporarily making his home with his son and Mrs. Boyle is residing with her daughter, Mrs. Violicki.

Legion Baseball Meeting For Young Boys

The American Legion Post, Emmitsburg, through its spokesman, Jack Rosensteel, announced that a meeting of all young boys between the ages of 13 to 17 will be held Sunday evening at 7 p. m. in the Legion Home for the purpose of organizing an American Legion Junior baseball team.

This will be the second consecutive year the Legionnaires have sponsored this project and they have gone to a great expense in purchasing enough equipment to outfit a complete team, uniforms and all.

The venture proved very promising last year and the boys won most of their games, even though they were not affiliated in the National American Legion Assn. Proper affiliation this year places the team in a league with 10 other clubs throughout the State.

Mr. Rosensteel stated that all the boys needed would be a glove. The Legion will furnish all other paraphernalia.

Gift to Church

Trinity Methodist Church of Emmitsburg, has recently been presented a beautiful brass cross and two brass vases.

The cross was given by the Mite Society and Mr. William Frailey.

The vases were given by Mrs. William Frailey in memory of her father, the late Carl C. Hetzel of Cumberland.

Mrs. Alex Deatherage of S. Seton Ave., is again able to be up and around after having been confined to her home for the past two weeks.

Tournament Honors Go to St. Mary's Of Hagerstown

The Invitational Tournament, for Catholic high schools, and sponsored by Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, came to a conclusion Wednesday night, as far as the male contests were concerned. Monday night's pairings were between St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, and St. John's of Westminster. The locals took that contest. The second half of Tuesday's games saw St. Mary's of Hagerstown defeat St. John's of Frederick.

Wednesday night's events saw the winners of the previous night battle it out for top honors. Winner of the championship was St. Mary's of Hagerstown over St. Joseph's of Emmitsburg, by a score of 44-23. A handsome trophy was awarded the winners.

Individual honors as the most valuable players of the tournament were awarded to Ed Mullen, center on the St. Mary's outfit and Ed Collins of St. Joseph's.

The girls teams of the tournament begin tonight at 7:30 in St. Joseph's High School gym. The local girls meet St. John's of Westminster. In the second game of the evening, St. John's of Frederick will engage the sextet from St. Mary's of Hagerstown. Playoff for championship honors will be held in the local auditorium Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. St. Joseph's will be installed as heavy favorites, having previously beaten all the other contestants.

Curvaceous Bunny Davis, who often appears on NBC's dramatic daytime serial, "Portia Faces Life," lives up to her name in time to celebrate the Easter season. The carrots, Bunny says, are proper accessories for any well-brought-up rabbit.

Fascinating Fashions By Judy Seaton

Although the short "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" coiffure seems to have a strong hold on fashionable femininity these days, there have been murmurs lately that long hair may be coming back. Both lengths have their advantages; certainly the smart short bob suits the piquant new "flapper" fashions so reminiscent of the fabulous Twenties. Practical considerations, too, make it popular — it's about the easiest hair style to take care of that's come along in ages.

Mary Jane Higby

Naturally curly hair, like that of Mary Jane Higby, is particularly suited to this style. Mary Jane, who stars in the NBC daytime drama, "When A Girl Marries," has her hair trimmed in a soft feather bob, and keeps it always impeccably

IT'S A VERY NEW HOUSECOAT

St. Marys Robes

THE NEWEST housecoats and at-home wear designed for this Spring and Summer are so pretty, and so unusual, that many girls and women will give them double duty as dresses, for street and party wear. This trend in play cottons and unusual chintzes for at-home wear was launched by St. Marys Robes as featured favorites in their showings of sheer woolsens, nylons, cottons and rayon fashions.

This long-skirt housecoat has a shirtmaker top of plaid cotton, with a gay chintz skirt. The top is cut with the popular bat sleeves, young collar and wide cuffs in pale pink, aqua or soft yellow. The skirt, gracefully full, is zippered down the front and made of a delightful fruit-and-butterfly pattern in beautiful natural colors on white, beige, pale yellow or grey ground.

Put it on in the morning to serve breakfast to your favorite husband. Or put it on at noon, to serve a tray luncheon on the porch or in the dinette. And you can wear it dancing in the evening, or to a neighbor's buffet party. These cottons are preshrunk and washable; only the skirt needs ironing.

DEATHS

MISS MAUDE DERR

Miss Maude Derr, daughter of the late Charles and Alice Frailley Derr, of Frederick, passed away at Emergency Hospital, Frederick, Tuesday, March 14, 1950. Miss Derr was born April 15, 1883, in Frederick, and in early childhood came to the home of the late Thomas A. and Mary Ann Frailley, her grandparents, and after the death of the latter, remained with her uncles and aunt, Thomas E., William A., George C., and S. Elizabeth Frailley until their death. She subsequently resided at the home of her cousin, Mrs. C. C. Combs, until September, 1947, when she accepted a position as practical nurse at the Francis Asbury Methodist Home, Gaithersburg, Md., but being physically unable to continue that work she returned to Emmitsburg in January 1949 and resided at the home of Mrs. Harry Baker and daughter Mrs. Pauline Seabrooks. In January 1950 she became acutely ill with a heart ailment and was hospitalized at Frederick Memorial Hospital, being later transferred to Emergency Hospital, where she died.

The deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Frank D. Miller, Frederick; and Mrs. Neva Warfield, Baltimore, and several cousins.

Funeral services will be held the Trinity Methodist Church, Emmitsburg, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, with her pastor, Rev. Adam E. Grim, officiating. Interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery, Emmitsburg.

MERVIN E. CROUSE

Mervin E. Crouse, 65, Gettysburg, well-known lodge man and fireman and father of an Emmitsburg businessman, died suddenly Sunday morning at 3 a. m.

Death was attributed to coronary occlusion. Mr. Crouse had previously suffered a heart attack on Dec. 4, 1947, which confined him to his home for two weeks. He had been in his usual health Saturday evening.

The deceased was a native of Adams County, a son of James F. Crouse, Gettysburg, and the late Annie G. (Weikert) Crouse. For the past 40 years he was foreman of the mill and cabinet room of the Reaser Furniture Co.

Mr. Crouse was a member of the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks; Loyal Order of Moose, Hanover; Hanover Home Association; Fraternal Order of Eagles, Gettysburg; Gettysburg Fire Co.; Veteran Firemen's Assn.; Southeastern Firemen's Assn.; Adams County Firemen's Assn.; Pennsylvania State Firemen's Assn., and the Reaser Hose Company.

Surviving in addition to his father, are his widow, the former Agnes C. Aumen, to whom he was married 40 years; three children, Walter F., Emmitsburg; Mrs. Charles Wagner, Baltimore; and John M., Gettysburg; three grandchildren; one brother, Harry, Gettysburg, and one sister, Miss Maude Crouse, Gettysburg.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at 2 p. m., from the Bender Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley

Fox. Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

ROSS W. WOLFE

Ross W. Wolfe, well-known retired farmer of Thurmont, died last Thursday at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Baltimore, following a lingering illness. He was aged 73 years, five months and 25 days.

His wife, Mrs. Flora Johnson Wolfe, preceded him in death by one year. He was a member of the United Brethren Church of Thurmont. Besides, Mrs. Lewis he is survived by three children, John Wolfe, Parkton; William and Charles Wolfe of Baltimore, and Mrs. Charles Miller, Thurmont. A sister, Mrs. John Geesey, Emmitsburg, 16 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 by Rev. Ivan G. Naugle. Interment in the Lewistown Cemetery.

Williams Grove Speedway Offers Handsome Gold Trophy To Winner

Starting this season a Williams Grove Speedway champion will be crowned each year at the close of the big car auto racing season sanctioned by the American Automobile Assn. on the half-mile Williams Grove Speedway.

Roy Richwine, owner of the oval, who has announced the AAA big car schedule for the 1950 season with the inaugural race to be run on April 16, will offer a handsome gold trophy to the driver scoring the most points in the ten races to be run this year.

"This trophy will be in addition to the Williams Grove Speedway Trophy offered to the first driver winning the final race of the season on two occasions Mr. Richwine said. "It will in no way affect the award for the annual trophy race, but it offered in recognition of the driver with the best record for the one season."

Because 10 races are usually scheduled each season at Williams Grove, more races than on any other single half-mile speedway in the country, Mr. Richwine feels that a championship crown should go for the best performance of the season on the Cumberland County oval just as a championship title goes to the driver with the best performance over the season in the East, Midwest, Pacific Coast, and for the national championship title.

"Points will be accumulated by drivers toward the Williams Grove Speedway championship crown just as they are accumulated for the AAA Eastern championship title," Mr. Richwine explained.

Winner of each race, including both feature races and qualifying races will accumulate the most points for the particular event. Drivers finishing further back will be awarded a lesser number of points, depending upon the position in which they finish.

Drivers have been battling for the Sweepstakes Trophy since it was first offered in 1939, but none has yet been successful in capturing the event twice. The new trophy being offered is expected to whet rivalry and provide keener competition in each race this year as drivers vie for the 1950 championship crown.

New Racing Plant Will Be Ready For Opening on July 14

Giant machines, indifferent to the biting wind, lumber around the Pulaski Highway harness track near Baltimore where horses will be stepping along four months from now.

The new plant, which Baltimore Trotting Races, Inc., is setting up four miles east of the Baltimore City line, is taking shape according to schedule. Started last Dec. 1, the work will be completed about June 15, a month before the opening meet.

According to project chief for the engineers, grading of the 170-acre site is 80 per cent complete, concrete footings are in place for the welded steel grandstand.

Costs include approximately $300,000 for grading, $800,000 for buildings, and $100,000 for electrical work.

The grandstand, facing south with its back toward Pulaski Highway, will have an initial capacity of 5,000 and can be extended to accommodate 10,000 persons. The clubhouse will accommodate 650. Barns will be on the Martin Blvd.

Parking areas will have space for 4,000 cars at first and can be developed to receive 2,000 more.

begin feeding KAFF-A at 4 days

Kaff-A makes the job of starting new calves easy. Just as soon as colostrum feeding is finished you can begin replacing whole milk with Kaff-A. By ten days of age the calf can be entirely weaned from milk.

Each 25-lb. pail of Kaff-A helps save up to 250 lbs. of whole milk. You just dilute Kaff-A one to nine with water and feed as you would whole milk. Nearly a million fine calves have been raised this simple, economical way.

If you're feeding milk to any calf, replace it now with Kaff-A. Ask your feed dealer for a pail today.

SHORT STORY

On Proposing

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

Vida knew all the tricks. You see, she read a lot. Books on every conceivable subject. Even magazine articles and fiction.

Unfortunately Vida's facial beauty was next to nil. When, at the age of 18, she came to a full realization of this, and an understanding of its possible consequences, she was at first unhappy. But being a sensible person, sensible enough to look at the thing squarely, she sought for other means to achieve her end. The end was a man: love, romance.

The other means presented themselves in the form of books, learning how to put yourself across when you weren't particularly attractive; resorting to devices and technique that good looking girls didn't have to employ.

The results were exceedingly gratifying. Even now, at the age of 23, the man of her dreams was practically within her grasp. Give her another month, two at the most, and she would speak the words that would make her happiness and triumph complete.

The man's name was Glen Lamphier. He was one of those fine, good looking, upstanding specimens of young manhood. Intelligent, gracious, and with a promising career ahead of him. The type who appealed by exerting only a minimum of effort. Vida had aimed high when selecting him as the object of her acquired charms, but the thought of failure had never once entered her head.

She had aroused his interest by heeding the dictates of her fiction heroines. And Glen had seen the light. He had come to realize that behind the plain features of this girl were quality, intelligence, breeding.

In a word, Vida had been successful in her enterprise—up to a point. Unhappily, it appeared now as if that point might prove a stumbling block, an unsurmountable obstacle.

Coming into the living room one evening she found him waiting for her, comfortably ensconced before the fireplace, a volume of Oscar Wilde open in his lap. The fact that her entrance did not distract his attention, piqued her no end. She hesitated a moment before making known her presence, and in that moment the feeling of being piqued gave way to torment. Suddenly she realized that something had happened, that she was losing her hold, that Glen's interest was on the wane. Always before, he had awaited her coming with eager anticipation glowing in his eyes.

The thought made Vida unhappy. A WEEK LATER, sitting before the living room fire, Vida abandoned seeking an answer to her problem and, for lack of something better to do, picked up the copy of Oscar Wilde and opened it. Her eye chanced to fall on a paragraph, which had been lightly checked with a pencil. She read through it with a rapidly increasing pulse. "—I really don't see anything romantic in proposing. It is very romantic to be in love. But there is nothing romantic about a definite proposal . . . the excitement is all over. The very essence of romance is uncertainty."

He was one of those fine upstanding specimens of young manhood.

Vida stood up, and there was a wild look in her eyes. Glen had read that paragraph. He had checked it with his pencil. He had remembered that her faith in books, in the printed word was profound . . .

She made her way to the book case behind the fireplace. Her eyes scanned the volumes contained therein. She removed a copy of O'Brien's short stories, leafed it through, found the passage she sought, and underscored it heavily.

Glen called an hour later. If he was annoyed at the long interval in the living room before Vida's appearance, he did not betray that fact. Instead, he seemed deeply interested in reading a paragraph from a volume of O'Brien's short stories, which he found lying upon the table. He read it through twice before Vida's voice disturbed him. He was glad she had come. He welcomed her eagerly. He had something to say, something that could not wait. He said it incoherently, babblingly, but plain enough for Vida to understand and nod her head in acquiescence . . .

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

What is the present-day position of American farmers?

Here are some facts cited recently by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan and called to the attention of Free State farmers by Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee:

Farmers today comprise nearly one-fifth of the national population. But farm income of persons on farms, at the peak of agricultural prosperity, was just under 10 percent of the national income in 1946 and 1947. In 1948, the farm share fell to 9.3 percent. In 1949 it fell again—even including income from non-farm sources, farm people received only 7.8 percent of the national income. This year it may be as low as 7 percent. Even from 1935 to 1939, the farm share averaged 8.3 percent.

"The basic job of agriculture," Secretary Brannan said, "is to produce food and fiber, including adequate reserve supplies, for the needs of the people. But they are—how well or poorly they care for the land from which food, clothing, and shelter come."

If farmers produce efficiently the food and fiber people need, plus ample reserve supplies, and if they take care of the land so that its fertility is not depleted, the Secretary pointed out that the Nation owes them something in return. It owes, first a fair return for the farmer's labor and enterprise, for his land and capital investment. Second, it owes farmers a fair opportunity to share in the abundance of national production—the opportunity to enjoy the progress, the conveniences, the recreational, educational, and household advantages of the present century.

At the same time, consumers in a healthy economic situation ought to be able to pay fair prices in the market place so that the farmer-producer will receive an equitable return.

"We start from the premise that farm purchasing power must be maintained at a reasonable level or the entire economy will suffer," the Secretary said. "Yet today," he added, "prices received by farmers have dropped nearly one-fourth from their post-war peak, while prices paid by farmers have declined only about five per cent. Food grains are down one-third from their post-war high; feed grains and hay almost one-half; cotton is off one-quarter; meat animals and poultry and eggs, about one-third.

"Price supports," Secretary Brannan explained, "are part of the mechanism to help farmers attain a fair return. Since farmers should not be compelled by circumstances outside their control to take whatever return the market price offers, no matter how low that may be, some kind of price floor is necessary. This gives agriculture a little of the protection other industries are able to provide for themselves through their larger control over output and prices of their products."

Conservation and Price Support Discussed

When farm prices "hit the skids" there's a chain reaction that goes all along the line. It begins on main street of the farmer's home town and quickly works back to the great population centers. The farmer cancels his order for a new plow or combine. He buys cheaper seed. He buys less lime and phosphate and potash. He cuts corners where he can and where he must.

These terms used by Alvin V. McCormack, director of PMA's Agricultural Conservation Programs Branch, to illustrate the "tie-in" between price supports and conservation have been called to the attention of Maryland farmers by Mr. Blandford.

"Skidding farm prices, like erosion," he pointed out, "keep gully-ing back through the fields of our national economy first by wrecking farmers and ruining farms, then the businesses of those who depend on the farm market."

"A farmer may know the value of lime and phosphate. He may understand what happens to his soil if he doesn't keep up the organic matter in it. He may be perfectly aware that if he keeps on mining his soil, sheet erosion is going to take the top off his land—the cream."

"But, if he is right up against the gun, taxes, the interest on the mortgage, the doctor, the rump that quits working—these come first. Some bills must be paid whether he buys a ton of lime or not—or whether he seeds the grass or not.

"We can talk all we want to about what the farmer should do and what he should not do, but when he's up against it, he's going to do what has to be done now . . . and the rest will have to wait."

"So, if we allow this abundant production—this surplus, if you please—to throw us into a tailspin, I don't know how long it will take to gather up the pieces from which we may be able to build again. For a while, the country can prosper at the expense of its agriculture. But when agriculture is allowed to crumble—prices and soil—farmers and farms—and sooner or later, the whole economic structure comes tumbling down."

No Soybean Acreage Allotments This Year

No acreage allotments will be set for 1950 crop soybeans according to a recent Dept. of Agriculture announcement. Mr. Blandford said this week that the announcement was made in response to a number of inquiries. Acreage allotments have never been in effect for soybeans.

Legislation authorizing current farm programs provides no guides or specific provisions for soybean allotments, such as are provided for the basic commodities—corn, wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts, and tobacco. Moreover, the existing situation does not warrant acreage allotments, since estimated soybean carry-overs for this year and next are not large enough to constitute surpluses as legally defined.

"It's up to farmers themselves whether we have production controls for soybeans in 1951 and later," Mr. Blandford said. "If farmers continue sound production schedules and don't plant too many soybeans, acreage allotments won't be needed."

Social Security Program Explained

The seventh in a series of "Our Country and Social Security" explains the protection provided for a step-child of the wage earner.

About one out of every four persons receiving Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits is a child under 18. We have had many inquiries asking if a wage earner's step child can receive the same amount as his own children. A step-child receives as much benefit as a wage earner's own child. However, before monthly benefits can be paid to a step-child, certain requirements must be met.

In the case of a living retired worker, the child must be a step-child by a marriage that has existed for at least 36 months before the application is filed. The child must be unmarried and under 18 years of age. The child must be dependent on the worker at the time the application is filed. If a child is living with or being supported by his own father, he would not be considered dependent on his step-father.

In the case of a deceased worker the child must be step-child by a marriage that has existed for at least 12 full calendar months before he died. Other requirements are: the child must be unmarried; must be under 18, and must have been dependent upon the worker at the time of the worker's death.

Recently a widow came into our office and gave the interviewer the following facts: Her husband had died two months before. She had been married to him for more than two years. She had one child one year old and another child by a prior marriage who was seven years old. She asked if benefits could be obtained for the children. She said that her husband had told her he had been working under the Social Security Act since it began and for her to get in touch with the local office if he should die. But neither her husband nor she had ever checked with the office to see if the husband's step-child was eligible. We were happy to inform the widow that both children would get monthly benefits until they became 18 and that each would get the same amount.

You see, the widow knew that the wage earner's child would be entitled to benefits but did not know whether or not the step-child could receive benefits. Fortunately, she and her husband had discussed Old-Age and Survivors Insurance so she knew where to get the answers to her questions. She also knew that the claim had to be filed within three months after the month in which her husband died to prevent loss of benefits.

The Hagerstown field representative will be in Emmitsburg on March 27 at the local post-office at 11:30 a. m.

Luncheon Scoops

by Wendy Warren

Today, after my noon broadcast of "Wendy Warren and The News" out for spaghetti as the dish they at CBS, I decided to launch a pet reporting chore I've had in mind for some time. As a menu collector from way back, it had occurred to me that the favorite dishes of the male of the species would make fine additions to my collection.

Having a free hour—and a later appointment—I planned to start my querying amongst my fellow actors there.

Leaving CBS, I ran into George Keane, who is Bill Roberts of "Rosemary"—and who was on his way to a rehearsal. "Steamed mussels," he called back in answer to my question, but as we will be getting together soon for an interview-luncheon, I can find out more about George—and his pretty wife Betty Winkler's—culinary interests then.

At NBC, I wandered first into a studio where Jack Berch and members of his program were holding a gab fest—and we immediately got into a very lively conversation about food. A tossed salad enthusiastically, with a dressing recipe that is my pride and joy, I found myself in the midst of a spaghetti versus steak argument. Tony Motola, who is guitarist with the Berch Show, and Jack himself, held out for spaghetti as the dish they dream of. . . though Jack, a seasoned woodsman, liked it just as well canned, while Tony was horrified at the thought of anything but homemade spaghetti being even called by that name.

"I am a plain man myself," grinned Charlie Magnante, the show's accordionist. "Just give me a plain steak, a minute on each side to sear and eight more to cook, and I'm happy."

Next on my list was Bart Robinson, whom I ran into in a nearby rehearsal studio, busy annotating a script for an afternoon rehearsal of "Portia Faces Life," on which he plays the male lead. We greeted each other and I inquired after his pretty wife Margot and their two lively youngsters, Michael and Whitney, before I got down to my project. The tall, fair-haired actor's eyes sparkled.

"My favorite dish is 'gespacho,' an Andalusian soup, he told me, and I make it by instinct!"

"In that case," I said, "I'd better not ask for a recipe!"

As I left to keep my appointment, I remarked to Bart that, so far, my research hadn't uncovered a single sweet tooth among the men.

"No?" grinned Bart. "Well, if you know a good fudge recipe—I'll be your first customer."

"Along with 'Butch' Cavell?" I added, Butch being the youngster who plays Bart and Lucille Wall's son in "Portia."

"And my own two little Indians!" laughed Bart as I waved goodbye.

License Issue Considered High

Popularity of fresh water angling continues to grow, while the dollar received by the States from anglers' licenses gets smaller. There were 15,478,570 anglers' licenses issued in the year ending June 30, 1949, according to the Fish & Wildlife Service.

The gross revenue derived therefrom amounted to $32,657,940. Both numbers and money returns break all previous records.

How many fished in the Chesapeake Bay and other coastal waters, where no license is re-

X-RAY IN TB DIAGNOSIS

The X-ray, a powerful beam of light which can penetrate solid objects, is known as one of the greatest single aids in diagnosing tuberculosis.

Up to the time of the discovery and use of the X-ray, it was difficult and at times impossible to diagnose tuberculosis in an early stage. With the aid of the X-ray, the doctor is now able to detect the first signs of tuberculosis in a patient and advise that patient to seek treatment while the disease is still in an early stage—while it is still comparatively easy to cure.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease, spread easily from person to person. It is caused by the tubercle bacillus, a germ which is passed on by people who have the disease to those who are well.

Tuberculosis can be present without giving any obvious signs or symptoms. As a matter of fact, it rarely strikes a sharp, apparent blow in the beginning. It attacks a person insidiously and often slowly. The characteristic, visible signs of the disease—noticeable loss of weight, fatigue, coughing and spitting of blood—usually do not appear until the disease has progressed from an early to an advanced stage.

The X-ray is of value to the individual insofar as he takes advantage of it. Chest X-rays, at least once a year, should be a part of every adult's annual physical examination. Thus, if tuberculosis should strike, the chances are it will be detected in an early stage.

It takes a minimum of time and trouble for a person to get a chest X-ray. Getting a chest X-ray is a simple process, like getting one's photograph snapped, and takes but a few moments. And because of its sharp, "detective" powers, the X-ray may mean detecting the disease before it gets the upper hand.

If a person's lungs are healthy and sound, the X-ray will reveal this, too. And it is a great satisfaction for one to know that his lungs are sound. Either way, the few moments given to getting a chest X-ray will pay valuable dividends.

The number of buttons on the Navy enlisted men's blue trousers (13) has never been officially explained.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

"Too many people eat too much," is a recent observation of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

How many calories or "fuel units" a body needs depends on its size and activity. If your weight stays about right for height and build, then the calories in your diet match your body needs. But if you eat more fuel food than your body can use, it is stored as fat.

Up to 35 years, the specialists tell us, it's safer to be plump than skinny. Beyond 35, extra fat becomes a greater health liability than extreme thinness. Ills such as high blood pressure, and heart and kidney ailments are more common among the overweight.

Those over the age of 35 who need to reduce are counseled to lose weight slowly—no more than a pound or two a week. To cut calories, yet eat the foods essential for good health, eat three meals a day but forego between-meal snacks. Avoid calorie-rich tempters like fried foods, gravies, rich sauces, pastries, meat fat, salad oil, candies, jellies, nuts, and jams. Eat sparingly of bread or cereal.

To make up for these omissions, be generous about fruits and vegetables, but take them straight—without cream sauces, sugar or cream. Eat lots of eggs, milk, lean fish and lean meats, for these protein-rich foods help burn up extra calories.

BAKED ONIONS

Is an "oven meal" on the menu tonight? Together with the baked potatoes and meat loaf, slip a few large onions into the oven. Bake them on a rack at 350 degrees for one hour or till tender. Then break open, salt, pepper, and dot with butter and serve in a tempting circle around your meat.

CHECK YOUR "STOCK PILE"

This is the time of year to take stock of your home-canned fruits and vegetables. After last year's canning spree, you were proud of your many jars. Now you should be just as happy to see the remaining stocks enjoyed while they are still in good condition. It doesn't pay to hoard these home-canned foods.

They will never be any better, and, in varying degrees, they deteriorate regardless of how they are stored. A frugal homemaker rescues all the values possible by using up last year's pack before the next canning season, although a few items—like pickles, relishes, jams, jellies, and preserves—may keep quite well for two years.

Another Washington

Ralph Wegener of St. Louis, Mo., admitted on the eve of Washington's birthday that he tried to chop down his neighbor's cherry tree. He testified in Magistrate's Court that the branches of the tree hung over his fence and tore holes in the family wash. So, he said, he cut off some branches. The court threw out the neighbor's $1,200 damage suit and awarded Wegener $50 for damage to his laundry.

America produces 600 million drinking glasses annually.

The Truth May Make You Free But Watch Out How You Use It

By BILLY ROSE

One night when I dropped into Jerry's for a firkin of foam, Long George Smiley and Sid "The Inch" Perry were at the bar as usual. As unusual, however, they were not arguing with each other but with the bartender.

"The truth never hurt anybody," said the bartender, "and the truth is I'm on the hook for 63 beers. And until you gentlemen settle up, there ain't gonna be no 64th."

"Look," said The Inch, "you're a downtrodden worker yourself, and when you turn down another worker's request for a bowl of suds, you're committing class suicide."

"For three weeks successive," said the bartender, "you gentlemen have been promising to pay up, and if it wasn't for a little banana oil, the wheels of our crummy civilization would come to a dead stop."

"You couldn't be more wrong," said the bartender. "A wise man tells the truth on any and all occasions."

"If you'll excuse my elegance," said The Inch, "that's a lot of pig shampoo."

Billy Rose

"I CONCUR with my friend," said Long George. "Look at what happened to Hogan, the trucker, when he got mixed up with the verities. A couple of months ago, a friend tipped him off that his wife was dating a kid who worked in the brewery, and instead of making like the three little monkeys, he hired a detective to follow her."

When he learned his missus had been sneaking off to a dime dance hall to jitterbug with the young man, he confronted her with the fulsome facts, and a few scrappy minutes later his wife was packed and on her way back to her mother's house in Canarsie."

"Served her right," said the bartender.

"Served Hogan right," said The Inch. "Before he found out, he was happy as a fly on a whiskey cork. Tonight, like every night, he's in his apartment alone, lapping up the Irish and playing 'Melancholy Baby' on the phonograph."

OPPOSE VA CLOSING

The Department of Maryland of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Sunday joined a group of about 300 Eastern Shore veterans in protesting the closing of Veterans Administration branch offices in Cambridge and Hagerstown. Meeting here in Emmitsburg,

"Besides which," said George, "nobody has heard him say a word against his wife. But the finagling friend who tipped him off—well, he's got an eye you couldn't cover with an eight-dollar steak."

"You've got a point, maybe," said the bartender, "but I still insist there's nothing like the truth, and the truth is you gentlemen get no more beer."

"THE TRUTH," I'd like to point out," said Long George, "is probably the most incendiary thing man has discovered since he learned how to rub two little sticks together. And if the case of Hogan isn't enough, let me give you another for instance: The gent in congress who recently insisted on inspecting Fort Knox to make sure the 20 billion in bullion hadn't been hypothesized by the Fair Dealers."

"Why shouldn't he inspect?" said the bartender. "It's in the public interest."

"You amaze and sadden me," said The Inch. "Suppose, due to a subterranean earthquake or some interplanetary shoplifting, the congressman had found nothing at Fort Knox but a big hole in the ground."

What could he have done? Blab to the press? Not on your bungstarter. Even a man with the mentality of a Congressman would know that an hour after the news hit page one the economy of the world would do a Bikini—and that a man couldn't buy a tangerine with a 20 dollar note."

"Which proves what?" said the bartender.

"Which proves," said Long George, "that truth, like dynamite, shouldn't be tossed around carelessly. If my friend and I sometimes misrepresent about settling our tab, it is only to spare you pain."

The bartender took a couple of beer glasses, wiped them, and then put them away. "You know," he said, "I never thought about it that way before, and it almost makes me ashamed of myself to have to throw you gentlemen out."

the VFW's council of administration voted to oppose the closing of the two offices, which the VA said would be effective June 1 and was caused by a need to reduce expenses.

Grippe Reduces School Attendance

Frederick County is in the grip of an epidemic of virulent grippe but "no causes of influenza, a reportable disease, have come to my office," Dr. Carroll E. Easterday, health officer said this week.

The Health Officer announced that attendance at schools has been riddled throughout the county by the grippe epidemic and that adults are also affected in large numbers.

While influenza in epidemic form might become the supervisory problem of the State and County Health Dept. authorities, Dr. Easterday said the current disease of grippe is entirely a matter for handling by personal physicians.

As children are sent home from schools with grippe, the Health Officer said, they are informed not to return to school except by permission of their family physician.

Dr. Easterday also warned against "copy-cat" medication for persons afflicted with the current disease. He said that what might be good prescribed treatment for the ailment of one member of a family might not benefit and in fact harm another member.

Influenza as distinguished from the grippe, according to Dr. Easterday, is a highly contagious disease, communicable by close grouping of persons and therefore is subject to quarantine regulations of the Health Dept., after being diagnosed and reported by attending physicians.

Poultry Pointers

As a previous Pointer gave recommendations how to prepare the brooder house, this deals with the rearing of chicks. As long as you do not produce on a very large scale it will not pay to mix your own feed. It will be much better to buy from a reliable mill, the so-called starter. It contains every nourishment which the chick needs except water. Do not add any chemicals to the drinking water. As long as your chicks are well and get fresh clean water regularly, chemicals are not useful.

A good practice is to disinfect your water fountains once a week. For the first two months there is no need of grit or anything else. Since it is not advisable to feed chicks before they are 48 hours old; get exact information from your hatchery at which time your chicks were hatched. The best thing, when you get them younger than 48 hours old, is to leave them in their chick box until you feed them, but under no circumstances wait longer than 72 hours. Have feed hoppers around from the first day on, but do not feed the mash starter until the third day. Rather feed for the first couple of days chick grain, and sprinkle this all over your brooder house space on top of the paper covered litter as explained in recent Pointer. Have enough water fountains and teach your chicks the first day of feeding how to drink by sticking their beak into water. This will be only necessary for the first day, and you do not have to teach more than about 20% of your chicks. After the third day discontinue the chick grain and feed mash only.

The heat should be 95 degrees under the hover, two inches above the ground, and around 70 degrees in the brooder house. It is best to lower the temperature under the hover daily for one degree until the brooder temperature is down to 70, but because it is too complicated to regulate the thermostats this way, it is good to keep the 95 degrees for the first 10 days, and then lower it to 90 for the second 10 days, and down to 85 after they are about three weeks old. At four weeks you should lower the temperature to 80, and continue lowering every additional week until you hit the 70 degrees. Do not discontinue the brooder before 7 weeks, even when the days may be hot.

Correction! A printing mistake said on the mating geese chapter that the geese's stubbornness exceeds by far the male; however, Mr. Block wants to apologize to all the male readers, because he meant a mule and not a male.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

Baltimore grain markets were firm last week. Wheat advanced about one cent per bushel in Baltimore, two cents per bushel in Western Maryland, and five cents per bushel in Central Maryland. No. 2 yellow shelled corn advanced about one cent per bushel on the Baltimore market during the past week while yellow ear corn advanced about three cents per bushel. Barley declined rather sharply about five cents per bushel. Oats gained about one cent per bushel on the Baltimore market. No. 2 yellow soybeans advanced about two cents per bushel, and No. 2 black soybeans advanced about one cent per bushel during the past week. Supplies of all grains are ample; demand, good.

National Grain Market

Grain markets moved upwards during last week, influenced principally by the strengthening in wheat. The allocations by the Economic Cooperation Administration of additional funds for the purchases of wheat for export and deterioration of crop prospects in the southwest were the strengthening influences in the wheat market. Prices advanced two to three cents per bushel to a level about six cents above the basic loan value. Feed grains gained one to two cents per bushel at most markets, with offerings generally adequate for increase of $3.90 per ton (over 3%) in 50% meat scrap brought today's average price up to $112.87. 16% dairy feed declined about 2% on the Baltimore market—$1.35 per ton less than a week ago. Cottonseed oil meal weakened on the market, with a decline of almost 3%—$2.16 per ton less than last week.

The broiler feed ratio was less favorable for Maryland producers last week-end. Broiler prices averaged 28 cents per pound while 20% broiler mash on Lower Eastern Shore averaged $93.54 per ton ($1.75 per ton higher than last week). On this basis, one pound live weight of broilers would buy six pounds of feed.

National Feed Market

Prices of most feedstuffs continued firm during the week, according to reports to the Dept. of Agriculture, but demand became less urgent following the announcement of the coal strike settlement. Offerings were generally plentiful, reflecting continued large output of oilseed meals and most grain by-product feeds. A good consumer inquiry prevailed for commercial mixed feeds, particularly those for poultry and hogs. As a result mixed feed manufacturers were the largest buyers of the basic feedstuffs. At the close of the week the feedstuff index showed a gain of more than four points compared with the previous week and stood at 210.9 compared with 213.5 a year ago. The feed grain index was up only about two points, to 187.6 compared with 194.5 a year ago.

trade needs. With the exception of oats, feed grain prices are still well below loan value. Trading in soybeans was slow with most arrivals at Chicago being applied on previous sales and not being offered at the cash market. No. 2 yellow soybeans were quoted at $2.44 for ten-day shipment and crushers were bidding $2.34 on track Illinois, shipping points.

Maryland Feed Market

The Baltimore feed market continued steady to firm during last week. Wheat millfeeds strengthened further with another increase of almost 2% in standard middlings—$1.24 per ton more than a week ago. Standard bran advanced about $1.19 per ton on the Baltimore market. An

Hood College To Display Art Reproductions

A collection of reproductions of ancient sculpture made by a moulage process perfected by Mrs. Leo L. Pollak in her work in plastic surgery during World War II has been presented to Hood College, Frederick, by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Rosenstock of Frederick, and will be on display in the lobby of Alumnae Hall at Hood March 20-27. After the public exhibit, the various pieces will be given a permanent location at the college.

Mrs. Pollak, who is a cousin of Mrs. Rosenstock and has visited here a number of times, is a sculptress of considerable reputation and has exhibited her work at Corcoran Art Gallery, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and other prominent galleries.

In 1948 Mrs. Pollak, a resident of Montclair, N. J., was personally awarded a certificate of merit by the Surgeon General of the Army, Raymond W. Bliss, for her assistance in plastic surgery. Many a soldier owes the restoration of parts of his face and body to the process which she developed at Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island, N. Y. This new medium was called "alginate." It proved economical, easy to work with and caused very little discomfort to the patient.

Moulage is a word of French origin, meaning to mold or to cast. Alginate can be applied to a person's face or body and in three minutes will take a perfect impression.

After her two and a half years of volunteer work at Halloran, Mrs. Pollak began to see the possibilities of applying the process to the reproduction of all kinds of objects, particularly those art treasures which the public has access to only in museums.

Today, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Museum of Modern Art, The Cloisters, the Corcoran Art Gallery and others are adding their commendations to those of the Surgeon General, this time because Mrs. Pollak has made available to American homes, schools, and libraries identical reproduction of ancient art which may go far in stimulating an appreciation of the cultural patterns of the ages. The reproductions are especially popular with homemakers and garden club enthusiasts.

The first U. S. 5-cent pieces were silver. They contained no nickel.

County Road Projects Okayed

Additional road improvements for 1950 were approved this week by the Roads Board at a regular meeting.

In addition to projects already approved and carried over from last year's program, some of the newly approved projects are:

Completion of the Stottlemeyer Road in Catocin District, which will finish the link between Wolfsville and Garfield.

A section of the Frosttown Road beyond Mt. Tabor Church. Completion of the road from Four Points Bridge to the Tollgate, near Emmitsburg.

Engineer Rogar H. Willard reported that plans are about completed for surfacing 3.6 miles of the Old Frederick Road. Bids are expected to be asked in the next 30 days to build this road with Federal aid.

Several of the projects approved Monday are intended to improve roads in bad shape. One which has long been sought is that in the Friends Creek section.

Rack Ants Are Released Here

State Game Wardens Ben Phebus Sr. and Durward W. Kettels had to do a retake in distributing 167 mature ringneck pheasants to restock the northern part of Frederick County last week.

Orders from the State Game and Inland Fish Commission called for the adult birds, imported again from Ohio, to be distributed in coveys of "four hens and one male" as was done last year.

The game wardens followed instructions until nearly half through the distributions ranging through the prescribed districts of Emmitsburg, Hauvers, Creagerstown, Rocky Ridge, Motters Station, Sabillasville, and points within a ten-mile zone from the Pennsylvania border.

Then it was discovered that the County quota of pheasants was almost equally divided as to male and female birds, and the wardens had to backtrack, picking up two hens and substituting a male.

Orders to place the birds on grounds within ten miles of the State border were explained as that terrain being best suited for sustaining the pheasants.

This is the second successive year in which mature birds have been released in late winter here. About the same number of the game birds was placed out in this county in 1949.

Farmers of the area reported seeing as many as 35 pheasants in a covey, prior to the opening of the hunting season last November 15. The daily bag limit for pheasants is two cock birds per day for a season total of six. Hen pheasants are protected.

Blue Ridge Sportsmen Meet

Meeting in the Parish Hall at Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., members of the Blue Ridge Sportsmen's Assn. heard a representative of Adams, Franklin, and York counties give an interesting talk on the fine work the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is making preserving the State's valuable wildlife and game.

Mr. Worley stated further that this is made possible with the fine co-operation of such clubs as the Blue Ridge organization in helping to preserve game and promote a better understanding among the sportsmen.

The membership committee announced at Monday night's meeting that the 1950 goal will be to have 900 sportsmen were members of the organization.

The club indicated it will sponsor the Blue Ridge Summit baseball team entered in the Pen-Mar League. New uniforms and other equipment will be bought to completely refurbish the players.

The club decided that it will hold its annual carnival again this year in June.

President C. A. Warner presided at the meeting that was largely attended. Refreshments were served by the ladies' auxiliary following adjournment.

Reformed Church Removing Debris

Members of the Reformed Church, Emmitsburg, meeting Wednesday evening, decided to proceed with the erecting of a new roof on the church which was recently destroyed by fire.

Previous to this meeting, working crews had been busy removing the debris from the building.

Rev. E. P. Welker, pastor, said this week that the old walls will be utilized, after being reinforced by steel girders.

Several estimates were received as to the cost of erecting a new edifice, but nothing definite has been decided upon.

Easter Seals Selling Well

Russell H. McCain, member of the State Roads Commission and chairman of the current Easter Seal campaign sponsored by the Frederick County Chapter of the Maryland Society for Crippled Children and Adults, today urged all citizens who have received Easter Seals to make as generous returns as possible.

He pointed out that the Frederick County Chapter is doing a very commendable job of aiding handicapped children in Frederick County with the aid of the State and County Health Departments, the Board of Education and other public and civic agencies. There is much more to do, he said, if funds are sufficiently available.

There are at least 50 cerebral palsy children in Frederick County, he explained. Most of them are getting treatment and some are now getting schooling with the aid of Easter Seal sales. It is the hope of the local society, he added, to extend a helping hand to every handicapped youngster in the county who can be prepared for useful citizenship and occupation.

Resolution To Disclose Donation

With reference to the disaster suffered on Sunday, Feb. 26, 1950 by the members of the Reformed Church of the Incarnation, Emmitsburg, Maryland, on the occasion of the burning of that church, the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the members of the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Church, which convened on Sunday afternoon, March 12, 1950:

"We extend sympathy in their misfortune, congratulations on their decision to rebuild and we resolve to make a contribution as a church to the re-building project. In addition, we are not only grateful to be in a position to be of assistance and extend the offer of the use of our church, but glad to acknowledge its acceptance."

This quarterly conference embraced all four Methodist Churches of the circuit, namely Emmitsburg, Tom's Creek, Catocin, and Thurmont. The resolution was presented by the local Trinity Methodist Church at this combined session, which was attended by official board members and other representatives of the four churches. The quarterly conferences are rotated among the churches of the circuit, and this meeting was held at Tom's Creek.

HOSPITAL DISCHARGES

Discharged this week from the Warner Hospital, were William McGraw, Mrs. Charles Koontz and infant daughter, and Mrs. Herbert Neighbours, all of Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donoghue attended the funeral of Mrs. O'Donoghue's sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred R. Showman in Baltimore last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Showman, formerly of Baltimore, resided in Flint, Mich. On Sunday, Mr. Showman, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Plummer and daughter, Virginia, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O'Donoghue. On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. O'Donoghue took Mr. Showman to Harrisburg to get the train for Flint, and also visited with Mr. Charles O'Donoghue in Harrisburg.

HOSPITAL ADMISSIONS

Admitted as patients last Saturday to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., were William McGraw, Lorraine Lowe, and Mrs. Charles Kuhns, all of Emmitsburg.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

WHOEVER said that all good things come in small packages could very well have been inspired by the all-important egg. For what other small object can claim so many virtues—good to eat, good for you, economical, and so on.

Right now during the Lenten season, homemakers everywhere will pause to praise the egg for its value as a main dish item. Here we offer a delightful supper dish, Curried Eggs, which Nancy Holmes of the Best Food kitchens serves with chutney and a tossed green salad. We think Curried Eggs is such good eating you'll make it a year 'round favorite.

Rice Ring With Curried Eggs
2 cups uncooked rice ½ teaspoon salt
1 cup real mayonnaise Dash of white pepper

Cook rice in 3 quarts boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Rinse with hot water. Drain. Add rest of ingredients. Pack firmly into a greased 1½ quart ring mold. Set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 20 minutes. Unmold on chop plate and fill center with Curried Eggs.

Curried Eggs
6 to 9 hard-cooked eggs 1 cup milk
2 tablespoons ¼ teaspoon salt
Vitaminized margarine ¼ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons onion juice
2 tablespoons curry powder
flour ¼ teaspoon ginger

Melt margarine in a double boiler. Stir in flour until smooth. Add milk slowly and stir constantly until sauce is smooth and thickened. Add rest of ingredients. Heat 5 minutes. Add eggs cut in quarters or eighths and heat 10 to 15 minutes. To make Mustard Eggs, omit last three ingredients in above recipe and stir in 1 tablespoon Mustard-with-Horseradish.

STUDENT FINED

Donald F. Kirk, 23, of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg forfeited a fine of $10 and costs Sunday to Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore, Gettysburg, on a disorderly conduct charge. He was arrested on Buford Ave. at 1:45 a. m. Sunday.

TRAVELER

seen another view of the Blue Ridge Parkway in the distance. Or, in another direction you look down on the city of Asheville, the metropolis of the Land of the Sky, and many other points of interest. Few places provide such a splendid view as that of Blue Ridge.

Almost every kind of sport and recreation is provided in abundance here. Everyone from grandparents to grandchildren, can find what he wants in amusement. To mention a few examples, there is swimming, fishing, and boating in Laurel Lake located on the campus grounds. There is mountain climbing galore offered by three peaks overlooking the campus. There is horseback riding, horseshoe pitching, tennis, badminton, baseball, skating rinks, dart ball, shuffle board, golf, well-equipped playgrounds with directors, inside game rooms for both children and adults, indoor and outdoor movies and dramatics, and almost everything anyone could dream of.

The primary purpose of Blue Ridge, however, is religious and cultural training. To this end there is brought here one of the finest summer programs available anywhere. The most gifted and distinguished leaders of America and other countries are secured for this purpose. There are seminars on almost every current problem, musical programs, and courses of instruction in almost every area of religious and cultural leadership.

The Blue Ridge assembly, which, for many years, served as a Y student center, is now owned and operated by the YMCA of the south. It serves as a big laboratory of Christian character, religious, educational, and social thinking. For 39 years it has had a marked effect on the pattern of Christian living. One cannot visit this beautiful and spacious capitol of the Southern character, without the feeling that he has looked upon one of the glories of America.

Taneytown Installing Lights

The Potomac Edison Co., construction crew have started the huge job of modernizing Taneytown's street lighting system.

The Main Streets will have 4,000 to 6,000 Lumen lamps enclosed in the latest type of diffusing glass fixtures, which will put the light on the sidewalk and on the street where it will do the most good.

The old fixtures now in service use only 1,000 or 2,500 Lumen lamps and they are suspended over the street where they are buffeted by the wind and are a constant source of trouble.

Not only is the main street to receive the benefit of more light from modern type fixtures, but all of the lights on the side streets and even those in the alleys are to be stepped up in size, and a new type of reflector and bulb installed which will put the light on the ground where it should be.

The entire construction job will take some time to carry through to completion.

Vets Donate

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Gettysburg Post No. 15, Wednesday night, voted $50 to be added to the fund started by the two local service posts, for the Reformed Church of the Incarnation, Emmitsburg, which was recently destroyed by fire.

Fire Chief Gives Tips On Spring Clean-up

Calling upon all merchants to undertake a complete clean-up and check-up in their stores and places of business, Fire Chief John J. Hollinger suggests they dedicate this year's Spring Clean-Up Week to pulling down fire losses in mercantile stores.

Statistics show that most fires start with common hazards, such as discarded cigarettes and accumulations of rubbish, the Chief said. By getting rid of combustible rubbish that fire feeds on, merchants will have fewer fires.

Spring Clean-Up will benefit stores in other ways too, he added. A neat store displays merchandise to better advantage, is more attractive to customers.

Inspect Basement
In conducting your Spring Clean-Up, the Chief recommends owners begin by inspecting the basement where fire records show 42 per cent of all store fires start.

Clean out all refuse that may have collected.

See that stock is always placed in special storage rooms rather than in any handy space in the basement. Flammable liquids, paints, etc., necessary to the business should be stored in fire-resistant rooms or outside the building.

Cover Packing Materials
Keep special metal bins with covers on them for waste paper, rags, packing materials or other combustibles.

Good housekeeping is a must in both basement and main store. There is no shortcut to fire safety. It depends upon a daily routine in which management and employees should co-operate.

Smoking should be prohibited in basement and selling floors. Areas considered safe for smoking by the fire department should be marked and smoking allowed only in those areas. Careless smoking and disposal of matches are the single largest cause of fires.

Look over your extension cord for fraying, and see that they are not run through doorways under rugs or over nails where they can become worn and broken.

Since a recent survey of store fires shows that 75 per cent of all mercantile fires break out when the store is closed, it is a good practice, Chief Hollinger added, to inspect the shop carefully before leaving for the day. Check to see that no lighted cigarettes have been left lying about.

The earth, while rotating, speeds up—then slows down.

Files in GOP Primary

ROYDEN A. BLUNT

BALTIMORE, Mar. 17—Royden A. Blunt filed with the Secretary of State at Annapolis for the Republican nomination for Governor this week. Mr. Blunt has been one of the guests observing the maneuvers of "Operation Portex" in the Caribbean since the first of the month.

Mr. Blunt, president of the Buck Glass Co., Baltimore, and a Howard County farmer, has been carrying on a campaign throughout Maryland for the Republican nomination, but with his filing he promises to engage in a more active campaign until the primaries, if any, and then right through until the final vote has been cast in the general election in November.

A successful businessman himself in Baltimore for practically a quarter of a century, many of Mr. Blunt's associates and others have declared that what Maryland needs and needs right now is a businessman's administration. Looking back over the years only one class of men—lawyers—has sat in the chief executive's chair at Annapolis.

Mr. Blunt also is well known in other circles. He recently presided as chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Committee at a luncheon in honor of Ernest I. Pugmire, national commander of the organization, at the Hotel Emerson. Among his other civic activities is chairman of the building committee of the South Baltimore General Hospital.
