Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

I dunno why, but when things get low, I go out to see Phil Sharpe on Tract Road. There is always something of an item out there. Last week I went out on a calm Saturday afternoon. Things were popping—workmen were putting new box gutter and rainspout all over the place. But what intrigued me was the truck in the yard. It had West Virginia plates on it.

Pardon me if I detour a bit. I have been howling in this here column over the past few weeks, about the deterioration of Emmitsburg, according to the census. Perhaps there may be an explanation, after all!

Phil explained those foreign plates thusly: "I obtained the gutter for this place the last of April or first of May. Since then, I have been trying everyone in Emmitsburg who knew how to drive a nail to get the stuff up for me. All I have been able to get is promises. I spent three months trying, then I got these chaps from West Virginia—where a promise means as much as it does in New England where I come from!"

Now that's a jolt, isn't it? Or is it? We here in Emmitsburg are. I will have to admit, a little lax in keeping promises. We are accustomed to it. Our businessmen promise to do a job Tuesday, but never mention what Tuesday. We expect it, and we always wait some three Tuesdays before we complain.

Perhaps that is the reason why Emmitsburg is dying. Honest, they do not do things like that in other places. And thus outside business cannot get interested in our town. And our young people, once they have been away on a visit, and have learned that the rest of the world operates on promises (which are kept), prefer to pick a different place to live. So Emmitsburg is committed to a slow death. Could it be because we do not value a promise to do service?

Let's be honest. If I ask you to mow my lawn—that corner which hasn't burned up, and you agree, are you honoring me? Are you doing me a great favor? Of course I expect to pay and you expect to be paid. Are you doing me a favor? Of course not—you are working for me! Why, then, should you arrange the time at your leisure and convenience instead of mine?

Perhaps Phil Sharpe has an idea there. When one gets tired of pleading with local talent there is always an alternative—OUTSIDE HELP! Things are not so good that one can't find someone who is willing to work. I'm definitely worried. Is the local value of a man's word one of the things which is definitely putting Emmitsburg out of business?

Attends Convention

Dr. D. L. Beegle, Emmitsburg chiropractor, has returned home after spending a week attending the fifty-fifth Lyceum and Homecoming of the Palmer School of Chiropractic at Davenport, Iowa. Guest speakers at this year's lyceum, included the Hon. John W. Gibson, assistant secretary of Labor; Dr. B. J. Palmer, president of the Palmer School, and Marjoe Gortner, famous boy evangelist.

A week of intensive study and research was part of the Lyceum program. Announcement is to be made soon of the steps being taken to establish a department of Chiropractic in the Veterans Administration as well as for the establishment of a quarter million dollar cancer research program in Chiropractic.

Baseball Team In Pen-Mar League Playoffs

For the first time in several years, Emmitsburg will have a baseball team in the championship playoffs. This year the local club of the Pen-Mar Baseball League finished fourth in that circuit and consequently are figured in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

Last Sunday's contest with Blue Ridge Summit was a sloppily-played game which finally went to the Pennsylvanians, by a one-sided score, 14 to 8.

McLaughlin started on the mound for Emmitsburg, but weakened in the fifth, being replaced by Smith, who finished.

Blue Ridge Summit collected a total of 11 hits off the offering of the local hurlers, while Emmitsburg made nine off Calmer and Naylor.

Bud Warthen and Herbie Dear-dorf led Emmitsburg in the hitting department, with two hits each, while Holtz starred for the opponents with three safeties.

McSherrystown Cops Pennant This year's pennant winner is McSherrystown, whose contest with Westminster Sunday was cancelled. The champions finished the season with only four losses while winning 16.

Final standing of the teams was not accomplished until Tuesday evening at a league meeting in McSherrystown. Emmitsburg could not safely figure in the playoff until final settlement of two disputed contests. Final decision of the Aug. 8 game with Blue Ridge Summit was arrived at the Tuesday meeting. The league ruled the contest a "blank" which put the locals in fourth position, one game over Taneytown. Had the game been awarded the Summit, a playoff game with Taneytown would have resulted, and possibly knocked Emmitsburg out of the finals.

The playoffs begin this Sunday with Hanover, runner-up for the pennant, coming to Community Field here for the first contest. McSherrystown, 1950 champions, will engage Blue Ridge Summit at the former's field.

Business Agent Norman Flax announced his team in A-1 condition for Sunday's engagement and said that he will present a formidable lineup for the occasion. A beautiful trophy awaits the winner of the final playoff.

The local squad, plagued in early season with injuries, hard luck and a change of managers, was not given much chance to go anywhere this year, but surprised everyone by winning four of its last six games, to figure in the playoffs.

The sites for games on Sept. 10 will reverse and if third games are needed on Sept. 17, a coin will be tossed to decide the place.

The final three-game series will find the winner of the Blue Ridge Summit-McSherrystown series as the home team.

A large turnout is anticipated here Sunday for the final struggle for the championship.

Three Local Men Charged With Larceny

Three Emmitsburg men and one youth were tried on larceny charges Tuesday night before Magistrate Jacob E. Baker, Emmitsburg.

Arrested by State Trooper 1-c Kenneth Bond were: Charles R. Miller, 42 Route 1; Edgar Roscoe Eyer, 27, Route 1; James A. Wills, Route 1, and Leonard Monroe Trent, 15, also of Route 1, Emmitsburg.

Miller was charged on two counts of larceny. He pleaded not guilty on both charges. It was said Miller was guilty of stealing chickens on Feb. 17 of this year. Magistrate Baker fined him $10, which he paid. On the second charge, he is alleged to have taken a tire from Sanders Bros. Garage, Emmitsburg, on Aug. 12. Magistrate Baker withheld sentence until next Wednesday night. On the first charge, Miller was given a six-month suspended sentence to the Maryland House of Correction.

Also alleged as an accomplice of Miller's was Edgar R. Eyer, who, it is said took chickens from St. Joseph's Central House on Feb. 17 and Aug. 22. Eyer appealed for a grand jury trial and Magistrate Baker released him on a bail of $3000.

James A. Wills is also alleged to have been an accomplice in the two larcenies and also asked for a grand jury trial. He was released under $2000 bail for further trial.

Trent, also charged with larceny, was released by juvenile authorities to the custody of his parents.

PRESS & RADIO VIEW STATE ROAD PROJECTS

Maryland is on the march. The forward step in making better roads for state motorists has been taken, this newspapermen will attest to, after a 12-hour tour of Western Maryland roads with State Roads officials last Saturday.

Eighteen press and radio representatives from Emmitsburg, Frederick, Middletown, Hagerstown, Hancock, and Cumberland started out at 8 a. m. and continued on a guided tour until 8 p. m. Saturday.

Biggest project under way in the Free State at this time is the Sideling Hill Mountain undertaking. A seven-mile stretch of super highway connecting Hancock and Cumberland, where the road crosses the mountain. Working like beavers, crews of several contractors, work from morning until night, seven days a week. Enormous fills, some reaching 90 feet in depth, have to be accomplished. Other places require excavation to depths of 85 feet. The undertaking has been under way for over a year now and it is estimated that work is about 50 per cent completed.

There is no question about the tremendous task confronting the State Roads Commission in bringing Maryland's roads up-to-date. The Free State at one time led the Nation in the excellent roads category. Five years ago it ranked about fortieth. Maryland was the first state to construct paved highways to its capital and county seats. In the past five years the state has risen to about thirty-fifth position in road construction. But now that the sales tax has been imposed on residents of this state, the Roads Commission has grown from a toddling infant to a titan. Where at one time the road builders handled about $6 million a year, that sum has risen to the astronomical figure of around $50 million—mostly receipts from the sales tax.

The motorcade then viewed the new super express highway—a five-mile stretch between Washington and Frederick, which some day it is hoped to extend to the Pennsylvania line. Marvels of engineering here were pointed out also. A series of underpasses, overpasses, fills and excavations were already about half completed. This is a section of the new road that county residents have been hearing about, and which when finally completed, will by-pass all towns and cities along the route. Last construction job on the tour was a new stretch of road leading from Libertytown to Unionville. This stretch has since been opened to traffic.

There's no doubt about it. Maryland is rapidly regaining her rightful notch among the nation's states in road construction and maintenance. State Roads officials estimated that over 100 projects are now under way and plans are being made for 70 more next year. The Commission has proven itself an excellent watchdog over the public's finances. Road inspectors test every foot of road that is laid, even to the amount of air the cement contains, weight per cubic yard, strength qualifications, etc.

The tour took in three counties, Frederick, Washington, and Alleghany, and was guided by State Roads Commissioner Russell H. McCain, District Engineer G. Bates Chaires, State Engineer Thomas Linticum, Frederick County Supervisor Thomas Mohler and other engineers and superintendents.

Marylanders will be impressed, as was the press, to learn of the terrific cost of building roads. A mile of dual highway costs about $250,000.

254 NEW VOTERS REGISTER AT SPECIAL SITTING

Names of 254 new voters were entered on the Frederick County election rolls Tuesday at a special registration provided by the Election Supervisors at their offices in the Court House basement. Of that number, 140 affiliated as Democratic and 112 as Republicans. Two declined to affiliate and two, previously declined, affiliated as Democrats.

Three teams of registrars also issued more than 80 transfers, to permit persons to register in precincts in which they now reside. Transfers from other counties were counted in the new registration figures.

While the number who availed themselves of the added opportunities to register and transfer was smaller than expected, it taxed the available staff of registration officials to handle the number who did apply.

The work was handled by Miss Ruth Moberly and Arthur Potts, members of the board; Mrs. Mary Keyser, Mrs. Louise Rhoads, Mrs. Elizabeth McCain and Mrs. Mary Price Burgee.

The special registration will supplement the usual pre-primary registration, which is scheduled next Tuesday. Registration judges will sit at each of the sixty precinct polling places on that day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., standard time, which means the officials will receive applicants until 10 o'clock in areas where daylight savings time prevails.

Prior to yesterday's special registration, there were 12,057 Democrats, 9559 Republicans, and 195 otherwise affiliated or declined.

Persons who wish to transfer next Tuesday, may obtain a strike-off notice from the supervisors any day at their office prior to Tuesday. The strike-off notice can then be presented next Tuesday at the new precinct for entry on the books. The supervisors are authorized to issue removal notices, but can not register voters except on a special registration day such as provided Tuesday.

The regular pre-primary registration next Tuesday will afford the last opportunity before the Sept. 18 primary for new registrants. More than 7200 names were removed this year for failure to vote and officials estimate that more than 3000 voters are eligible to register in addition to those removed from the rolls for failure to vote.

Frailey Heads Local GOP Club

The Republican Club of Emmitsburg met Tuesday evening in the local Fire Hall. President Samuel C. Hays, retired from that office and new officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Elected to the presidency was Attorney Thomas J. Frailey; vice president, Samuel C. Hays; treasurer, James T. Hays, and secretary, Miss Rhoda Gillelan.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at the Fire Hall on Sept. 12 at 8 p. m. It is the hope of officials to have Republican candidates for office present at this session. The importance of registering was stressed at Tuesday's meeting and an appeal to the public to register on Sept. 5 was made.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders and sons, James, David and Wayne, Miss Doris Wastler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Valentine and daughters, Nancy and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. John Hilbert, Ray Kenneth, Harry and Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown and Jacob Birely, visited friends near Baltimore on Sunday.

Fighter Explodes In Air; Pilot Killed

A jet plane on a routine weather flight check crashed during a thunderstorm about three miles east of Emmitsburg shortly before 10 o'clock Wednesday night and exploded with a roar that could be heard for a distance of several miles.

The F-84, based at Andrews Field, Washington, was blown to bits, parts of the craft being scattered over an area of three acres in a cornfield adjoining the Roy Sanders farm.

Dr. W. R. Cadle, Emmitsburg physician, who accompanied State Trooper 1-c Kenneth Bond to the scene, said the body of the pilot was blown to bits.

Dr. Cadle said he saw "a red flash, and about three seconds later there was a loud boom." He estimated time of the crash at 9:30 p. m. (DST). Lieut. Joseph Kent, information officer at Andrews Field, said the official report showed the crash occurred at 8:57 Eastern Standard Time.

A number of residents of Emmitsburg observed the jet before it crashed. Some said the plane appeared to be on fire in midair. Others said it exploded while in flight. A depression in the ground at the crash scene indicated that it might have exploded after hitting the ground. Some speculated lightning had hit the craft since it crashed during a thunderstorm.

The accident immediately attracted a large crowd of curious. Trooper Bond asked for assistance from Frederick barracks and the crash area was closed off from the public, pending arrival of military officials, who will make a formal investigation.

The accident occurred on the north side of Route 32 between Emmitsburg and Taneytown.

Lieut. Kent said the plane was one of two jets that took off from Andrews Field at 7:12 (EST) for a routine weather flight check. Both were F-84 jet planes of the Washington National Guard Air Squadron 121, sometimes known as the White House National Guard.

He said his report of the crash indicated one casualty. A complete check was being made immediately, but no identification may be made until next of kin are notified.

One of the planes was observed over Frederick about 9:40 (DST). Apparently it was the one that returned safely to Andrews Field. It was flying low and the sound of its exhaust attracted a number of residents.

Dr. Cadle said the body of the pilot was badly mutilated and that parts of the plane were too small to identify it.

Emmitsburg clinched the championship in the Penn-Maryland League Sunday by defeating Blue Ridge Summit, 19-2, while Harney and Wakefield, only teams with a mathematical chance of tying for the title were suffering setbacks.

The Hanover Shoe's star-right-hander, Allen Davis, chalked up his ninth win of the season. He has had only one setback.

EXCITING NEW TREAT FOR A CHILDREN'S PARTY
Add water to fresh-frozen orange juice, according to directions on can. (This makes 1½ pints of juice, or the equivalent of a dozen good size oranges.) Half fill ice cube tray. Freeze at high speed. Then place a red maraschino or a green mint cherry in each (choose cherries with stems) and cover with rest of juice. When frozen, combine with scoops of lemon sherbet in each dish.

It is a colorful dish, and the children will love to suck the frozen orange cubes, but most important they'll get plenty of Vitamin C.

Speaking of Vitamin C, I learned some interesting facts from the makers of Minute Maid Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice. They tell me we lose Vitamin C through perspiration, and it can't be stored in our body cells the way other vitamins are. This means we need regular amounts each day.

Oranges, especially when picked fully ripe at the peak of the season, are one of the few really good sources of Vitamin C. The Minute Maid people select their oranges when the Vitamin C content is highest and quick-freeze the juice retaining all the vitamin content, bringing you that delicious flavor found only in fully ripe oranges.

SERVE "COOKIE CLOWNS" with the party dish above. They are packed full of nutrition and goodness. Kiddies will love the funny clown faces, made by first frosting the cookies white, then outlining eyes, nose and mouth with chocolate frosting in a pastry tube.

COOKIE CLOWNS
½ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
1 cup New Orleans molasses
1 cup ready-to-eat bran
3 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup cold water

Beat shortening until creamy. Add sugar gradually. Mix until thoroughly blended. Stir in molasses and ready-to-eat bran. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with water, stirring to make a soft dough.

Drop by heaping tablespoons onto greased cookie sheets; flatten. Bake in moderate oven (375°) about 15 minutes.

When cookies are cool, frost with confectioners' sugar frosting and make clown faces using chocolate frosting in a pastry tube.

Yield: two and one-half dozen cookies, 3 inches in diameter. Note: This amount of soda is correct.

CUTE PARTY TRICK for the small fry. All youngsters love balloons and get a great kick out of bursting them to hear them "pop." Imagine the excitement, then when you blow up balloons and fill them with confetti. As the kiddies "pop" them, there will be squeals of delight as a shower of confetti bursts forth.

New Social Security Benefits Prove Liberal

Here is what happened to old age and survivors' insurance in the Hagerstown area when President Truman signed the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act.

All monthly insurance checks now being paid to the 3000 social security beneficiaries in the three counties administered by the Hagerstown Field Offices will be raised substantially, beginning with the September checks, according to V. B. Hollomon, manager of the Hagerstown office. Mr. Hollomon explained that these automatic increases for September are scheduled to reach beneficiaries during the first week of October. Increases will range from about 50% to about 100%.

For example, the average primary benefit of approximately $26 per month for a retired worker will be increased to about $46. A widow with two children who had been receiving $55 a month will now receive about $100 altogether.

Mr. Hollomon said that under the old terms of the social security law the 3000 beneficiaries in this area would have received about $52,000 for the month of September. Under the new increases, however, total payments for September are estimated to be about $112,944, or an immediate increase of some $60,944 monthly in insurance benefits to this area.

Under the new law the amount of earnings which a beneficiary may make in a month, and still accept his insurance payment for that month, is raised from $14.99 to $50. This applies to beneficiaries under age 75, and for earnings in a job covered by social security. After attaining age 75, a beneficiary may have any amount of earnings and still accept his insurance checks.

Mr. Hollomon estimated that the Hagerstown area would have approximately the following numbers of newly-covered workers under social security: 4500 self-employed non-farm workers, 800 farm workers, 1250 household workers in private homes.

A very important aspect of the new legislation is the more liberal qualifying conditions. Mr. Hollomon pointed out that any individual now age 65 or more who has at least six "quarters of coverage" may be immediately eligible for monthly benefit payments. It has been estimated that about 750,000 old people in the United States may qualify for insurance payments under this clause. Many aged persons in this area who had once filed claims for social security benefits but had not at that time been able to qualify. The social security office has been reviewing records for several weeks to screen as many as possible of these persons and will send letters notifying them that benefits may now be payable if the claim is renewed.

Other persons not yet age 65—those now 63 and over—will also only need six quarters of coverage—roughly a year and half of employment in work covered by social security—to be insured upon reaching age 65 and retiring. A sliding scale requires longer employment for those reaching age 65 after 1933, but in no case will a person be required to have more than 10 years of employment under social security in order for benefits to be payable.

Still excepted from social security coverage are farm operators, ministers and members of religious orders, and certain self-employed professional people.

A new type of payment is mothers' insurance benefits. These are monthly payments to a mother who has in her care a child entitled to monthly insurance benefits. Separation or divorce from the wage earner does not prevent the mother's receipt of monthly benefits, provided the wage earner was furnishing the greater part of her support.

The benefits will continue to be paid for in the same way—by payroll taxes on the workers and employers involved—but since self-employed as well as employed persons are now covered, a new way of collecting part of the taxes was called for. Self-employed persons will report their annual earnings and pay their social security tax (2½% to start with) when they make their tax returns at the end of each year.

Present tax rates will more than pay for the increased benefits at first, higher contributions will be necessary as more people retire, or die. The law provides

Prisoners' Work On County Roads Proves Satisfactory

County jail prisoners are doing a lot of work clearing roadsides of weeds and shrubbery, but the casualty list is heavy, it was reported this week at the jail.

Some of the prisoners have run afoul of poison oak and poison ivy, it was said, and others are hobbling back to jail on one leg.

They are finding it rugged, officials said, but the number of available for work is holding up pretty well. Eighteen were with the road gang on Monday. The number had dropped to 14 on Tuesday. The jail population remains high for this time of the year.

Sheriff Guy Anders said an informal check of the prisoners the other day revealed that 46 of the 48 held there are in jail because of drinking. Only two could attribute their status to other causes.

Roads Board employees in charge of the prisoners are high in their praise of the way the prisoners work. They are accomplishing as much as any crew of workers could do, it was said.

As long as the men can be kept sober, it was pointed out, most of them are willing workers. Released from custody, they return to old habits and are soon back in jail again.

The fear of roadwork has served to keep some regulars out of jail, though, it was said. Some of them start calling friends as soon as they land in jail and frequently they arrange to get the money needed to post collateral.

Some of the prisoners are excused from service with the road details because of physical disability, it was explained. But those without good cause for being excused are sent out each morning.

The latest effort to work the prisoners is proving very satisfactory, officials said Tuesday. It is planned to continue the work details as long as there are prisoners to fill the details.

that employe and employer will pay 1½% of pay rolls through 1953, 2% until the end of 1959, 2½% until the end of 1964, 3% until the end of 1969, and 3½% thereafter. Only the first $3600 of wages in a year will be taxed. This represents an increase from the $3000 wage base which has been in effect since 1937.

Self-employed people, who are in effect both employe and employer, will pay 2¼% through 1953, 3% until the end of 1949, 3½% until the end of 1964, 4½% until the end of 1969, and 4% thereafter, on the first $3600 of net self-employment income per year.

The new law gives wage credits of $160 per month toward old-age and survivors' benefits for military service in World War II. These wages are to be used in computing all monthly benefits payable on the basis of veterans' wage records after 1949, whether the veteran died in service or after discharge, and regardless of whether pension or compensation is paid by the Veterans Administration.

Included in the social security program for the first time, and under special conditions, are household workers regularly employed in private homes. Household workers, including maids, cooks, laundresses, practical nurses, gardeners, chauffeurs, etc., will receive credit only for their cash wages, and will not be covered by the law at all unless they are employed 24 days or more and their cash wages are over $50 in a calendar quarter.

Regular farm workers including household workers in farm homes, will be covered by social security beginning in January. To be affected, the worker must be employed by one farm operator for a period of not less than five months and those months must fall within two calendar quarters. After full three months' employment in the first quarter, the employe must work for the same employer in the second quarter not less than 60 days with cash wages of at least $50 for work in that quarter. This bars occasional or seasonal farm workers and itinerant harvesters from coverage under the new social security law.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bower, E. Main St., were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bower and son, Richard, Westminster, and Mrs. Walter Bower and daughter, Virginia, of New Windsor, Md.

Cub Scouts Need New Den Mother

Cub Pack No. 284 of Emmitsburg will be looking for another den mother if the turnout of boys between the ages of eight and 10 was as large as is expected, Cub Master William Kelz said this week.

Cub Scout activities will get under way again Sept. 8, after the summer vacation. They will meet at 3:30 in the afternoon at the Fire Hall and also, at the same time at Mrs. Myron Walsifsky. Den Mothers are Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Walsifsky and Mrs. Henry Charlton. Mr. Kelz said that he is desirous of having another lady, desirous of becoming a Den Mother, to attend the Sept. 8 meeting.

Miss Theodora Rybikowsky of Emmitsburg is quietly observing her 13th birthday anniversary today.

The Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission is much concerned over the number of animals and birds killed by autos; dead skunks litter our highways in every direction; occasionally a deer is hit and killed or badly injured. There are a million autos licensed in Maryland and an untold number from out of the State traverse our highways. The slaughter of wildlife by these vehicles is enormous. Employees of the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways, last year, actually counted 99,000 birds and animals on paved roads killed by autos. A dead loss to the State.

The red-headed woodpecker has become very scarce in Maryland, and this is attributed partly to the great mortality in this species while chasing beetles, butterflies, and other bugs on the roads.

Of course, much of this destruction is truly accidental and unpreventable; but some of it could be avoided by a little care on the part of the driver. Carcasses on our roads are not a pretty spectacle. By slowing down and endeavoring to avoid striking birds and animals, much could be accomplished in conserving our slowly vanishing wildlife. As an editorial said recently in the Pennsylvania Game News, "GIVE WILDLIFE A BRAKE." Do not "step on it" when you see Molly Cottontail on the road ahead of you, but step on your brake. Drive carefully and you will have no regrets.

Republican Candidate Believes In Being Prepared For Future

At a meeting of Republican leaders held in Baltimore City D. John Markey, Republican candidate for the United States Senate in Maryland stated "that since Sen. Tydings, his Democratic, opponent is chairman of the Armed Service Committee of the United States Senate, it was his duty and obligation to see our military establishment was adequate to defend and protect this country against aggression by foreign dictators. It took a war in Korea to disclose to the citizens of this country that Congress and the chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Tydings have been woefully delinquent in the discharge of their sacred obligations to keep this country militarily strong for its self-preservation and protection against Communist aggression. Sen. Tydings must answer to the people of this nation for his failure to develop and maintain a balanced and effective Armed Forces ready for immediate action. This failure which is due to errors of judgment on the highest level is responsible for the great loss of life, blood, manpower, equipment and prestige which we have suffered in our present conflict in Korea.

Mr. Tydings should have been advising and counseling the American public on the real threat of Communist aggression and how to properly prepare to meet this threat but instead, he has been creating a feeling of false security by his fantastic disarmament proposals which have cut down the size and strength of our Armed Forces, thereby playing directly into the hands of the Kremlin. As late as June 18, Sen. Tydings again called for a conference with the Russians, when at this crucial time the North Korean army directed by its Russian overlords were poised for their dastardly attack on South Korea."

O'Connor Wants Effective Subversive Legislation

In the controversy now raging in Washington, as to the desirability of strong anti-subversive legislation, Senator Herbert R. O'Connor has forged to the front as one of the leading proponents of new legislation to make possible effective handling of subversive elements in the country.

Pointing to the many thousands of dangerous aliens now at liberty in the country who are able, he said, to "laugh at the law" by reason of the technicalities their attorneys can raise, Senator O'Connor has come out flat-footedly for S. 4037, which includes selected portions of various anti-subversive bills introduced this session.

The Maryland Senator conducted long hearings on immigration which would permit exclusion of known dangerous aliens and their deportation once they are in the country. Now, he pointed out, if the country of their origin refuse to accept the return of these subversives, not only must they be permitted to remain in the United States, but they are allowed to roam at will, to pursue their subversive tactics.

"I have given many hours of study to the proposals incorporated in the new anti-subversive bill, and I intend to do everything possible to further its passage. I will take active part in the debates on the Floor in the conviction that the security of the country is at stake. Unless we take some such precautionary measures it is not impossible the same fate will befall the United States that has befallen other countries where subversive elements have been permitted to weaken internal security."

The Virgin Islands are being stocked with white-tailed deer from Texas.

Candidate Allen Cites Nine Point Platform

W. Prescott Allen, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Maryland 6th district, this week announced a nine-point platform outlining his views on civic and political problems.

The nine planks, which are designed to show voters the legislative objectives he will work for should he be elected, cover major issues from agriculture and defense to the status of civil service workers.

As for agriculture, Mr. Allen said he would support soil conservation and reforestation programs and would work to remove artificial restrictions on agriculture which curtail nature and production. At the same time he pledged a fair return to farmers on their agricultural investments.

On government civil service employees, Mr. Allen pledged his aid to seek legislation to protect Federal workers from recurring loyalty attacks when the reasons behind the attacks are purely political and a sham.

Other points in the platform include planks on veterans, education, business, labor, community council meetings, and home ownership.

To encourage single-family dwellings and home building, he will urge partial income tax reductions to all couples with minor children who are seeking to build their own single family home.

As for national defense, Mr. Allen said he believed Congress should increase bail bond requirements, and raise the punishment on all crimes of disloyalty.

"I don't want to have our government embarrassed to find itself helpless and unable to prosecute another Henry Julian Wadleigh," the publisher said.

Mr. Allen also favors lifting restrictions on business and aiding labor by expanding minimum wage coverage as far as possible.

Other platform views as expressed by the candidate include:

Veterans called to service should be given assistance on their obligations, school aid to communities that have suffered from war population changes, and meetings with community groups in the 6th district for their views.

FACTORY PICNICS

A large number of employes and guests of the Emmitsburg Manufacturing Company held an outing and picnic at Big Pipe Creek Park near Taneytown last Saturday afternoon. Miss Grace Keckler was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair. The group enjoyed softball and croquet. Miss Lula Miller played the piano for dancing.

HEALTH COLUMN

Recovering from TB

Tuberculosis is a serious, chronic illness, and the road to recovery from it may be long and perhaps difficult for a patient. But the disease can be arrested and the patient can return to useful community life—if he sticks with his treatment and follows the advice of his doctor.

Rest in bed for as long as the doctor advises is an important part of the treatment for tuberculosis. After the patient has been in bed for some time, he may gain some weight and begin to look and feel better. As he improves, the doctor may allow him to get up for short periods of time. But some patients, especially when they begin to feel well, do not find it easy to stick to the doctor's limitations on their activity. Yet this is the time when the doctor's directions must be followed most carefully. The patient who is fooled by his own outward appearance and rejects the advice of the doctor may perhaps undo whatever good has been accomplished.

Well-meaning relatives and friends of the tuberculosis patient, eager to have him at home, sometimes urge him, against the doctor's advice, to "try his strength," once they notice that he is looking better. The patient may be strongly tempted to listen to them, but he must understand that the doctor who is treating him knows what is best for him—not his family and friends.

Gain in weight and improved physical appearance do not necessarily mean that the patient is well. By X-rays and other tests, and by his skilled observation, the doctor is the one who knows the true condition of the patient.

One of the questions most frequently asked the doctor by the tuberculosis patient is, "How much longer will I have to stay in the hospital?" But the doctor frequently cannot answer that question. It depends on a number of things, particularly on how well the patient cooperates with his doctor and follows his directions.

High Employment Level Maintained

A high employment level was maintained in the State during the past month, with 700,200 Maryland workers gainfully employed in mid-July, it was reported this week by William H. Mahaney, chairman of the Maryland Employment Board. Although the July figure was slightly below the June peak of 700,400, the July level of this year topped by more than 20,000 the employment level of July, 1949.

Vacation shutdowns of apparel plants and the completion of ship repair contracts in some shipyards in July were the major factors in the drop in manufacturing employment from 213,900 in June to 211,500 in July. A seasonal lull in the production of fertilizer resulted in a loss of 500 workers in the chemical industry. Accelerated operations in the steel mills combined with the seasonal upswing in tin can production to raise employment in the iron and steel industry by 400 over the month to a total of 41,900 in July. Increased work schedules in machine shops motivated a gain of 300 workers in the non-electrical machinery industry during the period. Seasonal expansion in canneries, dairies, and beverage production added 600 workers to food industry payrolls.

Seasonal peak in building activities provided the major gain in the non-manufacturing industries, where employment rose from 486,500 in June to 488,700 in July. Construction employment, estimated at 60,300 in July, accounted for almost three-fourths of the overall non-manufacturing gain. Wholesale trade employment rose by 400 during the 30-day period owing to increased demand for food products, auto accessories and lumber. In the retail field, expanded work forces in food stores, restaurants, filling stations and building materials stores outweighed seasonal employment losses in department stores.

Unemployment dropped by almost 10 per cent to a total of 59,900 job seekers in July. Seasonal gains in food processing, construction and retail trade activities were major factors in this decrease. The rising trend of employment in the past several months has provided favorable job opportunities for 1950 graduates of high schools and colleges.

SHORT STORY
On Business

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

WHEN DOUG PRINGLE signed a contract to illustrate stories for Midweek Fiction magazine at a figure that surpassed any amount he had earned in the rather uncertain past, he felt that he had reached a milestone in his career.

"Now," he declared to his wife, Aggie, "we can begin to have a few of the things we've been doing without for the past seven years."

"And the first thing we'll have," Aggie told him, "will be a nice little camp on Spur Lake where you can work amid surroundings that you love and where, accordingly, things will be easier for both of us."

"The camp," he told her gravely, "will come immediately after Mrs. Pringle has replenished her wardrobe."

It turned out that Aggie could have her new clothes and they could purchase the camp and not feel too extravagant. They went up to Spur Lake the following week and talked to a real estate agent. They had been there many times before. They knew just what they wanted for a camp site and where they wanted it. That afternoon the real estate agent made the easiest sale he'd transacted in years.

The Pringles sat down and made up a schedule of guests for weekends. They wanted to have company. This was the first time they had lived in a place big enough to hold guests conveniently. They were eager to share their possession.

And so two weeks later the first guests arrived. Doug and Aggie slept in the work room and everything was fine. All hands had a swell time. The guests departed in high enthusiasm. In fact, their enthusiasm apparently bubbled over, for in the middle of the following week some friends dropped in who had "heard so much about the cute little camp the Pringles had bought." Aggie and Doug asked them to stay over night and they did.

The summer hadn't progressed very far when Doug decided they ought to turn the present workshop into another bedroom.

"I'll build a studio for myself down by the lake. It seems there are a lot of people who are just dying to see our cute little camp," Aggie said.

"Sure," Doug agreed. So the Pringles built a studio for Doug, a rather attractive building that added to the general outlay. Gosh! After all, I'm a working man!

It's fun having guests, though."

"Now," he declared to his wife, Aggie, "we can begin to have a few of the things we've been doing without for the past seven years."

He moved into it with all his equipment—and the next week-end Aggie moved in with him.

In August the Hollands arrived. The Hollands were bores. Steve Holland belonged to Doug's golf club. They were friends of some of the Pringles' friends.

HOWEVER, they arrived and Mrs. Holland spied the studio and wanted to look at it. Aggie smiled wearily. She was getting used to this sort of thing. She led them down to Doug's workshop and Mrs. Holland peeked inside.

"Why, there's no one there!" she exclaimed.

Aggie nodded: "Doug's away. On business."

The Hollands were disappointed at not being able to see the artist at work, but there was nothing they could do about it. They departed shortly after.

At dinner time Doug came home. He was in high spirits.

"I've found just the place I wanted. A room right in the heart of Goodwin's business district. Plenty of noise and dust—a place where a man can do a real day's work without being bothered."

Aggie smiled fondly.

"The Brants are arriving tomorrow."

"Swell!" said Doug. "Show them the works and tell them I'm away—on business."

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

Awards Made

Approximately 100 Greener Pasture contestants, community committeemen, and others interested in better Maryland pastures attended the award ceremonies at which certificates were presented to the 1950 winners. Dr. H. C. Byrd of the University of Maryland, made the awards and complimented the winners for their achievements.

Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee, presided at the Baltimore meeting which included discussions of pasture programs as well as the awards program. He introduced the winners to Dr. Byrd as "patriotic citizens who are protecting their soil from erosion and safeguarding it for coming generations."

Carrying on with the same theme, Dr. Byrd pointed out that "Greener Pastures, or the lack of them, have long been associated with the decay of nations. Countries in the Near East can look to their failure to protect their soil as the cause of their present poverty."

The 1950 Greener Pastures Contest, conducted by the PMA in Maryland, attracted a total of 223 entries from 21 counties in the State. Of these, 158 received certificates as community, county, area, or State champions or junior champions.

Extension specialists stressed that the two top winners, as well as most of the other top ranking pasture programs, won because good management combined with the use of new pasture plants such as Ladino and Orchard Grass. They also said that the first place winner, Eugene B. Roberts of Bowie, and the second place winner, Long Valley Farm at Glen Arm, were separated by only one point in their total scores.

The judges paid high tribute to the management of these two farms and stressed that both had used practical methods well adapted to any farm in the State. Both are using rotation grazing and both are growing a variety of pasture plants to provide full-season production.

Dr. Albin O. Kuhn, head of the agronomy department at the University of Maryland, reported to the assembled winners on a new legume seed production program. The plan involves the production of varieties adapted to the East and the production of certified seed of these varieties in the West. He discussed plans being made to provide pure seed and to keep the strains adapted to Eastern conditions year after year.

He predicted that many farmers will more than double the yield of their pastures as they adopt the new varieties and the new management methods.

USDA To Buy Canned Tomatoes
The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture announced this week that it contemplates buying, on an offer and acceptance basis, canned tomatoes of the 1950 pack, meeting at least the requirements of U. S. Grade C (standard) and packed in No. 2, 2½ or 10 size cans.

Mr. Blandford pointed out that offers must be received not later than 5 p. m. Sept. 15 and will be accepted not later than Sept. 22, for delivery during the period Oct. 9 through Nov. 30.

He said that terms of the offers will be sent to prospective suppliers and further details of the program may be obtained from Bradford Armstrong, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, PMA, Washington 25, D. C.

Canned tomatoes purchased under the offer announced this week will be distributed to schools participating in the National School Lunch program throughout continental United States, Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii. The commodity will be bought with funds made available under the National School Lunch Act.

Price Support Announced
A national average price support of not less than $1.99 a bushel for 1951 crop wheat was announced this week by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan. This is the same as the support level now in effect for the 1950 crop, according to Mr. Brannan.

Commenting on the announcement, Mr. Brannan stated that "in view of the world situation it is imperative that our supply of bread grains be maintained in strong position. Ample supplies

The two giant enterprises in the communications field in this country are the Bell Telephone System and the United States Post Office Department. The privately owned Bell System paid $346,144,000 in taxes last year, while the Post Office Department, of course, paid none. The Bell System operated at a substantial profit, while Postal Service incurred an operating loss of $577,471,000. The total value of all physical properties owned by the Bell System is reported at $9½ billions. The Post Office Department has no idea whatever of the value of its vast property holdings.

Just Brushing Teeth Won't Prevent Decay
More than 100 scientists at an Ann Arbor, Mich., conference on dental decay agreed that mere brushing of teeth will not prevent decay. They said brushing must be done immediately after eating to have any decay-preventing effect. They also rebutted the theory that an increased consumption of vitamins and minerals will insure healthy teeth.

Start Fall Garden Now
If that spurt of springtime enthusiasm for gardening is beginning to wane, this is the time to think about a fall garden and the delicious fresh vegetables it can provide.

Crops which may be planted at this time of year include: beets, turnips, lettuce, kale, radishes, spinach, endive, peas and similar crops.

Vegetable specialists point out that most of these crops have small seeds which should not be planted more than one-half to three-quarters of an inch deep.

LOOKING AHEAD BY GEORGE S. BENSON President—Harding College Searcy, Arkansas

Fortunate Aspect of Business Arkansas newspapers have been reporting that the major plant for manufacturing the Hydrogen bomb, a huge $2 million establishment, will be located in our state.

All of the unbelievable stories about the terrible earth-busting destructiveness of the H-bomb over a vast area, are being recalled. And we're now believing them.

The manufacture of the H-bomb has become of transcending importance to the United States and about two-thirds of the people of the world.

When the United States discovered, midway of World War II, that Germany was working on the A-bomb, our government was caught in the same grave urgency.

The circumstances now are the same—only it's Russia and the H-bomb. Our government called on the du Pont company to build the plant to produce the A-bomb.

The government has again called on the big du Pont company—to perform the momentous industrial feat of manufacturing the H-bomb.

Fourteen months ago the legal department of the government instituted an anti-trust suit against du Pont. The Attorney General declared it was "directed to the breaking up of the largest single concentration of industrial power in the United States."

Many observers felt the government's attack upon bigness might have been stirred up by Economic Planners who want to scuttle our free enterprise system.

Freezing Rules Are Outlined

Where is the best place in the freezer to put packages of fruits, vegetables, or meat for quick freezing? That is a question confronting many Maryland families at this season of the year.

An answer to that question comes from A. V. Krewatch, Extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland. "If the cabinet does not have a special compartment for freezing, packages to be frozen should never be placed on top of already frozen packages.

Mr. Krewatch warns against trying to freeze too many packages at one time. As a "rule of thumb," he recommends that no more than five per cent of the capacity of the box be put in at one time.

He says that the same general rule applies to cabinets with freezing compartments. "Just because the compartment might hold 60, 80, or 100 pounds, does not mean that the homemaker should fill it," he declares.

Candidate For State Office

HELEN ELIZABETH BROWN

Helen Elizabeth Brown, candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney-general of Maryland, today announced the appointment of Avrum K. Rifman as her campaign treasurer.

Miss Brown denied that she was shattering any precedent by running for attorney-general of the Free State and said she was just living up to an old Maryland tradition.

"Margaret Brent of St. Marys City, one of the first lawyers in America, was Maryland's first attorney-general in colonial days," she said. "She was proclaimed attorney for Lord Baltimore, the proprietor of the colony, and as such was Maryland's attorney-general. The General Assembly wrote to Lord Baltimore in England and told him that it was better for him and for the safety of the colony that his affairs were in her hands rather than in any man else's. Indeed, they said, all would have been lost and gone to ruin had she not been proclaimed your lordship's attorney."

"Margaret Brent had quite a hand in the Maryland toleration act," Miss Brown continued. "We need toleration in Maryland today—perhaps a different type. We need toleration for the rights of individual citizens. Those in public office need to be forcefully reminded that we have, or are supposed to have, in this country a government of laws and not individuals. Some of our commissions, boards, bureaus and bureaucrats often forget this. They ignore the fact that what powers they have are given to them by law and that they cannot exceed their authority and go beyond the law. It is a part of the attorney-general's job to keep these governmental agencies within the law. That I shall do. It is our proud boast that we have a government of laws—not men. Let's keep it that way."

Miss Brown, for many years a practicing attorney of Baltimore, has served as assistant city solicitor of Baltimore and chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Dept. of Maryland and State Roads Commission. She is vice president of the Lawyers Civic Association of Maryland, past president of the Women's Bar Association and a member of the Maryland and American Bar Associations.

MOVIES, MIKES and TELEVISION TALK
By LYN WILSON—ANS Features

THIS IS THE SEASON when radio's high-powered programs return to the air for another fall-winter-spring run. Here we have five top productions, each outstanding in its own way.

FOR GOOD DRAMA . . . NBC's "Theatre Guild on the Air" with its array of famous plays is tops. Last season, this show was selected as the outstanding dramatic program on radio by "Radio and Television Arts and Sciences." This season's line-up looks like another award winning series. With such talent as Linda Ball, Paul Douglas, Humphrey Bogart, Ray Milland and others being cast in "Brigadoon," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "Farewell to Arms," "Edward, My Son," "Come Back, Little Sheba," and numerous other famous stage and screen plays. There'll be good listening . . . so sit down by the fireside Sundays for this one, beginning in September.

RADIO'S OUTSTANDING PROGRAM, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," over ABC network, is back again on Sunday afternoons, bringing all the richness and meaning of the teachings of Christ to millions of radio listeners. Now in its fifth year, this program continues to be the outstanding public service performance, and still sponsored, but without any commercial announcements. Here is a welcome change from the strife of war news; worth listening to.

FOR COMEDY AND CLOWNING . . . School opens when Eve Arden of "Our Miss Brooks" program returns to the airlines via CBS Sundays for another session of hilarity in and around the school room. Eve's years in films, and on the stage with such unpredictable as the Marx Bros., Fanny Brice and Willie Howard have fortified her with ample experience to be a mental gymnast who can easily cope with the situations on "Our Miss Brooks" . . . and there are plenty!

FOR SOLID NEWS ANALYSIS take it from Lowell Thomas, America's favorite radio reporter who returns to CBS (also in September) with his Monday thru Friday newscasts. Thomas celebrates his 20th anniversary on the air this fall and there is hardly a person alive who is not familiar with his voice. His reliable reports spring from a well trained mind. He has received degrees from four universities, served as a faculty member of Princeton and has written over 40 books, some of which are published in as many as 20 languages—among others of his accomplishments.

FOR MYSTERY LOVERS — "Martin Kane, Private Eye," which continued through the summer on radio over the Mutual network, is back again, this month, on television over the NBC television network, Thursday nights, 10:00 to 10:30. William Gargan stars in both versions, with an able supporting cast which has made this mystery show climb to top rating within its first year on the air.

POULTRY POINTERS

What About Roosts?

It is not new that some poultry farmers take the roosts out of their laying houses. But, as it is with many practices, there are good and bad points which have to be considered.

Before taking out roosts, stop and consider whether it will work or not. Do not forget that the natural way of birds to sleep is on the roosts, and it has to be feared that if one continues changing birds from their natural habits too much, that it will not be wise for the long run.

In large and well-insulated houses with concrete floors, the management without roosts has more advantages than it has in smaller houses. It will save the large house operator construction expenses and time for keeping the dropping pits in good repair. It will be easier to do the chores in a house without roosts. However, what counts against it is the much damper litter, because all the droppings which would go into the dropping pits would be distributed all over the house. There are a number of other points for and against having roosts in the large laying house, but roosts are a necessity for small houses. The floors as well as the walls of small houses are frequently not well-insulated. Even deep litter would not prevent birds from getting cold on the floor during the cold nights. Birds will be better protected by their feathers on the roost than on the floor.

The main advantage of roosts for every poultryman, with a large or small house, it that one can cull and check the shape of birds with a flashlight during the night. This point outweighs all other possible points. It is much more troublesome without roosts to cull, so that one may neglect this most important job too often.

"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

A West Coast news item has created a great stir in Washington. It was the announcement that the Hale Hawaiian Pineapple Company, a monopoly in the growing, processing, and marketing of this fruit, has purchased another huge estate in Hawaii with a loan of $10,000,000 from a major life insurance company.

Apparently, however, it is reasoned, monopolies are a thing apart from the law. Don't be surprised if a Congressional investigation is launched on this deal.

Look for a fight to develop on the tax methods devised to raise additional money needed for defense.

There are many in Washington ready to prove that a large part of the anticipated defense fund could be raised if all other business enterprises paid taxes on their volume on the same basis that independent individual enterprises are taxed.

This issue promises to be the hottest tax fight in a decade.

While cooperatives must, to be tax free, be set up theoretically as non-profit, they still buy and sell on the open market place. In actual practice there is a profit. If not, it is argued, why do people do business through cooperatives?

The average small businessman, who must pay taxes, is not complaining to Washington about competition from cooperatives. But it is hard for him to see why the business he does should be taxed while that done by cooperatives is not taxed.

Some have compared the situation to that of two men competing in a swimming race. But one swimmer is hampered by an anvil strapped to his back. That viewpoint is making a strong impression on Congress—especially now when plans call for small business carrying the biggest share of the new tax load.

A small businessman, even after the most careful scrutiny, could not obtain an unsecured loan from an insurance company, even though life insurance companies make quite a fuss about furthering the welfare and independence of the individual. The best a small businessman could hope for would be a loan up to the loan value of any policies he held, payable at 6% interest.

It is even being pointed out in Washington that an unsecured loan at any rate of interest would be denied any small business by an insurance company on the basis that laws would prohibit such action.

Church Celebrates Anniversary

On Tuesday evening, Aug. 22, Mt. Tabor Reformed and Lutheran Church, celebrated its 75th anniversary. The guest speakers were Rev. Charles H. Corbett, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Thurmont; Rev. Edwin D. Bright, retired pastor of the Thurmont charge of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Greetings were read from Rev. Guy P. Bready, former pastor of the Thurmont charge.

Music was rendered by guest choirs from St. John's Lutheran Church, Thurmont; Keysville Lutheran Church, Apple's and Trinity Reformed Church, Thurmont. The Mt. Tabor Union Choir led the congregational singing.

On Sunday Aug. 27, the guest speakers were Mrs. Lillian Ibach, widow of Rev. W. O. Ibach, a former Lutheran pastor, and Rev. William H. Groff, a former pastor of the Reformed Church, following the service, a group picture was taken after which a family basket picnic lunch was served in the Park.

At the afternoon service, greetings were brought by Prof. Roger Heimer, Rear Adm., (retired), son of Dr. P. E. Heimer, a former pastor of the Reformed Church; Mrs. William G. Buckley, who was married in the church in 1900, and also by Miss Edna Miller, a former member of the Reformed Church. Greetings were also read from Dr. A. A. Kelly, a former pastor of the Lutheran Church, who is now residing in Arizona. Special music was rendered at both services by the Mt. Tabor Union Choir.

It is interesting to note that the original membership of the congregation came in great part from the Reformed and Lutheran congregations of the Monocacy Church, of near Creagerstown, which congregations were organized by Rev. Michael Schlatter and Rev. Henrich Muhlenberg, respectively, in the year 1747. Also stemming from this early church are a number of Lutheran and Reformed churches in the Thurmont and Sabillasville area.

From Austria he went to Berchtesgaden, Germany, and then to Obermergau and saw the Passion Play.

Miss Mary Louise Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Miller, Emmitsburg, and Joseph W. Kerrigan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, also of Emmitsburg, were married last Saturday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Michael J. O'Brien, C.M., assistant pastor.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white organdy gown, illusion veil with pearl tiara and carried a bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

The maid of honor, Miss Dolores Y. Miller, sister of the bride, wore a blue organdy gown. The bridesmaids, Miss Jeanne Fitzgerald, classmate of the bride, and Miss Saranna C. Miller, sister of the bride, wore organdy gowns of lime and apricot, respectively. All the attendants carried bouquets of roses and pom pom chrysanthemums and wore headdresses of summer flowers.

The bride's mother wore a teal blue dress and hat with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a sheer print dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bridegroom chose for his best man, H. P. Freeman of Washington, and the ushers were William Kreh, Frederick; H. Paul Ross, College Park; A. Wayne McCleaf and Thomas S. Bittle of Emmitsburg.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli. The altar boys were Mikey Miller and Charlie Baker.

The wedding marches were played by the church organist, Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, and the soloist was Guy Baker Jr.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the White House Inn for approximately 150 guests, after which the couple left for a brief honeymoon after which they will leave for Mexico City where Mr. Kerrigan will attend school at Mexico City College for a year.

The bride wore for her going-away outfit a pheasant red suit, fur neckpiece, brown velvet accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Kerrigan attended St. Joseph's College and the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing, Baltimore, and is currently on a year's leave of absence.

Wisotzky, and a sister, Miss Laura M. Wisotzky, both of Thurmont, also survive, in addition to six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The body is at the late home where friends may call. Funeral from the residence Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. Interment in Blue Ridge Cemetery.

School Opening Brings Caution From Auto Club

With the reopening of Maryland schools on September 5, hundreds of AAA posters announcing "School's Open—Driving or Walking, Take It Easy" will be displayed prominently throughout the State as a warning to motorists.

The Maryland State Police in cooperation with the Automobile Club of Maryland is distributing the posters in the hope that they will remind drivers to be extra cautious when many hundreds of children walk more on city streets and state highways going to and from school.

In addition to the posters, bumper strips carrying the message, "School Is Open—Drive Carefully," are being distributed by the Automobile Club of Maryland to interested concerns or individuals. The Baltimore City Police Department will carry one of these strips on the bumper of each of its many vehicles.

"Motorists should always consider a child on the sidewalk or crossing the street as a human caution sign and be governed accordingly," stated Leonard E. Kolmer, general manager of the Automobile Club while discussing the campaign. "While children are taught safe walking rules in the classroom the natural exuberance of youth often offsets this training with tragic results. Precautions to protect school children from traffic accidents are taken by stationing school safety patrol members or police officers at many intersections during the hours when children are going to and from school."

Mr. Kolmer continued, "At both this type of crossing and at unprotected crossings, motorists have the responsibility of helping to protect children from traffic accidents by driving cautiously." Mr. Kolmer stressed, "Beginning the opening day of school and continuing for several weeks, the 'Schools Open' posters will be displayed prominently throughout the county, at various locations.

County Democrats Lend Support To Gov. Lane

With county meetings now in progress, precinct assemblies will get under way in Frederick next week on behalf of the Democratic candidates of Gov. Preston Lane Jr., seeking re-election; J. Millard Tawes, now unopposed for Comptroller, and Hall Hammond, seeking another term as Attorney General.

Although quietly in progress for some time, the post-Labor Day schedule will actually mark the launching of an intensive campaign on behalf of these Democratic candidates, said Alton Y. Bennett, chairman of the Frederick County Committee for Lane-Tawes-Hammond.

County meetings held thus far have been marked by considerable enthusiasm for the slate headed by Gov. Lane, reported Mr. Bennett, who added that the entire Lane ticket is being well-received by Democrats in virtually every section of the county.

An advisory committee consisting of nearly two hundred representative Democratic leaders from all sections of the county has been formed. As announced by Chairman Bennett, each was individually contacted and consented to serve.

In addition, there is considerable sentiment seeking the formulation of a Citizens Committee to supplement the Advisory group, Mr. Bennett declared.

Those from Emmitsburg on the Advisory Committee are Jacob E. Baker, Charles W. Bollinger, Mrs. Harry S. Boyle, Peter F. Burket, George J. Martin, Prof. T. J. Norris, Mrs. Euphemia Rotering and M. F. Shuff.

Asking For Bids On County Roads

Bids for the improvement of over nine miles of county roads will be received in the office of the County Roads Board until 11:30 o'clock on Sept. 11, it was learned this week.

The asking of bids was apparently connected with recent Roads Board action which authorized the county engineer to seek estimates on surfacing of some roads if it was found that Roads Board forces could not complete all of the surfacing projects slated for completion this year.

Roads on which bids are being sought are:

A 2.481-mile section of the Penn's Shop Rd. beginning at Rt. 80 near Kempton and extending toward Rt. 27 near Ridgeville.

A 3.683-mile stretch of the Woodville-Unionville Rd., beginning at the existing macadam in Woodville and extending to the end of the existing stabilized road at the iron bridge.

3.2-mile section of the Harney bridge road, beginning at the end of the macadam section near Harney bridge and extending toward Emmitsburg.

Contract specifications call for patching of the existing base on each of the roads and then resurfacing with a plant mix wearing surface.

Sportsmen Enjoy Meeting

More than 60 members of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club of Emmitsburg met in outdoor fashion at their regular meeting Tuesday evening at Shank's Mill Pond, Waynesboro Rd.

With an outdoor setting, members competed in archery, .22 pistol shot, .22 rifle shooting, and clay bird marks. Hauling down first prize in the .22 pistol shot was Richard Hershey. Crack-shot with the .22 rifle turned out to be Morris Eyer.

Around the natural scene, the club decided to hold a shooting match, the date of which will be set later and members informed by postcards.

Since so much enthusiasm was given for these outdoor meetings, the club hopes to have another in September, weather permitting, President Weldon Shank said.

The game in Emmitsburg was enhanced some recently. The Blue Ridge Sportsmen Assn., Inc., recently released 18 ringneck pheasants in this area. The Pennsylvania club had raised the birds, which were given to them by the Maryland Inland Fish and Game Commission of Maryland.

Following the business session, refreshments of lemonade and wieners roasted over fires were enjoyed by the members.

ing in at a fast clip and will far exceed those of last year to give all a much better show.

Proceeds will go to the Lions Club Child Welfare Fund.

Police To Use Speed Gauge Labor Day

In calling attention to the long Labor Day week-end with its attendant highway hazards, Col. Carey Jarman, Supt. of Maryland State Police, announced this week that the electrometric speed meter, for measuring the speed of motor vehicles, would be put in use on the Washington Blvd. This machine, which recently has been demonstrated in all sections of the state, when placed on the side of the highway, will measure the speed of motor vehicles going in both directions. When a speed violation is noted, the operator of the machine will radio a trooper, located a mile or so away, who will stop the speeding vehicle.

The Nunatagmiut Eskimos of Alaska killed caribou by driving them into traps or into water and then spearing them.

Diz Dean, now a TV baseball reporter, still yearns to pitch. "I'd take a $10,000 cut just to pitch again," says Dean. "And you can bet I wouldn't do too badly either."

Mark up another 1st for Horace Heidt. This fall he'll have the initial traveling show in TV history when his talent program again takes off across the U.S.A.

Court Opens On Sept. 18

The September term of the Circuit Court will open on Sept. 18 as provided by law, despite the fact that the primary election has been scheduled for the same day, Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer announced this week, after the names of jurors had been drawn.

Primary election day is not a legal holiday in Maryland, he said, and the jurors will meet as provided by law at 10 o'clock that morning.

No witnesses will be summoned to appear before the grand jury, he said. The grand jury will be excused after hearing the court's charge and completing its organization, he said. The jury will convene for regular deliberations the next day.

Jurors who are also registration officials, will not be required to report on Sept. 18, other court officials said. They will be excused from grand jury service but will remain as members of the petit jury panel.

Eleven of the 48 drawn for jury duty are women. The following from Emmitsburg are being summoned for jury service: Charlotte Bollinger and Gertrude Rogers; from Thurmont, Harry Q. Miller and Catherine Shorb.

FIREMEN FEAST

About fifty members of the Vigilant Hose Company, Emmitsburg, attended a fried chicken supper held at the Fire Hall last Thursday night.

Orientation Class for Freshmen

Orientation for the freshmen of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, will take place on Tuesday morning, Sept. 5. Freshmen are requested to be at the school by nine o'clock and they will be dismissed at noon.

Regular sessions for the entire school will begin on Wednesday morning, Sept. 6. There will be only one session on Wednesday, but regular all day work will begin on Thursday morning.

CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the Chronicle, an account of a bridal shower was printed. Somehow, the head to another story of similar nature was misplaced over the story. The account was of a bridal shower given for Miss Barbara Barron by Miss Hazel Glacken, but the head read: "Miss Miller Given Bridal Shower." We regret the error.

WOW! WOW!

Trying to avoid striking two dogs on U. S. Route 40, Daniel Orem of Baltimore, driver of an empty auto-carrying trailer, swerved the vehicle sharply, with these results: it hit a culvert, careened against an electric light pole, struck a parked auto and knocked it into another car, crashed through the side of a service station, and smashed a $300 soft-drink machine. Orem was unhurt.

Phone Facilities Improving

Expenditures of $2.6 million for the improvement and expansion of telephone facilities throughout Maryland were authorized this week by the board of directors of the C. & P. Telephone Co. of Baltimore City.

The largest sum was authorized was $1.5 million for the construction of a new central office building at Pikesville and the installation of dial equipment. Cost of the building will approximate $238,000, while $1.2 million will be expended for crossbar dial equipment.

Mrs. Ida M. Goulden of E. Main St., and son Lawrence of Towson, are spending their vacation visiting Trooper and Mrs. John Koontz of Lexington Park. Mrs. Koontz was the former Miss Helen Goulden, daughter of Mrs. Ida M. Goulden.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosensteel, 210 E. Main St., returned home this week from a visit to Maine and New Hampshire. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zacharias at York Village, Maine.

With sirens screaming, police escorted a nine-year-old boy, Edward Lisman, from South Baltimore to Baltimore, Eye, Ear Nose and Throat Hospital, where a thumb tack was removed from his throat. The tack became lodged in the lad's throat while he was playing with some other youngsters.

"Railroad" Stars Go Visiting

The smooth-working team of Lucille Norman, Director Ken Burton and Nadine Connor chat between rehearsals of a Hollywood Bowl production of "The Vagabond King," which Burton is directing, and in which the two lovely ladies have starring roles. The Burton-Norman teamwork is in evidence every Monday evening on NBC's "The Railroad Hour," on which Miss Norman and baritone Gordon MacRae co-star; and Mr. Burton directs. Miss Connor of the Metropolitan Opera is a frequent guest on the weekly musical show, which features dramatizations of famous operettas and musical comedies.

Miss Anna Marie Sterbinsky returned by plane Tuesday from Providence, R. I., after spending two weeks' vacation visiting friends at Narragansett and Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Saylor Weybright, Thurmont, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shriver, Emmitsburg, attended the Cooperative Institute held in Stillwater, Okla., last week.

You Don't Reap When "Robber" Hens Eat
Yes, "Robber" hens!... they eat your feed and produce nothing! And they eat as much as your good layers. Whether you have a dozen chickens or a thousand, some are "robber" hens. The Ultraway System will find them.
The Ultraway System of Poultry Inspection is a radically different method of culling. An Ultraway technician will often remove as high as 25% of your hens, with no decrease in egg production. The small cost is returned in short order by the feed you save, and the birds you market which would otherwise die.
