Sept. 24 is the date, ladies and gentlemen. The date for what? Why the annual Horse Show, of course. This is one event that yours truly wouldn't miss for all the Chinks in China. Most of you think that I am an habitual griper, but I always give credit where it is due. In my opinion, there is no other event in this community that can surpass the Horse Show as to class, color, and entertainment. Many of us were a bit skeptical last season when the promotion was held for the initial time, but after that first display of horses and horsemanship, ole Abby is an avowed fan of the equites. I bet a good many of you think I couldn't ride a hoss? Well, don't get any ideas—I won't and can't.

I do want to pass along my commendations to the local Lions Club for their sponsorship of the show. Many indigent children will benefit from the proceeds of the affair, which the generous LIONS donate annually to the Child Welfare Fund.

I also think we owe our good police chief, Capt. H. C. Wooding a vote of thanks for the tremendous part he is playing this year in acting as general chairman of the show. The Captain is a busy man with his own affairs, but has very graciously given up his time to put the enterprise over with a big bang. . . . The humane spirit of Emmitsburg is exemplified in their attendance at these affairs for the benefit of this community. Every venture of this type by the local Community Fund has been highly successful. . . . The recent Block Party held by the VFW for the benefit of the Ambulance Fund netted a neat $500. Yes, I must say that here in Emmitsburg, while we are a bit mopey about some things concerning the welfare of the town, that we don't have to take a back seat when it comes to helping some one that is "down" or destitute. At times I feel proud of the good citizens here, but on other occasions—oh boy.

Where Were You?

It's funny how versatile I can get at times, and in a split second, too. I can pat a fellow on the back and at the same time feel for a soft spot to plant a knife, which I am about to do right now. Where were most of you folks last Sunday? Here we are in the midst of a baseball championship battle and about 200 of you turn out for the occasion. I feel that we should have had at least three times that many present on Community Field Sunday for the game. The boys have been playing a splendid brand of ball and have come a long way on a fine spirit, to place in the playoffs. But of the 3500 citizens, we have here only 200 show up. We are confident that more of you are sports-minded than the 17 per cent that paid their way last week. We have the most beautiful ball park in the league and an excellent team. . . . let's show our appreciation by coming out Sunday.

Local GOP Meets Tuesday Night

The Republican Club of Emmitsburg announced this week a special public meeting to be held in the Fire Hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, at 8 p. m. A committee composed of Charles Linn, Maurice Hahn, and Charles Fuss was appointed to register as many citizens as possible to the GOP fold.

Several candidates for elective positions will be present at the session and a few of them will make addresses.

Menhaden fish oil is used as a machine lubricant and in leather tanning, aluminum casting and the manufacture of linoleum and oil cloth.

THURMONT MAN FATALLY SHOOTS NEGRO

A Negro itinerant crop picker, who has been working for the canning factory at Thurmont for the past 30 days, was shot and instantly killed while attempting to break into a Thurmont home early last Sunday morning.

He was instantly killed by the blast from a 20-gauge shotgun fired by William C. Yingling, 42, who resides off Route 81 in the outskirts of Thurmont. State's Attorney Edwin F. Nikirk said no charges will be preferred after consulting with State Police.

First identified as Willie Frank Thomas, 33, colored, of Route 5, Atmore, Ala., the dead man was later identified by relatives as Eddie Lee Davis, 25, Pensacola, Fla.

State Troopers Harold Basore, Kenneth Bond and H. J. Brown said Mrs. Yingling was up about 3:15 o'clock Sunday morning when she saw a man leave Route 81 and approach her home. She aroused her husband and he went downstairs.

The man, they said, knocked on the front door and Yingling ordered him to leave the premises. The man then kicked in a large glass panel in the door and Yingling fired a shotgun blast through the door. The shot struck the man in the right shoulder and head, inflicting almost instant death. He reeled about 75 yards from the house before collapsing in the lane.

Yingling summoned assistance and the County Medical Examiner filed a certificate of death by gunshot.

The officers said they learned that the colored man bought a pistol Saturday night and the gun was found by Trooper Brown on the porch of the Yingling home.

They also learned from the man's wife, who resided with him at the canning factory camp, that he had threatened to shoot her late Saturday or early Sunday. The pistol failed to discharge when he attempted to shoot her, she told the officers. It was apparently empty then, she said.

The colored man, it was learned, was one of a group employed by the canning plant to pick beans and other crops being processed there. Thurmont residents said Monday night that there has been agitation among some residents to force the colored people to leave the community as an aftermath of the shooting. Others said the colored people have been very orderly in the community and that the attempt to enter the Yingling residence was the only serious incident involving the crop pickers.

LEATHERMAN—SIX

A quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized in the Grossnickle Church of the Brethren Aug. 25 at eight o'clock when Miss Barbara Ann Six, daughter of the late Charles A. Six and Mrs. Charles Hyett, Thurmont, became the bride of Gaiher M. Leatherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leatherman, Myersville.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Basil Grossnickle in the presence of members of the families.

The bride was attired in a navy blue street-length dress, with accessories to match. She wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The bride and bridegroom chose for their matron of honor and best man, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fisher of Thurmont.

After a wedding trip to West Virginia, they will reside near Thurmont.

Block Party Success

Approximately $500 was netted on the VFW Block Party held by the VFW of Emmitsburg recently. Quartermaster Lumen F. Norris and the Post wishes to extend their thanks to all of the people who patronized the affair.

The entire proceeds went into the ambulance fund.

Last year the fund collected only $41 in the jars placed in local business places.

DIVIDING TAX SYSTEM BOON FOR TOWN

Funds received by Frederick County and its incorporated towns from state revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30, made possible tax rates something short of half of what they would have been, had local levies been imposed to obtain comparable benefits.

Official figures supplied by the State Comptroller's office showed that Frederick County received from State funds during the fiscal year recently closed, the sum of $1,633,693.

This figure is $764,596 more than was received from the state prior to 1947 when the Sherbow Plan went into effect.

If Frederick County had to raise these funds through the imposition of a local levy, it would have meant a tax rate of $2.42 or an additional $1.08 on the existing rate, which is just $1.34, it was pointed out.

Receives Almost Two Millions

Added to the $1,633,693 the county received as such, proportionate amounts paid to the 11 incorporated towns, brought the county's complete total of state funds received to $1,805,312.

In addition, Frederick County has been allocated the sum of $581,700 from the $20,000,000 State School Construction grant-in-aid.

The comptroller's figures show this breakdown of state funds received by Frederick County and incorporated towns, enabling reduced local taxes:

Emmitsburg Gets $6,465

Emmitsburg received $6,465, Frederick City, $93,888; Brunswick, $19,011; Burkittsville, $1,128; Middletown, $4,365; Mt. Airy, $742; Myersville, $817; New Market, $582; Thurmont, $8,725; Walkersville, $3,792 and Woodsboro, $2,104, for a complete county total of $1,805,312.

The distribution of State funds to the various counties and their incorporated towns is likewise due to be increased, it has been stated.

The extent of such increase is indicated by the comptroller's office, which estimates Frederick County's allotment from State funds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, to be $1,783,158, as compared with the $1,663,693 for the fiscal year ending last June 30.

The comptroller's estimates put the total amount that Frederick County and its incorporated towns will receive for the current fiscal year at $1,896,170, as compared with the overall total of $1,805,312 for the fiscal year recently ended, representing anticipated revenue from State funds of $90,858 more than was paid into local coffers during the fiscal period ending last June.

The larger the amount derived by the county from State revenues, the greater the proportion by which local taxes can be reduced and kept at a minimum, officials stated.

Two Cars Collide At Toll Gate Hill

Toll Gate Hill was the scene of another automobile crash Sunday when two cars collided and were badly damaged. No one was injured.

State Trooper Kenneth D. Bond, investigator of the Rt. 15 accident, estimated total damage to both vehicles at $350. He said Roland H. Lockhart, Caledonia, Miss., who was travelling south in a 1946 Mercury sedan, failed to negotiate a right turn in the highway.

The right front of his vehicle crashed into the left front of the 1948 Pontiac sedan which was being operated in a northerly direction by George W. Seymour, 21, of Maplewood, N. J.

No charges have been preferred pending the completion of his investigation, Trooper Bond said.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wivell, Mr. and Mrs. George Spriggs and children, Mrs. Leroy Baker and Mrs. Rita Felix spent Labor Day holidays in Cleveland, O., with Mrs. Wivell's son, Charles Wivell.

WEDDINGS

DANNER—GERKEN

Miss Rose Nancy Gerken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gerken, East Main St., became the bride of George Danner, Thurmont, on Monday morning in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg. The double ring ceremony was performed at nine o'clock by the pastor of the bride, Rev. Francis Stauble, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride wore a gown of brocade marquisette, with tight-fitting bodice and sweetheart neckline, buttoned back and long sleeves which pointed over the hand and a long train of the same material. Her shoulder-length veil was of nylon net which hung from a rolled crown of nylon net and pearls. Her bouquet was white roses, chrysanthemums and stephanotis centered with gardenias from which hung multiple white satin ribbons entwined with white chrysanthemums. Her gown belonged to her aunt, Mrs. Albert McCraffrey of Westminster.

The bridesmaid, Miss Teresa Peters, classmate of the bride, wore a gown of white net over yellow taffeta, white lace mitts and a halo of white and yellow chrysanthemums. Her bouquet was also white and yellow chrysanthemums.

The flower girl was little Miss Sharon Kuhns of Waynesboro, Pa., niece of the bridesmaid. Her gown was of white net over satin. Her headdress was rosettes of green ribbons and her bouquet was identical to that of the bridesmaid.

The best man was John S. Hollinger and the ushers were John Warthen and Kenneth Mumma.

The church was decorated with baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums and the traditional wedding marches were played by the church organist, Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, and the soloist, Guy A. Baker Jr., sang, "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "Ave Maria" by Schubert. The altar boys were George and Charles Sinnott of Westminster, cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a cocoa brown crepe dress, black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a green crepe dress, black accessories and also a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of St. Euphemia's Parochial School and St. Joseph's High School, class of '48, and is employed at Crouse's Drug Store. The bridegroom graduated from Thurmont High School and is employed at the American Store, Thurmont.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to approximately 50 relatives and friends. A three-tier wedding cake formed the centerpiece of the bride's table.

Immediately following the breakfast, the young couple left on a honeymoon through the South and visiting war buddies of the groom. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at their newly furnished apartment at the home of the bride.

State Senator Announces Two Scholarships

State Senator Edward D. Storm announced this week that two scholarships were available to local students, providing they meet all entrance requirements and pass eligibility tests.

One is a scholarship to the Johns Hopkins School of Engineering and covers tuition, books and laboratory fees. This scholarship is worth approximately $600 and the student would need another $500 to meet all of his expenses.

The second scholarship is to St. John's College at Annapolis and covers, room, board, and tuition. It is worth approximately $1100 and the student will need very little more to see him through.

Anyone interested should contact Mr. Storm immediately for full information.

Legion Post Holds Installation Of New Officers

A feature of the regular meeting of the Francis X. Elder Post, No. 121, American Legion, Emmitsburg, Tuesday evening was the installation of officers.

Installed as commander for the ensuing year, succeeding Edgar Ashbaugh, was William Topper. Other officers installed were first vice commander, Eugene Rodgers; second vice commander, Jack Rosensteel; finance officer, Allen Bouey; chaplain, Wayne McClellan; sergeants-at-arm, Andrew Shorb and Louis Rosensteel, and trustee, Clarence G. Frailey. Presiding at the installation services were Alvin M. Norwood of Frederick, area commander, and Richard Bower, Brunswick, deputy vice commander of Western Maryland.

Five new veterans were accepted as members, swelling the Post's large membership to more than 180. They were Robert L. Myers, Howard White, Thomas P. Dillon, James H. Lings, and Joseph W. Smith.

A new delegate was named to represent the Post at the Community Fund's meeting. Francis Sanders succeeded Charles D. Gillelan to fill his vacancy on one of Emmitsburg's newest fund-raising organizations.

The Post decided at Tuesday night's meeting to again sponsor an American Legion basketball team for the young men of Emmitsburg interested in the court sport. The quintet will be coached by Harold M. Hoke, who held the same position last year, when the Legionnaires completed a highly successful season, winning 14 of its 16-game schedule.

Manager Jack Rosensteel of the Legion Junior baseball team announced that the bus transporting the members of the team to Washington to see the double-header between the Senators and the Yankees will leave from the Post Home on N. Seton Ave. at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

Now that the summer season is about over, the time for the regular meeting will be changed. Effective next month, the door will close at 8 p. m., it was stated.

VFW Donates $500 To School

At the regular VFW meeting held Wednesday evening in the Post Home, Center Square, the Memorial Post heard an account of repairs and improvements being made to St. Anthony's School. In view of the fact that some playground equipment had already been donated to the public and parochial schools, the members of the Post voted to give $500 to the St. Anthony School. Three hundred dollars will go towards repairs and the remaining $200 will be used for playground equipment in the school yard. In making a donation of this kind, it was pointed out that it is not a policy of the VFW to donate money toward any repair work. But, in the present case there is no PTA organization or other body to help raise funds for this purpose and that the St. Anthony's District would have to depend entirely on the parishioners to cover the costs. Therefore, the Post, under its Community Welfare Service program, felt that it was obliged to consider any projects that affect the welfare of the children of this community.

The board of directors have ordered the front of the Post Home painted, work which will begin shortly.

To reduce the indebtedness of the building, it was decided Wednesday night to place $2000 in the retiring fund.

The Civilian Defense program was discussed and air observer volunteers are needed to set up an air observation station in this town. The members and citizens of the community are urged to offer their services in this important project.

A letter of commendation to the Emmitsburg Memorial Post from the Maryland State Police in regards to the prompt action of the ambulance in responding to the call at the recent jet plane crash scene and their assistance to the State Police was read.

BALL TEAM MEETS HANOVER HERE SUNDAY

Ole Man Weather won the first battle Sunday in the championship playoffs of the Pen-Mar Baseball League. Several minutes before game time a steady down-pour occurred and the officials waited the legal 45 minutes before postponing the game.

Hanover will again come to the Community Field Sunday for another attempt to get the series under way. A huge turnout was present for the game last Sunday and it is expected a much larger turnout will be had this week as many local people were out-of-town for Labor Day.

Officials stated this week that all those patrons who have tickets to last Sunday's game will be permitted to use them, provided the ticket is intact.

McSherrystown Wins

In the other half of the playoffs, McSherrystown bumped off Blue Ridge Summit 2-1.

Fritz Staub, who was credited with New Oxford's 11-10 victory over Fairfield in an Adams County League playoff game on Saturday, pitched McSherrystown to its win over Blue Ridge Summit on Sunday. Staub gave up eight hits, while C. Callmer, on the hill for the losers, yielded only seven. Each pitcher fanned seven and walked two.

Fishing Contest Winners Are Announced

Fishing is apparently on the decline in this district, or else, there is a lack of the big ones.

The results of a fishing contest, sponsored by a local store, bear out this theory at least.

Hoke's Hardware, promoters of an annual "One That Didn't Get Away" contest announced final results of the recent contest. This year only 11 of the "big boys" were registered. Nine were placed in entry from July 1 to four, one on Aug. 10, and one on Aug. 27. In comparison, last year's catch registered 16 of the heavyweights. Robert Eiker was last year's champ with an eighteen and one-quarter inch bass.

King of the 1950 anglers was Joseph Cool, entering his 17½-inch bass, to take first prize. Next in line for size went to Raymond Baker, who presented a 17¼-inch fish. Tie with Baker was Dr. John J. Dillon who also had the same sized bass. Bernard Cool took fourth place with a 15-incher.

In the young fisherman's class, first prize went to Donald Stone-sifer with a 15-inch job, and a close second was Richard Stone-sifer, whose catch measured 14½ inches.

Prizes awarded were a Remington target rifle, two casting rods and a reel, one fly rod and a slingshot.

Largest catch ever recorded by the store was in 1948 when J. W. Richards sauntered in to register a 19-incher.

State To Supply 1050 For Draft

Col. Henry C. Stanwood, Selective Service Director for Maryland, estimated this week the State will have to supply about 1050 men in the November draft call.

The Army wants 70,000 more men inducted that month.

Col. Stanwood figured, however, that Maryland's share will run about 1½% of the nationwide quota, as it has on previous calls and during the operation of the draft during the last war.

Maryland now is in the process of providing about 1500 men for induction this month and next month.

STONE PROPERTY SOLD

Mr. Aaron Adams has purchased the property on West Main St., formerly owned by the late Dr. Stone, from the Mrs. George Riggs' estate. Mr. Adams has conducted a barber shop in the building for the past 23 years. Consideration was not announced.

REGISTERING HERE HEAVILY DEMOCRATIC

Election officials estimate that more than 2000 names were placed on the registration books Tuesday in the last pre-primary registration of voters in Frederick County. The estimate was based on scattered reports from the county districts.

Indications were that registration was heavier in some of the rural districts than in Frederick.

The three Emmitsburg precincts added 274 names to the books in probably the heaviest registration of the day. In Urbana No. 1, the registration was almost as heavy as in Emmitsburg No. 2. A total of 120 registered in Urbana No. 1.

In at least one of the 67 precinct registration places some eligible voters failed to get names on the books. The Woodville District registration officials depleted their supply of registration blanks and about a dozen registrants waited until the 10 p. m. closing without getting their names on the books.

Indications were that some action will be taken to permit those who applied for registration as provided by law to register.

The supervisors provided each precinct with 50 registration blanks and in many precincts new supplies had to be rushed early. At Urbana and Emmitsburg the call for fresh supplies came by noon time.

Officials estimate that approximately a fifth of those eligible to register and whose names were not on the lists prior to Tuesday, actually registered Wednesday.

In some sections of the county an apathy toward pending primary contests is evident while in others the registration figures indicate unusual activity and interest in pending primary contests, it was pointed out.

Figures available from Frederick and rural precincts Tuesday night showed 571 Democrats and 280 Republicans added to the lists.

GERTRUDE R. CONNOLLY

Gertrude Ryan Connolly, public relations consultant and former newspaper writer, died last Friday at Church Home and Hospital, Baltimore, after a brief illness. She would have been 50 next month.

She had been active until six days before in her own public relations firm and at the women's division of the Lane-Tawes-Hammond campaign headquarters in the current political campaign.

Mrs. Connolly was a native of Emmitsburg and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Ryan. Her father, now dead, was a professor at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

She joined the staff of the Baltimore News in 1921 after graduating from St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg. She later worked on the Baltimore Post and the Sun.

A recent diner at Crouse's, on the Square, was Senator Edward A. Martin and his chauffeur. The legislator was en route to Washington from his home in Washington, Pa.

Soldier Called

Another Emmitsburgian was called to the colors this week when David B. Wantz, son of Mrs. Harry Wantz, was ordered to Fort Knox, Ken., next Wednesday. Wantz has had previous service on foreign soil and enters the armed forces as a private first class.

Longer Life Span
Since 1900, 18 years have been added to the expected life span at birth in the United States. Since 1850, the gain has been nearly 30 years. In 1948, the expectation of life at birth was 67.2 years—in 1900 it was 49.2 years.

SEIFERD—SHINDLEDECKER
About 125 guests gathered in Wesley Chapel, Fountaldale, Pa., for the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Dorothy Jean Shindledecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shindledecker, Fairfield, Route 1, Pa., to George Calvin Seiferd, son of Mrs. Harry Seiferd of Fairfield, and the late Mr. Seiferd last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.
The wedding ceremony of the Methodist Church was read by Rev. Roy Bower before an empankment of white gladioli, ferns, palms and candelabra.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception in the social hall of the church.
Mrs. Stanley Dingle, Charman, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor.
Mr. and Mrs. Seiferd left for a wedding trip through the western states. When they return in two weeks, they will reside at the bridegroom's home for the present.
The bride is a graduate of the Washington Twp. High School, class of '49 and is employed by the Fairfield Shoe Co. The bridegroom, who attended the Fairfield High School, is also an employe of the Fairfield Shoe Co.

No Opposition

The deadline for filling vacancies on the respective party tickets passed Tuesday midnight and it is now official that three Frederick County office holders will have no opposition at the coming primary or general election.

They are Clerk of the Circuit Court Ellis C. Wachter and Register of Wills Harry D. Radcliff, Republicans, and County Treasurer James H. Falk, Democrat.

No one filed for the office against this trio by the time the deadline was reached Aug. 1, but the central committees of the political parties had until Tuesday night at midnight to fill vacancies on the tickets. The time passed without either party offering opposition candidates to the three incumbents.

The new terms will be the fourth four-year terms for Clerk Wachter and County Treasurer Falk and the second four-year term for Register of Wills Radcliff.

Mr. Wachter was appointed by the Court in 1936 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Clerk of the Court Eli G. Haugh and was elected for the first time in 1938. Mr. Radcliff served as a deputy in the Register of Wills office for several terms prior to his election.

The fact that there was no opposition to the candidates is considered in many quarters as a tribute to the most efficient manner in which their offices are operated.

HEALTH COLUMN

Hay Fever
Hay fever, an affliction of some 2.5 million Americans, is caused by an allergy or sensitivity to pollen. Its victims are easy to spot—with their inflamed and running eyes, "stuffed up" noses, and sudden and sometimes prolonged paroxysms of sneezing. Even victims of mild cases of hay fever are as miserable as they look. Hay fever in a mild form is not a serious illness, although it may cause great discomfort and cut down on the sufferer's sleep and his appetite. Severe hay fever, allowed to go untreated, can lead to asthma, a chronic obstruction of the bronchial tubes which produces a hard cough and difficult breathing.

Hay fever in the spring and summer is due to pollen in the air which comes from trees, grasses, and weeds. The hay fever prevalent from about the middle of August until the first frost is usually caused by ragweed pollen.

Anyone who suspects he has or is getting hay fever should see his doctor. While there is no specific cure for hay fever, there are treatments which will make the sufferer more comfortable and help him ward off asthma and other respiratory illnesses to which his hay fever might have made him susceptible.

The doctor will make a thorough study to find out what kind of pollen is causing the trouble. Once it is known, he can advise the victim on avoiding it. He may also give injections of pollen extract to help the person build up resistance to it. These injections, called "desensitization treatments," are usually most helpful if given before the attack of hay fever.

There are drugs on the market which sometimes relieve hay fever, but they should be used only with the advice and supervision of the doctor, since they can cause painful and, perhaps, harmful reactions.

The person who has hay fever should build up his resistance to all respiratory infections and consult his doctor, who will prescribe measures for his relief and help him avoid further irritation and infection. While there is no definite proof that allergies, including hay fever, have an emotional or psychological origin, the hay fever sufferer should avoid all emotional stress, since it tends to worsen the condition.

Many communities are trying to stamp out the offending ragweed by spraying it with chemicals or cutting it down and burning it. Best results are obtained when weeds are destroyed, over a large area, before the seeds mature and are carried about by the wind.

Game Service Issues New Regulations

The Fish & Wildlife Service announces the new regulations affecting wild ducks, geese, rail, doves and woodcock for 1950 have been signed by the President, and there will be little change, so far as Maryland is concerned in the open seasons, limits, etc., from those of last year.

The waterfowl season will remain 40 days as last year, but it will open Nov. 27 and run through Jan. 5, 1951.

The rail bird season will be the same as last year, in conformity with State and Federal laws, opening Sept. 1 and running through Oct. 20.

Mourning doves will be open during the entire month of September.

Woodcock open season will be Nov. 15, the same opening as the State upland game season, and run for a period of 30 days, up to and including Dec. 14.

The open season on waterfowl starts at noon on the first day, and on other days of the open season it will be one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset. Mourning doves may not be shot until noon, EST, on each day of the open season to sunset. Rail and woodcock hours will be half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The daily limits will be the same as last year, namely, four ducks a day, two Canada geese, three blue geese, 25 Sora, and in addition, 15 rails of all other species and gallinules; 25 mergansers (except hooded mergansers); 15 coots; four woodcock and 10 mourning doves.

The possession limits are the same as the daily limits excepting a hunter can possess eight ducks, and eight woodcock, which is double the daily limit. There is no possession limit on mergansers after the opening day.

SHORT STORY
A Misunderstanding

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"I'LL NEVER FORGET the spectacle of Joe Abbott and Count Obeid fighting. Thinking of it, I am more apt to shudder than smile. Though it certainly had amusing aspects.

You see, Joe is an American. And he wasn't used to the way they did things in Luandia.

Any way, when Joe and I stopped off at Cabindas on our world cruise, we were much pleased with the place.

That night we had dinner at the Plaza and it was there that we first saw Kandace. She was sitting alone in a booth, and when she caught Joe staring at her boldly, she nodded and smiled at him.

Instinctively I knew, when I saw the tall dark man come through the door, that Joe was in for trouble. And I was right. The tall dark man strode toward the booth and there was something about him that caused my blood to creep. I stood up, but was by no means quick enough. The stranger had grasped Joe by the coat front, jerked him to his feet and slapped his face.

Joe was hauling back for a haymaker when my arms closed about him.

After a while a messenger came in and handed me a note. I read it and looked sourly at Joe. "Now you've done it. That was Count Obeid and that was his girl you insulted."

"Insulted?" said Joe. "And he wants to fight a duel with you. He realizes our boat sails first thing in the morning, so in order to accommodate us he'll await our pleasure at dawn. He will do you the honor of permitting you to choose your own weapons."

Joe shook his head and tried to grasp it. "That punk—the dope who smacked my jaw—wants to fight a duel? You mean like they do in Sabatini's books?" "And I can choose my own weapons," Joe went on. He stood up. "Come on."

I followed him, not quite daring to use force in stopping him again, yet ready for any emergency. We went back to the Plaza. The count and his girl were, of course, gone. Joe made inquiries, wrote down an address and beckoned me to follow. A taxi deposited us before a pretentious looking house of white adobe. A servant admitted us and presently Count Obeid appeared.

"You're giving me the honor of choosing my own weapons," said Joe. "I'll take these," and he knotted up his fists and held them under the count's nose.

"Those!" said the amazed count. "Yeah," said Joe, "and on your honor as a gentleman you can't refuse. Also, why wait till dawn?"

WHAT followed was pitiful. We trooped into the back yard. Joe and the count took off their coats and squared off. Grinning, Joe stepped in and delivered a quick one-two on the nobleman's chin. Blood appeared on his mouth. He swung wildly. Joe set him back on his heels. The count came in again and Joe knocked him down. He got up and came back for more.

"Listen, old horse," he said, "you're as dumb about the customs back in America as I am about them over here. Only I didn't have the guts to fight you your own way—and you, well, by gosh, they are danged few Americans can take it the way you have. And right here and now I rise to remark you have my apology, and I'll tell that dame so, too, if you'll tell me where she lives."

Bond Issue May Save Timonium

For several generations the Maryland State Fair has been operating at Timonium and has made valuable contributions to the development of Maryland as an important agricultural state.

Over a period of about 20 years control of this important project has been in the hands of the Maryland Jockey Club. There is general agreement that it has done an outstanding job of developing the State Fair in interest and importance. During the entire period, it has been carried on as a non-profit operation.

Now the Maryland Jockey Club is in need of the money it has invested in the Timonium Fair Grounds to help pay for necessary rebuilding of the Pimlico race track.

Substantial offers for the Timonium fair grounds were made by companies who sought to develop it for manufacturing purposes. This created an emergency for agricultural interests of Maryland and a "Save Timonium" committee was quickly formed.

The committee determined upon a plan of action and called a general meeting of citizens in the area. At this meeting, 126 friends of agriculture, realizing the importance of continuing Timonium in the interest of farm and livestock activities, subscribed to bonds and stock in the amount of $200,000. The committee also arranged for interim bank loans in the amount of $300,000 to complete the transaction.

In this connection Chairman William Schluderberg said, "Obviously, the continued operation of the state fair at Timonium to the greatest benefit of the greatest number of Marylanders can best be accomplished by having ownership and operation 100% in the hands of people who realize its importance to Maryland agriculture."

"To this end we are calling on farmers and livestock producers, those who sell farm equipment and supplies, merchants who get their business from farm families and other friends of agriculture, to come forward and buy bonds and stock. The bonds are in $500 denominations, and they are interest bearing at the rate of 5%. Each bond carries with it the privilege of buying one share of stock at $5. Sale of bonds and stock is limited to residents of Maryland."

"Friends of Maryland agriculture must make certain that the ownership and operation of Timonium Fair remain in their hands. It must never again be in jeopardy of being converted to other uses."

Interested parties may obtain subscription blanks at all Maryland banks or may secure them by writing the Subscription Desk, Maryland State Fair, Timonium.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

"So that growers may make their production plans, the Secretary of Agriculture has announced that price support on the 1951 wheat crop will be at the same parity level as for the 1950 crop," Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee, said this week. The action was taken in accordance with legislation which directs that support for field crops be announced in advance of the planting season.

Mr. Blandford explained that support for the 1951 wheat crop will be at 90 per cent of parity but not less than a national average of $1.99 a bushel. This figure is based upon the latest parity price information available. If parity is higher at the beginning of the 1951-52 marketing year, the support will be increased.

While the mandatory price supports for the 1951 wheat crop could have been set as low as 80 per cent of parity, Mr. Blandford said that Secretary Brannan put the support at 90 per cent to assure an abundant supply of wheat in accordance with acreage allotments. With average yields, the national 1951 wheat allotment of 72.8 million acres would produce an estimated 1150 million bushels. This compares with an estimated 1950 crop of 996 million bushels.

In announcing the price support, Secretary Brannan stated that "in view of the world situation, it is imperative that our supply of bread grains be maintained in strong position. Ample supplies will be a major factor in assuring reasonable food prices to consumers and our ability to meet our international food obligations. We believe that wheat production and price support programs have been developed to protect the interests of both producers and consumers."

"As in other years, price support in 1951 will be available to wheat growers through loans and purchase agreements. One change in the wheat program for 1951 is that no farm-storage payment will be made to the producer, and the Commodity Credit Corp. will not assume any warehouse charges, except the receiving charges, accruing prior to maturity of the loans. This change places wheat on the same basis as other grains with respect to storage charges on loan commodities delivered to CCC."

Germination Important In Seed
Farmers using crimson clover under practices approved by County PMA Committee should look closely at the tag on seed to check up on its germination and purity, advises Mr. Blandford. If the germination of the seed is below 80 per cent that should be taken into consideration in determining the price paid for the seed. He advises also that germination should be taken into account when the seed is planted. The usual rates of sowing are based on seed with higher germination. Seed with low germination should be sown more thickly in order to have a good stand.

TV In Urban Homes
Nearly one-fifth of the nation's urban homes—or 18.4 per cent—now have television sets. This May, 1950, finding represents a rise of 5.3 per cent over the 13.1 per cent figure obtained in the February, 1950, study. Both were based on 10,000 home interviews.

Candidate Alien Promises Action On George Washington Memorial Parkway

Action on the George Washington Memorial Parkway, which has been in congressional laps for 20 years, was promised last week by W. Prescott Allen, Democratic candidate for the House of Representatives from the Maryland Sixth District.

Allen said that if elected one of his first steps would be to fight for additional appropriations for the Parkway.

The George Washington Parkway, authorized in 1930, is to cover both the Maryland and Virginia sides of the Potomac for about 15 miles north of Washington to Great Falls and 15 miles south to Ft. Washington and Mt. Vernon.

The National Capital Park and Planning Commission, Allen said, reports that the government is still engaged in purchasing land rights-of-way for the Parkway.

On the Maryland side in Montgomery County toward Great Falls about 75 per cent of the unimproved property bordering the proposed road has been purchased. No improved lots have been bought. On the Virginia side the government has purchased the rights-of-way for five of the 15 miles.

"For 20 years progress has been at a snail's pace. It's a paper road," he declared.

The Bethesda publisher explained that nothing has been done toward buying rights-of-way on the Maryland side from the District to Ft. Washington. This is through Prince Georges County.

"Because this section is beyond the limits of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, neither the Federal government nor the State of Maryland has done anything toward acquiring property for the Parkway.

"The only section of the Parkway which is an actuality is the Mt. Vernon Memorial Highway along the Virginia side to Mt. Vernon, but this was built as a separate project and then later incorporated into the George Washington project," Mr. Allen said.

Mr. Allen said he learned from officials at the National Capital Park and Planning Commission that $536,000 has been spent in Montgomery County in the past 20 years on buying rights-of-way.

The government has available another $180,000, which can be used if Maryland meets this figure.

"There are no up-to-date estimates on the cost to complete the purchases in Montgomery."

Allen Explained, "but it is believed to be another $360,000."

"I intend to work toward achieving this appropriation and to urge my State, Maryland, to contribute its share."

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosensteel, E. Main St., were Mr. and Mrs. William Rosensteel and sons, Phil and Jerry, Miss Cecelia Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sprankle and family and Mrs. Carl Arnheim, all of Baltimore; Mrs. Mary Claudia Rosensteel, Emmitsburg and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, Lantz, Md., and Mrs. Morris Hewitt, Frederick, and Mrs. Charles Keepers, Emmitsburg.

LOOKING AHEAD BY GEORGE S. BENSON President—Harding College Searcy, Arkansas

The Cost of Borrowing

If you ask a dirt farmer in Idaho what's the worst thing about being in debt he'll usually say, "Getting out of debt, of course." If you put the same question to the new GI home owner, he'll probably say, "The interest. It's killing me!" Those are two bad things about private debt. A rising public debt has other bad features: It creates inflation, stimulates boom and bust, courts national economic breakdown, smother's enterprise, and dries up human freedom.

Some of these latter effects of public debt are a little slower coming into clear vision, but there's nothing vague about the tax bill imposed upon all of us to pay the interest on our present towering Federal government debt. If every Federal government office in Washington and all those in the 48 states and our possessions were to be closed down tight tomorrow, abolishing every Federal job and stopping every dime of Federal expenditures, the individual and all the businesses and industries of America would still have to cough up as much in taxes—every year from now until eternity—as the total Federal tax bill paid in 1939 or 1940, just to take care of the interest on the Federal debt!

Debt Going Up

The Federal debt is approximately $258,000,000,000. That's about $7,000 for every family in America and about $4,500 for every employed person. In the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1950, the taxpayers paid $5,725,000,000 in interest on the debt. And not a penny was applied to reduce the principal. In 18 of the past 20 years, the debt has risen; the government has spent all tax revenue and then borrowed to spend more, increasing the debt each of these years.

The additional military expenditures totalling $10,000,000,000 and upwards annually and the other proposed state-of-war outlays may be expected to boost the operating deficit to about $10,000,000,000 a year in spite of the stiff increase in taxes—unless domestic-civilian spending is curtailed. On the schedule the administration now seems to have adopted, the Federal debt—barring big-scale war—will be approximately $300,000,000,000 by 1955, and the interest will be costing taxpayers at least $7,500,000,000 annually.

Billion Dollar Interest

The future consequences of this constantly rising debt are many and grave indeed. But merely an examination of the cost in interest on today's Federal debt should be sufficient to arouse the most indifferent taxpayer. But how much is $5,725,000,000 dollars? How can we measure such a huge interest payment? Let's try.

The first 14 presidents of the United States served a total of 76 years and the last of these, Abraham Lincoln, spent more than $3,000,000,000 during the Civil War. Yet, if every penny in taxes collected from the people and the States in those 76 years were taken to Washington today the total would not be sufficient to pay the interest on the national debt for the single year of '50.

Painful Facts If the 45,000,000 Americans who pay Federal income taxes were forced to pay $125 each tomorrow, the resulting fund would not be sufficient to pay the interest on the debt for a force of 10,000 laborers working 75,000 work days, or 320 years, at $1 an hour.

The interest on the Federal debt has become a real burden to American taxpayers. It is sapping our creativeness and our production. If the government could have kept the amount paid in interest on the debt in 1950, the money would have paid the full expense of all social welfare, health and security benefits, all of the assistance programs and price support payments for agriculture (including potatoes), and the entire general expenses of the Federal government which were $1,223,000,000. Permitting the debt to rise year after year is not only dangerous to our future economic security but is, to a painful degree, a needless waste of our energy and resources.

Five and three-quarter billion dollars a year is a terrible premium to pay to escape the reality of the moment. While necessary war expenditures must be made, there is still much room for economizing.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Sentiment at the grass roots level is crystallizing rapidly. A nationwide poll of independent business, just concluded by the National Federation of Independent Business, showed 74% against Senate Bill 1805 which would give government loans to non-profit groups for hospital and medical care plans.

While businessmen's opinion was based on fear this would be "backdoor" entry to socialized medicine, there was also strong opinion expressed that the country at this time cannot afford guns and social experiments, too.

These ballots are sent directly to Congress. On another issue businessmen voted 67% in favor of a proposal compelling manufacturers to identify with their own names all items they produce, either under their own brands, or some other brands.

Dealers who promote sales of nationally advertised brands feel it is unfair to have to compete with the same item, under a different name, sold at a lower price, to cut-rate retail outlets.

Recently we reported on the "Defense Production Act of 1950." This bill has provisions to insure independent manufacturers getting a fair share of defense contracts. But wording is vague.

Therefore, a new bill, the Sparkman-Patman Bill, has been introduced. This bill is specific. A board of five would be in charge of independent business production. Two of the members would have to have ten years of experience in small business, one Another Miracle Medicine A new wonder-drug named subtilin—which promises to clear up a "strep" throat in 10 minutes—was described recently to the Society of American Bacteriologists at their golden jubilee meeting in Baltimore recently. Subtilin, it was predicted, will do all the things penicillin can do, besides combating the tuberculosis germs, which penicillin cannot.

Killed By A Toothpick A coroner's jury found that Thomas Newman, 69-year-old Londoner, was killed by a toothpick. Newman swallowed the toothpick and it cut a blood vessel in his intestines, causing a fatal hemorrhage.

Disinfectants.
A disinfectant is an agent which kills or removes any organism which is capable of causing infection. Reliable producers of disinfectants print on their label the number of "Carbolic Acid Coefficients." This is the government approved and controlled chemical measure for the strength of a disinfectant.

To find out just what you get for your money when you buy a disinfectant, divide the price per gallon by the Carbolic Acid Coefficient. This tells exactly what each unit of germ killing power costs. This simple check proves the fact that many so called cheap disinfectants cost much more per unit than concentrated reliable products. A disinfectant should kill germs which may cause trouble among poultry.

There is no disinfectant which can work before most everything is cleaned. No disinfectant, no matter how strong one may use it, can kill germs in leftovers of droppings or other germ "hiding spots". A fine spray, such as often used, has little value, expect to deodorize. It does not get into cracks, and it dries too quickly in order to be effective.

Feeders and fountains should be removed and cleaned, and then soaked in containers such as barrels at least overnight. The washing out, and disinfecting of equipment in a hurry can not be relied on. If your equipment is absolutely clean, intense sunshine kills every reachable bad germ, however, the sunshine can not penetrate cracks successfully.

It's a good idea for every farm to have some fire-fighting equipment.

Parents. For her going away outfit, Mrs. Kessler wore a navy blue suit of faille with matching accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

York Fair Gets Under Way Tues., Sept. 12

One of the most ambitious entertainment programs ever arranged for fair patrons will feature the 98th annual York Interstate Fair opening Tuesday, Sept. 12 and continuing day and night through Saturday.

Nothing has been spared to make this year's edition of the nation's top-ranking industrial and agriculture exhibit the greatest ever assembled. Hundreds of exhibits, farm and produce displays, 4-H judging events will interest patrons of all ages.

As usual, there will be a full program of horse racing on the fastest half-mile track in the country with the best harness horses and sulky drivers competing for liberal purses. Running races every day, including Saturday. Tuesday will be children's day with school bands.

The grandstand vaudeville acts this year contain many outstanding features. The night revue will be Frank Wirth's new glamorous musical "Wake Up and Sing."

The gigantic gay half-mile long paved midway will be occupied this year by the James Strates shows and rides. For the first time prior to World War II there will be a brilliant display of fireworks in the infield of the race track on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Following the usual custom, special added feature attractions have been contracted to appear each day before the grandstand audience, namely: On Wednesday afternoon and night, popular Eddie Cantor, pioneer stage star, screen and radio; on Thursday afternoon and night, the Mills Bros. famed singing quartet will augment the grandstand program; on Friday afternoon and night, the unofficial diplomat of South American countries, Xavier Cugat in person with his Latin-American orchestra will appear on the grandstand program.

On Saturday afternoon and night, the climax of the grandstand attractions will be the original grand-daddy of all thrill shows, B. Ward Beam's World's Champion Daredevils . . . just one chill and thrill after another, with five times more "man killing" events than any other motor thrill show.

Miss Anna Rowe and Mrs. Juliet Rowe Carter and son, James, Jr., of Washington, D. C., were guests at the Misses Rowe, West Main St.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

Homemakers are increasingly recognizing ice cream as a significant food contribution to daily meals.

Proof of this lies in the statement that the present annual consumption is 28 pints per person compared to 19 pints in 1940, a jump of 47 per cent. This is based on the 1949 ice cream production total of nearly 600 million gallons.

Scientists say that one average serving of ice cream gives the consumer the same amount of calcium and high quality protein as one half glass of milk. This high food value is due to the fact that 80 per cent of the vanilla ice cream mix consists of milk and cream. The other 20 per cent is composed of sweetening and flavors. The nutritional products of milk and cream give ice cream significant amounts of protein, calcium, vitamin A and riboflavin, all essential, say scientists, for growth and for developing strong bones, sound teeth, good eyes, and robust health.

Ice cream, in sizable quantities, should be eaten by those persons low in milk consumption, says Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, Chicago, to be assured of the nutrients needed by the body in its growing and development stages.

Whatever Comes REDDY'S READY

Whether we are headed for war or peace—and we all pray it will be the latter—REDDY KILOWATT is ready to provide the electric service required for any purpose.

NEARLY TWICE AS MUCH POWER

There is almost twice as much dependable electric power available in this country today as there was in 1941 when we became involved in World War II. And many new plants are now under construction.

Your own electric company, right here in this area, has completed two large, new, power plant units in the last three years. This has increased the available supply of dependable electricity locally by 60%.

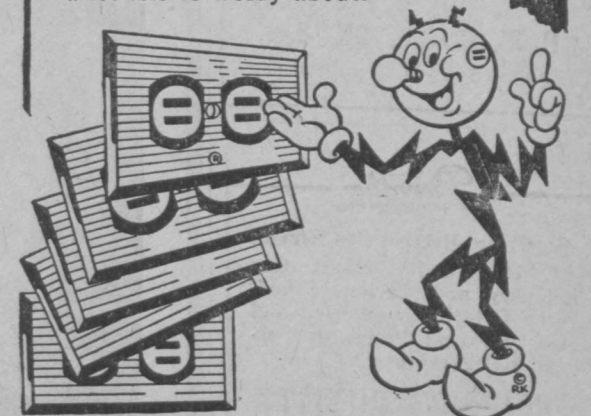

THE POWER SHORTAGE MYTH

At the beginning of World War II there was much publicity about a probable power shortage. Such a shortage never developed. Today, there is again talk of a possible power shortage in spite of the fact that so much more electricity is available.

"NEVER TOO LITTLE OR TOO LATE"

Those words are not ours. They were used by high government officials in praising the outstanding record of the electric companies in World War II. With so much more power available today the business managed, tax-paying electric companies sincerely believe, that what they have done before they can do again, if it becomes necessary.

All of which does not mean that a local or temporary power shortage can never develop due to unforeseen circumstances. It does mean that generally speaking the country is in good shape as far as electricity is concerned. If all of our defense needs were in equally good shape, America would have a lot less to worry about.

VOTE FOR LANE PERFORMANCE NOT PROMISES

The Attack

For some weeks, one of the most progressive Governors that Maryland has ever known has been subjected to an attack by the opposition who prefer to deal in innuendo, false statements, and ambiguities rather than face the facts. They have attempted to cloud issues by misrepresentations to the veterans, whose friend Governor Lane is, has been and always will be—by a superficial analysis of the State's tax program—and with a plan of their own which will sabotage the only effective road-building program this State has ever had. We now give you—

The Truth About

The Veteran and the Bonus-

Not less than 14 pieces of legislation favorable to the veterans were passed during the administration of Governor Lane. In line with his sound financial policy the Governor informed the legislature that he would sign the veteran's bonus bill if it provided specific means of financing its costs estimated to be in excess of $100,000,000. Specifically, he said, "My position was and is that if the General Assembly wishes to provide for a veteran's bonus subject to a referendum, and includes in the legislation provisions for the tax or taxes to raise the funds for its payment, I was and am perfectly willing to have the electorate vote on it. My insistence is that they know what it will cost and how the money is to be raised." This is his stand. The opposition is promising the veteran everything in order to gain votes with utter disregard of feasibility, plan or financing. Which is the sounder policy?

The Tax Program-

Taxes are higher in Maryland and also in all the other 48 States. But progress in Maryland is at its highest level. In four years Maryland has advanced its educational program from the bottom to the top-level—its road program from a dream of the past 20 years to an accomplished fact. Improvements cannot be made without expense. Sound economy calls for the payment of as much of the cost as possible when the bill is created. Wouldn't you handle your finances in this same sound manner?

Emmitsburg Taxes-

Those who criticize the State's tax program fail to tell you that a large portion of taxes paid at the State level are returned to the counties and towns and keep your local real estate taxes at their present low level. Figures of the State Comptroller's office show that local Emmitsburg tax rate would be 70c rather than 50c per hundred and your County tax $2.42 rather than $1.34 per hundred were it not for tax revenue returned by the State to your town and County.

Roads-

Governor Lane with an eye to the future of this State—your future—is constructing the type of road recommended by engineers with fore-sight. The opposition criticizes this program. They propose to build an inferior road at lesser cost—sufficient for the present but failing to meet the needs of the future. Any business man would conduct his business on the Lane plan. How do you want your State's business conducted? We now want to give you
