Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

The day of the goblins, witches and spirits has passed once again. Locally, we had a very nice small parade, compared to other towns of greater size . . . About 300 children and adults participated in the affair, which afforded much amusement for the town. I think we owe a vote of thanks to the committee in charge, Harold M. Hoke, John T. Garner and Greta Keilholtz, for their work in staging the parade. The American Legion also served notice that it is very much interested in civic affairs by sponsoring the event. Music for the occasion was furnished by four local volunteer musicians, all "old-timers", some of who haven't touched an instrument for 15 years. Even though the band was small (4 pieces) it served its purpose and was much appreciated by those watching the parade . . . Seems a shame that Emmitsburg can't support a real band of its own. We could have a lot more events for the benefit and amusement of this community if we had a band here that would cut down the costs of staging such events . . . One unpleasant event occurred during the parade when a youngster of about 13 threw a balloon filled with water at one of the members of the band, striking him in the eye and blackening the orb. Seems as though all the other 299 children appreciated the efforts of the band to help make the parade a success, except this one individual . . . These old-timers played free of charge, and it is just this type of ruffian that might spoil everything for next year.

While on the juvenile subject, another case of vandalism has been reported to me that another lad of about 14 seems to have dipped himself in hot water (and I bet a warm seat) by deliberately breaking tomb stones in various graveyards . . . and the night before Halloween. Most of the fun was confined to the usual pranks, such as loading up the Square, removing gates, benches, and back houses. I am told that Thurmont got its annual dose also, but not any worse than here.

BE SURE TO VOTE

Tuesday's the big day, ladies and gentlemen. I urge each and every registered voter to take advantage of this privilege. There are nine important referendums on the lengthy ballot that will be presented you on Election Day. They all merit your attention. One in particular I am interested in is the allowing of pari-mutuel betting in Frederick County. Now is your chance to pass this law, which will benefit your county immensely. As you perhaps know, the county in which the race track is situated, gets the lion's share of the taxes derived therefrom. Couldn't we all use better roads and schools and another hundred things in Frederick County? You bet we can. Those that don't like horses or betting can stay away from the track and let those that get a kick out of such things have their fun. It boils down to about the same thing as drinking. Let those that want to spend their money on things they believe they derive pleasure from do so. Those that don't want to drink don't have to. I urge you to vote for harness racing in Frederick County.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

A Sadie Hawkins dance will be held at the St. Joseph's High School auditorium Tuesday evening, Nov. 7. Music will be furnished by Gene Frock's Orchestra and prizes will be awarded. The public is invited.

Mrs. Bruce Smith is confined to her bed with an illness. Mrs. Smith resides with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Scott, near town.

DEMOCRATS SHOW 3,000 MAJORITY

The Democratic book majority in Frederick County remained at approximately 3000 following recent registrations and revisions, it was learned, when up-to-date figures were made available by the Board of Election Supervisors.

Reports from all 60 precincts show 14,141 affiliated as Democrats and 11,266 affiliated as Republicans, with 193 recorded as declined, independent, Prohibitionists, Socialists and Unionists. The figures show 84 declined, 101 independent, 3 Prohibitionists, 3 Socialists, and 2 Unionists.

Prior to pre-primary registrations, there were 13,714 Democrats; 10,669 Republicans, and 220 others.

The figures show a net gain of thirty for the Republicans, who have 457 more voters affiliated than prior to the primary. The net Democratic gain was 427 registrants. The totals show a 3015 Democratic edge as compared to 3045 majority prior to the primary.

Many transfers were granted last month and names of persons recently deceased removed. More than 7000 names were removed from the rolls this year for failure to vote in five years, as required by law.

Actually, there are 857 more names on the books than there were prior to the pre-primary registration.

The 3015 Democratic margin represents an 11.84 per cent edge in registration. On a percentage basis, the Democrats have 55.54 per cent of those affiliated and the Republicans 43.7 per cent.

More than half of the Democratic margin is in Frederick District precincts, representing almost one-third of the total number of registrants for the county. The nineteen Frederick District precincts have 5146 Democrats and 3545 Republicans, giving the Democrats a book margin of 1601.

Businessman Brutally Assaulted

Brutally beaten by two Fairfield, Pa., hoodlums, Charles A. Harner, local businessman, was taken last Thursday evening to the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, suffering from a brain concussion.

The ruffians forced a toy gun from an amusement machine and viciously beat Mr. Harner over the head, rendering him semi-conscious.

State Police are seeking the two men to face assault charges. First thought to have a fractured skull, Mr. Harner's injuries were described as a severe scalp laceration, brain concussion and severe bruises.

The men, 20 to 25 years of age, came into the bowling establishment about 7:15 o'clock last Thursday night and started to become disorderly when Mr. Harner cautioned them not to cause any trouble. He said there had apparently been previous bad feelings on the part of the young men toward the proprietor.

As Mr. Harner walked from behind a counter, he said, one of the men grabbed him and wrestled him to the floor. The other used the wooden stock to beat him over the head.

Several pin boys in the establishment hurried to the home of Trooper Bond to summon him while Roy Baker, who was in the establishment, attempted to go to the rescue of Mr. Harner. Baker's spectacles were broken, it was explained, and he was unable to see without them.

Trooper Bond said his investigation indicated that the two men had been drinking and probably came to the bowling alley with the intent to assault the owner. There was no attempt to rob the place, he said.

Mr. Harner was released from the hospital Wednesday and is recuperating very nicely from the fracas.

Mrs. C. C. Riffle of Motters, is reported much improved.

Emmitsburg C. of C. Well Represented At Frederick Meeting

Nineteen members of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce attended the Conference on National Affairs at Frederick last week. The Conference was held in the form of a dinner meeting at the Francis Scott Key Hotel. Good delegations from many communities of the State and neighboring states were also in attendance.

Three speakers from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce presented the urgent matter of good citizenship on the community level. E. H. Cherry of Atlanta, Ga., manager of the Southeastern division, presided at the banquet. He warned against the trends toward socialization and the increasing fabulous spending on the part of the Federal government, and pointed out the dangers involved therein. As an example, he cited the State of Maryland which in 1932 paid $23 1/2 million in Federal taxes. By 1948 that had been increased to $710 million, or 31 times.

Lawrence F. Lee, vice president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, pointed out the purpose of the U. S. Chamber as a connecting link between the government and business. It has a well staffed department in Washington on Governmental Affairs to secure the up-to-date facts for the information of businessmen as a means of a public opinion. He warned that the Government was following the English pattern of socialization, and that present trends could not be continued without a radical change in the form of Government as we have known it in America in the past. He warned further that this was probably our last chance to save the situation.

William Bird, a brilliant and fluent orator, and National Affairs Advisor to the Southeastern division of the U. S. Chamber, presented an eloquent appeal that each local Chamber of Commerce have a committee on National Affairs. That this committee team up with similar committees in each of the other 2300 Chambers of Commerce in America. To this end of preserving our form of government he set forth four objectives to aim at in each community:

- 1-To encourage each citizen to vote. Only 50% did so in the last election.
- 2-To become an informed citizen and get the facts which are available to all.
- 3-To disseminate information as widely as possible.
- 4-To elect with care our congressman and know what they stand for. And let them know your desires.

It is the plan of Mr. Bird to visit many Chambers of Commerce in this area during the next few weeks to talk over the matter of setting up local committees on National Affairs.

A joint meeting of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce and the Thurmont Lions Club will meet Friday, Nov. 10, in Thurmont High School. H. Lloyd Hoke, Thurmont Lions Club president, has announced the main speaker for the occasion will be William J. Bird, Atlanta, Ga., who has previously addressed the Frederick Chamber of Commerce on national affairs. The meeting is open to the general public.

Juveniles Are Released After Escapade

Two juvenile girls from the Thurmont community were released in the custody and care of their relatives following a hearing Monday in Juvenile Court with Judge Patrick Schnauffer presiding.

The girls were involved with two youths in breaking into two mountain cabins last week. Ernest Carbaugh, Jr., 18, Thurmont, is free under $500 bond to await action of the grand jury. Another youth, a juvenile, is free in custody of his parents awaiting action of the Juvenile Court.

One of the girls involved was released in the custody of her father and the other was placed in care of a brother.

Sportsmen to Maintain Shooting Range on Henry Hoke Farm

The Indian Lookout Sportsmen's Club of Emmitsburg met Monday night at the Fire Hall with Weldon Shank, president, presiding. Nineteen members were present.

A report from the recent shooting match showed that $50 was cleared and $2.50 from the refreshment stand. The club voted to hold another shooting match Sunday afternoon, Nov. 19. The match will include rifles and shotguns.

The club adopted the suggestion that a rifle range be established on the Henry Hoke property, between Emmitsburg and Fairfield and that a shoot be conducted in the near future. Members will be notified of the date and time.

Samuel Hays reported for the game stocking committee. An examination made by the game commission showed that there was good food for turkey and other game on the watershed, near Emmitsburg. It was expected that game would be liberated soon.

Lane, Tydings and Hartle Are Endorsed By Former Veterans Official

Gov. Wm. Preston Lane, Senator Millard E. Tydings, and Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle have received the endorsement of Charles B. Buscher, past department commander, Maryland VFW and a former VFW national council member. Mr. Buscher urges all veterans to go out and work and support each of these candidates—not only because they are candidates themselves, but for what they have already contributed and will contribute in the future to the county and State.

Mr. Buscher points out that Gov. Lane has done more in behalf of the veterans than any

Opposition To Condemnation Bill Is Registered

Need for additional means of ingress and egress at the Frederick High School property in Frederick is emphasized in a statement issued recently by former Alderman Jesse C. Shaver who calls attention to the voters to the referendum in the November election which permits a vote for or against the proposed extension of Carroll Parkway in Frederick City.

Mr. Shaver, a member of the last Board of Aldermen, consistently espoused the move to extend the street through the school property, maintaining that it would prove a desirable additional safety factor.

Pointing out that he "anticipates a movement" by the School Board to "sell the rural people against giving the City of Frederick the power" to carry out the proposal, Mr. Shaver said:

"The matter of the condemnation of a strip of swamp land on the northern boundary of the Frederick High School ground for a proposed street is to be one of the considerations Nov. 7. Perhaps more important than this proposed street is the need of another manner of entering and leaving the high school grounds for motorized traffic.

"For some unknown reason the rural people were denied any voice in what should have been one for them to have some voice in. Now, when the School Board needs the help of rural people they are going to ask the rural people through the school system to vote down a much needed avenue of traffic and park development project in the City of Frederick and one that actually can be of value to the school.

"I am reminded that the hope of this street extension and park development is somewhat of a hopeless thing. On the other hand, I can't convince myself that the people of the County can find any consistency in the disposition of Bill 87 and the appeal of the School Board in the matter of this street extension.

"More serious than the need of the extension of Carroll Parkway is the need of a second means of entering and leaving the high school grounds. This second means of egress and ingress would be provided at a small cost to the county if the City was permitted to continue Carroll Parkway along the creek bed of Carroll Creek."

Miss Sager Becomes Bride Of Edward Eugene Myers

Miss Loretta Ruth Sager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sager, of near Taneytown, and Edward Eugene Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Myers, E. Main St., were married last Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor of the bridegroom, Rev. Michael O'Brien, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The church and altars were decorated with fall flowers. The traditional wedding marches were played by the church organist, Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, and the soloist, Guy Baker Jr., sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" before the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, light fitted bodice, with a large bertha collar and a yoke of net forming a high neckline. Her long sleeves were pointed over the hand and she had a full skirt with a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of nylon net with lace edging fell from a halo of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white mums tied with a white satin ribbon. She wore three strands of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

300 Participate in American Legion Halloween Parade Here

The American Legion Halloween parade got off with a bang Tuesday night when an estimated 300 children and adults participated in the two-block long affair. Led by a local music unit, the parade formed in front of the Doughboy and at 6:30 and journeyed down Main St. to Broad Alley and circled around to St. Joseph's Church on DePaul St., where the judging took place.

First prize of $5 went to Nancy and Judy Valentine, dressed as cowgirl and cowboy; $2.50 second prize was awarded to Mrs. Treva Beegle and Mrs. Henry Charlton, costumed as Annie Oakley and Buffalo Bill; mystery prize of $5 was won by Kenneth Keilholtz, appearing as Frankenstein; the second of two mystery prizes went to Diane Shuff and Kathleen Wantz, dressed as Princess and Frankenstein.

Two Bills Affecting County To Be Voted On

Two county-wide referendums on controversial legislative bills may provide as much general interest at the voting Tuesday as there will be in the voting for the various candidates.

The referendums are in bills to permit pari-mutuel harness racing at the Frederick Fair Grounds and to allow Frederick City to condemn land for a street through the grounds of the Frederick High School.

There is opposition to both bills but at the moment it appears that there will be more of an organized effort to defeat the land condemnation measure than the pari-mutuel bill.

The latter bill would be in the form of an enabling act, its proponents explain. It would be only the first in a number of steps which would have to be taken before pari-mutuel betting would be possible, it is claimed.

The life members of the Frederick County Agricultural Society, at an annual meeting, approved the introduction of the legislation by a majority vote.

Although the bill itself does not say so, it is well understood and has been publicly stated that any pari-mutuel betting would not take place during the Frederick Fair but would be at a meet to be held at some other time during the year.

Actually the bill itself does no more than to remove Frederick from the counties in which trotting and pacing meets with pari-mutuel betting are prohibited. If the voters approve, the only counties remaining on the expected list will be Carroll, Dorchester, Montgomery, and Wicomico.

Should the vote be favorable, the second step to be taken probably would be for the life members of the agricultural society to determine whether they wanted to avail themselves of the enabling act, it is stated. The annual meeting is held in December this year and the question could come up at that time, although there is nothing to indicate that such action is contemplated.

Another step, assuming favorable action up to this time, would be an application to the State Racing Commission for certain harness racing dates. If such dates were available, it might then be necessary to again seek action by the life members on the expenditures that would be required to equip the property for pari-mutuel betting.

Under the law which applies to all harness racing meets in the State at which there is pari-mutuel betting, the racing commission must be paid for the use of the State four per cent on money wagered at all races and $25 a day license fee. Not more than 100 days harness racing is allowed in Maryland a year and not more than 20 days at any one track.

As provided by the law, the voter will mark an "x" "For Harness Racing" or "Against Harness Racing."

Girl Scouts Hold Party

The Girl Scouts of Emmitsburg troop enjoyed their Halloween party Monday evening held on the second floor of the VFW Home, Center Square. More than 15 members of the troop attended the affair from eight to 12 p. m.

Entertainment was furnished by "Magic by Callan," and other games including the fun house and "duck for the apple."

The regular meeting will be scheduled at a later date this month because it falls on the night of the Sadie Hawkins dance at St. Joseph's High School.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beegle and son, John, and Mrs. Minnie Bream visited in Bedford last Sunday with Dr. Beegle's mother, Mrs. Virgil Beegle. Frank Stinson spent several days over the week-end with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gillelan, Baltimore.

200 Attend Democratic Rally

About 200 enthused Democrats met Tuesday night at the White House Inn in a rally sponsored by the local Democratic Party. Several candidates for office attended and addressed the gathering. A Baltimore orchestra, Sol's Musical Bars, furnished music for the occasion.

SMASH THE REDS AT HOME!

American men and boys are giving their lives in Korea fighting Communists. We of Maryland can back them up by smashing the Reds on our own shores.

The Subversive Activities Act of 1949, popularly called the Ober Law, which safeguards our government and our basic freedoms, comes before voters on Tuesday, November 7, to be retained or rejected.

The Ober Law simply forbids any ACT, or the advocacy or teaching of such an ACT, which seeks to overthrow the Government of the United States or the State of Maryland by revolution, force or violence.

A vicious Communist propaganda campaign, striving to confuse voters, makes a great number of false charges against the Ober Law.

There is no "witch-hunting," no "thought control," no "gestapo" possible under the Ober Law, as charged by the Communists, fellow travelers and misguided liberals. Read the law and you will see for yourself that such charges are false. The Ober Law does not restrict free speech, free press or right of assembly. It does not interfere with teachers nor discriminate against religious, racial, social or labor groups. No oath is required, only the signing of a statement—the same kind of a document everyone signs when making an income tax return.

Communists and their followers are putting forth every effort against the Ober Law because, if they sign the loyalty statement and are later found to be subversive, they are open to prosecution on a charge of perjury under our criminal laws.

Shallow thinkers, who prate that they hate Communists, actually stand together with the Communists. They urge that LATER we can do something about the Commies. Shall we expend these vital hours quibbling, while we dilly-dally away our freedom? Stop the Reds on our own shores NOW!

VOTE . . . FOR THE OBER LAW!

Historic Pimlico Geared for 13-Day Meet Starting Today

Fall racing in Maryland switches to Pimlico, Baltimore, today. Heading the opening feature will be the running of the Pimlico Special, winner-take-all event. The 13-day meet will continue to Nov. 17, after which the thoroughbreds go to Bowie.

Laurel Track Sold
The Maryland Jockey Club disclosed this week the sale of its controlling interest in Laurel race track to Morris Schapiro, Baltimore scrap metal dealer and real estate man. Mr. Schapiro already was a stockholder in the organization. The Jockey Club interest totaled 68 per cent of the stock.

The sale of 6710 shares of Maryland State Fair stock was said to be in the best interest of racing.

Plans for renovating Pimlico already have been drawn and the club previously has indicated it was willing to sell Laurel to help finance the improvements.

Shorb Sentenced For Theft Of Two Cars

A young resident of near Thurmont who has spent most of the past decade in prison because he likes to steal automobiles and drive them was sent back to the House of Correction for another year by Magistrate William J. Stoner at Thurmont last Friday.

David Francis Shorb 24 of Rt. 2 pleaded guilty to two charges of unauthorized use of motor vehicles taken from parking places in Thurmont in October.

Reminding the defendant that peoples' cars are not safe in the Thurmont area as long as he is at liberty Magistrate Stoner imposed one-year sentences on each charge and directed that the sentences run concurrently.

Shorb admitted the theft of the car of Leonard D. Lewis, Thurmont, on Oct. 7, and the theft of the automobile of William Matthews, Rt. 2, Thurmont, last Saturday night.

Shorb was arrested early Tuesday morning at his home when Troopers Bond and H. J. Brown and Deputy Sheriff R. Paul Burman surrounded the place. Shorb has a reputation for evading the officers when they are looking for him as well as his penchant for using other peoples' cars.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

Most nearby grains were steady to higher on the Baltimore market last week. Sharp advances over the previous week were registered in soybeans. Yellows up nine cents, blacks up 15 cents. Wheat returns to farmers were steady to higher with the average price up three cents over a week ago. Western oats were also up three cents per bushel. Shelled corn and barley were steady but cob corn declined sharply down 22 cents compared with the previous week.

National Grain Market

Wheat and oilseed markets strengthened materially during last week, while feed grains were unsettled, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicated. Some improvement in the demand for flour and the prospects of increased exports of wheat and flour when relief shipments began to Korea and Yugoslavia were strengthening influences in the wheat market and cash prices advanced six to eight cents per bushel in the Central West. Soybeans advanced 18 to 19 cents per bushel reflecting high prices in oil and mill. Corn was in plentiful supply despite the smaller crop and the market declined about two cents per bushel. Oats and grain sorghums advanced moderately while barley held unchanged. Rye was weakened but was influenced by high prices at Winnipeg.

Maryland Feed Market

The firmer undertone in the wholesale feed markets was reflected in the retail feed prices on the Baltimore market last week. For the first time in several weeks the aggregate price of the feeds quoted was higher than the week previous. The gain was $9.11. Greatest gain was made in soybean oil meal, up $2.16 per ton, with linseed oil meal and cottonseed oil meal also a little stronger. Brewers' dried grains and 17% dehydrated alfalfa meal made moderate gains. No significant declines registered.

During last week, Maryland broiler producers paid an average of $98.30 per ton for feed and received an average of 22.3 cents per pound for broilers. Based on this average retail cash price of 20% broiler mash on the Lower Eastern Shore, one pound live weight of broilers would buy 4.5 pounds of feed.

National Feed Market

Feed markets turned somewhat firmer during last week, following steady declines in recent weeks, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicated. Soybean meal advanced as much as $3.50 per ton at some markets. Cottonseed and linseed meals strengthened along with soybean meal. Bran was firm to slightly higher. Corn feeds weakened reflecting about $1 per ton drop in corn prices. Distillers' and brewers' dried grain made moderate gains while alfalfa meal prices held about unchanged from the previous week. The index number of wholesale feedstuff prices advanced 2 1/2 points, to 210.4, compared with 210.3 a year ago. The feed grain index dropped a little over two points to 203.8 which compares with 168.8 a year ago.

Whether you live on the farm or in the city, you are almost completely dependent upon the land for your food, clothing and shelter.

POULTRY POINTERS
by Your Dr. Salsbury's Deplan

A good time to check the facilities of our birds is when we start heating our home to stay comfortable. At above zero temperatures, well-feathered birds do not need heating after they have reached the age of six or eight weeks, as long as they have a good dry shelter and sufficient grain before roosting time.

Draft is an enemy of poultry, and only the strongest birds can resist it for a length of time without getting sick. The importance about checking your birds shelter is to make sure that all drafts may be prevented. After you checked your poultry house while the weather was mild, do not hesitate visiting your birds at the first day of rough weather. Spend some additional time with them, and decide if you yourself, would feel comfortable there. If you are afraid that you may catch a cold, then you should not think that your birds are much less susceptible than you are. Their blood is about seven degrees hotter than yours. Colds are easier to prevent than to cure. They are contagious, and if they do not kill many birds, they will reduce the egg production of layers, and lower the body weight of broilers—considerably.

Take roofing paper or any useful material which you may have on hand. Cover up all cracks and draft-causing spots, check also your roof for leaks. Should you detect stricken birds, take them out and dispose of them immediately. Disinfect your house, your feeders and water utensils. The latter ones ought to be disinfected while having a cold outbreak, at least twice daily. In spite of the fact there is no definite cure for colds, sodium sulfathiazole in the drinking water has proven satisfactory. It needs in Pennsylvania, a veterinarian's prescription. Sodium sulfathiazole is also available in powder form under the trade name Duatok, which feed dealers can sell ready mixed in feed. I would use mentioned drug only for larger flocks, because this medication's cost for small flocks may be higher than the damage of colds.

DIPHTHERIA

Diphtheria was at one time known as "the strangling disease" because it actually did take the lives of so many children, in its final stages, by making it impossible for them to breathe.

But the picture changed with the discovery, in the latter part of the 18th Century, of the germ which causes diphtheria and, shortly afterwards, the finding and development of the anti-toxin which could be used to control the disease. Diphtheria is more prevalent among children than adults. Children should be inoculated against diphtheria with diphtheria toxoid in their early years. As a result of inoculation, deaths among children who get the disease have been reduced to less than five per cent.

When the diphtheria germs invade and become active in a child's body, they begin producing a poison known as the toxin of diphtheria. This produces damage to the heart and other organs. An exudate forms in the throat making breathing difficult. It this exudate continues to develop, breathing becomes impossible, and "strangulation" literally takes place.

Diphtheria is a communicable disease, usually spread by direct contact from a person who has the disease to one who is well. The well child should be kept away from anyone who has diphtheria, for his own protection. But it is not always possible to know just who has diphtheria. People can carry the germs of diphtheria in their throats, and transmit them, without being ill themselves.

Most babies inherit a natural immunity to diphtheria from their mothers which lasts for the first few months of their lives. However, this immunity is grad-

Usually lost, and thus, all babies should be inoculated against diphtheria before they are a year old.

Even if diphtheria does develop, despite precautions, early diagnosis and prompt treatment will give the sick person a good chance of recovery without serious complications. The child who is getting a fever, complains of feeling sick and having a sore throat, and appears weak and lethargic, should be put to bed and the doctor called at once. These symptoms may mean diphtheria and, if the disease has taken hold, the doctor can give the child anti-toxin in sufficient amounts to check the disease and may save the child's life. Delay in the diagnosis and treatment of diphtheria is dangerous and frequently fatal.

It is important for the diphtheria patient to stay in bed for as long as the doctor thinks advisable. All infectious diseases may endanger a child's heart, but special precautions must be taken against heart involvement with the diphtheria victim.

Widows May Get Social Security Before Reaching 65

Many wives will no longer have to wait until their 65th birthday to become eligible for monthly insurance payments under Social Security.

V. B. Hollomon, manager of the Hagerstown Social Security office, calls attention to the provision in the new law for benefits of wives of retired workers who are now receiving old-age insurance payments. The wife of a present beneficiary who has under her care a child under 18 qualified for benefits may now have monthly payments herself.

In these cases, the wife's payments continue until the child under her care reaches 18 or is otherwise disqualified as a beneficiary, according to Mr. Hollomon.

He suggests that wives who believe they are entitled to benefits under this provision of the new Social Security law get in touch with the Hagerstown office, 74 W. Washington St.

A representative from the Hagerstown office is in Frederick every Thursday morning at the Maryland State Employment Offices.

Dr. and Mrs. Ira W. Beall, of Libertytown, visited in Emmitsburg last week.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

Babson Discusses Profit Sharing For Pensions.

Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 27. If an employee, are you looking for an adequate reward for your individual initiative? If an employer, do you want to increase employee cooperation and at the same time have an effective weapon against unwise welfare-isms? In either case, study profit sharing.

Why Profit Sharing? We read lots in our papers about what is wrong with management. Seldom, however, do we read about what is right with management, primarily because management remains so unvocational. Management has a great story if it would only tell it!

There are hundreds of companies across the country with profit sharing plans for wages. Their records indicate that companies with the profit-sharing philosophy generally do not have strikes. Rather, they are noted for their good morale, high production records and greater profits. Too often, however, they are protected by patents or "good-will" which give them a special advantage.

Small Business And Profit Sharing. With continually increasing wages the small business is especially vulnerable in hard times with the average pension plan. In general, pension plans are not flexible enough for the small business because management must continue to pay whether times are good or bad.

Uninterrupted production is especially important to the small business owner, and such an owner can well consider profit sharing for wages. This gives the employee one of the best incentives to produce, because the employee can readily see that greater production in the plant means more cash in his pay envelope as well as a good financial anchor in old age.

I, however, wish to especially recommend profit sharing for pension plans. Profit sharing offers small business one of the soundest ways possible to finance pensions. It takes much of the burden of the employer-paid-pension from the shoulders of the small businessman. He shares his profits only when the employee has helped create those profits through high production.

The plan would be to put all this profit-sharing money into a pension reserve to which the employer would add a certain proportion. But to make it a success each employee's pension would probably need be different, depending upon the individual's own productivity.

Successful Companies. Most profit-sharing plans are for wages only, are not dependent on the productivity of the workers, but depend mainly on the ability and generosity of the management. Lincoln Electric of Cleveland is one of the most generous profit-sharing companies.

Profit sharing is a real manifestation of the Golden Rule at work in business. If you are the owner of a small business casting about for ideas to increase your employee effi-

Goal of State Tuberculosis Association To Be Considerably Higher This Year

The Maryland Tuberculosis Assn. announced this week that the goal of its 1950 Christmas Seal Sale will be $342,000, an increase of $19,000 over that received during last's year campaign.

The Christmas Seal Sale will begin Nov. 20 and end on Christmas Day. The goal for the county affiliates of the Association will be $205,000 of the total goal.

In making the announcement of this year's quota, Mr. William H. Staub, president of the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn., pointed out the need for an expanded program of tuberculosis control. Mr. Staub said, "Many people think that we have licked tuberculosis in our country. Nothing could be farther from the truth. In 1949, over 40,000 Americans died from TB and over 900 of these were Marylanders.

"In order to eradicate tuberculosis and free our state community of its dangers, we must continue to fight TB at every opportunity. The State Health officials are doing all in their power to control this disease, but this problem is one that needs the attention of every citizen. When you purchase Christmas Seals each year, you support the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn. and make possible its year-round anti-tuberculosis program."

ELECT GEN. HARTLE to CONGRESS! Our nation needs men of Major General Hartle's integrity, matured judgment and leadership, writes General Douglas MacArthur from far off Tokyo. "Your candidacy is good news," says the Supreme Commander of the U. N. forces in the Far East. "Our country needs men of such sound balance, wide experience and proven integrity at this critical period in our existence." Maj. General Russell P. Hartle From San Antonio, Texas, General Walter Krueger, another famed leader of World War II, writes: "We need men like you in war and peace and I wish you every success in the coming election." By Authority of David W. Byron, political agent.

Funds raised during the annual Christmas Seal Sale make possible a program of chest clinics and mass chest X-ray surveys throughout the State. Last year, several hundred thousand Marylanders received free chest X-rays in this way. One of the most important functions of the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn. is the dissemination of information about the cause, the prevention, and the treatment of tuberculosis. Christmas Seal funds are also used for medical research in tuberculosis. Rehabilitation service to tuberculosis patients is another part of the program of the Tuberculosis Assn.

Citing higher costs and an expanded program, Mr. Staub explained the goal increase for the 1950 campaign. "Last year, $323,000 was raised during the Seal Sale. During the year all costs have gone up and there is still need for an expanded program. Therefore, we are setting the 1950 goal at $342,000. We feel that the citizens of Maryland will recognize this need and give their support to this campaign."

Who'll Be Next?

What would you do if tomorrow the Federal government were to announce a plan through which it would become your boss, setting forth the new regulations and conditions under which you would henceforth work and the standard salary or wage all people in your occupation would be paid? You wouldn't like it. You'd no doubt protest in every way you could. Most adult Americans have observed and even had some direct contact with political management and political regimentation. Very few would want a political bureau or ward heeler to take over their occupation, business, or profession.

Of course, if I'm a plumber and you're a butcher and the politicians announce they are taking over the butchers and the livestock industry so we plumbers can have more meat to eat, and at little, if any, cost, that might be a horse of a different color—at first glance. Until I'd had time to think twice, it might get my favorable attention. The butchers wouldn't like it, but of course, they're outnumbered.

You're In Line

Upon thinking the thing through, I'd know the plan was a come-on for the Socialists: that after taking over the butchers and the livestock industry they'd have to take over the farmers and the feed mills because they're a part of the livestock industry; and the railroads and truck lines because they're necessary to transport both livestock and feedstuff; and the automobile manufacturers, boxcar and locomotive foundries because they make the vehicles of transportation; and the construction industry which builds the plants to house the box car and auto production lines and—oh! oh!—the plumbers! For who else would put pipes in those manufacturing plants to make them operate.

That's what is happening in England. There the Socialist-Labor Party used medicine instead of meat as the first persuasive come-on; though they also promised, as all Socialists do, "fair shares" of meat and bread and butter for everyone—without compensating effort. But the "fair shares" turned out to be hardly more than sustenance rations.

Results Warn Us

Before the English people had thought twice, the politicians and bureaucrats had taken over the profession of medicine and the physicians and hospitals for their compulsory health program which, they said, would not cost anybody much of anything. Then the Socialists went on from there. They're taking over the steel industry now because everything else they've socialized has, they point out, some direct or indirect dependence upon this basic metal. A great many English people still haven't thought twice. They continue to live in a miserable Socialist austerity, propped up by American dollars, blindly hoping for economic miracles.

In America, the political "medicine men" are proposing a compulsory health program which would socialize, or "nationalize" the American medical profession. Most Americans already have thought twice on this scheme and have refused to be taken in. But the entire leftwing press and a number of influential politicians and bureaucrats are keeping up a huge flow of propaganda for the something-for-nothing Federal medicine program.

Freedom Is At Stake

Our hypothetical butcher didn't want to become a pawn of the Socialists. Neither does the American doctor. The medical profession is fighting back. And in their fight every American citizen, young and old, has a stake—his individual freedom. If the Federal government, operating under no matter what "brand" of political philosophy, should take over the medical profession, it would be only a matter of time before every other business and profession—and every job—would fall within the grasp of the comparatively small group of "planners" who seek to become the ruling

Popular Orchestra Appearing at Mount

The Claude Thornhill band has been around for quite a few years yet Thornhill's distinctive piano styling and unique orchestrations are still the most original musical offerings among modern dance bands.

Thornhill, who brings his band to Mount Saint Mary's College on Nov. 4, 1950 has a set-up that includes five reeds, six brass and four rhythm paced by the leader's eloquent piano. Most unusual of all is the fact that, in the six brass, there is a French Horn. The horn, which is usually identified with symphonic orchestras, is being used to blend with the colorfully harmonious arrangements of the leader. Two vocalists round out the group.

Thornhill plays the piano with casual ease, his fingers gliding over the keys with an effortless grace that belies the difficulties of the arrangements. His piano is heard to telling effect in the beautiful theme of the Thornhill band, "Snowfall", which he composed, and on virtually all of the distinctive Claude Thornhill arrangements have made his band so outstanding.

So take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to enjoy dance music at its best by coming to the Memorial Gym at Mt. St. Mary's College in Emmitsburg, on November 4, 1950.

Nothing Sacred

Mrs. Judy Zaderman, 26, who arrived in New York from Poland about a month ago, hid $15,500 in her girdle, but a gunman gave her an expensive slenderizing treatment. The gunman, fully aware of feminine wiles, knew just where to look when he ordered Mrs. Zaderman to take off her dress and give him the money.

force in a Socialist America.

The medical profession has been slow realizing that its fight is not merely against socialized medicine, but rather against Socialism itself. It realizes that fact now. The public should not be so slow in recognizing that the ultimate objective of the compulsory medicine politicians is not merely socialized medicine, but rather the full socialization (and thus the destruction) of our great nation. We must keep our professions, our business and industries—our occupations—out of the hands of politicians.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FREDERICK COUNTY

Many persons, representing or favoring gambling interests in Frederick County, have asked what I would do about the gambling laws if I am elected State's Attorney. Here is my answer.

If I am elected State's Attorney, as long as a law is on the books I will do whatever I can to enforce that law. There is no other proper alternative for any State's Attorney.

It is the sworn duty of a State's Attorney to enforce the law as he finds it. He cannot give anyone permission to break the law. He cannot give implied permission by closing his eyes when the law is broken.

Whether an activity is right or wrong, aside from its illegality, is not a question for a State's Attorney to decide. When anything is illegal its permitted existence is very wrong. Respect for law is the very basis of our democracy, and no State's Attorney can permit any law to be treated with disdain.

Arguments in favor of changing any law should be made to the Legislature, not to a candidate for State's Attorney. A State's Attorney cannot and must not set himself up as a one-man super-legislature, changing laws as he sees fit or nullifying them by non-enforcement. All he can do, and what he must do, is take the law as it stands and do his best to see that it is enforced as it stands.

Some confusion seems to have developed in this County as to the things which a State's Attorney must do and must not do. It is high time that that confusion be cleared.

Less Punch

Civilian gasoline is losing some of its punch, but it will remain plentiful, a government spokesman declares. To meet the increasing demand for aviation gasoline for the Korean war and the rearmament effort, the petroleum industry has started diverting "allylates" and other high octane elements from civilian to military motor fuels.

Bushy Tail On Head
All eyes were on the Rev. L. S. Shires, guest preacher at the Victory Adventist Church, Monterey, Va., as he reached the climax of his sermon. Then there was a sudden patter up the aisle. It was a red fox squirrel. He leaped to the pulpit, stood a moment on the Bible, and then pounced on the minister's head.

A wild scramble terminated in a draw. The squirrel fell off and retired. But the services ended abruptly while members of the congregation administered first aid to Rev. Shires.

BETTER SCHOOLS

Right here in your county, Governor Lane has given you better schools and more teachers for your children. The teachers are getting higher salaries... so you're also getting the finest teachers in the country... right here, where you live. Here's proof of this improvement:

School construction made possible in Frederick County through the School Building Incentive Fund, the $20,000,000 State Grant, and the $50,000,000 Loan Fund includes: Doubs Col. Elementary, Libertytown Jr. High (addition), Brunswick Elementary, Middletown High.

More proof of this improvement: In 1947 Frederick County had 296 public school teachers; in 1950—352. State Aid for the same period increased from $429,777 to $991,382, annually.

THE LANE + DEMOCRATIC PUBLIC SCHOOL RECORD MEANS A BRIGHT FUTURE FOR YOUR CHILDREN!

"In 1947... the General Assembly and the Governor, with the support of the people of the State, took action that marked the greatest single progress in Maryland Public Education, with one exception, since the public schools were established in 1867."

DR. THOMAS G. PULLEN, JR.
(From "A Decade of Progress in Maryland Public Schools").

TO SHOW AT MAJESTIC THEATER, GETTYSBURG

One of the hardest tasks of T-man Burt Lancaster's life is arresting Counterfeiter Edmund Gwenn as lovely Dorothy McGuire looks on in a scene from the poignant Twentieth Century-Fox comedy "Mister 880," at the Majestic Theater Sunday and Monday. Gwenn plays a junk dealer who counterfeits $1 bills and leads Treasury agents on the longest, merriest chase in the history of the department.
