BY ABIGAIL

Many church-goers were given an unexpected and, I might add, unwelcome surprise last Sunday morning when they left St. Joseph's Catholic Church after the services. The surprise was in the form of a parking ticket for illegal parking on N. Seton Ave., directly in front of the church. What a way to begin your day off, eh? If I hadn't felt so sorry for the poor fellows I would have gotten quite a bang out of the crest-fallen faces when they first spotted that array of white tickets attached to the windshields of the cars. There must have been about 15 of the little deadly things distributed. Evidently, that double white line was completely overlooked in the general rush to get to church on time. Fate sure plays some peculiar tricks on us sometime, doesn't she? "It's almost enough to make a guy lose his religion," one of the unhappy recipients of the tickets laughingly told me. Nice that he could be so good natured about it, wasn't it?

The suckers are biting again, and brother I don't mean the ones with fins on them who live in the water. I mean the fishermen, themselves. Knowing that there are practically no fish in the native waters around here, come Spring, they're imbued with the ole Spring fever, plunk their money on the counter for their fishing license and find that the hopes that have been shattered year after year are suddenly resuscitated. They get up at the crack of dawn and for hours on end, cast aimlessly without a nibble. . . . Where they get the patience one can only guess. Heaven only knows they're mighty short of patience when it comes to more practical, worldly, domestic things. These same fishermen won't wait five minutes while the little woman applies the last touch to her makeup, but they won't begrudge a silly little sunfish or sucker hours of their precious time. . . . I wonder why. . . . Could it be that the mighty male feels he has already "hooked" the little woman, so now he will turn his time and attention to the little aqueous creatures who are playing hard to get. A battle of wits, survival of the fittest, or some such thing. . . . Could it be that big hunk of masculinity feels he is no longer the cock of the walk at home, the ruler of his household domain? Perhaps his wife has learned all his old tricks, he no longer can pull anything on her, so in his deflated indignance frame of mind he turns to the poor little innocent fish, to prove to himself that he can still out-wit and out smart someone.

Yep, I still think that fishing is a boost for a man's ego. . . . Imagine picking on a few helpless suckers. . . . If he really wants to test himself, let him go after trout. . . . The trout are pretty smart fellas. . . . I'll guarantee that the old man really gets a "run" for his money when he tries to lock fins with a trout. If you want my frank opinion, I think the trout would win out in the end.

Don't look now, but Easter's just around the corner. . . . one jump in front of Peter Cottontail who has come into his own again and once more is the center of attraction from Maine to Florida. Kiddies are all excited over the baskets and eggs they'll receive for Easter; mothers are all excited over what suit or dress they'll get for the glorious occasion, and fathers are all excited over how much the bills are going to be. Sure, 'n the ole boy's blood pressure is mounting from day to day. I reckon by the time the big Easter Day arrives, good ole pop will blow his top!

LEGION BACKS MOVE FOR IMPROVED RT. 15

The Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, joined the other clubs in this area and went on record as favoring the elimination of bad curves on Route 15. It will ask the State Roads Commission in a letter to have the hazardous road repaired and improve its condition.

The Post met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Post Home with more than 50 members present. Cmdr. William Topper presided.

In the absence of finance officer, Allen Bouey, Eugene Rodgers submitted the financial report.

As in the past the Legion will enter and sponsor a junior baseball team for boys in this area from 14 to 17 years of age. The team has a choice of entering either the Penn-Maryland League of the Junior American Legion League, which it was a member last year, Jack Rosensteel said. Most of the members felt they would rather see the Legion team join the Legion League.

The Post voted to make a donation of $25 to the Emmitsburg baseball club to help defray expenses of the team.

A report was given by Phil Sharpe on questionnaires pertaining to the insurance for all veterans of the post. A meeting of the committee was called by Mr. Sharpe immediately following the regular meeting.

Lumen Norris gave his report on the construction of a new honor roll. The Post voted to place all names of veterans on the plaque. A committee was named to start work on this immediately. On the committee are Everett Chrismer, Eugene Rodgers, and Richard Yoeman.

Eugene Rodgers, vice commander of Frederick County Area B, called on the membership committee, Francis Sanders, Louis Rosensteel and Andrew Shorb, along with each member of the Post, to cooperate with him in increasing the membership. The drive will continue through March.

The swings for the schools will soon be ready for placement, according to Everett Chrismer, who said all they now need is a coat of paint.

One new member, Willis E. Bierley, Fairfield, Pa., was accepted into the Post.

The Post sent cigars to William Shorb Sr., who is a patient at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa.

Following the business session, refreshments were served.

Ball Club Seeks Prizes For Party

President Edward Lingg, of the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn., has announced, following a meeting of directors Sunday, a drive for donations to be given as prizes for a card party that group will sponsor on April 5 in the Fire Hall. Farmers and local merchants will be solicited in the drive.

The president pointed out that expenses of fielding a ball team this year will be extraordinary heavy and a great deal depends upon the success of the card party. The directors will do the personal soliciting.

Several Locals Leave For Services

Twenty-eight registrants from the Frederick County Selective Service Boards left Wednesday by bus for Baltimore for induction in the armed service. It was the March induction call of the draft boards.

Thirteen were from Draft Board 46, which in general, embraces the county's rural areas and some towns.

It was understood that no other induction calls are pending at this time although it is not known when another call may be received.

BURGESS IS NEW COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. Forbes Burgess, 38, of Ridgefield, Conn., has been named health officer of Frederick County to succeed the late Dr. Carroll E. Easterday, the State Dept. of Health disclosed last week.

A spokesman for the department said Dr. Burgess would begin a period of training in public health work before assuming his new duties. The training period is expected to last two or three months.

Under the existing arrangements, Dr. Burgess will automatically become the Frederick City health officer as well as the county health officer. Dr. Easterday and his predecessor, Dr. E. C. Kefauver, served in both capacities.

The post of health officer has been vacant since Dr. Easterday's sudden death on Dec. 9.

The new health officer is a native of Washington, D. C., and attended George Washington University, from which he received his M.D. degree in 1940. He also attended Williams College for undergraduate work and interned at Garfield Memorial Hospital in Washington.

He entered the armed services in 1941 and served until 1945, since which time he has been engaged in private practice in Ridgefield.

84-Year-Old Note Found

A unique note was found this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, E. Main St., when the top trim on a stairway post came loose. The note, 84 years old, was of course written in longhand—there being no typewriters at that time. Quoting from the note: "This house was built in the year of Our Lord, 1867, finished on the first day of May. While building some malicious person of persons cut the front door, cut the frame in several places. Samuel Seabrooks, proprietor and Mason and Lansinger, carpenters." Had 'em in those days, too.

MRS. ARTHUR STARNER

Eleven hours after she was admitted to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., Mrs. Bertha Starner, Rt. 2, Emmitsburg, wife of Arthur N. Starner, died at 5 a. m. Monday. Mrs. Starner was taken ill at her home late Sunday afternoon and death was believed caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. She was 49 years of age.

Mrs. Starner had been in her usual health until stricken with the fatal illness. She was rushed from her home to the hospital in the VFW ambulance about six o'clock Sunday evening.

A daughter of Mrs. Rose Gerhart Shorb and the late George Shorb, Mrs. Starner is survived by her husband; one son, Arthur Starner Jr., Emmitsburg; four daughters, Mrs. Richard Heltibridge, Mrs. Glenn Gonder, Taneytown; Mrs. Anna Ecker, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Glenn Glass, Long Island, N. Y.; a granddaughter, and two brothers, William and Daniel Shorb, R.F.D. Fairfield, Pa.

Mrs. Starner was a member of Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, and of the American Legion Auxiliary, Gettysburg.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. from Elias Church in charge of Rev. Philip Bower. Interment in Keysville Cemetery. S. L. Allison, funeral director.

CAMELLO—DUNN

Samuel A. Camello, Newton, N. Y., and Mary L. Dunn, Hudson, N. Y., were married in a single ring ceremony by Rev. Philip Bower in Elias Ev. Lutheran Church last Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Albert Humerick, Altoona, Pa., visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly.

Miss Emma Jane Miller and Miss Ora Whitmore accompanied Mrs. Charles McNair to Frederick recently.

Community Fund Benefit Basketball Game Scheduled For Tuesday Night

The Community Fund's initial fund-raising event of 1951 will get under way Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock when the American Legion basketball team meets Camp Detrick of Frederick.

The affair, which will be in the form of a doubleheader basketball contest, will open with St. Joseph's High School opposing the Elmer Wolfe H. S. quintet from Union Bridge on the floor of the new Memorial Gym of Mt. St. Mary's College. Charles Clarke, official county referee, Thurmont, will officiate at what promises to be one of the best sports event of the year.

In its one year of existence, the Community Fund has firmly established itself on the local scene, reviewing numerous cases of hardship throughout the community and doling out necessary aid where necessary. On several occasions substantial donations of clothing, medical fees and food were provided for indigent families of the district. The Fund has asked for no outright donations and to date has raised all its monies by giving the public something for its support. Practically every meeting of the organization has seen one or several pleas for aid reviewed and many times has granted such assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Raybond Baumgardner and John Baumgardner, Rt. 2, Emmitsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boone of Taneytown, along with 70 other Farm Bureau members and friends made a trip to New York City last Friday through Sunday. The tour left Baltimore for New York City by way of the B&O and attended a number of radio and television shows and toured the city and dined at prominent places.

Miss Phyllis M. Bower, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Philip Bower is spending a short vacation visiting friends in Washington, D. C., and Raleigh, N. C. She is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Bair in Raleigh, her cousin, and the former Elizabeth Ann Lott of Gardner, Pa.

Emmitsburg Grange Calls Public Meeting Concerning Route 15

A meeting of all those interested in the modification of the Franklinville curve and other improvements to Route 15, has been called for Monday night, Mar. 12, by Edgar Enrich, chairman of the road committee of the Emmitsburg Grange. Mayor Saylor D. Weybright of Thurmont, has graciously consented to host the gathering in the new Fire Hall in Thurmont. Other meetings will be held here in Emmitsburg, if necessary. The local Grange, which is spearheading the drive for a better road, asks that all those organizations which have drawn up resolutions calling for the modification of the sharp curve and have appointed committees to effect such action, please attend this session. The meeting will get under way at 7:30 p. m. No less than half a dozen leading organizations of Emmitsburg, the latest being the American Legion Post, have joined in the movement and are receiving splendid cooperation from the Thurmont Lions, Town Council and Grange.

COL. FRAILEY APPOINTS RED CROSS WORKERS

The 1951 American Red Cross Fund campaign officially opened by President Truman last Tuesday night on a nation-wide radio and television hookup, was commenced in Emmitsburg on Saturday, Mar. 3, with Col. and Mrs. Thomas J. Frailey, recently appointed chairman and co-chairman, respectively, in charge. Local workers have been appointed, supplies, with explanatory literature distributed and solicitations began on Monday.

Inasmuch as the public is well informed of the work of the American Red Cross, notably in disaster relief, services to veterans and expanding armed forces, first-aid, social welfare, national blood program, nursing and safety services and training of volunteers for instructors in civilian defense, it is felt that when the solicitors call, the people of Emmitsburg and vicinity will respond generously to the appeal for funds. Chairman Frailey has also pointed out that the local quota has been increased from $240 in 1950 to $275 for 1951.

Solicitors now engaged in the work of the campaign locally are Miss Ann Codori, Mrs. George W. Green, Mrs. Helen Daugherty, Mrs. William A. Frailey, Guy Baker Jr., Miss Mary Louise Hardman, Mrs. Mary Sherwin, Miss Betty Hardman, Mrs. Harry T. McNair, Mrs. Leonard J. Sanders, and George Greco.

Mounties Take First Slot In Conference

Pete Caruso's Mt. St. Mary's basketball team finished its regular season last Saturday evening by defeating the Towson State Teachers' quintet, 67-59, at Towson.

The victory gave the Mountainers first place in the Mason-Dixon Conference with a 13-2 mark and an overall record for the season of 16-10. The Mounts now have a six-game winning streak.

As top-seeded team for the annual Mason-Dixon tournament which opened last night at Catholic University, Washington, D. C., the Mounts played American University as their initial opponent. The winner of that game will meet the survivor of Western Maryland-Hampden Sydney game in the semi-finals.

Legion Auxiliary Makes Donations

Members of the Francis X. Elder, American Legion, Auxiliary met in regular session Tuesday night at the Post Home. The president, Mrs. Margaret Brown, presided over the meeting at which 36 members attended.

Those who attended the Mar. 4 district meeting at Thurmont were Mrs. Margaret Brown, Mrs. Madeline Harner, Mrs. Agnes Yeoman, Mrs. Rosalie Bond, Mrs. Laura Rosensteel, Mrs. Ann Topper, Mrs. Ann Shorb, Miss Ruth Gillelan, Mrs. Mary Cinegram, and Charlotte Sanders.

A donation of $2.50 was made to the veterans transportation fund at vet hospitals. Other donations were $10 to the district project which is sponsoring Miss Shirley Kemp's nurse training at Frederick Memorial Hospital; $15 to the department project which is building an air-conditioned premature nursery on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and $5 to the Cancer Fund.

In a recent announcement concerning the deadline for members to acquire hospitalization insurance, the date of Mar. 1 was incorrect. The right date is set for May 1. Mrs. Laurence Orendorff's name was drawn for the door prize, but was absent.

Refreshments, featuring shrimp were served by a committee of Mrs. Madeline Harner, Mrs. Rosalie Bond, and Mrs. Agnes Yeoman, chairman.

Miss Ruth Gillelan returned to Baltimore with her brother, Joshua, where she will spend several days.

NURSES TRAIN FOR POSSIBLE BOMB ATTACK

Special instruction in nursing care for atomic bomb casualties will be made available to every graduate registered nurse in Frederick County under a plan developed by the State Dept. of Health in cooperation with civil defense authorities.

Classes will be held Mar. 12 and 14 to which invitations to register have been sent to 200 nurses enrolled in the medical services roster sponsored jointly by the health department and civil defense. However, officials stress the fact that classes are open to all qualified nurses and an appeal has been issued to those not registered to enroll by calling the health department at Frederick 2624 and to attend the classes.

Instruction will be in the form of two classes, of three hours each, combining lecture periods with films depicting atomic damage and techniques for treating victims. Nurses are being asked to return notification cards sent them by the health department Monday not later than Saturday, so classes may be set up effectively.

For the convenience of the nurses, four centers have been selected for the classes, in addition to Frederick Memorial Hospital where special instruction will be provided for staff members on a schedule integrated with the regular routine. However, a health department spokesman emphasized the flexibility of the program and said that a nurse may attend classes in any portion of the county if, for any reason, it is inconvenient for her to enroll in her own neighborhood.

The following schedule has been announced:

Frederick City YMCA auditorium, Mar. 12 and 14, 1 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m.

Middletown, Amvets Bldg., 7 to 10 p. m. only, Mar. 12 and 14.

Liberty, Church Hall, 7 to 10 p. m. only, Mar. 12 and 14.

Emmitsburg, American Legion Hall, 7 to 10 p. m. only, Mar. 12 and 14.

In scheduling classes it was thought residents of Thurmont and Graceham would join Emmitsburg nurses; Middletown would serve nurses from Brunswick, Myersville, Jefferson, Braddock, and Middletown; Liberty would be attended by those living in New Midway, Woodsboro, Walkersville, Unionville and Mt. Pleasant. However, all classes will be open to nurses who wish to attend, according to their own preference as expressed on the cards of notification which they will return this week to the health department.

Birthday Party

A party was held Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Claudia Rosensteel, 207 E. Main St., in honor of her seventy-fifth birthday.

Mrs. Rosensteel was the recipient of several large birthday cakes and many gifts and 75 cards. Those present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. William Rosensteel and sons, Phil and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sprankle and family, all of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosensteel, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rosensteel, Emmitsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Polly and family, Fairfield, Pa.; Mary Teresa, Margaret and Eddie Houck, Mr. Ralph McDonnell, Mrs. Joseph Krietz, Miss Doris Olinger, Mr. Bernard Peters, Prof. Richard Leonard and George Kallan and Mrs. Paul Ripper, Baltimore, and Ernie Rosensteel.

Music was furnished by Mr. William Rosensteel, Ralph McDonnell and Joseph Krietz and dancing was enjoyed by all.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beagle returned home this week from a three weeks' visit to Florida.

Thirty-two members and friends of the Emmitsburg Homemakers Club attended the National Flower Show Wednesday which was held at the Armory in Baltimore.

The Block Rosary was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Kugler Thursday night.

Record of Achievements Set By Utility

H. Randolph Maddox, president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Baltimore City, declared this week that "new records of achievement" were set by the company in 1950, but he emphasized that the present international situation and growing defense measures "will further add" to the problems the utility must meet in the year ahead.

Mr. Maddox noted in the company's annual report that for the fifth successive year the company has been faced with such major problems as high operating costs, unprecedented service demand, the need for tremendous expansion of the plant and obtaining the capital with which to finance this expansion.

The report stressed that the company made marked progress during the year in furnishing telephone service "that is not only fast, accurate, clear and dependable, but one that is also courteous, helpful and friendly." It stated that the total of 918.3 million calls placed by customers was over 52 million more than the year before and "clearly demonstrated the usefulness and high value of the service."

PTA Addressed By Physicist

The Emmitsburg High School P-TA held its February meeting last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium with a good attendance of both parents and teachers. Vice president Samuel Hays opened the meeting and presided in the absence of the president, George L. Wilhide.

A membership of 53 was reported. It was announced that the Frederick County P-TA council will hold its next meeting here Monday, Mar. 12. This meeting is not open to the public.

The president, however, appealed, to all five delegates and alternate delegates of the local P-TA to be present and act as hosts to the county delegates.

An attendance check for the banner resulted in a tie between the rooms of Miss Stull and Mrs. Scott.

Dr. John Richards, professor of physics at Mt. St. Mary's College, was introduced as the speaker and he presented a lecture on "The Atomic Bomb."

The activities committee, Mrs. Andrew R. Eyster, chairman, announced that a P-TA food sale will be held Saturday, Mar. 17, and a card party is scheduled for Thursday night, April 12. Miss Edna Stull was selected to be chairman of the food sale, and Mrs. Mary Hoke of the card party.

Retires After Long Service With Utility

William K. Carty, Thurmont, retired the first of March, after 29 years of service with the Potomac Edison Co.

First employed by the utility company in 1922, Mr. Carty was a member of the Frederick Railway Dept. until 1946 when he was transferred to the electric department.

During his company service period with the railway division, Mr. Carty held the positions of helper, shop carpenter, trainman, and shopman.

He is a member of the Potomac Edison Quarter Century Club—an honorary organization composed of employees who have been with the company 25 years or more. Mr. Carty also belongs to the Thurmont Lutheran Church and the Men's Bible Class.

Mr. Carty plans to spend much of his retirement time gardening and following the latest baseball results.

Lawrence Goulden, Baltimore, visited over the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Ida Goulden.

College Glee Club Entertains

At McSherrystown

The sisters and pupils of St. Joseph's Academy, McSherrystown, Pa., Sunday evening enjoyed a program rendered by the glee club of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, under the direction of the Rev. David W. Shaum.

The members of the glee club were accompanied to the Academy by the Rev. Peter A. Coad, moderator, and the Rev. J. Kennedy, prefect of discipline at Mt. St. Mary's.

The program included ecclesiastical and classical renditions as well as modern songs and Negro spirituals.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charlton, W. Main St., had as their weekend guest, Mrs. Charlton's mother, Mrs. H. A. Clothworthy of Baltimore.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, Rt. 1, Emmitsburg, last Saturday at Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa. Mrs. Paul Ripper of Baltimore, spent Sunday evening with her cousin, Mrs. Edna A. Tressler.

Hungry For Ham?

If you have a yen for a ham dinner you'll like this mouth-watering recipe for ham with orange sauce. It's simple to make and delightful to serve.

Take one large slice of ham 3-4 of an inch thick, cut into 4 serving pieces and press a few whole cloves into each cut of meat. The next step is to heat your pressure pan and brown the ham in 1 tablespoon of heated fat. Now add 1-2 cup of orange juice and 2 tablespoons of brown sugar, and then put in 1-2 cup of water. Four sweet potatoes, peeled and cut in halves, will add to the tastiness of the dish.

Cover the pressure pan after putting in the sweet potatoes and cook for 15 minutes at a 10-pound pressure. Allow the pressure to go down normally after cooking. Now to make the tasty sauce that goes with the dish—reheat liquid in the pan to boiling and add 1 tablespoon of cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoons of lemon juice or cold water and cook until clear, or about 1 minute. This luscious ham recipe serves 4 but you can enlarge it as you like.

Kitchen Tools Tips

Do you know a bride who's bewildered by the problem of what to buy in the way of good, useful kitchen tools for her new home or apartment? Homemakers with years of experience are themselves often stumped when it comes to how many and what kind of kitchen tools will prove most economical for her needs.

To help homemakers with this problem a new bulletin, Home and Garden Bulletin No. 3 has been prepared. It lists 43 essential kitchen tools, and gives information on their use and care in the home. Copies may be obtained from the Division of Information, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

ATTEND CAPPING SERVICES.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hawk on Wednesday evening attended the capping ceremonies of their daughter, Loretta, which marked the successful completion of the first six months as a student in the hospital training school of the Frederick Memorial Hospital.

The ceremony took place in the Georgianna Houck Simmons Nurses' Home. The class is composed of 14 students. A brief program was given followed by the reception and an open house.

ENTERS ARMY

Roger Adams, who received his physical examination four weeks ago, reported for active duty in the Army Wednesday. Roger has been associated with his father in the barber business since his graduation from the local high school several years ago.

A hardcooked egg, plain or stuffed, makes an admirable main dish for the lunch box. The filling may be varied with minced celery, mustard, chopped parsley, onion, or chili sauce.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

The Baltimore feed market was steady to higher during last week. Declines of over two per cent in brewers' dried grains ($1.82 per ton lower) and 50% meat scrap ($3 per ton lower) were offset by gains in other feeds. Standard bran advanced over three per cent on the Baltimore market, $2.50 per ton higher than the week's previous average price. Feeds showing advances of more than two per cent were standard middlings — $1.64 per ton higher, 17% dehydrated alfalfa meal—$2.25 per ton higher, and 32% dairy feed—$2.34 per ton higher.

During last week, Maryland broiler producers received an average of 28.1 cents per pound for broilers and had to pay an average of $107.56 per ton for feed. Based on this average retail cash price of 20% broiler mash on Lower Eastern Shore, one pound live weight of broilers would buy 5.2 pounds of feed.

Production of the principal grain by-product feeds and oil-seed meals continued large during last week and offerings from producers were plentiful, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicated. Distribution, however, was somewhat restricted by a shortage of boxcars, particularly at eastern milling centers. Demand from feeders, and other users was not urgent. Reflecting these conditions, prices held at around the previous week's level to eastern markets were relatively firmer than those in the central west. Wheat millfeeds were up 50 to 75 cents per ton higher. Hominy feed, alfalfa meal, and brewers' dried grains averaged slightly lower. The index number of wholesale feedstuff prices moved up about one point to 250.6 while feed grains dropped two points to 250.9.

The OPS announced a new temporary regulation effective Feb. 27 to be used by manufacturers and sellers of manufactured feeds in determining their ceiling prices. This supplementary regulation was needed to provide adjustments in ceiling prices for manufactured feeds that become necessary as the ingredients of these feeds are removed from general ceiling price regulations "listed commodities" and put under supplementary price orders. The supplementary regulation provides for adjustments in ceiling prices on manufactured feeds and are necessary to resolve certain problems created by supplement three of the general ceiling price regulations covering soybean meal and which will arise when regulations are issued establishing specific price ceilings for other ingredients used in manufacturing feeds.

Maryland Grain Markets
Baltimore grain markets weakened last week. No. 2 red winter garlicky wheat, No. 2 yellow shelled corn, and No. 2 black soybeans declined sharply about 4c per bushel. Yellow ear corn dropped about 5c per bushel on the market. No. 2 barley, No. 2 yellow soybeans and No. 2 western white oats declined about two cents per bushel.

National Grain Market
Grain markets dropped sharply last week, influenced by slackening in demand, according to reports to the Dept. of Agriculture. The reduced inquiry reflected improved prospects for winter wheat, more favorable news from Korea, and reduced takings by elevator interests because of their inability to move supplies as a result of the box car shortage. Wheat prices made the greatest decline and were eight to nine cents lower at the close of last week than a week earlier. Corn, oats, and grain sorghums dropped nearly as much as wheat. Soybeans declined about eight cents per bushel and were quoted at $3.32 per bushel for No. 2 yellow. Bids for March shipments were two cents per bushel less.

The PMA announced the discontinuance, effective Feb. 28, of its program of Government-guaranteed occupancy of newly constructed storage space. Discontinuance of this program was based on two considerations: An easing of the need for additional grain storage facilities and the fact that the Defense Production Act of 1950 provides for loans for expansion of productive capacity and the Internal Revenue Act of 1950 provides amortization for tax purposes over a 60-month period for certain qualified construction certified as necessary in the interest of National Defense.

Benefits of Social Security Explained

By ED. R. YOUNG

Hagerstown Social Security Office
In discussion of Old-age and Survivors' Insurance under Federal Social Security, you hear a lot about "currently" and "fully" insured. These are the two ways in which a worker may be insured. Since they are not the same, and since different kinds of Social Security payments are called for by each, I'm going to devote this article to them.

Currently Insured
A worker who is only currently insured does not yet have Old-age Insurance rights. In case of his death, however, his children under 18 may become entitled to monthly insurance payments. These will continue until they reach 18. If the children are being cared for by his widow (or divorced wife with a child in her care) and she was being supported by the worker, she too gets benefit payments during the minority of the child. In case of more than one child, her benefit payments continue until the youngest child is 18.

Employment Required
Roughly, one and a half years of work covered by Social Security during the last three years.

Under the amended law, benefits are payable to a dependent husband of a woman worker who died after Aug. 31, 1950, if she was both currently and fully insured.

Fully Insured
A worker who is fully insured when he becomes 65 has Old-age Insurance rights. If a worker is fully insured at the time of his death, his widow and children may get monthly insurance, as in the case of a currently insured person. In case the worker is fully insured, however, the widow's monthly insurance payments will not end permanently when the youngest child reaches 18. At age 65, such a widow, who has not remarried, may file an application for widow's benefits and her payments will be resumed. If the deceased worker left no widow or minor children, and if he is survived by parents who were dependent upon him, the parents may qualify for benefits if they have reached age 65. In such cases, the parents must file proof of dependency within two years after the insured worker's death.

Employment Required
The employe must have worked at least a year and half, or half the time since he became 21, or half the time since 1950. Anyone who has worked in a job covered by Social Security for 10 years is fully insured for the rest of his life.
Children who were not living with their father at the time of their mother's death may have monthly insurance benefits based on their mother's Social Security account. If the children were living with their father at the time of their mother's death, they may have monthly payments based on her Social Security account, but only if she were both currently and fully insured under the Social Security law. A dependent widower, also, is not entitled to benefits unless the deceased woman worker was both currently and fully insured.

Dr. Thorning Is Honored By South American Country

The Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Thorning, associate editor of "The American," and former professor at Mt. St. Mary's College, was one of five outstanding American citizens honored by Venezuela in an impressive ceremony at the Venezuelan embassy in Washington. He was invested with the insignia of the national decoration, the Order of Francisco De Miranda. The honor was conferred in the presence of a large number of outstanding governmental and social leaders by the Venezuelan ambassador to the United States, Dr. Antonio M. Araujo. Rev. Dr. Thorning is well known locally, having left many friends here during his association at the college.

CHARLES R. LANTZ

Charles R. Lantz, 57, Westminster, brother of Mrs. Lewis Kugler, Emmitsburg, died in the Westminster ambulance between 6 and 7 o'clock last Thursday evening en route to a Baltimore hospital. He had been stricken during the afternoon. The deceased was born in Frederick County, a son of the late Harvey and Mary (Winters) Lantz. He resided in the Westminster area for 30 years and was engaged in farming.

Surviving are two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Harry Haugh, Blue Ridge Summit; Mrs. Lewis Kugler, Emmitsburg; Herman G. Lantz and Leroy J. Lantz, both of Union Bridge.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at the S. L. Allison funeral home here, Rev. Philip Bower officiating. Interment was made in Mountain View Cemetery.

Support Of Easter Seal Sale Is Urged

"The Easter Seal drive which opened on Feb. 25 deserves the wholehearted support of Marylanders," according to a statement just issued by Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Dept. of Health. "Proceeds of the 1951 seal sale, like those of other years, will help finance efforts to help the handicapped to help themselves — by ministering to their physical needs, enabling them to earn a living and pointing the way toward the most satisfying life possible for each individual."

"The theme of this year's campaign is 'Lend A Hand—Crippled Children Need Your Help.' Last year $95,000 was received and the goal for 1951 is to raise $110,000 during the month preceding Easter."

"This larger sum is necessary to carry on the essential program of the Easter Seal Agency—the Maryland Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Society chapters in the counties and the Baltimore League for Crippled Children and Adults. The goal set is actually small in relation to the aims of these organizations and their desire to reach every handicapped person in need of assistance, objectives shared by this department's services for crippled children."

"The Easter Seal campaign is being conducted throughout the U. S. by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. A nation-wide publicity campaign has enlisted the cooperation of newspapers, magazines, cartoonists, motion picture stars and producers, radio and television stations, industrial plants, railroads and business firms."

"In Maryland preliminary plans include mailing seals to more than 300,000 homes. Those who do not receive them in the mail may obtain the colorful seals, depicting a crippled girl with outstretched hand, by sending their contributions to 'Crippled Children,' c-o local postmaster, and seals will be sent to them in return."

"It is confidently hoped that residents of Maryland will respond generously to this appeal to aid the handicapped boys and girls of our State. A contribution that can help these youngsters to achieve a new life is singularly appropriate in the spring of the year and at Easter. This fitting observance of the season should attract more participants each year."

Team Your China With Table Linens

One of the newest and most attractive ideas in tablesetting is the use of harmonizing accessories keyed to a general motif. Such matched table appointments are especially effective in formal settings, and a clever hostess can use them to create a stunning table for her dinner party. Shown here is such a teamed table setting, where all the details combine to produce an effect of matched elegance. The formal grace of the fine china—"Cretan" by Lenox—is echoed in a Palmer-Smith cloth of Irish linen, its design specifically inspired by this particular china. The Greek motif embroidered in non-tarnishable metal thread on the cloth follows the 24-k. gold pattern of the creamy translucent plates.

How to give a gopher a toothache

Lightning is a real hazard to buried cable in some areas. And so are those busy little fellows called gophers! To give better protection against all hazards, telephone engineers are building cable in a special way. First, a spiral wrapping of lead and heavy paper is placed over the original lead sheath. Next come several layers of steel tape. The various layers are flooded with asphalt, covered with jute, and flooded again with asphalt. This is enough to discourage even the most ambitious gopher!

When friends share . . .

Back in earlier days, "barn-raising" was the occasion for a "good time was had by all." Folks would gather at a neighbor's farm, and while the women prepared dinner, the men would help the farmer build his barn. Today, this friendly spirit of sharing pays off on the party lines. By keeping calls reasonably brief, and spaced out so that others may use the line in the intervals, telephone neighbors make possible better telephone service for all concerned.

Miles and miles of progress

Telephone pole lines constructed in the rural areas in Maryland in the last five years, if placed in a straight line, would reach 1,500 miles. More than 23,300 miles of open wire have been added. Also about 29,000 rural telephones have been added in Maryland to better serve this great state. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

Your Personal Health

Cerebral Palsy

Few people realize that there are some 200,000 children in the United States crippled or disabled in some degree by cerebral palsy, a condition brought about by injury to the brain.

The majority of brain injuries resulting in cerebral palsy happens before or during birth, or comes from faulty development of the brain cells. The failure of an infant to breathe immediately after birth, a condition known as "anoxia," can injure the brain and is frequently the cause of cerebral palsy.

At one time, people believed that most cases of cerebral palsy was caused by accidental but avoidable injuries to infants at the time of delivery. We now know that most factors are beyond the control of the obstetrician—for example, incomplete development during pregnancy, injuries during difficult labor, or the baby's delay in breathing for various reasons.

Cerebral palsy, the impairment or loss of control of the muscles, may be mild or severe, depending on the extent of the injury. In some children, just one part of the body, a leg or an arm, may be affected. In severe cases, there is lack of control over arms, legs, and speech, and sometimes sight and hearing are affected. The type and amount of disability depend on the area of the brain affected and the extent of the damage.

Years ago, it was believed that cerebral palsy meant that the victim was also feeble-minded. Today we know that mental deficiency does not necessarily go along with the physical disability. Tests have proved that the mental ability of about two-thirds of cerebral palsy children ranges from slight mental retardation to normal and occasionally superior intelligence. Many of the remaining one-third mentally retarded children can be taught and trained in special schools and institutions.

These days, parents of cerebral palsy children can be greatly encouraged by the strides medical science has taken recently in effective treatment of a child so handicapped. For with prompt treatment and modern methods of training, the majority of cerebral palsy children can grow up to be normal, healthy adults, able to earn their own living and capable of getting full enjoyment out of life.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Halfway Into Socialism

Five years ago the war-weary people of England voted to give control of their government and nation to the politicians who promised them the most welfare for the least effort. Today they are hungry, their homes are cold, and step by step their personal freedom is being taken away. Never in Britain's modern history has the future welfare of her people been so bleak. And yet the Socialist government continues to reach further and further with the deadening hand of State control.

As we examine conditions and events transpiring in Great Britain today, all of which expose the fundamental weakness of the so-called "Democratic" Socialist, the statement made two years ago by a nationally prominent American clergyman concerning the "strength" of England under Socialism may well be remembered. The statement was written for LOOK magazine. In it, the American church leader said Socialist England constituted the most powerful force in the world against Communism.

Dangerous Conclusion

This unfounded statement, though two years old, is important today. For there still are many people in America who have been led, like this church leader, to the dangerous conclusion that a "Democratic" Socialism such as England has experienced up to now is a workable compromise between Socialism and Capitalism. Events in England have begun to reveal, in a living experiment, what history has told us again and again—that no nation can remain half free and half enslaved.

Halfway into Socialism, but with considerable personal freedom still retained, the English people today are miserable. From every standpoint their nation is weak. But the Socialist planners know what's needed: more Socialism, more power, more government, and less individual freedom for the people. They have the blueprint for making the nation strong, in government power. It provides for the total Socialization of the nation. Step by step they are carrying it out. If they are permitted to fully implement their master plan, the English people will be as thoroughly enslaved as are the Russians, the Poles, the Czechoslovaks, the Yugoslavians. There is only one Socialism, though there are several stages in its growth. Karl Marx labeled the final stage "Communism." Stalin himself calls Russia's present stage "Socialism." Suspended Bankruptcy

The England of today is in a state of suspended bankruptcy. Hungry housewives with hungry children are beginning to rebel. The nation must either throw off the paralyzing yoke of Socialism or accept it in its full grown state. And the former eventuality seems only a remote possibility now, for it is becoming increasingly doubtful whether Socialism can be rooted out of England even if the people wished to be forever rid of it. The plan may have already gone too far to be turned back.

The government has just taken over the sprawling steel and iron industry, heart of the nation's economic life, and its control now reaches into the nation's vital commerce. Moreover, the last substantial holdings of private capital are swiftly being taxed out of existence; thus a return to private ownership of the multi-billion dollar steel industry—or any other major industry—couldn't be easily accomplished. Ruthless Leadership Needed

The English people don't have enough coal to keep warm this winter because the 1950 output under Socialism was 204 million tons, compared to 240.4 million tons per year under private ownership. The government-owned electric power industry cannot halfway meet the need; electricity is rationed. With people openly rebelling, because of scarcity of food and of money with which to buy it, the Food Ministry has just written off a $100 million loss on an experiment in peanut raising in South Africa. And now the vital steel industry falls into the hands of the Labor Socialist politicians. England's step by step Socialism continues on toward the stage at which absolute control of the lives of the people is approaching.

Alfred Edwards, former Labor-Socialist member of parliament, said in a Readers Digest article: "I am satisfied that the Communists in the union movement, acting through fellow travelers, have been responsible for rushing the Labor Party toward nationalization of steel. As we go deeper into nationalization we shall require more and more ruthless leadership." The English people voted themselves into this dangerous muddle; there are forces among us trying to lead the American people into the same quagmire. We must be on guard.

Examine Layers Closely For Lice

You should not set aside one particular time during the year to examine your birds for parasites. You should check them regularly—the year 'round—for lice, fleas, or other parasites that endanger birds' health and your poultry profits.

Yes, winter and summer alike, birds should be examined. Right now is a good time to look over your layers. If you have noticed signs of unthriftiness in your flock, it may well be the result of lice troubling your birds.

Lice Hurts Profits

Besides causing chickens discomfort and irritation, parasites are often responsible for reduced egg production or the poor development of birds being raised for meat poultry. When not controlled these tiny creatures can upset the health of an entire flock. That's why the problem of poultry parasites is not neglected by wise poultry raisers. And that's why you are urged to examine your chickens carefully for lice or other parasites. It is another safeguard poultry raisers can easily put into practice.

It isn't necessary to check all birds in your flock. Just pick a few at random and part the fluffy feathers beneath the wings, through the upper thigh, and around the head. If lice are present, you will find them readily.

Because lice on chickens frequently run into many hundreds of number, and numerous others are being hatched constantly, it is important to destroy them before they cause serious trouble.

Treatments Available

A convenient way to combat the lice problem is to use a good roost application in the laying house. These are available commercially and are well worth the few cents they cost you. The preparation can be spread on roosts in the evening. The rising fumes penetrate the feathers and kill the lice while birds roost.

Another popular method of killing lice is with louse powder. This method necessitates individual treatment of birds, but the results usually are good.

It's Uncle Sam Who Pays

Self-Employed Persons Now Will Benefit Under Amended Social Security Law

More than 1500 persons in Frederick County who work for themselves are getting insurance protection from Social Security as of Jan. 1, 1951, as a result of the Social Security law passed by Congress last August.

This was pointed out by Mr. W. S. King, manager of the Social Security Office in Hagerstown. "Independent business men should now have Social Security numbers of their own," Mr. King said. "Owners of business will now report their own earnings each year and will need a Social Security number for that reason."

For the first time, the manager explained, persons in business for themselves can acquire insurance protection from Social Security. This protection will be the same that the employe now has for himself and for his family.

Social Security pays off to retired working persons over 65 and to families of deceased workers. Of course, before any payments can be made, the person must have paid into Social Security for a certain period of time.

Self-employed persons will begin paying into Social Security for the taxable year of 1951. They will pay 2 1/2% of their net earnings at the same time they make their income tax returns. "These earnings will be credited to their personal accounts," Mr. King said, "and such will eventually entitle them and their families to the same insurance payments that workers now have."

Business persons who want additional information, or those who need Social Security cards, should write to or call the Social Security office located at 74 W. Washington St., Hagerstown.

The test of a good farmer is how much work he does during the next few months.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mar. 9—
We must start with the dictionary explanation of inflation. It is the name for a rise in prices due to demand exceeding production. Please keep this definition in mind as we follow through why a war causes prices to rise.

What About Taxes?
We complain about Federal taxes; but even these have a cheerful side, as 90 per cent of all such taxes are dependent upon profits — either on business profits or personal income from dividends, etc. In other words, unless the Government allows us profits, the Government would go broke. Hence, we can absolutely depend upon good profits during war time.

Next you ask: "But what will prevent the Government from raising these taxes to a much higher percentage of profits?" The answer is that when taxes increase above a certain point, the law of diminishing returns begins to work. If management is not allowed to increase wages and prices to offset any further tax increase, then production falls off and costs increase under our present "mass-production" system. Then more money must be raised by more taxes and the Government starts to "kill the geese which lay the golden eggs." When this occurs, taxes are raised no more. The Government then begins to print money and sell bonds. This always increases the people's purchasing power faster than increasing the supply of goods, and results in still higher prices.

Raising An Army
The next financial curse of war comes from pulling five million men and women of the best producers away from normal industry—putting half in training camps and half in factories making war supplies. This not only reduces the production of civilian supplies, but these people must be housed, clothed, and fed, by being paid real money. If you will refer now to our definition of inflation, you will see that this shift of employment will further reduce the supply of consumer goods without reducing purchasing power. This makes for still further price increases.

Then you ask: "Why not put a lid on wages and prices?" The answer is that a lid on wages results in decreased production per dollar of wages. Thus, little is gained thereby. A lid on prices, on the other hand, develops "black markets," with resultant graft, inefficiency, and dishonesty. From these black market operators, the Government gets no taxes. Although such "ceilings" are popular politically, they are no real solution to the problem. Higher prices are inevitable. Deficit Financing Coming

All these schemes lead finally to deficit or phony financing which means a further decline in production per hour and a further increase in purchasing power. This is just the reverse of what honest financing requires. Those in the war plants, although making only war goods, must be paid market wages. At this point, after all the "quack cures" have been tried and failed, the value of the dollar begins to decline. If we are forced into World War III, our dollar could easily fall to twenty-five cents or less during the post-war years. People then get scared. Not content to spend only their wages, they draw out their savings and buy homes and productive land. This is why the prices of houses and land have doubled since 1940 and could easily double again during the next 10 years. One final thought — although putting a ceiling on wages and prices tends to keep them down during a war—yet when the war is over this dammed-up demand makes the post war price increase in real estate, automobiles, and all household appliances go sky-high—much more than prices would have gone if not artificially held down during the war.

Report From Washington Discusses Draft of 18-Year-Olds, Universal Training

BY U. S. SENATOR HERBERT R. O'CONNOR

Consultation by the President of the U. S. with the Senate, in advance of the dispatch of U. S. troops to Europe, which I advocated in a speech to the Senate several weeks ago, gained an influential adherent during the week when Senator George, ranking majority member of the Foreign Relations Committee, gave his unqualified support.

Commenting on the efforts of Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Connally of Texas to seek passage of a resolution in this field, as a substitute for the controversial Wherry Resolution, Senator George declared that any such resolution "should express clearly the right of Congress to pass on the assignment of the troops."

The Connally Resolution as it now stands would state "the Senate approves the action of the President . . ." It is my conviction, as expressed in my proposal to the Senate, that the President should consult with the Senate in matters so vitally affecting the interests of all Americans, before and not after policies have been adopted or definite action scheduled.

No human plans can ever long succeed in breaking either the Ten Commandments or the law of supply and demand. (These opinions of Roger W. Babson are published in the Chronicle every Friday.)

There will be no "quickie" tax bill for the $10,000,000,000 which the President demanded immediately, to be followed by proposals for another $6.5 billions later. The decision will give opportunity for cutting the President's budget, a task to which I am committed lied authorities in Japan to expand greatly the shipping facilities of that country, through the U. S. financing to a large extent, seems to me utterly devoid of reason.

Efforts pursued by me throughout the past session to awaken the Congress and the people to an appreciation of the present state of these industries, not only in Maryland but in other large port areas, were productive of little results, to the point now where less than one-third of our nation's trade is carried in foreign bottoms.

In an address on the Senate floor I pointed out the lack of wisdom in further complicating the American shipping situation by putting Japanese shipping into direct competition in the field of foreign trade, while needs here at home have been consistently ignored.

Urge Disbarment of Red Lawyers
As a further move against Communist activities in this land, I today introduced a resolution urging the Congress to approve disqualification of Communist lawyers from practice before any Federal court.

Lawyers are officers of our courts, it was pointed out, and as such have a particular responsibility towards upholding the judicial processes, a responsibility they cannot discharge as a Communist, with their first loyalty owed to a foreign power.

Read That Tag!

Have you bought this year's supply of weed seed? Good bargains in weed seeds are sometimes offered for farmers who don't read the tags on the seed they buy. One farmer's experience last year demonstrates the point, according to Joseph Newcomer of the agronomy department at the University of Maryland.

A lespeze field which proved to be full of dodder had this farmer "fighting mad." But a study of the seed tag revealed a dodder count of 1543 seeds per pound of lespeze. When he planted eight pounds of seed per acre, he planted approximately 12,344 dodder seeds per acre.

The moral—read the label and don't buy something you don't want. The same label will also give you information concerning germination qualities of the seed.

Sweet potatoes are easily bruised. Sort and handle them with care.

Baseball Meeting

A meeting of the clubs of the Pen-Mar Baseball League was held Tuesday night in Littlestown, Pa. President Dr. D. L. Beagle presided. All clubs were present with the exception of Thurmont.

The 1951 schedule was accepted and released for publication. Action was taken to have a uniform player contract for all clubs.

The major portion of the meeting was devoted to revision of the present bylaws. Representing Emmitsburg were J. Norman Flax, Dr. D. L. Beagle, and C. A. Elder.

Decisions Vary As To Weight Trucks Should Carry

A vast difference of opinion is showing up among experts in the current controversy over the question of maximum truck weights in Maryland.

The majority report of the Maryland Truck Weight Commission, assigned to study the problem by former Gov. Lane, called for reduction of truck weights from 22,400 pounds to 18,000 pounds per axle. Most of the material in this report was based on recent tests at La Plata.

In a minority report, filed by Guy Campbell of Towson, and Robert W. Furtick of Baltimore, it was pointed out that no maintenance was applied to the test road during the experiments. "Experts admitted that the section of the La Plata road, after 10 years of normal wear under present weight laws, was in 'excellent condition' before the present tests were begun."

Mr. Furtick said that these tests were not conclusive. He added: "Fixing axle loadings at 18,000 pounds would throttle highway transportation at a time when it is so badly needed in the nation's defense effort."

He also quoted from a recent article in the "Milwaukee Journal," which said:

"There are 3,300,000 miles of road in the U. S., and you can find a stretch of highway to prove almost any theory of highway deterioration you want!"

Relieve In Filing Prices Granted Used Car Dealers

The Maryland District Office of Price Stabilization announced today that it is extending to March twenty-second for all sellers the deadline for record-keeping requirements covered by the General Ceiling Price lists and other important data was altered earlier this week with the March twenty-second extension for retailers only. Today's announcement extends the twenty-one additional days to all sellers.

Thomas M. Jacobs, Counsel for the local OPS Office, cautioned automobile dealers that the recently announced regulation on retail prices for new and used cars went into effect last week. Mr. Jacobs said that under this regulation, every Maryland seller of used cars, except persons not in the business of selling used cars, must file with the OPS in Baltimore a statement in writing showing the official pricing guide normally used by him during the period Dec. 19, 1950, to Jan. 25, inclusive. The guide which he submits in his report must be the Jan. 1951 edition of one of the following three:

NADA Official Used Car Guide, Red Book National Used Car Market Report, or Blue Book National Used Car Market Report.

Two other guides listed by OPS in Washington are not applicable to the State of Maryland.

Spokesmen for the OPS say that the regulation on new and used cars establishes the ceiling price for retail sellers of certain new automobiles and for all sales of certain used automobiles. It applies not only to sales by dealers but also to sales by individual, private owners.

In the case of a sale by a person not in the business of selling used cars, the seller must select a Jan. 1951 official price guide applicable to the region in which he makes delivery of the car to the buyer.

Housekeeping Made Easier By New Materials, Designs

Modern materials and architectural designs going into remodeling projects and new home construction are taking much of the work out of housekeeping.

Streamlined kitchens, equipped with easy-to-clean cabinets and counters, provide adequate storage and working space while reducing steps to a minimum. Materials used for interior finish and decoration are more attractive, and require less attention to stay neat and clean.

A strong exponent of the woman's viewpoint in home planning is Sonia Jean Albert, a young New York architect. While a student at Yale, Miss Albert was runner-up in a national prize home competition. A graduate of the school of Architecture at Yale, she incorporates many "wife-saver" ideas in her designs.

Miss Albert specifies plywood dry-wall construction in house plans because of its stability and economy of application. Sturdy plywood panels, faced with handsomely-grained hardwood veneer in either light or dark woods to blend with furnishings of the home, also are easy to take care of. The architect explains her choice of wood for interiors in these words:

"Paneled walls of richly-grained hardwood plywood give an appealing warmth. And decoratively speaking, they go well with the beautiful new furniture in hardwood veneer, whether it be modern or traditional."

College Adopts 3-Semester Plan

The current international crisis has caused a number of changes in the educational program at Mt. St. Mary's College.

According to Registrar John M. Roddy, Jr., there will be three full semesters each year during the emergency. This will necessitate a continuation of classes through the summer. Freshmen will be accepted in July and again next March, 1952.

Together with this announcement came the word that the college had suffered a big midterm enrollment drop, perhaps the largest in its history. The total enrollment is now given as 473 students, while in September it was 568. Losing 44 members since September, the freshman class is still the largest first-year class ever enrolled at the college. It now numbers 136 students.

Housing Project

If approved finally by Army authorities, the 225 Wherry Act family housing units scheduled for construction at Camp Detrick should be ready for occupancy by Christmas.

The project received final FHA approval last week during a conference at Baltimore between FHA officials and representatives of Camp Detrick and the city of Frederick.

Col. Fred J. Delmore, commanding officer of Camp Detrick, announced results of the Baltimore meeting. Lt. Col. Robert F. Barriek, post engineer, reported that the Camp's application for the housing units now must go to Dept. of Army for final approval.

"If we get final approval, it probably will come during March. We can feel the designs could be completed during April, and the contracts let and construction begun some time in May. If we follow this time table, the new units should be ready for occupancy by Christmas."

Woodmen Receive
Free Polio
Insurance

Modern Woodmen of America is now granting free polio benefits to its members, according to an announcement received by Mrs. Jessie H. Martin, secretary of Camp No. 14,399. The announcement, which came from the fraternal society's headquarters in Rock Island, Ill., states that the benefits which reach a $500 maximum in any one case, are being provided as a fraternal service to members and will be paid in addition to regular insurance benefits.

According to Mrs. Martin, the action applies to all present and future premium-paying members of the organization, adult and juvenile, who contract polio on or after Jan. 1, 1951. The plan as announced by the society provides that $250 will be paid immediately to any member contracting polio, and if the attack results in crippling after-effects or in death, an additional $250 will be paid.

Adoption of the polio benefit plan by Modern Woodmen, it was said, supplants the tuberculosis sanatorium benefits, which was provided by the society for more than 40 years.

LET'S CLEAR THE AIR!

It's Time We Looked at the Facts About Trucks

Fact No. 1 You Will Be Affected
by Lower Weights

The majority of larger and more efficient trucks on Maryland roads are used by its citizens who raise crops and serve rural areas. Reduced weights, as proposed by special interests at Annapolis, would greatly affect farmers, poultrymen, tobacco growers, canners, as well as merchants in all lines.

In many cases, a farmer or merchant who uses one efficient truck to haul his product, may have to use two smaller trucks and thus double transportation costs.

Increased trucking costs will be paid by everyone—because everything you eat, wear, use or sell is carried all or part of the way by truck.

So you will be penalized by restrictions on truck loads:
YOU WILL PAY THE BILL!

Fact No. 2 Trucks ARE Paying a
Fair Share of Road Costs

In 1949, Maryland collected a total of $11,484,950. from trucks operating in and through the State. That amount was nearly 35% of all the special State highway taxes paid. Yet all trucks make up only 15.7% of vehicles using the roads.

Maryland's truck tax revenue was 37% of the 1949 expenditures for new State roads, or 18% more than the total spent by the State for maintenance, administration and safety!

Fact No. 3 Present Weight Laws are Sound

It is obvious that all trucks, privately owned or for hire, want and need modern well kept roads to properly serve the growing needs of Marylanders. We believe the present weight law is proper for efficient service, and the vast majority of truckers can and do keep within the law.

There is no reason why all truckers cannot stay within legal limits, and to that purpose, the Maryland Motor Truck Association is dedicated.

Fact No. 4 Roads Can Be Built to Meet Modern Needs

Modern roads can be built to serve today's needs; while older roads can be modernized for the purpose. Progress demands better roads. All truckers, private owners and for hire carriers, have and will work with city, county, and State officials to plan a highway system in keeping with the times. Maryland cannot afford to push the clock back—especially in these critical days!
