

Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Dear Abigail:
I'm one of those poor unfortunates who couldn't make it to town to witness the recent Old Home Week celebration, and I feel pretty darned bad about the whole thing. Everyone I talk to has nothing but the highest praise for the event which fact makes me feel even worse.

They haven't had an affair such as this since the year 1909, I understand. Wouldn't you know they'd have to pick the one week when previous commitments prevented my being here? I didn't exactly miss everything. At least, I got to see some of the outstanding window displays of antiques, and the like, which believe me, Abigail, really fascinated me. I saw some mighty old things, oldest of which I believe was a book on Philosophy in Hoke's Hardware Store that was published in 1666. How in the world can a book like that be kept in such excellent shape? Why the volume is nearly 300 years old! Would love to have glanced through its pages, but one can't very well crawl through a plate glass window, can one? How would I explain to the authorities when they apprehended me? I don't believe they'd put much credence in my telling them I just wanted to brush up on my philosophy, would they?

The display in Houser's Drug Store also won my admiration. . . Those old mortars and pestles that old-time pharmacists used were crude but no doubt effective. There were stacks of old prescriptions, yellowed with age . . . prescriptions which dated back to around a 100 years ago. Some of these were compounded by Dr. James A. Elder, who was proprietor of the drug store nearly a century ago. Modern pharmacy books have come a long way since the publication of the old Pharmacopoeia in that window.

Perhaps you have deducted that I am a book lover . . . That wouldn't be too amazing a deduction, would it? I'm a fiend for books, old maps, etc., like those on display throughout the town. I also, however, appreciated the antique furniture, dishes, firemen's uniforms, Indian collection, and oh, everything really fascinated me.

The parade with its beautiful floats was the biggest and most colorful parade that Emmitsburg has ever had, I'm told. And the tours to the various points of interest in and around the town must have been wonderful, so enthusiastic were the persons with whom I talked. I reiterate, why, oh why, did I have to miss it all? The law of averages should have been in my favor, don't you think? One week out of forty-two years.

Tell me, Abigail, is there any truth in the rumor that this may become an annual affair? It isn't just another tall tale, I hope. I'm sure that there are many others who, like myself, missed out on everything. Can't you convince the powers that be that they should have another Old Home Week next year I'll guarantee my presence at the next one, and I'm quite certain that everyone who attended the week's festivities this year will want a return engagement. . . Emmitsburg is old, but there evidently is still a lot of life in the old girl, is it not so?

One thing more, Abigail. About this brochure that has just come off the presses. It is, without a doubt the best little book of its kind ever to be written about Emmitsburg and its history. So many nice pictures, some of ancient vintage, others modern. Congratulations to those responsible for the birth of this little brochure. . . Believe me, it's 88 pages are chock full of interesting items. It's probably the best bargain I've ever gotten for a dollar. None should neglect to get one of them. . . Fifty years from now they'll be even more price-

CHIEF KOONTZ NABS BURGLAR, CAR THIEF

Merrill Albert Conover, 22, 99 Pennsylvania avenue, Westminster, was jailed in Frederick early this week on charges of intended car theft and burglaries in Emmitsburg early Saturday morning.

Police Chief Robert Koontz apprehended Conover about 3 a. m. Saturday morning in a stolen car on DePaul St., while looking for a man who attempted to break into local homes.

Conover bungled both of the breaking and entering attempts and then made the mistake of drifting the stolen car "into the arms" of the policeman who was looking for him.

Under Suspended Sentence

The Westminster youth is under a three-year suspended sentence on a larceny charge in Carroll County, he told officers. He had lost his driver's license for numerous automobile code violations.

Chief Koontz said someone had tried to gain entrance to the B. D. Martin residence about 2:40 o'clock Saturday morning by tearing a screen from a window. The noise aroused Mr. Martin and the intruder fled.

Ten minutes later, a man tore a hole in the porch screen at the J. Laurence Orendorff residence and was trying to gain entrance by a window or door when Mrs. Orendorff was aroused and awoke her husband. The intruder went through the porch screen and fell down a flight of concrete cellar steps before getting away.

Makes Admissions

The Orendorffs summoned Chief Koontz, who started a search of the neighborhood before touring highways around town in the expectation that the man would be trying to hitchhike away from Emmitsburg. He returned to near the Orendorff residence as a car came drifting down the hill and stopped in front of him.

Seated in the car was Conover, who answered the description of the man Koontz was seeking. Under questioning, Conover admitted he had no driver's license and no registration for the car, which Koontz recognized as the property of Zurgable Bros. The officer said heater wires had been torn loose, indicating Conover had tried to gap the switch wires in an effort to get the car started.

At a hearing Monday night before Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan, Conover was found guilty on three counts. On a charge of operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol he was fined $100 and costs; for operating a car while his license was suspended he was given 60 days, and for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle he was dealt a 60-day sentence in the Maryland House of Correction.

Death Notices

MRS. BERTHA DAUGHERTY

Mrs. Bertha M. Daugherty, 71, widow of Harry D. Daugherty, Gettysburg Rt. 3, died at the Warner Hospital last Saturday night at 11:05 o'clock. She had been admitted to the hospital May 30. Death was caused by complications.

A native of Carroll County, she was a daughter of the late John W. and Emma C. Shoemaker Hess. She had resided in Gettysburg and vicinity for the past 55 years. Her husband, Harry D. Daugherty, died in 1949.

Mrs. Daugherty was a tailoress and was employed by several tailors in Gettysburg for several years prior to her marriage.

A member of Mt. Joy Lutheran Church, she was superintendent of the home department of the church's Sunday School and was a member of the Missionary Society.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. Wilburn L. Nett, Gettysburg Route 3, and Robert E. Daugherty, Emmitsburg; four grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Cora Hallock, Harrisburg, Pa., and Mrs. Luther Shryock, Gettysburg.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Gettysburg, with the Rev. Charles Held, her pastor, and the Rev. Philip Bower, officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

Parochial Schools Open With Enrollment of 364

On Thursday, Sept. 6, the formal opening of the 1951-52 school year for St. Euphemia's Parochial School and St. Joseph's College High School took place at St. Joseph's Church with the celebration of a Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit by the Rev. John D. Sullivan, C.M., newly appointed pastor of St. Joseph's Parish. Fr. Sullivan was assisted in the ceremonies of the formal opening by the Rev. Michael J. O'Brien, C.M., the assistant pastor.

As is the custom, a special sermon was delivered by the pastor on the meaning and advantages of religious education. Fr. Sullivan congratulated the boys and girls on the advantages they enjoyed in the Catholic education that was offered them. He reminded them of their duties as pupils in the parochial and high school. He recalled the many reasons they had for being grateful to God for His many blessings, and also of the gratitude owed their parents for the spiritual and material favors which they had received from their hands.

Education, Fr. Sullivan told his hearers, is really a preparation for life. Therefore, he said, it is most important at the very beginning of their education that they be taught the meaning of life, the purpose of their existence and the means they must use to attain the eternal destiny for which God put them on earth. Fr. Sullivan stressed the fact that the knowledge, the love and the service of God were the foundation of Catholic education. He said: "Knowledge of God is the height of all learning, the love of God is the fulfillment of all desire and the service of God is a pledge of our eternal happiness. In these things, he continued, our faith confirms us, our hope sustains us, and our love makes them sources of joy."

The enrollment at both high school and grade school is larger than in previous years. The high school has a freshmen class of 37 and a senior class of about 34. The total high school enrollment will be 135. In the grade school, there are 229 pupils registered. The class enrollment is as follows: first grade 34, second grade 27, third grade 30, fourth 28, fifth 31, sixth 34, seventh 23, and eighth grade 32.

Local Youth In Air Corps

Pvt. Charles A. Brewer, son of Mr. Samuel Brewer, has been assigned to the 101st Airborne Division, Camp Breckenridge, Ky., for Army basic training after completing processing at the 2053rd Reception Center at Ft. George G. Meade.

He will receive 16 weeks of basic military training necessary for all soldiers. Fundamental military subjects such as close order drill, care of clothing and equipment, first aid, scouting and patrolling, and map reading will be taught. Individual firing of the M-1 rifle, carbine, and light machine gun will be included in the battle indoctrination phase of the training.

Pet Show Winners Are Announced

J. Laurence Orendorff, sponsor of the Pet Parade held during the recent Old Home Week celebration, announced the winners as follows: First prize went to John Wills, who had entered a small turtle; second place was awarded Nancy Eyster, who rode a pony and third place was won by Nancy Messner, whose entry was a small puppy.

Other participants in the affair were Carson Frailey, Jr., a terrier dog; Robert Hampson, a dachshund; Carol Messner, brown puppy; Ann Marie Myers, duck; Jackie White, small turtle; Helen Smith, black cat and Larry Orendorff, giant chequered rabbit.

Money awards were presented the winners and tickets to the carnival amusements were given the other participants. Judges for the event were Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers and Dr. John Spangler.

FATHER SULLIVAN NEW PASTOR OF ST. JOSEPH'S

REV. JOHN D. SULLIVAN

During the past week it was officially announced that His Excellency, the Most Reverend Archbishop of Baltimore, Francis P. Keough, had named Fr. John D. Sullivan, C.M., pastor of St. Joseph's Church on the recommendation of the Very Rev. Daniel M. Leary, C.M., Visitor of the Eastern Province of the Priests of the Congregation of the Mission.

Fr. Sullivan is well-known to the people of St. Joseph's Parish, since he spent the last 22 years of his priesthood in Emmitsburg as professor of religion at St. Joseph's College and treasurer of St. Vincent's House. He has an intimate knowledge of the members of the parish, and there is no need for him to become acquainted with his parishioners. Besides his duties as pastor, Fr. Sullivan will still act as confessor for the seminarians of Mt. St. Mary's Seminary. He has been hearing confessions there on Tuesday evenings for a number of years.

Fr. Sullivan brings to his new office years of experience in parish work at the Immaculate Conception Church in Germantown, Philadelphia. Here he was assistant and treasurer before coming to Emmitsburg.

The new pastor was ordained in 1914 and was immediately assigned to the preparatory seminary of the Vincentians at Princeton, N. J., where he held the office of Prefect until after the first World War. After several years in Niagara University as Prefect and professor, he was sent to St. John's University in Brooklyn where he taught religion and philosophy. Fr. Sullivan left St. John's for his new assignment in Germantown in 1926 and after serving several years in the Immaculate Conception parish came to Emmitsburg in 1929.

Fr. Sullivan is well-known for his interest in younger people. For many years he was Prefect of the boys, both at Princeton and at Niagara. He has a long career as teacher to his credit and it is to be expected that he will continue his interest in the boys and girls of his parish. Understanding the needs of the parish in general, he will doubtless carry on a program that will be productive of continued progress.

The duties of treasurer which were formerly taken care of by Fr. Sullivan will be taken over by the Rev. Thomas F. Ryan. Fr. Ryan is known to many in Emmitsburg where he has been stationed for the last 16 years. He is teacher of Church History at Mt. St. Mary's College and has taught history and philosophy at St. Joseph's College. He also acts as confessor to the Sisters both at St. Joseph's and at St. Euphemia's. Most of Fr. Ryan's priesthood has been spent in the classroom. For 15 years he taught in St. John's College and also filled several important executive positions. Due to his new duties Fr. Ryan will be obliged to restrict some of his teaching assignments.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lamberson, Pittsburgh, have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd W. Seiss.

American Legion Installs Officers; Rodgers Commander

Officers of the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, were installed Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Post. Vice Commander of the Western Maryland District Charles Miller, Hampstead, performed the ceremonies before a large number of Legionnaires present.

Officers installed for the coming year were Eugene Rodgers, commander; Jack Rosensteel, first vice commander; Wayne McCleaf, second vice commander; Allen Bouey, finance officer; Everett Chrismer, chaplain; T. Eugene Rodgers, service officer; Louis F. Rosensteel and Andrew Shorb, sergeant-at-arms; Clarence G. Frailey, Roger Zurgable, and Paul Humerick, trustees.

Following the installation and business, the new commander spoke briefly, chiefly outlining the projects the Legion Post will accomplish during his tenure in office. He said the Post has been commended on its high membership rating and that a successful drive will get under way shortly.

It was announced that the next meeting night, Oct. 2, the time for assembly will be 8 p. m. instead of 8:30 p. m.

New Auxiliary Officers Installed

Installation of officers of the Francis X. Elder Unit, No. 121, American Legion Auxiliary, featured the regular meeting Tuesday night in the Post Home.

Thirty-two members and eight guests were present and saw the services in which the following officers were installed: president, Mrs. Louis Rosensteel; first vice president, Mrs. Curtis Topper; second vice president; Mrs. Jack Rosensteel; secretary, Mrs. Sterling Hemler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Oscar Stinson; treasurer, Miss Ruth Gillelan; chaplain, Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner; historian, Mrs. Anna Shorb, and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Corrine Grindler.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. George Roderick, Frederick, dedicated the new bell and gavel. Western Maryland District Vice President Mrs. Charles Stull had charge of the installation of officers.

Guests from Frederick who attended the meeting were Mrs. Charles Stull, Mrs. George Roderick, Mrs. Edna Yelton, president of the Francis Scott Key Unit; Mrs. A. Burall, Mrs. Earl Gilbert, Mrs. Walter Forney, Mrs. Harry Morgan, and Mrs. Joseph Holcraft.

Mrs. LaVerne Kelly's name was drawn for the door prize. She was not present and next month's drawing will be for $5.00.

Local Band Reorganizing

Band director Walter A. Simpson has announced a change in band practice nights. Originally scheduled for Tuesday nights, the rehearsals are now planned for every Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Fire Hall.

Mr. Simpson asks that parents who have children with musical talent and those who have had previous playing experience, to show up at the practices.

The band has officers from several individuals and organizations that want to sponsor it, but to date have not accepted any of them. Men and women, boys and girls are wanted to stabilize the new musical organization.

APPRECIATES COOPERATION

Mrs. J. Laurence Orendorff, chairman of the historical display activity during Old Home Week, wishes to express her appreciation and thanks to all those contributing articles of interest and those assisting her in arranging and collecting the items and also those merchants and private citizens who so kindly allotted space for the exhibits. Contrary to public opinion, Mrs. Orendorff stated that she was not the judge of the window displays and is not responsible for any decisions or awards.

Every 5 steps you cut off your daily chore routines will save you a mile of walking in a year.

Council Adopts Resolution On Old Home Week

A resolution passed by the Burgess and Commissioners in reference to Homecoming Celebration:

"The Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg, Maryland, in regular meeting of Monday, Sept. 10, 1951, take this opportunity to express their sincere appreciation of and particular pleasure in the eminently successful Homecoming Celebration sponsored by the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce and Memorial Hall Association, with the assistance of local civic and service organizations during the period from August 30th to September 8th, 1951, inclusive, and heartily commend the promoters of the idea, the general chairman and members of committees, who carried it out, together with all other participants who made the project a success, notably the prompt and efficient cooperation of the town's people in general, the Chief of Police, his deputies and Boy Scouts and rejoice in the feeling of good will and friendship created by the enjoyable and memorable event.

The Winnah!

Judge, Starter and Ringmaster Edgar G. Emrich keeps his eyes glued on Running Water as he nears the finish line several shells ahead of the also rans in the recent turtle race during Old Home Week. The turtle was sponsored by the Emmitsburg Water Co. and was piloted by Art Elder. Judge Emrich really had his hands full watching the 20 entries.

Fire Co. Sells Old Engine

Announcement of the sale of the 1930 fire engine to the Rocky Ridge Fire Co. was made Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. in the Fire Hall, President Herbert Roger, presiding. About 35 members attended the meeting.

President Roger pronounced the old engine in A-1 condition and stated that a new pump had just recently been installed on the engine. Three representatives from Rocky Ridge were present at the meeting. They were Russell Funk president of the Rocky Ridge Fire Co., John D. Kaas, treasurer, and Edward Lydie.

All current bills were ordered paid and officials announced that a new booster tank had been installed on the 1945 fire truck at a cost of $350.

Fire Chief John J. Hollinger gave a report on the recent convention of the International Fire Chief's Assn., held Aug. 16-17 at Indianapolis, Ind.

Window Display Winners Announced

Winners in the window display for Old Home Week were announced this week by officials in charge of the affair. The judging was segregated into two categories, as follows: Best window decoration for historic connection with Emmitsburg, first, C. G. Frailey; second James T. Hays & Son, and third, Houser's Drug Store. For the most unique window display, first place went to M. Frank Rowe; second to Crouse's, and third to Houck's.

ENTERS NURSING SCHOOL

Miss Patricia A. Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Joy, East Main St., will leave Sunday for St. Agnes Hospital, Baltimore, for nurse's training. Miss Vivian Warthen also will resume her studies there having been forced by illness to discontinue them for a while.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR HORSE SHOW SEPT. 23

Plans are in the final stage for the presentation of the third annual Horse Show, presented each year by the Emmitsburg Lions Club for the benefit of the Children's Welfare Fund of this town and district.

Captain H. C. Woodring, general chairman of the promotion, has announced the judges for the show as: George Pearson, Sr., of Bruingsville, Pa.; Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh, Berryville, Va.; Mrs. H. W. Stuart, Mt. Holly, N. J.

Miss Georgette Lee of White Post, Va., will act as stewardess of the show and Preston Howard, Hagerstown, has agreed to ringmaster the affair. Mr. Howard has filled this position since the origin of the affair, three years ago, and has become a local favorite.

Officials in charge have greatly expanded the event this year, adding several more classes and joining the American Horse Show Assn., Inc. It is believed this latter move will bring many more entries than ever showed here before. In all, twenty-six classes will be presented this year as compared to 21 last season.

A change of location also has been effected. This year the show has moved to beautiful Emmitt Gardens, east of town and seating has been provided for. Ring-side parking tickets soon will be available, possibly over the weekend.

Annually this local event has been increasing steadily and now represents one of the most entertaining sporting events to be held here. This year the show will be held earlier than ever before in the hope that good weather will prevail here on September 23. The show has been plagued with inclement weather for the past two years. Due to the large number of classes to be shown, officials have designated an earlier starting time and the show will get under way at 11 a. m., Sunday, Sept. 23. An attendance of several thousand is expected.

Town Buys Chlorinator For Disposal Plant

The regular meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg was held Monday evening in the Fire Hall, President of the Board Thomas J. Frailey presiding.

Burgess Thornton Rodgers announced that the new chlorinator for the town disposal plant will be shipped Sept. 21. For years the effluent from this disposal plant has been running untreated into Flat Run. The Burgess also revealed that the plant has been repainted and broken windows replaced and that the officials are considering fencing off the plant in an effort to alleviate the danger of any children falling into the drying pits and also to stop individuals from throwing stones through the windows. Expensive damage has been done to high price machinery in the plant by stone throwers and officials have warned that this must cease or prosecution will result. The chlorinator alone costs about $3000.

Chief Koontz' monthly report to the Board revealed 19 fines for overtime parking at the meters. A formal resolution was presented the Board by Col. Thomas J. Frailey, commending the citizenry for its excellent co-operation in making Old Home Week a success. In answer to a series of requests that a dangerous traffic condition exists in the intersection of the alley at the Thomas Bollinger and Genevieve R. Elder property, the town solons stated that a stop sign has been ordered and will be placed as soon as it arrives. Many school children pass this blind spot several times a day and near-casualties have almost occurred. It was announced the town has been in contact with the State Roads Commission and have received the confirmation that "no parking" signs on North and South Seton Avenues will be placed there very shortly.

Postal Officers

Arrest Local Man on Fraud

A man said to be wanted by post office inspectors of the Chattanooga, Tenn., division was arrested last Friday afternoon in Emmitsburg by Trooper H. J. Brown.

Authorities said the man, who used the name of J. R. Stone and several aliases, including Dan White, Stan White, and William Robert McGuire, was wanted for postal violations in Tennessee.

He is alleged to have had post office boxes in New Oxford, Pa. and Emmitsburg. Postal Inspector C. E. Moo, of York, Pa., state police, and others were looking for the man two weeks ago.

'Tunnel' Strike

Ceases

Construction work was resumed this week on the Army's underground project near Fountaineau after a one-day shutdown due to a labor dispute.

Terms under which some 200 rock miners returned to work were not disclosed, however, observers at the scene said normal operations got underway again at the project, which employs some 750 workers.

The situation developed when the rock miners walked out, claiming they were promised a wage increase of 15 cents an hour to $2 but failed to receive it. Other workmen left the project, leaving only some engineers and welders at work.

The underground project is part of the Camp Ritchie area, but extends across the state border in Pennsylvania where tunnels are being bored into the mountains. The Army has declined to disclose details of the project, except that it is to be a communications center.

Clarifies Shields' Early History

More interesting information has been supplied concerning the early history of pioneer settler William Shields and the exact location of his early home is given by Mrs. Charles G. Hoffman, a direct descendant.

The former Shields property is now a farm owned by Romanus Florence, Frailey Rd. Shields acquired the land through a land grant and built his home there. The bricks were made on his land by slave labor and the house built by slave labor. The grant was made in 1757 and the family owned it until 1861 when Mr. Keilholtz bought it from the Shields estate, and afterwards Jacob Hoke owned it for many years.

Eugene Newcomer, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll F. Newcomer, is spending a furlough with his parents. He is stationed at Fort Houston, Texas.

Roger Adams, U. S. Army, stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., was a visitor last Thursday with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Adams. He was taken back to camp by his father and Geo. Fecher.

Papa David Says:

(on NBC's "Life Can Be Beautiful")

"Troubles are the test of a man's character . . . but it's kind of hard to think of them in that light when they're happening!"

"Have you noticed, leben, how blue the sky looks and how nice the whole day is when you just got over a big worry?"

"It seems to me a man hardly knows himself at all, until he has been faced with a real big problem to work out by himself."

"Like tragedy and comedy, adversity and success have a thin line between them somewhere — and that's the time when you might find you are in trouble, just as easily as you might find you had succeeded."

"It's a funny thing, but sometimes good fortune doesn't do a man as much good as a little trouble that stirs him into action?"

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Easy Makes His "Cat" Tread Lightly

Driving home on Three Ponds Road yesterday, I was flagged down by Easy Roberts' boy Skeeter. "Take it slow," he advised. "Dad's crossing this road with our tractor, just beyond the bend."

Around the curve I saw why Skeeter stopped me. Easy had laid two rows of old truck tires across the road, and was driving his new "Cat" tractor over them!

"More trouble this way," Easy explains, "but it does keep those tank tracks from tearing up the asphalt when I have to cross over to our other fields. After all, the roads belong to all of us—and I guess I'd get mad if someone else chewed them up."

From where I sit, Easy is my kind of citizen. He doesn't just give democracy lip service. He honestly believes it's his duty to consider the other fellow's interests. Whether it's the right to use the public highways or the right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer, Easy's out to protect his neighbor's "right of way."

Veneers Add Smart Touch

Wardrobe-type sliding closet doors of hardwood plywood and rich face veneers in light color tone lend distinction to this modern interior, blending with the wood veneers of the smart-looking built-in desk and bookcase. Strength, permanence and ease of maintenance are among the advantages which account for the continuously increasing use of hardwood plywood in wall paneling, flush doors and built-in units. Other than a periodic cleaning and waxing, veneer surfaces need only to be dusted to bring out their full beauty and lustre.

Balloons Carrying Freedom Message Are Released

Freedom balloons, identical to those being released over Czechoslovakia and Poland are being set free in Maryland and Delaware during this month.

The first group of balloons was released outside a Baltimore television station on Labor Day and others have been let loose in the area on several occasions since that time.

The balloons are of two types. Large, round rubber balloons, four feet in diameter, carry hundreds of leaflets with messages of hope and friendship. Plastic pillows, nearly five feet on each side and almost two feet thick also carry messages. It is these plastic pillows that many people mistook for flying saucers a year ago when they were being experimented with in the Midwest.

During the balance of Sept., and the first half of Oct., Freedom Balloons will be seen in all counties of Maryland and Delaware as a dramatic illustration of the work being done by funds contributed to the Crusade for Freedom.

The Crusade for Freedom is carrying the message of truth behind the "iron curtain" and all Americans are being asked to join the Crusade by signing a pledge which reaffirms their beliefs in freedom. At the same time, voluntary contributions for the maintenance and expansion of Radio Free Europe and the Winds of Freedom programs are being solicited. These gifts may be sent to "Crusade for Freedom," care of the postmaster, Emmitsburg, Md.

A Dangerous Situation

Nearly every edition of every daily and weekly newspaper in the nation has several news dispatches on its front page reporting on activities or issues that involve the economic welfare of every citizen. Yet economics is a subject on which few people are well informed. In other words, a great deal is happening and a great many things are being proposed in our nation today, affecting your welfare and mine, on which a comparatively few people feel really qualified to pass judgment.

This is a dangerous situation. It could permit drastic fundamental changes to be made in the American way of life and severe injury to our living standard. An awareness of this situation has led me to continually expand the Harding College National Education Program to get widest distribution of economic education materials. In the past 10 years general knowledge of what makes the American system tick has been vastly improved but ignorance of the simple basic facts of economics still extends to millions of Americans and constitutes a critical situation.

The Brookings Report

The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation last year commissioned the Brookings Institution of Washington to make a study of what's being done in our schools and elsewhere to improve the population's understanding of economics. After 10 months of work, Dr. H. G. Moulton, Brookings president, and C. W. McKee, chairman of the Dept. of Economics of Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., have just recently made their report to the Sloan Foundation. It begins by defining "economic education" as: "helping people to gain understanding of the forces and factors that produce higher standards of living."

Here are some major Brookings findings of vital interest to every American:

1. "Only a very small percentage of our high school students get any real grasp of the economic factors and forces that are responsible for higher standards of living. Scarcely 10 per cent take the equivalent of a semester course in economics."
2. "Five out of the six most widely used high school textbooks devote some space to a description of the principal features of the capitalistic, socialistic, and communistic systems. None of them, however, attempt a real appraisal of the merits of the several types of economic systems."
3. "The most widely used single textbook was written by an author 'who is clearly sympathetic with the regulatory trends of recent times in the U. S.—though he points out that too much government control may stifle business initiative.'"
4. "The professional preparation of the economics teachers seems incredibly low. Indeed, a great majority of the schoolmen interviewed said that it was virtually impossible to get a person well trained in economics."

Shortcomings Emphasized
5. "Only one out of every four college students completes one or more economics courses."
6. "None of the textbooks most widely used in American colleges gives a strong exposition of the virtues of free private enterprise. Instead, most emphasize the shortcomings of private enterprise without stressing the good points. Some, while admitting the significant contributions of private enterprise in the past, question whether it can bring equally fruitful results in the future."

7. "It is clear that the organized educational institutions have not adequately met the educational requirements for intelligent citizenship."
8. "To fill the vacuum left by our schools and colleges (in the field of economic education a growing number of private organizations have been experimenting with ways of doing the job themselves." A number of these experiments have been ill-conceived and ineffective.

School days often mean lunch-box packing days.

Sandwiches, of course, are the mainstay of the lunch-box, and because mothers are interested in nutrition as well as economy, I would like to suggest a few tasty fillings:

Cream cheese with crumbled crisp bacon or chopped olives.

Liverwurst mixed with chopped hard cooked eggs.

Chopped chicken and walnuts, moistened with mayonnaise.

This year chicken will be more plentiful than in previous years, so for a treat you can provide sliced chicken sandwiches or chicken salad for several members of the family at a minimum cost. If the man of the house carries his lunch, he'll enjoy these selections, too.

Crisp carrot sticks, whole tomatoes or fresh fruit add interesting texture contrast to the lunch-box. They'll stay crisp if you wrap them separately in waxed paper.

It's wise to avoid monotony in the lunch-box. Vary the sandwich fillings frequently and also the fruits and cookies so that the children as well as the men in the family will look forward to lunch-time. Youngsters need a good appetizing lunch to give them the necessary energy for study and play.

Mothers can speed lunch-box packing by arranging a lunch-box "corner" in the kitchen, with a shelf reserved for paper napkins, cups and waxed paper. Keep the bread board, slicing knife and cookie jar nearby. Use small wide-mouthed jars with screw tops for fruit sauces, salads and "spillable" foods.

Sandwiches should be wrapped individually in waxed paper and placed on edge in the lunch-box to prevent crushing.

If you would like to have an Autumn "Harvest of Good Recipes" free, write to me at National Association of Retail Grocers, 360 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hoffman had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hunter and their young son, William D. Also visiting at the Hoffman home were Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Horn of Staten Island, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sties and son, James, has returned to their home in Pittsburgh, Pa., after visiting at the home of Mrs. Sites' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gelwicks.

Some have been outstanding.

These Brookings Institution findings present two pressing challenges to American education in this crisis: (1) To create textbooks and develop teaching staffs which will give our youth an intelligent appreciation of the American system and a love of country. (2) To inform the public of the incomparable advantages of the American system and what makes it tick. These are responsibilities which are inherent, I believe, in any American educational institution. If well done they will block the progress of the fifth column in America.

"EMMITSBURG"

At the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountain

Near the Mason & Dixon Line, With its center marked by a fountain

And a climate healthy and fine, Lies a little town on the level One not unknown to fame, Where all whom you meet are civil

And Emmitsburg is its name. Though far from hurry and bustle

Of the larger cities and towns, The visitor finds he must hustle To Match the dresses and gowns

That are worn on the streets by the ladies

Of whom there're many and fair, And a very fine lot of young kiddies

Who with the best will compare The tourist need travel no farther

In searching for comfort and rest, For here there is nothing to bother

Accommodations are the best. With the Emmitt House out at the West End

And Slagle's Hotel on the Square, Your worries and troubles are lessened

There is room enough to spare. On the mountain slope in the distance

Mt. St. Mary's College is seen, Where with earnestness, zeal and persistence

Young men seek for honors to win,

While closer is St. Joseph's Where young ladies strive to excel,

In pursuit of culture and knowledge, Obtainable there so well.

And if with the cares and sorrows Of life you are depressed,

Of worries because of tomorrow, Have caused your spirit unrest

Then this for your consolation, Five churches will you find

There you may make oblation, If you are so inclined.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 12—Of the three top leaders of British Socialism in recent years, only one is in office today.

Roger W. Babson

Mr. Attlee still heads the Labour Government of Great Britain, but is plagued with a duodenal ulcer which has already hospitalized him. This ulcer could conceivably force him to follow his former right hand man, Sir Stafford Cripps, into retirement. Sir Stafford was in several ways the brightest luminary in the British Labour movement; an eminent lawyer, and an intellectual of the first magnitude. A few months back he had to retire as Chancellor of the Exchequer for reasons of health. He suffers from colitis. Early this year the third man in the Labour Government, Ernest Bevin, suffered an illness that forced him to retire as foreign secretary. Shortly thereafter he died at the age of 70.

I am not exulting over casualties among top-ranking British Socialists. I consider Attlee, Cripps and Bevin men of the highest integrity and the noblest intentions. Were they rogues paying lip service to Socialism, in order to further personal ambition, all three might now be in good health, riding high on the road to more power! At least, this is what I learn here in New York.

Socialism a Cruel Hoax

To my way of thinking, Socialism as set up today constitutes a cruel hoax. Socialists discover that many evils can be traced back to individual private greed. This is true. But the Socialists conclude, all too quickly, that private greed or private enterprise, should be outlawed. They then nationalize the big private enterprises and turn them over to the government. They "sink the ship to rid it of rats." But the hoax is that the coming of Socialism to power brings frustration, stagnation and finally the need for "austerity." Only individual incentive provides the spark and fuel of human endeavor.

When honest Socialists, like the big three of England's Labour movement, gain control of the government, they discover that the noble doctrines to which they have dedicated their lives do not work out as expected. Socialism, unfortunately, distributes poverty, not riches.

Tragedy of Honest Socialists

An honest Socialist in power soon finds himself experiencing an intense inner struggle—the struggle between loyalty to socialism and the realization that individual incentive must be liberated if the people are to enjoy maximum prosperity. There are two possible outcomes of such an inner struggle within the heart of the honest Socialist—either a nervous breakdown or a desertion of Socialism. Attlee and Cripps are honest Socialists and so was Bevin; but Bevin has died and Attlee and Cripps have ended up with poor health approaching a nervous breakdown. They will not, however, surrender their Socialism, although they see only collapse or a dictatorship ahead.

Mussolini was an aggressive Socialist in early life but as he rose to power he became an undisguised autocrat. He did not permit the fallacies of Socialism to ruin his health! He switched to personal autocracy and then went back to antiquity to find an ethical sounding name for it, calling it "Fascism." Hitler paid lip service to Socialism by calling his autocracy "National Socialism." Who Will Be 'Big Brother'?

Britain's fourth Socialist leader, Aneurin Bevan, not to be confused with the late Ernest Bevin, has the demagogue's appeal, the opportunism and the violent demeanor. This fits him to become the English counterpart of Mussolini or Hitler. Aneurin Bevan recently deserted Attlee for motives which some observers believe were to increase his own power.

Straw polls and local elections foreshadow the fall of

Former Senator Is Renamed Chairman

GEORGE L. RADCLIFFE

Former U. S. Senator George L. Radcliffe has been reappointed as state chairman of the March of Dimes for the 1952 campaign, according to Basil O'Connor, the president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mr. Radcliffe, who has headed the Maryland campaign since '38, in accepting his appointment said he felt he was taking up this post at one of the most critical moments in the National Foundation's history.

"I have been engaged in the battle against polio," he said, "even before the foundation was organized. I have seen the power of the March of Dimes in saving lives, in easing pain and in furthering research. I also have seen the increase of poliomyelitis in the last few years."

Mr. Radcliffe, who served two terms in the U. S. Senate, was formerly Maryland Secretary of State. He is president of the Maryland Historical Society and author of "Governor Hicks of Maryland and the Civil War."

Maryland Farm Front

Winners in Maryland's Greener Pastures program, sponsored by the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration, received their certificates from Gov. McKeldin on Sept. 5. The presentation took place at an awards luncheon in Baltimore with more than 100 community, county, and area winners present along with State Champion George C. Stauffer of Walkersville.

Champion Stauffer was also given a surprise award of a check to pay part of his expenses to the Eastern States Exposition on Sept. 16 and 17 where he will be honored with State winners from throughout the Northeast. Stauffer scored 97 points—the highest score achieved in the program's three-year history.

Mr. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland Production and Administration committee, pointed out that the contest has been growing in popularity since it started in 1949 with only 86 farms entered. Last year, 223 farms took part and this year's enrollment approached 400.

He described the program as part of a larger grassland farming program sponsored by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in cooperation with the Land Grant colleges.

Mr. Stauffer, the owner of a high producing herd of Holstein cows won the State honors with pastures containing brome grass and ladino clover. The judges, stressed the importance of his full season pasture and pointed out that he is carrying 65 mature cows and 15 or more heifers on less than 100 acres of land. Supports Announced.

Soybean prices will be supported in Maryland again this year. A price of $2.39 per bushel for yellow and green beans and $2.19 for black beans has been announced by Mr. Blandford. He points out that the 1951 prices are 38 cents higher than the 1950 support rates. They apply to beans grading No. 2 or better at 14 per cent moisture.

Would Spend $25 Billion

Secretary of State Acheson has set $25 billion as the amount necessary to provide defense capital equipment for our allies. His estimate envisions spending the sum over the next three years.

the Attlee government. I wonder whether Attlee's successor will be able to proceed with the present governmental machinery. Or will revolution and dictatorship be the outcome of Britain's experiment with Socialism? As for me, give me a country with a democratic capitalistic government like our own, that seeks workable compromise between collective needs and individual incentive.

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

The Office of Price Stabilization this week announced dollars and cents ceiling prices on standard type N anti-freeze containing fermentation ethyl alcohol. Type N is currently more expensive to produce than some of the other types placed under ceilings at an earlier date, and is in demand as a substitute inasmuch as the other types are in short supply. The new retail ceilings on standard type N anti-freeze, are $1.95 per gallon in quantities of a gallon or more, and 50 cents a quart for smaller quantities. The retail gallon prices previously set for other types were: $1.50 for type S (synthetic methanol), $1.40 for type SC (diluted synthetic methanol), and $3.75 for type P (glycol base).

OPS has protested to the Interstate Commerce Commission the imposition of new charges for pick-up and delivery services on freight moving on less-than-carload and any-quantity rates within the Eastern U. S. Territory. The protest calls the charges "arbitrary, unreasonable and discriminatory" and asks that the tariffs providing the charges be suspended pending an investigation by the ICC and a full public hearing in the matter.

Maryland OPS Director Hugo R. Hoffman states that the schedule of permanent consultations set up by his office for Maryland cities and towns is proving a big success. "It is gratifying to know," said Mr. Hoffman, "that Maryland businessmen and consumers are cooperating with the Price Stabilization Program by conferring with OPS business consultants in their travels through the state. This program is another phase of the Maryland Office's policy of providing every means possible so that these pricing problems may be answered."

At present, Maryland OPS is holding office days on a permanent basis in 15 cities and towns.

Former GIs attending the State Fair at Timonium last week displayed great interest in the OPS exhibit. Of particular attraction to these ex-servicemen were the combat boots and Garand rifle displayed, not so much because they brought back memories, but because signs on the items stated that inflationary pressures on defense spending have upped the prices which Uncle Sam must pay for them. The boots, formerly priced at $5.22, now cost the taxpayer $11.63. The price of the rifle has increased from $40 to $64.

"The Farmer's Stake in Stabilization," a pamphlet recently issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, had this general comment to make: The long-term prosperity of farmers is tied to a long-term prosperity of the entire nation.

Farmer's markets depend on how much buying power is in the hands of 152 million Americans. If inflation is permitted to undermine the buying power of our people, farmers eventually will sell less and earn less. The prosperity of farmers depends a great deal on how successfully our price stabilization program protects the buying power of all citizens.

Price stabilization protects profitable markets for farm products. Inflation forces all prices up. Prices of farm products rise along with others. But if prices get too high, most people have to buy less of everything. When fewer goods can be bought, production must be cut and fewer people have jobs in factories and stores. As a result, farmers in the long run are able to sell less, and soon they have to sell at lower prices.

Over 1000 advance copies of the pamphlet were given out at the State Fair in Timonium last week.

Realizing the problems of the small business enterprise, Maryland OPS has set-up a special division to try to help solve these problems. Small business representative for the district office is Edgar R. McShane, deputy director of Maryland OPS.

The shiny brass spittoon required by law for every two seats on passenger trains in South Carolina has passed into history. Gov. James F. Byrnes has signed a bill repealing the regulation.

And the Pilot Was Capt. Video!

More than 25,000 youngsters came to see Capt. Video the other day when he made a personal appearance at New Jersey's Palisades Amusement Park — and it was a never-to-be-forgotten moment for the two junior Video Rangers above when they got to be the captain's crew, on a journey into space aboard one of the Park's model-size space ships. Al Hodge, star of Dumont's video view of the future, "Captain Video," had as much fun as the kids and promised to make a return visit.

Good Health Hastens Progress Of School Children

Greater use of milk, butter, cheese and ice cream in family meals will help the nation's school children maintain the good health needed to achieve scholastic progress, Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, a non-profit, research and educational agency, declared yesterday.

"Human excellence demands healthy bodies as well as healthy minds," Mr. Hult said, emphasizing that well-balanced meals using dairy foods can do much to improve the good health children have enjoyed the past summer.

"Milk and other dairy foods generously supply the nutrients which make for better health," he asserted. "These nutrients are calcium for strengthening bones and teeth, proteins for building muscles and body tissues, and riboflavin for vitamin A for promoting health and growth."

He said that milk, butter, cheese and ice cream provide three-fourths of all the calcium, approximately one-fourth of all the proteins, nearly half of the riboflavin, and almost one-fifth of the vitamin A consumed in the American diet. In addition, they provide energy and other vitamins and minerals essential to good health.

Recent research showed that teen-agers can utilize enormous quantities of calcium from milk, he pointed out. In this research, scientists carried on calcium balance studies with high school students during summer vacations. They recommended that adolescents consume at least one and one-half quarts of milk a day. Scientists also emphasized that children should consume at least a quart of milk a day.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

If you're a happy well-adjusted person you can probably make three basic statements about yourself and your personality, says Jeanne S. Moehn, family life specialist at the University of Maryland.

First, you feel "comfortable" about yourself and your life; second, you feel right about your relations with other people, and third, you are able to meet the demands of life.

If you feel "comfortable" about yourself, says Mrs. Moehn, you know how to control your own emotions and do not let them control you. You take disappointments as they come and carry on. You have self respect, are tolerant toward others and can even laugh at yourself if the occasion rises.

You feel right about other people if you are able to give love and consideration to others; like and trust others and expect them to like and trust you. You feel that you are part of a group and have a sense of responsibility to that group.

In order to meet the demands of life you deal with problems as they arise and accept responsibility for them. You welcome new experiences as well as new ideas, think for yourself and plan good, realistic goals. You put your best effort into living in order to gain satisfaction—you are a well-adjusted person.

Tomato Tempter

Scalloped tomatoes make a really appetizing dish for summer meals and a bit different way of using the plentiful garden product. You may use six fresh, skinned tomatoes, or one quart of cooked and drained tomatoes, depending on which you have on hand. Place a layer of tomato in a greased baking dish, add salt and pepper and then a thin layer of bread crumbs. Add butter cut into tiny pieces and put on the top of the crumbs. Now add another layer of tomato and proceed until the materials are used. Bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven (350-400 F.) and serve in the baking dish. To give this dish the perfect touch, grated cheese may be added to each layer, or used as a delicious topping for the final layer.

13th Anniversary for "Chichi" and "Papa David."

One of radio's most dramatic and inspiring daytime dramas, NBC's "Life Can Be Beautiful," celebrates its thirteenth anniversary this month. Woven around the unique figure of "Papa David," a down-to-earth philosopher who keeps a small bookshop on Manhattan's lower east side, and his young ward, "Chichi," the story has fascinated listeners with the variety of adventures and deep emotional problems which "Papa David," "Chichi," and the other figures in the script have encountered through the years. . . . Veteran character actor, Ralph Locke has played the old Hebrew scholar, David Solomon, ever since the show's inception, and Teri Keane—who is the youngest leading lady in serial radio drama—took over the role of "Chichi" four years ago. The episodes of the story are built around dramatic philosophical concepts which judging from listener mail—strike a familiar chord in the everyday lives of the average person.

More Scenes Of Emmitsburg's Recent Homecoming

THE CHRONICLE wishes to thank Mr. Wayde Chrismer of Bel Air, Md., for the photos and plates used in printing this page. Mr. Chrismer is an Emmitsburg native and former Chronicle employe, now publishing The Westminster Guide and serving as advertising manager for The Aegis, in Bel Air.

In a note accompanying the pictures, Mr. Chrismer wrote: "Altogether, in the two days that I was home, I took over 180 pictures. If some friends whose pictures I took don't find themselves included here, it's because the pictures would not reproduce satisfactorily in a newspaper, or because they were of personal interest only. I've tried to tell a general homecoming story here and to use only pictures that have both immediate interest and some slight future historic value, in the event that the paper containing them should be preserved."

COL. WM. S. CULBERTSON (Former U. S. Ambassador to Chile, of Washington, D. C.)

AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY during Homecoming Week was the pilgrimage to the burial place of Mr. Samuel Emmit, founder of Emmitsburg. In the beautiful sylvan setting of the old Presbyterian Cemetery, the group shown here sang appropriate hymns, heard benedictions by local pastors and saw Messrs. M. F. Shuff, Sr., Rev. Edmund P. Welker and Mr. J. L. Nester, place memorial wreaths at the grave. A close-up of Mr. Emmit's flag-bedecked tombstone is shown at the left. The service was held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 2, and was attended by approximately 100 persons of all faiths.

MR. M. F. SHUFF, SR.

ONE OF THE VETERAN BASEBALL PLAYERS who was persuaded to come "out of mothballs" to perform at Sunday's old-timers' game, was James Arnold, star pitcher on Emmitsburg nines of 40 years ago. A little wide around the waist, Mr. Arnold nevertheless performed creditably during his three-inning stint on the mound.

MR. EDWIN F. OHLER

MR. M. FRANK ROWE

MR. EDWIN CHRISMER

MR. PETER F. BURKET

SOME WELL-KNOWN ELDERLY LOCAL GENTLEMEN, caught by the camera in informal poses, are shown above. They are Mr. Augustus Eckenrode, retired farm boss at St. Joseph's College; M. F. Shuff, Sr., 92-year-old retired businessman, who was mayor of the town when Emmitsburg celebrated its last previous homecoming in 1909; Mr. Edwin F. Ohler, businessman and former president of the Emmitsburg Water Company; M. Frank Rowe, who still operates the shoe repair shop where he began business 65 years ago; Edwin Chrismer, the photographer's father, who for 25 years operated a carriage shop on South Seton Ave.; and Peter F. Burket, still active as a banker at nearly 90 years of age.

DR. WILLIAM R. CADLE, who first-based for Emmitsburg over 20 years ago, showed he still can go down for the low ones. He missed this throw from Leonard Zimmerman, but "Legs," (not shown in the picture) admitted it was a bad throw and accepted the error himself.

THE REV. PHILIP BOWER, pastor of Elias Ev. Lutheran Church, took an active part in nearly all of the week's proceedings. Above he is shown handing a dipper of spring water to two little children who accompanied the tour to the Shields' grave on Monday afternoon. The picture was made on the farm of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Jones, where the convoy stopped for refreshments and near whose home the grave is located.

EVERY OLD LANDMARK served to bring back happy memories for those who "came back" for the week. Most scenes were happily familiar, but some were new. Among the latter was the new steeple on the Reformed Church (shown at the right), which recently replaced the part of the old structure which was destroyed by a disastrous fire a year ago. This view of the tower was made from the steps of the home occupied many years ago by Mrs. Columbia Winters, across the street.

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING HISTORICAL EXHIBITS was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Stoner. The elderly "lady" shown here, was a dummy, but she was sufficiently lifelike, as she sat at her spinning wheel, to attract the attention of this little boy who walked in from the street to find out why she did not speak when he called to her.

HISTORICAL DISPLAYS in Emmitsburg store windows were among the most popular features of the Homecoming. Views like the one above, where the photographer caught his brother, Everett Chrismer, peering into the window of Hoke's Hardware, were typical of hundreds of residents and homecomers alike.

ANOTHER TYPICAL SCENE was that of homecomers pausing on street corners to "visit" with old friends. Here, Mr. B. Dorsey Boyle, of Baltimore, pauses to say hello to Mr. Andrew Annan and Mr. Robert Topper, in front of Crouse's. At the right is Mr. Lester Topper, of Baltimore, another homecoming visitor.

Father Stouter's Address to Homecoming Audience Well Received

Many requests have been received asking us to publish the text of Father Stouter's address before the Community Song Service held Sunday, Sept. 2. We regard the speech highly valuable in historic research relative to Emmitsburg and would have published it sooner, but the voluminous reports of activities of Old Home Week caused the delay. We herewith present the dissertation in its entirety.

My dear friends and neighbors! It is with a great deal of pleasure and personal pride that I occupy a place on this platform this evening, together with the representative leaders of the various religious congregations of our beloved town. As a native of Emmitsburg, born and brought up within the limits of the town, it is particularly fitting that I should say a few words about the part that St. Joseph's Church has played in the history of Emmitsburg. The history of our parish is so closely associated with the history of the town itself as to be inseparable from it.

One of the very first houses built in Emmitsburg, if not the very first, was built by James Hughes, to whose generosity we owe the gift of the land on which St. Joseph's now stands. The Hughes, the Jennings, the Arnolds, the Brawners and the Elders were among the first of our little congregation and they were the pioneer citizens of Emmitsburg. Much did they and their descendants contribute to the early town history. Fortunately for the parish of St. Joseph's the congregation was blessed by pastors of extraordinary ability and piety. These men, leaders of strong character, left a very definite impression upon the members of their flock and upon the citizens of the town in general.

Few parishes in the country can boast that among their first pastors were to be found two bishops. St. Joseph's can boast of Bishop Dubois, the founder of Mount St. Mary's and afterwards Bishop of the diocese of New York. St. Joseph's can boast too, of the saintly Bishop Simon Brute, the angel of the Mount, who afterwards as bishop of Vincennes in Indiana gained an almost world-wide reputation for his zeal and sanctity.

But, my dear friends, these are but two of the very able and exemplary pastors with whom St. Joseph's has been blessed. There was Father Hickey, who served the parish for more than 15 years, just before the present church was built in 1841. There were the two McCaffreys, Father John and Father Tom, who followed Father Hickey in administering to the needs, the spiritual needs of the faithful. Then came the Vincentian priests to Emmitsburg about the middle of the last century.

There are those listening to my voice today who can remember old Father White, who came to Emmitsburg about 75 years ago, and during the 16 or more years of his pastorate, won the admiration of the whole town. To many of the older members of St. Joseph's congregation it seems but yesterday since rather Hayden took over his duties as pastor, and yet almost a half a century has passed since that day. We all know the part Father Hayden played in the town history during the quarter century of his stay among us. Probably no man in the entire history of Emmitsburg had a longer and a greater influence upon its inhabitants. His was a forceful character, a character that would command respect and esteem in circles where it could not command love and affection.

Since Father Hayden's time, St. Joseph's has known exemplary leaders. The last quarter of a century has brought among the Catholics of Emmitsburg, priests of every different disposition, but all representing virtues that claimed the admiration of the people of the town. In fact, the recent pastors of St. Joseph's seemed to have as large a host of friends outside their congregation as within it. There was Father Conroy, remembered and beloved by all; there was Father Groeninger, whose gentleness and simplicity won the hearts of everyone who knew him well; there was Father Rodgers, of very recent memory, whose untimely death last January shocked the town in a manner that seemed quite extraordinary. Catholics and non-Catholics alike paid him the tribute of their affection.

And during the past fortnight the people of the town said farewell to another of the fine pastors with whom St. Joseph's and the town of Emmitsburg has been blessed. Father Stauble, described by the local paper, the Chronicle, as simple and soft spoken, had won the affection and admiration of the people of Emmitsburg regardless of their religious affiliation.

Catholic Students To Receive Confirmation

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 18, at 7:30 o'clock, the Most Rev. Laurence J. Shehan, D.D., V.G., Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Baltimore, will visit Emmitsburg to confer the Sacrament of Confirmation on a number of children and adults at St. Joseph's Church. Following the ceremony the Most Rev. Bishop will be the guest of the Vincentian priests of St. Vincent's House.

The parochial school children have been carefully prepared by the Sisters of St. Euphemia's School for the reception of this sacrament while the children not attending St. Euphemia's and the adults of the parish who are to be confirmed have received their preliminary instructions at the rectory. The confirmation class this year will number about 80 children and adults.

The Sacrament of Confirmation is generally conferred at the parishes throughout the Archdiocese at intervals of three to four years, though occasionally the interval may be longer or shorter. Archbishop Keough visited St. Joseph's about three years ago for the purpose of conferring confirmation and also to become acquainted with the people of his flock following his installation as Archbishop of Baltimore. Bishop Shehan, an auxiliary bishop, assists the Archbishop in his episcopal duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stahley moved during the week to the property of Mrs. Andrew Eyster, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haley.

Carnival Receipts Announced

The finance committee estimates that approximately $8500 was grossed by the celebration and carnival. Expenses are expected to approximate $6000, leaving a balance of about $2500 for the memorial hall fund.

The last he is, in a long line of pastors who have played an important role in the history of Emmitsburg.

But the pastors, my dear friends, are but representatives of their organization. The congregation of St. Joseph's has played a tremendously important part in all the town's activity. As was said in the beginning, the history of St. Joseph's parish and the history of the town can not be separated.

There is one note that I wish to emphasize particularly, as I close these few words. I wish to call to your attention the peace and harmony that has existed among the religious congregations of Emmitsburg. It has been true since the beginning, as Bishop Brute testified in 1820. It is true today. The reason for this is the mutual understanding and respect that we have always had for one another. May this spirit ever remain with us: and in conclusion, in the name of St. Joseph's parish, I offer a prayer for the good old town of Emmitsburg. May God bless her in the future as He has blessed her in the past.

Fascinating Fashions By Judy Seaton

"Full skirts are making headlines this fall . . . and confirms predictions that women's fashions are becoming more and more feminine," says petite Olive Stacey, star of NBC-TV's "The First Hundred Years."

Leading designers are showing suits of soft wool or gabardine with many new jacket features, such as the nipped-in waist (if your waist isn't quite as petite as you would like, you can cheat with one of the new waist huggers), a little soft padding in the hips, and a natural shoulder line with very little, if any, padding. But the overall effect for fall seems to be "the natural look," which emphasizes a tiny waist and rounded hips.

Suit skirts may be very full, circular cut, or gored, smooth over the hips and flared toward the hemline. Or—if you prefer the straight line—you are still in style with a pencil-slim skirt and this silhouette is good for the short figure.

"This season you can indulge your most feminine whims for fancy lingerie," Olive points out. "Gay plaid taffeta petticoats and fluffy crinoline underskirts are going to be right in fashion to achieve the new silhouette."

Will Hold Career Clinic Starting Today St. Joseph College

A Career Clinic to be held this afternoon at Saint Joseph College, will feature alumnae and faculty members in various careers and professions. The Career Clinic, a part of the orientation program for the freshmen, is the beginning of the vocational guidance program offered to the students. Upper classmen may also participate in the clinic.

At the opening session in De Paul Auditorium at 1 p. m., Miss Elizabeth A. Fitzgerald, '47, alumnae executive secretary will discuss "The Role of the Alumnae" and Helen Law, assistant dean of women, will explain "How to Use College Services for Vocational Guidance."

Three panel discussions on teaching, business and science are scheduled for 1:30 p. m. and panels on social work, nursing, library science, radio, journalism and politics will be held during the third session of the afternoon program.

At a tea in the Green Room following the clinic, alumnae mothers with their children will be special guests.

Those participating in the panels of the Career Clinic include:

Politics: Ruth R. Startt '33, register of wills for Talbot County, Md.

Special guests at the tea will be Doris Everett Flanigan '37 and her children, Suzanne Marie, Kathleen, Edward, Nancy and Jerome; Jane Holihan Everett '43 and her children, Christopher and John of Baltimore; Katherine Hughes Moran '36 and her children Kathy and Jackie and Lucial O'Connell Woods '36 and her children, Michael, Sue and Howard of Hagerstown.

525 Students Enroll At Mt. St. Mary's

With a solemn mass of the Holy Ghost, Mount St. Mary's College Wednesday morning began its 144th scholastic year.

Five hundred and twenty-five students were present for the opening session, 94 less than the number present a year ago, but a number more proportionate to the housing facilities of the institution.

With only 50 World War II veterans still in school and all of them in the upper two classes, this year marks the resumption of normalcy after the years during which attendance was higher than normal due to the influx of veterans under the GI Bill of Rights.

Registrar John M. Roddy, Jr., completed the registration of 150 freshmen Monday. They began Tuesday a three-day period of examinations and orientation that precedes the beginning of scheduled classes.

Tuesday morning the psychological examination prepared by the American Council on Education was given to the freshmen along with a test of general proficiency in social studies. An English test was undertaken by the students Tuesday afternoon and addresses were given by the chaplain, Rev. Dr. John C. Gordan and prefect of discipline, Rev. Fr. Michael Kennedy.

Following the solemn mass of the Holy Ghost at the chapel on Wednesday morning at 8:30 a. m., the students continued with their tests. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of the college, was celebrant of the opening mass.

Three additions have been made to the faculty this year. Dr. Edward Fendon, formerly of Loyola, will teach philosophy and education; William Clarke, of Columbia, will be an instructor in physical education and Frank Appichella, who was a noted athlete while an undergraduate at Mount St. Mary's and who has been coaching the Washington College baseball team, will coach baseball and be an instructor in physical education at the Mount.

Mrs. John Owens and children, Linda and John, Baltimore, spent from Friday until Sunday with her parents, Burgess and Mrs. T. W. Rodgers.

St. Joseph College Starts 134th Year

St. Joseph's College Thursday opened its 134th year. More than 75 members of the freshman class began arriving Monday for registration. Tuesday and Wednesday were orientation days with leaders of the various campus organizations acting as an orientation committee and welcoming the new students.

Members of the faculty include the following:

Rev. Elwood S. Berry, lecturer in Latin; Julia Hynes Christie, assistant professor of secretarial science; Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., lecturer in debating; Thomas Power Dillon, lecturer in economics and business; Sister Mary Joan Doyle, instructor in chemistry; Sister Augustine Eastman, assistant professor of mathematics; Sister Denise Eby, instructor in chemistry and biology; M. Lucie Fitzpatrick, assistant professor in romance languages.

The Public Service Commission this week heard W. Griffin Morrel, vice president and general manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Baltimore City, advocate higher telephone rates as the only answer if the company is "going to give the people of Maryland the kind of service they want—when they want it."

Morrel, testifying at hearings on the company's application for increased telephone rates, said that "in a matter of months" telephone wages have gone up 3 million dollars, additional taxes, "including those in prospect," aggregate 4 million dollars, and the cost of "everything we use in the business also is up." He said that in order to offset these increases the company needs a minimum of 2 1/2 million dollars in additional net income, after taxes.

Mrs. Charles B. Koontz and children have returned to their home in Union City, N. Y., after spending three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hahn and family. Morris McFadden of Baltimore, spent several days last week at the Hahn home.

Blind Girl Speaks At Lions Meeting

Twenty-five Lions attended the regular meeting of the organization of Emmitsburg Lions Monday night at the Lutheran Parish Hall, President C. A. Elder, presiding.

Secretary-Treasurer Dr. J. J. Dillon, Jr., presented his regular monthly report, giving a resume of the club's activities. Flowers were sent to Mrs. Bertha Daugherty, mother of Lion Robert E. Daugherty, who died early this week. Tickets were sold to those wishing to attend the Taneytown Lions Club's Charter Night affair to be held soon. George L. Wilhide was made attendance chairman. Plans for the Horse Show were discussed and Lions Seiss, Roger, Elder, Fuss and Wilhide were placed in charge of advertising for the annual catalog.

Program Director Clarence W. Hahn, presented Mrs. Lilly Hupkins of Spartans, Md., a blind woman and a product of the School for the Blind at Overlea, Md., as the guest. Mrs. Hupkins gave an interesting talk and demonstrated her prowess at stenography by using the Braille system. She presented many interesting articles made by the blind and demonstrated their use. Of special interest was the watch she exhibited and the playing cards she showed the Lions.

The club plans a contribution of some sort to the school. Also a guest was Capt. H. C. Woodring, chairman of the Horse Show.

Miss Louise Sebold and Mrs. J. Lawrence Orendorff, director and president, respectively, of the Emmitsburg Homemakers Club, attended an executive board meeting of the County Council of Homemakers in Frederick, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kessler and daughter, Mary, and son, Donald, spent several days recently at Seneca Lake, Watkins Glen, New York and Niagara Falls.

Three Fined

Three motorists were arrested by Police Chief Robert Koontz this week for exceeding the 25-mile speed limit in the confines of the town. Arrested were Frank Vratovic Jr., Luzerne, Pa.; Delbert A. Kintz, Towson, and Marvin H. Ebaugh, Westminster. All were found guilty by Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan.

Visitors this week at the home of Mrs. James M. Alvey and Miss Louise Sebold were Miss Ann Joseph, Wash., D. C.; Mrs. Howard O'Neill and Miss Nancy O'Neill, Bel Air, Md.; Mrs. Fred MacGuire and Miss Juanita MacGuire, Brightwaters, L. I., and Miss Alice Alvarez, Sayville, Long Island.

Miss Helen I. Dewling, principal of one of the public schools of Baltimore, entertained her faculty last Saturday, Sept. 8, at a picnic-luncheon and supper on the lawn of her summer home, Mountain Acres, Eyer's Valley. There were 30 guests present.

Miss Hazel Glacken and Miss Inus Glass spent several days during the week with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Keilholtz, Washington.

Flush Door Makes Table Top

Here is an idea for the homeowner who is looking for something "different" in an occasional table.

A flush door of hardwood plywood, faced with handsomely-figured veneer, becomes an attractive and serviceable table when set on either wood or metal legs. Resistant to sagging, warping and buckling because of plywood's cross-grain construction, the flush door will make a sturdy, durable table top. Such a utility unit could be used as a writing or study table, or for various other purposes.

Flush doors are coming into increasingly greater use as "doors" in both new and remodeled homes because of their fine appearance and stability. The smooth, hard-to-mar veneer surface of the flush door—which makes it suitable for a table top—means ease of maintenance because there are no dirt-catching moldings.
