Now, if ever, is the time for Emmitsburg to expand. Notice by the Government last week designating Frederick County as a critical defense area opened the door to a bountiful supply of improvements and necessities for the welfare of this community.

Housing is only one of the many available items and services to be had . . . and with liberal Federal backing. One of the major improvements considered imperative for Emmitsburg, is an extension of its sewerage system. Heretofore the matter was considered a highly costly undertaking and has been more or less shelved. But now, under the new Federal ruling, funds are supposed to be available for such things as adequate fire protection, police, building, water works, education, sewerage and a host of other items necessary for the proper functioning of a well-balanced community.

I feel that the Chamber of Commerce and our Town Officials should intensify investigation these possibilities offered. There are only several such designated spots in the whole U. S. to which these grants are being allocated and our county is one of them. I understand that some of these are outright grants—free. If we are ever to grow and benefit in better environment, now is the chance of a lifetime. Not since the WPA days, when our Community Field was laid out and our present sewerage system installed, has an opportunity like this come within our grasp. Let's be sure to take advantage of the more important items.

Have you done your Christmas shopping yet? Well, according to the signs of the times, our favorite holiday is just around the corner. Frederick, I believe, has beaten the gun on all other towns in the county by placing their decorations as early as last week . . . before Thanksgiving. That to me, is rushing things a bit, but then you can't blame the merchants for having a little idea in their heads. As the old adage goes, "It's the early bird that gets the worm." And that worm, ladies and gents, is us. Pretty soon, at the rate the stores are beginning to work on the Christmas theme, we'll likely have a perpetual Xmas season . . . 12 months long. Then when I put my foot on it. In late years the blessed holiday has come to be a thing purely commercial, forgetting almost entirely, that the real reason for celebrating the occasion at all, it that it was the birthday of Christ. Let's not drift too far from that angle, please!

Let's get going on this scrap drive folks! As you all know it is for a very worthy cause that has a dual purpose. Scrap is badly needed by the nation's steel mills in the defense effort and the Grange, sponsoring the local drive, has announced its intention of donating all monies derived from the affair, to the building fund of the Memorial Hall Assn., which is seeking money, as you know, for the erection of a town hall. Thousands of dollars are needed for this promotion and I presume it will take several years more to raise this money, but every dollar counts.

Most every home in the Emmitsburg District, population 4,500, has some old scrap lying around their premises, so let's get to work and pile up the stuff for the members of the Grange to pick up. Edgar Emrich, Charles Fuss of Morris Zentz will call for any old lead, brass, zinc, steel, wire, old brass beds, etc., if you notify them. It will be a good opportunity to get rid of the junk that has been cluttering up your place—free, instead of having to pay the junk man to haul it away. So what's say, folks, let's show the Reds we still have plenty of "scrap" left.

Any of you that still hasn't gotten your copy of the latest History of Emmitsburg? There are plenty more copies available and the cost of one buck is very nominal for a book of this size. There's a wealth of information concerning the old burg and pictures galore of old

Night Hunters Plague Weary Game Wardens

Regional Game Warden Benjamin F. Phebus, this week announced a stepped-up drive on jacklight hunters.

Irate farmers of the county, whose cows have been promiscuously peppered with buckshot, are sending in increasingly numerous complaints as the illegal night hunters also began to hunt deer with rifles after dark.

The county game enforcement officer said the complaints of illegal hunting by spotlight in the fields and woods, "are higher this year than I have ever known them to be heretofore."

No estimate of the number of livestock shot by night hunters could be given, the game warden said, but the areas of complaint are well defined. Several arrests have been made for use of spotlights in hunting rabbits and game wardens have confiscated a few deer shot after dark, Mr. Phebus said.

Sportsmen's clubs are adding their protests to the farmers as unethical as well as illegal jacklighting goes on the increase. A Frederick magistrate this week heavily fined two offenders, called the practice of blinding rabbits by spotlight and then shooting them sitting, as "reprehensible."

Stepping up the drive on jacklighters will make almost a 24-day's work for the game wardens, with the rabbit, deer and duck season in full swing.

Hunters are warned of the starting time on ducks. After yesterday the starting time is one-half hour before sunrise, local time. They may not continue hunting past the beginning of the hour before sunset. The duck season runs from noon Nov. 22, to and including January 5, in this state.

Bag limit is four kills, but it is important to note that included in the four, no hunter may have "more than one" wood-duck in his possession.

Warden Phebus said he noticed quite a few ducks and some geese on the Potomac River and in Montgomery County. These are replenished by the approximately 1500 fowl raised on the preserve between the old C. & O. Canal and the Potomac River.

Take Physicals For Service

The following local men took their army physical examination last Thursday: Guy A. Baker, Jr., Lamar Green, Francis Adelsberger, Edward Houck, Harry T. McNair, James O. Koontz, Clyde Keilholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Keilholtz has received his physical and expects to be called into active service any time.

Martha Rosensteel Contest Winner

Mrs. Martha Rosensteel outdistanced seven other entrants in the Chronicle's Football Contest last week.

Donald Flax, Mrs. Claudia Rosensteel, Betty Ridge, John Roddy Jr., George Eyster, George Greco, and William Sterbinsky also correctly picked the same number of wins.

However, Mrs. Rosensteel came up with the closest probable score, 28-3 in the Navy-Columbia tilt. Mr. Sterbinsky selected a 21-21 tie in the contest won by Navy 21 to 7.

Probably the irony of last week's gridiron tests was the noted fact that all eight contestants named Michigan over Northwestern.

The contest editor announced this week will be final one for the '51 season.

Girl Scouts Active

The Emmitsburg troop of the Girl Scouts have been holding weekly meetings since the beginning of school.

The troop has been engaged in many activities such as hiking, skating parties, Halloween social, and a study of Girl Scouting. Mrs. Franklin Wastler and Mrs. Baker, leaders, were advised by the Scout headquarters in Frederick, Monday, on the teaching of arts and craft.

For the next several months the troop will be working on badges in this field.

One of the immediate projects is to decorate a Christmas tree for a needy family in Emmitsburg.

County Hospital Operates On Deficit

For the first time in the history of the Frederick Memorial Hospital, operating income last year did not equal expenses and the board of managers in the annual report showed a net deficit of $4,326.05.

Inflation has affected operating expenses, Mrs. Paul Michael, president of the board, states, and the cost for nursing services alone has soared from $74,000 in 1949 to $110,000 in 1951. To meet rising expenses it has been necessary to increase charges in various departments. "With this additional income we are able to break even," Mrs. Michael says.

For the year operating expenses were $391,811.51 and operating income was $377,663.54, leaving a deficit of $13,847.97. This figure, however, was reduced by $9,621.92 from other income, leaving the net deficit of $4,326.05.

Patients paid $214,336.59 to the hospital for room and care. The State appropriated $23,090 to purchase care for 181 convalescents under the Maryland Medical Care Program for those unable to pay for their own health services. The Frederick mayor and board of aldermen and the Board of County Commissioners each contributed $1,000 to the hospital operating costs.

X-ray fees paid were $26,746 while the charges to patients for drugs were $22,780.50. In the obstetrical department, delivery room costs were $10,611. Number of births was 913. During the year 808 major and 1,396 minor operations were performed in the operating room for which fees were $22,780.50.

There has been a sharp rise in the number of Blue Cross subscribers treated, the report revealed. Admissions in this category are 10% above those for the preceding 12-month period. These patients accounted for 5995 patient days, about 20% for the year's total, and they paid about 20% of the income from all patients during that time.

The daily cost per patient in the resident service now is $13.42. The daily cost for ward care per patient is $11.40. The average patient spent 7.1 days in the hospital and a total of 4,965 patients were admitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shipley and family of Baltimore, were Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Frailey.

CHAPEL CHOIR HOLDS MEETING

The Chapel Choir of Elias Ev. Lutheran Church held its November business meeting in connection with its regular rehearsal Tuesday night.

Clarence Hahn, president-elect at the October meeting, presided, with 25 members present. Herbert Bushman, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mary Jo Zimmerman gave the financial report. Special matters pertaining to Christmas were decided and $200 of the $300 choir balance was ordered turned over to the church treasury.

Local Women Awarded Red Cross Certificates

Certificates were awarded last week to 14 Emmitsburg women upon completion of the Red Cross Quantity Cooking Canteen Service School. The classes were held in St. Joseph's High School and were under supervision of Sister Mary Edwards and Sister Georgia, the latter dietitian at St. Joseph College.

The certificates were awarded upon completion of the 10-hour course and the presentations were made by Sister Mary Edwards, St. Joseph College instructor.

Graduates of the class were Mesdames E. R. Shriver, Mary Shuff, Thomas Gingell, Harry McNair, Harry Tom McNair, Valerie Overmann, Sarah Rhodes, Ina Martin, Anne Orendorff, Harry S. Boyle, Roy Bollinger, A. W. McClellan, Charles R. Fuss and Sister Madeline.

Mrs. Roy Bollinger was appointed chairman of the canteen group and Mrs. A. W. McClellan, assistant chairman. The class performed its first service Monday when the Bloodmobile visited Emmitsburg at Mt. St. Mary's College. They served about 200 donors sandwiches, coffee, milk, etc.

A subsidy never threatens the moral fiber of businessmen even if it wrecks that of farmers and old people.

Plan New Road To By-pass Westminster

Chairman Russell H. McCain announced this week that the State Roads Commission will ask bids next spring for a bypass to take a dual highway around Westminster, Md.

The information came as Gov. McKeldin, members of the commission and newsmen toured highway projects in Carroll County.

A four-mile extension of rebuilt U. S. Route 140 between Reisterstown and Westminster, is to be opened Dec. 15 and will take the dual highway to the northeast edge of Westminster. The bypass would connect it to the present route north of Westminster and continue to State Route 32, the road leading to Emmitsburg.

Also scheduled to be opened on Dec. 15, is a five-mile extension of the new dual-highway from Baltimore to Frederick which replaces a section of U. S. 40. The extension runs from West Friendship to near Lisbon. Contracts have been let for another extension to Ridgeville and this will put the highway within 14 miles of Frederick.

Church to Show Movie Sunday

Apologies are extended to the many friends of the Presbyterian Church, who came to the church a week ago last Sunday to view the Wonderful Life film scheduled at that time. The film did not arrive. It is here now and will be shown in the church at 7:30 Sunday night. Those who have seen it have been captivated with it as a splendid religious production. It is a Hollywood production put out by the Protestant Film Commission for the sponsoring churches.

Edgar G. Emrich Elected Master Of Local Grange in Annual Election Wednesday

The Emmitsburg Grange met Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the high school auditorium, with Norman Shriver, master, in charge. Three new members were elected into membership, Mr. and Mrs. George Gartrell and Mr. Glenn Gillespie. Mr. Charles R. Fuss reported that he had collected all the community show program advertisement money and closed the account. His report was received with thanks.

Edgar Emrich reported on two projects, the Grange participation in the blood donations made Monday and the community scrap drive program, sponsored by the Grange for the Memorial Hall fund. He said the blood donation drive locally for the Red Cross was a complete success with more donors volunteering than the unit was able to take care of. He announced that there were 30 donors from the Grange and the 16 members had recently given their blood for Clifford Meskill, making the total from the Grange 46. The secretary reported receiving $41.67 from the Frederick Fair board for the booth the Emmitsburg Grange had placed at the fair this year.

It was announced that the 1951 achievement contest, together with the December report was due and it was explained that the contest consisted of 46 items and the Grange receiving 3500 points would be awarded a gold shield Creagerstown on Dec. 7.

Local Home Appliance Business Firm Announces Sale to New Proprietors

One of Emmitsburg's foremost progressive business changed hands this week when Mr. F. S. K. Matthews announced the sale of his business on W. Main St., to Zurgable Brothers.

The new owners will take over operation Monday morning. Mr. Matthews, who still will operate his Happy Cooking Metered Gas business, announced the transaction late this week. The Matthews began operation of the establishment when it was purchased from George Clutz, some 41 years ago and at one time, 1914 to 1945, operated a soft drink bottling works in conjunction with the firm.

Work on Camp Ritchie Is Temporarily Halted

Work remains suspended on the $10,000,000 Fort Ritchie, Md. housing project while officials are holding consultations as to what phases of the job should be curtailed.

The work, under contract to the John McShain contracting firm, was stopped a week ago upon receipt of a Dept. of Defense directive.

It was pointed out that certain military construction projects over the country would have to be curtailed due to a cutback in Federal appropriations.

Since the Ritchie job is so vast and entails approximately a dozen different phases of construction, the consultations on which work should get priority have lasted all week.

Meanwhile, scores of employees who were among those thrown out of work, have applied for unemployment compensation.

When work will be resumed in its abbreviated form is not known but it is expected it will begin within a short time.

Promoted On Hospital Staff

Dr. Edwin A. Ohler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Ohler of W. Main St., has been appointed assistant professor of physiology in the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, Chicago.

Dr. Ohler, who recently completed his Ph.D. degree in medical physiology, was formerly instructor in physiology at the institution.

Downing Street, traditional home of England's prime minister, was named for Sir George Downing, who had been educated at Harvard College in the U. S.

Mountaineer Glee Club To Present Concert

Rev. David W. Shaum, director of the Mt. St. Mary's College Glee Club, has announced that plans are complete for two concerts to be given in the near future.

On Dec. 1, the choraleers will journey to Baltimore to join with member clubs in the Associated Male Glee Club of the Maryland District annual concert at the Polytechnic Institute. The Mountaineers will present as their selections: "The Mountain Pine," by Brooke, and "Oklahoma."

On Dec. 12, the Glee Club will present "An Evening of Music" in Flynn Hall on the Mount campus.

A portion of the program will be devoted to Christmas music. Nyla Wright, Baltimore, soprano, will be guest soloist. Miss Wright, a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory, appears on Club 1300, Station WFER weekly, and has been heard on a national hookup as soloist with the Baltimore and Ohio Glee Club. Miss Wright will sing operatic selections as well as light classics. She will join the Mount men in Romberg's Serenade from The Student Prince as a finale.

Authority on Spain To Lecture At St. Joseph's

Richard Pattee, internationally prominent authority on the Spanish world, will lecture at St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, on Thursday, Nov. 29, at 7:30 p. m. "The Crisis as It Looks from Europe" will be his topic.

With a varied career as professor, author, and lecturer, Mr. Pattee has traveled all over North and South America and Europe. His residence in these countries, coupled with his vast research into history, politics, and economics, enable him to be scrupulously authentic as an author and compelling as a lecturer.

At present he is official consultant on international affairs for the NCWC with his headquarters in Switzerland.

In 1948, at Windsor, Ontario, the Christian Culture Award was given to Mr. Pattee for his efforts to promote better understanding among Latin America, Europe, and the United States. Of his eight books, the latest, "This Is Spain," points out the erroneous opinions held by the American people regarding the government of Spain.

Besides writing many articles for Catholic magazines of the U. S., Mr. Pattee is a regular contributor to Spanish periodicals in Madrid and South America.

Church Council Plans Supper

The council of Elias Ev. Lutheran Church will meet for its annual supper and organization meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 27, at 6:30 o'clock at the Parish House.

One member, Richard Saylor, will be going out of the council and one new member, Carroll E. Frock Jr. will be coming in.

Clarence Hahn has been re-elected and will remain a member for another two-year term.

Lt. Baker Wounded Again

Lt. John M. Baker, Emmitsburg, who led the first helicopter attack in military history on Oct. 27, just 17 days after being wounded on Heartbreak Ridge in Korea, has been wounded again, according to a letter to his wife.

Lt. Baker's letter said he suffered shrapnel and hand grenade wounds of the left leg on Oct. 29. He was hospitalized in Korea, where the numb leg was placed in a cast. Mrs. Baker is Lt. Margaret Baker, an army nurse at Camp Lee, Va. The previous wound was also from shrapnel and fractured Baker's jaw.

Baker, who is 34, and an officer in the Marine Corps, is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Welty, Emmitsburg R. 2. He is a veteran of 14 years' service and volunteered for Korean duty. He is a native of Sioux Falls, S. D. He and the former Miss Welty were married last Dec. 15.

The helicopter raid, led by Lt. Baker, carried 33 volunteers against a North Korean guerrilla stronghold in the rear of the UN lines. Just before dawn the following day, the raid was made on huts occupied by the guerrillas.

C. of C. Plans Prizes For Xmas Decorations

The Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday night at eight o'clock in the Fire Hall with President Samuel Hays presiding. Following the report of Treasurer Lewis Stoner, $1447.07 was ordered turned over to the Memorial Hall Fund. This was the net profit from the Old Home Week carnival. It was also pointed out that approximately $1000 of permanent improvement was done on the Community Field and came out of the Old Home Week proceeds.

A letter of commendation was ordered written to Police Chief Robert Koontz for his work with the boys' club.

A communication from the Burgess on the Bollinger and Community Field alley was read.

The proposed minstrel was discussed and a committee consisting of Harold Hoke, Ralph McDonnell, and Mrs. Robert Daugherty was advised to set the date and make the necessary arrangements.

Prof. Arvin P. Jones, who served as one of last year's judges for the Christmas decorations contest, sponsored by the Chamber, was present and spoke of some of the ways the contest could be improved. He pointed out particularly that a common mistake made last year was the failure of many dwellings and business places to carry out any one theme. He said that some of the most elaborate decorations had used several different themes with relations to each other. The Chamber again decided to sponsor a Christmas decoration contest.

St. Joseph's College Plans Charity Fair Dec. 1

St. Joseph's College annual Charity Fair sponsored by the Assn. of the Children of Mary will be held Saturday, Dec. 1, in Cerdier Hall from two in the afternoon until 9 at night. Proceeds from this benefit will be used for the poor at Christmas. Alumnae and friends are invited to attend.

Margaret Bowling, president of the Sodality and general chairman of the fair, has announced that in keeping with the theme, "Come to the Stable," each booth will resemble a miniature stable. An added attraction at the fair will be the scroll enrollment, which replaced the raffle of former years. Each person who makes a contribution at this booth will have his name inscribed on the scroll that will be placed in a prominent place in the hall.

Another new booth added to the roster this year is the games of skill booth. At this booth, patrons will be enabled to test their prowess as sportsmen while they provide a joyful Christmas for some poor family. The closing activity of the fair will be the enactment of the traditional story of the first Christmas by children from the local parochial school.

Guests attending the Charity Fair this year will have an opportunity to do their Christmas shopping leisurely and their purchases will help the Sodalists of St. Joseph's reach their goal for the poor.

School Alumni Plan Dance

Col. Thomas J. Frailey, president of the Emmitsburg High School Alumni Assn., has announced that the association will have a Christmas dance at the Emmitsburg High School Wednesday evening, Dec. 26. Mr. Carroll E. Frock, Jr., has accepted the appointment as general chairman in charge of this annual social event and Mrs. Andrew R. Eyster has been named to head the music committee. Other committee appointments will be announced later by the general chairman.

All members of the alumni association and their friends are cordially invited to attend this Christmas dance.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith, and son, Terry, Pittsburgh, are spending the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder, who has returned home after a 10-day visit to Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wiegand and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Paidakovich, Silver Spring, are spending the Thanksgiving holidays visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Elder and Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder.

St. Joseph's Church Activities

On Thursday, Thanksgiving Day a High Mass of thanksgiving was offered by Father Sullivan at 8 o'clock. This Mass was offered in the name of the people of the parish in thanksgiving to God for the multifold favors both spiritual and temporal which were enjoyed by the parish during the year.

At the Thanksgiving Day Mass special prayers were offered for the authorities of the State and Nation. These prayers have been recited on Thanksgiving Day in the Catholic churches of the land since the day of their author, Archbishop Carroll, the first member of the American Hierarchy, the first bishop and archbishop of Baltimore.

Clothing Drive Successful

The clothing drive which began last week, was continued during the present week with the usual success. The clothing was sorted by the girls of the high school and packed by the boys. A large number of pairs of shoes, especially the heavy variety were received at the rectory. The final preparation of the parcels for shipment was done by Guy Baker, whose skill in this type of work is due to his long experience in the shipping business.

The Christmas choir has made splendid progress in preparing the special Mass which will be sung on the Feast of the Nativity. Due to the holiday this week, there was no rehearsal on Thursday.

On Monday of the past week, a High Mass of Requiem was offered for the repose of the soul of the late George V. Lingg. This Mass was the gift of his grandchildren. The celebrant of the Mass was the pastor, Father Sullivan.

Sodality Active

The Sodality meeting Tuesday was well-attended. The meeting was held in the parochial school after the devotions in the church. It is hoped that many new members will be received into the Sodality on the occasion of the coming Feast of the Immaculate Conception. It is expected that the members of the Sodality will sponsor several important social projects during the coming weeks.

Feast of Miraculous Medal

Tuesday, Nov. 27 will be celebrated as the Feast of the Miraculous Medal. This feast is always observed with special ceremonies in the houses and chapels of the Sisters of Charity and in the churches which are administered by the priests of the Congregation of the Missions, the Vincentian Fathers.

Tuesday, Father Sullivan will sing a high Mass in honor of the Feast of the Miraculous Medal. A special sermon on the Miraculous Medal will be preached next Monday evening at the regular weekly devotions.

Graders Vs. Frosh

A thrilling basketball game was played Wednesday afternoon in St. Joseph's High School gym, between the seventh and eighth grade girls of St. Euphemia's and the freshmen girls of the high school. The lead see-sawed between the two teams and it was by a margin of only three points that the freshmen finally made off with the honors.

Tour Battlefield

The pupils of the upper grades of St. Euphemia's School visited the battlefield at Gettysburg on an outing that combined both pleasure and study. The experience made a lasting impression on the minds of the boys and girls who were privileged to make the trip. The affair proved a fine objective history lesson which was well-learned by the youngsters, according to tests which followed.

Highlights in the trip to Gettysburg were the electrical map, Mr. George Rosensteel's graphic description of the battle, the visit to the spot where Lincoln delivered his classical address, the visit to the monuments and last but not least, the delicious refreshments which were furnished by the thoughtfulness of the pastor, Father Sullivan, who accompanied them on the trip.

As part of their regular training in charity and generosity and the love of neighbor, the children of St. Euphemia's, under the direction of the Sisters, prepared Thanksgiving baskets for the needy in the surrounding countryside. These baskets were delivered by the children as an object lesson in helpfulness and kindness.

The Family Rosary, in a special Thanksgiving season television show, "That I May See," will bring to the magic screen on Nov. 25, such stars as Ruth Hussey, Jeffrey Lynn, Regis Toomey, Mae Clarke, Nelson Leigh, Raymond Burr and Richard Hale. Scheduled for the ABC-TV System, the program will be presented from 8 p. m. to 9 p. m. The DuMont TV System will carry the production on Nov. 25 from 1:00 to 2:00 p. m.

Many Eskimo igloos have animal skin linings in them to provide air space for insulation and to prevent drip on the occupants.

General Kenney Heads Rheumatic, Arthritis Drive

Maryland's annual drive to aid victims of arthritis and rheumatism started on Tuesday evening when Gen. George C. Kenney met at a dinner meeting with a group of business leaders.

Gen. Kenney, who is co-chairman of the drive of the National Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, was commander of Allied Air Forces in the Pacific during the last war.

A sum of $50,000 will be sought in Maryland, $30,000 of it in Baltimore. The campaign will last until Dec. 15.

The president of the Maryland chapter, Clarence W. Miles, says "Our greatest need in Maryland is to support a plan for the development of a state-wide chain of clinics to be held in Baltimore and various county health centers through the cooperation of Baltimore and county health officials."

"This country is faced with providing treatment and rehabilitation for 7.5 million victims of arthritis, a total that exceeds the combined annual toll of tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer and diabetes. Whereas the average worker loses only 13 days a year through sickness, the arthritic suffer is out for an average of 80 days."

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

Within a very short time, the OPS will issue posters bearing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for beef. These ceiling prices must be displayed prominently by your butcher, so that you will know the exact amount you are paying for the beef you buy.

Housewives are reminded that when buying meat, the butcher is required by OPS regulations to weigh only the meat. It is also pointed out that consumers have the right to request that they be allowed to watch the butcher bone, roll, or dice the beef.

CPR 83, requiring resellers of new automobiles to comply with invoicing and posting requirements by Nov. 5, will be amended to extend the deadline to Dec. 10, 1951.

The OPS has issued a new dollars-and-cents ceiling price regulation covering the sale of used passenger automobiles. The regulation sets dollars-and-cents ceilings for each body style, line or series of each make of used passenger car for the years 1940 through 1951, under geographical regions. Maryland is in Region A. These ceilings are to be reduced at the rate of two per cent every calendar quarter beginning Jan. 1.

The new order, CPR 94, is effective Nov. 20. However, the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices do not become effective until 30 days after the effective date of the regulation, Dec. 20.

The new ceilings are based on leveling and harmonizing of prices listed in the several recognized used car guide books and other economic data.

A number of refiners of used lubricating oils and crankcase drainings have complained to the OPS that the prices which they are being charged by retail service stations, garages, and other sources of supply have increased significantly over the past year. It has been alleged that a large part of this increase has taken place since the base period. Therefore, these sources of supply throughout the country may be in violation of CPR 63, the specific price regulation which governs the ceiling prices of crankcase drainings and used lubricating oils sold by retail service stations, garages, and other sources of supply to reclaimers and refiners.

Service stations, garages, and others are reminded that the sales of these products at prices higher than the highest prices charged during the base period are in violation of CPR 63.

Sellers of these products are also warned that they are required by law to preserve all records of these sales in accordance with the record-keeping requirements of this regulation.

Winter Warning Issued Motorists

All motor vehicle owners in the state were called upon this week by the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission to join in a "mutual defense pact" against the danger-filled attacks of snow, sleet, and ice to be launched soon by Old Man Winter.

"If we are adequately prepared for the early phases of the annual battle with this ancient foe, we stand a better chance of completing the entire cold season without casualties," Paul E. Bruke, chairman, said.

Most car owners feel that getting their vehicle ready for winter is simply a case of driving into their favorite service station, and having the lights and battery checked, oil and grease changed to lighter grade, and radiator protected with anti-freeze," he declared, adding, "that's a good start, but to put up a successful fight against the sneak attack by Jack Frost, windshield wipers and defrosters must be functioning perfectly. The National Safety Council reports that in one out of five fatal accidents, the driver's vision was obscured, and often the obscurement is freezing rain, snow, or sleet."

"Brakes should be checked for simultaneous gripping, tires should be kept at normal pressures, and anti-skid chains should be carried for quick use whenever severe snow or dice conditions develop."

"Return of synthetic rubber tires, which skid and spin more on snow or ice, make tire chains more important for avoiding accidents and traffic delays on even relatively slight grades during bad weather."

School Bids Asked

A low bid of $20,656.70 on the purchase of tables and chairs for students and desks and chairs for teachers in the new schools now under construction at Brunswick, Middletown, and Woodsboro, the addition at Emmitsburg High School, and the recently completed addition at Libertytown was received at the office of the Board of Education, Frederick, recently.

Know Your Social Security Better

By ED. R. YOUNG

Hagerstown Social Security Office

Since the first of this year, paid farm workers who are regularly employed have been included in the Federal Old-age and Survivors' insurance program. Most persons working regularly at farm work for wages will now receive social security credit for their farm work. Farm operators, farm workers who are close relatives of the farm operator (such as a child under 21, a husband or wife, or parent), and seasonal and migratory farm workers are still excluded from this program.

Workers Regularly Employed

Briefly, here is how the law works. The farm worker must first be continuously employed by one employer during an entire calendar quarter. Calendar quarter means any three-month period beginning on Jan. 1, April 1, July 1, or Oct. 1. His agricultural employment in this first qualifying quarter is not covered by old-age and survivors insurance. But if, in the next quarter, he works 60 or more days on a full-time basis for the same employer, he is considered to be regularly employed in that quarter; and that quarter is covered if he is paid $50 or more in cash wages. The worker continues to be "covered" for each following quarter in which he works 60 days or more on a full-time basis for the same farmer and is paid cash wages of at least $50.

Once he has become regularly employed by an employer, the worker is then covered for the first quarter in which he works on fewer than 60 days but is paid at least $50 in cash wages. But then he is no longer regularly employed, and he must start all over again with another qualifying quarter before he can have his wages again count toward social security.

Reporting Farm Workers

Farm operators whose hired help meet these requirements will make quarterly reports to the Collector of Internal Revenue giving the name of each covered worker, his cash wages, and his social security number. The report is to be accompanied by the social security tax equal to three per cent of the covered cash wages earned by the employee. Half of this contribution (1½ per cent) is deducted from the workers' wages; the other half is paid by the farmer.

Farm operators with employees covered by social security should immediately get on the mailing list of the Collector of Internal Revenue to receive quarterly report forms. They can do so by securing application blanks from any of the following: the Collector of Internal Revenue, the Hagerstown Social Security office, the office of the county agent, state agricultural extension service, or the county PMA of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Hired farm workers who are regularly employed should get a social security number. Where there is no social security office, application blanks can be secured at the post office.

Regularly employed farm workers should make certain that their wages and social security taxes are reported to the government. They will thereby build up valuable old-age and survivors insurance protection for their families and for themselves.

Youth Injured In Car Crash

Robert Lee Tipton, 16 of Gettysburg Rt. 2, suffered a laceration of the scalp, concussion, and possible fracture of the left ankle, when an automobile he was driving overturned on the Emmitsburg Rd. about six miles north of here about five o'clock Sunday afternoon. The car was traveling south.

State police of the Gettysburg substation, who investigated the accident, estimated damage to the car at $400. Tipton was taken to the Warner Hospital.

Christmas Seals Have Been Mailed

One of the world's most familiar symbols of unselfish giving, Santa Claus, is featured on the 1951 Christmas Seals, which were sent to homes of Frederick County through the mails Monday, Nov. 19, the opening of the sale, George B. Delaplaine, Jr., county seal sale chairman, said this week. A total of 18,000 letters containing the seals were sent throughout the county in an attempt to raise the $10,500 goal set by the Frederick County Tuberculosis and Public Health Assn. The sale will end Christmas Day.

Much of the money raised from the sale of Christmas seals locally goes for support of the mobile chest X-ray unit, which is now touring Frederick and the county. The mobile unit takes free X-rays in a fight to detect tuberculosis, and last year 10,800 persons were included in the county survey.

Other services provided by funds raised through the sale include supporting the county office of the association, and contributing to the salary of a clinician who holds a chest clinic twice monthly at the county health department. In addition, a nationwide program of medical research is supported by funds, and tuberculosis patients benefit from Christmas Seals by a state-wide program of rehabilitation, social and personal services to patients in the state tuberculosis hospitals.

Mr. Delaplaine, county chairman of the sale, is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and is a vice president of the Frederick Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Your Personal Health

"Wild rabbits should always be handled with the greatest of care," Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Dept. of Health, warns hunters, trappers, and housewives who may come in contact with the game. "This is highly important, because rabbits may be infected with tularemia or rabbit fever, a disease which can be transmitted easily to human beings."

"Although all rabbits running wild are not, of course, infected with tularemia they should be handled with due caution at every stage between the woods and the dining table. It is wise to assume that any rabbit caught is capable of transmitting the disease and take every precaution to avoid possible illness. The cases of tularemia reported to the State Dept. of Health each year indicate that a considerable number of rabbits may be diseased and capable of transmitting their infection to persons who come in contact with them."

"For the safe enjoyment of autumn sport and rabbit dinners these precautions are in order. First, the hunter should take only frisky rabbits that dash away as he approaches, for a cottontail without the energy to run for his life is probably sick. Once caught, however, even the apparently healthy rabbit should be treated as though it were believed to be infected. Gloves—preferably rubber ones—should be worn whenever the animal is being touched, especially if there is even a small cut or scratch on the hands. After handling the fur or raw meat the hunter or housewife should avoid touching face, mouth or eyes. As soon as the meat has been prepared all fur, contaminated paper and refuse should be burned. Gloves and implements should be sterilized and the hands washed thoroughly with soap and hot water. Adequate cooking of the meat is also essential in order to destroy any disease germs that may be present, and it is urged that the rabbit be cooked for at least 20 minutes at boiling temperature regardless of whether it is to be fried, stewed, or served in a pie.

"These safeguards will enable those who like to hunt and those who like wild rabbit dinners to enjoy this season's pleasure safe."

A Healthy Indignation

The results of the municipal elections in New York and Philadelphia strengthen the feeling I've had all along that the rank and file of American citizens, whatever their creed or race or political party, have not lost respect for the high moral principles of honesty and honor exemplified by the Founding Fathers. In both cities the people ignored party labels and voted for what they believed to be decency in public office. Entrenched corruption was defeated. It should be a stunning warning to those politicians at all levels who have been participating in or conducting graft and corruption.

Our nation has been deeply injured by the very fact that the dishonest and dishonorable acts of public officials have been permitted to go unchallenged by important leaders. The injury done to our younger generation will never be healed. But if, in elections from now on, a majority of Americans will assert their indignation over politico-government corruption as did the citizens of Philadelphia and New York on Nov. 4, the character of our nation will be strengthened and the morality of our forefathers carried forward.

Powerful Speech

Three months ago Herbert Hoover made a speech at Des Moines on "Honor in Public Life." It was a significant and powerful speech because ex-President Hoover is widely acknowledged as an elder statesman and his integrity is so obviously non-partisan that a Democrat President of the U. S. appointed him to the chairmanship of a national committee to study bureaucratic waste and recommend economies in government.

In discussing the citizen's responsibility on the issue of public morality, Mr. Hoover said: "The practical thing we can do if we really want to make the world over again is to try out the word 'old' for a while. There are some old things that made this country. There is the old virtue of religious faith. There are the old virtues of integrity and the whole truth. There is the old virtue of incorruptible service and honor in public office. There are the old virtues of economy in government, of self-reliance, thrift and individual liberty. There are the old virtues of patriotism, real love of country and willingness to sacrifice for it.

Virtues Never Change

"These 'old' ideas are very inexpensive. They even would help win hot and cold wars. I realize that such suggestions will raise that cuss word 'reactionary.' But some of these old things are slipping badly in American life. And if they slip too far, the lights will go out of America, even if we win these cold and hot wars. Think about it."

Congress, as a result of its own inquiries, is confronted with the fact that sacred honor cannot always be tested by legality or enforced by law. "In its frustration," said Mr. Hoover, "the Congress is groping for some sort of code of ethics, which with a prefix 'new' might protect the citizen from his own officials. Might I suggest that there are already some old tested codes of ethics? There are the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, and the rules of the game which we learn at our mother's knee. Can a nation live if these are not the guides of public life? Think it over."

Our Greatest Danger

Something stronger than a new code of ethics is needed by America, Herbert Hoover contended. "The issue," he said, "is decency in public life against indecency. Our greatest danger is not from invasion by foreign armies. Our dangers are that we may commit suicide from within by complacency with evil . . . or public tolerance of scandalous behavior . . . or by cynical acceptance of dishonor. These evils have defeated nations many times in human history. The redemption of mankind by America will depend upon our ability to cope with these evils right here at home."

"Here is this state (Iowa) where I was nurtured," he said, "I cannot but feel a strength that comes up from the deep roots in the very soil on which we stand. That strength is in character and truth and decent living. And it will triumph. It must triumph. Because I know America is turning its face away from the maudlin leftisms and the spread of untruth of the past two decades. We sense the frauds on men's minds and morals. Moral indignation is on the march again."

Political corruption is widespread. The uprising of voters in New York and Philadelphia must be considered only a beginning.

The Free State processes about 360 million cans of food each year," explained Dr. H. E. Michl, economist for the American Can Co., supplier of containers. "Every time a housewife opens the average can she cuts through 10.79 inches of metal."

On the basis of the state's annual pack, this would mean that, altogether, can openers slice through 61,306 miles cutting off the tops of Maryland-canned foods.

Comptroller Claims Confusion Prevalent In Filing Sales Tax

It has been brought to the attention of J. Millard Tawes, State Comptroller, that many licensees, and the public at large seem to be confused regarding rules covering the filing of returns under the Maryland Retail Sales & Use Tax Acts, or else completely ignore them.

Mr. Tawes, this week, in order to clarify the situation, directs the attention of all holders of Retail Sales & Use Tax licenses and the general public to the following points which must be observed in reporting returns under the laws as passed by the legislature.

1—Persons engaged in wholesale business must collect the tax on accommodation sales and on all other sales to persons whom this law considers consumers.

2—The tax must be paid on personal property which is purchased for use in business, but which will not be resold, such as stationery and office supplies, tools and equipment, etc.

3—Builders and contractors engaged in building or repairing real estate are the consumers of all personal property which they purchase and must pay the tax thereon.

4—Property which is purchased outside of Maryland is subject to the Use Tax when it comes into this State.

5—Manufacturers must pay the tax on all purchases which do not become a component part of their manufactured product and which do not meet the requirements of rule 62 and 63.

6—Fabrication of tangible personal property on a special order for a consideration is one of the services subject to the tax.

7—Property which is given away is taxable.

It is hoped that publication of these rules will clear up some of the confusion now present and lead to a more orderly and uniform system of collections.

Speaking about newspapermen, it is surprising what some people will do to make money writing.

When men seek to win, regardless of what it takes, they can easily forget the principles of fair play.

Inquiries About State Mount To 20,000 Annually

More than 20,000 letters and postcards asking for information about the State of Maryland have been received by the Dept. of Information during the past year. An average of one inquiry daily is received from foreign countries by the Department. Mostly these communications are concerned with citizenship requirements, economic, tourist, or trade data.

Requests for tourist information accounted for more than 10,000 pieces of the Department's mail, a spokesman said, with many coming from Mexico and Canada.

Queries ranging from addresses of officials and prominent citizens to pleas that the Department furnish Maryland State flags to out-of-state shrines were included among the more than 3,000 cards and letters received from Maryland residents. The flags could not be furnished, however, as the Department has no funds for this work.

The spokesman said 7791 requests for specific information were received during the same period. These ranged from a college professor's desire to know the color of the hair, eyes and clothing of the dignitaries preserved for posterity in an oil painting hung in the State House, to a doctor's desire for information on the per capita income, number of persons on relief, average temperature and humidity, school facilities, and tax rate of one Maryland county.

Listed in the Annapolis telephone directory as "Information, Department Of," the State agency receives thousands of telephone calls for a wide variety of information. Most popular, in number of calls, is information on registration, titling and licensing of automobiles, followed closely by requests for marriage license information. One caller wanted to know if the State provided psychiatric treatment and marriage counselling service for prospective husbands. Another wanted a picture of a crab, and daily calls are received inquiring about telephone numbers and addresses of individual State employees. The Department does not have this information.

Still another caller asked for the name and address of all Maryland mayors and an apparently harassed man, puzzled about how to dispose of an ailing dog, called the Department for help. The question which completely the staff however, was an inquiry concerning an Austrian art exhibit.

Established by legislative action in 1949 the Dept. of Information is a separate state agency empowered to collect and assemble data about Maryland and to distribute it to the public in general and to institutions of learning in particular. It is further authorized to promote the interests of Maryland, and its products, and in this respect, serves as the center of information for the tourist and vacation trade.

The Department has available for free distribution a number of pamphlets and brochures of "Maryland's Historic State House," "Where To Go and What To Do in Maryland," "Place to Stay in Maryland," "Maryland At A Glance," official State Road maps and a variety of other material. Requests for these publications should be addressed to the Dept. of Information, Dept. Q, Box 706, Annapolis.

St. Joseph's High School News

With St. Joseph's High School acting as host, the Blue Ridge Conference of the CSMC held its regular meeting in the auditorium Nov. 15 at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting was conducted by President Michael Boyle. After the opening prayer by Rev. C. W. Dausch, moderator, the Crusaders were welcomed to St. Joseph's by Rev. Hugh F. O'Donnell, C.M. Plans were made to hold an oratorical contest at a later date, and for the various units to send their activities to individual schools for publication.

A playlet, "Book to Book," by Paul Spaeth, was presented to the guest units. Arthur, portrayed by William Kincaid, is aided by Richard, Michael Boyle, and a delegation of text books, Literature, Modern and Ancient History, Chemistry, Physics, and the Math twins. They enabled him to discover for himself the part the early missionaries played in preserving and improving education for us today. Those who represented the textbooks were Margaret Rocks, Saranna Miller, Lillian Bowers, Shirley Willhide, Geraldine White, Joan Walter, and Margaret Kane. The narrator was George Arnold.

Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. Hugh F. O'Donnell, C.M., assisted by seminarians from Mt. St. Mary's. The music was rendered by the glee club, with Anna Mae Welty '51, at the organ. Following benediction, refreshments were served in the cafeteria and the students then enjoyed a social hour until 5 p. m.

Two original plays were presented at an English assembly Tuesday, Nov. 20. "What Is This Thing Called Education" by Richard Pastoret, Year IV, had for its players, Frances Firor, James Tresselt, and Charles Baker. Incorporated in the playlet were the exemplary lives of Thomas Edison, Louis Pasteur, and George Washington. Several students remarked on the "vibrant rendition of Carver's life as told by James Tresselt." Still another claimed: "Orchids to James Tresselt for his unusual display of oratory."

The second play, "Education on a Date," written by Joan Reaver, Year III, co-starred Edward O'Brien and Dorothy Fitzgerald with William Kincaid supporting. The three scenes showed the value of an education, which combines book knowledge with cultural training.

Report cards for the first quarter were issued to students on Monday, Nov. 19. Honors for achieving an "A" average (95-100) go to Dorothy Fitzgerald and Barbara Rosensteel, Year IV; Agnes Wormley, Year II, and Theresa Rybikowsky, Year I. Running close seconds by maintaining an average from 90-95 are Patricia Lingg, Frances Firor, Joseph Arnold, and Suzanne Law, Year IV; Saranna Miller, Year III; Grace Sanders, Angela Rocks, Edward O'Brien, Nancy Bowers, and Geraldine White, Year II, and Theodora Rybikowsky, Mary Jane Scott, Lindora Forney, and Ellen Rocks, Year I.

Everything to evoke the spell of an ideal basketball season for SJHS was typified by a victory over St. Joseph's Alumni on Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. The final score was 51-48. The Varsity hoopers, chosen by Coach Dillon are: Allen Stoner, c; Joseph Arnold and Edward O'Brien, f; and Gerald Joy and Richard Sprinkle, g. Substitutes Joseph Doyle, George Arnold, and Donald Chrismer also played this game. The other substitutes are Michael Boyle, Kent Dukhart, Eugene Adelsberger, Eugene Rosensteel, and Robert Gelwicks. The line-up for the Alumni team included Donald Joy, c; John Walter and Robert Jor-

Wrong Address: No License Tags

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Thomas B. R. Mudd advises that each year during the tag rush, the department receives thousands of requests for applications for license plates, which are not received by vehicle owners because of incorrect addresses.

Under Section 31 of the Motor Vehicle Laws of Maryland, every registered owner must notify the department within 30 days when an address is changed.

The department is now revising its files prior to preparing applications for new 1952-53 license plates and all persons who have moved during the past year and failed to notify the department of their new addresses are requested to do so immediately.

A postcard giving your name, old and new address, license plate number, title number, if possible, is sufficient information to enable the department to make the change.

Last year about 30,000 applications were returned due to incorrect address. In order that motorists may receive their applications without difficulty and to avoid delay in securing their li-dan, f; George Greco and Patrick Boyle, g, and substitute Richard Topper. Until the last few seconds of the third quarter, the Alumni seemed to have a sure victory, when Edward O'Brien sank a foul shot. The high scorer of the evening was Richard Sprinkle with 18 points, while Gerald Joy scored 12. Concerning the game, Coach Dillon remarked: "The team is inexperienced, but will improve to the extent that it will have a good possibility of winning the Catholic League for the second time."

Suzanne Law has been selected captain of the girls' basketball team and Marie Topper was chosen co-captain. The initial basketball game of the season will be held on Dec. 3 at St. John's High School in Frederick. The members of the teams will be announced at a later date.

The Third Year held its annual Thanksgiving dance in the auditorium, festively decorated with pilgrims, turkeys and autumn leaves. One of the features of the evening was a cake walk.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

The Baltimore grain market last week showed a higher trend and the condition stronger. Both the supply and demand were reported as good. No. 2 red winter wheat was up about two cents per bushel; No. 2 yellow, corn, up about six cents; No. 2 barley, up about eight cents; No. 2 yellow soybeans, up about five cents; No. 2 black soybeans, up about four cents; and No. 2 white western oats, up about four cents.

National Grain markets
Grain markets continued to advance last week in the national market which was influenced by an active demand and slightly less favorable crop prospects, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicated. Corn gained four to five cents per bushel as a result of unfavorable harvesting weather and a decrease in the estimated production. Oats advanced two to five cents per bushel; but barley, which had advanced more than any other grains in recent week, declined four to five cents. Grain sorghums were up to two to four cents per hundredweight. Flax advanced 18 cents, but soybeans remained mostly unchanged. Wheat advanced two to four cents per bushel and rye two cents per bushel.

Baltimore Feed Market
The Baltimore feed market last week showed a higher trend with the condition strong. The supply of gluten feed and oilseed meals were tight with a good demand.

Linseed oil meal advanced more than four per cent; standard bran was up over two per cent as was 32% dairy feed; Coarse scratch feed also was up over two per cent.

National Feed Market
Feed markets held firm last week influenced by a more active demand following the severe weather of the previous week in North Central and Eastern areas, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicated. Production of most feedstuffs remained at a high level but market offerings, particularly of oilseed meals, gluten feed, and alfalfa meal, were light and mostly for later shipment. Only scattered offerings, principally from resellers, were available for November or December shipment. Prices of many feeds were at or near ceiling levels. The index of wholesale feedstuff prices advanced about 1½ points to 267.9 reflecting principally gains in prices of cottonseed meal and fish meal. The feed grain index, however, advanced more than five points to 257.2. A year ago these indexes were 219.8 and 220.7 respectively.

Pupils Invited To Meeting On Higher Education

Pupils in all the high schools of Frederick County who are thinking at all about going to college and the parents of these students have been invited to attend a college conference night at Frederick High School on Wednesday, Dec. 5.

Speakers will be Dr. Floyd G. Cromwell, supervisor of high schools for the Maryland Dept. of Education, whose subject will be "Are You College Material?", and Herbert N. Heston, assistant to the president and director of public relations at Hood College, who will discuss "How to Choose a College."

The program, which has been arranged by Miss Mary Rhoads, guidance counselor at Frederick High School, will begin at 7:45 o'clock in the auditorium. Time will be allowed for the discussion of any questions that may arise from the audience.

While intended primarily for the college bound youths of the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades, the conference will also be open to any other interested persons who may care to attend. Commercial students, who do not ordinarily plan to go on to college, ninth graders, their parents, and interested patrons are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to learn the fundamentals of the college picture.

Mr. Heston, who in his work on a college campus and in visiting students at many schools throughout the East has had frequent occasion to discuss his subject with young people as well as adults, is a graduate of Dartmouth and spent 15 years in the business world as a wool merchant before turning to a career in education.

Dr. Cromwell, a Walkersville boy who became principal of Brunswick High School and then stepped into the State Dept. of Education, was given a citation last winter by Western Maryland College for outstanding educational work, particularly in the field of guidance. The Future Teachers of America Club at Brunswick High School is named for him.

Mr. Cromwell will point out the personal qualifications a student needs to make his college education worthwhile.

Mr. Heston will describe the steps that should be taken by students and parents in deciding on one's college according to physical, financial, academic, social, extra-curricular and spiritual factors.

First Million Proves Hardest

It took the Farm Bureau Insurance Companies, Columbus, O., 22 years to issue one million policies in force—but only three and a half years to issue their second million.

The two millionth policy in force was issued at the home office last week to Emmett Seely, a hardware store owner. He took out an automobile liability and comprehensive coverage.

Founded in April, 1926, the insurance firm didn't reach the million mark in policies in force until February, 1948. Their growth in the few years since has been one of the most dramatic in insurance history.

Bowman Doss, executive vice president, credited the companies' mushroom expansion to a combination of low rates, high operating efficiency, quick claims payments, and an agency force of 3000 who represent the firms exclusively.

The companies—auto, life, and fire—had a combined gain of 30 per cent in premium income last year, and have averaged a 14 per
