BY ABIGAIL

Are you doing your part in helping the nationwide scrap drive? The biggest scrap drive in history is now being conducted. In Frederick the Chamber of Commerce has implored the aid of school children to assist in gathering up scrap iron and steel and is mailing out several thousands of letters to county farmers and individuals, acquainting them of the facts about this drive and also the necessity for it.

Locally, the Grange is the sponsoring organization and all money derived from the drive will be donated to the Memorial Hall building fund, which if you haven't forgotten, is the aim of all Emmitsburg, to have a community hall. Here is your opportunity to make a twin killing. A project with a dual purpose is what I call it. Help your country and at the same time lend a much-needed hand in getting enough funds to get our hall started.

Regarding the Hall Fund, it appears that things are slowly coming to the fore. Formed only a year ago, the association's treasury is nearing the $2,000 mark, which is considered excellent, but not adequate. How many years at this rate will it take to raise enough funds to gain an equity in the hall that will be enough to entice some good samaritan to grant a mortgage to it? Quite a few we believe, unless some unforeseen circumstances enter the picture. Perhaps under the new Government ruling designating Frederick County as a critical area, funds or a Federal grant could be had. It surely is worth looking into!

Getting hungry for turkey? You will have a good chance . . . if you can shoot . . . to get one in the very near future, when two local organizations will sponsor shooting matches with turkeys, ducks and geese as prizes. Since the states attorney's edict several months ago declaring that he would invoke the gambling law on all violators promoting raffles, most clubs are reticent about holding such affairs. In fact, none have been held, but as a counter measure to continue fund raising these organizations have turned to the shooting match, a somewhat more costly deal for the customers, but if you want turkey, still reasonably priced, then try your luck with the ole shotin' iron at one of these coming matches. Provisions are being made, I am told, to have an ample supply of birds on hand, so that if you aren't lucky enough to win one shooting, you can purchase one outright on the spot. The first of these matches is that sponsored by the Vigilant Hose Co. The organization is sporting quite a mortgage nowadays, what with the purchase of their new fire chariot and rising costs of maintenance, and more than ever deserve your continued patronage. This match will be held at the Emmitt Gardens on Dec. 16. Following this event, the Indian Lookout Conservation Club will stage its big match on Sunday, Dec. 23, at Morris Zentz' farm west of town. If you don't get your turkey for Christmas or New Year, don't blame it on anyone but yourself.

Emmitsburg can be proud of the excellent cooperation and support it gave to the recent blood drive here, when over 200 pints were drained from local citizens. Late information reveals that this is the highest quota reached for small towns in the state. On top of the more than 200 pints gathered for the Red Cross, Edgar Emrich, Grange Master, disclosed that his organization sent 26 blood donors to Baltimore to give blood for a local lad who is seriously ill there. Now folks, there's a record that Emmitsburg can really be proud of.

Just the thing I had hoped for happened last week when the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce decided to make the Old Home Week an annual affair. While it is not now proposed to stage Old Home Week every year, it is definite though that the carnival will be held, probably every summer. Much of the groundwork has been laid for the future event by knowledge gained and equipment pur-

Deer Hunters Await Season's Opening Monday

With the six-day deer hunting season set to open Monday in 10 Maryland counties, the State Game and Inland Fish Commission this week gave hunters some reminders.

The season starts at sunrise on Monday and continues through the following Sunday at sunset.

Thousands of nimrods are expected to stalk the game in the 10 open counties—Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Cecil, Worcester, Kent, Wicomico, Somerset and Dorchester.

The limit is one deer for the season and it must be a buck with two or more points to an antler. They may be killed with rifles or shotguns firing a single ball, or with bow and arrow. Firearms must have a muzzle velocity of 1,200 pounds pressure or more, and archers are required to use a bow with a minimum pull of 45 pounds.

In Kent County—one of the four newly-opened this year—sportsmen must use a shotgun firing a single ball, commonly known as a pumpkin ball. Bow and arrows also are permitted.

Must Check Kills

It will be lawful to shoot deer even when the ground is covered with snow. This is not true of some other upland game, the Commission pointed out, because hunters find it too easy to track down some animals.

Maryland law requires that each deer killed must be registered at a checking station before being dismembered. The Commission gave Snook's Feed Mill, Lewisport, as the checking station for Frederick County.

P-TA Plans Square Dance

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of Emmitsburg High School was held Wednesday evening in the school auditorium, President Samuel C. Hays, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the singing of several well-rendered selections. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Mary Hoke, secretary, and approved.

Mrs. John D. White was appointed a delegate to the Emmitsburg Community Fund for '52. The organization went on record as favoring a square dance to be held a future date.

Mrs. Carl Larsen reported on the recent PTA Conference held in Hagerstown. Carl Larsen showed some very interesting movies to the group and Mrs. Larsen gave a highly interesting report of the three years they lived in Japan, where Mr. Larsen was connected with a rehabilitation program for the Japanese.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Mary Scott's room, the fifth and sixth grades.

It was decided not to hold the December meeting and the next session was scheduled for January.

Local Soldier Posthumously Honored

The Bronze Star Medal with "V" device (for heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy) has been awarded posthumously to Sgt. First Class Virgil L. Stambaugh of Emmitsburg, Military District Headquarters in Baltimore, announced this week.

The award has been presented his widow, Mrs. Ann G. Stambaugh, who resides at 205 East Main St. The citation accompanying the medal reads:

"Sergeant First Class Virgil L. Stambaugh, Infantry, U. S. Army, a member of Company A, 19th Infantry Reg., 24th Infantry Division, distinguished himself by heroic action near Sangudong, Korea, on June 3, 1951. His company was moving forward attacking enemy-held positions in the hilly region around the town. From well-prepared positions, a reinforced enemy company was defending this terrain with automatic weapons and small arms fire. Upon reaching the ridge line approaching its objective, the 1st Platoon became surrounded and was unable to send or receive orders, thus forcing the other platoons to halt their advance. Sgt. Stambaugh volunteered to break through the lines with instructions and try to reach the surrounded platoon. Cautiously, he crawled toward the surrounded platoon, realizing that the fate of the men might well lay in his accomplishing the mission. He passed three enemy soldiers and was nearing the platoon when his presence was detected and he received a terrific fire. As a hail of bullets struck the area, he, with complete disregard for his personal safety, began to inch his way from his precarious position.

Continuing his advance, he was able to deliver the message and at the appointed time, the platoons co-ordinated their efforts, converging on one point in the enemy line, cracking it and driving them back, killing 50 enemy, wounding many and causing others to flee in disordered retreat. Sgt. Stambaugh's heroic action and devotion to duty were instrumental in his company's successful completion of its mission and reflect great credit on himself and the United States Infantry. Entered military service from Emmitsburg, Md."

Surviving are two daughters: Mrs. Louise Eckenrode, Littlestown, Pa., and Mrs. Harriet Dorsey, Emmitsburg.

Mrs. Rowe was a devout member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church and a member of the Sodality of the church. Funeral services will be held tomorrow with requiem mass at 10 a. m. at St. Joseph's Church, Rev. John D. Sullivan, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in St. Anthony's Shrine Cemetery. Friends may call at the Allison Funeral Home, Emmitsburg after 7 p. m. tonight. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 7:30 this evening. Friends will meet at 9:30 a. m. at the funeral home tomorrow. S. L. Allison, funeral director.

Lions Observe Annual Charter And Ladies' Night

Forty-five Lions and Lionesses gathered Monday night in the Lutheran Parish House to celebrate the 23rd annual occasion of the issuing of a charter to the Emmitsburg Lions Club. President C. A. District Governor William G. Heagy, Westminster, was the guest speaker of the evening and Rev. Fr. Michael J. O'Brien acted as toastmaster.

A program of singing and entertainment was presented and a group of local youths, called the 'teen-agers' was well-received in the little skit they presented. Feature amusement of the evening was an adaptation of the television show, "Beat the Clock," which was m. c'd by Lion George Wilhide. Local contestants were compelled to do humorous undertakings and stunts with applied handicaps.

Following the entertainment dancing was held with music by Ralph McDonnell's Five.

November Sets Two Records; Warm and Cold

The weather has broken records both ways so far this month, but on the average it has been colder than it has been warm.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reports this has been the coldest November the State has known in some years, on the average.

Temperature averaged 46.3 so far during November. According to figures, that's the coldest it's had since 1911, when the November average was 43.7.

At the other end of the scale, the thermometer hit 73 on Nov. 14, the warmest Nov. 14 since 1889. Just a little more than a week before, on Nov. 3, a reading of 31 in Baltimore broke a record low set in 1911. And on Nov. 21, just a week later, Oakland reported a reading of seven below, breaking a 13-year record.

Both carpenters and painters are putting on the finishing touches to the annex.

The first floor contains the new cafeteria, kitchen, storage rooms, boys' and girls' lockers, showers, and a class room.

The second floor provides for a combined gym floor and an auditorium, 54 by 71 feet. There is also a storage room for chairs.

The addition, part of the large building plan for expansion by the Frederick County Board of Education, is being constructed by Allen Fesser of Taneytown. The architects are the Paul H. Kea Associates of Hyattsville, Md.

Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of the church sponsoring the event, stated this week that the goal of 50 turkeys has not yet been reached and has asked for more contributions of this type.

An innovation this year will be a rummage sale table and a second hand store.

Servings of the chicken and turkey suppers will begin at 4 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 8.

Sportsmen Plan December 23 Shooting Match

The Indian Lookout Sportsmen's Club of Emmitsburg held its November meeting Tuesday evening at the Fire Hall with a fine attendance. President Harold Hoke presided.

The committee in charge of distributing feed for the wild game in the winter reported on the matter and no definite action was taken. The item was tabled for further action at the Dec. meeting.

The club formulated plans to hold a shooting match on Dec. 23. W. B. Shank, John Eyer, George Ashbaugh, and President Hoke were placed in charge of the affair. The match will begin at 12 noon, it was said, at which turkeys, ducks, and chickens will be offered as prizes.

President Hoke reporting on "Hunting By Permission Only" project of the club said, he considered it a complete success.

The question of entertainment at the meetings was discussed and it was brought out that plenty of movies were available and that a number have already been booked for future meetings during the indoor season.

Treasurer Robert Stonesifer reported a balance of $369.24.

Two new members, John Ridenour and Charles Bankert, were received into the club, bringing the total membership to 117.

Weldon Shank, George Ashbaugh and President Hoke reported on their bear hunting trip in Pennsylvania. Mr. Shank discussed the organizing an archery club, but no action was taken at this time.

After the business meeting, the club adjourned to the Lutheran Parish Hall for refreshments and a 30-minute sound color movie on "Alaska Fishing."

Activities Of Saint Joseph's Church

The double feasts of the Miraculous Medal and of St. Catherine Labouré, were celebrated during the week with befitting solemnity. The feast of the Miraculous Medal, celebrated on Tuesday, was the occasion of a High Mass which was sung by Father Sullivan, the pastor, at 7:30 a. m. The evening devotions consisted of the Rosary, Litany, blessing of the Miraculous Medals and the investing followed by Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The special sermon Monday evening during the devotions of the Novena was preached by the Very Rev. Francis J. Dodd, C.M., who is the director of the Daughters of Charity of the Eastern Province of the U. S. This province covers most of the country east of the Mississippi River.

In his sermon, Father Dodd sketched briefly the history of the apparitions with which Sister Catherine Labouré was favored and pointed out the spiritual lessons which were to be learned from her life. Investiture followed the sermon.

Tuesday afternoon the children of St. Euphemia's School and the pupils of the high school attended Miraculous Medal devotions in the church. Those not already invested were solemnly invested and made members of the Association of the Miraculous Medal. In his talk, Father Sullivan gave a brief explanation of the history of this devotion.

A special invitation was extended to the zealous members of the parish to become promoters of the Miraculous Medal Assn., which was organized in this country by Rev. Joseph A. Skelly, C.M., in the year 1914. The headquarters of this association, which numbers upwards of 500,000, is situated in Germantown, a suburb of Philadelphia, where a beautiful shrine has been erected to the honor of Our Lady of the Thanksgiving dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bollinger were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bower and daughter, New Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bower and family, Patty Jean, Ricky, Johnny and Jimmy; Miss Mary Ridenour, and Mrs. Carrie Hartzell.

The drive for clothing for the needy of Korea and Europe as well as the Near East, has almost drawn to a close. A large number of cartons have been shipped to the warehouses in New York, where they will be stored until ships are available to carry them overseas. A full report of that activity will be given later when all the returns are in. The response of the good people of Emmitsburg has, as in the past, been very generous. There still is time to add to the gifts already made.

A very exciting basketball contest is in prospect for Saturday afternoon, between the Eighth Graders of St. Euphemia's and the Freshmen Girls of St. Joseph High. The coaches of the Graders, Sue Law and Marie Topper, are confident they can upset the high school girls. Both coaches have been working hard to put on the finishing touches before their hoopsters go on the floor tomorrow.

The annual collection for the Catholic University in Washington will be taken up at the Masses Sunday. This collection is taken in support of the very many activities carried on by the university for which it otherwise gets no funds. Besides the research work which all universities carry on, the Catholic U. plays a very important role in the educational system of the church in the U. S. It supports a standardizing or accrediting board that maintains a uniformity of values in the various educational institutions of the country. A lack of funds has limited an extremely valuable program of educational work which the university has drawn up in recent years.

1952 Trout Season Extended

Maryland trout fishermen next year will enjoy fishing for the speckled beauties from April 15 to Sept. 15, according to an announcement by the Game and Inland Fish Commission.

The open season on brook, rainbow, and brown trout in six of Frederick County streams has been adopted. The creeks included in the county are Big Hunting Creek, Little Hunting Creek, Fishing Creek, Owens Creek, Friends Creek, and Tuscarora.

The fishermen enjoying the longer trout season will find a shorter creel limit, excepting the rules governing Big Hunting Creek, which have not been changed. The creel limit on the other county streams will be five per day.

Personal Health

Alcoholism

There are an estimated two and one-half to three million alcoholics in this country—people who cannot control their drinking and whose indulgence in liquor is detrimental to their jobs, reputations, or family lives, as well as their health.

Alcoholism is an illness like other physical and mental disorders—not a disgrace or crime as many still believe. Public enlightenment has removed false stigma from other real illnesses and the day may soon come when people realize that the alcoholic is not a criminal, but a genuinely ill person who needs medical care and intelligent aid.

One aim of current studies on alcoholism is to find out why some people can drink moderately and others cannot without risking the danger of alcoholism. It is believed that alcoholism has its roots in either physical or psychological factors, or both. Studies that many victims of alcoholism have some personality disorder—inferiority complex, chronic anxiety, constant frustration, extreme boredom, or a tendency to dodge the responsibilities of life.

We have also reason to believe that excessive drinking may have a physical basis—that the chemical make-up of certain individuals gives them an abnormal susceptibility of liquor. It is hoped that some day a person can be warned of this susceptibility through a study of his body chemistry and take measures to ward off the heartache and suffering of alcoholism.

Whatever its cause or basis, alcoholism is best treated by a doctor or by a psychiatrist or other medical specialist whom the doctor may recommend. Amateur advice of amateur "psychiatrists" may make things worse for the alcoholic. Drugs recently developed for alcoholic treatment should not be taken unless under medical prescription and supervision.

Many alcoholics are also helped in arresting their drinking through the efforts of a group of humane and intelligent ex-alcoholics known as "Alcoholics Anonymous." Members of the association, which has the approval of many doctors, unselfishly lend every assistance to the person who seeks it, regardless of personal sacrifice.

The serious present-day problem of alcoholism will be solved through the tireless efforts of the medical world, lay organizations like the AA's, and scientists studying the emotional and physical aspects of the disorder. Meanwhile, public realization that the alcoholic is a sick person and not a criminal could do much to help those who cannot control their drinking.

Hood College To Present "The Messiah"

Handel's immortal oratorio, "The Messiah," will have its third annual performance in Frederick Wednesday night, Dec. 12, with Dr. Earle Blakeslee directing the members of the Frederick Community Chorus and the Frederick-Hood College Orchestra.

The oratorio will be presented in the auditorium of Frederick High School at 8:15 p. m.

The four soloists heard last year have been engaged again by the unanimous vote of the Community Chorus. They are Miss Anna Marie Budde, of the Hood College faculty, soprano; Mrs. J. D. Duve, of Frederick, contralto; Robert Price, tenor, and William McCully, bass-baritone, both of New York.

It was the decision of the musicians that there should be no soliciting of funds to defray the expenses of the event, as was done last year. Instead, they will depend on the small balance in their treasury and upon whatever they may receive from the evening's offering. The oratorio is therefore presented as a Christmas gift to Frederick County.

Separate rehearsals of orchestra and chorus have been going on weekly since September at Hood, where Dr. Blakeslee is head of the music department.

State Finishing New County Bridge Over Monocacy River

This photo from the Maryland State Roads Commission shows the completed twin bridges that will carry the new Washington National Pike over the Monocacy River, in Frederick County. Begun in January, 1950, work on the structure was delayed somewhat by material shortages that have also slowed down progress on other sections of the new highway. The delays have not been serious, however, and a portion of the new road—designed to supplant existing Route 240 as the major traffic carrier between Frederick and Washington—will be open to traffic in 1952. The group in the right foreground of the photo includes some of the newspaper and radio representatives, who in company with Gov. McKeldin, inspected highway projects in Western Maryland during the roads commission's recent "Seeing Is Believing" tours.

Sale of Seals Progressing Satisfactorily

Emphasizing the various phases of the prevention and control program of the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn., Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin this week proclaimed Sunday, Dec. 2 "Christmas Seal Sale Sunday" and urged the clergy of the state to remind their congregations of the valuable public health work supported by the annual Christmas Seal Sale. The annual Seal Sale began Nov. 19 and will continue until Christmas Day.

According to Dr. G. Canby Robinson, executive secretary of the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn., religious congregations of all faiths are being asked to observe the weekly Sabbath as "Christmas Seal Sunday." Letters have been sent to the clergy of all churches and synagogues asking their support in the observance of this special day.

In issuing the Christmas Seal Sunday proclamation, Gov. McKeldin reminded the people of Maryland of the important work being done by the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn. in helping to reduce Maryland's high death rate from tuberculosis.

The Maryland Tuberculosis Assn. and its affiliated county associations, conducts a year-round program of chest X-rays, chest clinics, health education and information, medical research and rehabilitation and social services to the tuberculosis patients of the State.

Gov. McKeldin expressed confidence that the citizens of the State would support this work by their purchase of Christmas Seals.

Dr. Robinson, expressing appreciation for the help given by the clergy in the past, stated, "The health of our community has always been of concern to our churches and in the past they have always been of great assistance to us in carrying out our program against tuberculosis. With the continued support of the church, its clergy, and its members, we will someday free our community of the danger from tuberculosis."

New Life For Old Linens

With the holiday season just around the corner, it's high time we gave thought to the table linens. Chances are they've been put away for the summer months while you've been using gay mats. One look—and you suddenly realize your pet tablecloth is pretty shabby and limp. So it's good news that right in your own home you can now give it a "brightening-plus-sizing" treatment . . . and lo, it's ready to appear at a party!

First step is to rewash the cloth with only this new bead bluing, following the directions on the box. This part of the treatment will help whiten yellowed cloths, and brighten colored cloths (a magical ingredient called luminex, is responsible for that extra brightness.) When the time comes for the second rinse—the first being as usual—add to the rinse water a quart of basic starch into which for each quart of starch, you have stirred one cake of the pale blue laundry wax. This will keep the iron from sticking as you give your cloth its final beauty treatment.

This simple trick will give old linens a beautifully damask-like "satina" finish—soil resistant as well as handsome. It makes muslin feel like percale—and will make your ironing a breeze. (ANS Features)

Know Your Social Security Better

By ED. R. YOUNG

Hagerstown Social Security Office

Are you one of the millions of self-employed people newly covered under Federal old-age and survivors' insurance? If you are, you need a social security account number card, according to W. S. King, manager of the Hagerstown social security office.

"Self-employed people who were brought under the Social Security Act by last year's changes in the law will report their net income from self-employment at the same time they make their Federal income tax returns early next year," Mr. King said. At that time, they will enter their social security numbers on the tax form, together with other information.

Mr. King indicated that although the numbers will not actually be needed until early next year, self-employed businessmen should apply for them in the near future. This will help avoid any delay when the numbers are needed.

"If you have ever had a social security number, that same number should be used, he said. "If you've lost your card, we can get a copy of it for you, bearing that same number."

Both new and duplicate cards can be obtained through the Hagerstown social security office, 74 W. Washington St.

Mr. King asks all self-employed people who have any questions about their coverage under social security to get in touch with the Hagerstown office.

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

The Nature of Moral Decay

The high school in a little southern city some years ago employed a football coach. He was a good-looking young giant, only a few years out of college, and unmarried. It turned out that his first love was not football but "wine, women, and song." In the afternoon he coached the football team and the boys looked upon him almost worshipfully as their leader, an example toward which to strive. In the evenings the frolicsome coach frequented the honky-tonks in the outskirts of the city. Sometimes his mixed parties became boisterous.

By mid-season four or five of the older boys on the football squad had begun to accompany their coach on his honky-tonk parties and were drinking liquor with the crowd and otherwise following their coach's example. By the season's end, 10 or 12 of the 40-man squad were involved in the parties which were by then being held twice or three times weekly. The effect on the team was disastrous. The last football game of the season was lost 129 to 0.

Tragic Results

Loss of the football games wasn't tragic; what happened in the lives of some of the players in later years was. Some became drunkards. Some were picked up and jailed for petty crimes. One, a popular backfield man who had been the first player attracted to the coach's extra-curricular parties, died a violent, spectacular death on the city's main street. His slayer was a minor "character" reportedly involved, with the victim, in the narcotics trade.

The foregoing is a true story. It is told here to illustrate two inter-related facts: (1) It is the nature of all animals, including man, to follow the leader; and (2) Immorality or rottenness, in a group or in a nation, starts at the top, among the leadership, and spreads downward. Throughout all the 175 years of our nation's existence there have been isolated pockets of corruption and evil and immorality. But they've never spread upward; they've always spread downward.

An Example

That is the nature of human decay. The dregs of society do not serve as examples in behavior for citizens to follow. The scene in a typical municipal court, with its assorted lineup of miserable offenders would hardly ever lead the court clerk to steal or defraud or pander or become a drunkard. But if the judge on the bench were taking bribes, and the clerk knew it, the clerk might be influenced to become corrupt himself.

Distinguished clergymen and lay leaders recently have been debating the question "Is Christian Morality Deteriorating in America?" It is my firm conviction that only by rationalizing, or kidding one's self, can a flat negative reply be given to this vitally important question. However, the weight of evidence suggests that America's 150 million citizens still are strong enough morally, as a whole, to form a bulwark against further spread of rottenness that has been revealed in the nation's public life, in the doings of prominent political leaders and their cohorts.

At the Top

If, on the other hand, the widening area of corruption and graft now being exposed in Washington should be condoned by our citizenry, as it has been condoned by some of the political leaders, the whole nation will be caught in it. In the long run the great rewards in life will be withheld from the evil-doers. This basic law of God is not likely to be recognized and properly revered, however, when corrupt public officials continue to be granted the respect of citizens and are permitted to amass substantial wealth through their unethical practices.

Such examples of conduct as are now being displayed in public life, with little if any penalty exacted, may be expected to influence many people to question old codes of ethics: "Don't be silly; get yours while the getting is good"—this keynote the code of behavior in some quarters in Washington and which has already spread down from Washington infecting college athletes and officials, revenue collectors, many, many people in various other walks of life. In the fence post, rots starts at the bottom and spreads upward. In a nation of people rot starts at the top and spreads downward. Once it has started, only an aroused Christian people can stamp it out—at the source.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Let's Put All The Cards On The Table

Meet a Charming Lady: The Modern Farm Girl

The modern farmer's daughter is a far cry from the dull-witted, thick-ankled clod with work-roughened hands that some city folk imagine her to be. Like Belva Lou Ross, of Clay County, Iowa, the new farmer's daughter is more apt to be a sleek, young beauty, with an up-to-the-minute wardrobe, an active interest in art, music, and literature, and a profound preference for life on a modern farm.

A Cosmopolitan magazine reporter, describing Belva Lou's life in the November issue, quotes her as saying, "Once, farms were so isolated that it was hard to stay on one. Now I can't think of anything I miss by living on the farm. I have everything that people in the city have, and a lot more." According to this twelve-page, illustrated article, Belva Lou, who is described as "not untypical," sews beautifully, is a junior at Iowa State College, and has demonstrated real talents for sculpture, water coloring and jewelry design. In addition, she understands farmers' market reports and can operate every piece of machinery on her father's acreage.

Three years ago, when she was seventeen, Belva Lou won a "Style Queen" title for designing and making a smart suit. For a prize, she was given a visit to Chicago, where a style-conscious audience was unable to distinguish her among a group of three models—the other two highly-paid professionals.

As for dates, here's what Belva Lou has found: "No college boys can match a farm boy on dates. College boys just don't have that much spending money and—in many cases—aren't allowed a car." In general, she says, "The most important career for me will be wife and homemaker and—I hope—mother. I think people have a mistaken idea about rural life as it is now. It's anything but monotonous."

HOME AWAY FROM HOME

GI wives find in USO kitchens that touch of home they often need. The United Defense Fund is raising funds for USO through Community Chests.

Such examples of conduct as are now being displayed in public life, with little if any penalty exacted, may be expected to influence many people to question old codes of ethics: "Don't be silly; get yours while the getting is good"—this keynote the code of behavior in some quarters in Washington and which has already spread down from Washington infecting college athletes and officials, revenue collectors, many, many people in various other walks of life. In the fence post, rots starts at the bottom and spreads upward. In a nation of people rot starts at the top and spreads downward. ## Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

The OPS has established new dollars-and-cents "basic" price for Packard passenger automobiles and for extra, special, or optional equipment for these automobiles when sold at retail and wholesale.

The action was effective on Nov. 24. It was also announced that a special order covering every make of passenger automobile will be forthcoming.

The "basic prices" established by the special order are based on the manufacturers ceiling price to dealers, fob factory, plus customary established retail markups. These prices represent an increase over currently existing prices for 1951 Packard passenger automobiles ranging from $116.12 to $190.27.

They are in line with the factory wholesale price increase to dealers announced by OPS on Oct. 23.

A proposed new ceiling price regulation for soaps and cleansers which would peg ceiling prices for these products at their current selling prices has been discussed by officials of the OPS and members of the Soap, Cleanser and Synthetic Detergent Industry Advisory Committee.

Amendment 2 to CPR 81 and 82 authorizes processors of frozen fruits and vegetables to continue to maintain different price classes for some of their items, including those sold and advertised under special brand names. This makes the frozen fruits and vegetables regulation conform to the canned fruits and vegetable regulation.

The OPS has announced that it is extending the deadline for filing OPS Public Form 94 from Oct. 31 to Dec. 15, for producers of specialty pork products for which ceiling prices are now provided in CPR 74.

Because it will have little or no effect on the cost of living, the OPS has exempted all sales of natural and distilled water which is neither flavored nor carbonated from price control.

Wholesalers, who prior to Oct. 1, prepared certain pork cuts which are not in conformity with the standard cuts specified in CPR 74, may on application have until Feb. 29, to dispose of such cuts at the old ceilings established under the General CPR.

The OPS has clarified its manufacturers new passenger automobile CPR 1, Rev. 1, by an amendment to permit manufacturers to pass along the increase in the Federal excise tax in their selling price or charge for extra, special, or optional equipment, even when the tax is not separately stated.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

We've just had a political campaign with everything from a torch-light parade to a neck-and-neck ballot box race.

Rusty Robinson, with no campaign funds, planned his Election Eve speech for the Square. Slim McCormick, who owns the Palace movie house, was finishing up his campaign in Pioneer Hall.

Then it began to rain. Rusty's political career was fizzling out in the damp when Slim showed up to say that Robinson people could meet in his theatre—for nothing. "I want to beat Rusty," Slim said,

"but certainly not with rain!"

From where I sit, you've got to give Slim credit for acting on his belief that everyone has a right to be heard—just as everyone has a right to his own opinions and tastes. Maybe you like hot coffee, for instance, when you "take a break." Well, my vote goes for a refreshing glass of beer. After all, we're lucky to be living in a free country where we can have our own preferences!

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 29—Wise investors like "growth stocks." They are constantly watching for new opportunities and the big rewards which will come to those who are patient.

Growth stocks are usually based on natural resources. The buying of growth stocks today requires the same courage and patience as our ancestors needed when they went West and homesteaded land 100 years ago. Wealthy families of the Central West today are descendants of these pioneers who were then inspired to make the necessary sacrifices. Later they found coal, oil, sulphur, gypsum, or other valuable products.

The physical natural resources of this country have been mostly discovered; but great spiritual natural resources remain untapped for those who have the same courage, patience and self-control of their ancestors. Undiscovered riches today, therefore, will follow the awakening of the souls of youth to create and make new discoveries. These will enable people to live much longer, learn much faster, rearrange the atoms, to make new products and enjoy free power and free heat from gravity and the sun.

Different Natural Resources

These new developments must come through spiritually inspired brains. Hence, instead of homesteading land, we today should "homestead" brains! This means to invest more in labor and give more time to the minds of human beings, especially to the minds of our children. They are neglected today.

We think that television machines, airplanes, and electrical appliances are wonderful; but these are mere peanuts compared with the intricate and marvelous machinery of the human brain. Yet, the Asiatics and Africans, whom I have hired for ten cents a day, have these human brains. To spiritually awaken these billions of brains is the next great "frontier." I wish I were younger to have a part in it.

Brains As Investments

This most wonderful machine is in your own children's heads. Your boy can develop his brain to become an Edison, a Firestone or a Ford; but the first step towards success is to inspire him to think, work, love and save. These men were inspired by their parents; they never went to college. Keep in mind that the masses are using their brains only a small fraction of one per cent while your children are using theirs only about five per cent.

Most jobs—including white-collar positions—require very little brain work. Clerks, salesmen, and so-called executives are really in the "manual labor" group, depending upon habit, memory, speed or friendship for earning their pay checks. They perform little or no creative work. Yes, the brains of our children are great undeveloped resources and offer you unlimited possibilities. These brains are worth to parents far more than any pensions which parents may ever receive.

What Parents Can Do

Schools are doing their best to help your children. Furthermore, they do not expect you to teach them reading, writing, arithmetic or any of the higher subjects. Schools, however, depend upon parents to set their children an example in good habits, good reading and thrift. As a child's religion is determined before he is 12 years old, so is his success or failure. In almost every case a boy's future is determined by the training which the boy receives at home during his early teens. If he has been inspired to think, to work, to save and to pray, he becomes a successful man—college or no college. Systematic reading and creative thinking will then be his education.

Therefore, great undeveloped frontiers are now available; but they are spiritual frontiers. To conquer them requires the same courage, determination and sacrifice that our ancestors had when conquering the West. Instead of forsaking comfortable homes, cutting away forests and living in log cabins, our children, perhaps, must win their independence by forsaking amusing radios, televisions, and useless reading, by refusing to "keep up with Lizzy," and by

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

With a stroke of genius, the Office of Price Administration has now embarked on establishing a dollar and cents ceiling price on holes. So far, no price ceiling has been established on doughnut holes, but it is presumed that progress will be made in this direction as soon as the bureau hires more high priced personnel.

But the ceiling price on a bunghole has now been officially established by Ceiling Price Regulation No. 86. C. W. Harder at 10 cents. Thus, anyone who makes barrels, now knows that he can only charge 10 cents for each bunghole.

And it is doubted if ignorance on this bunghole decision can ever be used as a defense.

For this decision of vast import has been spread over the land by vast quantities of government press releases, official printed notices, and other printed matter consuming many tons of precious and scarce paper so all would know the nation's official position on bungholes.

Of course, the public is confused over just what prices the Office of Price Control is controlling.

The only squeeze of any consequence has been felt by millions of small retailers who have been forced to consume billions of man hours trying to obey edicts issued them.

For sheer waste of tax money OPS operations amaze Washingtonians. For example, industry meeting was just held on price ceilings for the electroplating industry.

©National Federation of Independent Business

Present were six industry spokesmen. In addition, fifteen high priced OPS executives were present. No definite decisions were reached.

However, OPS sometimes makes definite decisions, and they too, are widely published at government expenditure of more tons of scarce paper. An example of positive action is General Overriding Regulation No. 5.

No shilly-shally indecision is found in this forthright edict which exempts from price ceilings butterfly wings, incense burners, bird cages, spinning wheels, and hand painted used bottles. In connection with the last item, a decision is awaited on hand painted new bottles.

Trivia such as this may cause Congress to either knock out all price controls or else approach the subject from an entirely different slant.

Many Congressmen are feeling that Big Labor, Big Business, and Big Bureaucrats have formed an unholy alliance to break through the anti-inflation line at will.

For example, the railroad labor wage increase of $100 million per year was immediately followed by ICC permitting railroads to increase rates an estimated $500 million per year.

This same triple play just increased milk prices to New York infants 1 1/2 cents per quart.

Milk deliverymen struck one day for higher wages. Strike mediators were immediately handed an OPS order permitting a milk price increase, so the wage boost was granted.

Do not be surprised if curious Congressmen investigate cases such as this for evidences of criminal conspiracy.

Draft Responsibilities Must Be Realized

Calling attention to the fact that failure to register is a violation of law and makes the delinquent liable to penalty, Col. Henry C. Stanwood, Maryland state director of Selective Service, expressed fear that some youths in Maryland were placing themselves in jeopardy either unwittingly or because of an "I-think-I-can-get-away-with-it" attitude.

Col. Stanwood said the local boards have standing instructions to turn over the names of suspected delinquents under the Selective Service law to Federal authorities for investigation and prosecution if facts warrant.

"There is not—and never has been—any intention to persecute," Col. Stanwood said. "but the obligation to register at 18 is very plainly set forth in the Selective Service law and failure to comply certainly makes a youth a delinquent; and all we can do is to act accordingly."

Although the young man who becomes 18 is required to register at a local board office within five days of the date of his 18th birthday, Col. Stanwood explained, if he happens to be away from home he need not return; he may register at the nearest local board convenient to him and the record will be sent to the local board having jurisdiction, even though it is in another state. After he registers, it is mandatory that a registrant keep his local board informed of any change in his address of change in status, and this applies after he becomes 26 as well as before.

Questioned concerning the man who did not register because he was on active duty in the armed forces, Col. Stanwood explained that such a man is required to register within 30 days of the time he is separated from the armed forces.

"Any person who changes from a status which did not require his registration to a status which does require it must register promptly to be within the law," Col. Stanwood said, adding that those who were out of the country on the registration days must register within five days following the day they re-enter the United States, which includes Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

Col. Stanwood said that non-citizens entering the U. S. for the first time are required to register at a local board within six months following the date of their entry.

Horsemen have been sending their charges through daily workouts over the track that attracts many patrons from this area. According to reports, the stables have received more requests for stall space than ever before.

Post time for the first race has been set at 1:00 p. m. with the daily double windows closing 15 minutes before the first race. Eight races are carded daily for the three-week meet. Many of the familiar jockeys that will be seen in action at Charles Town.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

GRAIN & HAY

Summary for Maryland

Market trend, higher; condition, steady to stronger; supply, good; demand, very good. Significant changes: No. 2 red winter wheat (garlicky), up about a cent per bushel; No. 2 yellow corn, shelled, up about one cent; yellow corn (on cob), up about three cents; barley up about two cents; soybeans up about three cents.

National Summary

Grain markets were steady to firm during the week ended Nov. 21 with further sharp gains in corn the outstanding feature according to reports to the Dept. of Agriculture. A continued export inquiry for United States wheat and lower estimates of Canadian supplies were supporting influences in the wheat market and recent price gains were well maintained. Slow marketings of the corn crop as a result of poor drying weather gave independent strength to the corn market and prices made further gains of 4-5 cents per bushel. Barley, oats and grain sorghums received support from the higher corn market but prices closed slightly lower than a week ago. Oilseeds were rather unsettled. Flaxseed declined about four cents per bushel while soybeans advanced one to four cents.

FEED

Summary for Maryland

Market trend, higher; market condition, stronger; demand, very good; supply, oilseed meals, distillers' and brewers' grains, getting scarce. Significant changes: Coarse cracked corn, up over 2%; 50% meat scrap, down almost 2%.

National Summary

Feed markets continued firm during the week ended Nov. 20, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicate. Production of mill-feeds continued at a high level but the demand was active and prices advanced. Oilseed meals were in active request but offer for nearby shipment were negligible. Distributors and feed manufacturers were largely operating on supplies purchased earlier in the season. Processors of soybean and linseed meal were sold out well into the first quarter of 1952 and very little is currently available. Market offerings of gluten feed and alfalfa meal were light and mostly for later shipment. Meat scraps and tankage were relatively plentiful during the week. The index of wholesale feedstuffs advanced about 2½ points to 270.4. The feed grain index, which has been relatively low, advanced more than 12 points to 270.0. The feed grain index, which has been relatively low, advanced more than 12 points to 270.0 and reached the level of feedstuff price. A year ago these indexes were 222.8 and 218.9 respectively.

The steady upward trend in feedstuff prices during the past month apparently reflected efforts of feed distributors and manufacturers to accumulate supplies prior to the establishment of price ceilings. Production of most feeds remained at a high level and supplies for the 1951-52 season are expected to equal the record production of 18.2 million tons consumed last year. Feeding requirements may not differ materially from last season. The number of grain consuming animal units to be fed in 1951-52 are estimated at 181.0 million. While this number is considerably above the 10-year average, it is only about 4.2 million units more than were fed last season. The estimated supply of feed per animal unit this season is expected to total about 202 pounds against 206 pounds per animal last year.
