Most Anything At A Glance

—BY ABIGAIL—

This appears to be the year of "wills." First one is, will Truman run again? Next, will Congress pass higher taxes? Will World War III commence? Things will happen fast this year and we will all be bewildered by the swift changes in events. Will inflation continue to spiral? Will the Korean peace "balks" continue? Who will be the next President? We'll have the answers to all these questions before the year's end. Concerning politics, the public is completely befuddled by the trend of events. Rid of the first great mystery, "Will Ike run?" we now are confronted with "Will Harry S. run?" Some of you might ask wryly, "Who cares?"

Taking everything into consideration, has Mr. Truman done such a bad job?—except for financing on the home front? We are prone to jump all over the President for things he did do and things he didn't do. But in the final analysis, is he completely responsible for these happenings? After all, all he is empowered to do, is suggest to the Congress. They are the ones who actually have the power to say what is to become law, and so far as I can see it, Congress, and not Mr. Truman entirely, is responsible for rampant inflation, our foreign relations (with the exception of the Korean incident which Truman took up on his own), lack of price control, allotments to foreign countries and a host of other items of which we do not entirely approve. Don't get me wrong. I am not trying to impress you with Mr. Truman's ability or incapability, but we are too often apt to place the blame where it doesn't belong. When voting, please think of your representatives, they had a mighty big finger in the pie!

All of you know by this time that the President has asked for higher taxes for 1952. A perfect example of why they are needed is this little story picked from the "Industrial News Review." In one of his recent columns, a Washington correspondent quoted a senator as saying: "In the Ten Commandments there are 297 words; in President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, there are 276 words; but in an OPS order setting ceiling prices on manually operated food horns, there are 12,962 words."

At 5 a. m., little Johnny awoke and asked mother to tell him a story. "Sh-h-h, soothe mother, 'any minute now your daddy will be home and he'll tell us both one.'"

Let's all give a boost to the Minstrel Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring for the benefit of the new Memorial Hall. Several more characters are needed and there is much to be done in promoting an enterprise of this type. A good response was received Monday night when the first call went out for participants in the show, but it was not quite enough. Can you act, sing or play an instrument? If so, contact any of the committeemen in charge of the production. While the event is sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, it does not necessarily mean that the cast will comprise members of that organization only. The whole thing, to be a community affair, the same as Old Home Week, and now is the time to come to the aid of your community. We are confident that the recent display of co-operation that prevailed during Old Home Week will again be evidenced in making this minstrel show the success it should be. Are you doing your part in helping build the hall?

Emmitsburg certainly should soon produce a championship team with all the baseball being played here and the wonderful opportunities existing for young boys to learn the game. There now are six ball teams in the District: St. Joseph's and Emmitsburg High Schools, St. Anthony's, Legion Juniors, the Pen-Mar League team and now the proposed Little League team the Lions Club is contemplating sponsoring. This will take care of training boys from nine years up to 30, or better. Wouldn't be surprised someday soon to hear that some Emmitsburgian is in the majors.

Casting For Local Minstrel Is Begun

Preliminary plans were formulated Monday night when the committee in charge of presenting the Chamber of Commerce's minstrel show met to begin casting of those willing to participate.

The Chamber of Commerce wishes to emphasize the fact that this show is to be a community affair, such as the recent Old Home Week, and is asking the assistance of every individual and organization in town.

Most of the leading roles have been filled but there are a few vacancies and quite a few more parts are open in the chorus, it was stated by the committee in charge. Soloists, both vocal and instrumental also are needed.

The interlocutor's role has been filled by Carroll Frock, Jr. The end men section finds these locals displaying their talent: Charles Bushman, Louis Rosensteel, Eugene Rodgers, Carlos Englar, William Baker, and Samuel C. Hays.

Featured soloists to date are Richard Frock, Ronald Hedges, and Doris Wastler. Rehearsals will be begun next Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Emmitsburg High School. It is understood that a local hill-billy band will furnish music during the affair, which was originally scheduled for Feb. 28 and 29, but later was changed to Thursday and Friday nights, Feb. 21 and 22.

"Your Home Town Minstrel," as the show is called, is being staged by the Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of the new Memorial Hall Building Fund, and enthusiasm is growing for the show as the date approaches.

Alumnae Group To Hold Social

The Emmitsburg Chapter of the Alumnae of St. Joseph's College will sponsor a benefit social on Tuesday, Jan. 29, in the Green Room of St. Joseph's College. The party will begin at 8 p. m. Cards will be played and refreshments will be served.

Adele Topper and Betty Fitzgerald are co-chairmen, while Mary Louise Callahan, of Gettysburg, is chairman of prizes.

Reader Abhors Government Waste

Editor Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Dear Sir: As the businessmen of our nation cry for economy in Government many things can be found that deserve consideration. Our congressional representatives could find some economy holes to plug right in their own back fence.

It has been estimated, by those who should know, that the cost of printing the Congressional Record is $75 a page. This year the taxpayers will be called upon to pay large amounts for political buildup. The "Appendix" of the Congressional Record is the section that is open house for senators and congressmen to use for anything and everything except their pictures.

The 1952 issues of the Record are getting off to a good start. The Appendix for January 14 was 40 pages, or $3000; the next day, 56 pages, or $4200. Briefly, let us see what it boils down to for two days.

A senator and congressman from the same state used $250 talking about economy in government. Putting in their own speeches and talking generally about themselves, $950. Of course, they do a good turn for the other fellow, $980 was for space to put in the speech of a friend. The biggest money grabber is made by articles clipped from newspapers, etc. When the representative needs material he is "happy to place this article in the Record." Not counting the space taken by their own remarks before quoting the article, $3600 was spent for what the representatives of the people clipped from the people's papers.

For the Marylander there is one pleasant fact: the representatives from Maryland are not guilty; they use the appendix seldom, and it may be said also, that they are not given to long discourses in the main body of the Record. Could it be possible that some Maryland representative would introduce legislation to reduce the taxpayers' bill for this form of "free" speech?

Drunk Driver Rams School Bus; None Injured

About 10 children and their school bus driver escaped injury Wednesday afternoon when a sedan crashed into the rear of the school bus near here, demolishing the sedan and slightly injuring the driver of the machine.

Henry William Artley, 53, a truck driver of 120 High S., Hanover, Pa., was jailed in Frederick and charged with drunken and reckless driving.

State Trooper 1/c Kenneth Bond said Artley was driving the sedan.

The officer said Clarence Hahn, Route 3, Emmitsburg, was driving the school bus east on Route 32, about 4½ miles east of Emmitsburg, when he stopped to discharge one or more of the children.

Before Hahn could open the door of the bus, the report said, the sedan crashed into the left rear of the bus, shaking the occupants but apparently not physically injuring any of the children.

Trooper Bond said the '41 Buick sedan was practically demolished by the impact and Artley suffered slight lacerations on the face and forehead. His injuries were not serious enough for hospitalization. He took Artley to the County jail at Frederick. Tried Thursday before Magistrate C. D. Gillelan of Emmitsburg, Artley was fined $150 on the drunken driving charge, plus 30 days sentence. A $50 reckless driving charge fine also was levied on him. The 30-day sentence is mandatory. In default of the fine he was taken to the county jail.

To Meet

A meeting of the St. Joseph's High School Alumni Assn. will be held Sunday following the 10 o'clock mass. Members are urged to attend the meeting in the auditorium of the high school at which time discussion concerning the card party will be heard. The tentative date for the party has been set as Feb. 14. Members also are reminded to bring their prizes to Sunday's meeting.

Modification Of Decree Sought

An order has been signed in Equity Court modifying a 1945 divorce decree to the extent of giving a minor child to the custody of Mrs. Cora E. Smith Gortley, Emmitsburg.

The original order conferred custody of the child to Mrs. Gortley's first husband, Thurston N. Smith.

In a petition, Mrs. Gortley said both parties to the divorce had remarried. The child has been with her since 1948, she said, and she had fed, clothed, and supported her daughter. The first husband is given the right to visit the child at stipulated times.

Local Man Wins Ford Award

A valuable flash camera with case and full equipment, was presented to Mr. John J. Hollinger of Sperry's Garage, for meeting a quota for labor service sold, at a banquet held at the Hotel Statler in Wash. D. C., last Friday.

Mr. Hollinger was one of about 200 service and parts managers to receive the award from the Washington branch of the Ford Motor Co.

The affair was attended by hundreds of Ford dealers and service parts managers in the Washington District. Mrs. Ada H. Sperry represented Sperry's Garage at the event. Following the banquet and distribution of prizes, a viewing of the 1952 Ford cars and trucks were held.

Young Democrats To Meet

The Young Democrats of Frederick County will hold a meeting Monday night at 8 p. m. in the Frederick YMCA. Election of officers for 1952 will be held. Plans will be made for the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner.

Over the Teacups Sewing Club entertained at dinner on Monday evening at the Gree Parrot Tea Room, in celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Mamie Boyle.

Miss Dolores Miller, Towson State Teachers' College, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Miller, Center Square.

Local Driver Is Involved In Frederick Crash

Damage which may reach $1000 was reported to have occurred when one sedan skidded into another in front of 1608 N. Market St., Frederick, about 10:47 Tuesday morning.

The crash, Frederick police said, involved the cars operated by James Richard Kelly, Emmitsburg Rt. 1, and David L. Singer, Union Bridge.

Singer told Sgt. Daniel Swomley, who investigated, that he was going north on Market St. when he saw the southbound sedan of Kelly start to skid. Singer said he pulled as far to the right as possible but Kelly's car crashed into the left of the Singer machine.

The impact squeezed the Singer car between the Kelly car and a power pole, splitting the latter about 15 feet up from the ground and temporarily putting at least one power line into a consumer's home out of service.

Kelly's car was badly damaged about the front while the sedan of Singer was damaged on both sides. Both cars had to be towed from the scene.

Both drivers escaped injury. By a coincidence, after the crash, both cars were turned around in the opposite directions from which they had been coming. No charges were preferred.

Meeting Being Held to Organize Baseball League

A public meeting will be held Wednesday evening in the Frederick High School to feel the sentiment existing for Little League baseball. For some time now, Frederick County towns have been toying with the idea of forming a league for the younger boys from nine to 12 years of age, and officials heading the movement have invited parents of children of this age bracket to attend the meeting which will be held at 7:30 p. m.

It is believed that the Emmitsburg Lions Club will sponsor a local team to participate in the circuit.

Rules, regulations, and the playing field will be discussed Wednesday night and from all indications the circuit possibly will be formed then. Present plans call for either a four or six-team league, depending on the amount of interest displayed Wednesday evening.

Gets Six Months For Beating Wife

In a lengthy session of People's court in Frederick Monday morning, Magistrate Wilbur F. Sheffield put into effect a suspended sentence of six months in the House of Correction of an Emmitsburg District resident convicted of assault.

John Henry Trent, Emmitsburg, Route 1, was sent to the House of Correction for six months after being convicted of assault on his wife, Mrs. Maggie C. Trent, on January 14. Trent had been given a suspended sentence in November after being convicted of assault and battery on his wife by breaking her arm, and the magistrate put the suspended sentence into effect.

Mrs. Trent testified that her husband, after breaking a radio, came into the house with a hatchet and started yelling, "I'm going to hit you and hit you hard." She said she and her children have been living in fear of what Trent would do next.

Mrs. Trent also testified that she had been beaten by her husband on Nov. 17, and her arm was broken by him at that time. She stated her husband had been drinking. Trent did not testify.

Car Destroyed By Fire

A 1951 two-door sedan owned by William Wilson, 24, Emmitsburg and operated by Wade E. Adams, 22, White House Inn, Emmitsburg, caught fire and burned about 2:45 o'clock Tuesday morning as it was being driven along Tract Road several miles north of Emmitsburg.

The Vigilant Hose Co. responded to the call but when they arrived the auto was beyond saving. It was listed by state police as "completely destroyed." Loss was placed at about $1,600.

Wilson, Adams and a third occupant, told Pennsylvania State Police the motor caught fire as they were driving toward Emmitsburg.

Government Buys More Land In Adams County

The United States has acquired by condemnation three properties totaling 353 acres at the "Raven Rock Communications Center Military Reservation," according to a "Decree of Declaration of Taking No. 1," filed this week with the Adams County Register and Recorder.

The decree was handed down last Friday by Judge Frederick V. Follmer, of the U. S. District Court, Middle District of Pennsylvania.

The paper directs the register and recorder to file the declaration as a deed giving the U. S. government title to all the land "for" it.

According to the paper, $5425 has been deposited with the registry of the Middle District Court to be paid to the persons owning the land.

Made at the request of the Secretary of the Army, the order giving title states the land is needed "to adequately provide for establishment of facilities for use of the Dept. of the Army and other military uses in Adams County," and lists the lands as "for use in connection with Camp Albert C. Ritchie."

Land taken by the government includes 8.89 acres in Hamilton and Liberty Twp., owned by Elinore M. Linebaugh, 240 acres owned by Alfred and Georgia Estelle Holt, minus a certain plot in Liberty Twp. and 105 acres owned by Rebecca and Charles S. Martin, in Liberty Twp.

CHORUS TO MEET

An important meeting of the Community Chorus has been called for Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. in the Emmitsburg High School High School. Business concerning the arrangement of future programs, especially for Easter, is to be transacted and a general rehearsal is scheduled for Wednesday night. All those interested in joining the Chorus are invited to attend.

PROM DATE SET

The Mount St. Mary's prom committee, headed by William Conroy, has announced that the prom will be held in the main ballroom of the Penn-Sheraton Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa. April 26 is the date set for the affair.

Soldiers Transferred

Edward Houck, Francis Adelsberger, and Chester Masser, recent inductees in the U. S. Army, have been transferred to Fort Jackson, S. C., from Camp George G. Meade, for completion of their basic training.

Proprietors Come Under Social Security

"Don't stop too soon, but don't go too far," says W. S. King, manager of the Hagerstown Social Security Office.

Mr. King's statement is directed to all employers who fill out quarterly social security wage reports. The amount for one employee in a year used to be $3000. Under the new law, the ceiling is $3,600.

"Some firms still seem to be reporting no more than $3000 even when the worker is making more than that," says King. "That's bad—a correction must be made, or the worker doesn't get full social security wage credit."

"Other firms report more than $3,600 in a year for one employee," stated Mr. King. In these cases, as he pointed out, the firm, and perhaps the worker too, have paid more than the required social security tax, but the worker can get old-age and survivors insurance wage credit only for $3,600 in a year.

PLAN VALENTINE PARTY

The LOYAL group of the Lutheran Church will sponsor a Valentine party to be held in the Parish Hall Tuesday, Feb. 12, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Sue Stinson, Towson State Teachers' College, spent the weekend with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Stinson.

Defense Unit To Show Exhibit

"Alert America," a magnificent exhibit sponsored by the Maryland Civil Defense Agency, will appear in Baltimore at the Fifth Regiment Armory on the following dates: Jan. 25, 8:30 p. m. to 10:00 p. m.; Saturday, Jan. 26, 11:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m.; Sunday, Jan. 27, 2:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m.; Monday, Jan. 28, 11:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m.; Tuesday, Jan. 29, 11:00 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The exhibit is dramatic and instructive and the public is invited.

Local Grange Scrap Drive Continues

The local scrap iron drive, conducted by the Emmitsburg Grange, completed the first of a series of pickups this week, when it was announced that already $46 had been netted from the sale of the first load of scrap.

Local contributors who gave sizeable amounts of scrap to the collectors, Edgar G. Emrich and Charles R. Fuss, were: Edward Lingg, Joseph Wivell, Miss Louise Sebold, Sperry's Garage, Sanders Bros. Garage, Raymond Baumgardner, John Baumgardner, Harry Swomley, and Edgar Emrich.

Officials in charge of the drive hastened to explain that it is not over and that anyone with any amount of scrap is asked to contact the Grange for pickup service.

The gathering up of the material was accomplished by the use of Morris A. Zentz's truck and driver.

Mr. Emrich, Grange master, stated that all proceeds from the drive will be placed in the building fund of the new Memorial Hall. He also stated that all contributions for the building are welcome whether they be money or material such as lumber, stone, sand, cement, or concrete blocks.

It is understood that the fund to date totals over $2000 and was begun about a year ago. Several pledges of concrete blocks, sand, and gravel already have been made. Mr. Emrich stated that pledges need not be filled immediately, but that they would be catalogued for use at a later date.

The scrap collectors will make a series of several more collections, the next of which will be Friday, Feb. 1. Those wanting material picked up can call either 67-F-11 or 28-F-4.

The committee in charge wishes to express its appreciation to all those contributing and also to those planning contributions.

C. A. HARDMAN

Clare Augustus Hardman, 72, died at his home, Fairfield R. 1, Saturday morning at 8:55 o'clock following an illness of two weeks.

A sawmill operator for many years, he was a son of the late John and Emmaline Ferguson Hardman.

Surviving are his widow, Delia Linebaugh Hardman, three sons, Walter, Clemence and Martin, all of Fairfield Route 1; five daughters, Mrs. Raymond Cockrell of Frederick; Mrs. Robert Zentz of Taneytown; Mrs. Brinley Devor, Waynesboro; Miss Minnie Hardman, Frederick; Mrs. Roland Blair of Connecticut; 19 grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, three brothers, Harry Hardman, York Springs; Daniel S. Hardman, of Fairfield Route 1 and Clarence Hardman, Emmitsburg Route 1, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Wetzel, Waynesboro Route 4 and Mrs. Amanda Warren of Fairfield R. 1.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Allison Funeral Home, Fairfield, with the Rev. Claude Corl, officiating. Interment in the Methodist Cemetery, Fountaineau.

Pallbearers were Ralph, Ray, and Arthur Hardman, John Wolfe, Casimer D. Kunawicz, and Paul Cockrell.

NATHAN L. VALENTINE

Nathan Luther Valentine, 74, retired farmer, died Friday morning at 3 o'clock at his home in Rocky Ridge, after an illness of two years. He was a son of the late Elias and Mariah Wetzel Valentine of Rocky Ridge. The deceased was a member of the Rocky Ridge Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Cora F. Sharer Valentine, four children, Wilbur, Mrs. Donald Simmers, Luther, all of Thurmont; Mrs. Louise Deweese, Blue Ridge Summit; two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Wood, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Bertha Shriner, Thurmont; nine grandchildren, one great-grandchild and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in the Rocky Ridge Reformed Church last Sunday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Edouard H. Taylor, officiating. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Pallbearers were Emory Valentine, Floyd Wetzel, Charles Wantz, Harry Boone, Harry Knight and Roy Sharrer.

MILLER-WETZEL

Miss Margaret Wetzel, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Wetzel, Emmitsburg, and the late Bernard Wetzel, was married Saturday evening, Jan. 12, to Brook I. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Miller, both of Thurmont, Route 2. The ceremony was performed in St. Anthony's Shrine by their pastor, Rev. Stanley Scarff.

Pennsylvania May Extend Turnpike Here

A possible extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike from Harrisburg south to the Mason-Dixon Line between Emmitsburg and Gettysburg has moved a step closer with the approval of a bill authorizing the new highway by Pennsylvania's Gov. John S. Fine.

The measure permits the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to issue bonds to finance a survey of the proposed extension. Exact location has not been determined and there is no indication as yet whether old Route 15 to Harrisburg would be followed, according to dispatches.

The superhighway, if built, would be certain to increase the traffic coming north and south through this section.

There has been talk that the highway would join a proposed new freeway to Washington from the Mason-Dixon Line. But there has been no concrete indication that any new highway is planned between the Pennsylvania line and the new superhighway (Route 240) south of Frederick which will eventually extend to Washington.

Maryland's State Roads Commission does contemplate work this year which will improve the worst section of Route 15 in this state — between Thurmont and Emmitsburg — by eliminating or easing some of the most serious curves.

The turnpike extension, according to the measure, is to be built west of the Susquehanna River near Harrisburg southward to reach the Maryland State line in the vicinity of Gettysburg and Emmitsburg.

Waynesboro, Pa., dispatches said it was uncertain what effect the widely discussed Washington freeway would have on Fort Ritchie and the "second pentagon" being built there.

At first it was believed that one of the main reasons for the proposed road was to link the underground communications center with Washington.

However, in view of the recent cancellation of a $10 million housing project at Ritchie, the proposed deluxe highway has lost some of its significance.

Anyway, according to one high military source, the Army has at no time requested that any new road be built between the Fort Ritchie area and Washington.

Health Department Closes Two Taverns

Two Emmitsburg restaurants were closed Thursday afternoon of last week for violations of the sanitary code.

Business ceased at 5 p. m. at Wagerman's Restaurant and at Ohler's Tavern, Taneytown Road.

Announcing the closing order, Dr. H. Forbes Burgess, Frederick County health officer, said that both establishments had a long history of violations of the provisions of the Frederick County sanitary law and that both had been given official notice of improvements to be made. More than 30 days have passed since the last "clean-up" order was served and neither place made the necessary changes to bring it up to acceptable standards, he said.

Vigorous enforcement of sanitary regulations is a Health Department policy, Dr. Burgess said, and other restaurant closures will follow unless owners take immediate steps to bring them up to standards.

It is understood that both establishments, having complied with regulations, are now operating.

Diplomat Visits Mount St. Mary's

Francis A. Coffey, second secretary of the Irish embassy, delivered a lecture on "The Ireland of Today" in Flynn Hall on the Mount St. Mary's College campus last Wednesday evening. The lecture was sponsored by the Shamrock Club. After the lecture, Mr. Coffey, a native of Ireland, enjoyed a few memories of his native land with Rev. James C. Burke, instructor in Greek and mathematics at the Mount, who was born on the Emerald Isle.

Mrs. Maggie C. Trent, Route 1, received word from her son, Pfc. Paul H. Trent, who is stationed in Camp McCully, Austria, that he expects to come home some time in February. Pfc. Trent has been overseas for more than three years.

PNEUMONIA

Because serums and drugs in recent years have helped save the lives of many pneumonia victims, some people have the notion that nobody dies of pneumonia these days. It's true that the death toll from the infectious disease has fallen about 75 per cent in the last two decades, but pneumonia is still among the leading causes of death in this country.

As in former years, fatalities from pneumonia are among the very young and the old. Most of those who die of pneumonia today are people who neglected some serious respiratory infection or who postponed visiting the doctor despite a "bad cold" that hung on. For, while the doctor can now treat certain types of pneumonia with drugs like penicillin and aureomycin, it is imperative that correct diagnosis be made and treatment begun in an early stage of the illness.

Pneumonia is an infectious disease which attacks the lungs. The pneumonia germs settle in the air pockets which make up the lung mass and interfere with the lungs' normal function of transferring oxygen into the blood stream for distribution throughout the body. Besides depriving the body of its full oxygen supply, the germs also produce poisons which get into the sick person's blood stream.

There are various types of pneumonia germs. But the symptoms of all types are similar and their appearance demands prompt medical attention. Pneumonia symptoms include a severe shivering chill followed by fever, pain in the chest which grows sharper after coughing, difficulty in breathing, and sometimes blood-tinged sputum.

The treatment of pneumonia varies for different types of disease. When a person shows any symptoms which might mean pneumonia, the doctor should be called at once. While waiting for the doctor, the patient should be kept warm, but he should never be given medications like aspirin, cough medicine, or any other remedy, without the doctor's advice. If the illness is pneumonia, the doctor can best decide whether the patient should receive hospital or home care. When someone cares for a pneumonia patient at home, the doctor's instructions should, of course, be followed to the letter.

We do not let have a specific drug to prevent pneumonia, but we do know that people who are well-nourished and who guard against chilling and extreme fatigue seem to have more resistance to the pneumonia germs. If, despite healthful living, pneumonia should strike, prompt medical attention gives the victim his best chance of recovery.

The State flower of Arkansas, 25th state admitted into the Union, is the apple blossom.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

LET'S cook up something special for the family this Valentine's Day. One good suggestion that comes to mind is a fancy and festive Strawberry Heart salad from the Best Foods consumer test kitchens. Bursting with luscious fruit and topped with a rich cream cheese and mayonnaise "frosting," this dish capably doubles as both a salad and a dessert. It is desirable to use a heart shaped mold (you can buy one in almost any houseware department or dime store) but you can use a square pan, shaping the cream cheese mixture into a heart when the gelatin is set and unmolded.

Strawberry Heart Salad

1 package (12 oz.) Cold water frozen strawberries 1 1/2 to 2 cups
2 packages pineapple chunks
1 package strawberry 1/2 cup real flavored gelatin mayonnaise
1 cup hot water 3 oz. package
2 teaspoons cream cheese
lemon juice Dash of salt
Salad greens

Thaw strawberries, reserving juice. Dissolve gelatin in hot water and lemon juice. Add enough cold water to strawberry juice to make 2 cups and mix into dissolved gelatin. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Gently stir in strawberries and pineapple chunks. Pour into a 5-cup heart-shaped mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set. Unmold gelatin on salad greens. Blend real mayonnaise, cream cheese and salt together. Spread over top of mold. Garnish with a strawberry. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Schenley Employee Dies In Action

The nation-wide Schenley organization has lost its first serviceman in combat, according to word today reaching J. L. Hague, Cincinnati, administrator of the company's military benefits plan. He is Robert M. Funk, 25, formerly of Schenley's wine division at Lodi, Calif., who was killed Jan. 15 while returning from a reconnaissance mission in a four-engine Navy patrol bomber.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Regina Kane and Doris Sponseller held a surprise birthday party for Dian Shuff Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary G. Shuff.

Those attending were Kay Wantz, Emmitsburg; Doris Sponseller, Jeannette Sponseller of Cashtown; Doris Rohrbaugh, Hanover; Joseph Temple, Joseph Fox, Nancy Sanders, Homer Runkle, Jack Miller, Sam Scott, Gettysburg; Regina Kane Fairfield and Dian Shuff, Zora. The evening was spent dancing, singing and watching television. Refreshments were served.

Although icebergs occur throughout the year the greatest concentration in the shipping lanes of the Atlantic usually occurs from March through June.

Star Recipes

As Told to Betsy Blake

Like any other American householder, beautiful JOAN FONTAINE, now starring in Paramount's "Something to Live For," likes variety in her Sunday chicken dinner. Tops on anybody's list is roast chicken in the French manner. That means no bothering with stuffing. All the busy cook need do is place a little margarine inside the bird, and it's ready for the oven. You'll really like its delicious unusual flavor. Here's the recipe:

ROAST CHICKEN, FRENCH STYLE

1 3/4 lb. chicken 1 clove garlic, crushed (optional)
1/2 teaspoon salt 1 tablespoon lemon juice, or
1/2 teaspoon black pepper 1/2 cup dry white wine
4 tablespoons Blue Bonnet Margarine 2 tablespoons water

Have butcher clean chicken for roasting. Sprinkle inside with salt and pepper. Place 2 tablespoons margarine inside chicken and crushed garlic, if used. Dot outside of chicken with remaining 2 tablespoons margarine and place breast side down in roasting pan. Combine lemon juice or dry white wine with water and pour gently over chicken. Cover with brown paper and roast in moderate oven (350° F.), allowing 30 minutes per pound. Baste occasionally (about every 15-20 minutes) with 1 tablespoon water. Remove paper during last 20 minutes of cooking to brown chicken. Serve on platter with side dish of gravy. Serves 4.

Gravy: Combine pan juices with 1/2 teaspoon tomato paste and 1/4 cup water, and heat slowly.

Birth Registrations Show Increase Over 1940

"More than 99 per cent of the babies born in Maryland now receive a birth certificate according to the findings of a nation-wide survey of birth registration," Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Dept. of Health, has just announced. "This birth registration test, recently completed by the U. S. Public Health Service, revealed that Maryland had a registration completeness of 99.1 per cent in 1950 as compared with 97.1 per cent in 1940. Many of the unregistered births come to the attention of this department at the time of school enrollment.

"Much of the increase in the percentage of births registered may be attributed to the hospitals and to physician-attended births. Over a 10-year period—from 1940 to 1950—about 95 per cent of all births in this State are estimated to have been medically attended. Of the medically attended births, approximately 99 per cent were reported. This department's greatest difficulty lies in obtaining records of births not hospitalized and not attended by a physician or midwife.

"Maryland's birth registration system was established in 1898 but for some of the early years hardly half of the births were actually recorded. In Baltimore City birth registration had been established in 1875. Since about 1912 there has been a spectacular improvement in completeness of registration, due in large measure to the increasing demands for birth records for work permits, school enrollment, aid to dependent children, parents' income tax deductions, and other purposes.

"The small fraction of births that now remain unregistered is for the most part unattended births or those attended by two or more physicians, each of whom assumes that another has reported the birth. The Division of Vital Records and Statistics is striving to close the narrow gap that now remains between actual and recorded births in order that every child born in Maryland may have the advantage of birth registration.

"Parents are urged to cooperate in order that their children may not be among the small minority who will have difficulty in obtaining records in later years. In fact, since 1951 the State law has required that parents report the birth themselves if no registration notice is received from this department within 10 days of the birth.

"Delayed birth registration is possible for adults and children beyond the age of 12 years. Three documents showing the date and place of birth, of which at least two should show parentage, are necessary to obtain a delayed birth certificate."

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Order Farm Supplies Now

Increasing food and fiber requirements are placing tremendous demands on the productive capacity of America's farms, says Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee. In the present national emergency food and fiber rank as high as guns, tanks and airplanes, as weapons for the defense of the freedom. Unfortunately farmers are finding some of the most essential facilities and supplies such as machinery, fertilizers, seeds, insecticides and machinery repair parts hard to get when they really need them.

In view of that and to facilitate the smooth operation of our farms, Mr. Blandford urges Maryland farmers to order and stock actual needs of these vital agricultural supplies as soon as possible. For example, if you haven't ordered your fertilizer yet, don't wait much longer or you may be forced to use much less than you should to help assure maximum production from each acre of land.

New farm machinery production has been declining since the middle of 1951. Allotments of raw materials for defense needs for the first three months of 1952 will further restrict production of farm machinery below the needed rate.

Mr. Blandford also urges Maryland farmers to make a special effort to maintain in good repair and running order the farm machinery they now have. It has been estimated that it will take at least 20% more repair parts than farmers used in 1949 to meet this year's high crop needs.

Farmers also are being urged to order other supplies early, such as pesticides, seeds, etc.

Bettors Pastures Mean More Milk
Maryland farmers can step up milk production, reduce feed costs and conserve soil and water resources by carrying out the pasture improvement practices emphasized in the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program, says Mr. Blandford.

The chairman points out that, in general, about 38% of all food consumed by dairy cattle now comes from pasture crops, but that far less concentrated feed would be needed if more pasture improving conservation practices were carried out.

Several pasture improvement practices have been approved for assistance under the 1951 Agricultural Conservation Program.

To make the most effective use of ACP practices, Mr. Blandford urges each farmer to go over his farm to determine the conservation needs. This check up should provide answers to the following questions:

Are pastures producing as well as they should? Are weeds taking over? Should the old pastures be plowed up and new ones established? What grass and legume mixture would be best? Will lime and phosphate increase production? How can the ACP help out in getting the most needed job done?

Ed Got Red In His Own "Hot Water"

Big Ed started a "Pay-Your-Bill" campaign last week and ended up with a slightly red face. Ed's been our Water Commissioner for ten years, and for ten years now he's been getting riled up over slow payments of bills.

So, he finally decided to do something drastic about it. Last week he sent notices that if the slackers didn't pay up by Friday, he'd shut off their water.

Naturally, some still didn't square accounts. Ed ordered their water turned off, and 14 homes went without all week end—the Commissioner's among them. Seems Ed forgot to pay his bill.

From where I sit, Ed's mistake is one we all make at times. We are too quick to accuse others while forgetting our own faults. Lots of us do it, for instance, over a difference in taste for a soft drink or a friendly glass of beer. Let's respect each other's preferences and we'll all stay out of "hot water."

The Power Of Your Vote

One morning in 1844, a grain miller in De Kalb County, Indiana, was walking toward his mill. It was election day but he had work to do that would keep him busy all day and he had decided to forego casting his ballot. Before he reached his mill, however, he was stopped by friends who persuaded him to go to the polls. It so happened that the winning candidate for the De Kalb County position in the Indiana Legislature won by just one vote—and the miller had voted for him.

When the Indiana Legislature convened the De Kalb man cast the deciding vote that sent Edward Allen Hannegan to the U. S. Senate. (Until 1912, the legislature elected U. S. Senators.) And then in the U. S. Senate the question of Statehood for Texas came up for vote. The result was a tie vote. But Senator Hannegan, who was presiding as "President pro tempore" of the Senate, cast the deciding vote, from the chair, in favor of admitting Texas.

In 1948 Too

These incidents clearly demonstrate the potential power of a single vote. The miller's act of voting affected the destiny of the whole state of Texas. What happened in the last presidential election in Ohio is another illustration. Ohio's 25 electoral votes went to the successful presidential candidate in 1948 by so slim a margin that a single additional vote in each of Ohio's voting precincts could have reversed that result. One single person who didn't vote in each voting precinct thus had the power to change the political destiny of Ohio, and it might well have affected the destiny of the nation or even the world.

In that 1948 presidential election only half the American people of voting age voted—48 million out of a possible 95 million. The percentage of people who vote regularly in all elections—local, state, and national—is drastically lower; only 20 per cent, or one out of every five of the eligible, vote regularly.

Get-Out-The-Vote "Tool"

These and other equally challenging facts are presented in a new Harding College "flannel-board" presentation entitled "The Power of Your Vote." The purpose of this new illustrated talk is to get more people to vote and to assist all voters to become intelligent voters in their measuring of candidates and issues. It is the third of a Harding College series designed to develop a better informed and more responsible citizenry throughout the nation.

More than 2000 "flannel-board" speakers scattered through the 48 states, including clergymen, industrial training directors, civic club members, club women, labor union stewards, teachers, etc., have been giving these "flannel-board" talks. Since the recent public announcement of "The Power of Your Vote" a great many local organizations are advocating it as a "tool" to get out the vote. It is non-partisan. It is developed in the Harding College Freedom Forums with a number of people working together on it.

Honoring The Voters

Probably the most appealing feature of "The Power of Your Vote" is the suggestion of a "Tag Day" on all election days. Each citizen who votes would wear a little red-white-and-blue label tag bearing the challenge: "I Have Voted! Have You?" Those who didn't vote would thus be conspicuous and feel very "sheepish." Some local group—a woman's club, patriotic society, chamber of commerce or other civic club—could sponsor "Tag Day" whenever an election is held, local, state or national. Newspapers would cooperate with helpful publicity. The tags would be given out at the polling places after each citizen voted.

Anything that will stimulate more people to vote and to want to know more about candidates and issues would be worth trying. The act of voting, and voting intelligently, is the most important single responsibility of American citizenship. The surest way we have of improving the character and usefulness of our government, on all levels, is for every citizen to inform himself on the issues and candidates and vote on the basis of what's best for the community, state and nation.

Additional information on "The Power of Your Vote" may be obtained by addressing a request to me at Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas.

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

Maryland District OPS Director Hugo R. Hoffman announced this week that retail markups for sales of white potatoes soon will be released and will become effective not later than January 28. The markups, which will provide specific percentage margins over cost for each of the four OPS grocery store classifications, will supplement the recently issued Ceiling Price Regulation 113 which established dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for white potatoes at country shipping points and at wholesale levels.

The ceilings on white potatoes were set when the Dept. of Agriculture announced that white potatoes had reached parity. Under the provisions of the Defense Production Act, Congress specifically exempted farm prices from controls until they reached parity," Mr. Hoffman explained.

Retail liquor dealers are covered in their sales by Ceiling Price Regulation 78 and have been given an extension of time for filling in their OPS Public Form 114, 115, and 117 the Maryland OPS Office announced. "These forms must be filled in by February 1 instead of the original January 15 deadline. The forms must be kept by the liquor retailer and NOT sent to the OPS office. Dealers must present their forms for inspection by OPS personnel. Those who have not filled-in the forms will be in violation after February 1," Mr. Hoffman warned.

Beer comes under a new OPS Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR 117) issued recently. The new regulation allows brewers and wholesalers to adjust their ceiling prices to compensate them for increased costs since Korea. The regulation also covers retailers as well as taverns which make sales of beer to take out.

Some prices may go up and some may go down. The regulation calls for a reduction by those who have raised their prices earlier above the amounts specified in the new regulation. The new beer regulation does not directly affect the prices on beer sold in restaurants or taverns. Prices for beer consumed on the premises are still governed by the OPS Restaurant Regulation, CPR 11.

Farm equipment dealers who sell used, reconditioned and guaranteed farm machinery set their ceiling prices in the following manner according to the OPS office: The dealer begins with the trade-in allowance or his purchase price. To this he adds $25 or 30% of the trade-in allowance or purchase price, whichever is greater. Then he adds the cost of parts and services needed to recondition the piece of equipment.

Dealers in farm equipment who sell used farm equipment WITH-OUT reconditioning or guarantee, set their ceiling price in the following manner: The dealer begins with the trade-in allowance or purchase price. To this he adds $25 or 10% of the trade-in or purchase price, whichever is the greater. Finally, if he repairs the piece of equipment, he also adds the cost of parts and labor.

Where an item of farm equipment is sold by a person who originally bought it new for his own use and not for resale, the ceiling price at or under which he must sell the item is 85% of the base price if he sells it within two years after his date of purchase; the ceiling price is 70% of the base price if the item is sold more than two years after the date it was purchased new. The base period is the manufacturers current list price, FOB factory.

Question and Answer

Q—Can you settle a debate? had that special equipment on a used car ought to be depreciated just as the car is under OPS ceilings?

A—You are right. Ceiling prices for extra, special and optional equipment, as listed in the appendix of the used passenger automobile Ceiling Price Regulation 94, are depreciated two per cent each quarter year in the same manner as the car with which such equipment is sold.

Dinah Shore, lovely co-star on CBS's "Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Ginny Simms Show," is always so knowledgeable about the programs on which her many friends in show business appear, that someone recently asked her how she was able to find the time to hear all those shows. . . . Dinah explained that, even though she does have a pretty busy schedule herself, what free time she has can all go to listening to the radio—since Dinah's hobby is painting in oils. . . .

Roy Rogers, whose "Roy Rogers Show" is heard over the NBC network—and whose television program premiered on NBC December 30th—is noted for his ability to train horses and dogs, and among his small fans, he often will run into some earnest tyke who wants well trained his dog is. . . . One such little boy, aged seven, had a small, and excessively friendly black and white dog, whom he proceeded to put through its paces for Roy's benefit. The little dog, however, didn't seem to be able to do the tricks very well—all though he approached them all with great good will. Finally the boy gave up, picked his little dog up in his arms, and said to Roy, "I guess he doesn't do tricks so good—but he thinks I'm awful smart!"

Red Paints the Town

The paint on the artist is pure coincidence, as Red Skelton on his Sunday night video show on NBC demonstrates the rugged craft of portraiture. Actually, in spite of his kidding, Red's hobby is painting, and he is considered an accomplished amateur artist, and along with other noted Hollywood personalities, recently exhibited his paintings.

Comptroller Explains State Income Tax Law

This is the third in a series of four articles released by J. Millard Tawes, Comptroller of the Treasury, State of Maryland.

In two previous articles we have dealt with the requirements for filing returns, the liability of residents and non-residents, allowable personal exemptions and definitions of dependents and head of family. In this article, Mr. Tawes continues, the rates of tax and the methods of computation.

Maryland has what is commonly referred to as a "classified income tax," according to Comptroller Tawes. Under the law income is segregated into categories of "ordinary income" and "investment income." Ordinary income consists of salaries, wages, and compensation for personal services, rents (not including ground rents), royalties, and income from trade, business, or profession. Briefly stated it includes income from sources wherein a certain amount of personal services are spent in its acquisition or production. The rate of tax on ordinary income is two (2) per cent.

Investment income consists of dividends, interest, ground rents, and annuities. The rate of tax on investment income is five (5) per cent.

Computation of Tax

Two methods of computation are available in the law to the majority of resident individual taxpayers. The optional method of computation sometimes referred to as the "short form" is available to those whose income is from salary and wage sources and where the gross income does not exceed $10,000 of which not more than $500 is from dividends, interest and annuities. A tax table is set forth on the form and in its computation allowances has been made for personal exemption and deductions approximating 10 per cent of the gross income to the maximum allowance of $500. After the allowances were made the remainder has been taxed at two per cent. The regular method of computation or "long form" is available to all residents. It must be used by (1) those whose gross income exceeds $10,000; (2) by those having investment income in excess of $500; and those engaged in a trade, business or profession or in any type of business, occupation, or profession where expenses are to be claimed in connection therewith. It must, also, be used when a return is to be submitted for a period of less than a year or when credit is to be claimed for income taxes paid to some other state.

Under the regular method of computation it has been necessary heretofore to itemize all deductions. At the 1951 session of the Maryland Legislature the law was amended to provide an optional standard deduction. Mr. Tawes stated. As a result of this change an objectionable feature of the law was removed and taxpayers who are required to use the regular method of computation can now use the optional standard deduction which has been available heretofore to those who were eligible to use the optional method of computation.

The taxpayer can now claim an optional standard deduction of 10 per cent of his gross income but not in excess of $500, or he can itemize his deductions.

Gross Income

With but few exceptions the gross income as developed in your Federal return will be the same reportable to Maryland. The instructions accompanying the Md. form fully set forth the items to be included in gross income. The principal items of difference between the Federal and Maryland laws are as follows: Under the Maryland law capital gains are not subject to tax and capital losses cannot be deducted. Interest received on bonds or other obligations of the United States Government, of Maryland, or any of its political subdivisions is not subject to tax. However, interest received on bonds or other obligations of other states and their political subdivisions is taxable. Dividends received upon the stock of Maryland banks and trust companies and from National banks, both within this state, are tax exempt under the Maryland law. Dividends received from savings and loan associations, whether Federal or domestic, are subject to tax under the state law. Dividends received in liquidation or dissolution are treated as taxable income to the extent that they represent earnings of the corporation and not as capital gains as under the Federal law.

Income

Generally items permitted as deductions under the Federal law are also deductible under the state law; however, we do not permit the deduction of income taxes paid to the Federal Government or to this state, operating loss carry-over or carry-back. Limitations are also placed on losses and bad debts. The instructions accompanying the Maryland form deal with deductions very fully.

(The fourth and last article in this series will appear in the next issue).

ROCKY RIDGE MAN AGREES TO RETURN TO CAROLINA

Waiving extradition before Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer on Monday, John W. Pearcey, 35, Rocky Ridge, was taken in custody by North Carolina authorities and started for Warrenton, N. C., where he faces charges of breaking and entering and assault with a deadly weapon.

Pearcey had been identified at a magistrate's hearing last week as the man named in a fugitive warrant sent here from North Carolina. At that time, he refused to waive extradition. However, over the weekend, he apparently changed his mind and decided to return with North Carolina officers to face the charges.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 24—There are nearly 49 million registered vehicles on our roads. Better than eight million—or about one-sixth—are trucks. Spot checks in some states reveal that about 10 per cent are overloaded. And overloaded trucks are ruining our roads faster than we can build them.

The Evidence

The most significant evidence yet gathered to substantiate this fact comes from the tests sponsored by the Inter-Regional Council on Transportation and made on a mile stretch of two-lane concrete highway in Maryland. Various test loads of 22,400 and 44,800 pounds were run. The 22,400 loads damaged 28 per cent of the concrete sections; while the 44,800 pound loads damaged 90 per cent of the concrete slabs! If this first fairly comprehensive test gives insight into what future tests will reveal, then it becomes clear that truckers are not bearing their share of the burden in maintaining our roads.

I should like to see a similar test made of pleasure vehicles to see how fast they pound our roads to pieces. Should the evidence collected build a case against the trucker, then he should be taxed in proportion to the rate he wears out the roads. Further, since some truckers will overload until caught, on the basis that "only the big loads are pay loads," then a careful check system will need to be established.

Taxes vs. Tolls

I cannot deny the fact that it is a pleasure to drive the 327 miles from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia on a super-highway. Yet, I resent, in principle, the idea of having to pay a toll on top of a tax. With tolls currently averaging from one to one and a half cents a mile, this is simply adding an additional tax of 15 to 20 cents a gallon. I wonder how many motorists ever stopped to consider the problem in this fashion: What would be your reaction should the current price of gasoline at your favorite pump be hiked from 28 cents to 45 cents per gallon?

Apparently with our roads being pounded to pieces at a fast clip, presents funds are wholly inadequate both to maintain old roads and build modern expressways. Added to this is the fact that to insure a fair degree of financial success a toll road must have some kind of dangerous monopoly. Pressure might be brought by bondholders to discourage modernization of parallel routes. Is this principle of highway monopoly in the public interest?

Railroads and Trucks

The truck companies make a profit on their business just as the railroads make a profit on the freight they carry. Railroads, however, build and maintain their private roads. Truck companies, on the other hand, have the use of the highways which all of us build and maintain.

I'm not suggesting the truckers build their own roads. I am, however, suggesting they carry their fair share of building and maintaining the roadbed they use. Perhaps a per-mile rate multiplied by tonnage might be an equitable basis? I know that a proposition of this sort will not appeal to the truckers.

Around the Studios
with Charlie Brooks

John Larkin, who is "Perry Mason" on CBS' dramatic daytime serial of that name—has the following advice for hopeful tyros in radio. "Go somewhere," advises John, "and learn all you can about radio. You learn to act by acting. Get on the air doing anything. And if the studio is dirty and someone asks you to sweep it out—sweep it out. And if you don't have fun at it, forget it. Go home." That's good advice—and a good test, too—for your true interest and willingness to work in any career.

As a result of the news getting around that Ralph Locke, who plays "Papa David" on NBC's "Life Can Be Beautiful," is fond of poetry, he has been receiving books of verse from listeners and original poems, too. Many of the books of verse have been in other languages—such as German, French and Spanish—but Ralph, who is an accomplished linguist, fortunately can read and enjoy them just as much as those in English.

Olga Druce

Captain Video's most enthusiastic fan is probably Olga Druce, who puts on the Du Mont television thriller—and whose lively enjoyment of the captain's fantastic adventures in space never seems to fade. Olga, who began her theatrical career as a child actress, grew up to continue a deep interest in youngsters, and to gear her adult career towards their needs. A student of sociology and psychology, Olga wrote, produced and directed the award-winning children's program, "House of Mystery," she lectures on children's entertainment, and the half-hour, five-day-a-week "Captain Video" is her first television venture in the children's field.

AIR-DEBATE: In the December issue of Redbook Magazine is a page on the private life of a third of one of radio's most entertaining trios—Lily May Ledford of the "Coon Creek Girls," who enliven CBS's "Renfro Valley Country Store" program. . . . The candy is on Carmen Dragon at rehearsals of NBC's "The Railroad Hour." The musical director is passing out bonbons in honor of the birth of a daughter, Kathryn. The other Dragon youngsters are Douglas, who is eleven, four-year-old Dennis, and three-year-old Carmen. . . . The American Weekly Magazine in a recent issue, pronounced—and answered—the question of why "Mama," the CBS-TV drama, has so much appeal for the average listener. Conclusion: The viewer can project himself—and his recollection of his own mother—into the homely, down-to-earth drama.

But, I ask you, isn't it so often the abuse of privilege by a few which brings about regulation of all?

Advice To Truck Drivers

Many have noticed of late the increasing carelessness with which truckers drive. Almost any day, between Boston and Hartford, for example, they roll along racing each other, two abreast so that the average motorist has to fight for his place on the road. More than once lately I've been scared out of my wits by trucks failing to stop at red lights simply because they couldn't stop! We used to look upon truck drivers as the most courteous on the road. If overloading and recklessness continue, the whole industry will suffer.

Truckers ought to try to regulate themselves before the state and Federal governments step in! In fact, municipal governments may soon rule that truckers can use downtown streets only after 6 p. m. Eliminating trucks from congested areas will be the next step in solving the wretched traffic conditions of today.

Heavyweight Threat?!!

The current holder of the heavyweight title need not tremble too briskly over challenger Cauliflower McPug. During rehearsals of NBC-TV's "The Red Skelton Show," sports authority Red has given as his opinion that McPug is strictly a shadow boxer. . . . And he should know—having created the ubiquitous C. McPug.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Even hardened cynical veteran Washingtonians, long accustomed to wondering over the patience of the American public, are amazed at the actions of the Office of Price Stabilization. The Office of Price Scuttling, as it is now called, is even envied by bureaucrats who realize they have never been able to get the strange hold fastened on all America that OPS has done.

While the accomplishments of many bureaucrats are reared in question in relation to the money expended, OPS has shown no results.

The purpose of OPS was to stop inflationary prices.

As is obvious, this has not been done. Even government officials hopelessly express the opinion that price increases during 1952 will not exceed 3%.

For example, OPS reports a meeting was held with fresh vegetable growers and shippers to discuss the current high prices disturbing every budget.

The report further states OPS officials told the grower-shippers no regulation is planned. In other words, the OPS said it would do nothing, but perhaps might do something in the future.

Present at this meeting were fourteen high government officials, including one Gilbert F. O'Brien, chief Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Division of OPS.

Thus in a field in which the OPS has done nothing, and plans on doing nothing, there is a chief, and a staff, to do nothing except pick up pay checks and attend meetings to decide nothing will be done.

One of a series of messages on the spiritual value of remembrance prepared for the Disabled American Veterans

There are many moments when our disabled veterans, carrying injuries which were sustained in defense of their country, must be sad and distressed. These moments come when physical impairment is painful, or when there is difficulty in living normally, but undoubtedly their disheartenment is worse when our veterans begin to wonder whether the sacrifice was worth it—as they see the democratic way of life again in jeopardy, as they watch the encroachments upon freedom and independence and upon all the precious values of western civilization.

We cannot restore all the broken bodies, but we can sustain the wonderful devoted spirit of those who have already paid so much for freedom, by our willingness to defend the democratic way with adequate sacrifice.

We have too many Americans who want to meet danger within the framework of normal living. They prefer to rely upon confidence in America's potential strength. They can always muster mountains of statistics to prove that in any conflict with the totalitarian states we have unconquerable reserves, potential material, and manpower that cannot be withstood.

They point to the logic of history and they mouth clichés about the ultimate indestructibility of the democratic way. But in the conflict with powerful new enemies, victories are not won by statistics. They are not won by pointing to potential strength or to any compelling philosophy of history. Victories are won by having the right strength at the right place at the right time. We have learned in Korea that ten times as much sacrifice and devotion later is not as useful as adequate preparedness when the moment of danger arrives.

The democratic world has suffered through two wars from too little and too late. It is time that its heart be boosted by the spiritual adrenalin of sufficient and on time. If we learn this lesson now when it is vital, we are paying the best possible tribute to our veterans who have suffered in the past to preserve the democratic way.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

FEED

Summary for Maryland

Market trend, higher; condition, steady to higher; demand, slack; supply, scarcities still exist in gluten feed, distillers' dried grains and the oilseed meals. Dairy feed 32% was about 2% higher than last week.

National Summary

Feed markets advanced during the week ended January 15 reflecting higher ceiling prices recently announced on byproducts of the wet corn milling industry and increased demand for animal protein feeds, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicate. Wheat millfeed prices advanced $2.3 per ton with the production readily absorbed by the active demand. Oilseed meals continued in good demand with offerings negligible and prices nominally at ceiling levels. With the placing of fixed ceilings on gluten feed and meal, prices advanced an average of $6 per ton. Tankage and meal scraps advanced about $3 per ton at most markets. The index of wholesale feedstuff prices advanced 4.3 points to 278.2 compared with 232.3 a year ago. With lower corn and oats prices the feed grain index dropped nearly nine points to 263.1 compared with 237.7 a year ago.

Continued heavy feeding of grain and concentrates was indicated by both milk and egg production during December. Milk production per cow in crop reporters' herds on January 1 averaged 14.66 pounds, slightly below the record high of 14.67 lbs. set for that date on Jan. 1, 1950. Production of milk in 1951 was down almost one per cent from 1950 and totaled about 119.6 billion pounds. The rate of egg production in Dec. was 11.4 eggs per layer, compared with 11.0 in Dec. of 1950 and the average of 8.7. The annual rate per layer on hand during 1951 was 170 eggs compared with 167 in 1950. Total egg production for 1951 was 0.5 per cent above the record production in 1950 and totaled 60,321,000,000 eggs. The increase was due to rate of lay as the number of layers on hand was one per cent less than in 1950. Potential layers on farms Jan. 1 were two per cent more than a year earlier, but three per cent below average and totaled 437,381,000. Of this number about 32,477,000 pullets were not of laying age.

HAY & GRAIN

Summary for Maryland

Market trend, down supply, corn and soybeans, good; wheat, barley, oat, poor; demand, corn good. Others, slow. No. 2 red winter wheat (garlicky), down about 4 cents per bushel; No. 2 yellow shelled corn, down about three cents; yellow ear corn, down about a cent; No. 2 barley, down about two cents; No. 2 western white oats, down rather sharply, about five cents; No. 2 soybeans, black and yellow, down about four cents.

National Summary

Grain markets declined during the week ended Jan. 17 influenced by increased marketings of wheat and corn and a continued and active export demand for wheat in the Pacific Northwest, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicate. The wheat prices dropped two to three cents per bushel at most of the principal markets but gained three to four cents per bushel at Portland, due to export sales to Japan. Rye was 4 1/2 cents per bushel under the previous week's close. Corn markets declined reflecting the increased marketings which were the largest for any week since Nov. 30, 1950. Oats and sorghum markets weakened with corn. Oats prices were down four to six cents per bushel and grain sorghums about two cents per hundred weight.

Barley markets were steady to strong with prices for malting barley remaining unchanged as feed barley gained three to four cents due to increased export demand. Oilseed markets weakened as crushers' demand for flaxseed and soybeans was less active due to the unsatisfactory spread between the cost of oilseed and returns from oil and meal. Soybeans were three cents lower and flaxseed was down seven cents per bushel.

Mission Bazaar Will Be Held At SJHS

Feb. 15 has been the date selected for the third annual mission bazaar which will be held in the St. Joseph's High School auditorium from 1 to 3:30. Since this date coincides with the Valentine season, hearts will decorate the booths. Due to many new attractions, the various booths and games have been placed under the supervision of the four classes. Refreshments will be sold by the fourth-year students during the lunch period, bazaar and on into the evening's dance. The fourth-year commercial students have been assigned the Western Union booth, from which telegrams will be sent to those on the school premises. Games and skills will be under the supervision of the third-year students, while the second and first years will have charge of fancy and religious articles and the fun house and grabs, respectively. There also will be some special guess games.

The P-TA also will contribute to the success of the day by taking care of the "Mission's Day" climax—the dance at which the King and Queen of Hearts will be crowned.

Donations have been coming in well, as the students show that they realize that "giving to the Missions" is actually "Giving to God."

The Women's Missionary Society of Elias Lutheran Church will hold its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Linn on Thursday evening, Feb. 14, at 7:30 o'clock. The leaders will be Mrs. Linn, Mrs. Hazel Caldwell and Mrs. Fink.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Recently the Commission on Administrative Organization of the State submitted eight bills for presentation to the February session of the General Assembly. These, if passed, will effect vital improvements in the budget, fiscal, purchasing and inventory system of the State.

While the report of our special committee contains eleven recommendations, the limited time afforded by the 30-day "short" session of the legislature made us decide to concentrate on several basic proposals that would result in modernizing the fiscal machinery of the State.

This policy of our Commission has met with state-wide acceptance. From the experience of earlier commissions, however, we know that unless the people in general, and the members of the legislature in particular, are thoroughly informed about our objectives, our work may still go for naught.

To avert such a fate for this Commission's recommendations, Simon E. Sobeloff, our chairman, J. Theodore Wolfe, who heads the subcommittee on fiscal affairs, J. Howard Johnson of Salisbury and myself have toured the state, addressing members of the legislature, public officials and civic groups. We plan to continue this activity throughout January. To augment our efforts to inform the public, however, we need special support of the press from now until the opening of the February legislative session.

In view of your newspaper's policy of public service in Maryland, we are frankly appealing to you for help in explaining to the people during these few remaining weeks just why an overhaul of the State's confused budget system is so urgently needed and what enactment of the proposed legislation would accomplish.

Four of the proposed bills are designed to insure a unified or "one-package" budget, instead of the piecemeal system of presenting budget requests that has come to be standard practice. In submitting his annual budget to the General Assembly, the Governor would be expected to present a complete fiscal program, including proposed bond issues, revenue bills and Federal grants. A supplemental Budget, if any, would be limited to items of error and omission. The purpose is to give the Gen-

Mocha Chiffon Pie Fit For A King

It is no wonder that coffee-flavored desserts are generally popular when instant coffee is used as a flavor ingredient. Here is a new recipe for a luscious, light-but-rich Mocha Chiffon Pie using Nescafé to insure that fresh coffee flavor that will make this dessert a crowning glory to any luncheon or dinner menu.

With this superb dessert, you will want to serve hot, full-bodied, instant coffee in your favorite coffee pot. You can be sure that your family and friends will be impressed with the coffee as well as the Mocha Chiffon Pie if you follow directions. For each cup required, just place one rounded teaspoon of Nescafé (more or less according to strength desired) in the bottom of your coffee maker, add an equal number of cups of boiling water and stir. Good coffee is ready to serve—instantly. No waiting—no fuss—no fuss—and remember second and third helpings can be made instantly as needed. It is sheer magic and time-saving to use instant coffee for a few guests or a crowd... and easy on the budget, too.

Mocha Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
1 package Nestle's semi-sweet chocolate
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Softened gelatine in cold water; in top of double boiler put semi-sweet chocolate, 1/4 cup sugar, salt, milk and Nescafé. Cook over hot water stirring to blend. Beat egg yolks; add mocha mixture slowly, stirring rapidly. Return to double boiler; cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat; add gelatine; stir until dissolved. Chill until thickened. Beat egg whites until stiff; add remaining 1/4 cup sugar while continuing to beat. Fold in mocha mixture and whipped cream. Turn into pie shell; chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream if desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gillelan and children of Baltimore, visited Sunday with Mrs. Gillelan's parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Stinson. Miss Sandra Hall, Shippensburg State Teachers' College, visited over the weekend with Mrs. Harry S. Boyle.

eral Assembly early in each session a virtually complete view of the Governor's fiscal plans, so that the legislature's consideration of the budget may be based on all the facts.

Another key proposal of the Commission would amend the Constitution to permit the use of a "performance" or "program" budget, instead of the "line-item" budget which has been used in Maryland for the past 31 years and which no longer serves to give a clear picture of state fiscal operations. A "program" budget would outline the functions of each agency, in terms of work to be performed on a given amount of money. It would give meaning to otherwise meaningless figures. Moreover, it would provide a yardstick for measuring agency performance from year to year, and pave the way for installing modern cost-accounting methods. If the "program" budget is approved by the legislature, it would still require a state-wide referendum in November, 1952, to enact it into law.

Finally, there are two bills aimed at introducing more up-to-date business practices and purchasing methods in State government. One of them grants the Board of Public Works initiative in adopting rules and regulations covering matters of business administration in the several departments. The other provides for a Chief Storekeeper in the State Purchasing Bureau, and for maintaining central stores and inventory control of materials, supplies and equipment.

If the measures outlined briefly above are enacted into law, the Commission believes they will go far to improve the efficiency of State fiscal operations and to effect economies in State administration for the benefit of all taxpayers.

In conclusion, we wish to emphasize strongly the non-partisan composition and strictly objective policies of the Commission. First of all the power creating the Commission was derived from a Democratic legislature; the appropriation to defray its expenses was furnished by a Democratic Governor, Mr. Lane; and eight members of the twelve-man Commission are affiliated with the Democratic Party.

Sincerely yours,

Charles M. Bandiere, Chairman

Public Information Committee

Commission on Administrative Organization of the State

Versatile Roofing Suitable to all Buildings

Asphalt roofing is a versatile material. It is made in enough varieties to permit selecting an inexpensive roof for an inexpensive temporary building and a heavier, longer-wearing roof for a permanent structure.

Writing in Agricultural Engineering magazine, James L. Strahan, technical director of the Asphalt Roofing Industry Bureau, says: "When it is considered that asphalt roofings are available in weights ranging between a minimum of 45 pounds per square and 325 pounds and higher, it is obvious that there is a very wide choice from which to select a product which is best suited both to the economy and to the functional requirements of any individual construction project.

"This is probably one potent reason why the asphalt roofing industry currently supplies upward of 85 percent of all the roofing shipped annually in the United States. Versatility is a really important characteristic."

A square of roofing is enough material to cover 100 square feet of roof area. When 210-pound asphalt shingles are applied on a roof, each 100-square-foot section is protected by that weight of roofing material.

Mr. Strahan says a temporary building can be roofed with inexpensive asphalt roll roofing which will successfully perform the "essential weatherproofing duty." He suggests heavier asphalt roofing for dwellings and other permanent structures which require "long-lived roofing material."

Sportsmen Feed Wild Turkeys

The regular meeting of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club was held Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall, President Harold M. Hoke, presiding. About 50 were in attendance.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of establishing a fish pond for the local youths of the community.

President Hoke proposed that the club take some kind of remedial measures to preserve the water supply in Big Hunting Creek, Thurmont. It is believed that a series of dams, if constructed, would add much to the fishing facilities of that popular stream. All work would be supervised by competent advisors from game commissions.

The fish committee announced it would soon appeal to the Federal Government for a new supply of stocking fish for the local creeks and river. It was reported by the feed committee that during the recent snows, feed was placed in the grain hoppers on the game refuge near Rainbow Reservoir for the wild turkeys that were stocked there last year. They are reported to be thriving well.

Following the business session, the sportsmen repaired to the Lutheran Parish Hall to view a film titled, "Pheasants Galore." Refreshments were served after the viewing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bubrick and family, Union Bridge, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle.

Youth Loses Sight Of Right Eye

Joseph Wormley, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Wormley, W. Main St., was injured Saturday evening when an ice pick he was using to untie a knot in his shoelace slipped and struck him in his eye, causing him to lose the sight of his right eye. The boy was treated by Dr. Walter S. Mount, Gettysburg, and returned to his home.

Fascinating Fashions Judy Seaton

Spring's fashion headline is color... rosy red, frosty blue, bold colors or pastels... and what more feminine or glamorous way to add a touch of color to your wardrobe than with a festive scarf crushed at your throat, encircling your waist or peeking out of a pocket?

You may choose a permanent pleated nylon, a heavy silk in brilliant Roman stripes on a black background, a delicate silk chiffon shaded from dark to pastel, or the latest cylindrical scarf in raw silk; a tiny square, a three-cornered silk, a yard-wide square, an ascot or long, narrow in shape, and any size. Strawberry blonde Virginia Maye, star of daytime radio serial, "Rosemary," selected a white silk square flecked with gold and tied it with the four ends coming to points and fastened with a simple gold pin to add glamour to a plain, black dress. Or, a scarlet nylon pleated single tucked into the top of your skirt, fluffed out of a pocket on the lap of your suit jacket, lends a dash of individual note to your outfit.

Scarves are indispensable for a working gal who wants to be business-like from 9 to 5 but "dressed up" at 5:15. Virginia often wears a black faille suit accessorized with a pearl choker or tiny gold pin to the office and transforms the suit into a smart cocktail outfit by adding a stiff taffeta scarf fastened with a pert rose. A wisp of bright material, a scatter pin or fake flower, plus a little ingenuity give your wardrobe double mileage.

A luncheon was given Mrs. Harry Boyle last Thursday at the Green Parrot Tea Room to celebrate her birthday. Those present were Mrs. James Kenny, Mrs. John Rheil, Mrs. Norman Andrae, Mrs. Summerfield Pearson, Miss Regina Donohue and Mrs. James Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Boyle, all from Baltimore, and Mrs. William McGill of Thurmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baker and son, Charles, visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Topper and family, of McSherrystown, Pa., on Sunday.

Mrs. Cloyd W. Seiss has been confined to her home on Federal Ave., for the past week suffering from rheumatism. Her condition is somewhat improved.
