Most Anything At A Glance

—BY ABIGAIL—

It was with a great deal of pleasure that I read stories in last week's papers that Pennsylvania was planning to extend the Turnpike to our state line. This, without a doubt, if it is ever realized, will coerce Maryland to come through with something in the same line of road construction and will awake this state from the dreaming they have been doing for the past 40 years as far as a Memorial Highway between Gettysburg and Washington is concerned. Can you visualize the amount of traffic that will pass or by-pass our town? At the present time more than 4000 cars pass through our streets daily on Route 15. The influx of motorists will be undeniably many times greater if this new road becomes a reality. We will be located on the main highway from North to South or vice versa.

Without a doubt our fair town will be bypassed, but that doesn't necessarily mean extinction. Think of the better means of truck transportation that will become accessible to any industry seeking to locate here. Long have we been handicapped by lack of a railroad but with such a highway going right by our town, we don't feel that we'll miss that railroad too much.

Well, folks, are you all ready for the annual Ground Hog tale? The papers are full of interesting items about the little varmit, but as far as I am concerned, I'll stick to the old almanac, as far as the weather is concerned. Anyway, when they start talking groundhog, one thing is certain and that is that Spring isn't just too far away. What a pleasant thought... Spring. With the cold weather we have been having all week, I'll gladly listen to any conservation concerning Mr. Groundhog, whether the yarns are true or false. I like to dream of the coming of Spring. One thing certain, if this cold spell continues until tomorrow, Groundhog Day, Mr. So and So had better stay right in his hole and forget about his shadow or he'll freeze to death.

Folks, we have got to get busy and support more activities on behalf of the Memorial Hall. To date two or three organizations have been carrying the torch for the hall. After all, this is a community affair... strictly. If we want a building we can be proud of, we must roll up our sleeves and put our shoulders to the proverbial wheel. To date a little over $2000 has been placed in the treasury. This is an excellent showing for the little period of time that we have been active on the project, but it is a far cry from the amount necessary. Let's do a little frank figuring on the subject. There are about 30 different organizations in town. If each of these groups were to promote some little activity that would raise about $50 and donate it to the hall fund it would bring in a tidy little sum of $1500. Let's do this for a given number of years and we have enough to start building. Why don't you mention this fact at the next meeting of your organization? Be sure your group is doing its share to help this worthy project along. It certainly isn't too much trouble to stage a card party, movie, food or rummage sale, baseball game, etc. Incidentally, the scrap drive is still going on. The first load brought some $40 into the building fund. Make sure you do your little bit by calling Mr. Emrich or Mr. Fuss to pick up your scrap.

Society Plans Covered Dish Supper

The Women's Missionary Society of the Lutheran Church will hold its February meeting in the form of a covered dish supper meeting in the Parish House next Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Miss Beulah Martin will be a guest and she will speak to the group about her work as a Moravian missionary as superior of nurses in the Ruth O. S. Hospital, Bilwaskarma, Nicaragua, where she spent three years. Miss Martin is at her home near Graceham, Md., on furlough at the present.

A great many untruths begin with these words: "... is a fine person and I like her but ..."

Paul A. Keepers Heads Local Community Fund

The Community Fund of Emmitsburg began its third year of existence Monday night at the regular meeting of the organization. President T. W. Rodgers presided over the 12 members of the board of directors that were present.

The committee on Christmas assistance to the needy reported an expenditure of over $60 among needy families of the district.

Organizations and new delegates present at the meeting were Emmitsburg High School PTA, Mrs. John D. White; St. Joseph's High School PTA, Mrs. J. Harry Scott; Homemakers Club, Mrs. Harry S. Boyle; VFW Auxiliary, Mrs. William E. Law; Chamber of Commerce, Guy A. Baker Jr.; American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. George Gilling; VFW Post, Lumen F. Norris; Lions Club, Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr.; Methodist Church, Col. Thomas J. Frailey; Grange, Charles D. Fuss; Knights of Columbus, Paul A. Keepers; Vigilant Hose Co., J. William Rowe; Mt. St. Mary's College, Prof. Dominic Greco.

Several cases requiring assistance were reviewed at the session but no action was taken on any of them pending complete investigation. It was agreed to make some type of donation to Junior Police Club in the near future.

At the annual election of officers, the board elected Paul A. Keepers president to head the organization for the current year. Other officers installed were vice president, Mrs. Harry S. Boyle; secretary, Mrs. William E. Law; and treasurer, Mrs. J. Harry Scott.

The annual fund-raising event, consisting of the usual double-header basketball game was turned over to a committee consisting of Prof. Dominic Greco, Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., and C. A. Elder. It is proposed to hold the event about March 13 in Mt. St. Mary's College gymnasium.

Ex-president Rodgers was given a vote of commendation for his excellent service during the past year.

Sperry's Garage Displays New Ford Today

Emmitsburgians will get their first glimpse of the new 1952 Ford when it goes on display at Sperry's Garage, S. Seton Ave., this morning.

Many new improvements have been made in the new model this year, including a new Mileage Maker Six, which boasts 101 horsepower. The regular V-8 high compression motor has been boosted to 110 horsepower in the '52's.

Three lines are featured in this year's models: The Main Line, The Custom Line, and The Crest-line.

Driving visibility is made even greater by the installation of a one-piece windshield in the new model, along with a host of other new improvements in the line of safety.

To Repaint Parish House

The work of cleaning and repainting the entire interior of the Lutheran Parish House will be started Monday morning. The work will be under the supervision of Charles L. Sharrer, chairman of the property committee of the church and will largely be done by volunteer helpers from the congregation. Mr. Sharrer announced that quite a number of helpers can be used every day next week from Monday through Saturday.

A little dirt isn't as bad as some people make out.

Public Baseball Meeting To Be Held Sunday

Emmitsburg baseball lovers will get around to the business of producing an organization Sunday, for the 1952 season. As is the annual custom, a public meeting is scheduled and candidates are nominated for executive and managerial positions in the club.

President Edward Lingg has called the meeting for 2:00 p. m. in the Fire Hall, to be preceded by a directors' meeting at 1:00 o'clock. A change in the bylaws is proposed this year. The plan calls for a reduction of the number of directors from 12 to 7.

The local team had what could be termed a "fair" season last year ending in the second division. Financially the organization wound up the season with a deficit of better than $200. It was pointed out however, that over $600 had been spent for equipment.

Indications are that a pretty fair team can be fielded again this year as the draft hasn't taken to heavily of the local available talent. Several good prospects are expected for the Pen-Mar League team from the ranks of the Legion Juniors. Holdovers from the 1951 squad plus the new additions should make Emmitsburg able to place a formidable lineup in the circuit.

The entire administrative board, including four officers and seven directors, will be up for election Sunday, and competition for these posts is expected to be keen with a large attendance anticipated.

Also to be filled is the manager's position, plus two coaches. It is understood that at least five local men are interested in the position.

According to custom, the baseball club is a public institution, and as such, is governed by the public. Therefore anyone interested in running for office or in expressing their opinion are welcome to the Sunday meeting.

Five More Inducted

Five more local young men have received their "greetings" for induction into the armed forces and will leave Tuesday morning for induction, in Baltimore. The draftees are Charles "Chick" Ashbaugh, Otis Saylor, Guy A. Baker, Jr., Clay L. Green and H. T. McNair.

CARD PARTY

A card party for the benefit of St. Joseph's High School Alumni Assn. will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 7, in the high school auditorium.

The party will begin at 8 p. m. and a valuable door prize will be given. Refreshments will be served.

Chorus Practices For Spring Recital

A general rehearsal of the Community Chorus will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 6, at 8:00 p. m. in the Emmitsburg High School.

The Chorus is about to begin rehearsals of a program of semi-classical music in preparation for a spring concert, possibly sometime after Easter.

In an effort to increase the membership of the Chorus, leaders are urging all local organizations that have members with singing talent, to ask them to sign up with the choral group.

Plan Services For "Four Chaplains"

A "Religious Emphasis" movement will be observed in Emmitsburg churches this Sunday. The date is the anniversary of the sacrifices of the four chaplains who, when the transport Dorchester was torpedoed during the last war, gave their life jackets to enlisted men and went to watery graves and to their God.

The anniversary of this tragic but inspiring event will be observed with a special service at the Inter-faith Chapel in Philadelphia, a chapel erected and dedicated to the memory of these heroic men. National Commander of the American Legion, Donald Wilson, Dr. Daniel Poling, the father of one of the four chaplains, and the national chaplain will each have a part in the service. Commander Wilson giving the address. The service, according to tentative arrangements, will be broadcast.

The person who always has bad luck may be specializing in it.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly Observe Golden Jubilee Wedding Anniversary

MR. & MRS. JOHN F. KELLY

A dinner in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly, DePaul St., was given in their honor Sunday by their children at the home of the couple's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Topper, N. Seton Ave. Those attending the dinner, in addition to the celebrants, were their children and in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Topper, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton W. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Pius E. Kelly, Mrs. Marie C. Rosensteel and several of their grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Loris Glunt, Donald Rodgers and Barbara Ann Rosensteel.

Mrs. Jackson Humerick, who was bridesmaid for the celebrants at their marriage in 1902, was also a guest at the dinner. A three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and two lovebirds formed the centerpiece for the table. Also on the table were gold candles and above the table suspended from the chandelier, was a gold bell and gold silk cord with two large tassels. The cake was made by Mrs. Harry Shoemaker, friend of the celebrants. Mrs. Shoemaker stated she helped to prepare the wedding dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Kelly in 1902.

Heavy Snow on Wedding Day

The Kellys were married on January 29th, 1902 at St. Anthony's Shrine Church by the pastor, at that time, Rev. John B. Mapley. Mrs. Kelly was the former Annie L. Humerick, daughter of the late George and Annie Humerick, and Mr. Kelly is the son of the late Virginia and Jerome Kelly. Recalling the day they were married, Mr. Kelly said that the snow was approximately 18 inches deep and that they had a hard time getting to Thurmont to take the train for Baltimore where they spent a three-week honeymoon, with Mrs. Kelly's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfeiffer.

Sunday afternoon from two until five o'clock, an "open house" was held and about 60 relatives and friends of the couple called to offer congratulations. They were John M. Roddy, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Norman Riley, Mrs. John Kump, Mrs. Quincy Shoemaker, Mrs. Esta Miller, Mrs. John Zacharias, Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. William Topper, Mrs. Herbert White, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kugler, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Carrie Long, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stoner, Miss Alice Taney, Edward Stull, Mrs. J. A. Humerick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Shorb, Miss Jeannette Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Chrismer, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd W. Seiss, Miss Alice Kelly, Lewis J. Kelly, all of Emmitsburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Pfeiffer, Mrs. Elmer Rudy and son, Dan, Mr. and Mrs. George Pfeiffer, Mr. and Mrs. John Owens and daughter, Linda, all of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers Topper and daughter, Patsy, Mt. Airy, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders and family.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kelly are 80 years old and enjoy the best of health. Mr. Kelly has been employed for the past 15 years by Miss Alice Taney, as caretaker, and during the winter months when there is little to do around the Taney residence, he does custom broom making, by hand now, at his home. Mrs. Kelly is about her household duties every day, despite a very serious operation when she was 77 years old.

Tuesday morning, Jan. 29, the actual day of the anniversary, a Mass was solemnized at 7 a. m. in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, by the assistant pastor, Rev. M. J. O'Brien, Donald Rodgers, their grandchild and Allen Stoner, a great-grandchild, were altar boys for the mass. The flowers used during the mass were a gift to the Kellys by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders.

In addition to their four children, the jubilarians also have 24 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. Gifts of money were given them by their children and the grandchildren gave them a purse of money. They also received many other lovely and useful gifts and approximately 100 cards.

Local Grange Entertained At Annual Membership Banquet

The Emmitsburg Grange held its annual membership contest banquet last Thursday evening at the White House Inn. Master Edgar G. Emrich acted as toastmaster. The program opened with group singing of "God Bless America" and the invocation by Rev. Philip Bower, Grange chaplain.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. George Miller, head of the physics department, Gettysburg College. Dr. Miller gave an illustrated address on "This Atomic Age." Mrs. Arthur Marton, McKnightstown, gave a humorous reading, "How We Hunted a Mouse." Several accordion selections were given by Lester Martin. Miss Helen Martin, a member of the local Grange, was soloist. Milton Lawyer, magician, of Thurmont, gave a half hour's entertainment.

Mite Society Meets in Regular Session

The regular monthly meeting of the Mite Society of Trinity Methodist Church was held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. K. Matthews. Colonel Thomas J. Frailey, vice president, was in charge of the business session in the absence of the society president, Mrs. Estelle Watkins. Delicious refreshments were served.

The members decided to have the annual food sale this year at the Fire Hall on Saturday morning, March 1, at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Francis Matthews and Mrs. Geo. L. Wilhide were named chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of this annual event. The next meeting of the Mite Society will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Fuss on Feb. 22.

Memorial Hall Assn. Calls Meeting

Important business will be transacted Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Memorial Hall Assn. in the Fire Hall at 8:00 p. m.

President Edgar Emrich has issued a plea to all members of the board of directors to be present. Several sites for the new building will be discussed and plans will be made to present them to the public for adoption or rejection, possibly at the next Town Election, which occurs on the first Monday in May.

Citizens are reminded that the scrap drive is still in effect and that the proceeds all go to the building fund, which to date is a trifle over $2,000.

Secretary Carroll Frock, Jr., has announced these contributions to date:

Emmitsburg Grange...$ 100.00
Chamber of Commerce...1,447.07
Ladies Aux. VFW... 50.00

In addition to these cash contributions, the following material has been pledged: Morris A. Zentz, 500 concrete blocks; Edgar G. Emrich, 500 concrete blocks and Gilling Bros. Quarries, all the gravel necessary in construction. Anyone wanting to pledge material or money is urged to contact officials of the organization.

HOWARD R. WAGAMAN

Howard R. Wagaman, 62, retired farmer of Sabillasville, Md., died at his home last Friday.

He was the son of the late David A. and Susan C. (Harbaugh) Wagaman and was a member of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church of Sabillasville. Mr. Wagaman was a member of the O.U.A.M. of Cascade.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ruth I. (Harbaugh) Wagaman; sons, Kenneth, Emmitsburg; Lester, Elkton, and Carroll of Sabillasville; seven grandchildren; brothers, Morris and Thomas of Sabillasville.

Funeral services were held at St. John's Reformed Church, Sabillasville, at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Claude Corl officiated. Interment in the Blue Ridge Cemetery, Thurmont.

Truck Destroyed By Fire

A Three Springs Fisheries' panel truck was completely destroyed by fire in a freak accident near Emmitsburg last Sunday afternoon, State Police reported.

According to the report of Trooper 1/c Kenneth Bond, the burned truck was parked at the home of a company driver, Wilbur Lester Moore, about a mile and a half south of Emmitsburg, just off Route 15.

At about 2:45 p. m., Moore noticed the gas-tank of the panel truck was leaking. Trying to save the gasoline, Moore attempted to put a bucket under the car, according to State Police.

Apparently, they said, the pail hit a stone causing a spark to ignite the gas-soaked ground and communicated to the tank and truck, which was totally destroyed before the fire-engine from Emmitsburg could reach the scene of the alarm.

It was believed the vehicle was insured.

PTA Holds Regular Meeting

The January meeting of the Emmitsburg High School PTA was held Wednesday, Jan. 23, in the high school. The activities committee reported that Miss Smith would not be available for a square dance until after the mid-year. A food sale has been planned for Saturday, Feb. 2 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Sanders and Mrs. Charles Valentine.

The suggestion of a white elephant sale to be held in connection with the food sale was made but it was decided to postpone it to a later date.

Inquiry was made concerning the purchase of additional land for the school, but nothing definite was reported.

The subject of pianos for the new building was raised and the association voted to appropriate $50 to this cause. It was felt that perhaps someone may have a piano not in use and would like to donate it to the school.

The problem of using the alley way as a public thoroughfare was brought to the attention of the safety committee.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Scott's room with 13 parents present.

Lions Club To Sponsor Card Party

About 30 Lions and guests were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club Monday night in the Lutheran Parish Hall, President C. A. Elder, presiding.

Secretary-treasurer Dr. John J. Dillon presented both reports for those offices.

Guests present were Messrs. Metros and Watkins, foremen on the "Pentagon" project, Chief of Police Robert Koontz, Prof. Richard McCullough and Prof. Dominic Greco.

The president appointed a committee to attend the meeting Wednesday night in Frederick High School, of officials in charge of organizing Little League Baseball in Frederick County.

The Lions have agreed to sponsor a local team, providing the organization of the circuit is completed. Boys between the ages of nine and 12 years of age are eligible for competition in the loop.

It is estimated that sponsorship of such a team will cost in the neighborhood of $300 for the first year. Uniforms and equipment must be purchased and entry fees paid, so it was decided to hold a card party to help defray expenses of the project. Plans were mapped out to hold the affair on Tuesday, Feb. 26—the day before the beginning of Lent, at the local Fire Hall.

A committee consisting of Robert E. Daugherty, Clarence E. Hahn, Dr. J. J. Dillon, Jr., J. Ralph McDonnell, Herbert W. Roger, Charles R. Fuss, Cloyd W. Seiss, George L. Wilhide and C. A. Elder, was appointed to make the necessary preparations. Another committee of women also was appointed to assist in the plans and consists of: Mrs. Clarence Hahn, Mrs. D. L. Beegle, Mrs. George L. Wilhide, Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, Mrs. Charles Spriggs, Mrs. Robert E. Daugherty and Mrs. C. A. Elder.

All members of the committees are to report at a meeting tonight at 8:00 p. m. in the Fire Hall.

Chief Koontz gave a short report on the activities of the Junior Police Club which he recently organized. He reported a membership of 40 local youths and stated that the club needed all types of athletic equipment. Mrs. Helen E. Daugherty reported on the progress of the Minstrel Show which the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring and appealed for several members to appear in the chorus of the show.

Local G.O.P. Schedules Meeting

Colonel Thomas J. Frailey, chairman of the Republican Committee of Emmitsburg, has announced that there will be a meeting of the local Republican Central Committee at the home of the Mises Ruth and Rhoda Gillelan Saturday evening, Feb. 2, at 8 p. m. All members of the Central Committee are urged to be present as matters of importance will be presented for discussion. A group of local members of the Republican Women's Club of Frederick County will represent that organization at this meeting.

Drunken Driver Fined $110

Charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and reckless driving, Robert Edward Thomas, 103 E. Main St., Emmitsburg, was found guilty and fined $110 and costs by Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan in Emmitsburg last Saturday morning. The fine and costs were paid.

State Trooper 1/c Kenneth D. Bond made the arrest on the outskirts of Emmitsburg on Friday.

Wanted!

Rehearsals for the Chamber of Commerce's Minstrel Show, to be presented February 21-22 in the Emmitsburg High School, are well under way and good progress is reported. It is understood there are a few openings in the chorus yet to be filled and anyone wishing to participate is asked to contact the committee in charge before Thursday night's practice, when all roles will be filled.

JURORS DRAWN

Jurors from Emmitsburg for the February term of Circuit Court were drawn Wednesday. Selected were Mrs. Esther Gillelan and Lumen F. Norris, of this place.

The person who talks all the time has nothing to say.

BEGGING FOR TROUBLE

The possibility of a House investigation of the Justice Department may be but the first of many troubles that the President has invited for himself and his party by failing to make good on his promise of quick, drastic action to clean up the Administration. This promise was made on Dec. 13. But there has been no convincing action since to fulfill it. What the Administration has needed all along, to restore public confidence, is a new broom. Mr. Truman, it must be said in fairness, did try for a while to find one. He planned to create a commission to probe corruption in Government. But when his top choice to head that commission, Judge Thomas F. Murphy, declined to do so, the President abandoned the idea.

Instead, he has given the clean-up job to Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, an old broom and, in the minds of many people, a somewhat doubtful one. So matters are little different than they were six weeks ago when the President promised quick, drastic action.

If Mr. Truman had wanted to arouse further public suspicions about his Administration family and to goad Congress into more investigations, he couldn't have chosen a better course than the one he is now following. How can anyone be assured that the President will make good on his pledge that "wrong-doers have no house with me, no matter who they are or how big they are" when the broom-wielder is an old tenant of the President's house and, on the record, a not too alert one? How can the President hope to allay alarms about corruption in Government when his chief investigator might find himself being investigated by Congress even before he goes to work?

There were many things the President might have done to convince the public that he was serious about cracking down on "wrong doers." For example, he might have tried harder to enlist the services of Judge Murphy, who enjoys wide public confidence and is a Democrat. For though Judge Murphy declined to head a commission—where his powers would not, perhaps, have been as wide as he desired—he might have been induced to become Attorney General, in which job there could be no question of his authority to clean house.

In any case, the President ought to have gone to the utmost lengths to avoid his present course, if for no more noble consideration than practical politics. All this may not be apparent to Mr. Truman now, but it is likely to become very apparent to him when this Congress gets down to business.

A committee composed of Mrs. George Eyster and Mrs. Harry S. Boyle, was appointed to send cards to the sick members. As there was no December meeting, several late reports were made. The president reported that 55 pieces of clothing had been gathered by the organization and given to needy children. She also expressed her thanks to those who helped with the Christmas celebration lunch in the Fire Hall.

Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan asked for a volunteer to be a Girl Scout leader. Volunteers also were asked to serve refreshments at the minstrel to be given in the high school auditorium on Feb. 21 and 22, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of the new Memorial Hall.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Food and fiber processors, and wholesale food distributors in Maryland who intend to do some construction work in their plants in which controlled construction materials will be used should file their applications at least 90 days before the first day of the calendar quarter in which construction is to begin, according to Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee. Mr. Blandford says this action is necessary to permit his office to review the applications and insure that allotments are controlled. He emphasized that such applications should be made only for construction projects which cannot be self-authorized and self-certified under regulations of the National Production Authority.

Procedure of handling applications for authorized construction schedules and allotments of controlled materials for construction of agricultural and related projects is covered by Defense Food Order No. 5, USDA. Such applications should be filed with the State or Insular Production and Marketing Administration Office in the area where the construction is to be performed.

Four More People To Feed Every Minute

The population of our nation is growing at a tremendous rate, says Mr. Blandford. According to recent statistics, there is a net increase of four persons every minute of every day who must have food. That means approximately 250 every hour of 6000 per day. At that rate of increase the U. S. population will exceed 200 million people by 1975. To Maryland farmers that means a greater demand for meat, milk, eggs, vegetables, and all the commodities being grown in the state. If people continue to eat at the current rate, it would take about 25800 pounds or 12.9 tons more food each day, 365 days a year. That adds up to nearly 860,000 tons of food that must be added each year.

Mr. Blandford says that if we continue to eat as we are eating now, U. S. farmers will have to increase production about one-fourth by 1975. That means for every four pounds of meat, four quarts of milk, and every four eggs that farmers are now producing, they will have to produce another pound, another quart, another egg to fill that extra plate at the table. This does not allow for any increase in our present day diets.

more meat, milk and eggs that means more grass, hay, and grain crops. Since the number of acres from which crops have been harvested has remained relatively constant since 1920, the increase in feed and fibre crops must come from more production per acre. However, Mr. Blandford warns that in bringing our soil to a level of high economic productivity on a sustained basis, farmers must not follow soil and cropping practices that will destroy the natural fertility of the soil. Too many farms in the nation have already been "mined" by wasteful practices.

Mr. Blandford urges Maryland farmers to follow the practices being recommended in the ACP. Farmers who do not follow some type of conservation plan of farming are encouraged to develop one as early as possible. The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture is anxious to help every farmer fill the ever increasing breadbasket of the U. S.

Constant Care Necessary For Good Teeth

"Continuous and inclusive care is essential to the maintenance of mouth health among growing boys and girls," Dr. Richard C. Leonard, chief of the Maryland Division of Dental Health, pointed out in a statement directed to the parents of Maryland children. "Every child should be given the advantages of every safeguard recommended by dentists, for good teeth are an important asset not only in childhood but throughout adult life.

"Monday, Feb. 4, has been designated as National Children's Dental Health Day. The observance of this particular day is intended to emphasize the importance of day-by-day attention to the maintenance of mouth health. Continuing attention is needed during the entire year.

"No single practice may be depended upon to assure mouth health. Even the new and wonderful promise of a reduction in dental decay through the fluoridation of public water supplies, or the application of a fluoride solution to the teeth by trained personnel, will not guarantee complete freedom from future decay. These measures will help but they cannot assume the full burden of protection.

"In addition to taking advantage of these new preventive measures, it is necessary for children to establish and maintain the good oral hygiene habits that have proved helpful in the past. Even though a child may have received fluoride applications and live in a community where the water supply contains adequate amounts of fluorine, proper mouth cleanliness and proper dietary habits (with minimal amounts of sugar) remain important. Above all, regular visits to the family dentist for examination and correction of defects are essential.

"National Children's Dental Health Day should serve as a means of emphasizing the value of all of these methods of safeguard mouth health. It is hoped that the special observance may make parents more aware of their children's dental needs, particularly the importance of continuous preventive and corrective care."

Stamp Commemorating B&O

Parents' Problems

By DONALD M. MAYNARD

When friends and neighbors are with our three-year-old daughter they "make over her" and spoil her in spite of what I may object to. When she is at home now she expects us to give in to her every wish or desire which, of course, we cannot do. I ask the neighbor not to feed her, which she does anyway. And this has led her to telling me untruths about what she has been doing. What should we do?

I realize how indignant you must become at friends, neighbors, and relatives who persist in spoiling your child. You must be tempted really to "bless them out" for not paying any heed to your requests. And, indeed, in a few cases this may be desirable. By and large, however, there is no particular value in antagonizing your thoughtless friends and relatives.

Take time to have a good, hearty talk with them, in which you help them to see that your daughter rapidly is becoming spoiled because of the attention she is getting from outsiders. I have no doubt that many of your friends, when they see how earnest and sincere you are, will make a definite effort to cooperate with you.

In spite of everything you can do, however, there probably will be those who continue to spoil your daughter. Your clue, then, is to follow the procedure you evidently are following now; that is, you will refuse to spoil her at home. Remember that it is possible to be firm with her and at the same time to give her plenty of affection and understanding. The latter are tremendously important for your child's sense of security, as you realize, but it should be remembered that the feeling of insecurity does not arise out of firmness by parents so much as it does out of their lack of consistency.

Let me suggest, too, that you avoid putting your daughter in situations in which she is tempted to tell a lie. You must realize that an untruth does not have the moral significance for her that it has for you.

My oldest son is 2½ years. He has been separated from his father most of his life as my husband is a Regular Army Officer. Each time we are together, the question of discipline and authority arises, and frequently leads to discussions as to just what can be done.

The child does not accept his father as his authority, and comes to me for all of his needs and wants. We do not like this situation, yet at the same time the boy is not to blame as he met his father for the first time when he was 13 months old, and had become entirely dependent on me. This rejection hurts my husband. Yet forcing himself as the parent upon the child is not the answer, we know. It all comes to one point—the child is too dependent on me, and how can I transfer some of that dependence upon his father?

Let me congratulate you and your husband on the fine, sensible approach you are taking toward this problem, incidentally, that many returning servicemen are facing. Perhaps the following suggestions may be helpful:

1. Continue to remember that your son's dependence upon you will not be overcome immediately. It will take time for the change to occur and you and your husband will need to be patient and understanding.

2. Let your husband not only play with your son, but also have some definite responsibilities in connection with his care, if this is possible. Perhaps he can be responsible for dressing him or for putting him to bed.

3. It may be well for you to take a short trip and leave your son in his father's care during your absence. What I am trying to say is that every opportunity your husband has to be alone with his son and to be responsible for his care, hastens the day when the boy will accept him not only as a good playmate but as a parent.

4. If on occasions you defer to your husband's judgment (which incidentally is not a bad thing for wives to do), your son will gradually realize that the father, too, has authority. It will help, too, if when talking to him you frequently say, "Let's ask Daddy what he thinks or would do."

Ice Blamed In Car Crash

Light mountain ice was reported to have been at least partially responsible early last Saturday for an accident on Route 81 in Pen Mar in which two cars sustained approximately $300 damage each.

State Trooper 1/c Kenneth D. Bond, who investigated, identified the drivers as Francis Helveston, a soldier stationed at Camp Ritchie and living at Highfield, and Uberty Shockey Jr., of Blue Ridge Summit.

The cars met in a near head-on collision on a curve. No one was injured.

A charge of operating a vehicle without a license was preferred against Helveston.

How to lose your side yard to your neighbor

It's easy. You just sit back and let your neighbor tend to things. Let him shovel the walk and rake the leaves and prune the trees—let him take over completely—five, ten, fifteen feet over your property line.

At the end of twenty years, he'll have a legal claim to every inch of ground he's cared for.* And it will be too late for you to do anything about it.

We Americans can lose our freedoms in much the same way. We can sit back and let the federal government take over and run things—the doctors, the railroads, the electric light and power companies, for example. But the moment we do, we lose our way of life to socialism.

Most of us want to keep control of our property and our freedoms. And we can do it—if we don't let our neighbors or our government take over.

College Advisory Board Meets

Very Rev. Francis J. Dodd, C.M., Ph.D., president of the board of trustees, will preside at the organizational meeting of the advisory board of Saint Joseph College Tuesday afternoon.

The purposes of the initial meeting of the board was to formulate policies. Following the meeting dinner was served.

Complementary the already existing board of trustees, the advisory board serves a very useful purpose in keeping the institution in touch with social trends and needs; in providing stimulating extra-institutional viewpoints and standards; in securing and offering financial help and advice.

In addition the board assists in establishing and fostering good public relations; in giving advice on legal problems; and in representing the institution according to instructions before legislative bodies.

Members were selected by the administration of the college in consultation with the board of trustees. Those invited to serve were chosen from the alumnae, from parents of students from professional and educational groups and from the business world.

WASHINGTON AND*"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The Office of Price Stabilization, better known as the Office of Price Scuttling, now acts to earn the title Office of Propaganda Supreme.

In OPS press communique No. 1128, pudgy Commissar of Confusion Mike DiSalle announces move to try to convince housewife that she pays more for food in small and medium size grocery stores.

In three test cities, with more to follow, all food stores will have to post their ceiling prices. Stores are divided into four classes. The smaller stores will post the highest ceiling prices, the medium size stores slightly lower prices and so on up the line with the big chain outlets posting the lowest ceiling prices of all.

The announced intention is to furnish housewives information on what the ceiling price should be in each type of store, but in actual practice it will result in no more than a tax-supported propaganda drive to try and sell the housewife that huge stores sell for less, because their OPS ceiling prices are less.

This erroneous assumption is contrary to facts, but regardless of facts, the program is being carried out when OPS, in the communique, admits it is not needed. The communique states this action had been postponed "because actual selling prices have been somewhat below permitted ceilings" and further "prices have been about four per cent below ceilings."

©National Federation of Independent Business

But nothing stops the Office of Price Stabilization in any way except stabilizing prices. OPS is determined to do a false propaganda job to the detriment of medium and small grocers.

But this program will furnish a lot of work and a lot of tax money expenditures, because OPS people will work out in each city the price ceilings on 400 food items for each of the four categories of stores, and print these ceiling price lists.

So the nation will now witness the spectacle of a government agency trying to accomplish a job that even the expenditure of millions by huge grocery combines has never been able to do. That is to convince all the housewives that chains sell for less. And once again a government agency is taxing the small businessman to pay for the which to hang him.

Cynical Washingtonians are saying the British have become smarter in the past 140 years.

In 1812 when they took Washington, they razed the town, but failed to make any profit.

But in the recent invasion, headed by Winston Churchill, British tin monopolists profited.

RFC Administrator, Stuart Symington, fighting to keep tin prices down, had pegged $1.12 per pound as the maximum price this nation would pay for tin, or about twice the price existing the day before Korea. But one of the results of the Churchill visit was the announcement that the government has agreed to raise this to $1.25 per pound. And Symington, who had opposed any increase, has retired to private life.

State Comptroller Finishes Series Of Articles On State Income Tax

(This is the fourth and final article of a series released by J. Millard Tawes, Comptroller of the treasury, State of Maryland. It is important to note at this time that Mr. Tawes has suggested that taxpayers delay the filing of their returns until the Legislature, which meets on February 6, has a chance to act on Mr. Tawes' recommendation of a 15% reduction on income taxes for the taxable year of 1951).

In this final article we will cite briefly the changes that were made in the Maryland Income Tax Law by the 1951 Legislature.

Pensions — Investment income has been redefined so that a portion of the pension received by retired employees to which they have contributed, will not be taxed as investment income but at the ordinary income rate of 2%.

Alimony — Payments received as alimony are to be included in the return as taxable income by the recipient and persons paying alimony may now deduct such payments.

Military Exclusion — Payments received up to $1,500 as members of the armed forces of our country are to be excluded from gross income. Any amount received in excess of $1,500 by residents of Maryland is subject to tax.

Losses — Losses are now deductible if they arise from transactions entered into for profit although not connected with the taxpayer's trade or business.

Bad debts — Provision has been made for the deduction of debts ascertained to be partially worthless, under certain conditions.

Investment income expenses — Expenses incurred in acquisition of investment income or in the care of investment income producing property are deductible against the investment income and a net investment income thus developed.

Optional standard deduction — In lieu of itemizing deductions as has been required heretofore in returns under the regular method of computation, a taxpayer may now elect to use an optional standard deduction. The taxpayer may now deduct 10% of the gross income to an amount not in excess of $500.

Investment income taxability — The first $500 of net investment income is to be included in the return at the ordinary income rate of 2%. The form has been set up so that this segregation can be made without difficulty.

Corporations — An important change affecting corporations is the method to be now used in the allocation of corporation net income. In addition to the ratios of Maryland business to total business and Maryland property to total property, the third ratio of Maryland payrolls to total payrolls is to be used by corporations engaged in business of manufacturing or selling tangible personal property.

Conclusion — By the time this final article shall have appeared every person who filed an income tax return to the State of Maryland for the year 1950 should have received his form for the year 1951. New taxpayers or those who are delinquent can obtain a form by requesting same from our office. Also, these forms are distributed to banks and courthouses and can in most instances be easily obtained. Branch offices are maintained in Baltimore, Cumberland, Dundalk, Washington and Easton, where forms, information and assistance can be had.

Every principal town and city in Maryland is visited by our representatives during the filing period. An itinerary of these visits will be released to the press and as in the past, will appear in your local newspaper.

Returns for the calendar year 1951 are due on or before April 15, 1952. A remittance should accompany the return if a tax is developed. The return should not be sent in without a remittance as the law requires both the filing of the return and the payment of the tax. The tax can be paid in four equal installments, however, if the account becomes delinquent the full balance becomes immediately due.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Peters, of Baltimore, spent the weekend with Mrs. Peter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Rourke, Martinsville, Va., were weekend guests of Mrs. O'Rourke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald.

Glenn Beall*Enters Senatorial*Seat Campaign

After deliberate thinking and personal contact with people all over the State of Maryland, J. Glenn Beall, filed last week his certificate of candidacy for the U. S. Senate with the secretary of State. In doing so, Mr. Beall submitted to the people of Maryland his record of more than nine years of continuous service as Congressman.

Mr. Beall said he has fought attempts by the New Deal, and now the Fair Deal, to socialize the American people. The record speaks for itself. Mr. Beall advocates a strong defense to maintain our freedom; economy in government and an end to the waste of the people's wealth and substance; elimination of Communism in our government . . . and abroad; easing the burden of taxation by making every dollar count; stopping this centralization of everything in Washington and this bloodless revolution by means of more and more controls over the individual.

This is his philosophy and his principles. On his record, he submits himself to the people of Maryland as a candidate for the U. S. Senate subject to the Republican primary.

Miss Barbara Ann Rosensteel was admitted as a patient to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, this week. Discharged from the same hospital were Terrence Byard and Mrs. Robert Marshall and infant daughter, Emmitsburg.

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Almost every week from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 an election is held somewhere in the U. S. A. school district needs more money, your town is electing a mayor, the county has a new road program to finance, the State legislators are being chosen, or the nation is electing a President. Every one of these events in which you are eligible to vote affects your future—politically and in the pocketbook. And yet if you are a typical citizen, most of the time you don't vote.

In four out of five elections—if your voting record is average—you hand over this basic citizenship right, this most important human freedom, to a group of people whom you must trust to be public-spirited and so unselfish they have your interest as well as their own at heart. When you don't vote, someone in effect decides something for you much like a distant guardian deciding where an orphan shall work, or go to school, or have an allowance or not have one.

Small Per Cent Voted

A public school tax election was held in many Arkansas communities recently. Local school boards were asking for a boost in millage on property tax assessed at the local level. This issue had a direct effect on the pocketbook of every property owner and school teacher and indirectly affected the parents and children of every family in the district where the election was held. And yet, in the city of Blytheville, population 12,000, only 456 people voted; in Warren, population 4,000, 357 voted; in Hot Springs population 30,000, fewer than 3000 votes were cast; and in Little Rock capital city of 100,000, only 5140 people voted.

These figures are perhaps representative of school elections, since, on the average, Arkansas citizens are about as politically active as those of neighboring states. But the fact remains that the year-in-and-year-out voting record of the nation as a whole is only about 20 per cent of perfect. This failure to do our duty weakens our democratic form of society and our Republican form of government. You could almost say that our nation is only 20 per cent strong, and as democratic, and as wholesome, and as sound, and as safe as it ought to be—and as it could be!

Disturbing Situation

The voting record of the American people has disturbed me for a long time. Too few of our people are actually "running" our country through the exercise of their voting franchise. And not enough citizens are as well informed on all the political and economic aspects of the issues as I would like to see them. In this whole realm of political action and economic aspects of the issues as I would like to see them. In this whole realm of political and economic education, the best chance for improvement lies in the ability to attract the citizen's self-interest.

Let us suppose there were to be held a meeting of the Board of Directors at the place where you work, and that the business was to decide whether your salary should be increased or reduced. If you were a stockholder and had a voting privilege on that Board of Directors, where would you be when the meeting was called to order? Rain or snow, sleet or cold wouldn't keep you away, would it? Of course not. When your economic future is at stake you want to be in on the decision.

Power To Remain Free

Let us suppose, further, that at this same board meeting your privilege of voting on questions affecting your economic future were going to be challenged. This challenge to your freedom would be added incentive for your being present and voting, wouldn't it? Of course. Well, your self-interest, both economic and political, is effected to some degree by every election in which you vote or fail to vote.

The power of the American citizen's vote is his power to remain free. If enough of us fail to use that power, our nation cannot remain free. When a minority rules a nation, and continues to rule, its numbers shrink and its powers expand until there exists a dictatorship and individual freedom disappears. If we place a value on our personal freedom and on economic progress for ourselves and our families we had better—all of us—work to make 1952 the "voting-est" year in history. Ten people, on the average, in each block in every residential section in the country have not been voting at all. America cannot be safe and strong with such a weakness in our democracy. Let's all work to change this.

Syndicate, Headed By Larry MacPhail, Purchases Bowie Race Track

Last week, a syndicate headed by Larry MacPhail, contracted to buy controlling interest in Bowie Racetrack.

Bowie, located midway between Baltimore and Washington, will mark return to active sports direction of the man who led the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees to baseball pennants.

The "Barnum of Baseball," after retiring from baseball in 1947, began breeding and racing thoroughbreds from his 800-acre farm known as Glenangus, near Bel Air.

Announcement of a contract to buy Bowie, one of three major tracks in Maryland, was made by Charles F. Simonelli, a motion picture executive from New York who acted as go-between.

Simonelli said a syndicate headed by MacPhail and Donald Ellis, partner in the New York investment banking firm of Bear Stearns & Co., 1 Wall St., had reached agreement to buy 7832 shares, or 60 per cent, of the stock.

The contract will become final by Feb. 20, subject to approval by the courts since Bowie is in receivership and subject to allotment of racing dates satisfactory to the syndicate.

The Maryland Racing Commission is expected to fix 1952 racing dates next week.

The syndicate purchased shares from a voting trust composed of Mrs. Josephine O'Hara, John W. Farrell, and John B. Farrell. Failure of those three to agree over administration of the track last year led to its receivership.

MacPhail said "Bowie, located midway between the world's capital and America's sixth largest city, can become one of the country's outstanding tracks. Bowie will be modernized in the interests of its patrons as fast as is possible under existing Government regulations."

If MacPhail follows his baseball tactics, Maryland racing is due for a terrific shot in the arm. He is credited with introducing night baseball as well as putting on razzle-dazzle now the style of Bill Veeck, owner of the St. Louis Browns.

National Wildlife Week Will Be Observed Here

National Wildlife Week this year will be dedicated to helping America's tiniest species of deer—the diminutive Key Deer—in its desperate fight for survival.

The National Wildlife Federation, annual sponsors of the "week," has keyed its efforts to saving the rapidly-disappearing species of native wildlife.

National Wildlife Week will stress the Key Deer as the symbol of America's dwindling natural resources which may yet be saved or restored.

Conservation Director Carl D. Shoemaker said only about 30 of these unique little animals, smallest race of white-tail deer, remain alive. Menaced by poachers, predators and forest fires, they cling to a precarious existence on the Keys off the coast of Florida. During the last year several have been killed by speeding automobiles along the overseas highway to Key West.

As part of the observance of National Wildlife Week, the Federation has created a special fund which will be used first to keep a special protection officer on the job in the Key Deer area. This will supplement an effort already started by other organizations in cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Next the Federation will help improve the island habitat of the deer, through such measures as constructing water holes for the animals and protective fences along highways. It is also supporting legislation in Congress to establish a Federal sanctuary in the area.

Because of the centuries-long adjustment to its own island background, the surviving herd cannot be transplanted to other regions where they might be better protected. For this reason, Mr. Shoemaker said, the Federation is attempting to provide the protection for the deer on their home grounds.

Little more than knee-high, the elusive Key Deer weighs no more than 30 to 35 pounds when full grown. Their fawns are about the size of rabbits.

National Wildlife Week has been an annual observance since 1938, sponsored by the no-profit Federation as a means of calling public attention to the broad and pressing problems of natural resource management. The 1952 celebration will mark the beginning of a new series in which each year a particular kind of wildlife—some species considered in critical or precarious condition—will be given special attention.

The National Wildlife Federation was organized in 1936 and now has active affiliates in 42 states. It represents more than

The big
1952 FORD

Out-rides them all!

The '52 Ford gives you riding comfort such as you have never before experienced in a car in the low-price field. With front springs tailored to the weight of each model, longer rear springs and diagonally mounted shock absorbers, Ford's Automatic Ride Control gives you the smoothest, easiest ride of them all—a level ride on straightaways, an even keel on curves.

Out-sizes them all!

The '52 Ford has longer wheelbase, wider front tread and greater length. It's big outside and big inside, with spacious seating for six and the largest luggage locker of them all.

Full-Circle Visibility!

With narrower corner pillars, picture windows all around and a rear window that's 48% larger you have "all-direction" vision that adds to your enjoyment and your safety.

Out-performs them all!

Ford's completely new 101-h.p. high-compression, low-friction Six, with free-turning overhead valves, is the most modern Six in the industry. And Ford's high-compression V-8, now 110 h.p., is the most powerful engine in the low-price field. Both are available with performance-proved Fordomatic Drive.

Exclusive Power Pilot Economy!

Both the new Ford Mileage Maker Six and the Strato-Star V-8 have the exclusive Ford Automatic Power Pilot. This completely integrated carburetion-ignition-combustion system gives you high-compression "go" on "regular" gas.

New Coachcraft Bodies!

Ford's new Coachcraft Bodies are longer, stronger... distinctive in their modern beauty. They offer new hull-tight construction which seals out dust, weather and noise. And Ford has more color and upholstery combinations than any other car in its field!

Out-values them all!

With such modern design and engineering features as new Flight-Style Control Panel, new Power-Pivot Clutch and Brake Pedals, new Center-Fill Fueling, and new counterbalanced hood and deck lid, Ford adds up to more dollars and cents value than any car in its price class!

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31—Each generation, in countless ways, helps determine the fortune of the generation which follows it. Thus, the economic course of the fifties was largely charted in the thirties; what we do today will be felt most strongly in the seventies. In view of this fact, let us pick out one of the most significant events of 20 years ago and analyze its probable effect during the next few years.

Low Birth Rate of the Thirties
One of the most important characteristics of the thirties was an abnormally low birth rate. Births averaged at only 17.4 per thousand population. This was about 20 per cent below the rate of the twenties. During 1933, the depression low, one third fewer babies were born than during the high year of the twenties. These few 1933 babies are today's 18-19-year-old youths. Because of the low birth rate of the thirties, there are one million fewer females in the 14-19 age group today than there were in 1940, despite a 14 per cent increase in total population! This is a remarkable but sorry fact.

Two-thirds of the girls in the above group will marry during the next five years. This implies that in this age group alone, our marriage potential during the next five years has been reduced by nearly 150,000 marriages annually due to this one factor. Think what this means to every businessman reading this column.

Effect On Future Marriages
Another important influence on our marriage rate for the near future is the great number of marriages which took place during the prosperous forties. Especially did couples then marry at a younger age. The all-time high—more than 120 marriages for each 1000 unmarried females over 15— took place in 1946. This was more than double the 56 marriages per thousand in 1932. Moreover, the average during the decade of the forties (including the war years) was higher than during the boom of the twenties.

Not only did this accelerated rate compensate for the low marriage rate of the thirties, but it also depleted our normal reserve of single girls in the "above 19 age" brackets. The result of low births of the thirties, and the high marriages of the forties is that we have today over 2.5 million fewer single girls under 35 than we had in 1940! I, therefore, expect marriages during the next five years to be at least 20 per cent lower than the recent average of 1.7 million—a loss of about 350,000 marriages each year! Never before in our history have we faced such a dismal prospect.

Importance of Marriage To Business

Everyone is aware of the social importance of the institution of marriage, but its influence on business is often overlooked. When a man and woman marry, a new family unit is created. Separate housing is needed. This largely accounts for today's shortage of houses to rent, and why so many new houses are being built. In building the house, the contractor must buy plumbing, lumber, steel, glass, cement, gypsum, paper and electrical equipment. The newly married couple buys furniture, rugs, and household accessories. There is also additional demand for electricity, water, and gas, and usually a bank mortgage! As babies are born, demand is created for milk, baby foods, and clothing, baby carriages, toys, and a variety of other items. Thus, marriage is most helpful to business and is an important reason for today's prosperity.

Consider then the far-reaching effect of a twenty per cent decline in marriages for the next five years. This can make business slump and keep it down. We are too complacent with our present high production and high consumption standards. We pay too little attention to the birth rates. I do not believe a repetition of the severe depression of the thirties is necessary. There are things we can do to counteract the coming big slump in marriages. I might add that the new draft ruling regarding childless couples could also be a helpful factor. It will be interesting to watch how much business will be affected in the long run by the recent Roman Catholic emphasis on the subject of birth control.

Quality Of New Chicks Important Economical Factor

One way in which Maryland poultrymen can combat the present high cost of feed is to buy good quality chicks. This information came this week from the head of the poultry department at the University of Maryland. He explains that feed costs now amount to 65 per cent or more of the total costs of producing eggs and chicken meat in contrast to about 50 per cent in normal times.

One important characteristic of good quality chicks is rapid growth, he said, as he cited figures to show that some fast-growing birds had used 16 per cent less feed than slow-growing birds. Another characteristic, important to broiler producers, is early feathering. Several strains of general-purpose breeds have been developed for this trait and experience indicates that they grow more rapidly than late-feathering chicks.

For the egg producer, a high level of production is most important. With birds laying at only 40 per cent production, and feed at $100 per ton, the feed cost per dozen will be about 40 cents. That can be reduced to only 26 cents per dozen by increasing production to 70 per cent.

When asked how a poultryman could be certain of getting good quality birds, Dr. Jull listed three ways: (1) buy from a breeder or hatchery whose birds have given a good account of themselves in the past, (2) if possible, visit breeders and hatcheries to see what they have to offer, or (3) buy from a breeder or hatchery with pulloffum eradication status.

'Twelfth Night' To Be Presented At St. Joseph's

Players Incorporated, 'National Repertory Company from Wash., D. C., will present "Twelfth Night" in De Paul Auditorium of Saint Joseph College at 7:30 p. m., next Friday, Feb. 8. This production will open the second semester series of programs sponsored by Saint Joseph and Mount Saint Mary's Colleges for students, faculty and friends of the colleges.

"Twelfth Night" was adapted and directed by Walter Kerr, author and director of the Broadway musical hit "Touche and Go." All of the 15 actors of Players Incorporated are former students of the speech and drama department of the Catholic University of America. Many Broadway hits have originated from the University Theater under the directorship of the university faculty which includes Father Gilbert V. Hartke, O.P., Walter and Jean Kerr, Dr. Josephine Callan, Leo Brady and Alan Schneider.

The coming production at Saint Joseph's is one of Shakespeare's best known and most frequently produced comedies. It is, however, usually produced with an accent on its lyrical and poetic values rather than on its comic and story points. The production by Players Incorporated attempts to recapture some of the speed and flow originally intended by the author. The who and what of the story constitute the main interest and locales are not emphasized by change of scenery. For the same reason some of the characters such as the Duke, are interpreted from a comic rather than lyric point of view.

Sweet Corn Proves Bountiful County Crop

Frederick County farmers in 1951 produced approximately 9,450 tons of sweet corn for sale to canners.

This county production, according to American Can Co., estimates, was enough to fill about 5.8 million cans of the product, approximately 13 per cent of the state's total 1951 sweet corn pack. Maryland's approximately 40 corn canneries packed about 48 million containers of the vegetable last year.

Pointing out the importance of the canning industry to Frederick County's agricultural economy, L. M. Goodwin, Maryland representative of the container-making firm, explained that processors, who pack Free State products for shipment to all parts of the country, provided markets for about 90 per cent of the county's 1951 crop of sweet corn. The vegetable was grown commercially on about 440 county farms, he noted.

Maryland's total 1951 production of sweet corn for processing was 71,900 tons, 3.5 per cent more than in 1950, according to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Delinquent Taxpayers Pay

More than $300,000 has been collected since July, 1951, in back income taxes, interest, and penalties, from delinquent taxpayers who had not filed returns, the State Comptroller's office has reported.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Here's "How to Make Good Pictures"

TODAY I want to tell you about a new book that's just now coming on the market—or, to be more accurate, a new version of an old favorite. It's the 29th edition of "How to Make Good Pictures," published by the Eastman Kodak Company.

This new book is a friendly guide rather than a textbook. I've never seen a photographic handbook quite like it. It's written for pleasant reading as well as easy learning . . . shows the reader picture opportunities wherever he or she happens to be, and then shows how to make the most of these opportunities.

The book opens with a chapter made up entirely of pictures and captions. It's titled "Let's Make a Picture" and shows step-by-step how an experienced picture-taker selects a subject and camera position, and makes a series of pictures. Then there's a long picture-caption chapter comparing "good" and "better" pictures of many types, pointing out details that make a picture better, and listing basic "points to remember."

The mid-section of the book is a picture-taking tour, taking the reader through examples of snapshot opportunities "Right Around Home," "Around Town," "In the Country," "From the Air," "At School," and so on.

Practically every field of picture-taking is covered—pictures on vacations and holidays, family events, children and pets, adults at work and at play, pictures after dark, sports and action, flowers, and trick and stunt pictures.

All in all, it's a great big dollar's worth of simple, down-to-earth advice on picture making. Here are some sample "points to remember":

"Sunshine lends sparkle to an outdoor portrait—but keep the sun out of your subject's eyes."

"Avoid noon sun. Mid-morning or mid-afternoon sun tends to give a pleasing 45-degree lighting."

"Back lighting and 'open shade' are very pleasant for pictures of children—and adults with blonde hair. Give about twice the normal direct sunshine exposure."

Retail Merchants Assn. Plan Lincoln Sales Days

Many Gettysburg merchants will participate in "Lincoln Sales Days," to be held today and tomorrow, Feb. 1 and 2, according to the Retail Merchants Assn. of Gettysburg, sponsors of the sales event.

A large number of specially-priced bargains will be offered by the various stores.

Each of the participating stores will award a $10 gift on Saturday night. With each purchase in each individual store, a certificate will be given. Drawings in the stores will take place at 9 p. m. Saturday night.

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

"Inflationary trends have been short-stopped in the past year," Hugo R. Hoffman, Maryland District OPS director said on the occasion of the first anniversary of the opening of his office on Jan. 29. "The Government's Stabilization Program has been effective in holding the line against violent price increases and we face the coming months confident that we can't continue giving worthwhile public service to the people of Maryland in the fight to keep our economy stable.

"It is important that the people of Maryland recognize us in our proper light. We are an administrative agency. Our job is to administer the laws promulgated by the Congress in the Defense Production Act. We are specifically limited by the act in the matter of placing ceiling prices on certain foods which have not reached parity and we are required by the so-called 'Capehart and Herlong Amendments' to allow manufacturers and others to pass on to the consumer certain cost and tax increases."

Under the regulations issued by OPS to date, 19,964 businesses are on file with the Maryland office. These filings represent grocery stores, retail stores, services, restaurants, automobile dealers, and the like. Already the percentage of filings has reached well over 85% with each day's mail adding to the compliance figures due to the combined activities of OPS personnel and the state's business community.

From the day that the door opened, "Service" has been the byword in the Maryland OPS office. A plan was immediately launched to cover the entire state and meetings were held in 35 communities from Oakland to Pocomoke City, from Westminster to Leonardtown. The groups of businessmen to whom regulations were explained varied in size from 700 in Cumberland down to 20 and 30 in smaller communities.

By June 1951, after the number of regulations had grown to the point where more and more types of businesses were covered, the program shifted into a new phase calling for the opening of field service offices in key communities. Because of the limited staff of the agency, it was not possible to open these offices more than twice each month for larger communities and once a month for smaller ones. But in each community OPS personnel pioneered for the nation a program known as the "Shoe Leather Campaign." OPS business analysts covered the entire business section on a door-to-door basis giving advice and assistance to individual businessmen.

Baltimore City is being continually covered by the "Shoe Leather Campaign" and from the beginning to the present instructional meetings have been and are being held with various business groups not only at the District Office at 306 W. Franklin St., but at trade association meetings and other special gatherings. The Enforcement Division of the Maryland office has been required to file relatively few cases in Federal Court, the majority of their actions seeking injunctions against various businesses which persistently refused to meet OPS filing or posting requirements.

State Roads Commission Promises Survey for New Road Near Ritchie

The State Roads Commission estimates now will be made. By this route the total Ritchie-Hagerstown distance will be 14.3 miles.

The general plan would utilize Maryland Route 64 from Hagerstown through Cheesville to Cave town and Smithsburg, a short section of Maryland Route 92 north-east from Smithsburg, a section of county road leading toward Fort Ritchie from Route 92 and another short section of county road near Fort Ritchie. New construction would be required for about two and one-half miles between the two county road segments.

Route 64 already is being improved between Hagerstown and Cheesville and similar improvement would be necessary to existing roads on the balance of the route.

Leghorn, Italy, is more than 300 sailing miles closer to New York than are Germany's Bremen and Hamburg.

Gov. McKeldin some two months ago expressed interest in improving the Ritchie-Hagerstown highway facilities and the Commission initiated a preliminary survey of several routes.

At the recent meeting the Washington County group expressed a preference for the southernmost of the four routes studied and it is that route on which detailed surveys and cost

Throughout the State of Maryland recruiting machinery is being set in motion to produce the increase of strength required by each unit.

St. Joseph's High School News

Catholic Press Month will be observed in a special way at St. Joseph's High School as the librarian has procured for examination a supply of books which are either Catholic in philosophy or tone.

Election of the First Year members to the Student Council was held recently. Those elected were: President, Thomas O'Brien; vice president, Theodora Rybikowsky; secretary, Eugene Rosensteel; treasurer, Mary Jane Scott; leader, William Grelo and follower, Ellen Rocks.

The new semester began with a buzz over examinations. Some declared, "Hardest exam I've ever taken," while others were heard to say, "It wasn't as bad as I thought it would be." Nevertheless it won't be long before everyone will know the results of hard studying.

Both teams of SJHS lost to Emmitsburg High School in fast-moving games Friday night. The determination of both schools made the games close and exciting with a final score, for the boys, 56-58, for the girls, 25-26. In the game with Elmer Wolf High School, Union Bridge, Tuesday, the girls' team came out on top making an average of nine games won and two lost.

Homemakers' Corner

Easy-To-Fix Egg Dish
Eggs are especially wonderful for emergency meals. As a main dish they furnish plenty of protein, too. So the next time unexpected company drops in or you come in late from a club meeting you might like to try this delightful recipe for creamed eggs. To make four servings, assemble these ingredients:

1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, one-third teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, two cups milk, six hard-cooked eggs.

Begin by melting the butter, and adding flour and seasoning. Blend well and cook over a low heat until bubbly. Add cold milk all at once and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Slice or chop the eggs as desired and add them to the sauce. Heat a few minutes longer, stirring gently. Add more seasoning if desired. Creamed eggs are usually served hot on toast, in noodle nests, or over corn bread. For variations of this recipe, add ne dup of cooked vegetables or a cup of diced cooked meat or the same amount of shredded dried beef to the cream sauce just before adding the eggs.

Don't Darken Room For Television

In many homes, television viewers make it a habit to darken the room before settling themselves for an evening of entertainment. But A. V. Krewatch, University of Maryland Extension agricultural engineer, warns that the contrast between the bright screen and the dark surroundings makes seeing difficult. The eyes are constantly adjusting themselves to the light area of the screen and dark area of the room. According to Mr. Krewatch, there should be general light throughout the room to produce the most restful condition for the eyes.

This same fact holds true for other lighting. A single bright lamp in the room forms a glaring pool of light, especially if the lamp has a solid shade or shield that lets no light through to brighten the surrounding area. Though the amount of light needed for a job such as sewing or reading can best be supplied by a well-placed lamp or fixture, there should always be light in the rest of the room, too.

Frost In Your Freezer

A half-inch of frost on your home freezer generally means that it's ready for a defrosting. But often you may find that your freezer gets ahead of you—then, if you're like most homemakers, you start worrying whether surplus frost is harmful.

Recent studies made disclosed that there was no harmful rise in temperature with 1 1/2-inch of frost in a chest-type freezer operating at 0 degree F. Furthermore, operating cost did not rise much. But the same study showed that frost over 1/2-inch thick cuts down valuable storage space and makes the freezer inconvenient to use.

Record Attendance At Farm Meeting

A record audience of over 600 was on hand for the sixth annual Four-State Farmers' Meeting held January 25 in Hagerstown.

The audience, composed of farmers from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, heard noted agricultural authorities talk on the latest farming methods, procedures and equipment.

Herman Stockslager, president of the committee in charge of the meeting, announced that, "From all reports we have received from farmers, this was by far the best session ever conducted by this group—both as to size of audience and material presented."

Richard Shoemaker, son of Mrs. Ruth Shoemaker, left on Tuesday for Sampson, N. Y., to join the U. S. Air Force.

The alumnae of St. Joseph's High School will hold a card party on February 7 in the high school auditorium.

Miss Louise Adams, National Homeopathic Hospital, Wash., D. C., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Felix Adams, DePaul St.

Abe Goodwin, former manager of the local milk plant, visited in town last week on his way from Newark, N. J., where he spent some time with his son. Mr. Goodwin now resides in California.

There are few friendships that money will not buy.

Never offer advice; unsolicited, it goes unappreciated, unheeded. Beware of the person who smiles all the time.
