What I said last week in this column about a business recession was substantiated this week by a lot of individuals in the know. I mentioned the fact that money was "getting tight" due mostly to high taxes. The American public has had all it can stand in the way of taxation unless an all-out war is encountered. Last week I mentioned that several local individuals, feeling the strain of the income tax burden, had to borrow money to pay this particular levy. To show you that I was not talking through my hat, Congressman Glenn Beall, in his regular weekly column in the Chronicle, cites figures to prove that I was correct. Honorable Beall reports that money lending institutions, banks, and lending agencies, report the highest amount of loans in their history to corporations and individuals, to pay their income tax.

With "high tax" Harry definitely out of the picture we can't help but wonder whether our representatives in Washington are aware of the fact that the taxpayer is about to be crushed by his burden. I urged you voters to screen your candidates thoroughly before casting your only privilege—the ballot. We mostly all blame conditions on the President, but the Congress has the final say and the fact that they said it proves that possibly after intelligent voting this fall, a lot of new faces will be seen in Washington in 1953. Again I say, learn all you can about the candidates, check their records and if they have proved of the "rubber stamp" variety, then do a little stamping of your own. But first let me give you the bad news . . . today is the last day to register in Frederick. The office is open until 9 tonight. If you haven't ever registered before, get down there pronto or you cannot vote in the primary election of May 4.

I'm straining at the leash, what with the opening of trout season only a week away. The stories I have read lately about the number and quality of the fish has me in a state of high nervous excitement. They say several 10-pounders are already at large and awaiting the hook and pan. Now if I could just land one of those babies without having to use a harpoon, wouldn't that be just dandy? You don't think an old gal like me can navigate those rocky, mountainous streams? Well, you have a surprise coming. I feel certain that you'll see my display of one of the big ones right in Hoke's Hardware window with the name Abigail tacked right on it. They say Mr. Hoke's announcement that he is promoting a big trout contest has the boys busy at nights in the den oiling, testing and practicing casting and prying generally for the opening on April 15. I'll see you "there" boys . . . but you won't recognize me when you do, ha, ha.

Well, it won't be very long now until the old light bill will drop from 50 cents to a buck a month. A rate reduction? No. Daylight Saving Time. Just in case it has slipped your mind it will take effect again this month, providing the Town Council sees fit to adopt it. As usual Frederick and the larger towns and cities have already passed their resolutions to use the "fast" time and it is generally conceded that we will do likewise. And following the acceptance of the Daylight Time, usually comes the Town election, the first Monday in May, in case you have forgotten. And with the election my thoughts turn to the promised selection of a site for the new Memorial Hall. That has been the talk anyway. It was proposed some time ago to select a number of locations and then have the people vote on them at the annual election. I don't know whether this is still the accepted theme, but just in case it is, you had better get your selections in early. After all, a month is only a comparatively short time to make a momentous selection of this sort. If you don't let your desires be known, don't moan when the building isn't constructed where you thought it should be and run around condemning everybody and anybody who had the "doings" of selecting the site.

The playground committee reported that all equipment has arrived and volunteers are asked to help erect the equipment. A report was made by the ambulance committee on the condition of the equipment. Quartermaster Norris' report was read and accepted.

Philip Sharpe reported that the Legion post has decided to buy new uniforms for a color guard and asked the group to share the cost. The post decided to have an anniversary party on April 18 for all VFW and auxiliary members. A $100 donation was authorized for the local fire company.

Commander Ohler pleaded with members to support the Bloodmobile unit which comes here April 21 and the following made pledges to give blood: Harold Hoke, Donald Byard, Thomas Norris, Thomas Gingell, Gil Eiker, Louis F. State Offers To Build Fish Ponds

Would you like a community fish pond in Emmitsburg?

If the answer is "yes," the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission is in a position to provide funds for the construction of a fish pond 1.4 acres in size—9 feet deep; having a watershed of not over 100 acres. The state will construct the pond and supply fish along with fencing and provisions for parking facilities if a civic sponsoring agency is interested in this type of recreation.

Several of these ponds now are being planned for on state-owned lands and others will be built if a community is interested in providing the land (approximately 3 acres) for this program. A letter to the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, showing an interest in this conservation recreation program, will bring a fisheries representative to discuss the details of this program, according to Mr. Edwin M. Barry, chief Inland Fish Management, Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, 516 Munsey Bldg., Baltimore 2, Md.

Plan One Tag For 1953

Plans are under consideration by the Motor Vehicle Dept., whereby state motorists possibly will get only one plate for their cars in 1953.

An announcement from the governor's office this week said that Motor Vehicles Commissioner Mudd has been authorized to sell large tags for the 1953-54 license year.

The color of the plates has not yet been determined but they will be displayed on the rear of cars. Steel shortages and economy were given as reasons for the change.

Government Plans To Enlarge Camp Detrick

According to reports by a Washington newspaper, the Army is now preparing to change from research work to the manufacturing of bacteriological weapons at Camp Detrick, Frederick, Md. The Washington Post quoted General Bullene, chief of the Chemical Warfare Service, as saying at a closed House Appropriations Committee hearing:

"We think it is very urgent. We have been doing research for 10 years and we think it is time to catch up with some hardware."

It was explained that "hardware" is the service lingo for mass produced weapons as distinguished from experimental work.

According to the paper it was learned that the Army plans almost to double the size of its bacteriological warfare center at Frederick.

Will Ask for $17,000,000

It is understood a bill is in preparation for Congress to act on and would ask $17,000,000 for enlarging the camp, including the purchase of 529 acres of land adjoining Camp Detrick.

(Commanding Officer Col. M. T. Moree, of Camp Detrick, has confirmed that the center had requested the acquisition of the land.)

It was learned that the purchase of the required land is in the hands of the Washington District Engineers. Expansion of the laboratories would have nothing to do with plans to manufacture the weapons, however, the "Post" quoted an unidentified Pentagon source.

Plan New Buildings

The expansion, it is understood, will mean some increase in personnel engaged in this activity. The paper quoted Army officials that the proposed $17,000,000 expansion of Camp Detrick would include five laboratory buildings, two warehouses and housing for 165 additional enlisted technicians and four miscellaneous constructions.

Set Deadline For Ticket Sale

No tickets will be available after April 18 for the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner scheduled for April 28 in the Francis Scott Key Hotel, Frederick. Senator Estes Kefauver, Democrat, Tenn., and primary presidential candidate, has been engaged as the speaker.

The closing date for the sale of tickets was decided on at a meeting of the committee last week. Thomas Glass was selected as the toastmaster. Invitations have been issued to a number of Democratic figures in the state, including both those in office and candidates. The affair is being sponsored by the Young Democrats and other Democratic organizations.

A record number of tickets already has been sold, a committee member reports. Plans also are being made to have Senator Kefauver's speech broadcast.

A motion was also made that a letter be sent to the legislative department for defeat of the S1140 bill, concerning the rights of veterans. All members were requested to sign the paper.

A donation of $5 was made to the district project for the Mental Hygiene Clinic at Westminster.

The Auxiliary will hold a bingo game April 19 at 8 o'clock in the basement of the Legion Home.

Firemen Report Good Response To Financial Drive

President Herbert Roger of the Vigilant Hose Co. announced this week that the early response to the annual financial drive of the local fire company had been gratifying. Letters with pledge attachments were mailed out to propertyholders last week.

Chairman of the drive, Guy R. McLaughlin, stated that beginning Monday, canvassers, wearing the firemen's uniforms, would begin solicitation from door-to-door, and continue all week until the entire town has been canvassed. Next week it was announced, the solicitors will take to the rural routes, so that no one is missed. Those who already have mailed in their contributions will not be contacted, it was said.

Contributions last year amounted to $3000 and it is hoped to do even better this year since the public knows that a new engine has been purchased and the organization is heavily in debt.

The first report on the drive will be given at the meeting of the group Tuesday night. Nominations for the annual election of officers will be made at this meeting.

The actual blood drawing will be under the supervision of experienced doctors and trained nurses. A unit of the Red Cross Canteen Service will be on hand to serve milk and sandwiches to those donors wishing food.

Last November the same bloodmobile was here and a record drawing of 185 pints was established. It is hoped to better this record on April 21, Chairman Keepers stated.

Officials of the Red Cross announced that their organization was the only authorized one to undertake this project in the whole country. Donors cannot give blood to the armed forces through any other group. The need is urgent and a good response is anticipated.

McSherrystown Withdraws From Ball League

The Pen-Mar Baseball League received an abrupt setback in its organizational efforts this week when President Dr. D. L. Beegle received notice that McSherrystown was withdrawing from the circuit.

The league seemed on solid footing when Taneytown was replaced by New Oxford recently, to form the eighth member of the league and all clubs posted forfeit fees. Now however, it is opened up again for an additional member. At the recent meetings of the circuit, another prospect, Union Bridge, was turned down after applying for a berth. It now appears that the Carroll County outfit now will become the eighth club. However, President Beegle stated this week that a special meeting of the league will be called and a new club voted on.

McSherrystown stated as its reason for withdrawing that the armed forces were taking too many of its players, that an fact that New Oxford has been admitted and also captured several valuable members of the club.

The league is scheduled to open the 1952 season on May 4. Twenty-one games are carded.

Thousands Of Trout Stocked For Opening

Fifty-three hundred adult trout, ranging up to 15 inches were stocked this week and next in Frederick County streams in anticipation of opening of the season in Maryland at 5:30 a. m. on April 15. A total of 30,000 trout have been allocated to Frederick County during the season, Donald K. Gilbert, Lewistown, regional fish manager, announced early this week.

Big Hunting and Fishing Creeks were stocked with 1,500 fish each this week, Mr. Gilbert said. The total includes both the right and left forks of Fishing Creek. The two streams, which are the hardest fished in the county, will receive a total of 23,000 trout during the season. Of this total 12,000 have been assigned to Fishing Creek and 11,000 to Big Hunting Creek.

Other Streams Stocked
Middle Creek and Friends Creek will each be stocked with 1,000 trout next week in preparation for the inaugural. A total of 3,500 has been allocated to Middle Creek and 2,000 to Friends Creek during the season. Little Hunting Creek, east of Route 15, will get a total of 700 for the season and 300 for opening day.

The stocking program will be carried out until early in June, Mr. Gilbert said. The season has been extended until Sept. 30, and it is hoped enough fish will escape anglers' lures to make summer angling worthwhile.

Streams will be stocked about every 10 days early in the season to take care of the demand, Mr. Gilbert stated. Trout, to again be stocked by game wardens, will be released in time for the second weekend after opening of the season.

To Stock Large Brood Fish
"We feel we have the finest fish we've ever produced this year," said Mr. Gilbert. In addition to the regular stocking, several big brood fish, weighing up to eight pounds, will be turned loose during the season. The big trout are now at the Lewistown Hatchery. They will be turned loose in all county streams.

Anglers catching the oversize trout are asked to report their catches either to Gilbert at the Lewistown Hatchery, or to game wardens. The right pectoral fin of each brood fish has been clipped in an attempt to check on migrations of the big fellows, and co-operation of anglers is requested.

In addition to local streams, 4,000 trout have been assigned to Rock Creek in Montgomery County and 1,400 to Beaver and Piney Creeks in Carroll County.

Local Man Appointed Deputy

Leslie W. Fox, Rocky Ridge and Emmitsburg filling station operator, has been named a new deputy sheriff for Frederick County, it has been announced by Sheriff R. Paul Buhman.

Mr. Fox, who is 58 years of age, worked for the Emmitsburg Railroad Co. for a number of years, starting here in 1919 and continuing until the company went out of existence. For a number of years he was an outstanding baseball pitcher in the old Frederick County League. Since that time he has been operating a filling station and bulk tank supply here. His appointment was effective April 1.

The sheriff's department has been short one deputy since R. Paul Buhman stepped into the vacancy created by the sudden death of Guy Anders. The new appointment brings the total number of deputies to four. The others are Austin Murray, Raymond Haugh and George Layman.

Truck License Applications Out

Applications for 1952-1953 license plates for all classes of commercial vehicles, including dealers, are being mailed out today by the Department of Motor Vehicles, says commissioner Thomas B. R. Mudd. License plates for commercial vehicles go on sale April 1 and may be displayed immediately.

As clips will be issued to validate the large Maryland license plates being used at present, the number should be ascertained from the plates and placed in the boxes across the top of the application before it is returned to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Considerable delay is caused when this number is not inserted, which must be correctly done before the clips are issued.

INEQUITY IN NEW MILITARY PAY BILL

The Senate-approved bill to provide pay increases for the military and related services is an improvement over a similar measure passed by the House in January. But neither bill represents the best legislation on the subject that could have been drafted.

Although both measures were widely heralded as moves to help service personnel meet rising costs of living, neither one was designed to meet this specific problem at a minimum cost to the taxpayers. Both bills provide flat percentage pay increases for all ranks instead of tailoring to the needs of each. The 10 per cent raise provides for in the House measure, for example, would boost an Army private from $75 to $82 a month, while it would jump a master sergeant from $235 to $258. In the case of officers with still higher pay, the dollar increases would be even greater.

Under the Senate bill, pay increases would be gauged by the same formula. But since the boost authorized in the upper chamber was only three per cent, raises in the higher brackets would be less accentuated under the Senate plan. Moreover, the Senate bill's allowances for subsistence and quarters are more closely geared to the cost of living. For these reasons, and for the not inconsequential additional reason that the Senate measure would cost only an estimated $561,000,000 as compared to the $850,000,000 called for by the House bill, the Senate's version seems to be the more satisfactory of the two.

Some $90,000,000 of the Senate bill's cost would be to cover $45 monthly bonuses to servicemen who are seeing or have seen combat duty in Korea. This seems to be a fair enough reward for hazardous service. But Senator Douglas was unable to get his colleagues to accept an equally sensible proposal to equalize the "hazard" pay of all airmen and submariners at $30 a month, a move which he said would save $142,000,000. In keeping the present "hazard" pay scale, ranging from $30 for bottom rung enlisted men to $210 for some officers, the Senate ignored Senator Douglas' logical point that an enlisted man values his own life as much as an officer values his.

Armed Services Committee Chairman Russell pointed out, however, that the whole question of military premium pay is being studied, and this and other problems may be taken up in separate legislation. Meanwhile, a Senate-House conference will take up the widely-differing bills. Whatever the conferees come out with, it will have to be an imperfect compromise.

Your Personal Health

Always Tired?

We all know at least one person who complains of feeling "tired all the time." Not all these complaints can be dismissed as laziness. In addition to robbing a person of his zest for life, chronic fatigue can be a symptom of serious illness.

Fatigue, in itself, is actually a good thing. For it is the body's warning that it has had enough physical or mental activity for the time being and needs restoration of its energy in the form of sleep or rest. Or, especially in the case of persistent tiredness, it is the body's signal that something is seriously wrong and a checkup with the doctor is in order.

Some of us who suffer from chronic fatigue can easily supply the answers ourselves for a "cure." We are depriving ourselves of sleep and rest, or we are not eating enough of "the right kinds of food to keep body energy high. This calls for a simple prescription of getting to bed on time and eating three good, well-balanced meals a day.

But if fatigue persists for no explainable reason, the best thing for the sufferer is a prompt visit to his doctor for a general health checkup. Prolonged and unexplained fatigue can be one of the symptoms of such serious diseases as a heart ailment, tuberculosis, cancer, nutritional disease, or anemia. The doctor is the only one to detect the source of the trouble and give the patient relief as well as check the progress of his disease.

Too many of us suffer from a form of chronic tiredness known as "emotional fatigue." The phrase simply means that the person is wasting his precious stores of energy in worry, frustration, resentment, or boredom, instead of expending it in hard work he enjoys, hobbies, and pleasant social contacts.

It may not be literally true that "hard work never killed anyone." But it is a fact that people who work hard and enjoy what they are doing seldom have to seek medical advice for either unexplained or emotional fatigue.

Whether chronic tiredness is due to organic or emotional upset, the doctor is the one to get to the root of the trouble, help the sufferer regain his energy, and, in the final analysis, restore his enjoyment of living.

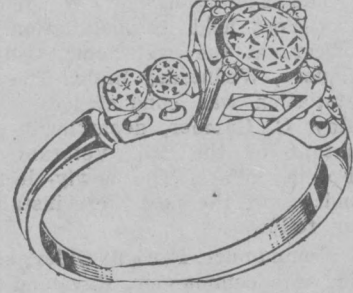

ROAD DELEGATIONS SEEK BETTER HIGHWAYS

Two road delegations appeared before the County Commissioners Wednesday in Frederick.

The first delegation was concerned with the Flint Road to Eyerler's Valley in the Thurmont District. The second was from the Jackson District and concerned the Highland Road to Five Forks.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosensteel were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Rosensteel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, Lantz.

Big Four

Free State farmers raised larger crops of four major, canning vegetables in 1951 than they did in 1950 — tomatoes, corn, snap beans and green peas—points out American Can Company, which is completing its 51st year of supplying cans to the state's packers.

YOU and YOUR CONGRESS

(Sponsored by the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce)

In all probability, you and I will never own things like the Hope diamond or a 60-ft. yacht. Their price is beyond us, because big diamonds are scarce and big yachts are built one at a time to special order.

In this country, we manufacture lipsticks and fountain pens, nuts and bolts, safety pins, hair curlers and an almost unlimited number of other things faster than a man can pick up pebbles on a gravel road.

Not long ago, a famous Parisian dress designer told of some highly artistic button makers who spend days making a single button by hand. Of such buttons, only a couple of dozen will be sold, because such a button maker is interested in scarcity and the maintenance of high prices.

But in America, the button maker doesn't manufacture anything that cannot be sold by the gross. And the American dress manufacturer wants it that way, because he, in his turn, makes the dresses in quantity at low prices.

It depends on what you want: handcraft wares at high prices for a few people; or mass production at prices everybody can afford. The American, competitive free enterprise system has developed along the line of selling many articles to many people, and at low prices.

And because America has developed that way, we have a standard of living unmatched anywhere in the world.

The great symbol of American mass production is the automobile. In 1900, there were 8,000 cars on our roads. Today there are more than 36,000,000. That's an automobile for every three and one half people in the United States.

The late Henry Ford once remarked: "The automobile business is like a pyramid, pointed at the top and with a very broad base. If a car cost a million dollars there might be a man foolish enough to buy it. If a car could be sold for $10, scores of millions of people would buy and use cars instead of wearing out their shoes. The further we can lower the price, the more millions will enjoy the car."

And Ford was right; not only about cars, but also about thousands of other types of goods and services.

Contrast this competitive, free enterprise system with a government-planned and government-controlled economy. What do you get?

You get many bureaucrats, scarcity in those items which the government rules are essential, and high prices for those items which the government says are not essential. You get red tape, bogged down management, unhappy employees, and heavy taxes to pay the bureaucrats who are the authors of all that trouble.

And in the end, what do you get?

You get "austerity." Contrast the position of England in trade and commerce even 20 years ago, with its position today. Contrast its rate of recovery

Hatchery Says Season's Trout Crop Is Best Ever

Maryland trout hatcheries and rearing ponds are fairly bursting at the seams with adult Brook, Brown and Rainbow Trout ready to be stocked in the 10 Appalachian and Piedmont trout counties in Maryland.

Mr. Albert Powell, hatchery superintendent, has had excellent success in raising large trout this season and trout fishermen will be pleased at the size and condition of Maryland trout, according to Mr. Ernest A. Vaughn, director.

Approximately 100,000 big tackle busters will be stocked in 50 streams of Maryland, in the following counties:

Frederick, Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Carroll, Howard, Baltimore, Montgomery, Harford, Cecil and Anne Arundel.

Improved revision of the stocking program this year calls for 25% of the fish to be placed in the streams during the three weeks prior to the opening day of the season, Tuesday, April 15, and the remaining fish to be stocked during the months of April and May. This system will assure better catches for the Maryland anglers, less loss from food and other causes beyond control of the Md. Game and Inland Fish Commission, and a more sustained fishery during the peak of the fishing season.

District fish managers now are making plans to secure the assistance of game wardens and local fish and conservation agencies in stocking the streams. A census of the trout fishermen on the first day of the season is planned by the Game and Inland Fish Commission to evaluate the success and stocking practices in order to improve Maryland trout fishing.

Goss Still Most Popular Telecaster

For the fourth consecutive year, Bailey Goss has been chosen as Baltimore's favorite sports caster by Baltimore televiewers. The poll was conducted by "TV Guide" magazine.

Mr. Goss first won the award in the infancy of Baltimore television in 1949. He has continued popular through succeeding years. Gil Hodges, editor of "TV Guide," will make the presentation of an award to Mr. Goss on April 1 during the telecast of "Wrestling from the Coliseum" on WMAR-TV at 10 p. m.

Other channel two programs sponsored by the National Brewing Co. of Baltimore on which Bailey Goss appears are "The National Revue," week-days from 5 to 6 p. m. and on Saturdays starting at 4 p. m.; "National Amateur Time," Saturdays at 7 p. m.; and "Front Page Detective" on Thursday nights at 10:30. Agency in the accounts is Owen & Chapell, Inc.

from World War I, with the rate of recovery from World War II. Even when all allowances are made for the greater cost and strain of World War II, there's still a big difference in the methods used in the 1920's and those used today to get that country back on its feet.

Let's let the government run the government, and let businessmen run the businesses.

What Stalin Wants
If you were Joe Stalin and wanted to conquer the United States and thus have mastery over all the world, your first primary interest would have to be this nation's industrial production. It would be impossible to defeat America while her full industrial might is in action. Joe Stalin knows this. He and his politburo and the Communist Fifth Column in America are working now in every conceivable way to cripple American industry. There is a direct way—through arraying employes against employers, provoking crippling strikes and destroying cooperation; and an indirect way—through activities designed to cripple our economy or monetary stability.

If the Communists could engineer a general strike tomorrow and keep our major industries closed down for six or 10 or 12 months, the whole power of the Red airforce would swarm down on our nation, the Red army would move out of Germany and Poland for a sweep across Western Europe, and the Red submarine fleet would begin to make bold strikes at our naval units everywhere. All the satellite armies would be unleashed. And the hour of greatest danger to America would have arrived.

Strike Sabotage
Stalin is realistic enough to know, after years of concentrated effort, that his Red infiltrators in this nation cannot hope to control enough labor unions to bring off a general strike. However, they have demonstrated that they control sufficient strategic forces within key unions to badly damage American production.

In 1939, during the Stalin-Hitler pact when American armament production was assisting Britain and France and thus hurting Russia, underground Communist strategists succeeded in closing down certain plants making important war materials through labor disputes and strikes. In his book "Men Without Faces," Louis Budenz, onetime American Communist leader, who turned on the Red conspiracy and has been helping our FBI fight it, told how the Communist leadership gave orders for these sabotage strikes.

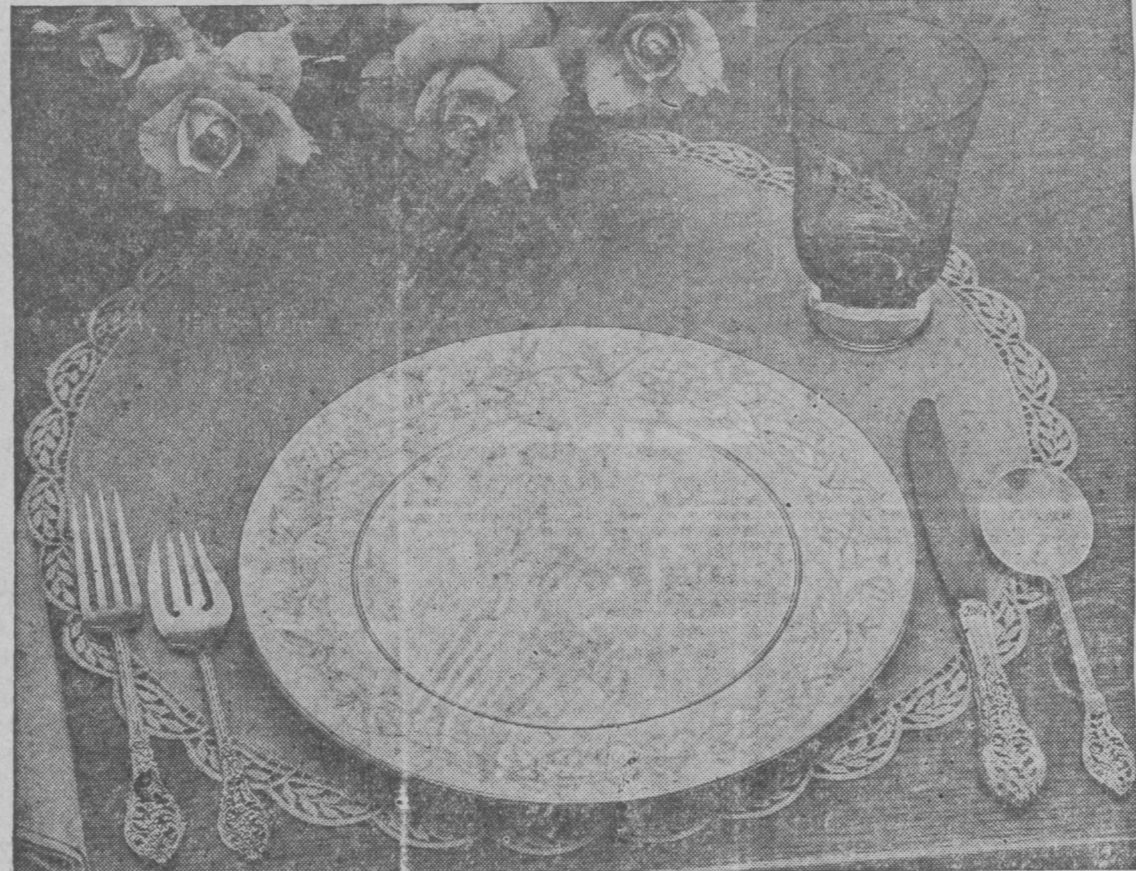

Today's Strategy
"Another incident in my memory," Budenz wrote, "is the meeting at the home of Mrs. Meta Berger, in Milwaukee, at which Eugene Dennis ordered Harold Christoffel to strike the men at Allis-Chalmers (Christoffel was president of the Allis-Chalmers UAW-CIO Local 248). It is a matter of record that the strike did take place, that Christoffel and his associates stuffed the ballots for the strike with 2000 false 'Yes' votes, and that war material of the most valuable kind was tied up for months.

But millions of loyal American industrial workers now have their eyes open and the Communist strike strategy could only be a partial success. So the Communists are putting their greatest effort into indirect sabotage—trying to bring about the collapse of our economic system. Stalin's teacher, Nikolay Lenin, said: "We shall force the U. S. into bankruptcy." To bring about the downfall of America's financial structure and thus paralyze our industrial production, the 32,000 Red conspirators and their nearly half million fellow-travelers here in America are being instructed to constantly agitate for bigger government spending and even more hampering governmental interference with industry. If they all could be openly identified they'd no doubt be found to be among the most persuasive talkers in every club or group or organization pressuring our government to expand its spending programs and working for the adoption of further socializing measures.

Peace or War
Government spending has already been expanded to a point where billions of borrowed money are being spent and destructive inflation may not be held off even until after this fall's presidential election. Likewise, governmental policies have been drastically restrictive on business and industry, hampering normal management practices and giving more and more control into the hands of incompetent politicians and bureaucrats.

Stalin doesn't want a Russia-U. S. A. war at this time. He wants to withhold the full war tide until the U. S. can be more seriously crippled internally. Thus U. S. production is the key to war or peace. If we keep our production going, our business system healthy and expanding normally in private

To Keep Sterling Beautiful - Keep It Busy

Here's the ultimate in informal luncheon place settings. Smart hostesses no longer save their sterling silver for formal dinners only, but use it for many occasions. They know that the more it's used, the more beautiful their silver becomes and the less care it needs. In this picture from House Beautiful magazine, note how the silver takes on the simplicity of the restrained leaf-patterned china, the tumbler-like glass, and the neatly edged place mat. The sterling here is Reed & Barton's "Florentine Lace." It's combined with "Queensbury" china by Royal Doulton, and Fostoria's "Catalina Duet" glass. W. F. Breuss, Inc. made the place mat.

Blonde Beauty on Skelton Show

Lovely Lucille Knoch, who appears on NBC-TV's "Red Skelton Show," usually acts as the pretty foil to Red's comedy antics—and is expected to parody his comic dialogue and generally to just "look beautiful," but she also could dance at a moment's notice, and also do a good job of straight acting. All this—and glamour, too!

6,000 Volunteer Workers Assist In New Cancer Crusade

The 1952 Cancer Crusade got under way this week throughout the state with an estimated 6,000 volunteers engaged in the effort to obtain $310,000 as Maryland's share of funds needed to carry on the vital educational and research activities of the Maryland Division of the American Cancer Society.

Many communities throughout Maryland held "kick-off" meetings during the week. Volunteers were told of the importance of their work in many areas by State Campaign Chairman Robert B. Hobbs, together with the director of the Maryland Division, Donald H. Bladen and associate director, John S. Lalley.

FARM DOG AT WORK...

The Watch Guard Dog

Most dogs have an inborn desire to guard their master's property. Here is how you develop this instinct. Dogs are naturally more suspicious. In the evening take your dog indoors. Then ask a friend who is not known to the dog to approach the room making a lot of noise while walking.

When you hear the footsteps approaching talk to the dog in a low, excited voice. When your helper arrives at the door have him rattle the doorknob and knock loudly on the door. This and your excited urging will probably induce the dog to bark. Now praise and pet him profusely.

The helper should retreat and repeat the procedure. This time the dog's bark will probably be more energetic and determined and it will take only a few lessons of this kind to make him a reliable watchdog.

The good watchdog must announce the presence of any stranger. Then should stay in his place to keep out the stranger until called off. He should not attack people but when members of the household are menaced the average dog will seek to defend his "home" to the death.

(From the Purina Farm Dog Book)

Choose Chimes for Tone, Needs and Appearance

WHEN modernizing your present home or planning the wiring for a new one, consider installing electrical door chimes. They have certain advantages—a wide variety of styles, adaptability to decorative schemes, beauty of tone. Most have two different signals—one for the back or side door and one for the front so you'll know where to find your caller. Some play brief melodies or reproduce famous chimes such as those at Westminster. All come in attractive designs for use in halls and living areas where they can be heard most easily in all parts of the house.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Apr. 3—All through 1950-51, I hammered away at inflation, urging readers against panic buying which was one of the immediate causes of inflation. If any medals are to be awarded to the men of the year who helped curb inflation, they don't go to Truman or DiSalle.

Panic Buying During 1951, manufacturers were urging the public to buy or else be sorry! Television was an especially good example. What happened? Many manufacturers, unable to find dynamic leadership in Washington with an intelligent plan for Korea, planned for the worst—a long war and critical shortages. They made so much at such a pace and at such high prices that shelves and warehouses became loaded.

At first, the gullible were panicked into buying. Again, televisions are a good example. The more thoughtful waited. Shortages failed to materialize. Buyer psychology changed. Consumers stopped listening to advertisements and stopped buying. Consumers did what the President and DiSalle and all the rest of the governmental hierarchy couldn't do—halted the price rise and the inflationary spiral!

Consumption Rates One of the greatest periods in our production history was 1950-51. We made annually over $3 billions worth of goods and services. Even when taking into account inflated prices, this figure represents the greatest physical volume ever produced by our country, topping even the war years of 1942-43. But people failed to buy these goods, although they were financially able to do so. Sales resistance developed sharply in textiles and most consumer durables, in radio and television, major appliances, furniture, carpets, household goods, and automobiles.

Because of this sales resistance, for example, 50 per cent fewer radio and television sets were produced in the last half of '51 as in the same period in '50; less than 40 per cent as many major appliances; 20 per cent less furniture; and 50 per cent fewer carpets, even although the carpet industry is not primarily affected by limitations of material. Here, then, is a simple lesson of action and reaction which I have been preaching for years.

Buying For 1952 A review of the 1951 price trends will help to make clear the trends for 1952. The Bureau of Labor Statistics "Composite Wholesale Index" at the end of 1951 was but a fraction higher than at the end of 1950. The first quarter of 1951 saw an advance in prices of 4.1 per cent to an all-time high in March. This was followed by a 3.9 per cent decline. This pattern has thus far continued through 1952.

No doubt the Korean truce talks have encouraged conservative buying. The administration must, however, because of the coming elections, continue to stimulate business—even if artificially. The Democrats cannot afford any letdown in the demands for materials, merchandise, or labor; so don't be frightened by any nonsense out of Washington. I look for no more panicky buying ahead. The urge to save will increase and the urge to buy will decrease. This should help make our 53-cent dollar go a little further. When shopping in 1952, shop for value. In areas of oversupply, bargain!

Patronize Honest Local Merchants

The stability of the past few months is undoubtedly due to many causes, primarily to the fact that the people have at last developed intelligent buying habits. Don't let anybody panic you into buying because they say the article they sell will soon come into short supply. The chances are this will not be so. Buy from reputable local merchants whom you know and trust. Any sales organization which resorts to scare selling is encouraging inflation, and inflation may become a more deadly enemy than Soviet Russia. Also remember that wholesale prices have declined considerably the past few weeks and this should ultimately help consumers.

Laurel Handicap Tomorrow

The pace steps up as the combined Laurel-Bowie spring meet of 33 days swings into its second full week of competition to be climaxed by the 37th running of the famed Laurel Handicap tomorrow.

HENRY A. KIMBALL Trainer of Algasir

Run at a mile for three-year-olds and upward and carrying an added purse of $15,000, the Laurel long has been one of the top handicaps in this area for middle distance horses.

When nominations closed on March 15, a total of 28 thoroughbreds were named for the Laurel. From this group, Racing Secretary Charlie McLennan regards the following eight horses as certain starters.

Bedford Stable's Call Over, Carolyn K. Stable's Hi Billee, Alan Clarke's King Mowlee, Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Post Card, Henry A. Kimball's Algasir, E. A. Nicodemus' Laran, Mrs. Alfred Roberts' Eatontown and Alan J. Wilson's Arthur Pilate.

Algasir and Hi Billee have been winners at the meeting, the former accounting for the six furlongs Capitol Handicap on opening day. Post Card, winner of the Maryland Handicap here last year, was second to Hi Billee in his lone outing of the current year. Call Over won last year's Trenton Handicap at Garden State in addition to other fixtures.

Today again will be ladies' day. Members of the fair sex will be admitted upon payment of the usual taxes.

Tomorrow also will be Amateur Handicappers' Day. On that afternoon, the patron selecting the most winners will receive $300 in U. S. Savings Bonds. The winner will be announced Monday, April 14.

Cheer the Chafing Dish

For a buffet party serve up Cheese Savory. Made with thrifty margarine, here's an easy-to-make dish for a crowd—one that won't dent the food budget.

Cheer the chafing dish—or the casserole. It's just right for one of those "help yourself" buffet parties. This is the kind of party we like to give—easy, informal—the kind that allows the hostess time to enjoy her guests.

We star a good Cheese Savory for our buffet supper—something delicious and tempting, yet a dish that won't break your bank account. So we start with a saucy sauce—the base is thrifty, nutritious Blue Bonnet Margarine. Flavor it with cheese and mushrooms. It gets its rosy blush from tomato soup. Add hard-cooked eggs prepared way ahead of time—and serve it up in your very best casserole or chafing dish. Our Cheese Savory is a gay dish to set the right note for your party. It's easy to make, easy to serve your guests. Wonderful you!

CHEESE SAVORY

- 1/2 cup Blue Bonnet Margarine 2 cans (2 1/2 cups approx.) tomato soup
1 cup milk
3 cups grated sharp cheese 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup sliced, cooked mushrooms, fresh or canned 1/4 teaspoon pepper
8 hard-cooked eggs, cut in quarters.

Combine all ingredients except eggs in saucepan. Cook over medium heat stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Add and stir in hard-cooked eggs. Makes 8 servings.

SCIENCE and HEALTH

Research chemists have developed a new sex hormone for "shy breeding" livestock which promises more meat and milk on the dinner table for everyone. The discovery makes possible a healthy calf from each dairy and beef cow every twelve months.

The new hormone also materially reduces the ratio of "misses" for brood sows and brings female sheep into heat twice a year, making possible a doubled lamb crop. It has been used successfully with horses, cats, dogs.

Cows that fail to come into heat and repeat breeders are an expensive problem to the farmers. High farm costs plus less than maximum production mean high prices for the consumer, too. The new hormone, Estradiol Cyclopentylpropionate (ECP), was developed by a team of chemists at The Upjohn Company, Kalamazoo, Mich. Dr. J. L. Davidson, Upjohn's head of veterinary medicine, reports that ECP brings on a heat period in virtually 100 per cent of cases and assures conception at first breeding in from 60 to 70 per cent of apparently sterile cattle. Dr. W. J. Gibbons, famed Alabama Polytechnic Institute veterinarian, states that ECP induced heat in 213 cows injected. Only five cows required second injections.

LURING LUCK

Folklore as told by Diamond Crystal Salt Consultant THE PRETTY BRIDE OF A HUNGARIAN PEASANT wisely sprinkles salt on the doorstep of her new home for good luck. But she does not have the new Weather-pruf Salt. It alone would provide the good luck she seeks. For years of research have gone into the creation of this new product. Weather-pruf Salt defies the damp and is the very last word in pure, free-flowing, quickly-dissolving salt for table and home use. No longer is there need to struggle with lumping and clogging salt shakers, nor to be dependent on a sunny day, as is this little bride, to get that flick of salt on the doorstep for luck.

SALT HAS ALWAYS been the symbol of good luck since the days when it was so hard to get. In Bible times the sun-dried crusts of salt on the shores of the Dead Sea provided the major supply. For centuries solar evaporation was the method by which it was obtained. Now we have knowledge of Nature's endless provision of salt which we obtain in different ways. Secured through solar evaporation, or from wells or from mines, the vast supply of salt produced in the United States far exceeds the rest of the world's production. But salt is as important as air to human life, so that its use as a good luck symbol long ago and even today is understandable.

IT IS THE ADDITION of a small percent of calcium silicate, which is a moisture absorbent, that allows the salt to pour regardless of humidity. At last the irritation of caking and sticking salt shakers is no more. For everyone, every day uses salt. And salt that pours despite the rain is magic. The ultimate in good luck is in Weather-pruf Salt, which, "Rain or shine, pours all the time." And it really does. (ANS Features)

A Year-Round Harvest At Your Table

Planning a dinner party for your favorite guests need not be a difficult task for the hostess. One thing to remember: when you're selecting a china pattern, keep in mind the fact that you'll want to use it for many, many different occasions. The versatile Harvest china pattern by Lenox is the perfect solution to this problem. Made of translucent Lenox china, Harvest features three sheaves of wheat in 24-k. gold around the border... with a single sheaf placed dramatically in the center of the plate. The centerpiece — a bouquet of lilies, placed horizontally on a modern glass block and interspersed with real stalks of golden wheat—repeats the motif of the china. Gone are the days of worry and uneasiness when a dinner party is imminent. With a little ingenuity and a careful choice of appointments, your table will be sure to please the most critical eye!

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

Posted dollars-and-cents ceiling prices in restaurants will be required under the new OPS regulation 134, it was announced by Hugo R. Hoffman, Maryland District Director. They are required have their prices posted for the benefit of consumers no later than April 25, Mr. Hoffman pointed out.

The new regulation takes the place of CPR 11, which has been in effect since April 1 of last year for all except dining cars, certain boarding houses, and American Plan hotels. These will remain under the old regulation.

The new regulation freezes prices at the level shown on menus or charged during the week of Feb. 3-9, 1952. There are allowances made for new restaurants and seasonal operations. No posted prices under the new regulation may be changed except by direction of OPS and there are provisions for future adjustments if the OPS director determines that food and other costs have been changed significantly, either upward or downward.

OPS warned restaurants and taverns who have not yet filed under CFR 11 that, not only are they in violation under that regulation, but they cannot get into compliance with CPR 134 until they do file under CPR 11. Further, those who want to apply for adjustments in their prices by June 1 must have the records available which are required under CPR 11.

Very similar to the restaurant regulation in effect under the OPA, CPR 134 requires that the 40 principal food and non alcoholic beverage items customarily served by the eating place be posted on forms provided by OPS. If the restaurant also serves alcoholic beverages, a poster with space for the listing of ceiling prices for 20 items must be displayed.

"The general level of food prices is now fairly well stabilized," Mr. Hoffman said, "and the monthly Wholesale Food Price Index issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics has not risen during the last several months. Therefore, the principal effect of this new regulation will be to stabilize restaurant prices and enable eating places to charge prices which reflect their pre-Korean margin."

OPS is preparing now to send posters to all restaurants covered by the regulation as well as copies of the regulation itself and to have their prices posted for the forms which the restaurant is required to file with the district office. However, Mr. Hoffman pointed out that failure to receive a poster from the OPS does not relieve a restaurant from the responsibility of displaying posters.

Another requirement of the regulation which is of interest to the consumer is the fact that restaurants must display on their menus a notice that all prices charged are at OPS ceilings or lower and that a list showing the ceiling price of each item is available for inspection.

ALONG THE POTOMAC

By U. S. REP. J. GLENN BEALL

Congress is expected to begin its annual Easter recess on Thursday, April 10 and resume on Monday, April 21. It is expected that all appropriation bills, with the exception of those for the Defense Dept. and foreign aid, will have cleared the House and be forwarded to the Senate before the Easter recess begins.

TAXATION... Banks and other financial institutions about the country have reported the largest number of individuals and corporations in the history of the nation borrowed money this year to make their annual income tax payments. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce reported that tax collections between March 17 and 21 of $5.3 billion exceeded the entire total for the year 1940. In addition, hidden taxes are 12c per pack; milk, 9c a quart; beef, 32c a pound; hosiery, 66c a pair; gasoline, 14c a gallon; coal, $15 a ton. All this is evidence the tax burden has become a real problem, and is one of the reasons for a decline in consumer buying.

GOV. PRESS AGENTS... At the insistence of some of the Congressmen who have been trying to find out why the budget contains $17,134,390 for the salaries and other "personal services" for Government publicity, it was revealed that the Government hires 2,625 full-time press agents and 1,007 part-time public relations people. According to the Congressional Directory there are only 1,087 reporters "covering" Washington for all the newspapers, news syndicates, magazines and other press media.

RANSOMS... The U. S. is still sanctioning the paying of ransoms in freeing American citizens who are hostages of the Communists. Treasury Secretary, John W. Snyder, stated that 11 U. S. firms and two missionary groups have paid nearly $800,000 "ransom" in attempting to free 12 Americans held by the Chinese Reds. The "ransom" represented so-called debts of these companies and missionaries in China, but Treasury approval was necessary before the money could be paid. So far only four of the 12 have been released.

WEAPONS... Since 1950 Congress has appropriated $109 billion for war material. In that time the Detroit tank arsenal has turned out 236 tanks of which nine were acceptable. Since 1949 $23 billion has been appropriated for aircraft with $14 billion still unexpended. Gen. Alfred Gruenther, in his testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in favor of the $7.9 billion of foreign aid, stated that Russia had 20,000 planes and equal amounts of other war material. It was disclosed last week that the Army is stripping National Guard, Reserve and Regular Army units' arsenals of weapons for shipment to European allies and other overseas forces. What is wrong and why are so-called critical materials being allocated right now for civilian goods? Do we need defense or don't we?

It is interesting to note that this week, April 1 to 8, has been officially proclaimed by the U. S. Dept. of Commerce as National Leave Us Alone Week. I suppose it is too much to hope that the Administration would really observe this week and leave us alone to work out our destinies in the true American way, suspend all deficit spending and taxes and let the country get back to running its own business.

For some time I have been very much interested in the return of the Catoctin recreational area to the State of Maryland. I was advised by the Dept. of the Interior that a portion of the area—4,300 acres, is being offered to the state. This portion of the area contains Little Hunting Creek, trails and picnic areas. I have wanted all of Catoctin given back to Maryland, but so long as the President maintains quarters there, that part of the area cannot be released.

Plan Reopening Of Bel Air Race Track

Following an absence of several seasons, spring thoroughbred racing will return to Harford County this year when Bel Air Racetrack, Maryland's lone three-quarter-mile oval, conducts its 10-day meeting from May 21 through May 31.

Filling in a gap of two weeks between the closing of Pimlico and the opening of Delaware Park Bel Air's better-grade races should attract many thoroughbreds from the major circuit.

General Manager G. Ray Bryson is prepared to present the outstanding meeting of Bel Air's 16 years as one of Maryland's favorite racetracks. The last two days of the meeting will embrace Decoration Day and the closing Saturday and promises to be one of the biggest weekends of the Maryland turf year.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Might As Well "Get In Key"

Last Tuesday Judge Cunningham wanted to go fishing. "Why aren't you working?" I asked. Judge explained how his wife had gone on a trip, taken his keys by mistake—and now he couldn't get in the office. So we went fishing. Next day, he wanted me to go again. I was surprised those keys hadn't shown up yet. "The little woman phoned to say she mailed them," the Judge explained. "They're now in the office, under the mail slot. I'd get 'em if I could just open that door." He grinned and picked up his fishing rod. "Great little woman, the wife. You can always count on her. Let's go!" From where I sit, we can use tolerance like the Judge shows for his wife's absent-mindedness... and she shows for his habit of lighting out for the fishing hole at every opportunity. He can't see why she likes tea, and she doesn't share his taste for a glass of beer. But they get along fine! Learning to respect other people's ways will "open the door" to happier living.

Vocation Month was brought to a fitting close on Monday, when the faculty and students received a visit from Sister Mary Oliva and Sister Noelita, White Sisters, who have spent 16 and five years, respectively, in Africa teaching and nursing in order to convert this pagan nation. A film entitled "The Devil Fights Back," was shown by the sisters in conjunction with their plea for workers in the missions of Africa. The movie depicted the life of the African tribes with their witch-doctors, magic and sorcerers paralleled by the unceasing struggle of the sisters and priests to convert this superstitious people to God. The lecture and film might well be described as highly inspirational and intensely interesting.

Awards have been given to members of both commercial classes by the Esterbrook Pen Co., for meritorious papers entered in the recent shorthand contest.

The first year Home Economics Class was shown a movie on Monday, entitled "The Discipline Story." The movie explained to the students the chemical process involved in preparing materials for wear—for example, wrinkle-proof garments, water-resistant materials and print designing.

Homemakers Hold Regular Meeting

The March meeting of the Emmitsburg Homemakers' Club was held at the home of Mrs. E. R. Shriver, Thursday, March 27 at 1:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. J. Laurence Orendorf, presided, with Mrs. Merle F. Keilnitz, secretary reading the minutes and calling the roll.

The Collect, by Mary Stewart, was read in unison. Mrs. Lewis Higbee, music chairman, read an article on the hymn of the month, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Miss Louise Sebald gave the directors' report and announced the county women are taking a bus trip to the DuPont Gardens on May 17. Anyone interested in taking the trip is asked to contact Mrs. Charles Sharrer, garden chairman.

Announcement was also made that the annual County Council meeting will be held at Hood College on April 15. Any member wishing to attend the session is to contact Miss Sebald or Mrs. George Lyster for luncheon tickets. Delegates to the meeting will be Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. Estelle Watkins and Mrs. Robert Gilelan.

Miss Louise Sebald, reading chairman, read a newspaper article and story by Bruce Canton entitled "Glory Road," which related how narrowly the Battle of Gettysburg missed being the Battle of Emmitsburg. The new theory is on the three-day Battle of Gettysburg.

A most interesting round table discussion entitled "Understanding Ourselves and Others," was given with Miss Beatrice Fehr as leader. Many outstanding points were discussed by all 17 members present.

Mrs. Lewis Higbee, treasurer, read a financial report. Mrs. Orendorf announced there was $36 clear from the sale of recipe books. Mrs. Roy Bollinger, short course chairman, announced a meeting will be held in Frederick on April 8.

A donation of $5 was authorized to the Red Cross drive.

The Afternoon of Games was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. M. Zacharias. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Grace Rowe April 24. Following adjournment the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. E. R. Shriver and Mrs. M. R. Tate, respectively, served refreshments.

PTA Tours New Annex of EHS

The Emmitsburg Public School PTA met Thursday evening, Mar. 27, at 8 o'clock in the new cafeteria. After a tour of the new building, President Samuel Hays opened the meeting by having everyone sing "America."

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Harold Hoke and were approved. The treasurer, Mrs. Creager, reported a balance of $212.83 in the treasury after the addition of $106.49 from the food sale.

It was decided that open house would be held in connection with the annual Patrons' Day, held in April or May in order that all those interested might view the completed new building.

Mrs. Leary thanked the organization for a filing cabinet presented to her room. Mrs. Caldwell expressed also thanks for a bookcase made by the Industrial Arts Dept. and Mr. Wood and paid for by the PTA.

The president directed that letters of appreciation for the new building written and directed to Mr. Pruitt, the County Commissioners and the Board of Education.

Miss Fiery's grade won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served following adjournment. The next meeting will be on April 24.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Nation Faces Serious Feed Situation

The goal for corn plantings in 1952 calls for 106 acres for every 100 acres planted in 1951. According to James A. Cottman, acting chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration, this represents such a small acreage increase per farm that there should be little difficulty for Maryland farmers to meet the goal. Corn requires less labor than most crops and will be supported at 90 per cent of parity.

The intentions to plant report just issued by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture indicates that Maryland farmers in their pre-planting season plans will seed 469,000 acres to corn. The goal for Maryland is 500,000 acres. This was an increase of 10 per cent, but the 469,000 acres Free State farmers now intend to plant is only a three per cent increase. This means that Maryland farmers will still have to increase by at least six per cent if the state's corn acreage goal is to be met.

According to Mr. Cottman, if our farmers do not plant the desired acreage, there is real danger of a very tight feed situation in from 12 to 18 months. Unless yields are far above average, it may mean that some livestock will have to be liquidated which would result in a very serious situation for the U. S. and for nations associated with the U. S. in defense efforts.

Mr. Cottman has some suggestions for the individual farmer who is up against the question of where the extra acres are to come from. In many areas it may be well to plant enough less oats to make up the needed corn acreage. Or it may be some other crop that produces feed units per acre. It may come out of poor producing pasture land or land that is now idle.

Failure to meet goals will force higher feed prices and some liquidation of poultry, hogs, beef and dairy animals. Look over your proposed plantings for 1952. Plan to include more corn. Nearly 84% of all telephones in the statewide system of the N. Y. Tele Co. are dial phones.

FREDERICK, MARYLAND

Frederick to Open New One-Way Streets Monday

Market Street and Bentz Street in Frederick will officially become one-way at 5 a. m. Monday, Mayor Donald B. Rice revealed this week.

All the preliminary work of placing signs along the streets has been completed. Installation of signals at the Bentz St. intersections has been finished and will be "unveiled" on the opening day. The signals are covered and not in use at the present.

When the new system goes into effect Market St. will carry only one-way traffic north and Bentz St. will carry only one-way traffic south between Ninth and South Streets.

Starting Monday southbound traffic will move from North Market Street via Ninth St. to Motter Ave. and south via Motter and Bentz St. to West South St., thence east to Market and south on Route 240 to Washington. Such traffic can still cut east or west on Patrick St. All traffic on Market will proceed north and parking will be permitted on both sides of the street, it is understood.

Mayor Rice also stated the city has received no word as yet on reports that the Frederick Airport was under consideration by the Air Force as a fighter-bomber base.

Miss Peggy Rose Wills was admitted to Kirman Hospital, April 1, for plastic surgery. She is the daughter of Mrs. Geraldine Wills Cool.

Locally-Known Soldier Directs French Choir

LA ROCHELLE, France—Headquarters Base Sec. EUCOM COM Z, has organized a choir composed of dependent women, officers and enlisted men at the La Rochelle Headquarters.

The choir was organized in Sept. of 1951 by Chaplain James W. Turnbull and Lt. Walter Powell with eight active members. In a few weeks' time it had tripled in size and has grown ever since.

In Nov. the choir planned and rehearsed an ambitious program, "Winter Wonderland," which was presented at the Laleu Theater on Dec. 19. This program was repeated on Dec. 24 by popular request to an audience of 600 French civilians and military personnel.

The group is directed by Cpl. Reginald Dunkinson of Gettysburg, Pa., a brother to Mrs. John Dick, Emmitsburg, who also directs the ABC "Always Behind the Chaplain" quartet, a feature of the choir.

Among the choir's plans is a peak membership of 50 in 1952 and a presentation of John Stainer's "Crucifixion" for Good Friday as well as selections for an Easter Sunday Sunrise Service.

Catoctin Area To Be Returned To State Soon

The U. S. Dept. of Interior has offered to turn over to Maryland approximately 4,300 of the 10,000 acres of the Catoctin Recreational Area in the northern part of Frederick County, near Thurmont, Representative Glenn Beall disclosed over the weekend.

The offer was made in a recent letter to Governor McKeldin. The Federal Government is retaining the balance of the mountainous tract because "Shangri-La," the wartime summer retreat of President Roosevelt, is located in this section.

Undeveloped Woodland

The area which the Federal Government is willing to return to Maryland, without any charge, lies south of Route 77, extending from Thurmont on the east to Foxville on the west.

Compared to the "Shangri-La" section, as the other half is called, Maryland's side will consist of undeveloped, mountainous woodlands of second-growth timber in beautiful country.

Joseph F. Taylor, director of the State Department of Forests and Parks, said Maryland will be only too glad to accept the land because there is a "great shortage of public, outdoor recreational areas in the state."

With the addition of the public beach and park being built on 700 acres at Sandy Point, Maryland now has a total of some 5,000 acres of public property for bathing, camping, fishing, hunting, boating, picnicking and other outdoor recreation.

Part of Big Hunting Creek, one of the state's best trout fishing streams, will be included in the Maryland parcel.

Hunting Is Banned

Hunting is banned in this area, but when the Federal Government bought up the 10,000-acre site in 1935, it was noted for the abundance of deer.

However, it is doubtful, according to state game wardens, whether the grounds are still good for deer hunting because the National Park Service, which operates the Catoctin area, did nothing about trapping or destroying the packs of predatory animals that have been growing in numbers during the past 17 years.

Farmers in the area recently complained such predatory animals as foxes, wildcats and dogs have been overflying into their pastures and attacking cattle and poultry.

The 10,000 acres were purchased for about $155,000 by the Rural Resettlement Administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell and children, Bernard, Margaret, Paul, Thomas, Helen and Therese and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Wivell, attended the graduation exercises of their son, Robert, who is stationed at Bainbridge Naval Base, Md., last Saturday.

Mrs. Carrie Adelsberger visited a few days with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffstetter, Indian Head, Md. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Hoffstetter and daughter.

Miss Marianne Sanders, Wash., D. C., visited over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sanders.

DAUGHTER BORN

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn of Baltimore, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born Sunday at Mercy Hospital. Mrs. Dunn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Adelsberger. The Duns have been married nine years and this is their first child.
