BY ABIGAIL

Once again that important period in Emmitsburg's civic life has rolled around. Most of us over 21 will trot to the polls Monday and cast our ballot for our favorite candidate . . . that is if there is one. You may perhaps think I have gone off my noggin' writing this way. Well, age sometimes does that to one, only in this instance it doesn't hold true because, to my knowledge there aren't any candidates for the particular offices I have in mind. Residents of the Corporation of Emmitsburg will be called upon on May 5 to elect a mayor and one commissioner to assist others in office in governing the town's affairs. The only "hitch" involved however, is that they must file before midnight tonight to be eligible for election. So far no one has filed. Don't ask me what happens if there are no aspirants to these jobs. I believe however, that the ordinances governing this local situation say that the incumbent remains in office until a successor is appointed. It is the hope of the writer that the present incumbents, Mayor Rodgers and Chairman of the Board of Commissioners Colonel Frailey, will see their way clear to post their names before 12 o'clock tonight. Both these men have excellent records in governmental circles of the town and have worked in close cooperation with the two remaining commissioners to give Emmitsburg one of the most intelligent and progressive regimes in the history of the town. The Board has maintained a steady program of prudent progress and many of their ideas have become factual in view of the many concrete accomplishments to date. Many more improvements are contemplated and involve thousands of dollars and it is seriously hoped that Messrs. Rodgers and Frailey reconsider and decide to run for another term.

Yes, May 5 promises to be a busy day both locally and throughout the State; for Monday also is primary day. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and we will have a chance to select our favorite party candidates for President, Senate, Representative, etc., so actually, there will be two elections May 5, both the town election and the primary.

There will be no more confusion about Daylight Saving Time as far as Emmitsburg is concerned. The Town Council recently made permanent a resolution calling for the annual adoption of "fast time." So hereafter every year, until otherwise revoked, Emmitsburg will go on daylight time the last week in April . . . which is, if you haven't caught on, is this week and Sunday morning at 2 a. m. you had better have the old timepiece regulated or you will wind up missing church, and if you don't go to church, you should be ashamed.

Talk about your absent-mindedness: Word comes to this desk that a certain employe of a local liquor store, and a fireman, too, who should know better, was in such a haste to get to the trout stream last Sunday, arrived there in plenty of time alright, but when he began looking for his paraphernalia he was chagrined to find that all he had brought along was his pole. Needless to say, he went fishless as did your friend Abigail, who was loaded down with all the gear in the book, which goes to show you, fishes are smarter than people. They'll be a day of reckoning yet young man. Those smart aleck trout just can't do this to us and get away with it.

Daylight Time Effective Sunday

Emmitsburgians are reminded to set their clocks ahead one hour Saturday upon retiring, as official Daylight Saving Time will go into effect at two o'clock Sunday morning, April 27.

College To Offer 4-Year Nursing Course

St. Joseph College has announced the opening of the new Division of Nursing which offers a four-year basic degree course. The four-year program in nursing is being introduced for the first time in Maryland.

Students who register for this course will spend the first two academic years at the college acquiring a broad liberal arts foundation. During the first summer, students will obtain pre-clinical experience in nursing at one of the cooperating hospitals conducted by the Daughters of Charity. This community, because of the wide variety of its work, is particularly well adapted to offer an enriched course in the field of nursing.

For admission to this course, students must meet the entrance requirements of the college and in addition score satisfactorily on a pre-nursing test.

A bachelor of science degree will be conferred on the satisfactory completion of the course. On graduation students will be eligible to take the State Board Examination for registration in Maryland and other states.

The Division of Nursing will also conduct a degree course for graduate nurses. Successful performance on a qualifying examination will enable an applicant for this course to acquire from 48 to 60 credits toward this degree.

The introduction of this new division enables Saint Joseph College to carry on the traditions in nursing of the Daughters of Charity of Saint Vincent de Paul who conduct it and of Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, its foundress.

Hospitals cooperating in the program at this time are: Sacred Heart hospital, Cumberland; Saint Agnes Hospital, Baltimore, and Secor Institute, Baltimore.

The division is under the direction of Sister Josephine, K. N., M.S.N.E., who recently organized the Catherine Labouré School of Nursing in Boston, the first central school of nursing to be established in New England.

Missionary Society To Hold Covered Dish Supper

The Women's Missionary Society will hold a covered dish supper meeting Thursday evening, May 1, 6:45 o'clock in the Parish House. Mrs. J. W. Houser, Mrs. Carroll Frock, Sr., and Mrs. Merle Keilholtz will be the leaders. A film strip entitled "How Lutherans Work" will be shown.

A roast chicken and ham supper will be held in the Parish House Saturday, Apr. 26, beginning at four o'clock. The supper is being sponsored by the choirs for the benefit of the music fund of the church.

The choirs of Elias Ev. Lutheran Church are sponsoring a Festival of Choirs to be held in the church Sunday evening, May 11. The committee composed of Miss Ruth Shuff, Mrs. Reginald Zepf, Harry Troxell, and Mrs. Roy Maxell met this week to make arrangements to send out invitations to about 10 neighboring choirs to join in this festival service.

Firemen's Drive Ends This Month

Guy R. McLaughlin, chairman of the financial drive of the Vigilant Hose Co., announced this week that the rural area soliciting will continue on into next week. Mr. McLaughlin revealed that to date about $2200 had been turned in and it is hoped to end the drive by the last of April.

Anyone who has been inadvertently missed in canvassing is asked to cooperate by mailing in his donation to the Fire Co., and those who feel that they can afford to give a little more are urged to do so immediately. Officials of the drive express gratification over the results to date and offer their sincere thanks to all contributors.

Lions Announce No Little League Ball

President C. A. Elder of the Emmitsburg Lions Club announced this week that there will be no Little League Baseball League in this district this year, due to organizational difficulties. The Emmitsburg and Thurmont clubs were prepared to operate but could not obtain sufficient other clubs to form even a four-club league. In an explanation to the public who supported the recent card party for this particular benefit, the Lions disclosed that the money will be placed in the child welfare fund. About 15 requests for eye glasses are on record at the present time and it is believed that some of this fund will be needed to purchase them.

Businessmen's Federation Opposes Raising Of Minimum Wage Scale

President Truman, the leaders of the House Committee on Labor and Public Welfare have been notified, as well as Rep. Dollinger, of this opposition by direct messages from Mr. C. W. Harder, president of the NFIB. All senators and congressmen are given the results, according to C. A. Elder, local district chairman.

Body Of Man Drowned Month Ago Is Recovered

Warm weather brought to the surface of the Potomac on Monday the body of Harold R. English, 26-year-old Laytonsville resident who drowned on Mar. 23 while fishing.

The body was found by Harbor Police after washing ashore at Hanes Point about two miles from the spot where the boat English was in capsized. English disappeared into the Potomac at 2 p. m. on the Saturday afternoon. He was fishing with Vernon Houts, 32, Damascus High School teacher, who managed to hang on to the overturned rowboat until rescued.

At the time of the accident the river was swollen from rain and running rapidly. Police worked at the scene of the tragedy for some time with grappling hooks.

English was a fuel oil truck driver for Armstrong, Inc., of Laytonsville. Born near Lewistown, he was the son of Raymond and the late Mary Long English. The family lived for many years near Lewistown and have many relatives in this county. He was a veteran of World War II, serving as a torpedoman 2c in the Navy. Surviving are his wife Mrs. Daisy Belle English, two children, Bonita Faye, five, and David P., two. Also surviving are his father, Raymond J. English, Laytonsville; two brothers, William R., Great Mills, and George K., Washington.

Graveside services were held Wednesday, one month after the accident at the Laytonsville Cemetery at 11 a. m.

Mr. English was the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice G. Keilholtz, Emmitsburg.

Frailey, chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the local American Red Cross fund campaign for 1952, from State Senator Jacob R. Ramsburg, of Frederick, general chairman of the fund campaign for Frederick County, extending sincere thanks for "going over the top."

Special letters of appreciation will be sent to each chairman and to each worker, the Senator said, and in conclusion added "again may we thank you and your workers for a job well done."

Despite the fact that the local goal was increased from $275 in 1951 to $370 for 1952, the quota was exceeded, and including recent additional contributions, the excess beyond quota is now $75.75.

In addition to the local organizations contributing, previously mentioned, namely, the VFW and the American Legion Posts and their auxiliaries, and the Emmitsburg Woman's Club, contributions have also been received from the Lutheran Sunday School and the Emmitsburg Grange.

A.W.O.L. Soldier Gets Six Months Sentence

Awol from Army service since January 7, Private Edward W. Wetzel, Route 1, is lodged in the Frederick County jail awaiting transportation to the Maryland House of Correction to serve a sentence of six months.

Wetzel was sentenced by Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan, Emmitsburg last Wednesday on a third conviction of operating an automobile after his driving privilege had been refused, suspended or revoked.

Chief of Police Robert L. Koontz of the local force apprehended Wetzel at his mountain home and turned him over to State Trooper K. Bond for prosecution on the refused permit charge held by Maryland State Police. Bond said he knew Wetzel has been absent without leave from the Army, but that the state sentence takes precedence over such a military charge when the man is apprehended in the civil jurisdiction. The Army may place a detainer against the awol soldier.

Wetzel's motor vehicle violations Bond said, have three times been of a serious nature, while Wetzel was a minor. Bond said he arrested and prosecuted him successfully for drunken-driving, reckless driving and not having an operator's permit. Fines were levied totalling $135.00.

In 1948, according to State Police, Wetzel was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction, for unauthorized use and additionally fined $200 for driving after that privilege had been refused him by the Motor Vehicle Department.

Wednesday he was convicted of his third offense of driving after the privilege had been permanently refused.

Four College Choirs Unite For Recital

Four college groups and a men's chorus, the Mt. St. Mary's College and the St. Joseph College Glee Club, of Emmitsburg; the Mt. St. Agnes College Glee Club, of Baltimore; the choir of Western Maryland College, Westminster, and the Littlestown Men's Chorus, have accepted the invitation of the Rev. David W. Shum, director of the Mt. St. Mary's College Glee Club, to participate in a Spring Festival of Music at Mt. St. Mary's College on Thursday evening, May 1, at 8:30 o'clock.

Each organization will present two group numbers and one solo or specialty and the program will be closed with selections by the combined choruses under the direction of Prof. Alfred de Long, of Western Maryland, singing, "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by Bach, and the "Gloria" from Mozart's Twelfth Mass. Prof. Oliver Spangler of Western Maryland will be the accompanist for the combined numbers.

The Littlestown Men's Chorus is under the direction of L. Robert Snyder. Prof. de Long will conduct the Western Maryland choir.

The St. Joseph College Glee Club is under the direction of Sister Jane Marie and will have Mrs. Annabelle Melville as its conductor. Fr. Shum, in addition to his own group, will conduct the Mt. St. Agnes College Glee Club whose director is Sister M. Charlita, R.S.M.

Also invited to participate but unable to accept this year were Hood College, Frederick, Wilson College, Chambersburg, and Gettysburg College.

Fr. Shum said that he hopes this will become an annual affair to be held at a different college each year.

The biggest task before the American people today is to restore the powers of Congress—to bring them back to the level at which they stood 25 years ago.

For a quarter of a century, through depression, war, and threat of war, we have lived in an atmosphere of one crisis after another. And in every crisis we have increased the powers of the Presidency at the expense of the powers of the Congress.

Luckily for us there is no one on the national scene who is likely to misuse the great powers of the Presidential office! The fact is, however, that if a man of dictatorial mind were ever elected, he could run every moment of our lives. And he wouldn't need any new grant of power, either. The power is there already.

Our forefathers were wise when they set up the executive and legislative branches of the government to act as checks upon each other, and they were particularly wise when they gave the President certain limited powers and left the rest with the Congress.

But we have gotten away from that sound system. We have weakened the very branch of government—the Congress—which was intended to be the closest representative of the will of the people.

The Founding Fathers also believed, and rightly that the people were capable of directing their government. They rested their belief on the assumption that the people would know what government was doing.

But hand in hand with the weakening of Congress, we have seen the growth of government to the point where it is now so big that the people have difficulty in keeping track of what it is up to.

Military and financial commitments are made to other nations long before the American people have heard of them. Without consulting the Congress, the Executive branch makes decisions which directly affect the lives of American soldiers.

Relations between our government and other governments, of a kind which were formerly dealt with by treaties after full discussion in Congress, are now settled, without public discussion, by the Executive alone.

On the domestic front, government is run and laws are made through a multitude of agencies and sub-agencies responsible to the Executive alone. The decisions of these agencies do not represent the considered will of the people, as arrived at through Congressional debate. Such decisions represent the will of the bureaucrats, and only that.

So many directives are issued over day by these bureaus, and so rapid are the policy changes, that the public cannot possibly know the laws and regulations they are supposed to live by.

Congress is no longer the effective law-making body. Its power has been handed over to the bureau bosses.

The stronger the Executive becomes, the bigger and more complex the government grows, the more Free Enterprise is hampered. Private business, in fact, cannot even keep abreast of the regulations imposed upon it.

This is not democracy as our Forefathers understood it. This is not democracy as it was during the years when this nation was becoming strong and powerful.

Democracy cannot be preserved until and unless the people recapture control of their government.

The first step in the process of restoring government-by-the-people is to restore the powers of Congress. And the first step in restoring the powers of Congress is to concentrate on the election of responsible men and women Senators and Representatives in the coming national elections.

No matter who is elected President, the Free Enterprise system which made this country strong will continue to be in peril until we restore our time-tried system of checks and balances between the branches of our government.

Alumni Will Elect

The annual election of officers of the new year will be held by St. Joseph's High School Alumni Assn. when it meets Sunday in the high school following the 10 o'clock Mass.

Letters have been mailed to alumni announcing the annual banquet and dance. The affair will be held Friday evening, May 30 at 6:30 o'clock at the White House Inn, followed by a dance at the Legion Home in Thurmont.

ANGLING ANGLES BY Old Hi

Want to hitch up with a streak of fighting fury? Want to find out what a spotted trout can do to you on a fly or spinning rod? Then cast a streamer or spinner into the deep riffles of a stream where big rainbows lurk.

When you connect with one of these charged demons on light tackle in the spring freshets, you're in for a rough battle that will tax your skill to the limit. You won't soon forget the tugging, thrashing, lunging of that wild rainbow.

It's no wonder these trout are so popular as game fish... and they're so well tasting, too. One of the finest Old Hi has ever eaten came from a cold mountain stream in Colorado.

You'll find rainbows clear across the country—hefty fellows in the Mt. Shasta region of California; mammoth ones in Lake Pend Oreille, Idaho; whoppers in Michigan rivers; giants in Catherine Creek, New York; lunkers in Maine's wilderness streams and ponds; and some beauties in the mountain waters of North Carolina and Tennessee. And just about any place in between!

For these racing rascals you'll want selected tackle. A good fly rod outfit might consist of a 9-foot plastic impregnated Verner tonkin cane rod, the new Sportcraft single action fly reel with capacity for 100 yards of size HEH tapered or E level nylon fly line, and 6 to 9 feet of nylon leader material.

For spin fishing, you might use a 7-foot tubular glass Berkshire spinning rod, fixed-spool reel, and 100 yards of Skirr nylon spinning line of 6 or 8 pound test. Small wobblers, spinners, and live minnows are excellent baits.

Keep a tight rein on rainbows, for they swerve, leap, and shoot forward with great speed. Also keep the fish moving, for if allowed to pause and rest you may lose the fight.

Let the chapters on steelheads and Eastern rainbows in Old Hi's booklet "Fishing For The Millions" give you the dope on tackle and tactics needed to quell these power-packed broods of the rivers and lakes; you can have a free copy by writing to me in care of this newspaper.

Have you seen Old Hi's new colored movie yet? It's called "Fishing With H-I Power Glass Rods," and you can see it free of charge by getting your friends together and having your nearest dealer make arrangements for a booking.

You'll enjoy the action shown in catching black bass and brown trout, and the interesting "shots" of how solid and tubular glass bait and fly-casting rods are made.

Soon, as the water warms, the fishing for striped bass will begin to improve. Then seaside anglers along the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts will be thronging the beaches with casting rigs, ready to share in this grand sport. Old Hi's illustrated booklets, "Pacific Coastal Fishing" and "Salt Water Sports Fishing" (on the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico seashores) will tell you the proper outfits to handle. Send for your free copies.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Apr. 17—As my readers know, I have thus far been pretty blue about the prospects for business up to election time next November. But, as I told you in my release on unemployment last week, President Truman's decision to pull out of the race has changed my outlook. I feel more optimistic now!

Feelings Control Statistics

When I was a boy in Gloucester, Mass., my father ran a store. He often said to me: "Roger, it isn't how much money people have in the bank that makes them buy my merchandise—no sir, it's HOW THEY FEEL!" That was good advice in 1900, and it is still good.

Just take a look at what's happened in the last year. You'll remember that the bureaucrats and the brain trusters in Washington were warning the nation that a new wave of inflation was just ahead—that there soon would be big shortages again. That was only 12 short months ago. Did these shortages show up? They did not. Why? Because the people who do the buying decided to save more and buy less. The government statisticians could measure inventories, but they couldn't figure out people's feelings!

Everybody Feeling Better

In my opinion, business and the public have both been holding back from making decisions and buying until after the elections. Now, however, with the President making his historic "shall not run" decision, all that is changed. There is a widespread feeling that nearly all of his possible successors would be more kindly disposed of business. A feeling of relief has spread through the county from one end to the other.

Now, this feeling is not something you can measure in black and white. You can't put it into a graph. But, it is the kind of thing that will make a man go out and spend a little more money than he would have before. Just a month ago he may have told his wife that "there'll be no new car this year." Today, however, he may feel that things aren't so bad after all and say: "There is enough in the bank for a rainy day: so, with election prospects looking brighter, why not now enjoy the new car?" This should cause currently high inventories to be pared down.

Swing To Right

There is another important possibility that should not be overlooked. With President Truman out of the running, every effort will be made to pick a candidate behind whom the whole Democratic Party can unite. Now, the big bulk of Southern Democrats happen to be very conservative. If they are to be appeased and kept in line, it is highly necessary that the Convention nominate a team that will be conservative enough to attract full support from the South—like Russell, Kerr, or Stevenson. So the Democrats don't look so formidable to business as they did a few weeks back.

What about the Republicans? Well, to me, it is pretty hard to see any candidate outside of Eisenhower or Taft. It doesn't seem likely that the Convention will be foolish enough to pin its hopes on some "dark horse" that may fall down in the big race. Businessmen generally would feel pretty good right now if they knew for certain that a conservative is to be in the White House next January. Thus, sizing up both the Democrats and the Republicans, it looks to me like a swing to the right!

More Spending Right Away!

Finally, the Democrats know that if business is good and the voters are happy next November 4, they will have a better chance to win again. You can bet that their "smoke-filled rooms" are already busy mapping the strategy for keeping things humming right up to polling time. They may have lost their leader, but they have not lost their sense of direction.

Already we have seen the government granting permission to the military to award contracts to "job distress" areas. It isn't a far step from this to finding other reasons why defense spending should be step-

Glamorous Hobbyist

Lovely Lucille Knoch, who is the glamorous foil for comic Red Skelton on NBC-TV's "Red Skelton Show," in private life has an unusual hobby. She likes cabinet-making and, in spite of the fact that she looks almost fragile, is a fine workman-like carpenter. Lucille, whose soft Tennessee drawl adds to her general air of feminine helplessness, feels that there is no reason why women shouldn't be good carpenters.

"After all," she points out, "it takes precision and an eye for line to work out a dress pattern, and assemble it properly into a well-balanced garment. Those same qualities make a successful carpenter."

In the New York apartment she shares with her husband, Lucille can take credit for a credenza, an end table and a magazine rack—and plans to work on a lot of other pieces.

One of Lucy's other talents, which came to light after she was hired by Red Skelton to be the lovely "straight man" on his television show, is her ability to ad lib comic answers to some of Red's own, often disconcertingly unexpected, ad lib remarks. The other day, Lucy's proud husband was telling Red of the wonderful knick knack shelf she had made, and stated that, although she had followed directions for a standard shelf, Lucy's shelf was completely different, because she had added so many little touches of her own.

"Ah ha!" pronounced Red, "Ad lib again, eh?"

Mrs. Sylvia Wilks of New York, one of the world's richest women, had an estate worth nearly $100 million, more than $31 million of it in a single checking account. The figures were revealed the other day in a Surrogate Court accounting. Mrs. Wilks died Feb. 4, 1951, at the age of 80.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Eyster were Mr. and Mrs. Eston White, Fairfield, and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Hara, Hanover.

Color In Slip Covers

Buying good colors in slip cover material is extremely important. If the colors you buy tend to fade easily you'll find that the slip cover becomes depressing and dull, spoiling the effect of an entire room.

Even the years of additional wear received from a good fabric won't give you satisfaction if the color is gone. For color standards, look for one of these statements, "Best Obtainable Vat Dyes," "Vat Dye" or "Vat Colors."

Washing will not harm vat dye colors. If you remember to rinse the slip covers thoroughly and then hang them in the shade. If the water appears stained, it may be caused by the removal of excess surface dyes.

Looking for a way to use up the canned peaches left on the pantry shelf or in the refrigerator? Here is a simple and delightful recipe for Toasted Peaches. You'll need these ingredients: One teaspoon, grated orange rind, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1/2 peach halves, 1/4 cup melted butter or shortening, and two cups corn flakes, crushed.

First add the rind and sugar to the lemon juice and dip the peach halves in the mixture. Next, dip the peach halves in the melted butter or shortening, then roll them in the crushed corn flakes. As the last step, arrange them cut side down in a shallow pan about seven inches wide and 11 inches long. Put under broiler for about 10 minutes or until brown.

NEW FORD Mileage Maker Six

WINS CLASS "A" In the 1952 Mobilgas Economy Run

Yes, sir... Ford wins again! For the third consecutive year, a Ford stock model car, powered this time by the all-new 101-horsepower MILEAGE MAKER SIX Engine and equipped with Overdrive (optional at extra cost), led every automobile in its price class in the 1952 Mobilgas Economy Run. Over a tough 1415-mile course from Los Angeles to Sun Valley... including dense city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat reaching over 100 degrees, and rugged mountain passes up to 8,000 feet with below zero temperatures... the Ford SIX averaged 58.855 ton-miles per gallon, and 25.463 actual miles per gallon. If you're really economy-minded, this is further evidence of Ford leadership!

TON-MILES* PER-GALLON	MILES PER GALLON

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers), in tons, multiplied by number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Pledge Of Allegiance

There is a lot of nonsense being aired in the controversy over loyalty oaths for teachers. A good deal of it is coming from Leftwing publications, Leftwing writers, and Leftwing organizations. The official Communist DAILY WORKER, for instance, says that it's an outrage to ask a teacher to sign an oath saying he's not a Communist or a member of a Communist-front. This, of course, is to be expected. The surprising thing is that so many self-styled "liberals" oppose the loyalty oath on the ground that it is an infringement on academic freedom.

That's the bunk. The only reason the citizenry of state after state is demanding loyalty oaths for teachers is that there are some Communists teaching boys and girls in our schools and colleges and the citizens consider them poison to the minds of these youth and dangerous to our national welfare. The first loyalty of a Communist, as pledged upon his secret oath, is to the Communist Party of the USSR. They are all committed to the overthrow of the United States by force or violence.

Liberty vs. Communism

John Stuart Mill, one of history's greatest champions of true liberalism, emphasized that individual liberty stopped at the point that it began to endanger the individual liberty of others. If Mill lived today I'm sure he would endorse any device that would assist our nation in rooting out the Communist enemies who are openly dedicated to overthrowing this last great stronghold of liberty and human dignity.

Perhaps the truest expression of the Communist credo was pronounced by Bakunin, the first Russian to work with the Germans, Marx and Engels. It removes all the niceties with which those who oppose the loyalty oaths like to clothe the brutal, Godless doctrine. To those who rallied to the Communist cause when he returned to his native Russia, Bakunin said: "Brethren, I come to announce unto you a new gospel, which must penetrate to the very ends of the world... the old world must be destroyed and replaced by a new one... the Lie must be stamped out, and give way to Truth. The first Lie is God; the second Lie is Right.

Destructive First

"And when you have freed your mind from the fear of God, and from that childish respect for the fiction of Right, then all the remaining chains that bind you, and which are called science, civilization, property, marriage, morality, and justice, will snap asunder like threads. Let your own happiness be your own law! Our first work must be the destruction and annihilation of everything as it now exists; you must accustom yourself to destroy everything, the good with the bad; for if but an atom of this old world remains, the new will never be created."

In contrast to this evil credo are the great Christian documents of the United States—the Mayflower Pact, the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. All the American citizen is asked to say in the loyalty oaths is that he respects such a credo as Bakunin pronounced and accepts the citizenship responsibility of loyalty to the United States. One of the most bitter controversies over the loyalty oaths occurred at the University of California. The oath said: "I do not believe in and am not a member or nor do I support any party or organization that believes in, advocates, or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or by an illegal or unconstitutional method." It's difficult to understand why any American would not willingly take such an oath whenever called upon to do so.

The Vital Areas

A teacher works in the moulding of young minds. And upon the thinking of the young men and women who come from our schools depends the future course of freedom in this nation. Thus the teacher has one of the most sacred responsibilities in American life. No wonder our citizens want to require a commitment against Communism and for the U. S. A. from all people in such vital areas.

Federal judges take special oaths. So do governmental employees in most states. The new Pennsylvania loyalty oath caused Gov. John Fine to say:

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER AND STAYED—

LET'S HAVE ONLY ONE NATIONAL BIRD

S/Sgt. John T. Garner returned to the air force base at Greenville, N. C., where he is stationed, after spend a week with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Garner, Center Square.

Jerry O'Donoghue, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donoghue of Bella Vista, who recently joined the marine corps, is taking his basic training at Parris Island. William Fisher, Hagerstown, visited friends in town last week.

Don't Repeat Past Mistakes, Say Home Wiring Experts

"I have just happily concluded the voluntary taking of the oath. Members of my cabinet and thousands of State employees also eagerly reaffirm their patriotism. My own action has stimulated my love of country. This voluntary act has brought a resurgence of patriotic fervor to me. My cup of allegiance to my Nation and my State has always been brimful—tonight it overflows!" This is the kind of patriotism that citizens have a right to expect of those to whom have been entrusted the children of America and thus the future destiny of the nation.

"LIGHTS ONLY" wiring is as obsolete as the dodo bird, say the home wiring experts. Yet, in the vast majority of cases, the same basic errors are being made today as 30 years ago when "lights only" wiring was installed. Now, as then, most electrical systems are planned only for immediate ordinary uses. Not reckoned with are the many new appliances slated for tomorrow. Result: overloaded circuits with slow, inefficient and costly operation of equipment.

To avoid the cost and nuisance of modernizing your wiring a few years hence, install an expandable system. Provide ample capacity for present and anticipated needs. Then be sure there are a few spare terminals for future circuits in your panel box.

P-E Plans 2-Day 'Open House'

The Taneytown office of the Potomac-Edison Co. is holding an "open house" on Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26, for all P-E customers, their families and friends, according to S. E. Breth, utility company manager.

On both days the store will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., refreshments will be served and prizes will be awarded.

The "open house" is one of a series of similar parties which will be held on the same dates throughout the Potomac-Edison system. Manager Breth has announced that residents are invited to visit any of the utility company stores on April 25 or 26 if they are unable to attend the affair.

In addition to the refreshments and prizes, the latest model 1952 electric appliances will be on display throughout both days and cooking demonstrations will be given by utility company home service advisors.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Flax and son, Donald, have returned to their home here after attending the funeral of Mrs. Flax's mother, in Dayton, Ohio.

Miss Sue Callahan and brother, visitors at the home of Mrs. Lou Eugene, Baltimore, were recent visitors Warthen.

WONDER DRUGS

We enjoy many advantages of modern living which were unknown to our grandparents. We have, for example, the speed of air travel, innumerable labor-saving devices, and the benefits of modern medical science which have been largely responsible for extending our expected life span some 20 years. Recent developments in medicine include the discovery and use of the so-called "miracle" or "wonder" drugs which have helped doctors successfully combat previously fatal illnesses. Among the first of these drugs were those of the "sulfa family." "Sulfa" is the popular name for sulfanilamide and related chemical compounds. Sulfa drugs have proved effective against such diseases as pneumococcus pneumonia, meningococcus meningitis, streptococcus infections, and certain venereal diseases. A little more than a decade ago, a new type of "wonder" drug, penicillin, was developed from a mold, and showed extraordinary power against many types of infections, notably lobar pneumonia, certain types of meningitis, syphilis, and empyema. Penicillin was the first of the famous life-saving "antibiotics," or the germ arresting drugs developed from living organisms found in soil, water, or vegetation. Streptomycin, developed from a soil fungus, is outstanding as the first antibiotic drug to show promise in treating certain types of tuberculosis. Now usually used with a synthetic compound called FAS, streptomycin today is still our most effective drug in TB treatment. Among other drugs developed from soil fungus in recent years are chloramphenicol (Chloromycetin), aureomycin, and terramycin. These drugs have been effective in treating several types of germ-caused diseases, including certain of the pneumonias, brucellosis (undulant fever), Rocky Mountain spotted fever, meningitis—in short, infectious diseases attacking various parts of the body. Meanwhile, the research continuing in laboratories throughout the country will probably result in additional new or improved drugs in time to come. It is important to remember that each of the new drugs has its special use, administered in a particular way, in certain amounts and under certain circumstances. So while we are fortunate in having access to these life and pain saving drugs, it cannot be over-emphasized that they should be used only by and under the supervision of the doctor. The new drugs are effective solely in the hands of those trained and qualified to use them.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Maryland farmers having price support loans on 1951 crop wheat stored in terminal warehouses in Baltimore and Philadelphia were notified this week by James A. Cottman, Acting Chairman of the Maryland PMA Committee, that the note comes due April 30. Failure to settle the indebtedness against the grain will result in the government taking over the grain on that date. Price support loans are made for the purpose of establishing a "floor" under the market. If the market at harvest time breaks below this floor, or if the farmer feels that the market will recover above harvest time prices sufficiently to allow him to sell above this floor figure to realize a profit, he may secure a price support loan. Under this loan program the grain becomes the security for the note. If the expected market increase does not develop, the government takes over the grain and the loan figure is considered the sale price to the government. Farmers having loans on farm-stored wheat or barley were advised by Mr. Cottman that action to take over this grain will be postponed from April 30 to May 15. This gives the farmer an extra 15 days during which he can sell if the market justifies this action. All farmers were advised to watch the market closely and act to their best advantage. Faster Service Provided Direct, "over-the-counter" service on price support loans was assured to Maryland farmers on crops to be supported in 1952, ac-

ording to Mr. Cottman. Action is and the transaction will be completed there. Farmers will have their choice of borrow directly from the government or dealing with a bank operating under a lending agreement. Principle advantage of this change, Mr. Cottman pointed out, will be faster service to the farmer. Formerly the farmer who borrowed directly from the government had to wait for the loan documents to be mailed to the State PMA office where a draft was drawn and then mailed to the farmer. Many farmers were forced to borrow from the government because no local banks were operating under a lending agree-

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat LIBERTY is WEALTH

THE IDEAS OF SUCH MEN AS ROGER BACON, PHILOSOPHER AND SCIENTIST OF THE 13th CENTURY, MET LITTLE ACCEPTANCE AND EVEN ACTIVE DISCOURAGEMENT IN THE TIMES AND ENVIRONMENT IN WHICH THEY LIVED. THEIR RECOGNITION HAD TO COME LATER.

IN OUR DEMOCRACY, THE MODERN ROGER BACONS ARE ENCOURAGED TO THINK, INVENT AND DISCOVER ACCORDING TO THEIR BENT—A FREEDOM THAT NOT ONLY ENRICHES THE SPIRIT, BUT THAT PAYS OFF IN SOCIAL BETTERMENT AND INDUSTRIAL POWER. MORALLY AND MATERIALLY, THE LIBERTY OF THE INDIVIDUAL IS THE FORCE IN HUMAN PROGRESS.

Flowers At Every Plate

To catch those first summer breezes, why not set your luncheon table on porch or terrace? In such a gracious, informal setting, the hostess can save steps, too—by bringing all food accessories, from lemonade to coffee—to the table at once. An appropriate pattern in fine china is the lovely Rutledge, shown here, made by Lenox. The china itself is richly creamy and translucent, and the Rutledge pattern features tiny clusters of light blue, dark blue, orange and yellow flowers, in raised enamel, sprinkled on a gracefully fluted border.

FORD WINS AGAIN! TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A"

IN THE 1952 Mobilgas Economy Run

Ford's the Class "A" Winner for 3rd Consecutive Year!

New Ford Mileage Maker SIX Thriftiest in its Field!

Again this year . . . Ford was first in gas economy over all cars in its price class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. In this toughest test, a Ford Six with Overdrive (optional at extra cost) averaged 53.855 ton-miles per gallon and 25.463 actual miles per gallon. A very important contributing factor is Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas. Pound for pound, Ford's All-New Mileage Maker Six is definitely the most economical low-priced car to run!

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons consumed.

HERE'S THE CERTIFIED AAA PROOF

SALTY YARN

Those little salt shakers on Maryland dining tables carry a big load—more than 14 million pounds a year.

That's the amount of table salt that Marylanders sprinkle on their food annually, according to estimates of American Can Co., the firm that developed the fibre salt box with the aluminum pouring spout.

The container-making company's Maryland estimate was based on a national average consumption of six pounds of table salt per person a year for seasoning. This is in addition to the salt already in food or added by canners and packers.

Laurel Concludes Successful Meet Tomorrow

The fifth and final full week of racing at Laurel Race Course will be climaxed this week by the 21st running of the $10,000 added Rowe Memorial Handicap, a six-furlong fixture for three-year-olds and upward.

The joint Laurel-Bowie session ends on Wednesday, April 30, with another running of the $7500 added Bowie Kindergarten Stakes for juveniles at five furlongs, as the closing day feature.

The Rowe, won last year by Bedford Stable's Call Over, drew 25 nominations when the race closed last Mar. 15. Of that total, a count among the eligibles reveals that the starting field may number 10.

Expected to face Starter Eddie Blind are Blue Stone Farm's War Carolyn K Stable's Whiffenpoof, Alan T. Clarke's Senator Joe, Walter A. Edgar's Jack the Great, Hampton Stable Inc.'s Easy Whirl, Henry H. Hecht's The Pincher, Henry A. Kimball's Algasir, Stanley C. Mikell's Repetoire, Mrs. Sam Pistorio's Tuscany and Harold H. Polk's Rocky Heights.

Of this group, Senator Joe, Jack the Great, Algasir, and Rocky Heights have been winners at the local session. Algasir was the lone member of the foursome to account for a stake at the present session when he got home first in the Capitol Handicap on opening day.

Repetoire, beaten out in the Capitol in his initial start of the year, likewise was among the also-rans in the Paumonok Handicap at Jamaica earlier in the month, but this fellow is particularly fond of the Laurel track, having won both the Cherry Blossom and Chesapeake Stakes there last spring.

Tuscany, a swift one when right has just been put back into serious training by Bowes Bond.

Non-Laying Hens Cut Flock Profit

If a "layer" isn't laying in the spring, she never will lay!

That perhaps is an exaggeration, but actually it is a pretty good yardstick. This is the time when the flock should be at peak production. If some hens or pullets are not producing, they are costing you money.

You can't afford "star boarders" who don't work for their keep. Egg prices are lower now, but feed costs are not. So, cull those non-layers!

Day-By-Day Culling It isn't hard to spot the non-layers. Taking care of a flock every day, you will tell which birds aren't laying. They'll have a small, pale, scaly comb. Their eyes will be dull.

Pick up the suspect and examine her. If a bird isn't laying, the abdomen will be hard or fatty; the vent will be small, puckered, and dry; and the color will still be very much in the beak, eyelids, and ear lobes.

These are signs of a non-layer. If, in addition to these, the bird has poor body capacity—two fingers or less—it is obvious she'll never make a layer. She should be culled immediately.

Regular culling not only gets rid of the feed-wasters, but also provides meat for the table or for sale. It is a fact that non-layers often lose weight, so it is important to cull them as quickly as they are noticed.

Management Is Important The above applies to those individuals which are the exception in an otherwise-good flock. However, if the production of an entire flock is low at this time, then better look elsewhere for the reason. It is quite possible in management, or there may be unsuspected disease.

In order to produce well, the flock must have a comfortable house with plenty of equipment, the diet must be good, and disintegrated flock's production is not easy must be controlled. If the entire flock's production is not where it should be, look for the reason among these things.

LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

TELEVISION - RADIO - HOLLYWOOD

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A lot of things can be said about Lowell Jackson Thomas, 59, the CBS Monday through Friday newscaster. His 22 years on the air is the longest continuous run of any program of any type in radio. His voice has been heard more by more mortals than any other voice in history. He is easily the most traveled reporter.

Because Thomas likes to include in his broadcasts stories such as expeditions hunting for lost gold in the Incaes or loot on the Spanish Main, the Treasure "Hunt" Club of New York recently named him "Mr. Treasure Hunter of 1952." He received with the citation a piece of crystalline calcite from the Louis XVI Cavern in Haiti, where the French king is said to have buried his treasures. Lowell has added this to a fireplace, in his home in the Berkshires, built of stones from odd sections of the world. Here he plans to relax and "remember" when he tires of traveling about—maybe 30 to 40 years from now!

ADVENTURE AND INVENTION

The 17-year-old "Cavalcade of America" (Tuesday nights, NBC), long one of radio's busiest winners of top awards (The Peabody, Freedom's Foundation, some 50-odd others), offers an interesting variety of dramatic fare for the early spring season. Among the April shows: "The Nurse Who Forgot Fear" and "Yankee and the Scales." U. S. Army nurse Lieut. Jonita Ruth Bonham, Oklahoma, was "Quite a dame!" The soldier speaking-one of the 27 rescued from icy Japanese waters by Jonita while she herself suffered compound injuries.

... 27 saved

The second is the dramatic story of a hard-dreaming New Englander who made his dreams a reality.

Thaddeus Fairbanks took an instrument and built into it the first improvement in two thousand years—an instrument now scattered over America by the millions, the Fairbanks scales.

CAREER UNPLANNED

Mrs. Oscar Bradley, one of radio and television's most successful musical arrangers and supervisors, has reached a strange anniversary—the 10th year of a career for which she never planned. Mrs. Bradley sets the musical moods for TV's "We the People" (Friday nights, NBC-TV) and radio's Thursday night (NBC) "Counter-Spy." When her husband, the late Oscar Bradley, was stricken with paralysis 10 years ago, Mrs. Bradley, a talented pianist, pitched in and shared his labors. She became a master "bridge," which the "stinger," which punctuates them, and other musical nuances that you more feel than hear on good dramatic programs. After her husband's death in 1943, Mrs. Bradley carried on his work. She is today a mainstay of her profession.

WENDY'S CONTEST

A nation-wide search for the best local news story by a woman commentator on CBS radio is under way—an annual contest sponsored for the third year by the mid-day CBS program, "Wendy Warren and the News." Rules are simple. Commentators simply submit—suitable for broadcast in one minute or less—what they feel is the most colorful, human interest news story covered by them locally... searching again during the year. Grand prize is an all-expense paid trip to New York and an appearance on the popular combination news and dramatic network show starring "Wendy" as reporter and newspaper woman. Entries close May 15.

Miss Rupp Elected Sodality President

Miss Helen Rupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Rupp, Baltimore, was elected president of the Association of the Children of Mary at a recent meeting. This is the highest student office at St. Joseph College. As president, she automatically becomes a member of the student council and an honorary member of all organizations on campus.

The Sodality is the leading organization on the campus. All clubs are united under this group. The association annually sponsors the Charity Fair and during the year it is responsible for activities of a spiritual, intellectual and social nature. The year culminates with the crowning of the Blessed Mother in May, by the president.

Miss Rupp, who will be graduated in June, 1953, is a secretarial science major. She has been active in the Dramatic Club, Valley Athletic Assn. and an officer of the class. She attended Seton High School.

Thurmont Citizens Study New Charter

More than 100 Thurmont residents filled the Thurmont American Legion Post Home Monday night to discuss the proposed new charter for the town.

Thomas S. Glass, town attorney, read the proposed charter, as it will be presented next Monday to the voters for approval, paragraph by paragraph and explained their meaning.

Some criticisms were raised from the audience, but no major objections were voiced to the general text, intended to modernize town government procedure and at the same time retain most of the legislative powers with the town officials rather than the State Legislature. Opposition to several paragraphs pertaining to the Guardian Hose Co. and its methods of operation is expected to be voiced next Monday.

In addition to voting on the new charter the Thurmont voters also will elect a president of the Board of Commissioners, generally referred to as mayor, and two other members of the board. None of the candidates nominated last week has withdrawn.

PENN-MARYLAND LEAGUE LEAGUE OPENS SUNDAY

Manager Jack Rosensteel of the Pen-Mar Baseball team has scheduled Sunday's practice session for the Mt. St. Mary's diamond due to a game to be played on Community Field here between the Legion Juniors and New Windsor representing the curtain-raiser of the Penn-Md. League.

Transportation will be available to the Mount field for those players requesting it by meeting at the Community Field between 1:00 and 1:30 p. m. Manager Rosensteel also has scheduled practice for Tuesday and Thursday evenings on the local diamond.

CORRECTION

In last week's issue it was stated that a batting cage for baseball practice had been built by the local ball club. This was erroneous as the equipment was constructed by Richard Yeomans and Jack Rosensteel and paid for by the American Legion at a cost of about $60, to be used by the Legion Juniors, sponsored by the local Legion.

Red Skelton's making comedy history with a memorable skit which he first presented to viewers of his NBC-TV "Red Skelton Show" several weeks ago. In it, one of Red's most famous characters, Willy Lump Lump, comes to grief when his wife gets fed up with his carousing — and fastens all the furniture in the living room to the walls so that when the hapless Willy comes home, he thinks the world has gone topsy-turvy! TV audiences laughed so, the skit was not only repeated — and also featured in a color spread in Collier's Magazine, but it has become a permanent part of the Skelton repertoire.

Judson Laire—Peggy Wood

The warm regard in which viewers hold Mama and Papa Hansen on CBS-TV's "Mama," was amply demonstrated when a poll of readers of Radio-TV Mirror Magazine, held on a national basis, revealed that Peggy Wood and Judson Laire, who portray the homey and down-to-earth couple, are the favorite Television Dramatic Actress and Actor.

Virginia Kaye, who portrays "Rosemary" on CBS's daytime dramatic serial feels she has it all over Rosemary for problems. The other day her apartment house was being torn down and she and her husband had to move, bag, baggage, and two lively little boys into a brand new apartment. Everything happened — things got broken, the movers were late — and the climax was when one of the moving men said casually: "That little boy sure is a funny color." Virginia found one of her sons had located some silver paint and carefully, turned himself into the Silver Kid!

Andrew "Bud", Tom, Bobby and Clarence Shorb went to Chain Bridges, Va., on a fishing trip on Saturday night. They caught several hundred fish while on the trip.

Knowledge is Power

1. CAN CHINA BE FREED FROM COMMUNIST DOMINATION?

2. WHO ARE THE CHRISTOPHERS?

(1) "I estimate," says Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, "that Red China can be freed with revolt at the relatively small cost to the U. S. of $500 million a year." Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist soldiers, Chennault points out in "See" magazine, can slip onto the Chinese mainland at night in small groups, and melt into the underground. "The Nationalists on Formosa," he continues, "can and must deliver weapons, ammunition, and equipment for sabotage to the guerrillas on the mainland. . . . Under proper leadership, Chinese, who hate the Reds, can sneak among them, and wreak destruction and death at night."

(2) Some 400,000 persons around the world have dedicated themselves to the job of saving the world from those who are bent on destroying civilization. Andre Fontaine describes the Christopher movement in "Redbook" magazine. Spark plug of the Christophers is its founder, Rev. James Keller, a Maryknoll missionary. Father Keller set up a unique organization. It has no chapters, no committees, no meetings, no dues, no buttons. Yet its adherents contribute half a million dollars each year to aid in the fight against the godless. Father Keller is convinced that "less than one per cent of humanity has caused most of the world's recent troubles." He is attempting to mobilize another one per cent who will be equally dedicated to the job of saving our civilization. The Christophers annually give thousands of dollars in cash awards to authors of constructive and ennobling literature, movies and plays.

(3) "No automobile can impress the mob with the dignity and might of the law so effectively as a mounted policeman," comments Agnes Rothery in her book, "New York Today." The horses are driven directly at and through mobs on streets. The rioters "do not know that the horses are trained not to trample, strike, or bite, but only to push. When rioters see the powerful beasts coming at them, they disperse. . . ."

Homemakers To Convene

The seventh National Home Demonstration Week will be observed by Homemakers' Clubs this year from April 27 to May 3. The Frederick club will have on display in the C. Burr Artz Library until April 30 an exhibit showing examples of what homemakers can do in their homes besides routine jobs.

ROBERT LEE MARTIN

Robert Lee Martin, well-known citizen of Thurmont, died suddenly at his home Sunday morning about 10 o'clock, aged 47 years, 10 months, and 16 days.

A son of Mrs. Belva L. Weller Martin and the late Frank R. Martin, he was employed as a meat cutter in an American Store at Frederick. He was a member of the Jr. O.U.A.M. and a former member of the Thurmont Lions

"Best" May Be Worst

The American family which gives the "best" to its children may be producing "the best loafers, the best dilettantes, the best complainers, shirkers, whiners, and neurotics," Dr. O. S. English, a Philadelphia psychiatrist, opined in a recent address at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Edward Eckenrode, Hanover, Pa., visited with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold, on Sunday.

Club

Surviving besides his mother is his widow, Mrs. Lucille Eby Martin and three children, Mrs. Gerald P. Fitzgerald, Thurmont; Miss Lila Lee Martin, Washington, D. C., and Frank R. Martin, at home; also one brother, Harold K. Martin, Thurmont, and a sister, Mrs. Gladys Warthen, Baltimore.

SCIENCE and HEALTH

OF THE HALF-MILLION HEART DISEASE DEATHS IN AMERICA EVERY YEAR, NEARLY 3000 ARE ATTRIBUTED TO ANGINA PECTORIS...

471,469 Americans died of heart disease during 1948. Of this figure, 2,687 deaths were attributed to angina pectoris, characterized by severe spasmodic chest pain. Angina pectoris is caused by an insufficient supply of oxygen reaching the heart. Attacks are brought on by effort or excitement. Treatment requires a drug capable of easing the blood vessel contraction. To meet this need, chemists have converted one of the ingredients used in explosives into a new drug. Peritrate, developed by the Chilcott Laboratories, Morris Plains, New Jersey, can be expected to help three out of four angina pectoris patients. Reports in a recent issue of the "Journal of Angiology" indicate that 75 per cent of patients will experience fewer attacks and less pain after treatment with Peritrate. Important to angina pectoris sufferers is that Peritrate does not cause splitting headaches which often accompany use of nitroglycerine, usually prescribed for relief. Even more important, use of the new drug will permit many victims of the disease to work and play again.
