

Most Anything At A Glance

—BY ABIGAIL—

Well now that the big clam-bake in Chicago has subsided, we can all settle down for a short respite until Monday when the Democratic fireworks begin to pop, and I mean exactly that. Most of us thought the GOP was split at the convention. Well folks, let me tell you that "you ain't seen nothing yet."

For some reason or another practically everyone I have talked to seemed greatly interested in what went on at the convention. I, myself, lost a considerable amount of sleep that week, never getting to bed before 1:30 a. m. Why I did it, I can't tell. I am not a Republican but there was some inherent force that drew me to the television set. Perhaps it was because of the magnetic personality of the General and the fact that I was opposed to Taft and wanted to witness his downfall that I lost all that sleep. Anyway, I feel that we all learned a little about how the selection of candidates occur and I am of the opinion that we, the people, do not have enough to say about who is to be selected and elected. There is too much room for "bossism" under the present arrangements of picking candidates and appointing delegates. I feel that we should elect the delegates just as we do the candidates. We can all be proud of the excellent nominating speech our Governor McKeldin delivered. Boy, that fella's an orator.

Personally, I don't see how the Demos are going to end their session in a week what with the array of candidates in the field. Somebody's got to hustle some to make the deadline. By the way, does anyone remember if a convention has ever lasted more than a week? Never in my recollection has it occurred. Well, there's a first time for everything they say. While things appear a little dark now for the Democrats, what with Ike to beat, I feel that following the convention a clear solid front can be attained. Corruption gets a lot of front page space and many believe that it will play an important factor in the coming election, but to my knowledge it doesn't seem to work that way. Take the Tea Pot Dome oil scandal which broke during the regime of President Harding. Did the public vote out the administration? No, you bet they didn't. They followed up with two successive GOP Presidents, Coolidge and Hoover, so you see that the present wall of corruption isn't going to weigh very heavily in favor of the elephant. Not that I condone such action, but I do think it is highly over-played. After all, did the President cause it? Don't we have two Houses to overrule him? Who elected him? Both side are to blame for this sad debacle in Washington and I think that we should pay extreme attention to the Senators and Representatives we elect, even more so than the Chief Executive.

It doesn't appear that any action will be forthcoming from the State Roads Commission as to improvements to the Route 15 section which it simply ruined recently when it "resurfaced" a section of that highway going through Emmitsburg. I understand the Commission is fully aware of the situation here, having read my recent column on the matter and are apparently taking the usual "public-de-damned" attitude. In the meantime residents are suffering miserably from loss of sleep caused chiefly by the torrid weather and the constant roaring of the traffic over Route 15 all night. Truthfully, I pity those citizens living along the road. Nearby residents living as far away as a half mile from town claim they very discernably hear the roar as the cars whiz by. Under the present Commission's set up I agree heartily with the Town Official, who said that we made a mistake by ever granting the State jurisdiction over our highways. It is believed that we could maintain them and keep them in better condition ourselves now that we receive annual appropriations of the tax monies.

Civil Defense Seeks Women Volunteers

The Emmitsburg Civil Defense Agency went on 24-hour duty July 14 in compliance with a request by national defense authorities. A lookout tower has been installed atop the VFW building on the Square and Lumen F. Norris and Everett Chrismer, in charge, acting as representatives of the VFW, have appealed for more volunteers to man the station during this 24-hour vigil.

David G. McIntosh III, State Civil Defense Director today said "Many patriotic citizens of Maryland are responding to the call for 24-hour operation of the aircraft observation posts." The Air Force has asked that volunteers maintain a constant watch from the 20,000 posts in 36 states. Maryland has 149 posts. To forewarn the country of a possible sneak attack these posts are absolutely essential to supplement the existing radar net. The posts also play a vital part in supplying the information which is needed to direct fighter interceptors against unidentified aircraft.

In case some people think that we can wait until later to complete our air defense, the State Director pointed out that military intelligence reveals that Russia could at present launch 400 large bombers capable of dropping atom and other bomb loads on any part of our country. This presently existing possibility should not be confused with the frequently mentioned date of 1954 which is the year often quoted in public statements for long range planning purposes, when we must be prepared to meet sustained, repeated attacks. As stated by Thomas K. Fineletter, Secretary of the Air Force in an address recently delivered to State Civil Defense Directors at the Pentagon:

"Let me stress again as I have stressed before: 1954 is the date the joint chiefs of staff estimate the Russians can deliver a long series of sustained attacks. We had to have that date as basis for our calculations so we could plan a buildup to a carefully calculated strength to discourage the Russians from such an attack and to meet it if it comes. But this does not mean—and please never forget this—that we are safe until this theoretical planning date is reached. The Russians are capable today of delivering a serious blow. 1954 is the estimated date of sustained, repeated attacks; today is the estimated date of a serious blow that could be disastrous."

"It would be folly of the most terrible sort to fail to take every possible step to prepare for such a blow. It is literally imperative that we take every step in our power to guard against this very real danger of immediate attack; anything short of such all-out action would be criminal negligence in the face of known Russian strength."

"Let me say once more—the Russians are at this very moment fully capable of delivering a devastating atomic attack on this country, and none of us are in any position to say that they are not giving the capability very serious consideration. We must have maximum ground observer assistance in guarding against such an attack."

For the past few days Mr. Norris, the local supervisor and Mr. Everett Chrismer, chief observer, have been scouring the town for volunteers in this branch of defense. They report some progress, but the services of several hundred more are needed.

They appeal not only to the men of the community, but to women as well. Anyone from the age of 14 up is eligible. "Operation Skywatch cannot be a success without your assistance." All women who possibly can do so are asked to volunteer a few hours a week in this cause. The men are very eager to devote their time after working hours and during the night watches. Women are badly needed for the daylight hours, it was stressed.

Mrs. Donald Topper has accepted the position as manager of the Hershey 5 and 10c Store.

Mrs. David H. Guise spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell and family.

Locals Defeated In Close Game; Juniors Victorious

Emmitsburg dropped a heart-breaker last Sunday to Littlestown on the latter's diamond, 4-1. The game was tightly played and was a pitcher's duel until the seventh inning when the locals committed two miscues, which cost them the contest. "Pinhead" Mick battled Littlestown's Bill Fuhrman the entire distance, allowing the Pennsylvanians only five hits, while the best his mates could muster were four.

The two teams were tied one-all from the second inning until Emmitsburg weakened in the seventh frame and Littlestown came up with three runs to ice the game.

Union Bridge took over the top slot in the Pen-Mar Baseball League Sunday when it broke a tie for first place with Thurmont by gaining a 5 to 1 victory.

Fairfield rolled up the highest run total of the campaign when it crushed Westminster 24-2 on the latter's field, the game being called after seven innings. Fairfield tabbed nine runs in the seventh. Chet Cornwell hurled for the victors. B. Weikert homered for the winners with Johnson, Deardorff and Cornwell adding triples.

Cashtown routed New Oxford on the latter's field, 12-7.

EXHIBITION BALL GAME

Announcement has been made that an exhibition girls' baseball game between the New York Nifties and Philadelphia Fillies, will be staged here Sunday evening, July 27, at 6 o'clock, under the auspices of the Emmitsburg club of the Pen-Mar League.

State Farm Tour Scheduled For August 8

The 1952 Four-State Farm Tour to be held Friday, August 8th at the Middleburg Branch of UPI's Experimental Station, approximately 30 miles southeast of Winchester, Va., on U. S. Route 50, will feature important tests being conducted in the various major phases of grass farming.

At this relatively new test farm, given to VPI by the Mellon family of Pittsburgh, answers are being developed for the many problems involved in grass farming that affect all farmers who are using grass as a major feed for either dairy or beef cattle. Results of the station's tests are of increasing importance to farmers of this area because they are accurately measured while only observational values are made by the farmers on their own farms.

The soil, climate and topography of the Four-State Tour site are similar to those in this area. Thus, farmers may see experiments being conducted under conditions similar to those on their own land.

At the Middleburg experimental station, studies are being made on all types of silage grasses, hay grasses and pasture mixtures. Those attending the Tour will be able to see these experiments in their initial stages; later they are invited to return to the Station to secure continuing test results. VPI officials have made the Middleburg Station available as a "source of continuing information" for those interested from this section.

Experienced personnel will be on hand throughout the Tour to answer questions concerning the various tests being conducted.

Herman Stockslager, president of the Four-State Farmers' Committee, stated this week that the 1952 Four-State Farm Tour will be one of the "most beneficial and instructive ever held."

President Stockslager said the value of the Tour will not only come on Tour day, but in the future as local farmers make use of the station's test results to better their own management of grasses for hay, silage and pasture.

Farm Safety Week To Be Observed

National Farm Safety Week, July 20-26, has been proclaimed by President Truman to encourage farm people to recognize hazards on the farm and in the home, and to give special attention to eliminating these threats to their safety.

A. V. Krewatch, Extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland, says, "this week is the time for adopting right attitudes toward safety for the entire 52 weeks of the year." According to the National Safety Council, last year there were 15,000 deaths caused by 1.3 million accidents in farming operations. Farm work accidents claimed 1000 lives. There were another 4000 accidental deaths in the farm home, and 6000 deaths caused by accident with motor vehicles.

Here are some hints from Mr. Krewatch on safer living: "Never use a rickety chair, table or box for climbing—always use a sturdy stool or stepladder. Make it a rule never to smoke in bed. Dispose of all rubbish promptly. Disconnect electrical heating appliances immediately after use."

"When lifting, keep your back straight, knees bent and feet apart so that your leg and not your back muscles do the work. When carrying objects, hold them so that they don't block your view."

"Learning safe ways will result in few accidents and deaths on our farms and in our farm homes," the agricultural engineer says.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Wivell and twins and Mrs. Joseph Wivell and son, Joey and Joe Fitzgerald, enjoyed a picnic at Marsh Creek Sunday evening.

The annual bazaar of St. Joseph's Catholic Church will be held on Saturday, July 26. Chicken and ham suppers will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis have moved to the Harner apartments on the Square.

J. Ward Kerrigan Installed As Lions President

J. Ward Kerrigan, a charter member of the organization, was elected and installed as president of the Emmitsburg Lions Club at its regular meeting held Monday night in the Lutheran Parish Hall, President C. A. Elder presiding during the installation. Aside from being a charter member, Mr. Kerrigan also was the first president of the group which received its charter in 1929. Deputy District Governor Edward Derr of New Windsor, made the installation and gave a short talk.

Secretary-treasurer John J. Dillon gave the annual financial report, which was accepted as presented. Tickets to the Community Fund's benefit baseball game were distributed to the members present.

Retiring President Elder expressed his appreciation for the co-operation received during his reign and thanked Prof. William Sterbinsky for his services as club musician during the past year.

President Kerrigan appointed a committee of George L. Wilhide, Herbert W. Roger and C. A. Elder to make arrangements for the Lions annual picnic which is held each year about this time. Time and place will be announced.

Other officers installed Monday included first vice president, John J. Hollinger; second vice president, Edward G. Stull; third vice president, Clarence E. Hahn; secretary-treasurer, Robert E. Daugherty; liontamer, Dr. John J. Dillon; tailtwister, Herbert W. Roger; trustees, Charles Spriggs, Charles R. Fuss, and Herbert W. Roger. President Kerrigan announced that he will name the standing committees of the club at the next regular session.

New Policy On Road Construction Is Set Up

At the suggestion of the County Commissioners, the Roads Board this week passed a resolution setting policy on new road construction where rights-of-way are needed.

In the future, it was agreed, the burden of getting rights-of-way will rest with petitioning delegations. The Roads Board and Commissioners are willing to lend every assistance, it was explained, but the petitioners will have to provide rights-of-ways before construction is authorized.

Members of the Board of Commissioners said they think too much time is being lost on authorizing projects awaiting final securing of all necessary rights-of-way.

If people want a particular piece of road improved, it was pointed out, they should be enough interested to obtain any rights-of-way required.

Roger H. Willard, County Engineer, reported that the T. Edgie Russell Co. has started work on the two-mile link of Old Frederick Road from Route 76 to Route 15, south of Emmitsburg at the Toll House.

The board also recommended the awarding of a contract to the Russell firm for construction of the Catocin Creek Bridge and approaches on the Jefferson-Broad Run Highway.

Earlier, the Russell firm submitted the low bid of $200,754.50.

It was explained that the bid for construction of the bridge is actually $137,500. The County is obligated to build the bridge and the eastern approach, which will cost $8500. The State Roads Commission is in charge of construction of the western approach. State and Federal funds will help finance the County's part of the contract. State and Federal funds will pay for the SRC portion of the contract.

'Approval of letting the contract will be sought of the State Roads Commission and the Bureau of Public Roads, which is in charge of Federal Aid road projects.

Mrs. B. P. Ogle and Mrs. A. A. Martin have returned home after spending a week visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Charles S. Owens, Coshocton, N. Y. They also went to Watkins Glen and Niagara Falls.

Benefit Affair Will Continue Today & Sat.

A crowd of approximately several thousand lined the streets of Emmitsburg last night as the mammoth parade threaded its way through the main thoroughfares of the town. While not quite so elaborate as the affair held last year for Old Home Week, the parade was considered a success from all angles.

Thursday Eve. Benefit Game

Plans are complete for the annual benefit baseball game which is sponsored by the Community Fund of Emmitsburg, it was announced this week by President Paul A. Keepers.

A committee composed of Dr. John J. Dillon Jr., Edward Lingg and C. A. Elder has been at work securing an opponent for the Emmitsburg Pen-Mar team and has come up with the services of the crack Camp Detrick baseball team from Frederick.

Each year the Fund sponsors events of this type in an effort to raise sustaining funds for another year's operation, and in the past they meet with considerable success. This is the only means, it was pointed out by officials, that the organization has of obtaining operating funds as no public subscription is asked.

The contest will be staged on the local Community Field next Thursday evening, July 24, and game time has been set at 6:15 o'clock. Local sportsmen will act as umpires and refreshments will be on sale at field concession stand.

Donations of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children are being asked.

FINISHES PROCESSING

Pvt. Donald E. Hahn, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hahn, Emmitsburg, has completed processing at the 2053rd Reception Center and is assigned to the Ordnance Replacement Training Center, Aberdeen Proving Ground, for army basic training.

He will receive eight weeks of training in basic military subjects necessary for all soldiers. This will include qualification firing with the carbine or M-1 rifle. The last eight weeks of the 16-week course will cover advanced individual subjects and the basic fundamentals of this arm of the service.

Jap Beetles Lighter Here This Year

Initial reports from Japanese beetle checking centers in five county districts have shown that over 250,000 of the pests were trapped during a 10 day period starting the first of July but failed to immediately indicate whether there was much change over last year.

County Agent Henry R. Shoemaker, who said the catch in most instances seemed rather light, expected that some comparative figures would be available by next week to indicate whether the beetle was increasing or decreasing in the county, as a whole.

The checking traps are maintained at Burkittsville, Emmitsburg, Urbana, Creagerstown and Jefferson. The initial reports indicated that like last year, the infestation is now worse in most north-county areas than it is in the south, where the beetles first got a head start.

The first report, for instance, lists catches of 138,000 at Creagerstown and 59,000 at Emmitsburg as compared to 37,000 at Urbana, 24,000 at Burkittsville and only 15,000 at Jefferson.

Last year, only one-third as many of the beetles, on an average, were reported in the county as the year before.

BANNS PUBLISHED

The banns of marriage were published for the first time on Sunday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church between Dolores Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Joy and Prof. Robert Henke, of Emmitsburg. The wedding will take place August 9 at 10 a. m.

Keep the heat low in baking custards.

The affair marked the initial opening of the annual three-day carnival which is sponsored by the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce with the support of other local organizations, for the benefit of the Memorial Hall building fund.

Last year the affair netted around $1500 which later was presented to the Hall Assn.

Included in the line of march last evening were the following parade units: State Police, Mayor and Commissioners, Legion drill team and color guard, Westminster Municipal Band, Mt. Airy Fire Co., New Midway fire truck and ladies' auxiliary, Owings Mills fire truck, Gettysburg Fire Co. and Blue and Gray band, Thomas Bollinger, a float; Vigilant Hose Co., two trucks; VFW ambulance, 74th drill team marching unit, Reisterstown Fire Co., Parkville (Hanover) fire unit and drum corps, Lions Club float, Guardian Hose Co. truck, Thurmont; New Windsor ladies' auxiliary, Thomas Ginnell, old car; Union Bridge fire truck, Emmitsburg Grange float, Taneytown Fire Co. and drum corps, and the Emmitsburg Municipal Band. In all about 35 units participated in the parade.

Judges were Sheriff Paul R. Buhrman, Lt. May, and another Frederick dignitary. Winners were announced at 10 o'clock last evening, too late for publication. The entertainment last night was provided by Woody's Rhythmic Rangers. The delicious beef barbecue which first was held last year, again caught the fancy of those attending the carnival of last night. Under the supervision of Mr. Walter A. Simpson, the beef was barbecued in an earthen pit and roasted Wednesday evening. Another barbecue delight will be held Saturday night, the closing evening of the affair.

On the grounds for the entertainment of all are amusement booths of all description, including Hoopla and Bingo. The eating stands and bingo tables have been enlarged this year to accommodate more patrons.

Tonight and Saturday night, Bernard H. Boyle, general chairman of the carnival, announced, the music will be furnished by the Emmitsburg Municipal Band under the direction of Walter A. Simpson.

Four types of rides are available for the children and teenagers, a much better selection than last year. Delicious foods of all types are also available on the grounds.

Mrs. Watkins Hosts Mite Society

The regular monthly meeting of the Mite Society of Trinity Methodist Church was held Friday evening at the home of its president, Mrs. Estelle Watkins. The new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Byron H. Keesecker, were present at this meeting. Following the invocation, which was given by the new pastor, there was a brief business session, during which the hostess presided. The members decided to adjourn for the summer and reconvene on Sept. 26 when the next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Frailey. Mrs. William A. Frailey, Mrs. Charles R. Fuss and Miss Edythe Nunemaker were named by the president to serve as a nominating committee preparatory to the election of officers at the October meeting. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Topper and son, Michael and the Misses Leota and Adele Topper left on Monday morning for New York where they met Patricia Topper who arrived from Paris aboard the S. S. United States Tuesday. Miss Topper has been abroad for two years studying art the Beaux Arts in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Wivell and family spent last Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell and family.

IKE'S BIG TASK

General Eisenhower has unmatched experience — as Supreme Commander in World War II and in the postwar Atlantic Treaty set-up—in forging a coalition of free but widely differing nations into a weapon of victory. These tasks called for quite as much in the way of statesmanship as in military genius, and Ike proved himself well qualified for them.

Now Ike, as Republican nominee for President, faces the task of forging another coalition—this time a domestic political coalition. And it shapes up as the toughest task he has ever had. Simply, he must manage to attract millions of independent and Democratic votes in November, but at the same time he must win the active support of millions of Taft Republicans who bitterly fought him. Unless he can do so, he can't hope to be elected.

Unfortunately, Ike starts out with a handicap—that imposed early in the Republican convention. Arrangements for the convention were in the hands of the Old Guard. And while that faction didn't succeed in putting over its candidate, it did succeed in parading before the convention—and before millions of Americans in the radio and TV audience—a band of speakers who mouthed the Old Guard line.

The MacArthurs, Hoovers, Kems, McCarthys and Cains who peddled near-isolation abroad or reaction at home were repudiated by the convention in its presidential choice. But they were nonetheless the featured speakers, and thus made to seem the voice of true Republicanism. As Time magazine noted, "The (GOP) national committee chose to present a face that was not the Republican Party as it is, but the Republican Party as the Democrats say it is."

One part of Ike's big task is to prove that the face presented by the national committee was a false one. He must assure independent voters that the party under his leadership is not out to undo all the social progress made under the New and Fair Deals, but rather to strengthen that progress and avoid the excesses, waste, and bungling that has marked the Administration in recent years. He must make it clear that the party under his leadership won't be hobbled by the isolationists within it whose numbers are small but whose voice is loud.

And yet, in doing so, Ike cannot afford to drive off all of the party's pro-Taft elements, especially those that still control Republican organizations in Midwestern states. The fact that the convention gave the victory to progressive Republicanism does not change the control at those state levels. Eisenhower can win by drawing independents and discontented Democrats to his side, but only provided he has them plus present Republicans. If those Republicans—in, for example, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, the Dakotas—sit on their hands, then his chances of winning in November are slight. Thus, in stripping off the false face that the Old Guard put on Republicanism at Chicago, Ike must not present a face that will scare away pro-Taft Republicans in the Midwest.

Ike, of course, has many advantages in the coming campaign. He has popularity and a proved talent for leadership. He has a strong issue in the scandals and corruption that have been exposed in an Administration so long in power. He most probably will run against—the first time for a Republican in 16 years—a candidate who does not have the powerful asset of being a White House incumbent.

But if he is to make the most of these advantages he will first have to build that coalition we have been discussing. At this point, one can only ask, can he do it?

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

Representatives of the Maryland District OPS office this week stated that they are maintaining a strict and constant check on new and used car sales in Maryland.

OPS states that it has received reports that because a reduction in the quotas of autos shipped to new car sellers, an increased demand for new and used automobiles might eventually result in the bidding-up of prices.

Several factors are responsible for the reduction of new car quotas by the manufacturer. Less steel is now available for the manufacture of passenger cars as a direct result of the current steel strike, and many automobile manufacturers are giving greater concentration to defense orders.

Maryland OPS Director Hugo R. Hoffman pointed out that current regulations governing the sale of new and used cars now make it easier for the consumer to check ceiling prices. Ceiling prices for new automobiles, including charges made for special, optional and extra equipment, must be posted in a conspicuous place at the seller's place of business. In addition, the purchaser must receive a detailed invoice showing all charges made within seven days after the date of sale. Used automobiles must be tagged with the ceiling price, and the purchaser is required to receive a detailed invoice within seven days.

OPS officials state that many consumers still do not realize that OPS regulations protect them from tie-in sales and from having to trade-in their cars in order to obtain the model of their choice. Regulations clearly state that the purchaser is not required to have a trade-in in order to make a purchase and that he is not required to purchase any special, extra or optional equipment in order to obtain a new or a used automobile.

The OPS used car regulation applies as well to the sale of autos made between individuals who are not engaged in the business of buying and selling used cars.

Q.—How will the recently amended price controls bill affect food prices?

A.—President Truman, Price Director Arnall, and others have stated that removal of price ceilings on processed fruits and vegetables will increase the food bill of the American people, since these items make up 20 per cent of the total food bill in this country. Recent legislation removed controls from fresh fruits and fresh vegetables. Price officials also declare that most fruits and vegetables before removal of controls were at, or nearly at ceiling prices established for them.

Q.—Does the new OPS Restaurant Regulation, CPR 134, cover establishments that serve only food, or does it also cover those that sell beverages?

A.—It covers both.

Q.—Is it now possible for those slaughterers who slaughter only livestock for farmers to register?

A.—Yes. This will enable farmers to have their livestock slaughtered under better and more sanitary conditions than when they did their own slaughtering in their own barnyards.

Q.—Are OPS ceiling price regulations designed to protect only the buying public from high prices?

A.—No. They are also drafted so as to allow the businessman a "fair and equitable" profit.

Q.—How long does the amended price control bill extend the life of OPS?

A.—Until April 30, 1953.

Woodsboro Livestock Market Quotations

The following quotations are those paid at the weekly Tuesday auction of the Woodsboro Livestock Market, Inc.:

Personals

Pfc. Harry T. McNair, USMC, and Mrs. McNair left yesterday for California where Pfc. McNair will be stationed at Camp Pendleton with the newly-formed Third Marine Division FMF Pack Troops. Mrs. McNair will remain for sometime in California with her husband.

Miss Emma Jane Miller returned home Sunday from visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Alnutt and family of near Gaithersburg.

Miss Miller also visited friends in Chevy Chase and Washington, D. C. last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Welty, Rocky Ridge, announce the birth of a son at the Warner Hospital Tuesday morning.

A daughter was born Saturday at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Timmerman, Emmitsburg.

Miss Josephine Fitzgerald of Baltimore, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald, this week.

AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE, GETTYSBURG

Kathryn Grayson, Red Skelton and Howard Keel form the stellar triumvirate of M-G-M's "Lovely to Look At," the attraction playing July 17, 18 and 19 at the Majestic Theater, Gettysburg. With songs by Jerome Kern, gowns by Adrian, and a locale of gay Patee, the new film is hailed as one of the brightest Technicolor musicals of the year. Marge and Gower Champion and Ann Miller are other headliners in the ace cast.

Security

SECURITY, to Americans, has many meanings. In the Army, it can mean a sturdy rifle with plenty of ammunition. Or the affection of a small furry dog, nestled in the crook of an arm. At home, it can be a neat suburban house, a diploma, a business of your own.

Security has as many meanings as there are Americans to defend it.

One good way you can provide security—for your family and your country and yourself—is to purchase Defense Bonds.

It may seem a small thing. Yet every time you buy a Defense Bond you are saving toward financial independence. You are also helping to build a strong economy—just as our armed forces are building the military strength that spells security—and peace.

However small your income you can't afford not to save. Bonds are sold through the Payroll Savings Plan. Why not sign up—now?

HERE'S HOW E BONDS NOW EARN MORE MONEY FOR YOU!

Now safe, sure U. S. Series E Defense Bonds pay an even better return than ever before... thanks to 3 brand-new money-earning features just announced by the U. S. Treasury.

1. Now every Series E Bond you buy begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 3% compounded semiannually, when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 8 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start!

2. Every United States Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without your lifting a finger!

3. During the 10-year extension period, every unmatured bond earns at the new, higher interest (average 3% compounded semiannually). Your original $18.75 can now repay you $33.67. $33.50 pays back $67.34. And so on.

Start now! Invest more savings in better-paying United States Series E Defense Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank!

Peace is for the strong... for peace and prosperity save with U. S. Defense Bonds!

Elevator storage space for Maryland loan wheat is currently less than that demanded by farmers according to a statement made this week by James A. Cottman, acting chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee.

Some terminal elevators in Baltimore, which normally store rail shipments of Eastern Shore grain, are already refusing to accept wheat from Eastern Shore farmers with combining just getting well under way. Demand for loan storage is above normal due to low current market value as compared to support prices. The Maryland State Dept. of Markets is making a study of the situation, and the PMA is clearing storage facilities. Mr. Cottman expects the situation to clear up within a week.

At the present, Eastern Shore wheat moving by boat to terminal storage in Baltimore is being accepted.

The Commodity Credit Corp., which has charge of price support loans, has 200,000 bushels of the 1951 wheat crop in Baltimore storage and is making an effort to ship this grain. When moved, this will free 200,000 bushels of space for storage of the 1952 crop.

Mr. Cottman says, "We don't expect the present shortage of storage space to prevent any Maryland farmer from storing wheat under the price support program."

County PMA committees are keeping in close touch with the storage situation, Mr. Cottman says, and will be able to advise farmers of the situation as it develops further.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Roger, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Connor of Philadelphia, Pa., returned home Saturday from a week's vacation trip through the Midwest.

Homemakers' Corner

Here's a way to fix a beet dish that can't be beaten—and you can be sure the beets will be eaten.

It combines beets with the delicious flavor of honey. To make four servings, the ingredients are:

One tablespoon of cornstarch, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon water or beet juice, two tablespoons of vinegar, one-fourth cup honey, one tablespoon table fat, 2 cups diced or sliced beets, cooked or canned (No. 2 can).

Begin by mixing the cornstarch and salt. Next, blend the water or juice from canned beets, then add vinegar, honey, and fat. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until the sauce is thickened. Add the sauce to the beets, and let stand at least ten minutes to blend the flavors, then reheat.

Freezing Snap Beans

To freeze snap beans you should first wash the beans well, then cut off the stem and tips. You may leave them whole, slice or cut them into pieces, as you prefer. Next, scald them two or three minutes in boiling water.

Scald a small quantity at a time, putting about one pound of the vegetables in a fine mesh wire basket. A wire cover will hold the beans under water. Lower the basket into rapidly boiling water—using at least one gallon or more to cover the beans. Put a lid on the kettle and start counting time.

In case you're wondering why scalding is necessary, scalding lessens the action of enzymes that are found in all living material. Although enzymes help in growth and ripening, they also cause food to lose vitamins as well as flavor and color after the food matures and is gathered. These changes will continue even after you freeze the food if it is not scalded long enough.

After scalding, chill the snap beans quickly and thoroughly. Then plunge the vegetables into iced water, at a temperature of 60 degrees F. or lower until the beans feel cool to the tongue, then drain, pack, and freeze them.

Colonel Hussell Shields Johnston, QMC, retired, U. S. Army, a grandson of the late Rev. Elias S. Johnston, pastor of Elias Lutheran Church in Emmitsburg from 1866 to 1888, was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Charles G. Hoffman, W. Main St., for several days last week. Col. Johnston is a veteran of World War II, serving in Africa, Sicily, Italy, and Japan. He was stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., when he retired June 27, 1952.

BACKLOT FARMING

Feed Only Expense
Raising Pigeons

Pigeons can be added to the average backlot farm as an ideal three-fold project; for squabs, a food delicacy; for fancy pigeons in show competition and for racing pigeons, a highly competitive and thrilling sport.

In choosing birds it is well to select the offspring of recognized winners. Breeding pairs should be young and virile birds and banded for identification when the youngsters are ten days old. The bands cost very little and add much value to the stock being sold as breeders, since identification is important in the pigeon business.

In most cases, feed is the biggest single investment made in pigeons, and it has a whole lot to do with the success of the venture.

Pigeons require proteins, fats, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins for proper growth development and for reproduction, and in the case of racing pigeons, for speed and endurance. According to Purina Research authorities, the feed should be fed just as it pours from the bag. Adding one ingredient, then another to a pigeon feed upsets the balance—and the results.

The only exception would be in extremely cold weather, when a small amount of good quality small kernel corn might be added to furnish extra fuel, and even this might not be necessary.

One good rule to follow is to feed all the Chow the pigeons will consume in 15 or 20 minutes, twice daily. The feed should be given early in the morning and late in the evening, just before they go to roost.

It should always be put in clean containers and not on the floor of the loft or exercise pen.

Allow about a half pound of grit per pair per month, and keep it available at all times in a clean self-feeder.

Drinking vessels should be arranged so that the birds cannot get into them and dirty the water. Keep water before them at all times. Pans of water for bathing are used two or three days weekly and emptied after they have been used for three or four hours.

CAN DO!

Here's one reason why canning industries can pack enough products to meet Maryland's annual demand for 515.4 million cans of products of all types—an average of more than 750 cans for ever family in the state:

Today, just one can-making line of high-speed, automatic machines can turn out the family's yearly supply of cans in less than two minutes!

This answer comes from R. C. Wrightson, Maryland plant manager for the American Can Co., which led in the development of modern methods of container making. He said that at the turn of the century it took six artisans 12½ hours to produce 750 cans.

Mr. Harold M. Hoke is back operating his business after being confined to his home for two weeks as the result of being bitten by a copperhead snake near the Rainbow Reservoir recently.

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through Our Lord Jesus Christ.—(Romans 5:1.)

A measured inch of rain totals 27,000 gallons of water per acre of ground. When an inch of rain falls on the District of Columbia, it brings roughly 1,200,000,000 gallons.

The ancient Romans greatly advanced the art of glass-blowing. They blew it into molds, cutting, decorating and coloring it.

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through Our Lord Jesus Christ.—(Romans 5:1.)

In these days of tension and crisis, when threats of atomic war and destruction hang heavily over us, we seek peace of mind, peace of soul. Books and sermons may comfort us. But where, as individuals and as a nation, shall we find such peace, if we be not 'justified by faith'?

Blueberry Tarts With Lemon-Iced Tea

HERE'S an unusual tart that's become a favorite refreshment in many homes during the blueberry season — Blueberry-Macaron Tarts. The tart shells are filled with a cream cheese and macaroon mix plus a delightful blueberry filling made with those large, juicy, cultivated blueberries. Dab each tart with more cheese-macaroon mix for extra garnish. They're especially good with tingling lemon iced-tea!

BLUEBERRY-MACARON TARTS

(Makes 6 tarts)

1½ tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
3 cups cultivated blueberries washed and well-drained

1 tablespoon margarine
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
6 tablespoons prepared macaroon mix
6 baked tart shells

Combine cornstarch, sugar and water. Add blueberries and margarine. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture is thickened and clear. Cool slightly. Meanwhile, combine cream cheese and macaroon mix. Place a heaping tablespoonful of cheese mixture in each tart. Top with blueberries. Chill thoroughly.

NOTE: If frozen cultivated blueberries are used, thaw and drain. Proceed as with fresh berries. If canned cultivated blueberries are used, drain and proceed as with fresh berries.

Mrs. Paul Henried

A HEAVENLY HAMBURGER: Believing that there's no substitute for good flavor at moderate cost, Mrs. Paul Henried serves tasty hamburgers in her home often. A good hamburger recipe is something every housewife should have on file. They're perfect when a quick meal is indicated and ideal from the standpoint of flavor, nutrition and economy. Whether your family is made up of teen-agers or adults, just about everyone likes this all-American dish. Recipe from Research Kitchens of Blue Bonnet Margarine.

HEAVENLY HAMBURGERS

1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) Blue Bonnet margarine
1 jar (5 ounces) Blue Cheese Spread
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon onion juice
1 pound finely ground beef
1 tablespoon margarine

3/4 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup milk
1 egg, well beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons margarine

6 hamburger rolls

Combine 1/2 cup margarine, blue cheese spread, Worcestershire sauce and onion juice. Blend thoroughly. Mix together beef, 1 tablespoon margarine, bread crumbs, milk, egg, salt and pepper. Shape into 6 patties. Saute in remaining 2 tablespoons margarine. Cut in half and toast hamburger rolls. Spread each generously with cheese mixture. Place cooked patties between halved rolls. Serve on plates garnished with pickle relish and ripe tomato slices. Makes 6.

Now He Takes the Color

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH the distaff side of fashion might be taking a back seat in this summer's fashion picture. The best authorities on men's clothes claim that the men are going to outdo the women in color. Everywhere, from Palm Beach to California, men of usual conservative taste are seen at sports events, playing golf or just watching the fish come in, wearing colored slacks, and plain or printed shirts in plaids and checks. Women in their classic pastel sports dresses look plain beside the men. Bright green slacks, farmer's red, gold or bright blue are common sights. All shades of blue are worn. One maker of sports slacks is showing crease-resistant gabardine type slacks of Celanese acetate and rayon in 26 colors. Shirts in gingham checks and novelty acetate textures are among the cool summer fabrics that are popular. (ANS Features)

HIS SLACKS of a gabardine fabric of Celanese acetate and rayon are in banana yellow topped by a novelty textured acetate shirt in medium blue.

World Champion Litter

THE IMPORTANT characters in this photo are the 18 in the foreground — the members of a litter reared at Spring Grove, Minn., to a 56-day weight of 820 pounds. The proud persons in the background are (left and right) Lawrence Meyer and his father-in-law, Edwin Leuhr, owners, and (center) J. S. Van Wert of Farmers Hybrid Hogs, Hampton, Ia., whose geneticists bred the parent stock for high fertility. Meyers raised the pigs on Terralac, the synthetic sow's milk which is effective because it contains terramycin, and fed them pig starter with a high level of terramycin to bring them to the championship weight. The litter is expected to weigh more than 2 tons at 6 months. Before the synthetic milk was discovered last year, a 6-months' weight of 1 ton was regarded as near perfection.

SUMMER DAZE

YOUR UNITED STATES

BY FLOYD CRAMER
PRESIDENT, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE PRESERVATION OF FREE ENTERPRISE, INC.

Sometimes the American people act like spoiled children in a newly-rich family, where every child has a car of its own and yet, instead of enjoying their wealth, the whole family squabbles about who is going to park directly in front of the door.

When we see a situation like that, you and I blame the father of the family.

Well, here in the United States, like the spoiled children, we also are engaged in constant quarrels.

And like the rich man's family, all the domestic problems we do have are largely the result of bad management at the top.

But because we are a democratic nation, the blame for bad management at the top rests on our shoulders.

We cannot put the whole responsibility onto a particular administrator or administration, because we, the people, put them in charge of our affairs.

Furthermore, let's never forget that our whole concept of government is based on the good of the majority, not on one special group getting ahead of the other groups.

The framers of our Constitution were careful not to give any economic group any superior rights to power. Yet, as our history unfolded, particularly in the last 75 years, special interests have begun to vie for power, but actually to claim that they had a "right to it."

By the end of the 19th century, corporations, for instance, had the reins of government securely in their hands. The natural reaction to this behavior by corporation was for the people to rebel against the top dog.

In the past 20 years, this public reaction, has swung so far that new groups have arisen to claim the power of governing.

Labor makes its claim to political power.

Farm groups say they should have special powers because they produce the food. Consumers advance claims because they do the buying and thus maintain the markets. Investors claim rights because they supply the capital that keeps business and industry in production.

In all sanity, the time has arrived when we must put an end to the concept of governing by pitting group against group.

We want neither a ruling class nor special-interest groups. Above all, we do not want our nation divided by playing favorites.

Standing Long Periods Cause Varicose Veins

People go to the doctor for a variety of reasons, the most common of course, being pain and discomfort. Sometimes the motive is primarily one of vanity.

For example, more people are checking with their doctors these days at the first appearance of varicose veins.

For varicose legs are unattractive, with their enlarged, bluish veins swelling above the surface of the skin, sometimes in lumpy masses. Varicose veins, enlarged veins whose walls have lost their elasticity, may occur anywhere in the body, but they are most common in the legs.

There is a reason why legs are most often affected. When a person is standing, blood pressure in the long veins of the legs is increased and the longer a person stands, the greater the strain on the leg veins. Policemen, waitresses, salespeople—those who stand motionless a great deal of the time—frequently suffer from varicose veins.

The function of veins throughout the human body is to carry the blood back to the heart. Most of these veins are equipped with valves which keep the blood from flowing back or settling in the veins. When the valves no longer function properly because of injury or disease, blood that should be circulating becomes a stagnant pool in the vein and a "varicose vein" results.

Varicose veins are rarely fatal. But if they are neglected, they get progressively worse, and cause the suffer more and more pain.

Anyone who suspects the veins of his legs are enlarging, whether or not there is pain, should see his doctor without delay. Prompt medical treatment will bring the patient relief, probably help correct his varicose conditions, and help ward off more serious complications of varicose veins, like ulceration and bleeding.

As far as we know, varicose veins cannot be prevented, but certain precautions can be taken against their development. Tight, circular garters which constrict the veins of the leg should be avoided. Overweight, which places a strain on the other parts of the body, also puts an extra burden on the leg veins and their delicate valves and hence should be avoided. Those whose work calls for standing a great deal should get off their feet for short periods as frequently as possible.

Varicose veins are common, but they should never be regarded lightly. Besides the pain and discomfort they cause in the region of the legs, they constitute a hindrance to normal circulation. The doctor is the best person to treat this detriment to health and personal appearance.

If you overknead baking powder biscuits they are likely to have a tough texture and be a lopsided shape. Knead the dough only about a dozen times when you use a standard two-cup flour recipe.

Will Photograph Court Records For Efficiency

Photographing of deeds and other instruments for permanent record in the Clerk of the Court's office began recently, Ellis C. Wachter, Clerk of the Court said.

A new Kodagraph Micro-file machine has been installed on the second floor of the Court House, and all deeds and most all other instruments taken to the Clerk's office for recording will be photographed on the machine, Mr. Wachter said.

The new photo equipment will replace the present system of typing all instruments, recorded in the Clerk's office. Formerly, all deeds were typed and the typing was read for any errors.

The new photo system accurately photographs each page of a deed or other paper. The negative is then sent away for processing and both the negative film and a photographic copy are returned.

The photographic copy is then placed in books as permanent records and the negatives will be sent to the Hall of Records of the state for permanent keeping also, Mr. Wachter said. "The system is fool-proof and will result in an exact duplication of the original paper," Mr. Wachter continued.

The same photographic system is used in a number of other counties in Maryland as well as in other states. Among the Maryland counties using it are Allegany, Charles, and Howard.

The Micro-file system consists of a camera, four floodlights which illuminate the surface to be photographed, and a timing control mechanism to give the proper exposure time for the film. Authorization for the photographic system has been secured from the State Comptroller.

With more deeds being handled in the Clerk's office than ever before, the photographic system will result in more efficient office operation, Mr. Wachter said. In addition to the micro-film system, a number of new procedures have been introduced into the Clerk's office in the past several years, making it one of the most modern offices in the state.

For best results, simmer rather than boil beans and peas.

ANGLING ANGLES BY Old Hi

Today, fellows, Old Hi has something to say about spin fishing and fish cleaning, in reply to a couple of readers who wrote me for some dope. So here goes:

One angler wants to know if the method of spinning may be used for early season trout fishing, when the streams are high and swift. Well, it sure can... and with good results! The nickel spinners or wobblers, Spinning Wonder, Rangley Minnow, and weighted streamer flies which you cast are all adapted for taking large spotted trout feeding close to the bottom.

This holds for steelheads, cutthroats, Dolly Vardens, rainbows, browns, and speckled brook trout, for they all like minnows and so hit the lures that resemble bait fish in action. These lures hurled out by a tubular power-glass spinning rod 7 feet in length, fitted with a Bradco fixed-spool reel and Skirr nylon spinning line, are just the ticket for those big trout of early season.

Fact is, you'll be apt to take more of these lunkers on such an outfit than by using a fly rod and regular wet flies or streamers without a sinker. You need to get the lure close to the bottom, then retrieve it in a manner that is best created by the rotations of a spinning reel spool.

You add enough sinker weight to get the lure at the right depth, according to the type of artificial used and the swiftness of the current. Then you reel at a moderate rate and twitch the rod tip so the wobbler or streamer acts like a darting minnow. Brother, you'll have brisk action from the trout on your glass spinning rod!

Another reader wants to know how best to clean fish "without getting stuck by the sharp fins." Likely he's referring to the stabbers on bullheads and catfish, or the spines on black bass and similar fish.

You can avoid being punctured by any sharp fins by always using a certain handy tool—carpenter's pliers. The jaws of these pincers are curved just right for snipping off the prongs of catfish, and for gripping and tearing out the fins of bass, etc., after both sides of the fins have been slit by a sharp knife blade.

This is a quick and easy way of disarming a spiny fish, and saves you from getting hurt. I've used these pincers for years, and have found them to be ideal for the purpose.

Old Hi believes you'll be interested in reading the two-part story entitled "A Fishing Party In Bermuda," by Mortimer Norton, in the April and May issues of Fur-Fish-Game magazine. This tells about the exciting sport Old Hi and his friends had last September when we caught various fish in the salt waters off Bermuda. You'll learn what good H-I tackle can really do with rugged fighters.

If you plan on some salty sport yourself this year, get your free copies of Old Hi's booklets, "Salt Water Sports Fishing" and "Pacific Coastal Fishing," by sending a postcard request to me in care of this newspaper. Also ask for "Fishing For The Millions," on fresh water game and pan fish.

"Clothes Make The Difference"

Styles in clothing have gone through some radical changes in the last few centuries. History may prove us wrong, but most of us feel that the trend in our day has been toward more attractive and comfortable apparel.

It's natural for us to think of clothes in terms of comfort, style, and how they improve our appearance. But, for better or worse, clothing can also influence our health.

Clothing protects the body from exposure to the extremes of weather—cold, heat, wind, and rain or snow. It also helps protect the skin from externally caused injuries, bites of harmful insects, and even from certain microscopic germs which can enter the body through the skin and cause serious disease.

Our clothes also can and should aid the body in maintaining normal temperature. Too much or too heavy clothing will overheat the body and, conversely, inadequate clothing can result in chill due to exposure. Either way, the body's resistance is lowered and it becomes vulnerable to illness and disease.

During these July days we are mainly concerned with keeping cool. Sensible eating, working and playing habits during the hot days will, of course, help us cope with heat and humidity. But it also helps to wear light, loose garments which permit free circulation of air and permit evaporation of perspiration.

No hard and fast rule can be made about the amount or weight of clothing a person should wear, at this or any other time of the year. Some people require more, or heavier clothing than others. A safe practice is to stick to the type of wardrobe which is most comfortable, as well as becoming.

Summer or winter, it's the best to "dress for the weather." Some people are fooled by the calendar at this time of year, insist on wearing light clothing despite an unseasonal drop in the temperature. Chill and exposure to cold are not always confined to winter months. Style may dictate the cut of clothes we wear, but the weather has the last word on amount and weight of clothing.

State Mails Annual Tax Dividend Checks To Towns, Cities

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes announced recently that he had transmitted to the counties and incorporated towns and cities of Maryland, checks totaling more than $5 million.

In all, 178 checks were mailed representing the share due the subdivisions from the 1951 return of taxpayers who made the full tax payment.

Checks totaling $748,761.05 had been previously mailed to the subdivisions as their share of the first payment made on the 1951 return by taxpayers who elected to pay their tax by the installment method.

The remaining installments become due July 15, Sept. 15, and Dec. 15, and as these payments are made the subdivisions will receive their share.

During the fiscal year just ended, June 30, the total amount distributed to the subdivisions was $8.4 million. This is some $270,000 more than was distributed during the prior fiscal year.

Of the $98,592.62 distributed to Frederick County, the county commissioners' share was $66,083.09 and $32,509.53 will be distributed to Frederick City and incorporated towns in the county.

To double or triple the light given off in a room, give your lampshades a white paper lining, a coat of white paint or even white shoe polish on the inside.

If you like to serve one hot dish with warm-weather meals, you'll find that corn pudding often fills the bill. It tastes good with so many meats—baked ham, cold tongue or corned beef, turkey and chicken.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WHEN WE TALK OF PEOPLE EARNING MONEY, WE SAY THEY MAKE IT.

LITERALLY, OF COURSE, PEOPLE DON'T MAKE MONEY, BUT THEY PRODUCE THE GOODS AND SERVICES THAT GIVE MONEY ITS REAL VALUE. MONEY IS ONLY A MEDIUM OF EXCHANGE—WE USE IT TO BUY THE PRODUCTS OF OUR FARMS AND FACTORIES AND MINES. OUR LIVELIHOOD, THE PROSPERITY OF OUR NATION, ITS REAL WEALTH, DEPEND ON WHAT WE PRODUCE—FOR MONEY IS WORTH ONLY WHAT IT WILL BUY.

MONEY CAN MAKE MONEY TOO, WHEN IT IS INVESTED TO PROVIDE THE TOOLS OF PRODUCTION. AND THE MONEY THAT PEOPLE SET ASIDE IN LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS, KEPT AT WORK IN THIS WAY, IS A DYNAMIC FORCE IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

There are about 20,000 different words in Shakespeare's dramas.

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters; He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me, Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.—(From the Twenty-third Psalm.)

QUESTION: Will you tell me the best type of paint to use on asbestos fireproof shingles? Would you recommend oil base paint or water paint? —T.W., Chesterton, Indiana

ANSWER: If the shingles cannot be cleaned to original whiteness by washing, be sure they are dry, apply a primer coat of shellac or outside paint undercoat, then a coat of oil base house paint.

QUESTION: We're putting rock veneer on our house. Would like to know this: can one do all the work he is capable of in a day, or does the weight and moisture of the mortar determine how high one can build at a time? Does it have to set a fixed length of time after a certain amount of weight is added, or can the work continue right along? —W.H.B., Reno, Nevada

ANSWER: Mortar sets rapidly insofar as its weight bearing ability is concerned. It can hold a man's weight in less than an hour. May take several days to cure—but work on masonry may continue as fast as one, or even two, men may work. Don't hesitate to keep right on working as long as weather allows.

QUESTION: I am insulating my attic, and intended using batts. You have advocated the use of metallic paint insulation. Have heard that this type is not effective if it touches sheathing or finished wall, or if it becomes covered with dust. Is this true? —D.J., Jersey City, N. J.

ANSWER: Don't know where the rumor started on metallic paint insulation. Actually, it reflects radiant heat. Painted on a radiator, for instance, metallic paint reflects a percentage of heat back into the coils. The same applies to the foil. Heat from inside, or outside, is reflected—so long as it is radiant heat. In house walls, radiant heat from the sun is reflected outward, radiant heat from artificial heating plants reflected back to the inside of the house—both regardless of how installed.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The departure from the Department of Justice of H. Graham Morrison, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division was not unexpected.

The cynical Washington observation is that the quickest way for anyone in this job to return to private life is to do the job for which he is paid.

In the past ten or twelve years, five men have filled this office. By and large, they C. W. Harder have been capable, energetic men. Before Morrison there was Bergson, before that Berge, and so on and on.

The departure of Morrison from office was predicted on May 28, when he released to Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, the most comprehensive report ever issued on the problems of combating the growth of monopoly in the United States. Two weeks later, Morrison returned to private life.

This repeated procedure causes Washington to comment that certain power-mad factions will never be satisfied until their choice of an assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division is selected.

It is understood this faction wants to fill this most important office in the Justice Department with an Egyptian mummy.

It is further understood that through their connections with foreign monopolies, extensive dossiers have been built up on known Egyptian mummies, and every known mummy meets their qualifications.

© National Federation of Independent Business

All are silent, inactive, know nothing about free American enterprise, or anti-trust laws. In addition, all of them, when alive, believed in and practiced monopoly. After all, the building of the pyramids with slave labor was a perfect example of monopoly at work.

But on the serious side, great congressional consideration is being given by both parties on a method whereby the enforcement of anti-trust laws can be removed from the pressures and cross-currents that drown any able man doing a job in the office.

In Morrison's case, his complete report threw the spotlight on many grave illegal conditions prevailing. He was also pushing important cases that would lower living costs for all Americans; create more opportunity for independent business.

Yet despite all attempts to head off anti-trust law enforcement at high level it is significant that in the past few years there has been more action in this direction than in all of the previous 25 years. The demands of the people have become a heavy ground swell which cannot be stopped.

It is also interesting to note that Morrison, and his predecessors in the past ten years could have stayed on if content to do nothing. Therefore, it is a tribute to the honesty and integrity of men who have headed the anti-trust division that they have been forced out.

It sums up the big problem before Congress now.

That problem is to devise ways and means so that a capable honest man in this job cannot be pushed out at will, just as any drive to run J. Edgar Hoover out of office dies aborning.

A 3-Star Cake With Just 2 Eggs

1. Turn on oven; set at moderately slow (350).
  2. Grease pans heavily and dust with flour—or grease sides and line bottoms with waxed paper or any ungreased wrapping or parchment paper.
For layer cake: Use two 8-inch round or square pans, or two 9-inch round pans. For oblong cake: use one 9 x 13 x 2-inch pan. NOTE: Duncan Hines Cakes are big cakes. If 8-inch round pans are not at least 1 1/4 inches deep, fill only 1/2 full of batter in Step 8.
  3. Have ready
1 cup cold water and 2 egg whites
  4. Empty into large bowl holding about 3 quarts contents of package
  5. Blend in 1/4 cup water. Beat batter until smooth and glossy.
If electric mixer is used, beat at medium speed (middle of the dial) for at least 3 minutes. DO NOT UNDERMIX. Important: Keep pushing batter into beaters. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl often, while beating.
If beating by hand, beat about 300 vigorous strokes. Rest when necessary. DO NOT UNDERMIX. Beat until batter is smooth and glossy. Scrape spoon and sides of bowl often. Beat hard in Steps 6 and 7. Undermixing will produce a crumbly cake.
  6. Add rest of water in 3 parts. Beat about 1 minute (100 strokes by hand), or until batter is smooth and creamy after each addition.
  7. Add unbeaten egg whites. Beat about 1 minute more.
  8. Pour batter into pans. Bake on oven rack slightly above center. Bake 8-inch layers 25 to 30 minutes; 9-inch layers or 8-inch square layers 20 to 25 minutes; oblong 30 to 35 minutes.
Cake is done if center of cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. If dent remains, bake a little longer.
  9. Cool cake about 15 minutes. Remove from pan, place right side up on cake rack or cloth-covered board. When completely cool, remove paper inner liners (if used). Spread with frosting.
- NOTE: White Cake is extremely tender until cool. To make sure that cake will not stick to bottom of pan, use paper inner liner.
- YELLOW CAKE DIRECTIONS
Follow directions for WHITE CAKE, using 2 whole eggs in place of egg whites. In Step 4, add 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg and 1/4 teaspoon cloves. In Step 7, add the eggs, beating 1 minute more or until smooth. Bake 5 minutes longer than White Cake.
- SPICE CAKE DIRECTIONS
Follow WHITE CAKE directions, using 2 whole eggs in place of egg whites. In Step 4, add 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg and 1/4 teaspoon cloves. In Step 7, add the eggs, beating 1 minute more or until smooth. Bake 5 minutes longer than White Cake.
- NOTE: For a special flavor add 1/4 teaspoon pure lemon extract along with the spices.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 17—For over 40 years, I have devoted most of my time to forecasting business, employment, and investment conditions. I started with five employees and now have over 170 on the job. Our record has been good. And furthermore, all we have said and done is recorded in public libraries.

Great Changes Since the '30's

Up to the time in the Roosevelt Administration when we went off gold onto paper currency, we had a yardstick by which we could measure. Moreover, there was a ceiling above which business could not go except at great risk; and a floor below which it could not go without disaster. For instance, when in 1928 we loudly forecast the panic of 1929, it was necessary to pay eight per cent interest in order to borrow on the best collateral. Today, with prices actually higher, these money rates are slightly above two per cent.

Statistics on failures, which were one of the best barometers of impending changes, are another illustration. In 1928 failures were 24,000 with liabilities of $500 million. Yet, today, with nearly twice the volume of business, failures are running at the annual rate of 8,000, with liabilities of $300 million. This, of course, is due to the fact that the Reconstruction Finance Corp., the Federal Mortgage Banks and the various other government aids make it unnecessary for a concern to fail. Therefore, statistics on failures are now of little use when making forecasts.

Managed Currency Is Pleasant But Dangerous

The fact is that today there are no economic ceilings and no floors. Three-quarters of the subjects upon which we used to depend in making forecasts are now of little account. Of course, Washington cannot continue indefinitely the present practice of extending unlimited aid to all groups. The law of action and reaction is fundamental, like the law of gravity, and must someday result in an economic crash. On the other hand, the government can postpone such a readjustment for some years more by printing more money or more bonds. Furthermore, it will be a great temptation for any administration to do this—Republican or Democratic.

This next economic smash will probably be brought about by an ultimate showdown between Congress and the labor leaders. If each side should refuse to "give in," with a large number of industries being struck at the same time, we could have a real depression. Almost within sight of my office one of the largest bus systems in the world has been shut down for 120 days, inconveniencing hundreds of thousands of people and costing the employees and the company a million dollars a week. What would happen if a dozen of the country's largest transportation systems should so strike at the same time? The steel strike, which has thrown 650,000 steel workers out of employment, has affected so many other businesses that the whole U. S. production of all goods has fallen 10 per cent during the past few weeks. What if the employees of our 10 largest industries, doing 70 per cent of the nation's businesses should strike at once?

How Can We Forecast?

By a study of new subjects, such as dividends and wages received, selling and advertising expenditures, and various confidences induces, it is possible to make accurate forecasts for perhaps four to six months. When, however, "experts" attempt to tell you what the business, employment or stock market condition will be for more than a year ahead, this is nonsense. No facts now exist to give proper basis for any such long-term forecasts. Some will say, "It is in the hands of the gods." I even deny this and say, "It is in the hands of Congress." If Congress should get fed up with labor leaders and demand a showdown, and the labor leaders should refuse to be reasonable, a depression could come next year. The probabilities, however, are that Congress will allow matters to drift for some years. But the longer the cancer runs its course before a surgical operation, the more dangerous the operation will be when it finally takes place.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

Everything but the squeal

Meat packers boast that they use every part of a pig but the squeal. Now telephone linemen are using heavy-duty work gloves made from bacon rind! After extensive tests, it was found that bacon rind gloves are tough and durable, but soft and pliant. Also they cost less than comparable leather gloves. Your telephone company constantly seeks ways to provide better telephone service at low cost.

Youth prevails

A judge recently ruled that teen-agers can use the telephone even though their parents object. Of course, teen-agers, like adults, will find that it is to their benefit on a party line to keep calls reasonably brief. Not only does this allow important calls to reach them, but it permits others to use the line. This neighborly co-operation gives everyone better service.

When Will They Strike?

Our nation's effort to secure world peace occupies the prominent position on the 1952 political stage. Major personalities of both political parties place that objective first. Communism, on the other hand, is dedicated to making war—to the violent overrunning of the non-Communist world. But a great many American citizens and an astonishing number of political leaders do not yet recognize the major factors governing Russia's planning for world domination.

Communist Russia will launch an all-out attack only when two conditions prevail in America: (1) when it is certain that American industrial production can be crippled for a considerable time through Fifth Column activities, strikes, sabotage, etc., and (2) when the people of America have been so weaned away from their support of the basic principle of private ownership of property and the tools of production that they will offer little resistance to its destruction.

Stalin A Realist

It's as simple as that. Stalin knows he cannot win so long as the full industrial might of this free enterprise nation stands united against him. For instance, this nation produced more armament than our enemies and all our allies combined at the height of World War II. Foregoing strikes and sabotage we can do it again. Therefore, Stalin's sole hope lies in his ability to sabotage our production capacity and with the aid of his Fifth Column and its dupes, to so destroy the confidence of our people in our present system that they will offer little resistance.

These are elemental facts. Even a schoolboy ought to be able to understand them. Yet, the apathy of the American mind to these decisive facts is so apparent that ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers foresees the end of human liberty and the overrunning of the world by Communism. Chambers declares that most Americans do not know the nature of Communism and do not understand the mind of the Communist. This is strikingly apparent among some important government leaders—witness President Truman's remark in 1948: "I like old Joe. Joe is a decent fellow."

Chambers Sees Doom
In his best seller book, "Witness,"

Chambers reveals that his break with Communism and rebirth of loyalty to America was, to him, a return to a hopeless cause. The world, he explains, "does not know or even want to know two facts that it must know to survive: (1) the meaning of Communism, (2) the nature of the Communist mind."

"I wanted my wife to realize clearly one long-term penalty, for herself and for the children, of the step (deserting Communism) I was taking," Chambers writes. He says to his wife: "You know, we are leaving the winning world (Communism) for the losing world (freedom)." Then he shows that during the 13 years between his break with Communism and the writing of his book following the sensational Hiss trial, he found little evidence to indicate an awakening by the American public to the terrible facts of our crisis. "Almost nothing that I have observed, or that has happened to me since (the break with Communism in 1938), has made me think that I was wrong about that forecast," he writes in his book.

Other Warnings
Chambers' gloomy forecast of the defeat of the forces of freedom by Communism bolsters the grim warnings of others who understand Communism and the nature of Communists. In the past year I have talked personally and searchingly with Matthew Cvetec, who was a Communist nine years for the FBI; with Louis Budenz, ex-Communist editor of the Daily Worker; with Dr. J. B. Matthews, former chief investigator of the House Un-American Activities Committee; and with present and former FBI officials. None of them scoffs at Chambers' forecast. Like Chambers, they are trying to arouse the American people to the true danger.

Every citizen can do something to combat the Communists' highly organized work seeking to weaken our industrial production, our love of country and our support for the American way of life. First, the citizen must become informed by reading books, such as Chambers' "Witness," the three revealing books by Budenz and Matt Cvetec's story. But it is even more important to understand Americanism, know the advantages of the American system, and understand what makes it tick. The informed citizen must then publicly challenge all activities undermining confidence in our basic American principles. Write me, at Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, for a free copy of our new booklet, "A Challenge to Americans."

A Federal act in 1862 gave land to each of the states for the establishment of colleges and land grant colleges were subsequently established in each state of the United States.

New Quonset Dries Grain Nature's Way

This addition to the well-known line of Quonset buildings, the All-Purpose Granary, points up the fact that not all round buildings are Quonsets with the new observation that not all Quonsets are round.

Among several features as new as its lines, this all-steel structure has double walls for self-ventilation and provisions for drying and cooling grain Nature's way by unheated air. Fan and tunnel units for this are available as optional equipment. The basic building unit is 16 ft. wide, 12 ft. long. Length may be increased by any number of 8 ft. units.

Top sketch shows flow of unheated air from louvers and side-wall openings for grain drying and cooling in Quonset Granary. Lower sketch shows how removable tunnel and fan are installed.

Fan and tunnel accessories for drying and cooling grain in storage are removable, enabling the building's use for many other purposes when not filled with grain.

Drying Cost Low

Drying and cooling are accomplished by a "down-flow" circulation of unheated air, sketched at left. Cost of this drying operation is only about 3 cents a bushel. Necessity for "turning" grain in storage is eliminated by cooling.

When using the building for these purposes, grain is piled over the tunnel to a 6½-ft. depth as the structure is filled. When the fan is operated, air is pulled into the building through its openings down through the grain. Carrying moisture picked up from the grain, the air flows out through the tunnel.

Fan Runs 20-60 Days

At harvest time, the fan is operated continuously for an initial period until the grain's moisture content is brought down to a safe level for storage. This requires from 20 to 60 days, depending upon moisture content of grain and local weather. Thereafter, the fan is operated occasionally on cool days and nights in order to reduce grain temperature to the lowest possible point for winter storage.

In event grain temperature rises abnormally thereafter, any heating due to excess moisture may be reduced by further fan operation. Under normal conditions this will be unnecessary if drying was done properly at harvest time.

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Singer-actress Martha Stewart, a Bardwell, Ky. Miss, is Pinky Lee's new co-star on the thrice weekly television hit, "Those Two," Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights via NBC-TV. She plays the role of entertainment hostess at a summer resort; Pinky is the handyman around the place.

The idea of this comedy-musical is that Pinky would like to become a permanent member of Martha's entertainment group—not to mention win her love. Neither effort, of course, is ever quite fulfilled.

Martha, a petite bonde (5'3", 105-pounds) attended high school in Brooklyn, got her first pro singing job at 16 ($35 a week) on Manhattan's 52 st. A taxi accident in which she suffered a fractured nose and severe facial cuts almost ended her career before it started. She auditioned in bandages for a singing job with Jerry Livingston's band, went on to Glenn Miller. A 16-week stand at New York's Copacabana attracted movie scouts and brought on a popular career in films, stage, radio and now TV.

RADIO VIA HAMBURGER
Wells Church, the man who will boss the massive operation of the Republican and Democratic convention coverage on CBS Radio in Chicago this July for Westinghouse, once himself was an electric light company trouble shooter. He was taking off for a snack one midnight in a hamburgerery when a fellow rushed in and started shouting into a telephone about a murder. The guy was a reporter and his work so fascinated Church, he went straight to the Cleveland Press, asked for a reporter's job—and got one. That was in 1922. Today Church is Director of News, CBS Radio, with a staff of top reporters he can direct within seconds all over the world.

20 YEARS AT BREAKFAST
Don McNeill is about as familiar to mornings in America as bacon and eggs. The 44-year-old radio showman has spent 20 of his last years with one program—"The Breakfast Club," from Chicago, Monday through Friday mornings on the ABC network. Prior to that he was fired (1930) because a station manager felt he "had no future in radio." In his last 20 years Don has had to get out of bed every broadcast morning at 5:45 a.m. He's been late five times—"all beyond my control," is his story. Apparently people just feel like writing to Don and his cast, up to 10,000 letters a week, keeping busy seven clerks. His sponsors asked for special mail promotion only once. The first week 875,000 letters snowed in. They quickly called it off.

Grange Holds Open Meeting

An open meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner, Master Edgar G. Emrich presiding with 50 members and guests present.

The session was opened with prayer lead by the chaplain, Rev. Philip Bower and the opening song, "God Bless America."

New members taken into the organization were Dr. and Mrs. John Spangler, Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hampson, Mr. and Mrs. George Delphi.

Mrs. William Baker and Grier Keilholtz respectively expressed their appreciation for the fruit baskets and cards received during their recent confinement.

William Baker gave a report on Farm Safety urging all farmers to heed safety rules around their premises, especially on all farm machinery during Farm Safety Week.

Morris A. Zentz, chairman of the carnival grounds committee, stated everything in readiness. Worthy Master Emrich urged full support of the carnival by the Grange members.

Winners of the dress-making and cookie contest were announced by the home economics chairman, as follows: dress-making, first place, Clara Harner; second place, Rose Wivell; third place, Ethel Baumgardner. Cookie contest, first place, Ethel Baumgardner; second place, Ruth Six. Official judges were Mrs. Helen E. Daugherty and Mrs. David Neighbors. Pomona Master Bruce Crumb gave a few remarks concerning coming events: Tuesday, Sept. 2, is Grange Day at Timonium State Fair. This year for the first time the State Grange will sponsor a competition between the Pomona Granges in an exhibit of farm and garden products.

Southern Maryland Land Week —July 20-26. The objectives of Maryland Land Week are as follows: (a) To encourage the use of soil and water conservation practices by those who till the land; (b) To impress all citizens of the state with their dependence upon the soil and acquaint them with the effects of erosion, improper drainage, and soil deficiencies upon their health and welfare.

Pomona Picnic at Mt. Tabor Park, Rocky Ridge, Aug. 21.

Pomona home economics chairman, Mrs. Clarence Eaves, invited all members to attend the next Pomona meeting at Jefferson, Saturday, Aug. 2, at which

State Delegates Are Committed To Kefauver

Under law, Maryland's 18 votes must be cast on the first ballot for Senator Estes Kefauver, the Tennesseean who won the May 5 Maryland presidential primary. He ran on that ballot against an "uninstructed delegation."

The delegates are instructed to vote for him next week as long as in their "conscientious judgment" they consider he has a chance. But a first ballot vote, if precedent of some past convention actions is followed, would discharge at least technically that obligation.

An incumbent President can usually come very close to naming the next nominee of his party if he so chooses.

In order to send as many of the party faithful to Chicago Monday as possible, it was decided to split Maryland's votes into two halves. This means there will be 36 delegates and 36 alternates.

Maryland is one of five states which went over its quota and there are not enough seats in the amphitheater to take care of all the extras.

It will be a question for the credentials committee to decide.

Maryland officials do not contemplate any trouble. They have been assured by Frank E. McKinney, chairman of the Democratic National Committee that seats will be found for all the delegates, although 14 alternates may have to work on a "standing-room-only" basis.

In other words, they will get their badges, but will have to stand along the walls or slip into spectators' seats during the sessions.

There are about 80,000 species of moths and butterflies.

time the winners of the subordinate sewing contests will be judged for first and second place in the county.

Visiting guests included Pomona Master and Mrs. Bruce Crumb of Frederick; Pomona Home Economics Chairman Mrs. Catherine Eaves, Walkersville; Mr. and Mrs. Martin of McKnightstown, Pa.; Mrs. Lillian Harryman of Baltimore. At the next regular meeting of the organization the Grange will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hampson, on Wednesday, Aug. 6.

Following the meeting both the adult and juvenile Grange, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ethel Baumgardner.

O'Connor Opposes Selling Russia New Tanker

WASHINGTON — Aroused by reports of the proposed delivery to Soviet Russia of a modern tanker, constructed in Denmark, Senator Herbert R. O'Connor, announced this week that he was urging the State Dept. to take the "firmest possible stand" against delivery of the tanker.

Sen. O'Connor headed the one-man inquiry into shipments of strategic materials to Communist areas from this country, which resulted in an embargo on U. S. shipments to Communist areas. Later, the inquiry was extended to include Allied nations, many of whom agreed to restrict similar shipments.

In opposing delivery of the tanker to its Communist consignees, Sen. O'Connor declared that "whether the people and Government of Denmark like it or not, they should be told in no uncertain terms that they cannot supply our bitter enemies with products to be used against us and at the same time expect to be the beneficiary of U. S. aid."

Recalling former protests he had made against trade by nations in the Mutual Assistance Program, which gave help to Communist governments, in carrying on their aggression, Sen. O'Connor said, "I can think of no more helpful item to an aggressor nation than a modern vessel to transport the petroleum products so necessary for conduct of hostilities in this age of mechanized warfare. Among all the products that should not be delivered to Communist countries by nations in the non-Communist bloc, certainly a modern oil tanker stands at the top or very close to the top."

"The situation facing the U. S.," Sen. O'Connor pointed out, "is entirely different from that with regard to Denmark and Russia. Petroleum products that would be carried in this Danish-built tanker would be used, not against Danish troops, but against U. S. forces fighting in Korea."

"It would be most salutary if not only Denmark but all the nonCommunist nations who are receiving American aid through the MSP could be re-alerted in this instance to the fact that what helps Russia hurts the U. S., and that we are no longer going to pay out American funds to nations which insist on helping our enemy."

DRIVER FINED

Richard C. Johnson, 214 East Main St. Tuesday night paid a series of fines and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Gettysburg, as the result of a one-car accident at the borough line in Gettysburg early last Sunday evening.

Johnson paid $25 for failing to report to the owner of damaged property, $25 for reckless driving and $10 for not having an operator's license. The owner of the car, Ralph C. Woodie, Biglerville R. D. 2, also was fined by Magistrate Snyder. He was given two days to pay $25 for permitting Johnson to operate his car without a license.

State Pig Crop Sets Record

The spring pig crop raised by Maryland farmers set two records this year—more pigs were farrowed than ever before, and the average number of pigs saved per litter was the highest on record, according to a report of the Maryland - Delaware Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

While Maryland farmers were raising more pigs than ever before, Amos R. Meyer, Extension marketing specialist at the University of Maryland points out the farmers over the rest of the nation reduced the number of spring pigs to 56,607,000, nine per cent lower than last year. The Maryland spring pig crop is 228,000, or 4000 higher than last year.

The average number of pigs saved per litter by Maryland farmers this year is 6.9. The previous high was an average of 6.7 in 1946. The national average is 6.6 pigs saved per litter, Mr. Meyer says.

Estimates are that farmers need to save an average of six pigs per litter to pay for all overhead costs. Farmers saving fewer pigs per litter are in serious trouble and need to find and eliminate the cause of the low number of pigs saved.

Part of the 1952 increase in the number of pigs saved per litter, according to Mr. Meyer, was generally favorable weather at farrowing time, although most of the credit goes to the farmers who used better management. The factors which helped set the record are better selection of breeding stock, better feeding and more attention given to controlling diseases before and after farrowing.

Hog producers made a further shift toward earlier farrowings in 1952, continuing a trend begun in 1949. March was the month of heaviest farrowing, with a trend toward more farrowings in February and January. In the past, over 50 per cent of the farrowings occurred in March and April.

For the coming fall crop, reports on national breeding intentions indicate a total of 5.5 million sows to farrow, nine per cent below the 6 million sows that farrowed last fall. Mr. Meyer further commented that, based on intentions as of June 1, Maryland farmers are planning to follow the national trend by reducing the number of sows to farrow this fall to 27,000. This represents a seven per cent decrease from the 29,000 sows that farrowed in the fall of 1951.
