At least one local organization has what is to their notion, the best way of beating the torrid heat wave we have been experiencing for 12 successive days, and that is the Emmitsburg Municipal Band. After being cooped up in town halls all summer the heat wave drove it to desperation. Now the band is practicing every Monday night at one of its members homes. Last Monday the group assembled at the J. N. Franklin residence near town and after several hours of practice enjoyed cold watermelon and soft drinks. Special lighting was rigged up and the members proceeded to make a pleasant evening of the practice. Next Monday the band will be the guest of Samuel C. Hays, the president of the organization. Incidentally, did you know that our fine local band almost was awarded first prize in the parade? The judges had just about made up their minds to award the prize to our outfit for all-around instrumentation, but reconsidered, possibly due to the lack of uniforms, and gave the money to Westminster instead.

Well, the big Carnival is all over and its history in the books once more. Many of the local people worked hard and diligently for the success of the affair, but to my mind, the general chairman, B. H. Boyle, deserves a large measure of credit for the success of the carnival. Working from early morning to late at night, he provided the necessary push that was required to put the affair over the top.

Another stalwart cog in the carnival administration machinery was congenial Walt Simpson. How the man does it I'll never know. He is a human dynamo when involved in any work concerning the welfare of the town. Working that barbecue requires a lot of intelligence and skill, not to mention the back-breaking labor that also is part of the deal. Walt really had his hands full during the affair what with doing practically all the work of digging the pit and closing it twice, and cutting, wrapping, and seasoning 1200 pounds of beef, not to mention the little chore of managing, marching and playing and directing the band at the same time. Try this little job as he did and especially during the terrible hot spell and see if you don't think that you have done more than your share for your community. We certainly owe the man a hearty vote of appreciation. From all angles, I'd say the affair was a success, even though not as much was realized as was hoped.

Since the district attorney's edict banning all gambling such as raffles, spinning wheels and the like, it is practically impossible to make much of a monetary success of an affair of this type. Our neighboring state, Pennsylvania hasn't the least bit of trouble raising several thousand bucks, even the smallest towns. But then they are permitted to sell chance-books and the like. Most of the towns sell about a thousand of these books at a $1 each long before the affair occurs, thus putting them in solid and on good footing long in advance. But you can't make thousands with a bingo game, I promise you that.

We really are in a ridiculous state of affairs with that silly county gambling law. How much farther ahead do you think our fire companies and other organizations would be if the law had been repealed? It would cut years off the time it will take us to save enough money to build our memorial hall and the fire company could be out of debt right now. And right now, in my estimation, is the time we should roll up our sleeves and proceed to take action to have this silly outmoded law wiped off the statutes. It will take quite a bit of work to realize this goal, but I am sure that the majority of us are in favor of it and will work for the success of new legislation. We have no time to lose. Organizations should have petitions out for signatures right now so that when the next session of the

Trooper Bond Nabs Motorist After Wild Chase

Harold W. Barnes of Fayetteville, Pa., Route 2, has been identified as the fugitive driver of an automobile which police said early Sunday morning nearly wrecked a Maryland State Police car near Emmitsburg and was abandoned on a dirt road hill near Zora. The car, according to police, is registered in the name of Harold Barnes, Fayetteville, Pa., Route 2 and is now impounded in the East End Garage here.

Pennsylvania police who came into the case when the car was abandoned in that state, and the driver escaped in Pennsylvania, said that Maryland State Trooper Kenneth D. Bond, Emmitsburg, was cruising in a state police car near the west end of town when the Barnes' car passed him at a high rate of speed.

Trooper Bond gave chase, and on the road between here and Zora, was forced off the highway four times by the fleeing vehicle. The Maryland state car was not damaged and Bond continued the chase.

A short distance after crossing the state line into Pennsylvania, the other automobile made a sharp turn onto a dirt road which climbs a steep grade, police said, and was unable to "make" the hill. With Bond behind it, the car could not back down.

Police said the driver jumped from the stalled automobile and fled. Two other occupants of the car, a 15-year-old South Mountain juvenile and Carroll William Naugle, 21, of Fayetteville, Route 2, who remained in the car, were questioned by Bond and later by Pennsylvania State Police.

Naugle, according to police, is the husband of Mrs. Lillian Gertrude Naugle, 21, and a brother of Harry A. Naugle, 15, who is accused of murder in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Naugle while squirrel hunting on June 25.

State Police in Gettysburg said Naugle was picked up last week by state and military police on a charge of being absent without leave from Fort Ord, Calif., and taken to Indiantown Gap. He was home over the weekend on a pass, police said.

Pennsylvania State Police of the Gettysburg substation said Barnes will be charged with reckless driving and with operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

Pvt. Wilbur Wantz Gets Coveted Medal

With the 25th Infantry Division in Korea—Pvt. Wilbur L. Wantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wantz, 110 DePaul St., Emmitsburg, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge while serving with the 25th Infantry Division in Korea.

The badge, a symbol of the frontline fighting man, consists of a miniature replica of a Revolutionary War flintlock mounted on a blue background and superimposed on a silver wreath. A rifleman with Company C of the 14th Infantry Regiment, Wantz entered the army on October, 1951 and arrived in Korea last May.

Young Democrats At Chicago

Maryland Young Democrats were represented at the National Committee meeting of the Young Democratic Clubs of America in Chicago last Saturday.

State President, James C. Morton Jr., Anne Arundel County; National Committeeman, Joseph D. Tydings, Harford County, and National Committeewoman, Miss Gene H. Miller, Anne Arundel County, represented the Maryland Club.

National President, Richard J. Nelson, Illinois, presided at the committee meeting where plans for the active participation of the Young Democrats in the 1952 general election were formulated.

Other Maryland YD's present were State Executive Secretary, Miss Dorothy L. Stockett, Anne Arundel County; Ernest N. Cory Jr., Prince George's County, and Edward S. Digges, Charles County.

Lloyd L. Simpkins, Somerset County; Warren Browning, Montgomery County, and Thomas S. Glass, Frederick County. YD's served as members of the Maryland delegation to National Convention.

Carnival Successfully Concluded

The annual carnival, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, was successfully concluded last Saturday night as hundreds jammed the grounds at Community Field. Officials in charge were highly pleased with the turnout all three nights the affair was in operation.

Ralph Irelan, president of the Chamber, announced that it was expected to net between six and seven hundred dollars.

The patrons seemed to enjoy themselves thoroughly, playing bingo and the many other concessions available for their amusement. Food and refreshment stands were rushed to capacity to care for the wants of the crowd. One of the most popular food stands was the barbecue which was in charge of Walter Simpson, who is rapidly gaining a wide-spread reputation of being one of the best barbecuers in the business. Thursday and Saturday nights the barbecue was featured.

In the musical entertainment category, the crowd listened attentively to Woody's Rhythm Rangers on Thursday, the opening night, Friday and Saturday evenings the music was furnished by the Emmitsburg Municipal Band, and from all indications, was thoroughly appreciated.

Bernard H. Boyle, general chairman of the carnival, announced that the net proceeds will be turned over to the building fund of the Memorial Hall Assn.

From all angles, the big parade was a tremendous success, being greeted enthusiastically as it wormed its way over the main thoroughfares of the town. About 45 minutes in duration, the parade consisted of about 45 units and was witnessed by several thousands. Judges were Sheriff Paul Buhman, Lieutenant May of the State Police and State Senator Jacob R. Remsburg, all of Frederick.

Parade Chairman Fern R. Ohler announced the judges' decisions as follows: first prize for drum and bugle corps went to Taneytown Drum and Bugle Corps; bands, first prize awarded Westminster Municipal Band, second prize to the Blue and Gray Band of Gettysburg; best marching unit, first prize, New Windsor Firemen's Auxiliary and second prize to the New Midway Fire Co.; floats, first prize, the Emmitsburg Lions Club, second prize, Emmitsburg Grange.

Nursing Scholarships Now Available

Scholarships are now being offered for September classes at the Franklin Square Hospital School of Nursing, it is announced by the office of the director of nurses.

Prospective students are urged to make immediate inquiry as there is a quota for classes. An illustrated folder, giving complete data on requirements and curriculum is available on request. Inquiries should be addressed to the Director of Nurses, Franklin Square Hospital School of Nursing, Calhoun and Fayette Sts., Baltimore.

The aims of the school, established in 1900, are to give the student, over a three-year course of training, the basic principles, techniques and skills necessary for the efficient care of the sick, in the prevention of disease and the promotion of health. In addition, the school attempts to inspire student nurses who show special aptitudes to continue their studies toward higher medical goals.

Music Recovered

The complete folio of marching music belonging to the Blue and Gray Band of Gettysburg that disappeared after the band's parade appearance last Thursday evening here, was found Saturday afternoon by Band President Gracie Myers in a field near the carnival grounds.

The music was intact and was found in the black carrying case in which it had been placed on a Gettysburg fire truck after the parade. The music was valued at $100.00.

FUND TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg will be held Monday evening at 8 p. m. in the VFW Home on the Square, Secretary Anna Law announced this week.

Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. Brings Girls' Professional Team Here Sunday

Maybe the major leagues will have to get along without a female snorstop, out there's no denying the girls have solidly entrenched themselves as adept performers in the national pastime.

Girls' baseball has made rapid strides over the past few years to become a big part of the summer sport scene.

That a Harrisburg stenographer should be regarded good enough to be signed to a minor league contract is proof alone that women are concerned with baseball above and beyond "ladies' day" at the ball park.

True minor league czar, Geo. M. Trautman did nix Mrs. Engle's intentions of being a pioneer female in organized baseball, but the fact remains she was recognized as good enough.

And that is what baseball fans throughout the East have been recognizing when they see such teams as the New York Nifties and the Philadelphia Fillies working the double play, hitting for the fences, or crossing up the opposition with the "squeeze" play.

Emmitsburg diamond enthusiasts will have the opportunity of forming their own opinions Sunday evening when the 'Nifties' and the 'Fillies' clash head on at Community Field, Emmitsburg at 6:00 o'clock.

Maybe Bert Alderfer, catcher of the New York Club, could handle Yogi Berra's chores with the Yankees. Certainly she is a lot more attractive behind the plate. But Gert can go on her own merits as a receiver, as attested by her great record with the Chicago 'Colleens' and the Springfield 'Sallies' the past several seasons.

Then there is Erma Keyes, clever outfielder of the 'Nifties' who has drawn the praise of male major league scouts for all around playing in the outer garden while playing for the South Bend 'Blue Sox.'

Likewise Betty Warfel of the Fillies, former star infielder with the professional Rockford, Ill., 'Peaches' and Ruth Matlack, who chucked for the Fort Wayne 'Daisies,' a southpaw.

These are the only two girls' teams in the country using the regular size nine baseball and a pitching distance of 60'6".

Basepaths are 80 feet instead of the regular 90, the only concession.

The contest is being sponsored by the Emmitsburg Baseball Association and will be worked on a percentage basis.

Public Schools To Reopen Sept. 8; Teachers' Meetings Are Scheduled

Public schools in Frederick County will reopen for the Fall term on Monday, Sept. 8, Supt. of Schools Eugene W. Pruitt said last week.

Teachers' meetings will be held during the week preceding the opening of schools, Mr. Pruitt said. It was decided to defer the school opening until Sept. 8 because Labor Day this comes on the first day of September.

The Fall schedule of school holidays has also been arranged. The schools of the county, as has been customary in recent

MRS. FRANK S. SHIPLEY
Mrs. Nona Shipley, wife of Frank S. Shipley, died suddenly last Friday at 5:30 a. m. at the home of her sister, Mrs. Marcella Cook, Rocky Ridge, at the age of 78.

The deceased was a daughter of the late John and Anne Hawkins, of Montgomery County. Surviving besides her husband, are two sisters, Mrs. Etta Cooley of Silver Spring and Mrs. Cook, with whom she recently made her home. Also two brothers, Sidney S. Hawkins, Rocky Ridge and Algie Hawkins of Gaithersburg; seven nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the late home Monday at 11 a. m. Rev. Raymond Myers officiated and interment was made in Monocacy Cemetery, Beallsville.

Lane, McKeldin To Preside At Bridge Opening

Former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr., who brought into reality the dream of a bridge across the Chesapeake Bay, will share equal honors with Gov. McKeldin at the dedication of the bridge next Wednesday.

Side by side, the two governors will cut twin ribbons to open the bridge that was begun in the term of Lane and finished in the term of McKeldin.

The great celebration to inaugurate the "Chesapeake Bay Bridge" will include free rides across the bridge, a message from President Truman by parachute, an artillery salute, marching men, martial music, and a round of speeches on both the Eastern Shore and the Western Shore.

Sometime in the late afternoon the ferries will make their last runs between the slips at Sandy Point and Matapeake.

At 6:01 p. m., July 30, the Bay Bridge will be opened to toll traffic.

If the weather is good, between 10,000 and 20,000 persons may attend the first-day ceremonies. Clinton H. Johnson, executive director of the dedication committee, estimated.

Ample parking space will be provided at Sandy Point and at Matapeake, Mr. Johnson said, and a special complement of military police and state police will handle traffic.

Concessionaires will sell food and soft drinks, he said, and the military services are assisting in setting up adequate field latrines for the comfort of the crowd.

Artillery will fire a 19-gun salute upon the arrival of Gov. McKeldin, and then men from all the services will march in review past the speakers' stand near the toll plaza.

Somewhere along the proceedings may be interrupted by the appearance of an All-American Airways plane overhead, with a personal message from President Truman, who was invited but could not come to the dedication. The pilot is to parachute, aiming it at the reviewing stand.

The Chesapeake Bay Bridge, estimated to cost $45 million, is 4.35 miles long and will take care of 1500 vehicles per hour in one direction.

Councilman Praises Local Drill Unit

Dear Abigail:

The prediction in your column of July 11th, 1952, about the appearance of a "fine and upcoming little unit" which would be in our parade of July 17th, was not only true, but surpassed even the fondest expectations.

Accordingly, I wish to take this opportunity to say some complimentary things about the attractive and snappy appearance of the color guard and drill team of the Francis X. Elder Post, No. 121, the American Legion, in the parade on Thursday evening, the official opening of the second annual carnival sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

During the formation of the parade at the Doughboy Monument, one person, referring to the Legion Drill Team, asked me what unit of the National Guard that well-uniformed group was and I proudly replied that group was our own Emmitsburg Legion Color Guard and Drill Team. The day after and since the parade I have heard many pleasing remarks about this Legion Unit with its official blue and gold colors, white helmets, white MP leggings, white gloves and white silk scarfs. With nearly all Legion members in line this group certainly did the town honor and I understand it took honors in the Fourth of July parade in Gettysburg.

Here is an organization, which drills regularly and deserves much credit for its praise-worthy activities, representing Emmitsburg, as it does in such a splendid patriotic fashion. A thrilling sight, Abigail, I agree with you.

St. Joseph's Bazaar, Supper Tomorrow

One of the oldest affairs of its kind in the country, the annual bazaar and supper of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, will take place tomorrow.

The supper, which annually draws hundreds of patrons, will begin at 4 p. m. Saturday afternoon. Under the auspices of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, for the benefit of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, the bazaar draws its patronage from all faiths and was originally started 153 years ago and has continued consecutively all these years.

The bazaar is noted for its appetizing country-style meals and this year both chicken and ham suppers will be on the menu. All fresh vegetables will be served with the main course, and procurement officer, Rev. Fr. Michael J. O'Brien, has announced that suppers will be made up to take out, for those desiring this convenience.

The affair will take place in the air-conditioned diningroom of St. Joseph High School which was just inspected this week by the Frederick County Health Dept. and received a Grade A rating.

Rev. John D. Sullivan, pastor of the church, announced the following committees and the departments of which they will be in charge: supper, Mrs. Guy A. Baker Sr., chairman; bingo, Paul A. Keepers; sandwiches, Mrs. James Adelsberger and Mrs. Margaret Myers; cake table, Mrs. William Myers; country store, Mrs. Charlotte Sanders; candy, Mrs. Irene Zurgable; soda and ice cream, Guy A. Baker Sr.; bingo prizes, Mrs. Edward Lingg.

A special table will be operated by the Children of Mary Society. Both adult and children dishes will be served at the nominal price of $1.25 and 75, respectively.

Sportsmen Enjoy Outing

Members of the Indian Look-out Conservation Club enjoyed an outing at Shank's Mill, Zora, Pa., Tuesday evening. President Everett Chrismar presided at the abbreviated business meeting and announced that dues for the coming term now are payable.

The members indulged in clay bird and .22 rifle shooting, following which many enjoyed swimming and a wienie roast.

Secretary Harold M. Hoke announced that the next meeting of the association will be of the out-door type and will be held at Community Field on Aug. 26. It is planned to serve cold watermelon at this session.

Radcliffe Again Heads March Of Dimes Drive

Former U. S. Senator George L. Radcliffe has been re-appointed as State chairman of the 1953 March of Dimes, according to Basil O'Connor, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis president.

In accepting the post, Mr. Radcliffe, who has headed the Maryland "dimes" campaign since 1938 stated: "I am proud to continue to serve with the Foundation at this crucial time."

Nationally, Mr. Radcliffe said, polio cases for the first five and one-half months of this year were up 18 per cent over the same period in 1951. In Texas, 283 cases were reported for the period last year and 765 this year, according to U. S. Public Health Service reports.

The former Senator said that where 10,000 cases had been considered the norm annually, the average for the past four years has exceeded 30,000 cases annually.

Mr. Radcliffe, chairman of the Presidential Birthday Balls which were started in 1933, stressed that while it is impossible to predict the trend for Maryland, we should prepare realistically to meet the situation.

"We will need unprecedented support in the 1953 appeal," he said, "in the way of many volunteers as well as financially."

Mr. John F. Mick, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sanders, was inducted into the Navy and is taking his boot training at Bainbridge, Md.

Mrs. Sara Hoke is visiting with relatives in Poolesville.

TOUCHING TRIBUTE TO TAFT

If there was ever any doubt that Robert A. Taft was the Democrat's favorite candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, Governor Paul A. Dever dispelled it in his long-winded keynote speech to the Democratic Convention. Touchingly, it seemed, the Governor condemned the "selfish opportunists" in the Republican Party who, by their nomination choice, placed victory uppermost. For, said he in a moving and unexpected Democratic tribute to Senator Taft, "An ungrateful crew threw overboard the faithful pilot who had guided them for years and placed at their head one whose knowledge of navigation was confined to other waters."

Even as the Governor talked, of course, the union spokesmen within his own party had ungratefully thrown overboard another old faithful, Alben Barkley, for the same selfish reason—namely, that these ingrates wanted a winner. But no matter. What stood out in Governor Dever's sweaty oration was that having dropped a tear for Taft, he then carried on at times as though Taft had been chosen.

To clinch his argument against what he called "every carping speech at the Republican Convention by orators who would make political capital out of the sweat, blood, toil and tears of American soldiers and their families," the Governor quoted Tom Dewey. (Boos, naturally, at the mention of his name). The quote was from Dewey's new book, "Journey to the Far Pacific," and proved to be as succinct and powerful an apologia for United States intervention in Korea as one could want.

It isn't quite clear what Governor Dever hoped to accomplish by this citation in view of the fact that he had earlier sneered of Ike: "the voice is the General's voice, but the hands are the hands of Thomas (Dewey)." If Governor Dever was anxious to pin the badge of isolation or neo-isolation on the Republican Party—as he seemed to be, in those parts of his speech where he wasn't pitting his party against Herbert Hoover on domestic issues—then why all this attention to Dewey? For the whole point of the Republican convention was that it repudiated an isolationist view and upheld, on the very first nominating ballot, the international outlook of men like Eisenhower, Dewey, Lodge and Duff.

Looking for consistency in a keynote speech is, to be sure, like looking for a Dixiecrat in Governor Dever's own Boston. To this extent, at least, the Democrats learned nothing from the Republican performance two weeks ago.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

"EVERYBODY TALKS ABOUT THE WEATHER— BUT NOBODY DOES ANYTHING ABOUT IT."

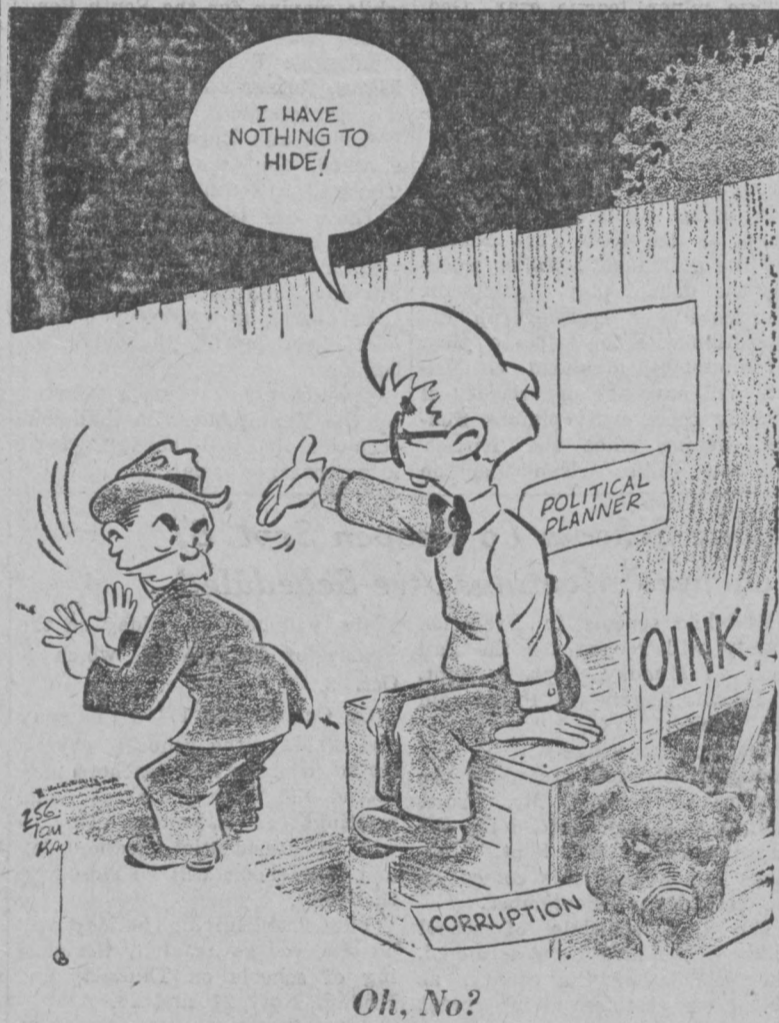

—AN OLD SAYING, CURRENT IN OUR FATHERS' TIME, THAT NEVER REALLY STOOD UP THEN—WHAT WITH UMBRELLAS, SUNSHADES AND SUCH, IT STANDS UP EVEN LESS TODAY.

TAKE THE FARMER, FOR EXAMPLE—MORE DEPENDENT ON THE WEATHER THAN MOST. HE NOW HAS DROUGHT-RESISTANT CORN AND GRAINS—AND IS EVEN EXPERIMENTING WITH MAKING RAIN. HE HAS ROT AND RUST RESISTANT PLANTS AND IS DEVELOPING WAYS OF MAKING HAY WITHOUT SUNSHINE. THUS HE CAN PROTECT HIMSELF AGAINST SOME OF THE PRINCIPAL WEATHER RISKS—JUST AS THE AMERICAN FAMILY TODAY, THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS, CAN PROTECT ITSELF AGAINST SOME OF THE HAZARDS OF THE FUTURE.

Tests are also being made to show how well different grasses are liked by the animals and how this may affect their production of milk or beef.

Many of the varieties of grasses being tested at Middleburg are common local grass farms. The results shown in these tests may bring higher beef and milk productivity to farms and all are urged to get first hand information at Middleburg on August 8.

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

OPS Weekly Roundup

A drastic cut in the personnel of the Maryland District Office of Price Stabilization was announced last week by Hugo R. Hoffman, Maryland OPS Director. From a staff of 100 persons, the Maryland Office will be reduced to 48 by September 1st. Letters of dismissal giving 30 days notice will be given those effected on or before August 1st.

The OPS employees who will be released will actually be furloughed from their positions unless they resign or secure employment in another government agency. This means that if at any time between now and April 30, 1953, when the Defense Production Act expires, there is any increase in the OPS staff, those who were furloughed must be given first chance to be placed on active duty with the agency again.

"I can assure the people of Maryland that we will continue to administer the provisions of OPS fairly and equitably and in the same spirit of public service which has marked our efforts from the very beginning," Mr. Hoffman said.

"However, this is a very serious cut in the forces that make up the economic army of the United States at a critical period in our history. I am firmly convinced that as long as there is a threat from international communism, there is a threat not only to the physical security of this and other countries as well. Our greatest source of strength is our economy, our ability to out-produce any other nation in the world.

"As a business man I must firmly believe in economy. But, I do not believe in economy at any price. The price of the economy exercised by the Congress in this instance, and the several changes they made in the bill besides, will be felt hardest by the consumer, the wage earner, those on salaries and, more particularly, by those on pensions, old age benefits, veterans benefits and by others with fixed incomes.

"For instance, by exempting from price control fresh fruits and vegetables both in their natural state and in processed form, and by requiring OPS to allow those who sell fertilizer to the farmer to charge the retail instead of the wholesale price, it is inevitable that farm prices will go up.

"As an example of the removal of vegetables from control, there is potatoes. Potatoes were decontrolled about six weeks ago when OPS realized that Congress was going to force their decontrol when they renewed the act. If OPS price controls were still in effect on potatoes today, the ceiling in Baltimore would be approximately six cents per pound. The week-end of July 11-12 the chain stores in Baltimore were selling Virginia potatoes from eight to nine cents per pound, California potatoes at 10 cents per pound. In the independent stores, the price per pound for potatoes ran as high as 11 cents. A penny here, a few cents there and the family budget is knocked into a cocked hat.

"The fight on inflation is everyone's fight. I sincerely hope that business, industry, and the consumer, all of whom have cooperated so well with OPS since the beginning of price stabilization, will continue to do so. Again I pledge the Maryland OPS to a thorough job performed with integrity and a full sense of responsibility even with the reduced force we must now employ. With the cooperation of all and some very good luck, "we will hold the line against the un-natural pressures which threaten our economy today," Mr. Hoffman said.

Socialistic schemers and their well-meaning dupes are now engaged in talking about Free Enterprise as if it were a new invention of the powerful and the rich.

I don't believe they will be successful, because every American knows that the Free Enterprise system is the traditional American way, and that this nation has become a great country under it.

But simply because the Socialists and their allies are waging a big campaign, and using a lot of loose language, I'd like to ask just about four basic matter-of-fact questions.

Here they are:

One: Which system, Free Enterprise or Socialism, has produced the greater amount of goods for its people to enjoy?

Two: Under which system, Free Enterprise or Socialism, is wealth better distributed?

Three: Which system leaves the individual citizen the greater freedom to lead his own life?

Four: Which system has the best machinery for correcting whatever abuses may arise?

The answer is Free Enterprise, every time. The record proves it.

PRODUCTION—American production leads the world. So does America's total wealth, and America's wealth per capita. America leads in the diversity of goods produced, in the number of businesses, both large and small, and in the accumulated savings of the people, in cash, in bonds, in insurance, in pension funds, etc.

DISTRIBUTION—The average American's share of this great wealth is higher than that of any citizen of any country in the world. Whatever an American may be, whether bank clerk or farmer, mechanic or school teacher, butcher, bus driver, executive or laundress, he or she lives on a far higher economic level than any such person anywhere else in the world.

FREEDOM—Not only do Americans live well, but they have the best chance to move up into still better positions. Our youngsters can choose a line of work they think they'll like. Our people can change jobs. They can save money, and either risk it or invest it.

ABUSES—When and as abuses do arise, the American voter can take power into his own hands. He can change the political complexion of his government, and even, by amendments to the Constitution, alter the fundamental laws under which we live. No Socialist regime anywhere in this world offers the mass of the people even the smallest fraction of such freedom.

America is looking now toward a great national election, under our two-party system. From the offerings of the two parties, free voters will make free choice. The Free Enterprise system thus operates even in the field of politics.

Who could dream of exchanging this for the Russian system, which is Socialism in its fullest development? What American, in this election year, can fail to thank God for past blessings and thank God for past blessings and American's share of this great future hopes.

Dentists And Physicians Receive Questionnaires

Colonel Henry C. Stanwood, state director of Selective Service today announced that instructions have gone out to all local boards to proceed with the classification and armed forces physical examination of all priority three dentists and physicians who were registered or who subsequently registered under Public Law 779—81st Congress the doctors and dentists draft law.

Priority Three Dentists or Physicians are those persons who did not have active service in the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or the Public Health Service subsequent to September 16, 1940, and who were under 50 years of age at the time of registration. The initial registration of Priority Three Physicians, Dentists and Veterinarians took place on January 15, 1951.

Farm Tour Will Convene

Four-State Farmers' Committee members and Frederick County Agent Henry Shoemaker, have arranged the program of the 1952 Four-State Farm Tour, being held Friday, Aug. 8, at the Middleburg Branch of VPI's Experimental Station. They believe all of the tour features will be of great interest and value to dairy and beef farmers of this area.

Among the men active in planning the '52 farm tour are E. Earl Remsburg of Buckeystown, and Harry A. Zentz of Thurmont. The '52 tour will be held at Middleburg, about 30 miles south east of Winchester, Va., on U. S. Route 50. Here, a series of tests are being conducted covering a wide range of grasses and methods of the applications of fertilizers. These tests are just beginning to show results.

While snap beans are coming in from your garden and they're also plentiful on the market you will want to fix them in a variety of ways to keep the family's appetites whetted. Why not try this recipe. Spanish Snap Beans One tablespoon fat, one tablespoon chopped onion, one-third cup chopped green pepper, one cup cooked or canned tomatoes, one and one-half cups cooked or canned snap beans, salt and pepper, toasted bread cubes. The dish is easy to bake. You begin by heating the fat and browning the onion and green pepper in it. Next, add the tomatoes and cook slowly for about 15 minutes. Add the beans and season to taste with salt and pepper. Heat the mixture thoroughly and then turn into a serving dish and top with bread cubes. The recipe makes four luscious servings. For Smooth Sewing When finishing up work on a garment, remember that smooth edges indicate smooth, high-quality sewing. Smooth edges depend upon: 1-Straight stitching of seams and turning seam on the line of stitching. 2-Trimming seam edges to a narrow even width. If the material is heavy trim one seam edge narrower than the other. 3-Clipping seams on curves such as a round neck line to allow for spreading of seam edges. 4-Notching seams to prevent overlapping and bulkiness as on outside edge of a round collar. 5-Trimming away seams at points as in collars and belts.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Me-Advising a Banker!

The Missus and I were invited to dinner over at Balesville the other night. I sat next to a banker from the state capital. "Mighty nice country you've got down there," he says. "Don't be surprised if I come to live there myself. In a few years I plan to get away from everybody, buy a farm and just take it easy." "Well," I told him, "we'd like to have you. But when someone plans to buy a farm and 'take it easy' he often winds up working harder than ever. It takes work to run a farm right no matter how many hands you can afford to hire. "And from where I sit," I continued, "you won't get away' from people either. Neighbors are plenty important in a farming community—whether it's helping one another out or just friendly visiting over a sociable glass of beer." "Hard work and neighbors dropping in all the time?" he asks, looking at me over his glasses. Then he smiles and says, "Sounds wonderful. You've just sold me on a farm."

My Neighbors By BILL PAULSON If you think he's scared now, Doctor, you ought to see him when the tax collector comes around!

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS From Mrs. Kathryn Bennett, Middletown, Pa.: I remember the Hokey Pokey Man who came around every evening during the summer. For a penny we could get a big, cooling and refreshing Hokey Pokey, with bright colored cherry flavoring poured over it. I always got cherry, although it smelled and tasted like hair tonic.

From Frank Cochran, Webb City, Mo.: I remember the first schools that I attended were in a log house, about 30 feet square, with large fireplace that burned wood about six feet long. There was no floor. The benches were made from logs split through the center and hewed smooth. There were four holes bored on the round side and wooden pins used for legs in the holes. There was a huge punchon door. The house had no rafters.

From Mrs. C. B. Scott, Meadows of Dan, Va.: I remember when I was a little girl, mother and we'd go to the mill and spin yarn and knit our own stockings and gloves. Women wore dresses to the ground. Most everybody walked; sometimes a young man would ride horseback and take his best girl on behind him to church and back.

From George A. Mrs. Mhennner, Douglas, Ill.: I can remember when there was a death in the family, all the pictures were turned with their faces to the wall, the clock was stopped, and no one spoke above a whisper while the body was in the house.

From William Shaner, Lakeview, Ohio: I remember when daddy bent pins, fastened them to a piece of string, tied on a nail for a sinker, and sent us to the creek fishing. Oh yes, we had a can of worms.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Maryland farmers will be affected by three major changes in the 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to James A. Cottman, acting chairman of the production and marketing administration. All three changes represent a trend toward long range conservation practices.

Payments for the application of lime to the soil will be based on the proportion which will pass through a 20-mesh screen, Mr. Cottman says. Payments have formerly been made on the basis of the amount passing through a 10-mesh screen. The finer lime is considered to be more effective.

No payments will be made in 1953 for applications of rock phosphate fertilizer. Payments will be made for the use of superphosphate only if used in combination with potash. Both changes in approved fertilizer practices are based on recommendations of the University of Maryland Agronomy Dept., Mr. Cottman points out.

Payments by county PMA committees in 1953 for annual practices such as lime and superphosphate applications and cover crop seeding will be limited to a definite proportion of the available funds. All other payments must be made for permanent conservation practices. Funds not used for permanent practices must be returned to the Treasury unless they have been specifically assigned for annual practices.

All three changes are part of a gradual change toward permanent conservation practices. Mr. Cottman says. The Maryland State PMA Committee has actively directed conservation payments toward that end for three years. He cites the consolidation of U. S. Dept. of Agriculture agency offices in the counties as having made it easier to move the program in that direction. Fourteen of Maryland's 23 counties have consolidated in this manner.

Circuit for "Cooler Only" Assures Top Performance

IF YOU'RE looking forward to restful, air conditioned nights this summer, you can be sure of efficient service from your room cooling unit by providing an individual 230-volt circuit for its exclusive use. Fewer service calls and longer equipment life are the results, electrical experts advise.

When an air conditioner is connected to a circuit which also is used for other purposes, here's what can happen: overheating of the motor, sluggish operation of appliances, blinking lamps, frequent fuse blow or tripping of circuit breakers.

QUESTION: Can you advise me of a safe, yet easy way to set up an outdoor gym in such a way as to prevent motion of the framework when swings are in action? —R.A., Erlanger, Kentucky

ANSWER: Safest and surest anchorage is concrete. For wood post equipment, set angle irons, drilled for bolt holes, directly in the concrete when pouring. For anchoring the post later. For pipe supports, set either the pipes themselves, or pipe fittings, into the wet concrete. When fittings are so placed, pipe can be screwed into sockets later. Drop a wad of oiled waste into each fitting to prevent rust.

QUESTION: I plan to build a small home of concrete or cinder block. If I just waterproof the inside walls would that suffice to keep out dampness? Should I use concrete or cinder block? —W.R.M., Cambridge, Md.

ANSWER: As long as you're building, it's a better idea to waterproof the outside of the foundation rather than the inside. This prevents water penetration of the foundation before it has a chance to cause trouble. Use concrete block below ground level, cinder block above ground level only.

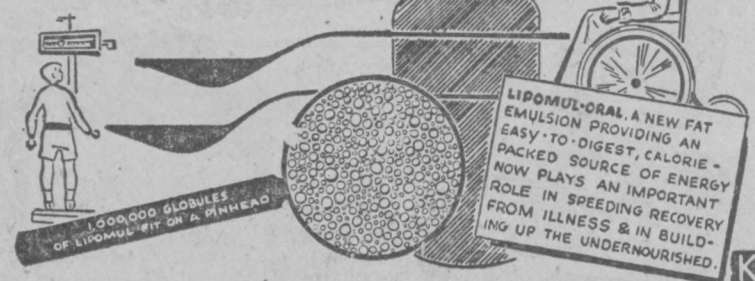

QUESTION: I built my house last Fall and did not stain and varnish the windows due to the windows sweating and soaking the wood sills. The wood is now mildewed and I cannot get this stain off even with sanding. A painter tells me I need a bleach but could not tell me what to use. Can you? —J.C., Clarksville, Pa.

ANSWER: Try oxalic acid. It is powerful, so protect eyes and hands while working. Rinse with clear water. Then, since moisture will probably raise the grain slightly, sand paper and when the wood is thoroughly dry, stain and varnish. Other bleaches are household chlorine compounds, tri-sodium phosphate, ammonia. Handle all carefully, following the above general system.

This column is prepared by the editors of THE FAMILY HANDYMAN MAGAZINE as a service to home owners. If you have any questions or problems relating to your own home, please address a letter, stating your problem to THE FAMILY HANDYMAN, MAN, 211 East 37th Street, New York, New York, Attention of News Syndicate Editor. If the question has widespread appeal in the opinion of the editors, it will be printed with the answer in this column at a later date. However, we cannot enter into detailed correspondence with everyone. THE FAMILY HANDYMAN is available at newsstands and hardware stores everywhere.

SCIENCE and HEALTH

COOKING THE SICK TO EAT AND AIDING THE UNDERWEIGHT TO GAIN POUNDAGE HAS ALWAYS PRESENTED A PROBLEM.

New Aid for the Undernourished

One of the biggest problems in getting sick people well is coaxing them to eat enough. Even people who are well need a balanced diet of proteins (meat, eggs and cheese), carbohydrates (sugars and starches) and fats.

Hospitalized patients require an extra heavy diet of proteins. But the best use of these proteins cannot be made without an adequate supply of carbohydrates or fats, for proper balance.

Because of the properties of fats, including them in a sick person's diet has usually presented a problem. Lipomul, a new fat emulsion which can be taken by mouth, appears to have solved this problem by providing a quick source of both energy and calories.

This relatively new fat emulsion, developed by The Upjohn Company, Kalamazoo, Mich., is playing an important role in the treatment of various disease conditions such as polio, TB, cancer, severe burns, the condition after surgery, in pancreatic insufficiency in infants and children and in uremia and peptic ulcer.

Reports of Lipomul's successful use were made by medical men at a recent conference of the New York Academy of Sciences, recognizing the new emulsion as an important aid in helping patients back to good health.

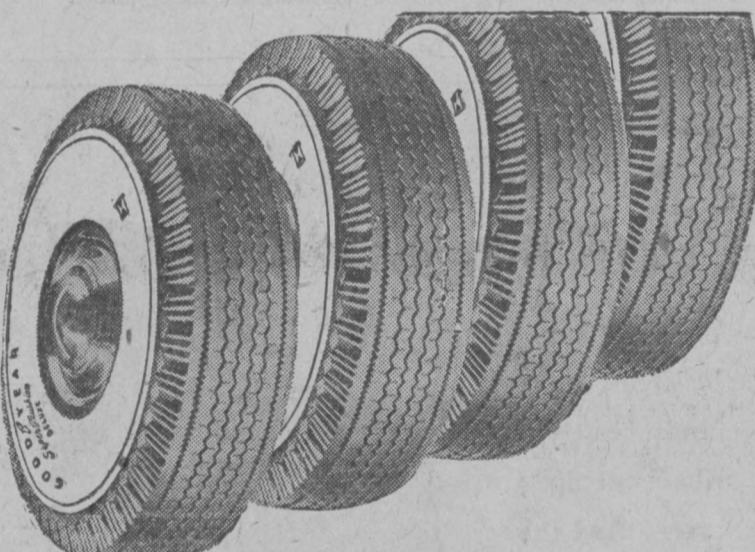

Time and Money Saver HOW TO MAKE A MENDING BAG

Save time and trouble by making ironing day mending day. Here's a special bag for mending accessories which you can attach to your ironing board to simplify both jobs.

Bondex hot iron mending tape serves a dual purpose. You can use the tape to make the bag, which in turn holds scissors, ruler, pencil, ironing cloth and tape—all the things you want to keep near the ironing board. It is not only colorful and attractive, but the whole thing can be made with mending tape—with hardly a stitch added. And don't worry about ripping—Bondex is strong.

Then fit the two pieces together and stitch partitions in the lower portion to hold the various items you'll want. Carefully press Bondex around the edge of the whole pocket, as in picture 3. The finished product will please you, so, stitch added. And don't worry about ripping—Bondex is strong.

Shortage Of Crop Land

Since 1880 the population of the U. S. has increased threefold—from about 50 million to about 155 million in 1951. Available crop land, on the other hand, has increased less than two and one-quarter times—from 188 million acres in 1880 to about 408 million acres in 1951. Furthermore, the net production of available crop land is both lagging the growth in population, and comparatively has been leveling off since 1920.

The increase in crop land from the late 1800's to its peak in the early 1930's came primarily from the release of grazing land for horses and mules. This source of increase in farm land, however, is passing out of existence. With the trend towards greater use of livestock and dairy products, more crop land will have to be used for raising cattle, sheep, and poultry. This will further reduce available crop land.

Outlook For The Future Crop Land

Moreover, since 1930 long-range Government planning has provided new sources of crop land. The draining of swamp land, together with new irrigation projects, to reclaim desert wastes, has already added 38 million acres of crop land to our economy. Looking ahead another 25 years, 45 million more acres may be added. Thus, in 1975 we should have a total of 500 million acres of crop land. At the present rate of population growth, however, many more millions of acres will be needed to feed our nation on present-day diet standards. This means that certain farm and pasture land may be the safest investment in which to have our money even if acreage prices decline.

The Role Of Research

Fortunately, agricultural research has brought forth fertilizers, insecticides, improved farming machinery and techniques, such as crop rotation. This has enabled farm output to continue to rise even after the increase in available crop land has leveled off. Continuing research should do much to help reduce the anticipated deficit in crop land; and, in addition, it should make our available crop land even more valuable, especially in case of World War III.

Unfortunately, many farmers fail to realize that fertilizers and insecticides will not provide a solution to the problem. They are merely supplements, the same as vitamin tablets are only supplements to human diet. Despite improved fertilizers and insecticides, and despite improved agricultural techniques, the fertility of our crop land is declining, in some sections as much as one per cent a year, or perhaps 15 per cent in 20 years. Farmers have not been able to completely neutralize the damage caused by floods, soil erosion, and soil deterioration resulting from the abnormally high crop production during the past decade. The effect of this "mining" of crop land is a very serious factor.

Farmers Beware!

Here are some practical suggestions:

Urge your children to stay in a farming community instead of settling in some city which will be bombed in World War III.

Temper demands upon the soil and conserve what crop land you already have, and at the same time nurse the depleted soil back to normal. Our foreign-aid program should point more to making other nations self-supporting as to food.

It is important to cut our waste of food. The "Johnny-clean-your-plate" attitude must return to every household. This is a job for the parents; and it is just as important as the "Three R's."

Don't till good pasture or timber land to take a profit in paper dollars. Such land should further increase in value; while paper dollars and many bonds and stocks will become less valuable.

Since 1800 West Virginia has produced five billion tons of coal. Lichens are very widely distributed, being found in most parts of the earth.

The Family Cow

The family cow is practical for the backlot farmer. Research authorities indicate, since the use of prepared feed can overcome limited pasture, the cow can be included in the Backlot Farm even if only one acre is available.

The average milk cow, producing 6 to 8 quarts of milk a day, will supply the typical family's needs and frequently provide enough surplus to sell the neighbors, thereby reducing the cost of feeding the animal.

A cow can be staked out or let graze on a plot as small as a half acre, provided, of course, adequate manufactured feed is used to help "Bossy" produce the milk.

Some cows, on limited pasture, fed a balanced ration, produce as high as four gallons of milk a day, which will more than pay the feed bill, while furnishing the family with rich, wholesome milk and butter.

With sound management practices and the use of proven sanitation methods, the family cow will be gentle and any one of the family can take care of her without too much trouble. For the amount of a good prepared feed she consumes, she will produce top quality milk in almost direct proportion, and within a short time, actually pay her own way as she provides the family with milk and milk products.

"HIS MASTER'S VOICE"

Tuberculosis Is Not Inherited

Tuberculosis is caused by germs known as tubercle bacilli which are passed on from person to person. TB is not inherited. Every new case of the disease comes from active case of TB. A person gets active TB when he receives a bombardment of tubercle bacilli and his body is unable to throw off the attack.

To prevent the spread of tuberculosis, therefore, we must prevent the spread of tubercle bacilli. The spread of TB germs is controlled most efficiently in the tuberculosis hospital, where every precaution is taken to prevent the spread of germs. This is one of the reasons why a tuberculosis patient is best treated in a tuberculosis hospital.

But there are times when a TB patient must be cared for at home, for example, while he is waiting for admission to a tuberculosis hospital. When this happens, it is important for the family to know how to care for a tuberculous patient, including the best way of killing TB germs outside the human body.

Tubercle bacilli can be found in the sputum which a tuberculous patient coughs up. So one important rule in caring for the sick person is to get rid of the germ-laden sputum properly. He should also use paper tissues for sputum which he coughs up and place the soiled tissues in a paper bag. The bag should be burned as soon as it is filled. The sick person should always cover his coughs and sneezes, preferably with disposable paper tissues.

The patient should also have his own set of dishes, kept separate from the family tableware, and they should be washed thoroughly with hot water and soapsuds every time he uses them. It is best, then, to rinse them with boiling water and allow them to drain dry.

The patient's laundry should also be kept apart from the family wash, boiled for about 10 minutes, and allowed to dry in the sun, whenever possible.

In addition, the family of the patient should be careful never to kiss him, to sit on his bed, or use his personal things. Babies and small children should be kept out of his room.

Of course every person who is diagnosed as having TB should take immediate steps to enter a tuberculosis hospital, where he will get the best care and where he will have his best chance of being cured. But where a tuberculosis patient is unavoidably cared for at home for any length of time, good advice on caring for the patient, as well as combating TB germs, can be secured from the doctor, the health department, or the local tuberculosis association.

SWIMMING PARTY HELD

A swimming party was held at the home of Miss Anna Louise DeBerry on Sunday, July 13. The party took place in the huge farm pond and was climaxed by a wiener roast.

Guests at the party were Frances DeBerry, Doris Flax, Beulah Glass, Warren and Fred Bentz, Dick Stambaugh, Pat and Bob Warthen, and Charles Olinger.

Conspiracy Exposed!

It is not easy to accept the reality of an international conspiracy working secretly in America to capture all of us and make us prisoners of an iron-fisted and brutal dictatorship. Even after the New York court conviction of the 11 Communist leaders, the sensational Alger Hiss exposure and conviction, and the recent series of books by ex-Communists, it's still difficult for the average citizen to fully realize the Communist conspiracy inside America is real, not fictional.

That's because most of us in a sense live in a small world—in the orbit of our personal activities. What we read, and yet do not see and feel, is far away; it simply doesn't touch us. Our lives have not been personally touched so far by the Communist conspirators, although our future has certainly been affected. Even President Truman himself labeled as a "red herring" charges by some of his political opponents that Communist conspirators were working inside important departments of the Federal government. Later Hiss and others were exposed and convicted. Hoodwinking the Public

The Communists and their dupes wish to keep as many Americans as possible thinking that the Communist forces in America are harmless. If all America should come to realize the full facts of the conspiracy our country would become extremely unhealthy for Communists and fellow-travelers; the Reds would be chased out, outlawed. So the Communists have infiltrated many sections of the press, radio, and other communications to spread propaganda, hoping to keep the public hoodwinked about the conspiracy. They have succeeded in getting widely circulated publications and commentators to denounce individuals and organizations who are working to expose the conspirators and their dupes.

The clearest set of documented facts exposing the conspiracy appears in the report just released by the Senate Judiciary Committee, an utterly responsible body of Senators drawn from both political parties. The report shows, with indisputable documentation, how the Communists worked their spies and dupes into strategic positions in our Federal government, and how as a result America suffered the loss of China as an ally against world Communism.

Proof Carefully Gathered

The Judiciary Committee conducted exhaustive hearings, examined 20,000 documents, took the testimony of 66 witnesses. U. S. News and World Report said: "The loss of China represents the greatest defeat in U. S. history... In (its) report, the Judiciary Committee finds a conspiracy, Communist-inspired, that led to (this) American defeat. High American officials were duped. Policies were influenced that gave Communists their greatest victory."

IN THE SWIM!

Coin-dot satin with feminine eyelet embroidery gives appeal to a smoothly flattering bathing suit. The figure-molding fabric is an elasticized blend of Avisco rayon and acetate, which gives a maximum of strength, beauty and quick-drying comfort.

Here are a few of the Judiciary Committee's conclusions as published in the report: "Members of the small core of officials and staff members who controlled the Institute of Pacific Relations were either Communist or pro-Communist... The names of eminent individuals were by design used as a respectable and impressive screen for the activities of the IPR inner core, and as a defense when such activities came under scrutiny... Owen Lattimore was, from some time in the 1930's, a conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy."

Against the U. S. The Senate Judiciary Committee further states: "Many of the persons active in and around the IPR, and in particular, though not exclusively, Owen Lattimore, Edward C. Carter, Frederick V. Field, T. A. Bisson, Lawrence K. Rosinger, and Maxwell Stewart, knowingly and deliberately used the language of books and articles which they wrote or edited in an attempt to influence the American public by means of pro-Communist or pro-Soviet content of such writings.

"The net effect of IPR activities on U. S. public opinion has been such as to serve international Communists interests and to affect adversely the interests of the U. S. ... Owen Lattimore testified falsely before the subcommittee with reference to at least five separate matters that were relevant to the inquiry and substantial in import."

Every American should read this Senate Judiciary Committee report. It should be brought into college and high school classrooms throughout the nation next September. For your copy write: Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. Ask for Senate Report No. 2050, 82nd Congress, 2nd Session.

Cherry Coolers

WHEN THE KIDS come in clamoring for something cool to drink this month of sun-days, tie big aprons on them and let them "mix their own." They'll love to turn the kitchen into a private soda fountain while they whip up those favorite thirst-quencher, cherry cokes. Best of all, there's no extra fuss or bother, since the makings are bound to be right on hand—cherry-flavored gelatin and bottles of coke.

HERE'S HOW Dissolve 1 package Cherry Jell-O in 1 cup hot water. Add 1/2 cup cold water. This makes about 1 1/2 cups syrup or 6 or 8 servings. Mix 3 to 4 tablespoons of syrup with coke in a tall glass. (This syrup may be stored in the refrigerator if not all used at once. Heat gently until melted, then cool before making additional drinks.)

SERVED WITH A S N A C K, cherry-cokes are perfect for family and guests as well. Since the mixer for this quick cooler is the same familiar gelatin you use for summer salads and desserts, there's as much variety as there are fruity flavors. If lime and raspberry please your palate more than cherry, try these, too, in this easy beverage recipe. (ANS)

Social Security Pay Increased

About 1,800 people in Frederick County will receive higher social security payments as a result of the social security amendments which President Truman signed into law last Friday. The first increased checks will be for the month of September, delivered early in October.

W. S. King, manager of the Hagerstown social security office, emphasized that no one needs to apply for the increased payments. "The Social Security Administration is already changing the amounts," he pointed out. "We expect to get them changed in time to have them in the mail October 3, the regular delivery date, but in a few cases we don't meet that schedule we'll send the regular check and make up the difference in a later check."

Mr. King pointed out that although nearly every family receiving payments would receive an increase, the additional amount would not always be divided among all the members of the family receiving monthly checks. In some cases the entire increase will go to the retired worker.

Under terms of the law most families will get an increase of about $5.00; some will get less, others more. A few benefits now being paid, and most of those payable in the future, will be based on earnings after 1950 instead of after 1956. The amended law provides a new formula for determining the amount of the payments in these cases. Under it, a retired worker's monthly benefit would be 55% of the first $100 of his average monthly earnings plus 15% of the remainder up to $300.

Beginning Sept. 2, the new law increased to $75 a month instead of $50 the amount of money a beneficiary may earn and still receive the monthly benefits. Self-employed people entitled to old-age and survivors insurance benefits may receive the payments for each month of the year if their net earnings during the entire year are not over $900.

The amended law contains a provision of special importance to self-employed people who have retired or plan to retire during 1952. Before the passage of the amendments their earnings for the year in which an application was made could not be used to figure their old-age benefit payments. Now, those self-employed people who originally applied for benefits in 1952 may re-apply at the close of the taxable year and have their 1952 earnings used in figuring their monthly benefit payments. In general, this will increase the monthly benefit payment to self-employed persons.

A similar change in the law now permits insured wage earners who retire in 1952 to have their wages for this year used immediately in figuring the amount of their benefit payments. Heretofore, it was necessary for them to come back after the end of the year in order to have all of their covered wages for 1952 included in the computation of the benefit amount.

Another amendment allows beneficiaries aged 75 or over already on the rolls to take advantage of the higher benefit payments provided under the new formula, if they have had at least a year and a half of covered work after 1950.

The amended law allows social security wage credits of $160 for each month of active military or naval service after July 24, 1947. This provision is simply an extension of the one which already gives social security wage credits to servicemen of World War I. It applies to service in the armed forces up to January 1, 1954.

Of advantage to the survivors of deceased service people is a provision in the amended law extending the time for claiming a lump-sum death payment. This applies to servicemen who die abroad and are later returned to the United States for burial or reburial. Survivors who pay the burial expense may now claim reimbursement up to two years after the reburial instead of two years after the serviceman's death.

Good Pasture Vital For High Profit

Maryland poultrymen can make a considerable saving in feed costs by having good range, and at the same time produce birds with better market, laying, and breeding qualities.

A clean range that furnishes plenty of succulent, palatable forage supplies many of the nutritive requirements of poultry. The value of poultry pastures will depend upon how palatable the plants are to the poultry, the volume and stand of forage available, the practice of mowing, and the use of rotational grazing.

About 10 per cent of the dry matter in the diets of chickens and turkeys can be furnished by a good pasture.

Poultry pastures may be classed

Maryland's Safety Program Ranks First

The public information program of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission has won national recognition, it was announced this week.

Paul E. Burke, the Commission's Executive Director said that the National Safety Council has selected Maryland's program as the seventh best in the nation in 1951.

In 1950, he noted, Maryland ranked 33rd among the 48 states in their traffic public information program.

In addition, in 1951, Maryland's program ranked first in the Eastern states.

To mark the honor, a plaque will be presented to Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, ceremonies to be held next month, Mr. Burke noted. He added:

"It is pleasant to win recognition on a national basis for what we are doing here in Maryland. However, we of the Traffic Safety Commission, as much as we feel honored by the award, will only be satisfied if we can succeed in making our highways as safe as our churches.

"We ask every driver to observe the basic rules of safety—drive slowly, make sure your car is in safe mechanical condition; and, most important of all, don't drive after drinking.

"These few rules, if followed, can certainly reduce our death toll—they might even eliminate it altogether."

Mr. Burke this week called upon every driver in the State to make August "VACATION TRAFFIC SAFETY MONTH." In pointing out his reasons for selecting the month of August for an intensified safety drive, Mr. Burke had this to say:

"Statistics show that August is the month in which more vacationists jam the highways than any other month in the year.

"Statistics also show that the number of traffic deaths rises in direct proportion to the number of cars on the highways.

"However, we can eliminate, or at least drastically cut down the number of these highway deaths; and, we can do it if only each motorist on the road will adhere rigidly to a few simple rules of safety."

"These few rules, if followed, timely in the month of August, for the many Marylanders who will use their autos for vacation trips," Mr. Burke continued.

Here are the rules:

- 1—Make sure your car is in safe as permanent, semi-permanent, and annual or temporary. The two factors determining which type of pasture offers the most advantages to the poultryman are: the type of soil on which the pasture is to be raised, and the adaptability of the different species to the soil.

- 2—Start your trip in plenty of time, so you won't have to hurry.
- 3—Keep your speed down, slow up here and show up there.
- 4—Pass other cars only if there is plenty of room.
- 5—Stay far enough behind other cars so that you can stop in an emergency.
- 6—Keep your temper, and be courteous and patient in heavy traffic.
- 7—Don't drive after drinking—even a little.
- 8—Stop and rest whenever overtired or sleepy.

Fleming To Be Star At Track

OCEAN CITY, Md., July 24—Bill Fleming, one of the big names in American harness circles, has been added to the roster of top trainer-drivers who will compete at Ocean Downs Raceway during the seashore track's fourth 20-night meet, starting on

The key link position of the new Chesapeake Bay Bridge is indicated in the above map, showing the new highway pattern and increased traffic handling facilities available to motorists with the opening of the bridge to toll traffic on July 30. Driving the recently completed New Jersey Turnpike, is now possible to leave New York via the George Washington Bridge and proceed all the way to Richmond, Va., by-passing all major cities en route. Dotted lines on this map indicate road to be built, linking up this new road pattern.

Tuesday, Aug. 5.
Fleming will be marking his fourth straight season at Ocean Downs Raceway, where he usually gives an outstanding account of himself. Never lacking in top trotters and pacers, Fleming comes by his profession naturally. His father, the illustrious Vic Fleming, though retired as a trainer-driver, is the gent who drove the late great Billy Direct to the record 1:55—still untouched today!
And Bill Fleming, although a youngster at the time, also had a hand in developing Billy Direct.
When the Ocean Downs meet opens, Bill Fleming will have on hand around 12 horses. At present all are stabled at Baltimore Raceway for the meet which continues to August 4. After six nights of racing at Baltimore, Fleming was the leading driver with 15 starts, four victories, four seconds and one third. He was being pressed for the honors by cigar-smoking Joe Hylan, who will unravel a potent 19-horse stable for the Ocean Downs Raceway meet.
Fleming created a furore at Governor McKeldin, the guest of honor, saw Fleming start off a rousing $80.60 double with Netty Song, owned by Walter S. Spearin, of Salisbury, Md. at $8.80 and in the good time of 2:10 4-5. Then followed a 2:05 3-5 victory for Kiss 'N Tell, owned by Willard Smith of Dublin, Pa., with the payoff a juicy $22.50. The third victory came in the $2,000 Catonsville, with Bill piloting Belle Rosecroft, three-year-old Symbol Gantle III, also owned by Smith, to a smashing triumph in 2:09, and a payoff of $10. Not only that, Fleming had a second in Dick Case, Rowland Wade's veteran gelding from Moravia, N. Y. and a third with Piney Fingo, a two-year-old brown colt also owned by Smith.

Joe Eyler, Thurmont sportsman, will stable his horses at the Downs next month.

NOTICE

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who served on committees or otherwise helped during the recent Chamber of Commerce Carnival. It was only through their cooperation that the affair was the success it was. Indications are that between $600 and $700 will be realized and later placed in the Memorial Hall Assn. building fund.
