Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

As old John Silved used to say: "Man alive, shiver me timbers." That's exactly what most Emmitsburgians did Monday when the mercury decided to go into a tailspin and nosedived to the twenties. The cold spell caught most of us entirely unexpectedly and garages reported a run on antifreeze that lasted until late Monday evening. Many who thought the cold wave wouldn't amount to anything were sadly fooled and had frozen radiators Tuesday a. m. Clothing stores also reported business brisk with a heavy demand for winter clothing. However, thank heavens, the cold was of short duration, ending Tuesday.

With the coming of late fall and winter also enters in the series of accompanying winter activities, the first of which was held last Sunday in the form of a shooting match sponsored by the local fire company. Several hundred spectators and shooters turned out for the affair, which is normally attended by about half of that number. The luckiest man of the day perhaps, was Bernie Boyle, who walked off with two of the turkeys. Edgar Ashbaugh followed in line by shooting himself into the ownership of a swine, which he sold before leaving the grounds. Apparently Ed didn't have the bad luck another neighbor had. Seems as though this fellow also was fortunate enough to win a pig and much to his embarrassment, the animal obtained his non-permissioned freedom for a short while. Motorists were much surprised to have to stop suddenly when the pig darted down Main Street with a gang of boys in pursuit.

Next in line of winter activities comes another shooting match sponsored by the Indian Lookout Conservationists this Sunday. Following this the Halloween parade will be held and then before Thanksgiving another shooting match will be held by the Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of the Memorial Hall Assn. In the meantime St. Joseph's bazaar and supper, plus the Grange's Community show will be held.

Had enough for a while? Don't stop yet! It's not too soon to begin talking about Christmas. Again this year the Chamber of Commerce will sponsor its annual Xmas decoration contest which has proven so popular the past two seasons. The effects of this affair on the town are readily discernible with the town blossoming out more so each Yuletide until now it really is becoming a show-place with practically every home participating. Many elaborate exhibitions have been effected the past two years and the competition is getting stiffer, so why not begin now to draw up some type of scheme for the contest and see if you can't add your bit to the spirit and attractiveness of the town and at the same time perhaps, win yourself expense money. Well, anyway, ole Abby is informed that following Christmas we will be treated to another of those delightful and entertaining minstrels, such as was promoted last year by the Chamber of Commerce. While the date for the affair hasn't yet been set, it undoubtedly will be sometime in late January or early February and the proceeds once again will go to the Memorial Hall Assn. We hate to admit it, but slow progress has been made in obtaining funds for building. In two years of existence the fund and pledges total only around $5,000. Has your organization done its part yet? Some have held numerous affairs for the benefit of the fund, but just a few organizations doing all the work won't accomplish the desired effect. Bring it up at your next meeting, ladies and gents, and see to it that you do your part. You would want your group's name on the plaque in front of the hall listing the contributors, wouldn't you? I believe so, so let's get going. Incidentally we may have a building before many of us realize it. Negotiations are under way at this very moment for a building and site right here in town. I believe I might have more information on this matter for you next week.

Democrats Hold Edge In County Registration

Final official Frederick County registration figures by precinct, made available by the Board of Registry in Frederick this week, show there are 29,170 eligible to vote at the Nov. 4 presidential election.

The total number includes 16,039 Democrats and 12,857 Republicans—Democratic edge of 3,182. This is actually an increase of 167 in the Democratic book majority in the county since the registration figures prior to the 1950 elections.

The final official figures take into account strike-offs because of death, removals and duplications. Some persons, for instance, registered this fall, thinking their names were not on the registration records. However, upon a survey of the records following registration days, it was found that these persons were already registered. As a matter of fact, it was learned, some persons tried to register who had voted in the primary this spring.

The final total of number of persons eligible to vote is considerably below the first unofficial figure, which was 30,099.

Democrats have a majority in most precincts. For the first time, the Democrats have taken the registration lead in Thurmont, No. 3; Republicans retain an edge in Frederick 2, Middletown 1 and 2, Craegerstown, Urbana 2, Havers 2, Jefferson, Thurmont 1 and 2, Johnsonville, Linganore, Tuscarora and Burkittsville.

Catholic Bazaar Committees Are Named

Rev. Michael J. O'Brien, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, announced this week that plans were shaping up well for the annual fall bazaar and supper to be held by the church on Nov. 8.

The affair, which is over a century old in custom, will be held in the cafeteria and gymnasium of St. Joseph's High School and will feature a turkey and oyster supper for the nominal sum of $1.25 for adults and 60 cents for children. Music for the affair will be by jukebox and it was learned that a large number of Baltimoreans plan on attending the event.

Father O'Brien, procurement officer, announced the following committees in charge of the bazaar: general chairman, Mrs. Guy A. Baker Sr.; cooking, Mrs. Guy A. Baker Sr.; diningroom, Mrs. Marie Rosensteel; country store, Charlotte Sanders; candy stand, Mrs. Irene Zurgable; cake table, Mrs. Ruth Myers; sandwiches, Mrs. Leonard Sanders; soda and ice cream stand, high school boys and girls; bingo, Paul A. Keepers, and prizes, Mrs. Edward Lingg.

Servings will be begin at 4 p. m. and suppers will be made up for home accommodations if desired.

Another Boy Polio Suspect

Another polio suspect, Pat Stoner, young son of Mrs. Bernard Stoner, Route 1, was taken to City Hospital, Baltimore, Wednesday afternoon in the local VFW ambulance.

Young Stoner, aged nine, was admitted to the hospital by Dr. M. Franklin Birely, Thurmont physician.

The ill child is a fourth grade student at St. Euphemia's School and if the illness is diagnosed as polio, it will be the sixth case in this community within a month.

Community Show Program Bared

A tentative schedule for the Emmitsburg Grange's Community Show has been arranged by the committees in charge.

The affair will formally get under way Thursday afternoon on Nov. 6 at 2:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Emmitsburg High School. At that time the FFA will present an assembly program. The FFA opening ceremony will include a rebroadcast of the FFA radio program, a skit, "Building the FFA Emblem," and vocal and piano selections.

will conclude with the presentation and crowning of the Community Farm Queen.

A word of explanation about the farm queen may be needed. This queen or "chapter sweetheart" may be any girl in the community from the first to the twelfth grade. The FFA boys will make the nominations and select the queen to be presented as the highlight of the Thursday assembly.

The program for the remaining days of the show is as follows: Friday, Nov. 7, 8 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., entry of exhibits; 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., judging of exhibits; 6:30 p. m., show open to public; 8 p. m., free movie; 9 p. m., door prize awarding.

Master Arthur Elder, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Elder, was confined to his home this week suffering with a virus infection.

TRUCK OVERTURNS

George Ohler, Emmitsburg, escaped serious injury when a stone-laden truck he was operating upset at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning on the Cashtown-Orrtanna road. Gettysburg firemen were called as a precaution when gasoline poured from a broken fuel line. There was no fire.

Society To Elect

The regular monthly meeting of the Mite Society of Trinity Methodist Church will be held at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Thomas J. Frailey this evening at 8 o'clock. There will be an election of officers.

75,000 See Lincoln Re-Enactment

When Western Maryland Railway Company climaxed its centennial with the re-enactment of Abraham Lincoln's visit to Gettysburg and his immortal Gettysburg Address, 75,000 persons jammed into the historic Pennsylvania town, according to Pennsylvania State Police and National Park officials. More than 800 costumed persons assisted in the re-enactment. Tears flowed freely when, at the conclusion of Lincoln's address by singer-actor Ray Middleton, the Battle Hymn of the Republic was sung.

Will Of Late Mrs. Harry Gross Probed; Bulk Of Estate Goes To Charity

The will of Mrs. Myra Geraldine Fitzgerald Gross, formerly of this place and who recently resided in Frederick at the time of her death, was probed in the Orphans' Court Monday. No valuation was placed on the estate.

The trustees of the Strawberry Home for Boys at Eldersburg in Carroll County, are named as the residuary legatees in the will of Mrs. Gross, who is reported to have left a rather substantial estate. The income from this bequest, together with the principal if necessary, is to be used "for the education of some one boy in the said home who is worthy of this gift and who is approved by said trustees and my executors * * *."

Mrs. Gross requests that this be called the Francis Harry Gross Memorial Fund as "my expression of gratitude" for the "love and forethought" of her husband "which has protected me in my old age."

Mrs. Gross bequeaths to the Strawberry Home the Gross burial lot in Mountain View Cemetery, this place, with the understanding that the Home use $250 of the Gross Memorial Fund for the upkeep of the lot until this amount is exhausted.

She said this bequest was made because she had no relatives nearby and wished to protect the graves of her husband and herself from desecration. The conditions of this bequest were that the graves of Mrs. Gross and her husband were to be left undisturbed forever and the lot was not to be used for any other purpose than the burial place of her husband and herself or any one related to the Gross family by blood or marriage.

Should the trustees of Strawberry Home refuse to accept the bequest of the cemetery lot with conditions as set forth, then the legacy establishing the Gross Memorial Funds is to be forfeited, the will states, and the decision as to what organization is to inherit shall be decided by the executors in accordance with the wishes of the testatrix as expressed to them in a letter to be considered a part of the will.

This letter directs that the offer be made to any other Protestant home for boys regardless of denomination. If refused again it is to go to the Order of the East-

Distribute Fish

President Everett Chrimer of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club, announced this week the distribution of 500 bluegill fish to streams about the town.

Robert Stonesifer, chairman of the fish committee of the club, revealed that the fingerlings, from three to six inches in length, were placed in Tom's Creek and Monocacy River on Monday. He also stated the club expects a shipment of bass in the near future for distribution locally. This brings the total stocked in the past two years to several thousand.

Braise less tender cuts of meat or simmer them in liquid. These cuts take slow cooking to make them more tender.

David Kerrigan has accepted a position with the Westinghouse Company in Baltimore.

Mrs. Caldwell Addresses Soroptimists Club

Frederick County Soroptimist Club held its biweekly meeting last Wednesday evening as dinner guests of the Emmitsburg members at the home of Mrs. Estelle Frailey, Emmitsburg.

Mrs. Hazel Caldwell, head of the English department of the Emmitsburg High School and member of the club, talked informally on the Soroptimist International Convention in Copenhagen, Denmark, which she attended and her European tour which followed.

The convention colorfully opened at the Odd Fellow Place by the presentation of flags, where 1200 women representing 23 nations were registered.

The morning sessions consisted of reports by the Federation officers with luncheon at various famous restaurants of the city. The afternoons were devoted to sightseeing tours and in the evenings the Soroptimists were entertained at receptions at which time the Danish, American and British Federations were hostesses. For the first time since World War II, Austria and Germany were represented at the convention.

Following the convention she traveled through Holland, Upper Germany to Switzerland, a country which she described as being the "most beautiful" she had ever seen. In Amsterdam she visited the House of Rembrandt, the Rijksmuseum, with its collection of Old Masters and the Royal Palace. In Brussels there was the Grand Hotel de Ville, Palace of Justice and the unique Wiertz Museum. She continued by mountain railway to view the summit of Rigi de Lucerne, returning by motor coach through the Furka Pass to Interlaken. She had luncheon at the famous castle of Chiffon in Montreux.

The profusion of flowers throughout Europe was overwhelmingly, Mrs. Caldwell commented, and the excellent roads and modern buildings were far beyond her expectations. She had an interesting collection of pictures and mementos of various countries she visited.

Mrs. Caldwell amusingly referred to the fact that she lost her wallet twice during her tour, which was recovered entirely intact, also after having spent much time in selecting a Paris hat, she burned the veil trimming shortly after she had made the purchase.

Mrs. Caldwell, of Danish-American descent visited relatives in Denmark whom she had only known previously through correspondence.

C. of C. Backs Town Council On Blinker

The Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce unanimously went on record Tuesday night as concurring with the action of the Town Council in removal of the Blinker from the Square and installing a traffic light.

Vice President Bernard H. Boyle presided at the session in the absence of Ralph Ireland, president, who is confined to his home recuperating from surgery.

It was reported that all bills from the recent carnival had been paid, including a $55.06 current bill to the Potomac Edison Co., and the net proceeds of $432.32 turned over to the Memorial Hall Assn.

A letter composed jointly by the Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce inviting the Double Day Printing Co. to establish here, was read for approval of the group. A communication from the Boy Scouts of Emmitsburg was received and asked for a donation to the building fund of that group. Cloyd W. Seiss was appointed as the Chamber representative to work with the Scouts and to determine how much money and mechanical assistance was needed.

It was unanimously agreed by the association to lend its assistance in "getting out the vote" election day, Nov. 4.

A post-Yuletide minstrel was planned by the Chamber and Mrs. Robert Daugherty was appointed general chairman. The proceeds of this affair will be donated to the Memorial Hall Assn., as was last year's. It is planned to hold the affair in late January or early February. Also in the line of fund-raising activities is a shooting match which will possibly be held around Nov. 16 or 23. The proceeds of this affair also will go to the Memorial Hall.

For the third successive year the Chamber will sponsor its annual Christmas decoration contest. The affair will be run along the same lines as other years with two different classifications, domestic and commercial. Three prizes in each category will be awarded sometime after Christmas and before New Year's. Appointed on the committee to manage the contest were John W. Walter, Cloyd W. Seiss, and C. A. Elder.

Mrs. Robert Daugherty, chairman of a committee to muster local talent for television shows to raise monies for the Memorial Hall announced that arrangements are in progress to have two local youths appear on a show in the near future. They are Richard Frock and Jasper Wantz. The boys are expected to be televised on the "Award For Talent Show."

It was agreed to discuss early closing store hours for the Yuletide shopping season at the next meeting.

Marking Of Ballot Is Explained

The Presidential ballot at the November election in the county will contain nine spaces where voters may write in the name of electors, but election officials announced that it probably would be better if citizens just ignore this part of the ballot completely.

Otherwise, they said, it is possible that a voter may void his whole ballot by putting a mark in the wrong place.

The spaces for write-in names for electors must be placed on the ballot according to law, but in the view of most officials, they are just something that will confuse the voters.

At the top of the ballot will appear the names of the Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates of three parties—Eisenhower and Nixon, Republican; Hallinan and Bass, Progressive; Stevenson and Sparkman, Democrat—with a place to "x" the choice of the individual voter.

This mark will be sufficient to vote for President and Vice-President. If a voter makes this mark, then writes in a name or names in the blank spaces for electors and also puts one or more x's after these names, he will void his ballot, it was explained.

Watch Those Check Marks

Election officials also took occasion to remind prospective voters once more not to make check or "x" marks when they cast their ballots. They said that several hundred otherwise perfect ballots are thrown out each year in Frederick County because voters make these check marks instead of the required "z" marks.

In addition to the names of the Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates, and the spaces for elector write-ins, the ballot will contain the names of the two candidates for United States Senator, J. Glenn Beall, Republican, and George P. Mahoney, Democrat, and the names of the two candidates for Congressman from this district, DeWitt S. Hyde, Republican, and Stella E. Werner, Democrat.

There will also be two constitutional amendments, one relating to the State budget which has received much support, and the other regarding acquisition and disposal of property by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, which won't stir up the slightest interest here.

At least 10 ballots have already been voted here by servicemen who chose to exercise their franchise while home on furlough rather than wait until they returned to base to get mail ballots and return them. These ballots which have been cast have been placed in a sealed ballot box in the Election Supervisors' vault which will not be opened until other mail ballots from servicemen are opened at the official canvass of the vote.

It now appears that between 200 and 300 persons in the armed forces will be sent ballots from Frederick County.

CORRECTION

In last week's Chronicle appeared a story of the sale of the John M. Roddy Sr. property near St. Anthony's. It stated that the purchaser was George Jordan. This was erroneous and should have read James E. Jordan, the purchaser. We sincerely regret the error.

Many of these articles have been devoted to the fight against socialism because socialism is the major menace of the day. Writing against socialism, I am like a farmer spraying his fields against a plague of insects. Everyone of us knows that when such menaces come they have to be wiped out before anything else can be done.

But every farmer knows that spraying against insects is only a protective measure. It saves a crop that is already growing and the crop wouldn't be there in the first place unless a lot of other good work had been done, starting with the preparation of the soil itself. Moreover, even after the insects have been killed, cultivation of the field must still go on.

In the same way, we fight against socialism to keep it from destroying our free enterprise system. Yet, spraying the Reds is only a protective measure after all. It saves our system from one type of menace. Just as crops fail from many causes, the free enterprise system is also subject to many dangers. And the greatest danger of all arises when the people of a nation play follow-the-leader instead of setting their own course for themselves.

In a recent article, I made the point that in recent years we Americans have let Washington make too many decisions for us. I mean that instead of sending people to Washington to do definite things for us, we have relied on Washington to tell us what to do.

In another article, I pointed out that politicians do not actually lead a nation, but instead, try to please a majority of voters.

Now when the majority of voters are confused, and therefore fail to take clear positions, party leaders try to assemble a majority of their own. They do this by granting special treatment to specific groups within our nation. In short, they use the power of government in an effort to sway huge blocks of votes—the labor unions, or the farmers, or some religious or racial minorities, or anyone else.

This clearly is what has been happening in America in recent years. The groups, as groups, have received certain benefits. But the nation, as a nation, has become divided on class and occupational lines.

We, the people, are ourselves to blame for most of this. Never before in the history of this country has there been so great a need for the people to re-examine their situation, and reach their own decisions.

In this presidential year, we will all have to vote more or less blindly, accepting one party or the other more or less as such party roughly and approximately stands for what we want, or opposes what we dislike. A vote on Nov. 4 will be a vote for a "package" rather than a vote for every item in that package. But when the next Congress convenes, we will all have a fresh opportunity to consider our major problems singly and carefully, one at a time, as bills are introduced.

It will be the clear duty of every American to have an opinion on every major point, and to make that opinion known to his representatives.

That way—and that way only—can representative government and genuine free enterprise flourish.

LOOKING AHEAD BY GEORGE S. BENSON President—Harding College Seary, Arkansas

The Non-Political Promise

The people among us today who were born in 1850 or before could almost be counted on the fingers of our two hands. Although Arkansas holds the record for the longevity of its people, I know of only two or three people now living who are 102 years old. Yet if we could all vividly see life in America as it was lived in 1850 we could better understand the amazing progress that has occurred, and what brought it about. It would be good for all of us to have this better understanding.

Let's use as an example the glass bottle. It was not a necessity of life in 1850, but it was beginning to be a useful article in demand. How was it made in 1850? A man holding a long pipe to his lips, blew and twisted and twirled a glob of molten glass into a bottle. The glass blower was a skilled artisan. With the assistance of a helper he could turn out bottles at the rate of 50 per man per hour. Today one machine in a bottle manufacturing plant, tended by one man, turns out 4000 bottles an hour.

Primitive Production

In 1850 grain was ground by a miller with a grinding stone; most of the nation's metal work was done in blacksmith shops; land was plowed by the horse and man; transportation of people and goods was largely accomplished in Conestoga wagons. There were a few "factory" centers and the machine had begun to show its prowess in the production and processing of goods. But in 1850 the horse and oxen still provided 50 per cent of the power energy in the realm of production; man power contributed 20 per cent and machine power 30. And the living standard of most of the population was primitive, to say the least. We had none of today's niceties of life.

The machine, however, was coming into its own. Industries were formed to put it to work. From 1850 to 1900 industrial production swiftly expanded. In the 50-year period the amount of goods one man could turn out with the help of improved machinery doubled. And here's the important fact: With this increasing industrial production, and steady improvement in production per man hour, the living standard for the whole nation kept pace. It improved an average of two per cent per year from 1850 to 1900.

Industrial Progress

From 1900 to 1950 mass production techniques were developed by such men as Ford, Firestone, Swift and Sloan to augment the growing might of the machine. In this 50-year period the amount of goods one man could turn out tripled. The average improvement in the living standard was three per cent per year. We call this improvement "technological progress." It means that the genius of American producers, the mastery of the machine, the large sums of money put to work as industrial capital, the skill of American workers, and the constantly improving mass production techniques have combined to bring about the production of three per cent more wealth per man day each year than was produced the year before.

The sparkplug of our progress during the 1850-1950 century was incentive—incentive to profit. Everyone wants to improve his lot. That's natural. That's the reason a machinist in a factory pinches pennies and saves enough to open his own small shop and expand his earnings. As he expands his earnings through more production all of us benefit indirectly. For he has created some new, additional wealth.

On The Threshold

American people stand on the threshold of an amazing new era of production and prosperity. Atomic energy is here. It and the other great new developments that have come from our industrial progress give mankind the greatest promise of plenty, the surest hope for security. In the next 25 years we certainly should improve productivity enough to raise the living standard at least four per cent each year, doubling everybody's economic welfare! But we can only do this if we keep intact our private enterprise system and its basic rights—to own property, to go into business for profit, to have freedom to get ahead, freedom to create, to produce, to compete.

I've just read an article on Aust. I.A., the country in which the government for the past 25 years has been shouldering so many of its citizens' personal responsibilities. The essence of the article was that progress had stopped in Australia. The writer said that no industrial expansion, no visible improvement in commerce had been made in the last 10 or 15 years. For years Australia was governed by the advocates of big government, the Socialists. They installed so much government bureaucracy that it seems to have permanently crippled the nation. We mustn't let this happen in America. Our own welfare and happiness is at stake.

Have competent electricians install electrical wiring. Improvised wiring leads to short circuits and short circuits lead to fires.

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

The Maryland OPS announced this week that on Oct. 27, ceilings will be placed back on radio, TV and phonograph parts. These parts had been suspended from price control on Aug. 29.

Sellers of radio, TV and phonograph parts have been given until Oct. 27 to allow them to make adjustments in their operations which might be necessary to comply with the original regulations. OPS explained that the re-control of ceilings on parts was not taken in consideration of price movements on parts. Rather, the action was based on additional information available to the agency that the suspension of parts impaired effective price controls on other products still subject to price ceilings and on radio and television repair services, selling at ceiling and not intended to be suspended from price controls.

The Maryland OPS explained that OPS could not practically administer suspension of controls on radio and TV parts while at the same time maintaining ceilings on the same or similar parts used in other products.

"As we have tried to explain since the agency began its policy of suspensions from control of items selling well under ceiling, suspension means that controls can be quickly re-imposed whenever the situation calls for it, as in this instance," Hugo R. Hoffman, Maryland OPS director said.

Pimlico Track Opens Tomorrow

Pimlico's annual fall race meeting, which begins tomorrow and ends Nov. 15, promises to be a real "parade of champions" judging from the response to the various stakes to be offered during the 19-day session.

First of the fields to take to the track will be that for the Pimlico Special, an opening day, and that group will come from an array of talent which includes One Count, One Hitter, Battlefield, Crafty Admiral, To Market, Armageddon, Alerted, and General Staff.

Then for the Pimlico Futurity, there is every prospect that Alfred Vanderbilt's great juvenile colt, Native Dancer, will wind up his 1952 campaign by seeking the Futurity prize. It is a rich one, with almost $60,000 for the winner.

Stakes winners scheduled to fight it out for the main money in the Marguerite include Late Model, Is Proud, Mimi Mine, Eddie Sue, Flirtatious, Sweet Patootie, Piedmont Lass, and Grecian Queen.

In the Gallorette such outstanding performers as Next Move, Parading Lady, Dixie Flyer, Sickle's Image, Kiss Me Kate, Lily White, La. Corredora, Nilufer, Faga-La, and Marta are among the eligibles, assuring a fine array of talent from which to get a starting field.

The Maryland Jockey Club officials are making preparations for a banner season since the stakes have been so well supported.

Fall Brings Fowl Cholera Menace

Sudden death and high mortality characterize acute fowl cholera, one of the most destructive of poultry diseases. Usually striking during the cold, wet weather of fall and early winter, cholera is often an unnoticed invader until birds are found dead under the roosts or in the nests. The onset of this disease is so rapid that death frequently results before outward symptoms are observed.

However, when birds do linger on briefly before dying, they may show these symptoms: sudden listlessness, ruffled feathers, loss of appetite, yellowish-green diarrhea, and a dark purple discoloration of the comb, face, and wattles. A post-mortem examination of an affected bird usually reveals a liver that is light in color, either overall or in streaks.

Tiny Hemorrhages Evident Pinpoint hemorrhages may also be noted on the liver of the infected bird. Breast, heart, and muscles may be dark in color, or show signs of hemorrhaging. A characteristic foul odor is usually noticed when a cholera-affected bird is opened.

In order to be certain of the diagnosis, it is best to have it determined by a poultry-disease specialist. Cholera organisms can be seen in the fowl's blood with the aid of a high-powered microscope.

Specific Medication Against the ravages of acute fowl cholera, specific medication plays an important role. One of the most valuable drug compounds for treating this disease is sulfaquinoxaline. When this agent is administered, either through the feed or the drinking water, immediate losses from mortality are usually checked in a short time.

Sanitation is very important in controlling cholera in the flock. Move affected birds to clean ground or a clean house. Keep them from contacting apparently uninfected birds.

Many poultrymen vaccinate against cholera with a killed-culture bacterin. This step may be taken anytime and may be repeated as often as necessary. Such vaccination is considered an aid in preventing the disease.

Cancer Drive Over

Frederick County's cancer crusade for the past year went over its $5000 goal by 14.7 per cent, according to figures released by the Maryland Division of the American Cancer Society.

The full amount collected in Frederick County was $5738.80, while $337,794.36 was collected in Maryland. The state raised 8.9 per cent more than its goal. Co-chairmen for the Frederick crusade were Thomas S. Glass and Hugh McCormick.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

More Wheat Under Support This Year

The large wheat crop harvested this year makes it all the more important for farmers to use the price support program as a means of marketing their crop in an orderly manner, James A. Cottman, Acting Chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee, says. As of Sept. 1, the nation's 1952 wheat crop was estimated at 1298 million bushels, the second largest on record.

Thus far this year, Maryland wheat growers are putting more wheat under support than during the same period last year, the chairman explained. Through Sept. 15, a total of 1.1 million bushels of 1952 crop wheat had been placed under government price supports, which represents more than 42 per cent increase over 1951. Through the full month of September last year, only 677,759 bushels of Maryland wheat had been placed under the price support program. "To make the program fully effective, however, a much larger proportion of the crop will have to go under price support, Mr. Cottman says.

Urges Marketing of Corn

"Don't rush too much corn to market at harvest time if you want your crop to pay for itself," warns Mr. Cottman. Farmers can do a lot to protect the market for their corn by spreading out their sales throughout the marketing year.

No farmer has to lose money on his corn. He can get ready cash under the government corn loan program and thus carry his crop over the usual low-price period of harvest time instead of dumping it on the market. Or, if he doesn't want to store his corn under loan, he can still have price protection by covering his crop with a purchase agreement. In either case, the producer may sell his corn anytime he wishes.

"There is a definite connection between heavy marketings and low prices during and immediately after harvesting," the acting state chairman says. The purpose of price supports is to help farmers stabilize prices by marketing their crops in an orderly manner. That helps consumers too by preventing short supplies and high prices later in the year.

The corn loan rate for the 1952 crop has been announced at $1.76 a bushel. This compares with $1.73 a bushel for the 1951 crop. Loans and purchase agreements will be available to farmers through April 30, 1953, and will mature on July 31, 1953 with the farmer having the option of liquidating his indebtedness during the first 10 days of June. You may get further information on the corn price support program from your county FMA office.

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 23—According to the cycle theory a business depression may be due during the next year or two. When at Wesley, studying charts and statistics, I am inclined to agree with this school of thought. After, however, a visit to New York and seeing what the sales organizations are doing today, compared with 20 years ago, I believe that—barring World War III—there will be no return of conditions such as existed in 1932.

Protection For Worthy Cases
There are several reasons for my mild optimism: (1) Real estate mortgages will be protected by the Federal Housing agencies; (2) stock prices will be bolstered by 50 per cent margins; (3) big business failures will be prevented by the RFC; (4) the banks are in a very strong position, and most of the large corporations have no loans outstanding, but rather big surpluses; (5) farmers are insured by price supports, and climate controls. The most damage will come from selfish labor leaders, heavy imports, and reckless price cutting.

The brightest factor, which I have in mind, never existed 20 years ago. I refer to the billions now being spent on wise advertising, salesmen training, and especially on conventions. During my visit here in New York City, I have seen some of the brains, the planning, and the energy which are being spent on copy, color, space, type, and even models! When you read national advertisements in a great weekly, or in your local newspaper, you have no idea of the work spent in preparing those advertisements.

Markets Now Are Analyzed
Even before writing these advertisements, both the product and the appeal have been tried out on thousands of housewives. Perhaps five different advertisements would be selected out of 40 copies submitted; then each of these five would be tried out on 5000 families. The reaction of these housewives determines who are the best artists, photographers, copy writers and psychologists. In case of a depression, this advertising will be even increased as a factor in giving consumers confidence to buy when the nation is again threatened with unemployment.

In addition to this newspapers, magazine, and similar advertising; millions are being spent on radio and television. Modern television advertising did not exist 20 years ago. Not only is this a great factor today in creating consumer buying, but plans are being laid for television to serve in a most wonderful capacity in case business should suddenly go into a tail spin.

"Well, I had to find SOMETHING for my assistants to do!"

Convention For Salesmen

Twenty years ago anyone who couldn't get a job at anything else could always try to sell something on commission. Now this is all changed. Eighty per cent of the salesmen being employed today have taken college courses on business administration. Before being allowed to sell, they are put through individual plant training. Then once a year the leading concerns have great conventions here in New York, or elsewhere. Preceding the last depression only about 150 of these annual national conventions were held. I learn today that over 585 are already planned for the next eight months. Moreover, plans are made so that this number could be doubled if unemployment should seriously return.

Visual Demonstrations

At these conventions the sales forces not only hear speeches; but these speeches are illustrated by films, tape recorders, diagrams and "flop photos." In short, when the last depression struck, the country was unprepared with no economic army, navy or air force. But, today we have in reserve for special use, in case of unemployment, a sales army, an advertising navy, and a radio-television air force. These can be thrown into activity at the drop of a hat.

So long as people are dishonest, inefficient or lazy, there will be business depressions; the same as there are sicknesses when we abuse our health. As, however, new treatments and new drugs are reducing the death rate, so these new sales developments can prevent unemployment from becoming too severe. In other words, we are now building up an economic "fire department" to prevent an economic conflagration. This, we never had before.

Delaware-New Jersey River Span Is Named "Bridge of the Year"

Three new bridges erected by U. S. Steel's American Bridge Division have been judged by the American Institute of Steel Construction as being among the "most beautiful" four new spans in the United States. Above is the Delaware River Memorial Bridge which placed first in class 1 annual competition for spans of 400 feet or more. It replaces the old Newcastile Ferry to connect with the New Jersey Turnpike to cut travel time for heavy North-South traffic.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

In Washington bureaus the interest is not in the presidential election, but rather in the many Congressional contests.

There was more interest in the nominating conventions than the election because there was a chance that the entire situation would be changed by one, or both conventions.

C. W. Harder

Bureaucrats who draw their salaries because of foreign aid programs, were afraid that one, or both conventions might follow the recommendations of Herbert Hoover.

Now the feeling is both tickets are headed by men committed to internationalists. European leaders also feel confident, U. S. observers who attended the World Bank and International Monetary Conferences in Mexico City, report European delegates were quite open about the new plan they expect to be approved by the White House around March, regardless of who is living in it.

This new plan makes even past and present multi-billion dollar plans look like small change. Huge European industrial monopolies no longer want so many U. S. tax dollars poured directly into their countries in the form of goods. With U. S. billions, they have hit all time record production themselves.

The new plan calls for American billions to Latin America, Asia, other non-European nations, to buy goods with.

Here is the pay-off for Europe. Instead of U. S. made goods, these areas are to receive U. S. © National Federation of Independent Business cash so that they can buy from Europe as well as the U. S.

Everybody wins but Uncle Sam.

Astonishing as it seems, this plan is already in effect to some degree. The MSA is now letting nations receiving U. S. aid buy from other sources.

For example, MSA Bulletin No. 158 announces on that day another $5,694,000 was given away, $2 million of the total was for petroleum products for the United Kingdom from Latin American and British Trinidad, Canada, Germany, Japan, and France, shared in the truck and rubber shipments made to Yugoslavia, and China, accounting for another $2 million.

This plan which European monopolies feel confident will be approved also provides for world-wide price fixing with the U. S. supporting prices.

Washington also expects that to carry out this plan, new controls and new taxes will be imposed on the nation's small business and middle class.

Washington now thinks this world-wide gravy train will be derailed only by two events. The first will be the election to Congress of men opposed to U. S. giveaway programs.

The second event will be an organized, aggressive public opinion to support the views of those Congressmen. This public support will be needed to bolster the stand of these rebelling Congressmen as they will be targets of a heavily financed propaganda barrage. Therefore, Washington bureaucrats are painfully sensitive to the reactions today in small towns, as they feel the issue could be decided there. Sentiment in the big cities can be controlled, they believe.

PARTY PREPARATIONS

WHICH IS MORE FUN—a Hallowe'en party or getting ready for it? Decorating cakes and pies can be a party all its own. Take these delicious Hallowe'en tarts for example, with a luscious, fluffy-textured coconut-chocolate filling. Easy as pie to make, and then let your imagination take over and turn these little pies into halloween faces with features of candy corn. Ginning or grinning your guests will love them.

HALLOWEEN TARTS

- 1 envelope (unflavored) gelatine
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 3 egg whites, unbeaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup shredded coconut, cut
- 9 baked 4-inch tart shells
- Candy corn

Mix gelatine, 1/2 cup of the sugar, salt and milk in top of double boiler. Add chocolate. Cook over hot water until chocolate is melted and gelatine is thoroughly dissolved. Blend well with rotary egg beater. Pour slowly over egg yolks, stirring constantly. Return mixture to double boiler and cook 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Cool 10 minutes.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture will stand in stiff peaks. Fold in chocolate mixture gradually, blending well. Add vanilla and coconut. Turn into tart shells. Make Hallowe'en faces on tarts, using candy corn to form eyes, nose and mouth.

Maryland Farmer's Income Rises To 18% In Past Two Years

The 1951 cash income of Maryland farmers rose to $269.6 million, or 18 per cent above the 1950 total of $228.7. This was disclosed in a report issued by the Maryland Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, a branch of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Income from livestock and livestock products was $194.4 million, accounting for two-thirds of all cash receipts to Maryland farmers last year. Income from these commodities rose 20 per cent compared to 1950.

Dairy products led the commodity list with 1951 cash income of $64 million. Sales of chickens, including broilers, were next.

Tobacco was the most important single crop, although there was an eight per cent decline in 1951 tobacco sales. Crop income rose 14 per cent in 1951, although there were declines in income of tobacco, hay, sweet potatoes, apples, and peaches. Income from soybeans showed the most increase, 71 per cent to $2.7 million. National farm cash income rose 15 per cent in 1951.

Wonder How Miss Gilbert Is in "History"?

By now I guess you've heard about the spelling errors in the kids' report cards this week.

A typical card looked like this:

Arithmetic.....	B
Geography.....	B
Spelling.....	C
Grammar.....	B

I don't know if Miss Gilbert, the principal, actually wrote those cards, but she took full responsibility. This morning I hear she got up in the Assembly Hall—before all the students—and started writing GRAMMAR with two "a's" on the blackboard 100 times!

From where I sit, I'll bet this makes her even more popular with the students. It's nice to see an expert admit she occasionally makes a mistake. Too many so-called "experts" claim they're never wrong on such subjects as what you or I ought to eat... what we should wear... whether we should enjoy beer or butter-milk. A really wise person never claims to "know all the answers" all the time.

HOPE FOR TWO MILLION

The blind beggar is disappearing from the American scene. He is supporting himself as an expert craftsman. The man who spent years in a wheelchair, bitter and hopeless because of a childhood injury that cost him his legs, now walks to work, a little stiffly perhaps, but soundly. These and many more are discovering that they need not live a life of dependent invalidism.

Modern scientific knowledge has restored many who would formerly have been looked upon as hopeless cripples. In hospitals and special training centers both children and adults learn to use unaccustomed muscles. Devices of unbelievable efficiency replace lost limbs. Under medical supervision, expert teachers aid halting steps. Public and private organizations throughout the U. S. are helping people disabled by illness or accidents to help themselves.

There are about two million disabled people in this country who can and should be employed or placed in more productive jobs. And the number of disabled citizens will probably increase. Oddly enough, this is partly due to the great advances in medicine. Many whose lives are saved by new drugs and surgical treatment survive only to find themselves handicapped. In addition, we are an aging nation, and age continues to take its toll in chronic illness and injury. Yet many of these people need not be a burden to their families and to society.

Vocational rehabilitation programs for men and women who are handicapped are carried on in all of the 48 states. There are medical, surgical, psychiatric, and hospital services, artificial limbs, braces, hearing aids, and the like available. Guidance and training for the right job are given. Tools, equipment, licenses—whatever is needed to give the disabled person a fair start—are provided when necessary. Placement in the right kind of job, and follow-up to make sure that the person and job are well-matched, these services, too, are available to the handicapped.

In these days, when the defense program requires the work of every available person, it is important that the handicapped person who can be rehabilitated and employed should take advantage of all the opportunities open to him, both for his own sake and for his country's welfare.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have they that do His commandments.—(Psalms CXI, 10.)

To fear God does not mean that we should be in fright and trembling as before danger, but rather in reverential awe, respect, and love of Him. Truly are we wise and mature, whatever our years, only when we have become aware of the inspiration, guidance and strength we may receive through communion with the Almighty and obedience to His commandments.

APPLESAUCE TRICKS

You can save time and flavor when making applesauce by using a few simple tricks.

It isn't necessary to take extra time to peel apples before making a large quantity. Simply wash, quarter and core the apples. Cook until just tender in a covered pan with a small amount of water. Then remove the skins quickly and easily by running the apples through a food press. If red apples are used, the skins will give the sauce an attractive pinkish tint. Add a few grains of salt and sweeten the sauce to taste while it's still hot.

The amount of water you add to the apples depends upon the juiciness of the fruit and how thick you like your applesauce. Avoid adding too much water since the flavor may change when the sauce is cooked down. With a small amount of water you'll need to "watch the pot" and adjust the heat to prevent scorching.

Another way to make applesauce is to pare quartered and

RAYMOND C. WARREN vs. MARY ELLEN WARREN

No 17448 Equity in the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Md.

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Raymond C. Warren, from the Respondent, Mary Ellen Warren.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on the 2nd day of February, 1946 in Frederick County, Maryland, by Reverend William C. Royal, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that they lived together as man and wife at 216 Dill Avenue, Frederick, Maryland until on or about the 4th day of October, 1950, when the Respondent deserted the Complainant without any just cause or reason; that said desertion has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months last past; that the separation of the parties is final and deliberate and that there is no hope or expectation of a reconciliation between the parties; that three children were born as a result of said marriage; that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, where he has resided for more than one year last past; that the Respondent is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and that her last known place of residence was in the American Zone of Germany. The Bill prays that the Complainant be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII, and for general relief and process.

It is thereupon this 17th day of October, 1952, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the said non-resident Respondent of the object and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County, once a week for four consecutive weeks prior to the 22nd day of November, 1952, commanding her to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 8th day of December, 1952, and show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

cored apples, and cook them until just soft. Crush the pieces with a potato masher or stir until smooth. Then add salt and sweeten to taste.

If you like a tart applesauce but have very mild apples, cook the apples with a little lemon juice. For an extra special touch—and for variety—use brown sugar or honey for sweetening. Or cook the apples with raisins, a few whole cloves, or a stick of cinnamon.

enters its closing weeks, political literature appears to dominate the local scene. Several of the candidates have been guests here at various functions in their behalf and both sides have established local headquarters where attendants report a keen interest in the coming election.

Last week Abigail asked the schools to take a straw vote among the students in an effort to establish some type of trend here. Sister Leo of St. Joseph's H. S. graciously obliged and set immediately to work. Sister Lucille, principal, revealed the results as follows: For Stevenson, 38%; for Eisenhower, 68%. While the results were not entirely to our satisfaction (I'm a Stevenson lady), it does disclose what the children hear at home and it does indicate a real battle is in the offing.

Check your stoves and furnaces to be sure they are safe.

None Injured In 3-Car Smashup

No one was injured in a three-car accident investigated by state police of the Gettysburg detail four miles north of Emmitsburg on the Emmitsburg-Gettysburg road at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening. Arnold D. Cregger, 18, Emmitsburg, Route 2, told officers his car struck the cars of Paul W. Bernhardt, 62, Emmitsburg, Route 2, and Frank Brown, 43, Harrisburg, when he attempted to pass the Bernhardt vehicle when it halted preparatory to making a turn.

And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to Me shall never hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst.—(St. John VI, 35.)

When we have accepted Christ and live in Him daily—when we truly believe in His teachings and practice them—then we shall never envy the wealthy their riches nor the famous their transient pleasures; we shall never have to bear our heavy burdens alone, and we shall know the greatest joy and contentment possible this side of Heaven.
