Sidewalk superintendents lined the streets of Emmitsburg this week with hearts content as they watched the work of resurfacing the town's streets progress. Truly it was a sight for sore eyes to see many old friends for the first time since I don't know when. They all appeared thoroughly interested in the new-fangled road machinery as it threaded its black ribbon straight through the town's streets. As usual, the working crewmen received many suggestions from the spectators as to how to do this or that, and at the same time answered a deluge of interrogations concerning the project.

Well, I can't blame them too much for we all are interested, I am sure in any major improvement to old Emmitsburg. I, myself, was fascinated at the new way of laying resurfacing material. The results of this work can already be seen before it is half way through and I think we should be appreciative of the generosity of the State Roads Commission in granting this improvement which is considered a valuable asset to the corporation. The many other projects also under way tend to make us all the more proud of this staid old community. Installation of the traffic light is underway, as is the installation of the dial telephone system. Yes, things are humming here right now. The biggest handicap to progress, I am told, is the heavy volume of traffic which flows daily through Emmitsburg. Traffic regulating workers were harrassed at times to maintain any semblance or order, but under the circumstances, I approve highly of the job they have turned in.

Prospects appear bright for some type of industry coming here. The Lions Club has been instrumental in securing a good contact with a firm, however, we can't tell you any more because business of this type requires a certain degree of anonymity, as you very well know. I am told that several concerns are still interested in locating here, so we should be successful this time in landing at least one of them.

Who says Emmitsburg isn't a sporting town? Grapevine sources relay the information to me that hardly a day or night goes by when you aren't able to bump into some local citizen at nearby racetracks. Several years ago there were only a few men who visited such places, now ladies and even children are ardent fans of the sport. Seems as though the Federal government's attempt to wipe out gambling and bookies, actually has increased interest in the sport.

Here's a gem that doesn't happen in a lifetime, and yet it has happened twice in two weeks to a local gent. While most of us plug and strive for years to catch any fish, the size of which we can be proud of this gent, "Jim" Cavender up and catches a 25-inch brown trout two weeks ago; apparently unperturbed over his luck, he goes right back to the same stream this week to prove to local anglers that they're still there, and what do you think he did? Right, believe it or not, another 25-inch Rainbow trout. Fifty inches of trout in two tries. Why that's more fish in inches than most of us can garner in a whole season. And right now is where this old gal is switching from this battered old substitute for long-hand writing to a fishing rod.

Rainbow Lake Opening Monday

Rainbow Lake will officially open Monday morning as the bass season is ushered in on June 1—the earliest in the state's history. Members belonging to the Indian Lookout Conservation Club are permitted to take one guest. The lake, owned by the Emmitsburg Water Co., has been said to be "loaded" with bass and bluegills. Fishermen are urged to obey all the rules on the watershed which are conspicuously posted. Any infraction of the rules can cause the loss of privilege to all fishermen. The daily limit on bass is 10 and the legal length 10 inches. The season terminates on November 30.

Locals Climb To Third Place In League

Emmitsburg's entry in the Pen-Mar Baseball League Sunday continued its win streak by trouncing Blue Ridge Summit to the tune of 12 to 9. The victory by Manager Frank Apichella's squad launched them in undisputed third place in the standings and makes their record three wins against one defeat to date.

Hitting stars for the locals were Pat Boyle and Paul Clarke with three hits apiece in Sunday's tilt. A home run by Bob Koontz was nullified when it was discovered he hadn't touched second base.

The locals, while being able to win their games, showed weakness at the plate. However, Sunday they cut loose with a deluge of blows, numbering 15.

Two games are scheduled over the week-end when Saturday (Memorial Day) Emmitsburg plays host to Union Bridge, tied for first place, and Sunday they journey to Littlestown to engage the Pennsylvanians who also are tied for first place.

Littlestown and Union Bridge remain unbeaten in the Pen-Mar League as each registered its second straight victory Sunday. Collecting 17 safeties, Littlestown crushed New Windsor, 16-3, at New Windsor. The winners had a shutout until the final inning when the Marylanders came up with three tallies. Mehring, C. Crouse, Barnes and Sents each poled three hits for Littlestown, while Price also connected for a trio of safeties for New Windsor.

Union Bridge blasted out a 10-1 decision at New Oxford.

"Skip" Fiscel turned in a sparkling performance for Cashtown as he blanked Thurmont 2-0 on the latter's field. He yielded four hits and fanned 12.

Mount Star Athletes Receive Annual Awards

At the annual Activities Dinner held at Mount St. Mary's College on May 18, four Mountaineer athletes received awards for athletic excellence. Ted Kachnowski, co-captain of basketball for the past two years and a four-letter man in basketball, was awarded the coveted Faculty Trophy, emblematic of the outstanding student athlete at the college. Kachnowski also received a trophy from the Monogram Club, as the outstanding basketball player at the college.

A graduate of New Britain High in Connecticut, Kachnowski served a three-year hitch with the Army in ordnance. While attached to the Second Army, he led the Aberdeen post to the Army championship in 1947-48. The next year he captained the Fort Meade Generals to an awe-some 41-10 record. A senior in economics, Kachnowski will receive his B.S. at the June Commencement.

Honored with Kachnowski were William Whittaker of Wilmington, Del., named the outstanding trackman; Ward Clarke, Port Jefferson, N. Y., the outstanding baseball player; and Frank Grubic of Harrisburg, named the outstanding tennis player.

Whittaker, a graduate of Salesianum, also has won letters in baseball and football. The track team's outstanding sprinter and broad-jumper, he also has been active with the college yearbook, the Pridwin and the Adelphi and Shamrock Clubs. He will receive his B.S. in economics in June. Grubic, a graduate of Harrisburg Catholic, is also a veteran of three years' service with the Army. He served in Japan and the Canal Zone with the Field Artillery. The most consistent winner on the tennis team, Grubic is a member of the Tierney Honor Society, the Glee Club, the Monogram Club and the International Relations Club. He will receive a B.S. in economics in June.

Ward Clarke has been the mainstay of the Mountaineer pitching staff for the past three years and one of the top hurlers in the Mason-Dixon Conference. The only Junior honored, has posted a four-hitter with 17 strikeouts against Catholic U. and a one-hitter with 12 strike outs against Gettysburg College this year. He is a science major.

Ex-Senator O'Connor To Address Mount Graduating Class

The 145th Commencement week at Mount St. Mary's College will begin tomorrow with ordinations in the college chapel by the Most Rev. Lawrence J. Shehan, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore. Two seminarians will be ordained to the priesthood. The Rev. Mr. Joseph Mazalik of Luzerne, Pa., will be ordained for the diocese of Oklahoma City-Tulsa; and Lawrence Golon of New Britain, Conn., for the diocese of El Paso, Texas. In addition, 21 seminarians will receive subdeaconate and 26 will receive Minor Orders.

Stresses Need For Kindergarten

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle, Dear Sir:

Recently the Chronicle carried a notice that next September a "pre-school" will be opened in Emmitsburg for four and five-year-old children.

I, for one, was delighted to read this as it has been a constant source of amazement to me that a town that is so interested in the welfare of its children, lacked a kindergarten. We all realize how important it is to teach our young children to co-operate with others, to accept direction, and to make use of whatever talents they may have been gifted with. No matter how great the child's natural ability may be, he needs guidance and patient understanding to chart him in the right course—to use his God-gifted gifts to promote happiness for himself and those he comes in contact with.

Nothing can take the place of group contact for the three-four and five-year-old. He is gregarious by nature and it is our duty as parents, to give our children the opportunity to associate with others of their own age group, under qualified adult supervision.

Kindergarten serves a definite purpose in that it helps the young child adjust to group play and work. If the only benefit a child derived from a "pre-school" was that he learned to "give-and-take," that basic qualification for good human relations, the parents' efforts to send him to kindergarten would be amply rewarded.

I do hope the people of Emmitsburg will support the effort to establish a "pre-school" here in our fine town and remove that lack for complete education that exists, because our children do not have the opportunity to learn together until they are of elementary school age.

Work On Town Projects Begun; Roads Resurfaced

Workmen for the Norman Etzler contracting firm, Frederick, Monday morning began the work of resurfacing the town's two main thoroughfares, Routes 15 and 32. The work crews first began laying "blacktop" at the Square and continued up W. Main St. Wednesday the black ribbon of stone and tar wove its way down E. Main St. and from there on as time permits, to N. and S. Seton Aves.

The project, costing an estimated $30,000 was authorized by the State Roads Commission as part of a deal which demanded the removal of the blinker pylon in Center Square.

In conjunction with the resurfacing project, working crews of the Emmitsburg Water Co., have been busy the past two weeks raising some 30 man-hole covers an inch and a half to avoid becoming completely buried by the three-inch resurfacing layer. In addition the fire hydrant, which formerly was imbedded in the blinker has been removed to a location in front of The Farmers State Bank.

Among other work now in progress in the community, is a section of several hundred feet, which was widened and improved, located at the left flank of St. Vincent's Rectory. This modernization will widen Rt. 15 at that location about 12 feet and has new curbing and gutter. Several property-owners have removed or are in the process of removing a few old trees which have died and are creating a menace to the public welfare.

In addition, the project of installing the dial system is going right along by crews of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. An underground cable is being laid the entire length of the alley leading to Community Field and extending under Rt. 32, continuing to the St. Joseph's Catholic Church graveyard.

Spokesmen for the Frederick contractor said the work will take several weeks to complete as a great deal of manual labor remains to be done after the

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

Discussions of the budget for operating the United States are no more pleasant than the family talks about whether it can afford a new car, send a son to college, or scrape up enough money to spend the summer vacation at a resort instead of going to see Aunt Mary again.

President Eisenhower's address to the American people was an excellent presentation of the financial affairs of this country. What he said in effect was "folks we're in debt up to our necks, things are tough without much hope of improving, but if we plan carefully things may balance out in the long run."

Like any big operation the government's financial structure is complex. Billions of dollars are coming in, in revenue, and billions are being paid out through far flung government agencies. In the past the attitude of the administration was not to worry about balancing intake with output.

President Eisenhower recognized this unpleasant task by saying, "such planning brings us to that bewildering realm of budgets and expenditures and appropriations and deficits and taxes." But he knew the answer could not be found in avoiding the problem, and the result is that for the first time in 20 years have a sound fiscal policy.

The first problem was providing for our national security and the big change between the Eisenhower and the Truman approach was shown when the President said, "the plain truth is this: security is planned, not blindly bought."

Reorganizing our defense program made it possible to reduce the proposed Truman budget by $5.4 billion. That was the largest single reduction, but by the time the new administration was finished requests for new appropriations had been reduced by $8.5 billion.

Most of these reductions were in small amounts, but those small amounts total up to, as the President pointed out, $50 for every man, woman and child in the U. S.

The budget bureau tightened its belt by $11,000; the agriculture department placed some employees on a per diem basis, thus paying them for the days they worked instead of an annual salary—result, a saving of $625,000; the defense department trimmed its payroll of 39,346 employees; the mutual security agency scheduled a 10 to 12 per cent reduction of staff in Europe.

Last year $3.5 million was spent in interest payments to taxpayers because of the delay in refunding overpayments of income tax. This year the bureau of internal revenue made a serious effort to complete tax refunds by April 15, thereby saving the interest charges and they were nearly 100 per cent successful.

The administration has demonstrated that spending can be reduced, but it is equally aware that 65.6 per cent of the money in the national budget goes for budget.

GLADHILL—HAHN

St. John's Ev. and Reformed Church, Sabillasville, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, May 27 at 6:30 o'clock, when Miss Rose Anne Hahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hahn, Rocky Ridge, became the bride of Lawrence H. Gladhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest G. Gladhill, Sabillasville. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's pastor, Rev. Claude H. Corl, amid a setting of lighted candles, snapdragons and peonies. Mr. Maurice Clark of Sabillasville, presented an organ recital of wedding music and played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was attired in a white dress fashioned with a lace bodice with a skirt of net over taffeta with white accessories and an orchid corsage. Miss Virginia Dewees, friend of the bride, was maid of honor and was attired in a blue dress, identical to the bride's with white accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. Mason Lewis, friend of the bridegroom, was best man.

An orchid nylon dress with white accessories and a white rosebud corsage was worn by the bride's mother while the bridegroom's mother chose a dress of aqua nylon with white accessories, complemented by a white rosebud corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Elmer Wolfe High School, Union Bridge, class of '43, and is employed by the Thurmont Cooperative, Inc. The bridegroom attended Thurmont High School and is employed by the Victor Cullen State Hospital, State Sanatorium, Md.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip through the South. For going away the bride chose a dress of wheat color with white accessories and her orchid corsage. After July 1, they will reside in their apartment in Thurmont.

Solve Lawn Problems With Ground Cover

Have trouble getting grass to grow in shaded spots in your lawn? Or maybe you're tired of pushing the mower up a steep bank.

You can solve these common landscaping problems with ground covers.

Ivy, ground myrtle, euonymus or honeysuckle can be used as covers in problem areas of your lawn, according to landscape specialist, Carl Johnson of the University of Maryland Extension Service.

Ivy, either English or Baltic, ground myrtle or euonymus can be used to good effect to give a defense.

As long as our security is threatened by Russian aggression defense spending will be the biggest, and most difficult to cut, item in our budget.

All of us should cooperate with the President in making our nation secure, our economy strong, and our dollar sound—then we can look forward to a balanced budget.

Braddock Heights Park Will Open Saturday

Braddock Heights Park, the most famous summer playground in the Western Maryland area, will open Saturday, May 30, for its 1953 season. Braddock, long known for its cool restful atmosphere and its scenic beauty, will again offer entertainment and rides for the entire family, plus facilities for picnics and outings.

The swimming pool, roller rink, bowling alleys and other numerous rides and attractions have been overhauled and will be ready for use on the 30th. Also going into operation on the opening day will be all the rides for the kiddies. These include the ferris wheel, miniature train, merry-go-round, pony rides, giant slide and children's swings.

Western Maryland's only professional summer playhouse, The Mountain Theatre, will start its 14th season at Braddock on June 17, with the performance of Mr. Roberts. Other shows scheduled for the season in the order of their presentation are: Shop at Sly Corner, Remains To Be Seen, Here Today, Lo and Behold, Years Ago, Legend of Sarah, Fallen Angel, Bell, Book and Candle, Affairs of State, and The Moon Is Blue. Several well-known New York players have been signed to play the leading roles in the summer productions.

Each stage show will be given four nights weekly, Wednesday through Saturday, and the box office will be open at 6 o'clock each evening a play is presented.

where grass won't grow well.

To take the place of grass on carpet of green in shaded areas steep banks, these same plants, as well as common honeysuckle can be used. Honeysuckle must be cut twice a year to keep it from spreading to other areas.

Ivy and euonymus don't have conspicuous flowers, but provide a good green effect. If you want to add a little color, ground myrtle or honeysuckle are best. Ground myrtle usually has a small blue flower, but can be obtained in red and white. Honeysuckle will produce fragrant small blooms unless kept closely mowed.

For quick effects, plant six to eight inches apart. For economy's sake, spacing may be up to two feet, if you are willing to wait for plants to spread and cover the spaces between rows.

On steep bank, these plants should be placed horizontally along the slope in rows a foot to 18 inches apart, Mr. Johnson advises.

At The Majestic Theatre, Gettysburg, Pa.

In this highly dramatic ballet fantasy, one of four in Samuel Goldwyn's Technicolor film, "Hans Christian Andersen," Danny Kaye, rescues the lovely ballerina heroine from the clutches of her temperamental husband. It plays at the Majestic Theatre, Gettysburg, Pa., Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, May 28, 29, and 30th.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Regulations proposed for 1954 tobacco allotments follow closely the recommendations of Southern Maryland tobacco industry leaders, George J. Martin, Chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee, announced last week. The proposed regulations include the following:

A farmer planting between 75 and 110% of his 1953 allotment will be given a preliminary 1954 allotment the same as his 1953 allotment. Adjustments caused by the supply situation will be applied to this preliminary allotment. Over or underplanting will have to exceed the 75 and 110 percent limits in order to change the farmer's 1954 allotment.

Plant bed failure will be recognized as justification for underplanting only in counties where the county PMA committee determines there is a shortage of plants. Under certain limits county and community PMA committees can make adjustments in preliminary 1954 allotments to bring them in line with those on similar farms in the community. Provisions will be made for growers to appeal their allotments through their county PMA committee.

Farmers who have grown no tobacco in the last five years may secure allotments if they file before Feb. 1, 1954, provided they have at least two years experience growing type-32 tobacco, and both owner and operator of the farm will receive more than half of their income from the sale of tobacco produced on that farm. This type of allotment may not exceed 50 per cent of the allotment on similar farms which have produced tobacco in the last five years.

Final regulations for 1954 crop tobacco allotments should be approved by June 15, Mr. Martin said.

Price Supports Announced

Support prices for the 1953 crops of Maryland rye, barley and oats were announced by the MPM administration state committee last week. Mr. Martin said that support price for farm-stored rye will be $1.56 per bushel for grain grading No. 2 or better or No. 3 on test weight only. Appropriate discounts will be applied for ergot, light test weight, weed seed and other factors affecting grade. Garlicky rye or rye containing over 14 per cent moisture will not be eligible for support.

Support price on 1953 crop Maryland barley will be $1.37 per bushel for barley grading No. 2 or better. Eligible barley must not contain more than 14.5 per cent moisture. Appropriate discounts will be applied for lower grades than No. 2 and a discount of 10 cents per bushel will be applied for garlicky. Oats grading No. 3 or better will have a support price of 91 cents a bushel. Eligible oats must not grade garlicky, smutty, weevily or show more than 14.5 per cent moisture.

The support price of wheat has previously been announced at $2.63 per bushel. This is for wheat grading No. 1, garlick-free, stored in terminal warehouses.

Soybean support price has also been released at $2.50 a bushel for No. 2 green or yellow beans without over 14 per cent moisture.

Pimlico Features $20,000 Stake Race Tomorrow

Final stakes of the spring meeting at Pimlico is the Black-Eyed Susan, run over the mile and a sixteenth distance and for $20,000. It is limited to three-year-old fillies and for that group, corresponds to the Preakness for colts.

The Black-Eyed Susan will be run Saturday and it appears that a field of at least a dozen will answer the bugle. Calumet Farm, winner of the race a year ago with Real Delight, has elected to run Bubble elsewhere this year and this may bring a large field for the Pimlico event. Bubble had won the Kentucky Oaks.

Among the better known fillies to furnish the contest in this year's renewal of the Susan, formerly run as the Pimlico Oaks, are Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Cerise Reine and Mrs. B. F. Whitaker's Grecian Queen.

Cerise Reine was runnerup to Bubble in the Kentucky Oaks and there are those who believe with a bit better luck she may have won that race. Grecian Queen will be returning to the track where last fall she won a division of the Marguerite Stakes.

Other strong possibilities for the Susan include Brookmead's Tritium, Mrs. Mabel R. Burke's Pasphe, Cain Hoy Stable's Wing O'Morn, Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Emadee, Louis Lee Haggins' Sally Catbird, Howell E. Jackson's Ballerina, King Ranch's MacBea, Agden Phipps' His Duchess, W. Schwab's Milsapal, and R. N. Webster's Petal.

Saturday, May 30 being Memorial Day, Pimlico anticipates a banner closing gathering for the spring meeting.

Three Sentenced For Disturbance

Richard Albert Vaughn and Gene Edward Valentine, both of Emmitsburg Rt. 3, and James Allen Wagerman, S. Seton Ave., were arrested by Gettysburg borough police last week after the latter had received complaints from residents of the Sherman Apts., York St., that the three were creating a disturbance. According to the police, Dorothy McDannell reported one of the men was trying to get into the apartments.

They were taken before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on disorderly conduct charges. Vaughn paid a $16.50 fine and costs and was released. The other two were sentenced to 30 days in jail each in default of similar fines.

It Began In Egypt

THE HARP

By JAMES C. FRENCH, M.A., F.R.C.
Curator, Rosicrucian Egyptian Museum

The ancient Egyptians were the inventors of the harp, and it was known to have been in use from the earliest times. The tomb walls as early as the fourth dynasty during the building of the pyramids, depict a great many varieties of harps. The instrument is pictured as being played solo or with other instruments, and also as an accompaniment to the human voice. There were a variety of forms, such as the small bow-shaped kind which was carried on the shoulder or one of the same general nature but of medium size and played by the musician seated on his heels on the ground. Very large harps as tall as a man and elaborately decorated are to be seen with the musician standing in order to play. These large harps were rested on the ground or were supported by a sort of stand.

The number of strings on the harps varied from four to twenty-two. Very little is known of their system of notation, but the number of strings indicate an advanced knowledge of intervals.

Music of a high type was taught and performed by the priests, and such was used for religious purposes. However, it is certain that a popular music, loved by the people at their feasts, was provided by professional musicians, and dancers took part in the entertainment.

The Rosicrucian Egyptian Museum has in its collection, a beautiful, rare, and ancient Egyptian amulet thousands of years old, depicting a harp and a harpist.

YOU and YOUR CONGRESS

(Sponsored by the Emmitsburg
Chamber of Commerce)

WASHINGTON — Do voters really want less Federal spending? Rep. Norris Cotton (R-N. H.), a government economy advocate, recently asked that question in public print and the result was more mail than he has received for anything else he has said or done since coming to Congress in 1947.

"We have reached that point in the session when the full impact of protests against appropriations cuts really hits us," Cotton wrote. "It is at this point we always begin to wonder whether folks really want economy, or only think they do."

As a member of the House Appropriations Committee, which must screen every request for money that is contained in the multi-billion dollar Federal budget, Cotton is in an authoritative position to ask that question. He serves on that division of the Appropriations Committee which handles the so-called Independent Offices bill. It contains money requests for the more than 20 Federal agencies that operate public housing, veterans' benefits and a variety of other Federal programs throughout the country.

"It is not heart-warming to realize that economy may be political suicide," Cotton went on. "An administration which deprives people of enough fancied benefits to put the nation back on a pay-as-you-go basis is likely to be a hero in history but a dead pigeon now."

"We are reminded of the male bee which fertilizes the egg and thus insures the future of the colony, but is promptly driven out of the hive to die."

Cotton spoke his mind on government economy in the weekly column he writes for the four daily and 18 weekly newspapers in his district which print it regularly.

He was inspired to write on this subject by the protests which he has been receiving against particular cuts proposed by the Appropriations Committee for certain bills.

"It is natural that many of the projects affected seem vital," he wrote. "I am getting wires about the reduction of Federal contributions for hospitals."

"A Grange sends me a resolution against the lopping off of money for agriculture."

"A pulp company executive is concerned over the scaling down of forestry funds."

"A business association deplores discontinuance of an industrial census."

"A nurseryman is worried about control of the Japanese Beetle."

"Some protests illustrate popular fallacies."

"A Housing Authority in a New Hampshire city condemn the curtailment of public housing. They don't stop to think that for every cent one of our communities gets for public housing, it contributes at least 10 cents toward vast projects for great cities in larger and richer states than ours."

Cotton also distributes some copies of his weekly column to news correspondents and others in Washington. This one on economy was especially timely because of current Congressional struggles with budget reduction. Stories about it were printed outside New Hampshire.

As a result, Cotton has received thousands of letters.

Some of them complain that cuts are being made in Federal funds which should not be made. But the vast majority, Cotton reports happily, endorse his position on economy in full and assure him that the writers sincerely desire less spending.

The average Congressman's day begins gloomily or happily, depending upon what he finds in the morning mail and it is likely that Cotton is no exception to that.

The Cotton story demonstrates clearly that while the special pleaders are quick to protest their Congressmen about certain spending cuts, those citizens who really want less Federal spending are slow to pick up their pens until prodded by something extraordinary, such as the Cotton column. This leaves many members of Congress who believe Federal economy is a good thing wondering whether the voters really want it.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

GOOD FENCES MAKE GOOD NEIGHBORS

HERE IN AMERICA, BACK FENCES TRADITIONALLY HAVE BEEN BUILT TO BE TALKED ACROSS — AN INVITATION TO NEIGHBORLINESS, WHILE AFFORDING A CERTAIN PRIVACY.

ACTUALLY, THE IDEA OF BUILDING FENCES AS A BARRIER HAS NEVER TAKEN HOLD STRONGLY IN AMERICA. THE IDEA OF FREEDOM OF THE INDIVIDUAL, GUARANTEED IN OUR CONSTITUTION, HAS WORKED BECAUSE, GENERATION AFTER GENERATION, WE HAVE BEEN RAISED TO RESPECT THE DIGNITY AND RIGHTS OF OTHERS.

Many a good reputation has been given the tar-and-feather treatment by idle gossip.

Save Time—and Money

IT'S GETTING TO BE an even faster, more mechanical world. Now, they've come up with a quicker, easier way to deposit your money in the bank. Pretty Charlene Beck uses the new "Duplex Bank-By-Mail Stamp" which eliminates mistakes and loss of time at the bank caused by hard-to-read handwriting. It's actually two stamps mounted on a single base. Tip it forward to imprint name and address on deposit slip and mailing envelope. Tip it backward and you imprint name of bank and customer on back of check to be deposited. So great has been the trend toward banking by mail that thousands of these new stamps are in use, just days after introduction. Bankers report that their customers are finding many other uses for the stamp, too.

A big heart does more for human good than a brilliant mind.

Tip to motorists: Limit your speed—not your chances to live.

A lifetime of good example is much better than a library of good advice.

Do you remember?

"The Disabled American Veterans ask that you remember them and their needs as one observance of Memorial Day."

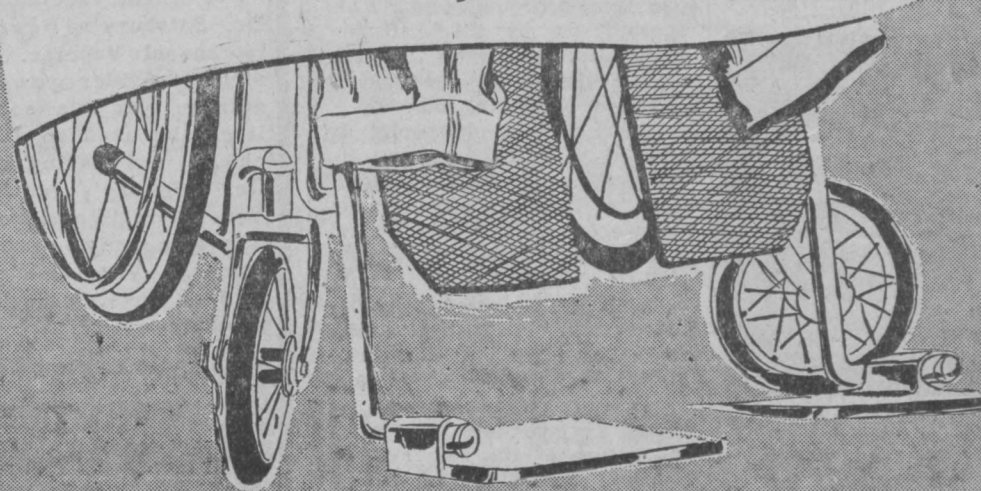

When danger threatens from without . . . and war has been declared . . . we hear a great deal said about . . . our being unprepared . . . but from the town, the countryside . . . the mountain and the plain . . . young men have come, have marched and died . . . and saved us once again.

Men we have never seen or known . . . have fought for you and me . . . wherever freedom's flag has flown . . . upon the land or sea . . . and some will bear the wounds of war . . . until their lives are done . . . and yet are unremembered for . . . the victories they won.

Though monuments of bronze or stone . . . recount his stirring deeds . . . the glowing words, and words alone . . . will not supply his needs . . . but all too often we forget . . . the sacrifice he made . . . and that, to him, we owe a debt . . . that often goes unpaid.

Whether in verse or deathless prose . . . our slogan ought to be, . . . "I'll do a little bit for those . . . who did so much for me."

The New "Mr. Housing"

WASHINGTON—If you live in America and want to own your own home or improve the one you've got, the Federal government is developing a plan to provide more help toward making your dream come true. If you are a tenant and your yearning is merely for better housing, plans are afoot in Washington that will help you too, through the promotion of more and better rental housing throughout the nation. But the Big Idea of the Federal government becoming "Mr. Landlord" for a substantial portion of the population is withering on the vine.

These facts were gathered in talks I've just had with officials in charge of Federal housing activities for the Eisenhower administration. The key interview was with Albert M. Cole, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, in which the principal housing aid programs are centered. He is the new "Mr. Housing" in Washington. He seems to be a man with vision but his feet on the ground.

A New Concept
The biggest news Mr. Cole gave me concerns a thorough-going study which his agency is making at the request of President Eisenhower. The study is for the purpose of developing a plan through which the government can promote the building of more homes and better rental housing without upsetting basic governmental and economic principles that have made our people free and our nation the most prosperous in the world. The plan will be submitted to Mr. Eisenhower within a few months and likely will become his administration's conception of the government's proper role in the field of housing.

"There is a great job to be done," said Mr. Cole with enthusiasm. "I believe that not enough people have been assisted in the housing activities of the past. I think we can develop a comprehensive program, through this intensive study we're making, which will give more people better housing than if we limit it to a few privileged people who gain access through political consideration or the like. All of us engaged in this study are tremendously interested in establishing a progressive housing policy which will promote decent housing without restricting the personal liberties of our citizens."

No Bureaucrat
Mr. Cole is from Kansas. He has a background of legislative and Congressional experience, having served several terms in the House of Representatives. He thus has a healthy respect for the prerogatives of Congress as representing the rightful power of the people.

"Our basic job," he said, "is to carry out such housing policies as Congress decrees." Top housing authorities of Congress will be participating in Cole's study now under way, and he makes it clear that any forthcoming plan, if approved by President Eisenhower, will be in the form of a recommendation for the consideration of Congress. Meantime, Cole's agency is being set up to carry out Congressional approval for the building of 35,000 Federal housing units where most needed during the coming fiscal year. These will be needed largely in areas of new military installations.

Good Goal
The interview with Cole was one of the series I've been doing to acquaint readers of the column with the personalities and plans of the new Eisenhower government "team." Government-built housing and rent control have been most tempting bait to the Socialist countries. I've visited such countries and know how miserably the full-blown public housing scheme has failed in its objective. The idea has been pushed intensively by some of our home-grown socialists, spurred on by the Leftwing conspirators who want to wreck our economy and government. But now it's losing out.

Albert Cole's philosophy is attuned to true liberalism. He believes profoundly in the principle of private property, in private enterprise, in individual freedom and individual responsibility. Yet he believes government has a great responsibility to help citizens obtain for themselves the material blessings of life, including good housing. In the interview he would not venture to predict the nature of the new Federal housing concept and plan now in process of development; but one goal, as I understand it, is to make self-reliance in home owning and housing easier to achieve among all levels of our citizenry. It's a good goal, a progressive objective of good government.

New Tomato Program Seen

Here's a four-point program to help commercial tomato growers start the season right with a good stand of healthy tomato plants. University of Maryland extension specialist in vegetables

Papa David Says:

(on NBC's "Life Can Be Beautiful")
"A man or woman who has learned how to wait gracefully, has also learned a lot about how to live. Besides, anticipation can be one of life's real pleasures."

"Some of the most wasted time in the world is the time spent waiting—only it isn't the waiting that wastes the time—it is the fact that a lot of us don't do anything with the time but wait. If you can't be doing anything physical while you wait for something or someone—it seems to me the time would be well spent if you would only use it for polishing up a good thought or two."

Q. Should chicks be vaccinated against Newcastle disease?

A. Yes, to protect your investment, vaccinate with Dr. Salsbury's Newcastle Intranasal Vaccine. Live virus provides good immunity, yet it's so mild it can be used on day-old chicks and laying birds. Dr. Salsbury's Intranasal Vaccine is "Vacculized" to help preserve maximum potency. Vaccinate early, at 5-10 days, with Intranasal Vaccine. It pays!

crop Andrew A. Duncan says: some of these practices will also help home gardeners:

1. Reduce transplanting setback. Plant only strong healthy plants as soon as they are received. Grade plants and throw away any that are weak, diseased or poorly colored. Use a starter solution.
2. Dip plants for insect control. Dip tops in a mixture of 3 ounces of lead arsenate, 2 fluid ounces of summer oil emulsion and 5 gallons of water.

3. Adjust transplanter so it will set the plants at least 3 inches deep. Replace worn transplanter shoes.
4. Prevent tobacco mosaic from infecting young tomato plants. Tobacco mosaic virus can be transmitted to tomatoes from cigarettes and other products containing mosaic-infect tobacco. Don't allow farm help to smoke or chew tobacco while handling young tomato plants. (Allow regular break periods when help may smoke.) Provide a bucket of water, yellow soap and paper towel and require people handling tomato plants to wash hands thoroughly after smoking or handling tobacco.

Another worthwhile precaution against spreading mosaic is to have the people riding the transplanter hold the tomato plants on a piece of clean newspaper on their laps. As the paper becomes soiled, a clean piece should be substituted.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Effective JUNE 1, 1953, the Maryland Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Law will provide that certification of automobile coverage on SR-21 forms (the kind that must be sent to the Department of Motor Vehicles, following an accident in which your car is involved and total damages to both cars amounts to $75.00 or more) must indicate that the Bodily Injury limits be at least $10,000/$20,000, whereas the present requirements are for $5,000/$10,000.

Property Damage requirement is now $5,000 instead of $1,000, but this presents no problem as nearly all policies now carry at least $5,000 Property Damage coverage.

Minimum Damage necessary before provisions of Act apply have been changed from $50.00 to $75.00.

In view of this requirement, all automobile policies should be written for at least $10,000/$20,000 Bodily Injury on and after June 1, 1953. As a service to our clients this office will as routine furnish endorsements, without further notice, on all automobile policies with limits under $10,000/$20,000 Bodily Injury, so that they will comply with the required limit, effective June 1, 1953.

If any further information is desired regarding this change in the Law, please call at our office or telephone 32.

Odds And Ends

And by this time we have more than reached the beginnings of actual accomplishment, for back in 1946, months before the last of the main organs to be set up, the Trusteeship Council, had held its first meeting, some successful steps had already been taken by other organs in the vast two-fold program for peace laid down in a general way in the Charter. The Security Council, for example, had been largely responsible for the peaceful settlement of two causes of friction between the Middle East and the West, the General Assembly had established the Children's Emergency Fund to give desperately needed help in areas devastated by World War II.

But let me now try to tell something of this main part of the UN story in the framework that I have been trying in preceding parts to set up for it. For I think that what United Nations is accomplishing can only be fairly understood when we link it with the purposes it is pledged to attain, with the two major types of effort these purposes demand, and with the particular organs entrusted with the carrying out of this effort. It is hardly necessary to say that I can give no more than a sample in the rest of this and one succeeding section, the limits I have set for myself for a "Holiday reflection" of the many things that have been achieved in just six years (my list does not go beyond early 1952). Those who know the record intimately and seem to me well qualified to speak describe it as amazing and inspiring, and they are not unaware of what has failed of achievement; they remind us that war has scourged the world for six thousand years of recorded history, that United Nations is a man-made organization and that man has not yet learned to be perfect.

It is needless to say that I too have found this record of accomplishment deeply impressive in spite of what is not there, for I have already implied this in promising to present part of it as a final piece of evidence for the presence in United Nations, and that means in the men and women responsible for its achievements, of one of the best spirit that human nature has so far produced—"the Christmas spirit."

A Piece of the UN Record Of Accomplishment

I. Accomplishments in the Direct Efforts for World Peace—by the settlement of disputes threatening peace or the stopping of actual conflict.

A. Thru the Security Council
Withdrawal of Soviet forces from northern Iran
Withdrawal of British and French troops from Syria and Lebanon

Stopping of fighting twice between Dutch and Indonesians and assistance in the setting up of the free Republic of Indonesia

Stopping of fighting between Israel and the Arab States and making of armistice agreements (with cooperation of General Assembly)
Stopping of fighting in Kashmir between India and Pakistan

B. Thru the General Assembly
Stopping of Soviet-satellite aid to Communist guerrillas in Greece and gradual pacification of the northern Greek border

Settling of disagreement of four Great Powers that drafted Italian peace treaty over disposition of colonies taken from Italy and securing of independence for Libya

Additional actions in the form of Resolutions that will influence the taking of specific steps for peace, such as: "Essentials of Peace"; "Uniting for Peace"; "Peace Through Deeds"

C. Thru the International Court of Justice

A Judgment against Albania for having illegal mines in Corfu Channel causing loss of life and damage to British vessels

A judgment against Colombia for violation of treaties in harboring of a Peruvian political refugee

A judgment against Great Britain in her objection to Norway's limiting certain coastal fishing waters to use of her nationals.

Brushtown at EMMITSBURG, Community Field, 2 p. m.
Greenmount at Harney
Hunterstown at Taneytown
Bonneauville at Bendersville

Emmitsburg Legion Juniors have failed so far this season to enter the win column in the South Penn League. Last Sunday they were turned back by Taneytown by an 8-3 score. Taneytown got only five hits, including two by Crapster, while Emmitsburg landed eight of which three were by F. Gebhart.

Taneytown went into a tie with Bendersville as a result of victories Sunday. Bendersville defeated winless Harney 8-2 on the latter's field.

Greenmount and Hunterstown put on a slugging match at Greenmount which was won by the home team, 16-11. The winners collected 13 hits.

Brushtown nosed out Bonneauville 9-8 in another free-hitting affair at Brushtown.

Mite Society Meeting Held

Opened with an invocation by Rev. Byron H. Keesecker, the regular monthly meeting of the Mite Society of Trinity Methodist Church was held at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Thomas J. Frailey on Friday evening.

The devotional service was presented by Mrs. H. P. Freeman. During the business session an interesting history of the church, with particular reference to the origin to the Mite Society, prepared by Mrs. Lewis Bell, who was not present due to illness, was read by Colonel Frailey, society president. Following this reading, Colonel Frailey presented Mrs. Freeman with a gift in cash, jointly sponsored by and in behalf of the Church, Sunday School and Mite Society, as a token of grateful appreciation for faithful services rendered over the years as church organist.

The program of entertainment featured a quiz contest with prizes awarded as winners, to Mrs. C. C. Combs, Carl Crist and William A. Frailey. Mrs. Margaret Waddles Hipple, of Hutchinson, Kan., cousin of Miss Edythe Nunemaker, society treasurer, was a guest at the meeting. Refreshments were served. The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Frailey on September 25, the members having voted to discontinue summer meetings.

St. Joseph's High

Through the efforts of the Parent Teachers' Assn. the much needed drapes for the auditorium will be installed before graduation, thus enhancing the beauty of our auditorium and enabling students to use it more effectively for daytime programs, including movies. However, a small donation from the parents has been requested in order to meet this expense.

The annual mass for the seniors will be celebrated Friday morning with the entire student body in attendance. After mass a communion breakfast will be served the seniors by their parents.

BIBLE SCHOOL REORGANIZES

The officers of the Emmitsburg Vacation Bible School met at the Lutheran parish house Sunday evening, May 24. Rev. Philip Bower was chosen to continue as director of the school and Miss Mary Long was selected to continue as secretary and also act as treasurer. An assistant secretary-treasurer will be appointed before the opening. The school will be held in the Lutheran parish house and will open Monday, June 15 and terminate Friday, June 26.

There will be an installation service for officers and teachers held in the Lutheran Church on Sunday, June 14, at 8 o'clock.

Pastor Bower announced that at least six more teachers and aides are needed. It was decided to make a special effort to enroll every child possible in the entire area and the active cooperation of all churches and the entire community is sought.

Leftover preserved fruits may be chopped and added to a peanut butter sandwich filling.
