Well folks, another Horse Show has gone down into history and brother, in my estimation, it was the best ever. The show has made considerable progress each year and to date takes a back seat to no show in the state, as horse shows go. It was a tremendous success from every angle and the Lions certainly can be proud of being the sponsor of such a fine affair. There is a tremendous amount of work involved, both mentally and physically, in promoting such an event and I, personally, would like to commend the committees that worked so diligently in staging the show, which to my mind, is the one single event that has won more prestige with our neighboring towns, than any other single one-day affair that is held here. Spectators were free with their compliments Sunday. I venture to say that at least half of the crowd were out-of-towners and that is a sad commentary on the part of some of our local people who are indifferent to anything that benefits their home town. Strangers are quick to spot a good thing when they see it and aren't reticent in their praise. However, I am sorry to say that a great deal of us are prone to knock anything that is locally-produced, no matter how good it is. Without exception, horse exhibitors, both old-timers and newcomers, expressed their satisfaction with the show and freely expressed their willingness and anxiety to return here next year for the annual event which has met with success for the past five years. Exhibitors were exceptionally pleased with the hospitality of the committees in charge and expressed pleasure with the little token of appreciation offered them after the show, a buffet luncheon which was held in the Fire Hall. Well, thanks to those of you who patronized the show. I know living will be made a lot more worthwhile for some unfortunate and indigent children and adults, too, by the little money you spent attending the show. Eyeglasses and other welfare necessities are purchased with the proceeds of the horse show.

Where did they all come from? That seemed to be the prevailing interrogation Sunday when a huge crowd, estimated at about 500, suddenly converged on Emmitsburg to witness a playoff baseball game between Creagerstown and Middletown. We really were amazed at the following the two teams had and wondered if we could draw a comparable crowd at our next baseball game here. That also will be a final playoff contest and warrants a large attendance, but I'll bet you anything that we don't have anywhere near the crowd that came here last Sunday. Do you realize that our boys have worked hard during the hot, dry summer to bring you a little pleasure? Why some days it was so hot that most of the fans stayed at home or sought relief from the torrid heat waves at some cool spot, picnicking or swimming. Not "our boys" though, they endured what Old Sol had to throw at them and kept right on winning finally winding up in second place at the end of the season. Well next Sunday, Oct. 11, you'll be able to see them again here at home. For that matter it wouldn't be a bad idea if you lent a little moral support this Sunday and motored to Union Bridge where we play in the first game of "the little world series."

While passing among the out-of-town spectators at the baseball game Sunday many were heard to exclaim: "Boy, where did they get a field like this? Why it's as beautiful as any major league ballpark." Yes it is, and we are proud of it, very proud thank you. We owe it all to some far-sighted town officials who about 25 years ago had the foresight and fortitude to undertake the project and to take advantage of some Federal funds that were being made available at that time. Of course that's not all it took. It has taken years of faithful maintenance by a small band of local public-spirited citizens who have worked laboriously to keep the field in its present excellent shape and also to improve it greatly over its original status.

Horse Show Draws Largest Crowd Ever

Sixty-one horses were entered in the largest horse show held to date at Emmitsburg on Sunday. An estimated 1,200 persons attended and saw Bon Bon, owned by Mrs. Fred Hughes of Rockville take top honors in the hunter classes.

The largest single nickel or body ever discovered is the Frood-Stoble in northern Ontario.

Benefit Bingo Being Held For Glee Club

A benefit bingo for the Mt. St. Mary's College Glee Club will be held at 7:30 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 10 at the Fire Hall. Attractive prizes will be offered and the members of the Glee Club will handle most of the details of the affair. Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker, Sr., are in charge of the bingo. Mrs. Marie Rosensteel and her daughter, Barbara, will take care of refreshments.

This year's Glee Club consists of 30 members, hailing from seven states and South America. Fifteen concerts have already been scheduled for the season, including two on the Mount campus. The annual Christmas Musicale will be held on Sunday, Dec. 13, in the afternoon and the Spring Festival of Music, which last year attracted 20 top musical groups, will be held on Sunday, May 2.

A feature of the season will be an appearance in the Lyric Theater, Baltimore, Sunday, Nov. 29, with the Associated Male Chorus of America, Maryland District. At that time Gladys Swarthout, Metropolitan mezzo-soprano, will be the guest artist.

License Suspended

County License Commissioner Gail L. Cutshall, Frederick, this week suspended for 10 days the club liquor license of the Francis X. Elder Post, No. 121, American Legion in Emmitsburg.

Representatives of the post appeared before the liquor license commissioner and voluntarily surrendered the license. The suspension began Tuesday and the post will not be permitted to dispense any alcoholic beverage until Oct. 9.

The Legion post was convicted on Sept. 11, in a hearing in the Circuit Court before Associate Judge Patrick M. Schmauffer of operating a gaming table and was fined $500.

In his order suspending the license, Commissioner Cutshall said he "took cognizance of the fact that the post was convicted of illegal operation of slot machines and cited officials of the post to appear at a hearing at 11 a. m."

No hearing was held since the license was voluntarily surrendered by Alton Y. Bennett, attorney for the post home. Similar action was taken by the commissioner in a case against a Frederick fraternal organization after it was convicted of a like offense.

The Elder post's license was a Class C on sale beer, wine, and liquor club license.

Drill Team In Prize Money

The American Legion drill team of the Francis X. Elder Post, Emmitsburg, was awarded $35.00 for participating in the National Kids' Day parade held at Frederick on Saturday, Sept. 26. Those who took part in the affair were Everett Chrismer, Paul Eyer, Charles Harner, Maurice Koontz, Robert Myers, Emmert McClellan, Eugene Rodgers, Joseph Rodgers, Louis Rosensteel, Wilbur Rentsel, Andrew Shorb, Donald F. Topper, Henry Timmerman, Horace Neely, William Izer, Edgar Wastler, Paul Humerick, and Paul McLaughlin.

Group Planning Archery Club

A public meeting will be held for the purpose of organizing an archery club. Anyone interested in joining please be present at the first meeting Wednesday evening, Oct. 7, at 8 o'clock in Fire Hall.

A fine opportunity is afforded you to help promote a local group of sports enthusiasts in this ancient sport which has been in existence since nearly the beginning of time. It has been noted that the sport of archery has been mounting nationally.

Community Fund Handles Cases

President Philip B. Sharpe presided over the regular monthly meeting of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg, held Monday in the VFW Home on the Square. Ten members of the board of directors were present and heard a report by Miss Rhoda Gillelan that attendance at the Free Health Clinic was greatly boosted by activity of the Fund. Several cases were marked closed after satisfactory treatment was announced. A committee was appointed to interview juvenile authorities on behalf of several children of a local family who apparently are in need of guidance and relief.

Lions Club Welcomes Industrialists

Fifty-four Lions and guests were present Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held in the Lutheran Parish Hall, President Clarence E. Hahn presiding.

A special program was presented in honor of Emmitsburg's newest industry, the H. O. Toor Shoe Corp. The executive board of the shoe concern was present for the occasion, and Mr. H. O. Toor, who flew here from New York for the event, spoke briefly on why he made the decision to locate here. He received a loud ovation when he said "we are here to stay."

Other honored guests of the evening were the Town Council and Dr. Charles R. Williams, in addition to a large delegation of local businessmen. Captain Philip B. Sharpe acted in the capacity of toastmaster.

Secretary-treasurer Robert E. Daugherty gave a preliminary report on the returns from Sunday's horse show and revealed that to date returns had mounted to the $1500 mark.

It is estimated that oil companies spend about 100 million dollars a year researching for oil.

HAND CROCHET — A POPULAR FASHION

This versatile two-tone sports coat can be worn loose and flared, or clutched to the body in the latest "wrapped" effect. Crocheted of heavy Kentucky Soft Spun rayon yarn, with contrasting fabric sleeves and collar, it combines sturdy practicality with the current "rage" for knitted and crocheted fashions.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Make the first shot count. I think that statement should become a matter of principle with all hunters; then perhaps we can get rid of that everlasting feeling of being on the defensive in regard to hunting safety.

If we establish as a matter of principle never to shoot at game unless reasonably sure we are in a position to down it with one shot, we will remove the necessity for much of the present and contemplated legislation regulating types and uses of rifles for hunting.

If we are determined to make a one-shot kill without wounding, we cannot afford simply to shoot at the animal. We must shoot to hit what we can clearly identify as a vital area. A hunter can't determine this vital area on an animal unless he can at least identify that what he is shooting at is an animal. This practically eliminates the possibility of a hunter mistaking another hunter for a deer. Or of missing an entire target and wounding a hunter beyond.

If we add up all the benefits from the one-shot principle, the sum is simply good shooting, good hunting, good sportsmanship. I believe the bulk of the hunters are good sportsmen.

However, there are certain influences on new hunters which may not be good. According to Pete Brown of the Sports Afield arms- and -ammunition staff, the trend in the Army has been to teach volume of fire theory and minimize the importance of precision fire. I am going to argue the question of merit in the volume of fire technique in the military, but it is definitely contrary to the best interest of the hunting sport.

A soldier advancing through no man's land can be expected to shoot at a movement in the brush and later consider the necessity for his shots. On the other hand the hunter who is working his way through the brush in this state of mind is a menace.

Brown is worried because servicemen particularly seem to be interested in getting semi-automatic game rifles. Now we have no argument with anyone possessing a semi-automatic big game rifle, if he uses it as a sporting weapon. What we fear is that the semi-automatic will become a symbol of the military school of thought in the field of big game hunting. If this comes to pass the woods may become as dangerous as the highway. So make that first shot count.

St. Joseph's High School News

The annual "Hiring the Handicapped" contest, sponsored by the State Dept. in Washington, is being entered by fourth and third year English classes. The first prize winner will receive $1000 and a free trip to Washington.

The Children of Mary Assn. is sponsoring the first dance of the season Friday, Oct. 2. The proceeds of the dance will be contributed toward the purchase of a movie to be used in the school. The movie is under the direction of Rev. Philip Dion, C.M., and will, reports Sister Sylvia, moderator of the Children of Mary Assn., "prove very beneficial to the school as it pertains to the life of Mother Seton, our own foundress whose dream it was to see a Catholic school established in Emmitsburg."

Four-State Farmers Meet In Virginia

Farmers from this area, elected to the Four-State Planning Committee, met recently in Winchester to set up plans for the 1954 Farmers' Meeting and '54 Farmers' Tour—both sponsored by the Four-State Farmers' Committee. The Planning Committee was assisted in their program by their county agents from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia.

The Farmers' Meeting, an event that draws hundreds of farmers each year, has been scheduled for Jan. 22 in Hagerstown at Franklin Court. At this meeting, leading farmers, distinguished agriculturalists, county agents and noted agronomists from universities and the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture lead discussions of special subjects selected by farmers of this area and adjoining states.

The 1954 Farm Tour, the seventh in the annual series, has been set for Aug. 20 at the farm of Earl Kemsburn, Buckeystown. As in previous years, the program for the Tour will be based on the requests of farmers who decide the features which will be of the greatest interest and value to farmers of the four-state area.

Local members of the Four-State Planning Committee who cooperated in setting up plans for the coming Tour and Meeting were Paul Herring, Sterling Leister and Landon Burns, and George Mullan, utility company farm supervisor, and Robert Prettyman, utility company rural representative.

NO WAY TO GET THERE!

From France—With Love

Within an easy day's excursion from Paris are several charming and historic spots that are favorite holiday places for Parisians as well as for foreign visitors. It would be impractical to list them all, and indeed unnecessary since the Guide Michelin volume on "Paris and its Environs" does a most thorough and entertaining job of it. However, the very accessibility of such little places as Senlis, St. Germain-en-Laye, even Barbizon and Fontainebleau, is an integral part of the charm of Paris life.

Fall of course is the season in Paris, but it is almost exclusively a season devoted to the evening theatre, opera, concerts . . . and a day in the country makes the glamour of the night even more exhilarating. And the Ile de France, which is the province immediately surrounding the capital, is perfect country to explore by car, bus, or bicycle.

One very brief journey will take you to St. Germain-en-Laye. This little town has a charming chateau, built by Francis the First, and decorated throughout with his emblem, the Salamandre. Today the chateau houses the Museum of the Antiquities of France, a very excellent collection of anthropological and archeological remains. The park surrounding the chateau is full of magnificent old trees, and in the spring the ground turns gold with jonquils. Across the street from the Chateau are several delightful eating places where food and service are excellent.

Set in an other direction from Paris is an ancient Roman town, where the fortifications can still be seen. There is a lovely old church, the Cathedral of Notre Dame, well worth a visit.

and actually meriting two or three days visit, is Fontainebleau. The Palais de Fontainebleau figured in much of French history . . . Henri II decorated a whole wing of the chateau with a signet of his initials entwined with those of the lady of his heart, Diane de Poitiers . . . but Henri IV, that merry monarch, thought the palace was draughty and much preferred the Louvre . . . It was at this chateau, on its celebrated outside staircase, that Napoleon bid a touching adieu to his Old Guard before his exile to Elba.

Fontainebleau has a great Forest, remains of the estates of the Kings of France and maintained today as a public park. The forest is ideal for equestrians, with miles of beautifully kept bridle paths.

Between Fontainebleau and Paris is the small town of Barbizon, famous for the school of 19th century painters who clustered about Millet. His house in the village is open to the public on certain days and contains several of his best works. Millet was a deeply spiritual person, as his canvases reflect. One curious thing about his work is the fact that he never used models but painted entirely from his own visual recollection of the humble and gentle scenes he had observed during the day.

The Ile de France depends neither on weather nor time of year for its charm . . . its history is that of France, its capital is Paris herself . . . to know this province well is to know France . . . for its Seigneur was elected the first King of France in 789 . . . and it has been ever since the heart of the nation.

From France . . . With Love,
Marguerite Villars.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has now bought more than 110 million pounds of beef in an effort to firm up farm prices for beef cattle. George J. Martin, chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee, explained that nearly all the beef went to the school lunch program or for institutional use. The rest was for export to Germany and Greece.

Beef consumption per person in this country will reach an all-time high this year, Mr. Martin said. Total livestock slaughtered will probably exceed all peacetime records, bested only by two war-time years. Total consumption of meat per person is expected to be the third largest in peacetime over a 40-year period. Government Increase Storage Capacity For Corn cated in nine midwestern states, but will generally help ease storage space for government-owned corn in the rest of the nation, according to Mr. Martin.

Purchase and erection of the bins is one of a number of steps the Dept. of Agriculture has taken this year to make price supports to farmers more effective through helping them find adequate storage space for their crops, Mr. Martin added.

The government has encouraged farm storage whenever possible, the PMA chairman said. The government offers farmers four-year loans at four per cent interest on amounts up to 80 per cent of the cost of farm storage structures.

SHOE SCRAMBLE

SHOE SCRAMBLE—This is the old shoe scramble game that always gives participants a whale of a lot of fun. Players are divided into two files and placed at opposite ends of the playing field. Their shoes (not tied together) are placed in a pile in the center of the field. At the starting signal, all contestants ride forward to within 10 feet of the shoe pile where they dismount, find their shoes, put them on, remount their bikes and return to the starting line.

Prizes may be awarded to the team returning to their end of the playing field first or to the individual player who returns home in the fastest time. From "Bike Fun," published by the Bicycle Institute of America, New York, N. Y.

Dr. Estelle Popham, Mrs. John Eisenhower, First Winners of "Wendy Warren Award"

Dr. Estelle Popham, originally from Chillicothe, Missouri, and presently in New York as Dean of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries and a member of the Department of Education at Hunter College, was the recipient of the first "Wendy Warren Award" to women of achievement on September 1st, 1953.

The first presentation of the monthly awards was made in duplicate to Mrs. John Eisenhower because of her unflinching grace and courtesy in the public limelight, and for her exemplary devotion as a wife and mother.

Under the auspices of the National Secretaries Association, the Institute for Certifying Secretaries has a program culminating in an annual examination for placing secretaryship on a professional level comparable to accountancy. Dr. Popham was a pioneer in the Certified Professional Secretary program, and worked on the project several years before the first nationwide examination was launched in 1951. In 1952 she was elected Dean of the Institute.

"The Wendy Warren Award" given by the CBS radio program, "Wendy Warren and the News," in conjunction with "Today's Woman" magazine, will be made each month to a woman who has added stature to woman's place in the world, through marked success in business, industry, science or the arts, or through her activities and accomplishments on behalf of community welfare.

Judges of the "Today's Woman—Wendy Warren Awards" are Douglas Edwards, CBS newsmen, Florence Freeman, star of the "Wendy Warren and the News" program, and Julian Bach, editor of "Today's Woman" magazine.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS
By C. WILSON HARDER

Evidence mounts that small business, rather than huge combines, makes goods and services available to more people. An example is contained in 600 page report of Senate Small Business Committee on independent airlines. This establishes, despite obstructive tactics of a powerful bureau, the Civil Aeronautics Board, independent enterprisers have made it possible for all America to fly. To understand airline situation, bureaucratic terminology is all important. There are "certificated" and "irregular" airlines. 16 trunk lines, of which 4 are huge, plus 30 others operating largely inside state boundaries are certificated, or permitted by CAB to fly schedules. There are also about 60 so-called "irregular" airlines, operating by CAB permission, but forbidden to maintain any regular schedules. Testimony reveals independents have been stopped for flying too often on Tuesdays, or some other days. But testimony shows "irregulars" have not only been responsible for huge air travel increases; they have also shown majors how to make money. In the postwar years of 1946, 1947, 1948 major airlines lost $42 million, desperately discussed bigger government subsidies. In 1949, independent operators entering business, cut fares from around 6 cents per mile to 3 cents per mile or less. Reluctantly, to meet competition, majors either started coach service, lowered fares, or increased scheduled. National Federation of Independent Business

Your Personal Health

"It isn't safe to associate with someone who has had TB." When you hear anyone make that statement, speak right up and say, "It isn't true."

Of course, it's true that tuberculosis is an infectious disease. But the person who has had TB, who has been released from the hospital with his disease arrested, is probably one of the safest people to have around.

With medical treatment his disease has become inactive. Only an active case of tuberculosis is infectious. He has learned to take care of himself so that he won't break down again. He goes to the doctor regularly for a checkup and X-rays to make sure that he is keeping well.

The greatest danger is not in the known case of tuberculosis and certainly not in the person whose TB has been cured. It's the unknown case that may menace your health. Of the estimated 400,000 cases of TB in the U. S., more than half are unknown to health authorities. Many of these people may not even know that they have the disease and are spreading germs to those close to them. You could be one of them, unless you have had a chest X-ray and other diagnostic tests recently and know for sure that you don't have TB.

The person who has had TB and been cured merits confidence, not suspicion. He has had a hard time getting over a serious disease. He isn't asking for favors, just an even break and understanding.

Every Family Should Have Knowledge Of First Aid

"We believe that at least one member of every family should have Red Cross First Aid training," Otto W. Muehlhaue, president of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association said Monday. "That is why all druggists in Maryland are featuring 'Emergencies Don't Wait' Week from September 28 through October 5 to stress the need for preparedness against accidents," he added. During this week, all drug stores in Maryland will act as enrollment centers for Red Cross First Aid training classes. Those who enroll at their neighborhood drug stores will attend classes in their own neighborhoods. Dr. Muehlhaue pointed out that the American home is the most dangerous place in the nation. Last year more than five million persons were killed or disabled from home accidents, and this total is greater than all other accidents combined. "If proper first aid materials were on hand, and at least one member of every family knew how to administer first aid, we believe that thousands of home accidents would remain minor. Therefore, we urge all citizens to be prepared by having essential materials in the home and also in the automobile, and to enroll at their neighborhood drug stores this week for classes in first aid because emergencies don't wait," Dr. Muehlhaue added.

Rise In Pedestrian Deaths Causes Officials' Alarm

It was recommended by the executive director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, Paul E. Burke, as a result of the tremendous number of pedestrian deaths, that a meeting be called to be known as the Governor's, Mayors', and County Commissioners' Conference, for the purpose of having some uniform pedestrian traffic laws for the entire State of Maryland to bring about more respect of the pedestrian by the motorist, and more respect of the pedestrian's rights and laws by the pedestrians themselves.

Mr. Henry Barnes, an expert in this field will be asked to serve as a chairman of the committee to be made up of the members of the American Automobile Assn., the Keystone Automobile Club, the Dept. of Education and other officials interested in pedestrian safety. There has been to date in Maryland 105 pedestrians killed for 1953 as compared to 129 killed in 1952.

At this meeting to be held in Baltimore, there will also be a teen-age conference in the formation of teen-age safety committees and a campaign which is already under way in the District of Columbia and parts of Prince George and Montgomery Counties, a Crusade for Safety, be inaugurated, and all the civic, fraternal, patriotic, and religious organizations be asked to cooperate. The newspapers, radio and TV stations be requested to help an aroused public to curtail this horrible disgraceful carnage occurring daily on Maryland's highways and streets, which recently over the Labor Day holiday had Maryland leading the entire nation in a number of deaths for the first 60 of the 72 hour three-day holiday. Maryland on Labor Day in the previous years has gone without a fatal accident. This year there were 19 deaths and a possibility of a great many more dying from serious injuries that occurred on this holiday, not counting the two unborn children who were killed in an Eastern Shore accident. Maryland over the Labor Day holiday was tied with California for fourth place in the nation, being surpassed only by such large states as New York with 20 deaths, and Michigan and Ohio with 23 and 24.

At this meeting with the governors, mayors, and county commissioners we will have experts on safety dealing with death and injury records, periodic motor vehicle inspection, accident facts, driver licensing, traffic and highway engineering, traffic law enforcement, traffic legislation, school traffic, public information and state safety organization, along with Mr. Henry Barnes and the other traffic experts attached to his office. Panels will be held with state and city officials and others, with discussions on recommendations made during the conference held in Washington with the District of Columbia, Virginia, and Maryland officials. Mr. Charles Adler Jr., a member of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission and one of the nation's foremost inventors of traffic lights will present to Gov. McKeldin for the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, his newest invention, the spacometer, and will give the Governor the first spacometer to be used in our nation for the Governor's car, along with one for the car of Traffic Director Henry Barnes. This invention is calculated to reduce the number of rear-end collisions on high speed highways.

If we do not truly, really feel that we are actually in the presence of Almighty God when we pray, our words—though they be heartfelt and earnest—may be meaningless. Each of us must search his own heart and soul to know how to feel God's presence—for until we do that, our prayers are empty.

Looking Ahead

President—Harding College

If Not Now—When?

John J. Citizen has two responsibilities which must be acted upon at once if our Federal government ever again is to balance its budget and get on a safe and sound financial foundation. They are: (1) give positive assurance to your representatives in Congress that economy cuts, even on your pet Federal projects and services, will be accepted without a squawk; and (2) give positive assurance that you expect immediate fulfillment of the administration's pledge to balance the national debt, and to cut taxes substantially.

Most American citizens are willing to take these positive measures, but being willing and then actually arousing oneself to positive action are two different things. Those who want a balanced budget and reduced taxes, and who are willing to accept economy cuts in any and all Federal operations, are the very ones who are not acting on their wishes. The fact that there are about 10 or 20 of them to every one citizen who doesn't care whether the budget is balanced, makes no difference in Washington—if they continue to remain silent and inactive.

Terrific Pressure

Recently I addressed the annual conference of the Council of State Chambers of Commerce. Present were business and state governmental leaders from more than 30 states. On the program also was Rowland Hughes, deputy director of the Bureau of the Budget. He reviewed the efforts being made by the administration to drastically cut expenses and told how every single proposed cut, whether for $1000 or $10 million, was being bitterly opposed by influential individuals or groups.

"Why," he exclaimed, "every time we prune from the Federal payroll a man who has been on it two years, we can expect two letters from Congress." He said the average citizen back home "doesn't know what pressure is!" There is "terrific" pressure in Washington, he said, against economizing in even the most minor services.

Self-Interest Groups

Yet, this terrific pressure against each proposed expenditure cut, against each move to trim some of the 2.5 million employees off the $9.8 billion yearly civilian payroll, comes from a very small minority of citizens. It represents the personal self-interest of individuals and groups. Such "lobbying" yields a big stick in Washington only because it is vocal and active, and virtually unchallenged. Its voice would be drowned out and its power cut to proper size if all the John J. Citizens who want government spending cut regardless of "pet" projects would write Congress and the White House.

It isn't "lobbying" to write your government in Washington and ask for a balanced budget and a big cut in government expenditures which now are about 10 times what they were in the years just prior to World War II. It is simply an act of good citizenship, fulfilling one's obligation to himself and future generations.

Citizen Watch Dogs

Government financing can never be entirely entrusted in office-holders whose jobs are dependent upon the practice of politics. The citizenry as a whole must be a watch dog and constantly demand and require sound financial practices. History reports the decline and fall of many nations whose people were lulled into apathy toward the financial affairs of their government. Spending borrowed money and building up debt over a continuing number of years, with the resultant money inflation, has spelled the doom of these great nations.

Today in the United States, the national income is the highest in history. There is no significant unemployment. Jobs are plentiful; new businesses are opening every day. Private enterprise has demonstrated it is capable of taking up the slack as big government spending is whittled down, along with its 25 to 90 per cent taxation on incomes.

If our Federal budget cannot be balanced now, when can it be balanced? I'm afraid the answer would be, never! But it can be balanced in the 1954-55 fiscal year. And it will be—if enough people who care about their future and the future of their children will speak up and act in the true role of American citizens.

The Santa Fe and Southern Railroads used the first diesel-electric freight engines in 1941.

'Physically Handicapped Week' Oct. 4-11

A proclamation naming Oct. 4-11 as "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" has been issued by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, who urged the cooperation of public officials, business, industry, and all organizations in this important project.

The proclamation stated that "The aftermath of our war against Korea remains with us... it includes many veterans of that fight for freedom, who lost limbs or became somehow disabled in battle. Still others of our citizenry have been born with handicaps inflicted upon them through illness or injury.

"Our studies and experiences have shown that many of our handicapped citizens are quite capable of participating in our production and increasing the wealth of our land. Failure to utilize this great human resource is wasteful and wrong.

"In Maryland, the Governor's Committee to Promote the Employment of the Physically Handicapped, the Dept. of Employment Security, and the Dept. of Vocational Rehabilitation are working increasingly to see that the handicapped have their opportunity to work and that business and industry have the advantage of this supply of assistance."

Volunteers in every county are already at work planning for the week's observance and projects for the remainder of the year.

New Corn Husking Team

A new corn husking team designed for faster husking and cleaner corn has been developed by Minneapolis-Moline. The team is the new ZB tractor and 2-Row Mounted Huskor. The Huskor is easily mounted on the ZB tractor by 4 pins in the front and 4 pins in the rear.

Gathering chains in each picking unit of the Huskor move the corn to the snapping rolls. Snapping rolls are 53 1/2" long and revolve on roller and ball bearings. There are ten 36" husking rolls, each with alternating sections of rubber and cast iron. An oscillating raddle keeps the ears pressed against the husking bed making sure all the husks are removed.

A large corn saver under the husking bed catches the occasional loose kernels. The high speed cleaning fan cleans the ears as they drop into the wagon.

Uni-Matic power permits fingertip up-and-down control of the picking mechanism.

The new ZB tractor retains the best features of its predecessor, the Model Z tractor, and incorporates a number of important new ones.

Some of the new features of the ZB are a 12-volt ignition system for quicker, more positive starts, and an automotive-type pressure controlled cooling system. High compression cylinder heads and a high compression ratio give the ZB new fuel economy. New split-beam headlights make night work and road driving safer.

The platform is mounted higher to put the driver up and out of dust and heat. The new Floe-Ride seat adds to his comfort. Centerline steering increases visibility.

The new ZB is available with optional Live Power Take-Off.

- 1. ARE YOU A DAY OR A NIGHT PERSONALITY?
- 2. DOES THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE CHANGE?

(1) There are two basic types of personalities in this respect. The determining factor is the body's temperature. During any one day, reports Jacqueline Berke in Everywoman's magazine, your temperature varies from one to three degrees. Your metabolism, the rate at which you convert food, into energy, changes with your temperature. You will feel most peppy when your temperature and metabolism are high, least energetic when they are low. She suggests that you make the most of this situation by doing your most important work during the hours when you are alert and efficient.

(2) It is constantly undergoing change, according to Wilfred Funk and Norman Lewis. In their book, "30 Days to a More Powerful Vocabulary," they point out that this year alone 5,000 new words will come into our language. Scholars will have nothing to say about how they shall be pronounced or spelled, or what they mean. They will be pronounced, spelled, and defined pretty much as the public pleases. The dictionary is just a record of what the majority of the people are saying and writing.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 1 — Many articles have been written about the continuing rapid increase of U. S. population, which is now over 160 million. They all read in a bullish vein and are presented as a cause for great future prosperity. This week—however—I will present another side to this story—namely, what the expected future increase may mean to your children and grandchildren.

Reasons For The Expected Increase

The first reason is that there are now more births. The second reason is that there now are fewer deaths proportionately. Deaths among babies are much fewer—while almost everyone is living longer, due to better food, shorter hours, saner habits, and improved medical care. Also the following statistics given me by the editor of "Mass Transportation" are suggestive.

Since 1940, which was only 13 years ago, a new "public" has come into being. Fourteen million old customers have died. More than 17 million marriages have taken place. More than 30 million babies have been born. More than one-third of all present families in the U. S. have been formed. Of the more than 150 million people in the U. S. today, 63 per cent do not remember World War I. Until this year, 52 per cent did not remember a Republican administration in the White House.

Don't Be Fooled By Figures

All the above now results in one baby being born every eight seconds and someone dying every 21 seconds. In addition, one immigrant enters the U. S. every two minutes and one emigrant leaves every 17 minutes. I have no figures on the probable increase in the number of families; but this will be very much less.

These facts would appear to require more schools, more roads, more houses, and even more telephones, automobiles, refrigerators, television sets, etc. I hope this will be true; but not necessarily. Present schoolhouses could take care of the present population by being operated on two shifts. Our roads may now be overbuilt. The number of houses needed depends upon families, not on persons. In the house in which I was born at 58 Middle St., Gloucester, Mass., one of my ancestors had 21 children.

Higher Taxes Possible Some Day

The population increase which comes from living longer presents a problem for our children. When parents or grandparents receive old-age assistance, or pensions, or even so-

Self-Employed Eligible For Social Security After 65

Self-employed persons over age 65 who have retired during 1953, or expect to retire before January 1954, would do well to consult with their social security office at the end of September, according to W. S. King, manager of the Hagerstown Social Security office. In some cases, Mr. King indicated, a delay in filing an application until the last three months of the year may result in somewhat lower monthly old-age insurance payments. But, he emphasized, the problem is limited to only a few of the self-employed persons retiring this year, and does not at all affect individuals who intend to continue operating their businesses after this year.

Social security payments are tied in to the individual's average monthly earnings over the years since 1950 when social security coverage was extended to the self-employed. Average earnings are figured by dividing the total earnings covered by social security by the number of months elapsing after 1950. Since, under the law, earnings from self-employment are reported and counted only once a year—after the individual has filed his income tax return—the 1953 earnings of a self-employed person filing this year cannot be counted in figuring his average earnings.

If application is made before the end of September, the situation is eased somewhat by the fact that under the law a period of up to six months before the calendar quarter in which the application is filed may be ignored in the calculation of average earnings. This means that the individual's total net income from self-employment for the two calendar years, 1951 and 1952, will be divided by a corresponding 24 months. If application is filed after September, however, the same total net income in most cases must be divided by 27 months. Therefore, Mr. King suggests that self-employed persons who have retired this year or who plan to retire before January visit the Hagerstown social security office before the end of this month. Members of his staff will be glad to discuss with each the advantages of his filing during this month or waiting until later.

Churches Send Dry Milk Overseas

Church, farm and government cooperated in the preparation of a Friendship Cup of milk, symbolizing the donation of approximately 100,000,000 pounds of dry skim milk by U. S. Department of Agriculture shipped by several church and welfare organizations to underfed people in other lands. The Friendship Cup ceremony took place at the harbor in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, under the auspices of Church World Service, agency of the National Council of Churches. The government donated dry milk out of supplies acquired through supporting milk prices to dairymen. Total donations, when water is added, will provide approximately one billion pints of milk. Milwaukee school children, representing several races, nations and creeds shared milk from the Friendship Cup.

A Dessert to Remember

Today, if guests drop in for dinner, you don't have to have the agility of "Native Dancer" to produce a delicious meal. Using modern frozen foods, you can serve a delightful dinner in about 30 minutes from stove to sitting down time. And when it comes to the dessert here's a sweet that will "send them away with a smile."

STRAWBERRY CHANTILLY
1 package Strawberry flavored gelatin; 3/4 cups hot water
1 12-oz pkg. SNOW CROP frozen sliced Strawberries (unthawed)
3/4 cup whipping cream; 2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup shortbread cookies (coarsely crushed)

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add frozen strawberries and stir until thawed. Place in refrigerator. Whip cream with sugar. Fold in cookie crumbs. Make 4 to 6 portions. Place in sherbet dishes. By now the strawberry mixture should be starting to thicken. (It takes only about 10 minutes.) Carefully spoon into cream-lined dishes and return to refrigerator. Let stand about 15 minutes longer. For coffee, serve Snow Crop frozen coffee concentrate. Merely boil water, if it's to be hot; or get out the ice, if it's to be iced.

Corn Planting Is Seen Turning Eastward

Corn is moving east, from the hills toward the coastal plains, in Maryland, according to a check of crop records by the Committee for Conservation Now.

A big reason, the Committee said, is that corn farming is becoming more widely acknowledged as better suited to level areas. As a cultivated crop, corn exposes sloping land to erosion and is being extensively replaced in hilly counties by hay and pasture. The shift of corn to the Eastern Shore also is due to big corn needs for poultry raising, the Committee said. Drainage is making more land available for corn production, too, and fertilizer and hybrid seeds have resulted in higher yields.

In addition, farmers west of Chesapeake Bay are discovering that forage crops are less costly to produce, less harmful to their land and meet the needs of their growing livestock production.

Accompanying the shift is a statewide decline in corn acreage. The number of acres in corn has been running between 440,000 and 460,000 in recent years, compared with 498,888 in 1929 and the peak acreage of 726,000 in 1891. As many as 875,000 acres were planted as recently as 1917.

On the Eastern Shore, Kent, Dorchester, Caroline and Talbot Counties have been showing increasing corn acreages, Queen Anne's and Cecil have held even, and only Worcester, Wicomico and Somerset County acreages have declined during the past 25 years.

Big percentage declines among western counties have come in Montgomery, Howard, Anne Arundel, Prince George's and Baltimore Counties, where expansion of metropolitan areas into farm areas has been a factor in the lesser corn acreages.

Nickel Producers
Nickel has been produced in many countries in the past. In recent years it has been mined in quantity in Canada, Celebes, Cuba, New Caledonia, Norway, and Russia, and in smaller amounts in several other countries.

The Alert Poultryman
ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS
Q. How can I be sure my poultry house is sanitary?
A. It takes lots of hard work (scrape'n'scrub!) plus a good disinfectant. Like Dr. Salsbury's Germex, for example. Germex is a quaternary ammonium disinfectant; it kills the germs and banishes odors. It's easy to use and low in cost. Use Germex for all sanitary jobs around the farm, get extra value. Make a note now -- buy a bottle of Germex tomorrow.

One for the Books!
Noticed the Missus had a red ribbon tied around her finger at breakfast one morning last week. "What's that for?" I asked. "Your memory slipping?" "It's not for me," she answers, "it's to remind you, and everybody else who asks what it's for, to contribute to the Woman's Club Library Fund. We need $200 and we figured we'd get more help if we could get people to ask us about it." Well, as it turned out, the red ribbon worked just fine. The ladies are having the library all fixed up—and there's enough money for some new books, too. From where I sit, it would be a fine thing if we had some sort of private reminder when we forget the rights of our neighbors. Like when we start telling them what we think is best. I may like a travel book and a temperate glass of beer while you prefer a cup of tea with your historical novel. Let's both remember not to "put the finger" on the other!

CLOTHESPINS ARE FOR THE KIDS
Let the kids make dolls, planes, or fences with your clothespins. You don't need them any more. Modern electric dryers have taken the place of clothespins and clotheslines. Give away your liniment too—no more aching backs from lugging soggy, heavy clothes up the cellar stairs and out to the line. No more up-and-down, up-and-down bending from wash basket to line. And while you're at it, give away the family almanac and crystal ball . . . now you don't have to worry about the weather. Rain, high winds, snow or hail, you can now dry clothes indoors, anytime, getting sunshine-fresh, fluffy results. See the modern electric dryers now at your local appliance dealer or the nearest utility company store.

The senior class journeyed to College Park on Saturday, Sept. 26. The College treated the students to a tour of the campus, a free lunch, and then everyone went to the Maryland-Washington and Lee football game. Maryland won the contest by 56-0 score.

Student Council

The weekly meetings of the student council take place every Thursday afternoon. The following officers were elected to serve this year: president, George Springer; vice president, Carolyn McNair; secretary, Harriet Fite; treasurer, Richard Toms, and historian, Shirley Brewster.

Junior Class News

The junior class sponsored a food sale at the Fire Hall on Saturday. The profits from the sale amounted to $17.80 and will go into the class treasury to help sponsor the junior-senior prom in June.

A back-to-school dance will be held by the junior class Friday, Oct. 2. This dance is being held to start the year with good fellowship among all the students of the school. Against a backdrop of falling leaves, gay-colored balloons and fancy crepe paper, we will dance to the fastest in "pop" by all the teen-age artists.

Glee Club News

The glee club first met this year Sept. 24 with an enrollment of 48 members. The glee club is directed by Miss Ruth Stull, music teacher, from Lewistown. The accompanists are Jack Wantz and Beulah Glass. We held an election of officers with the following results: president, Thelma Bollinger; vice president, Jean Troxell; secretary, Beulah Glass; treasurer, Bob Hays.

Pimlico To Open October 12

Preparations are going rapidly forward at Pimlico for the opening of the fall meeting of 12 days on Mon., Oct. 12. This will be the start of a 48-day autumn season in Maryland, a season which is expected to attract the top performers in all divisions of the thoroughbred sport.

The Maryland Jockey Club's meeting, although short, will get the season off to a flying start since five important stakes are to be decided during this brief period. Heading the list of features is the $50,000 Pimlico Special, which is by invitation only.

The richest Pimlico Futurity in history is listed for Oct. 17; the $15,000 Gallorette Stakes will be run Oct. 21, the $10,000 Marguerite for juvenile fillies on Oct. 14, and the opening attraction will be the $7500 Pimlico Breeders' Stakes. The Special will be offered on Saturday, Oct. 24, closing day of the meeting.

Nineteen horses have earned invitations to the Special including Tom Fool, Royal Vale, Crafty Admiral, Oil Capitol, Alerted, Sickle's Image, Grecian Queen, Canadiana and Atalanta. Top two-year-olds have been nominated for the Futurity with every indication that the field will be a large one, and with plenty of quality. Outstanding young runners among the eligibles are Errard King, Evening Out, Fisherman, Quick Lunch, Nirgal Lad, Everett Jr., Wise Pop and Queen. Hopefully, all stakes winners.

Pimlico stakes closed yesterday and a better line on all the feature events will be available when racing secretary Fred Colwill tabulates his lists of nominations. Pimlico officials have been contacting horsemen in all sections for the program which includes $107,500 in stakes, and $26,000 daily overnight distribution.

LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

TELEVISION - RADIO - HOLLYWOOD

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—That strange, unexplainable factor that seems to cement a bond between the very young and the very old is the story basis of a new television program, "Jamie," Monday nights on ABC-TV. "Jamie," played by brilliant 11-year-old Brandon de Wilde, is a young orphan who has been shunted from relative to relative.

He finally reaches his "Grandpa Frank" (Ernest Truex). Their close, mutual understanding for each other makes "Jamie" a warm, compelling TV show.

Brooklyn-reared Brandon de Wilde (pronounced "da-will-dah") in the short span of three years has compiled an impressive acting record for a young actor who started at eight—including two Broadway shows and two Hollywood movies, aside from the new TV offering. He won the highly acclaimed Donaldson Award for the best first performance of the year in the play "The Member of the Wedding" (1950) and co-starred in the movie version.

His other movie is "Shane," with Alan Ladd. Ernest Truex might be called "Mr. Show Business." He first appeared on Broadway with fabulous Lillian Russell in "Wildfire." He played in silent pictures opposite Mary Pickford. He's been in 48 plays in New York, starting in most of them, and in 45 movies since the "talkies."

MISS BROOKS' 6th YEAR

The best known "teacher" in the country is back on the radio—Eve Arden in "Our Miss Brooks," Sunday night, Radio CBS. It is the sixth year on the air for the quick-witted, golden-hearted "Connie Brooks," of mythical Madison High School, a role so successful some of her public has forgotten Miss Arden as a movie star. Back with "Connie" are the other regulars: Gale Gordon as "Principal Osgood Conklin, radio's "most even tempered man"—he's always mad; Bob Rockwell, shy science teacher who unconsciously evades "Connie's" hints of affection; Jane Morgan as "Mrs. Davis," "Connie's" pixilated landlady, and Dick Crenna as "Walter Denton," the trouble-loving student.

BACK TO THE "FIRESIDE"

"Bless the Man," the story of Dr. Crawford Long who discovered the use of ether in surgery... his battle against hypocrisy and die-hards... the faith of his wife who underwent surgery under ether to prove his discovery, typified the stories that have made "Fireside Theater" Tuesday nights, NBC... Fireside host TV, one of the highest rated dramatic programs on television. This season Gene Raymond is with the show as host and star in several productions. Among October shows: "Fight Night," a quick moving drama of people watching a big fight on TV in a roadside restaurant during a storm. Star: blonde Mary Beth Hughes.

Keep Leather on Hand

THERE IS MORE EXCITEMENT and drama in leather gloves than any other fashion accessory this year! Accent in the fall fashion picture will be on the new individual look, and that's why leather has emerged as the new fashion force.

Leather Glove Industries report that designers in this field have outdone themselves. The gloves are so dramatic, so colorful, that they will not only add the touch of elegance to your new clothes, but will pep up your last year's wardrobe.

For leather gloves are news... they are lined, they are tinted, they are patterned. They are embroidered, they are jeweled, they are beaded. They are short, they are midway, elbow and shoulder length. They are buttoned, pulled on, snapped, and crushable. They are lined with cashmere for warmth without bulk. They are in every conceivable type of leather for every time of day and for every occasion.

Leather gloves are matched to your leather shoes and other leather accessories. You'll find them in crushed and patterned kid and calf leathers in every hue of the rainbow, in deeply glazed leathers, velvety suedes, ranging from jet black to stark white, every type of textured leather from pig to ostrich for daytime as well as formal wear. As shown above, a complete wardrobe for every occasion in jeweled and gold trimmed suede and soft kid leathers for evening; pigskin and capeskin for casual and afternoon wear. The leather glove is indispensable for the fashion-wise woman this year!

Taneytown Veterinarian Dies

Dr. M. A. Hitchcock, well-known veterinarian in this section, died at his home in Taneytown Wednesday morning at 8:50 o'clock, aged 80 years.

He was a son of the late Luther and Elizabeth Clarke Hitchcock and was born in Maryland. He came to Taneytown 60 years ago and practiced as a veterinarian up until 1951 when he retired because of failing health.

Dr. Hitchcock was also well-known in political circles in Taneytown where he served on the Democratic committee for a number of years. At the time of his death he also was a member of the board of directors of the Taneytown Mutual Fire Insurance Company and of the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church. The deceased was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary and Surgical School.

He was married twice, his first wife, Mrs. Olive A. Martin Hitchcock, dying 20 years ago. Survivors include his second wife, Mrs. Mahala Bachman Hitchcock and the following children: Denver L. Hitchcock, York, Pa.; Lyman A. Hitchcock, Roanoke, Va.; Dr. L. N. Hitchcock, Westminster; Martin R. Hitchcock, Union Bridge, Route 1; Mrs. George E. Rue, Taneytown; Mrs. A. S. Thomas, New London, N. H.; two stepchildren, Fern A. Bachman of Taneytown and Mrs. Sterling Shaffer, Manchester. Sixteen grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the funeral home in Taneytown. Rev. Morgan R. Andreas, pastor of the Reformed Church there, will officiate. Interment in Reformed Church Cemetery in Taneytown.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, E. Main St., will move Saturday to New Midway where they will make their future home. Mr. Baker is an instructor at Emmitsburg High School.

Plan More 'Air Raids'

State Civil Defense Director Shirley Ewing said this week that more state-wide air raid alerts would be held in the future.

Mr. Ewing said that the State agency was considering not announcing the time of the next test.

"We know that the public's reaction would have been much poorer without the prior publicity we received for 'Operation Check-up,'" he said.

Public reaction to the recent test has indicated that future alerts are desirable. "We don't want to pester the people, but, at the same time, none of us can forget that we are living in an age of peril," Mr. Ewing said.

Mr. Ewing said that reports from all over the State indicate that the recent test was a big success.

Many Civil Defense directors have requested that future tests be more of a surprise to the public, according to Mr. Ewing.

Waesche Will Probated

The will of Clinton Foreman Waesche, well-known Thurmont contractor, was probated in Orphans' Court, Frederick, and bequeaths the estate, which is understood to be substantial, to the immediate family.

The will directs that all equipment adaptable to road building which the deceased might own be left in absolute form to the corporation of L. R. Waesche and Sons, Inc. The right was reserved for Leonard Randolph Waesche to purchase at par value, sufficient shares of L. R. Waesche & Sons, Inc., stock from the estate to assure him controlling interest.

Residue of the estate is bequeathed to the widow, Mrs. Sarah Greenwald Waesche. A daughter, Mary Louise Waesche Davis and a son, Leonard Randolph Waesche, are named executors. The will is dated Nov. 26, 1951. It was witnessed by Leonard W. Zimmerman and Margaret P. Carback.

ALONG THE POTOMAC

With Cong. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—When the voters of this country went to the polls last year, they made one thing crystal clear: they wanted an end to the "five percent" racket in Washington.

Evidently there are still some persons in the capital who didn't read the election returns right, because we now have evidence that this shady activity is still going on. A committee headed by Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), has turned up the first case of a man using political contacts here to get secret information and help a manufacturer land a government contract.

For this he would collect four per cent of the contract price. But in this case the manufacturer knowing the activity to be improper, reported it to the government and the investigation began.

There is no law against this sort of thing, and it would be difficult to write one because companies who wish to do business with Uncle Sam do need some kind of contact. The problem is that some people don't know where to draw the line—they make unwarranted use of secret information or tempt government officers to give them favored treatment, and it doesn't take much of this to give a whole administration a bad moral complexion.

This new case made public by Rep. Hess did not involve any of the men President Eisenhower has placed in his administration. We can hope that the prompt publicity given to the scandals on our hands such as we did under the old administration.

There is one possible way to deal with manufacturers' agents to keep them on the straight and narrow—through a registration similar to the one which controls lobbyists. Perhaps if they had to submit financial reports and list their names with the Congress they would curb their underhanded deals.

No one, no matter how good a Republican, will claim that the new administration is perfect. But its first responsibility is to stay perfectly honest and perfectly moral. And the Republican Party has promptly shown its good faith with America's voters by kicking this first offending "four percent" out of its organization.

Gives Advice On Prevention Of Accidents

Colonel Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the Maryland State Police, this week stressed the fact that "nothing we hear or read about strikes us with so shocking a sense of tragedy as the accidental death of a small child. We feel sorrow and sympathy for the parents in their loss. We also feel a sense of guilt because we failed to protect a child from the hazards of his environment."

The Colonel continued: "Seventeen children were killed and 1065 injured by motor vehicles in Maryland last year, because of carelessness and indifference to safe driving habits. During the first six months of 1953, the State Police arrested 170 operators and warned 168 more for passing school buses that were discharging children."

Col. Munshower said: "There is no excuse for such wanton disregard of the law. When school buses stop on the highway—you must stop. The State Police are doing their utmost to arrest these willful violators. Remember—the child's life you protect is the most precious possession on earth to some family."

Church Plans Celebration Of Anniversary

Commemoration of its one-hundredth anniversary is being planned by the Rocky Ridge Church of the Brethren.

A special commemorative program is planned and will be announced. Legend has it that the church was founded in 1853 by Elder Daniel P. Saylor, and arrangements are being made to have the grandson of the founder, Rev. Daniel P. Saylor Bowers, to deliver the sermon at the services which will be held Sunday, Oct. 11.

PREACHING MISSION

A preaching mission of Evangelism will be held in Elias Lutheran Church for six consecutive nights, beginning Sunday, Nov. 22. The preacher for the mission will be Rev. Corte, chaplain of Gettysburg College, who will preach on the opening night. Rev. Boyd Hamm, D.D., pastor of St. John's Church, Hagerstown will be guest speaker for the five week nights. The mission will be conducted for the entire public.
