Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

The boss, Ye Ed, has just informed me, in no uncertain terms, to ferret out the true facts in a story before publishing it—or else. I suppose you have some general inking as to what I have in mind? You're right, I "flubbed" one again. I suppose most of you will recall the item about the Mount's graduating class in last week's issue, wherein I bragged about the large number in the class? Well much to my chagrin, the boss tells me that instead of being one of the largest, it actually is of just medium stature. I was not politely informed the largest class was graduated in 1950—179 members. You can imagine my embarrassment when I said 85 was one of the biggest classes ever turned 'out. I just can't pass this one on to the linotype operator, as the figures do not even come close to jibing. I'll just have to act nice to the boss until this thing blows over, I guess. Oh, well, it's all in a day's work for a gal.

Now that the Playground is about ready for the opening of a new season, I wonder just what about Community Field is so popular with a certain element? It seems that this type of individual relishes in the act of damaging or messing public property. As possessors of one of the nicest ball parks in the state, nearly every Sunday a game is scheduled here, some good hearted, public-spirited citizens have to go down to the field and remove unsightly deposits left there by these offenders. Beer bottles and cans are almost a certainty to be scattered helter-skelter on the dugouts or Playground, endangering the health and welfare of the players and kids. Warnings have been issued and police have watched the premises time and again. But just as soon as the "heat" is on, the deprecations cease. After a short while, however, they are going full blast again. The only remedy I suppose, that will stop this destruction and defacing of public property will be to make an "example" of the first one caught, with a big stiff fine. I'm for it. Complaints have reached this desk from members of my own sex pertinent to the distasteful and degrading language put into use by certain individuals during our baseball contests. Several gals have told me that they were forced to evacuate their seats in the booster section, due to the tirade of foul language heaped upon both umpires and players. I myself, in an effort to get at the bottom of this disrespectful attitude toward the fair sex, as well as the children, have been subjected to these foul utterances. Baseball officials should see to it that the practice is stopped before attendance is hurt and gate receipts, naturally spiral downward.

I was very happy to hear the Federal Government was about to restore some of the Catoctin Recreational Area back to the State of Maryland! A strong advocate of this transaction, I wrote several times concerning the facilities that exist there, that can be devoted to public use, instead of by a small number of Washington "bigwigs" who have had control of the area for too many years. The picnic facilities are commanding and should be enjoyed by all. Water fountains, fireplaces, toilets, reunion halls, a lake and a clearance for a baseball field are all ready for use except for a little retouching, for the public's use. However, I feel that we should go a step further and make certain that the Maryland State Dept. of Forests and Parks is made to develop these facilities and installations to their fullest extent. We are in dire need of picnic grounds, either here or nearby, and when they are turned over to the state today, we should lose no time demanding that they be expanded and cared for. A number of Emmitsburgians plan on being present this afternoon at the restoration ceremonies. I am told that Mayor Rodgers, Cloyd W. Seiss, president of the Chamber of Commerce and a number of Scouts and Cubs will be on hand. The public is invited.

J. A. Smith, Abbottstown, Pa., visited recently with his aunt, Mrs. J. R. Payne.

Local Ball Team Masters Thurmont

Although outthit six to nine, Emmitsburg finally was able to master the Thurmont baseball team at the latter's field last Sunday. Thurmont took an early lead of 8 to 1 and held it until the fifth inning when the locals exploded with a barrage of hits, scoring eight runs and ultimately resulting in victory.

A pair of five-run innings, the fourth and eighth, gave Fairfield's unbeaten team its seventh straight victory Sunday at Fairfield as the Pennsylvanians walloped the Union Bridge squad 12 to 4.

Cashtown copped its second in a row by blanking New Windsor 8-0 at Cashtown as E. Kane gave up but four hits. The winners clinched the verdict with six runs in the fourth. New Windsor's defeat was its seventh straight.

Second-place Blue Ridge Summit squeezed past New Oxford 10-9 at Blue Ridge Summit in a game which was enlivened by a fight between two players and an umpire.

Memorial Playground Will Open Monday

Memorial Playground, presented to the Corporation of Emmitsburg three years ago by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post of Emmitsburg, will officially open for public convenience on Monday, it was announced this week by the committee in charge.

As usual, a competent supervisor has been engaged, and parents are urged to encourage their children to make use of the playground's facilities.

The project represents a $2000 investment on the part of the Emmitsburg VFW and the Ladies' Auxiliary to the VFW will bear all costs of supervision this year.

Complaints have been received regarding the abuse of the grounds by older individuals. Several acts of vandalism have been reported and in some cases junk and empty beer bottles have had to be cleared away before making the playground safe for the youngsters. The project will be under police surveillance until these acts of depredation are stopped completely.

Building Permits Issued Here

Building permits issued during May for construction in Frederick County indicate a zooming activity, according to the monthly report from the office of Supervisor of Assessments A. Lamar Barwick.

Taneytown Votes For Sewerage Bond Issue

Residents of Taneytown re-elected Raymond J. Perry as mayor and authorized the town administration to borrow up to $150,000 to assure completion of the community's sewerage system in voting on Monday.

Some time ago the town was authorized to borrow $500,000 for construction of a sewerage system, but the low bid for the construction was above that amount and an additional $150,000 was deemed necessary.

Out of 401 ballots cast, 154 were in favor of the added bond issue while 110 people voted against.

Mayor Perry was re-elected with 239 votes compared with 155 cast for Richard Rohrbaugh, who served as mayor several terms ago. Two members of the town council, Carel Frock and James C. Myers, were unopposed. Frock received 341 votes and Myers got 321.

The voting was a near high in the community. Holdover councilmen who will come up for election next year are M. S. Baumgardner, Harry Mohney and Raymond Davidson.

Fire Chief John J. Hollinger announced that the company had extinguished five conflagrations during the past month.

State-Wide Air Raid Alert Set For Monday

Frederick County's Civil Defense organization will be tied into other units in the state in participation in a nation-wide alert to be held on Monday, June 14.

All the Civil Defense sirens in Frederick City will sound simultaneously with the city air horn at 8 p. m. Monday signalling the start of the eight-minute alert. The warning red signal consists of a rising and falling wail of the sirens and a series of short blasts on the electronic horn, both lasting for three minutes.

In addition, Civil Defense sirens which have been installed in Brunswick, Middletown, Walkersville, and Thurmont will also be sounded. Alerts will be sounded by the fire sirens in Myersville, Emmitsburg and Braddock Heights.

Pedestrians are to seek shelter in buildings which may be open or take cover in doorways. Automobiles are to stop and pull to the curb. Intersections are not to be blocked.

Doors and windows in buildings are to be closed, and blinds drawn in private homes. Civil Defense authorities are urging people to turn off all gas burners and non-automatic gas appliances such as manually operated water and room heaters. Electrical appliances are also to be turned off.

Volunteers to assist police in three county towns have been secured. Assisting Chief Herbert Sperry in Brunswick will be volunteers from the American Legion Post, while a number of auxiliary police secured by Officer James Dabel in Thurmont will assist there. Volunteers from the fire police of Emmitsburg will assist Town Officer Daniel Kaas.

The volunteers in the county communities will also aid in direction of traffic and will assist in urging pedestrians to get off the streets.

Included in the county exercise will be participation by the communications service of the Frederick County Civil Defense under direction of John E. Patton.

Seven portable radio-telephone transmitter-receivers will be in use in addition to two walkie-talkies. The sets will be in cars throughout the county and on the outskirts of Frederick.

Automobiles of the communications volunteers will be marked with flying Civil Defense emblems to give them clearance during the alert period.

The Frederick County installation of the Civil Defense network will be in constant operation throughout the day and reports will be made from the county director's office throughout the alert.

Various states will have different times for observing the alert, but all sections of the county will hold test alerts on that day.

Parking Meters May Operate Saturday Nights

Thirty more days were granted the businessmen's committee which opposed the operation of parking meters on Saturday evenings, in which to file an answer as to why the operation of the parking meters shouldn't be resumed. This was the action taken by the Town Council at its regular monthly meeting held Monday evening in the Fire Hall, President of the Board Thomas J. Frailey presiding with the full board in attendance.

Council felt that it had been more than fair and lenient with the group which promised an answer to the action which it started over 60 days ago when it asked for discontinuance of the meters on Saturday nights. At that time Council gave the committee 30 days to come up with the answers, but at the expiration of that period of time the committee requested an extension of the time, making it 60 days. However, when the 60 days had expired and no report had been turned in to Council, it was decided that if the report was not received before the next meeting of Council, the meters would automatically go back into operation. Council expressed the desire to hear from those, also that were in favor of keeping the meters in operation, at or before the next meeting, the first Monday in July.

Town Clerk Louise Sebald presented the reports of the secretary, tax collector and treasurer and all were approved as presented. Parking meter revenue reported for June totaled $342.68, in addition to $33 in fines for overtime parking violations. Chief Kaas reported a total of $247.10 collected in motor code fines during the month.

Harry Swomley appeared before Council in behalf of the Emmitsburg Grange which recently adopted a resolution calling for the cessation of parking meter operation Saturday evenings.

Cloyd W. Seiss and Ralph Irelan also were present before Council on business pertinent to the Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers reported that the recent clean-up days were in his belief, highly successful. He said that 15 truckloads of rubbish had been collected and disposed of. A letter received from the State Health Dept. informing the town that in the future all public amusement affairs would be required to obtain permission from the department, at a cost of $75, $50 to the department and $25 to the County Commissioners, was read. The letter was taken under advisement and will be answered by Council shortly.

Mayor Rodgers reported he was in receipt of a communication from the engineering concern which was hired to make a survey of the town's sewerage needs. The letter informs, he stated, that the survey was about completed.

Other action taken by the Council included the hiring of Pete Dubel for town maintenance work, re-election of Colonel T. J. Frailey as chairman of the Board of commissioners; the re-appointment of Charles R. Fuss as street commissioner; re-appointment of Louise Sebald as the town clerk, and reappointment of Daniel J. Kaas as chief of the police department.

A discussion as to what safety precautions could be installed at the West End of town, was held. Recent serious accidents there have created alarm and it is the intent of Council to study the condition and to take some remedial measures in the near future. Warning signs and a signal light were discussed, but the matter is still under advisement by the board. No parking and restricted parking signs will be erected in sections of the East End in the near future the board revealed.

In an effort to improve the facilities of the police department, Council authorized the purchase of a two-way radio set for Chief Kaas' car, contingent with the approval of county and state police departments.

TRUTH ABOUT THE INDO-CHINA DILEMMA

Just back from an inspection trip to the Far East, Defense Secretary Wilson has hopefully indicated that this country is not on the verge of armed intervention in Indo-China.

Mr. Wilson's time in Asia was well spent. It gave him an opportunity to confirm the estimate of U. S. military observers that the Indo-China war is more political than military. Or, as one of them has put it, that the problem is 90% political and 10% military.

One of the problems, Mr. Wilson has pointed out, is a lack of general recognition among Asian peoples that Communist aggression is involved in the Indo-China crisis. He might have spelled it out by noting that the Indo-Chinese are fighting primarily for independence from colonial exploitation. And the Communists, in turn, are exploiting Indo-Chinese nationalism. Apparently the fact that France is granting independence to the Associated States, technically at least, is slow to register with the skeptical natives.

How is the U. S., striving to stem the spread of Communism, to intervene effectively in a native insurrection against a colonial power? That is the dilemma. If the situation involved an international conflict in which a nation under attack was offering concerted resistance, the problem would be relatively simple. But that is not the case in Indo-China. In that turbulent land there is no strong central government enjoying popular support. Revolt against the French, not resistance to Communist aggression, is the key factor in the conflict.

It was against this perplexing background that Mr. Wilson told an audience in South Carolina on Monday that "a third world war is not the answer" to the problem of stopping the spread of Communism. "We cannot knock out false ideas with bullets," he said. "We must counter and destroy them with the truth, with superior ideas and sound philosophy."

In Indo-China, alas, it is probably much too late to save with philosophy what the Communists are taking by force. And to meet force with force, the U. S. would need allies; it would be disastrous to go into Indo-China alone and risk a third world war.

As of now, then, this country does not appear to be edging into another Korea. Whether that position can be maintained—and we earnestly hope that it can—depends, of course, upon Red China. If she gets openly into the conflict, the Western Powers may have to meet the challenge.

Before we plunge into another war, however, our objectives must be clearly defined, we must have something political as well as military with which to work in the area to be defended, and we must have major allies. Only under those conditions could there be reasonable hope of success.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 10—Some of my young friends feel that a recent pessimistic column of mine will handicap them in getting a good position. Hence, they wish me to tell the optimistic side of the story. There is much newspaper talk about delinquency of juveniles, the carelessness of youth, and the lowering of school and college standards.

Of course, the destruction of school or any property should be given the severest criticism; but some feel these crimes are only a natural reaction from the moral letdown that always has accompanied periods of great wars. So much has been written by me regarding the pessimistic side of the "modern youth" problem that I really should pass along some optimistic words, especially now at graduation time.

Hours and Wages

Stores are having some trouble from stealing by employees; but this has been due partly to the store's carelessness. When it comes to the industry, initiative and loyalty of the honest ones, I must admit that the high school graduates today may possess some good traits to a greater extent than any previous generation. Modern youth may wish to work fewer hours; but with telephones, calculating machines and dictaphones, they may accomplish more in a 40-hour week than I did when working 50 hours per week. They claim five times as much!

Now as to wages: On the wall of a store adjoining my Wellesley office is a tin sign dated 1904 reading:

"THE BOSTON HERALD PRICE ONE CENT"

One of the leading newspapers of New England, The Boston Herald now sells for five cents. We employers are disturbed at the wages which "modern youth" ask; but are these wages more than five times what we paid high-school graduates 50 years ago?

What Is Paleontology?

Paleontology is the science of ancient life. Recently, Doctor Barnum Brown, Curator Emeritus of the American Museum of Natural History, a leading palentologist, told me that the facts prove conclusively every normal generation is abler than its predecessor. The new generation may do things which we oldsters do not like; but it has other qualities which more than offset our objections. This improvement, he claims, is due to many factors—one of which is the better diet which each generation has—more protein, more fruits and vegetables, and especially a greater variety of food.

When I attended high school, I despised such subjects as Latin, Greek and certain higher mathematics. When I would tell the teacher that I would never use these subjects, the teacher would reply, "These are taught to help you develop your brain." Yet, today, psychologists tell me that driving automobiles through traffic does far more to develop the brains of modern youth than did any of those high school subjects which were taught us. In fact, it may be that automobiles are today doing more to sharpen high school brains than many of the textbooks which I studied.

I am scared stiff when riding with one of my grandchildren. The way he drives "in and out" of traffic astonishes me. Yet, he never has an accident. The automobile may make the present generation superior to the pre-auto generation to which I belonged. Furthermore, instead of urging youth to drive slower we should perhaps be content to urge "careful driving." The best brains are said to be developed by alert, careful driving.

Therefore, I should say that 1954 graduates—who avoid liquor and excessive smoking—may be the best we have ever had an opportunity to hire. Perhaps, we employers may well place them in the jobs of us oldsters who cannot think as fast or visualize as quickly as we once did. In fact, one of the best tests which an employment manager can use on applicants may be to ask for the applicant's auto record. It may tell more than high school marks! I do not know.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

(Editor, Sports Afield Magazine)

Dogs, particularly those in kennels, need a little extra care during hot summer months. Parasites of all kinds thrive then and precautions should be taken to keep your dog and his quarters free of such pests.

Henry P. Davis, sporting dog editor of Sports Afield magazine, suggests a thorough powdering at frequent intervals with a flea powder containing five to 10 per cent DDT. Effective sprays and dips are also available. The dog's bedding, if any is used in the summer, should be changed often and should be dusted with flea powder.

Ticks are not only irritating to dogs, but can bring about a weakened condition that is dangerous to their life. Dogs in tick-infested areas should be sprayed regularly. Never remove the ticks by hand. Pick them off with a tweezer and drop them in a can of kerosene.

Kennel quarters should be thoroughly disinfected regularly, and all refuse cleaned from the kennel daily. Sanitation makes for good health as well as comfort. A dog's quarters should be well ventilated in summer. The yard should have ample shade to provide a cool place for him to lie. And be sure to provide plenty of clean, fresh water. Keep the water as cool as possible.

Never, under any circumstances leave a dog in an automobile parked in the hot sun. Many a fine dog has died of prostration or suffocation because of this sort of carelessness on the part of his owner.

Keep your dog away from violent exercise during the hot summer months. A run in the cool hours of early morning or evening is OK, but make it short and be sure not to overdo it. If you take him afield during such cool periods, be sure he has ready access to water. And you can cut down on his food during a hot spell.

According to competent veterinarians, summertime clipping is advisable for long-haired dogs for hygienic reasons, as well as for comfort. The mere mention of

SON IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Wastler, W. Main St., announce the birth of a son born Tuesday at the Warner Hospital in Gettysburg.

The chiasmodon, a sea animal, has rubber-like jaws and an expandable stomach that enables it to swallow and digest fish three times as large as itself.

About 96% of the population of Great Britain was born in the United Kingdom.

clipping is heresy to many fanciers who keep their dogs for bench-show purposes. They prefer to pluck or strip the coat. But if you are not interested in showing your dog, clipping is faster, easier and cheaper. Your vet or pet store has the proper equipment and can do the job for a small fee.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

'Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Based on developments through the first half of the marketing year, the corn carryover next Oct. 1 is expected to total about 950 million bushels, the Dept. of Agriculture reported. This would be 181 million bushels larger than in 1953 and more than 100 million bushels above the record of 1950. Except for working stocks of around 150 to 200 million bushels, practically all of the carryover is expected to be under loan or owned by the Commodity Credit Corp.

Total disappearance of corn during the 1953-54 season is now expected to be about three million bushels, or about the same as in 1952-53. Domestic utilization may be a little larger than last year, principally because of an expected increase in the quantity fed livestock. Corn exports, however, may total only about 100 million bushels, compared with 140 million in 1952-53.

Stocks of corn on April 1 totaled 1288 million bushels, the largest on record for that date. Farm stocks totaled 1469 million bushels, only 16 million bushels larger than on April 1 last year. Most of the increase in total stocks from a year earlier was in off-farm positions.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall

President Eisenhower last week week emphasized his Administration's desire for an impressive legislative record which would benefit every citizen, and the Senate proudly passed the Eisenhower-sponsored housing bill the following day.

The President also took advantage of his press conference to explain how the Republican administration is going about the tedious job of combating Communist efforts to infiltrate.

The record he gave should be comforting to every person who has feared Communist subversion, and, as President Eisenhower explained, the constant surveillance of Communists in this country is a 24-hour, seven-day a week, 52 weeks a year job. It is carried out by the appropriate Federal agencies in conformance with due process of law. It is being done quietly and relentlessly, and those who best know its effectiveness are the Communists themselves.

There is probably more confusion about Communism within our own borders than about any other one subject, and in order to set the record straight as to just what the Republican Administration has done let us review the Eisenhower record.

In the 16 months this Administration has been in office the attorney general, working with the FBI and the Immigration and Naturalization Service, has: (1) arrested seven Connecticut leaders of the Communist party during the last week of May, 1954, in Connecticut and New York City; (2) convicted 41 Communist party leaders, 13 in New York, 7 in Honolulu, five in Pittsburgh, five in Seattle; six in Detroit, and five in St. Louis; (3) indicted 20 additional Communist leaders, including nine now on trial in Philadelphia, and 11 soon to be tried in Cleveland; (4) ordered the addition of 62 new organizations to the Dept. of Justice's list of subversive groups, making a total of 225; (5) secured the conviction of one person for treason, and two for espionage; eight others have been convicted for making false statements to the government—three have been convicted for perjury; (6) deported 84 alien subversives; (7) issued orders for deportation of 268 persons with records of subversive activity or affiliation; (8) started denatural-ization proceedings against 24 naturalized citizens charged with being subversives; (9) barred entry into country of 127 subversive aliens, who had arrived at ports of entry.

The point of these listings is that this Administration is establishing a commendable record for dealing with subversive groups—a record of hard and loyal work not dramatized by reckless charges but evidence, legally valid, which can get an indictment from a grand jury and a conviction in a court of law.

Among the other accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration in Congress last week was the House action on the Social Security bill, which brings increased benefits and coverage for thousands upon thousands.

Also the Senate passed the Agriculture Appropriation Bill, containing $1 billion for the operation of that department during the next fiscal year. Actually the Senate approved about $100 million more in funds than the Eisenhower administration had requested.

ALONG THE POTOMAC

By Cong. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON, June 7—With only eight dissenting votes the House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill which will greatly improve the Federal Social Security system.

In order of the number of people affected, it does these things:

(1) Raises the amount of annual salary on which you contribute to social security from $3600 to $4200, and raises the benefits you will receive accordingly; (2) brings under social security for the first time 3.5 million self-employed farmers; 3.5 million state and local government employees, other than police or firemen, if they vote in their local areas by a two-thirds majority to come in to the program; 400,000 self-employed professional people, including just about everybody except doctors, who generally work later in life and preferred not to be covered; and finally, about one million other persons in various types of jobs; (3) increases benefits for about six million people now relieving them. The average retired worker will get about $6 a month more, with payments to individuals running to $98.50 instead of the present $85, and to $200 for families instead of the present $168.75; (4) increases the limit on how much a retired person can earn in a part-time job before he loses any benefit payments.

As I predicted in this column weeks ago, almost the entire House supported the President on this bill. It should pass the Senate easily.

It illustrates something we are acutely conscious of in Washington: That while political arguments may be catching the headlines, there is much hard and constructive work being done by your government officials. While the disputes make juicier reading they will be of no importance in the future, as Washington veterans learned long ago.

My own activity during the past week has reflected the general air of urgency with about two months left of our Congressional session. I made a statement before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee in behalf of amendments to the Railroad Retirement Act which would lower the retirement age from 65 to 60 and allow rail workers to retire after 30 instead of 35 years' service.

I also submitted a statement to Senator Cooper, who is chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Education, calling attention to the need of Federal funds for school construction in the Federally-impacted areas of Montgomery and Frederick counties. This same statement was sent to the House Appropriation Committee.

CATCHING

By *Ray Schalk

From the book "How to Play" published by The Sporting News

FINAL ADVICE Chapter 13

When I broke into professional ball, most of the catchers, especially those in the major leagues and in the ace minor loops, were big, husky fellows. My small size was considered a handicap. But it actually wasn't, I can say in all fairness, after looking back at my years with the White Sox, during most of which I served as first-string catcher. So if catching is the position you have picked out, height and weight will be no barrier. It is more important to have the urge to show you have a good head on your shoulders, to take the manager's orders and lay off the umpires. I had pretty good luck in baseball. So did Muddy Ruel, who was just about my size. It's the ability, not the build, that will help you most.

It is true the catcher gets more fingers and thumbs bunched up and hands dented in the course of a game than any other player. That's only natural. What is the best thing to use in doctoring such bruises? I recommend epsom salts in hot water. It is the prescription that worked for me and brought quick relief from pain that was hard to bear.

Remember, you cannot whip nature. Assume you are the first-string catcher on the club and are working behind the bat, game after game, week after week. Well, never try to accomplish the impossible. If you know you are giving out, and need a rest, report to your manager. That is far better than to stay in the game when you know you are not in top condition. The manager will want you to let him know when you haven't all your pep or physical endurance.

My final advice to the young player is this: Contact the best people as you come through in baseball, and save your money. Like all others, I made progress, and also mistakes, when I was in the game. It's mighty fine to have your own business and some money in the bank after your baseball career is over.

I hope my advice to young players will prove helpful. Just keep in shape, follow orders, lay off umpires and talk, eat, think and sleep baseball. Also cash in on the chance you get to meet some real people all over the country. And be smart enough to bank some of your pay check on the first and fifteenth of every month.

*As related to Harold W. Lanigan.

Helpful Hints For The Homemaker

Take advantage of the plentiful supply of fresh asparagus available and add a good supply to your home freezer while the price is reasonable. You'll enjoy it next winter when fresh asparagus is not on the market.

Nutritionist Janet Coblenz, University of Maryland Extension Service, says blanching asparagus is a must if you expect to get a good-flavored product. Asparagus frozen without blanching develops off odors and flavors and loses color and vitamin C rapidly.

Select young, tender stalks with compact tips, and sort according to thickness of stalk. Then wash the asparagus thoroughly and cut or break off and discard tough parts of the stalks. Leave spears in lengths to fit the package or cut in two-inch lengths.

The next step—the step which makes the difference between a good and a poor product—is to heat the stalks in boiling water. For each pound of asparagus, use at least one gallon of boiling water in a blancher or kettle. Put the vegetables in a blanching or wire basket and lower into the water. Cover the container with a lid and start counting time immediately.

Keep the heat high, and heat according to the thickness of stalk: small stalks, two minutes; medium stalks, three minutes; large stalks, four minutes. Then cool the asparagus promptly in cold water and drain thoroughly.

Pack into moisture-proof containers, leaving no head space. When packing spears, alternate stalks and stem ends. Or in containers that are wider at the top than bottom, pack asparagus with tips down. Seal air-tight and freeze immediately.

LOOKING AHEAD

By Dr. George S. Benson
DIRECTOR - NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Sevier, Arkansas

A Ridiculous Situation

Every danger confronting America today, both from within and from without, can be relieved to a considerable extent by getting our government on a sound, solvent basis. Good sound government, living within its budget and performing efficient service at low cost to the taxpayer, gives the greatest strength possible to the nation as a whole and to the government itself as an instrument of the people. Government that is not sound, operating on borrowed money and stifling the normal health growth-impulses of the whole economic system, weakens the nation and is itself not reliable as a bulwark of defensive strength.

This is an obvious conclusion. Therefore there is a great deal at stake for every citizen, young and old, in the efforts being made to cut government expenses, balance the budget, establish a sensible tax program, and otherwise bring soundness to the governmental operation. I do not know of a better illustration of the unsound financial situation in which we are involved today than the table of top salaries in America published by a weekly news magazine.

Phony Figures

A vice president in charge of production for a big manufacturing company is listed as receiving $590,000 for last year's work, of which he got to keep only a fraction, after taxes. We need not discuss this man's real worth to the company; undoubtedly it is great. But we do need to examine the fantastic aspects of this salary—fantastic because of the tax rate upon income, and the inflation caused by the government operating on an unbalanced budget for 17 of the last 20 years.

Just a generation ago a sizeable manufacturing company could have been established with $590,000. Had its vice president been a man of unusual capabilities in American industry, capable of expanding production, increasing profits and creating more jobs, he might have received $85,000 a year and earned it. He would have paid a few thousand in taxes. The purchasing power of the remaining dollars would have been double that of today's inflated dollars. In comparison let's see what happens to today's $590,000 vice president.

Fantastic Taxes
If a vice president has only himself and his wife, and his net income is $575,030, the Federal government takes in taxes $156,820 of the first $200,000. On the remaining $375,000, the government then levies a 91 per cent tax. That amounts to $341,250. Thus from this one man—working for a salary—the government takes $498,070. This represents about 85 cents in Federal income taxes out of every dollar of his income. Indirect taxes hit what's left; and so do the state and local taxes, including state income tax, sales tax, etc.

There is something drastically wrong with a tax program which taxes 85 per cent of anybody's salary in income taxes. There is something fundamentally wrong with the tax system when a company must pay out the fantastic sum of $390,000 to give its top production executive a take-home salary in keeping with his worth. The company actually is paying the executive about $7,000 a month, and the Federal government $41,500 a month for the privilege of employing him. The situation is ridiculous. It is dangerous. And it should be corrected. But how?

Reforms Needed
To restore sanity to the financial base of our government, and to safeguard the financial stability of our whole national economy, a broad program of governmental reform is needed. Many services and functions that in recent years have been concentrated in the Federal government could be ended entirely or performed at less cost by the states. Some tax sources now claimed by the Federal government should be transferred to the states. And at the state level a decentralizing movement toward local governmental units would further strengthen our nation.

Along with this organic reform must also come a reform in the philosophy of taxation as now practiced. We are operating on an income tax philosophy conceived and advocated by the Socialist Party. This is a matter of historical fact. A reasonable limit on the percentage of tax which the Federal government can levy on income should be established, and a start made toward abolishing the inequity of a 91 per cent tax on John Smith, a 22 per cent tax on Jim Jones, and no tax at all on Joe Doakes.

Saves . . . and saves . . . and saves
It's probably happened to you a lot of times. You've gone into town, or to visit a friend—perhaps at a considerable distance—and returned all the way home before you remembered something you wanted to buy, or a message you wanted to deliver. That's when you're really thankful for a telephone, a real time, step and money saver. In fact, if you stopped to add up all it saves you, you'd probably say, like so many others, "My telephone is worth more to me than it costs."

Pitching in on a picnic
One of the nicest things about living in a small town or in the country is that picnics are so easy to have. You simply call up your friends—Sally brings the potato salad, Edna bakes a cake, Johnny takes care of the stove equipment, and you're off for a grand time. When you think of it, though, it's sharing the work that makes it so much fun. Just like on the party line. When everyone shares and shares alike, service is so much better, more useful for all.

SPORTS FLASHES
from
The Sporting News
by J. G. Taylor Spink

The man who probably knows as much about baseball as any man alive doesn't hold a baseball job. Few men have had as many top-flight assignments as he, as many opportunities, and yet have less to show for brilliance of performances over many years.

That story—"The Strange Story of Rogers Hornsby"—is the introduction to the new 1954 Baseball Register, prepared under the direction of J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of The Sporting News. The story carries the Spink by-line, which assures a thorough understanding and fascinating account of the life of one of the greatest figures of all time.

The new Register, a compact book of 350 pages, carries other stories, anecdotes, features, and records. In it are found the histories and playing records of all active major league players, managers, coaches and umpires.

There's a laugh-provoking story by Shirley Povich, the veteran Washington sports writer, about the incredible clowns of baseball, Nick Altrock and Al Schacht. No one could do that account better than Povich. He covered the Senators' games during the years the famed funsters were with the club.

There are tidbits of information with a Ripley flavor. For instance, do you know that both Philadelphia clubs lost 100 games or more in a season three times? Or that Joe Sewell, shortstop for the Cleveland Indians, stuck out only four times in 155 games in 1925?

Many major leaguers, most of them in fact, have nicknames. Yet how many fans know how they came by them? With the records of the players in the new Baseball Register are pictures of them, their names in their own handwriting, their nicknames, and an explanation of where the nicknames came from. It's not hard to figure out how Al Schoendienst or Ralph Kress got their nicknames 'Red' Red-headed, of course. But there's seemingly no explanation for others. Frank Shea is called Spec. He got that because his father before him was called Spec because of his many freckles. Phil Rizzuto's nickname, The Scooter, goes back to his amateur baseball days when someone chanced to remark that he 'scouted' in going after grounders.

If Jimmy Dykes can't get base hits out of his Orioles, says The Sporting News, it isn't because he isn't trying. In the first 32 games, Dykes tried 20 different batting orders, hoping to find one that would give results. At least four men were tried in each of the first eight batting positions.

One of the surprising developments on the New York Giants this year, says The Sporting News, is the emergency of Whitey Lockman as a power hitter. Whitey last year hit only nine homers. But the one he hit off Joe Page of the Pirates May 25

Survey Discloses Large Number Of Bass Anglers

A count made from an airplane revealed that over 1200 nimrods crowded the Potomac River on the opening day of bass season. This count was made during the morning by Edwin M. Barry, chief of Inland Fish Management, from a small plane flown by a Fish and Wildlife Service pilot and does not take into account the afternoon fishermen. "Experience has shown," said Barry, "that on the average opening day about half the day's fishermen will be fishing about 10 a. m., therefore we may reasonably estimate the total fishing pressure as 2400 fishermen for the day."

The count of fishermen was made as part of the large survey which is being made of the Potomac River's fishing and fishermen. In addition to these counts, creels are being inventoried, bass growth is being studied, the temperature of the water is being recorded continuously, and areas of bass spawning are being mapped out.

The most heavily fished portion of the Potomac is the stretch between Seneca and Weverton, over 800 anglers being counted there about 10 a. m. This figures out to be 20 anglers per mile of stream, by no means a record concentration, but enough to indicate the popularity of the Potomac among fishermen. Upstream, however, the fishermen thinned out, between Hancock and Cumberland due to pollution.

The Potomac River fishing survey, reported to be one of the largest projects of its kind, got under way on the opening day, with 10 creel census teams patrolling the river and inventorying the catch.

"Ike" Awarded Honorary Degree

President Dwight D. Eisenhower was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree by Washington College at the 172nd Graduation exercises on Monday.

He was the fourth President of the United States to receive an honorary degree from the venerable College on Maryland's Eastern Shore. Previous presidential recipients were George Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Harry S. Truman.

His Excellency, Theodore R. McKeldin, Governor of Maryland, welcomed the President.

By BILL PAULSON

"I want a Guaranteed Annual Catch—and no monkey business!"

was already No. 8 this year. It was a grand slammer, too, the first one Lockman has had in the majors and the first for the Giants this year.

Third baseman George Kell says he's beginning to feel that baseball is no career for a family man. He was dazed and depressed, says The Sporting News, when he got word from Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau that he was to join the Chicago White Sox. "The toughest part of the whole thing," Kell told the writers, "is to have to call my wife and tell her. She loved it in Boston. Baseball is no game for a family man."

Keeping baseball games on radio and television is an expensive proposition. In testimony before a Senate Subcommittee, August A. Busch Jr., president of Anheuser-Busch Corp. and of the St. Louis Cardinals, said he was paying $300,000 this year for broadcasting and telecasting right to Cardinal games. He also said it costs his company $25,000 a year for sign privileges in Busch Stadium.

Big Weekend Of Racing Carded At Laurel Track

Laurel Raceway will unveil the first big weekend of racing in its 1954 meet with tonight's card.

A quartet of top candidates for the $120,000 Hambletonian, the "Kentucky Derby" of harness racing, heads the 10-horse field for tonight's stellar feature, second $2,250 division of the Sykesville three-year-old trot.

Originally two $3,000 trots, the Sykesville and the Howard County, were slated for tonight. But both drew so many starters that they have been split into two divisions. The Howard County will be the fourth and sixth races, while the first division of the Sykesville will be the second race. The second and best division of the Sykesville has been made the featured seventh race.

Pronto Boy, sensational three-year-old brother of the great Pronto Don and one of the favored candidates for this year's Hambletonian, will make his season's debut in the headliner. He has a record of 2:04 2-5 which is outstanding for his age and gait. Last year he set the world's records of 2:05 and 2:04 3-5 for a two-heat race by a juvenile trotting gelding.

Pronto Boy has the fifth post position in the field of 10 and will go off at about 5-2.

He'll clash with three top trotters he is expected to meet later this year in the Hambletonian—Lullisab, Cronus and Long Song. Owned by Walter Candler of Decatur, Ga., and driven by Jimmy Arthur, Lullisab won two races at Rosecroft Raceway recently in 2:08 2-5 and 2:01 1-5. His earnings total some $7,000. Cronus, owned by the famous Arden Homestead Stable and driven by Harry Pownall, also is making his debut this year. Long Song won recently in 2:14 at Rosecroft with Lou Herrin driving.

Also in the lineup are Romola Girl, with Bill Fleming up; Goblin, a recent winner driven by Johnny Amato; Wendell Wathen's Franny Hanover; Chester Scott, Barbara Diane and Shakeup.

The sixth race, secondary feature, brings out such trotting speedsters as Bee Handy, So Worthy, Thornton Hanover and Helen Van. Laurel Raceway is located on U. S. Route 1, midway between Washington and Baltimore. Nightly post-time is 8:30 p. m. with the daily double window closing at 8:20 p. m.
