It's a small world someone once said, and I believe it. Seems as though regardless of where you might go, even to the four corners of the earth, you are bound to bump into someone familiar to you, even though you are from a small town. Well I was pleasantly surprised the other a. m., while sitting drowsily by my video set watching the Steve Allen show (not that it is any good, but they jam the air with the thing so that it is impossible almost to get anything else after midnight), when suddenly I was awakened from my semi-slumber by something I thought sounded familiar. As soon as I was fully conscious, I was pleasantly surprised to see none other than a good neighbor, comely Ann Marie Sterbinsky, on my set's screen. The show originates in New York and Ann must have been vacationing there over the weekend and decided to take in the affair. After hearing Ann answer and ask a few questions I quietly returned to my slumber. Anyway, I always get a big kick out of seeing someone I know on television or radio or even seeing their picture in the paper.

Brunswick has found the answer to cope with its juvenile delinquents. Seems as though that town had a problem similar to our own here, and it got so bad that the Town Fathers, after lengthy deliberation, up and passed an ordinance effecting a curfew and providing a fine up to $25 for anyone loitering on the streets after midnight. The ordinance includes both adults and juveniles who, after official police warning, continue to loiter. This could be maybe just the thing we need here for a while until some parents learn that the responsibility of their children is their own and not that of their neighbors.

The vandal that threw the rock through that nice attractive sign at the entrance to Mt. St. Mary's College should be horse-whipped. Such actions cause people who want to improve their property and their community, to lose heart and the results are that nothing new, in the line of improvements, are made to the community. The glass sign, just placed there a year or so ago, was shattered on one side, presumably by a rock. I do hope they catch the responsible vandal.

Have you been over the new road to Thurmont yet? Well traffic can just about travel the entire length now. There remains only a short portion on Payne's Hill still closed to vehicles. The running time, from here to Thurmont, I am told, has been cut about a minute by the new three-mile section. Really, when you pass over it in some places, it seems as though you are in a different part of the country. Just what do you suppose it will be like when they have completed all four lanes, Man oh man, Thurmont will be just a stone's throw from us then.

Happy anniversary to the Lions Club! Serving the community for the past 25 years this club has much to its credit to publicize. Interest has been revived in the organization and some of the younger members of the community are becoming members. The Lions and Lionesses and their friends will observe their silver anniversary Monday night at a big banquet and dance to be held in the VFW annex. Many out-of-town Lions have expressed their intentions of attending the gala occasion. The club was instrumental in bringing the first shoe factory to town and also originated the annual Christmas party for the kiddies. It also sponsors the local chapter of Boy Scouts, buys eyeglasses for the indigent children of the community and annually holds the big Horse Show, the largest drawing affair in town. It also contributes to practically every bona fide case beneficial to the town and nation. Many of the younger businessmen have come to realize the importance of this grand organization to the community.

Matthews Gas Co. Opens New Store Today

Thurmont's newest business establishment will open its doors to the general public and begin its first fiscal year today. The store is owned by an Emmitsburg businessman, Francis S. K. Matthews, who operates the Matthews Gas Co. locally, and who apparently is the dean of Emmitsburg businessmen in as much as he has operated intermittently here for the past 44 years.

The Thurmont Store will operate as a branch of the Matthews Gas Co., Emmitsburg, and will be managed at the present by Mr. Matthews and his son-in-law, Earl Rice, Jr. The Thurmont store is ultra-modern in design and has the most up-to-date fixtures and equipment, including fluorescent lighting and radiant heating with gas. Occupying a ground space of 28x50, the building is located on Center St. and is situated right beside the town parking lot, for the customers' convenience.

Nationally-advertised brands of merchandise, all new, will be handled by the firm. Sylvania and RCA television sets, the Hot-point lines, Tappan, Happy Cooking Gas, ranges, water heaters, driers, etc., will be handled by the concern.

The management has prepared a gala grand opening for this Friday and Saturday, Nov. 19-20, and every person entering the store will be treated to souvenirs and refreshments. A grand door prize, a Happy Cooking gas range, will be given away Saturday night. All merchandise is brand new for the opening and all articles and appliances have been reduced for the opening.

Suppliers of the equipment and material used in the construction of the modern new store include Armacost and Co., Finksburg; Cloyd W. Seiss Lumber Yard, Emmitsburg; Frederick Trading Co., Frederick; Thurmont Co-operative, Inc., Thurmont; General Electric Supply Co., Hagerstown; Smith and Reifsnider Lumber Co., Westminster, J. Ralph McDonnell and Zurgable Bros., both of Emmitsburg.

On Saturday, Nov. 20, a jazz concert will be held in Purcell Lounge from 7:30 until 9 p. m., featuring the Dixielanders. Dancing will follow the concert. On Sunday morning, a communion breakfast will be held in Bradley Hall following a solemn high mass at 9 o'clock. Utility Company Is Presented Safety Award

Employees of the Potomac Edison Co. and the Potomac Edison System drove 2.8 million miles last year in company-owned trucks and commercial vehicles with only 26 minor accidents, the National Safety Council announced this week.

This safety record placed the utility company in fifth place in nation-wide competition against companies of similar size.

Drivers of the 306 P-E System vehicles covered a distance equal to over 900 trips from New York to San Francisco and a spokesman for the Safety Council stated that this "sets an example to other drivers — both individual and industrial — that, if followed, would materially reduce our annual highway fatality figures."

SPONSORING FAIR

The Rocky Ridge 4-H Girls are planning a fair to be held in the Rocky Ridge fire hall on Saturday, Nov. 27, starting at 7:30 p. m. Penny bingo and other amusements will be on hand and refreshments will be on sale. The public is cordially invited.

HOW TO KILL YOUR FIRE CO. OR CLUB

- 1—Don't come to any meetings,
- 2—If you do come, be sure to come late,
- 3—Hold back your dues, or don't pay them,
- 4—Never ask a good friend to join,
- 5—Don't have anything to say if called on, just gripe after the meeting,
- 6—Don't be friendly, just have a swelled head,
- 7—When one does a good deed or a good turn for the fire company, club or town, just criticize him,
- 8—If too wet, too dry, too hot or too cold, don't think of coming to a meeting,
- 9—If you do come to a meeting, find fault with the proceedings and the work done by others,
- 10—Kick if you are not appointed to a committee, and if you are appointed never attend,
- 11—Don't do anything to help your fire company or club, then when a few others take off their coats and do a good deed or something for the town, be sure and howl that a clique is running the organization,
- 12—Do not correct the young or give them a smile,
- 13—When there is a special meeting once a year, come and put on a show that you are the whole town.

Tree Planting Goal Of 50,000 Is Reached

The fall tree planting quota for 50,000 trees to be planted in Frederick County has been accomplished, and exceeded, the forestry conservation board announced this week.

Orders for tree seedlings have totaled slightly in excess of the 50,000 tree goal set in September says Lawrence H. Crickenberger, chairman of the Frederick County Forestry Board. The figure represents the biggest fall planting effort in this county to date and Mr. Crickenberger says the public acceptance of tree planting is reflected in the increased demand for seedlings.

The machine planting of trees has reached its final week with two adjoining operations now under way at Braddock. Persons wishing to obtain trees for reforestation next spring are urged to place their orders during the coming winter. Requests for the seedlings will be honored in the order received, it was pointed out and those who apply early, naturally will have a large variety of species from which to choose. Interested parties may phone Monument 3-5441 to order trees.

Let's go to school, parents!

Cow Is Heavy Milk Yields

Averaging 22 quarts daily, Clovertop Damon Nora, a registered Holstein owned by Russell Wachter, Rocky Ridge, recently completed an official Herd Improvement Registry production record totaling 16,445 pounds of milk and 663 pounds butterfat in 341 days.

Testing was supervised by University of Maryland, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

Milked two times daily, Clovertop Damon Nora, was 5 years and 5 months of age when her test began. Her total was about three times the production of the average U. S. cow.

Radcliffe Again Heads March Of Dimes

Former U. S. Senator George L. Radcliffe has been re-appointed as state chairman of the 1955 March of Dimes. The announcement was made by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mr. Radcliffe, who has served as state chairman since 1938, said he was gratified by the re-appointment, because "it has been my good fortune to work with the Foundation from its beginning, and now with sound reason for optimism, I look forward with hope to the day when polio will be a thing of the past."

Press Interviews New Mount Basketball Coach

Press, radio and television representatives were guests of the athletic council of Mt. St. Mary's College last Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Reporters and announcers were present from Baltimore, Frederick, Hanover, Gettysburg, Hagerstown, Waynesboro and Emmitsburg and were given a pre-view glance at the Mt. St. Mary's College basketball team, last year's champions of the Mason-Dixon Conference. The defending champions were put through a 20-minute scrimmage on the court and gave all indications before the publicists that they will be hard to dethrone this coming season.

The Blue and White opens its court season Dec. 4 when they engage St. Francis of Brooklyn on the home floor in Memorial Gymnasium.

JAMES PHELAN

Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., public relations staffer of the college, introduced the Mount's new coach, Jim Phelan, to the members of the press conference. Practically intact from last season, the champions are backed up by an excellent crop of freshmen which should make a formidable aggregation for some years to come. Several of the youngsters will see a lot of action this coming season.

The Mountie squad has carded 23 contests for the 1954-55 season, 13 being scheduled on the home court, and 10 on foreign courts. Eighteen of the contests will be Conference affairs while five others will be non-Conference games.

Following the scrimmage period which saw Phelan's outfit in action with Aberdeen Proving Grounds' soldiers as opponents, the group was invited to dine with members of the college faculty. It was unanimously agreed by the members of the group that undoubtedly it will be a banner year in basketball for the Mt. St. Mary's College basketball and Coach Jim Phelan, who inherited the reins from Bill Clark, now in New York.

Rev. John J. Hart, assistant at St. Andrews, Baltimore, has been appointed to the Thurmont Church.

CORPORAL PROMOTED

In 1931 the Navy had only 80 destroyers—30 in the Atlantic and 50 in the Pacific. Today there are 15 destroyers in the Pacific alone.

Robberies Are Solved By State Police

State Troopers 1/c Donald A. Tucker and H. J. Brown were instrumental in solving a series of robberies that has been plaguing nearby communities and Emmitsburg for the past two weeks. Assisted by Police Chief Daniel J. Kaas of Emmitsburg, the officers last Saturday night arrested and jailed a husband and wife and two juvenile boys charged with a series of burglaries during the past 10 days along the Central Maryland-Southern Pennsylvania state line.

The state troopers recovered between $2000 and $2500 worth of stolen articles and about $130 in change.

Much of the loot was recovered at the home of Richard David Bupp Sr., 41, at Pen Mar. The 41-year-old unemployed former Waynesboro, Pa., shop worker just returned home Wednesday from six months' hospitalization, was charged by Troopers Brown and Tucker with receiving stolen goods.

Brown said Bupp did not participate in the robberies and claims he did not know the articles including a 27-inch screen TV set and aerial found in his home by troopers, was stolen.

Bupp's 33-year-old wife is charged along with the 14 and 16-year-old juveniles, with actually participating in the breaking, entering and larcenies, using her car in Pennsylvania forays and the 16-year-old's automobile in Thurmont, Emmitsburg, and Frederick burglaries. All four were placed in the Frederick County jail, with formal charges placed and bail not yet set.

Most of the merchandise reported stolen from eight or more places on both sides of the Mason-Dixon Line, was recovered, troopers retrieving some things that the merchants had not even known were stolen, in the breaking and entering between Nov. 5 and 12, Trooper Brown said.

The roundup of the transgressors started from the slight clue of a round paper disc such as might be used for holding car keys. The paper was found by Trooper Tucker at the scene of the forced entry to the Emmitsburg Recreation Center Friday.

On the disc simply was written: "1937 Ford Tudor black." Just before noon Saturday Trooper Tucker relayed his clue to Trooper Brown at Thurmont who was on routine patrol and who in less than an hour later sighted the black car fitting the description of the tag, driving north of Thurmont on Route 81.

Officer Brown checked the driver's license of the 16-year-old youth operating the auto registered to him and later found a lot of merchandise, presumably stolen, in the car. These items were reported stolen from Weigle and Testerman's store, Thurmont; Robert K. Rensburg's International farm equipment store, Thurmont and the Emmitsburg Recreation and Zurgable Brothers, in Emmitsburg.

The other occupant of the car, a 14-year-old boy, had on a pair of stolen shoes, was carrying a pocket watch and a pencil-cigarette lighter, listed as stolen. The older juvenile had a watch and lighter on his person and in the car trunk were four stolen bicycle tires, a 600x16 auto tire taken from Zurgable's store; a case of oil and a case of coke stolen from Rensburg's.

Detaining the juveniles, Brown was joined by Tucker and the youths were driven to the Bupp residence, where more loot, including the TV set, was found.

The recovery completely cleared the list of articles taken from Maryland stores and the TV set and aerial were stolen from the Electronics Shop in Frederick, last week. The youths readily admitted to all the named robberies and also to having burglarized the McClain store in Blue Ridge Summit and unidentified stores in Greencastle and Maughansville, near Waynesboro.

All the burglaries took place in the night, the trio of thieves driving up to the rear of the establishments entered and using a screwdriver to jumpy open a window or door. Police said the three admitted their guilt in signed statements.

The owners of the stolen property were taken to State Police Barracks in Frederick Monday, where they identified their property and which since, has been returned.

HERE'S HOW ...

MAKE A GUN RACK

For the sportsman's den a gun rack can be an attractive and handy piece of furniture. The rack is made of 3/4-inch lumber, selected to match other wood furnishings. All joints are made with finishing nails and glue, using 3-penny nails where two 3/4-inch faces are joined, and 4-penny nails for the other joints. Nail heads should be set for filling.

The rack shown in the drawing will accommodate five guns. Add 4 inches to the length of the cross members for each additional gun space required. Round all sharp edges and sand the completed rack before applying a fine varnished finish.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has announced that corn acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1955 crop and has also designated counties in commercial corn-producing areas in which allotments will be effective. The 1955 national and county corn acreage allotments will be announced later.

Fourteen Maryland counties are included in the commercial area, according to George J. Martin, chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

They are Caroline, Carroll, Cecil, Dorchester, Frederick, Harford, Kent, Montgomery, Queen Annes, Somerset, Talbot, Washington, Wicomico, and Worcester. These are the same counties that were included in the commercial corn-producing area for the 1954 crop.

Chairman Martin points out that legislation provides for proclaiming acreage allotments for the commercial corn-producing area each year not later than Feb. 1, unless allotments are dispensed with under the emergency powers of law.

Even considering drought conditions in many areas the apparent corn supply for the coming marketing year is such that acreage allotments are needed in the commercial areas to help maintain a balance between corn production and utilization.

In determining the commercial corn-producing area, counties are selected on the basis of (a) those having an average production of corn (excluding corn used as silage) during the preceding 10 calendar years, after adjustments for abnormal conditions, of 450 bushels or more per acre and four bushels or more per acre of farmland in the county, and (b) those bordering on the commercial corn-producing area in which there is a minor civil division which is likely to produce the above amounts of corn for the year.

When corn acreage allotments are in effect, compliance with farm allotments is a condition of eligibility in the commercial corn-producing area for price supports. The law exempts the non-commercial corn area from allotments but provides that when corn acreage allotments are in effect, county loan and purchase agreement rates in the non-commercial area are to be 3/4 of the rates in the commercial area.

Christmas Seal Sale To Get Under Way Soon

Long months of preparation by thousands of volunteers throughout the state will be climaxed on Monday, Nov. 22, when the 1954 Christmas Seal Sale of the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn. and its affiliated county associations is launched.

On that date, residents of Maryland will begin receiving their brightly colored sheets of Christmas Seals, which this year depict the happy scene of small children holding hands around a lighted Christmas tree.

According to Dr. Russell A. Nelson, president of the Maryland Tuberculosis Assn., more than half a million Christmas Seal letters, each containing sheets of Christmas Seals, will be mailed to residents of the state urging their purchase of Christmas Seals to support the year-round tuberculosis control activities of the tuberculosis associations of the state.

These activities are divided into four major program phases which include: tuberculosis detection, education, special services to patients in the state tuberculosis hospitals, and medical research.

Emphasizing the need for maintaining an effective tuberculosis control program in Maryland, Dr. Nelson stated that while deaths from TB had declined sharply in recent years, new cases had remained fairly constant, thus indicating that the prevention of the spread of the disease had not kept pace with the prevention of death.

In Maryland, TB takes the life of one person each day—and each day, six new cases are reported to health authorities.

SPORTS AFIELD
By Ted Kesting

After making a 14,000-mile tour of waterfowl areas from coast to coast and border to border, and practically living and breathing ducks and geese for weeks—as Cleveland van Dresser did during his survey for Sports Afield magazine—it is virtually impossible not to form conclusions about the present and future of America's migratory waterfowl.

The over-all picture has good and bad aspects—with situations ranging from encouraging in Florida to downright alarming in California. In many places, something has been done to foster waterfowl. But a great deal more must—and can—be done to assure their future abundance.

The ills of our nation's migratory waterfowl can be blanketed under one all-inclusive cause—loss of habitat. This situation isn't helped by our system of Federal price support and farm subsidy.

After studying the nationwide waterfowl picture, van Dresser believes the following aims should be adopted by sportsmen:

- (1) A sensible balance must be struck between agriculture and wildlife interests. As things stand now, waterfowl almost always gets the short end when the two clash.
- (2) The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service should acquire more management areas, with the understanding that a portion of them be set aside for public hunting.
- (3) Divorce state game commissions from politics.
- (4) Seek and obtain co-operation of industry as well as all state and Federal land administration agencies. The day of "multiple land use" is dawning, and it is high time everyone concerned with administration of natural resources realized it.

We strongly urge all sportsmen to keep abreast of all proposed legislation in Washington that affects conservation. If something is brewing in the way of a dam, drainage or irrigation project that affects your area, let Congress hear from you.

Today the aims of conservation are better understood by more people than ever before. But this does not mean you can relax and take it for granted that your wants will be automatically considered. You must speak up in loud, firm voice.

18th Pimlico Special Saturday

The 18th running of the Pimlico Special on Saturday, Nov. 20, will provide a fitting climax to the current Maryland Jockey Club meeting which closes on that day. Nine of the top three-year-olds of the country are expected to compete over the mile and three-sixteenths distance. And from the race could come a clear-cut champion in the division.

The lineup for the Special includes Fisherman, Helioscope, Hasty Road, King Maple, Chevation and Parlo, Hasseyampa and Jet Action.

Thus the race will bring together Hasty Road, victor in the Preakness; Fisherman, successful in the Washington, D. C. International, against half a dozen rivals including King Maple, horse of the year in Canada in 1953 and never out of the money in his last 22 starts. The race shapes up as the best Pimlico Special since the Seabiscuit-War Admiral match event in 1938.

HOLIDAY DIET

This is not a column about the frightful dangers of overeating. Of course, at Thanksgiving dinner everyone will eat more than he really needs, but no serious illness is likely to result. Go ahead and plan a menu with all your favorite dishes. It's a once-a-year feast. It's a time to enjoy.

How long has it been since you've had any fun? How long since you laughed right out loud? If it hasn't been very recent, if you've been too busy, or life has been too serious, you had better do something about it right away. The doctors tell us we need to have some fun in our diet of living in order to be healthy. Their advice to many housewives who come to them tired, nervous, irritable, and heading for a nervous breakdown is to practice playing.

Let's start with Thanksgiving Day. It won't be easy for some people to stick to a diet of pleasure. However, by starting slowly on Nov. 25, you may be really able to enjoy yourself by New Year's Day.

There's no single formula for

"American Thanksgiving"

THE TRADITIONAL DAY OF THANKS for the good things bestowed on its people by gracious Providence is as old as the story of our Pilgrim fathers in America. The Mayflower settlers were the first to set aside a day for "the giving of Thanks to God" and their guests at the first Thanksgiving included nearly one hundred Indians who had helped them through the first, terrible winter

The story of Thanksgiving, from the time of our Pilgrim fathers through "turkey day," as it is often called, is the subject of "American Thanksgiving" on "Cavalcade of America," scheduled for many ABC-TV and selected spot stations between November 23 and November 26.

1. George Washington, as played by Richard Gaines was heard to refer to the day as "a local festival" when he was camped on the Boston Common during the American Revolution. 2. The spirit of our forefathers as played by the Pilgrims in the scene above was kept alive, however, and Abraham Lincoln was the first American President to officially declare a National Thanksgiving Day. 3. Stephen Wooten, above appears as a youth at the first Thanksgiving, and, in the lower picture, as the son of a modern, American family gathered about the festive board. (ANS) having a good time. Your pleasure may be someone else's boredom. Is a big gathering of relatives a nightmare to you. You don't have to have one every holiday. Perhaps it's just preparing a huge meal that you dislike. Try dividing the production up among your guests, and save for yourself some part you really enjoy. If you want to go to the football game with your family, stack the dishes just this once. If you really hate sitting in a windy stadium, stay home and enjoy yourself in your own way for a few hours.

Don't stop with Thanksgiving Day. Start each day by asking yourself how you can make it more fun. Add spice to your life by changing your daily routine. See more people. Go out to the movies, theatre, dances, concerts, and club meetings. Take some exercise in the form of a sport you enjoy. Discover your hobby. Choose something that comes easily to you, not something you feel you ought to enjoy. You will find that your body's machinery will run better on a balanced diet of work and play.

Old Wiring Represents Home Hazard

Outdated wiring can keep you from making the most effective use of electricity in saving labor on your farm.

"Too often loads have been added beyond the original capacity of the circuit," says University of Maryland Extension agricultural engineer A. V. Krewatch. "Flickering lights, slow action of heaters and overheated and burned-out motors are a far too common occurrence."

For farmers who think a rewiring job is too expensive, Mr. Krewatch advises: The cost of rewiring is often repaid in savings in the electric bill. The energy lost in resistance heating of undersize circuit wires shows up on the meter but serves no good purpose.

A thorough inspection, now of all the farmstead wiring—in the house, in the outbuildings and in connecting circuits — is recommended as a basis for improvement as well as safety.

In many cases, improvements can be made without involving major changes. Existing circuits can be divided to reduce the load on and a few additional circuits added to take care of such individual circuit loads such as the pump, freezer, milking machines or milk cooler.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 18—There are several reasons for the present epidemic of mergers. In some cases, taxes are the chief consideration; in other cases they are to reduce costs; and often the cause is to secure additional financing. Importance Of Advertising
But one very potent cause is to be able to afford more advertising, which—in this very competitive era—is the life of trade. To understand what I mean, let me remind readers that a full-page advertisement of television sets in this or any other newspaper would be the same price to the great Radio Corp. of America as to some new small company which might be manufacturing a better TV set. In the case of a 2-page color spread in Life Magazine the price would be approximately $50,000 for one week! This is a drop in the bucket to RCA, but it is a cost which small companies cannot meet.

This is a problem not only to the small company, but also to a medium-sized company with several products to advertise. With one product this is far more practical, more efficient, and much less expensive. Let me illustrate by referring to two good but competitive candy products.

Life Savers vs. Necco
The Life Savers Corp. has practically one product, with which every reader is acquainted and for which the company appropriates annually about $1 million for advertising. The New England Confectionery Co. (trade name Necco) has 20 different products. This means that if Necco should appropriate $1 million for advertising, this would need to be divided by 20 products. No one of the 20 products might get enough advertising to enable it to be profitable. In fact, by one law of advertising, each product would get only 1/30th of the result instead of 1/20th. This can be remedied only by a reduction in the number of items, or by a consolidation with other candy manufacturers.

Of course, Life Savers would not consider such a consolidation. A merger would have to be with a candy company having similar competitive difficulties but duplicate manufacturing facilities. Then, two competitive products could be marketed under a joint name — without any loss of good will. The machines which were the most efficient would be used for manufacturing the products—working on two or three shifts of labor. Operating expenses would be greatly reduced, while each product would get double the present advertising allotment.

What About Stock Market Prices?
I am continually asked why the stocks of some companies — like General Electric, for instance — sell so much higher than stocks of some smaller electric companies which are not well known but may perhaps make a better product. I do not know all the answers to this question, but this I do know the price of the stock of almost all companies (Hershey is an exception) parallels closely the amount spent upon advertising.

Not only do large advertising appropriations create more business and more profits, but investors like to buy the stocks of companies which they see advertising each week. This not only applies to the prosperity of individual companies; but also to the prosperity of the nation as a whole. When national advertising falls off, business falls off and unemployment increases. I forecast that the day may come when the government will subsidize advertising during a business depression.

What About Merchandising?
Not only will we see many more mergers amongst manufacturing concerns, but the epidemic will spread to retail stores. Drive down the business street of any city and— with a critical eye—notice the vast number of small retailers. Eighty per cent are barely making a living. When depression comes, the mortality amongst retailers could be great.

Therefore, I urge retailers to consider mergers. This especially applies to shops which carry the same items and are near one another. Retailers who have no free parking space nearby will be the first to merge. Bankers reading this column could be very helpful in bringing these needed mergers about. One closing thought: Read your Bible — Proverbs, Chapter 16, Verse 18. This gives the cause of most business failures.

Scientists Interested In Those Persons Who Have Attained Longevity

The key to possibly fabulous longevity for the human race is being forged by Denver researchers who have launched a study of the 25 oldest people in the world, to determine why they have lived so long, and how others may do the same.

First arrival in the epic round-up of oldsters was the Rev. James E. Smith, 105-year-old Carbondale, Ill., Baptist minister. Second was 103-year-old Sylvester Melvin, Greenfield, Ill., rancher. Third was Mrs. Eliza Trower, 106, a former slave, from Cape Charles, Va. Others are scheduled to reach Denver, two at a time, as rapidly as their credentials can be checked and reservations made for air, train or steamship travel.

Prime requisite of the project is that subjects be certified as physically fit to make the trip to Denver, where the Longevity Research Study is being conducted by Spears Chiropractic Hospital's research staff. Dates of birth are to be fully authenticated.

Spears Hospital trustees have underwritten the program for $50,000, half of which will be distributed as prizes in many categories reflecting the condition and functioning of all body parts. Transportation and living expenses for each contestant and a traveling companion are also paid by Spears.

Though the names of more than 50 centenarians in the U. S., Canada and Puerto Rico are now being considered for the research project, no entry deadline has yet been established. Spears is anxious to contact every man and woman in the world over 100 years old. Overseas newspapers have taken up the quest, and several candidates of impressive age have been reported. Language barriers will be hurdled by interpreter companions.

A Hungarian Wants Shoes

Washington, D. C. — On an early evening stroll through the retail shopping district of Washington, I counted 47 shoe stores or shoe departments in department stores and apparel shops. That's about the average for an American city the size of Washington. On display were thousands of shoes of all sizes, priced from $2.69 to $34.50. In the shelves beyond the displays were tens of thousands of shoes. I hadn't come to Washington to look at shoes. My purpose was to interview a number of Cabinet members and departmental heads.

But I had also spent some time at the State Department and "on the hill" with staff members of some of the Congressional committees. My sudden interest in shoes developed after I had been given some authentic information, from a government agency, about the shoe situation in Communist Hungary. Shoes for Hungary's millions are made in government-operated cooperatives, as are most manufactured goods. Communist countries operate a Socialist economic system combining State ownership of industry, cooperative manufacturing and marketing, and collective farming. Under it, the average citizens live in relative poverty. But the facts are usually colored up in propaganda.

Choice Made

The utter inefficiency of politically-operated cooperatives is dramatized in a restrained but pointed dispatch which appeared recently in the Budapest newspaper, Magyar Nemzet. It tells of a Budapest resident's frustration in trying to purchase a pair of shoes last March: "He pointed to a shoe in the display window and said: 'This is the kind I want.' The following is the reply he was given: 'First of all, we can give you a serial number at the most and you will have to wait your turn.'

"The customer modestly took the serial number to wait his turn. With it he came back a month later, on April 27, 1954, and ordered a pair of shoes. They measured his feet, and after he made an advance payment, they told him: 'The shoes in first class quality will be ready by the end of May.' Yes, the shoes a month later were ready. Witnesses too say that the shoes were very nice. They simply sparkled. There was only one trouble with them. They were so small they would not go on his feet.

Frustrated Customer

"If you wish," said the salesman, "we shall give you back your deposit. Or, in a short time we will make you another pair." In a short time, hardly more than six days, they took his measurements again. They also said that in following the policy of paying greater attention to the needs of workers, they could make the shoes in slightly less than two weeks. Two weeks passed. So did three weeks. They then informed him that an unexpected turn of events prevented the shoes from being delivered.

"The shoes, sorry to say, got lost . . . But we'll willingly give you back your deposit." "I don't want the deposit, I want shoes!" the customer exclaimed. The salesman gave another promise, this time to have the shoes ready by July 3. Finally the shoes were ready (by mid-July) . . . But they were a little uncomfortable. There were wrinkles on the toe and the soles were not symmetrical with the sides of the shoes . . . This is the way T. B., a resident of Budapest, obtained a pair of shoes after 17 weeks of great pains. This is not right!"

Sorry Plight Exposed

Chances are that the editor who printed this story in a Budapest newspaper is a Communist functionary serving an indirect warning to the shoe cooperative to do better. Other issues of Hungarian newspapers report on the anticipated winter fuel shortage, and the anxiety it is causing, but attempt to offset the worry with reports of improving coal production.

No matter how carefully the Soviet officials seek to hide the facts from the outside world, little items in Iron Curtain newspapers from time to time reflect the sorry plight of a people whose government dictators have provided them with economic "security" in what amounts, in reality, to one vast Poor House. Color Phones In Eight Shades, Now Available

Want a fire engine red telephone to brighten up that kitchen of yours? Or how about a deep rich brown to harmonize with the dark paneling of your den?

What may sound like an interior decorator's dream is actually a reality—colored telephones in eight different shades can now be ordered from the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. And if you don't want a solid color, C&P, like the automobile manufacturers, can offer you two-tone telephones with the base in red, ivory, green or gray and the remainder of the instrument, including the cord, in black.

Roger P. Heck, manager for the C&P here, said the colored telephone is only one of the many types of equipment and services the company now offers its subscribers. He added that the colored sets are proving especially popular and demand for them has been brisk.

In addition to colored telephones, C&P provides sets with illuminated dials, extensions, mobile radio telephone service, automatic answering equipment to record messages to an unattended telephone, a special telephone with amplifying equipment for the hard of hearing and other "extras" for telephone convenience.

The illuminated telephone, one of the Bell System's more recent innovations, is equipped with a small electric lamp for lighting up the dial. When the handset is lifted the lamp illuminates the dial automatically.

Mr. Heck said the automatic answering and recording service offered by the company appeals to both business and residence subscribers. With this service customers have a mechanical secretary or receptionist. They can leave a recorded message for those who call them to let calling parties know where they are and when they will return. The equipment will also record any message that the calling party cares to leave.

The District of Columbia had a delegate in Congress for four years, 1871-1875.

House, the masters are cruel and demanding. Not only must the citizen - slaves live in poverty, they must ultimately forfeit, too, their minds and souls to a Godless force seeking to destroy the good in mankind.

Remember these facts about Socialism-Communism the next time you pass the show window of your neighborhood shoe store, and thank God for the ease with which you can get shoes of your choice.

HERE'S HOW... MAKE A CHRISTMAS CARD DISPLAY

An attractive Christmas card display is made of 1 by 2-inch lumber, using corrugated fasteners or glue and 7-penny finishing nails.

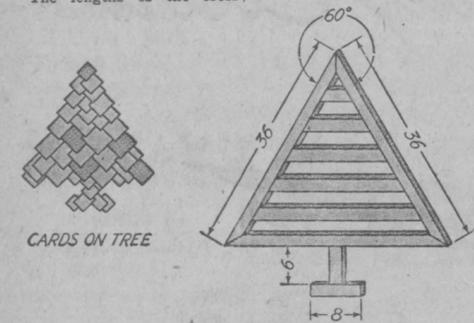

First make a triangle, 36 inches on each side, cutting the ends of each piece at a 30-degree angle.

The base or trunk of the "tree" is made of one 8-inch and one 6-inch piece of 1 by 2-inch lumber, fastened to the bottom of the triangle at its center.

The lengths of the cross pieces are determined by marking the two inner sides of the triangle into six equal spaces, using five marking points. The marking points indicate the center lines of the five cross pieces. Since all the angles of the cross pieces are the same, the pieces may be cut successively from one piece of lumber without waste.

For use as a wall hanging, the "tree" is equipped with two small screw-eyes and picture wire.

It's got a "V" in its bonnet— or your choice of two new sixes!

The motoramic Chevrolet for '55

Great new 8

Two new 6's 6

It's the valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

You'd expect Chevrolet to out-V8 the field—and it has! Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" puts a brand-new kind of excitement under your foot. The excitement of 162 horsepower! The excitement of an 8 to 1 ultra-high compression ratio that squeezes more pure fun out of a gallon of gas than you ever dreamed possible! The new "Turbo-Fire V8" is so efficient that it requires only four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more. And it has the shortest piston stroke in the low-price field, for longer engine life. But we can't even begin to give you the whole story here. Come in and drive the new "Turbo-Fire V8!"

With enough new advances to fill a book!

Chevrolet offers two new highstepping sixes for 1955! There's the new "Blue-Flame 136" (teamed with Powerglide as an extra-cost option) and the new "Blue-Flame 123." Both bring you new, higher-rated power—the zippy, thrifty high-compression kind. Both have new, more efficient cooling and lubrication systems . . . new engine mounts that result in almost unbelievable smoothness. And, like the new "Turbo-Fire V8," both are sparked by a new 12-volt electrical system for finer performance and faster cold-weather starting. They're the liveliest, smoothest sixes Chevrolet ever put into a passenger car!

The Bel Air 2-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series.

More than a new car . . . a new CONCEPT of low-cost motoring (and much too good to miss driving!)

SJHS News

Miss Maryon Wasilifsky, a sophomore student at St. Joseph College and who, last summer was a student at Laval University, Quebec, taught the first-year French class some of the French folk dances which she learned while attending Laval University. Maryon is a science major at St. Joseph College.

Rev. Louis B. Storms, C.M., gave a short talk to the student body Tuesday afternoon. Fr. Storms told many anecdotes of his experience and those endured by missionaries not only in Panama, where he was missioned for nine years but problems which occur in any mission land. "Although we hear much of the work of the missionaries," Father said, "we do not often hear about the work of God on the missions or the work of Satan." Fr. Storms told of the people, both civilized and uncivilized, who actually practice the evil work of the devil, but, he said, "the missionary is aided in helping these people by the special protection God extends to them."

The Chemistry students, in conjunction with their study of the atomic theory and atomic energy have prepared a debate for Friday, Nov. 19. The subject of the debate: "Resolved that Atomic Energy is a Benefit to Mankind" has been chosen to help the students not only as future voters and intelligent citizens but also as potential scientists to face and solve the complex and perilous problems which confronts atomic age citizens.

It was erroneously printed in last week's SJHS News that Maria Kramer was featured in a CSMC play which was presented Thursday, Nov. 18. Maria is the leading character in a play to be presented Tuesday, Nov. 23, at the Children of Mary meeting.

However, the CSMC play, "Aunt Sophronia's Will," featured John Roddy Jr. as the young boy who wished to become a missionary doctor in Africa. Refreshments were served and dancing was held in the auditorium following Benediction in St. Joseph's Church after the regional Blue Ridge CSMC meeting.

Egg Prices Low; No Support Seen

No egg support prices are expected at this time in spite of unusually low egg prices, according to Dr. Harold Smith of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Smith bases his statement on a release made recently by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. This release reported on a recent meeting between USDA officials and the Egg Industry Advisory Committee.

The committee is composed largely of producers and heads of cooperatives representing wide-producer interest throughout the country.

"Committee members gave serious thought to the situation which is currently so unfavorable to egg producers," Dr. Smith points out. They noted that egg prices have declined drastically below a year ago, and that very modest declines have occurred in the cost of feed and other items used in production.

In a statement issued after its meeting with USDA officials, the egg advisory committee reaffirmed a recommendation made in 1953 that the government should not conduct an egg price support or purchase program.

"This statement is in keeping with the poultry industry's policy of not asking for government assistance," Dr. Smith says. "The egg industry in this particular case, prefers to let the law of supply and demand function so that poultrymen themselves can make the necessary adjustments."
