Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

What we need most of all at this time is a community swimming pool! There's no question about the need for one as the recent hot and humid spell proved to us.

Each year we complain of the lack of a pool and each year not a finger is lifted to do anything about it, so let's get down to brass tacks and do something about it! It does not take long to build a pool and we don't need the most elaborate one in the nation, so let's devise a method whereby we can attain this much-needed recreational activity to our community.

The Editor has been beseeched by individuals to start the ball rolling and he has more or less delegated the duties to me—as usual. Well anyway, he has been informed that a second-hand filtration plant and pumping system is available at a nominal sum. The plant is in A-1 condition, I am told, and meets the requirements of health officials. There may just be some generous soul around who would donate a small parcel of land to the cause, and if there isn't, land is cheap here and could be bought right.

Now then, about financing? This, of course, represents the most perplexing problem of all. However, Emmitsburg has displayed she has a generous heart by the fact that she donated over $5,000 to the hospital fund, $3,000 annually to the Fire Co., and has contributed about $5,000 to a Memorial Hall building fund. Now then, why can't a system be devised to raise enough money for a swimming pool? Here's one angle that could be worked . . . public subscriptions. If every individual in town would contribute a buck a year, nearly $2,000 could be raised immediately. And a buck a year is a mighty cheap price for swimming for the whole family during the summer. Of course there are some generous citizens who would be glad to give more and this would lighten the burden and expedite construction of the pool. In a few short years the project could be paid for in full and what a benefit it would be to our community! Think of the pleasure it would afford our children and adults, too, during the four months of swimming weather.

There are other ways of financing such a project, in fact, many ways, one of which would be for all local groups to hold benefit affairs. The Corporation itself, could provide maintenance men and I'm certain we could get some local young men who could qualify as lifeguards to volunteer their services. Maintenance on such a project isn't high, a small fee for the use of the facilities would more than amply maintain the enterprise.

There's no reason whatsoever why Emmitsburg can't have a community swimming pool! All that is lacking is the spirit and I know several individuals, who with a little public support, would be glad to take charge of such a project. Now then, if we could get the moral backing of some local organization which would endorse the project, we'd be over the first hurdle easily. A project like this could be completed in time for next year folks. Talk it over at your meetings. That is what we want to do now, talk and discuss the project enough and sooner or later you will generate enough interest in it to get the ball rolling!

I knew it was hot last week but I think a local young fellow went a little too far when he ran his car into Kump's Dam, apparently to cool it off. It rested there overnight and was rescued the next day.

I don't know for sure whether we'll get our 35-mile-an-hour speed limit signs on the approaches to town, but if we don't something doesn't make sense to me. I was told by a friend that the State Roads Commission wasn't in favor of slowing down traffic anymore than was necessary and that it didn't seem too enthused about erecting signs here. Well, be that as it may, but how come the Commission decided to stop traffic dead at both ends of

Lions Club Annual Picnic July 25

Twenty-two members and one guest were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening at Bucher's Restaurant, President C. W. Seiss presiding. The guest was Charles R. Stouter.

Secretary Robert E. Daugherty gave the annual financial report and also a final report on the 1954 horse show.

Francis S. K. Matthews reported the sale of light bulbs for the benefit of the local Little League was going splendidly and announced that 300 bags had been processed for sale. Bags of bulbs were distributed among the members.

Paul W. Claypool, chairman of the boys' and girls' committee, reported that he was making arrangements with the Boy Scouts, which the club sponsors, to engage a circus to come here for a benefit performance. He reported that arrangements had been made with the Hagan Bros. Circus to appear here on Sept. 9 at the Civic Ground, east of town.

The annual picnic of the group will be in the nature of a stag party this year at Norman Shriver's cottage, near town. The following committee on arrangements has been appointed by the president: George L. Wilhite, chairman, Clarence E. Hahn, Arthur Elder, John J. Hollinger, and J. Ralph McDonnell. The affair will take place on July 25 and will be held in place of the regular meeting.

Drivers' Licenses Suspended

Automobile License Reviewer N. W. Gerhardt, Frederick, this week announced the suspension, for one month, of the driver's license of Walter L. Stonesifer, Route 2, Clarence W. Shriver, Thurmont, Route 2; Marlin E. Jones, Route 1, Thurmont, reprimanded; Raymond L. Hughes, Route 1, Thurmont, suspended for one month; Charles R. Angell, Thurmont, R. 2, one month; Augustus M. Bussard, Thurmont, probation for a year and Richard A. Fisher, Rocky Ridge, probation for one year.

LIGHT BULB SALE TO BENEFIT LITTLE LEAGUE

Many of you probably have been wondering about those manila bags with the Lions Club emblem on them which are displayed in most business places in town.

The Lions have managed to get a special deal with the Sylvania Co. through its local dealer, Matthews Gas Co., and the bulbs have been specially priced and are being sold for the benefit of the local Little League. The bag contains 10 bulbs for the price of $2.00—an offer hard to beat.

If you need bulbs pick up a sack and at the same time you are doing your share towards our Little League.

Goal Is Reached In Fire Company Financial Drive

The 1955 financial drive of the Vigilant Hose Co. has shown a total of $3005.00 Tuesday night as Ray McLaughlin, chairman of the drive, gave a report to the organization meeting in regular session in the Fire Hall, President Herbert W. Roger presiding. The goal was $3,000 and has been topped. The treasurer reported a bank balance of $4466.71.

Chief John S. Hollinger gave a summary of the fires the group attended during the month and listed the following number and type: one wheat field and one shed.

One new member, Kenneth Vaughn, was granted membership in the fire company.

The organization is planning an outing on Aug. 22 and the following committee has been named in charge of arrangements: Guy R. McLaughlin, Clay Z. Green, John S. Hollinger and Carroll Wills.

Twelve members of the local group will participate in the donkey baseball game being sponsored by the Rocky Ridge Fire Co. on July 29 at Rocky Ridge.

A committee was appointed to paint the recreation room floor and consists of Ronald Kelly, Arthur Damuth, and Franklin Westler.

BAILEY—OTT

The Papal Blessing was bestowed on Miss Gertrude Louise Ott and Howard F. Bailey at their marriage in Holy Cross Church, Onid, N. Y., on July 4, at 10 a. m.

The Rev. Henry C. Bleier of Naples, N. Y., performed the double-ring ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass, assisted by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph J. Sullivan of Holy Cross Church.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of embroidered nylon and tulle over taffeta, long sleeves, and an illusion neckline. A crown of seed pearls and rhinestones held her illusion fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ursula Frederico of Geneva, N. Y., was her only attendant and wore a floor-length gown of yellow lace and net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and orchid carnations. She wore a matching headpiece.

George Ott Jr., brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Peter Lisi and James Coca of Geneva, N. Y.

The bride's mother wore a rose nylon lace dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore an orchid nylon dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Hi-Hatters Take Lead In Summer Court League

The Hi-Hatters jumped off to a fast start in the Summer Watermelon Basketball League, by scoring 18 points in the first quarter of the initial game Tuesday, and went on to defeat the Sleepers 53-46.

Looking impressive at the end of the first half, the Hatters led by 11 points, however the Sleepers' defense tightened and they closed the gap considerably but were never quite able to overtake their opponents. Jim McKeon led the Hatters' attack with 16 points, while Bill Greco was high scorer with 16 points for the Sleepers.

Last evening the Hilltoppers engaged the Aces. Tuesday night will see the Hi-Hatters tangle with the Aces and again on Thursday the Sleepers will oppose the Hilltoppers.

The public is invited to attend the games which are played behind the Emmitsburg High School immediately following the Little League games.

Warner Hospital Is Accredited

The Board of Commissioners of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, the only hospital approving agency in the country, has approved the recommendation that the Annie M. Warner Hospital receive full accreditation, Walter B. Dillon, hospital administrator, announced this week.

The approval came as a result of the evaluation of the hospital made Apr. 26 by Dr. James W. Nelson, field representative of the Joint Commission.

"The objective of the Joint Commission is an achievement which all hospitals strive for," Mr. Dillon said.

CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the Chronicle appeared the account of the death of the infant, Ruthella Lynn Cool, daughter of Mrs. Geraldine Trent Cool. The article stated the child apparently had died of suffocation. Later information proves the child died of bronchial pneumonia. We regret the error.

Douse Field Fire

A field fire on the farm of George Shaffer, Tract Rd., was quickly extinguished Wednesday afternoon at about 1:05 o'clock. Quick action by the Vigilant Hose Co. saved a chicken house and possibly other property. The firemen were summoned at 1:05 and had the blaze out and back at the Fire Hall at 1:18. The blaze was about 10 feet from the chicken house when the firemen arrived on the scene.

Town Receives Tax Money

J. Millard Tawes, State Comptroller, announced this week that checks totaling $7.5 million are being mailed to the counties and incorporated cities and towns of Maryland from income tax revenue.

Mr. Tawes stated previously that during the year distributions of $3.8 million had been made, which makes a total of $11.3 million paid out during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1955, to subdivisions of Maryland as their share of the income tax paid by their residents.

Emmitsburg will receive $1,321.86, Thurmont, $2,647.57; Taneystown, $2,752.65, and Walkersville, $1,436.26.

Distribution this year is approximately $2 million more than that made during the prior fiscal year.

Under the Maryland law, 34 per cent of the tax paid by residents is distributed to the subdivisions wherein they reside.

Objection In Suit Is Filed

E. Mae Rhodes, Emmitsburg Rt. 2, filed a preliminary objection recently to the action in trespass which David L. Mordy, Kansas City, Mo., and Albert V. Hutin, N. Y., have brought against her and two men.

Her answer, filed with the prothonotary, states that the plaintiffs claim injuries as a result of an auto accident of Aug. 30, 1953, but does not say in what manner the defendant participated in the collision. The allegations of each charge of negligence are listed, but, according to the defendant, there is no mention of how they contributed to the accident. She asks that the court either dismiss the action or require the plaintiffs to file a more specific complaint.

Mordy and Hutin last month filed suit for $350,000 against E. Mae Rhodes, Richard E. Reichley, Sunbury, Pa., and William Cook Hutchinson Jr., claiming that each of the plaintiffs was seriously injured in it. They state that they were passengers in Hutchinson's car at the time.

County Zoning Board Is Appointed

The Frederick County Board of Commissioners this week announced the appointment of a five-man Planning and Zoning Commission for the county.

Two of the newly-appointed board members of a 14-member study committee, which on July 5, recommended to the Commissioners that such a body be established in the county.

The following make up the Zoning Board: Noah E. Kefauver, Jr., farmer and machinery dealer of Middletown; Daniel E. Wight of Urbana, farmer and businessman; Bruce E. Crum, well-known dairy farmer of Harmony Grove; J. William Brosius, Jr., of Frederick, building engineer and president of Brosius Homes Corp., and Edward F. Holter, Middletown, a member of the County Commissioners.

Stagger Terms of Office

Delbert S. Null, president of the County Commissioners, said the terms of the members of the Commission will be staggered—just how will be announced. He also said that the Planning Commission will be instructed to proceed cautiously and to present initially "a simple modest plan," which can be expanded as the situation demands.

For the present, the county attorney, Byron W. Thompson, will act as legal advisor to the newly-formed body.

Under the enabling act the Commission members are unpaid except for expenses. They are, however, entitled to secretarial assistance from the County. It also has been recommended to the Commissioners that necessary funds be expended to get competent technical advice for the Commission and that the Board make provisions for this in the 1956 budget.

Yanks Dump Cards In Little League Action

Despite a 9-7 loss at the hands of the Yanks Tuesday night, the Cardinals retain the lead in the local Little League.

The setback was the first this season suffered by the Cards. Hank Walters, Yank pitcher, put the game on ice in the late innings with a home run over the rightfield fence.

Congressman De Witt S. Hyde • 6th District, Maryland

WASHINGTON, July 13—The Congress is rushing toward an early August windup. The record will be impressive even though the majority leadership has postponed action on some legislation on which there is a partisan division. These measures will be brought before the Congress next session.

I am happy to report that legislation which is of direct interest to the Sixth Maryland District and the District of Columbia is progressing toward enactment. I am certain, for instance, that the House will pass a District of Columbia teachers pay raise measure which will be more satisfactory than the Senate-approved bill.

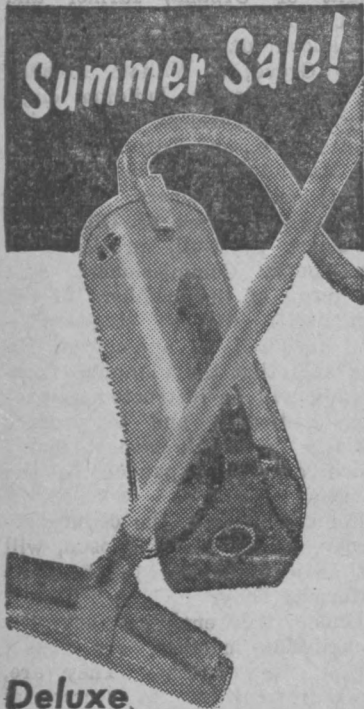

There is also a degree of progress on legislation which would aid Federal employees, both past and present, who are covered by insurance policies issued by employe benefit associations. Several bills to accomplish this are being considered.

The question of granting voting privileges to the residents of Camp Detrick is still being considered. I have written to the Dept. of Defense calling attention to certain court decisions which are favorable to such rights. I have also reminded the Defense Dept. that at the atomic installation at Los Alamos, New Mexico, civilians have been granted the right to vote.

The need for additional ground for the Antietam National Cemetery at Sharpsburg is pressing. At the present time, Baltimore is the nearest cemetery where gravesites are available. I have consequently introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Army to acquire the necessary additional land to enlarge the national cemetery at Sharpsburg.

NO COMMENT

By WALTER CHAMBLIN, JR.

WASHINGTON—If you are interested in getting your taxes reduced—and if you think the government in Washington should be operated as efficiently and economically as possible—then you should learn all you can about the recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

This Commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, has made an exhaustive study of the Federal government to determine how it should best be organized and operated.

What happens to the recommendations is largely up to Congress. But already political opposition is developing, principally from those who are devoted to the philosophy of unlimited Federal spending.

Here is how your pocketbook is affected:

The Hoover Commission says that adoption of its 362 economy proposals would save the government many billions of dollars—enough to balance the budget and reduce taxes.

It says these savings could be made without cutting the nation's military strength and the Public Works Program, and without impairing Health, Education and Welfare Programs.

Estimates vary as to the total savings. However, it is generally estimated that the amount could reach $8 billion a year.

Another $10 billion could be obtained by the government if it recovered funds tied up in various Federal agencies.

Despite what these savings would mean to the taxpayer, economy advocates are disturbed by the public apathy. Those clamoring for more spending are making the most noise.

The Hoover Commission has raised these important questions: How much Federal government should there be? Should the government engage in the nursery business? Should it manufacture crates and wooden boxes when private facilities are available to do so at less cost to the taxpayer? Should it continue to manufacture paint? These and many other questions should be answered—and many activities should be returned to private tax-paying enterprises as soon as possible.

Here are some examples of big government found by task forces of the Hoover group:

The Federal government employs over 2.3 million civilians and has an annual payroll of approximately $9 billion.

The government has 250,000 full-time employees, at a total cost of $4 billion a year, to create and handle some 25 billion pieces of paper annually (exclusive of the tons used in printing manuals, pamphlets, periodicals, etc.)

Twenty-six Federal departments and agencies engage in one or more health activities at an estimated cost of over $4 billion.

There are 104 agencies, instrumentalities or entities of the Federal government engaged in lending, guaranteeing or insuring activities. They employ about 40,000. The government has an investment of about $16.9 billion in these organizations and they are authorized to borrow $14.1 billion of additional funds from the Treasury.

Transportation of its employees and property cost the government $3 billion in 1953.

As of June 30, 1954, there were $66 billion in personal property in military warehouses.

The total number of government, commercial and industrial-type facilities within the Dept. of Defense alone exceeds 2500, with government capital invested in them exceeding $15 billion. These include the manufacture of clothing, paint, ice cream, furniture repair, cement mixing, coffee roasting and a host of other activities.

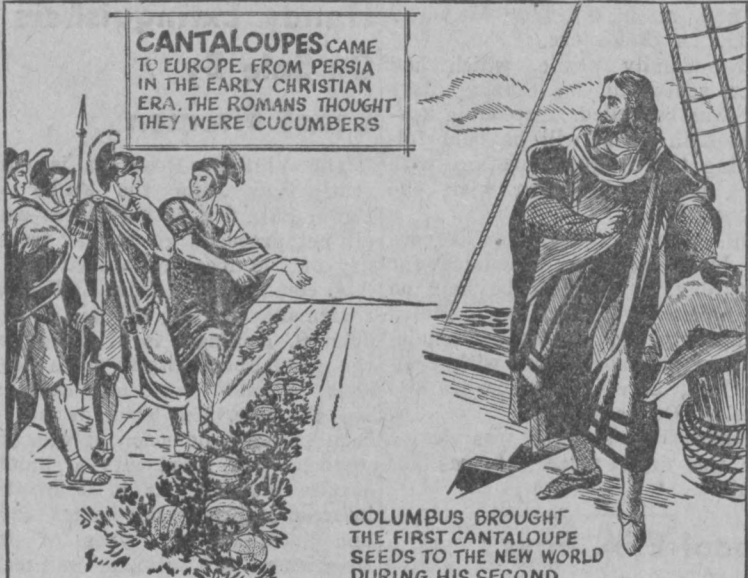

Government-owned storage space is equivalent in acreage to twice the size of Manhattan Island.

The Federal government owns 472 million acres (one-fourth the acreage of all 48 states) in the continental U. S. The cost of real property owned by the government was $40.8 billions as of Dec. 31, 1953.

These illustrations show that there is a wide area for economy.

And the more economy there is, the less taxes you will have to pay.

Applications are now being accepted for September classes at the Franklin Square Hospital School of Nursing, according to Miss Dorothy M. Major, director of nursing.

"Prospective students are urged to make immediate inquiry, as the hospital has a quota for School of Nursing classes," she said.

An illustrated folder, giving complete data on requirements, curriculum and residence is available to anyone writing, telephoning or calling at the Hospital.

Requests should be addressed to: Director of Nurses, Franklin Square Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore 23. The telephone is Gilmor 5-6370.

"The aims of the School of Nursing, established in 1900, are to give the student, over a three-year period, training in the basic principles, techniques and skills necessary for the efficient care of the sick; in the prevention of disease, and in the promotion of health.

"In addition, the School attempts to inspire student nurses, who show special aptitudes, to continue their studies toward higher medical goals," Miss Major said.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 14—Supposing the principle of some form of the so-called guaranteed annual wage, or an extended form of unemployment compensation, spreads to a large number of companies, will most workers really benefit? Illusions of Union Wages Many workers think that somehow or other life can be made secure by legislation or labor union agreement. Higher wages, shorter hours, and unemployment benefits may temporarily raise their standard of living. Most of their victories, however, so increase their cost of living that the wage earner would have little more left at the end of the year were it not for the inventions of labor-saving devices.

Capital (employers) and wage earners are like two tanks of water connected at the bottom by a pipe. The pipe represents the channels of trade. The water represents income. The Capital Tank is big and holds lots of water. The Labor Tank is small, and holds less water. Because, however, both tanks stand at the same level, and because water always seeks its own level, the water in both tanks will reach the same level, no matter how much is poured into either tank. This applies to the so-called "guaranteed wage."

Let's Not Fool Ourselves

If a Labor Union 'wins' a strike for a Guaranteed Wage, this is like pouring water into the little tank from the big tank. For only a moment does the Labor Union have the increase in its tank. The benefit soon flows back to the big tank by way of higher rents, higher prices, and greater interest rates. The "water" is constantly adjusting itself by means of the connecting pipe, which is Trade. So you see the proportion of the money Union Labor retains is not really an increase. There are only two ways to get healthy increases in wages. One is through producing more by working harder and longer. The other is thru new inventions and products that cut costs and increase output. The greatest value of Labor Unions to the wage-workers is that the Unions force Capital to spend money on research, inventions, and advertising—which reduces costs and increases production. A healthy economy is dependent upon good business, which is the operation of an enterprise profitably and efficiently.

To do this the employer must be free to buy his raw materials and labor only in the amount needed and at the lowest reasonable price. Long-term contracts should be entered into only if they assure the most economical use of resources. In our private enterprise system, an employer benefits his wage-workers most when he minimizes his costs and maximizes his returns. We have real prosperity only when there are more jobs and more opportunities for more people.

What Does Increase Security and Wages?

To say that we shall stabilize our economy by a guaranteed annual wage, rather than by the operation of business efficiently and profitably, is to misunderstand what makes our private enterprise system work. It is hard-headed business sense and new inventions that have given us more refrigerators, more automobiles, and more homes. This is the kind of system which benefits wage-workers in the long run.

The great mass of wage-workers can obtain a greater proportion of the world's wealth only by increasing their real efficiency by means of their heads, hands, or inventions. To go back to my tank illustration, wage-workers can get a greater proportion of the total water in their tank only by increasing the capacity of their tank—that is, its length, depth, and breadth. As fast as such an increase in capacity (or efficiency) takes place, the water will flow into the Union Labor's tank automatically, and no wealth or power can prevent it. Only legislation which truly increases the efficiency and savings of the wage-workers is sure to make them richer, stronger, and more invincible.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

In these sweltering days of July perhaps a bit of light history might make interesting reading.

One of my favorite historical sights is Fort Frederick in Washington County.

Of all the many forts built during the French and Indian war period (1755-1763) from the Canadian border into Virginia, Fort Frederick survives as an original example.

Near Indian Springs on a spur of the North Mountain of the Allegheny Range, this formidable fortification lies 100 feet above the Potomac. At its base shimmers a body of water known since canaling days as "Big Pool." To the north, just over three miles away, modern traffic races by on the much-traveled Route 40, long famous as the National Road to the West.

Fort Frederick, named in honor of Frederick, the last Lord Baltimore, was built in 1756, close upon the heels of Braddock's defeat before Fort Duquesne, now Pittsburgh.

Statistics pertaining to the Fort are impressive. About 150 men under the personal direction of Governor Horatio Sharpe erected 17-foot-high walls, measuring 4 feet thick at the base and two feet thick at the top. These mighty ramparts, made of native sandstone, inclosed an approximate one and one-half acres of land, exclusive of the projecting bastions or redoubts. The general shape of the Fort was rectangular, the bastions projecting like spearheads beyond the four corners. These areas each filled, each supported a "six-pounder" which, on occasion, roared above the massive walls. Each hinge on its double doors weighed 42 pounds.

As soon as exterior specifications had been met, barracks were erected within the inclosure, possibly in time to house the 200 men who were quartered there under Colonel John Dagworthy. These troops had been stationed at Fort Cumberland, the Fort which had been found to be too far removed from the frontier settlements to be useful for purpose of practical defense.

Neither Rain Nor Hail
... Nor Broken Boxes!

Red Fowler, local R.F.D. mailman, got an English car—with a right-hand drive so he can stuff mailboxes from behind the wheel.

"It's great!" Red reports. "But it would work a lot better if all box holders would follow regulations. A mailbox should be 40 inches high, on the right of the road... within reaching distance from a car window. If one is knocked down, the owner should make repairs pronto."

Come to think of it, Red is pretty good about his obligations—delivering packages, supplying stamps, cashing money orders—saving us trips to the Post Office. Let's fix up those boxes so he can get his chores done fast.

From where I sit, obligations always work both ways. For instance, I figure that I'm obliged to respect your right to enjoy your favorite beverage—be it coffee, tea, beer, buttermilk or whatever. Why? Because I'd expect you to do the same for me. The Golden Rule should be followed "to the letter" by everyone.

LOOKING AHEAD

Attention Citizens!
When former President Herbert Hoover concluded a press conference in Washington last month the several hundred newspapermen present gave him a standing ovation, the first such demonstration in Washington in the memory of those present. It was indeed an unprecedented gesture of respect for Mr. Hoover's honesty of purpose and his extraordinary record of public service to our nation.

The occasion was his announcement of the completion of the present Hoover Commission's work towards bringing about greater economy and efficiency in the operation of the Federal government. The Federal government today takes more than 20 per cent of the income of the American public as a whole. Thus every individual, young and old, rich and poor, has a stake in the Hoover Commission's work, and especially in what happens now as a result of its recommendations.

Citizen Action Needed
Nothing will be done about the recommendations unless citizen leaders study the Hoover Commission findings and recommendations and then mobilize public sentiment behind those recommendations which clearly appear to be in the best interest of the government and the public generally. An overriding consideration which the public should weigh is the character and capabilities of the people comprising the Commission and its "task forces."

The Commission itself was created by Congress on July 10, 1953, and President Eisenhower, as had President Truman before him, appointed Mr. Hoover as chairman. The other 11 members of the Commission included such prominent citizens as Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain, and James A. Farley, an executive of the Coca Cola Co., and such members of Congress as Senators John McClellan and Styles Bridges. Government Tax-Free Enterprises Congress set forth specific tasks for the Commission. One was to examine the structure of Federal government tax-free business enterprises, with the objective of getting the government out of a field in which it evidently can't equal private enterprise efficiency. Some of America's leading citizens have devoted months of their time to this project. Charles R. Hook, chairman of Armco Steel Co., and General Robert E. Wood, chairman of board of Sears, Roebuck and Co., headed two of the seven task forces studying government in business.

This study found that the Federal government today is operating thousands of business enterprises, with an investment of $15 billion in taxpayers' money; and that as a general rule and the nation's economy would be better off if these government enterprises were closed.

Turning the Tide
"The government business-type enterprises," said the Hoover Commission Report, "except in a few instances, pay no taxes, and pay little or no interest on the capital invested . . ." Moreover, invariably the goods and services produced by the government enterprises could be obtained at less cost (saving tax money) thru private enterprises.

The report emphasized a danger to which the House Committee on Government Operations last year pointed: "From 1929 to 1948, public wealth has grown 278.5 per cent while private wealth has increased only 78.7 per cent. . . . In 1929 the public wealth represented only 15 per cent of the total national wealth; in 1948 the public wealth amounted to 27.3 per cent. . . . Is this 'creeping Socialism'?"

Encouraging steps already have been taken by the present administration to halt the trend. Synthetic rubber plants and some other enterprises have been sold to private, tax paying companies. But this is a mere starter. If the citizens get behind the Hoover Commission recommendations further constructive improvement in our government and our general welfare will be forthcoming.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Sheep producers will vote between now and Aug. 19 in a referendum to decide whether or not an agreement providing for advertising, promotional, and related market development activities on wool and lambs will be put into effect, according to Geo. B. Reeves, chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The provisions come under Section 708 of the National Wool Act of 1954.

"The agreement between the recently organized American Sheep Producers Council and the Secretary of Agriculture provides for deductions from wool incentive and lamb and yearling sheep (pulled wool compensating) payments made to producers under the act of 1954," Mr. Reeves said. "These deductions will provide a means of financing the market development program. Before the agreement can be put into effect, producers owning at least two-thirds of the sheep and lambs represented by votes in the referendum must vote their approval," he said.

If the agreement is approved the deduction from payments for the 1955 incentive program, to be made in the summer of 1956 will be one cent per pound from shorn wool payments, and five cents per hundred pounds of live weight from lamb and yearling payments. The payments will be used by the ASPC for advertising, promotional, and related activities designed to enlarge or improve the market for products of the industry, according to Mr. Reeves.

Producers who have owned sheep or lambs for at least 30 days any time since Jan. 1, 1955, will be eligible to vote. Because deductions would be made from both shorn wool, and lamb and yearling payments, the volume of production for this referendum will be based on the number of sheep six months of age and older owned during any one 30-day period since Jan. 1. The number of sheep and lambs will be noted on the ballot by each producer and the ballot will be signed by him.

Mr. Reeves said that ballots will be accepted by county ASC offices through Friday, Aug. 19. He said ballots have been sent to all known eligible voters and if a voter has not received a ballot, he can get one at his county ASC office.
"Results of the referendum won't be available until early September," Mr. Reeves said, "because of the method of basing the referendum outcome on the number

Chronicle Imbedded In World's Largest Sphere

A copy of the Emmitsburg Chronicle with over 405 other newspapers carrying the Babson Column has been buried at the base of the World's Largest Revolving Globe at Babson Park, Wellesley, Mass. These newspapers were placed in a sealed concrete vault with instructions to open June 18, 2055.

The Globe, proposed by Roger Babson Webber, a gift of Mr. Roger W. Babson and family, is a great steel ball, 28 feet in diameter, supporting a map of the world on a scale of 24 miles to the inch in 20 different colors created in porcelain enamel (fused glass on thin steel plates.) Every country in the world is represented, with the capitals and cities having a population of a million or more indicated by stars or circles. This tremendous Globe, weighing 25 tons, is mounted on a 22-inch-diameter six-ton hollow shaft, representing the axis of the earth, set at an angle of 23.5 degrees from the vertical. It is so devised as to rotate about its axis simulating the earth's rotation once each day of 24 hours. The shaft, in turn, is supported by a 10-ton triangular carriage revolving on a circular steel track 20 feet in diameter simulating the revolution of the earth about the sun once each year to show the passage of the seasons.

Among the features shown on the Map are 25 of the major mountain peaks of the world, 25 major mountain ranges, 100 principal rivers, innumerable lakes, islands and groups of islands, the depths of the ocean in three different shades of brown, the heights of the mountain ranges in two different shades of brown, the poles (both actual and magnetic), and the Tropics of Capricorn and Cancer, the Equator, the International Date Line, with the Meridians of Latitude and Longitude. As a tool to visualize the various economic and political tensions and relationships existing in this troubled world, the Babson World Globe is unequalled.

SMARTER CHILDREN

Do Juniors' questions about everything under the sun—and in the outer space, too—baffle you? Have you, secretly of course, asked the question, "Are the kids today smarter than in my day?"

There is some evidence that all those vitamins we take are increasing the intelligence of the younger generation, and making life tougher for parents. Recent experiments seem to show that extra vitamins taken by mothers during pregnancy and nursing may increase the IQ of their children. Some 2400 expectant mothers took part in a test conducted by Teachers College, Columbia University. Some of the mothers got extra vitamin C, some got B vitamins, and others were given placebos or "duds" containing no vitamins.

At the age of four the children were tested by psychologists and all the "vitaminized" children surpassed the placebo group by an average of 5.2 in intelligence quotient.

The best response to vitamins was in city tenement families where the regular diet may have been below normal. So, the test doesn't prove conclusively that mothers who regularly get in their diets the recommended amount of vitamins can improve their children's IQ by taking extra vitamins. But it certainly shows how important a proper diet is to the expectant mother.

Maybe a mother can't guarantee a great brain for her child by getting plenty of vitamins during pregnancy and nursing. But there is much she can do to give him the best possible chance for a healthy, vigorous body and mind. The diet should include

'Potato Man' Reports

Another summer has rolled around and with it comes George L. Wilhide of Lantz, familiarly known as the "Potato Man."

Crowding 80, amicable George reported that this is the 30th year he has been selling potatoes in Emmitsburg, never missing a solitary season. He reports crops are excellent this year and says the soil is in excellent condition, so good, he related, that he can scoop out spuds with his bare hands.

George brought 15 sacks of potatoes with him and sold every one in the 15 minutes he was stopped in front of the Chronicle office.

plenty of milk, citrus fruits, leafy green vegetables, protein rich foods such as meat and eggs, and whatever vitamin supplements the doctor recommends.

To solve the problem of Junior's bright questions: Better keep the encyclopedia handy.
