It's either feast or famine it seems. For a long time there are no new businesses begun here and then all of a sudden three announce openings within a single week. Yes sree, we have three new businesses ready to open their doors, two of them today! We now have a new meat market; a farm supplies store and a beauty parlor. The meat market will not be open for business until next Friday. Lots of luck to the three of you!

Elsewhere in this paper is a letter from a dear reader who differs with my opinion that the state should permit a Canadian brewery to locate in Maryland. The writer admits we could use more industry of a more desirable type. Maybe so, but I don't think that an additional suds factory would increase consumption of the commodity any more. It is my opinion that it would be merely a redistribution of the trade and help break the monopoly the Baltimore breweries have over the state and also the grip it has on price regulation to the consumer. It is my belief that this monopolistic group has been reaping a fat harvest from the public for a long period and a little competition might help ease the situation somewhat.

For those of you who don't know it yet, Maryland Route 32 which runs through town in an east-west direction, has been changed to Route 97, so if any motorist asks you for directions, be sure to give him the right route number. Incidentally I understand a large number of Carroll Countians has signed an objection to the renumbering of the route, claiming that it would detract from the value of their property. Personally I don't see how this could be, as the same amount of traffic should travel the road. Everyone to his own opinion though.

While March hasn't been as windy as it traditionally is, it certainly has been a wet one so far. Water supplies and the water table here are in better condition than they have been in years. Many streams overflowed their banks this week as the snow, rain and sleet came down almost incessantly the first few days of the week. Too bad we can't save some of this for summertime when it is sorely needed. However, with the supply we have now and the earth supersaturated, we should get an early start in our gardens and fields, perhaps enough of a start to carry us through the summer, even if there is a drought.

Don't forget to patronize "Emmitsburg Night" next Friday at St. Joseph College. The good Sisters and collegiennes have gone all-out to arrange an interesting evening for the benefit of the coming Bi-centennial and it is to our benefit to patronize the affair. A lot of money has to be raised to promote a Bi-centennial of such magnitudinous proportions such as ours and the whole district must lend its cooperation or the project will be a failure. From time to time little benefit affairs will be held until the time of the gigantic celebration next summer, 1957, so go and have an evening of entertainment and at the same time help along the cause.

The Lions Club has followed a good example and have succeeded in creating goodwill among our local schools. Each year now for the past three, the group has invited the basketball teams of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg and Saint Joseph's High Schools to a banquet following the termination of the playing season. There has been instilled a feeling of good fellowship among the athletes of the three schools as they sit together and talk and enjoy a good meal. All grudges and animosities, if there are any, are forgotten as the clean and healthy looking young athletes and future citizens chat about their experiences. It makes for a good feeling and good relations all around and the Lions deserve a world of credit for inaugurating and maintaining such a function. I certainly hope they can continue this practice!

The Navy's test pilot training school at the Naval Air Test Center, Patuxent River, Md., is one of only three schools in the free world.

Lions Club Honors Local Athletes

Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Gettysburg, was the principal speaker at the annual banquet given the basketball teams of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg and St. Joseph's High Schools Monday evening in the Lutheran parish hall.

The three teams were guests of the Emmitsburg Lions Club and the affair was presided over by Lion President Clarence G. Frailey and nearly 75 members and guests were present for the occasion. Several members of the Loyola basketball team were present as well as Coach Lefty Reitz.

"You boys have been on good basketball teams. Let me suggest that as you approach the end of your schooling you pick a good team for the balance of your life. That team should have five members: yourself, your parents, your school, country and God. This team will succeed," the speaker declared.

Dr. J. J. Dillon, Jr., toastmaster, presented awards on behalf of the Lions Club given to the high-scoring members of the three teams. Dr. Dillon presented the trophies to the coaches, who in turn, gave them to the players.

St. Joseph's guests present were John Pantalone and Larry Horning, coaches, Richard Little, David Sprankle, James Sanders, John Randolph, John Adelsberger, Jim Brown, Woody Stoner, Michael Topper, Michael Kelz.

Mt. St. Mary's guests were, James Phelan, coach, Frank Smith, Bill Stanley, George Donoghue, Jack Sullivan, Joe Sullivan, Jerry Bohlinger, Tito Nanni and Thomas Leonard. Guests from Loyola College were Emil "Lefty" Reitz, coach, William Brown, Tony Pistorio, James Allenbaugh and Paul Dodd.

Other guests of the club included Dr. Gerald Orosz, Dr. Gilbert Oddo, State Trooper William G. Morgan, Police Chief Daniel J. Kaas, John Law, county deputy sheriff; Robert L. Koontz, Chief of Taneytown Police Dept.; Dr. William A. Frailey and J. Norman Shriver.

Capt. Philip Sharpe announced a poster contest open to all students of the district for the best drawing of a cachet to be used in the 1957 Bicentennial celebration here. Mothers and friends of the basketball teams served the dinner and Mrs. Robert Daugherty was in charge.

SECOND CRASH VICTIM DEAD

The father of three young children, Albert S. Engle, of Scotch Plains, N. J., died Friday night at 11:15 o'clock at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, from injuries received Wednesday of last week in an auto crash between Fairfield and Gettysburg.

Engle was the second to die from the crash. Paul C. Jewsbury, 40, St. Louis, Mo., who was driving Engle's car at the time of the mishap, died shortly after being admitted to the hospital.

Dr. C. G. Crist, coroner for Adams County, said Engle's death was caused by severe contusions of the abdomen, multiple fractures of the pelvis, fracture of the left humerus, fracture of the right radius and ulna and compound fractures of the left tibia and fibula.

The coroner reported that Joseph Melvin Condon, 36, Emmitsburg, Route 3, driver of the other car involved in the crash, is improving. His condition is listed by the hospital as "still serious."

Police said the accident occurred when Jewsbury was driving toward Gettysburg and Condon was traveling toward Fairfield. Condon, it is alleged, swung into the east-bound lane of the highway in an attempt to pass a car which had halted on the road ahead of him, and the Engle and Condon cars collided.

Studies of Greenland indicated that the island may be divided into at least three parts by canyons scraped out below sea level by glaciers.

Plans for "Emmitsburg Night" at Saint Joseph College are under the capable direction of Rae Ann O'Neill who is in charge of the posters. Other chairmen of committees are Veronica Merrill and Joan Stovick, co-chairmen; Barbara Bray, publicity; Emily Marowski, programs and Mary Jane Scott, ushers. Absent when the picture was taken was Barbara Rosensteel, ticket committee chairman. The affair will take place in DePaul Auditorium next Friday night.

Blanche Keilholtz New President Of Ladies' Auxiliary

It was announced that a district meeting at Owings Mills will be held on Wednesday, March 21, at 8 p. m.

The annual election of officers was held with the following results: President, Blanche Keilholtz; senior vice president, Anna Law; junior vice president, Jane Orndorff; treasurer, Anna Stoner; chaplain, Helen Sanders; conductress, Gloria Martin; guard, Dolores Henke; trustee, three years, Mary Hoke; trustee, one year, Etta Mae Norris.

The following appointive officers were named by the president: colorbearers, Idella Fite, Corrine Grindler, Etta Mae Norris, Carrie Long; flag-bearer, Betty Goulden; historian, Anna Stoner; patriotic instructor, Rosemary Mick; secretary, Loretta Adelsberger; banner-bearer, Eunice Neighbour; musician, Mary Hoke; assistant musician, Rosemary Mick.

Grace McDonnell, Corrine Grindler and Carrie Long will serve the women's refreshments at the next meeting.

Father De Pauw Addresses College Group

The Rev. Dr. Gommor A. De Pauw, professor of theology at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, addressed the Cumberland Valley Chapter of the Alliance Francaise last Sunday afternoon at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., on the present school controversy in Belgium.

The Hon. Chauncey M. Depuy, president judge of the 39th judicial district of Pennsylvania, introduced the speaker. Sister Margaret and Mr. Bernard S. Kaliss, professor of modern languages at St. Joseph and Mt. St. Mary's Colleges, represented the local educational institutions.

Father De Pauw with degrees from Louvain University and the Catholic University of America, did extensive research in the field of Church and State relations. His doctoral dissertation on the educational rights of Family, Church and State, was acclaimed by specialists here and abroad, as one of the best publications in the field. The De Pauws were among the very first settlers in New York during the 17th Century and were represented among the troops of the Marquis de la Fayette during the Revolutionary War and had a university named after them in Greencastle, Ind. Father De Pauw came to the Mount in 1952 from his native Belgium, and is a naturalized American citizen.

JAMES C. MCKEON

For outstanding qualifications in athletics and cooperative leadership in physical education at Mount St. Mary's College, as director, we find no finer teacher than James C. McKeon. His record speaks for itself and his sincerity of purpose is unquestioned. The affable physical director believes in results and he is most successful in obtaining just that with his students.

The young director was born Aug. 28, 1929 at Elizabeth, N. J. His parents were Margaret Thompson and Eugene C. McKeon, Sr. His parents were born at Girardville, Pa., in the coal region, and his father originally was a coal miner, but presently he is an engineer on the New Jersey Central Railway. Jim has two brothers, Eugene and Clement, both graduates of Mt. Saint Mary's College. The McKeon family migrated to Elizabeth, N. J. 30 years ago.

The young athletic director came to Emmitsburg in 1948 and was graduated from Mt. Saint Mary's in 1953. He had completed his grammar school period at Blessed Sacrament and Thomas A. Edison High School in Elizabeth. Following a couple of years in Emmitsburg, he returned to Elizabeth and married the charming Marcella Corris of his home town. They now have four lovely children: Gene, John, Nancy and Elaine. The offspring are a picture of health and reveal good wholesome living conditions which personify the physical well-being advocated by the father.

For sincerity of purpose McKeon advocates clean living without restraint, feeling that a man's nervous tension needs relaxation. He adamantly advises proper breathing, daily walks and exercises towards developing resistance and stamina. His methods of cooperating with the residents of Emmitsburg is somewhat remarkable. A stranger a few years ago, he has made numerous friends and has established himself as one of the townspeople. He is a good friend of his pupils and believes in rigid training because, he says, "the best training a boy can get it to be taught how to be a man."

"Jim," as he is referred to by intimates, is a devout believer in "live and let live." He is a big brother to many of the boys and they often carry their problems to him for advice and guidance. Based on his knowledge of the hardships of the world he is most qualified as a counsellor of over-coming the odds, by sincerity and perseverance. Jim taught at Emmitsburg High before taking the athletic directorship at the Mount. Both he and his wife are members of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

BIDS LET FOR ROUTE 15 BYPASS

The State Roads Commission will receive bids until April 3 at noon at its offices in Baltimore on the first contract on the Thurmont bypass of U. S. Route 15, it has been announced.

The contract will involve construction of a five-span steel beam bridge on relocated Route 15 over Maryland 77 (the Foxville Road) and Hunting Creek, the announcement revealed.

The length of the bridge will be 275 feet and the road width 40 feet. It is understood that the bridge will be constructed within the corporate limits of Thurmont in the general area of the old Annie Laurie oil well.

It was said the creek is about 100 feet away from the Foxville Road in that section and there may be some bank changes to bring it somewhat closer to the road in order that both can be spanned by the bridge.

Surveyors plotted the bypass some time ago. On the south it will veer from existing Route 15 in the vicinity of the snake farm and pass just west of Thurmont, reconnecting with 15 at Owens Creek, about a mile north of Thurmont where a new section of the major highway north has been completed. The width of the bridge indicates the overall roadway width for the relocation will be about 40 feet.

Construction of a second lane of Route 15 from Tuscarora Creek, north of Frederick to the Pennsylvania State line a mile north of Emmitsburg is scheduled in the 12-year State Roads Commission program, along with bypasses of Thurmont, Emmitsburg and Lewistown. Ten miles of the new road are scheduled for the first four years of the program.

Citizen Objects To More Breweries

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

I wish to differ with "Abigail" in her article concerning industries in Maryland. I agree that we do need more industries here, but not breweries.

There is entirely too much beer, whiskey, etc. flowing in our Maryland now, and I think that the time has come to curtail the source of supply.

Our nation is fast becoming an alcoholic nation rather than milk drinking, or coffee drinking nation, and we spend more now for that than we do for education and religion. If we are not careful it will be our downfall, just as it has been the downfall of our sister republic, France, where even babies drink wine from a bottle, instead of milk!

Also, no one knows how many of the 38,000 people killed and hundreds hurt in auto accidents, are attributable to this profitable business.

People gripe about how much it costs for a quart of milk, and then go out and buy beer and whiskey that costs three to five times as much.

So let us not promote more of this kind of industry, but encourage more worthwhile projects which would not be detrimental to the people of Maryland.

Incidentally, have you counted the sources of liquor, wines and beer in the Emmitsburg area recently? And we have two colleges with young men and women being trained to be useful citizens in the near future!

The temptation of being able to imbibe among these college men and women away from home is a great one.

Yours, very truly,
MRS. PAUL L. BEALE

CLOSE TO THE GRASS ROOTS

The county medical societies—of which there are 1,931 in this country and the territories—are long-established institutions. But comparatively few people could give an adequate description of what these societies do.

The American Medical Association wanted to find out, and so it conducted a survey. It found that society activities range a wide gamut indeed—from cancer and tuberculosis control programs to sponsorship of Little League baseball teams.

Of particular interest, the survey found that "there appeared to be a growing awareness by all societies—both large and small—of the need for them to become participants in community activities." These activities, all aimed at developing better relations between the medical profession and the public, included grievance committees, which serve as "appeal boards" for patients with complaints; medical economics committees, which maintain business services for doctors and the public, and public relations committees which work to promote better understanding. Many committees maintain speakers' bureaus and sponsor health fairs, special community health days, radio and television programs, and newspaper health columns. And many, in addition to the general disease control programs, had committees dealing with special problems, such as care of the aged and the chronically ill. Much work was done on behalf of school health and safety programs.

Most county societies are close to the grass roots. They have an intimate knowledge of local needs and problems and they're doing a big and essential job.

STRANGE DIET

"The baby swallowed Father's cuff links!"

Mother calls the doctor. Father calls the fire department. Hysteria reigns until Junior finds the missing cuff link under the bed.

Scenes like this have happened in almost every household where there is a baby. Children seem to be born with the desire to swallow anything small enough to be fitted into the mouth. Unfortunately, too often the cuff link is not under the bed. Baby really has managed to swallow it. Fortunately, doctors are constantly developing new ways to get it out again.

As early as 1620, medical history tells us, a surgeon removed nine coins swallowed by a boy who was about to be robbed. Today doctors try to find ways of avoiding surgery in removing objects that children swallow.

One new way of removing a metallic object is use of a very small magnet on a string. The magnet can be put into the throat and allowed to work its way down into the stomach or intestines. It is then withdrawn, pulling the indigestible tidbit with it. Doctors have had considerable success in retrieving Mother's bobby pins by this method. However, it is not an operation to be performed by "do-it-yourself" fans.

Physicians can now also give antibiotic drugs to prevent infection. Then they wait and watch until the object is eliminated naturally. An unusual case reported by one doctor is that of a year-old baby who swallowed five open safety pins and a dozen needles. He also managed to consume the balloon given to him at the hospital. The child was given antibiotics. Almost all the objects were eliminated; a few had to be removed by surgery. He left the hospital in the best of health—ready to swallow anything else he could get his hands on.

Foreign bodies which get into the windpipe and lungs are perhaps the most dangerous to children. If not coughed up, clogging of air passages results. Emergency removal is usually necessary.

Doctors do their best, but the important task in preventing the tragedies that can result from swallowing odd objects is up to parents. It's a 24-hour job to protect baby from the strange diet he will follow in his natural desire to try the taste of anything and everything.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

A fly line should be selected to match the power of your fly rod, because if there is not a close harmony between these two important items of equipment the finest caster in the world will have difficulty in making the line carry a fly to a designated spot. According to Robert D. Hall, angling expert of Sports Afield magazine, the line is what we cast and not the fly—the fly just rides along on the end of the leader.

There are more than 10,000 patterns of trout flies. And expert trout anglers agree that using a fly of the right size is of extreme importance. They also agree that how you fish the fly is far more important than pattern or size.

The weatherman frequently speaks of "fronts." In reality, these fronts are nothing more than the leading edge of air masses which continually move across the U. S. in a general west to east direction. When they pass a given spot, a change in the weather usually occurs. And, according to Sports Afield magazine, in almost every case this also causes an important change in fishing conditions.

When choosing a fly rod, don't worry about its weight—this is not important. Jason Lucas, the angling editor for Sports Afield magazine, recommends a rod with medium trout dry-fly action, absolutely no longer than eight feet.

New Draft Rules Are Explained

The new Selective Service regulations recently approved by President Eisenhower are a marked improvement over the old ones. No exemptions are provided, but eligibles are divided into six classes to be called in order. The first four classes are under 26, so the older men are virtually eliminated under present conditions.

These new classes are (1) delinquents or those over 19 who have failed to report are to be called in order of their birth starting with the oldest; (2) volunteers not over 26 in sequence of volunteer date; (3) childless non-volunteers 19-26, in order of their birth, the oldest taken first; (4) non-volunteers with children, oldest first, then in order of birth; (5) non-volunteers over 26, in order of birth, the youngest taken first; (6) non-volunteers 18½ to 19, the oldest being selected first.

When a Selective Service Board receives a draft call, they will fill it from the first class until all men in it are called, then on through the groups in turn. Unless there is a considerable increase in the draft calls, it is expected that the first three classes will more than fill the service needs.

While the new regulations do not go as far as the Farm Bureau and others recommended they are better than the old policy of taking older men first, even if they were past their 26th birthday. Those in charge belatedly recognized that the plan in use was creating an army of older men and changed it to provide younger men for the armed services.

The Army, Navy and Air Force will get men of better military age and the older men and fathers are now in position to establish themselves in business with fair assurance they will not be disturbed in peacetime.

At Easter time use Easter Seals on all your mail. Spread the good tidings of help for crippled children.

MARYLAND WILDLIFE

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME & INLAND FISH COMMISSION

WEASEL

(Mustela erminea frenata)

RANGE: From Maine to North Carolina; found in every part of Maryland.

DESCRIPTION: A long bodied, short legged animal, short head, blunt snout, tail long and bushy; length about 23 inches, female smaller; weighs about 10 ounces; rounded ears; color a rich dark brown, lighter in winter; underparts white to yellow; north of Maryland these animals turn white in winter, with black tip on tail.

BREEDING: Probably mate in summer; generally 4 young, male assists in supplying them food; it is said some pairs mate for life.

HABITS: The weasel seldom constructs its own home, taking over a chipmunk's, or other rodent's domicile, generally around hedge rows or stone fences; nocturnal; said to kill birds and rodents just for the love of killing; feeds on frogs, birds, rabbits, mice, snakes and insects; they can and do capture rabbits; principal enemies owls, hawks and some house cats.

MANAGEMENT: None; the weasel can take care of itself, and its increase beyond a certain extent would prove injurious to other more valuable wildlife.

VALUE: The fur at present is of little value; it does destroy countless numbers of mice and rats, and is valuable to this extent; occasionally individuals are seriously injurious to game and poultry, in which case they must be controlled.

H-E-L-P is spelled for crippled children when you give to Easter Seals.

Notify your Easter Seal Society if you know of a crippled child who needs help.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Mar. 15 — Readers are still being pestered by Canadian brokers to buy uranium stocks. News items about building reactors on college campuses keep up the interest. From studies, I believe that your money, if put in savings banks, can be both safer and more profitable than if put into a speculative clay bank.

Uranium Is Valuable

Uranium will have its uses, but for many years these will be confined to military purposes, especially in connection with ammunition, shipping, guided missiles, and movable electrical plants. Uranium, however, is subject to many competitors, including water power, oil, natural gas, and cheap coal. These other natural resources will hold down the price of uranium, especially in view of its great quantity all over the world. The main thing for the oil and gas people to fear is legislative persecution such as the electric utilities suffered under Roosevelt. The recent action of the U. S. Senate, however, in connection with the natural gas bill, shows that there is no reason to fear such destructive legislation at present.

Probably the first competitor that all these natural power resources will face is the unused power from the sun. This has tremendous possibilities and will some day be harnessed. Looking ahead many years, I see much more profit in buying properly located land in Florida, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and southern California, where the heat of the sun is great, than in buying land in Colorado, Utah, or somewhere else with the hope of getting uranium.

Don't Forget Gravity

Grandpa used gravity to help regulate his tall clock; later it was used to develop power from falling water. There are other uses for gravity, though they are very few at present. Yet, when we think of the tremendous unused power of the ocean tides, we realize the possibilities of harnessing gravity. Today gravity power is where steam power was 200 years ago. Men of that era knew steam would lift the cover of a kettle; but no one knew how to harness it. For details, write the Gravity Research Foundation, New Boston, N. H.

The secret of harnessing most power is to have a "differential" which will enable the power to work in opposite directions. The great work of Watt's in harnessing steam was to devise the reciprocal engine, which provided a differential, permitting the steam to automatically enter opposite ends of the cylinder of his engine. This means that the harnessing of gravity may await the discovery of a partial insulator of gravity — probably some new alloy. As there are millions of different alloys which have not yet been tested, it is probable that a partial insulator of gravity will be discovered.

Remember the Revolution Of the Globe

As you read this column, do you realize that you are moving at the rate of 1000 miles per hour? (The world is approximately 24,000 miles in circumference and the day consists of 24 hours). This revolution offers the greatest opportunity for free power. Furthermore, it will not need a differential in order to be harnessed. The most hopeful thing is that most physicists, astronomers, and other scientists agree that they do not know what makes the world revolve! They do not accept seriously the standard theory that—like a baseball—our globe was sent twirling when it was thrown off from the sun or some other planet and has been twirling for billions of years ever since.

In view of experiments with toy meters, where the revolving armature has no electrical connection with the magnetic field, another theory is possible. This is, that the interior of our globe consists of some new metals or alloys making it the rotor of a great meter. The field of this meter is the electrical waves coming from the sun and other planets or generated by the clouds. Thomas Edison told me that more static electricity is used in one thunderstorm than is produced each day by all the power companies in the U. S. When this static electricity can be harnessed, I forecast that every factory will have a large revolving globe on its roof which will furnish power, light, and heat for the factory without cost, or without the consumption of our natural resources. For further details write Babson Institute, Babson Park 57, Mass. Therefore, don't put too much money into any one thing, uranium, oil, natural gas, water power, or even gravity! The first principle of successful investing is proper diversification.

Congressman De Witt S. Hyde • 6th District, Maryland

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14 — A friend of mine has said that "mergers are the super-highway to monopoly," and I quite agree. Pending before the Congress is a bill requiring corporations to give the Federal Trade Commission advance notice of intended mergers. The bill is a step in the right direction, but my feeling is that it does not provide stiff enough penalties for non-compliance.

I tried, while the bill was under House Judiciary Committee consideration, to insert some amendments to strengthen the measure. But the majority of the Committee felt that penalties I suggested would hamper passage. My support of the bill stems from my firm belief that the private enterprise system is endangered when free competition is threatened. Open competition is one result of a strong small business community. When these firms disappear through the merger route, one effective restraint on monopolistic growth is removed.

Any measure that slows down, or halts, the merger trend is of importance to the businessmen and the consumers of the Sixth Maryland District as well as to the nation.

With the designation of Fort Detrick as a permanent military installation I am again pressuring the Dept. of Defense for a favorable report on my bill to give the residents of the area full voting privileges.

Foul Weather Shots Are Prize-Winners Too

DON'T put your camera away just because the sun isn't shining. This picture taken by a non-professional camera bug shows what can be done in foggy weather.

"Fog in the Park Trees" won first prize in the non-professional class of the 1955 Graflex Photo Contest. It has also won 12 salon awards throughout the country. According to T. T. Holden, photo director of Graflex, Inc., entering contests can be a stepping stone to a successful career in photography. Another fine aid to photographic careers for the amateur is to join a good camera club. The aspiring photographer can get the necessary help and criticism from more seasoned members to bring him over the rough spots.

Taken with a Speed Graphic by Jack Kilpatrick, Santa Monica, Calif., "Fog in the Park Trees" has caught an eerie spectre of fog swirling in from the Pacific to cover the park. Careful planning made this scene possible. Kilpatrick got good depth and sharpness and detail by shooting from a tripod and using a longer exposure.

When taking a picture seek to develop "interest." Interest may be based on sentiment, drama, allure or mystery. The first group contains shots of pets, places, friends and things. Drama pictures are of a candid nature — action or sports. The third group includes pin-ups and glamour, while in the mysterious there are elements of fear, uncertainty, the unknown, even the supernatural. This picture would be classified under the "mysterious" heading.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While there are perhaps pros and cons concerning the investigation of the automotive business carried on by a committee headed by Senator Mahoney, the probe has established one thing.

The Congress of the United States still exercises considerable power, if and when it chooses to exercise that power.

Of course, exercise of that power is becoming rarer, and as Senator Jenner recently pointed out, there is a substantial alliance of bureaucrats who have been consistently for the past two decades trying to take power away from Congress, aided by some of the most high powered tax paid press agents of all times.

Yet most powerful corporation in country, perhaps world, recognized this power of Congress.

Even while the head of this great automotive concern was still on the witness stand, the corporation announced an end to its "sudden death" system of writing dealer franchises.

Instead of a dealer, who of necessity has a great investment in his dealership, being kept under thumb by a franchise subject to cancellation at the end of any year, franchises would now be for five year's duration.

It is also significant at recent national automobile dealers convention the dealers started telling the factories about some of the oppressive policies they will no longer tolerate.

Undoubtedly, the knowledge that a Senatorial committee was concerned about their situation was a great impetus to them.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Actually, there are still some people, some in high government posts, who feel that the greatest expression of American achievement is to be found in Big Autos.

Perhaps it smacks of bringing up age old riddle of the precedence of the egg over the chicken, or visa versa, supreme achievement of American business system would undoubtedly be fact there came into being an independent corps of dealers willing to invest substantially to sell and service cars.

This was accomplished by independent businessmen with integrity to live with a proposition a long time, with courage to put up all their cash and credit. Without these independent businessmen, Detroit could still be an obscure Indian trading post.

Yet in the modern growth of huge corporations, management now composed of employees instead of owners, tend to have forgotten what made the corporation, what permits it to exist. And it is perhaps that the mind of management, being that of employees, is incompatible with the minds of independent businessmen who are not only dealers, but employers.

Thus, it was fortunate that Senator Mahoney and his colleagues recognized the creeping "Corporate Socialism" and took steps to curb its growth.

After all, the automotive business has become vital to the welfare of the entire nation. A few cannot be permitted to play ducks and drakes with it. Anyone doubting this has to but imagine what would happen to their local community if all the independent auto dealers in it disappeared. In any given community independent auto dealers are not only community pillars, but also important employers.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Information "On The Line"

I was reading the other day how a person can get all sorts of things just by dialing a number on his telephone.

In New York you can get the time, the weather, or a prayer. In Philadelphia it's the stock reports. In Boston a voice tells bird watchers what's to be watched in the park.

Over in Europe, they go further. Vienna offers a five-minute fairy tale for kids. In Switzerland you can get the news in any of three languages. And a couple of places have "talking menus" for desperate housewives.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if ideas are put out by telephone, through editorials, or in person—as long as we can take them or leave them. I happen to like a glass of beer with my supper. You may prefer coffee, tea or branch water. Well, there's no harm in "listening" to another's opinions . . . but if he should try to force them on you, it's always an American's privilege to simply "hang up!"

Can Communism Be Stopped?
In a Western city recently the Federal Bureau of Investigation trapped and took into custody another "Public Enemy," a gangster notorious for his record of crime. The FBI had tracked him down relentlessly, with the fullest backing of the American people. The gangster was a "lone wolf"; he always worked alone. He was a "Public Enemy" because of his criminal record and the fact that every day he remained at large he was a threat to the life and property of at least a few individual citizens.

In the eyes of the American people this gunman was an outlaw. His deeds might not have affected more than a half-dozen lives in his lifetime. But the only common-sense way to handle an outlaw threatening the safety of even a half-dozen people is to take him out of circulation . . . outlaw him. The American people agree on this. They understand the nature of a hardened criminal.

Yet there is a great criminal conspiracy at work in America, dedicated irrevocably to the destruction of everything we all hold dear, and we are permitting its thousands of highly trained agents all the freedom they need to carry out their missions. In addition, we are according the leaders of this world-wide conspiracy courtesies, social pleasantries and even gestures of public respect. On the basis of irrefutable facts our present relationship with this monstrous organization of gangsters is incredible; it does not make sense.

Communism is not likely to be stopped until the decent, free people of the world recognize its true nature and its uncompromising objectives and get to work immediately outlawing it, and firmly resisting its advance. The cunning leaders of international Communism know that the people of the world would do just that if they realized the full truth of Communism's nature and its aims. So they have conducted a world-wide propaganda campaign to confuse the minds of people and capitalize on normal human apathy.

Too Unpleasant
The normal human aversion to thinking about unpleasant things helps the Communists. Even when the truth about Communism begins to come through to people it is normal for them to banish the whole thing from their thoughts. In last week's column, the facts presented showed that if World Communism continues the rate of growth of the last 10 years, it will have the whole world at its mercy within another 10 years. Yet many people will shut their eyes to this fact. It's too unpleasant to accept.

In the March 5 issue of Time magazine are these facts about the nature of Communism: "Foreign specialists, carefully sifting reports from refugees and other sources, estimate that at least 20 million Chinese have been (slaughtered, murdered) deprived of existence. This does not include 23 million believed to be held in forced labor camps. These are figures that stagger the imagination. In no previous war, revolution or human holocaust, either in the days of Tamerlane or in the time of Hitler, have so many people been destroyed in so short a period."

A Grave Question
The magazine continues: "Because it is hard for the mind to visualize so vast a slaughter in human terms, the Communists have been able to reap an advantage from the very size of their funeral pyre: many Westerners (Note: that's us), finding the monstrous incredible, cannot see the blood on the hand of pretended friendship proffered by Chinese Communist Leader Mao Tse-tung." Although the Time article shows photographs of citizens being machine-gunned to death by the Communist political police, many will turn their head and shut out this horrible truth.

Since the end of World War II, the free world has given up 693 million people and six million square miles of territory in 23 countries. And yet the agents of this colossal force, here to undermine America's strength and prepare it for destruction, are allowed to work freely; and we give its leaders, and thus indirectly its evil nature, the prestige of acceptance. When will the citizens of America wake up? Will it be in time to save all mankind from enslavement under the heels of these international gangsters?

Specialist Third Class Donald V. Joy, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Joy, was released from the Army March 9. Don spent the past 18 months at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. with the Army Communications Center.

Will You Help?

Some $156,000 will be needed in 1956 if crippled children in Maryland are to receive the care necessary for their rehabilitation. Hundreds of children still await Easter Seal help, in addition to the hundreds who are now being served.

Setting that amount as the goal for the annual Easter Seal campaign, J. Hammon Geis, campaign chairman, said that thousands of crippled children and adults in the state depend upon the generosity of Easter Seal contributors to bring them care, treatment and other services.

"Many children who have been waiting for care must be reached this year," Mr. Geis said, "if their rehabilitation is to be achieved in time to assure them happy, productive adult lives."

Easter Seals, which were placed in the mail March 10, symbolize 35 years of service to the crippled by the Easter Seal Society nationwide. Campaign contribu-

Marine 2nd Lieut. John H. Walter, son of John W. Walter, Emmitsburg Rt. 1, and husband of the former Miss Mary A. Buckner of Richmond, Va., completed the Cold Weather Survival School Feb. 16 with a four-day field trip to Pickle Meadow in the High Sierras near Bridgeport, Calif.

Here Fleet Marine Force air crewmen and pilots from the Marine Corps Air stations at Santa Ana, Calif., and Cherry Point, N. C., lived in parachute tents, took their food from the land, and used snowshoes and skis for transportation.

Prior to returning to the Santa Ana Air Station, they practiced "escape and evasion maneuvers"

Living Today
by Colonel Gough

SINCERITY: Man's sincerity of purpose is the principle thing in life where the conquest of the facts of living are concerned. And it is a conquest which must be met with the same attack as one would any opposing force, for life is not a bowl of cherries just to be picked. Man's sincerity of purpose is the only thing he has in support of his integrity and his greatest asset.

DISHONESTY. When a man is dishonest to himself he has lost everything. As Shakespeare said, "To thine own self be true then thou canst be false to any man." The greatest favor man can do for himself is to provide for his future with an education. The greatest education man can possess is that which is based on God's laws and that we do not lose sight of Him as the mentor of our very existence. When education loses track of God then there is no foundation for his proof of any purpose which he may have, for it is written, "Study to thine self approve." This life is intended to be a place in preparation for eternity. Any study that offsets this purpose is a step backward instead of forward. To seek proof of the non-existence of God, man is dishonest with himself.

PROPER LIVING: To get the most out of life man should live it as it was intended. Nature is based on God's laws and when we live properly we get the most out of life. In everything, we have rules and there are few exceptions when they can be defied. When we break the laws of God there can only be one result, failure. Proper living assures successful living.

PRO AND CON: "The young boy who won $100,000 will have an easy life!" so it is said. Think so? I doubt it very much. He is already the victim of every would-be moocher who thinks he can put the "touch" on the boy or his parents. Salesmen with "get richer quicker" schemes and every conceivable business deal has no doubt been offered him but there is something everyone should know. Due to his age the money is in a trust fund and can't be invested excepting in bona fide banker's financial sources and then guaranteed by the Federal Reserve system controlling the banking laws. The boy's life will still be hazardous enough by those unscrupulous enough to continue their attacks. The boy's life will be hard enough until he is 21 and then watch the vultures prey upon him. Some will be far-sighted enough to develop a friendship looking ahead to the time when he can make his own investments. Brotherly love can then become a wonderful thing. It is much easier to love someone with money for some people. To them he will be told that he is their "Angel." In the show world this means, "One who finances another in a venture."

FAILURE: Man's real failure is based on his lack of holding his head up when he is faced with problems and if he admits that he is licked. No man is a failure who can look the world in the eye despite his setbacks. Man's convictions are the only principle thing he possesses when apathetic forces deteriorate his balanced reasoning. When he accepts a substitute he is a failure. Nothing is as good as the real product. It may be more costly in the beginning but in the long run one saves by the lack of substitution.

OPTIMISM: He who flies the highest and the farthest is the man with optimism. It took a great deal of optimism when the test pilot broke the sound barriers, as it did Charles Lindbergh when he first flew the Atlantic Ocean. It took steel nerves when the pioneers invaded the West to discover California and today, it takes a great deal of optimism when man can face the world of conquest regardless of his education, for the competition is great. Without optimism man is lost. If he loses it he had better be sure of one thing, that his education has provided a relationship to God that he will not be alone in his failures and that God will be his pillar of strength. Few pessimists have, if any, ever reached a destination without some optimistic soul lending a hand.

New School System
Head Is Named

Dr. James A. Sensenbaugh, assistant superintendent of Baltimore County schools, said Tuesday he had accepted appointment as Frederick County school superintendent, succeeding Eugene W. Pruitt, according to the AP.

Dr. Sensenbaugh will become superintendent Aug. 1, when the present term of Mr. Pruitt, who was not a candidate for reappointment, will expire.

He was selected for the superintendency, it was learned, from a large group of educators who were interviewed by the Frederick County Board of Education.

Dr. Sensenbaugh, who is 46, has taken an active part in planning Baltimore County's emergency school building program. He has been assistant superintendent in charge of elementary schools and also directed such school activities as administrative personnel, libraries, lunch programs, statistical research and transportation.

Dr. Sensenbaugh is a native of Frederick County, a son of the late Alvin E. and Nora R. Sensenbaugh, who resided near Wolfsville. His father was also an educator. Dr. Sensenbaugh attended elementary school at the old Sensenbaugh school, which is in Washington County, near the Frederick County line, and graduated from Smithsburg High School.

He received his teacher training at Frostburg State Teachers' College and his Bachelor's, Master's and Doctor's degrees from Columbia University, the latter in 1951.

He first taught at Smithsburg elementary school and then went to Baltimore County, where he has been in the school system for more than 20 years, first as a teacher and later as assistant superintendent, except for a period during World War II when he was in the armed services.
