Complaints have been received at this office that Halloween vandalism is well on its way, in fact has been for the past two weeks. While we are not a law enforcement agency we can at least offer a bit of sage advice. For example let's take the case of a local automobile owner who had the windshield of his car damaged this week. Some youngster took his cake of soap, dipped it into some gravel and went to work on the windshield. Needless to say what this sort of an abrasive did to the glass. Windshields are mighty expensive these days and run anywhere from $75 to $100 and up. Now then, do the parents of this youth know they are liable for this damage? Well they are until the offspring has reached 21 years of age. It would be to you parents' advantage to keep a sharp lookout on the activities of your children until at least after Halloween. A lot of their actions are nefarious and need immediate attention. A lot of times we think it is a "whole" of a lot of fun to "fix" someone's property—but when the cold realization of the amount of damage we have done dawns on us the joke seems to have lost its zest. All over the nation authorities are realizing that this Halloween business has degraded itself to outright vandalism. Most of the fun of former years has been transferred into the nuisance and vandalism category and the populace is getting mighty bored with the whole thing.

Mailboxes are an expensive item and it takes work to erect and paint them. It has been common practice recently for some individuals to take their car and proceed along the rural roads seeing just how many mailboxes they can clip off. These offenders, if caught, are liable for the damages and further prosecution by the U. S. Postoffice Dept. Others satiate their pyromaniacal desires by burning corn fodder or straw stacks. There are several hundred bales of straw in the ordinary stack. This straw is worth about 50 to 75 cents a bale so you see if you destroy one stack it may well set you back several hundred dollars. It's not a profitable pastime, I assure you.

My personal advice to the older youths is to seek a more peaceful and gentle form of recreation during the Halloween period and to those parents of the youngsters, better see that they participate in the parade and have some real fun with no harm being done to anyone. I don't like to give this column the name of being the gripe corner but in the interest and welfare of all concerned, I feel that the matter should be aired for the benefit of all.

Antiquity is fast becoming one of our most valuable assets here. The town will observe its 200th birthday next year. Mount St. Mary's College will be 150 years old in 1958 and St. Joseph College the same in 1959.

Do you know that we have a citizen here who has lived with the community for half that period of time? Mr. Millard F. Shuff is the gentleman I am referring to. I believe he's 97 now. What a wealth of historical information the man must have in that agile mind of his and what a help this advice will be to the bicentennial committee. Why I bet the man knows the case history of every man, woman and child in the community.

I still think we should play up this antiquity angle. It really could be built up to something profitable and yet I don't believe there is what you might term a full-fledged antique dealer in the town. Imagine a town 200 years old with no antique shops or museums? Someone's missing out on a lucrative business.

Any musicians sticking around who are interested in reviving their talent? Well the local band is in need of replacements and can use players of almost any instrument. There are quite a few who are accomplished musicians living here and who, for some reason or another, have lost interest in their musical career. Really it's a pleasant and restful pastime to practice with the band one evening a week. There are many youngsters who need the guidance and assistance of older musicians and you can help quite a bit by practicing with the outfit. (Continued on Page Eight)

Democratic Rally Set For Tuesday

Local Democrats will meet at a gigantic rally to be held at the VFW Annex next Tuesday evening, Oct. 30 at 8 o'clock.

Lumen F. Norris, chairman of the local Democratic Central Committee, announced that noted speakers will be present at the pre-election rally. Principal speakers will be the Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland the popular young John R. Foley. Another well-known honored guest expected to be present is Joseph D. Tydings, president of the Maryland Young Democratic Club and son of former Senator Millard E. Tydings.

The committee in charge of the affair invites all those interested in the Democratic Party to be present at the event. Present will be noted political figures from the County and State and it is highly probable that George P. Mahoney, Senatorial candidate, will be able to attend. State Attorney Samuel W. Barrick will act as master of ceremonies. Mr. Norris also announced the opening of Democratic headquarters in the former Euphemia Rotering (Continued on Page Eight)

Catholic Church To Observe Centennial

Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Thurmont, will observe the centennial of the founding of the parish Sunday morning, Oct. 28, at 11 o'clock with a solemn mass of thanksgiving at which Archbishop Francis P. Keough, Baltimore, will officiate.

The clergy will be entertained at dinner at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, after the Mass at 1:30 p. m. A centennial party will be held for parishioners and friends in the evening at 7:30 o'clock at the American Legion Home, Thurmont.

Additional centennial observance will include a Mass for parish children Monday morning, Oct. 29, at 8:30 o'clock and a Mass for deceased members of the parish Tuesday morning, Oct. 30, at 9 o'clock.

Although the parish was not established in Thurmont until 1856 mass was offered in that area in Frederick County from the early days of the Maryland colony. Following the disfranchisement of Catholics in 1692 and removal of the seat of government from St. Mary's to Annapolis, many Catholic colonists began to migrate.

In 1808 Rev. John DuBois founded Mt. St. Mary's College which cared for Catholics at Emmitsburg, Mt. St. Mary's, the Furnace, and Mechanicstown, as Thurmont was called at the time.

Rev. (later Bishop) William McCloskey, early in 1856, engaged in negotiations to purchase land in Mechanicstown for the erection of a church. The edifice, built of stone quarried from the nearby Catoctin Mountains, was dedicated June 5, 1858, by Father McCaffrey.

The first resident pastor was Rev. John Conway, a widower, who had been engaged in the tea and coffee business near the Belair Market in Baltimore. He was pastor from 1881 to 1886. Other pastors include the following: Rev. Eugene S. Gwynne, 1886-1889; Rev. William H. Reaney, 1889-1891; Rev. Thomas J. Monteverde, 1893-1894; Rev. John P. White, 1894-1898 and Rev. Don Luigi Sartori, 1898-1900.

From 1900 to 1918 Rev. Frs. John B. Manley, Thomas Lyons and George H. Traggerer attended the parish from St. Anthony's Shrine, about five miles north of Thurmont. In 1918 Fr. Thomas J. Wheeler became the pastor. He was succeeded by Rev. Fr. William Nelligan in 1926 who was in turn succeeded by Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Curran in 1929. Other pastors since then have been Rev. Frs. Walter L. Read, Edward Roach, James C. Murphy, Roger K. Wood, John J. McShane, and Vincent J. Tomalski.

Many improvements to the interior and exterior of the church have been accomplished through the years. Under the direction of the present pastor, Rev. Fr. John J. Hart, who became leader of the congregation in 1954, the interior of the church has been completely renovated, a new roof added to the sacristy and the exterior painted.

The number of the parishioners has fluctuated through the years. At present there are approximately 102 families and about 246 souls in the parish. It was in 1892 that the name of the railroad station changed and the citizens voted to rename Mechanicstown, "Thurmont."

Sam Rayburn Is Featured Speaker At Banquet

Speaker of the House of Representatives Sam Rayburn will be the main speaker at the $100-a-plate Victory Dinner to be given by the Maryland Democratic Committee on Monday, Oct. 29.

This fund-raising event for the Democratic slate will be held in the ballroom of the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore. The mayor, Thomas D'Alessandro, will serve as toastmaster of what promises to be a harmony dinner for all Democratic factions in Maryland.

Only eight days removed from election day, this event also will serve as a springboard for the intense campaigning that will be done for and by all Democratic candidates for office, it was noted by State Senator John Grason Turnbull, chairman of the Maryland Democratic campaign.

Speaker Rayburn's address will be televised by Station WMAR-TV and broadcast by Station WBAL from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

Approximately 250 more Frederick County children were inoculated Monday morning with the Salk anti-polio vaccine at the County Health Clinic, according to Dr. Forbes H. Burgess, county health officer.

Dr. Burgess announced that no cards reminding parents when their children are due for the Salk shots will be sent out from his office.

He explained that parents receiving reminders when to bring their children in for the inoculation when the second shots were administered, and that parents should keep a record at home when their children receive each shot. Parents of children who received their first two shots in the school program, as well as other parents who have children due for second and third inoculations should make appointments in advance of the due date for inoculation either with their private physicians or at the county health office at Winchester Hall.

The time interval between inoculations of the vaccine is four weeks between the first and second shots, and a seven months' interval following the second shot.

Rev. Galambos Accepts Call To Ohio Parish

The Rev. Gideon E. Galambos, pastor of the Emmitsburg, Piney Creek, and Taneytown Presbyterian Churches, has accepted a unanimous call to the Elmwood Place Presbyterian Church of Cincinnati, O., where he has many friends.

At congregational meetings of the three churches his resignation was presented and regretfully accepted. It will be effective Sunday, Oct. 28.

Rev. Galambos came to these churches in January of 1953 from Philadelphia, where he had completed his ministerial education at Temple University at the same time serving a church in Philadelphia.

During his ministry here the congregations have added to their numbers, active organizations have been formed, and a Hammond organ installed in Taneytown. The benevolence giving has greatly increased as he strongly feels that the giving church is a living one.

Notwithstanding the few years he has been in this country, he has shown great ability in adopting the language and has been much sought after as a speaker in this community and elsewhere.

Rev. Galambos' friends are loathe to lose him as a pastor and friend, but with him and his family goes their heart-felt wishes that their work in the new field will be most successful, happy and rewarding.

Three new members were taken into the organization. They were Paul A. Keepers, James B. Bentz and Lewis E. Kreitz.

The shooting match committee reported that last Sunday's shoot was a financial success and thanked everyone who aided in the affair. Another match will be held on Sunday, Nov. 4, at the Civic Grounds. Proceeds of these matches are used for the purchasing of game which is stocked locally.

The sportsmen plan to make repairs to the clubhouse at Rainbow Lake on Sunday, Nov. 25, at which time a check will be made as to the need of repairs to fencing around the game preserve in that section. Signs and wire will be inspected and replaced if necessary. The president of the club requested as many members as possible be present at the inspection on Nov. 25 to assist with the work.

It was decided that once again the club will have refreshments available at the clubhouse during deer season. This has proven to be highly popular with hunters during the season, especially when the weather is bitter cold.

Following adjournment of the business session, refreshments were served.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man. (Matthew 15:11.)

Endowed with resources for happiness — social position, good health, and wealth — a husband and wife seemingly had everything to make life enjoyable and worth while. Yet the wife was oversensitive and jealous. Her attitude toward her husband provoked rude retorts on his part. They separated.

How much different life would have been if Christ had ruled in that husband wife! For our evil temper and for our wrath we find effective remedy only in the gospel. The power of Christ can redeem us. Then we learn that His teachings never fail. With spiritual rebirth Christ enables us to better our characters, overlook injuries and offenses, practice humility in our behavior, possess a hatred of sin.

Every person who accepts Christ as his personal Saviour makes a distinct contribution to a better world.

Barnyard "WHOOdonit"

The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens... and should be shot.

Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.

The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A mauling bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!

From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say... and be thankful we live where that's possible.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

As a Christian, I am making a contribution to world order, Tavares Franco (Brazil)

Way To Lose Freedom

When people become careless or neglectful of the privilege of voting for the governmental principles and the candidates of their choice they are creating a danger to the very existence of this basic freedom. By not exercising this great freedom of choice in governmental affairs they are handing over to someone else one of the commanding responsibilities of citizenship. And they must face this fact: The smaller the group that rises to dominate political power, the greater the danger of government becoming dictatorial and freedom being lost.

A Czechoslovakian refugee wrote a letter to the Christian Science Monitor which said in part: "You can't take freedom for granted. We Czechs learned that too late. We did not realize with so many citizens who are indifferent, a small, well-organized minority can turn the tables and seize power."

Acted Too Late

"The average citizen of Czechoslovakia in January of 1948 felt that his country was free—free in the full meaning of the word as understood in the Western democracies. They knew, of course, that the Communists held many key positions in the government—but 'wasn't a new election coming up in March?' They'd soon put an end to that! So what happened at the polls? There the voters were confronted with the lists of these 'coalition' candidates (Communists), and their choice was limited to voting for or against them.

"As one of the voters in Prague that day, who was not blinded by Communist bluffs, I went to the polling booth, determined to cast a white ballot (NO) to the government coalition. Like millions of others, I did not do as I had planned, and I returned home an hour later, discouraged, miserable and ashamed — having cast another vote for the hated dictatorship.

Minority Rule

"My reason for doing so was fear—fear of what consequences voicing my disapproval might have on me, on my friends and relatives. For the Communists were so determined to make the election a demonstration of their own superiority — they stopped at nothing to accomplish this aim. Slogans in the building where the election took place made this fact only too clear: ONLY A TRAITOR WILL VOTE AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT. WE WILL KNOW HOW TO DEAL WITH THE ENEMIES OF THE PEOPLE.

"The election itself was a farce as far as any secrecy was concerned. Each voter was given two ballots—the government one was yellow, listing the candidates in black print; the other was white with a black X signifying 'No'. The elector's duty consisted of putting one of these pieces of paper into an envelope and then into the ballot box, and throwing the other away. The different-colored paper made it extremely easy for anyone, even at the other end of the room to tell how one had voted.

Can Happen Anywhere

"As the last vestige of former free elections, a screen was provided at the far end of the room for those who dared use it in order to vote secretly, but another poster on the wall said ominously: ONLY THOSE ASHAMED OF THE WAY THEY VOTE NEED TO HIDE BEHIND A SCREEN. But even the few who perhaps used the screen did not achieve their aim or secrecy, because, as an additional check, an official stood at the door with a waste paper basket into which the discarded ballot had to be thrown. Needless to say the waste basket contained only white paper.

"What can happen in one nation can be repeated in another, and those who today do not heed the democratic slogan, VOTE AS YOU LIKE, BUT VOTE, may be subjected to ones which they will like much less... You can best preserve your democratic liberties, if, as an alert citizenry, you regularly exercise your democratic right to vote. If you don't you may find yourself left, as we Czechs did, with only the hollow shell of this supposedly inalienable right... Yes, voting and voting intelligently is our safeguard of freedom.

Mahoney Reveals Post-Election Plans

Regular visits to Maryland's 23 counties "... after my election as U. S. Senator" to ascertain "... the wants of the people" were pledged by George P. Mahoney during his three-week tour of the State that was concluded last Saturday (October 20).

The Democratic nominee in his travels discovered that his opponent made no visits to many parts of the State from the time of his campaign of 1950 up to the present — during his current campaign to get votes.

"It took Senator Butler six years to get back to the people who elected him," Mahoney said in a statement issued from his headquarters in Baltimore, "just as it took him six years to apologize for his campaign in 1950."

(A U. S. Senate committee, that investigated Butler's 1950 campaign, described it as "despicable and backstreet" and as "destructive of basic American principles." He accepted responsibility for acts in that campaign over a recent telecast.)

"Maryland's voters, I'm sure," Mahoney said, "will recognize both of these 'Johnnie-Come-Lately' tactics for what they are—as the frenzied actions of a politician who would do anything to get a few votes and not, as he would have you believe, as the noble, if belated, impulse of a truly sorry but interested public servant."

Everywhere Mahoney went throughout his tour he was hailed by friends he had made during his visits each year—both as a candidate and as a Maryland citizen interested in finding out how his fellow-Marylanders were getting along.

"I am going to work unceasingly to get industry for hard-pressed Western Maryland—and to get it the vital roads it needs to expand its tourist, hunting and winter sports' business," Mahoney told audiences in Oakland.

He pledged also he would work for farm programs benefiting the small farmers and to keep the great corporations from gobbling up the small and medium-sized farms of the Free State.

Mahoney spent much time also in visiting with Eastern Shore Fishermen and Oystermen and stated he would be "ever-conscious" of their needs.

Throughout the tour Mahoney stressed he would represent small business and the small farmer if elected to the Senate. He said he would be constantly available to

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run... Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah... it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world... a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy... and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

are instruments in the hands of men and if not in your hands— in whose? It is important to learn how to keep the power of governments in the hands of all the people and not let it shift to the government itself. Our founding fathers provided a Republican form of government for our nation to insure that no branch of government ever usurped power not rightfully assigned to it. The government is the servant of the people and not the people a servant of government. Tyranny develops out of a yielding power by the people to a centralized bureaucracy. The individual liberties guaranteed by the Constitution are the basic reason for our success as a nation and for your success and happiness.

"Sometimes overlooked," Rep. Hyde, "is the fact that our American system of free enterprise is no accident. It is powered by the Constitution which guarantees to every citizen the right to own personal and real property. Our whole vast industrial growth is the result of the guarantee of individual initiative."

The students, who had previously listened to a representative of the Democratic National Committee, heard Mr. Hyde explain the basic philosophy of the Republican Party. He told the students that the Republicans believe in a political philosophy that stresses the basic freedoms of the Constitution and the Republican form of government with its inbuilt provisions for a government of limited powers with a minimum of control over the people. The Democrats, on the other hand, tend to favor greater centralization of power in the government."

SPORTS
AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Most sportsmen don't give a hoot for coot, either as a game bird or food. But Harry Botsford, well-known writer of cooking articles, offers this recipe that will make you swap your ducks for coot:

The coot are cleaned, skinned and washed (giblets set aside and cooked separately if you desire). Remove and discard the wings; fillet the breast, slicing smoothly along the breastbone and dissecting carefully. Remove the legs; bone and remove their tendons, keeping only the meaty thigh pieces. Flatten the tough leg meat with a cleaver.

Prepare a marinade in a crock. For six coots, use one pint of dry white wine (sauterne is perfect); juice of two large limes, plus the squeezed peel; a medium Spanish onion sliced very thin; a minced hot green pepper; 2 cloves of garlic, mashed; and one teaspoon of salt, plus a tablespoon of Worcestershire sauce and a liberal pinch each of basil, chervil, and freshly ground sage.

This mixture is poured over the pieces of coot in the crock. If it fails to cover, add cold water until the meat is fully immersed. Put covered crock in refrigerator for at least 24 hours.

Remove the meat from the marinade, wipe dry, refrigerate for an hour. Toss pieces into a bag of seasoned flour until thoroughly coated. Fry until brown and transfer to a casserole. Then add a cup of the strained marinade, cover the casserole and put in a medium oven.

The coots are cooked for about an hour. Keep the level of the liquid about halfway up on the pieces by adding hot water from time to time. When they are nearly done—a fork will tell you—prepare a roux: browned flour and butter. Stir this into the coot and then add half a dozen fresh mushrooms and a small glass of dry sherry. Cook for 10 more minutes. Serve in the center of a ring of boiled wild rice, with lots of butter. With this you might serve sliced tomatoes, hot biscuits. Fruit and coffee for dessert.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped! Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

New Social Security Provisions Are Explained

By William T. Gillespie
Changes In Your Social Security
In my last article I told of self-employed lawyers, dentists, and other professional people now covered by social security. Under the 1956 amendments to the law, their earnings started to count towards old-age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families as of January 1, 1956. Naturally, they want to know how long it will take them to become insured under the law. To become insured under social security a person must have been in work covered by the law for a specified length of time. The amount of work required is measured in "quarters of coverage" which, in a general way, corresponds with a calendar quarter of work. A self-employed person gets 4 quarters of coverage for a year in which he has $400 or more in net earnings from self-employment. The usual requirements for becoming insured are one quarter of coverage out of every two calendar quarters elapsing after 1950, provided there are at least six quarters of coverage. Under the amended law, a person who works continuously after 1955 can become insured with fewer quarters of coverage. This change in the law permits self-employed professionals and others brought under social security as of the beginning of this year to disregard their years of non-coverage in acquiring an insured status under social security.

For example, Dr. Jones, a self-employed dentist, is now aged 63. He had never been in work covered by social security before January 1, 1956. Dr. Jones will reach 65 in 1958—two years after his self-employment first became covered under the amended law.

If his birthday is before April 1, he will need to have a quarter of coverage in each of the 8 quarters elapsing after 1955 and up to the quarter in which he reaches 65. If all these quarters are quarters of coverage, he will be insured for old-age benefits if he elects to retire at that time.

If Dr. Jones' birthday occurs in the second calendar quarter of the year, he will need 9 quarters of coverage before then; if he reaches 65 in the 3rd quarter of 1958, he needs 10 quarters of coverage before that time. If his birthday is after the end of September, 11 quarters of coverage up to that time will be required.

For death benefits purposes, however, Dr. Jones would be insured as early as April 1957 if all 6 quarters elapsing after 1955 and through the second quarter of 1957 are quarters of coverage. He would not then be insured for retirement benefits, as he would not yet be 65, but if he should die at that time, survivors payments could be made to certain of his dependents, as he would have met the minimum requirement of six quarters of coverage.

Ordinarily, benefit amounts are based on a person's average earnings in employment or self-employment covered by the law after 1950. If all the time elapsing after 1950 were used in figuring this average, self-employed professionals newly brought under social security would have five years in which these earnings were not covered and would count against them. The amended law permits the dropping of these five years.

A self-employed dentist, lawyer, or any other person whose work was first covered by social security this year, will not have his average earnings reduced when he qualifies for benefits because his work was not covered in the years 1951 through 1955.

In these articles, I have frequently mentioned aged 65 as the earliest age at which a person can qualify for old-age payments. This has been true since the beginning of social security insurance payments. It still holds for men. The recent amendments, however, provide for the payment of benefits to women beginning at age 62. In my next article I shall explain how women—retired insured workers and wives and widows or mothers of retired or deceased insured workers—can start getting benefit payments at age 62.

Old-Time Winters Will Return Meteorologist Says

Ten chilling years, "with a rapid return to the snows that Grandpa recalls," were predicted last week by Prof. C. L. Hosler of the Dept. of Meteorology, College of Mineral Industries, Pennsylvania State University.

Mixing science and, admittedly, a little guesswork, Prof. Hosler took issue with the contention that trends over the past half-century indicate that the Northeastern U. S. is getting warmer. "This was based on the observation that it was, in fact, warmer during the last 50 years than during the preceding 50 years," he told an Anthracite conference.

"There are indications however, that the trend has ceased and that we may return to colder weather. Historically, these warm and cool periods have been roughly of 100 years' duration and the temperature changes have been of about the same magnitude.

"By joining the ranks of the 'extrapolators' and by also considering some apparent statistical relationships of solar activity to weather that have not been established physically, I will predict, with tongue in cheek, that the next decade will be a cold one, with a rapid return to the snows that grandpa recalls."

WILLIE LIKES MARYLAND

Willie Hartack, who rode nearly one-fourth of his winners in Maryland when he won the national jockey title last year, will complete his 1956 title defense by riding out the Maryland racing season at Pimlico from Nov. 13 thru Dec. 15.

In 1955, 25 million sportsmen spent a total of $3 billion for 500 million days of sport. — Sports Afield bilization and Conservation Committee said total payments (in the form of certificates) for the U. S. were $68,501,532.59. Iowa led the list with some $20 million in payments.

In the final report on participation in the 1956 Acreage Reserve Program the maximum amount of payments farmers could earn by remaining in compliance with the program was placed at nearly $261 million. Since then, the Department of Agriculture has authorized the termination or modification of 1956 acreage reserve agreements by farmers who misunderstood the terms of the program. Consequently, the total amount to be disbursed under the program is expected to be somewhat under that figure.

The figures reported here are for the period ending October 12, 1956. Bradley said he expects another report to be released in about a week.

DEMOCRATS ...

"It is true
what they say about Georgie"

GOVERNOR WM. PRESTON LANE, JR. (DEM.)

(In Full Page Ad in "SUN", Sept. 10, 1950)

"Mahoney sent one of his gumshoe investigators down to the Eastern Shore Hospital and had him take some money pictures. One showed a man drinking out of a tin cup. But what he didn't show you was that the picture was cut so as not to show the dispenser of paper cups less than a foot away! "Another picture showed what they said were flies all over a ham. There were no flies there; the picture had been retouched. And, what do you think the little black specks were? CLOVES!"

REPRESENTATIVE LANSDALE G. SASSCER (DEM.)

(Baltimore Sun, May 3, 1952)

"I think it is time that Mr. Mahoney's tactics be exposed for what they are—a complete fraud and a hoax. In the first place, he has hired professional performers to dramatize events which never happened, just to delude television audiences. These actors tell a story about housing in St. Mary's County, using photographs taken at Great Mills, and telling the public they were taken at Lexington Park."

(Baltimore Sun, May 5, 1952)

Sasscer said that the pattern of Mahoney's campaign had been "vilification, innuendoes and statements uttered without any regard for truth, accuracy or fairness ..."

E. BROOKE LEE (DEMOCRAT)

(Baltimore SUN, June 22, 1954)

Lee said, "The advertising boys always built up Mahoney as a fighting man. Some 500,000 Maryland men managed to get into World Wars I and II. Mahoney was old enough for the first and young enough for the second and also rich enough to serve without hardship in the second. Yet Fighting George did not connect with either World War. He just took no notice of either. Now the publicity boys have a veterans committee working for this phony Mahoney."

DR. "CURLEY" BYRD (DEM.)

(Baltimore SUN, June 17, 1954)

Dr. Byrd called George P. Mahoney a "political character assassin" who "twists up and misrepresents" facts.

(Baltimore SUN, June 23, 1956)

Dr. Byrd accused Mahoney of using "misrepresentation" and "political trickery" with the race question. He said that Mahoney is "preaching the doctrine" to Negroes in Baltimore that he (Dr. Byrd) is prejudiced against the Negro race. He added that Mahoney supporters mailed out literature to five rural counties, purporting to show that he (Dr. Byrd) is "working too strongly for Negroes."

(Baltimore Sun, June 25, 1954)

Dr. Byrd added that it is impossible in a fight with Mr. Mahoney to "discuss the real problem of Maryland's state government because he and his advisors seem convinced that his best chance—perhaps his only one—is to indulge in mudslinging and smears and downright misrepresentation."

MAYOR THOMAS D'ALESSANDRO (Democrat)

(Baltimore SUN, May 1, 1952)

Mayor D'Alessandro told members of the Young Men's Bohemian Democratic Club that George P. Mahoney is a "party wrecker." He said that Mahoney "is trying to wreck the Democratic Party." He accused Mahoney of trying to smear Representative Sasscer. He said that Mahoney had padded the Office of Price Administration "with four of his relatives", and was using it for political purposes.

BALTIMORE "SUN" (Editorial, April 29, 1956)

"... But in all of these years of persistent politicking he (Mr. Mahoney) has failed to offer a single valid reason why he should represent this State in the United States Senate, or any indication that he has the capacity to cope with the fateful issues which that body must deal with. Such comments as he has made from time to time on public questions have carried no conviction, nor even given the impression that he knows what he is talking about."

BALTIMORE "SUN" EDITORIAL (August 23, 1956)

"Mr. Mahoney, so far as the public record is concerned, is devoid of political principles and in no way equal to the demands of the position of Senator."

BUT--Maryland points with pride to Sen. Butler's Record

"John Marshall Butler has been consistently attentive to his duties as a Senator of the United States, and constantly aware of his obligations to the State of Maryland and its citizens. While well-versed in the broad fields of national and international affairs, he never has lost sight of the opportunities to advance the proper interests of Maryland. As a member of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, he is in an advantageous position to give the best possible representation to this maritime State. He has used this advantage wisely and effectively.

In the interests of our great harbor facilities, the future of Friendship International Airport, our overland commerce by rail and highway, the general economy of this rapidly growing State and the prosperity of all its citizens, the people of Maryland will serve themselves best by re-electing Senator John Marshall Butler.

By ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Inflation

Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 25 —According to an apocryphal story, a legislator in Mexico moved that Gresham's Law (that bad money drives out good money) be annulled. When told that it was a natural law and could not be annulled, he then suggested that it be suspended for a time. The question of value has been a problem ever since money was invented—and, in fact, even before that time, no matter what commodity was used as the medium of exchange—tobacco or wives. Money has always had a tendency to depreciate in value, and it has at some time or other met with disaster in practically every nation—as in Germany when the mark went to zero in 1923, spelling the end of inflation for Germany.

What Is Inflation?

One cause of inflation is a much greater increase in the quantity of money in circulation relative to the increase in the volume of goods and services. This forces the price level upwards. Price indexes for a period of year show that there have been great fluctuations in the value of money in practically every country. When the purchasing power of the dollar has decreased too much, injury has been done to the investors and creditors as a group.

Kinds Of Inflation

Credit inflation can be generated by confidence, and monetary inflation can be caused by lack of confidence. Inflation results from a combination of two things: Oversupply of money and/or under supply of the nation's goods and services. National debt figures in that it creates bank deposits. It is not how far the debt goes that makes people lose confidence; it is how low production goes. If production keeps up with debt, there is no harm except psychologically. Lack of production means that the value of money is under suspicion. Inflation is always an attempt to escape heavy burdens—debt is often the core of the problem. The principal force making for price inflation is a huge expanded stream of income—purchasing power—which beats against a diminished supply of civilian goods and services.

Effect Of Inflation

The tragedy of inflation is the loss of purchasing power on the part of those who have been the most thrifty in saving money and building up assets and income for a rainy day. These are the holders of bonds and preferred stocks, the holders of insurance annuities, and those who have amassed large cash assets. It is characteristic of inflation that the time required for it to take hold is much longer than most people imagine. The most dangerous period is usually when the general public has been lulled into a false sense of security. It must be remembered that today we have a 52-cent dollar and that the cost of living is still going up. It is quite possible that within the next ten years prices may be much higher than they are today.

Inflation And Government

Ever since the inception of our national government, money and its value has been a concern of various administrations. It is one of our major problems at the present time. There are numerous opinions as regards the value of money. The late Senator Long's campaign slogan, "Every Man A Millionaire," did not take into account the fact that if all men were millionaires no one would be willing to work. The problem today is the effect of inflation on business. Politically, one party wants business to remain good until after election; while the other party is not so anxious to see good business before election.

Good Money!

The Mexican legislator was not far off in wanting to annul Gresham's Law. We would like to accomplish it in the U. S., but no political party can succeed in doing so. Practically all of our paper money has on its face a promise to pay but the government will not give us anything for it, except the same kind of money! Printed promises by any government mean little. The great financial need today is a national educational campaign by both parties combined, to teach the American Voter the honest truth about INFLATION.

An anchor held by a chain is less likely to drag than one held by a rope.—Sports Afield

Insurance Is Best Of Savings Accounts

Case M-336 Don G. Aged 29, is a husband who worried because he didn't have a savings account. "Dr. Crane, how is it possible for a young married man to lay up money for a rainy day?" he grumbled, unhappily.

Well, the best solution to that problem is for a husband to present his wife with a life insurance policy.

There is no more thoughtful and considerate gift that a husband can offer his wife.

For life insurance stabilizes marriage and keeps it happier. And I am not joking.

For example, it would take the average husband more than a lifetime to save $10,000 by banking a few dollars each week.

But he can, in effect, have $10,000 in his bank account inside of an hour if he takes out a $10,000 insurance policy and anything serious should happen to him later.

Insurance is the poor man's bonanza. For it enables every average worker to protect his family in just one hour of his time.

Insurance also is the savings account the average husband has while he is loaded with the obligations of rearing a family and paying doctor bills for the children.

Insurance also relieves his mind of a lot of anxiety over matters. For you can borrow money on your insurance if you need temporary loan to tide you over an unexpected dilemma.

If you should accidentally be snatched from this earth via auto wreck, your financial arms can reach out protectively from the Great Beyond to look after your wife and babies till they are grown.

That is especially true if you take out a "Family Income" type of policy.

Suppose, for example, on your wedding day you present your bride with a $10,000.00 "family income" policy.

If death should immediately intervene, she would get $2000.00 cash, $200.00 each month for 12 months, $100.00 a month for next 19 years, and at the end of the 20 years she would get $8,000.00 cash.

Furthermore, this "Family Income" Policy is only slightly higher than ordinary life insurance.

But if you can afford less than this amount it is available from $10,000 to as low as $3,000 and rates are governed accordingly.

To really start a real savings and protection plan, life insurance serves you and your family to the fullest extent.

For information as to your eligibility and plan to serve you best, don't hesitate to call or write,

WE REMEMBER . . .

THE U. S. S. "LEXINGTON"—"THE MINUTEMAN'S SHIP"

May 7-8, 1942—Coral Sea This was the first engagement ever fought between aircraft carriers. Neither the American or Japanese flat-tops fired at one another. The sinkings were accomplished by aerial bombs and torpedoes launched from planes. On May 7th planes from the "Lexington" sunk the Jap carrier "Ryukaku" by hitting it with 15 bombs and 15 torpedoes within two minutes time. It sunk with all its planes still aboard. The next day Jap dive bombers and torpedo planes attacked. Although hit many times the "Lexington" remained afloat until its crew was removed. Internal fires forced its abandonment. Torpedoes from American destroyers eventually sunk it. The battle forced the enemy to withdraw and maintained the line of communications between the U.S. and Australia.

PROF. THEODORE MAYNARD

Theodore Maynard, 65, a former English professor at Georgetown University and a widely-known poet and author, died this week at Port Washington, N. Y. Prof. Maynard, a native of Madras, India, where he was born of English parents, received his early education in England. He was married twice, the second time in 1945 as a widower. Seven children of the first marriage survive. In addition to his Georgetown post Prof. Maynard held similar faculty positions at Dominican College, San Rafael, Calif.; St. John's College, Brooklyn; Fordham University and Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

"To many employers it's a foregone conclusion that a handicapped person is a poor risk—a decided liability on a company's payroll. The truth of the matter lies in the opposite direction however. The Civil Service Commission has found the handicapped employed during World War II performed as well and often better than the able-bodied both in quality and quantity of work produced... lower rate of turnover... fewer lost time accidents. In employing the handicapped employers will be giving themselves as well as the needy a break."—Albany (N. Y.) Times Union

Cortisone has benefitted many cases of arthritis in old dogs and also seems to hasten the healing of ulcers of the cornea of the eye. It also has seemed of benefit in canine bronchial asthma.

Wounds on a cat's ear often are caused by the bites or scratches of other cats. Such wounds should be regarded as serious because they may develop stubborn infection if not properly cared for.
