BY ABIGAIL

And so the big super celebration of the Bi-centennial is drawing to a close. Tomorrow will draw the curtain on what has undoubtedly been the most gala, colossal and most colorful extravaganza ever seen in our beloved town. For those of you who were unfortunate enough to have missed the grand proceedings, I'm deeply sorry, because it won't—nay, it can't happen again in your or your children's lifetime, or indeed for the next generation after that. Time marches on—there's no turning back the pages in the book of life. It saddens me to realize that all the splendid events that have transpired during this historic week already have been filed away under the category of "ancient history."

To those of you who were lucky enough to either witness the proceedings or be on active participant in the various activities, I need not tell you what they did to your emotions. This much I do know—only a crew with abounding enthusiasm could have put the affair over so successfully. From the initial step of organizing over a year ago, appointing the various committees, to the very last act of drawing the concluding curtain tomorrow night, there was enthusiasm, sincerity, united concerted effort and determination on the part of everyone involved in the slightest degree, to push this thing thru to a successful termination. Actually it was a labor of love. Love for our tiny town that cradled and harbored us and which we have always and always will call home. Many of you no longer reside here, but in distant cities and far-away places. Nevertheless it's still home—Witness the stupendous number of former residents who came from all over to help celebrate Emmitsburg's 200th anniversary. Loyal, loving sons and daughters, in all walks of life.

It would be impossible and a bit unfair, I'd say, to single out any one individual or group for the purpose of handing out laurels. . . . My congratulations and sincere thanks and appreciation to each and every one of you who lent a hand in any way whatsoever, to make the gigantic celebration the magnificent success it was. I doubt very much if you could find five persons living here who didn't cooperate in some little way. As I said before, everyone went to bat for the old home team.

If I may be so bold as to become my usual flippant self for a moment, I simply can't help feeling that little ole Emmitsburg fooled a lot of people. No kidding, I think we surprised quite a few people by putting this affair over in such grandiose style. We really made 'em sit up and take notice. To quote one "doubting Thomas" whom I happened to overhear, "Really I didn't think Emmitsburg had it in it." To be honest, I didn't either.

I was a bit surprised at the talent that was uncovered in and around town. People you've seen every day of the year, worked with, argued with, lived beside for years and years, never suspecting that they did "have it in them," manifested their capabilities during the observance. People you mentally catalogued as having the personality of a dead fish, of being as stiff as a board or as meek and bashful as a lamb—all of a sudden cavorted about actively on the stage, shaking a "mean" leg, etc. The naughty Can Can, the equally bold Black Bottom and the hectic Charleston that leaves one breathless, in more ways than one. Ebulient carryings on that 6 months ago I would have bet my bottom dollar couldn't possibly have emanated from these people I had long ago believed

Dave Stouter, 5, Fatally Injured By Automobile

A five-year-old boy was the victim of an automobile mishap here Tuesday morning at about 10 o'clock when he was struck by a car as he attempted to cross the highway in front of his home in Emmit Gardens, on State Rt. 97.

David Leslie Stouter, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Stouter, died at the Warner Hospital in Gettysburg Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock of injuries received in the accident.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner said the death was caused by a fractured skull and fractured jaw as the result of the mishap. Residents said the accident occurred when the child attempted to cross the road to his home. They reported the child had waited for a car on the highway to pass, then started to cross behind the passing car. He apparently did not notice another car approaching from the other direction and darted out from behind the one vehicle into the path of the other.

The driver of the car which struck the boy, State Police said, was Mita Wilson Maxfield, 46, of Towson, Md., who told people at the scene that she never saw the lad until he was struck.

Young Stouter was the sixth person to be fatally injured by automobiles in this area since last February.

Surviving are his parents, Charles and Doris (Fox) Stouter; three brothers and sisters, Ronald, Maureen and Gary, all at home; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary M. Stouter, Emmitsburg, R. D., and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Fox, Rocky Ridge, Md.

Funeral services were held on Thursday morning at 11 a. m. at the Allison Funeral Home, West Main St., conducted by Rev. Fr. John D. Sullivan, C.M. Interment was made in the new St. Joseph's Catholic Cemetery. Pallbearers were cousins of the deceased.

The club welcomed six new members into their group. They were Mrs. Andrew Eyster and Mrs. John O'Donoghue, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Walter Crapster, Mrs. Chester Neal, and Miss Lisa Carpenter, Taneytown, and Mrs. Edward Richardson, Littlestown.

The Emmitsburg Girls' 4-H Club met at the home of Katherine Springer Wednesday afternoon. Miss Mary Thomas, assistant home demonstration agent from Frederick was presented to the seven members present by Mrs. Paul Beale.

CORRECTION

It was inadvertently listed in last week's Bi-centennial Edition of the Emmitsburg Chronicle that Carroll Topper was the proprietor of the Tract Inn. It should have read Mr. Carroll Troxell is the proprietor. We sincerely regret the error.

Colorful scene is photographed here as U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall crowns Miss Nancy Valentine "Miss Emmitsburg" and commissions her to rule as Queen over the week-long Bi-centennial celebration which closes tomorrow night with the concluding performance of the pageant.

Thirsty?

Jack Humerick brings smiles to the crowd during parade by a bit of clowning as an old-time barkeep. Whiskers are real.

TWO SPEEDERS AR ENABBED

A nightmarish automobile chase ended after about a six-mile stretch last Sunday when an Emmitsburg man, Lester Damuth, Jr., 22, was apprehended by State Trooper William G. Morgan. Trooper Morgan picked up Damuth's trail at the Square in Emmitsburg and raced him to the Cities Service Station, midway between here and Gettysburg before he could halt Damuth. Speeds exceeding 100 miles an hour were understood to be clocked during the chase. Damuth agreed to stand trial in Maryland and has been charged with exceeding 70 m.p.h. and reckless driving. A trial before Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan has been scheduled for Saturday.

An attempt to elude State Police in a wild mountain chase ended in vain for Earl Green, Thurmont on June 20. State Trooper Morgan spotted Green at the Friends Creek Church and signalled him to stop. Green attempted to escape in the car and a chase ensued for about three miles ending at the Phillips' Farm. Speeds up to 75 miles an hour over dirt mountain roads were recorded and Trooper Morgan charged Green with operating a car without a driver's license and reckless driving. Green will be given a Saturday hearing before Magistrate C. D. Gillelan in Emmitsburg.

Game Warden Confiscates Deer

County game wardens issued a warning this week that anyone found possessing young deer, (fawn) or illegal possession of any type of deer, will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. The warning came after Game Warden Richard Jacques confiscated two fawns which were in possession of an Emmitsburg District family. Warden Jacques states that under no condition is anyone, other than the proper authorities, permitted to keep deer regardless of the circumstances involved.

Game Warden Jacques asks that anyone having deer in their possession at this moment will not be prosecuted if they immediately turn over the animals to the proper officials. If not, investigation in this area will be made and prosecution will follow in the near future.

IKE AND PRIEST SWAP YARNS

When Monsignor John L. Sheridan, president of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, visited President Eisenhower recently to invite the Chief Executive to attend the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of the College to be held next year, talk turned to football. It developed that the priest and the President share a common experience. Both played against the Carlisle Indians and the great Jim Thorpe.

Msgr. Sheridan was accompanied by Senator J. Glenn Beall of Maryland, who was his "friendly enemy" when the senator attended the nearby Gettysburg College and the monsignor played on Mount St. Mary's eleven.

In the President's office talk got around to football games of 1912. Msgr. Sheridan, an All-Maryland halfback, recalled that the Mount St. Mary's team on which he played opened that season against the Carlisle Indians and took a 42-to-6 beating. The President recalled that the West Point eleven on which he played encountered the Indians later the same season and lost by a score of 32 to 14.

Even the pre-game warm-up offered something of a shock. Msgr. Sheridan recalled Mount St. Mary's had only 14 men on its entire squad, while the Indians sent out the field four teams of impressive size. Hopes sank even lower when it was observed that Jim Thorpe was kicking the football the length of the playing field in practice.

Msgr. William Culhane, vice president of the Mount, accompanied Msgr. Sheridan on the visit to the White House.

In 1916, the year following his graduation from West Point, President Eisenhower, while stationed at Fort Sam Houston, served as football coach at St. Louis College (now St. Mary's University) conducted by the Society of Mary at San Antonio.

Queen Crowned By Sen. Beall

His Excellency, the Governor of Maryland, the Honorable Theodore R. McKeldin and Mrs. McKeldin will attend the final performance of "Valley Echoes" the feature of the Emmitsburg Bi-centennial Celebration Saturday night. Gov. and Mrs. McKeldin will participate in the opening of the brilliant spectacle and extend greetings to Miss Nancy Valentine, Queen of the celebration who is ruling festivities as "Miss Emmitsburg."

Plans have been made to have the Governor present a beautiful miniature crown to Miss Valentine and have him join her in a recessional which they will lead by being drawn in an antique brougham coach. Then the Governor and his party will review the outdoor spectacle which has been playing to capacity audiences all week. The show depicts Emmitsburg and Frederick County history for the past 200 years, in beautiful and thrilling pageantry. Realistic and authentic old carriages have been obtained from the Horse and Buggy Museum in Gettysburg and are used to effective results in the portrayal.

The sham battles are particularly effective and . . . The Marines have landed! . . . In Emmitsburg! Acting on the request of French Sensabaugh, director of the Bi-centennial pageant "Valley Echoes," Lt. General Merrill Twining of the U. S. Marine Corps at Quantico, Va., is supplying six Marines to take part in "Valley Echoes." They will participate as a Color Guard with the Emmitsburg American Legion Color Guard in the prologue of the pageant each night. Their feature scene will be the forming of the tableaux of the "Raising of the Flag on Iwo Jima." The portrayal will be authentic as well as thrilling. The Marines also will take part in the patriotic finale and several sham battle scenes of the Revolutionary War and the War Between the States. The Marines are billeted at Mount St. Mary's College and appear in each performance of "Valley Echoes" through June 29. There is no admission charge to the Civic Grounds carnival and adult tickets to the pageant sell for $1.50 each.

Results Of Queen Contest Disclosed By Chairman

Dr. Gil Oddo, chairman of the Queen's Nominating Contest, released the final tabulation figures this week as the new queen began her reign.

Miss Nancy Valentine led the group with 1,042,000 votes; Pat Lingg, 860,400; Agnes Scott, 540,600; Lavonna Jones, 377,500; Miriam Fitz, 267,600; Ann Marie Myers, 150,000; Alice Scott, 148,200; Theresa Rybikowsky, 120,000; Mary Elizabeth Hoffman, 49,200; Marie Kankasky, 41,200; Pat Sprankle, 40,800; Norma Har- tie, 17,200 and Hilda Hemingway, 6,200.

Prizes for the Queen include: luggage, cash, shoes, a suit, a flight to New York City and a weekend at the Warwick Hotel. The management of the Warwick has graciously given the services of the hotel to Emmitsburg's Queen and her companion. The Bi-centennial Committee wishes to express its gratitude to the Warwick for its generosity. All the girls did a truly magnificent job and raised $2,500 in advance sales to the pageant.

Garden Contest Winners Listed

The winners of the Silver Fancy Garden Club contest held on Tuesday were as follows: First prize, Dr. H. P. Freeman; Second prize, Mrs. Vincent L. Hartdagen and Third prize, Mrs. Clarence G. Frailey. The judges were Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes and Mrs. R. L. Sebastian, Sr., of Uniontown, Md., members of the Carroll Garden Club, and Mr. Frank M. Butler of Taneytown, Maryland.

The committee in charge wishes to thank the contestants for their cooperation and assistance in making this contest a successful feature of Bi-centennial Week in Emmitsburg. The committee in charge of the project consisted of Mrs. Thomas J. Frailey, chairman, Mrs. Charles B. Shaughnessy and Mrs. George Thompson. During the judging members of the committee were attired in period costume.

Emmitsburg's streets echoed to the trample of thousands of marching feet as the opening activity of the Bi-centennial got under way last Saturday afternoon while an estimated 10 to 12 thousand observed the mammoth parade which took place in the scorching late afternoon. So hot was the temperature that a number of participants in the line of march lost the heels of their shoes in the molten tar of the macadam highway. It was reported that 30 or 40 fainting cases were treated by emergency crews on hand for any such mishap.

Many hundreds were disappointed as the parade broke ranks before reaching the Civic Grounds about a half mile east of town. Through some misunderstanding some units thought they already had reached the grounds and turned off into Emmit Gardens; others tired and fatigued by the torrid temperature, broke rank a short distance before reaching Flat Run bridge. The entire hour and a half spectacle was broadcast over WFMD Frederick while newspaper photographers found excellent "shooting" material in the numerous floats and marching units. Amateur photos enjoyed a field day.

Following the parade, led by U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of Mt. St. Mary's College, Msgr. William F. Culhane, vice president of Mt. St. Mary's and Very Rev. Francis J. Doid of St. Joseph College, the group was the guest of the Town Council at a luncheon at the Green Parrot Tea Room, along with several other invited guests. The group attended the coronation ceremonies preceding the pageant's initial showing at the Civic Grounds and Senator Beall crowned Miss Nancy Valentine as "Miss Emmitsburg" and commissioned her to rule over festivities during the week-long celebration.

Large crowds have patronized the carnival and pageant to date despite inclement weather Tuesday night when the pageant performance was cancelled. Sunday night's band concert by the Emmitsburg Municipal Band was well-received and a large crowd remained, despite rain, to witness

Congressman Hyde Deplores Communism

WASHINGTON—Last week I pointed out the true nature of Communism. How can we fight it? Communism is the personification of evil. Unless we see this we have no clear idea of how to combat its destructiveness. Communism must be rejected on its spiritual premises—its atheism, its materialism, and its economic determinism. We must also understand that it is a "religion" of promise—it cannot be defeated by the force of arms. The battle with Communism is ideological and spiritual.

The weapons in the fight against Communism are: knowledge, courage, faith and dedication. The reason for education on Communism is so that we may realize the nature of the danger we face. It should be taught as a vicious Social Disease—not as just a course in comparative political philosophy.

I have noted that the battle against Communism is primarily a spiritual conflict. Knowledge, faith, courage, and dedication are the superlative weapons. We must mobilize the loyalty, discipline, and willingness to sacrifice of every American in the fight to protect our Nation from the onslaught of evil.

I would like to remind my readers of the public hearing that was held by the Army Corps of Engineers at the Richard Montgomery High School in Rockville on June 25. The Engineers want the views of our people on a comprehensive water development plan for the Potomac River Basin.

Despite printed information to the contrary, Rep. John A. Blatnik of the House Public Works Committee has planned all along to hold hearings on my bill to authorize a dam for the new PEPCO power plant in Montgomery County as soon as the Committee disposes of the Rivers and Harbors bill.

The Army Corps of Engineers has called for bids for improvement of the channel of Bear Creek in Garrett County, at Friendsville.

The Senate has approved a bill identical to mine now pending in the House which would preserve the insurance held by Government employees and retirees in their various benefit associations.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

God commandeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. (Romans 5:8.)

Gloria had given vent to her temper by screaming while she pulled her bedding off her bed and tossed it on the floor.

Now, still pouting and miserable, she sat down on the porch beside her mother. Neither of them spoke. Finally, Gloria leaned her head against her mother's shoulder and said, "Does God love me, Mummy? Does He love me even now?"

"Yes," was the quiet reply, "God loves you very much, even now, but He doesn't love the way you have acted and what you have done."

A few minutes more passed. Then Gloria crept within the circle of her mother's arm and cuddled up close to her.

After waiting a while longer, the mother looked down at the little daughter and said, "Shall we go in now and fix up your bed again?"

Looking up with a smile, Gloria said, "Yes, and I'm sorry for what I did and how I acted."

Prayer

"Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving-kindness. . . Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities. Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." In the Redeemer's name. Amen.

State Farmers

Vote For Wheat Quota Control

Preliminary returns from the wheat referendum held June 20 show that 81 per cent of the Maryland wheat farmers voting favored quotas on the 1958 wheat crop, Leonard C. Burns, chairman of the Maryland Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced. Maryland farmers cast 553 votes, representing about 11 percent of those farmers eligible to vote in the referendum.

The 81 percent of Maryland wheat growers favoring the quota for 1958 compares to 78 per cent in 1957 and 57 per cent in 1956.

The preliminary vote for Frederick County was 27 for and 6 against.

Nationally, preliminary returns show 83.3 percent in favor of quotas. Although this is a preliminary tabulation, the final total is not expected to show any significant change.

Because wheat marketing quotas proclaimed by Agriculture Secretary Benson are effective on approval of two-thirds or more of the voting farmers in the referendum, marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1958 crop.

Your Personal Health

How Much For Health?
How much is good health worth? If you have it, you don't worry about it. If you don't have it, you'd give every cent to get it. You can't put a price on it. But you do pay for it.

The average American family spends four to five per cent of its yearly income for medical care and related services. All of us together spend more than ten billion dollars for personal health services. That's not counting what the federal, state and local governments spend. Of course, we spend more than that for recreation, more for alcoholic beverages and tobacco, twice as much to buy and maintain our cars. Four or five per cent doesn't seem too much for health.

But does that mean you can budget five per cent for medical expenses for the coming year, and stick to the budget? We all know better than that. Where is that average American family? A 1953 survey showed that 11 per cent of American families incurred 43 per cent of the national medical bill. Eight per cent had no medical costs whatever that year. Wonder what happened to them in 1954?

We all know that illness inevitably strikes each of us at some time. Even with the wonders of modern medical science good health is not a foregone conclusion. We can't take it for granted.

Good health is possible only when we take full advantage of what modern science can do for us. Maybe this year you and your family were lucky. Maybe you didn't spend your share of that ten billion dollars. But you don't have to trust to luck. You can help yourself avoid the heavy medical expenditures that come Patrolman Michael Regan sees his friend, Harry Sharp, getting into a parked car and taps him on the shoulder. "What did I do?" asks Harry. "I think maybe you stole this new Ford," Mike grins—"don't you always drive a medium-priced car?" "I bought this Ford Fairlane," Harry retorts, "and it's the BEST car I ever bought. I got this big, good-looking automobile, plus automatic transmission, radio, heater, whitewalls, two-tone—the works—for lots less than I'd have paid for an unequipped medium-priced car." "Sure and you're not as dumb as you look—I'll have to let you go," quips Mike. "You'll get a Ford Fairlane, too, unless you're as dumb as you look," Harry tells him. All kidding aside, a Ford with all the Luxury extras is really the steal of the year!

Communist-Style Disarmament

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are talking again or arranging a disarmament agreement with Soviet Russia. In the light of this development it is well for the people of America—and perhaps some of our leaders—to be reminded of what the founders and leaders of International Communism have written about disarmament and war for the special teaching of each new generation of Communist leaders. Here are a few statements from the basic textbooks of Communism, supplied by the Division of Research for USSR and Eastern Europe, Office of Intelligence Research, Department of State:

From THESE AND RESOLUTIONS, 6th World Congress of the Communist International—Vol. VIII, No. 84, pp. 1596-7: "The disarmament policy of the Soviet government must be utilized for purposes of agitation . . . (1) for recruiting sympathizers for the Soviet Union—the champion of peace and Socialism; (2) for utilizing the results of the Soviet disarmament policy . . . to eradicate all pacifist illusions and to carry on propaganda among the masses in support of the only way toward disarmament and abolition of war, viz., arming of the proletariat, overthrowing the bourgeoisie and establishing the proletarian dictatorship."

"This clearly says that Soviet 'disarmament' talks and agreements must be used merely as maneuvers to help reach the main objective—overthrow of the capitalist nations and establishment of Communist world dictatorship.

A Tactic Of Delay

STALIN: "We cannot forget the saying of Lenin to the effect that a great deal in the matter of our construction depends on whether we succeed in delaying war with the capitalist countries, which may be delayed either until proletarian revolution ripens in Europe or until colonial revolutions come fully to a head, or finally, until the capitalists fight among themselves. Therefore, the maintenance of peaceful relations with capitalist countries (Ed: until the time is ripe) is an obligatory task for us. The basis of our relations with the capitalist countries consists in admitting the co-existence of two opposed systems."

(This says clearly that the strategy is to delay the inevitable war until all the advantages are on the side of the Communists).

"Peace" A Deception
LENIN: "If war is waged by the exploiting class with the object of strengthening its class rule, such a war is a criminal war, and 'defencism' in such a war is a base betrayal of Socialism. If war is waged by the proletariat after it has conquered the bourgeoisie in its own country, and is waged with the object of strengthening and extending Socialism, such a war is legitimate and 'hoiy.'"

LENIN: "Every 'peace program' is a deception of the people and a piece of hypocrisy unless its principle object is to explain to the masses the need for a revolution, and to support, aid and develop the revolutionary struggle of the masses."

Meaning Of "Peace"
LENIN: "There is a glaring contradiction between the imperialists' policy of piling up armaments and their hypocritical talk about peace. There is no such contradiction, however, between the Soviet government's preparations for defense and for revolutionary war and a consistent peace policy. Revolutionary war of the proletarian dictatorship is but a continuation of revolutionary peace policy 'by other means.'"

Our Government should enter into no agreements on disarmament with the Soviet Communist government until its leaders one by one have announced to the world a renunciation of Leninism and have shown concrete evidence of their truthfulness. This could happen, but I wouldn't advise anyone in the State Department to hold his breath until it does!

Helpful Hints To Homemakers

New Carpets Are Easy On The Eyes

"Today's carpets are just plain pretty," says Vivian L. Curnutt, extension home furnishings specialist. They have a wide selection of gay or muted colors. The textures and patterns are intriguing and give a room special character. The good news is that this wealth of design, with a "custom look" is available in every price range.

It is the look and the feel of a carpet, today, and how it suits the family's way of living that determines the choice, Miss Curnutt says.

There are unusual color combinations in the tweed family, such as dots of color on a neutral background and a whisper of a pattern. If there is lots of traffic on your floors, tweed designs conceal signs of traffic. They are available in every fiber and every type of carpet construction.

The solid-colored carpets may be found in new subtle shades in plain or textures. For suburban and country settings that share the out-of-doors through window walls, there are new versions in all price ranges of the beige-to-browns-known as "wood tones." Unusual additions are tones of copper, a variety of greens, and tangerine or gold for accents.

For the city or apartment residence, carpet color is unlimited. Those who just naturally like blues will have a wider choice than ever in this color family that's growing back into favor. The new blues are powder, peacock and periwinkle. The aquas are a little more on the blue side. To compliment the blues in other furnishings there are many new carpets in shades of rose, lavender and gray.

In general, all colors are lighter, including some whites and off-whites. Touches of white are worked into patterns and tweed designs to give an over-all fresh feeling on the floor.

One chief trend in texture is the handcrafted look. Ingenuity with looms and new bulky fibers have resulted in a variety of designs with a handmade look, which sets the stage for colonial or casual-modern decoration.

Equally evident this June and a little more formal are several level-textures with abstract designs which give the interest of pattern underfoot, but do not compete with other patterns in a room.

There is renewed interest in florals with charming contemporary versions, generally small in scale. Other designs are inspired by the Near East, the Orient, English and French tradition and are translated by American designers into simplified patterns that look right to the 1957 homemaker.

Big Purse Racing For Pimlico

Horse racing's official Triple Crown is composed of the Kentucky, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, but the sport's "money triple crown" will be a trio of juvenile races to be run this fall.

The nation's most famous races for two-year-olds—the Pimlico Futurity, Belmont Futurity and Garden State Stakes—will have a combined value to the winner of approximately $375,000.

The current news about the national budget and federal spending may make $375,000 look like an insignificant sum, but only 47 horses in all racing history have earned that much in their entire racing careers and it took them an average of 52 starts to turn the trick.

The gross purses of the three juvenile classics will add up to over $600,000—the most lucrative series ever presented for a single division of racers. This explains why many of the highly regarded two-year-old prospects have not yet made their seasonal debuts. They are being reserved for autumn's "dollar derbies."

The new richness of the series is attributed to the fact that conditions for the 1957 Pimlico Futurity were changed with an increase of $25,000 in added money. This, along with increased eligibility payments, will give the 35th running of this Maryland classic a gross value of about $170,000 of which the value to the winner will be near $115,000. Last year's winning share to Missile was $71,235.

Thus, the Pimlico Futurity becomes America's second richest race, behind only the Garden State Stakes which in 1956 grossed $319,210 with the winner Barbizon picking up $168,430. The Belmont Futurity, oldest of the three races, grossed $124,845 with $91,145 to the winning Bold Ruler.

The jackpot series will be launched this season on September 28 with the Belmont Futurity in New York at six-and-one-half furlongs. Racing's version of "Strike It Rich" moves to Garden State on October 26 and then winds up in a flood of greenbacks at Pimlico on November 23.

Both the Pimlico Futurity and Garden State Stakes are run at 1 1/16 miles around two turns, the most severe tests of the year for two-year-old colts. But the spacing of the three races, nearly a month apart, gives all of them a chance to be honed to a fine training edge before being put to the test.

Showing the interest of horse owners in bagging these lucrative pots is the fact that more than 2,000 colts and fillies were originally nominated to the Pimlico Futurity. Subsequent developments reduced the number of eligibles to 373 when the third eligibility payment was made on March 15.

A fourth payment of $200 for each candidate will become due on August 15.

St. Joseph College Student Writer Of Prize Essay

A prize-winning essay on Revolutionary War hero La Fayette, written in French and open to American college seniors, has merited for Mary Deane Broderick, '57 graduate of Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, a six-week vacation in France with all travel and living expenses paid. Miss Broderick is one of eight students sharing in the award made by the sponsor of the contest, the French Embassy, assisted by the Modern Language Association of America, the American Association of Teachers of French, and the Society of French professors in America. Chief director of the contest was Mr. Edouard Morot-Sir, cultural counselor at the French Embassy in New York and representative of French Universities in the U. S.

Besides the expenses of the trip, Miss Broderick and her fellow prize-winners will be participants in special ceremonies organized in France in honor of the bicentennial of the birth of La Fayette, famed in this country for his assistance in the cause of American Independence. Toward recognition of "La Fayette Year," the winning essay was entitled "La Fayette, merci!"

The daughter of Mrs. A. C. Broderick of Cambridge, Mass., Mary Deane completed her college course as a concentrator in English and French, and plans to pursue her studies as a teacher of French in Massachusetts. Her French projects have been stimulated through membership in the college Omega chapter of the national French honor society Phi Delta Phi, under the direction of Sister Margaret Flinton, Doctorat de l'Universite de Paris. Miss Broderick fulfilled her student teacher requirements in French at Seton High School, Baltimore, last fall.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

This is the eve of the world's greatest achievement in its long struggle to harness the atom for peaceful endeavors.

After 3 1/2 years of studies, negotiations, hopes and prayers, the International Atomic Energy Agency is about to be brought into existence.

Much misunderstanding has surrounded this issue, and, therefore, I would like to present a brief outline of the current status of the agency and what it is designed to accomplish.

Background Of Treaty
Behind the IAEA proposal is the historic atoms-for-peace plan which President Eisenhower presented to the General Assembly of the United Nations in December of 1953.

This plan was eventually drafted into a proposed treaty, to which 80 nations gave tentative approval.

Of these 80 nations, 18 were required to submit formal ratifications to make the agreement effective.

A further provision pertaining to this point provided that 3 of the 18 ratifying countries had to be from the five-power block composed of the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, France and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. These nations were selected because they were considered to be the most advanced in their work with the

Current Situation

Today the situation is as follows—

Eleven nations, including one in the specifically named group (Russia), have deposited ratifications;

The United States Senate has agreed by a vote of 67 to 19 to approve the treaty, and our nation will be added officially to the list of ratifiers as soon as certain formalities are completed;

Other nations are expected to follow suit, thus providing the international agreement with a sufficient number of signatures.

It should be remembered that in all of the negotiations since the President first offered his atoms-for-peace proposal, the United States has consistently taken the initiative.)

IAEA Objectives
The objectives of the IAEA, as expressed in its Section II, are these:

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

It is a fact that many owners of outboard motorboats are not getting the performance they should from their modern outfits. Even at sub-par, new outboard boats may perform so much better than the outboards of yesterday that a don't-know and don't-care situation has developed not only among new owners but with many dealers, says Sports Afield

Magazine's Boating Editor Wilard Crandall.

Performance is simply speed and handling on turns and in rough water. Comfort enters into the picture, too. It is important to remember, says Crandall, that under-par performance can easily become poor or unsafe for those who can't recognize it.

First and foremost in any consideration of performance is not only how much weight is carried aboard, but just where it is placed. This is obvious in the case of most small-motor boats that cut through the water instead of planing. Too much weight forward, and the bow may cut in dangerously and the propeller may even come out of water. Shift the weight aft, and the stern will sink down. Move toward one side and the boat leans. Weight distribution is every bit as important with slow-moving boats as with fast, big-motor craft.

Outboard runabouts are now being introduced that have been designed to carry weight amidship or forward. Most of these handle as well with the passengers toward the bow, but some don't. Most of them still go a little faster with weight aft. An exception is the boat with only just enough power to plane. For increased speed, the weight may then have to be moved forward.

A lean with a slow boat makes it handle badly. A planing boat leaning to one side loses speed even though the amount of tilt never looks like much. Even if the weight is exactly centered a boat will lean because of the torque of the engine propeller. This is one good reason to have the steering wheel located on the proper side. Generally this is the right-hand side, but the propellers of some outboard motors rotate in the opposite direction.

ally," the NAM said. "Federal participation in state and local programs should be confined to leadership through research and advice. Federal grants - in - aid should be terminated soon."

The NAM study points out that Congress now possesses the power to do almost anything it wants "simply by spending more money and exercising the controls which is always the privilege of the one who pays the bills."

"The grant-in-aid device," the study said, "is used to persuade the states to accept federal controls. The bait for securing state participation is the matching grant, which ordinarily suffices to win local legislative support because of the natural human reaction that if someone else is getting some federal money, 'we might as well get our share whether needed or not.'"

"If there is any help that the federal government is justified in giving the states, it is helping them to help themselves by refraining from doing so much for them."

Livestock Dealers Must Be Licensed

A new law governing livestock sales in Maryland requires dealers to obtain licenses by July 1. In addition to the licensing feature, the new law requires dealers to keep records of sales, including health status.

Enacted by the recent session of the General Assembly, the new regulation is intended to provide greater control over the spread of animal diseases.

Persons known to be engaged in livestock sales have been sent copies of the new law and applications for license by the State Veterinarian, A. L. Bruecker. Dealers in livestock who may not have been contacted can secure more information from their local Livestock Sanitary Service Laboratory.

Social Security Office Open Saturday For Convenience

The Hagerstown social security district office at 74 W. Washington Street will be open all day Saturday, June 29, in addition to its normal week-day schedule. W. S. King, district manager, said this week. Mr King explained that this special Saturday schedule of office hours, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. will enable the office to accept last - minute applications from severely disabled people who may be eligible for social security disability protection. This will be the only Saturday that the social security office which serves Frederick County will be open for business.

King pointed out that people who have been disabled and unable to work for a long time must apply before June 30 for disability benefits or to have their earnings records "frozen." Otherwise, they may, in some cases, lose their rights to disability payments and also their own and their family's rights to old-age and survivors insurance payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for at least 5 years and has been disabled for 6 months or more should get in touch with the Hagerstown district office right away. If he is between 50 and 65, he may be eligible for monthly disability payments. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to protect his future right to disability payments as well as the rights of himself and his family to old-age and survivors payments.

"To get social security disability insurance benefits at age 50 or over, or to have your social security record frozen," said King, "you must have social security credit for at least 5 years of work in the 10 years before you became disabled. At least a year and a half of that credit must be for work during the 3 years just before your disability began. In addition, you must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes you unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity. It must be the kind of physical or mental condition which will show up in a medical examination or tests, and it must have lasted for at least 6 months and be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time."

He emphasized that any disabled person who feels that he might qualify under these provisions of the Social Security Act should get in touch with the social security district office before June 30 by letter, phone, or in person. If he is not able to do so himself, someone else may make the contact for him.

Proper Wiring Explained

In a previous article we discussed the make-up and functions of the service entrance—the point where your electric service actually enters your home. The service entrance equipment includes conductors, service drop and many other items which do not interest the average layman.

However, in this article, we are going to cover a small item of service entrance equipment that has caused homeowners many a headache—but one that has saved many a life—the fuse.

The fuse box is one of the few actual contacts the resident has with his electric service aside from the actual use of electricity for lighting and appliances.

A fuse is the guardian or safety valve for your wiring system. Its purpose is very simple. When you try to use more electricity than your wiring can carry, the fuse steps in and prevents any overheating of the wires that would eventually lead to fire. How? A fuse contains a metal strip which will melt and cut off the electricity from the main circuit. When this occurs, the fuse "blows."

Fuses will also "blow" when two electric wires accidentally cross, causing what is called a "short circuit."

You should, of course, know exactly where your fuse box is located so that you can replace fuses at once.

There are several steps to be followed in replacing a "blown" fuse:

1—Disconnect lamps and appliances put out of service by the "blown" fuse.

2—Turn off the main switch.

3—Replace the blown fuse with a new one of the same size. They screw in and out like light bulbs.

4—Turn on the main switch.

Remember too, when replacing fuses, always stand on a dry surface—not directly on the concrete floor.

Many modern homes have "circuit breakers" instead of fuse boxes. They perform the same function as the fuse. Protection from over-loading is obtained from a bi-metallic element which opens the circuit if the current exceeds the capacity of the breaker or if a short circuit occurs.

When one of these faults occurs, the circuit breaker handle automatically jumps to the "tripped" or "off" position. No electricity will flow over that circuit until you have reset the switch to the "on" position, after taking care of the difficulty.

The safety provided by fuses and circuit breakers is an important feature of your electrical service. However, the fact that protection is there, should not result in complacency.

When a fuse "blows" or a circuit breaker "trips" frequently or repeatedly — have your wiring system checked by an electrical contractor. It's a simple job for him and it may eventually save you many dollars in comfort, time and most important, protection.

Government Control Deplored By Group

PHILADELPHIA — "Main Street versus Washington, D. C." — the struggle for your hometown and state to escape the control and power of the federal government's authority in contrast to the findings of our founding fathers—is the new study released by the National Association of Manufacturers. The study points out that the United States cannot continue indefinitely along the road of bigger, more expensive and more powerful central government without "undermining state sovereignty and losing our birthright of freedom."

The NAM study calls for a re-assessment of governmental responsibilities and the return to state and local community of many of the functions which have been assumed by the federal government in the past 20 years.

"Government functions should be performed by the smallest units competent to deal with them satisfactorily and economic-

Baltimore Raceway Gears For July 1 Opening

BALTIMORE, Md. — Baltimore Raceway, third link in the "short ship" chain of 72 nights of pari-mutuel racing in Maryland, will raise the curtain on its eighth season Monday, July 1, with indications of one of the best seasons in the history of the track, located at Pulaski Highway and Martin Boulevard, just 9 miles from downtown Baltimore.

The Baltimore layout, regarded as one of the best looking half-mile tracks in the nation will house approximately 625 trotters and pacers for the 24-night meet. There will be a new team working this season at Baltimore Raceway—that of Lynch and Lynch. They are not related.

M. Joseph Lynch, now of Towson, Md., former crack investigator for the FBI, is the new General Manager. James M. Lynch of Abington, Mass., is the new Racing Secretary. Joe Lynch succeeded Dick Hutchison, Jr. and Jim Lynch succeeded Charles M. Larkin.

Lynch and Lynch have promised fans a high calibre of racing this year. They have carded no less than 19 early closing events and are offering approximately $240,000 in purses.

Baltimore Raceway this season will have a definite advantage over last year's meet which was hit hard by cold and rainy weather, forcing cancellation of 4 complete nights of racing. The return to mid-summer racing dates definitely signals increased attendance and mutual play over 1956.

A lot of improvements have been made at the Baltimore track. Ted Ketchum, track superintendent, has done a complete overhauling job and is aiming his sights on a 2:00 mile this year. The barn area has been regraded; a large ultra-modern American Totalizer Board, giving complete mutual pool and other wagering information, has been repainted and spruced up; the clubhouse and grandstand have been repainted. The entire place has been beautified.

Post time is 8:30 p. m., with the daily double at 8:20 p. m.

Baltimore Raceway's first week is studded with many interesting events and some of the nation's top horses and drivers will be on hand for Monday night's opener, the $3,500 Essex, Class 16 pace, has drawn no less than 16 nominees including Aubry Vo Guy, Direct Walnut, J.D.S., Jade Hanover, Miss Chief Forbes and Top Rosecroft.

The $2500 Gridiron Club of Baltimore trot will be held on July 2 and the $2,500 Baltimore pace, with 80 nominees will be held on July 4. The week's big event will be the $10,000 third leg of Maryland's Triple Crown. Ten have been nominated for this top pacing classic, including Adios Harry, the world's fastest harness and winner of the first leg at Rosecroft, and Billy Houghton's Belle Acton, winner of the second leg at Laurel Raceway. The Saturday July 6 feature, will be the $4,000 Towson trot.

An additional feature this year will be Ladies Nights, to be held each Tuesday during the meet. The first taking place on July 2. Ladies will be admitted for the small fee of $25.

Among the top drivers who will be racing at Baltimore besides Houghton, who led the nation the past five years, are Johnny Simpson, leading driver at Laurel Raceway; Stanley Dancer, leading driver at Yonkers (N. Y.) Raceway; Del Miller, one of the best trainer-drivers in the business; Jack Wilcutts, who lead the drivers at Baltimore last year; Frank Safford; Ellis Myer; Johnny Belote; Tom Walters; Joe Eyler and Olin Davis.

The outstanding trot at Baltimore Raceway this year will be the $10,000 Governor's Cup, with 10 nominated. Baltimore also has carded a two-year-old trot for $4,000 on July 9; a two-year-old pace for $4,000 on July 11; a three-year-old trot for $5,000 on July 17; and a three-year-old pace for $5,000 on July 18. Baltimore Raceway's pacing record could easily be in jeopardy. The record is 2:00 1/5, held by Adios Boy.

Babson Discusses

Automobile Congestion

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 20—Of two things I am certain, either radical steps must be taken to head off the increasing congestion in cities, or else the sale of automobiles will decline. Either a hundred billion dollars must be expended for road improvements, or else readers had better sell their General Motors stocks on the next good rise. Furthermore, I believe that instead of spending money on new turnpikes, it would be better to double the width of our ordinary two-lane roads, making four lanes with a barrier in the middle. However, this would increase the congestion in cities. City Legislation Needed

Of course, the first thing which all cities should do is to keep all trucks off streets during the busy hours, — with deliveries permitted only between 6 p. m. and 8 p. m. This should be done at once, in every city having a population of over 50,000. The next step would be to eliminate all parking on downtown streets. A start has been made on this; but the problem has not been tackled heroically. Parking meters are a step in the right direction, but they are not the ultimate solution.

Frankly, if I were a young man today, instead of going into the automobile business, I would purchase land for a good downtown parking lot and gradually build a chain of parking lots. It seems as if garages for parking would be a good investment if properly located. I shall watch with interest the new mechanical "pushbutton garages" and note how they "take." I understand that such an open-air four-story garage costs about $400,000. At any rate, my guess is that during the years ahead there may be more money in parking automobiles than in selling automobiles! Wise are the city authorities who now spend money to buy up old buildings and install parking lots. In fact, such parking lots are a city's main hope, combined with proper advertising and service for downtown retail stores. In this connection I repeat a former forecast that all new retail stores will be larger, will be confined to one floor and that the clerks will be on roller skates. Motorscooters, Bicycles, and Roller Skates

If parking on streets is eliminated, this will speed up traffic and should help the bus companies of each city. On the other hand, more traffic lights should be installed at crossroads. The speedier the traffic, the more traffic lights will be needed. The question is, how will the waits and congestion at these cross streets be eliminated? This brings me back to Sir Isaac Newton's great basic Law of ACTION AND REACTION.

Automobiles will only continue to grow longer for a period, after which a reaction will set in and cars will be made shorter and shorter. Shorter cars, however, will not end the congestion at street crossings. In accordance with the Law of ACTION AND REACTION, when the sale of cars begins to decline, the sale of motorscooters, bicycles, and roller skates will begin to increase. Now let me give my final forecast on the solution of the traffic problem. Overhead Throughways For Motorscooters, Bicycles, and Foot Passengers On Roller Skates

In most cities, awnings are now permissible for retail stores. These provide protection to pedestrians against both rain and extreme sunshine. In most cities there are miles of these awnings over the sidewalks. My forecast is that these awnings will be replaced by throughways for the use of motorscooters, bicycles, and perhaps foot passengers on roller skates. These throughways could be overhanging from the buildings just as the awnings now are; but they would be built by the city authorities and a small toll charge could be made for their use. They would be no wider than the sidewalks and would be elevated over all streets. This would enable a cyclist to go from the city line into the heart of the city without stopping for crossroads or intersections.

These elevated "throughways" would serve also as protection from rain and sun to pedestrians on the sidewalks below. They would have outlets at every building. Just inside each building would be a place to park vehicles. Cities would soon be repaid for building these elevated "throughways" by increased assessments. They

From "40 & 8" Train to Jail

The "40 and 8" group came to town for a ride—but not the type they expected. Herded from their famous engine by the Brothers of the Brush these unfortunates were taken for a tour of the town in the Bi-centennial jail—all in good clean fun.

ROBERT KOONTZ IS NEW POLICE CHIEF HERE

Robert Lee Koontz, former chief of the Emmitsburg Police Dept., has been appointed to fill the vacancy existing in the department by the resignation of Police Chief Daniel J. Kaas. Mayor Clarence G. Frailey made the official appointment this week. At the present time Chief Koontz is serving Taneytown in the same capacity and will take up full-time duty here on July 15. Chief Koontz held the position as head of the local police department for about two years previously, 1952-53 and has been employed by Taneytown ever since his departure from Emmitsburg. Chief Kaas has accepted a position as custodial officer at the Maryland State Reformatory for Males, near Hagerstown, and will continue his duties here until Chief Koontz fulfills his commitments with Taneytown, in about two weeks.

SCHRADE-SANDERS

Miss Charmaine Ann Schrade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schrade, Gettysburg Rt. 5, and Raymond LeRoy Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders, Emmitsburg, were united in marriage last Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. Francis Xavier Church, Gettysburg. The Rev. Fr. Anthony Kane, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length wedding gown designed with a lace bodice, stand-up collar, and long sleeves which were pointed at the wrist. The bouffant skirt of nylon net over satin terminated in a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls and orange blossoms. The bride's only jewelry was pearl earrings. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations and a white pearl Rosary, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Gladys Metz, aunt of the bride, Fairfield Rt. 1, matron of honor, wore a light blue ballerina-length gown fashioned with a strapless lace bodice over which she wore a matching lace jacket. The skirt was fashioned of lace ruffles over net. She also wore light blue mitts, a light blue picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Frances G. Schrade, sister of the bride, and Annabelle Moritz, a friend of the bride, Gettysburg. Both attendants wore gowns of yellow in a style identical to the gown by the maid of honor. The gowns were complemented by yellow picture hats and yellow mitts. They carried colonial bouquets of red rosebuds and white carnations.

The best man was Paul Sanders, Emmitsburg, brother of the bridegroom. Robert Wivell, Emmitsburg, and David Hemler, Thurmont, were the ushers.

Miss Christiana Marie Way-sack, Baltimore, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss Catherine Schrade, Gettysburg, sister of the bride, were flower girls. They wore white taffeta ankle-length gowns with net overskirts. They also wore heart-shaped bonnets and carried baskets of mixed spring flowers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue chiffon dress with white accessories and a white rosebud corsage. The mother of the bridegroom was also attired in navy blue with white accessories and wore a white rosebud corsage.

The altars were decorated with white gladioli and pink carnations.

Mrs. George Eberhart, organist, accompanied the soloist, Miss June Sanders, cousin of the bride, Gettysburg Rt. 5, who sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "Lord Who At Cana's Wedding Feast."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Lincoln Logs Hotel for 150 guests. When the couple left later on a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains the bride wore a light blue dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders will reside in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Sanders, a graduate of Delone Catholic High School, attended Thompson's Business College, York. She is employed at the Telephone Co. in Gettysburg. Her husband graduated from St. Joseph's High School and Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. He is employed with the Internal Revenue Service.

were positive "squares." All sorts of roles were aptly portrayed by my fellow citizens. Such emulations and terpsichorean presentations came as a distinct shock to not only me, but countless others, I'm sure. Most of the talent, though of an amateur nature, appeared almost professional under the superb directing of Mr. and Mrs. French Sensabaugh, professional directors of "Valley Echoes." Under their most capable and superlative direction figures and scenes from Emmitsburg's past life, emerged so realistically that one could almost project himself back through two centuries to become a living part of the saga of that era. Without a doubt the pageant was the greatest dramatic presentation ever witnessed here. Again I say to those of you who missed it—you'll always regret it.
