BY ABIGAIL

Now that the Bi-centennial is over and the committee has a fair understanding of its financial status, I feel the public should be made aware of the facts, regardless of how unpleasant they might be. The truth of the matter is that the event failed as a financial venture but as far as giving the old town prestige and publicity I don't believe there has ever been anything quite like it. We were publicized across the nation, more or less. It was not anticipated there would be any great monetary gain from the affair, but it was just something that had to be done, for posterity. The smallness of the town and the distance to other towns and cities handicapped us to a great extent, but had it not rained two of the nights the affair would have at least come out even, to say the least. Latest reports indicate that financially the Bi-centennial operated in the "red" to the extent of possibly $3500. I don't feel that we can hold any single individual or group responsible for this failure, as any public spectacle is a financial gamble and we all more or less endorsed the idea and did what we could to make the anniversary a success. The fact that it was a business failure does not detract one iota from the fact that it was a tremendous success as far as prestige was concerned and you can never estimate the value of prestige, as sometimes it takes years to mature and to bring any possible mark of success by results.

It is the aim of the committee to hold several public affairs in an effort to cancel out this deficit and already the committee is working on a fund-raising venture. I must admit this committee, for many who would toss in the towel and call it quits. We are morally obligated to support this committee and the events which it sponsors to eliminate this existing deficit.

The Bi-centennial brought a good many friends together for the first time in a number of decades and I know they'll never forget the memorable occasion. It was responsible for bringing total strangers here from distances as far away as Cumberland, Baltimore and Washington, and possibly many other areas that we are not aware of. Perhaps some of these individuals liked our town and some day it is possible they might be able to assist us in one way or another. Who knows? Good publicity never hurt anyone. Let's not be dismayed by this temporary setback, let's all be more determined than ever to keep plugging and in no time at all this money can be paid back. No one is going to be asked to "chip in" with a donation to pay off the debt... the general public, all of us, will do our share, I'm certain. To the various committees that functioned, I extend my sincerest thanks and appreciation, as a local citizen, and I know we'll come out on top in the near future.

New College Will Open In September

It has been announced that with most of the faculty assigned that plans are progressing nicely for the opening of the new Frederick Community College to be held in Frederick High School.

Sept. 16 and 17 have been designated as registration days and classes will begin on Sept. 18.

The approximate hours will be from 4 to 10 p. m. Applications are now being received and should be made promptly so classwork can be planned. Application forms and other information can be obtained from the office of the dean, Board of Education, 115 East Church St., Frederick.

High school graduates with credits usually required for admission to college, particularly those planning to transfer to another college later, may register. Provisions may be made for special students interested in securing additional education but not matriculating for a baccalaureate degree.

The program which the new college is planning to offer this year is aimed at providing courses which will enable students to continue their college education by transferring later to institutions granting baccalaureate degrees. While no college is in a position to guarantee that another college will accept all of a student's credits when he transfers, every effort is being made to plan and organize all courses so that credit may be transferred to any college. The State Dept. of Education will accredit the local college and this will expedite the transfer of credits to the State Teachers' Colleges.

As the college grows it is expected that additional programs can be added to meet other needs of the county. Both terminal programs which will prepare young students for meeting the demands of life and work in the increasingly complex society and continuation programs, designed for serving the specialized needs and interests of adults, will be considered as the college develops.

The school will present the degree of Associate in Arts to students completing 64 semester hours in a curriculum approved by the dean, have a minimum quality-point index of C and have a satisfactory record of behavior and conformity with the college regulations.

Credit for courses will be given in terms of semester hours and the number of semester hours for a course is usually determined by the number of sessions the class meets during the week. Generally a three-semester-hour course will meet three times a week for 16 weeks. Courses requiring laboratory experience and a few other courses will vary from this method of computing credit.

Full-time students will be expected to carry from 12 to 16 semester hours of credit. Students who are employed full-time are advised to carry not more than eight semester hours of study. Students who carry less than 12 semester hours of study are classified as part-time students and tuition fees are based on the number of semester hours carried.

Thurmont Girl Is Accused Of Hit-Run Mishap

A teen-age Thurmont girl learned the hard way Wednesday evening how the long arm of the law operates. Frederick City police arrested Josephine Garrett, 18, Thurmont, for failing to stop after striking an unattended vehicle, failing to stop and identify herself in an accident involving property damage and operating a motor vehicle without a license.

Miss Garrett was held under $51.45 collateral on the first two charges and $100.45 on the third.

The girl was driving a Studebaker sedan north and struck several parked cars doing minor damage. At North Market and Sixth St., Frederick, she allegedly struck a young girl on a bicycle. Injured was Shirley A. Shaffer, 15, R. D., Frederick. She was taken to the hospital at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday and treated for back of the head injuries and abrasions of the left shoulder. The Thurmont girl allegedly never stopped for any of the accidents and will face trial today at 7:00 p. m. in Frederick.

MSGR. O'DONNELL TO TAKE UP PARISH WORK

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. O'Donnell, former rector of Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, has been appointed rector of St. Peter's Church, Reading, by the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., archbishop of Philadelphia.

Msgr. O'Donnell, rector of Mount St. Mary's Seminary since 1948, resigned several weeks ago and was succeeded by Rt. Rev. Msgr. William F. Culhane as acting rector.

A graduate of Mount St. Mary's College in 1931, Msgr. O'Donnell received his M.A. and was ordained from the Mount St. Mary's Seminary in 1935. Following parish work at St. Edward's in Philadelphia and some teaching in the Roman Catholic High School there, Msgr. O'Donnell continued post graduate studies in Scripture at the Gregorian University and at the Biblical Institute, Rome, where he received the licentiate in sacred scripture in 1939.

Returning to the U. S., Msgr. O'Donnell joined the Mount St. Mary's faculty in 1939 teaching in both the college and the seminary. In 1948 he was appointed rector of the seminary and in 1952 was raised to the rank of domestic prelate by Archbishop O'Hara. He was solemnly invested in December, 1952, by the Most Rev. Lawrence J. Shehan, present bishop of Bridgeport, Conn.

Recently Wed

Miss Saranna Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Miller, recently became the bride of Mr. John D. L. Beegle, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beegle.

Family Reunion

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cullison and family near town on Sunday, July 14.

A picnic supper was served to the following people: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buchen; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Buchen and children, David and Donna Lee; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Buchen and daughter, Brenda Lee; Mr. and Mrs. George Rohrbaugh; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Swartz; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Swartz; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Thomas, Jr., all of Hanover; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Snyder, Brodbeck, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cullison and children, Dick, Mike, Mary Lee, Danny and Patty Ann, Emmitsburg.

LOCAL GRANGE STUDIES LAND VALUE PROBLEM

Twenty-eight members were in attendance at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange held Wednesday evening at the home of Master Harry Swomley. Six guests also were present.

A member of the Civil Defense of Frederick County, assisted by local members William Martin, Herbert Adams, Carroll Wills and Paul Humerick, gave a thorough and interesting demonstration on civil defense.

Letters were read from Richard B. Florence and Brother and Sister Zimmerman, congratulating the group on the floats that were entered in the Bi-centennial parade.

Any members who have done anything in the line of community service are asked to give the details and amount of time to Ann Hobbs as a report must be given by the end of August.

The Pomona meeting will be held July 27 at Walkersville and all members are urged to attend as there will be a considerable amount of business transacted.

Considerable discussion on land values the state appraisal board is placing on land needed for road construction took place. The Grange will submit a resolution on this matter at the Pomona meeting in Walkersville. The next meeting will be held at the Grier Keilholtz farm on August 7.

Farmers Ignored

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: Dear Sir:

In reference to the idea in Abigail's column concerning holding a carnival or other affairs the last week in June each year, I wish to make a plea on behalf of the farmers in this area.

The month of June and the first part of the month of July are the busiest of the year for the farmers. They are busy getting their corn in the ground and cultivated, making hay, and harvesting their grain crop. Due to their working 14 to 16 hours a day, I think this is a bad time of the year to put on anything in which you expect the farmers to participate or support.

We heard many comments concerning the fact that during the recent Bi-centennial it was hard to get the men to take part in the pageant. I think it should be understood that after working so long all the farmer wants to do is go to bed.

Also, I would like to note that the time of day and the time of year for a parade was very poorly chosen. This is primarily a dairying area, yet just the hour the farmer goes out to milk his cows you start a parade—and also beg for his wagons just when he needs them most for his hay crops.

I think Emmitsburg should realize that the town needs the farmer and the farmer needs the town; so let's consult each other before we make arrangements for a big affair so they don't conflict with the farmers busy harvesting or milking time.

APPEALS FILED

Appeals from fines of $100 and costs on a charge of reckless driving and $250 and costs on a charge of exceeding 70 mph, imposed by Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan in Emmitsburg, have been filed by Lester E. Damuth, Jr., through his counsel, Weinberg and Glass, and placed on the Circuit Court docket.

Receives Nurse's Cap From Duquesne U.

At a solemn candlelight capping ceremony last Friday in the chapel at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Miss Ruth Avalon Elder was formally accepted into the ranks of the nursing profession.

Miss Elder, a junior at Duquesne, is the 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Elder of 808 Green Hill Road, Pittsburgh.

Avalon attended St. Anthony's School in Millvale and was an honor graduate of Mt. Alvernia High School in 1955.

One of a class of 15 four-year student nurses to be capped, Avalon has distinguished herself at Duquesne by high scholastic standing which has merited her cognition on the Dean's list for the past two semesters. She is pursuing a bachelor of science degree with a nursing major.

Avalon is a granddaughter of Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder of Emmitsburg.

MRS. EMMA GRACE BAKER

Mrs. Emma Grace Baker, 92, died at her home, W. Main St., last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock after an illness of eight months. She had been bedfast for the last two weeks.

A lifelong resident of Frederick County, she was a daughter of the late Jacob and Emeline (Fohrney) Ohler. Her husband, the late Harry W. Baker, died a number of years ago.

The deceased resided in Emmitsburg for 30 years and prior to that on a farm near Emmitsburg. She was a lifelong member of Tom's Creek Methodist Church, the Women's Society of Christian Service, and of the Sunday School of the church.

She is survived by a daughter and two sons: Mrs. Pauline Seabrooks, Emmitsburg; James O. Baker, Taneytown R. D., and Guy S. Baker, Moberly, Rt. 2, Miss.; five grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Tom's Creek Church with the Rev. Wallace P. Blacktown officiating. Interment in the Mountainview Cemetery; Emmitsburg. S. L. Allison, funeral director.

The pallbearers were Clarence Frailey, Maurice Moser, Robert Grimes, Jacob Stambaugh, Francis Matthews, and Raymond Baumgardner.

CLINIC DATES CHANGED

The well baby clinic will be held once a month, on the fourth Thursday, until further notice, in the basement of the American Legion Post Home. It was formerly held twice a month, on the second and fourth Thursdays.

GIRL SCOUTS COMPLETE WEEK'S CAMP

Approximately 25 members of the local Girl Scout Troop enjoyed a camping trip last weekend on the Weishaar property near Fairfield. The trip was under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker and the Misses Theresa and Theodora Rybickowsky, Virginia Topper and Jean Topper.

The Scouts left for the camp site Friday evening and returned home late Sunday afternoon. On Saturday morning they hiked to nearby Camp Happy Valley, the property of the Adams County Girl Scouts. Saturday evening an impromptu talent show was held around the campfire. Sunday morning the parents provided transportation to church services in Emmitsburg. In the afternoon the girls entertained their families at a wiener roast. Swimming and badminton were enjoyed throughout the weekend.

Special thanks are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Weishaar, the chaperones, the parents who provided food and transportation and also to the merchants, Dr. Earl Shank, Walter F. Crouse, Thomas Bollinger, J. Laurence Orendorf, George A. Ashbaugh, Joseph N. Welty and Mr. and Mrs. John Warthen, for their generous donations. Also to Mayor Clarence G. Frailey for the use of the town truck, Joe Eyer, the driver, the VFW for the use of its tent and the members who worked so hard to erect and take down the tent and prepare the camping site: Clyde Eyer, Oscar Fritz, George Baker, Raymond Baker, Brooke Herring, Everett Chrismer, Charles Stouter, Joseph Haley, Lumen F. Norris and Dan Topper.

The camp was the first experience of this sort for the present troop and it is hoped to make the affair an annual event.

Legion Auxiliary To Sell Magazine Subscriptions

The American Legion Auxiliary, No. 121, Emmitsburg, announces its sponsorship of a magazine subscription campaign to be conducted throughout Frederick County.

The commissions which the auxiliary will derive from sponsoring this campaign will be used to purchase hospital beds, wheel chairs, etc. which, when received, will be housed in a central location. It will be available for temporary use, without charge, in the homes of residents whenever needed. The auxiliary believes that such equipment will fulfill a real community need and render valuable service.

Accredited representatives of the publisher, each bearing a letter of introduction and identification from the American Legion Auxiliary, signed by Charlotte Sanders, will call on all residents to explain the plan in detail.

We emphasize that donations will not be solicited or accepted. We wish to serve you well; obtain the desired equipment and thereby benefit our entire community. Your patronage and cooperation will be appreciated.

Named Executor

Jacob Henry Pecher, late of Liberty Twp., Adams County, left all his property to his brother, John B. Pecher "to use... as he thinks best in the interest of himself and my wife and children," according to the Pecher will filed for probate Monday in the office of the register and recorder, Gettysburg. The estate is valued about $10,000 in personal property and $7500 in real estate. Pecher died December 31, 1954.

After the death of John Pecher the estate will become the property of the wife and children of Jacob Pecher.

Because the will does not name an executor, George M. Pecher, Fairfield Rt. 2, has petitioned for testamentary letters.

Charles Stouter Foils Theft Of Truck

Five local young men, all juveniles, were arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities this week after they were apprehended as they were attempting to steal a Ford panel truck belonging to Charles F. Stouter, Emmitt Gardens, at about 4 o'clock Monday morning.

The attempted theft was discovered by Mr. Stouter who was awakened from his sleep by the noise of the youths starting the vehicle. He quickly grabbed the driver and held him while Mrs. Stouter, his wife, phoned State Trooper William G. Morgan who was on the scene in minutes and who apprehended the driver's accomplices who had fled the scene.

The five confessed they had previously stolen about five cases of warm beer from Ohler's Tavern and showed evidence of having consumed about half of the warm beverage. Trooper Morgan confiscated the remaining quantity of beer. The boys were turned over to the custody of Mrs. William Rhoderick, Frederick County juvenile officer.

Local Team Drops Close One To Union Bridge Sunday

Union Bridge had considerable difficulty in disposing of Emmitsburg in the Pen-Mar League Sunday afternoon. The Cementers finally took the contest 4-3 to keep in the running for second place. The win came largely on Shaffer's good pitching with excellent assists in the field. Spencer made a catch in centerfield and threw a local man out at home plate when he tried to make it in from third base.

The league-leading Blue Ridge Summit team, held hits for eight and one-third innings by "Skip" Pisce, rallied for three runs in the top of the ninth inning to edge Cashtown 3-2 on the latter's field.

Fairfield tightened its grip on third place by turning back invading Taneytown, 6-2. Seifert limited Taneytown to six scattered hits and fanned nine. After yielding two runs in the opening frame he blanked his opponents the remainder of the way. K. Deardorff rapped two singles to lead the winners' nine-hit attack.

Wheat Yield Less This Year

Another insect pest—the European corn borer—has begun to show up in some of the early sugar corn planted for factory use, County Agent Henry R. Shoemaker has been informed, but thus far the situation is not too serious.

The borer infestation is reported quite heavy in some fields and spraying with DDT has started. But the borer, which can materially reduce yields, is spotty thus far and it is hoped that the crop will not be seriously affected as a whole.

The Japanese beetle is also in some cornfields, principally along the edges close to weeds, but thus far the infestation in corn cannot be compared with the situation of some past summers. However, the beetles are numerous in many areas—worse than the past several years—although the county agent said they may be past their peak.

It seems generally conceded that in most areas, the wheat yield is at least 10 bushels per acre less than a year ago. The combining of the crop is about finished and little additional wheat is coming to the market. Mr. Shoemaker said there have been no reports thus far that the dry spell has affected water supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Myers and daughters, Jeanne and Barbie, and Mrs. Lottie Ruby, of Baltimore, spent last week visiting in Virginia. They toured the Skyline Drive and visited the Luray Caverns.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

As the Senate faced the possibility of a lengthy filibuster, each member received a memorandum on "resting during the late or all-night sessions" and a "Do Not Disturb" sign to hang on his door during the hours when the building's cleaning force might be at work.

Some Senators had cots rolled into their offices.

Most members cancelled all their outside engagements.

Realizing the importance of maintaining a force strong enough to participate effectively in any parliamentary action, the Senators were preparing to be on hand day and night.

Sitting-It-Out
I mention this because the tactic of "sitting-it-out" is one of the basic remedies for obstruction in the Senate when it is not possible to muster 64 votes necessary to cut off a prolonged debate.

In the past this strategy has not always been effective, even though anti-filibuster forces have sometimes insisted on the strictest observance of various Senate rules which might tend to wear down the speakers.

In fact, a review of Congressional history will show that filibusters have had initial successes against all types of legislation, ranging from a migratory bird bill to a flood control measure.

However, as I mentioned in last week's "Senate Cloakroom" newsletter, all but 11 of the 36 major bills which have been successfully filibustered in the Senate since 1865 have eventually been enacted into law.

A group of 9 Civil Rights measures forms the most noticeable block of bills which have been talked to death during one session without being revived and passed in another.

Pros Of Filibustering

In brief, the following are some of the arguments which have been offered in favor of filibustering:

(1) Obstruction is justifiable as a means of preventing a majority from trampling upon minority rights, which the Government has a duty to protect.

(2) A Senate majority does not necessarily represent a consensus of the people or even of the States, and prolonged debate may prevent hasty majority action which would be out of harmony with genuine popular opinion.

(3) It is essential in our form of Government that there be one place—in this case, the Senate—where a thorough and exhaustive debate can be conducted. Such unrestricted debate is also a vital check upon presidential or party autocracy.

(4) The record will show that the Senate has operated effectively under rules permitting filibusters.

(5) In debates involving fundamental Constitutional questions, Senators have a duty to protect the rights of their individual

Arguments Against Filibusters

Those opposed to filibusters use the following arguments:

(1) Under the practice of filibustering, the basic American principle of majority rule is nullified.

(2) Filibusters are costly and destroy the ability of the Senate to act efficiently on legislation.

(3) Filibustering gives one Senator or a small group of Senators the power to veto a measure or to extort special favors for their own constituents.

(4) For decades important social legislation has been delayed and public resentment has been aroused by such obstructionist tactics.

(5) An effective anti-filibuster rule ought to exist because it is the duty of the Senate not merely to debate but to legislate, and the volume of business is such that time should not be consumed uselessly.

Personal Position

The pro's and con's of this issue obviously include arguments which themselves can touch off almost endless debates.

My own feeling, which I have stated on numerous occasions, is this:

"I will continue to lend my strongest support to the principle that matters before the Senate should be given the most extensive debate, but I also feel strongly that after the facts have been fully discussed, every man should be called on to see the issue to a logical conclusion, and vote.

"Only in such a way will the citizens of America know how their elected representatives feel about the pressing issues of our times, and only in such a way will civil rights legislation be brought into the open for the decisive action—either pro or con—to which it is entitled. The same is true of other matters.

"Lengthy debate on important matters is a dictate of wisdom; endless debate is the offspring of evasion, folly and waste."

the prospect is selling for. Certain stocks which now pay no dividends are probably the best buys.

The most important thing for the investor to know is the amount of real ore reserves, whether iron, copper, lead, zinc, uranium, nickel, or whatever the metal may be. These ore reserves can be determined pretty well by diamond drilling. An honest broker will tell you approximately the amount of the reserves. In addition to knowing the quantity of the reserves, one should know the percentage of ore to a ton of earth. With this information the investor can divide the price at which the mine is selling by the reserves and secure a rough estimate of the price that he is paying per ton for the ore.

Other Factors To Consider

There are other factors to consider, such as distance from a railroad, a navigable river, or even highways. Before a metal can be marketed, the ore must be brought to the surface and refined and the metal transported to market. Each step is expensive, but very important. Then, of course, the amount of "overburden" is important; that is, how much earth must be removed before the ore can be taken out. The diamond drilling will give the figures on this. The main thing to keep in mind is: Buy reserves of ore and study the price you are paying for these reserves. Forget the stock market and imagine that you are merely a metal merchant buying copper or one of the other metals. For instance, if you are studying a coal company, instead of figuring too much on the price of the stock, figure how much you are paying for a ton of coal.

Investors who take the trouble to get this information should really be able to make a lot of money. Sometime in the next 30 years most metals will be selling at several times their present prices. There are only so many tons under ground of every metal, and the amount is being reduced every day. I really believe that $12,000 invested properly in Canadian Oils and Metals, will, at some period during the next 30 years, be worth a million dollars! Such an investment, however, requires much care in the se-

By U. S. Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON — It seems to me that the current hue and cry over specific Supreme Court decisions misses the most significant—and in my opinion dangerous—trend developing out of Supreme Court opinions. While the Court is leaning over backwards to protect individual rights it is at the same time increasing and broadening Federal power.

I am inclined to agree with the general philosophy of the Court with regard to freedom of speech, right of the people to peaceably assemble, and due process of law, but I disagree with its concept of increasing Federal power at the expense of State authority and local responsibility.

It is clear to me that the authors of the Constitution wanted strong guarantees for individual rights and limited powers for the Federal government. To make certain there would be no misunderstanding they repeated in the Bill of Rights protection for the individual and restraints on Federal power. It is a fact of history that individual rights disappear as the power of government grows. A people preserve their individual rights only as they place strong limitations on the power of their government.

What the Supreme Court and the so-called American liberal is apparently trying to do is to strengthen individual rights in a Federal government of unlimited powers. Eventually, if such a course continues the guarantees in our Bill of Rights will have to be sacrificed to a strong central government in Washington. I do not believe the people are aware of the dangers we face as a Nation if the present trend continues.

I am happy to report that the poultry inspection bill has been amended in the House to allow exemption for the small producer selling his products directly to households, restaurants, hotels, etc.

By ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Canadian "Bargains"
TORONTO, Canada, July 18 — I am getting so many inquiries regarding cheap stocks listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange that I have come up to Toronto to make some inquiries. There certainly is great interest in these cheap stocks.

So much money is being sent to Canada by American investors that the Canadian dollar is now worth a premium of 5% over the American dollar.

Different Kinds Of Canadian Investments
The safest is probably an investment in the producing oils which are more or less controlled by the larger American companies. These are selling on a fair basis and should have even greater growth; but they should be bought for income rather than for speculation.

There is no question but that there is a lot of oil in Western Canada; but most wells are waiting for transportation to good markets. To build pipe lines takes time and money. The wells will not be allowed to produce much until these pipe lines have been constructed. There are also large fields of natural gas; but these also are awaiting pipe lines. Oil can be put in barrels and transported by trucks; but natural gas is absolutely dependent on pipe lines or else upon very expensive compression.

The most popular investments are in metal-mining companies, including gold, copper, zinc, lead, uranium, and even the rare metals. Most of these stocks do not now represent producing properties, although some of the non-producers are building mills or refineries. There are probably many that are now selling for less than a dollar a share which will some day sell for many times this. But only experts can pick them at this time. For the ordinary investor to buy them at random is a good deal like betting on a horse race. Some horses will surely win; but which one is another matter.

Relation Between Price And Reserves

Even if a mining stock is selling cheap, that is, below a dollar per share, yet one should first find out how many shares are outstanding. The brokers here tell me that most of the buyers look only at the prices and do not consider the number of shares outstanding. Of course, the number of shares should be multiplied by the price to see what the mine or

Inoculation Against "Brain-Washing"

Before the Communists went to work with their "brain-washing" of American POW's in North Korea they issued a communication to the Communist instructors, analyzing the Americans. "There is little knowledge or understanding, even among U. S. university graduates, of American political history and philosophy, the federal, state and community organizations . . . freedoms, safeguards, checks and balances . . ." Therefore, the Communist instructors could easily undermine the Americans' respect for their system. The "brain-washing" was amazingly successful.

John Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, said recently, "America's best and only hope lies in an intelligent and well-informed public opinion: conscious of the evils of Communism and dedicated to the validity and sanctity of democratic traditions." I have just read a list of 165 Communist writers working zealously and effectively in America to "brain-wash" our people, especially our younger generation. There are additional hundreds, but among this 165 are many talented writers who have written Hollywood motion picture scripts, television and radio plays, and novels and articles that may be read in almost any school or public library.

Propaganda To Undermine
What ever these people touch they contaminate with propaganda for the Communist cause. And yet in most cases the propaganda is served up in a subtle, cunning manner, designed particularly to create distrust of traditional American institutions such as our jury system, our U. S. Constitution, our economic system. People, young and old, who do not know the true facts of American history, who do not understand how our private ownership economic system works and what its advantages are, will be vulnerable to the Communist propaganda. They also will be "suck-

America's educational system. A High School Course

"The great challenge to American youth of this generation is the need for the acquiring of an understanding of American History so that they may appreciate and remain faithful to American ideals of freedom, industry, honesty, respect for law and order; and so they may render service as informed citizens. If the coming generation is not faithful to the basic ideals of our nation, the freedom they provide will be destroyed." With this foreword, the Harding Academy (high school) at Searcy presents its outline for a high school course in American History.

The outline was prepared for teachers and school administrators all over America who have been seeking guidance in establishing courses in American citizenship education. American History is one of the four citizenship courses developed in recent years under the supervision of Harding Academy's Perry Mason, Supt. The other courses are Civics, American Government, and World Government. Illustrated, carefully detailed outlines are available to any teacher or interested parent.

Goals For Pupils

The History outline presents these goals to be developed in each pupil: (1) An understanding and appreciation of our American system of government; (2) Improvement in human relations based on a recognition of the worth and dignity of the individual; (3) An understanding and appreciation of the Republican form of government, as contrasted with pure democracy and various types of Socialism; (4) A knowledge of democratic processes with a determination to see that they are applied at the national, state, and local levels;

(5) An understanding of politics and political parties, and a dedication to wholesome political activities; (6) A sense of patriotism inspiring a desire and a determination to work toward building a better nation while protecting its basic structure from all forces which might destroy it. The outline gives a list of reading and audio-visual materials. The basic text used is United States History, Fremont P. Wirth, American Book Company, Dallas.

Next week: World History course outline.

Poison Of Poverty

When the American ambassador to Italy contracted lead poisoning, it was front page news. The beautiful Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce suffered from a strange poisoning, finally discovered to be caused by flaking plaster from the ceiling of her bedroom in the ancient Italian palace which is the Ambassadorial residence. Lead poisoning in a palace may be news, but it's not news when it happens in the slums of St. Louis, Baltimore, Chicago, or New York. Our poorest citizens often live in houses 70 or 80 years old, and little effort is made to keep them in repair. The paint used in old houses was usually lead paint, and the old plaster is likely to be thoroughly impregnated with lead after having been painted over many times. It's not at all uncommon to find plaster falling from ceiling and walls and paint flaking from the wood work. And small children being what they are, they will play with the crumbly stuff and even try out the flavor.

Lead poisoning is one of the most terrible hazards of the poor. The most common and alarming symptoms are vomiting, abdominal cramps, convulsions, and stupor. If a child survives the early stages, anemia and mental retardation may follow. Of the children in one hospital who recovered from the poisoning, one third had permanent neurologic damage.

Doctors now have a remarkably effective de-lead agent called "EDTA" which can carry the lead out of the system through the urinary tract. But it must be used quickly, before the brain has become irreversibly involved. And after recovery, what? Does the child go back to the same circumstances where he may again fall victim to lead poisoning?

This is a community problem that can only be solved by facing the facts about our slums—whether in big cities or small towns. Citizens who care can push for progress on decent low-rent housing, can at the very least demand enforcement of housing regulations.

ers" for Socialism of various other types.

Only an astonishingly small percentage of high school and college boys and girls have been studying American history. Many high schools and colleges do not include it in the curriculum or else carry it only as an optional subject. This situation has been improving as parents in community after community have gone to their school and college administration requesting a required course in American history. But it still is one of the grave weaknesses in

Corn Acreage Allotment Must Be Filed Shortly

Maryland farmers desiring to preserve their acreage history for future allotments on corn and tobacco have until August 1, 1957 to file an application in their local county ASC offices, states Mr. Leonard C. Burns, Chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Farmers who were not able to plant their full 1957 corn or tobacco acreage allotment should complete the application so that they will be given credit for their full allotted acreage.

Many farmers were not able to plant their acreage allotment due to weather condition, illness or for other reasons. If an application is filed on or before August 1, 1957 with the county ASC committee, the farmer will protect his base acreage under the 1957 program in determining future allotments.

It should be pointed out, states Mr. Burns, that the filing of an application does not mean that the farmer will keep his present 1957 allotment for use in the 1958 program. It means that the acreage allotted to him in the 1957 program will be used in determining the historical base acreage for the 1958 program.

If the farmer does not file the request to preserve his acreage history, he will still be given credit for the acres planted in determining future allotments on corn and tobacco crops. This will tend to reduce his future allotment based on the average acreage planted over a period of years where the grower fails to plant his allotted acreage.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is an old Arabian proverb to the effect that once a camel sticks his nose in the tent, he soon takes over the entire tent.

And that is why the nation's independent retailers, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, are opposing further expansion of the military post exchange service in this country.

PX's which sell a wide variety of merchandise at cut rate prices including such items as golf clubs, movie cameras and gasoline, now seek authority to sell tires and batteries.

The PX service is now an $800,000,000 business, of which almost half is done inside the U. S. Profits last year reached $46 million as compared to only $34.6 million by the Woolworth company on a slightly lower volume.

PX officials claim the service is without cost to the taxpayer. Yet, they also say that the army run chain store operation shows a 6% profit as compared to 2-3% profit experienced by private enterprise, while at the same time operating on an average mark up of 16% compared to a 36% mark up by private enterprise.

Engaged in this vast merchandising activity in the U. S. alone are 17,900 civilian employees supervised by 300 army people. Thus, to say the least, such common overhead items as rent, insurance, administrative overhead, undoubtedly many other items are borne by taxpayer.

Before Korea, there were 1595 such establishments in the U. S. This jumped to 2,357 during the war.

rea, and has only been cut back slightly since then.

It is also interesting that while PX sales are not subject to the local sales taxes, and that neither are cigarettes subject to state and local taxes, the federal government makes sure it gets its full excise tax.

Yet, supporters of the PX system say cut rate merchandise is necessary to keep up the falling re-enlistment rate.

Thus, if this be true, it would be logical at any time now for recruiting posters to state "Join the Army and Buy It Wholesale."

It is not inconceivable that if men are reluctant to re-enlist in armed forces, that the reasons should be sought elsewhere.

Men in uniform from time of Caesars, have taken pride in their service. When pride is destroyed, organization is destroyed.

It is possible using armed forces for sociological experiments that have not as yet succeeded elsewhere, could be a cause.

And it is possible that permitting John Foster Dulles and others to use American servicemen as pawns in worldwide parlor games are a factor. For example, Dulles' willingness to deprive a young soldier of the rights of American justice to turn him over to tender mercies of an Oriental system of justice and prison administration does not appear best way to keep up armed force morale.

It is perhaps high time that Congress carry on a thorough investigation why so many young men refuse to continue service in the armed forces.

It just seems illogical that the entire question of "to re-enlist, or not to re-enlist" hinges on what items can be bought at wholesale.

Pirates Schedule Tryouts Near Here

The Pittsburgh Pirates will conduct a tryout camp at Charlestown, West Virginia, on Monday and Tuesday, July 22 and 23. The sessions will begin daily at 9 a. m. and will be held at the Charlestown American Legion Park.

The tryouts will be under the direction of Pirates Area Scoutmaster Supervisor Joe Bowen, who will be assisted by Pirates Scouts Jim Vennari and Ray Speaker. Bowen, who has been traveling through this area for a month conducting tryout camps, expressed his hopes for a large turnout at Charlestown. "This entire section of the country—Md., West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania and Ohio—has always been a baseball hot bed. I hope to find many talented youngsters at our tryout sessions."

Players must be at least 16 years of age to be eligible to attend, Bowen pointed out, and no Junior American Legion player will be permitted to participate in the camp if such participation would interfere with any of his Legion activities, and such participation will only be permitted with a letter of approval from either his Legion coach or the Commander of the Legion Post he represents in Legion play.

Players are expected to furnish their own baseball shoes, uniforms and gloves with the Pirates furnishing all other equipment. Players will also be responsible for their traveling and living expenses with the understanding that all expenses will be reimbursed to those players signed to contracts with Pittsburgh organization clubs.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read John 6:47-56.

I am the living bread. (John 6:51.)

Bread is the world's most common food staple. Though it may vary somewhat in ingredients and methods of preparation, in shape and taste, bread is essential to the diet. The Brazilian, for instance, eats bread with coffee each morning. He would feel lost without it.

Jesus' mission to mankind and His way of expressing Himself cut across all time and national boundaries. When He said, "I am the bread of life," He spoke to all men of all times. Christ is as essential to our daily spiritual diet as daily bread is for our physical diet. His absence from our lives leaves us spiritually hungry; His presence is a joy to us and a source of strength.

Only the bread of heaven come down from God gives us true life. In Christ is our hope for spiritual health, for He alone, the one who is the living bread of life, satisfies our deepest need.

Prayer

Our Father, as Thy people long ago prayed, so we pray: "Lord, evermore give us this bread." Grant that as people everywhere this day eat their daily bread, they may also partake of the bread of life. Strengthen and sustain them, and us, in service to Thee. In His name. Amen.

New Expressways

Will Be Free

Of Billboards

Through the voluntary cooperation of a group of advertising sign companies, the State Roads Commission stands a good chance of keeping some of its new expressways free of billboards.

The Maryland Legislature has consistently defeated bills designed to keep such signs off the new highway system, although at its last session billboards were banned from the proposed North East Expressway—yet to be built.

The first section of highway selected by Roads Commission representatives and the advertisers to be billboard-free is a part of the new Blue Star Memorial Highway on the Eastern Shore (Md. Route 71) running from the Chesapeake Bay Bridge to Delaware.

Bernard Wilson, of Bladensburg, speaking for General Outdoor Advertising Co. and a group of other sign companies, said:

"We consider the newly-opened part of the Blue Star Memorial Highway as a 'scenic area.' There are now no advertising signs on this section which runs from Md. 300 to the Delaware line, about 15 miles. As long as there is no commercialization of the area our group will not put advertising signs on this new stretch of Maryland highway."

Efforts also are now under way to work out similar compacts to protect other controlled and limited access highways in the State. These include the Harrisburg Expressway, the new John Hanson Highway from Annapolis to Washington, sections of U. S. 40 near Frederick, and the Washington National Pike which is now open as a dual-lane limited access expressway from Frederick south to Rockville. This latter highway is now free of billboards and through the cooperation of the big advertising sign companies it is expected to stay that

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Versatile Gypsy Rose Lee, one-time queen of burlesque runways, has recently revealed yet another of her talents by writing an article on how to catch a musky for Sports Afield Magazine. Thus a new, authentic—if sometimes startling—voice has been raised to challenge the authorities of fishdom.

Axiom number one—a statement by Miss Lee that at once endeared her to fishermen—is that a lady should clean her own fish. Add to that Miss Lee's belief that a lady should also bait her own hook, and it is easy to see why others of her less unique ideas met with immediate acclaim.

Miss Lee relates that she was warned that muskies are not friendly like trout or salmon. In fact, she was told that they are treacherous, tricky and temperamental. Her informant also added that muskies are sly, dangerous and above all a man's fish.

"Convinced but undaunted, Miss Lee set out to get her fish. She was looking for a nice stupid one, she says, that wouldn't know she was a woman.

While getting her first musky she learned plenty. For instance, you don't cast a sucker bait, you heave it—standing up in the boat and using both hands. Also, to the left with a gently, rhythmic motion, to give the bait lifelike motion.

After an hour of casting, says Miss Lee, her muscles ached, but she didn't stop. She had the feeling that a musky was lurking below. And how right she was. It struck! She waited while the musky took the sucker down to play with it before swallowing it headfirst.

At last the time came and she

Mr. Bonnell said, "Let's give our scenery a chance to be seen."

set the hook with both hands. It was a water-churning, high-jumping fight after that, says Miss Lee, and the balance of the battle was in question up to the last. Finally she landed her prize, a 35-inch 18-pounder.

And after the fight, Miss Lee gave evidence of her belief in her final fishing axiom: A lady should eat her own fish, too.

MARYLAND WILDLIFE PLANTS

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME & INLAND FISH COMMISSION

WILD RICE

(Zizania aquatica)

RANGE: Fresh-water marshes along the Atlantic Coast, west to the eastern margin of the Prairies. In Maryland, found in most fresh marshes and fresh-water estuaries of the Chesapeake Bay.

DESCRIPTION: Grows from 8-10 feet in height; short roots; partitioned stem cavity; leaves about 1-3 inches wide; plant is separated into staminate (male) and pistillate (female) portions.

PREFERRED HABITAT: Thrives in shallow fresh-water (2-3.5 per cent of normal sea salinity) a few inches to 2 or 3 feet deep; bottom soil of fairly deep muck or fine soft silt; enough water circulated to prevent stagnation; does not do well in landlocked ponds.

METHOD OF ESTABLISHMENT: An annual; by seeds, broadcast in fall or early spring; scatter about one handful of seed to each 2 or 3 square yards; not necessary to mix seed with mud to sink to bottom if planted before seeds sprout (sprouted seed will float); twenty-five pounds will plant about one acre; reseeds itself from year to year. (On the feasibility of planting any waterfowl plants, it is advisable to check with your Game and Fish Commission.)

FLOWERS: Spikelets in a much-branched panicle (loosely branched flower cluster), upper pistillate (female) lower staminate (male).

FRUIT: Pistillate spikelet contains long rod-like seed or grain.

WILDLIFE USE: Seeds are a favorite food of ducks, rails, black birds, and the bobolinks. Important food for the mallard, red-head, canvasback, teal, pintail, woodduck, black duck, scaup and many other species of waterfowl; also for the muskrat.

OTHER VALUES: It is considered a delicacy when served with wild roast duck.

Farm Safety Week

Because of the high toll of deaths and injuries resulting from accidents to farm residents, President Eisenhower has proclaimed the week beginning July 21 as National Farm Safety Week. All farm families and farm workers are urged to join in a continuing campaign of accident prevention. All persons and organizations interested in the welfare of farm people are requested to support and participate in this campaign.

Farm accidents result in unnecessary expense and suffering to individuals and families involved, and represent a heavy loss to our national economy. The death toll from accidents is greater in agriculture than in any other major industry. About one-fourth of the accidents to farm residents are home accidents.

Falls are the leading source of all injuries to farm residents. Motor vehicles are the chief cause of accidental deaths. Other important causes of injury and death to farm residents are machinery, drownings, firearms, animals, and burns.

Approximately 1100 farm people every year are killed by tractors. About one-third of the tractor fatalities occur on highways; and about one-sixth of the tractor fatalities occur to children under 10 years of age.

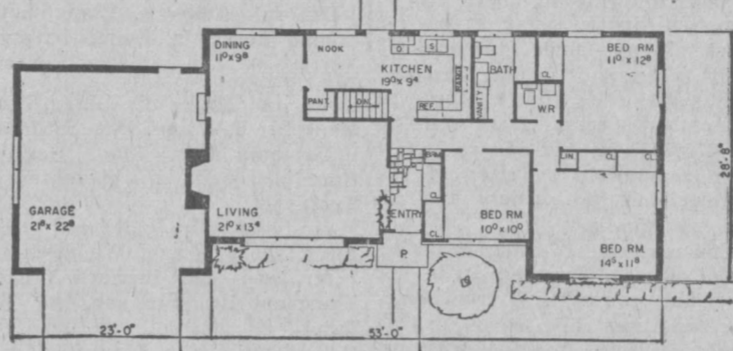

Accidents on the farm, as elsewhere, can be prevented by observing safe practices and avoiding unnecessary risks.

Hazards which lurk in homes, barns, fields and machinery should be located and eliminated or circumvented; fatigue and haste should be avoided; safe methods and practices taught to all members of the family. Safe equipment, proper maintenance, good housekeeping, and proper supervision of children will obliterate many of the tragedies due to accidents.

Promotion of safety helps to protect you, your family and your fellow human beings. "Safety makes Sense."

New Homes Guide Plan Features Horizontal Lines

With emphasis on the horizontal, this design by Richard B. Pollman featured in NEW HOMES GUIDE magazine is strictly contemporary. Central entry permits direct access to all areas. Bedroom area is well isolated from living room noises. Kitchen has ample room for a breakfast nook. There is an auxiliary wash-room in addition to the full bath with its twin lavatories. Area of the house is 1,480 sq. ft. For information on blueprints, write to NEW HOMES GUIDE, Dept. 1903, 621 N. Dearborn, Chicago 10, Ill.

BRIGHTER LIVING

By Jan Reynolds
WHETHER DINING ROOM or dining area, a soft, cheerful lighting to create an atmosphere of restful charm is needed.

White are recommended. For control of general lighting, three-way switches should be located at all kitchen entrances.

ONE EASY SOLUTION to the problem of plenty of light for the sink beneath a recessed window is the use of a ribbed glass shielded four-foot unit which

This can be raised or lowered to supply varying amounts of light, depending upon whether the table is being used for dining, studying, sewing, or other close eye work.

IDEAL LIGHTING for your kitchen is fluorescent. It radiates far less heat than incandescent bulbs — and produces three times as much light for the same amount of current.

These and other lighting suggestions are covered in greater detail in a new booklet, "Brighter Living" written by Miss Jan Reynolds and published by Sylvania Electric Products Inc.

Insure Your Mortgage And Life in One Policy When you obtain a mortgage, the lender will require that the home be insured against fire up to 80% of the value of the house. That's for his protection and yours. But for your own protection, the editors of NEW HOMES GUIDE magazine suggest, you'll probably want additional protection in the form of extended coverage, to cover loss from wind-storm, hail, explosion, smoke, riot, civil commotion, vehicles, and aircraft. If your house does not have a lightning protection system, there is the added expense of that insurance coverage. You might also want coverage against damage suits in personal liability insurance. Or, you could lump all these extensions of insurance under a blanket policy which is available today. In addition, you might want to consider another type of insurance — which doesn't protect against damage, but against your inability to complete the mortgage payments. This is a form of coverage which, NEW HOMES GUIDE magazine editors say, merits study by the prospective homeowner because it is less known than the others. It's called mortgage insurance. The odds on your needing it are these: If you're 30 and get a 25-year mortgage, there's one chance in seven that you won't live to pay off the mortgage. If you're 35,

Youth Group To Be Guest Of Fairfield Church

A team of Youth Caravaners will be guests of Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield, for four days beginning on Saturday afternoon. The young people are traveling for the Luther League of America—the official youth auxiliary of the United Lutheran Church in America with headquarters in Philadelphia, Pa.

The Caravan Team is composed of the following young people: Erich Berendt of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada; Marilyn Bopp of La France, S. C.; Arlene Engelhardt of Joliet, Ill., and Karen Hummon of Seattle, Wash.

The Caravan program is designed to assist congregational youth groups with their total program including devotional services, topic presentations, service projects, recreational and fellowship sessions. One entire session will be devoted to a thorough explanation of the new five-fold program of the Luther League. The five divisions of the recently-adopted program are: Christian Vocation, Evangelism, Missions, Social Action and Recreation. This explanation will be made on Saturday evening along with an explanation of the local League's relationship to the Luther League of America and to Synodical and Conference Leagues.

On Sunday evening the responsibilities of a Luther League Executive Committee will be explained and all the young people are invited to have their supper at the church at 6:30. Following the meal the Caravaners will give help in topic presentation. The evening program will end with games and camp songs.

On Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock there will be a family night box supper and the families of Leaguers are invited to the evening's program. The Caravaners will emphasize the place of youth in the church's life. There will be a fellowship hour for the whole family.

The emphasis on Tuesday evening will be on long-range program planning and on service projects. Members of the Zion Lutheran Church Caravan Committee are: James Herring, Teddy Lowe, Phyllis Snyder, Mrs. Samuel Musselman, and Rev. and Mrs. Verle Schumacher. From Fairfield the Caravaners will go to Gettysburg for the annual meeting of the Luther League of the Central Pennsylvania Synod.

Two Accounts Are Approved

Two administrators' accounts were returned to the Orphans' Court, Frederick County, this week and approved by the court and Register of Wills Harry D. Radcliff.

The second and final account of James W. Powell, Jr., executor of the will of Charles T. Marshall, showed a total of $6,498.17; disbursements of $1,068.71 and a net of $5,429.46. This was distributed one-sixth or $904.91 each to Maynard Marshall, Jesse Ray Marshall, sons, James W. Powell, Jr., grandson, Bessie Marshall Wilcox, Mathilda Marshall Blickenstaff, daughters, and the children of Hattie May Rice, deceased.

The first and final account of Floyd N. Wetzel, Gladys R. Troxell and Edith B. Adams, executors of the will of David F. Wetzel, showed a total of $11,243.56; disbursements of $957.94, and a net of $10,285.62. This was distributed $4,787.50 each to Gladys R. and Charles E. Troxell and Edna B. and Aaron W. Adams. A balance of $282.76 was divided into thirds, or $94.26 to Floyd N. Wetzel, Gladys R. Troxell and Edna Adams.

Quality has everything in its favor including the price.

X-RAY UNIT HERE JULY 25

The annual mass X-ray survey will be conducted in Emmitsburg District on Thursday, July 25, it was announced by Miss Charlotte Sanders, chairman for the district and president of the American Legion Auxiliary who is assisting with the survey in Emmitsburg.

The mobile X-ray unit will be located at the following places; H. O. Toor Shoe Co. from 10 to 11:30 a. m.; Emmitsburg Manufacturing Co. from 1 to 2 p. m., and on the Square, near the Fire Hall, from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Last year over 300 persons were X-rayed while the unit was in Emmitsburg. All residents 15 years of age or over are urged to have a chest X-ray. Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons, it strikes the rich and the poor alike. Many persons may have TB without knowing it; there are no symptoms in the early stages. A chest X-ray finds tuberculosis early, when it is easiest cured.

Statistics show that one case of tuberculosis costs from $15,000 to $18,000 in tax-dollars, aside from the untold suffering of the victims and the anxiety to him and his family.

Tuberculosis is a highly infectious disease, however, it is not inherited; you catch it from someone who has TB germs in his lungs. Persons infected with tuberculosis can spread the disease by coughing, sneezing, or spitting. Germs can be carried into the mouth by the fingers, on food or eating utensils.

TB strikes one American every five minutes. Between 50 and 60 million Americans are infected with tuberculosis germs. About 400,000 of those infected have TB in an infectious state. Grim as the figures may seem, great strides have been made in the fight against tuberculosis since the National Tuberculosis Assn. was founded in 1904. The death rate has been cut by 90 per cent. New cases of TB have decreased much less rapidly, and it is these active cases, the living, who represent the true measure of the seriousness of the TB problem today.

The job of your Frederick County Tuberculosis and Public Health Assn. is finding the people who have TB, helping them through the sometimes arduous periods of treatment, helping them resume their rightful place in the community and seeing to it that continuing medical supervision is made available to them. You can help conquer this age-old enemy of mankind by getting an annual chest X-ray.

The two young daughters recently adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Sanders, were baptized last Saturday at St. Anthony's Shrine by Rev. Fr. Leo Wetzel. Godparents of the children were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kreitz. The girls were christened Sandra Theresa and Mary Ann.

LIGHTER BATS

Baseball fans may not have noticed it but big league hitters are using lighter bats. In the last 28 years, the average weight of the Louisville Slugger has fallen off about eight ounces. Because of their lighter weight, today's bats can be swung later, giving the batter a split-second longer to judge a curve or slider.

the benefit of the whole populace, not just a chosen few, and this populace needs protection in peacetime just as it did in war-time, from the gougers. If it were possible to freeze prices and wages during the war, then I don't see why it shouldn't be done right now! It seems to be the policy of the Government to keep the public drained financially, and brother I mean they are right successful at it!

Modern Design Spacious

Designed for families who like to "live modern" and be comfortable at the same time, this three-bedroom, two-bath home combines good looks with space and convenience unique in a small house.

Its designer, Rudolph A. Matern, of Jamaica, N. Y., concentrated on the best features of modern architecture without the unattractive "pill-box" look of so many ultra-modern designs.

A good example of this "transitional-modern" plan is visible in the roof. Its gentle slope over one wing away from the main roof avoids the tiresome, unbroken line of many ranch style homes. Matern specified asphalt shingles for the roof, since they can be applied on low slopes for an attractive, weather-tight roof.

Other exterior features are the breezeway, hidden from view by the garage and vertical board fence, and natural stone planters under the front windows. Inside, a large fireplace in a floor-to-ceiling brick wall a character to the 20- by 15-foot living room. The house also has a large family room, separate bedroom, two-bath home combines good looks with space and convenience unique in a small house.

In keeping with the concepts of modern, comfortable living, the architect has specified thick mineral wool insulation in the walls and ceilings. Thick insulation makes air conditioning less expensive, both in initial equipment expenditure and operating costs, and makes the house more comfortable in winter, with savings of as much as 40 percent on fuel for heating.

The house can be built over a basement or on a concrete slab. It has 11 closets, a covered porch, entrance foyer, and folding doors separating the family room from the living room.

Additional information, blueprints, and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 22, L. I., N. Y. Refer to plan No. 9465.
