Add these items to the list of constantly spiralling cost of living items: Tobacco, cement, cars and unquestionably food as the drought continues. The index is at an all time high and continues to rise even further every single month. This increase in items has continued for the past nine months and there is no indication that it will cease its spiralling. Late reports indicate milk will cost us more in the near future. I personally feel that it will get a lot "rougher" this winter as another round of wage increases and the resultant hike in prices appears in the offing. I read this week where the nation still was in a state of National Emergency, and has been so since 1950 when the Korean War started. This being true then the Government has a perfect right to control these rampant price spirals but apparently it appears to be indifferent to them.

One of my favorite vegetables, corn-on-the-cob, is missing from the table these days and if the drought doesn't break I don't suppose there will be any at all this season. This is about the latest I can remember that corn didn't mature on the local farms. There have been a few instances when peddlers have hit town with the product but these were few and far between. Local farmers advise me the corn crop will be very scarce this year, if there is any at all. The dry weather has stunted the crop so badly that most of it will be fed to cattle as ensilage.

Well another year has rolled around and still no action on a swimming pool site favorable for public swimming. For the past five years I have been harping on this subject and I am not one step further ahead right now than I was five years ago. A lot of talk and discussion has taken place but no concrete action has developed. I have heard that some organizations and even some individuals are interested in the project, but somehow it remains strictly in the talking stage as we continue to swelter in the heat. Each summer revives the project but just as soon as the heat fades away, so does the idea. It was the hope of most of us that the Bi-centennial might form the first nest-egg for the necessary funds for a pool, but you are all aware now that it was a financial flop, so that's out. Apparently there's only one way it can be done, and that is by private investment. It seems a shame with all the mountain water and streams in our locality that something couldn't be worked out, but I suppose the general public isn't interested.

That bright and shiny vehicle you see riding up and down the street is the new ambulance purchased by the local VFW for the use of the community. It arrived here this week and will be put into immediate use. This is one organization that has made a niche in community history with its excellent community welfare plans. This service is an expensive one—one that wouldn't possibly pay an individual or company to maintain, but the club has borne the burden of expense for this service for a decade now and plans to continue as long as possible. Many, many thanks boys, you've more than done your part for this community.

The town's new sewerage project received a boost recently when it was learned that possible state aid might be forthcoming. As far as can be learned it is believed that the state might absorb as high as 40% of the cost of parts of the project. If this is true it really is good news and should expedite the installation of the project immensely. The Commissioners plan to go right ahead with the project as soon as possible, and it will indeed be a welcome asset to the community.

Mrs. A. A. Horner and Miss Martha Horner of Takoma Park, Md., and Mrs. Leroy Law, St. Louis, Mo., are spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Baumgardner.

Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Chrismer, long-time residents of Emmitsburg until May of last year when Mrs. Chrismer's health forced her removal to the Longview Nursing Home in Manchester, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary there on Wednesday at a simple ceremony attended by relatives and close friends.

Mr. Chrismer, who was born in Gettysburg in 1866, grew up in Bonneauville and moved to Emmitsburg at the age of 20, where he established a carriage-making business with the late John Dukehart, retiring from it in 1927, but continuing to live at his home at 103 E. Main St. He will observe his 91st birthday in November.

Mrs. Chrismer, 82, was born near Emmitsburg in 1885, and is the former Jeanette Humerick Propf. The couple was married at St. Joseph's Church in Baltimore where Mrs. Chrismer was living at that time.

There are four surviving children of the marriage: Mrs. William M. Travers, Baltimore; Sister Mary Paul Chrismer, now superintendent of St. John's Hospital in Lowell, Mass.; Wayne Chrismer, Bel Air, and John Everett Chrismer, Emmitsburg; also 14 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Chrismer, though confined to her home at the nursing home, is in good health despite her infirmities. Mr. Chrismer visits Emmitsburg frequently and was "back home" for the recent Bi-centennial celebration.

Local Team Drops Fourth Straight

Emmitsburg was plummeted to the cellar of the Pen-Mar Baseball League as it dropped its 4th straight ball game to Blue Ridge Summit by a lopsided score of 10 to 5 Sunday in action on the Pennsylvania's diamond.

Blue Ridge and Union Bridge kept up their close race for first place by registering victories, but one game may produce a protest.

Cashtown evacuated the cellar by triumphing 6-2 over Fairfield on the Cashtown diamond.

SCOUTS RETURN FROM CAMPING TRIP

Home from the annual camping trip of Troop 284 are these local Scouts: Standing—R. Rosensteel, R. Topper, J. Rightnow, G. Miller, R. Werman, R. Ireland, T. VanBakle, I. Tokar, J. Fitzgerald and R. Lewis, kneeling—C. Stoops, E. Lingg, J. Topper, T. Humerick, L. Orendorf, E. Orendorf, C. Stoutter, F. Hawk and W. Hawk. Missing from picture are D. Garrie, S. Myers, W. Joy, C. Hubbard, B. Ott and L. Topper.

Home again! Well, our week camping trip was over. We passed tests, built bridges, did body building exercises and also brought rain to our very dry area. When we arrived at our camp site it looked like a week of hard work, but we soon got together and the work was done and the week was left for Scouting. A monkey bridge was the first project and was used to build confidence as much as Scout skills. It was 50 foot long and 10 foot high and the Scouts crossed it many times during the day. A pier in the swimming hole was built, along with racks, altars, and small tables.

On Wednesday night a meeting of the troop committee was held to check the camp and plans for the future of Troop 284. The possibilities of camping at Camp Roosevelt on the Chesapeake was discussed with Lyndon Karr, District Scoutmaster, and more plans will be discussed for 1958.

Thursday night was parents' night with a large turnout of parents and friends. Ceremonies were held and every boy was given a camp emblem which is worn on the uniform. Emblems in black were given Scouts who were on their first one-week camp. Gold emblems were given to those who were two-year campers and silver emblems to all three-year campers. An award for the top camper was presented to James Fitzgerald as the outstanding camper of 1957. Toting chip awards for axe and knife handling were given to Gene Miller, Larry Topper, and Jerry Rightnow. First Class badges were presented to Jerry Rightnow and James Fitzgerald. Second Class badge was presented to Gene Miller, and Tenderfoot badges were given to Danny Garrie, Tommy Humerick, Gene Lingg, Ed Orendorf, Larry Orendorf, Craig Stoops and Wayne Hawk. Merit badges were awarded to James Fitzgerald for cooking; Jerry Rightnow, hiking and cooking; Robert Wagerman, hiking; Robert Lewis, firearms art, Ralph Ireland, coin and stamp collecting, firearms art, camping, hiking, public speaking, home repairs, and scholarship. Year pins to show the length of service in Scouting were also given out.

A song by Ronald Stoutter followed the awards and he was then made official camp singer. Ceremonies came to a close with the bestowing of the Order of Good Campers on all Scouts with the passing out of the ashes of 1955-56 campfires.

On Friday night a snipe hunt was held with quite a few seen but none caught (So the young Scouts say).

Camp was broken up Saturday morning. Some of the boys came home with turtles, snakes, bones, and other Scouts with cobs.

The point system ended as the trucks entered town and Craig Stoops had a total of 993 out of a possible 1000 points. Scout Stoops was awarded a Scout hunting knife at the Scouthouse on Thursday.

Explorers are now preparing a hike down the old canal next to the Potomac River.

Community Fund To Solicit Funds

Seven members of the board of directors of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg were present at the regular monthly meeting of that group held Monday night in the Fire Hall, President Cloyd W. Weiss presiding.

Thank-you notes were received from Margaret Rosensteel and Marjorie Hubbard. A local woman, in need of regular relief, was denied aid until such time as the proper regulations prescribed by the group, were complied with. Get-well cards were ordered sent to two local ill people. The treasurer reported a bank balance of nearly $400. The group, in an effort to augment its treasury, will mail out letters seeking contributions to the general public and organizations, in the near future.

HAND CAUGHT IN SAW

Larry Hobbs, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hobbs, Fairfield Rt. 2, was treated at the Warner Hospital for extensive lacerations of the right thigh and left hand sustained last Saturday afternoon when he became caught in a chain saw.

Thongs Visit Battlefield

More than 11,000 visitors were in Gettysburg over the weekend, the largest visitation so far this year, according to figures reported by the National Park Service in Gettysburg.

On Saturday there were 5477 visitors in private cars and 33 others in two buses for a total of 5530.

On Sunday the visitation was 5376 in cars and 163 in five buses for a total of 5539. The two-day total was 11,069.

"It goes into details of disbursements for small county departments which spent a few dollars," he said, "but yet does not itemize the large expenditures. I feel that Carroll County people have a right to this information."

Mr. Young admitted that an itemized report of school board disbursements was not available. He said the commissioners "expected to have one shortly."

As to a detailed accounting of road money, and other data sought by Mr. Hale, the chairman said these figures were a matter of record at the county court house in Westminster.

Miss Frances Rowe of the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, Dublin, Ga., is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Combs.

ERNEST T. SELTZER
Ernest Thomas Seltzer, 64, well-known resident of St. Anthony's, near Emmitsburg, died last Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Frederick Memorial Hospital following a brief illness.

The son of the late James R. and Hannah E. (Jordan) Seltzer, he was a life-long member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, a member of the Holy Name Society and a veteran of World War I. He was a painter at Mount St. Mary's College for 45 years.

CARROLL COUNTY OFFICIALS CRITICIZED

The Carroll County Board of Commissioners was accused earlier this week of refusing to itemize school and roads disbursements.

Preston L. Hale, a Hampstead insurance broker, charged that a statement of receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year ending last Dec. 31 did not itemize the following expenses:
1—Roadways, $96,138.
2—Road machinery, $15,000.
3—Board of Education, $1,133,303.

In a letter to John D. Young, board chairman, Mr. Hale pointed out that neighboring Baltimore County publishes itemized statements of roads and school expenses.

"The people of Carroll County," he said, "are wondering how their tax money is being spent. For example, your county commissioners' expenses were $16,629.19. If you follow the same pattern as the roads and schools disbursements this would be all that is needed in the statement."

"However, the report breaks down the commissioners' expenses as $8400 for salaries, $7,288.19 for operating expenses, and $1 for capital outlay."

"The taxpayers of the county are not too interested in how this $1 was spent; but they are interested to know how the $1,294,441 was spent in the roads and schools divisions."

Mr. Hale said the recently published Carroll County statement follows the same pattern each year.

Mr. Young admitted that an itemized report of school board disbursements was not available. He said the commissioners "expected to have one shortly."

As to a detailed accounting of road money, and other data sought by Mr. Hale, the chairman said these figures were a matter of record at the county court house in Westminster.

AMBUANCE ON DISPLAY

YOUNG BASS STOCKED IN TOM'S CREEK

The stocking of young bass in Tom's Creek was effected Wednesday by members of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club and the Maryland State Fish Hatchery at Lewistown, Md. The State Inland Game and Fish Commission furnished the fish at the request of the local sportsmen's club.

Clay Z. Green, president of the sportsmen's club, and James Kemp, secretary of the club, reported that four stockings were made in different localities of Tom's Creek, near town. The total number of fingerling bass released was 1000.

Thurmont Downs Emmitsburg Little Leaguers

Emmitsburg Little Leaguers lost their first round in tournament play last Saturday when they were defeated by Thurmont 4-3 in a 10-inning game.

Stull for Thurmont performed a Herculean hurling job in striking out 21 men in nine innings. However, he didn't get the credit for the win, because under little league rules he had to be taken out after nine innings.

HARTDAGEN WEDDLE

Miss Ruth Weddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Weddle, Thurmont, and Charles Hartdagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Hartdagen, Emmitsburg, were married on July 26 at 7 p. m. in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg. The Rev. Leo Wetzel, O.M.I., cousin of the bridegroom, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a pink princess style, street-length dress of crystal acetate and a matching jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. She chose white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Lois Hartdagen, Emmitsburg, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a light blue street-length dress of embroidered nylon over matching taffeta, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Carl Wetzel, Thurmont, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Miss Louella Lansing, church organist, played a 15-minute organ recital before the wedding and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride's mother wore a lavender street-length dress, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue street-length dress, white accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a small reception for relatives and friends was held at the couple's newly furnished home at 420 E. Main St., Emmitsburg. The couple left later on a short honeymoon to an unannounced destination.

The bride is a 1955 graduate of Thurmont High School and is employed at Clair Frock Co. in Thurmont. The bridegroom served two years with the U. S. Army and is now employed with a construction company in Union Bridge.

Thurmont By-Pass Nears Completion

The first paving on the new Thurmont by-pass has started and base course material is being placed on another section of the 4.4 mile contract held by Richard F. Kline, Frederick contractor, it was reported.

State Roads Commission sources said several thousand feet of the by-pass has been paved with bituminous concrete, starting at the end nearest Catocin Furnace. The Kline firm is still engaged in some grading operations on the north end of the new highway, which by-passes Thurmont to the west.

County To Levy 3-Cent Cigarette Tax

It was unanimously decided to impose a tobacco tax which the General Assembly at its last session authorized the board to impose, at a meeting of the Frederick County Board of Commissioners held this week.

Delbert S. Null, president of the Board explained at the meeting, that the tax was necessitated by the increased costs of the business of the county—particularly attributable to schools.

The tax which will be felt by most smokers will be levied on cigarettes which will be at the rate of three cents a pack. There also will be a tax on pipe tobacco, cigars and plugs.

The Commissioners indicated the tax will begin to be collected on Sept. 1. Announcement as to the method of sale and issue of the stamps will be made shortly after August 1 the Board says.

The money, to go to the general fund, will be payable on the wholesale level and stamps affixed to the package by the wholesaler, showing payment of the tax.

It is expected at least temporarily, that one of the present county employes will oversee compliance with the law, the county Board explained. It asserted that this county is one of the few counties left in the state that does not have a tobacco tax.

The tax will be collected and the mechanics of the plan administered by the office of the county treasurer, James H. Falk. Rumor of the impending tax brought quick reaction from county wholesale distributors. The feeling summarized, was this: A three-cent tax on cigarettes puts this county—wholesaler and retailer—at a distinct disadvantage. In two adjoining counties the cigarette tax is a cent lower and in a third, there is no tax at all and furthermore, none is anticipated. Carroll and Montgomery Counties each have a two-cent tax on cigarettes. Washington County has no tobacco tax.

Dealers warn that this action will "drive business away from Frederick County."

Imposition of the tax will entail additional expense to the County, to wholesalers and to retailers, a large distributor pointed out. This will be enhanced by the speed necessary to meet the compliance date. Mechanics of the levy are rather involved it was pointed out, and it will be necessary to smooth out quite a number of obstacles.

The hike in the cigarette levy, one cent higher than two of the County's neighbors and three cents above that of a third, places local dealers in a disadvantageous position—one that unquestionably will be reflected in diminished cigarette sales in this area.

Southern States To Sponsor Fish Fry

The Emmitsburg Feed and Farm Supply announced this week that a fish fry and annual membership meeting will be held at Tom's Creek Church on Wednesday, Aug. 14, and invites all its patrons and members to attend. The meal will be served at 6:30 p. m. and the business meeting will take place at 8 o'clock. Meal tickets are available for the asking at the local Southern States Cooperative outlet and an early application for these tickets is asked so that food purchases can be estimated. During the business meeting a movie giving an account of the annual report, will be shown and a panel discussion held.

Nominees to the board and committee for the coming year are: Bernard Welty, Frank Valentine, Delbert Piper, Paul B. Dorn, Roy Sanders, Mrs. Mervin Tate, Mrs. John Fuss, Mrs. Carroll Wivell and Mrs. Eugene Long. Retiring members of the board this year are Ray Keepers, Mrs. Charles Copenhaver and Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The Trinity Methodist Church and Sunday School held a most enjoyable picnic at Edderman's Park, west of Fairfield, last Thursday. A delicious picnic dinner was served to the 80 members and guests present. The evening was spent swimming, playing ball and other games.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Shoemaker are spending the weekend in Muncy, Pa., visiting at the home of Mr. Shoemaker's mother, Mrs. Mabel Grange Shoemaker.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Savings And Life Insurance

BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 1—Statistics can be used to prove what you want to prove, — or they can be used to show what they do prove. Money is used universally, and its fluctuations must always be considered in all calculations. The problem is to find a stable unit of value. On the basis of a dollar worth 100 cents in 1939, it is now worth 50 cents and is going lower.

The money unit—whether it be a dollar, pound, or franc—has a tendency to become less and less valuable. Money is always a problem to everyone, from the paper boy to the President of the United States. The Government has debts even as you and I. As the dollar becomes of less value, so do our savings accounts and life insurance.

The National Debt

Wars are the Government's most expensive cost item. They destroy wealth, take the best youth of the nations, settle nothing, and are supported by borrowed money. This debt must be paid by the youth of the country yet unborn. These Government obligations are known as the National Debt. In 1914, the National Debt was a little over one billion dollars. Today it is around $275 billion and it costs about $9 billion annually to pay interest on the debt. We have fought wars to end all wars, but the next one may end everything else.

Printing-Press Money

There are many people who think that the National Debt and the money problem could be solved by printing more money. When you stand in the balcony of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, watch a worker hold up a blank sheet of paper, push it into a machine, pull a lever, hold the sheet of paper up again transformed into $1,000 bills, you can readily see how they get that idea. The end of printing such money may be complete repudiation and catastrophe.

Labor Unions

In 1933, Labor Unions had a membership of around 3 million; today it numbers around 18 million. Since we have a civilian labor force of almost 70 million, this means that less than 30 percent of the workers are unionized. However, the leaders of this 30% practically set the standards for a large majority of the nation's workers. Some of the union activities are harmful both to the general welfare of the nation and to their own members as well. Labor should get a fair wage but its production should increase in line with its wages. Otherwise, these workers reduce the value of your savings and life insurance.

The Vicious Spiral

The Union demand is always for higher wages or shorter hours. Employers are willing to grant increases so long as production is being increased, but otherwise such raises are just like printing-press money and are followed by a rise in the prices of consumer goods. Increased prices are soon met by another demand for an increase in wages, and the spiral goes round and round. The vicious circle continues: Increased wages, increased costs of production, increased prices, then increased wages. This will go on until the consumer ceases to buy and we have unemployment and depression.

Creeping Inflation

This gradual increase in prices lessens by so much the value of the dollar and of your savings deposits and life insurance. This situation is going on at the present time, and unless it is controlled it will cause trouble in time. The Federal Reserve Board is trying to stem creeping inflation with tighter money. We should all encourage the Board in its effort to protect the dollar, our savings, and our life insurance. Inflation does not increase the volume of business; it just increases the number of dollars necessary to carry on business.

Conclusion

The Administration likes to speak of the Gross National Product, which is measured in dollars, because it probably makes everybody feel better; but remember that it is measured by a 50-cent dollar rather than by amounts of food, clothing and shelter.

Unemployment Pay Benefits Drop

The amount of benefits paid under the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law in June dropped seasonally from the amount paid in June of last year, Robert B. Kimble, Executive Director of the Department of Employment Security, announced this week.

Mr. Kimble said the causes of the increase, in addition to the fact that unemployment this year is running ahead of 1956, include vacation, inventory and plant-repair layoffs, some short layoffs, of one or two weeks, for lack of work, and some indefinite layoffs for lack of work.

Among the industries affected, Mr. Kimble noted, were chemicals, food-processing, apparel, transportation equipment, primary metals and electrical machinery.

Unemployed persons eligible under the state program received $1,726,430 in benefits during June, down 20.3 percent from May, but up 56.8 percent over June of last year.

The 62,255 benefit checks paid out in June were 20.9 percent below the number for May, but 25.5 percent more than in June, 1956.

In terms of weekly averages, 14,478 unemployed workers received checks each week in June, as against 18,302 in May and 11,536 in June of last year. On the average, then, 2,942 more insured workers were unemployed and drawing benefits each week this June than last.

Initial claims, representing new spells of unemployment, dropped during June to a weekly average of 2,541, down 7.9 percent from May, but up 25.9 percent over June, 1956.

In addition to the above Unemployment Insurance program, the Department of Employment Security administers similar programs for Federal employees and newly discharged Veterans, the costs of which are met by the Federal Government.

Newly discharged Veterans unemployed in June received 1,153 benefit checks totaling $26,199, as compared with 1,188 checks totaling $25,669 in June of last year. The greater cost for a smaller number of checks this year is a result of a rise in the amount per check.

Unemployed Federal workers in Maryland received 1,550 benefit checks totaling $49,415 in June, as compared with $51,783 checks totaling $50,888 in June of last year.

County Aid Society Not Affiliated

Editor Emmitsburg Chronicle:

It has come to our attention that a number of Frederick County residents have received a communication from the Maryland Children's Aid Society, Baltimore, soliciting funds in Frederick County. Questions concerning this drive have been received by the local Children's Aid Society office and, in order to clarify the situation, we wish to advise that the Children's Aid Society of Frederick County, Inc., is independently licensed by the State Dept. of Public Welfare and is not connected in any way with the Maryland Children's Aid Society; and, moreover, does not benefit from any funds collected by that agency.

TICKS

Of all the dog pests, ticks are among the worst. They bite into the dog's skin and are stubborn about letting go. But with a little patience, you can get rid of them.

One thing you should not do is try to pull live ticks from a dog. They may break and spread disease to you. The part that remains imbedded in the dog's skin can cause infection to him.

The best way to get rid of ticks, according to the Sergeant's Dog Care Center of Richmond, Va., is to kill them on the dog first. Treat the dog's coat with a powder or liquid made for this purpose.

Ticks die slowly. Allow 24 hours for the powder or liquid to take effect. Once the ticks have died and relaxed their hold, it's safe to comb them out of the dog's coat. Repeat the treatment weekly to prevent re-infestation.

Frederick County, Inc., withdrew in October, 1953, as a branch of the Maryland Children's Aid Society, following the withdrawal of a number of other Maryland Counties.

We are a participating member of the Community Chest of Frederick County and beginning this year, will not obtain funds by a special campaign, but will direct our efforts towards the success of the Frederick County Community Chest.

Tips for Lady Barbecuers

Can She build a barbecue fire? Yes she can—the modern mother knows how to kindle a fire that will barbecue or charcoal grill any of her family's favorite outdoor foods. And she does it without so much as smudging her fingers!

She follows this list of helpful suggestions from a noted research laboratory. The New York Testing Laboratories of New York City, as a result of a study sponsored by the company that makes Reynolds Wrap Aluminum Foil, has come up with a method of building fires in outdoor grills that is safe, clean and easy. Here are their suggestions:

1. Line the bottom of the fireplace or portable grill with one or more layers of heavy duty aluminum foil to reflect the heat back up on the food and speed the cooking. This also keeps the grill free from grease and ashes.
2. Be sure to use fresh dry foil packaged briquets. These can be shaken from the package without touching and will ignite quickly, burn without excess smoke.
3. Use a safe starter material. Foil packaged briquets include an envelope of granular starter material that eliminates danger of flareups.
4. Start the fire 20 to 30 minutes before cooking time. Briquets ignite in several places when the starter is touched with a match and the fire spreads until all are burning.
5. Remember they do not glow red when burning—instead are spotted gray. Don't touch them with the fingers, use tongs.

Looking Ahead
...by Dr. George S. Benson
DIRECTOR — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

(Editor's Note: Glenn A. Green, Associate Director of the National Education Program, is studying political and economic systems in Europe and Scandinavia this summer. Dr. Benson is incorporating Mr. Green's dispatches in his regular columns).

Studying The Welfare States

OSLO, NORWAY—Dear Dr. Benson: My SK Airlines plane touched down on the Oslo airport runway just two hours ago (as this is written), and I am filing this first dispatch to give the readers of your column my conception of the nature of my mission to the 13 countries to be visited.

Welfare State ideas have great appeal to uninformed and misinformed people. They offer people something for nothing. In Scandinavia and Europe there are many types of the Welfare State and all of them, of course, spring from pure Socialism. Almost without exception they have developed bit by bit—just a little Socialism here and a little governmental control there.

The Welfare State ideas have invaded the United States, as was to be expected as country after country adopted them. Based upon my observations and studies of political and economic developments, I agree with what you have repeatedly said: that these ideas constitute one of the gravest dangers to our future prosperity and freedom in America.

Briefly then my mission is to observe what is happening to the John Doe citizens of the nations who have adopted some or all of the Welfare State ideas of Socialism.

A System's Requirements

Many times you have said that an economic system has two primary functions: (1) to bring about an adequate production of goods; and (2) to equitably distribute the available goods. Likewise, you have said that freedom is the most precious blessing to mankind, and that a government's primary function is to protect man's freedom.

We have an economic system in America based on the principle of private ownership of the facilities of production and distribution. With its dynamic elements of competition and incentive it has produced the highest standard of living ever known and has more equitably distributed its great wealth than has any other system for any other people. These are facts that cannot be disputed. Land Of Liberty

In the realm of government, we have a Constitutional Republic, created by our sovereign states, which for a century and a half has given unprecedented protection to individual freedom. Wherever the true comparative facts are known throughout the civilized world, the U. S. A. is recognized as "the Land of Liberty" and a nation enjoying an almost unbelievably high living standard.

Yet we have witnessed in the last few decades a powerful socialist force taking over one country after another throughout the world. There have been all types and forms and degrees of Socialistic systems set up in the 13 countries which I am to visit. To greater or lesser degree, all have subordinated the primary principle of private ownership and control of production and distribution, which is the foundation of our American economic system. In doing this have they made life better and the future brighter for their John Doe citizens? This is the question for which I shall seek an answer, from Oslo to Rome, and from Belgrade to Dublin. —G.G.

The question which should be turning over in the minds of people throughout the world is: what governmental and economic system will bring about the development of the best way of life for the John Doe citizens? In Norway and Sweden Welfare State ideas, which spring from the philosophy of Socialism, are quite well advanced in operation. The reports we will be receiving from Mr. Green in the weeks immediately ahead will be extremely interesting.

Readers of these columns might like to know that more than 500 newspapers, in addition to the nearly 4,000 publi-

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

This week—or, to be more specific, the last day of July—would normally be the official deadline for the adjournment of the Senate and the House of Representatives.
However, the same law which sets this final closing date also provides it does not have to be observed "in time of war or during a national emergency proclaimed by the President." And this exception within the law applies today.
Officially our country is still in the state of "national emergency" proclaimed in 1950 by Mr. Truman, who was President at the time.
The current session of the Congress can continue indefinitely, therefore, without even a passing nod to its regular adjournment deadline.
Precautionary Measure
The condition of "national emergency" which I mentioned should not be confused in any way with a state of war.
Under an emergency proclamation such as the one which has been in effect since the Korean conflict, a great many extraordinary provisions of law are automatically kept in force to permit the Government to take necessary action promptly.
The condition has been maintained as a precautionary, stand-by measure.
Disagreement On Adjournment
Even under normal circumstances, the time limit which was imposed on Congressional sessions by the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946 could be extended by the mere passage of a resolution by both Houses.
It is interesting to note, while considering this subject, that in case of disagreement between the two Houses as to a time, the Constitution authorizes the President to "adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper."
No President has ever exercised this power, and there is some question as to whether it might not apply solely to special sessions which he himself called.
Gally Passes
One last word, now, about adjournment.
Many Marylanders have told me that they would like to hear a debate or discussion on the Senate Floor.
Since the 85th Congress is now beginning to wind up its first session, anyone who wishes to visit the Senate while it is in action should do so as soon as possible.
Passes permitting visitors to enter the Senate gallery are available in my office—Room 244, Senate Office Building. We will be glad to have you drop in to pick them up.
It's bad enough to be a quitter. But it's worse to finish something you never should have started.

Treatment Center Sponsored By Easter Seal Sale Money

The Easter Seal Treatment Center for Crippled Children and Adults began its treatment program on August 1, serving Frederick, Washington, and Carroll counties. Speech and hearing therapy will be available at this time, with occupational therapy and physical therapy to be added in the early fall.
According to Miss M. L. Chamney, field representative and director of the Center, both children and adults will be accepted for treatment, but only on recommendation of the physician. Initial appointments can be made by writing to the Easter Seal Treatment Center, 1730 N. Market St., Frederick, Maryland or calling the Center (MO. 3-6240).
Miss Barbara Eguchi, a native of Hawaii, is the speech therapist at the Center. She is originally from Honolulu where she received her bachelor of arts in speech correction at the University of Hawaii. She worked for her master of science in clinical speech at the Pennsylvania State University where she received her degree this past June.
Speech and hearing cannot be separated and looked upon as two entirely different fields; but rather, as closely associated problems. Before the treatment program can be started, both speech and hearing evaluations are made to determine the type of problem and how the patient will best benefit from therapy.
Any type of therapeutic program is a long and involved process. The therapist needs the cooperation not only of the patient, but of parents and the people in the community as well. Much of the success of therapy depends upon the closely working relationship of these individuals.

ALONG THE POTOMAC

By U. S. Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON — I have long felt that the restrictions imposed by the Hatch Act on the political activities of Federal workers should be modified. I have recently testified in favor of a bill which would provide for the establishment of a Commission to study the restrictions of the Act.
Other matters of interests to Government employees and retirees that have occupied my attention include an increase in postal salary scales for which I voted. I am also happy to report that our efforts in behalf of legislation to permit the Civil Service Commission to take over and maintain the assets and liabilities of Government employee group life insurance associations has resulted in a House sub-committee favorably reporting the Senate-passed bill to accomplish this.
In seeking ways of maintaining a high level of employment in Maryland, I attended a conference with the Secretary of the Navy to work out plans to send more Navy repair work to Baltimore shipyards. The grant of a $12 million research and development contract to the Fairchild plant in Hagerstown is of interest and benefit to my District.
The House Ways and Means Committee has favorably reported a bill which would amend the Social Security Act and extend to the States the privilege of social security coverage for State and local police and firemen now under state retirement systems. This

Noxious Weed Control Urged

Maryland farmers should check the land they have under Acreage Reserve to be sure it is not helping spread noxious weeds, Leonard C. Burns, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, cautioned this week.
He advises farmers to keep in mind the fact that, under their Acreage Reserve agreements, they agreed to control noxious weeds on the land put in the Acreage Reserve. The cost of controlling the noxious weeds must be borne by the farmer.
Mr. Burns points out that the list of weeds designated as "noxious" is compiled by the Maryland ASC Committee, and copies of such are available at the County ASC Office. Weeds listed for Maryland are: Bermuda Grass, Bindweed, Canada Thistle, Dodder, Johnson Grass, Quackgrass, and Wild Garlic.
The Acreage Reserve regulations state that farmers should take such steps as may be prescribed by the county committee to prevent Acreage Reserve land from becoming a source of spreading the designated noxious weeds.
Mr. Burns suggests that Maryland farmers who see a noxious weed problem developing on their Acreage Reserve land call at the county office for advice on what action to take.

A form of acute virus diarrhea of cattle resembles shipping fever and veterinary diagnosis is required to determine which disease is causing the illness.
There is no effective treatment for uncomplicated infectious bronchitis or Newcastle disease in poultry. Treatment with antibiotics by a veterinarian, however, is effective in preventing secondary infections which may lead to "air sac" infection or chronic respiratory disease, the American Veterinary Medical Assn. says.
I have requested the Veterans Administration to declare veterans in Allegany County eligible for direct housing loans. A bill passed by the House and now awaiting Senate action directs the Veterans Administration to provide loans to veterans in small towns and rural areas as a matter of course.
I have introduced a House Resolution calling for a special House committee to study and make recommendations aimed at strengthening congressional control over the public purse. I believe this will lead to real savings to the tax payer.

Milk Cooperative Will Discuss Important Issues

Matters of importance to every dairy farmer member of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc. will be up for discussion at the semi-annual meeting of the organization, to be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, August 10 at the Westminster High School.
The program will include a discussion of events of the first six months of 1957 and of prospects for the rest of the year, according to W. P. Sadler, Cooperative manager. Milk returns in dollars for the first half year are up $500,000 over the same period of 1956 although milk deliveries in gallons remained about the same.
The program will not be limited to discussions. After the Westminster meeting, members—and their wives or husbands—will be entertained at a box luncheon and inspection of the new warehouse and salesroom of the Cooperative, completed during the first half of the year. This is located on Route 26, near Eldersburg, some 15 miles from Westminster, and is the Cooperative's "non-profit" equipment division, selling dairy farm equipment and materials to MCMP members at cost.
MCMP President Edgar G. Emrich of Emmitsburg will preside.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read 1 Timothy 6:1-8.

I have learned, in whatever state I am, to be content. (Philippians 4:11, RSV.)

One of the rewards of a proper adjustment to life is the attainment of patience. One man who claimed this spiritual heritage for himself was the Apostle Paul, who is really the Job of the New Testament. During his ministry he suffered inner turmoil, frustration, fatigue, starvation, shipwreck, beatings, and imprisonment. Instead of being broken in spirit, Paul rose above adversity. From a prison cell in Rome, he found himself able to write, "I have learned . . . to be content."

Actually, what is patience? Is it not a word for complete trust in the goodness of God's will for our lives, whatever the circumstances in which we find ourselves? Paul said that the secret of his ability to face life was finding strength in Christ. Therein lies our success or failure. Contentment and patience in life come through getting ourselves in harmony with God's purpose. We accomplish this only through the strength Christ gives us be-

SPORTS AFIELD
By Ted Kesting

Horsepower and revolutions per minute are words familiar to most youngsters long before they can spell them. But age limits for the operation of automobiles and aircraft are enforced in all 48 states. So, says Sports Afield Magazine's Boat Editor Willard Crandall, it's no wonder that outboard motorboat racing for kids is a popular sport.

Low-horsepower outboard boat races for boys, something new on the national scene, is the safest known type of motor-powered racing. But it is not only the sport that is on the minds of its sponsors. It cuts a lot deeper than that. There is a rapidly growing conviction that such racing is an unexcelled method of teaching safe boat driving and handling.

A few years ago a boy could be taught to give all other boats a wide berth because outboards numbered in the hundreds rather than the thousands. But today there are water skiers, as well as many boats of all sizes and shapes on the water. Suddenly, someday, a craft is going to come at, or close to the boy. Consequently he needs more close-quarter driving and boat-handling experience than his father did.

Rocky Ridge GI Trains In Kansas

FORT RILEY, Kan. — Army Pvt. Jewell D. Burdette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Burdette, Rocky Ridge, Md., is receiving eight weeks of basic combat training with the 1st Infantry Division at Fort Riley, Kan.

The 22-year-old soldier was graduated from Thurmont High School in 1953.

Private Goes To Germany

Army Pvt. John Wood, Jr., 19, whose parents live on Route 2, Fairfield, Pa., recently was assigned to the 11th Airborne Division in Germany.

Wood, who was last stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., is now a mechanic in the Headquarters and Rear Support Company of the division's 711th Airborne Maintenance Battalion.

The 1956 Gettysburg High School graduate entered the Army last September and completed basic combat training at Fort Dix, N. J.

The Boy Scouts of America has not only recognized this situation but, by devising various competitive tests, has done something about it.

Racing has one great advantage in teaching—it offers the greatest possible incentive for the boy to learn for himself. Initiative is encouraged. There is not only the actual driving of the race, there is also the preparation for it.

Low cost and safety should be the first two rules for races for youngsters. It is an ideal way to give boys the encouraging hand they need.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

It appears investigation of labor affairs by Senate committee headed by Sen. John McClellan (Ark.) will not stop with sorry situation in Teamster's Union.

Neither are these probes expected to end up in so-called "union busting," largely because Big Business breeds labor organizations to deal with the management of huge corporations which otherwise in madness for power might run amuck.

But shocking C. W. Harder as many of the disclosures are, they come as no surprise to nation's independent businessmen.

On several occasions, nation's businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have urged unions be made liable to nation's anti-trust laws. So far no action has ever been taken.

Yet some of worst abuses coming to light stem directly from fact unions have been permitted to roam at will through economic structure with no checks on irresponsibility of a few leaders.

Thus, conspiracies have been entered into between unprincipled leaders and their counterparts in some aggressive firms where they have jointly stacked the cards against competition.

Occasionally, such as the machinations of James Hoffa as reported in this column months ago, independent competition has been forced out to permit firms formed by labor leader associates to have a free hand.

These conspiracies have usually not been known to, or condoned by, either dues paying rank and file members, or responsible labor leaders. In great majority, © National Federation of Independent Business

American labor, as all other citizens, believe in fair play.

But naked power has been there for anyone to abuse.

And that power has been the freedom of labor leaders, if they so desire, to ignore the laws which govern the rest of the nation and engage in conspiracies for restraint of trade, price fixing, and sundry other unwholesome practices. It is a tribute to majority of labor leaders this power has not been used even more.

But to many observers of the current economic scene, there is grave doubt there could have occurred such great concentrations in the hands of so few in such industries as baking, dairying and brewing, for example, without active conspiratorial agreements entered into with the unscrupulous elements in labor. Obviously, no higher degree of scruples has prevailed on the other side of the desk, either.

When anti-trust laws are enforced, independent business by better management, employing advantages inherent in personal ownership, can compete successfully against big corporations.

But when opposition is allied with labor leaders willing to take advantage of their immunity from anti-trust laws, survival is well nigh impossible.

But paradoxically, if some labor leaders are jailed as result of current probes, it will not be on the grounds they have engaged in jungle economic warfare. Rather, they will run afoul of income tax laws. This reliance on income tax laws to punish economic malfeasance is not only wrong in principle, but places an unfair burden on the Internal Revenue service. Thus, as nation's independent businessmen know, if labor organizations had been placed under anti-trust laws, such scandals as now rock nation would not have been possible.

Annual losses from brucellosis in cattle have been reduced from $50 million in 1954 to $24 million in 1956, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association.

TORNADO WARNING in time can spell the difference between heavy loss of life and light casualties when the twisters sweep into populated areas. Under the experimental Weather Bureau program for tornado tracking by radar and telephoned visual reports, adequate warning could be broadcast so that local civil defense, police and firemen could evacuate residents or advise them to seek cover in basements. This drawing shows how such a warning station at Lincoln, Neb., might alert the inhabitants of Dorchester, Neb., in the expected path of a twister. The twin funnels are an unusual phenomenon—most tornadoes occur singly. (Courtesy A. Leydentrost)

Lime Co. Develops New Material

The M. J. Grove Lime Co. held an open house at its Frederick plant for approximately 100 road builders, aggregate producers, and city officials and engineers Thursday, the occasion being the official inauguration of a special type road building materials plant.

The new type material, officially designated as stabilized base course aggregate, was designed by the State Roads Commission to improve the quality and ease of construction of flexible base courses in highway construction.

The plant has been in production for several weeks and material has been furnished on several State Roads contracts in this county. Other highway construction projects in this area are scheduled to use the material in the near future.

the near future.

The open house began at 10:45 a. m. with a plant demonstration of the new Grove facility. A buffet luncheon followed at the Francis Scott Key Hotel and in the afternoon the officials and engineers visited a project where the material was being placed on the roadway.

The stabilized base course aggregate material consists essentially of a mixture of properly sized limestone aggregates to which have been added specified quantities of water and calcium chloride.

The plant consists of a tunnel nine square feet inside and 106 feet long. It has four openings, a 30-inch conveyor belt charged by five feeders, one of them being the calcium chloride which is stored in a bin beyond the tunnel.

Four sizes of stone are blended and the calcium chloride and water are then added. The material is mixed in what is known as a pug mill, dumped on trucks and hauled to the job. The plant's output is 400 tons per hour and it takes a little over a minute to load each 10-ton truck.

Huge stockpiles of crushed stone, containing over 100,000 tons and of various sizes, feed the conveyor belt.

The stabilized base mix was being placed Thursday on a contract by Richard F. Kline, Frederick contractor, on Md. 97 near Brunswick.
