Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Being a public official in Emmitsburg these days is getting to be a full-time job. Just take this week for instance, two special meetings had to be held by our Town Council in order to ready plans for the new sewer system. Last week another three-hour meeting was held . . . and this is only the beginning. Before actual construction can start there are multitudes of red tape which must be cleared before any operations can start. Many times the same men are called out-of-town for a half or whole day to talk over negotiations. Their time is consumed and their money spent. Actually the salary of the Town Commissioners is only $250 annually but most of this is quickly absorbed by expenses. They know there is a job to be done and have applied themselves to the task ahead in commendable fashion.

This is only part of the whole deal. Public support must be forthcoming and will be necessary before any project can be completed. The public must stiffen itself for the jolt in higher taxes. Modern conveniences come high and must be paid for. It is the intention of our public officials to make this burden as painless as possible and the rate of paying will be spread out over several decades so as to not impose too heavy a burden on local taxpayers. A sum of about $350,000 must be realized and this particular sum must come from the taxpayers' pockets.

None of us like the prospects of this project but it is mandatory that it be done and should the voters reject the proposition at a referendum, if it does come, it will only be a matter of time until the Health Dept. makes it compulsory and by that time the cost of the project will have greatly increased. Therefore the time has come to tackle this undertaking with all our cooperation. Other communities are facing this same task every day and we are no exception. We should bear along with our town representatives as there is a tough task ahead and they need our support. Let's stop bickering and back them up 100 per cent.

Received a letter from a teenage girl this week pertinent to the recent teen-age canteen. The letter was addressed to Abigail and after reading it I felt that it would be unwise to publish it, even though it was signed. My refusal to publish the letter was provoked by the fact that it vigorously attacked a man and his wife who opposed the project. I mention this so the party who wrote the letter will know exactly why it was not published. You just can't attack a citizen because his point of view differs from yours. I would suggest that the writer, if she still wished to let the individual know her feelings, tell him so personally as I don't feel that this particular scrap is public, but is highly personal.

It appears the Mt. St. Mary's College basketball team is well on the way to capture its fifth consecutive Mason-Dixon Conference championship. The team is presently leading the field and playing good ball. Those of you who are fans shouldn't miss the opportunity these evenings to witness some high-class brand of basketball almost right in your own backyard. It's quite some prestige to have a well-known athletic aggregation come from your home-town. See you at some of the games?

Addresses Fire Police

The Adams County Fire Police were told Monday night the Maryland State Police appreciate the cooperation given by the volunteer policemen from the fire companies.

Trooper Morgan made the comment in speaking to the Adams County Fire Police at a meeting of the county association at Emmitsburg.

He praised particularly the work of the Emmitsburg fire police and noted a number of instances of "splendid cooperation" on the part of the Emmitsburg men with the Maryland officers.

Charles W. Culp Jr., president of the Adams County fire police, presided at the meeting. A shrimp feed followed the session for the 100 present.

Mounties Appear Headed For Fifth Crown

This was the season when the law of averages was to catch up with Jim Phelan, Mount St. Mary's head man. Jack Sullivan, greatest scorer in Maryland cage history, had departed leaving behind a string of untouchable records and the talk was that now Phelan would have to coach a little with his bread-and-butter shooter out of the lineup.

The experts were only partly right about the young ex-LaSalle star. During the past three years Phelan and his Mountaineer cagers have dominated the 15-team Mason-Dixon cage conference much like Bud Wilkinson and his Oklahoma Sooners have handled Big Eight grid opponents. Over that span Phelan has racked up a 47-4 record in the conference, including nine straight tourney games which have won his club conference titles in each of his three years and a .922 league performance percentage. Including five outings this season, Phelan stands at 52-4 for a .929 log. Overall Phelan has a 77-17 record for an .819 mark, one of the finest coaching records in cage history.

During Sullivan's career the Mountaineers broke the school scoring mark in each of Phelan's coaching years, set a high mark of 27 wins in the season just past, and ran up the longest consecutive winning streak in school history with a string of 21 which was halted by Kentucky Wesleyan in the semi-finals of the NCAA College tourney last March. The Mountaineers just ran out of gas against Kentucky as they played eight tourney games in 12 days.

What the experts overlooked in prophesying the Mountaineer demise, was that Phelan could coach. Faced with the problem of a weaker offense with the loss of Jack Sullivan and a pre-season injury that robbed him of one of his bright young stars, Dick Talley, Phelan turned to the game he knows best—defense. At LaSalle and again with the Quantico Marines, Phelan's mates had labeled him the "Hawk," because of his uncanny defensive ability.

Now something of the coach's own skill has rubbed off on his club. In 10 games the Mountaineers have allowed only 624 points for a 62.4 defensive average, despite the fact that his first team has played less than half in three games while starting Forward Joe Sullivan missed two others. As a result, the Mountaineers are 5-0 in the conference where their opponents have picked up only 60.4 points per game while the Mountaineers have managed 88 per outting. Overall the Mounties have an offensive mark of 82.9 for a point spread of 20.5.

Only Georgetown has managed to tumble Phelan's crew this season 73-69 in early season in Washington when Phelan's crew dodged through a miserable first half to go into the dressing room down by 18 points. At the final whistle the Hoyas were hanging on for dear life as the Mountaineers roared back. This one Phelan would like to play over.

Phelan's charges are beginning to realize that defense can be fun. The Mountaineers have varied their play to capitalize on their opponents' weaknesses and have modified their ball hawking to suit the situation. As a result they have been extremely tough to handle and have been getting sharper with each outing.

Speedster, Jack Marshall, a quick 6' ex-Northeast Catholic (Philadelphia) back court ace whom Phelan considers his most underrated player, has been the club's spark plug. He has been backed up by Jerry Bohlinger, 6'6 forward and ex-LaSalle High ace, and Bill Williams, 6'6 center, who have worked the boards with authority in recent outings. Senior Joe Sullivan, brother of the fabulous Jack, has been one of Phelan's surprise stars. The 6'3 forward has been rugged off the boards and has hit in double figures. Star offensive Mountie starter is junior Bert Sheing with a 15.6 point average and 1038 points thus far in his career. The Wilmington flash also has the speed to break with Jack Marshall and the two sixfooters give the Mountaineers a dangerous crew out in defense.

This season Phelan has won a new respect from his colleagues in the Mason-Dixon area. Since the Mountaineers have gone on winning just as regularly as they did in the past, even though they seem undermanned, some of the glory is going where it belongs—to the coach. Already the Mountaineers are headed for their fifth crown.

TWO TRUCKERS INJURED IN COLLISION

Two truck drivers were injured, one critically, when their vehicles collided Friday morning shortly before noon at the bottom of Toll Gate Hill, about a mile south of Emmitsburg.

The injured man, Ralph Anthony Gregory, 26, of 3555 55th Apt. 5, Hyattsville, was taken to the Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg by the Emmitsburg Rescue Squad and was in critical condition.

The accident occurred about 10:40 a. m. immediately south of a bridge over Tom's Creek, approximately one mile south of Emmitsburg on U. S. Route 15.

Driving a partially loaded truck north for Morris Tile Distributors of Mt. Rainier, Gregory is believed to have applied brakes when he started down the hill and noticed a passenger car reducing speed in front of him. Marks on the highway at the scene indicate his truck then began to skid and jack-knifed into the southbound truck a few seconds later.

Driving the southbound truck also a tractor-trailer, was Daniel Lindsey Smith, 43, of 112 North St. John Street, Burlington, N. C. He escaped serious injury, but those who hurried to the scene of the accident said it was "a real miracle" he was able to do so.

Smith was driving for the Associated Transport firm of New York.

Impact of the crash threw Gregory out of his cab and he was found beneath a section of running board. Some of the tile from his truck were scattered and broken around the vicinity. The other truck was fully loaded with miscellaneous freight.

The accident was investigated by Tfc. H. J. Brown and Trooper J. W. McFarland of state police. They considered both trucks a total loss. Both so badly ripped, bent and broken that they had to be lifted from the highway by a mobile crane and hauled away on a flat-body truck.

Truckmen familiar with the accident unofficially estimated loss of the two tractor-trailers at $30,000. Damage to the cargoes, they said, would probably amount to approximately $2,000.

Illustrating the force of the crash was the fact that the engine from Gregory's truck was found nearly 25 feet away.

State Police were told the brakes on his truck were new and recently installed.

Responding with the rescue crew, the Vigilant Hose Co. washed oil, gasoline and debris from the highway at the scene of the crash.

The first report on Gregory's injuries included a skull fracture, concussions, and a deep laceration of the throat, possibly involving the jugular vein.

George Wilhide Heads Local Bank

George L. Wilhide, a veteran of 36 years in the banking business, was elected president of The Farmers State Bank Tuesday at the annual election of officers and directors held in the banking institution.

Mr. Wilhide succeeds the late Millard F. Shuff as president. Mr. Shuff held this position for some 30 years. Mr. Wilhide has served with the local bank during his entire career and for the past 25 years held the position of cashier. Succeeding Mr. Wilhide as cashier and secretary to the board of directors will be Harold L. Birely.

Elected to the vice presidency was Quinn F. Topper, who has been a director for many years.

Other directors re-elected were Oliver Weybright, Dr. W. R. Caddle, Dr. J. W. Houser, Clarence G. Frailey, Charles R. Fuss, and Arthur Elder. Judges of election were Charles F. Troxell and Thornton W. Rodgers.

The board voted to increase the number of directors from eight to nine and Roger I. Zurgable was elected as the ninth director.

Other appointments made included Mrs. Marie C. Rosensteel as clerk and Mrs. Alice S. Shorb as bookkeeper. Attorneys reappointed were Amos A. Holter of Maryland, and Francis Yake, Jr., of Pennsylvania.

The local bank has shown rapid progress the past few years and now does more than $2.5 million business annually. It recently raised its stock dividends and increased employees' salaries by $300 annually.

BENEFIT DANCE JANUARY 31

St. Joseph's High School PTA will sponsor a record hop dance Friday evening, January 31 in the school auditorium. The affair will get under way at 8 p. m. and will terminate at 11 p. m.

The general public is invited to the dance and admission will be as follows: adults, 50c; students, 35c; student couples, 60c. Refreshments will be on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Hahn and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koontz have returned from a two weeks' visit to Florida.

Eddie Arcaro and Sammy Boulmetis have been the only two American jockeys to win the Laurel International in six runnings.

BENEFIT AFFAIR FOR MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE

The March of Dimes drive in the Emmitsburg area will be highlighted by a fund-raising event to be held Saturday, February 1, in the VFW annex, it was announced this week by Lumen F. Norris, local drive chairman and adjutant of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

For a number of years the local veterans' post has sponsored the polio drive as a public service. Chairman Norris stated that canisters have been placed in local business houses and urges the public to contribute generously.

The drive will be able to help along the public financially, by attending the benefit affair to be held February 1. Tentative plans for the affair, according to Mr. Norris, call for a dance and a barbecued spareribs dinner. Dancing will be held with a popular orchestra supplying the music.

Mrs. Robert Fitez Heads Homemakers

Officers of the Emmitsburg Homemakers Club elected at its meeting held last week are as follows: President, Mrs. Robert Fitez; vice president, Mrs. Paul Beale; secretary, Mrs. George S. Eyster; assistant secretary, Miss Ann Codori; treasurer, Mrs. E. Lewis Higbee; director, Miss Louise Sebald and assistant director, Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan. Leaders will be announced.

The next meeting of the club will be held on January 23 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan. The February meeting will be held on February 27 at 7:30 p. m. in the VFW annex. A member of the Maryland State Police will talk on highway safety and good driving habits. The meeting will be open to the public and it will be of interest to everyone who operates a car. No admission to the meeting will be charged and everyone is urged to attend.

Mother Seton PTA Meeting Held

The Mother Seton P-TA held its regular meeting last Thursday evening in the school cafeteria with Curtis Topper, president, presiding.

Mrs. J. H. Elliott, chairman of the committee formed to have two mothers of the P-TA present each Wednesday at the school to help serve the hot lunch to the children, reported that she had two dates open for next month. Those who will serve on Jan. 22 are Mrs. Robert Myers and Mrs. Edward Myers; Jan. 29, Mrs. George Campbell, and Feb. 5, Mrs. George Sanders and Mrs. Ruth Etheridge.

The P-TA membership banner was displayed during the meeting. It will be presented each month to the class having the largest number of parents at the P-TA meetings. The banner is blue with white edging and lettering reading Mother Seton School P-TA—Honor Class.

The president announced that the eighth grade decided to go to Baltimore to see a movie, "The Seven Wonders of the World" instead of the class trip to Washington. The question was put before the group and it was voted the P-TA would sponsor the trip. Arrangements will be made by the program and transportation committees.

Dues for 1958 are now due and should be paid to the treasurer, Mrs. William Sanders.

LIONS CLUB PLANS AMATEUR TALENT NIGHT

District Governor Carroll Thomas, Carroll Manor, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday night in the Lutheran parish hall, President Paul W. Claypool presiding.

J. Ralph McDonnell, chairman of the talent show which will be sponsored on February 21, gave a preliminary report on the progress to date. The show will be staged for the benefit of the local Boy Scouts and will help finance their annual summer camping trip.

Two new members were admitted to the club. They were State Trooper William G. Morgan and William Strickhouser. Lloyd W. Seiss, chairman of the kiddies Christmas party, gave a complete report of the affair and announced that the club went into the "red" financially, due principally to less advertising this year. Lion Seiss, general chairman of the Horse Show reported he attended a meeting of the Maryland Horse Show Assn. last Friday evening in Baltimore and that the date for the 1958 show has been established as September 14, about two weeks earlier than in previous years. Lion Philip Sharpe gave a report on the business status of the Civic Association.

Ambulance Proves Community Asset

The valuable ambulance service maintained for this community by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, is a costly one, figures will prove. Actually no one has ever figured what it costs to maintain this service these past 10 years, but the gas and oil and maintenance itself runs into thousands of dollars. In addition, the post has purchased two vehicles which cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

This humanitarian service first was instituted here by the veterans about three years after World War II and has been maintained constantly ever since. The service is offered the community free of charge and a staff of trained volunteer drivers is kept ready for all emergencies. Drivers donate their services which sometimes requires them to lose many hours of pay. Some trips range several hundred miles and keeps the driver from earning a day's pay.

The entire cost of maintaining such a convenience to the district is borne by the local service organization, with the exception of a few small donations by local individuals.

Clyde J. Eyler, general chairman of the ambulance committee, has kept an accurate running account of the number of trips made during the past decade and other interesting figures show the invaluable assistance rendered Emmitsburgians.

The first statistics listed below give the activities of the ambulance and rescue squad during the past year.

Total number of calls, 73; type of calls (emergency), 23, (routine), 44; automobile accidents, 6; night calls, 22; day calls, 31; requests received from physicians, 38; requests by State Police, 5; requests from individuals, 30; number of miles traveled, 3,224; average miles per call, 44.6; total man hours, 197; average man hour per call, 2.4; total personnel used, 150; gasoline used, 325 gallons; oil used, 66 quarts.

10-Year Period Statistics
Total number of calls, 790; type of calls (emergency), 528; (routine), 224; automobile accidents, 41; night calls, 520; day calls, 317; requests from physicians, 571; requests from State Police, 36; requests from individuals, 184; miles traveled, 36,000; average miles per call, 46.8; total man hours, 1,787; average man hour per call, 21.3; total number of personnel used, 1,439; gasoline used, 3,702 gallons; oil consumed, 450 quarts.

Town Council Proposes Charter Amendment

Important steps were taken this week in the advancement of plans for Emmitsburg's new sewer system, by the Mayor and Commissioners of Emmitsburg. The moves were made in conformity with existing regulations set up by both the State and Federal Governments, pertinent to sewerage and money grant privileges.

At a special meeting held Monday night the Town Council authorized its attorney, Edward D. Storm, to submit a resolution to empower the Council to raise the borrowing limit of the town from $500 to $5000 and to provide for the issuance of municipal bonds for any public welfare service without the necessity of a referendum, unless such a referendum were requested by at least 20% of the qualified voters of the town, within 40 days of the date of passage of the measure.

Another action taken, would remove the present 50c on $100 rate of taxation to a ceiling of $1.50 on $100. The Council explains that it is highly probable that this ceiling would never be reached, but it would prepare the Council to levy this rate, if necessary, for any public project in the future such as sewerage or the purchase of any public utility, etc. It is pointed out that the plans are only tentative and are subject to the approval of the bonding agencies which will finance Emmitsburg's proposed new sewerage system.

Papers authorizing the construction firm of Knecht and Maxwell, of Pikesville, Md., to act as inspectors and project engineers on the new system, have been filed with the Maryland State Health Dept. This action was taken in accordance with a legal proviso which requires the prospective fund borrower to submit the name of the engineering firm which has been engaged to do the work prior to the granting of State or Federal money.

The steps taken this week will greatly expedite the plans of the Town Council which calls for the installation of a new sewer system as soon as feasible and also will permit the town officials to legally borrow the necessary funds for such a project, and if necessary, to increase the local tax rate in order to repay such borrowed monies.

The new ordinances empowering the town to raise the tax rate and a new borrowing limit, will be published in their entirety in the near future, possibly next week.

The new ordinances empowering the town to raise the tax rate and a new borrowing limit, will be published in their entirety in the near future, possibly next week.

Two Injured In Car Crash

Two elderly people were injured as the result of an automobile accident Wednesday morning about a mile north of Emmitsburg on Route 15. The mishap occurred at 9:45 a. m., when a 1955 Chevrolet, driven by Herbert Atwell, 81, Binghamton, N. Y., left the highway on a curve near the Curtis Topper farm and struck a tractor-trailer driven by Freddy Murr, 27, Kingsport, Tenn.

Atwell was charged by State Trooper 1/c William G. Morgan who investigated, with failing to keep to the right of the center of the highway. Atwell sustained a number of fractured ribs, multiple lacerations and a possible fractured pelvis. His wife who was a passenger in the car, received lacerations of the lip and contusions of the body. Both were taken to the Warner Hospital in the VFW ambulance and received treatment. Mrs. Atwell was immediately discharged. Damage to the Atwell car was estimated at about $1,000 and to the truck, $600.

Payne's Hill, about four miles south of Emmitsburg on Rt. 15, was the scene Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock of a collision of two cars. The accident occurred, State Trooper Morgan reported, when a car driven by John Flickinger, 23, Mt. St. Mary's College, struck the automobile of Joseph Timmerman, 30, Gettysburg. The Timmerman vehicle was parked along the highway and the Flickinger machine skidded and struck the Timmerman automobile. Damage to the Timmerman car was estimated at $35 and to the Flickinger vehicle, $100. Flickinger was charged with failing to keep to the right of the center of the highway.

The Marine Corps Band was organized in 1798 and has played for every President except George Washington.

Pictured above is the proposed outline of Emmitsburg's new sewerage system. The heavy white line indicates the course and area to be covered by the project. The present disposal plant is situated about an inch from the State Seal at right bottom. The new disposal plant is located about a mile farther south and is not shown on the outline. The Town Council estimates the cost of the project to be in the neighborhood of $350,000.

TODAY'S meditation

Read Acts 26:12-20.

I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee. (Acts 26:16.)

One morning at 1:15 we were awakened by a knocking at the door. A neighbor was ill and needed help urgently. We went to his house and found him so seriously ill that we took him to the hospital.

After he had recovered from his illness, I asked him what he would have done if we had not heard the call for help. He said the call would have continued until we did hear.

This was a most favorable moment, and I said to him: "The Lord Jesus is knocking insistently at your heart right now. He wants to make you His disciple and to heal you of your sins. Why don't you listen to Him, at least once?"

After pondering my words, he gladly accepted the call of Christ.

Loving Father, in Thy great mercy Thou dost grant us opportunity to become Thy disciples. Make us truly Thy disciples. Let not family and somfort hold us back. We ask in the name of our Master and Lord. Amen.

St. Joseph's High School News

From the National Anthology Poetry Assn. in Los Angeles came word that six students at St. Joseph's High School had been awarded honorable mention certificates for their original poems. The students were Miriam Fitz, David Herring, seniors; Rose Marie Knott, Ann Marie Knott, juniors; Donna Lee Eyer, sophomore, and Patricia Fowler, freshman. Their poems will be published in the Spring issue of the National Anthology of Poems. Exams were conducted in all classes during the past week. Students attaining an average of B or over in a subject were exempt from taking the examination in that subject. Those exempted from exams in all subjects were Michael Topper, Patricia Burke, Terrence Best, Lavaughn Hess, Ann Eckert, Louise Keepers, Julie Clark, Yvonne Henke, William Henshaw, Patricia Fowler, and Beverly Key.

On Friday, Jan. 3, the St. Joseph's High School cagers returned to the basketball court to defeat Fairfield High School at Fairfield, 42-41. The game was close all the way with St. Joe's coming from behind to win in the last two minutes.

On Thursday, Jan. 9, St. Joe's again scored another victory by defeating Mt. St. Joseph's of Baltimore, 63-44. In the JV game, the home team also won, 44-26.

On Sunday, Jan. 12, St. Joseph's meet St. Joseph's of Martinsburg, W. Va., in a thrilling game. The local quintet had a difficult time from the full court press which Martinsburg used but came thru in the final quarter to win 63-57. In the JV game the local five also won, 30-17.

The St. Joseph's cagers have a good team this year with a record of six wins and one loss. The loss was to Frederick High School by a score of 40-39. The JV team has a record of three wins and one loss.

Will Collect Usable Articles

The month of January is a time in which contributions of usable clothing, shoes, furniture and appliances are very much needed by Goodwill Industries. Through the giving of usable clothing and household articles, more jobs and training are made available for handicapped people. Handicapped workers learn and earn by repairing and reconditioning the contributed articles.

On Wednesday, Jan. 22, the Goodwill truck will be collecting in the Foxville, Thurmont, and Sabillasville area. Any resident desiring the Goodwill pickup service may call REgent 3-7330 or write to Hagerstown Goodwill Industries, Inc., 223 N. Prospect St.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

GOD IS A GOOD GOD

God! What is He?

I believe that God is the creator and sustainer of this universe; that mankind is his primary interest and concern; that God knows every one of us individually and every detail of our lives, no matter how insignificant, is like an open book to Him. I believe God wishes to share our lives with us—to assist us in every phase of its activity—that His chief delight is to make our lives "abundant" in every way.

God answers prayer! Not always does He answer it with the response we wish, but always His answer, if we will let it, ultimately makes our living more joyous, more prosperous and more "abundant."

God is a good God, able and willing to help us. Were He able but not willing, He would be evil. Were He willing but not able, He would be impotent. But God is all good, all powerful.

Dr. Alexis Carrel, a distinguished scientist, physician, Nobel prize winner, and former head of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, said this concerning prayer and its results: (Man, the Unknown.)

"Prayer may set in motion a strange phenomenon, the miracle. Our present conception of the influence of prayer is based upon the observations of patients who have been cured almost instantaneously of various afflictions, such as peritoneal tuberculosis, cold abscesses, osteitis, suppurating wounds, lupus, cancer, etc. The process of healing changes little—often an acute pain, then a sudden sensation of being cured. In a few seconds, a few minutes, at the most a few hours, wounds are cicatized, pathological symptoms disappear, appetite returns—the only condition indispensable to the occurrence of the phenomenon is prayer.

Twice, under his direct observation, Dr. Carrel states incurable cancer has crystallized and disappeared. The only possible conclusion was that healing occurred in direct answer to prayer. Dr. Carrel should know a cancer when he sees one—he won the Nordhoff-Jung Medal for cancer research. He testifies that once he saw a cancerous sore shrivel up into a scar right before his eyes after an earnest prayer.

If you and I could have our deepest desire granted, what would it be physically? Simply this: I want to live! I do not know what life is, I only know I do not wish to leave it. I know whatever brings pain or suffering carries me toward the cessation of life. That which brings happiness enlarges life. Therefore, whatever makes my life more joyous and more complete is that which I seek; it is that toward which I move.

Jesus said, "I am come that ye might have life, and that ye might have it more abundantly" (John 10:10) Abundant means "literally filled to overflowing."

In this column, I share with my readers my own experiences of direct answers to prayer. Others, unimpeachable authorities in their fields of medicine, psychiatry, the ministry and other professions relate their own experiences of God answering the prayers of his children. I am showing you how, through prayer and faith in God, you can be "abundantly" alive.

Jobs Will Come Harder
For 1958 Graduates

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 16—The big-paying, easy-to-get first job out of college is something we shall see less of this year. Company recruitment officers are saying that "this year for the first time in a long while we shall find plenty of June graduates around at prices we want to pay."

Babson studies of business activity have for some months now revealed a mild softening in both employment and pay rolls. The cause of this slow-down in the cycle can be attributed to a number of things; among these are rising productivity through technological advances, automation, and declines in government spending.

The reason I am writing this article now instead of in the spring is to try to make both young people and their parents aware of this changed condition. If a college education teaches nothing else, it should make individuals aware that survival of the fittest is a law of nature not likely to be repealed in a hurry by any congress, soviet, or college placement officer!

Unemployed College Graduates

You may be surprised to know that there are a number of last June's graduates who have not yet been able to find full-time employment of the kind they want. I learned from one large eastern university recently that better than 20% of its last-June graduates had failed to find employment to their liking by Labor Day. Some are still working at part-time jobs; some have gone back to college for graduate work. While this figure may be somewhat atypical, it does, nevertheless, point up a trend.

Did you know, too, that a fair sprinkling of last June's graduates who did get jobs have already been "excessed" by their employers? This word "excess" is a lovely new personnel word which means "you are a nice enough individual; you have done well on the job; we would like to have you around, but we just don't need you any more." In short he has been fired!

Start Job Hunting Now

One well-known college placement officer has stated that he expects the number of campus visits by companies this year to be cut by 50%. I cannot agree with this; but, I do say there will be some shrinkage.

If, therefore, you expect to graduate from school or college this year, and want a job, start hunting now. Include these things in your preparation: (1) Make an appraisal of yourself. Know your vocational interests, strengths, and weaknesses. (2) Find out what kinds of jobs can best use your abilities, education, and experience: working with people, with numbers, or with materials and things? (3) Investigate your college library to find out what companies offer what kinds of jobs. (4) Go to a good financial source book and check specific companies for growth potential and product diversification.

Study Companies To Be Visited (5) Have a general knowledge, before you go into the interview, of each company as well as of the industry it represents. (6) Be able to tell a prospective employer in a general way why you are interested in his particular industry and his company. (7) Set up a contact schedule for yourself, and send a resume a day to companies you think you would like to work for, asking for the privilege of an interview. (8) When interview time comes, be able to talk intelligently about yourself, indicating again, in a general way, the kinds of things you think you might be able to do on the job. (9) Send a follow-up letter after the interview.

Sure, this is a lot of work, and it takes a good deal of time! But the person who fails to take minimal steps of this sort is mentally lazy. Time spent now in getting ready for interviews is far better employed than time wasted in interviews from which you will obviously be "washed out" because of your lack of preparation. It is also far better than time spent later on a job for which you have neither the interest nor the aptitudes. Job hunting is serious business, more so this year than at any time since the war.

ALONG THE POTOMAC

By U. S. Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON — During the coming months my colleagues and I on the House Judiciary Committee will be considering a number of bills which would restate Congressional intent with regard to certain of our laws. Members have felt that recent Supreme Court decisions have made these bills necessary. Congress is seriously concerned with the possible effect of decisions which radically change arresting and detention procedures, introduction of voluntary confessions as evidence, insanity pleas, and so on.

As important as these cases are which involve individual rights, I feel that we are overlooking what I consider to be the most dangerous trend in Supreme Court decisions. While the Court is leaning over backwards to protect individual rights, it is at the same time increasing and broadening Federal power at the expense of State authority and local responsibility.

I have a bill pending which returns to the States the power to enforce their own laws dealing with seditious or subversive acts. It in no way prevents Federal officials from enforcing the Federal Subversive Activities Control Act. The point is that my bill was made necessary by the Supreme Court decision holding that State statutes do not apply because Federal law pre-empts the field.

A more recent decision in the Benanti case further illustrates my point. The Supreme Court here holds that the Federal Communications Act's section which says—"... no person not authorized by the sender shall intercept any communication and divulge or publish the existence, contents, substance, purport, effect, or meaning of such intercepted communication..." prohibits the introduction of evidence obtained through wiretapping even though State laws permit it.

I do not believe that Congress intended the wiretapping provisions of the Federal Communications Act to extend to the point where States would be forbidden to enact legislation permitting wiretapping under proper safeguards. We shall be studying bills this session designed to correct this provision in the Communications Act.

Video Advice

These winter evenings may tempt you to spend more time than usual in front of the television screen. To get full enjoyment from this great entertainment medium, a few words of warning are in order.

Some programs are so exciting they keep you glued to your chair in fascination. After a long evening of viewing you may find your legs stiff and uncomfortable. Take a look at how you sit. Do you curl up in a ball and stay there? You're cutting off circulation. Sit properly, and get in the habit of changing your position frequently.

As for children, experts agree that long sessions in front of the set should not take the place of active play. TV is fine for an occasional quiet hour, but must not crowd out activities necessary for normal growth and development.

You can't wear out your eyes watching TV, but you can tire them if you don't watch properly. Most people by now are well aware that the bright TV screen should not be watched in a dark room. Soft, indirect light is the best. Don't watch from an angle that distorts the picture. Place the set so it's directly in front of the family's favorite chairs at eye level, and do try to get children up off the floor. Sit as far as you can—and still see. Make sure the set is properly adjusted. A blurred or vibrating picture puts a heavy burden of work on the eyes.

Children's eyes are going thru their period of greatest growth and change. Be sure to ask the doctor how much viewing under what conditions are safe for their eyes.

Good television habits will mean more pleasure from your set.

Often there's no more welcome sound you can hear than the ring of your telephone—especially when you know the voice you want most to hear is going to answer your "Hello." Maybe that's one reason a telephone is a necessary part of home for most of us. The C & P Telephone Company of Maryland.

Looking Ahead...by Dr. George S. Benson DIRECTOR—NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

Glenn Green continues his dispatches from Europe.—G.S.B.
In Communist Yugoslavia
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia —
Dear Dr. Benson: In this 100 per cent Communist-run Welfare State the living standard of the citizens is the lowest in Europe. The Yugoslavian industrial worker is paid an average of 16c an hour. The peasants—perhaps 75 per cent of the population—exist in a deeper state of poverty. And yet these two groups are the very ones for whom Communist Party leaders all over the world promise to make a paradise on earth. The sight of widespread poverty is depressing, but even more so is the atmosphere of the Police State. My first view of downtown Belgrade has left a picture on my mind's-eye that will remain with me always. Our plane trip from Vienna, in a Yugoslavian airliner, was notable for the fact that there were only eight passengers—in a 65 passenger plane (not many people were going to Yugoslavia)! I was met at 4:30 p. m. at the Belgrade airport by Branislav Milosavljevic, Communist Party official and assistant dean of the department of agriculture, Belgrade University.

A Bedraggled Procession

He had visited our Kiwanis Club in Searcy in 1952 when he was studying agriculture practices in Arkansas and other states for the Tito government. At that time he was Commissar of Agriculture for the people's Republic of Serbia, the province in which Belgrade is located. His job was abolished a short time later when agricultural affairs were centralized in the hands of a national Commissar. Now he's at the University. He drove me to my hotel (in a tiny auto owned by the government) and we arranged to meet an hour later to stroll through Belgrade's downtown area before dinner.

Since the hotel was just a block from Belgrade's main street, I immediately sallied out alone to get a glimpse of the city. As I turned into Terazije, the main square, I was shocked. There were no automobiles on the street, no vehicle traffic. But up and down the sidewalks there moved a procession of people. Their clothes were pitifully shabby. Some were barefooted. Many of the men were unshaven. Many wore dirty, stained undershirts—the only clothing above the waist. Trousers were patched like those of tramps.

Low Living Standard

Industries begin work at 6 a. m. and close for the day at 2 p. m. Shops and stores close from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m. Then they open and remain open until 10 p. m. Thousands of workers in Belgrade go home at 2 p. m., rest for a couple of hours, then come downtown and promenade. It has happened each evening since I arrived. These people whom I found on the streets in my first contact with Belgrade were the workers and peasants—men and women. Their living standard is unbelievably low.

When my host and guide picked me up at the hotel at 6 p. m. we walked directly to Terazije. The bedraggled worker-peasant procession had begun to thin out. White-collar people had begun to appear. These were mostly Communist Party functionaries employed in Belgrade's government bureaus. Most of them were informally dressed, the men with their jackets draped around their shoulders like capes, and the women in street or office dresses.

Class Distinctions

The living standard of these white-collar Yugoslavians is about one-sixth as high as that of their counterparts in America. Their incomes range from $50 to $80 a month. Incomes are comparatively low in the professions. School teachers are paid from $30 to $50 a month; university professors from $50 to $85. The only people in Yugoslavia who live well, by American standards, are the top Communist Party officials. They constitute Yugoslavia's "Ruling Class." There are perhaps 20,000 to 30,000 of these among the 600,000 party members in this country of 18,000,000 population.

On my third day in Yugoslavia we drove out to see Tito's palace. He occupies the former King's palace, and he has built a second, more exclusive palace a short distance away. He also has a palatial residence down on the Adriatic coast. Along the slopes of the hill near the palace are a hundred or more very nice homes, with well-kept grounds, the only dwellings I've seen here of such character. My Communist host ignored them as we passed by. "Whose homes are those," I inquired. "That's where the wealthy capitalists used to live," he said. "Who lives in these homes now?" "Our government officials," he said. I couldn't help but recall that world Communism professes to hate class distinctions, promises to divide up the wealth equally. In Yugoslavia, Communism seems to have overridden these tenets.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Farmers, sportsmen's organizations, conservationists, state game and fish authorities and other groups and individuals now have an unequalled opportunity to protect and increase our game and fish resources, says Michael Hudoba, Washington Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

Due to important changes and new interpretations of regulations covering the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve for 1958, farmers and other cooperators also have considerably more incentive to participate in such programs. At the same time, both parties will be able to reap current benefits while building for the future.

Advantages to sportsmen's groups from these cooperative programs—financed to a large degree by the Federal Government—can be many and varied. These include greater numbers of wildfowl and upland game, better protection for game animals and birds, more feed for the increased numbers, better protective cover and nesting areas, and fishing in areas where the sport is not now available.

The Soil Bank Conservation Reserve is a long-term program, designed to retire from production general cropland that is not now needed, and to help conserve soil, water, forestry and wildlife resources. All farmers, whether or not they have "acreage allotments," can participate in the program and earn two types of payments: (1) a cost-share payment (ranging up to 80 per cent of cost) for establishing the retired land in good conservation use and (2) annual per-acre payments ($10 nationally) for each year the Conservation Reserve contract is in force.

Through this program, any farmer can make a sound long-term investment for better land use and wildlife protection and, at the same time, help reduce general crop surpluses. The payments made under the program are to help maintain net income for the land shifted from cultivation to conservation. Dividends for the future accrue from the benefits of the soil, water, forestry or wildlife improvement.

Last Income Tax Instalment Now Due

C. I. Fox, district director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District said this week that January 15 was the final day for paying the fourth quarter estimated Federal income tax instalment. In making payment, Mr. Fox urges taxpayers to forward the bill with remittance so that proper credit may be given.

The director pointed out certain qualifications: Taxpayers able to assemble records for a full and final 1957 tax return along with payment by Jan. 31, 1958, and who have received a fourth quarter instalment notice, will not be required to forward the estimated quarterly tax; they should attach the estimated bill to their completed 1957 tax return and forward remittance of any tax due on the full year of 1957.

Mr. Fox said January 15 also was the date for farmers to file a declaration and make payment, but if the full and final payment can be made by February 15, there will be no need to file an original or amended declaration of the estimated on January 15.

The director said taxpayers will find it to their interest to be prompt and accurate in the declaration and payment of estimated income tax. The Internal Revenue code provides penalties for failure to file estimated tax and failure to pay timely the tax declared.

Mount Cage Coach In Honor Position

Coach Jim Phelan, Mount St. Mary's College, has been appointed Maryland representative to the NCAA ranking board for College Division basketball teams, according to an announcement made this week by Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA.

Representatives from the 48 states will file weekly rankings of the top 10 small college teams in the U. S. regardless of whether or not the institutions belong to the NCAA. Rankings will be filed with and released weekly through the United Press. If the ranking system proves satisfactory a similar ranking system will be begun for the 1958 football season.

Other area rankers are David Garrasco, American U. basketball coach, who will rank for Delaware and District of Columbia, and Richard C. Madison, basketball coach at Swarthmore College, who will rank for Pennsylvania. Both American U. and Mount St. Mary's are members of the Mason-Dixon Conference whose champion gets an automatic berth in the NCAA College tourney.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

WASHINGTON — Senator J. Glenn Beall (Rep., Md.) urged this week that the new reductions in Navy personnel announced for this area be postponed until action is taken on his suggestion that some operations of the Anacostia Naval Receiving Station be transferred to Indian Head, Md.

In a letter to Secretary of the Navy Gates, Senator Beall requested an early meeting on his receiving station proposal and asked that pending a decision on the matter, all orders for personnel layoffs in the Washington area be cancelled.

The Senator noted that any personnel changes made at this time "might be the start of a costly and demoralizing circle of firings and re-hirings which would be contrary to the welfare of our loyal Government employees and the Navy Department itself."

The Senator's letter followed an announcement that the Navy intends to reduce employment at the Naval Gun Factory, Washington, by approximately 500 persons by February 28, and at the Naval Powder Factory, Indian Head, Md., by 317 by February 15.

Senator Beall said the announcements of these changes plus discussions of proposals to transfer Government installations in this region had caused "an atmosphere of instability which should be eliminated before final action is taken."

"Mr. Eisenhower believes that the American people are prepared to make these sacrifices. We agree. But we also believe that they will insist, and rightly so, upon even stricter economy in the operation of all government affairs to offset the increase in defense spending. For in the long run, the solvency of the nation—dependent directly upon keeping the federal budget regularly in balance and reducing the national debt—is just as important as adequate defense to our future freedom and security."—Williamsport, Pa., Grit

Polio Cases Decline
Nationally

The decline in new polio cases in 1957 was truly one of the year's greatest blessings. But, while we're saying "hats off" to the Salk vaccine, let's take a closer look at the polio picture. Is it really over? Can we now sit back and say "goodbye" to one of the most dread, costly and tragic of human diseases?

Tens of thousands of disabled polio patients know better. And so do March of Dimes volunteers now conducting the annual fund drive here and throughout the country. They can show you how visible polio is on the national scene.

For one thing, they will point to the fact that 300,000 living Americans have had paralytic polio, half them during the past decade. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis estimates that one out of three of these still have some form of disability that can be remedied or alleviated.

The volunteers will also tell you about the 57,800 polio patients who needed care and rehabilitation in 1957. That took $21.7 million in March of Dimes funds. What is especially significant is that only 4800 of them contracted polio last year. The rest—53,000—were victims of former years who still needed help. They'll need help this year, too, many of them. The March of Dimes has allocated $21.1 million for their care and rehabilitation.

These are not statistics. They're real people. The child with the crutches, standing on the sidelines watching others play—that's polio. In hospitals and respirator centers, you can hear it in the steady breathing of the iron lung bellows, and you can see it in the thin arm dangling at the side.

The March of Dimes continues to carry on its important role in serving humanity. The success of its current campaign will be measured in the success stories of polio's remaining victims—those who have not only survived the disease but are learning to live worthwhile lives again. The March of Dimes deserves all-out support.

Another Bay Bridge
In Prospect

The Maryland Port Authority at a special session last week approved the proposed Bay crossing between Cape Henry and Cape Charles on the basis that it was a progressive step, not only for Virginia but also for a large segment of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and the Eastern seaboard, but took exception to the proposed 1700-ft. horizontal clearance across the Baltimore Channel at the mouth of the Bay.

The opposition was based on the grounds that from a navigational viewpoint the limited clearance would present a hazardous condition for ships passing to and from the Port of Baltimore.

It was the view of the Commissioners that the proposed crossing should provide a horizontal clearance of the same dimensions as are accorded the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco and approved for the proposed bridge across the Narrows at New York. Both of these sites have conditions of wind, wave, and tidal currents comparable to those existing at the mouth of the Bay.

The Golden Gate Bridge at San Francisco has a horizontal clearance between main piers of 4,000 feet and the approved Narrows Bridge also calls for 4,000 feet between main piers.

The position of the Authority will be presented at a public hearing which was held in Norfolk by the Corps of Engineers this week by J. L. Stanton, Executive Director, and Dr. Walter C. Boyer, in charge of Engineering, James W. Davis, Planning,

Safety Campaign
Stressed

The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission announced this week they would conduct an intensified State-wide pedestrian safety campaign to help curtail the increasing death and injury toll of Maryland's pedestrians. In the first six days of 1958, four pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents throughout the State.

Mrs. Helen Tullis, well-known radio and TV personality has been appointed chairman of pedestrian safety to head this campaign. She has always been particularly interested in pedestrian safety and has often been referred to as the "unofficial representative of pedestrian safety." Along with her former dog "Prince" she has worked unceasingly to aid pedestrian safety. Approximately a year ago, Mrs. Tullis was injured and her dog "Prince" was killed while they were crossing the street.

At present, Mrs. Tullis is in Detroit, Mich., conferring with national leaders in the field of pedestrian safety. She will visit other cities in order to obtain further information to aid her in this campaign.

Her leader dog "Peter" has been especially trained in the intricacies of crossing streets and highways. Peter will accompany Mrs. Tullis and participate with her in the pedestrian safety programs which she will present in the public and parochial schools throughout the State of Maryland. She also will program radio and TV shows attuned to pedestrian safety.

New Phone Books
Being Delivered

The delivery of the January 1958 issue of the Frederick County Telephone Directory began this week, it was announced by Carl V. Weakley, the county C. & P. manager.

Approximately 20,000 copies of the new directory will be hand delivered to subscribers throughout the county. Since the old directory will be picked up when the new is delivered, Mr. Weakley suggested that papers and the personal number page seven be removed to avoid their being lost.

The new directory contains 1000 new listings and four additional pages of classified advertising. Also incorporated in the new book are 2500 changes. Since so many numbers in the old directory are obsolete it is very important that the new directory be checked before calling and that the personal number lists be brought up to date. Careful use of the directory will result in better service to all, he said.

Tobacco Tax
Report Optimistic

The county took in almost $100,000 in the new tobacco taxes during 1957, the records of County Treasurer James H. Falk showed this week.

The figure was officially placed at $99,096.07. It represented receipts from four months, since the tax did not go into effect until Sept. 1.

The County Commissioners have estimated hopefully that the tax will yield $240,000 during the 1958 calendar year. That would figure out to $20,000 a month.

December's tobacco tax receipts were $18,931.22, the county treasurer reported.

The money is earmarked for the capital improvement program of the schools.

Civil Service
Examinations

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Shorthand Reporters for duty in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. A few positions may be filled in foreign countries. The entrance salaries range from $4,080 to $5,440 a year.

To qualify for positions paying $4,080, applicants must pass a dictation test at 160 words-a-minute. For the higher levels, a dictation exercise at the rate of 175 words a minute will be given. For positions paying $4,525 and above, appropriate experience is also required.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at many post offices throughout the country, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications will be accepted by the Civil Service Commission in Washington until further notice.

"So how President and Governor—and we, the people—make out with tax rates in 1958 will depend upon the state of business. If there's a lot of sales activity, there'll be ample tax yield to support governments in the style to which we have accustomed them.

"But just in case the present drop in yield continues, Congress and the State Legislature should get busy trimming non-essentials from budgets. If the Sputnik could jar us into a new spending splurge for defense why shouldn't it be able to make legislative
