There seems to be quite some controversy over the new state law titled the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund Law. Our Legislature enacted this bill which is hailed as the solution to the problem of the uninsured motorist. It's supposed to compensate you, who are already insured, for damages by the uninsured motorist. It is supposed also to make the uninsured driver pay back to the fund for the damages he has caused and he can't drive again until he does so. Sounds good, doesn't it?

The next question is who pays for this fund? You will have to pay a $1 assessment this year and your insurance company will have to pay a substantial amount. In Maryland this will total nearly a million dollars in one year. New then, here's the fly in the ointment, as usual. If you take your claim to court you are charged with the responsibility of proving your case and this means legal fees. You have no chance to collect unless your claim exceeds $100. The uninsured motorist on the other hand has nothing to lose and everything to gain by going to court! The insurance companies must provide free legal counsel for the uninsured, so still more money will come out of your pockets in the form of higher insurance rates. Let's examine the same situation which has prevailed in the state of New Jersey for almost three years. In this period Jersey motorists have paid into the fund more than six million dollars but less than 15% has been paid out in claims! Virtually all of this money has been paid out only after court action sometimes requiring a year to settle the claim.

In Maryland virtually 85% of the motorists have voluntarily taken out their own insurance so isn't the only fair thing to do is to make the other 15% take out the insurance? Of course it is!

Regarding the recent story concerning the amending of the Town's Charter it was promised then that a better explanation would be forthcoming from the Town Fathers. On another page in this issue of the Chronicle there is provided this explanation and the official ordinance proclaiming the amendment. Before any misunderstanding comes about I advise that you peruse the ordinance and explanation very thoroughly before passing any judgment or condemnation on the move. It is drawn up in legal form and requires a bit of concentration before jumping to rash conclusions. In essence the amendment will permit the Town Council to borrow as much money as is necessary to complete the anticipated extension to the present sewerage system. Read it carefully and if you are not in agreement with it there is a clause in it whereby you can draw up a petition and have a referendum on it at the next election. This will give all the qualified voters a chance to get in their say, if they so desire. If not the ordinance will be adopted by publishing it a specified number of times. I am not sticking my neck out to take sides but it seems to me the sensible thing to do is to adopt the measure if you want sewerage for yourself and your neighbors. It is a move in the public's interest and will provide better health facilities for the community and our descendants. Nearly a quarter of a million dollars must be borrowed to effect the sewerage project and the taxpayers are the ones who must repay the money. If the measure is thwarted or voted down I am certain that in a very short time the State Health Department will coerce the town, and at a great deal more expense, to complete the project. At the present time, and for a short time only, Federal and State aid, almost half the cost of the project, is forthcoming. If the ordinance is voted down it is only reasonable to assume that this aid will be withdrawn as the Government is gradually tightening up on this type of public welfare project to cut down its expenditures. . . then the Town will pay the freight, so to speak, on the entire project.

Sportsmen Name Several Carnival Committees

Two new members were admitted to the Indian Lookout Conservation Club at the regular meeting of that organization held Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall, President Clay Z. Green presiding. The new members are Calvin Johnston of Gettysburg, and Robert M. Peters of Taneytown. Twenty-six members were in attendance at the meeting.

A report on the operation of the refreshment stand at Rainbow Lake during the recent deer season disclosed that the club netted a nice profit from the enterprise.

The president announced that several of the carnival committees had been appointed and that all committees will have been named in time for the February meeting. The Sportsmen will stage their annual carnival during Labor Day Week this fall.

The group agreed to purchase salt for distribution in the mountain game refuge.

A program of entertainment is being planned for the February meeting and District Game Warden Richard Jacques and a deputy game warden will be present to discuss new changes in the fishing and hunting laws of the state.

Prizes awarded during the deer season were announced as being presented to James W. Nolen, Baltimore, for displaying the first slain deer at the reservoir, and Lloyd Hoke, Thurmont, for killing and displaying the best antlered buck. The prizes were $5 bills.

The next meeting of the group will be held Tuesday, Feb. 25.

College Robbery Still Unsolved

Maryland State Police are continuing investigation of the theft of approximately $300 stolen from the canteen in McCaffrey Hall, Mt. St. Mary's College, which reportedly occurred some time late Sunday evening or early Monday morning.

Tfc. William G. Morgan said he was told the cash was taken from an unlocked safe and a cash register in the canteen. The robbers passed up a quantity of silver coins which also was available.

The trooper who is making the investigation, said there was no indication of a forcible entry. The doors leading into the canteen from both inside and outside, were locked and windows had steel bars on them. Frank Ligorano, manager of the canteen, reported the robbery to police Monday.

THURMONT BUSINESSMEN FEELING EFFECTS OF NEW ROAD BY-PASS

Business interests hit hard by the new Thurmont by-pass think the situation could be considerably helped by the erection of a few well-placed signs.

The by-pass has now been open a month and although it has been a blessing as far as relief from traffic noise along the main street is concerned, the filling station, restaurant and motel business has taken a beating.

Ben Oberstreet, who operates a service station at the south end of town, says his business has been off about 40 per cent. Hoover's Blue Mountain Camp south of the town but off the by-pass, reports restaurant business at a standstill and the motel situation just as bad.

Camp Cozy, within the town, has its cabins closed for the winter but a spokesman said it looked like the business was about gone. The Cozy Club, next door, also down for the winter, expects to be hit hard.

Townpeople say that the lucrative snake farm business of Gordon Gaver, now off the beaten path south of town, may be seriously affected when the place opens after the customary winter closing.

Oberstreet says efforts to obtain permission to erect some signs calling attention to the businesses by-passed by the by-pass have been refused.

He says that the by-pass does not even contain signs such as are on U. S. 40 east saying "gasoline, oil, first turn right" or words to that effect. He complaints that a connecting road between the by-pass and old U. S. 15 at the east end of town is not well marked for the traveling public—and other residents agree with him.

He feels that at least some signs should be placed informing the motorist where to turn off to obtain gasoline, food, lodging.

Mr. Oberstreet and a number of others aren't complaining about the by-pass as such. They knew it was coming and that it was going to hurt business but they realized they could not stand in the way of progress.

The sign situation is another matter they maintain. Along old U. S. 15 they say signs could be placed by their competitors but on the by-pass signs are prohibited. They aren't in favor of a multitude of signs but do feel they are being discriminated against in this situation.

Mr. Oberstreet points out that it is difficult enough to compete with nearby Pennsylvania gasoline dealers anyway since it costs a cent a gallon more in Maryland.

A spokesman for the Hoover enterprise said that a sign or two directing the public to the motel would be most helpful. Most travelers would rather stay at a motel off the main highway, is was declared.

Thurmont residents say that aside from the businesses mentioned, the by-pass has not adversely affected the situation. It has helped as far as noise is concerned, said a number of persons living along old Route 15.

College Students

Injured In Car Crash

George John Hilley, 22, Patchoque, N. Y., suffered a possible fractured skull and lacerations of the skull and hands and Austin E. Cannon, 19, New York, had a broken right ankle when the car in which they were occupants was demolished Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Both are students at Mt. St. Mary's College.

Pennsylvania State Police say Hilley was driving and Cannon an occupant of a 1950 Ford sedan, en route south on Route 15 from Gettysburg, and were returning to the college, after attending movies in Gettysburg.

Police said Hilley started to pass another car about four miles north of Emmitsburg, just beyond the Cities Service filling station on Rt. 15, when his car skidded on the wet road. The car crashed head-on into a tree, swerved about and came to rest against another tree. Damage was estimated at $250.00. Hilley was hurled from the front seat of the car from the impact and Cannon was hurled under the broken front seat. The Greenmount Fire Co. directed traffic and set up flares at the scene and aided in extricating the two youths from the crushed vehicle. Both were admitted to the Warner Hospital in Gettysburg.

One new case was discussed and will be investigated and reported on in time for the next meeting. The treasurer reported a balance of $477.96.

The committee on baskets for shut-ins reported that several were distributed to local shut-ins during the Christmas holidays. The Fund is maintained solely on donations made by local firms and individuals.

Mountaineers Resume Court Action Saturday

Smarting from four straight losses, Coach Jim Phelan's Mountaineer Cagers get back in action Saturday night at 8:30 against St. Vincent's College. The Bearcats beat the Mountaineers on their recent road trip, 82-72.

Phelan expects to go with his usual starting team of Williams, Sheing, Sullivan, Marshall and Bohlinger. The quintet is close to double figures through 14 games with Marshall and Bohlinger low at 9.8 and 9.1 respectively. Sheing at 15.5 is high man. St. Vincent's has a comparatively small team with excellent shooters in Peterson and Kalbfus, both of whom generally hit high in double figures. The visitors have lost to powerful St. Francis but have whipped most of the tough teams in western Pennsylvania.

Despite their 9-5 record, the Mountaineers are still 5-0 in Conference play with Hampden-Sydney also undefeated still to be met on February 15 in Emmitsburg. Away games with American University (6-1) and Loyola College (3-2) also bar the Mountaineer path to another title.

Phelan is anxious to knock off St. Vincent's, the only team on the schedule a Phelan Club has not yet beaten. In the earlier game the Mountaineers had foul trouble losing two starters and having three others play cautiously with four fouls. The Mountaineers outshot the Bearcats from the floor, but lost the game at the foul line.

Next week the Mountaineers return to Conference play against Western Maryland in Emmitsburg on Thursday and Loyola, away, on Saturday.

President Seiss thanked the membership for the excellent cooperation accorded him during the past year and expressed deep appreciation to those individuals and concerns who donated so generously during last year's financial drive.

One new case was discussed and will be investigated and reported on in time for the next meeting. The treasurer reported a balance of $477.96.

The committee on baskets for shut-ins reported that several were distributed to local shut-ins during the Christmas holidays. The Fund is maintained solely on donations made by local firms and individuals.

Lions Club Admits Four New Members

Twenty-eight members were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening at Bucher's Restaurant, President Paul W. Claypool presiding. Secretary-treasurer Bernard J. Eckenrode read the minutes of the previous meeting and several communications.

Four members recently admitted to membership were invested with the oath of Lionism administered by Lion Arthur Elder. The new members were William G. Morgan, William Strickhouser, Joseph Cy Haley, and Harold Birely.

Ralph McDonnell, chairman of the Talent Show committee, reported plans were progressing nicely and distributed tickets for advance sale among the membership. The Lions Club is sponsoring the talent show for the benefit of the local Boy Scouts. It will take place Feb. 21. Lion McDonnell announced his committee for the affair.

The club now has a roster of 30 active members.

On an average day at the Pimlico Race Course, the members of the crowd cash more than 50,000 tickets indicating that a great many in the gathering have a flair for handicapping the horses correctly.

NOTICE OF MUNICIPAL CHARTER AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Charter Amendment Resolution No. 1 passed by the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg on January 22, 1958, the following is published as a fair summary of the proposed amendment:

The present Charter of Emmitsburg provides that the Burgess and Commissioners shall have no power to pledge the credit of the town for more than $500 without a special election thereon. The proposed amendment to this section of the Charter would allow the Burgess and Commissioners to borrow up to $5,000 on their own authority and to borrow more than that amount by a bond issue provided that they shall pass an ordinance authorizing such loan, stating its purpose and setting forth in detail the terms and provisions thereof, which ordinance shall be published once a week for at least four weeks in one or more newspapers with general circulation in said town, and pro-

Each person signing the Petition shall indicate thereon both his name and residence address, and upon receiving the Petition for a referendum, the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg is directed to verify promptly that any person who signed it is qualified to vote in municipal general elections of Emmitsburg and shall consider the Petition of no effect if it is signed by fewer than 20% of the persons who are qualified to vote in general elections in Emmitsburg. If the Petition for a referendum complies with the requirements of this section, the legislative body shall by resolution procedure, within 30 days after the verification of signatures on the Petition have been completed, specify the day and the hours for the election at which the question shall be submitted to the voters of the municipal corporation. This may be at either the next regular municipal general election or at a special election, in the discretion of the legislative body. In the event a special election is designated, it shall be held within a period of not less than 40 days nor more than 60 days after the final passage of the resolution providing for the referendum. The resolution providing for the referendum shall specify the exact wording which is to be placed on the ballots or voting machines when the question is submitted to the voters of the town. If a majority of the voters approve said loan and the issuance of said bonds at any referendum held thereon in pursuance of the provisions of this section, said loan may be made, and said bonds may be issued within the times herein provided. In no event, however, shall the Burgess and Commissioners have the power to pledge the credit of the town for more than twenty (20%) per centum of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property located within the boundaries of said town without first submitting the same to a vote of the qualified voters thereof.

The Charter Amendment Resolution No. 1 shall become effective as on March 14, 1958 unless a proper petition for a referendum thereon shall be filed as provided by Section 13 of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Mary-

Glenn Green continues his dispatches from Europe. —G.S.B. Italy's Welfare State

ROME, Italy—Dear Dr. Benson: The air seems freer in Italy than in Yugoslavia, and the anxiety I felt while in the Communist domain of Joseph Broz Tito shook off easily as we crossed the border into this strip of geography that has seen so much of world history in the last 2,500 years. My eight days of travel in Italy have taken me all over the country — to Venice, Naples, Pompeii, Florence, the industrial cities of Milan and Bologna in the north, and through some of the loftiest of the European Alps.

Walking through the ruins of ancient Rome and along the Apian Way on which the Apostle

PAUL W. CLAYPOOL

Phone HI. 7-4274

EMMITSBURG, MD.

Paul trod when he preached the religion of Jesus Christ here nearly 2,000 years ago, is a deeply moving experience. However, aside from the thrill of a gondola ride on a Venice canal and seeing the great art treasures in the Vatican Museum and in Florence, present-day Italy isn't so stimulating. Behind the facade of history and color which dazzles the millions of tourists, the everyday life being lived by the Italian people is not something which would appeal to the average American citizen.

Socialist 35 Years

Italy is another of the socialistic Welfare States and it has one of the lowest living standards in Europe. For more than 35 years the economy and the politics of the nation have been dominated, if not completely controlled, by various forms of Socialism. Mussolini was a Socialist. He showed himself to be an opportunist when, in 1919, the dominant Socialist Party decided to install the Russian form of Marxist Socialism, abolishing all private property. He organized the Fascists, and ultimately created a form of State Socialism under a dictatorship.

The present Italian government is predominantly socialistic. In the 590-seat Chamber of Deputies the Christian Democrat Party (largely Catholic) holds 261 seats. Most of its members subscribe to the present socialistic Welfare State. The next strongest is the Communist Party which holds 143 seats; and next is the Left-wing Socialists, with 75 seats. Splinter parties make up the remainder. In the coalition government, the Communists and Left-wing Socialists wield great power.

Socialized Economy

The Italian Government, through various of its operating agencies, directly owns 80 per cent of shipbuilding, 65 per cent of the strategic iron and steel industries, 70 per cent of the passenger-carrying merchant marine, 35 per cent of the manufacturing industries, 25 per cent of the electric power, and 80 per cent of railway and street transportation facilities. It exercises decisive control over banking and the insurance business, a substantial part of which is in Government hands.

The Government operates a vast and complicated Welfare State system. Out of taxes and worker-employer contributions, it doles out meager cradle-to-grave benefits. As in France, the income tax system broke down. Italians in overwhelming numbers simply refused to cooperate with income tax officials. The Government has been obliged to set up "hidden" taxes—on business transactions —to get its revenue. Just under 80 per cent of the Government's take comes from these hidden taxes which are loaded into the cost of consumer goods and services.

Low Living Standard

The Italian wage earners, to whom the Socialist Welfare State politicians make their strongest appeal, receive from $35 to $80 a month. In industry the average wage rate is 32¢ an hour, the standard work week 48 hours. Some skilled workers in Milan make $100 a month or more; but the average throughout Italian industry is $61 a month. Most industrial workers receive a 13th month's pay, either at the end of the year or in installments.

This nation of 50 million people has a gross national product of $20 billion. This is a gauge of wealth and living standard. There are three and two-fifths times more people in the U. S. A. If we multiply the $20 billion by three and two-fifths, we'd have $68 billion—and that would be our gross national product if conditions in the U. S. A. were like they are in Italy. But our national product in America is $400 billion. Thus the U. S. A., under American Capitalism, produces six times more wealth per capita than does Italy's socialistic Welfare State. And when you go into the homes of the workers here, you see what this means in terms of genuine economic welfare. —G.G.

Legion Fights Bogus Solicitors

John W. Sloan, State Commander of The American Legion, Department of Maryland, this week urged all business and professional people to think twice before they give any money to anyone who solicits them by telephone. Commander Sloan also requested all Posts to be extremely careful in arranging any drive where funds are solicited from the general public. He pointed out that American Legion Posts are specifically prohibited from selling their name to any promoter who then may run a solicitation campaign. The Commander explained that the swindle starts when the con men approach officials of reputable community organizations such as The American Legion and offer to stage a benefit, publish a book or conduct some other fundraising project. They agree to do the work and make only a nominal charge for their efforts.

More often than not the work ends when the promoters get their hands on the funds. The promised project seldom materializes as promised, and most if not all of the money collected is kept by the swindlers.

"At the heart of this racket," the article states, "are the mysterious men who practice one of the nation's least-known and most highly-skilled trades. In that trade they are known simply as phonemen. A phoneman is a man who knows how to ask for, and get, money over the telephone from total strangers."

"Some phonemen travel all over the country on semi-permanent crews, spending a week or two on each job. Others, including the great virtuosos whose services are eagerly sought by promoters, are free lancers, traveling and working in accordance with their mood.

"Phonemen usually work on direct commission. They get 20 to 40 per cent of any and all money they bring in. A good phoneman can make $20,000 a year. A great phoneman can make a fortune. Every cent of their earnings comes out of the pockets of business-men and residents of your community and other communities who think that the money is going to an organization such as an American Legion Post, or to some community program or charity."

The operations described in the article are not those employed by legitimate fund raisers. In fact, reputable firms and individuals deplore the activities of the telephone artists.

The legitimate fund raiser provides an important service at a moderate cost and does not charge such fees as 50 per cent of the profits, which is often the least that is charged by the false promoters.

The article urges Legion Posts

Farm Employment Shows Steady Decline

For the tenth year in a row, average farm employment has shown a decline from the preceding year. The annual average for 1957 was three per cent below 1956, and 26 per cent under the average farm employment ten years ago.

Mechanization and changes in farm technology have played a large role in this downward trend. Farm employment has declined in all sections of the country during this past year.

At the same time of this decline in numbers, farm wage rates never to inflict unethical solicitations on communities, and it also advises contributors not to give money in response to telephoned appeals, at least until they have had a chance to study printed or written details.

The article referred to above appeared in The American Legion magazine in the January edition.

have advanced to a record high level. In 1957, the average wage rate was up three per cent over 1956. The Delaware-Maryland-Virginia area was one of the two areas showing the greatest increase in wage rates over the past 45 years.

It's easy for the girl who knows shorthand to get a good job with good pay nowadays. But with lunches and shoes and shower presents so expensive, it's harder than ever for her to save.

That's why so many working girls are investing in Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan. Once you tell your pay office how much you want to save each payday, you can relax and know that your saving is being done for you. Automatically your money will go into safe and sure U. S. Series E Savings Bonds.

And now every U. S. Series E Bond bought since February 1, 1957 pays a new, higher interest — 3 1/4% when held to maturity! It matures faster, too, in only 8 years and 11 months. And redemption values are higher, especially in the earlier years.

Is your boss a handsome bachelor? Is he considerate? Have a sense of humor? If so, marry him quick. If not, it makes good sense to invest your hard-earned dollars in Savings Bonds. Then you can make a lot of good things come your way. Like a trip to Europe. Or a car of your own. (And if a man happens along, too — so much the better. You'll need extra money then for things like feminine frills and frying pans.)

So start investing today in Savings Bonds — either on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or regularly where you bank.

Certified Seeds Produce Better

Irish potato growers in Maryland who buy non-certified seed which has been shipped into the state run the risk of planting diseased or poor quality seed, and the person or firm who imports or sells such seed is in violation of a law passed last year by the General Assembly of Maryland. The new law prohibits shipment into the state or the selling of imported Irish potatoes intended for propagation purposes which do not conform to the standards of certified and U. S. No. 1 potatoes. Certified potatoes conform with standards fixed by the International Crop Improvement association and, with regulations established by the state in which the potatoes were grown. U. S. No. 1 potatoes conform to standards issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Potatoes grown within the state are exempt from the law when sold by the grower to a planter having knowledge of the conditions under which the potatoes were grown. Most seed for planting in Maryland is brought in from northern parts of the country or from Canada.

For protection against plant disease, farmers should buy only certified seed potatoes for planting, according to Dr. L. O. Weaver, University of Maryland land plant pathologist. He says the certification tag insures that the seed was produced under approved regulations and inspected at the place of origin.

Sometimes, however, seed is damaged by bruising or freezing or other factors during shipment. If there is any doubt, inspectors from the state Department of Markets will examine any shipment for "condition upon arrival." Inspectors can be contacted at the Department of Markets, University of Maryland. Mr. Louis Holland, supervising inspector at Salisbury, also inspects imported seed.

Also, diseased conditions may develop in storage or during transit. Whenever the inspector or purchaser sees a condition he suspects is disease, he may have the potatoes inspected by a plant pathologist from the department of botany at the University.

Number of Taxes Are Now Due

Employers were reminded this week by C. I. Fox, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, that five types of taxes are due January 31, 1958, four are for the fourth quarter ending December 31, 1957, and one annual return.

Taxes are due from:
1—Employers who file Quarterly Federal Tax returns Form 941. This combined return is for reporting Withholding and Social Security taxes on employees.

Accompanying the above return, employers must transmit all Withholding Tax Statements (Form W-2-Copy A) together with Form W-3 which is a reconciliation of income taxes withheld from wages during the calendar year 1957.

2—Employers who have domestic servants, such as janitors, cooks, maids, chauffeurs and other workers who perform services of a household nature, are subject to Social Security taxes if $50 or more were paid in wages in the fourth quarter of 1957.

3—Returns from persons liable for quarterly excise tax returns (Form 720) are due January 31, 1958, closing out the fourth quarter December 31, 1957.

Excise taxes include retail dealers' excise taxes, excise taxes on facilities and services, manufacturers' excise taxes, taxes on products and commodities.

4—Employers who during 1957 had four or more employees on twenty or more days, each day being in a different calendar week, are required to file Form 940, Federal Unemployment tax. This return is required to be filed annually with remittance and is due January 31, 1958.

5—Final income tax returns are due January 31st from those taxpayers who did not remit the fourth quarter estimated tax due January 15.

Farmers are also reminded that Form 943, Employers Tax Return for Agricultural Employees, is due January 31, 1958.

Read John 11:47-54.

He (Saiaphas) prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; and not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. (John 11:51, 52.)

"God has grandchildren" is a startling statement. By writing it, an editorial writer won my open-mouthed attention, just as he knew he would. He went on to show that God has only children.

We are not foster children, or in-laws, or grandsons or granddaughters. We are not mere descendants of the heavenly Father; we are his children.

Sons and daughters carry certain privileges. The children of the household share in all the Father possesses — His insights, into the meaning of life. His concerns about His other children.

As children of God we carry certain responsibilities, too. We strive for the mind of Christ, our brother; we have part in His sufferings. We find that there are exacting requirements for the spiritual gifts we receive. As children of God, we enter into a partnership for God's purposes.

Prayer
My Father, and the Father of all men everywhere, teach me the meaning of sonship. Save me from self-conceit. Keep me from despair, for I fall short of a son's stature. In the name of Him who came to show me the dimensions of Thy fatherhood. Amen.

Thought For The Day
In the family of God a divine radiance surrounds all who are bound together in Christ.

T. Otto Nall (Minnesota)

Europe Expects Record "Invasion" of Tourists

Europe is preparing for a record "invasion" of nearly one million visitors from North America this year. Nearly 700,000 will be U. S. citizens; the balance non-citizens departing from our seaports and airfields for holidays or business trips abroad.

Prime tourist magnet in '58, according to the European Travel Commission, will be the giant World's Fair in Brussels, April 17—October 19. Fifty nations—including the United States and the Soviet Union—are participating in this spectacular event which will highlight man's greatest achievements in the arts, science and industry. Attractions will range from radioactive isotopes to tropical gardens, from exotic restaurants and gay amusements to electronic wonders and memorable concerts.

A second stellar feature of the '58 travel year will be the Centennial Observances at the French shrine of Lourdes. This "once-in-a-lifetime" religious event, to be held Feb. 8—Dec. 30—will be the goal of countless pilgrimages from all parts of the world.

With great crowds expected at both Brussels and Lourdes this year, knowledgeable travelers are planning to cross the Atlantic well ahead of the annual rush. These "early-bird" tourists will find plenty of other pre-season attractions to reward them. Typical examples: the famous Carnival at Nice on the sunny Riviera, Feb. 6-19; the International Auto Show at Geneva, March 13-23; the 90-acre "Keukenhof" spring flower show at Lisse, The Netherlands, mid-March—mid-May; Holy Week observances in Spain, Portugal and Greece in early April; the Milan Samples Fair, April 12-27; "The Best of the Danish" arts and crafts exhibit in Copenhagen, April 18-27; Ireland's nation-wide "An Tostal" spring festival, May 11-26; and the Chelsea Flower Show (world's largest) in London, May 20-23.

Man Changes His Sex
A Daring Subject is used in the most unusual film ever made. It took a goodly amount of daring to produce "I LED TWO LIVES," the story of Man Into Woman. It explains what a Transvestite is. Perhaps you have never heard the term Transvestite? The term is applied to people who try to be other than what nature made them, dual personalities—wherein a man thinks he is woman and a woman thinks she is a man. But only at times! These people are called by various names, "Queers," and the like, but in reality they are not but instead, are healthy normal people who need medical help to cure them. In the film "I LED TWO LIVES" this unusual picture shows, while it explains fully, the reason for this odd state of mind, and the cure. It is common knowledge today that Christine Jorgensen was once a G-I, but as a male, winning the Bronze Star for valor. Today she lives with the other half of her dual personality. This picture was made with the guidance of medical experts, and while entertainment of an odd nature, is on the whole factual and taken from life.
This is what happens in "I LED TWO LIVES," the sensational picture coming to the GEM THEATER in Emmitsburg, Md., where it will show for four nights, Monday thru Thursday, Feb. 3 to 6. All of the questions in your mind about the strange people in our every-day society will be completely answered in this NEW production. All persons under 16 years of age cannot be admitted. "I LED TWO LIVES" blows the lid off a hush-hush subject . . .
CENSORS SAY NO! JUDGE SAID YES!!
As an extra added attraction the GEM THEATER will show on the same program, the short feature picture "LOVE MOODS" with Lili St. Cyr showing her BUBBLE BATH AND STRIP-TEASE exactly as presented on the world-famous Sunset Strip in Hollywood! The censors said no—but the judges said it was ART. SEE AND DECIDE FOR YOURSELF!

mocracy, with everyone having a vote irrespective of character or education in government, is crazy and cannot long continue. There must be a shakedown sometime and a return to the republic which Washington, Franklin, and Hamilton established in 1788. We have drifted far away from our original ideals.
I am, however, allowed to discuss economics in this column. Let me start by saying that no one knows what will be the effect on business and investments of the "unemployment cushions" which have been devised to prevent another real depression.
Some Unanswered Questions
Will the insurance of bank deposits prevent a money panic when banks begin to fail? Will unemployment insurance give confidence to business and the stock market when millions are idle and walking the streets? Can employers be forced to employ people at a loss? In short, will these laws which businessmen and investors are counting on really work?

I am not disputing the ability of these new laws to do some good. They will relieve much suffering and encourage some consumer buying; but will they create confidence, or will they, instead, make business more fearful? No one knows. These "pacifiers" have not yet been tried. No true business depression has occurred since these "humanitarian" laws were enacted. My point this week is to emphasize that no one knows whether existing legislation will create confidence or increase fear.
Reducing Stock Market Margins
Let us consider the recent reduction of stock market margins from 70% to 50%. This was done by Washington to make it easier to buy stocks; but stocks are very different from food. We buy food to eat; but we buy stocks to sell at a profit.
Instead of increasing confidence in stocks, this action by well-meaning Washington bureaucrats has frightened investors, who fear that the real inside conditions may be worse than the public expected. Therefore, this act, at this time, has done more harm than good. Now what will be the effect when the various other palliatives are put into force? They will relieve hunger; but will they cause investors to buy stocks or automobiles? I don't know—and no one else knows.
What About Economic Laws?
Economic laws can be temporarily ignored; but they cannot be long ignored. Economic forces cannot be seen; but neither can electric forces be seen. Even now, no one knows what electricity is, where it comes from, why it travels, or where it goes. Yet, we all use electricity continually. Economic forces are just as powerful even though they cannot be seen. For Congress to try to ignore them is like legislating that "2 plus 2 must hereafter make 5."
Almost every Congressman believes in his heart that the present regulation of farm prices is a mistake. They believe that Secretary Benson is basically right, but they dare not say so for fear of losing the farmers' vote. What the ultimate result will be, no one knows. Some say these artificial prices will finally end our present form of government. We dare not say so because neither I nor anyone else knows.

Certainly we are skating on ice of unknown thickness. One person whom I see is very bullish; another is optimistic. We are all toying with questions to which neither Congress nor the President knows the answers. Following the depression of the Thirties, Congress enacted many "cure - alls" to relieve pain. These should work for a while in relieving hunger, warding off failures, and performing other acts of mercy; but in most cases they may serve only as mustard plasters or aspirin when our people need a change of character, almost a religious conversion. Previous depressions were allowed to last until selfishness was replaced by unselfishness; until inefficiency was replaced by efficiency; and dishonesty by honesty. Now Congress plans to bring back prosperity without restoring these fundamentals of unselfishness, efficiency, and honesty. Can this safely be done?
What Is Scientific Education?
Washington apparently thinks that Science refers only to physics and chemistry. This is a great mistake: Economics, sociology, and merchandising are sciences of equal importance. Russia can give us some great surprises along these lines, far more important than "Sputniks." A nation progresses only by a balanced education, not by going off half-cocked on one line. What will the young physicists and chemists do if we enter upon a workable disarmament program? They will be "a dime a dozen."
Were I a young man or woman today, I should become an expert in the subjects taught at Institutes of Business Administration. The graduates of such institutions will be in great demand as we approach disarmament. Almost every sane man in Washington will admit that the ultimate choice is "Disarmament or Destruction." If World War III comes, all our schools may be laid low and their graduates killed!

ALONG THE POTOMAC
By U. S. Congressman
DeWitt S. Hyde
WASHINGTON—I am greatly concerned over the implications of the President's proposals on "Schools in federally affected areas" in his Budget message. It seems to me that the Administration overlooks the full impact of "business of Government" on a community. When a private corporation moves into a locality and, in so doing, brings a large influx of people with it, the increased demands on civic facilities are met through the taxes paid by the corporation.
The Federal Government evades its responsibilities as an employer in a community when it refuses to pay its fair share of the cost of local government. These costs include not only the impact on the school system, but also the increased demands made for sewerage disposal, water, roads, police and fire protection.
I have proposed legislation that would authorize the payment of lump sums in lieu of taxes in federally affected areas. But until such legislation can be enacted, I am opposed to any reduction in the present programs to aid schools in impacted areas, let alone their termination.
The Federal budget this year includes estimates for pay raises for classified and postal employees. In the Department of Defense budget there are also included allowances for adjustments in military pay scales. I am as concerned as any other citizen over the dangers of inflation and the role that wage and price increases play in inflation. Yet, I feel that federal pay in all its categories has lagged too greatly behind actual living costs. I am hopeful that the Congress will approve realistic pay raises for our federal workers and the military. I may add, and for those who depend on retirement income for their living.

quired. "These figures demonstrate most effectively," Lambert said, "that while incidence of new polio is down drastically as a result of usage of the Salk vaccine, the great battle for the rehabilitation of polio victims is not finished. In 1957, ninety per cent of all March of Dimes patient-aid funds were used to aid patients stricken in previous years."
The chapter treasurer indicated that expenses for the Special Polio Evaluation Clinic in December, jointly sponsored by the Foundation, the Frederick County Medical Society and the Frederick County Health Department, have not yet been computed since not all bills have been received.
Over the past twenty years the March of Dimes has raised more than a quarter billion dollars from the American people. Of this, 61% has been used in direct assistance to polio patients, 35% financed all other aspects of the National Foundation's medical program and a bare 4% was applied to administrative expense last year.
"We do not often realize," said Lambert, "how substantially organizations such as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis contribute to our local health and welfare program. They go along with little fuss and bother providing a basic public service without which there would be a critical gap in our community."

VFW Auxiliary Schedules Capital Conference
A delegation of 14 Maryland members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars will go to Washington on Thursday, February 6 for a three day

Undersecretary of Labor James O'Connell will be the keynote speaker at the Auxiliary's conference on Thursday. The theme of the Women's Forum which follows the VFW Auxiliary conference is National Security for Enduring Peace. Mrs. J. BOY SCOUT NEWS

Tuesday night the Scouts and Explorers of Troop 284 held Operation Moon Watch. Twenty-five Scouts and Explorers, four Scoutmasters and three troop committeemen went to the observatory in Frederick located in Hood College. There Dr. Yee, head of astronomy at the college, pointed out different stars, groups of stars with gas formations about them and described the moon. Each boy was given the opportunity to see each formation through the large telescope, even to the way the telescope revolved and the clearness of the moon, was of much interest to the group. Questions were asked and answers given and Dr. Yee stated it may not be very long until some of these boys get to see the first moon landing and maybe the same scene, in reverse.

GETTYSBURG SALE DAYS SET FOR FRIDAY, SATURDAY

The first Sale Days of 1958 will be held by Gettysburg merchants Friday and Saturday it has been announced. "There will be a general markdown of practically every item in every store," one merchant actively participating in the Sale Days promotion said this week. "These two-day sales are devoted to our customers. It is our way of expressing our thanks for their patronage during the year," the spokesman declared.

Prizes this year will be given by each participating store. Two merchandise certificates will be awarded by each dealer participating in the sale. They will be $10 and $5, totaling $15. Thus, if 50 merchants participate in the sale at least $750 in prizes will be given away.

The drawing for the winners will be made by each merchant in his store at 9 o'clock Saturday night. Customers need not be present for the drawing. The winners will be notified. Stores will be open Friday and Saturday evenings.

pose the new ordinance or do not understand it to attend the Town Council meeting which is held the first Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Town Office, every month. There is where you will get the right answers and not from hearsay. Incidentally, there will be a meeting this Monday night.

Biggest daily double payoff in Pimlico's history came December 1, 1955 when Joymaker and Advice combined for a $5,932.20 reward. Jockey Bennie Sorensen rode both winners.

Under totalisator wagering, the pools are closed when the horses leave the starting gate. The track stewards push a button which automatically locks all ticket-vending machines.
