The whole world mourns the loss of the beloved Pope Pius XII. Condolences from all nations and religious denominations have been received at the Vatican. The world has lost a leader, one who is so sorely needed in these perilous times. Seldom is the world blessed with men so prolific, intelligent and understanding as was the late Pontiff. The Church made great strides during his regime and his many friends, both Catholic and Protestant were shocked at his demise, although it had been expected for some time. Many Americans had the privilege of seeing the Pope in person when he visited this country some two decades ago, before his elevation to the Papacy. It is my prediction that sometime in the future this saintly man will be raised to sainthood, although you or I will never live to see it as it sometimes takes centuries to reach this statehood. God rest his soul.

Local citizens are amazed at the progress the Wilson Company is making on the new sewer line project. It has been estimated that if the weather remains near favorable the project might be completed by the first of the year. No new sewer rent fee has been established as yet but the town fathers are working diligently on a schedule of rates. It's quite a complex matter establishing what might be termed an equitable rate schedule. Businesses, homes, churches and schools as well as apartment houses all have to be taken into consideration and a rate established satisfactory to all. At the same time enough money must be obtained from the users of the sewerage system to amortize loans which have been made. When completed the project will give the town complete sewerage facilities. Every home will be compelled to connect to the line and a very undesirable condition created by the lack of adequate sewerage will have been corrected. Flat Run should be pure surface water when the project is completed, and Emmitsburg will have achieved another milestone in its march of progress. This project should encourage local residents to build within the environs of the town and thereby induce more families to the area.

Let's go back about 28 years ago in reminiscence. The Chronicle in August of 1930 related the demise of Prof. Frederick J. Halm, distinguished professor of music at Mount Saint Mary's, at the age of 75. Emmitsburg was in second place in the league standings of the now defunct Frederick County League and Ed. Ohler Jr., now Dr. Ohler, had been bitten by the "golf bug" and established a nine-hole job in the backyard of his father who died recently, Edwin F. Ohler. Two local youngsters, Rita and Richard Spalding copped second place in a beauty contest held in Baltimore. Remember the tournaments held at Shriver's Grove? Well the affair was rained out but was held the succeeding day and drew hundreds from as far away as Frederick. The riders used to run spears through rings while riding horse back. This art of horsemanship used to be a great sport in bygone days and it is seldom if ever, you even hear of it today. Another item relates that Tom's Creek Church was observing its 133rd anniversary; a teachers' meeting was scheduled in Frederick and Homer Guyton, local principal of the public school, was in attendance. St. Joseph's Church was advertising the give-away of $100 in gold at its annual picnic and was selling chances on the prize. I never did learn the winner of the drawing but the gold money prize sort of intrigues me as it is seldom if ever you get a chance to see any gold anymore. Of interest to the horse opera fans the old Gem was running a powerful intriguing western featuring good old Ken Maynard, at that time, tops.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell and children, Therese, Dick, Joan, Sammy and Roy Jr., visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wivell and son, Hagerstown.

Local Grange Installs New Officers

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange was held in the local high school with 26 members attending. Master Harry Swomley presiding.

A number of candidate's names were submitted and will be voted upon at the next meeting.

A letter from the Frederick Jaycees inviting the Grange to take part in the Halloween parade there was read. The Grange decided it was too much out of the way and will not participate.

The Grange voted to give $5 to the Community Chest drive.

It was announced that two local members are in the hospital. They are Carrie Long and Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsey.

The main order of business was the installation of 1959 officers. Emmitsburg and Thurmont were installed together by Brother Tobias Zimmerman. He was assisted by Mrs. Zimmerman and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Quinn. Raymond Keilholtz is the new lecturer of the Emmitsburg organization replacing Mrs. Ralph Lindsey.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 Eastern Standard Time. Don't forget the time change.

The meeting was closed by the new Master, Bernard Welty. Refreshments were served by the committee.

Legion Sponsoring Series Of Dances

The Francis X. Elder, American Legion announces the scheduling of a series of fall dances the first of which will be held Friday evening Oct. 17.

Another in the series will be held Friday, Oct. 23. Should the affairs draw well it is planned to continue the dances in the post home every other Friday evening throughout the winter months. Admission to the dances is free and the public is cordially invited to attend the affairs. Music will be furnished by popular orchestras from here and nearby cities. The Town Kountry Boys will be featured tonight and following the Halloween parade on Friday, Oct. 31, the Debonaires, a local orchestra, will supply the music.

TOWN ALLEYS RESURFACED

Charles R. Fuss, street commissioner of the Corporation of Emmitsburg, reports the recent surfacing and patching of the town's major alleys. In addition, DePaul Street has been resurfaced in its entirety. It is the annual custom of the Mayor and Commissioners to surface streets as needed. The Town Council requests the public to refrain from burning trash or dumping refuse in the alleys, such as ashes and other trash. This practice is a direct violation of a town ordinance and fines can be levied.

Card Party Successful

The benefit card party held Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beegle, proved highly successfully both as a social and financial success.

Friends of the Emmitsburg Library who promoted the affair, report that approximately 50 persons patronized the event and that the library netted $64.15. During the evening, Bridge, 500 and bingo was played.

TWO YOUTHS HURT IN CAR CRASH

Two youths were treated at the Warner Hospital last Thursday for minor injuries received when the car in which they were riding ran off the road in front of Mt. St. Mary's College.

Roland Pittenger, 18, Taneytown R2, was treated for abrasions of the nose and face, laceration of the left ear and abrasion of the left knee. Lawrence Rentzel, 20, Fairfield R2, was treated for a sprain of the neck.

GOP TO MEET

Colonel Thomas J. Frailey, chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Emmitsburg, has announced that there will be a meeting of the local Central Committee on Saturday evening, October 18, 1958 at eight o'clock at the offices of the Emmitsburg Water Company. All members of the Central Committee are urged to be present as matters of importance will be discussed.

MOTHER SETON PTA MEETING WELL-ATTENDED

The PTA of Mother Seton School held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening in the school cafeteria. President, Mark Lannon, presided. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Sister Francis, principal, and the pledge to the flag.

Secretary, Mrs. Albert Wivell read the minutes of the last meeting, and treasurer, Robert L. Koontz, reported that there was no change in the financial balance, as nothing had been paid out or taken in since the last meeting.

Each one present at the meeting received a copy of the constitution and by-laws of the association. President Lannon announced that there had been no changes in the constitution, but several changes had been made in the by-laws.

It was voted to take a $5 ad in the St. Joseph's High School year book.

A petition submitted by Lumen Norris, and read by Dr. Marshall, was presented to the group. Voters from the Emmitsburg election area only were asked to sign this petition favoring the construction of a street to run from the Emmitsburg High School south to Mother Seton School. The petition will be presented to the Town Council.

Dr. Marshall, as chairman of the transportation committee, asked for volunteers to transport the seminarians from Mt. St. Mary's Seminary to and from the Fall Festival on Saturday afternoon.

Sister Francis thanked the mothers for the assistance they had rendered during the past month. Sister also explained the increase in book rental bills, stating that instead of charging the usual fee for supplies, as had been done in past years, the book bills have been raised $1 to take care of these supplies. As soon as time permits, advance menus will be made up, and posted so that the children will know ahead of time what will be served at lunch. All girls attending the school must have their uniforms by Oct. 15, and the white blouses must have Peter Pan collars. Any girl who has already purchased blouses without the Peter Pan collars may wear them until January.

After the business, the Boy Scouts of Troop 284, presented a short skit in cooperation with Fire Prevention Week and the members of the fifth grade in Sister Regina's room presented a program on the Geography of the Southern States.

Local Knights Receive 4th Degree

The Fourth Degree, highest rank in the Knights of Columbus, was conferred on 11 members of Brute Council 1860, Emmitsburg, at ceremonies held in the Alcazar Hotel, Baltimore, Sunday.

The installation was in charge of the Charles Carroll of Carlington General Assembly in honor of St. Knight F. Edmund Walsh, past Faithful Navigator. Following the conferring of the degree the local party attended a dinner and dance at the hotel as part of the day-long activities.

Members of Brute Council receiving the degree were Guy A. Baker Sr., Guy A. Baker Jr., Bernard H. Boyle, Arthur Elder, Clyde J. Eyer, Joseph M. Haley, Ralph Lee, Keilholtz, Robert L. Koontz, Lumen F. Norris, Curtis D. Topper and Frank S. Topper. The Knights were accompanied by their wives who were entertained during the day by a committee at the Hotel Stafford, later joining the men for the dinner-dance at the Alcazar.

Halloween Parade Planned

Interest is mounting in the big Halloween parade to be held on Friday evening, Oct. 31, Joseph Rodgers, general chairman, reported this week. The event is sponsored by the Francis E. Elder Post, American Legion and is an annual event.

A large number of individuals are planning special costumes in the hope of copying some of the prize money. Prizes will be awarded for the funniest costume; best looking costume; most original; funniest with pet; best looking with bicycle, tricycle or wagon and two mystery prizes. The parade will form at 6:30 at the Doughboy and will move off at 7 o'clock sharp. In previous years about 500 children and adults participated in the parade.

FIREMEN WILL TAKE NEW FIRST AID COURSE

Three fires were extinguished during the month Fire Chief J. S. Hollinger reported at the regular meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. held Tuesday night in the Fire Hall. President John J. Hollinger presided over the meeting. The conflagrations handled since the last meeting included one automobile, one hot water heater and a tractor.

Reporting on the recent Fire Prevention Week, Chief Hollinger informed the meeting that regular practice sessions had been held and posters and informative pamphlets were distributed by the Boy Scouts. A number of fire drills was held at local schools and Boy Scouts gave numerous demonstrations at various meetings of groups during the week.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Edwin Chrismer, the last remaining honorary member of the Fire Company who died last week. The firemen discussed the possible use of a three-section deck ladder for use on higher buildings in the community but no definite action was taken. At the present time a standard first aid course is being organized. This course will be taught by Eugene Kraemer who is experienced in this line having taught several similar courses here previously. Fire Police Captain Paul A. Keepers reported on the organization of a trainee program for fire police and anyone interested in the activity is asked to contact Mr. Keepers immediately.

The scouts are now in the progress of scrubbing and painting the interior of their Scout house, getting ready for an active winter of tests, games, hikes, compass problems and community service projects. The Scout Troop in Emmitsburg is among the most active in our District. During the school months many scouts complete tests and earn merit badges through their school program.

Production—Source Of Wealth

At the height of the economic "recession" of 1949, the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor presented a report to the 68th convention of the A. F. L. which stated:

Throughout this business recession, the Federation has recognized the importance of giving free rein to the normal corrective forces of a free economy, so that the necessary adjustments could be brought about. The 'seller's market' of recent years has now changed to a 'buyer's market.' Competition has returned. Today businessmen are more interested in cutting costs and saving waste than they have been for many years. Their customers are demanding lower prices, and they must reduce prices, and they must reduce prices to compete in the market.

"Thus, competition . . . is forcing business firms to do the difficult things which improve the productive process and gradually bring lower cost goods on the market. The Federation recognizes that the corrective process now going on is essential to restore economic health . . .

A Sound Statement

"We have consistently recognized," the A. F. L. statement continued, "that living standards rise as production per man-hour increases and efficiency improves . . . During this period we have continually urged our affiliated organizations . . . to negotiate wage increases without causing price rises."

This is a splendid statement whether applied to the economic "recession" of 1949 or the economic recession of 1958, or any time. The key point is: "We have consistently recognized that living standards rise as production per man-hour increases and efficiency improves." In this statement the American Federation of Labor is recognizing a basic economic truth—that production is the source of wealth and that improved efficiency in production is the accelerator of economic progress. It is important that a greater percentage of the public, and that every bargaining affiliate of organized labor understand the validity of this basic economic truth, and honor it for the good of us all.

Cart-Before-the-Horse

In their demands for higher wages, some labor leaders today are using the cart-before-the-horse theory of economic which holds that in the economic equation purchasing power comes ahead of production in importance. One nationally prominent leader recently recommended a collective bargaining program that "places the major emphasis upon . . . increasing mass purchasing power in order to get the unemployed back to work."

If we searched back to the beginning of the American enterprise system we'd find that at Plymouth Colony someone had to produce wealth before it could be distributed. The community prospered in ratio to its improved production of wealth. There is a present-day dramatic example. Ten years ago when the West German Federal Republic was established, industrial production was virtually non-existent, and so was mass purchasing power. The economy of the nation was so completely paralyzed that a whole new monetary system had to be created overnight.

Production Did It

The West German government gave every citizen 40 marks (about $10) to be spent on food and shelter. After this was gone the people were on their own, and 95% were without jobs. Millions lived on the edge of starvation. The government threw all its resources—and most of the U. S. aid—into getting German industry back on its feet, and it staked its life on maintaining a stable value for the mark. What has happened in Germany in the intervening 10 years is recognized throughout the world as an economic "miracle."

West Germany has set all kinds of production records. Under its free enterprise system the re-established factor-

Hula Hoop

Causing Complaints

The "Hula Hoop" has replaced the rolling ball as a menace on the highway, and the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission has received many complaints from motorists of instances of children darting into the streets and highways from behind parked cars in pursuit of the elusive hoop. A number of children have already received serious injuries chasing these new-fashioned toys.

Mr. Paul E. Burke, Executive Director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, asks motorists to remember, "When you see a hoop, realize it will be followed by a child." Mr. Burke also requested the parents of children to teach them not to dart out after the hoops when they roll into the street, but let an adult retrieve them.

Mr. Burke told the children to treat the hoop as they would a ball—let it roll, for hoops can be replaced easier than broken bones can be mended.

This warning of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission was issued in view of the estimated thirty million hoops now being rolled by the youngsters throughout the state and nation.

ies and brand-new industries have created millions of jobs. Its goods have found markets in nations throughout the world. The German workers approved the plowing back of substantial profits into expansion and productivity improvement, and the passing along of most of the productivity achievements to the consumers in domestic and world markets. This great splurge of wealth—produced through production of wanted goods—has lifted the German people out of stagnation and toward a living standard, which within another few years will top that of any other people in Europe.

Our productive might is just that important to American citizens. It is the source of our living standard and anything that hobbles it hurts all the people.

Farm Bureau

Sets Meeting Date

Preliminary plans are now being formulated for the National and State Conventions of the Farm Bureau. The American Farm Bureau will hold its 40th Annual Convention during the week of December 7 in historic Boston. Present plans call for the holding of the general sessions in Symphony Hall on December 9 and 10. On Thursday, December 11, the voting delegate session will be held for the purpose of determining the policy of the American Farm Bureau for the coming year.

Maryland Farm Bureau will hold its 43rd Annual Meeting in Baltimore from January 14-17, 1959. Thursday, January 15, will be devoted to meetings of the Associated Women and Associated Young People. On Friday will be the annual reports and addresses by national agricultural leaders. The voting delegate session will be held Saturday, at which time the policies of the State Farm Bureau will be formulated.

Clergymen Now

Eligible For Benefits

Many ministers of the gospel will lose their rights to social security unless they do something about it before the 15th of next April. Here's what they must do:

(1) If they don't have a social security card, they should go to the Social Security office and get one.

(2) Next go to the nearest Internal Revenue Office and ask for a waiver form.

(3) Fill out this waiver form and leave it at the Internal Revenue Office.

If a minister takes these steps, and makes $400 or more in a year, his earnings will count toward old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits.

This means that he and his dependents can get monthly benefit checks when he retires at age 65 or later. His family could get payments if he should die at any age. Also, if he becomes too disabled to do any more work he

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Importance Of Salt Water

En Route to Africa, Oct. 16—Although ocean water is now of no use for drinking or household purposes, it has much mineral wealth. One cubic mile of sea water contains five million tons of magnesium. The magnesium in this sea water has heretofore been used largely for medicinal purposes; but now it is being extracted from the ocean for the construction of airplanes. It has the best combination of strength and lightness of any metal. It has been found that sea water also contains much bismuth, bromine, and iodine, as well as sodium and other salts. The Dow Chemical Company has a large plant at Freeport, Texas, for the extraction of these minerals from sea water. Merck & Company of Rahway, New Jersey, is also experimenting along this line. This is an industry which is sure to grow; but a right location is essential. Harbor water is too impure, hence a factory to process sea water should be built out on a promontory in clear ocean water. The plant should be located so that the natural ocean water can come in on one side of the promontory and the treated water pass out on the other side, thus avoiding mixing of the treated and untreated water.

There are also plants where the sea water is treated to secure fresh water. This is now an expensive process; but the business is growing. As more economical methods are discovered for extracting the salt, the treated water will be used for irrigation. The soil of deserts is especially rich because the rains have never washed the minerals away from it. Hence, when such dry land can be irrigated with either fresh water or treated ocean water, the soil produces most marvelous crops. Let me add here that while land enjoying normal rainfall is constantly losing its mineral and other values, yet these minerals are being carried down the rivers into the oceans, which are constantly increasing their mineral content. My ship is now in the midst of great potential wealth. Suggestion To

Real Estate Agents

Real estate offices can be of great benefit in a community. Many real estate offices are only order takers—they merely rent or sell vacant property, doing nothing constructive themselves. Some real estate offices, however, buy land and construct houses which they sell. Others try to do everything from which they can get a dollar rather than specialize in any one type of business. The future of most communities is dependent upon the people in the real estate business. These real estate people determine whether a city will stagnate, or whether it will constantly grow. I wish all in the real estate business would get the vision of their possibilities, opportunities, and especially their responsibility, to everyone in their community.

Tremendous opportunities exist in territories through which the new national highways are to be built. Land extending between these highways and the ocean or lakes or rivers should be the first to sell. A bright real estate man would be inclined to specialize in waterfront property and not bother with any other kind. He would try to make arrangements with young people in scores of other communities who would also like to concentrate on waterfront properties. He would then attempt to unite them in an Association which would do national advertising of waterfront properties. I repeat—this includes oceanfront, riverfront, and lakefront. Such property holds the greatest opportunity today for growth and profit. The best "gold mines" today are not found underground; but rather are to be found on the surface, bordering bodies of water.

Why I Am Going To Africa

One purpose of my trip is to study the fabulous banks of Africa. While Africa is rich in uranium, copper, and other minerals—not to mention diamonds, or wool—Africa is primarily noted for its gold. Over one half of the Free World's gold now comes from "darkest Africa." Let me remind readers that mining the ground for gold and other minerals will constantly decrease; but mining the ocean for valuable min-

Store Fall Crops For Winter Use

Fall crops can be stored thru part of the winter, or even thru the entire winter, if a few easy conditions are met.

The crops that should be stored are carrots, beets, turnips, rutabagas, sweet potatoes, pumpkins, acorn squash, onions and white potatoes.

Two essentials of good storage are proper temperature and humidity. Basements meet the conditions for pumpkins, acorn squash and sweet potatoes. For practically all other vegetable crops the storage temperature should be just above freezing. The temperature range between 32 and 38 degrees Fahrenheit is best.

erals will constantly increase. As I plow through this ocean for 17 days, I am constantly reminded of this release and of the one a week ago.

For basement storage, a room as far away from the furnace as possible should be partitioned off with insulating wall board. The room should have a tight-fitting door and a slatted floor laid on top of the basement floor. A wooden flue should extend from this false (slatted) floor to a window opening to the outside. The window should be screened and left open.

Most root crops can be stored in this type of insulated basement room. Corrats, beets turnips and rutabagas should be stored in boxes of damp sand. White potatoes keep best in boxes or baskets at floor level. Onions, which require a drier atmosphere, can be hung in slatted crates from the ceiling.

Keep the storage room dark, clean and sanitary at all times.

If you prefer outdoor pit storage, simply dig a shallow hole, and line it with straw or leaves. Pile the root crops in a cone shape mound, cover them with a foot of straw and then top off the pile with two or three inches of soil. Several small mounds or kilns are better than one big one.

Store only the vegetables that are free from disease and injury. Never wash vegetables before storing them.

Our County Library

Frederick County does not have a county-wide library system. A "campaign of information" to inform Frederick countians of the economic advantages of establishing county-wide library service in 1959 is being conducted by the C. Burr Artz Library and a Citizens' Committee headed by Mrs. J. Homer Remsburg, Middletown. To acquaint readers with all respects of the project, which is now being presented to organizations, The Emmitsburg Chronicle will publish a series of weekly articles.

Article Two What A County-Wide Library System Would Provide

Rural library extension system would provide good library service for everyone in Frederick City and County, by:

A bookmobile, operating from the C. Burr Artz Library, which would travel to communities on a regular schedule, making books accessible to the whole county.

A larger collection of books and materials to meet the needs of the specialized as well as the general reader.

A library staff experienced in working with children, young people, and adults.

An increase in books and services in the Artz Library, and the existing community libraries of Emmitsburg and Thurmont.

New community libraries, or book stations, wherever needed.

More and better books for the county children who now lack library privileges equal to city children.

Consultant services for community programs.

Article One reviewed the history of the C. Burr Artz Library, from which service would fan out into county areas.

uture articles will discuss why it is important to establish a county system, the financial advantages of beginning in 1959, government and finance, what other Maryland counties are doing, can do to insure rural extension and what citizens and groups for Frederick county.

GERTRUDE E. BAKER
The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATROMONII by the Plaintiff, Charles Russell Baker, from the Defendant, Gertrude E. Baker.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on April 8, 1946 in Cashtown, Pennsylvania, by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where he has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a resident of the State of Pennsylvania, her last postoffice address being R.F.D. No. 1, Orrtanna, Pennsylvania; that one child was born as a result of the marriage, this being Jeanne Marie Baker, who resides with her mother; that the parties voluntarily separated in or about the year 1951 and since said separation they have not cohabited or lived together as man and wife and have continued to voluntarily live separate and apart; and that there is no reasonable hope or expectation of a reconciliation between the parties. The Bill prays that the Defendant be divorced A VINCULO MATROMONII, and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 29th day of September, 1958, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff give notice to the said non-resident Defendant of the objects and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 1st day of November, 1958, commanding her to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 2nd day of December, 1958, and show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND

Don't expect to stay ahead of your bills if you allow them to do all the running.

What Kind of a Man Do You Want to Represent You in the U.S. Senate?

Glenn Beall, who considers it a high honor to be a United States Senator and who has made all Marylanders proud of his record

Glenn Beall, who is liked and respected throughout the State and who has served all Marylanders well—regardless of where they live or how they vote

Glenn Beall, who has helped create jobs for thousands of Marylanders by helping bring new government and private industry to the State.

Or, a man who openly declared that he did not want to be Senator because that office did not permit him to hand out enough political jobs.

Or, a man who is tied to the apron strings of a Big City Political Boss!

Or, a man who has deprived Marylanders of job opportunities because of his tax policies which has driven away Maryland industries and kept new industry out of the State.

Make the right choice on November 4—RE-ELECT SENATOR BEALL

want you to know...

With heart disease killing almost 50 times as many Pennsylvanians as are killed by automobiles, Pennsylvania community hospitals are putting electronics to work helping to detect that No. 1 killer.

Your hospital probably has installed a number of complicated machines with jaw-breaking names to help with diagnosis and treatment. Its doctors know of a long list of others equally helpful but which just now were beyond the limited hospital budget.

Electrocardiographs, for example, have become standard equipment in the 223 short-term, non-profit hospitals in the State, but a cousin of that device is probably on the "wanted list"—the electroencephalograph, which records brain damage and neuromuscular disorders.

In the field of X-ray there are a number of new inventions that hospitals are installing in order to provide up-to-date techniques that will speed recovery of patients. Fluoroscopic screen intensifiers are an example. These provide clearer X-ray images and reduce the hazard of over-exposure to X-ray.

Securing the funds to purchase expensive new equipment is only part of the hospital's problem in furnishing the best possible care and treatment for more and more patients. Frequently new equipment requires new electrical transformers to furnish additional power, which boosts the monthly bill for electricity.

Complicated devices in today's hospitals require special training and skills unknown less than a generation ago. The use of the artificial kidney for one patient with uremia involves the services of 18 physicians, nurses and special technicians. Many hospitals conduct courses to train men and women as technicians in order to supply the specialists required. is usually unknown to the hospital patient but which is reflected in his bill for health services.

The knowledge, skill and experience of all hospital personnel and the benefits of new apparatus is available to every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania, regardless of his ability to pay. Not only are Pennsylvania's short-term hospitals built largely through public giving on a voluntary basis, but new equipment must be bought from income received from paying patients. In addition, these non-profit hospitals must absorb heavy yearly charity care deficits.

It's a good idea to remember that life is a game of chance and the cards are usually stacked against you.

Some people never get up in the world because they wait for someone to give them a boost before they start climbing.

Make keeping your feet on the ground a habit and you'll never have far to fall.
