By now most of the local taxpayers have had an opportunity to examine their tax bills and quite a number are incensed at what the bill tells them they are obligated for. Despite numerous publishing of the new rates and town meetings where the proposed rates could be studied, there are a great many who didn't believe or didn't care enough about the matter to attend any meetings. With the passing of the ordinance the bills are final and binding.

It is highly possible a few inequities might exist under the present tax structure and undoubtedly some revision will be forthcoming after the plan has been given a real testing. It was quite a job to arrive at a suitable figure that would appear fair to both the property-owner and the town itself. With little or no assistance from the general public, the Town Fathers therefore were forced to come up with the right answers themselves. To some the answers weren't the right ones and there appears some ill-feeling about the matter. I will not attempt to provide the right answers either but one fact remains that $300,000 has been borrowed and must be repaid and the only way to pay this sum is by taxation. Unquestionably the burden will be borne by the homeowner mostly, but to shoulder the entire burden would make an Atlas struggle. Quite a number of landlords have called for small increases in rentals and this naturally upsets an individual, but I presume it just must be done. My own opinion, if you care to hear it is, if you have a complaint why not air it at the next Council meeting? These meetings are always held the first Monday of the month. If you feel that you have been saddled with an insurmountable burden then let the governing body of the town hear about it. The Town Fathers have open minds and will listen to your complaints and then take the matter under advisement, but in the meantime $300,000 borrowed for the installation of the new sewerage system must be repaid. Emmitsburg is lacking in industry and this poses as an added burden on the real estate owner who must share the responsibility of the loan. In other towns where industry is gathered this group pays many thousands of dollars of taxes which lightens the burden on the home-owners. As I said before, there is a dearth of industry here so the real burden is placed almost entirely on the shoulders of local homeowners.

Elsewhere in this edition the Council has published a list of regulations for the public's perusal and in an effort to explain certain rules pertinent to the new sewerage ordinance.

I often wondered just who was responsible for the designing of the postal zone between here and Thurmont. Without a question the designer or zonor was very partial to our neighbors. For some unknown reason the separating line between the two districts was placed at our backdoor, St. Anthony's. It seems that a more equitable decision would have been to split the zone just about at Payne's Hill. It seems strangely odd to read of people we know and whom we think live in our community, to have a Thurmont R2 mailing address. Quite a number of times this paper has been accused of being erroneous when reporting so and so entered the hospital from Thurmont R2. It is a little confusing to read this when you'd swear the party lived at St. Anthony's. At any rate I feel we here in Emmitsburg have been short-changed somewhere along the line and sort of feel hemmed-in between the R2 line and the Pennsylvania state line. Perhaps our election district representatives or the Postoffice Dept. should be advised of the matter?

Mounties Brace, Take Two During Week

Despite the loss of its freshman court star, the Mount St. Mary's College basketball team put up a game struggle last Saturday night at Trenton, N. J., only to drop a close decision to its opponent, Rider College. The score was 65-63. Ernie Cage, promising star athlete, withdrew from the college last week when he experienced scholastic difficulties.

The contest was deadlocked when time ran out and an extra period was played to determine the outcome. A comparatively easy shot in the final seconds of the overtime was missed by a Mount player which would have sent the game into an extra overtime session.

Rider took a 33-26 lead at half time in Saturday's game but the Mountainers came back strong to gain a 57-57 deadlock at the end of regulation playing time. Both teams collected 27 goals but Rider converted 11 of 17 free tosses as compared to nine of 17 for the Mountainers.

Bert Sheing led the Mount with 20 points and Jerry Savage connected for 18. Madden, Bargholz and Piotrowski netted 22, 15 and 14 for the winners.

Cage's absence will make it exceedingly difficult for the Mount to forge its way into conference title rating. The freshman ace had tabbed 312 points in 15 college games.

Tuesday night, the Mounties overcame a 13 point deficit at intermission to defeat league-leading Baltimore U, 69-63 in a Mason-Dixon Conference game at Memorial gym.

Trailing 30-17 at halftime, the Mountainers, led by Bert Sheing, Jack Marshall and freshman Dave Samuels, rallied to defeat the Bees. Sheing led the Mount scoring with 17 points. Jack Bychick of Baltimore, led scorers with 26 points.

Wednesday night at Westminster, the Mountainers mopped to a 101-67 victory over Western Maryland College, for their second straight win. As a result of these victories the locals advanced into eighth place in the M-D standing.

Bert Sheing again led the Blue and White cagers, netting 14 field goals for a total of 28 points. Savage added 19 for the Mounts, while Martin led Western Maryland with 16 points.

Saturday night the Mountainers travel to Baltimore where they will tangle with their old rival, Loyola, in the opening game of their annual series. Loyola will visit Emmitsburg later this month.

Frederick Jr. High Workshop To Begin February 12

Should high school students go steady? Is it a good thing or should parents and teachers devise means of changing what has in many areas of the state become teenage custom? This will be one of the subjects to be discussed at the high school PTA Workshops to be conducted by the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers on February 12, 1959, at West Frederick Junior High School, Frederick, and on February 13, at Easton High School, Easton, Maryland.

The program, which will come to order at 9:30 a. m., will be conducted by Mrs. William F. Robie, MCPT High School Service Chairman, and Mrs. C. W. Detjen, National Congress High School Service Chairman.

Both the Maryland Congress and the National Congress have been concerned for quite some time for the falling off in PTA activities by parents of high school students. It is the conviction of many people in PTA that this is the most challenging interval in parenthood, where highly complex situations in inter-family and community relationships are common experience. This would indicate a need for the kind of sharing of experience and "know-how" between parents which PTA provides, along with the expert guidance of people who devote their interests almost exclusively to various aspects of this problem.

County Council Chairman, Mr. Robert Klein, Treeland Nurseries, Frederick, urges parents, teachers, and principals to "avail themselves of this opportunity. It will help planning if you tell him or her that you are going."

It's a courageous legislator who ignores the lobbyists and the pressure groups.

Council Pays Interest On Sewer Bonds

The regular monthly meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg was held Monday in the town office, Chairman of the Board, Charles R. Fuss presiding.

The reports of the clerk and treasurer, Louise Sebald, were approved as presented and Police Chief Robert L. K'ontz filed his monthly report with the Commissioners.

Charles D. Gillelan, tax collector, reported that to date the amount paid in the town treasury in 1959 taxes was over $5000. Council okayed a $15000 donation to the March of Dime drive.

Mayor Clarence G. Frailey reported the first interest on the new sewer bonds had been paid. The interest payment was for a six-month period. Five of the sewer bonds will mature this year.

The Town Fathers made the announcement that due to the lateness in mailing tax bills, the regular 2% discount period will be extended to March 1 and that sewer tax bills could be paid quarterly if the individual elected to do so.

Review Board Favors Wasilifsky Land Value Claim

The county Property Review Board has recommended an award of $1,200 to Dr. Adolf Wasilifsky of near Emmitsburg, for approximately 1.39 acres of land which is being taken by the State Roads Commission for the modernization of U. S. 15.

Chairman Samuel L. Birely, of the board, made the announcement. Mr. Birely and Sherman P. Bowers heard the proceedings Friday at the Court House.

The land is located about one mile south of Emmitsburg and comprises a 150-foot strip in the rear of the six-acre Wasilifsky property. There are pear trees on the strip, which figured in the testimony.

Estimates on the value of the taking had ranged from the roads commission figure of $805 to $1,847 placed by a witness for the property owner. Robert S. Rothenhofer represented the commission and James McSherry was attorney for Dr. Wasilifsky at the hearing.

January Was Fuel Dealers' Millennium

January ended averaging three degrees a day below normal, February was off to a cold start with a minimum of 9 Monday morning and the Groundhog saw his shadow, portending six more weeks of winter weather.

The average January temperature was 29.7 degrees, but that was far from a record. As a matter of fact, it was pointed out that January of 1957 was colder with an average of 28.7. The record cold for a January since 1916 was 21.8 in 1918.

In the matter of degree days, which the fuel dealers watch closely, January went 82 above normal. The degree days totalled 1,083 and normal is 1,001. January of 1958 had 1,057.

Other weather statistics for the month:

Precipitation, 2.08 inches, or .8 of an inch below normal.

Snowfall, 3 inches, or 3.4 inches below normal.

Highest, 65 on the 21st; lowest, 2 on the 18th.

Heaviest 24-hour precipitation, 1.05 inches on the 1st.

Monday morning's sun quickly sent the Groundhog scurrying back to his winter retreat after the customary February 2 trip to the outside. The cold would have been enough to cause any sage G-hog to get out of sight even had the sun been hidden.

The legend is that if the Groundhog sees his shadow, six more weeks of wintry weather can be expected.

Jeannette Blacksten as assistant cashier and Mrs. Kathryn F. Coshun as bookkeeper. Mr. Wood also serves as counsel for the bank.

K. of C. Banquet Scheduled For Saturday Night

Thirty-five members were present at the regular meeting of Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus held Monday night in the council's home on the Square, Grand Knight Guy A. Baker Sr., presiding.

A letter from a Baltimore resident, also a member of the council, was read inviting the group to participate in a spiritual retreat at Manressa, Baltimore, some time in the future. Lumen F. Norris, chairman of the banquet, announced that plans for the affair to be held in the VFW Saturday evening were complete and that the advance sale of tickets showed that 150 persons could be expected to attend the affair which will start at 6:30 p. m.

The group decided to offer for sale a hi-fi stereophonic sound set which it recently won and in its place purchase a television set for the meeting room. Arthur Elder was named chairman of the ticket sale and the award will be made on April 6.

One new member, J. Harry Scott, was voted into the organization and the application for membership of Daniel C. Topper was received and will be voted on at the next regular meeting.

The group went on record as favoring the renovating of the third floor of the building and a committee to handle the matter was appointed. The bowling team was informed the council will pay all prize money in the league for its team.

Guest speaker of the evening was State Deputy Charles B. Humelsine, Baltimore. Other guests present were Edward Brennan, Grand Knight of Mt. St. Mary's Council and James Tompkins, past Grand Knight of the college council.

Traffic Fatalities Drop In State During Past Year

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

1958 saw a gratifying reduction in the number of deaths from highway accidents due in a great extent to the continuous educational efforts of our newspapers. However, 1959 has started off tragically and we realize our efforts cannot slacken. The fact that the public is interested and will support traffic safety education has been proven by the recent poll taken in California. I have sent you a series of articles which I believe may help in combating this horrible death toll. In one 12-hour period over 10 highway deaths occurred, in addition many people were seriously injured. I believe these articles will further educate the driving public and the readers of your publication in the essential skills and attitudes of safe driving.

Bar Assn. Studies Court of Appeals

At the recent well attended mid-winter meeting of the Maryland State Bar Association the membership voted almost unanimously to approve a report of the Committee previously appointed to study the case of the Maryland Court of Appeals. This report contemplates a revision to the appellate practice in the Courts of Maryland in order to reduce the case load in the Maryland Court of Appeals. The report indicated that this load has now become so large that an intolerable burden is placed upon the individual judges and continued increase will inevitably result in delay in getting prompt decisions and in having cases in that Court not receive the careful and penetrating consideration which the people of the State have a right to expect of their Court of last resort. In view of the population growth, the increase in business activity, and the steady increase of litigation, the Committee felt that it is certain that the business of the Court will exceed the volume which the five judges in that Court can efficiently perform.

The recommendations of the Committee contemplate a new Court to be known as the Court of Special Appeals and to consist of four judges of the same experience and calibre of those on the Court of Appeals. This Court will hear the appeals in those cases assigned to it by the legislature, which are principally factual cases and would include such cases as negligence actions, criminal cases, etc. The plan contemplates that if any of these cases present novel or unusual questions of law, they can be transferred to the Court of Appeals prior to a hearing by the Court of Special Appeals or under special circumstances the Court of Appeals could allow an appeal to that court from the Court of Special Appeals. The plan contemplates that any dissatisfied litigant would have the right of at least one appeal in every case, but would avoid the necessity for two appeals in nearly all cases and thus avoid the delay, work, and expense incident to a second appeal.

The Committee which worked out the plan was appointed by the State Bar Association a year and a half ago and, after much study and the consideration of a great many plans which were suggested to the Committee, has concluded that this plan will work best in Maryland. The members of the Committee, who approved the report unanimously, consisted of H. Vernon Eney, Chairman, E. Dale Adkins Jr., William H. Adkins II, Ogle Marbury, former Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, John Grason Turnbull, David W. Byron, C. Ferdinand Sybert and Ralph G. Shure.

To put the plan in operation will require a constitutional amendment and certain enabling legislation. Bills to accomplish this are being prepared by the Bar Association and will be presented to the General Assembly for its consideration.

Vassar Club Provides Scholarships

The Vassar Club of Washington is working hard to turn used books and phonograph records into college scholarships for girls in this area. For the eleventh consecutive year, club members are collecting and sorting all kinds of books and records donated by Washingtonians, in preparation for the sale in April. A telephone call to the Collection Chairman, Mrs. Allin Pierce of 3700 University Avenue, N.W., Woodley 6-9172, will result in a prompt pick-up at your home of all contributions.

Thanks to last year's sale profit of $5,604, Vassar was fortunate in enrolling five outstanding students. An estimated 18,750 books were included in the sale, 700 of which were not sold and later donated to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. As always, the entire project was handled by Vassar Club members, with the exception of professional help in the pricing of several rare books before the sale.

This year's Booksale Chairman is Mrs. Wallace W. Atwood Jr. of Brookside Drive, Chevy Chase. Mrs. Pierce, the Collection Chairman, is assisted by a committee of 41 members, representing all sections of the greater Washington area. Mrs. James Cooley of Chain Bridge Road, with the help of Mrs. Richard F. Manegold, Palisades Lane and Mrs. Matthew Hale of Alexandria, is heading up the Committee on Book-sorting and Pricing. Mrs. Catherine Lee, in her lovely Newark Street home, is again the gracious Custodian of books.

Space Age Car Stars In Motorama

DETROIT—Firebird III makes a final test run at the General Motors Technical Center before leaving for New York and Boston to star in GM Motorama of 1959. GM's newest experimental gas turbine car is guided by a single stick located between the two passengers which takes the place of conventional steering wheel, brake pedal and accelerator.

Missile-like in appearance, it has two engines and uses space age electronics and transistors. It will team with GM's 1959 cars in the Motorama to show the public the latest in automobiles of today and tomorrow.

MARTIN—TOPPER

Dolores Elizabeth Topper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Topper, Fairleld RD, and Wilbur Francis Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franz Martin Jr., Gettysburg RD, were married Saturday, January 24 at 10 a. m. in immaculate Conception Church, Fairfield, in a double ring ceremony at a nuptial mass by the pastor, Rev. John J. McNulty. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor-length gown, a Mori Lee creation designed by Louis K., was made of chantilly lace and pleated nylon tulle over net and satin. The fitted bodice was trimmed in sequins and pearls with scalloped sabbina neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt, worn over hoops, featured a front center panel of pleated nylon tulle trimmed with medallions of lace embroidered with sequins and pearls and two side panels of lace. The back of the skirt was alternating ruffles of lace and pleated tulle. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a regal, queens crown of pleated tulle and lace aglow with sequins and pearls. She carried a white missal, a gift of the bridegroom, topped with a bouquet of white carnations and red rose buds. Mrs. Francis Topper, Ortanna, sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a princess style dress of orchid, nite-lite velvet trimmed in satin ribbon bows and carried a cascade bouquet of orchid carnations. Mrs. Melvin Hewitt, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Leo Topper, Waynesboro, sister-in-law of the bride were bridesmaids. They wore princess style dresses of Kelly green nite-lite velvet trimmed in satin ribbon bows and carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations. All three attendants wore pearl necklaces and earrings, a gift of the bride and sequin rosettes and rhinestone stems created into a fascinating queens crown. Vernon Speelman, brother-in-law of the bridegroom was best man, and Leroy and Donald Martin, brothers of the bridegroom were ushers. Flower girls were Patricia Martin, sister of the bridegroom and Jo Ann Topper, niece of the bride. They wore dresses of pale blue swirl jacquard trimmed in lace and ribbon and wreaths of blue flowers in their hair. They carried nosegays of pink carnations. The attendants and flower girls dresses were made by the bride. Philip Martin, brother of the bridegroom was ring bearer. Mrs. Louis Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, played the marches and accompanied the soloist, Eugene Rosensteel, a classmate of the bride. The altar was decorated with white snapdragons, gladioli and pom-poms. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fairfield High School cafeteria for about 200 guests. Later the couple left on a honeymoon of unannounced destination. For her going away outfit, the bride wore a Navy blue satin dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations and red rose buds. Upon their return they will reside at the bride's home until their newly-constructed home at Gettysburg RD, is completed. Mrs. Martin was graduated from St. Joseph's High School in 1955. Mr. Martin attended Gettysburg High School and is employed at the Keystone Ridgeway Corp., Gettysburg. Guests were present from Waynesboro, Catonsville, Baltimore, Emmitsburg, Gettysburg, Bonneauville, Hanover, Thurmont, Lancaster, Littlestown and Fairfield.

Land Zoning Studied Here

The problem of Charles Stouter, local oil dealer whose plant west of town was destroyed by fire last November 17 and who is searching for a piece of land on which to rebuild, came in for discussion again Friday afternoon at a meeting in Frederick of the Frederick County Planning and Zoning Commission.

County Planner Arthur Hatton and executive secretary, J. Alfred Cutsail, were on hand to advise commission members Daniel E. Wight, chairman; Noah E. Keffer Jr., vice chairman; Thomas J. Crum, secretary; Howard U. Quinn and County Commissioner Mehrl H. Ramsburg.

The Stouter request for bulk fuel storage became involved with the whole question of where the industrial area should be located in Emmitsburg. Stouter had agreed to purchase part of the area which had been zoned industrial on the land use plan under the interim zoning ordinance.

But covenant's discovered in the deed to this land have ruled out his location there and may have ruled out all industry in that section of Emmitsburg. There is some legal argument that these covenants only apply to land already developed by Emmitt Gardens but other legal authorities say it applies to all proposed development there.

It appears unlikely that Stouter can purchase this land now that neighbors have objected. He is negotiating now for other land. Stouter owns some land south of Emmitsburg on which he wants to locate but that would require "spot" zoning and would be in an area where no other industry is likely to locate.

Land north of Emmitsburg near U. S. 15, may be considered as the new industrial zone if the covenants on the Emmitt Gardens land prevent any of it from being used for industry.

Julian Tarrant, of Richmond, Va., local area advisor for planning consultants firm of Ladislav Segoe, of Cincinnati, personally inspected the Emmitsburg situation Tuesday.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? —(St. Matthew 27, 22.)

This question was asked by a pagan judge of a riotous mob nearly two thousand years ago, but it is a question of prime importance today. Each of us should ask himself daily, What shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ? The destiny of the world may depend on our answer.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read John 14:8-14.

Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself; but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. (John 14:10.)

Keen-minded, thoughtful Soon Woo Lee, from Korea, became a much-loved member of our home and family. This young man was alert to new truth and ever seeking new meanings.

In speaking of my husband, he remarked to me one day, "I know in my heart I'll always try to be like him. He does not say to us, 'Do these things,' or 'Must not do these.' He just shows us by the way he lives. Long time I know God to be honored and worshiped, but never before do I know God to love. Now, I know and feel love."

By the way He lived daily,

Jesus showed us His faith in His Father. Jesus' constant companionship with God was evident in all Jesus did.

Let us do all we can to increase our faith in God so that we will share all our daily doings with Him. When our love for Him expresses itself in all we do and say, our influence points others to Him.

Prayer

Dear Father, we thank Thee for Jesus Christ, who taught us to love and trust Thee. Continue to work in us and through us that those who know us best may see the glory of Thy face and come to know the joy of loving Thee and following Christ. In His name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

I would live so close to God that I may always be conscious of His presence with me.

Trade Stamps

Benefit Housewives

An Agricultural Department study shows that a housewife with time on her hands actually profits through the use of trading stamps.

The consumer who discounts the time and trouble it takes to save and redeem the stamps winds up with a 1.4 per cent profit, according to the study conducted in 21 cities by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

The profit is in the form of premiums received upon redemption of the stamps, the agency pointed out.

The department surveyed the impact of trading stamps on food prices between November, 1953, and March, 1957. It was the third such survey the agency has made in recent years. The first two were inconclusive as to the impact on retail food prices.

The study showed that food prices in retail stores that issue trading stamps actually are six-tenths of 1 per cent higher than in stores that do not issue stamps. The stamps, however, when turned in for redeemable merchandise, are worth about two per cent of each retail dollar spent in filling the stamp book.

Thus, even if a consumer pays more for food in a stamp-giving store but redeems the stamps, she benefits by the extent of the 1.4 per cent difference, AMS pointed out.

Scenic Route

Most Economical

To acquaint tourists travelling north and south along the Atlantic Seaboard with the advantages offered by the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, recently completed Maryland Route 71 and reconstructed Maryland Route 301, the State Roads Commission has published a leaflet describing the route.

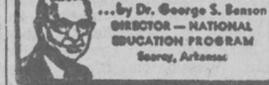

The Commission believes that an informed travelling public will avail themselves of this greatly improved and attractive route through Maryland to Washington for Richmond and points north and south.

This route via the Chesapeake Bay Bridge is a "leisurely" scenic route which avoids city traffic, and passes through some of the most historic and beautiful parts of Maryland. The folder contains a map of the region between the New Jersey Turnpike, the Nation's Capital and the Potomac River Bridge on U. S. 301 to Richmond and the South.

Distribution of the leaflet will be made to automobile clubs, toll facilities and the several route associations along the Atlantic Coast from Maine to Florida.

Looking Ahead

Is This Textbook Sabotage?

Dr. E. Merrill Root, nationally-known educator, educational researcher and author, has published an examination of 11 high school textbooks in American history. He chose the 11 texts for study because all were in use in one of the nation's largest high schools, and because they are widely used in schools throughout the nation. He feels that they constitute the "core" of American history teachings. Certainly the 11 texts represent what is being taught in American history to most of the children of America.

Dr. Root's findings show that the textbooks repeatedly emphasize the negative in American history, give biased presentations in many important areas, omit vital historical information and otherwise give a distorted picture, in important instances, of the founding and growth of our Republic. This is a gravely important matter to every American because our nation is being attacked today, subtly from within and boldly from without, by forces seeking its destruction.

Playing Into

No. 19060 Equity
In the Circuit Court For Frederick County, in Equity
ANTHONY J. GOLASZEWSKI vs.

BETTY J. GOLASZEWSKI
The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONI by the Plaintiff, Anthony J. Golaszewski, from the Defendant, Betty J. Golaszewski.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on March 23, 1947, in Baltimore, Maryland, by Reverend Davies, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, having resided therein for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, residing in the State of Texas for a short time, her post office address being 5612 Hudson Street, Dallas, Texas; that two children, namely, Beverly J. and Josephine, were born as a result of said marriage; that during the year 1952, the parties separated voluntarily and since that time have voluntarily lived separate and apart; and that there is no reasonable hope or expectation of a reconciliation. The Bill prays that the Defendant be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONI, and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 20th day of January, 1959, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff give notice to the said non-resident Defendant of the objects and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 21st day of February, 1959, commanding her to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 24th day of March, 1959, and show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed. government—if they do not appreciate our heritage and understand the institutions which make up the structure of our freedom system. The Socialists and other collectivists are as subversive in their activities against our Capitalist institutions as the Communist infiltrators. The plotters are spending billions of dollars and have enlisted the conscious or unwitting aid of influential dupes in every branch of American communications, particularly in textbook writing.

Here are the texts examined by Dr. Root in his important new book, "Brain Washing in the High Schools": "The United States—Experiment in Democracy," by Craven and Johnson (Ginn & Co.); "The Making of Modern America," Canfield and Wilder (Houghton Mifflin); "America's History," Todd and Curti (Harcourt, Brace); "The American Story," Gavin and Hamm (D.C. Heath); "Story of America," Harlow (Henry Holt); "A History of Our Country," Muzzev (Ginn & Co.); "History of the United States," Dumond, Dale and Wesley (D. C. Heath); "United States History," Wirth (American Book Co.); "History of the American Way," Faulkner, Kepner and Merrill (Harper & Bros.); "The United States and World Relations," Mowrer and Cummings (McGraw-Hill).

Biased Teachings

The teachings of these 10 texts on many basic points are almost identical. Dr. Root found. An eleventh text, "History of a Free People," by Bragdon and McCutchen (McMillan), presents a fuller, more favorable picture of America's history, but it too has vital defects. Dr. Root feels. Here are a few of his findings:

From "The United States—Experiment in Democracy": "Bias against the 'upper classes' and favoritism toward the 'masses' prevade (the authors) account of the Constitutional Convention. They say that the Constitution was drafted by a 'minority group'; that this minority group sought only 'to defend private property'; and that the Constitution was designed to 'check popular rule.'" This is a distortion of history. It tends to create disrespect for the principle of private ownership of property, backbone of our American economic system, and it undermines respect for the Constitution.

Carrying Red Propaganda
These authors, Professor Root reports, "present George Washington as a conspirator for wealth, greedy and selfish, who put the interests of his 'class' before the good of the nation as a whole." This is a distorted picture of one of the great Founding Fathers of our American way of life.

Some of these textbooks make heroes of such radical muckrakers as Upton Sinclair, Ida Tarbell, Frank Norris and Lincoln Steffens whose literature and preachments denounced our American Capitalist system. Steffens, Dr. Root notes, once sent the following proclamation to the American Communist Party: "Communism can solve our problem . . . That is my muckraker's proclamation; that the American Communist Party program meets our American Capitalist situation precisely, and it is the only American party that meets it—head on." With "Big Business" personifying Evil, these textbooks tend to make private Capitalism the villain.

One textbook quotes approvingly the radical declaration of a Socialist agitator, Mary Lease: "Wall Street owns the country. It is no longer a government of the people, by the people, and for the people, but a government of Wall Street, by Wall Street, and for Wall Street . . ." and so on. This is a typical Communist harangue! Why are our high school history textbooks contaminated with such propaganda? This is a question every citizen should ask himself and act upon—now!

Industrialist Cited For Heart Work

Industrialist Charles P. McCormick of Baltimore Wednesday was presented the coveted "Heart and Torch" award of the American Heart Association. The presentation was part of luncheon ceremonies marking the opening of the 1959 Heart Fund campaign in Maryland. Dr. Francis L. Chamberlain of San Francisco, President of the American Heart Association, and principal speaker at the Baltimore luncheon, cited Mr. McCormick for the "wise counsel and rare dedication" which he brought to the successful 1958 Heart drive as national chairman. Dr. Chamberlain further welcomed the "leadership, knowledge and broad experience" by which Mr. McCormick is "guiding the 1959 Heart Fund campaign for public support of the nationwide fight against diseases of the heart and circulation."

The "Heart and Torch" is the highest award given by the Heart Association for volunteer leadership.

Mr. McCormick received the citation to the applause of some six hundred of his fellow Marylanders gathered to signal the beginning of the February Heart drive. The luncheon, held in the Main Ballroom of the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore, was sponsored by the Advertising Club of Baltimore.

In 1958, under Mr. McCormick's leadership, the Heart Fund raised 22 billion dollars for its fight against diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Receiving the "Heart and Torch" award, Mr. McCormick predicted an even more successful campaign this year.

Mr. McCormick is Chairman of the Board of the McCormick Company of Baltimore and San Francisco. He is also Chairman of the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland and of the Civic Center Commission of Baltimore, Vice-President of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, and a Director of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company and the Boys' Clubs of America.

Babson Discusses Buying Stocks For Income

BABSON PARK, Mass., Feb. 5—Although, in my personal opinion, the chances are now against one who buys common stocks for profit, these chances favor one who buys the right stock for income. The reason is:—The price of common stocks depends mainly upon the moods of the people. They buy according to how they feel, not according to facts. When the majority are optimistic, or tired of waiting for stocks to go down, they buy. The more impatient the people desiring to sell become, the more common stocks go down. The price of good-quality Cumulative Preferred Stocks, however, depends upon the money market. When money is cheap, such preferred stocks sell high, these Cumulative Preferreds go down in price. This means that most of these Preferreds can now be bought at a discount of from 10% to 15% or more below par.

What Kind of Preferreds To Buy

The safest preferred stocks to buy are those in growing industries. This does not mean the speculative industries such as the electronic group. The time will some day come when stocks of electronic companies, like motels, can be bought for "a dime a dozen." Just because a stock is "preferred," that does not qualify it as a safe stock to buy for income.

The fastest growing, probably the safest industry today is the generation and distribution of electricity—that is, the electric utilities. Demand for electricity is constantly growing, due to the frantic advertising of electric household aids from toasters to television sets. In addition, both electric heating and air conditioning are in their infancy. Great growth lies ahead. In short, the electrical industry need not advertise, but can let Sears, Roebuck and the department stores of all cities pay for the advertising to increase sales of electricity. The K.W.H. of the nation are published each week. Study these if you doubt my forecast.

Free From Severe Labor Troubles

Most industrials are subject to severe labor troubles; in fact, the chances are that the next depression will be brought about by union labor leaders. We have seen what can happen to the big newspapers and department stores by the strike in New York City of a few men who distribute the newspapers. The strike of the airplane pilots tied up Christmas travel. This condition is becoming more serious every year due to our cowardly Congress.

It, of course, is possible that the workers in the power house of a company generating electricity could strike on a cold winter day and shut off the light and heat from millions of homes. I, however, believe this would happen only once, if at all. There are three reasons: (1) Because so few men are needed to run these generators that the companies can pay high wages; (2) because any increase in wages can be passed onto consumers; and (3) because such a strike would shut down all industries of the city and cause mass unemployment.

Buying Preferreds For Profit Good Cumulative Preferreds bought now may later show a profit in addition to their near-5% income yield. Money rates will not always remain high. They go up and down in cycles, as do common stocks and commodities. When money is again cheap, these Cumulative Preferreds should again sell higher. That may be the time to sell them, and invest in good common stocks when they are low. There is also another reason why these Cumulative Preferreds, now selling in the 80's, will again sell at par or over. Very few new issues will be put out at present low prices. Those already issued will gradually be absorbed. As they are absorbed, and perhaps called, prices will recover. This will be encouraged by both the corporations and the investment bankers who are now loaning these corporations money, awaiting a time for issuing more stock. Hence, I repeat that the chances now favor Cumulative Preferred Stocks of electric power companies selling higher in 1959, as well as paying a safe income of near 5%. Readers need not fear the movement toward municipal ownership. This may be bearish on common stocks but not on cumulative preferreds.

Tax Data Aids Filer

Exceptions For Dependents

Taxpayers are entitled to only one $600 exemption for each dependent on their Federal income tax returns for 1958, Irving Machiz, Director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, which comprises Maryland and District of Columbia, said this week.

This is true, he said, regardless of the dependent's age or other conditions.

A taxpayer, he added, may claim an exemption for each child, step-child, or legally adopted child who received more than half of his or her support from the taxpayer and who had not reached the age of 19.

If the child is 19 or over and is not a full-time student, and if he had an income of his own of $600 or more, the taxpayer loses the exemption, Mr. Machiz said.

A citizen of the United States who has adopted a child may claim an exemption for him even though the child is neither a citizen nor a resident of the United States, provided the taxpayer's home has been the child's principal abode during the year and provided further that the taxpayer has furnished over half of the child's support during the year, Mr. Machiz said.

On the other hand, he added, if the taxpayer's child is a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone, he does not have to live in the taxpayer's home to be claimed as an exemption.

If the taxpayer is not a United States citizen, his child must be a citizen of the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone before the taxpayer can claim the child as an exemption, Mr. Machiz said. He continued:

For dependents other than children (including an adopted child and a step-child) five requirements must be met to claim an exemption. The dependent must (1) have received less than $600 gross income; (2) have received more than half of his support from the taxpayer; (3) not have filed a joint return with his wife or husband; (4) be a citizen of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone; and (5) must either have been a member of the taxpayer's household for the entire year, or must be related to the taxpayer (or to the taxpayer's wife or husband if a joint return is filed).

If several persons together contributed more than half of the support for an individual during the year, but no one contributed more than half alone, the group may designate one who contributed more than 10 per cent of the support to claim the dependency exemption.

If a dependent was born or died during the year, the taxpayer can claim a full $600 exemption if the dependent met the requirements during the part of year he was alive.

Mr. Machiz advised taxpayers that if they have any questions about their Federal income tax return, to telephone their local Internal Revenue Office—in Baltimore, PLaza 2-8460, in Washington, REpublic 7-8750. Ask for Tax Information Service.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

In seeking to produce gun dogs or field trial dogs of the highest caliber, common sense would seem to dictate that the breeder should use field performers of proved excellence as his brood stock. This has long been an axiom in sporting dog breeding activities that has demonstrated its worth a countless number of times. Yet it is a truism that is proved by the exceptions far too often to be safely classified as infallible, says Henry P. Davis, Sporting Dogs Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

Perhaps, in the long run, it is just as well that this is so. For if every puppie born of the unions between sires and dams of known excellence in the field turned out to be equally proficient, the difficulties attendant upon every breeding program would be practically removed. "Like begets like" is an adage as old as the hills, yet on occasion the exception to the rule can make it look like an absurdity. This is not to say that it is not the best rule to follow, for it is through selective breeding that the many varieties and breeds of sporting dogs have been brought to their present state of capability in the field. Yet, no matter what the breed, the breeder can never be absolutely positive that every single puppy in a given litter will turn out to be of top-notch quality.

There have been instances where entire litters have matured into far better performers than either sire or dam. These have been rather rare occurrences, and on occasion repeat matings have produced entire litters of inferior quality without a single individual showing the semblance of a spark of brilliance.

There is no intention to infer here that breeding for sporting dog excellence is a haphazard matter, for to produce the best, one must breed to the best. However, as in everything in which nature plays a highly important part, things can go entirely awry with this method.

"Like begets like" is a sound adage, but the results do not ring true every time. In fact, a much more dependable maxim would be: "Blood does not always tell!"

There is no intention to infer here that breeding for sporting dog excellence is a haphazard matter, for to produce the best, one must breed to the best. However, as in everything in which nature plays a highly important part, things can go entirely awry with this method.

FOUR BEDROOMS ON ONE FLOOR

Here is a four bedroom, one floor house with full basement that has many features to offer for comfortable family living. The main entry is separated from the living room by a planter. At the entry hall are two closets for coat storage for the family and guests. The living room has a generous glass area facing the street and two clear walls for furniture placement. At the end of the living room is a storage closet for tables, games, or hobby equipment. The kitchen family room opens onto a terrace by means of a sliding glass door. This terrace would make an ideal "summer family room" for dining and relaxation. The kitchen is a "U" shape. There is a small washroom next to the kitchen which is accessible from the yard and the basement. Lighting in the living room and family room comes principally from built in cornices and valances. The cornices along the unbroken walls direct light downward to give good general illumination and a feeling of space and freedom. The valances above the window wall and sliding glass doors throw light both upward and downward to create interesting architectural effects. This gives the effect of extend-

RECAPTURING THE SERENITY OF A TIME LONG AGO

Sometimes on a quiet street of a sequestered village, one can sense the tranquility of yesteryear's simple life and sturdy virtues. Today's pace is faster, its problems more complex, but the virtue of thrift, so esteemed by our forebears, can still contribute most importantly to our peace of mind. Systematic saving remains today as always, the keystone of happy, contented living.

Thurmont Cooperative Annual Meeting Well Attended; Reports Provided

The 24th annual meeting of the members of the Thurmont Cooperative, Inc., was held last Friday night, January 30, at the Thurmont High School with 200 persons in attendance. The cooperative, which operates three plants is owned by the farmers it serves in the Frederick-Carroll areas. The plants being located at Thurmont, Rocky Ridge and Union Bridge.

The President of the Cooperative's board of directors, Mr. M. H. Ramsburg, also a commissioner for Frederick County, welcomed those present and summarized the progress of the cooperative during the past year. Mr. Ramsburg stated that improvements in facilities and services included items such as plant additions, new anhydrous ammonia equipment, and bulk feed delivery. It was explained that anhydrous ammonia is the most modern and efficient form of nitrogen fertilizer which has yet been made available to farmers.

Mr. D. S. Weybright, manager of the Cooperative during its 24 years of existence, read and explained the financial reports for 1958. Mr. Weybright pointed out that improvements were reflected in both the operations and the financial structure as compared with the preceding year, and that cash dividends amounting to nearly $6,000.00 were returned to the member-owners during the year.

The veteran and well-respected County Agent for Frederick County, Mr. Henry R. Shoemaker, was the guest speaker for the occasion. In his remarks, Mr. Shoemaker told his audience that although the percentage of America's population living on farms has dwindled to thirteen per cent, the farmer is today an important part of American business. Seventy-five per cent of industry consists of products and equipment used by farmers. Today the farmer buys almost everything that the city dweller does not need. Co-ops are providing an efficient way for the farmer to enter into a comparatively new Agri-business.

The election of directors resulted in the re-election of Lloyd B. Wilhide, Keymar, Md.; Edward L. Meadows, Emmitsburg, and Robert B. Ogle, near Creagers town. Other board members whose terms did not expire are Mehrl H. Ramsburg, Thurmont; Glenn B. Springer, Emmitsburg; John L. Baumgardner, Emmitsburg; Charles F. Myers, Thurmont; J. Paul Bowman, Union Bridge; R. S. Stull, Thurmont. Mr. Benjamin B. Rosenstock is the cooperative's attorney.

The special musical entertainment which was provided by Miss Mildred Trevvett and the Thurmont High School Glee Club, was warmly received by the group. Miss Trevvett is president of the Maryland Music Education Association and is well known throughout the state for the exceptional quality of her productions. Recognition for outstanding work in agriculture was given certain members of the Future Farmers of America from this area. The recipients were introduced by Mr. William G. Baker and Mr. Harry Weber, Vo-ag instructors at Thurmont and Emmitsburg, respectively. Miss Barbara Hoover, the Chapter Sweetheart from Thurmont, presented the awards. Award winners and chapter officers present at the meeting were Norman Shriver, president of the Emmitsburg Chapter; Mr. Randy Valentine, Emmitsburg; Miss Rebecca Naile, Emmitsburg chapter sweetheart, was not present. Mr. Baker spoke briefly on Frederick and Thurmont Cooperatives sponsoring the boys to the annual national FFA Meeting at Kansas City. Larry Duncan from Walkersville Chapter, told of their trip to Kansas City. Billy Poffenberger, of Walkersville, thanked us for our donation towards the cost of their trip. Joseph Kuhn, president of the Thurmont Chapter was presented with the chapter star farmer award. Various medals for outstanding achievements were presented including Safety and Poultry to Gerald Doble; complete farming and handy in mechanical ability with farming equipment to Eddie Free; dairying, to Lamar Martin.

Door prizes were won by Mr. Harry A. Zentz, Mrs. Saylor Weybright, Mr. Donald Fraley, Mrs. Charles F. Myers, Mr. Larry Duncan, Mr. Cecil Holter and Mrs. Robert L. Green. Guests of the cooperative were Daniel S. Weybright, Ass't Secretary, Baltimore Bank for Cooperatives; Morris Lee Dade, president of the Frederick County Farm Bureau; Mr. Ray H. Smith, president of the Farmers Cooperative Association, Frederick; Messrs. Harold K. Staley, Gen. Mgr., Cecil K. Holter, Ass't. Man., Daniel J. Thomas, Sec., Farmers Cooperative Association, Frederick; Mr. John H. McHenry, Mgr., Petroleum Div. Farmers Cooperative Assn.; Mr. Robert E. Stansfield Jr., Associate County Agent for Frederick County; Clarence J. Weybright, president, Adams County Farm Bureau Cooperative, Gettysburg, Pa.; J. Herbert Snyder, Secretary-treasurer, Farm Credit, of Frederick; George L. Mix, Gen. Manager Eastern Sales Area, and G. Richard Curran, Sales, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation; Miss Blanche Eyer, Associate Editor, Catocin Enterprise, Thurmont; and Mr. Benjamin R. Rosenstock, Attorney, Frederick.

Refreshments were provided by the Cooperative following the business session and were served by the Room Mothers of the Thurmont High School.

At the close of the stockholders' meeting, the board of directors met and elected Mehrl H. Ramsburg, president; Glenn B. Springer, vice-president; John L. Baumgardner, secretary, Chas. F. Myers, treasurer; Benjamin B. Rosenstock, attorney; and D. S. Weybright, assistant secretary.

Claim Mental Institutions Require More State Funds

Reports that Governor Tawes' new budget will not provide for needed salary increases and new buildings for the Department of Mental Hygiene as recommended, have resulted in many comments and criticisms, according to a statement from the Maryland Association for Mental Health. Recommendations and evidence of the needs for better facilities and more professional personnel have been provided by a number of sources. The Special Joint Legislative Committee Studying Mental Hospitals, the Baltimore Grand Jury, the Maryland Association for Mental Health and several newspapers have pointed out the overcrowding and the shortages of trained personnel at the State mental hospitals. The following statement was prepared and released by Charles Bagley, III, M.D., President of the MAMH and Robert F. Murphy, the Association's new Executive Director.

"This Association is pledged to helping a segment of our population which is often forgotten—our fellow citizens who are mentally ill. Until mental patients are receiving treatment and care that is comparable to that available for victims of cancer, pneumonia and other physical ailments there is an important job to be done.

It has been proved that there is overcrowding and a shortage of professional personnel in the State hospitals. There is some disagreement about what can and should be done. However, certain conclusions are inescapable. These are:

1. The most serious problem facing the Department of Mental Hygiene is that of obtaining and holding qualified personnel for treatment of patients.
2. This State now faces the alternatives of paying better salaries for professional persons or of paying more money for care of patients waiting for effective treatment.
3. Improvements in facilities are necessary. However, if the personnel problem is not solved the patient population will increase and will require large expenditures of tax funds for an even greater number of buildings that is needed now.
4. Maryland will lose ground in its effort to obtain and keep qualified personnel if adequate salary increases are not granted in 1959 because other states will increase salaries.

These conclusions can be summarized by pointing out that an increase in expenditures for the Department of Mental Hygiene is inevitable. The question is whether the money will be used—

- a. for more treatment, or
- b. for the care of patients who could be discharged if treatment were available. Experience has shown that an emphasis on treatment is not only more humane, but it is also less expensive.

It is estimated that about 50% of the hospital beds in Maryland are occupied by mental patients, and that most of these patients, over 11,000, are in State hospitals.

The State is paying over $1,500 a year for each of these patients, excepting a few whose families are paying. It is an established fact that if the proper number of qualified persons were available, many patients could be returned to their homes and to their jobs. From an economic point of view this is desirable because it would increase the number of taxpayers and it would decrease the amount of tax funds paid out for patient care. From a humanitarian point of view it seems certain that the people of Maryland do not want their neighbors or their neighbors' children in overcrowded institutions.

Representatives of other organizations have asked the Maryland Association for Mental Health to assume leadership in informing public officials and the people of this State of the facts. The most important fact seems to be the danger that Maryland will waste money on long term care of patients who could be treated effectively and returned to their homes."

Dr. Bagley stated that an appointment with Governor Tawes has been requested to provide representatives of the Maryland Association for Mental Health an opportunity to present their views on this important issue.

Threats To Traffic Safety Listed

Motorists are now faced with three major threats to traffic safety—The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission warned today — one threat is "Reduced Visibility". The commission declared, adding "It's obvious that our daylight hours are the shortest of the year.

Add to this the ever-present possibility of bad weather, the poor condition of some vehicles' lighting systems, and the dark clothing worn by many pedestrians; and you can see that a driver really cannot afford to relax vigilance one moment." The commission observed another threat is posed by inadequate traction. "A pedestrian is far more likely to slip and fall in winter than in summer, and the fellow behind the wheel must be constantly on the alert against skidding hazards."

The third threat is that presented by quick changes in temperature—"Ice or packed snow makes a highway about twice as slippery when the thermometer indicates near-melting readings, compared to near-zero temperatures;" also, "The defensive driver takes these conditions into account and reduces his speed, lengthens distance between moving cars, starts signalling turns sooner, and makes his stops more gradual."

When conditions warrant, he takes time to put on reinforced tire chains needed to provide more reliable stop-and-go tractions."

Grange Meets

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange was held on Wednesday evening at the high school with 24 members present. Master Bernard Welty presided over the meeting.

The Master thanked all the members who went to Thurmont on Saturday to attend the Pomona meeting. Emmitsburg had 23 members present and won the attendance banner. The Emmitsburg Grange will be host to Pomona Grange the last Saturday in April at which time the Washington County Pomona will be guests and present the program.

It was decided to hold the next annual Grange Banquet on the first Thursday in November. The Grange will invite Glade Valley Grange to visit with them and provide the program in the month of April. The Fair Board sent a check for $55 for the booth at the Frederick Fair. Mrs. Ethel Baumgardner was in charge of the program and her topic was "Lincoln." Following the interesting program, refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Feb. 18 at 7:30 p. m.

Government Workers Outnumber Farmers

There were 5,615,000 persons working on U. S. farms in December of 1958. This total includes 4,633,000 farm operators and members of their families, and 982,000 hired workers.

Contrast this with a report from the U. S. Department of Commerce that there are now nearly 11 million government employees in this country. This total includes 2.6 million in the armed forces, 2.4 million civilian employees of the federal government and 5.9 million state and local employees. The number of federal workers has remained the same, or declined slightly, during the past six years, but the trend is upward at the state and local level.

SOUTHERN STATES COOPERATIVE TO MEET IN FREDERICK

Board members attending the session will hear a report on Southern States operations during the first six months of the 1958-59 fiscal year. Following the lunch there will be a general discussion period.

Southern States District Manager R. D. Hammond of Frederick, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting and also will act as moderator of the discussion period that will be held during the afternoon portion of the meeting. Clarence H. Work Is Started On New College Dormitory

A $250,000 dormitory for the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, is now being constructed at St. Joseph College in Emmitsburg.

The 50-room three-story dormitory will be completed before next September, Sister Hilda of the Emmitsburg Order announced. It will be used as a residence for sisters studying for graduate degrees in teaching and nursing at the Catholic college.

An average of 25 graduate teachers and 20 graduate nurses are expected to emerge from the new college facilities every year when they are completed, St. Joseph sources said.

They explained that it now takes about two and one-half years of concentrated study at the college in order for the sisters to complete graduate work in teaching and nursing, under a new policy initiated within the last five years.

Therefore, a more substantial and larger building was needed to house the student sisters for so long a period. About a year and a half ago, plans were made for the new building and special construction funds were set aside.

The Joseph E. Nebal contracting company of Washington began work on the new brick dormitory last November and expect to complete it in time for the next school year in September, college sources said.

The building is to be called Immaculate Juniorate. It will be so dedicated at special ceremonies to be announced later in the year.

Sister Isabel, Provincial Superior of the Sisters of Charity, has been in charge of the whole construction phase of the project for the sisterhood.

Sister Margaret will supervise the dormitory facilities when they are completed and will be in charge of the sisters residence hall.

Mother Seton School at Emmitsburg will be used for practice teaching to give the sisters obtaining their teaching degrees at St. Joseph College some practical experience in the field, Sister Hilda said.

The history of the state is never finished. Complementing the history of a state is the reflection of the past, consideration of the present, and a prediction for the future.

Documentation of the past, present and future of the State of Maryland has been the function of the Maryland Room of the McKeldin Library at College Park since 1937. The collection of materials in this room, like the State's history, will never be completed so long as there is a State and a room.

Collection of information for the room involves tapping many sources to bring about a continuous flow of information into this Maryland depository. The continued help of all Marylanders is necessary to insure this flow of material. Acquisition of books, letters, maps, pictures, pamphlets, diaries, manuscripts, and other documents now on bookshelves and in attics, aids scholars and the public in discovering new slants and facts on the "Maryland story."

The Maryland Room staff would like to hear about the existence of such material, and if possible, have the opportunity to duplicate it on microfilm should the owner desire to retain its possession. These sources will provide the raw material out of which the State, county and city histories will be written.

With this type of support, the Maryland Room will continue to reflect the interest of Marylanders in the life of their State.

Anyone wishing to contact the staff, write or call Professor Howard Rovelstad, director of libraries, or Mrs. Harold Hayes, head of the Maryland Room, at the McKeldin Library, University of Maryland.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall

Where Does The Money Go? The President's Budget Message to the Congress, delivered on Monday of this past week, contains many interesting facts.

For instance: Of each tax dollar, 59 cents will go for national security, or "military," 10 cents for interest on the national debt, 8 cents for agriculture, 7 cents for veterans, and the remaining 16 cents for the other expenditures.

Where Does The Money Come From?

The estimate for the next fiscal year: 53% of the money will come from individual income taxes; 28% from corporation income taxes; 11% from excise (or sales) taxes; and the remaining 8% from all other receipts.

For added income, the budget message proposes that the Federal tax on motor fuel and aviation gasoline be raised to 4 1/2 cents per gallon and that certain loopholes in taxation regulations be stopped, particularly those affecting cooperatives, life insurance companies, and mine owners claiming depletion allowances.

The President, in the budget message, gave a concise picture of what he wants the Government to do. The general recommendations are that we:

1. Strengthen the effectiveness of our Armed Forces by further modernization and by improved efficiency of operations; and strengthen free world security by continued military assistance to our allies.

2. Assist free nations in their economic development through well-considered programs.

3. Promote scientific research and space exploration.

4. Carry forward current public works programs.

5. Continue at a high level programs which promote the general welfare of our people.

6. Foster community development with increased local participation.

7. Discontinue temporary emergency measures and strengthen permanent programs for economic stability.

8. Continue the adjustments needed for a freer agricultural economy with less reliance on the Federal Treasury.

9. Reduce the burden on the general public for services to special groups.

10. Encourage private lending through flexible interest rates for Government credit programs.

11. Achieve long-run economies by adapting programs to changed circumstances.

Liners Drop Game To Middletown

Middletown High School took a 49-42 cage win over the Emmitsburg High Liners Tuesday evening at Middletown. J. Hendricks set the winner's scoring pace with 15 points. High man of the game however, was Morris Zentz of Emmitsburg who scored 20 points. The Emmitsburg JVs won their contest 33-23.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

"Sleep Cheats" Are you a "sleep cheat"? Do you put off going to bed as if you were afraid a small boy had put a frog between the sheets?

The sleep cheat is hot to be confused with the unfortunate sufferer from insomnia. He can sleep, but he won't start soon enough to get the good night's sleep he needs for health. The results are just about the same as if he really had insomnia. Sooner or later he has to settle his bill with old man Morpheus or collapse from sheer exhaustion.

A frequent argument of the sleep cheat is to point to Thomas A. Edison and say he never slept more than four hours a night. That can be answered with the question: "And what have you contributed to man's welfare in the wee hours?" Probably the sleep cheat has been sitting up with the Late Late Show or a hot detective story rather than a hot invention. As a matter of fact, Edison was famous for catching cat naps at odd hours of the day in a corner of his laboratory.

Whether or not the sleep cheat makes a great contribution to society, his health will certainly suffer. The symptoms of chronic sleep shortage, in order of appearance, are: poor timing and muscular control; strained vision; impaired hearing; and reduced sense of touch, temperature, and pressure; and, finally, increasing irritability, discouragement, and depression. Even the greatest genius could not produce well under those conditions.
